

COMMITTEE OF 8

There has been no misappropriation of funds or other criminal acts by Judge Sparnes, the commissioners' report or other individuals disclosed by this audit.

"The engineer is making an entirely independent check of the actual work done on the different projects and his report will be considered separately and checked against the findings of the auditor. In the meantime, for the benefit of the people of the county at large, the committee desires to give some general figures and below will be found a schedule of receipts and disbursements, together with the balance now on hands in the Security State bank at Eastland and elsewhere; these figures speak for themselves.

| Total disbursements | $1,730,833.91 |
| Balance on hand | 384,138.53 |
| Total | $2,114,972.44 |

The figures above represent a very simple analysis of a fifty-page report given by the auditors, and any citizen sufficiently interested will be given the opportunity to look over the larger report and form his own conclusions.

"The report divides the disbursements in the most minute detail and covers every project in the county separately; there are, all told, in the county, twenty-two projects.

Contractors' Accounts.

|--|-----------------------|
| Total estimates | $1,130,477.27 |
| Cash paid on estimates | $ 836,491.23 |
| Bond discount charged, withheld | 181,854.16 |
| (1) Not Withheld | 56,160.00 |
| (2) Bridge materials | 33,016.66 |
| (3) Balance on garage | 4,180.39 |
| (4) Equipment and material, R. R. equip. | 5,875.86 |
| Industrial R. R. | 59,728.79 |
| Rock crusher | 31,857.17 |
| Road Roller | 3,300.35 |
| Contractors' outfit | 6,020.40 |
| (5) Advance and freight on state highway department transfers, road machinery, tools, etc. | 42,663.64 |
| Motor trucks | 20,611.12 |
| Debit balance | 151,282.50 |
| Total | $1,281,759.77 |

"(1) This item of $56,160 represents the discount on bonds sold, money for which is now in Security State bank of Eastland, and deductible at the rate of $1,600 per $100,000 from contractors' monthly estimates.

"(2) This item of $33,016 is made up of payments to bridge companies for steel and freight charges; when bridges are complete and accepted the contractors' estimates for bridges will be double this amount; no estimates on steel bridge work have been presented or allowed.

"(3) This item of $4,180 represents the balance due on garage sold by the county to the contractors, and is deductible at the rate of $750 per month from contractors' estimates.

"(4) These items, totaling $106,782.57 represent purchase of equipment by the county for the use of the contractors, in accordance with the contract, and is deductible in installments from the monthly estimates.

"(5) These items totaling $63,274.76 represent the outlay on road machinery and motor trucks obtained from the state, belonging to the federal government. This equipment cannot be sold to the contractors until the state can give title, but in any event the contractors are to pay the cost to the county from their final estimates.

Not Immediately Payable.

"We find that the items appearing on the Fleming & Stitzer account are charged to the account because the contractors must eventually pay if the contract is carried out. But the items are not immediately payable, as will be noted in the explanation, and the payment will be spread out over a number of months. On the other hand the credit to Fleming & Stitzer of their last estimate, amounting to $112,131.88, is payable by the county to the contractors, less a proportionate amount to cover bond discounts and equipment account, in accordance with the terms of the contract.

"With reference to outstanding bonds on which remittance has not been received by the county, the auditor reports as follows:

"Of bonds on hand the National City Bank of Chicago advise that they hold $74,000 of bonds unsold. They further advise that they hold attached to a note of the Security State Bank & Trust company of Eastland, Texas, bonds totaling $50,000, the property of the Security State Bank & Trust company, and by them pledged as collateral.

"On July 28, there appears in bank statement a credit to the account of the county treasurer of $42,664.58, being reported as the sale price of the $50,000 worth of bonds above mentioned, plus accrued interest purchased by the bank. Judge Sparnes advises us that the county does not recognize the sale and that these bonds so far as they are concerned are still owned by the county.

"There will be another meeting of the committee at Eastland on Tuesday, Sept. 13, to receive the report of Engineer John Mead.

"A complete copy of the auditor's report is on file in Ranger at H. S. Cole's office and any interested citizen is urged to call and examine it.

"The committee is unanimously agreed on above.

"F. E. HARRELL,
"Secretary."

wheat, which is expected to push the frontiers of the wheat belt 100 miles farther north in Canada and make richly productive millions of acres in the zone of early frosts that now lie untilled. Dr. Wheeler recently, "is the result of ten years of experiment. It ripens from a week to ten days earlier than Marquis and yields from eight to twenty bushels an acre more. Seeded with Marquis it is fully headed out when Marquis is coming out of the shot blade. I usually have it safely in shock by July 28. It ripens in this high latitude too early to be caught by frost or rust." Dr. Wheeler has sold seed of this variety of wheat in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta as well as in most of the western commonwealths of the United States. With this wide distribution, Early Triumph wheat will have its first continental test this year.

When the government called its young men to arms it did not inquire over-carefully into their past. Naturally, some chaps with lax ideas as to their relation to the law were put into uniforms. Not even the rigorous experiences of service across the sea converted them wholly to quiet and moral living when they returned to the walks of peace. It may be, moreover, that those months of hard requirements served to weaken the integrity of an occasional youth to the extent of causing him to fall into evil ways when released from army discipline to go his unhampered way.

Having been a "war hero" does not inspire a man to bad deeds, however—else a vast majority of the fine youth of the land who would now be in wrong doing. It is the rare exception that an ex-service man breaks the statutes of his community or state, so why involve all in the individual's mistaken course? Urging an alleged lawbreaker's war service as a reason for leniency being shown him in court is one thing, but making it appear that "another war hero has been arrested" is quite a different matter. Let us safeguard jealously the reputation of 4,000,000 young American citizens won for themselves in trying times, and which they now must commit to our keeping in a considerable degree.—St. Louis Times.

AND HORSESHOES

University Place, a suburb of Lincoln, Neb., eight boys were caught red-handed last Sunday pitching horseshoes. The Judge appraised the crime at $5 a head, the boys were freed and outraged University Place resumed watering the lawn. Undoubtedly Townsman Bryan was pleased, the Rev. Wilbur Crafts doubtless got a pleasant glow from the news item. Eight young lives had been snatched from perdition via the horseshoe-flinging route. Altogether it was a great day for enforced morality.

University Place is richer by $40 which can be used to defray the salary of its local hooch detective.

How the country could smile at the incident were it not that any town is a potential University Place! Against this depressing dispatch can be set, however, the cheery report of the department of agriculture that the current year will produce 32,000,000 pounds of hops, which is enough to make 15,000,000 bottles of home brewed beer. So, in mysterious ways, the laws of compensation operate.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

SANDUSKY, Ohio, Sept. 7.—Levi Ellis, 80 years old, civil war veteran, paroled from the Ohio penitentiary last May, is accused by Fred Philby, a Spanish war veteran, of having alienated the affections of Philby's wife in a cross-petition for divorce filed by Philby here.

A total stranger came through town this afternoon. Sidney Hocks said he knew somebody was coming because his nose had been itching all morning.

It is being advertised around on the trees and barns that Atlas Peck will make a public address at the Wild Onion school building Friday night. Atlas is a right good speaker but his main fault is that he always has something to say in conclusion three or four times before he concludes.

RUSSIA DESERTS MR. VOLSTEAD

Russia, it appears, has had enough of life under the Eighteenth amendment and has gone back on the proposition in favor of light wines and beer. The Czar's prohibition edict of 1916 has been modified by the Soviet to allow the manufacture and sale of beverages containing not more than 14 per cent of alcohol. These beverages will be highly taxed, but no government tax could add as much to the price of drinks as has been added in the United States by the bootleggers. Now that Russia has deserted the cause Turkey and the United States are left alone in support of the principles of the Anti-Saloon League, and even the United States wobbles slightly on the question of home brew.

Home brew has been a doubtful product, but unless current bootlegging quotations are reduced and unless the house version of the anti-beer bill is altered to make it a crime to brew your own, the consumer is certain to turn to the simple but effective facilities of the family kitchen. There was a time not far in the past when all alcoholic drinks were home-made, and there is no reason to believe the race has degenerated so completely by dependence on manufactured products that it can no longer put two and two together. "If you say an illicit distillery may be established in every home," says Representative Fields indignantly, "you kill the Volstead act." This, alas! is a rosy view, but there is a grain of truth in it.

Russia is gone, the United States is slipping. Only Turkey stands like a rock against the tide.—New York World.

PANAMA MIGHT BE RIGHT

Much less trouble is taken in determining the justice of Panama's claims to territory than would be lavished in clearing up a less important claim presented by a more powerful nation.

Chief Justice White was a great and good man, but that he made errors occasionally may be discovered by a single glance down the list of cases in which he was overruled by his own court. His Panama decision was drawn up by the busy jurist during a vacation, and approved as good enough. To regard such a document as beyond discussion and threaten to use force on Panama rather than allow an appeal must look exceedingly high-handed from the Central American point of view. If the state department is so certain of the righteousness of Costa Rica's cause, why not permit an impartial inquiry to satisfy Panama's patriotic pride? Surely there ought to be some way out of the dispute besides a laying down of the law and a parade of gunboats to bring all parties into line.

If Panama should happen to be right, which is possible, the United States is using its power and prestige to perpetrate an injustice.—New York World.

THE "WAR HERO" IN THE HEADLINES

Too much "war hero" phrasing is being put into the newspaper headlines over stories of young men breaking the laws. An uninformed reader would be led to believe that honorable service in Uncle Sam's army or navy led inevitably to robbing the mails, or forgery, or assault, or kindred offenses. It is unjust to the 999 ex-service men who live uprightly to call attention to the fact that the 1,000th who chances to get arrested was a "war hero."

On the one Hand--

Mrs. Jones is "an old-fashioned shopper." When she hits the buying trail, it becomes a war path. She goes everywhere, sees everything, asks countless questions, and leaves a wake of piled-up counters and worn-out sales folk behind her.

Sometimes she wonders why a tired girl is a little snippy. Often she suspects that merchandise is not shown to her with particular enthusiasm or graciousness. She wonders why somehow shopping days are becoming an ordeal that leaves her limp and worn-out at supper time.

While on the other--

Mrs. Smith is a modern shopper. She makes up her mind what she is going to look at before she leaves the house. She knows just where she is going, how much she wants to pay, and where she'll find the right goods at the right prices.

She sets out long after Mrs. Jones has left her house, and gets back in time for a cup of tea before getting supper. Everybody has a pleasant word for her, and sometimes she feels that her own face wears a perpetual smile. To her shopping is a pleasure.

NOW HERE'S THE DIFFERENCE. Mrs. Jones, being old-fashioned, doesn't realize the value—to her—of advertising. Mrs. Smith does. She makes a practice of reading the advertisements in her newspaper. Sitting at ease in her home, she formulates her shopping program and follows it out. She notes the things that interest her particularly, and plans to cut out waste motion, unnecessary steps and lost time.

Are you Mrs. Jones—or Mrs. Smith? Do you make the advertisements work for you? If not, try it. Read the advertisements carefully and regularly? You'll find the steps, the bother, the trouble they'll save you will make shopping day a holiday.

Having inspected both, "Trotzky may conclude that the bread line is more influential than the firing line.—Washington Star.

That, of course, is a misfortune in some ways, but there are compensations. The short crop makes the long price, and it is possible that some profit will result from the making of whatever crop there is. On the other hand, labor will not get its share, for there will not be the crop for the pickers and the ginners and the railroads and other auxiliaries to handle. That means a less general distribution of whatever income there is to be.

So it is not at all certain that "Temple" will this year set the price of oil. However, the increased price of cotton cannot fail to act as a tonic to business in general, and certainly it is better to have a short crop with a high price than a short crop with a short price.

Meanwhile, the oil crop refuses to decline in volume, at least in the Mid-Continent field.

"Is bathing sinful?" asked the New York World. Not the bathing itself, but to many it offers an excuse to be sinful, dazzling and bewitching.—Houston Post.

good health and sufficient means. It has been given a cast that is a delight, including Lois Wilson, Jack Holt, Conrad Nagel and Fontaine La Rue. Sylvania Hayes, a modern girl of wholesome attractiveness, meets two extremely eligible young men, Mark Sherridan and Allen Erskine, while the lovely aunt of the latter. She accepts the proposal of Erskine and marries him, while Sherridan leaves her for the Amazon, cherishing a deep love for her. Five years pass and there is a young son in the Erskine family, also a gradual spirit of unrest and unhappiness between the two. Meanwhile, Sherridan returns from his wanderings, revives his visit with the Erskines and he and Sylvan fall in love with each other. At this point, providence, in the shape of the understanding aunt, steps in and there is a natural setting to the order of the Erskine affairs. Romance has not died, it has just been submerged.
