FIRST CONVICTION FOR CASING THEFT

REPRISALS ON ENGLISHMEN IN AMERICA

Man With Irish Name Makes Threat in Letter to British Official.

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The British Embassy has delivered to the state department a copy of a message recently received by the British chief secretary for Ireland and dated New York. The message is signed "J. V. O'Connor" and threatens reprisals against Englishmen in this country if there are any more reprisals in Ireland after November 14th.

State department officials would not discuss the matter but it is understood the department has started an investigation.

F. D. BOSPATH GIVEN BIG JUMP BY T-P. COMPANY

Is Made Chief Purchasing Agent for Four Corporations.

The promotion of F. D. Bostaph of Ranger to be purchasing agent for the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company, the Texas Pacific Mercantile & Manufacturing company, Thurber Brick company and the Thurber Earthen Products company, is announced from the Tee Pee general offices at Thurbur.

Coming to Ranger in the early days of oil, Mr. Bostaph purchased the ground and established the Frick-Rold local store, serving that company in the capacity of manager. In July, 1919, he went to the T-P company as assistant purchasing agent, from which position he now receives promotion.

A resident of Ranger since the early boom days, Mr. Bostaph has lent an indefatigable energy to its boosting and civic betterment and as a director of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce has added materially in connection with the local store, and projects promoted and fostered by that organization. As a member of the Rotary club, he has served in like measure.

Born on a farm in Pennsylvania, with an oil well on the premises, he has been identified with the petroleum and allied industries since early manhood, and prior to coming to the Ranger field operated oil well supply stores in Oklahoma.

Other promotions in the T-P company are pending but as yet are unannounced.

Texas Man Faces Death Sentence for Wife Murder

By Associated Press
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11.—The case of John Stephens, 32, a switchman from Mart, Texas, on trial in the circuit court for first degree murder in connection with the death of his wife, Leslie July Stephens, 22, is expected to go to the jury today.

Ms. Stephens was shot and killed in a cafe here last June 24. Stephens, afterward shot himself. Marital troubles are said to have caused the trouble.

BASEBALL FACTIONS ASK MINORS' SUPPORT

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 11.—President Herman of the Cincinnati Nationalist, leader in the organization of a twelve club league, addressed the convention of minor leaguers today. He appealed for the endorsement of the Lasker plan of baseball reorganization. Herman attempted to offset the favorable impression created yesterday by President Johnson of the American League. He urged the minors to appoint a committee to meet with the major league committee and avert a baseball war.

President Johnson, opposing the Lasker plan, told minor leaguers that the management of baseball should remain in the hands of men who had devoted their lives to the sport instead of being turned over to men outside of the game.

TEXAS GRAIN MEN WANT SHIPPING RULES CHANGED

By Associated Press
FORT WORTH, Nov. 11.—An effort to Texas Grain men to secure changes in the rules governing grades and specifications of the product when shipped to them and western markets was begun before a special board of the United States department of agriculture. The meeting will be continued tomorrow at Dallas and then at Enid, Okla., and Omaha City.

Fines and Jails Don't Bother Vagrants, Says Chief Cooper; Wants Nice Hard Rock Pile

Chief of Police George T. Cooper this morning declared that the police department was not getting a fair deal in the sentiment aroused by the statements made at the banquet Tuesday night honoring Jake L. Hamon, wherein it was said that Ranger was the rottenest city in the country.

Police Powerless.
Chief Cooper declared that there was a situation in Ranger that the police were powerless to deal with unless some aid was given it. Much of the condition was brought about, he said, through a class who make Ranger headquarters, consisting of vagrants, dope users of all kinds, immoral women, hi-jackers and others. The police, he said, had just two things to do when such residents were arrested, and that was to fine them or turn them loose. When fined they stayed in Ranger. If given notice to leave town, they would go, but in two days they would be back. The county, the chief asserted, refused to take petty criminals. "I have myself several times taken undesirable to the station and bought tickets for them just as far as their money would go and put them on the train and told them not to come back," he said, "but they were back before sunset."

Wants Rock Pile.
Out of all his experiences the chief is of the opinion that the only remedy for this condition is a rock pile or street cleaning force. A charge of vagrancy, he thinks, can be placed against every man who is known to be dissolute, and he says when they know that they will go on a street force they will leave town. The department, according to Chief Cooper, has been making from fifteen to thirty arrests every day, the only good that he sees that it did was to provide a source of revenue for the city. Staying in jail does not bother this class, police officials say. They are used to it and consider it only a part of their day. The chief of police declared that if a street cleaning force would be put at his command he could rid the city quickly of three-fourths of the lawless element.

Citywide Raids Made on Chicago Saloonkeepers

By Associated Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The first of a series of citywide night raids was carried out by federal prohibition authorities last night and early this morning. They descended on five saloons. One still was captured and nearly $25,000 worth of liquor at retail prices. The officers also secured five cases of beer, and a gallon of moonshine whiskey in the saloon of Joe Rush and have evidence of sales. Secret compartments containing moonshine were found in other saloons. One raid was made on a place where forty customers were assembled. "Mike de Pike" Heiler, Robert Perlman and Nannie Greenberg, charged with whiskey running, were arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Mason and held under bonds of $15,000 each to await hearings on Nov. 20.

WONDER HIGHWAY WILL CIRCLE NINE STATES WHEN COMPLETED

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 11.—The initial convention of the National Park-Park Highway association, with nearly 100 delegates in attendance, opened here today with a program calling for congressional aid for the 12 most westerly states in raising $100,000,000 for hard-surfacing the 5,000 miles of dirt roads that serve as connecting links to form the National Park-to-Park Highway. The convention will last three days.

Stephen T. Mather, director of the National Park Service, officials of the American Automobile association, the Rotarians, Optimists and other western organizations, are participating. The National Park-to-Park Highway association will be put on a permanent organization basis, and state and local branches formed in twelve states and one hundred cities of the west.

Congress will be memorialized to make this a federal highway, roughly circling nine western states, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona and New Mexico, and connecting all National parks.

Representatives of the governors of these states, as well as Utah, Nevada, Texas and Arizona, are attending the conference, which marks the close of the official tour dedicating this American motor way with the start and finish in Denver. The trip required 76 days, noon and night meetings being held in towns on the route to arouse the west to a greater appreciation of its scenic, industrial and agricultural possibilities.

This wonder highway in the form of a latit loop embraces an area greater than continental Europe, touching in the course of its scenic running nose, Mesa Verde, Rocky Mountain, Yellowstone, Glacier, Mount Rainier, Crater Lake, Lassen, Yosemite, Sequoia, General Grant and Grand Canyon National parks. A branch road will some day connect Zion National park in Utah, Cheyenne, Great Falls, Spokane, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Denver are on the route.

Armenians and Turk Nationals Sign Armistice

By Associated Press
LONDON, Nov. 11.—An armistice has been signed between the Armenians and the Turkish Nationals, it is announced in an Armenian communique dated Nov. 7, and received here today.

The armistice conditions give the Turks possession of the fortress and railroad station of Alexandropol and surrounding districts during the peace negotiations. The Turks guarantee the safety of the inhabitants of the city and the maintenance of order.

AMERICAN OARSMEN PLAN SCULLING RACES FOR FUTURE OLYMPICS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—Local oarsmen have taken the initiative to hold a world's sculling trial race yearly to commemorate the recent victory of John B. Kelly of the Vesper Boat club in single sculls at the Olympics.

A petition has been addressed by the Schuykill navy, an organization of local rowing clubs to those interested in amateur rowing as follows: "The recent victory of John B. Kelly, we believe, is the only victory ever recorded that may truly be considered as representing the world's championship in amateur single sculls.

Heretofore the winning of the diamond sculls at the Henley has carried with it the nearest approach to such a title, but due to the fact that any sculler, no matter how valid his personal qualifications, may have his entry refused by the Henley stewards this event may well be considered as a closed, local or at least an invitation event.

In his recent victories John B. Kelly defeated not only the recent winner of the diamond sculls, but the pick of all the amateur single scullers from all nations of the world.

"Now, therefore, that this victory may be commemorated for all time that opportunity may not hereafter be lacking for clean amateur scullers from all parts of the world to compete for this noble title, it is proposed to present a gold cup to be known as the Philadelphia Challenge Cup, for the world's championship in four single sculls, this cup to pass from one champion to the next under terms to be set forth in a deed of gift to be drawn up by the committee appointed by the commodore of the Schuykill Navy and executed by that committee, representing the individual subscribers, a list of whom is to be attached to the deed of gift. This cup is to be the property of the Schuykill Navy, but to be held by the champion until by defeat, default or loss of amateur standing it passes to the next champion or to the Schuykill Navy pending the appearance of a new champion, the first name to be engraved on this emblem will be that of champion John B. Kelly, of Philadelphia."

MACHINERY ARRIVES FOR BOILER WORKS

Several carloads of machinery for Ranger's new steel plant have been unloaded at the site of the plant near the Ranger Boiler Works, and it is expected that construction of the buildings will start at once.

All the details of the contract have been fulfilled by the Chamber of Commerce and signed by Manager McFalls of the boiler works, who is also manager of the new plant. Under the contract the Chamber of Commerce is to furnish a site and trackage, at an estimated cost of $7,000. The first $1,000 of this amount has been paid.

When in operation the new industry will employ a minimum of eighty men. Its products will consist of nearly every article made from sheet steel.

Whistles Celebrate Armistice

Secretary of War's Admonition to Army
"To The Army:
"On November 11th, the second anniversary of the Armistice, our eyes should be turned toward France; toward that hallowed ground which covers the bodies of America's dead.
"Upon those of us who are living peacefully because those men had the will to die; upon those of us particularly who are intimately concerned with the Nation's defense; there is placed a solemn obligation to us. Their deeds, their determination, their sacrifice, may not die with them. It is for us to emblazon their glory in imperishable memorials; to engrave their devotion on our hearts and the hearts of our countrymen; and to dedicate ourselves to a perpetuation of the principles for which they fell.
"This day the Army salutes its own—its fallen heroes."

3 DIE, 9 HURT, IN EXPLOSION ON STEAMSHIP

By Associated Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Three bodies were discovered this morning in the hold of the Morgan line steamship El Mundo, on which nine men were seriously injured yesterday when the vessel's fuel tank exploded while it was tied to the Hudson river pier.

TOTAL OF SIXTY-TWO RECRUITS REPORTED BY LOCAL STATION

By Associated Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Three bodies were discovered this morning in the hold of the Morgan line steamship El Mundo, on which nine men were seriously injured yesterday when the vessel's fuel tank exploded while it was tied to the Hudson river pier.

FINI ECLAIR 'TOOT SWEET' IS PREDICTION OF FRENCH

By Associated Press
PARIS, Nov. 11.—The art of cooking in France and the excellence of the pastries are passing, say pessimists. Apprentices, said speakers at the recent convention of pastry makers, can no longer be found and the art of pastry making is dead or will be soon. This is said to be the case with cooks. Those who worked for years step by step to the bank of chef are reported extinct. Brillat-Savarin, whose "Physiology of Taste" a century ago, put cookery on the plane of an art and whose descriptions were almost as satisfying as the food itself did not foresee the war with its social and economic changes.

Travelers from other countries may not all agree that France's reputed supremacy in the kitchen is in danger but disconsolate makers of cakes and sauces seem convinced that even when the days of gray bread and yellow-fatted, stringy frozen meat are over, there will not be a revival of the "lost art" of the pot and pan.

NEGRO CONFESSES HE ASSAULTED SMALL GIRL

Special Leased Wire.
FORT WORTH, Nov. 11.—Robert Lowe, a negro, who was arrested by Sheriff Clark at Arlington on November 1, on a charge of assaulting 10-year-old Letha Shipper, and was spirited away under the noses of an angry crowd, this morning made a complete confession to District Attorney Jesse M. Brown. Lowe will be brought to trial at an early date.

EAST SIDE'S FIRE STATION OPENS TODAY

Will Give Quicker Service to Big Residence and Industrial Section.

Fire station No. 2 will be put into operation today on the Strawn road in Young addition. This station will be equipped with one fire engine and four men. A telephone has been installed that is on the same circuit with the central station on Elm street. Under this system both places receive all alarms at the same moment, giving the city almost double the service with the same force.

The new fire house was purchased by the city from C. C. Hamilton and remodeled to conform with the needs of the fire department. Sleeping quarters have been provided for the men and a concrete floor has been laid in the building.

Bartlett in Charge.
Boscoe Bartlett, present assistant to Chief Buttomer, will be in charge of the new station.

The city commission has had this improvement planned for months but was handicapped by lack of funds. With the new fire house in operation, fires on the east side can be reached several minutes quicker than was the case when all the force was housed in the central station. This saving in time, it is pointed out by Chief Buttomer, is in many cases the deciding factor in a fight upon a fire.

However, as in the past, all the equipment can be sent in any fire if needed.

PHIL GLASSER GIVEN TWO YEARS FOR DEAL IN STOLEN PROPERTY

Accomplice Turns State's Witness and Gives the Details of Trade and Taking of Pipe From Texas Pacific Lease.

Charged under grand jury indictment with receiving and concealing stolen oil well casing, Phillip Glasser of Ranger was assessed two years in the penitentiary, the jury rendering a verdict this morning after being out all night. The case has been on trial for several days. Glasser is on trial today in a companion case. In each instance the pipe alleged to have been stolen was the property of the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company, and involved an amount placed at $6,000.

GHOLSON HOTEL OPENS WITH BIG BLOWOUT JAN. 1

Management in Chicago to Buy Furniture for Ranger's Largest Hostelery.

After Jan. 1 the Gholson, McCleskey and Paramount hotels will be operated by the same management, Messrs. McClure & Hubbs, who declare that it is their purpose to maintain hotel facilities in Ranger that will be the best to be found between Fort Worth and El Paso.

A reception will be held at the Gholson on the night preceding its opening, when entertainment and opportunity of inspection will be offered by the management.

JEW'S OF WESTERN EUROPE EMIGRATING TO HOLY LAND, SAY

By Associated Press
VIENNA, Nov. 11.—Emigration of Jews to Palestine is increasing rapidly in Central and Eastern Europe, and the new Palestine immigration regulations would allow of a controlled immigration of about 17,000 Zionists of the pioneer class during the coming year, said S. Landmann, secretary of the Zionist organization, in an interview.

Mr. Landmann, who is now in Vienna on a special mission in connection with Jewish emigrants to Palestine, said the selection of the emigrants is being made by the Zionist organization which has established Palestine offices in the important Jewish centers. Preference is given to young people, strong in body and determined in spirit, who have had actual experience in agriculture or other manual work and who know Hebrew.

FRANCE'S WAR DEAD TO BE INTERRED IN MILITARY CEMETERY

By Associated Press
PARIS, Nov. 11.—France's 1,000,000 war-dead are soon to be transferred to permanent military cemeteries or reinterred in private burying grounds, at the option of relatives.

It may be many months before the work is even well under way but the start is to be made soon, under authority of laws passed at the last session of parliament and now made effective by decrees.

WAGE RUTHLESS FIGHT

According to local oil men the fight is going to be waged ruthlessly from now on. Where a charge will sustain a conviction it is said that the oil companies are going to do everything in their power to get such a conviction.

Many such thefts have been reported but difficulties of prosecution has arisen that prevented a conviction.

DEVIERS TESTIMONY

Much of the evidence introduced in the first case against Glasser will be used in the trial now under way. Late yesterday afternoon A. Deviers, state's witness, took the stand and testified as follows:

"I met Glasser at Ranger at the junk shop of Sanders, Sundack & Glasser, and offered to sell him some pipe. We talked the matter over and he said he was buying only 'wet pipe.' I told him I could get some for him. He understood that 'wet' pipe meant stolen pipe. I told him I could sell him sixty-four joints of pipe for $2,500. He offered to give only $1,500. Then we agreed that if I would find the pipe he would ship it out and after paying all the expenses we would go fifty-fifty on the proceeds.

"I had the pipe spotted on the Madden lease. Sundack, a partner of Glasser, went out with me in a Ford out of their garage, to look the place over where the pipe was located. When we came back and reported to Glasser, agreed to find the hauler. He and Mr. Carlock came to me at the Ranger cafe and we made arrangements for Carlock to haul the pipe. I told the driver where to go. On the day the pipe was taken from the Madden lease I directed the teams and went on ahead to see that everything was all right. After the pipe was loaded they brought it through Ranger and loaded it on the car and Glasser had it billed out to H. B. Sanders, a man whom I never knew, who was supposed to live at Tulsa, Okla.

"The arrangement was that Glasser was to go on immediately to Tulsa with the bill of lading and receive the car of pipe billed to H. B. Sanders. While we were loading the pipe on the car Glasser went to the police station to see if anybody had reported that the pipe was missing. Later when I had learned that the T. P. had found out that the pipe was missing I telegraphed to Glasser at Dallas to meet me at Fort Worth Sunday night. I went but he did not meet me there."

JURISDICTIONAL DISPUTES CHIEF BUSINESS OF A. F. L.

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Jurisdictional disagreements between various international unions are considered the most pressing problems confronting the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, which convened here today in regular fall meeting.

KU-KLUX KLAN TO BE ORGANIZED IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The Ku-Klux Klan is to be organized in New York. This news is contained in a letter received by a local man who wrote for information about the society. This communication was written from the "Imperial Palace of the Invisible Empire of the Knights of the KuKlux Klan, Atlanta, Ga.," and was signed by Edward Young Clarke, "Imperial Kleagle."

"We expect to start an organization of work in New York state in November," the writer said. "We have in mind about 300 men in New York city whom we expect to honor by bringing into the initial organization in New York city. We are receiving letters from Maine, Illinois, Missouri and California for us to send organizers to those places to begin work."

Men of southern origin are the only ones who would be eligible to join with the "K. K. K." terms the "most sublime lineage in all history."

Attached to the letter was a questionnaire which the applicant for membership was supposed to fill out and return to the "Kligrapp of the Great Wizard of the Invisible Empire" at the Silvery building in Atlanta. The "necessary interrogatories," as they were termed, were numerous, including queries as to race, occupation, birth, race, education, religion and questions like "Do you believe in the principles of pure Americanism?" and "Do you believe in white supremacy in politics?"

"White supremacy" is said by colored leaders here to be the real reason back of the revival of the Ku-Klux Klan and a parade in Jacksonville, Fla., Saturday night was declared really an attempt to frighten the negro voters who certain white factions feel, are growing to be too much of a political power. More colored women than white women registered in Jacksonville.

"The Ku-Klux Klan is the most dangerous tendency in American life today and ought to be stamped out by local, state and federal authority," says James Welden Johnson, field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, 70 Fifth avenue, which has had investigators in the south gathering information on this subject. "The avowed purpose of the Invisible Empire is to keep the negro from the rights of common citizenship, even if threats of bloodshed have to be resorted to."

Penton Johnson, 231 West 129th street, leader of the Reconciliation Movement, said:

"The spirit of the Ku-Klux Klan is contrary to the spirit of the American people—contrary to the wishes of our forefathers and of the great emancipator. Steps should be taken to eliminate this obstacle in the path of a better economic, industrial and political relationship between the peoples."

Advertisements seeking new members for the Klan have recently appeared in the Atlanta Constitution and in Charlotte (N. C.) Sunday Observer. They feature a skull and crossbones under the heading "Auk-Ke, Loyal Order of Klansmen, Incorporated, a Social, Fraternal, Military, Patriotic and Protective Organization." These ads read: "$10 to join for thirty days, then $50; dues $8 per year." Explaining the purposes of the society, the ads say: "We are an all-southern order for southern men of the white race, organized for the protection of our homes, property and country, and for the preservation of this government which our forefathers founded."

"Each and every member of our local range," said the Charlotte ad, "from twenty-one to thirty-eight may come into our military department and receive drilling free of charge. These men will constitute a body of men organized to uphold law and order, and will be ready to respond to calls of our state, country and city authorities to suppress riots and mob violence."

Catholic School Begins Sessions After Holidays

The Catholic school to be established in Cooper addition on the grounds of St. Rita's church will be opened after the holidays. It was thought that the school could be opened for a part of the fall term but much delay has been encountered in getting the buildings into condition.

The house to be used as a school building is a two-story structure which was purchased from the Phillips Petroleum company and is now being moved to the church grounds. A five-room residence was also purchased from the same people. This house will be used as a teacherage by the sisters who will be in charge of the school.

Five sisters from San Antonio have been secured for instructors and will be in charge of the winter term.

NURSE SHORTAGE? MAYBE DAN CUPID HAS HIRED 'EM ALL

Did you ever borrow a nurse? Neither did we. All ours were very dear. Apparently in the plumber's class when the bill was to be paid.

However, in Ranger nurses are borrowed. Physicians, lucky enough to have one help out a despairing brother. This is all because nurses are not.

Only three of the profession in the city are available, such others as are here are employed by the hospital regularly and do not go out to practice, nor is Ranger the only city suffering. Yesterday in pressing need a local physician tried both in Fort Worth and Dallas to secure a nurse and there was none to be had.

Physicians cannot understand what has brought the condition about during the time when there is no epidemic or other cause for the employment of a large force of nurses.

MAIN STREET PLACE DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire starting in the flue at the front of the Main street cabaret at 10:30 o'clock this morning resulted in several hundred dollars' damage to the building and fixtures.

A large part of the blaze was in the ceiling of the house on the inside, and was eating its way up the front when the fire department arrived. The blaze was under control in five minutes after the arrival of the firemen.

Much of the damage was caused by the water knocking the windows from the building and from tearing the plaster board ceiling from the room to get to the flames above.

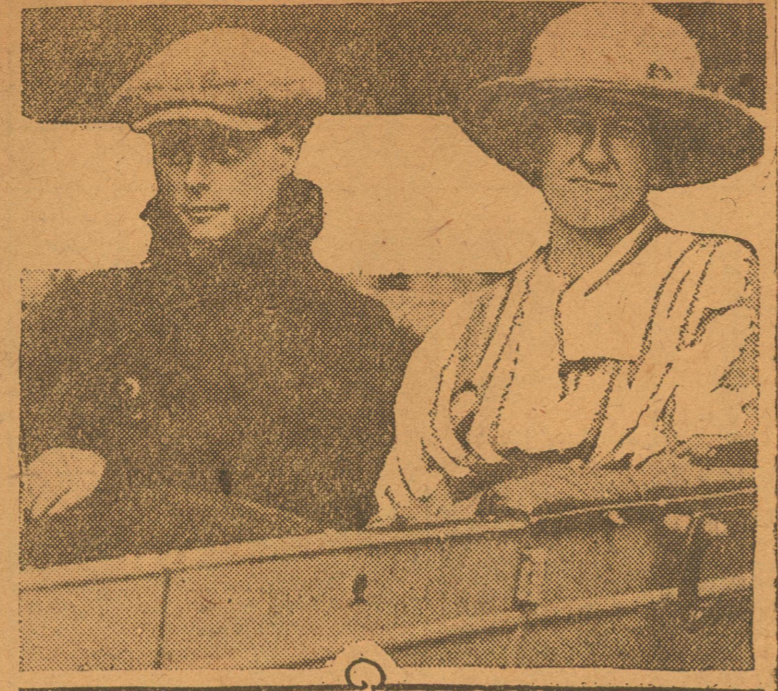

The stove in the building was part of a lunch counter equipment that formerly operated in the cabaret. It has not been in use for restaurant purposes for some time. This morning the stove was being used to heat the building.

This is the second blaze that has occurred in the building during the past few weeks. The first fire was caused by a leaky gas pipe and did no damage. The fixtures are owned by Leon Wilson. The building is the property of John Popajohn.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Marshal Foch has added to his collection of titles and decorations that of "Bourgeois of Spa" voted him by that Belgian municipality. His right to so call himself is attested by an illuminated manuscript.

Foreign farm hands working in the fields and vicinity of Deerfield, N. J., were recently seen wearing full uniforms of privates in the German army. The immigrants, who claimed to be Poles, were directed to go back to their quarters and remove their gray garments.

MASTER OF KINLOSS, SON OF BARONESS, TO WED SMITHY'S DAUGHTER, PLAYMATE

Rev. Luis Chandos Francis Temple Morgan Greenville (Master of Kinloss) and his fiancee, Miss Katherine Beatrice Mackenzie Jackman.

British aristocracy is said to be all agog over the announcement by the Master of Kinloss, heir to one of England's oldest baronies, of his engagement to Miss Katherine Beatrice Mackenzie Jackman, daughter of a village blacksmith. The girl's home is near Stowe House, the ancestral seat of the Master of Kinloss. The young couple were playmates as children.

Hunting Bargains in Ranger

Bargains discovered in trips through Ranger shops and department stores are here presented briefly, for the benefit of Times readers.

New, at the Juliana Shop, is a lovely coat of musketeer evora with a big gray squirrel collar and pockets, blouse back and straight panel front buttoning over at each side onto the straight girdle. Matching this coat is colorful turban of blue and silver brocade metal cloth, trimmed in three squirrel skins. These would go well with a $10.00 limousine and a metal brocade gown. A charming and altogether different hat is made of black and gold lace with monkey fur trimming the crown and brim.

A streamer of the lace hangs from the side brim. Duvel de lilie in a soft shade of blue with mole trimming makes one of the very smart new suits. The stylish high mole collar fastens with a surplus end at the left side. Three ruffles trim each side of the coat between the girdle and mole pockets. Silk tassels dangle from the ends of the girdle which ties in the back.

The Richardson-Brown company is giving a 25 per cent reduction on their entire stock of shoes. And here is a worthwhile bargain also. A good grade of ginghams in all the expected shades and plaids at 17c per yard. A new line of knitted coat sweaters, reasonably priced from $8.45 to $10.00, looked most comfortable for these new cool days.

On a big new line of jersey, pussy willow and taffeta petticoats at the Winner store, a 20 per cent reduction is being given. These include the newest designs and colors. A very attractive one was made of black jersey, accordion plaited, with brocade satin around the bottom.

Passenger car and motor truck owners in New Jersey are facing an increase in tax fees from 20 to nearly 400 per cent for 1921.

The shortest taxi ride in Berlin costs five dollars.

FOURTH ROLL CALL OF RED CROSS FINDS WAR TASK UNFINISHED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—"The Red Cross comes to its fourth roll call with its war task still unfinished," said Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the central committee, in a statement today urging enrollment in the relief society during the fortnight beginning on Armistice day, November 11.

"Never were the world and national needs so pressing and the corresponding opportunities for service so great," declared Dr. Farrand. "It is only too evident that the world has not been able even to approach re-establishment after the war. Widespread distress and sickness stare us in the face in Europe and the Red Cross is carrying on to the extent of its resources in an attempt to answer the call to help. How permanent and far-reaching that answer shall be depends upon the minds and the conscience of the American people."

At home the wounded and sick soldiers and sailors in hospitals and elsewhere are still numbered by the thousands. The Red Cross cannot demobilize its forces organized to stand by those who gave their best for their country and extend what aid and comfort may be possible.

"An attempt to build up the health of the country, which is the outstanding feature of the peace program of the Red Cross, is taxing the energies of the organization. Demands for visiting nurses come from every corner of the United States and every effort is being made to supply that need, the filling of which is vital. The organization of health centers is opening up a new conception of community welfare everywhere.

"Home service is still a necessary function of the Red Cross, for there are thousands of families of soldiers and sailors which are in need of friendly counsel and relief. The Red Cross is organizing and standardizing its capacity for disaster relief, so that there shall be in constant readiness a trained organization ready upon a moment's notice to carry its work of mercy anywhere.

"So throughout the entire land the Red Cross is striving to salvage the spirit of co-operation aroused by the war and to turn it to the public good. To this end it needs the service and co-operation of every man, woman and child in the country."

The fourth roll call will begin generally throughout the country next wherever necessary. To Thanksgiving Thursday, the second anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, and continuing, November 25. An innovation in this roll call will be a membership certificate presented to every payer of dues whether the dues be $1 for annual membership or $100 for patron membership as well as a 1921 membership button and window membership flag.

Next Sunday, November 14, has been set apart for Red Cross exercises in the churches, pastors throughout the country having arranged special programs for that day.

GIRL PAYS BET BY COLD SWIM

Portland (Me.) Miss Jumps 40 Feet From Bridge, Swims 23 Minutes.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 11.—Two weeks ago Miss Rose Starling, popular local girl, dared any Republican to jump forty feet from Portland bridge into the harbor and swim a third of a mile to the nearest float if Harding was defeated. No woman took the bet, but a schoolboy athlete accepted. Miss Starling paid the bet on Jox's defeat, while 3,000 persons watched the sensational stunt.

The water was icy cold and it took the girl twenty-three minutes to make the swim. The crowd thought she had been hurt when she struck the water flat on her side, and dazed, called for help, but before boats reached her, Miss Starling pluckily continued without help.

Millions for a New Stomach

One of the greatest American millionaires said to his physician, "A million dollars, Doctor, spot cash and no grumbling, for a new stomach," and then the sick man groaned and turned away. All his wealth could not make him happy or contented, for happiness largely depends upon digestion. Without health where does happiness come in? After all the stomach plays a great part in everyday life. Without a healthy stomach and good digestion our blood is thin, watery and poor, our heart action is weak, our liver does not do its duty, and man is miserable and unhappy. Prevent disease by putting the house in order and strengthening the system against the germs of disease.

Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., years ago understood diseases and their prevention, and he discovered certain roots and herbs which were nature's remedies, and succeeded in putting them up in a form that could be easily procured at the drug store (liquid or tablets). This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This Discovery gives no false stimulation because it contains no alcohol or any narcotic. It helps digestion and the assimilation of such elements in the food as are required for the blood. It gives to the blood the food elements the tissues require. # TWENTY-THREE ARRESTS KEEP NIGHT COPS BUSY

Twenty-three arrests were made last night by the police department, charges of drunkenness being in the majority, with nine arrests in connection with narcotics was a close second with six. Three charges each of abusive language and driving cars without lights tied for third place.

The total was made up by one charge of wife beating and one of rudely displaying a pistol.

The arrests for "dope" is a continuation of the police department's determination to rid the city of this class of residents.

The charges of driving without lights is following out an effort to stop this practice among car drivers.

KALIFORNIA KEWPIES KUT UP AT MAJESTIC FOR THREE-DAY STAND

Kirkland's California Kewpies, featuring a beauty chorus of real dancing girls, opened at the Majestic last evening. The high class entertainment given by this company verified advance information concerning its merit. Kirkland is a black-face comedian extraordinary and Helen led the chorus to many encores.

A very uncommon feature of the program was the numbers of Homer Coghill on his one-string violin.

A complete change of program will be given at each performance, it was announced.

MAJESTIC

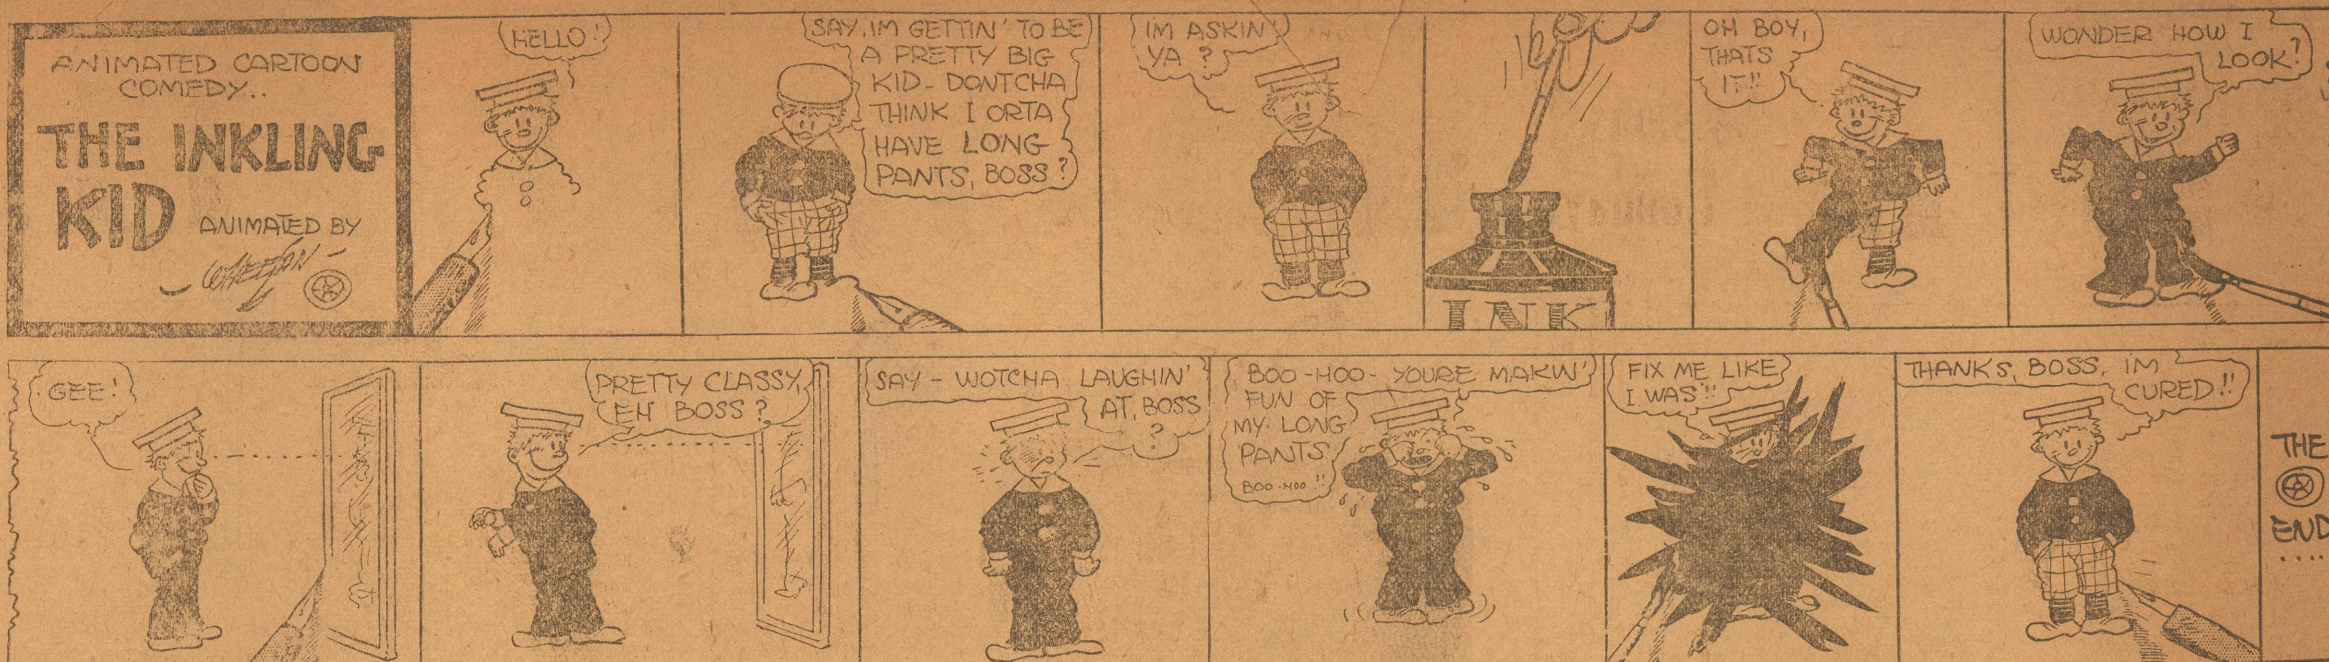

Karl Fornes, Character Actor.

Karl Fornes, who plays Borney, the ancient proprietor of the antique shop in the Hampton-Pathé production, "Felix O'Day," adapted from the novel of the same name by F. Hopkinson Smith and which is playing at the Majestic theater soon, comes from a family of actors.

His father was a celebrated singer, but Karl showed acting ability when very young. His first stage experience fifty years ago, was in "The Taming of the Shrew." Later he appeared in "Old Heidelberg" and "Macbeth." His first screen appearance was with Kalem. He played many prominent character parts up to the present day.

His work as the eccentric old antique dealer in "Felix O'Day," commands the highest of praise.

CARNIVAL BURIES MUD UNDER SAWDUST AND CINDERS; OPEN TONIGHT

Campbell's carnival, here this week under the auspices of the Elks' lodge, will re-open tonight after being rained out for two days. Seven wagons today are handling cinders and sawdust and the management assures pleasure seekers that there will be no inconvenience tonight due to mud. All shows, including the trained animal act and the fighting lions, which head the list of attractions, the wild west show and the motordrome, with its sensational riding against a straight up-and-down wall, will be ready for business.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 the allied shows will parade through the business district, with all performers and attractions and headed by the carnival's super band. The parade is a daily feature of the carnival's exhibit, but rain has forestalled its cancellation for the past two days.

TEMPLE

It was Marion Davies' beauty, expressive eyes, and piquant mannerisms, exhibited in the famous Ziegfeld Follies, that gave her the opportunity to enter motion pictures and develop into the talented emotional actress that she is today. Miss Davies, who will appear at the Temple theater today in her latest picture, "The Restless Sex," first appeared on the stage with Fred Stone and the late Dave Montgomery in "Chin Chin." Subsequently she had prominent roles in "The Century Girl," "Miss 1919," "Betty," and "Oh, Boy."

Abandoning the stage for the screen, Miss Davies quickly became a star and played the leading role in "Runaway Romany," for which she also wrote the scenario and titles. Her latest picture is "The Restless Sex," a romance of a very modern young woman, unfolded against the lavish background for which Robert W. Chambers' stories are famous. Ralph Kellard and Carlyle Blackwell portray the leading male roles. The picture, which was directed by Robert Z. Leonard, is a Paramount release and was produced by Cosmopolitan Productions.

TOURING CAR HAS A COCKTAIL BAR

The car seats 15 persons and at night 9 can sleep on spring beds with every comfort.

ROOKIES WANT TO GO TO RHINE; DOUGHBOY IS PLUTOCRAT THERE

So great was the rush of recruits for service in Germany when enlistments were thrown open on November 1 that before telegrams discontinuing acceptances could go out from Major P. C. Harris, the adjutant general of the army, to army recruiting officers throughout the country, twice the number of men desired had enrolled. There were 200 infantry vacancies, and in six hours 250 had enlisted, but before they could be stopped, 338 had joined. For the 56 vacancies in other branches, 90 men got in under the wire before they could be held up from Washington, a total of 428.

Letters home from the soldiers in the American forces in Germany tell a story of pleasant life on the Rhine, with the American dollar worth so many marks that the average private is almost a plutocrat when compared to the Germans. An interesting side light on service there is the fact that a number of discharged men on their way home recently turned back at Antwerp to reenlist.

TO THOSE WHO FORGET

The writer passed a monument recently dedicated to soldiers and sailors, and on a bronze tablet was an inscription narrating deeds of valor. The monument of granite will outlast many generations and those whose achievements it commemorates will be old and gone long before the monument is marked by time. But is art the only appreciation that a grateful people should give? Could anything be more incongruous than soldiers and sailors standing in despair in the shadows of the very monuments lifted to commemorate their deeds? Here is a soldier who does to his body what the high explosives of the enemies failed to do—he destroys it,—and yonder is another who feels the sting of our neglect and, discouraged, also chooses death. The records increase alarmingly and are to increase. Is the Government these men fought to sustain unable to sustain them? Is an expression in cold marble or bronze all that a Nation has to offer? Is the science of our Government so unscientific that it is unable to function on behalf of those who gave all they possessed? If our statesmanship was strong enough to plan and execute great military maneuvers that resulted in winning a world war, is that statesmanship too supine to set in motion the forces that will hearten these men to turn with enthusiasm to peaceful pursuits? They answered the crisis in the soul of the Nation. Should we not meet the crisis in their own souls? The needs of a single soldier who knew how to fight better for his country than he does for himself should stir us to action. It is a distinct loss of dignity to a city or to a state that one, upon whom the Nation leaned heavily when it was menaced, must now stand alone until he falls. To forget may be human, but to remember is divine.—Extract from Nov. Rotarian.

LEST WE FORGET

Two years ago, Buddy, on November 11th, where were you? If you were in France it was a great day, wasn't it? When the big guns stopped shooting and when the danger from gas and shrapnel was over we felt better, didn't we? But that wasn't all there was to it. Feeling better because the danger was past was, to be sure, a great and glorious feeling, but behind it all there was something bigger than that. We all knew that we had dictated the terms of the armistice; that Germany had "ceased firing" because the allies had won the war, and knowing this we all knew that our trip to Europe had not been made in vain. It made us feel big within ourselves; it made certain the belief that we had always thought we were fighting for what was right and it confirmed our faith in the invincible power of America.

It was for November 11th, it was for Armistice Day, that these boys gave up their lives. On that day the world reaped the reward of their sacrifice and for any American to belittle the littlest of them by saying that "what we did didn't amount to much anyhow" is for him to render himself a shame to the Nation and to show himself unworthy of the blessings of Peace which others have secured him.

We gave to the world our idea of what a Man's Rights ought to be; we took to Europe with us, and we left it there, a spirit of high-headedness and personal liberty which made us hard to handle as individual soldiers but which made us invincible as an army. This American spirit lives and is spreading over the world today; the spirit of Germany is defeated and is dead; all Humanity owes a debt to the Buddies who didn't come back and in the years to come as the Peace of the world becomes more and more secure that debt will grow larger and larger. The supreme sacrifice which they have made will for generation after generation reap an increasing reward.

The Greatest Mother in the World

Nov. 11, two years ago today, the World War ended in a glorious victory, guaranteeing to all mankind freedom from German tyranny. The organization which did more than any other toward making this victory possible by its untiring efforts to relieve the suffering, clothe the naked and feed the hungry, both soldiers and civilians, who were the victims of that awful carnage, was the Red Cross.

But like a fond mother, her vigilance never ceases, and today she is found perpetuating that great charity in the devastated countries of Europe, and in our own land as well; yes, even in our very midst.

In a few days our citizenship will be called upon again to renew their allegiance and membership in the Red Cross, whose charity is universal.

It is to be hoped, that when the call is made none will forget that service to our brave boys, both at home and over there, and that none will be found wanting.

NOT WHOLLY BAD. Ranger is not the wickedest and most corrupt city in the world. It is not probable that Colonel Hamon intended that his statement to that effect should be taken literally.

South America, Australia, New Zealand and Africa, on the grounds that it is both expensive and militaristic. His ire is particularly aroused by what he terms "seductive representations" on navy advertising posters, which have influenced ambitious youths from 15 upward to run away from home and join the navy and then decide they want out, resulting in the department's turning a disapproving eye upon the frantic mothers who beseech their son's release from service.

But from other viewpoints, there is some merit in the navy's stand. A navy requires trained men, and they cannot be trained by correspondence nor by a chalk talk after war is declared. If we are to have a navy worthy of the task of first line defense with which it is entrusted, it must have the men to train. If they cannot be attracted by the advantages usually offered, then something in the nature of an added attraction must be put forward. Otherwise the navy might as well be tied up at the docks and allowed to rust away.

At that, except for hold-ups and like criminal and premeditated violence, the vice conditions in Ranger are probably not as bad as they were thirty years ago in almost any town in Texas. There were good people in those days, and they numbered more than nine-tenths of the population. If this were not true, we of the present generation would all be moral degenerates.

This fact is not brought forward in defense of conditions which now exist in this city. That was a different era when civilization was yet lacking in many laws which are designed to check the turbulent and the vicious in their assaults on the social order. It is mentioned only to bring attention to the fact that violence in a community does not mean that the community is wholly violent and vicious. More than ninety per cent of the inhabitants of Ranger are just as moral, just as conscientious, just as righteous and scrupulous as the inhabitants of any other city.

The gambler and the liquor vendors are bloodsuckers, who add nothing to the wealth of a community. They make hijackers and thieves of normally honest men by stripping them of their all. They provide places where the confirmed gamblers may get a line on victims who may be tapped with profit.

NAVAL SIGHT-SEEING The Times is in receipt of an open letter sent by Congressman Thomas Blanton to Secretary of the Navy Daniels, in which he protests against the proposed cruise of the American fleet to

He objects to the added expense, which he figures will increase the navy fuel bill by 70 per cent, and is also likely to raise the price of coal to domestic consumers. He believes that a "vain display" of fighting craft will arouse suspicion and jealousy in the countries visited, thus causing still further expenditures for armament, and an increased tax burden.

In other words, for all reasons our congressman wants the trip canceled. In some ways Mr. Blanton is right. This is no time for taxes to be increased. It is no time for the price of commodities to be increased. The voyage would probably not enhance the efficiency of the navy any more than would ordinary training.

One thing or another will be done. So far as the youths who pine for their dotting mammas are concerned, the navy is a good place for them. It is an even better place for them than for the boys of the same age who are not pining. When their enlistment expires they will know something that will be of value in civil life, and in addition will have acquired a manliness and a self-discipline which their appeals for release show they lack, and which they would certainly never obtain in homes of which they are the pampered darlings.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

Checkmate! Chance, not necessity, determined the most successful plaything ever produced to combat the tedium of a rainy day in a toyless house and preserve intact the long standing friendship between Woman and Prudence.

Prudence, with the untiring perseverance of a seven-year-old in search of diversion, found the chessmen. They were very famous old chessmen of exquisitely carved ivory, one time participants in many championship games. Little Prue set them up on the east greensward of a card table. She maneuvered armies, paraded circuses, held regal courts, staged pageants, the pawns forming an admiring audience in the verdant amphitheatre.

"But, Prue, dear," murmured the Woman, "you've rather mixed up your royal family." "Oh, yes," Prudence raised her great brown innocent eyes and nodded knowingly. "The White King liked the Red Queen better than the White Queen, so he just whisked her in her car. It's only play, you know, it isn't real. So now" (building a banquet table out of two matchboxes and carefully placing a bishop at each end) "now, they're having another wedding feast."

A little later the Woman again had occasion to come through the room. The child was absorbed in a triumphant procession in intricate cavalry formation across the card table. Heading it were the White King side by side with the White Queen, followed by bishops, knights, elephants bearing banner-decked castles, foot soldiers full armed, two by two. At a suitable interval, as befits rulers of a recognized lesser realm, came the Red King with his consort and their court in like array. Prudence, glancing up, saw the Woman's look of inquiry.

Partly Justified. She was not more than ten or eleven years old, but he held the Woman's fascinated gaze, though the latter has memories of an entirely correct upbringing which included all the usual admonitions about the madness of "staring." It was very difficult not to stare at that child—she was so grotesquely ugly. Her nose was so small as to be negligible, but a mouth like a long red gash more than made up the difference. Her neutral-toned hair, braided into two tight pigtails, might better have been fluffed out and draped softly so as to hide two outstanding ears. She was generously freckled and her eyes were set so far back in her head that it was hard to tell whether they were gray or blue. The Woman's heart ached for the child, in spite of something pert and aggressive in her manner which seemed to indicate that she was far from feeling in need of sympathy. Perhaps that was what overrode the Woman from inwardly resenting a re-

"Tinker Bob" Stories by Carlyle H. Holcomb

THE STORY OF THE FOREST TERROR

Mr. Wolf with his shaggy tail tucked tight between his legs, was so frightened that he knew not what to do. When he saw Lady Duck with her wings outstretched and her head bent down, he thought it was a great spirit from another land that came to do him harm. "Oh, save me, I'll never, never do such a thing again," he begged.

Lady Duck thought it was time for her to speak, and she did: "Tell me what you have done or I'll gobble you up in a hurry. I was sent to see you and now you must tell me all for you cannot move a step."

She told Mr. Wolf the truth, for he could not move a step—he was so frightened. And she was sent, for Tinker Bob was waiting for her in the edge of the Forest. He was the one who sent her here. "Oh, I did it, I did it, I drove her away, and now I am sad and alone."

That terrible Major Polecat came along and wanted to get out of the rain. He came in and heard our quarrel. I searched till I found the Rabbits. Then she warned me again, but I pushed her aside. I was about to grab the trembling Rabbits when Major filled my eyes with his poison liquid. It was all over, I could not see nor smell, and when morning came they were all gone, and I haven't seen her since."

Tomorrow—He Wishes to See the King. The Army and Navy Legion of Valor of the United States of America is made up of men who are in possession of a medal of honor award for heroism in battle on land or sea.

Mark which ordinarily she would have considered cruel. It was made by the salesman, who turned in amazement, not unmixed with irritation, to the self-possessed young person, who summoned him by rapping on the counter sharply with the coin she held.

Little Bemm's Note Book by Lee Pope

We was eating breakfast this morning and pop sed, O by the way, mother, I'm going to bring a customer home for supper tonight but you won't half to bother getting anything special because he's a dyspeptic and hardly eats a thing but he's a queer duck and he won't give me an order unless I show him a lot of attention.

And when he came home this afternoon there was some skinny looking man with him named Mr. Boggs, and we went in the dining room and started to eat supper, being veal and stuffing under thick gravy and peech pie for a dizzert, Mr. Boggs saying, Now you people go ahead and eat, I'll just have some hot milk and eat my gram crackers with it if you dont mind.

And he took some gram crackers out of his pocket all rapped up in tissue paper and I ate a hole plateful of veal and stuffing under that thick gravy and then I passed my plate for another plateful, Mr. Boggs saying, O my goodness is he going to eat another intire dose of that? O that's mild for him, you must come some time wen we have something he's reely fond of, sed ma.

I dont think I could stand it, sed Mr. Boggs. And he kept on drinking his hot milk and taking little bites out of his gram crackers like a imitation of a bird which after I finished I sed, I havent iackerly had snuff but I want to leave room for my peech pie, can I have it now, ma? I sed, Which nut cut me a slice saying, Thats all the pie there is for you, so eat it accordingly.

Wich I did, eating it slow to make it look as if it was taking longer, and then I sed, Well if I cant have any more pie, ma, can I have some more veal and stuffing and gravy, I still feel a pritty big of a space. Wich Mr. Boggs quick got up saying, O horrors, I cant stand any more, I must go immediatly. And he took 2 pills out of a little bottle and drank them with watter, saying, My stumnick cant stand sites like that without soda mints, wared did I leave my hat?

Wy Mr. Boggs, we havent had a chance to talk bizness yet, sed pop, and Mr. Boggs sed, Maybe we never will. And he went, and I had to go to bed early. Proving how the innocent suffer.

RIPLING RHYMES

PROMPTNESS I went to James Augustus Jones, and from him borrowed fifteen bones, the which I needed sore, for all my aunts were sick in bed, my divers children cried for bread, as they ne'er cried before.

I said to Jones, "November 8 you'll see me waddle to your gate, to pay you every red; November 8, at half-past 10, I'll pull your latch-string once again, or you may know I'm dead." And Jones, he heaved a sickly smile, for he was wise to human guile, to promises that fail; and doubtless in his soul he signed, "I'm stung again, dingbust my hide! I'll never see 'the kale.'" November 8 dawned bright and fair, a hint of frost was in the air, the wind was east by west; and to the residence of Jones I toiled my morn and aching bones, the hooole in my vest. The clock was striking half-past 10 when I produced the iron morn, and paid him every bean; and after one astonished yell, poor Jones, he had a fainting spell, with spasms in between. His senses once again restored, "My faith in human men," he roared, "you've surely bolstered up; my jaded soul you've filled with peace, and you may wed my fattest niece, and use my pointer pup." And Jones has given me renown in all the byways of the town as one who keeps his word, and whosoever I may go, the people say that I'm a jo, a looloo and a bird.

We're in Business to Do More Than Merely Sell Tires. The Service we render is as much a part of our business of selling Truck Tires as the tires themselves. It is human nature to patronize a place where you get the most for your money. We sell Goodyear Solid, Cushion and Pneumatic Truck Tires because we know their ability to deliver high mileage. And we make sure of this through our Service "Before," "Of," and "After Application." ### Say, Buddie, 'Member the First Suit the Army Gave You?

—The coat was made for a stout and you wore a slim, and the pants so large you could place your whole pack in one trouser leg and still have room to spare? Nevertheless you sure was proud of yourself when you got togged out in that uniform, and you had a right to be. You can be just as proud of your "civies" as you were of that first uniform if you buy the right kind. We recommend Stein-Bloch because we know they'll give you most for your money, and they'll really fit you, too.

Tempestuous Love Affair Leads Texas Girl to Suicide

By Associated Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—A story of hopeless infatuation, told by the ace of spades, the Gypsy death card, which led Miss Theodora Sanders to plunge a pearl-handled dagger into her heart while talking to her former fiance in the lounge of a downtown hotel, was unfolded before a coroner's jury this morning.

Harry Garver, the former fiance, summoned to tell his story of the tempestuous love affair, said he had met Miss Sanders, whose home is Laredo, Texas, while on a southern trip as interstate foreign commissioner of the Chicago association of commerce. Passionate love letters and telegrams followed, being found in her hand bag when she died. These letters told of Garver's repeated promises to marry her as soon as he could divorce his present wife, now with her parents at Grand City, Mo. Later letters, however, indicated a diminished ardor. Garver told the police that he had intended that yesterday's meeting should be the last.

NEW GERMAN SECT DOESN'T BELIEVE IN GRIEF

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—Wide-eyed mourners listened in amazement to Oberdada Baader, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Order of Dades, a literary society which believes the drama ought to be made more simple, when he recently preached a funeral sermon over the body of his wife. Smilingly the Oberdada walked up to the coffin and in a brief and snappy little speech explained he had no occasion to grieve. "Death, he said, was merely a matter of expression, and he felt quite confident his wife was in a 'wider life.'"

At the conclusion of his sermon the Oberdada made a cheerful exit.

DRILLING CONTRACTOR HELD IN CONNECTION WITH CASING RAID

Staff Special.
BRECKENRIDGE, Nov. 11.—Tom Jeffries, being held in connection with the alleged theft of $5,000 worth of oil well casing north of Ranger Saturday night, was given an examining trial and made bond in the sum of $2,000 to await the action of the grand jury, which is now in session.

Jeffries, who is a drilling contractor, claims that he purchased the casing, which was claimed as the property of E. H. Cassidy.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Hughes of Stephens county was in Ranger on the night of the raid and through his work the alleged steal was broken up and Jeffries placed in jail.

It was said at the time that an armed crew was loading the casing on trucks and defying any one to prevent them.

A forfeit of $600,000 a day is made by one of the largest automobile manufacturers in the United States as a result of the new price reduction.

Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1920.

—Wasn't it a grand and glorious day two years ago, when the good news came? When we laid aside the uniform and stepped into "civies" once again? Surely no event in history can equal or approach the importance of Nov. 11, 1918. We then knew that the gallant buddies who fought at Belleau Woods and Flanders Field had not died in vain.
