MISS RAPPE'S FINAL HOURS TO BE PROBED

Doctor, "Missing Witness," Is Found and Will Give His Testimony.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—A missing witness in the Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle case, Dr. Arthur Beardslee, the Hotel St. Francis physician, who treated Miss Virginia Rappe before her death, was located today in a telegram received from the sheriff of Douglas county, Nevada, at Minden. Dr. Beardslee yesterday left Minden for Bridgeport, Mono county, California, on a hunting trip, according to a notification given District Attorney Brady, who telegraphed to the Mono county sheriff to order Beardslee to proceed to San Francisco at once.

His testimony is expected to throw light on the condition of Miss Rappe the first day after the Labor day party in Arbuckle's apartment, from which her death resulted.

Arbuckle's brief appearance in the superior court today to obtain a continuance on the manslaughter charge against him completed his schedule of trips outside the prison until next Thursday, when his preliminary examination begins before Police Judge Lazarus on the murder complaint sworn by Mrs. Bambina Maud Delmont, a member of the party in Arbuckle's room.

Manager Thomas J. Coleman of the Hotel St. Francis and other executives and employees were called before Robert H. McCormick, assistant United States in charge of liquor prosecutions, for questioning regarding the origin of the twenty quarts of liquor said to have been consumed at the party.

HIGHWAY COMMITTEE SAYS IT IS UNABLE TO FIND CRIMINAL ACTS

Amount Expended Is Reasonable for Work Accomplished and Speed Is Up to Normal, Report Asserts; Wants Bonds Recovered.

Failure to find "any criminal conduct in the handling of public road matters in this county" is perhaps the most important portion of the report of the Committee of Eight which has completed the task of investigating the sale of bonds and the building of roads in Eastland county.

In its detailed report, submitted to the citizens of Eastland county over the names of H. S. Cole, chairman, and F. E. Harrell, secretary, the committee sets forth the method by which they arrived at their conclusions, one of which is that "the Fleming & Stitzer company should be instructed to proceed with the work and its completion within the time limit."

The report also declares that "the interests of Eastland county demand the uninterrupted progress of the road building, regardless of personal opinions or political cliques," and that and an independent engineer, the committee of eight to report at a later date to the larger committee the result of its investigations.

The committee of eight held, all told, six meetings each one with 100 per cent attendance, indicating the remarkable interest each of these men felt in the work and the importance they attached to its final findings.

The methods employed by the committee of eight were as follows: Auditor and Engineer.

The auditing firm of Hutchinson & Smith, of Dallas, certified public accountants, was selected to make a complete and independent audit of all receipts and disbursements of the road building fund. The auditors were told that the committee desired all facts which would lend any light and would be of any interest to the citizens. The committee had in mind the various charges which had been made throughout the county and desired to know what foundation, in fact, these charges might have.

They engaged also the services of Mr. John Mead, an engineer of well known ability and integrity to make an independent check of portions of actual field work, sufficient to satisfy himself as to the quality and quantity of work done in the county. The engineer picked out certain sam-

325 MINERS IN VIRGINIA ARE INDICTED

LOGAN, W. Va., Sept. 17.—Three hundred and twenty-five names were included in a blanket indictment against miners, returned by a Logan county special grand jury today. The indictment followed an investigation of recent disturbances on the Logan-Boone county line.

Among the names are those of C. F. Keeney and Fred Mooney, president and secretary, respectively, of District No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, and H. W. Blizard, also a United Mine Worker official. In addition, 200 indictments charging insurrection and "pistol toting," were returned.

REMINDER TO HOLDERS OF SCRIP AND GUARANTY BANK'S DEPOSITORS

Monday morning the Retail Merchants will begin the task of redeeming scrip which was issued against the accounts in the closed Guaranty State bank and paying off depositors who assigned their accounts to the association in exchange for scrip. Hours will be from 10 to 12 o'clock.

On Tuesday night the offices of the association will be kept open for those who cannot come during the daytime. The committee handling the scrip asks that it be impressed on those holding receipts for 25 per cent of their account in the bank upon which scrip was issued, that they must be presented in person. The receipts are not transferable and have that statement stamped across their faces.

De Valera's reply to the prime minister's telegram was given out by the Sinn Fein publicity department. It was drafted by him at Blackrock and brought to the Mansion House, where it was made public by Arthur Griffith and Eamonn J. BARNES VISITS BUCK'S PLACE; BUCK LEAVES

Following a raid on his place of business on Rusk street Saturday night, Buck Ray was said to have made a sudden decision to change his location, and was reported by Deputy Sheriff John Barnes as still "uncaught."

Having failed to find the high-powered nubbun wine he sought at Buck's place, Barnes made an unheralded visit to Buck's living quarters on Elm street. He would not say what the results of this visit were, but intimated that he might have something of interest to give out as soon as he could locate Buck.

NATION PAYS TRIBUTE TO ZR-2 VICTIMS

Sixteen Men Sacrificed in Airship's Plunge Are Show Last Honors.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The nation, from president to humblest citizen, today paid its tribute to the memory of sixteen brave men. The sixteen were American officers and men of the ill fated dirigible, ZR-2, whose plunge into the river Humber put two nations in mourning.

Around the caskets of fifteen—there was gathered a great band of mourners coming from all walks of American society. With them in reverent sympathy stood guards of honor from three nations—Great Britain, France and Brazil—which landed parties from warships now in port. Secretary of the Navy Denby, representing the president and cabinet, attended the memorial service and placed on each casket a bouquet of flowers. When he had finished, his hands were trembling and his eyes moist.

Because of rain, which became a downpour at 2 o'clock, the hour set for the ceremony, the service was held in the yard mess hall instead of outdoors.

Flags Cover Caskets.

At one end of the whitewashed hall was the speakers' platform and in front of it, in a long, solemn row, the dead. Each coffin was shrouded in the American flag, each was covered with flowers. Each bore a simple card bearing the name and rank.

First to file into the mess hall were the American guard of honor, picked seamen and marines. Then again, the tramp of marching men, and a platoon of royal marine light infantry from the British cruiser, Dauntless, which yesterday bore the bodies home, entered on the side opposite the Americans and, trim in their blue uniforms, with white belts and pith helmets, took their stand. Into the rear of the hall fled sailors from Brazilian battleships and a French cruiser. Then the doors were thrown open to all. On the platform were seated men of rank—Secretary Denby; three admirals; commanders of foreign warships at anchor here; Sir Hugh Trenchard, British air minister; Major General Robert Lee Bullard of the United States army; British and French consul generals, and men prominent in varied walks of life.

JURY IN CASE OF FRED DAVIS IS STILL OUT

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 18.—At 2 o'clock this morning the jury in the case of Fred Davis, charged with the murder of Edgar Bullock in a tenderloin resort, had not reported a verdict. The case was given into its hands Saturday night after an impassioned and stirring appeal by District Attorney Claude McCaleb.

"There is no middle ground in this case," Mr. McCaleb told the jurors, "either hang this man or free him."

His voice failed him as he reached the end of his address and his last few words, vibrating with earnestness, were barely audible.

JAP NATIONALISTS TO SEND LEADER TO ARMAMENT MEETING

TOKYO, Sept. 17.—The Kokumito or Nationalist party has decided to send one of its leaders, E. T. Sufiro Uehra, to the United States during the Washington conference on limitation of armament and Pacific problems. The Seiyukai, or government party will also send representatives, privately to act as advisers to the official delegation.

Various bodies here, including the Japanese section of the International Christian union, are planning to hold explanatory lectures to keep up interest in the Washington conference.

BOARD RULES CONTRARY TO HIGH COURTS

Two Men Discharged Ordered Reinstated and Paid for Time Lost.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The United States labor board today established a precedent that railroads do not have the right to discharge employees without just cause, in a decision ruling that the Butler company railroad, a forty-one-mile line in southern Missouri, is to reinstate two men released because they belonged to the same union as the men working under them. The decision said that the board was fully aware its ruling was contrary to numerous supreme decisions on the matter but that it construed its duty to be to decide every question justly and reasonably, regardless of the legal rights of either side.

"The board is fully aware of the supreme court decision that a corporation has the right to discharge its men as it sees fit) and has no disposition in any way to question the soundness of the justice of this decision," the board's statement said. "The ruling then points to the transportation act which the board gave it the power to issue its decree and the view that the board's view that the 50-100 rule is its case according to angles and that a court should enforce them or the board decide in a just and reasonable manner which would be as possible to all concerned."

The railroad, which runs from Bar Bluff to Tipperary, discharged Jesse H. Hicks and Mosley, two subordinate employees when they joined the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers, the organization to which the men working under them belong. The board ordered them reinstated and paid in full for the time lost since their discharge, less what they may have earned in that time through other work.

The decision held that while a railroad could pick its officials as it saw fit, joining a union was not just cause for dismissal.

LONE STAR GAS LOSES FIRST BATTLE ROUND

DALLAS, Sept. 17.—The North Texas Gas company and twenty cities and towns served by it won the first decision in the legal battle with the Lone Star Gas company today when Judge Kenneth Foree of the Fourteenth district court denied the motion of the producing company that the bond of the North Texas company be increased from $10,000 to $500,000, pending the settlement of litigation.

Judge Foree set the bond at $40,000 and instructed that the North Texas company continue depositing monthly in a designated Dallas bank the money due the Lone Star company under the contracts which the latter seeks to break.

CONCHO SHERIFF IS HELD AFTER SLAYING OF BIG RANCHMAN

BRADY, Texas, Sept. 17.—Tom Benge, prominent ranchman of Concho county, was shot and killed at Eden, thirty-five miles west of here, late today. Sheriff Bob Miller of Concho county is held, charged with the killing. At the time of his death Benge was under bond in connection with the fatal shooting of J. Bryant, a son-in-law of Sheriff Miller, and was to have been tried at Paint Rock shortly.

Bryant, who was a rural mail carrier, was shot and killed two months ago while delivering mail to Benge's home. Bad feeling was said to have been brewing between the two families for some time.

tor's report accounted for all bonds of the county sold and traced the amounts received therefrom through the bank. Reports Checked.
The engineer's report was checked against the auditor's report, and although made entirely independent of the estimates of the county engineers, the results in each case are different only by a very small per cent.

The committee also investigated the various charges which had been published in the newspapers, through every available source of information.

The total time given to these investigations covered a period of five weeks and summaries of the auditor's report and engineer's report have been made public through the newspapers.

Conclusions Reached:
The conclusions arrived at are as follows:
1. Reports of the engineer do not disclose any improper conduct in the public road matters.

2. The amounts expended on the road projects are reasonable under the contract, and that the amount of road work accomplished is proportionate to amount expended; that the work has been apparently moving rapidly as other similar projects under the same general conditions.

3. That the interests of Eastland county demand the uninterrupted progress of the road building, regardless of personal opinions or political cliques.

4. That under the contract the Fleming & Stitzer company were to accept bonds at par, plus accrued interest, in payment of the work, and that even if the rest of the bonds are not sold on the market, that does not constitute a reason for stopping the work.

5. That the Fleming & Stitzer company should be instructed to proceed with the work and its completion within the time limit. In view of the investigations above and the consequent conclusions, this general committee recommends:

(a) That legal actions intended to hinder or halt the road work should be discouraged.

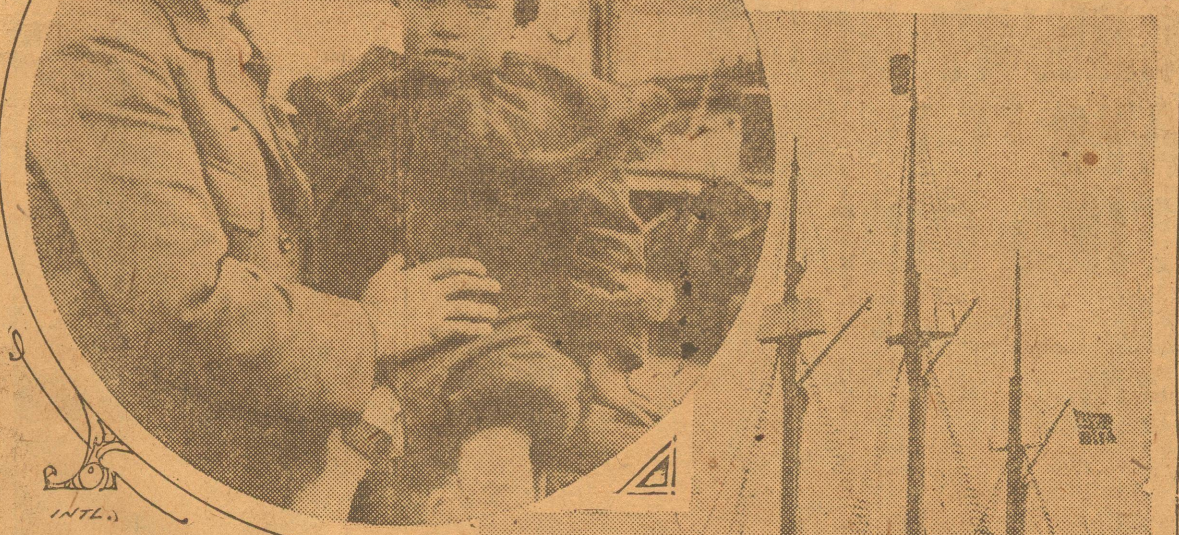

(b) That the commissioners' court should be upheld in their efforts to complete the road work in Eastland county and that the citizens in general should withhold judgment on any question pertaining to the roads until all information is available and until indiscriminate charges are backed up with proof.

(c) That the commissioners' court should take immediate steps to recover the $50,000 worth of bonds hypothecated to the First National Bank of Chicago, Ill., without authority, and if wrong-doing is disclosed to prosecute the guilty parties.

The further recommend that the original intent of the county wide committee should be carried out and a smaller committee from this body should act with the commissioners' court as an advisory committee of citizens.

H. S. COLE, Chairman.
F. E. HARRELL, Secretary.

AMUNDSEN PREPARING FOR 7-YEAR EXPEDITION

Captain Boald Amundsen, the famous explorer, has arrived in the waters off Seattle, Wash., in his exploring ship Maud, to be fitted up for a new dash to the North Pole. After having her propellers replaced the ship was loaded up with provisions and material for his next expedition, which Captain Amundsen said he expected would take about seven years. The illustration shows the good ship Maud and Captain Amundsen, with his adopted child, Oakonita, who is the youngest of two Eskimo children that he adopted during his last trip north. Above are six members of the Eskimo crew who came back from the north on the explorer's last trip and who will accompany him on his new quest. It was the first time they sailed from the Arctic waters and they still stick to their furs.

PROWLERS HERE RANSACK HOME; TAKE SHOTGUN

By Associated Press.
C. R. Chollar, manager of the Basket Grocery company, doesn't think Saturday, Sept. 17, is his lucky day. Fact is, he's darn sure of it. For some city slicker not only to put over on him a one-smack bill which simulated a "five" well enough to break into the cash register in that compartment. On top of that, he went to his home in Highland Park and found it had been ransacked. The loss as reported to the police department showed the prowler remembered the women folk as well as himself. His illegal acquisitions were a Swiss wrist watch, two rings valued at $30, four silk shirts, a pair of men's shoes and a woman's blue satin dress.

The raised bill passed on Mr. Chollar is the first instance of the kind in Ranger. The work appeared to have been done with a pencil. C. M. Smith was another loser of the day. He left a Remington pump shotgun, valued at $112, in his car in front of the S. & H. store while absent a few minutes. He returned to find it gone. This theft took place just after dark.

For women to take the names of their husbands on marriage day was a Roman custom.

HOUSTON FAMILY MAY BE VICTIM OF FLOOD

By Associated Press.
HOUSTON, Sept. 17.—An entire Houston family is believed to have been lost in the San Antonio flood. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Moses with a daughter and small son were camped in an automobile tourists' camp in the flooded city Friday when the deluge fell. A friend here received a post card dated at San Antonio Sept. 7, saying the family would be home about Sept. 9. Since then no word has been received and they have not arrived here, according to friends.

Chinese women have entered into every sphere of activity alongside of men, and already are to be found assuming responsibility in municipal government as well as being engaged as teachers and clerks in the railway offices.

MEXIA BUSY BUT NO PLACE FOR SMALL FRY

J. T. Lander and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKinnis returned Saturday from Mexia, where they spent a week looking into the oil situation.

Mexia is no place for the "little feller," is Mr. Lander's conclusion after a thorough inspection. Neither is it a place for the working man. He says there are ten rotary drillers hunting a job for every one working. Lease bounds are busy though and Main street is seen through a blue-print haze. There is a brisk trading in leases, but for two miles around the Diesenberg well they have already reached the peak. The Kirby well, which came in yesterday, was expected in when the party left. It is to the west of town and will mean a tremendous rise in leases nearby, which until this time were speculative property. The Kirby well, or as it is known in Mexia, the Bass well, confirms Mr. Lander's impression that the field will extend to the west. Hot salt water is creeping in on the south and east, and may be forcing the oil out.

Mexia itself is fairly reasonable as to prices but there is a steady influx and shacks are beginning to spring up. Just to make some of the drifters feel at home, there is a shack settlement, known as "Rangertown," to the west of the railroad. Ex-Police Chief Cooper is one of the business men there.

The town is still in the promotion stage of oil development and Mr. Lander brought a Mexia oil paper with him, which carries a list of completions, drilling wells and locations. It names thirteen producers, some flowing by heads and others pinched in; there are sixteen ready to complete, twenty-five drilling, and about twenty-five locations.

Buildings on the property formerly occupied by Whitis school have been razed, and the work of erecting the new structure of brick and concrete is to be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Building permit has been issued by the city, and the estimated construction cost is $400,000.

FORD'S PLAN ON MUSCLE SHOALS MAY BE ADOPTED

Tennessee River Folk Most Ardent Backers of Lizzie Magnate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—While so many manufacturers are losing sleep thinking how they can keep prices up, it is intrusive to consider the psychology of the most brilliant of American manufacturers, our Jew baiting friend, Henry Ford.

Before the war came along to upset nearly every good tendency in the world Henry was possessed of a dream. It was to sell a Ford car, a tractor and a truck—all for the total price of $1,000.

That is the kind of a dream to have. Henry would have realized it by now, probably, had the world postponed its experiment in scientific throat cutting. He will go right ahead and come as near as post-war conditions permit. Indeed, he may do it yet.

Several months are likely to elapse before the details of the Muscle Shoals contract are threshed out, but in the end, say somewhere around the first of January, it will be as far as inside appearances go now, accepted by the government.

This delay is altogether right. Desirable as it is to have a person of Ford's genius demonstrating efficiency in needed pioneer work, it is necessary also to consider every clause from the public standpoint. Good trading in behalf of the government is desirable, provided the effort is to reach a fair agreement and not to block an agreement in favor of competing interests.

The principal activity in favor of the Ford contract is being carried on by the farmers and the business interests located along the Tennessee river. But the question is much bigger than any locally or than any single group of interests.

Value of Nitrogen.
When you decide what to eat nitrogen is an important element in a nourishing and balanced diet.

The principal component of nitrogen is salt peter. Taking the whole earth together a vast deal of salt peter is used up in a year. Yet if you draw a line around any seven-acre plot on the surface of the earth you will have above it as much nitrogen as has gone into that year's supply of salt peter for the whole earth.

In other words, man, so experimental in sciences and mechanics, so lacking in spiritual wisdom, has discovered that in the air above him is an unlimited supply of this all-important product. The Germans were the ones to go after it first. Other countries followed, but we did not move until the war forced us to do so.

We boast about our increase of population, and are delighted when our overgrown cities become still more unwieldy. Modern sanitation enables our population to double in sixty-five years. From 1900 to 1910 our population increased 21 per cent.

How was our food supply doing in the meantime? During the same ten years our crops increased only 10 per cent. The farmers' interest in getting nitrogen fertilizers out of the circumbient air has a basis, if we wish, to continue to push our population and also to eat good meals. Let us go back to the last normal year before the war balled everything up. In that year Belgium raised over seventy bushels of oats to the acre.

Germany, with a bad natural soil, raised over 60, the United Kingdom over forty, Italy, Australia and France, over thirty.

The United States and Russia brought up the rear, both with less than thirty. Or take potatoes in the same year, Belgium raised nearly 300 bushels per acre, the United Kingdom and Germany over 225, the United States considerably less than 100.

Now that is a question of soil culture, mainly of fertilizers and the principal fertilizer is nitrogen. And the greatest nitrogen possibilities in the world are at Muscle Shoals, in Alabama, on the Tennessee river and that is what the rumpus is about.

The water power goes with it. No water power, no great nitrogen production. There are other aspects of the water power question, new and difficult, for before the youngest reader of these words is dead he will travel from New York to San Francisco by water power.

Delicate Secrets of Billowy Lingerie Replace Present Unhampered Visibility

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The subtle pull a long skirt up a few inches and reveal a flutter of billowy lingerie than for her to have a short dress on. Subtlety's the thing!

"This is the feature of the new American styles. They have part of a hem caught up in a teasing drapery. The skirts are really as long as those now worn, but to get the idea of length there is always something hanging down. Sometimes it's a thin whisker of monkey fur, perhaps an overskirt of beads and off-times the odd bit of lace."

"Ah! 'Twould be such a pity to cover up those pretty American girls," sighed the madame. "It is well that fashion won't permit."

"The new fall skirt is not lengthy. It is just long part of the way around and the rest is tucked up in an envelope fold with a bit of coquetterie that takes one into all the delicate secrets that might have been concealed.

HI SHOWS GOOD FORM AGAINST INDEPENDENTS

Hold College Men to One Touchdown; Friday Tag Day Nets $106.

Ranger public school athletics took a spurt Friday and Saturday with the announcement that Friday's tag day receipts amounted to $106 and that the Independent football eleven, composed of youngsters picked up here and there, took the Ranger Hi into camp Saturday in the season's first game by the score of 7-0. Saturday's results of the tagging of citizens for the athletic fund will be announced Monday. All connected with the enterprise were exceptionally well pleased with the results of the first day's tagging.

The Independent football eleven had something like 1,000 pounds advantage in weight over the Ranger Hi bunch, but the high school team feels not the sting of defeat. They were well pleased with the result, as were the coaches. With such university stars to battle as Winkler, Webb, Sudderth and others, the high school gang feel that they made a good showing.

ST. LOUIS STOPS DAILY PARADING OF PRISONERS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17.—The daily practice of parading prisoners before masked detectives at police headquarters, which has been followed the past two years, has been discontinued on orders of the police board.

In explanation it was said that the practice has been found to work some injustice to innocent persons, arrested for one reason or another, and subsequently released. Parading them with other prisoners has tended to place them undeservingly in a criminal classification and in some instances has caused embarrassment and humiliation on account of the presence of visitors.

The practice has been for all prisoners arrested during the preceding twenty-four hours to be taken from the holdover at 9 a. m. each day and paraded in a room before the detectives, the latter wearing masks to prevent criminals from becoming familiar with their features.

It has not been announced whether the suspension will be permanent, but for the present detectives will visit the holdover and inspect the prisoners there.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 17.—William E. Blessie, 41, Omaha, was kicked to death by Oscar Gabriel, during a fight which followed Blessie's refusal to drink with Gabriel, according to a police report. Blessie, who was married a week ago, is said to have told Gabriel he "had sworn off drinking." Gabriel escaped, but later surrendered.

KILBANE KNOCKS OUT FRUSH IN SEVENTH ROUND OF ROUGH SCRAP

By Associated Press. CLEVELAND, Sept. 17.—Johnny Kilbane is gray-haired, 32 years old, and has a look of age around his eyes. But he still is the featherweight champion of the world. The aged veteran of the ring, defending his championship for the first time in five years, knocked out Benny Frush of Baltimore, a challenger ten years his junior, in the seventh round of a scheduled twelve-round championship contest here this afternoon at the Cleveland American league baseball park, before a crowd of 22,000 which paid approximately $100,000 to see Kilbane, who has been title holder nine years, knocked into the pugilistic scrapheap.

The fight developed into one of the roughest and most exciting contests ever staged in the featherweight division. It came near being ended in the first round when Kilbane deliberately hit Frush in the groin with his knee, in retaliation for a punch that Frush had landed low. Kilbane, his face reddened with left jabs, protested to the referee, Walter C. Kelly, who paid no attention to him. As he fell into a clinch, Kilbane brought his knee up sharply and Frush fell to the canvas, apparently in pain. Referee Kelly allowed him to lie there. Kelly walked to the edge of the ring, held up his hand for silence, and said:

"I am not going to let this fight end in a fluke. You came to see a fight and you're going to see it." Kelly then ordered Frush's handlers to carry him to his corner and after a minute's rest the second round started as if nothing had happened. Frush carried the fight to the gray-haired Kilbane and staggered him with a left hook to the chin. It was the only time that Kilbane was in danger during the fight.

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Ty Cobb was the only member of the quartette which last week went into the stretch fighting for the batting honors of the American league, who made a gain during the week. The Georgia peach added four points to his average, giving him a mark of .394 for the runner up honors. Harry Heilmann, Detroit's slugging outfielder, struck a slump in his hitting and dropped to .398, just four points in front of his boss. Babe Ruth, of the Yankees, the third member of the slugging quartette traveled along on about a 50-50 basis, dropping one point. He is third with .382.

NOTRE DAME HAS HARD SCHEDULE

By Associated Press. SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 17.—Football men at the University of Notre Dame are preparing for one of the hardest schedules ever arranged for a college team. Knute Rockne, athletic director, has scheduled eleven games which will be crowded into a season of sixty-one days. The opposing teams include the army and Rutgers in the east, three western conference teams, and six of the strongest middle western elevens outside of the Big Ten.

The most strenuous part of the Notre Dame season will come from Oct. 8 to Nov. 8. Within this period the opponents will be Iowa, Purdue, Nebraska, Indiana, Army and Rutgers. Five of these games will be played on the gridirons of opposing teams, including a trip east where the Army and Rutgers will be played with only a three-day rest intervening.

The last three games, with Haskell, Marquette and the Michigan Aggies, will be played in thirteen days.

AIRPLANE WRECK DUE TO HIGH HEEL WORN BY GIRL

LONDON, Sept. 17.—How a girl's high-heeled shoe, jamming between the rudder-bar and the wooden guard, caused an airplane to crash, with the loss of three lives, was disclosed at the inquest on the pilot of an airplane and a man and a girl passenger, who were killed when the machine fell into a yard near the beach of Port Melbourne.

LEONARD WILL REMAIN AMONG LIGHTWEIGHTS

Champion Has No Idea of Seeking Middleweight Title.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Out West they seem to have come to the notion that Benny Leonard is going to relinquish that lightweight title and hop to the welter and middleweight classes, with the hope of annexing both titles. That day may come, but not yet awhile. While Wilson was training at Manhattan for Downey, Benny visited his camp, and immediately the rumor went about that Benny was down there to get an eyeful, with the notion that he would challenge Wilson if nothing happened to Wilson's claim to the title.

Wilson's Chum. To make this story stand up, the gossip mongers told how Benny Leonard, the champion's wise and older brother, had spent several days there looking Wilson over. And then Leonard himself spiked the story that he had been spying on the Boston man. Benny told how he and Wilson used to chum around before either was ever heard of as a boxer. Both liked the game and they simply swapped adventures when they were beginning.

That he had visited Wilson's camp for any but a friendly reason was not true. And now about deserting the lightweight ranks. Both Leonard and Billy Gibson are very firm and to the point on the subject.

"Why it is ridiculous," said Gibson last night. "This talk about Benny quitting the one hundred and thirty-five-pounders started with the calling off of the T. M. fight, followed by Leonard's visit to my camp. I've seen the western papers and they have a lot to say about it. It is a pity the division. Now that I have heard because of a broken hand, I would have been in a pound of the lightweights four days before the fight. It is a pity taken place yesterday."

"But for this," said Gibson, "I would have answered the question standing as a lightweight. I have knocked out Tom Gibson of the sun rises and sets. I have done it at the night and at the night at which he has and at the night at which he has hands twice before he has been a champion."

"There will be plenty of other men who think that I can go through as a lightweight. I can make that too strong. He can't get the weight and will be champion of the limit for some time to come. Welterweights and middles? Well, honestly, I think he can whip them all, but just because he shows some inclination to fight them that doesn't mean that he is going to desert his own class."

CARPENTIER AND GIBBONS WILL MEET IN FEBRUARY

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Georges Carpentier will meet Tom Gibbons of St. Paul for the world's light heavyweight boxing championship next February at Madison Square Garden. Tex Rickard, promoter, received Friday a radio message from Manager Descamps in which the latter stated that Carpentier would be ready and fit by that time to defend the title he won from Battling Levinsky.

"I had no doubt that the French idol would return here and meet Gibbons, according to the contract I have with him," said Rickard. "Carpentier never enters the ring unless he is fit and he wanted plenty of time to rest the injured hand he hurt in the Dempsey bout. I have no date set for the match, but will likely stage it the first week in February."

The bout originally was to have been held Oct. 12 at Jersey City.

BROTHERHOOD OF MAN IS FLOUTED BY ROOSEVELT

SYRACUSE, Sept. 17.—Warning that "many false doctrines are being mouthed through the land," in connection with the coming international conference on disarmament, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt told 60,000 persons at the State fair here this afternoon that disarmament is not a possibility. He asserted disarmament would not end wars, denounced its advocates and assailed those who preach the "international brotherhood of man" as "fatuous fools."

"We have no brothers except the citizens of the United States," he cried.

HE MEANT IT! BRECKENRIDGE Minn., Sept. 17.—To Breckenridge is due the distinction of being the home of one man who practiced what he preached.

Pat Brawlers, a few days ago, was reported to having said, "The fellows that make moonshine should be shot, and the fellows who drink it should shoot themselves."

A few days later Brawlers' charred body was found among the ashes of a burned straw stack. He had crawled under the stack, set fire to it and then shot himself. It then was reported that Brawlers had been drinking just previous to the tragedy.

WOMEN ON JURIES CONDEMNED BY JUDGES AS TOO EMBARRASSING

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—With the swearing in of one woman to serve on the grand jury of Bergen county, N. J., next Tuesday, and the selecting of thirty-five women for jury duty, prosecutor Archibald C. Hart in a statement at Hackensack yesterday afternoon declared he believed the state legislature had made a mistake in granting equal rights to women, allowing them to do this work.

The prosecutor said he would not oppose the serving of women. Mrs. Julia N. Stidman, of Ridgely Park is the woman who was drawn to serve on the grand jury.

Before placing the names of the women in the boxes, sheriff Joseph King communicated with them and asked them if they would be willing to serve. Upon the favorable replies, the names were drawn.

Prosecutor Hart's Statement.
The statement of the prosecutor follows:

"Nature established a difference between man and woman. The law has created them equal. Womanhood has very modestly boasted that it is now the equal of mankind. A fair compliment to us, in as much as they boast that they have been raised to our level. Perhaps their pleasure will be alloyed when they realize that in some respects in order to be made equal they may be lowered. Perhaps as an officer of the law I should visualize them as the same. Yet I have an old fashioned respect for the more delicate sensibilities of womanhood, and this influences me to deplore the serving of women in all cases before our grand and petit juries.

I am not referring to the brutal and vulgar type who most eagerly seek the extreme of mannishness for the probable purpose of exhibiting their courage. I have in mind the average woman. Those women who would participate in the government of all things are commendable in so far as they seek to carry a proper share of their political burden. But there is a limit.

"We have before our grand juries cases involving sexual questions, some betraying the most frightful moral perversions. I have not been blessed with too delicate a mind, yet I know that I would suffer indescribable embarrassment were I required to sit on a grand jury composed of twenty-two women and I the only man, and be compelled to listen to some of the testimony that is given.

Confinement Over Night.
"Many of our criminal cases result in disagreement and the twelve petit jurors are kept in confinement over night. This is particularly so where the trial has been long and expensive to the state. The courts seem inclined to avoid a retrial by urging the juries to do their utmost. I would feel some embarrassment were I confined with eleven jurywomen over night in the close quarters provided for the jurymen who are considering their verdict.

"If this be so of myself, I can imagine how frightfully distressing it would be to a self respecting woman sitting in one case with twenty-two men and with another with eleven men.

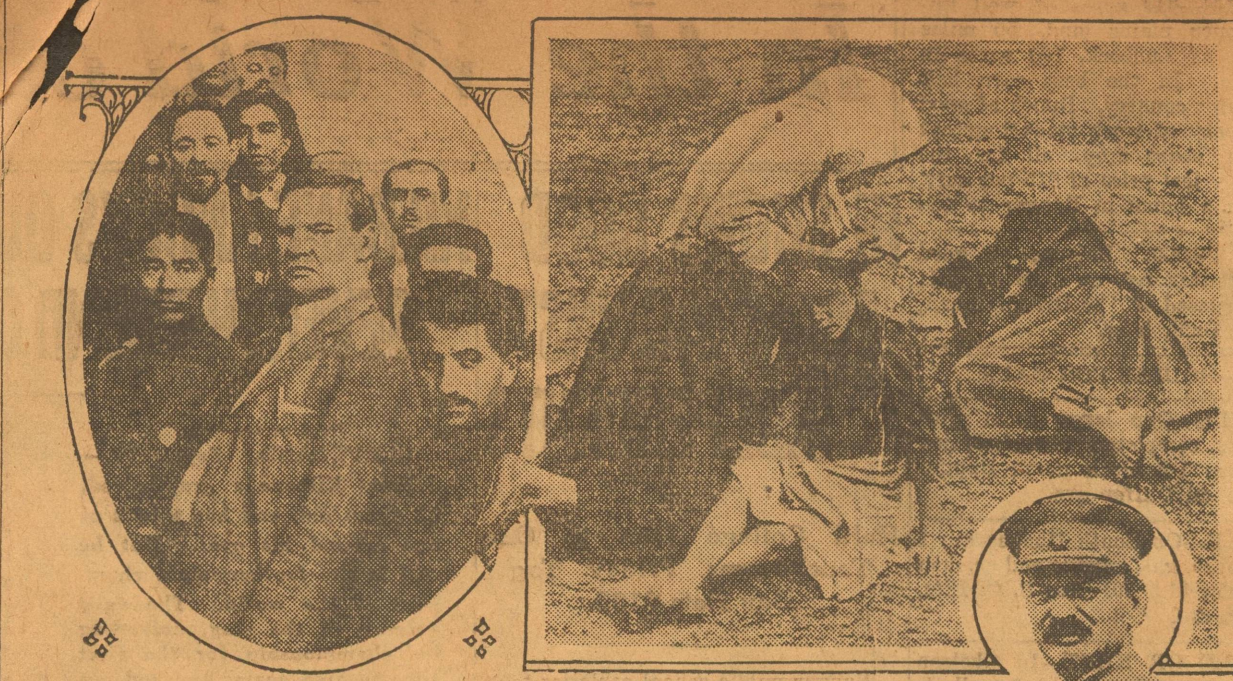

"Our jurymen are gentlemen but it is not a question of ingenuity so much as personal sensitiveness. We observe men on our grand juries turn away in disgust at some of the things which they have heard and we ourselves have regretted being obliged to present vulgarly, unconsciously feeling that we were a part of it.

"Many women have signified their willingness to serve. This was not enforced by the jury commissioner Sheriff Kingsley and commissioner De Groff first asked these women who are to serve whether they would care to do so. We will, of course, not challenge anyone because of sex.

Vulgar Testimony Inevitable.
"We cannot remove the vulgarity from sexual cases. It is told the juries in the language of those who participate and their language is vulgar, horribly so at times.

"This situation leads me to regret that the legislature in its human wisdom has played with one of the most beautiful creations of nature—the

FIRST PICTURES FROM FAMINE-STRICKEN RUSSIA

The camera today gives us a view of suffering Russia. You see the pathetic spectacle of famine sufferers, an emaciated mother and child, and another woman prone on the ground, weary and half-starved. The mother is cleaning the child's head of typhus-carrying vermin with a piece of wood. News reports from the land of the Soviets tell of hundreds of thousands of such scenes as this. The healthy-looking man in uniform is Leon Trotsky, Bolshevik war minister. The photograph was snapped as he was reviewing his Red army, in Kremlin Square in August. For the first time you see "Big Bill" Haywood, American I. W. W. leader, as he appears in Russia, whence he fled to escape a twenty-year term in Leavenworth prison, forfeiting his bail bond, put up by friends. Haywood wears American clothes and is shown surrounded by Bolsheviks.

A RUDE COMPARISON.

A fashionable woman who to save expense collected her own rents, found one of her tenants in bad humor. She thought it wise to forestall his complaints by making one or two herself.

"And the kitchen, Mr. Holt," she said, "is in a terrible condition."
"Yes, ma'am, it is," agreed Mr. Holt, "and you'd look the same way if you hadn't had any paint on you for six years."—Boston Transcript.

A SCHOOL PARTY

This party was certainly a novelty for the twelve little guests who were asked to spend the hours from three to five with the 6-year-old hostess. The oldest guest had just had her ninth birthday and at this advanced age she proved a decided help in assisting in amusing the younger children. The mother, in planning for this unusual affair, had saved all her spools for months back and had asked her friends to do the same for her.

First, dolls were made from spools by inserting a pasteboard nose in a slit and doing the face with a tiny brush and black paint (ink will do). Toothpicks were stuck in slits to form the arms. It interested the guests greatly to help in constructing these wooden men. Next, a bowling alley was made by inverting the end of an ironing board and arranging spools at the other like ten-pins. A prize was given to the child making the best score in the time allotted.

Coarse needles and colored twine were provided for a spool stringing contest, with another prize; and when refreshments were served there were quaint little sewing boxes with baby spools of silk in them for favors. Here is a good suggestion for you mothers—save your spools and give just such a party.

THREE RUSSIAN GENERALS GET JOBS PICKING GRAPES

MONTPELLIER, France, Sept. 17.—One hundred Russian refugees recently answered an advertisement of a vineyard owner offering temporary work at grape picking.

Fifty of them were engaged, among whom the owner was astonished to find three former generals of the Russian imperial army.

BEE IS BLAMED FOR SMASH.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A bee was blamed yesterday for an automobile accident near Millerton, which resulted in Mrs. Charles W. Bonner wrecking her car.

Persons who went to her rescue reported that a bee lit on the back of Mrs. Bonner's neck and stung her so severely she had to let go of the steering wheel to drive it away. In the confusion she lost control of the car and it rammed a tree. She escaped with slight injuries.

MARY PICKFORD AT THE TEMPLE IN FINE COMEDY

The little "glad girl" is back again in "Through the Back Door," with all her joyous personality flooding the screen and calling to mind her two greatest pictures, "Daddy Long Legs" and "Pollyanna."

"Through the Back Door" will be the feature attraction at the Temple theatre three days, starting Sunday. Just a glimpse at Mary Pickford in this latest United Artist's feature will almost convince one that she has found the mountain of everlasting youth. She is the very essence of fresh, unspoiled childhood. When she first steps onto the screen as a child of ten she looks the part. It is Mary, all right, with her glorious curls and her radiant smile, but such a little Mary, for all the world the little girl whose part she is playing.

Laid in Belgium.

The picture opens in Ostend in 1903, when Madame Bodamere and her little 5-year-old daughter are summering at the gayest resort on the Belgium coast. Madame Bodamere marries a second time to a wealthy New Yorker, and because he does not like children and greatly insists on the arrangement, madame reluctantly consents to leave her child, little Jeanne, with her Belgium nurse for a year. It is five years, however, before the mother returns, and so devoted has the nurse become to Jeanne that she tells the mother Jeanne is dead. It is the glimpse of Jeanne's life at this time that contains the best humor of the picture. As she scampers about the Belgium farm getting into one mischievous stunt after another, little Mary is a scream of a comedienne.

War Clouds Gather.

A little later and the war clouds settle over Europe. The nurse fearing for Jeanne's safety and her conscience heavy, sends Jeanne to America with a note of explanation to her mother. Grieved and disconsolate over the loss of her child, the mother has become bitter and unhappy and cold to her husband, whom she thinks responsible. When Jeanne arrives at the Long Island estate of her mother, circumstances conspire to prevent her presenting her note of explanation. She is forced to enter her mother's home through the back door and become a servant in her house. Here another bit of delectable comedy occurs as well as some of the drama of the picture. Jeanne discovers a scheme to blackmail her step-father, at last finds an opportunity to reveal her identity and also she gets involved in a little romance all her own.

MISS ALICE ROBERTSON ADVISES GIRLS TO MARRY

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 17.—"Girls get married," was the gist of the advice handed out by Miss Alice Robertson, maid of 66 and only congresswoman, in a talk before the Paramount club girls.

"Men at Washington often say I remind them of someone and inevitably it is their mother. It is a compliment that pleases me very much, for a mother is the highest ideal of womanhood."

"I have fought a man's battle through life, but I have paid by going without being married." Now I travel the path of life alone."

Among the noted character actors who arrived last week at Vitagraph's West Coast studios at Hollywood, Cal., were Emmett King and Joseph Rickson, who joined the cast now appearing in the special production, "Flower of the North," adapted from the novel of the same name by James Oliver Curwood. King has assumed leading roles in many of the most important screen productions as well as winning great success on the spoken stage.

Girls who had become accustomed to war service in factories in England are now seeking places as domestics.

IN MOVIE STUDIOS

The completed cast for "The Woman in the Case," the Paramount adaptation of Clyde Fitch's play, with Betty Compson starring under direction of Penrhyn Stanlaws, includes William P. Carleton, leading man, Cleo Ridgely, former screen favorite, Casson Ferguson, Henry Burrows, Helen Dunbar, Lucien Littlefield and others. The scenario was written by Albert Shelby Levino.

Elsie Ferguson is not superstitious. She proved it recently by smashing a mirror during the filming of her Paramount picture, "Footlights," taken from Rita Weiman's story of the stage. According to old timers this is one of the few times in the history of the show business, that an actress or an actor ever consented to break a mirror. If such "business" was necessary a nonsuperstitious property man or electrician was called upon to do the deed.

Theodore Roberts, the veteran screen actor, who has been ill at his California home, has sufficiently recovered to appear in "Exit the Vamp," a new Paramount picture written by Clara Beranger for Ethel Clayton.

The last picture George Loane Tucker made before his death, "Ladies Must Live," with Betty Compson in the leading role, will be released soon.

T. Roy Barnes, stage and screen player, widely known for his work in "Scratch My Back," "A Kiss In Time," and other photoplays, and in "Katinka" on the musical comedy stage, has been chosen as the leading man for Ethel Clayton in her next picture, "Exit the Vamp."

Robert C. Bruce, famous motion picture scenic photographer, and Hamish McLaurin, a scenario writer of New York, fought for their lives for half an hour in a whirlpool in the Willamette river, near Portland, Ore., a few days ago when their canoe upset. A telegram from Bruce says that when they reached a particularly rough spot, where the water formed a big whirlpool, the canoe upset, and for thirty minutes the men fought against what looked like almost certain death. Finally they were able to work their way to the outside of the whirlpool and get a footing, just as they were near the point of complete exhaustion. The canoe and its valuable contents were lost.

Edith Storey would rather ride, swim, dance and play tennis with her brother than with any other man in the world. The two are the greatest pals and their admiration for each other is mutual.

TEXAS U. BAND WILL PLAY AT ABILENE FAIR

ABILENE, Sept. 17.—Dressed in their brilliant white and gold uniforms and with all the pep that only a bunch of college boys can put into their work, the famous Longhorn band of the University of Texas, will be one of the big feature attractions at the West Texas Fair, Sept. 26 to Oct. 1.

Fifty pieces strong and carrying with them a number of highly entertaining features including a saxophone sextette and a special jazz section, the Longhorns promise to spread some real musical joy during the week of Abilene's big entertainment. The band will appear daily and nightly in concerts at the grandstand and in the parades that will feature the morning hours.

The Longhorn band is composed entirely of students at the State university and is rated as one of the finest musical organizations of the south. In a concert tour of the larger cities of Texas and adjoining states last year it was one of the sensations of the season, being the biggest hit of the week at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show last spring.

It is through special permission obtained from President Vinson of the university that the Longhorns are allowed to fill the West Texas engagement this month.

MINE FOUND ON VA. COAST.

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Sept. 17.—Discovery yesterday of a mine, three feet in diameter, coated with barnacles and oysters and provided with an electrical firing device, washed ashore at Ocean View, near here, has given rise to the theory that perhaps a number of ships lost off this coast recently may have met their end by striking one of these explosive derelicts.

well. He frequently originates special dances, and with his wife as audience, he often indulges in dancing, with the aid of a victrola, on one of his lawns or within his spacious living rooms at Hollywood.

Betty Ross Clarke, is playing opposite Earle Williams in "Lucky Carson," at Vitagraph's West Coast studios under the direction of Wilfred North. The new Williams' production is based on "Salvage," a novel by Aquila Dempster and has its action mostly out of doors. Mr. Williams and his supporting company are consequently spending most of their time in the mountains of Northern California and picturesque points along the Pacific coast.

LIBERTY.

An avalanche tearing down a mountain side is shown in the Vitagraph production, "The Silver Car," which will be the attraction at the Liberty theatre today. This avalanche plays an important part in the action.

Earle Williams, in the role of Anthony Trent, has secured a copy of a treaty between England and Croatia from Count Michael Temesvar, who is using it to prevent a certain English nobleman from taking part in international affairs. By a clever ruse, Trent overpowers the count and secures the treaty. He is making his escape when caught by the avalanche and partially buried.

The action was filmed at great risk owing to the fact that Earle Williams and Director David W. Smith insisted upon realism. A large rock was started down the side of a California mountain and as it rolled, collected a vast amount of earth, rocks, trees and other debris. An automobile was driven under the descending mass and a dummy made in exact likeness of the star was in it as it would have been sure death to any actor to remain in the car when the mass of rocks and debris descended upon it.

Cameras were placed at close range and the result is a photograph of a genuine avalanche of enormous proportions.

Before the debris had completely fallen, Williams insisted upon assuming the position then occupied by the dummy, and was actually buried under a mass that descended after he had assumed the position. He received several severe bruises and was extremely gratified when the scene was finished and he was extracted from the mass.

PIGGLY WIGGLY PLAN TO BE USED FOR DRY GOODS

MEMPHIS, Sept. 17.—Plans for the immediate establishment of approximately 2,000 novelty merchandise stores in various cities of the United States, carrying a combined stock of more than $70,000,000, and to be operated on the self-service plan now employed in Piggy Wiggly grocery stores, were announced yesterday by Clarence Saunders, president of the Piggy Wiggly corporation.

The first store in the chain which the corporation expects to forge within the next few months will be opened in Memphis.

This is the first venture of the Piggy Wiggly corporation in the general merchandise field of business. The concern owns the Piggy Wiggly Stores, Inc., and holds the patent rights on the self-service plan that is employed in the thousands of grocery stores operated by the latter concern "all over the world."

Handle Low-Priced Articles.

Mr. Saunders says that the new stores will carry miscellaneous merchandise that can be handled and sold cheaply. Prices of articles carried in stock, he said, will range from four cents to 39 cents each. The stock of

MEET MR. THURMAN, NEW BANK'S CASHIER, WHO FINDS IT EASY NOT TO TALK ABOUT HIMSELF

By ERNEST W. SPARKS.

If one interviews John T. Thurman, cashier of the newly opened Peoples State bank, on his personal success, one interviews him, all right. Apparently the easiest thing Mr. Thurman does is NOT to talk about himself. Certainly, he is affable. If he is asked a question, he will answer it to the best of his ability—and then he talks no more about himself. Further information must be preceded by another question.

There might have been an error in stating that the easiest thing he does is not to talk about himself, for two reasons. One is: Mr. Thurman is a banker and it might be mighty easy for him to say "Nothing doing" to some pilgrim seeking a loan; that may be the reason why he is not still an office boy. There came another reason; Mr. Thurman came here to open a bank, but he did not stay. He went home and the next day he was the father of a son and heir apparent. And on the subject of boys he talks quite freely—especially one boy.

Mind Will Stray.

From time to time as he was being interviewed, one question at the time, his mind would stray to boys. "Now there is a baby—" But being instructed to write something about Mr. Thurman, he would always be interrupted at about this point and asked if there is any special recipe for climbing from an office boy to the vice presidency of the West Texas National bank and the vice presidency of the West Texas Loan company, both of Big Spring, and be active in both offices, and then to his present position.

"The only recipe I know," he would reply, "is just plain hard work, with the emphasis on the 'hard.'"

Mr. Thurman began his banking business career in Talpa, Texas about twenty years ago. He was an office boy, and being an old-time office boy, he probably swept the floors of the institution and it is certain he hurried around among the leading citizens to notify them if their checks were about to be marked "N. S. F." They used to do that in the old days. He worked quite some time and though Mr. Thurman did not say so, it is quite likely he in time arose to the position of head bookkeeper to the Z's and his name was probably on the stationary as assistant cashier.

Learned in Ballinger.

After that he went to Ballinger; Ballinger was a step up. It is a county seat and has several banks. Mr. Thurman worked in them all and from them all he learned something of the business. He was 30 when he left Ballinger and went to Santa Anna, where he bought a state bank.

He did not say where he got the money, but it is probable that he had saved it during those ten years since he had started in the business. The Santa Anna bank made money and later he sold it and went to Big Spring where he became active vice-president of the West Texas National bank and the West Texas National Loan company. He still holds his position with the bank, though he is no longer active.

When Mr. Thurman had told the above concerning himself, he announced that that was all there was to it and let it go at that. He writer wished for a moment that he had been a banker, if that was all there was to it. But behind Mr. Thurman's rise can be seen steady plugging, day in and day out, with corresponding good judgment.

What Friends Say.

Mr. Thurman did not say this, but his friends have: He is known throughout the state as being a banked of both vision and conservatism.

Within a short time, probably in a month or two, Mrs. Thurman and the baby will join Mr. Thurman in Ranger and they will become permanent citizens.

MODEST HOOSGOW GUEST MAY BE PUNISHED FOR REGISTERING FALSELY

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 17.—One of the acts of the last session of the general assembly was to set a penalty for registering falsely at a hotel. Now police of this city are wondering whether it can be applied to a prisoner who gives a false name at the central station.

This question is due to the fact that an angry citizen named D. L. Boyer entered headquarters today and denied with some heat that he had been arrested for having been intoxicated at a "wake" over a dog of the poodle variety a few nights since, which sacrilegious function the police raided.

It was revealed that a former prison inmate, who had a card with Boyer's name on it, had impersonated him. The police at once corrected the record and made a note of the incident, which will be passed on to the municipal court judge when the case is heard.

"Uncle Joe" Remembers When Folks Came to Marvel at Kerosene Lamp

By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Uncle Joe Cannon, 85-year-old youngster of the house, today laughed at pessimists who are worried over business recovery.

"Americans today, in the rush for the almighty dollar, forget the blessings they enjoy," said the veteran of a hundred political battles.

"Why, back in Danville, long years ago, before the days of gas and electric lights, and other marvelous inventions that have brought comfort to the people, the folks of the town opened their eyes in amazement at the sight of an oil lamp in a store window."

"Just look back to those days. Well do I remember when the people thronged down on the main street to see the first kerosene lamp burning in a shop window. It was in the days of the tallow dip candle."

"Now, see what we enjoy today, in life's comforts and conveniences. These are the happy days, but so few realize it."

"The Gloomy Gus of business must wake up to the big future ahead. Most prosperous, most resourceful of all nations, the business men of these United States are blind to many advantages for which they should be thankful."

OHIO OFFICERS PEDDLE LIQUOR IN COURTHOUSE

MANSFIELD, Ohio, Sept. 17.—Ramifications of an alleged whiskey ring at the Richland county courthouse were brought to light here during the trial of Harold F. McCullough, clerk of the board of county commissioners, charged with illegal possession and sale of whisky.

McCullough was convicted on the three counts charged, and fined $1,000 in each case, but Justice James W. Galbraith suspended part of the fines.

Prosecutor Allen S. Beach charged in his argument before Judge Galbraith that whisky was sold in the commissioner's office, but that more was sold in another office. Judge Galbraith remarked that the public had been led to believe that the $2,500 used by former County Auditor William F. Fisher, now serving a sentence in the Ohio penitentiary, went to buy a home, although the fact had been that it had been used to buy two barrels of whisky.

Surveyor Boyd Wierman and Chas. Huber, former deputy auditor, both of whom are under indictment in connection with the courthouse scandal, and Deputy Surveyor Gustave Dorain were witnesses for the state against McCullough, and declared that there was a secret cabinet in the commissioner's office from which the whisky was taken and sold. McCullough and former Commissioner Thomas H. Dickerson were alleged to have held the keys to the cabinet, and the other commissioners, A. B. Pulver and Milton Robinson, were said to have known of its existence.

GERMAN GIRLS TOLD TO COUNT YANKS' CASH BEFORE SAYING 'YA'

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—American officers at Coblenz have issued a written warning to the German civilian population that German girls should refuse proposals of marriage from soldiers unless the girls are supplied with sufficient money to convince immigration authorities that they will not become state charges, according to a dispatch to the Rhenish Westfälische Zeitung. The warning adds that the cost of living is much higher in America than abroad and the common soldier's pay is insufficient to support a wife.

C. H. DUNLAP TO HAVE STOCK OF JEWELRY

'LEVEN-EIGHTY WILL TAKE LEGIONAIRES TO KANSAS CITY AND BACK

Members of the American Legion, who can show their credentials, will almost be given a pass to the American National convention which convenes in Kansas City early in November. The Texas & Pacific has established a round trip rate of $11.80. This only applies to members of the Legion and their wives and each applicant will have to establish the fact that he is a member of some Legion post.

The fare to Kansas City, one way, is more than $7.00. The routing will be by the Rock Island from Fort Worth.

ONLY 8 AMERICANS JAILED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The French embassy today made known that it had received a cable from the foreign office stating that only eight former American soldiers are confined in French prisons. Of this number, it was said, seven are held on charges of theft and one is alleged to have been captured with stolen goods.

The attention of the administration recently was directed toward former soldiers held in French prisons by former Vice Consul Coxe of Paris.

It was published recently that about 800 former doughboys are held in French prisons, some of them in a deplorable condition. The statement of the French foreign office is taken as a denial of all such assertions.

SLEEVES TO BE TIGHT

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Gay embroideries on dark frocks, lace effects for evening wear and striking color combinations, with skirts down to ten inches from the ground, will be characteristic of winter styles for women, according to the Fashion Art League of America. Gowns will be fashioned after the lines of the figure, but not form-fitting, the league announced. Sleeves will be tight from shoulder to elbow with a decided flare below.
 The new styles will be displayed at the annual convention of the league next week, when 3,000 buyers are expected to attend the exhibition.

The day of following fashions like a flock of sheep is over," Alla Ripley, president of the league, said.

"Women in America are women of affairs and our fashions must appeal to the conservative taste, contrary to the edicts of Paris, which demand that costumes be created for the actress and demi-monde."

SALADS-PIES-CAKE

Vegetable Salad.
 Two cups red kidney beans, stalk celery, 2 eggs, 2 teaspoons sugar, 2 teaspoons made mustard, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 3-4 cup vinegar, speck of pepper, 1 bunch radishes. Cook the beans until tender and mix with the celery cut in small pieces, and the chopped radishes.

Beat up 1 egg, add the sugar, salt, mustard, pepper and vinegar.
 Mix the salad with this dressing and set in a cool place several hours before serving. Serve on lettuce leaves and garnish with radishes cut into fancy shapes and celery fringed at the end and allowed to stand in cold water until the fringe curls.

Dutch Apple Pie.
 One egg, 3 cups sweet milk, 1 tablespoon flour, speck of salt, 1 quart sweet apples, sugar to taste, and nutmeg. Pare core, and slice the apples, and cook until tender then mash until fine. Add milk and eggs well beaten. Mix the flour until smooth with a little of the milk. Mix all together and sweeten to taste.
 Flavor with nutmeg as desired. Line a pie plate with rich pie paste and fill with the mixture. Bake in a slow oven until set.

Plain Layer Cake.
 One and one-quarter cups sugar, 1-2 cup butter, 3 eggs, 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla or any other flavor.
 Mix sugar and butter, add the eggs 1 at a time, mixing well. Sift flour and baking powder together. Add to the mixture putting in about 1-2 cup of flour and milk until all is mixed in. Then add the flour. This will make a 3 layer cake.

Have the oven lit about 12 minutes before putting in. Turn the fire low and bake about 20 minutes.

Pineapple Icing.
 Get a small can of grated pineapple.
 Boil 2 cups sugar, 1 cup cream and 3 tablespoons of the pineapple juice together and boil until it forms a soft ball in cold water. Beat until nearly cool. Put 1-2 into the grated pineapple for between layers and the other half over the cake. A few tablespoons pineapple juice added to the cake in place of vanilla flavor gives it a very good flavor.—Miss Sherman, 4131 Chouteau avenue.

'MARY'S HOUSE' GOES RAMBLIN' ROUND TOWN

Billie Craig, manager of the Temple theatre, took Mary Pickford's house to the people Saturday afternoon. He mounted a house built for the purpose, on truck and paraded the downtown districts. The parade included a band and many small boys carrying banners. Mary Pickford comes to the Temple today in "Through the Back Door."

ORANGE BLOSSOMS

This old custom is of Spanish origin; the legend is that a high and mighty ruler in Africa once gave an old Spanish king a flourishing orange tree, whose blossoms were the admiration of all who saw them, but all begged in vain for a cutting from this wonderful tree. Most fortunate was a foreign ambassador who wished to introduce the fragrant blossom into his own country. By accident the head gardener broke off a spray and gave it to his fascinating daughter, who placed it in her hair. The ambassador, seeing it, offered a large sum of money for her dowry if she would give him the waxen flowers. Of course she complied with the request, and on her marriage, remembering the good luck brought by the orange blossom, she secretly broke off another spray and wore it in her hair. Her example has been followed ever since by brides of all nations, who recognize the orange blossom as their especial prerogative.

THE COTTON WEDDING

One year of wedded life brings the cotton anniversary. Being so soon after the original affair, it is usually possible to have the bridal party together. Send the invitations on squares of fine cotton cloth written in indelible ink. It is easy and effective to use flakes of cotton on vines, ferns and palms in way of sheeting for window drapery, portieres and even floor covering.

Dollies or runners made from cotton batting may be used on the dining room table, with favors of cotton balls concealing the trinkets. The centerpiece should be the wedding flowers in a cotton wrapped vase or bowl, and the ice cream may be frozen in ball molds surmounted by little wedding rings. Gifts are limited to articles of cotton. One couple at such a celebration received from their former wedding party a box containing a pair of gorgeous cotton pajamas and a cotton kimono. This was delivered during the evening by "special messenger," and its opening caused much amusement.

Christian Churches of West Texas Will Revive Woodson Camp Meeting

A camp meeting famous throughout West Texas will be revived next year when the West Texas conference of the Christian church is held on the Woodson ranch, in Throckmorton county, is the announcement of Rev. J. G. Winsett, who the first part of the week attended the conference held at Goree, Texas.

Rev. Mr. Winsett was on each day's program of the conference, which was attended by about sixty ministers and several hundred laymen. Ranger was much in the limelight at the convention, Mr. Winsett said, as it has established records for church growth and pays more money to salaries and church activities than the average, though collection is taken.

The camp meeting next year will be held the last two weeks in August, and noted preachers from all over the country will be present for the meeting. The camp meetings were established twenty-two years ago by O. J. Woodson, ranchman of that district, who furnishes fine camping grounds for the gathering. They have not been held for the last few years on account of the war, but the resumption is expected to be made permanent.
