FORESTALLING OF COAL STRIKE RANK FAILURE

Government in Person of President Harding Tries to Reach Agreement With Miners.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The government intervened today to prevent any possible stoppage of coal production next March when the bituminous miners' agreement expires, but its efforts at a four-hour conference at the White House with President Harding, Secretaries Hoover and Davis and union officials were said to have had no immediate avail.

The conference was held when the central committee of the United Mine Workers, headed by John L. Lewis, president of the organization, came here at the request of President Harding to discuss with the administration the possibility of an undertaking to arbitrate any ultimate difficulties with the operators prior to the expiration of the national agreement in March.

The committeemen were received at the White House at 1 o'clock and were guests of the president at luncheon and continued the discussion until late in the day.

FT. WORTHIANS SEEK RECALL OF MAYOR OF CITY

FORT WORTH, Oct. 8.—Petitions asking the recall of Mayor E. R. Cockrell and Fire and Police Commissioner John Alderman were filed here this afternoon with the city commission. The Cockrell petition is said to have 4,499 signatures and the Alderman petition 4,448. An attorney for the petitioners intimated that 1,500 additional signatures had been destroyed by the police or stolen from a real estate office where they were being checked against the poll tax list. The city officials will check the list to see if they contained the 20 per cent of qualified voters necessary for a recall election, and if this percentage is found, an election will be ordered. Mayor Cockrell said this afternoon that he would stand for re-election.

How Fuss Started
The petitions grew out of an official fuss precipitated when City Attorney R. Bonna Ridgway was removed from office, several months ago. Ridgway appealed to the courts and in the hearing brought out counter charges against the mayor and commissioner. He alleged that the mayor was receiving royalties on an auto light dimmer and had intended to have an ordinance passed making its use compulsory in the city. Mayor Cockrell admitted on the stand that he received money from this source, but said it was for "recommending the attachment to his friends." It also was charged that the mayor and commissioner made the West Texas Chamber of Commerce trip to Mexico City at the expense of the city. Ridgway had been discharged ostensibly because he insisted on taking a trip to New York at the city's expense, which he said was necessary, but which the commissioners thought was a pleasure trip.

Ridgway charged that Cockrell had promised him the office of city attorney in return for his support during the campaign. This Cockrell denied. He admitted that he had been present at conferences where Ridgway was slated for the position, but said he only had "promised to consider it."

Since this hearing, the petitions have been quietly circulated. It is said that "arbitrary methods" of the police department are responsible for a sufficient number of signatures being obtained to the Alderman petition, although this was not given in the petition as cause for removal.

KLAN KAN'T KAVORT!

By Associated Press.
CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 8.—Sheriff Frank Robinson announced today that no Ku Klux Klan parade nor any other parade of masked men can be held with their knowledge and consent.

An ordinance recently was passed in Aransas Pass that no parade could be held on the public streets without first obtaining permission from the mayor.

PLAINTIFFS' AIMS IN ROAD SUIT MYSTERY

Attorneys for Citizens' Committee Fail to Make Clear Their Purpose.

By Associated Press.
EASTLAND, Oct. 8.—Attorneys for the Citizens' committee in the suit against the Fleming-Slitzer construction company and the commissioners' court sought to introduce today the deposition of G. A. Davison, president of the defendant company, as testimony in the case brought to nullify the road contract entered into with the company in question. Just what the plaintiffs expect to prove by Davison's deposition has not been made clear by the attorneys. The court permitted a large part of the deposition of John R. Gray of the National City bank of Chicago, to be introduced as evidence by the plaintiffs.

The deposition of Gray is understood to relate to the $500,000 bond transaction in Chicago, hypothecated on July 28 to secure a loan by Sam D. Young, acting as president of the custody of the Chicago bank to Security Bank of Eastland.

These bonds were at that time in which the Eastland bank was indebted in the sum of $35,000. Fifty thousand dollars' worth of these bonds were put up as security for this loan by Sam D. Young, president. A few days before the Security bank closed, the county was given credit for $42,000 on its books. Efforts have been made to connect County Judge Starnes, but this is denied. However, it is understood the plaintiffs will seek to show that Starnes knew the bank was in a failing condition at the time the $42,000 credit was given on the books or should have been given.

In this connection, it is said, an effort was made to introduce testimony of S. O. Postorff, former cashier of the Security State bank, but his testimony was excluded.

The hearing will be resumed Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

The Deposition.
In the Davison deposition, the head of the construction company states that $2,000,000 of the Eastland county road bonds, taken over by the company under the contract, were disposed of in two series of $1,000,000 each, below par. Series C, he states, was sold at 90 cents and accrued interest to Harold G. Wise & company of Houston, and series D at 84 cents and accrued interest to Stacey & Braun of Chicago. In answer to another question the deponent stated that Sam D. Young, former president of the Security State bank, and R. R. Ezell, attorney, were paid commissions of $2,500 each on the bond sales in the capacity of agents. The total amount of $4,320,000 in road bonds was purchased from the county, under the terms of the contract, the deposition states.

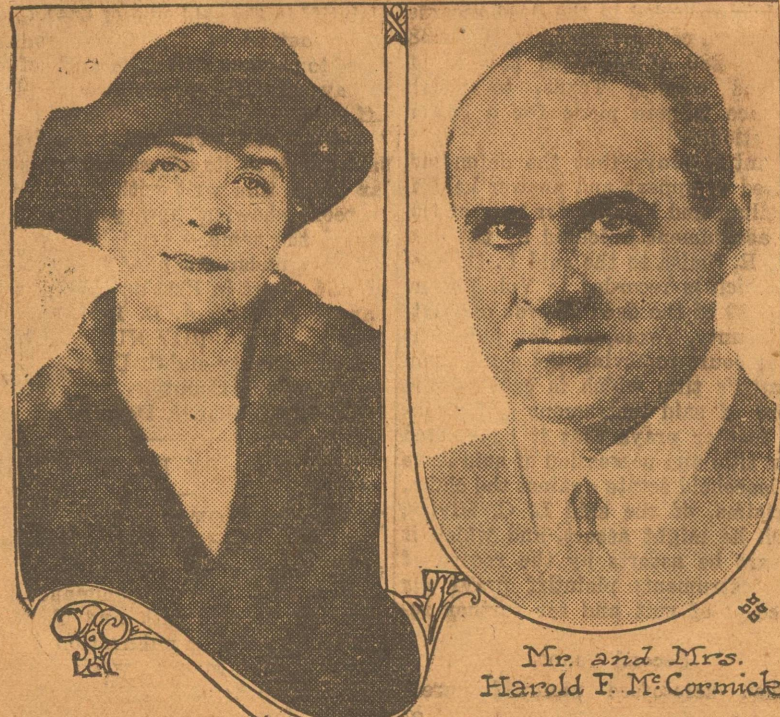

County Owes Company.
The deposition further states that while the construction company is indebted to the county in the sum of $108,292 for machinery and equipment purchased that the county owes the company the sum of $118,965.54 as retained percentage. Other indebtedness of the company is given by Davison as $10,000 to the First National bank of Ranger, $42,762.54 to sub-contractors, $22,000 to Saunders Gregg and $30,000 to W. M. Fleming. The county, he states, was credited with funds from the sale of bonds and the difference between the amount received and par value and accrued interest, deducted on monthly estimates.

In response to the question, Davison states that at the time the contract was entered into in June, 1920, that his personal holdings, consisting of royalties and real estate, was valued at between $50,000 and $100,000. His liabilities at this time are set forth at $222,684.03, of which $61,891.55 is now due.

EASTLAND HAS $12,000 FIRE LOSS
EASTLAND, Oct. 8.—At an early hour this morning fire completely destroyed the building and grocery stock of J. O. Harrell on East Main street. Loss on stock and building is estimated at $12,000, with only $1,500 insurance on the building and none on the stock. The loss included a Buick and Ford car.

"Law" Finds Booze in Place Run by Candidate for City Marshal at Desdemona

By Associated Press.
EASTLAND, Oct. 8.—The appointment of a Desdemona cafe proprietor as city marshal there was held up at least temporarily today as the result of the discovery of a quantity of whisky in his establishment, according to T. A. Bendy, federal prohibition officer. Three moonshine stills, two in Desdemona and one in Jakhemon were also located and seized today, Bendy stated. All four of the men involved, including the cafe proprietor, were taken to Abilene for arraignment before the United States commissioner there.

The seizure of the stills at Desdemona and Jakhemon today brought the total number of stills captured this week to four, according to the officer, who stated that federal charges have been filed against C. E. Winn, proprietor of the San Suci hotel here, following the discovery of a still behind a secret wall in his place early in the week. Bottles and coloring matter are said to have also been found.

BI-PARTISAN SUPPORT OF TAX BILL PLANNED

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—A movement looking to bipartisan support for the amendment to the Republican tax revision bill, agreed upon by Republican leaders, was put under way today in the senate. Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, a leader among the senators from Western states, who insisted on the compromise program, held several conferences with Senator Simmons of North Carolina, the Democratic leader in the tax fight, but apparently the plan discussed was to have the revised amendments reported out by a finance committee of Republicans and Democrats and supported on the floor by leaders on both sides. Democratic senators are represented as looking with favor on most of the amendments but they are not satisfied with regard to the proposed taxes on corporations, insisting that a revenue in excess of that proposed be obtained from that source.

MAN BELIEVED BOOTLEGGER IS SHOT 3 TIMES

By Associated Press.
EASTLAND, Oct. 8.—A man named Simmons, believed to be a bootlegger, was shot three times and seriously wounded here tonight by Night Chief John Hennessy of the police department following an alleged attempt to shoot the officer. The officer is said to have stopped Simmons, whom he suspected of bootlegging when he found the man driving a buggy through the negro section of town. Simmons is said to have been ordered to throw up his hands but instead attempted to strike the officer with his gun and later to shoot him. The officer fired three times, one of the bullets taking effect in Simmons' abdomen, another in the shoulder and the third in an arm.

LABOR LEADERS AREN'T INSANE, B. R. T. HEAD SAYS

Next Move Up to Other Brotherhoods, He Says, and All Would Act Together.

By Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—Prediction that there will be no general strike on the railways of the United States was made today by William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. He based this prediction on the belief that "the average labor leader is not insane to the extent of not recognizing economic conditions."

Asked whether he admitted the possibility of a strike on any one railroad, he replied that it was possible, but he did not admit it was probable.

Lee returned yesterday from Chicago after having supervised the canvass of the strike vote of more than 150,000 members of his organization, take no protest against the 12 per cent wage reduction ordered by the United States railway labor board, effective July 1.

Lee declined to be a party to the joint strike ballot of the other brotherhoods, sent out early in September, claiming nothing could be legally included, according to the Esch-Cummings law, except the wage reduction of last July, since the labor board had not made a decision on other subjects sent out in the joint ballot. Lee prepared and submitted a separate ballot. The vote returned, he said, was in excess of 88 per cent in favor of a strike, with the following additional proviso:

Would Act Together.
"We further request that our membership be authorized to withdraw from service on the same day and hour that the membership of either the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Order of Railroad Conductors or the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen of this road are authorized to stop work, as a result of the vote taken by such organizations as a result of the wage reduction ordered by the labor board, effective July 1."

The next move is up to the other organizations, Lee declared. He made public in part a letter of Oct. 3, addressed to Warren S. Stone, of the engineers, President W. S. Carter of the firemen and President L. E. Sheppard of the engineers.

Lee will return to Chicago Tuesday next, in order to be present when the ballots of the other organizations have all been counted.

ESTABLISHES WORLD'S ALTITUDE RECORD

Captain John A. MacReady.

Captain John A. MacReady, chief of the flying section, U. S. air service, at McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio, who reached an altitude of 40,000 feet with a Le Pere biplane equipped with a General Electric supercharger or oxygen booster. This is the highest altitude that man has ever reached. The Le Pere plane had been used exclusively for altitude tests since 1919. In February, 1920, Major Schroeder reached 38,000 feet in the same plane, then lost consciousness and fell five miles in two minutes, but regained his senses and made a safe landing. The supercharger feeds air to the engines at about 20,000 feet of the same density as at sea level, solving one of the chief obstacles against reaching high altitudes by aviators.

RANGER KIDS TO SEE GENTRY SHOWS OCT. 21

Half a Thousand Animals, From Tabby Cats to Jungle Lions, Will Be Here.

Gentry Bros.' show and wild animal arena will give two performances in Ranger on Friday, Oct. 21, according to announcement of Robert W. Thompson, press representative, who was here yesterday.

Thompson avers there will be a street parade a mile long, at noon, show day, and the big show performances afternoon and night will be given by 500 animal actors, ranging in size from tabby cats to jungle kings, and in groups of from a dozen to a hundred at one time; also a number of human thrill artists and an array of clowns that are said to be the funniest that the Gentry management has ever offered in its thirty-five years of catering to the public.

"Santa Claus Only Rival."
He further asserts that the peculiar Gentry features that have always been relied upon to appeal to the youngsters still sustain its reputation as "Santa Claus' only rival in the hearts of the children," and these have been augmented by many large features that have astonished even old-time circus men. Prominent among these he lists the Czech family of aerialists and the Dumont riders of France; the fastest working herd of elephants in the business, and the "operatic equestrienne extravaganza."

The prohibition of importation of all split hoof animals into the United States is causing a scarcity of this species of animal life, but the Gentry show supplied its wants in this line many years ago, and have plenty of these specimens that cannot be seen elsewhere.

MISSISSIPPI WINS ANTI-TRUST SUIT AND OUSTS FIRE COMPANIES

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 8.—The state of Mississippi won a victory over the 139 fire insurance companies, defendants in an anti-trust suit filed by the state, today when Chancellor Stricker ruled that the state inspection and advisory rating bureau was merely the old Southwestern tariff association in disguise, as claimed by the state authorities. The association was barred from doing business in the state fifteen years ago.

FREIGHT RATE CUTS DUE SOON, IS INDICATED

This Is Reported Trend of Conference Between Harding and Rail Executives.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Developments which were declared to indicate an early reduction in railroad freight rates and a clearing of the railroad situation came here today from several quarters.

A group of prominent railroad executives conferred today with President Harding and Senator Cummings, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, and discussed steps toward freight rate reductions, preliminary to the executives' meeting at Chicago Oct. 14.

Rate reductions also were discussed at a meeting tonight of Democratic and Republican senators comprising the unofficial "agricultural bloc." Senators attending the meeting said there was a wide and vigorous demand for rate cuts, as imperative to the agricultural interests.

Senator Cummings after his conference with the railroad executives said he believed they would adopt at the Chicago meeting a resolution for an immediate reduction of freight rates. No definite or formal assurances on this effect were given at today's conference, he explained, but he expressed the opinion that the reduction would be made by the carriers voluntarily.

The carriers then, Senator Cummings declared, probably would ask the railroad labor board to reduce wages or appeal to congress for legislation to meet the situation caused by the voluntary rate reductions.

"The railroad executives," the senator said after the conference, "feel that the only substantial way to reduce rates is to reduce wages. They also feel that the wage fixing power should be transferred to the interstate commerce commission, which has the rate making powers."

The Ford car with only the top and windshield damaged was removed from the ditch and driven to the police station by several boys who found it abandoned. Todd claimed that he was forced from the road into the ditch by two other cars which were attempting to pass each other.

A New HUDSON $1895

A Greater Super-Six for Less Money

See It Here Today

It is more economical
 It has the exclusive Super-Six features for increasing car life

It is a handsomer car
 It is easier to operate
 It is improved in many mechanical features

These improvements are added to the car that men for six years have given the largest buying preference of all fine cars.

They are advantages of commanding importance; fundamental in the results secured.

Every phase of car operation is affected. Greater economy results. A smoother, finer mechanism in all ways, from starting and handling throughout the entire range of its performance, is manifestly evident in the first ride.

And these are permanent values you will take satisfaction and delight in, for all the years you drive the car. Hudson has never announced a "new car," upon the strength of mere minor improvements and refinements. These of course have been constantly in progress, since the first Super-Six was brought out. Nor has the mere addition or re-dressing of a car with accessories ever seemed to us justifiable grounds upon which to exploit the interest of motorists in a new car.

Why This Great Public Acclaim?

Hence we felt sure that the public would know there were genuine and basic changes and improvements in Hudson, when we announced a New Super-Six. And the almost universal interest manifested at the first showings of these cars, confirms our confidence fully.

BENTON HARBOR GOVERNED BY 10 COMMANDMENTS

Mayor of Michigan Town Says It's Easy to Run a City by a Bible's "Shall Nots."

By Associated Press.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Oct. 8.—This Michigan city of nearly 13,000 inhabitants, having a commission-manager form of government, is being governed in the spirit and principle of the Ten Commandments.

Mayor H. N. Klock, manufacturer, churchman, one-time newspaper editor and publisher, says any city may be operated under the Ten Commandments.

At a recent meeting of the Michigan Methodist Episcopal conference here Mayor Klock welcomed the delegates and was quoted as having said he was "going to run Benton Harbor on the basis of the Ten Commandments."

Nothing Wonderful.

"I cannot see anything revolutionary in the statement that a city is to be governed by the Commandments," Mayor Klock said. "Every one of the 'shall not's' of the Mosaic tablets are written as the foundation of the law of every civilized land. The law given on the mountain of Sinai applied with equal force to Moses and the humblest person who wandered in the wilderness. It is hard to convict a man with a 'pull' and what I mean by operating a city on the basis of Ten Commandments is to enforce the law impartially."

"In Benton Harbor, as in other cities, there have been persons so high as to be above the law, others so low as to be beneath the law. It is the universal custom for many law violators when arrested, or fearing arrest, to enlist the good offices of some one in power. In this city there is now no power to which such appeals can be made."

Mayor Klock was elected mayor during the summer when the city voted to adopt the commission-manager form of government. Mr. Klock is prominent in church circles here.

In the United States in 1790 there were seventy-five postoffices and 1,875 miles of postal routes.

LAW BREAKING HERE ON DECREASE, POLICE RECORDS INDICATE

Fighting, drinking, hijacking and other forms of robberies are decreasing in Ranger, judging from police records, which show a decrease in arrests for such offenses as well as in the total number of arrests in September as compared with August. An influx of vagrants into the city via freight occurred during last month and their arrest and imprisonment for investigation resulted in a large part of the 153 arrests made during the month. "Disturbing the peace" also resulted in a large number being taken into custody.

On the other hand the records of Justice of the Peace J. N. McFatter show a larger number of arrests for theft during the last two months than during the corresponding period last year. Practically all of the fines assessed by the Squire, however, were for violations of the highway laws. The decrease in misdemeanor cases in the justice's court in the last year is shown from the figures of $515.05 collected in fines during August, 1920, and those of $26.35 representing the amount of fines imposed during August and September of this year.

NOTED EVANGELIST

L. C. GARRISON.

Rev. Mr. Garrison, who is to conduct the tent revival on East Main street, under the auspices of the East Ranger Baptist church, is a graduate of Baylor University and before becoming an independent revivalist, was for three years state evangelist in Texas for the Baptist church. He was born and reared in the piney woods section of Texas, where he worked in the sawmills and saved the money with which to fit himself for the ministerial calling. After graduation from Baylor, he returned to his home section and his work in building up a large church at Kirbyville attracted the attention of the church leaders, who sent him into the evangelistic field.

IN PRODIGAL.

Children enjoy so much the "high jinks" nor do they counter so cool a reception as Carl Steiler of Chicago when he reached his father's home a few days ago.

Carl, according to the United Press, brought with him on his return to the home of his youth his young wife. The youthful pair had beat their way on freight trains many a weary mile and arrived at the paternal dwelling in the night time.

Did dad fall upon Carl's neck and weep tears of joy upon again beholding the face of his offspring? He did not. Did he summon the servants and order that there be slain the fattest calf in honor of the son's return to his father's roof? Not so you could notice it. He did none of these things.

On the contrary—quite contrary, Carl must have thought—dad unhooked the receiver from the family telephone and blew into the transmitter a blast on his police whistle.

"Listen, chief," dad spake into the telephone; "send the wagon up here quick, and two of your best men; for this my son was A. W. O. L. for two years and is home again. I wouldn't mind that so much, either, but the big louse has got himself mixed up with a bunch of hi-jackers and I raised him decent, and I'm jiggered if I'll stand for it. Besides, he brought a wife home with him, some woman I never saw before, and he tells me they rode a freight train to the city limits and then hoofed it in. Can you beat that? Rush the wagon, chief, I'm through with him. Lock him up, and don't let me look upon his face again."

So, although the son had been, during his two years of roaming, as prodigal as he knew how, having separated himself from something like forty-five thousand bucks in payment for quantities of husks and riotous living and other passing pleasures, his father proved himself sadly delinquent as the sire of a perfectly good prodigal son.

What doth it profit a young man now-a-days, therefore, if he gain the reputation of a modern prodigal and lose his own warm nest in his father's house?

DEMOCRATS TO RALLY FORCES AT EARLY DATE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—A call will be issued by Chairman George White tomorrow for a meeting of the Democratic national committee to be held within two or three weeks, probably at Chicago. Democratic leaders with whom White conferred at the capitol today said it would bring together prominent men and women, party spokesmen from all over the country.

Chairman White is expected to make a detailed report on the recent presidential campaign and resolutions will be passed in support of the conference on limitation of armament.

That White would continue as chairman for the present at least, was declared by party leaders here today. White himself was noncommittal except to declare he did not expect anything to happen at the meeting affecting his office.

His friends in Ohio have been urging him to become a candidate for governor in the next election and some here declare that developments are expected soon. Among business affairs of the party to be discussed at the meeting is the deficit, which Mr. White said had been reduced since November but still remains a matter for settlement. Governor Cox is not expected to attend the meeting and the question of future candidates will not be brought up formally at least, leaders said.

Women in Belgium now have the right to vote in the communal elections, but as yet prohibited from participating in the provincial and legislative elections.

AS SPELLERS, RANGER YOUTH ABOVE AVERAGE

In Rigid Test Only 232 of 1,092 School Children Fell Below Standard.

Pupils in the Ranger elementary schools are above the average in spelling, according to the results obtained in a series of tests conducted at the schools during last month, when 747 students average above standard in the scientific Ayres tests. A total of 113 averaged exactly standard and only 232 out of the total enrollment of 1,092 averaged below standard. The showing was highly satisfactory, but not as good as the schools expect to show at the second spelling test to be held toward the end of the year, Superintendent E. O. McNew stated last night.

A handwriting test will be held at the schools next month, McNew said, and later the Trabue language test or an intelligence test will be conducted in the elementary schools and High school. Scientific tests on various subjects, such as are in use at the more progressive schools of the country, were instituted in the Ranger schools last year, and have for their purpose, McNew explained, the more accurate judging of the pupils' abilities by the teachers. The language or intelligence test is mainly used to determine the mental ages of children and as a gauge of intelligence.

Institutes Held. Teachers' institutes are held each month at which time the faculties of the respective schools take up the close study of the tests to be conducted. At the institute Saturday the handwriting test was studied.

The result in the spelling tests conducted last month follows by grades:

Second Grades—Above standard, 105; standard, 17; below standard, 57.

Third Grades—Above standard, 151; standard, 21; below standard, 42.

Fourth Grades—Above standard, 151; standard, 23; below standard, 36.

Fifth Grades—Above standard, 110; standard, 26; below standard, 39.

Sixth Grades—Above standard, 125; standard, 14; below standard, 34.

Seventh Grades—Above standard, 105; standard, 12; below standard, 26.

At the close of the first month of school Friday an increased enrollment of seventy was shown in the High school over the same month last year. In the elementary schools, however, the enrollment remained practically the same.

RANGER INDEPENDENT SCHOOL TRUSTEES TO MEET MONDAY MORNING

The board of trustees of the Ranger independent school district will meet Monday morning, at which time there will be a number of important matters up for discussion and disposition. Members of the board could not state whether or not the board would fill the existing vacancy Monday. There is a possibility, however, of such action being taken, it was admitted.

The board at present, has sufficient funds to pay the salaries of all teachers and the negotiations for a loan at this time will not be necessary, it is stated.

A. Joseph left last night for Mexia, where the Boston store will open up a new establishment within a few days. To get onto Main street, it was necessary to purchase a large grocery store. GEORGE W. GOETHALS AND GEO. WICKERSHAM RETURN FROM MEXICO

By Associated Press.

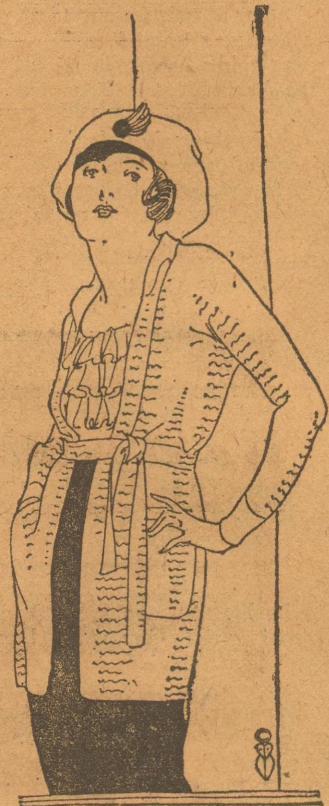

LAREDO, Texas, Oct. 8.—General George W. Goethals and George Wickersham, former United States attorney general, passed through here today enroute home from a visit to Mexico City. They said their trip to Mexico was devoid of any political significance.

Goethals said he discussed a number of contemplated engineering projects with President Obregon. He added that he would probably return to Mexico later.

LEMON-FLOVORED THRIFT.

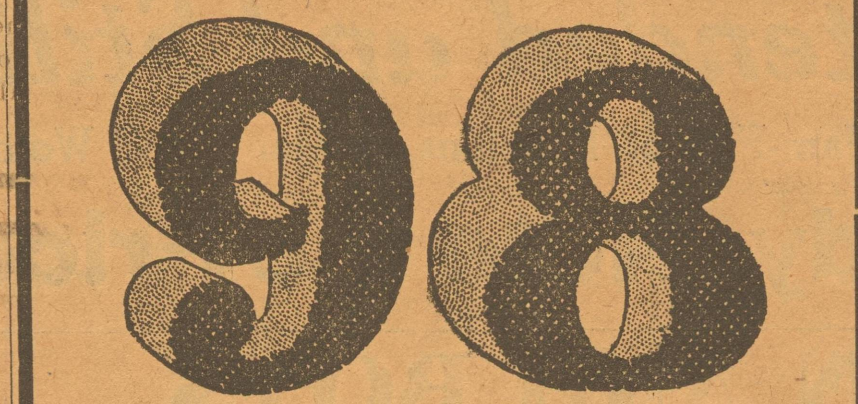

Uniontown, Pa., is getting much good publicity out of its thrifty street sweeper, Signor Tommaso Marrucci, who has just paid $10,000 for a home. It is pointed out that Signor Marrucci's wages during the eight years he has been in the country have varied between $1.50 and $2.50 a day. How the worthy street-sweeper has contrived to save $10,000 in eight years out of wages that never totalled $1,000 a year the dispatches fail to explain. They mention, however, that the $10,000 home is in Lemon street.—San Francisco Bulletin.

BASEBALL STARS MAKE MANY NEW RECORDS ON DIAMOND THIS YEAR

Babe Ruth Hangs Up Three, While Sisler, Cobb, Kirke, Kelly, Frisch and Several Others Win Honors in Their Respective Outfits.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—The baseball season just closed was productive of a number of new records, according to the unofficial averages which are released today and which include the games of Oct. 2. "Babe" Ruth was responsible for at least three new records.

The home run slugger of the pennant winning Yankees broke his own record for circuit drives made in a single season, by pulling up with fifty-nine four-ply blows. In crashing out this string of home runs Ruth shattered the mark of Gavy Cravath for total circuit drives during his major league career. Ruth since coming into the major leagues has slammed out 162 circuit drives. The former mark held by Cravath was 117.

Ruth also boosted the American league record as a run getter by registering 178 times, which exceeds his former mark of a year ago by twenty runs.

Sisler Beats Own Record.

The total base record of the American league established by George Sisler, of St. Louis, last season also was exceeded by the heavy hitting Yankee star, who in making 204 hits, rolled up a total of 455 bases. The former record was 399.

There is much doubt as to who was the best hitter in the American league. Some statisticians in their unofficial figures have given the honor to Harry Heilmann, the hard hitting Detroit outfielder, while others, among them the statisticians of the American league, says that Heilmann's boss, Ty Cobb, is the champion. According to the unofficial averages compiled here by the league statisticians the Detroit pilot finished three points in front of his outfielder. The figures available here show Cobb finished with an average of .390 while Heilmann's mark is .387. According to these records Cobb played in 128 games, was at bat 505 times and cracked out 197 hits. Heilmann's record shows that he played in 149 games, and made 233 hits in 602 times at bat. Other statisticians have figured that the Detroit sluggers were practically tied at the wire with 390, but when carried to four figures, Heilmann was given the edge by a margin of .0003. Cobb's mark in this case was .3901 while that of Heilmann was .3904. According to these figures, Heilmann is credited with 235 hits, while the figures which give the Georgia peach the honors, credit Heilmann with only 233 hits.

Hornsby Falls Down.

Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Nationals, put up a merry race to enter the select "400" hitters who attained fame in the National league, but missed the coveted goal by one point. Hornsby's final average was .399.

Jay Kirke, the first baseman of the Louisville American association, established a new world's mark for hits in one season, by breaking the record made by L. A. Miller of Oakland last season. Kirke made his two hundred and eighty-second hit as the curtain was rung down and beat the mark of the Pacific coast slugger by two hits. Kirke's record, however, is made in fewer games than that set up by the Oakland star, who made his mark in 199 games. Kirke played in 168 games.

The base stealing honors in the American league were captured by George Sisler of St. Louis who swiped thirty-two bases, while Frank Frisch of the Giants, with forty-seven thefts, carried off the prize in the National league.

Kelly Gets 23 Homers.

George Kelly of the Giants carried off the home run honors of the senior major league with twenty-three circuit drives under his belt, while Bunny Erief, of Kansas City, was easily the best home run hitter in the American association, with forty-two four-ply blows.

Leading batters of the National league who have played in ninety-five or more games: Hornsby, St. Louis, .399; Roush, Cincinnati, .353; McLenny, St. Louis, .350; Cruise, Boston, .349; E. Meusel, New York, .343; Fournier, St. Louis, .343; Frisch, New York, .340; Cutshaw, Pittsburgh, .340; J. Smith, St. Louis, .332; Groh, Cincinnati, .330.

American league: Cobb, Detroit, .390; Heilmann, Detroit, .387; Ruth, New York, .377; Sisler, St. Louis, .371; Speaker, Cleveland, .359; Jacobson, St. Louis, .354; Tobin, St. Louis, .351; Williams, St. Louis, .345; E. Collins, Chicago, .337; Veach, Detroit, .335.

RANGER HI PLAYS RINGS AROUND EASTLAND FROM GO AND WINS 13-0

Hubbard at End Is Outstanding Star and Mills Shows Improvement at Fullback; Collective Strength and Brilliant Teamwork Bring Home Bacon.

Special to the Times.

EASTLAND, Oct. 8.—Ranger High football team, playing rings around their Eastland opponents, triumphed today, 13 to 0. The visitors' superiority was clearly evident after the first quarter, which ended in a scoreless tie, principally through a fumble which gave Eastland the ball.

With the start of the second quarter, the Ranger offensive got under way, however, and after taking the ball on the twenty-yard line after a punt had crossed the goal line, marched eighty yards down the field for a touchdown, without once being checked. Mills led off with a ten-yard gain on the first play, T. Alworth snatched off fifteen on an end run and repeated a moment later for another run of almost equal length. A long forward pass to Hubbard put the ball on the ten-yard line and on a fake line buck Mills went around the end for a touchdown. The visitors snapped off their plays with a dash that left the Eastland defense muddled, and the ball was across the line almost as quick as the tale could be told.

Second Touchdown.

The second touchdown came early in the third quarter, on a pass from Huffman to Hubbard. This came after a line-bucking and end-running attack had carried the ball into the shadow of the goal posts and the Eastland backfield had closed in on the hopeless effort to stop the Ranger rushes. Later in the same quarter Ranger again crossed the goal line on a good-sized run, but lost the score when the ball was called back because of an offside play.

The remainder of the game was scoreless, with the Ranger team largely on the defensive but checking every onslaught of the home eleven. In fact, only about four minutes of the game were played in Ranger territory.

The strength which has characterized the Ranger team in its two previous games was again in evidence today. From end to end it stopped the Eastland rushes and the backfield smothered Eastland's attempt at the overhead game. Hubbard at end was an especially outstanding star, on both offense and defense, and Mills at fullback showed a great improvement over his play last Saturday. This was especially noticeable in his punting, which he got off well and for good distances down the field. Alworth also made some brilliant runs and Dunkle of the linemen proved himself a tower of strength.

However, it was not so much the individual play as teamwork that gave Ranger the victory. The two teams were well matched as to size and straight football failed to get either team any where. At passing and kicking, interference running and ability to pull deceiving plays, the visitors had a distinct edge, and it was this that gave them a well-earned victory.

Coach Hart Pleased. Coach Hart was especially well pleased with the showing of his warriors and declares that the game put up today would have been good enough to have beat Comanche last Saturday.

Substitutions—Eastland, McWilliams for Key, Brelsford for Mitchell; Ranger, Schertz for Russell, Lonsdale for Pruitt, Yonkers for Schertz.

Saturday's victory leaves Ranger as one of the two teams which has not been defeated by an opponent within the county, the other being Cisco. The county championship will be decided next Saturday when the two meet on Ranger grounds.

Cisco opened the season by playing a 0-0 tie with Breckenridge, while Eastland was losing to Gorman, 7-0. The next week they beat Gorman while Eastland was mopping up on Breckenridge, 24-7. Cisco won from Strawn yesterday, 7 to 6. These scores would indicate that Cisco has greatly improved and it should be a hot battle here next Saturday.

Packed TO THE Limit!

Long before the opening hour of this stupendous merchandise close out event a mob of enthusiastic bargain hunters jammed the sidewalk and street in front of our store. So thick was this crowd that it was impossible for many to get up to the bargain counters. This demonstration shows conclusively what wonderful values we are offering.

MR. SAIED WANTS TO THANK YOU—

Although we prepared for the largest sale ever attempted or held in this section the response of the people who packed our store every day of the sale really overwhelmed me. Hundreds of people of course, could not get the proper attention on account of the crowds. I want to show my appreciation by giving bigger and better values than ever. Remember I am going to clean out and goods are being sold to enable us to close out as soon as possible. Come every day. You will not be urged to buy.

AN APOLOGY—

Anticipating a tremendous crowd at the opening of this sale, I hired every available sales person in Ranger, but at that the crowds were more than we could handle even with our large force. For the remaining days I have hired additional experienced sales people and will see that all are waited on promptly hereafter.

JUPE PLUVIUS TAKES OVER THE POLO GROUNDS

Some 20,000 Eager Fans Vote It Shabby Trick of the Weather Clerk.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Saturday's world series ball game was rolled up in a wet blanket at the Polo Grounds and put permanently asleep early this afternoon. The fourth game of the series between the National and American league champions, officially announced as postponed on account of rain, will be played Sunday, atmospheric conditions permitting. Tonight the rain had ceased falling and it looked as if Sunday might be clear but probably cold.

The postponement was voted a sorry trick of the weather by the more than 20,000 eager fans who had made their way into the park before rain began to fall at 1 o'clock and by the many other thousands who about faced on their journey to the ball park during the downpour in the hour before game time.

Ticket Mixups. It was decidedly unwelcome also to the business managements of both teams, because of the necessity of honoring rain checks and the other complications in the way of admission ticket arrangements which the destruction of the original schedule brought about.

In the Yankee managerial camp, however, there was no noticeable mourning over the break in the daily procession of contests. For the afternoon had brought the sad news that the Yankees' most potent aggressive factor, the somewhat well known Babe Ruth, would not be able to take part in the game because of an infected arm. The infection, caused by Babe's persistency in sliding to bases on top of a sore near the elbow—the heritage of a scrape of the flesh sustained in a slide to second late in the American league season, may keep him out of the remainder of the series.

Giants Cocky. The Giants, who with dander up and bristling with the confidence their volcanic outburst of hitting in Friday's game had given them, strained at the leash and bemoaned the adverse weather.

"Shufflin' Phil" Douglas was on the card to twirl for them today. The postponement, it was understood, would make no difference in Marazzer McGraw's pitching selection for the next game, and Douglas benefited like Mays by an additional rest period. He will without much doubt be in against Mays tomorrow.

NEW WOMAN CHAMPION AT GOLF IS CROWNED

DEAL, N. J., Oct. 8.—A new champion woman golfer of the United States was crowned on the fourteenth green of the Hollywood Golf club today, Miss Marion Hollins, a member of the Westbrook Golf club, of Great River, N. Y., succeeding Miss Alexia Stirling of Atlanta, Ga., who had held the title since 1916.

In the final round of the week's annual national she beat Miss Stirling by 5 to 4 in a thirty-six hole match. Miss Stirling was never in the lead and was four down after the morning play of eighteen holes.

MAJESTIC—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Rudyard Kipling's "Without Benefit of Clergy," and comedy, "The Tourist." Wednesday and Thursday, Geraldine Farrar in "The Riddle Woman," and comedy. Friday and Saturday, Bryant Washburn in "The Road to London."

LIBERTY. Pauline Frederick rises to new heights of emotional power in a picture that is surcharged with dynamic drama.

Its tremendous strength will lift you out of yourself. Its beautiful message will leave you glowing. Don't miss one of the really big pictures of the year, at the Liberty today.

MANHATTAN. William Russell, the Fox star, who is now appearing in his latest picture, "The Lady From Longacre," at the Manhattan theatre, is known as a man exceedingly correct and punctilious of deportment. "Always the gentleman," is the way more than one friend has described him. But on the screen Russell stands high as a fighter—in the cause of right or chivalry, of course.

In order to keep in trim for such work the Fox star does much sparring with professional fighters. One evening, while making "The Lady from Longacre"—in which he uses his fists effectively—he invited several of the ring fraternity up to his apartment. While they were sitting around swapping stories, a certain well known member of southern California's "four hundred" called to ask Mr. Russell to appear at a charitable entertainment. The star was visibly embarrassed when he had to introduce "Kid" Sand-So and "Batling" What's-His-Name to the high society caller.

One of the assistant directors was present at the time, and spread the story of Russell's "society function." The laugh has been on the star since then—though Russell's fistie ability has kept the mirth of his friends within modest limits.

MAJESTIC. They made no vows to love, honor and obey. They pledged their truth and without benefit of clergy. And they loved one another until death did them part.

A beautiful love story based on truth and faith is "Without Benefit of Clergy," Pathe's visualization of Rudyard Kipling's famous story, showing at the Majestic theatre today, Monday and Tuesday.

Ameera, the bride, was a pretty Hindu girl of Lahore, India. John Holden, the bridegroom, was a British engineer. He had bought her as though she were a Lucknow dancing girl instead of a child. They lived in the House of Love and were very happy, until a day of great rejoicing, when Ameera told John of the coming of "a pledge of their undying affection."

Despite the difference of race and creed and a marriage ceremony beyond the pale of convention, it was an undying affection. The natives idolized the white man because of his fidelity to his wife and little son.

"Without Benefit of Clergy" is an immortal love classic of East and West. Its scenario was personally written by Mr. Kipling and the entire production was supervised for the author by Randolph Lewis, who spent months in England in conference with Mr. Kipling. Robert Brunton produced it with every possible effort to re-create the story, and James Young as faithfully directed. The cast, chosen with great care, presents Virginia Brown Fair as Ameera and Thomas Holding as John Holden.

TEMPLE. Norma Talmadge is a creature of vibrant beauty and intense passions in her latest First National attraction, "The Passion Flower," which will be the featured offering at the Temple theatre starting today. The picture is adapted from the successful stage play of the same name by Jacinto Benavente in which Nance O'Neill starred, and it tells a fasci-

AMBITIOUS HEIRESS

Miss Muriel McCormick

Miss Muriel McCormick, heiress to two fortunes, granddaughter of the world's richest man, John D. Rockefeller. Her life's ambition is fame in the theatre. Whether it be opera or drama, she does not know, but Miss McCormick hopes it is opera. She attends the opera every night in its season and goes to every rehearsal. Her dress is black and white, for mick said she planned to make debut last year in the Bugh theatre. This is as famous in Vienna as the Comedie Francaise is in Paris. "But the newspapers published about two lines on my work and my study and almost a whole page on who my parents were and who my grandfather was. I was disgusted. I determined that I should never appear on the stage if I could only be 'sent off' by my family."

MEMORIES OF BABYLON DIMMED BY DAZZLING SALONS AT DEAUVILLE

Million Francs or So is All One Needs to Enjoy Large Evening; Americans Alone Drop $20,000,000 in Two Months; Play in Most Cosmopolitan Gambling House on Earth.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—"Babylon in all its glory and Reno, Nev., in its most halcyon days were nothing to this!"

The words were muttered by an American as he stambled dazedly out of Deauville casino after his first visit to the ornate salons where it is calculated Americans alone during the months of July and August lost more than $20,000,000.

Statisticians point out that this $20,000,000 would go a long way toward paying the annual interest on the French war debt to America. In fact, it would more than pay it.

Deauville has existed since the second empire, but it is only since the war that it really has blossomed into the greatest gambling center in the universe. Until comparatively recently, in fact, Deauville had no casino, and rich people with villas there went to Trouville to lose their money. Deauville is 180 miles from Paris and Trouville is to it what Coney Island is to Brighton Beach, or West Palm Beach, of mysterious postmistress fame, to Palm Beach proper with its cocoanuts, its Beach club and the other sort of nuts who frequent it.

Duke Establishes Town. Deauville was established by the Duke of Doudeville and certain of his associates as an exclusive, restful sort of rich man's colony which would be close enough to the Trouville casino to spare its members' legs and horseflesh and still far enough removed to insure the tranquility which many persons feel to be an acute need after five hours and five thousand francs—nating story of old Spain and its peasantry.

The star has the interesting role of Acacia, a tempestuous, fiery daughter of Spain called "the passion flower." So utterly does Miss Talmadge live the part that one forgets, in living with her the intensity of her emotions, that she is but a screen character. It seems that she brings life to the screen and lays bare the vibrating heart of the "Passion Flower."

Acacia, devoted to the memory of her dead father, disapproves when her mother marries Esteban, a younger man. In every way she shows her disapproval. She hates Esteban with all the intensity of her nature and never for one moment does she allow him to approach her. His efforts to win her over are of no avail. Five years pass by with Acacia's hatred just as great, but Esteban has come to passionately love his stepdaughter, and his life is wrapped up in mad devotion to her. The relations of the three come to the breaking point, and climax after climax follows, filled with dramatic suspense and intense passion, until after the tragedy has passed away the "passion flower" finds happiness. Supporting the star is a notable cast including Courtenay Foote, Eulalie Jensen, Harrison Ford, Robert Agnew and Natalie Talmadge.

agement of the Trouville casino. The origin of the quarrel is lost in the dim mists of antiquity, but the ultimate result took the form of a rival casino at Deauville, built on the model of the Little Trianon Palace at Versailles, which not only put Trouville casino on the permanent "blink" so far as high play went but gathered Deauville's peace, tranquility and exclusiveness, formerly its most prized possessions, and, wrapping them into a neat parcel, sunk them in the deep blue waters of Calvados bay.

Money is Passport. The metamorphosis continued until now all one needs to break into the social swim at Deauville is a dinner jacket, a maseot and a wad bordering on 1,000,000 francs—or thereabouts.

Exclusiveness has gone. Tranquility has gone. They have disappeared with the original Duke of Doudeville and the horse and the bicycle. In their place has come "Lout Paris," with its chic, its diamonds, its crooks, its profiteers, its spendthrifts, its expatriated Americans, its Due de la Paix gowns, its Russian sables, its stockingless legs, its straight eyebrows, its rouge, powder, chatter, gossip and scandal.

Nowhere else in the world can one see an Indian rajah whispering in the ear of a Kansas City wholesale butcher:

"Pardon me, old chap, but I've gone broke for the moment; lend me five thou."

Deauville is unique; for instance it is a closed corporation owning all its land in perpetuity and running not only its casino, its race course, its polo field, its hotels, its restaurants and its bars, but also controlling to a large extent, according to well-defined reports, the movements of its waves.

At any rate one of the phenomena of Deauville is that no matter what hour the tide comes in or goes out, the fashionable hour for bathing remains precisely the same—11 a. m. to 1 p. m.

From the moment one arrives at Deauville he is aware of a subtle difference from any other place he ever has seen. It may be the air and it may be the airs—of the people who have arrived before him—but it is mostly the infinitely disdainful way in which every one regards the handsome young woman whose profile is reproduced on the 100-franc note.

Represents Week's Wages. What matters it that at Paris there are midnettes and chorus girls for whom one of these 100-franc notes represents the earnings of one whole week?

What matters it that before the war a similar fac-simile was so valuable that numerous artists in the Latin Quarter lived on it for thirty days? At Deauville—pouf! and again pouf! it is small change.

It is here that Sir Edwin John, the merchant from India has streaked across the Deauville sky like a great golden comet; it is here Gregory Vagliano, Greek shipmaster, has won more than $4,000,000 in one month; it is here that others sit down for a little flutter with stakes of a million a minute.

Sir Edwin John is a white-haired, bushy-mustached individual, who is so much like Georges Clemenceau that they call him "The Tiger." And a tiger he is—a tiger of baccarat.

At 10 p. m. precisely every night he turns up at the big table. Before his appearance things have been going rather tamely—only a bagatelle of 700,000 francs or so won and lost

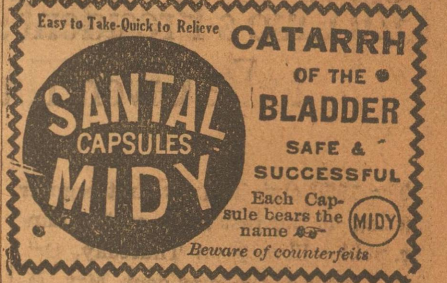

LITTLE VICTIMS OF RUSSIAN FAMINE

Almost every day scenes similar to the one pictured above are witnessed in the streets of the famine-stricken districts of Russia. Hundreds of babies are dying because of the lack of proper food, and millions more are doomed unless help is quickly given. The photograph shows a funeral procession of the little victims at Samara.

Cold-Pack Corn.

To can sweet corn so it will keep is very hard. This way it will keep. Boil several large ears of corn on the cob, just for 5 minutes, cool. Then cut off the cob, put corn back in same water, not using more than is necessary to cover all, put in little salt and tomatoes, put into jars and seal not quite tight. Stand jars in a boiler with water to the top of them, bring slowly to a boil and boil for 3 hours. Then when you take them out seal rest the way tightly.

Times Want Ads Pay

in an hour. With Sir Edwin's appearance all changes. His appearance, by the way, is as far removed from the flashy gambler of Canfield's day as Solomon McGivney, of State street, Chicago, is from His Majesty, King George V. His trousers are unpressed, his coat is shabby and looked as though his valet might have slept in it, and his general attire is that of a man who might possibly be able to scrape up $25 for a new suit, but who hates to do it because he might be cheated of his evening cigar.

Mr. Borre. I think this weather is awful. Miss Olive. You shouldn't grumble at the weather. If it wasn't for that you would have nothing to talk about. —Edinburg, Scotsman.

When cooking potatoes and peas, beets, turnips, green beans, etc., also rice, put them in boiling water, else the substance is soaked out and lost in draining. Do not boil too hard after the first 5 or 10 minutes, though never let the process of boiling stop till done. Never salt vegetables until half done. Rice may be salted at the start. It should be cooked in a double boiler and never stirred. Never drain rice; put on enough at start when putting on to cook. It is found that any boiled article of food is much more tender and more palatable, by cooking it slowly and giving it plenty of time, than by cooking it in haste.

Put through a food chopper using the coarse knife, 3 quarts green tomatoes, 1 quart ripe tomatoes, 6 medium sized onions, 4 green peppers (seeds removed), 1 small head cabbage, 4 ripe cucumbers. Put over this 1-2 cup salt, and let stand over night, drain, and add 1 quart vinegar, 2 pounds granulated sugar, 3 teaspoons mustard, 1-2 teaspoon black pepper. Simmer on back of stove 3-4 hour, and put in cans.

METHODISTS AND EAST RANGER BAPTISTS TO CONDUCT MEETINGS

Evangelist L. C. Garrison Will Preach in Big Tent on East Main, Beginning Tuesday.

Ranger Baptists are looking forward to the arrival in this city Monday of Evangelist L. C. Garrison, who, with his corps of assistants, will conduct a three-weeks' revival service at the tabernacle at 319 East Main street. Evangelist Garrison is widely known in the oil fields as an evangelist of great power, according to the Rev. M. F. Drury, pastor of the East Ranger Baptist church. He is a graduate of Baylor University, as is also Miss Beatrice Estes, the pianist. J. C. Cohen, soloist and choir director, has had extensive training in Chicago and other large cities, Rev. Drury said.

"This evangelistic team have been mightily blessed in other fields," Rev. Drury declared, "and we feel that they will do a great good in Ranger. While we have a large tabernacle, we predict that seats will be at a premium by the time the meeting has progressed a few days and the power of the evangelist becomes known."

"We want all who can to come to the opening service Monday evening and get acquainted with Mr. Garrison. Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock we want all the pastors who have assured us of their co-operation to be on the platform with us, and ask the singers to help us to organize a big choir. We expect to reach the entire city through the messages Mr. Garrison has to deliver."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR WILL ELECT OFFICERS

The Christian Endeavor society organized last Sunday at the Presbyterian church, will meet at 6:45 this afternoon, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Eleven members were enrolled last Sunday and this number is expected to be increased today. Officers probably will be elected at the meeting.

The intermediate Christian Endeavor will meet at 5:15 p. m., with Miss Katherine Long as superintendent.

Dr. Ashley Chappell Preaches First Sermon Monday Night at Methodist Church.

Dr. Ashley Chappell, pastor of the First Methodist church of Ardmore, Okla., and former pastor at Waco, will conduct the revival which begins Monday night at the Methodist church. Dr. Chappell is described as a forceful preacher and a pastor who has wielded great influence in the communities where he has been stationed, and those who have heard him say his addresses are well worth attending.

A large choir and an orchestra of several pieces, under the direction of Mrs. W. G. Grubbs, will furnish music during the meeting.

Services will be held every evening at 7:30 o'clock and also at 10 in the morning.

14 BIG NATIONS HAVE 6,000,000 MEN UNDER ARMS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Active armies of the fourteen most important nations of the world include approximately six million men, according to figures obtained here and regarded as reasonably correct.

With the inclusion of land armaments in the program of the forthcoming conference on limitation of armaments, these are the figures with which it is expected the assembled commissioners will have to deal.

While China stands first among the nations in this summary of soldiers actually under arms about Sept. 1 last, being credited with 1,370,000 active troops, France is far ahead among nations not distressed by civil strife, in the number of men with the colors. The French army strength is placed at 1,034,000 men, the British empire standing next with 740,500, and Germany last with 100,000. The United States stands thirteenth with 149,000 men in the regular army, exceeding only Germany, while Italy has 350,000 and Japan 300,000 active troops.

In considering problems connected with attempted reduction of armed forces ashore, it is to be assumed, however, that the Washington conferees will, of necessity, take into consideration many other factors than the forces actually under arms in computing the army strength of any nation for purposes of discussion. Reserve systems, the extent to which reserves have been organized for quick mobilization and the degree of training they have received all would be reviewed by technical experts.

The United States has at present nothing in the way of organized reserves behind the regular army except the national guard, the movement for organization of a voluntary reserve having just been started.

EPWORTH PROGRAM.

The Senior Epworth league announces the following program, to be rendered at the regular meeting at the Methodist church, Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock:

Leader, Claudia Cox; Scripture lesson, James III, 1-13; hymn; "The Apostles' Creed," repeated by all; prayer by leader; solo, Mrs. Holland; leader's address; hymn; address, Edgar Gilbert; address, Arthur Pellerin; address, Pearl Willie; address, Cecil Smith; hymn; benediction.

METHODIST ASK RETURN OF CHURCH SONG BOOKS

The morning services at the Methodist church will be a rally day, preparatory to the meeting, which starts Monday night. The evening services will be devoted to music and Rev. Mr. Webb, the pastor, requests that all members who have borrowed the church's "Victory Songs" return them Sunday, in order that there may be a sufficient number when the meeting opens.

This is a Studebaker Year

For the first eight months of 1921, our sales of Studebaker Cars were 41% greater than for the same period of 1920, and 101% greater than for the same period of 1919. For the same period, our sales of Repair Parts were 13% less than in 1920, and 3% less than in 1919.

On September 1st, 1921, there were approximately 116,000 more Studebaker Cars in operation than two years ago, and yet our parts business is 3% less than it was in 1919. This proves conclusively that—

WORLD'S FEVER PROVES PUZZLE TO SCIENTISTS

Heat Waves, Floods, Storms Symptoms of "Meteorological Mumps."

By United Press.
 NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The earth is emerging from what human diagnosticians might call a severe attack of meteorological mumps. It has been accompanied by an intermittent fever, manifested in a world-wide heat wave of unusual length and intensity. Despite crises and relapses—earthquakes, tidal waves, cloudbursts, typhoons, waterspouts, hailstorms, floods and hurricanes in widely separated sections, from Kamtchatka to Cape Horn, and from Guam to Guadalupe—the physicians are confident that the patient will recover.

Meanwhile the United States, for the last year, has been suffering chiefly from an excess of high temperature and a deficiency of moisture, a condition unprecedented in the fifty years' history of the weather bureau.

Excess Heat.
 From Jan. 1 to Sept. 22 the temperature of New York City, which is typical of the country, has shown an aggregate excess of warmth, or 960 degrees more than normal, while there has been a shortage of 6.71 inches in rainfall.

The persistent high temperatures, for which a number of speculative explanations have been given, began in August, 1920, and for the succeeding twelve months there was an average monthly excess of 3.4 degrees. March, 1921, an unusually warm spring month, had an excess average of 10.8 degrees.

Long before the present phenomenon, the nine months period beginning in October, 1918, and ending in July, 1919, the average monthly temperature was 2.71 degrees above normal, and this was a record until sunspots, sea bottom upheavals or other hypothetical causes sent the mercury still higher.

Highest Average.
 The highest average temperature ever recorded in this country for March, weather bureau officials say, was 48.3 in 1921.

The average temperature for April, 1921—55 degrees—was the warmest for that month in half a century. July broke all records for eleven years. A curious freak of the weather in America for the week ending Sept. 22 was that, while every section of the country from Bismarck, N. D., to Halifax, N. B., and from Phoenix, Ariz., to Miami, Fla., was suffering from abnormally high temperatures, large areas in Wyoming, Montana, Oregon and Nevada were having freezing nights.

One consolation of the freak weather, however, is the prospect of an "open winter."

Thursday, Saturday and Sunday nights at 7:15. Indoor services Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday at 8:15. Young people's meetings every Wednesday night at 7:30. Sunday school at 2:30 p. m. All are invited to attend these services. A cool, clean, well lighted place to spend an hour in worshipping Him who lives, loves, and is the Savior of all.

BLANK MIND IS NEWEST ROAD TO ETERNAL YOUTH

PARIS, Oct. 8.—"Do nothing." "Think nothing." "Make your mind an absolute blank."

These are the axioms of eternal youth, according to Grand Apostolate Fruiji Ik, founder and high priest of Festinj, "religion of the perfect sphere," whatever that may mean, and very latest and newest of the queer faiths and creeds which perpetually are popping up in Paris.

Whether Fruiji's philosophy put the ik in kick is, at the moment of writing, not fully established. The new religion, however, already boasts forty or fifty faithful adherents, who live in a tent colony on a lonely part of the Brittany coast and run about clad in potato sacks.

The potato sack is vouched for by no less a person than Fruiji himself. "It really ought to be skins," he said, wistfully, "but they are too expensive, and we have not been able to find any wild beasts around our camp."

Complaints have been registered police by neighbors of the camp, who say the sacks may have originally been intended for potatoes, but are more the size of peanut bags.

In fact, they say, scenes at the camp in early morning indicate that there have not been enough sacks to go around.

Police reply has been that France is a land of personal liberty, and that as long as the Festinjies don't parade sackless around the neighboring villages it is immaterial whether they wear 'em or not on their own private property.

It was through overwork that Fruiji came, he affirms, to discover his cure. One day he "felt a sudden crack," and found that his great mind refused to function.

"For fifteen minutes I lay on my bed perfectly conscious, but absolutely without the faculty of thought," he relates. "When it passed I found, to my surprise, that I was as refreshed in body and spirit as though I had had three weeks in bed in the mountains with the window open.

"It is five years since I made my discovery, and in that time, by turning my head into a vacuum for eight hours every night I have grown twenty years younger. I am 58 now and feel as spry as a youngster of 20."

MILE-HIGH BARS EUROPE'S NEW CONVENIENCE FOR TRAVELERS

Airplane Pullmans Also Used for Journey From Paris to Constantinople; "Seeing the Battlefields" Machines Make Round Trip Every Day; Perishable Freight Carried.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The first air time-table has been issued by the French under-secretary of state for aviation.

Handsome bound and illustrated, the book demonstrates that it is now possible to travel from one end of Europe to the other—from Copenhagen to Egypt or Constantinople—by airplane, and in about a quarter the time which would be taken by rail.

It is simple to leave Copenhagen at 10:30 a. m., on the Transcontinental Air Limited—replete with buffet service and bar—arrive at Hamburg at 12:40, Bremen at 2 p. m., Amsterdam at 5:15 p. m., and Rotterdam at 6 p. m.

From Rotterdam one can go to London in a fast three-hour plane, or one can continue the voyage through Europe via Brussels and Paris. This can be done either by taking a "local" express to Brussels and there change for Paris, or a through air limited for the French capital direct from Rotterdam or Amsterdam, leaving the former place at 1:30 p. m. and arriving in Paris at 5 p. m.

Paris Is Center.

After a day in Paris a wide choice of routes is open, for from Paris radiates an air service which already is competing with train and boat lines. One can take a postal express to Bordeaux and from there taxiplanes can be hired for Toulouse, where the great Air Overland Limited leaves for Casablanca and Rabat, Morocco. This trip takes nine hours and stops are made, if necessary, at Barcelona, Gibraltar and Algiers.

The Trans-Mediterranean service has been running for seventeen months and so far has unrecordered a single accident.

Travelers to Constantinople take the air pullmans of the Roumanian Air Line—which hold eighteen passengers and make the journey with one stop to Bucharest in eleven hours—and from Bucharest continue the journey by the Balkan Air Passenger service to Sofia.

All Day Trip.

The longest single line from Paris is that to Warsaw, which operates two expresses each way daily. Leaving Paris at 6 a. m., the planes reach Strasburg for breakfast at 8:30, Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, at 1 p. m. for lunch, and Warsaw for dinner at 6:30 p. m. By train the journey, with frontier delays, takes a minimum of two days and generally three.

Berlin expresses can be taken from London, Brussels, Rotterdam, Amsterdam and Hamburg, and from Berlin fast air-limits at all hours for Copenhagen, Stockholm, Munich, Warsaw and Christiana.

Six air mails leave Paris every day for London. One year ago the service consisted of only one plane each way daily. The journey is made between the two capitals in two hours and five minutes, with faster time if desired.

Air express altogether has replaced the slow train and steamship express for perishable freight and for small packages of extreme value. All the Hatton Garden and Rue de la Paix jewel and art dealers send their wares back and forth by air. Even fragile goods such as porcelains and statues successfully are carried every day.

One line makes a specialty of "doing the battlefields" between breakfast and dinner. At 8 a. m. a powerful limousine calls at your hotel and takes you to the aerodrome, where the plane is waiting. You are shown a comfortable arm chair by an observation window, given a map and a guide book of the devastated regions and told to follow the route of the ship.

Seeing Battlefields.

At 10:30 you land at Chateau Thierry and are taken about the town and Belleau Woods in a fast touring car. At 11:30 you take the plane again for Rheims, where lunch is served. After a tour of the cathedral and city you are off to Verdun, which is reached at 2:30. Here only an hour is given for sightseeing—fast autos taking you to the "Bayonet Trench"—and then the plane leaves for Paris direct. At 7 p. m. you are back in your hotel changing for dinner, and having seen as much in ten hours as the rail and auto tourist sees in three days.

Similar tours are made to Ypres, Soissons, Arras, Bethun and other spots on the western half of the old

KEEP AWAY FROM HIS OWNER'S CELLAR

Sixty-three pounds of muscle, jaw and teeth! That ought to be warning enough to keep away from the cellar of Wesley Johnson, of Medford, Mass., which is constantly guarded by the healthy-looking fellow in the above photograph, "Bay State Tantalizer." At a recent dog show at Somerville, "Bay State Tantalizer" won all the honors in his class.

The sole question unsolved up to the present is the vibration and noise which destroys to a great extent the air voyager's comfort. This now is being studied by a commission of experts and it is hoped next year to produce a plane wherein the passenger salons will be rendered sound-proof.

BRITISH PEERS FORCED TO SELL TO NEWLY-RICH

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The most striking sign of the times in London at present is a gayly colored board stuck on the corner of a wall in Piccadilly, offering "Devonshire House estate" for sale, freehold, either in one lot or three.

Twenty years ago a sale board on Buckingham palace would scarcely have been more astonishing. Today Devonshire House for sale is merely one of many.

Crewe Hall, the family seat of the Marquis of Crewe, and Esther Place, the home of Lord D'Abernon, have been offered "to let furnished" recently. Never before have the newly-rich enjoyed such opportunities of acquiring, even for a few years, such "stately homes of England."

Taxes, super-taxes, death duties and reduced incomes are compelling some of the oldest and proudest families in the land to sell up or lease, or at any rate to sell off "outlying portions" of their estates.

fashion some years ago in selling Stafford House, the largest private house in London, now the London museum. The Marquis of Lansdowne, whose house is just behind Devonshire House, has "let" his residence to Mr. Selfridge.

There are empty houses for sale in all the famous streets and squares of Mayfair and Belgravia, and the line of boards hanging out over the foot-paths give a tragic touch to the view. Five of the great mansions in Belgrave square have sale boards on the front.

Grosvenor square, Curzon street and all the streets round about are decked with sale boards. The great house in Chesterfield gardens which Lord Leonfield lent for an American Officers' club during the war, now is for sale. So is the mansion nearly opposite, in which Lord Beaconsfield died.

Earl Buxton, governor-general of South Africa, recently offered his "dignified family residence" in Buckingham Gate for sale, with the enticing recommendation that it is "facing Buckingham Palace."

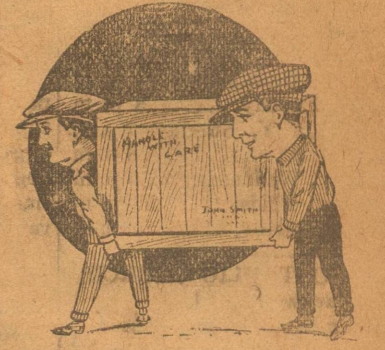

Charlie Chaplin has gone to Berlin and now we shall see whether the Germans think there is still anything funny in the world.—Kansas City Star.
