BIG GAS LINE BLOWS OUT WITH A MIGHTY ROAR

PIPE OF LONE STAR COMPANY JUST BUCKLES

Immense Pressure and Water-Soaked Ground Form Destructive Combination.

Two sections of the 16-inch pipe line of the Lone Star Gas company blew out from the high gas pressure on the line last night about 10 o'clock, the break occurring in the center of the Prairie tank farm. The pipe line is embedded in three feet of dirt, but, due to the heavy downpour of rain, the ground softened so much that the high pressure caused the line to up-end through the dirt and blow out.

Expensive Fire In Heart Of Business District Of Dallas

DALLAS, May 26.—Fire starting here early Sunday morning caused about $200,000 damage to several business houses in the heart of the business district. The entire stock on the F. W. Woolworth store is a total loss estimated at about $100,000. The stock of the Old Mill Drug store was destroyed, while the Liggett Drug store and W. A. Green, clothing merchant, suffered heavy losses, chiefly by smoke and water.

Carl Barnes Post Memorial Service Is Very Impressive

The memorial service of the Carl Barnes post, American legion, held Sunday morning at the First Baptist church, was deeply impressive and very beautiful. The legionnaires attended in uniform, and entered in march formation carrying the American flag and their own standard. A beautiful wreath in the American colors, formed of red poppies, white lilies and blue bachelor buttons, was brought by the soldiers and placed on the table in front of the pulpit. Each member wore a poppy, a silent tribute to some brave comrade whose life was given in the world war.

A special choir with orchestral accompaniment, sang "America," followed by a preamble to the legion by J. W. Overall. Kipling's stirring poem, "Let Us Forget," was read by Miss Lela Giles, accompanied on the piano by Miss Nell Fiebiles. A sympathetic address on "Twilight," by Rev. W. H. Johnson, pastor of the church, touched all hearts. After a second fine song by the choir, Comrade Henry Schmidt gave a talk of much interest. There was a large attendance and many expressions of gratitude for the beautiful service. The evening service was also well attended.

AUTO THIEF STEALS CAR WHILE OWNER IS ATTENDING CHURCH

Auto thieves, after remaining inactive in Ranger for three days, took toll of the people here and stole E. Hamble Ford touring car, license number 795,545 from the Methodist church last night.

STORM BREAKS AFTER HOURS OF QUIET WARNING

Rain Falls in Torrents, Thunder Crashes and Wind Blows in Gusts.

The rain that fell over this section last night will be a great benefit to growing crops, according to the opinion of many farmers. It is also believed that it did away with many of the large number of grasshoppers that have begun to destroy the crops. The general condition of crops over the county is good and everything points to a bumper crop this fall.

Storm Gives Warning. There was ample warning of the approaching storm. All day Sunday the skies were overcast and during the afternoon slight showers fell. Partly because of the gentle approach, few anticipated such a storm as broke about 9 o'clock, just about the time most of the worshippers had returned home from church. The wind blew in gusts, driving the rain, which fell in torrents, under the eaves and beneath the door sills; hail as large as bird's eggs fell and scared many an automobile driver, and all the while the lightning kept the skies ablaze and the thunder roared and boomed and rumbled, now near and now far. Quickly the gutters were running streams and the streets like rivers of water.

Fire Chief Murphy reported that more than 50 cars had been pulled out of ditches in the road in various parts of Ranger and adjacent to the city, and out of mud holes. It was a night when chains were needed, and car drivers were eager to help out any in distress, because it might be the tables would soon be turned and they would be calling for help.

Dam Threatened. Fire Chief Murphy reports that the Mirror lake dam was weakening under the deluge and that if the water had risen much higher over the spillway the dam might have given way. However, the water went down before any serious damage was done.

Ferrell, indicted on 19 counts charging use of mails to defraud in connection with the sale of oil stocks, entered a plea of guilty in federal court here today for himself and the Mid-Continent Brokerage company, of which he was the head. Ferrell had previously pleaded not guilty. M. A. Wizard, indicted on similar charges, also pleaded guilty.

SECOND PLACE NOT WHOLLY TO BE DESPISED

He Who "Knows" Himself Able, Often Beaten by Him Who Tries to Be Able.

By WALLACE BASSFORD WASHINGTON, May 26.—Republican speakers in and out of congress have ceased to point with pride to the achievements of the republican party, but are dwelling on the character of their chief executive. In this they are in the position of the Biblical character who leaned on a reed. In private conversation they make small effort to conceal their feeling that the only question remaining in their minds is as to the size of the disaster which they are facing.

There is much significance in the fact that no leader in the conservative wing of the party made any effort to contest for the nomination with Coolidge. Observers in politics with experience of many years, see little in the fact that the president won easily in the primaries against Johnson, for the latter is looked upon as a wild-eyed Western radical, possessed of little real political acumen.

Two New Locations in Shallow Sand Area. Two more new locations were made near the Williamson discovery well Saturday when Knox & Lewis of Eastland moved a Parkersburg rigging machine in on the Dr. Simons lease, about one mile east of the discovery well, and the Humble Oil & Refining company moved a Parkersburg machine in on their lease offsetting the discovery well to the west.

LOVE AND NEFF MAY CLASH TO GAIN CONTROL

Governor Starts Counter Fire Following Decision of Steering Committee Against Him.

WACO, May 26.—A determined fight on the re-election of Thomas B. Love as national committeeman from Texas, which was tentatively agreed upon last night at a caucus of the steering committee of the state democratic convention, which opens here tomorrow, had developed this morning within one hour after the arrival of Governor Pat M. Neff. Love has held the office four years. Governor Neff cannot possibly go as a delegate to the democratic national convention, according to the unannounced decision of the steering committee, and it is said he has started this fight against Love to even the score. A week before the May precinct primaries, Love delivered a scathing arraignment of Governor Neff, and this move against him is believed to be somewhat in the nature of retaliation.

Uppermost Questions. Twenty-four hours before the opening of the state democratic convention, Tuesday, the two uppermost questions among the delegates and onlookers are: Will Governor Pat M. Neff put up a fight to go as a delegate to the national democratic convention? Can friends of Alvin Owsley, past commander of the American Legion, whip the state convention into line and obtain the instructions of the state delegation for him as candidate for vice president of the United States?

Leaders Oppose Owsley. Owsley's friends are putting up a hard fight for him. The fact appears to be that more than 100 counties having a voting strength of about 500 in the convention, have instructed for him, and that if the delegations follow instructions, the convention is almost sure to instruct for him. Love, Sells, and other leaders are opposing Owsley. For Owsley, claiming it would hurt McAdoo's chances. One of the liveliest tilts of the convention is expected to come on credentials. Two sets of delegates are reported coming from Bosque county, the home of Senator Earle B. Mayfield, one set said to be Klan and the other anti-Klan. Each side threatens to carry the fight to the convention if not seated.

Burkett Agreeable To Klan As Purely Fraternal Order. COLORADO, Texas, May 26.—In touching upon the Klan question, Joe Burkett, candidate for governor, speaking here today, said that he had no objection to the Klan as a purely fraternal order—everybody had a right to their views—but as a political order, it is highly objectionable and he felt it was dangerous to free government.

Evaporated Milk Association Formed Covering the Nation

Representatives of almost all of the evaporated milk manufacturers of the country recently met in Chicago and organized the Evaporated Milk association. L. R. Mardenbergh of the Carnation Milk Products company was elected chairman; C. T. Lee of Nestles Food company, vice chairman; E. G. Ansell, Oatman Condensed Milk company, treasurer.

The association will inaugurate a campaign of education directed to the housewives of America, featuring the wholesomeness of evaporated milk, and the economy of distributing a billion quarts of milk each year in tin cans.

It has taken more than 30 years of painstaking effort to bring this method of marketing milk to the present high state of perfection. The new, handy, sanitary, tin can now in use, makes possible the distributing of milk of the best quality to millions of homes, combining purity with freshness and high quality with lowest possible cost.

Herbert C. Hooks, well known throughout the milk industry, and a member of the committee representing the industry in the food administration during the war, has been selected to conduct the activities of the new association.

Hooks has been active as a manufacturer of evaporated milk since 1906 when he became identified with Hires Condensed Milk company at Philadelphia. Having served in all departments of a rapidly growing business, Hooks became general manager in 1911, continuing until 1918, when the Hires company combined with others to form Nestles Food company. He recently resigned the treasurership of this company in order to administer the work of the Evaporated Milk association.

Cotton Seed Oil Becomes Table Treat and Boon to Cooks

A few short years ago no one thought of cotton seed oil as being a table product and a real boon to cooks, but that is just what it has become and statistics prove that the production of this by-product has increased from $875,000 in 1881 to $93,000,000 in 1922.

According to reports from the United States department of agriculture, cotton seed oil stands at the head of the list for food values of all the oils available for use in the manufacture of shortening.

It has a higher edible value than olive oil, cornery butter, hog lard, coconut oil, beef tallow or soya bean oil. Today there are more cooks using shortening made from cotton seed oil than any other variety. It is the popular shortening of the up-to-date kitchen, one great advantage being that it can be used for delicate foods, as cake and pie crust, instead of the more expensive creamery butter, results than a larger measure of butter, a smaller quantity giving better results. There is nothing so delicate for frying than a shortening made of cotton seed oil, which is proving indispensable in the kitchen of all progressive housewives.

Giant Turbine Is Installed at Niagara

Water, pouring at the rate of 3,500 cubic feet a second on the giant turbine of the recently completed 70,000-horse-

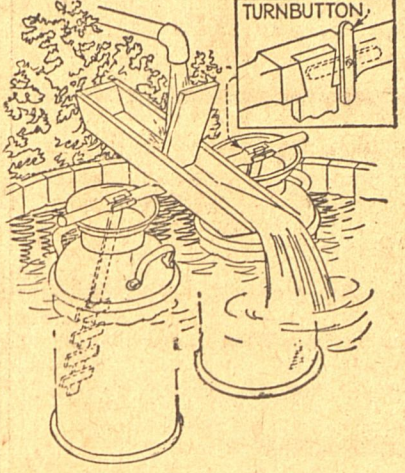

The power hydroelectric unit of the Niagara Falls power company, does work that would require 700,000 tons of coal annually if the energy were generated by steam. So efficient is the generator, said to be the largest in the world, that it uses no more water than was required for seven 5,000-horsepower units formerly, and yet delivers energy equivalent to that produced by fourteen of them.

Simple Device Stirs Milk While Cooling

Fresh milk is often stirred in order to cool it, and this is usually done by hand, which is a slow and tiresome task. A simple device for doing the work automatically by water flowing into a tank, as shown in the drawing, can be made by any farmer from materials that are available everywhere.

The device consists of a shallow box, made of 1-in. pine boards. The ends are sloping and the box is divided into two equal parts by a board extending vertically in the center about 8 or 10 in. above the sides. The box is mounted at its center on a wooden axle, and a stirring paddle is attached to each end as indicated. These paddles are made from laths, planed smooth, and having a number of short crosspieces nailed on. In use, the milk cans are placed in the water tank and the stirring device arranged as shown in the drawing, the rocking-box being located under a water pipe so that the water first flows into one side and then into the other side alternately. As soon as one side of the box is filled the

OWNER OF THE PHILLIES MUST ACCEPT BLAME

Niggardly Policy Has Made the Team Joke of National League.

(By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, May 26.—Personalities were exchanged recently between William F. Baker, owner of the Philadelphia Nationals, and John McGraw, manager and part owner of the New York Giants.

McGraw made some comments about the quality of the Phils which indicated that he believed they were more suited for a Class A league than for a place in the major leagues. Baker replied that it wasn't his fault that he couldn't get good ball players and keep them after he found them. He said when he did have good players, rich managers got them to lay down so they could be traded away from the club.

Although there is nothing serious in the controversy, it may result in some fireworks, because McGraw hardly will keep silence when Baker is trying to have it believed that the giant chief induced Irish Meusel to look bad with the Phils so that he could be brought to New York.

For several years the Phillies have been the joke of the National league, and they are a disgrace this year. Before the season is over, the club may decide to give Baker the choice of getting out or of doing something to strengthen a team that, on its present rating, is not good enough for a fast minor league.

Baker complains that he can't build up the team because he hasn't the money that the Giants, Cubs, and Reds have to spend for first class minor league players and that he couldn't put his hands on the players if he did not have the dough to spend.

As long as Baker can live on the patronage that is drawn to his club by games played against good cards, like the Giants, Reds and Cubs, he will insist that the building up of a club is a hard task, requiring years of vigilance, and a lot of ball luck in developing the talent found.

It is all bosh for any club owner to complain that he can't get players to build up his club. If any proof had been needed that a little perspiration and a sincere desire to build up a club were all that is needed, Bob Quinn, new boss of the Boston Red Sox furnished it this season.

In a few short months, Quinn took a club that had been wrecked completely by an owner who was in the business only to sell players, and he transformed it into a club that seemed destined for the first division.

ONE MAN BUILDS CHURCH IN SLUM DISTRICT

TOKIO.—Christian church, printing plant, and school, all contained in one building erected by the hands of one man, is the interesting story of the Labu, church, which has just been dedicated in Fukugawa, the slum district of Tokio, where so many lost their lives last September. The funds for the purchase of the materials that have gone into the building were saved from scanty earnings by members of the Christian Printers Guild of Japan. A Christian member of the Carpenters Guild volunteered to erect the structure alone and unaided and without monetary compensation. On the first floor of the building is a printing plant, a school for laborers, and an information and employment bureau. Above are Sunday school class rooms, club rooms and an auditorium for Sunday.

Historic Chess Figures Will Be Used In Tournament

PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—Historic chess figures, used by noted players centuries ago, are to be brought from their display cases here and be put into action.

A tournament to be staged by players of the ancient game is soon to be held in the Pennsylvania museum and chess collectors have agreed to loan their ancient sets for the fray.

Ancient chess warriors of past centuries will emerge from cases to lead their forces into battle for the first time since they furnished pastime for the famous owners, generations ago. Among the rare sets to be used by the players will be the original set of Benjamin Franklin, who was the first to play the game in America. It is the same set with which he played some of his statesmen friends while in Europe.

A set originally owned by Joseph Priestly, discoverer of oxygen, is also to be used in the tournament. "Charles V, emperor of Germany," seated upon a lion, will lead his forces against the enemy just as he did in 1550, while "Gustavus Adolphus," and "Ferdinand XI of Austria," will lead their respective armies into the tournament. A set of Mohammedan pieces, the gift of Prince Singh of India, will also feature the coming championship.

Rare sets from almost every country of the globe will be brought forth. A unique set of Icelandic chess figures is scheduled to perform. They date from 1250, A. D., and were found in the wreck of a ship off the coast of Scotland. A Chinese set of military figures will take part and another of Spanish lineage will be present.

The North and South will meet again in combat when the set headed by President and Mrs. Lincoln will meet their wooden foe in the past, headed by President and Mrs. Jeff Davis. Another set is one carried by an American soldier during the battle of Argonne, in the World war.

One striking feature of the sets is the evolution of the bishop of the game. As early as the seventh century in India it was fashioned as an elephant. In France the piece became a court jester, in Italy a standard bearer, in Spain, an urn, the emblem of justice, and in Germany, a runner.

TOO MUCH HEADACHE IN THIS KIND OF JAZZ

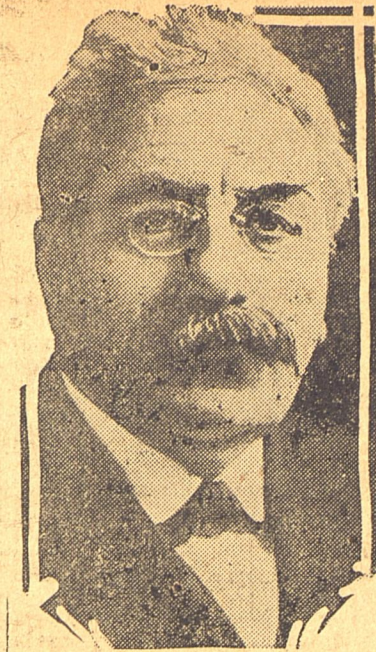

LONDON.—"Jazz spectacles" are almost the only freak fashion that failed here this year.

An enterprising firm of manufacturing opticians put out an assortment of fancifully shaped and colored glasses—the idea being that the ladies would wear lenses of a color to match their gowns and of a shape to suit their own individual fancy. There were heart-shaped spectacles with lenses of blue or purple, triangle shapes, diamond shapes, all sorts of shapes—and each with lenses of almost any desired color. Then there was the "jazz" design, of any shape desired but with lenses built like a kaledioscope or a stained-glass church window, a mixture of many colors.

For about a week there was quite a demand for the lovely new style spectacles. And then the sale of headache powders in fashionable drug stores had a big increase. And then there were simple, but sincere full performance over a very dead style in manufactory for jazz spectacles.

"CONFIDENTIAL ORDERS" HOLDS EXPRESS TRAIN

By United Press. HOUSTON, May 22.—It remained for two United States marines to turn a trick which Southern Pacific railroad officials declared the governor of the state could not do. Sergeant J. D. Walther wanted to leave the city. He was late. There was a story of "confidential orders." A clerk at the downtown ticket office rushed to the telephone. Walther's "buddy" commanded a passing automobile. He counted out the money for the ticket as the car sped to the depot. At the gate a clerk handed him the ticket, the conductor signaled the engineer and the Sunset Limited started eastward—more than three minutes late. Walther was on leave and going to visit his uncle, a congressman, in Washington.

EPISCOPAL CATHEDRAL IN WASHINGTON ACCEPTS NATIONAL SERVICE FLAG

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Congressmen Harry McLeary, Wurzbach, John C. Box, Hutton W. Summers and Marvin Jones of Texas and 56 other members of the house of representatives represented their states on the committee of members at the great open air service held at the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul on Mount St. Alban overlooking Washington, Sunday afternoon, when the national service flag of the Episcopal church, representing churchmen from practically every community in the United States, was presented to the National cathedral. The Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, bishop of Washington; Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania and Major General John L. Hines, deputy chief of staff of the war department.

More than 10,000 persons, including many of Bishop Freeman's "radio congregation," who have been listening to his sermons broadcast every Sunday afternoon from the Bethlehem chapel in the completed portion of the cathedral, were shown to their seats by the members of congress, at whose request the meeting was arranged. Not since the burial of Woodrow Wilson in the National cathedral was such a body of people assembled at the Westminster Abbey of America.

Service to country and God, loyalty to both, international peace and the unity of Christian peoples throughout the world were urged by the speakers. At the conclusion of his address, Senator Pepper presented to the cathedral on behalf of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's the men's organization of the Episcopal church, a great service flag, representing the 105,102 men and women of the Episcopal church who served their country during the World war. The flag was accepted for the cathedral's permanent resting place, by General Hines.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost. Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advertisement.

FORUMS OF IMPERIAL ROME TO BE BROUGHT TO LIGHT

By CAMILLO CIANFARRA (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

ROME, May 24.—Judging by a speech made at the capitol the day the city bestowed on him the honorary citizenship of Rome, the most exalted honor for any Italian, Premier Mussolini is planning an ambitious program of excavations which, if carried out, will, in the near future, offer to the visitor a spectacle that will give him a concrete idea of the splendors of imperial Rome.

Mussolini said that besides meeting the present needs of the city in the way of lodging, streets and other public improvements and creating the 20th century Rome, he also expects to dig out the old forums and other monuments which embellished the city of Augustus and Nero.

Of the eleven forums of the city, only two are now cleared and shown to the modern day lover of ancient times—that of Trajan, with its marvelous columns, and the Roman forum with its pavement of marble, its rows of broken columns and the remains of the temples devoted to the cult of the different deities. The others are still under 10 or 15 feet of debris, awaiting the pick of the excavator.

According to Senator Corrado Ricci, for many years director general of the department of fine arts, the first to be excavated and restored is the forum of Augustus, probably the smallest of them all, but the most interesting. Today, all material obstacles have been overcome and the work is scheduled to begin early in August, when nuns inhabiting an old convent will move to a new building.

The forum is located in the heart of the city, not far from the Trajan forum. The emperor built it on honor of his mother, and the Latin historians inform us that it was one of the most splendid. The forum is over 200 feet wide and 375 feet long. It was devoted to the administration of justice and to civic functions at which the emperor officiated. At one end of it there rose the temple of Mars Ultor, or the Avenger, where Caesar's sword was preserved, together with many famous works of art, including two paintings by Apelles. It was in this temple that the Roman senate met any time there were important military questions to discuss.

The most important part of Premier Mussolini's excavation program is that concerning the Circus Maximus, the largest open-air amphitheater of the imperial Rome, which was built entirely of solid stones and marbles and which is supposed to be in a fine state of preservation.

Pageant Will Show How West Was Won For Civilization

By United Press.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 24.—Construction of the first railroad linking Portland by rail and water with the great wheat regions of southeastern Washington will play an important part in a great historical pageant here May 28 and 29.

"How the West Was Won" will be the title of the production, which will include a cast of 3,200 actors, musicians, singers and dancers. Indians, stage coaches and prairie schooners will enter in the play realistically.

But most picturesque of all will be the rejuvenation of the original "Mountain Queen" engine, which puffed into Walla Walla over the first railroad of wooden rails capped with scrap iron.

This old engine is still in the Union Pacific yards at Portland, Ore. Railroad officials have promised to have the engine ready for exhibition here, and construction of the narrow-gauge track for it has been begun on the pageant field.

The famous old railroad, from water connection at Wallula on the Columbia river to Walla was built under the most distressing handicaps.

Laid Wooden Rails.

One of the greatest of these was the lack of funds. Hampered in this respect, Dr. Dorsey S. Baker, who completed the road in 1875, first laid wooden rails. Later he capped them with strap iron one-half inch thick and two inches wide.

Due to the weight and friction of the train wheels these straps of iron occasionally turned up at the ends so that sometimes the ends of the iron would be forced through the floor of the cars before the train could be stopped.

These curling straps were styled "snakeheads," and had no respect for either passengers or freight.

Whisky Bottle Level.

The story is told how engineers, laying out the roadbed, had no instruments to go by. For a level a whisky bottle, half full of water, served the purpose. The engineers sighted along the top of the water in the bottle to establish their levels.

The Union Pacific railroad owned and operated this line for a number of years with the grades unchanged.

Dr. Baker, with unusual foresight, soon after completing his railroad from Walla Walla to the Columbia river, concluded it would be only a short time until a transcontinental road would be laid parallel to his, rendering his useless.

Accordingly, he made terms and sold his line to the Oregon Steam Navigation company.

All this will be brought up in the pageant relating the 70 years of epochal northwest history from the coming of Lewis and Clark in 1805 until the railroad was completed.

The cast includes 800 choristers, 600 juvenile choristers, 400 dancers, 250 Indians, bands and orchestras.

Of 34 cities in the United States, all but five of the number show an increase in child labor in 1923 over 1922. This is certainly a good argument for the passage of a child labor amendment to the constitution prohibiting such use of children.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT STRONGLY URGED

Committee From Methodist General Conference Addresses House Committee.

WASHINGTON.—Once upon a time an almost illiterate, but intelligent legislator turned to one of his colleagues and said with scorn: "The folks that sent you here might as well have writ a letter."

The Methodist general conference wasn't content to write a letter to the judiciary committee of the house of representatives which is now considering the 59 bills offered by the house wets. They sent Bishop Thomas Nicholas, Bishop A. W. Leonard, Judge C. A. Pollock, W. H. Van Ben Scoten and Dr. Clarence True Wilson to enter a protest in person.

The judiciary committee is mainly dry, although wet in spots. Bishop Nicholas told the committee just what the general conference is, what constituency it represents, and the unanimous and enthusiastic action taken in objection to the beer bills. His statement contained no loose or wandering words and was exceedingly impressive.

Heckling Fails.

Representative Nathan Perlman New York republican, immediately demanded to know what salary the bishop got as head of the Anti Saloon league. Finding that the bishop labored for love only, he asked how much Wayne B. Wheeler received. Learning that Mr. Wheeler's salary would make just about one respectable retainer for a lawyer of his ability, he wanted to know how many Anti Saloon league men have been convicted of violating the prohibition law. The committee began to get restive and Representative Summers, of Texas, sat upon Mr. Perlman with a big flop. He subsided.

Bishop Leonard, in a concise and illuminating statement, set forth the position of his constituents on the Pacific coast. He said that in California 87 per cent of the liquor law convictions were of foreigners, and protested against the effort to legalize and dignify alien opposition to American law by official nomenclature.

Law Must Be Effective.

Mr. Van Ben Scoten drove home the common sense truth that congress was under obligation to maintain not only a law in support of the constitutional amendment, but an effective law and that no law increasing the alcohol content of permissible beer and wine could be effective.

Judge Pollock told him he himself had prepared and had secured passage through the North Dakota legislature an amendment to the prohibition law of that state increasing the alcoholic content of liquor, thinking it would have a good effect, but that on the contrary, the measure was disastrous and had to be repealed.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson was presented.

"Doctor," asked one of the committee, "did you put your office just across the street from us so you could watch us all the better?"

"There may be something in that," replied the doctor. "And it may be that we just simply like you as neighbors."

The committee laughed.

Less Drunkenness.

Dr. Wilson assailed one of the witnesses in behalf of the beer but saying that he had known that witness when he was mayor of a town reeking with drunkenness, vice and corruption. He declared that there had been too much apology for the Volstead law, that it was a matter of fact even where badly enforced, of prodigious benefit to the nation. He told of his personal experiences in locating closed Keely institutes and other evidences of decreased drunkenness and alcoholism.

One representative, in commenting afterwards, said: "It was the most afterwards, said: "It was the most, as a member of the judiciary committee." Another said, "This delegation presented more evidence worthy of consideration in one hour and a half than did the proponents of these bills in one week and a half."

WELL KNOWN BUSINESS MAN FREED OF TWENTY YEARS' SUFFERING

That the sensational new medicine Karnak has relieved him of twenty years of suffering and restored his health after all other means had failed is the astonishing statement of Mr. A. W. Taylor, well-known business man residing at 816 East Tenth street, Oklahoma City.

"I think it is my duty to let the public know what Karnak has done for me," said Mr. Taylor in making public his experience. "For twenty years before I got this remarkable medicine I had not seen a well day, and I frequently had to leave my business and go home to bed. Nothing I ate seemed to digest properly. I was continually bothered with terrific headaches, sluggish liver and constipation, and severe pains extending from my right side to my back kept me in constant torment. I had about made up my mind to undergo an operation to see if it would help me, but a friend got me started to taking Karnak and I would not take anything on earth for what the medicine has done for me. My digestion is splendid, the other troubles are also gone, and I feel better than I have in years and years. I consider Karnak worth its weight in gold."

Mr. Taylor's statement is typical of hundreds of others being made about the famous new medicine. Karnak is sold in Ranger by the Rexall Drug Store and Texas Drug Store.—Advertisement.
