

"River Bed" Someday

When completed—and when the rains come—this big man-made gash in the earth will be part of the bed for a temporary river. The channel will divert water from Bull Creek into Lake J. B. Thomas, the Colorado River Municipal Water District reservoir. At this point, the channel is about 40 feet deep. (Note the car for comparison.) Maximum depth will be 70 feet. (Photo by Keith McMillin).

Diversion Dam Is On Homestretch

Ditching and damming—mechanical twins for twisting natural terrain into a more useful pattern—are going to contribute to faster filling of Lake J. B. Thomas. Barring unforeseen difficulties, the giant diversion dam and canal which will turn most of the Bull Creek watershed into the CRMWD may be completed within two months. When it is, another 380 square miles will be contributing its run-off to the 580 on the Colorado River above the dam.

Last week, to take advantage of moderate amounts of water impounded from light showers, Skinner Construction Company moved equipment from the channel to building the dam. Water is necessary because the clay core of the dam is to be dampened and rolled. The dam itself is a wetted rolled embankment.

More than a million yards of dirt will be moved in the process, plus a respectable yardage of rock for rip-rap. This is, however, less than a third of the volume of earth moved in building the main dam across the Colorado in southwest Scurry County.

The channel, which stretches approximately 2 1/2 miles from the upper reaches of an arm on the north side of the lake, calls for excavation of 790,000 cubic yards of dirt. The core trench for the dam across Bull Creek calls for 8,000 cubic yards. The diversion dam, a robust structure within itself, will contain 280,000 cubic yards of earth. Including the levees which fan out from the south anchor to confine flood flow across a flat, the dam is approximately a mile and a quarter in length. From the point that it leaves Bull Creek to where it emerges into the draw extending northward from Lake J. B. Thomas, floor of the channel will maintain a uniform level of 2.58 feet above sea level. This is the maximum normal level for the lake. If the lake level should ever rise beyond this point, flow in the channel would diminish and stop so that any excess coming down Bull Creek would go around the diversion emergency spillway. Thus it would follow Bull Creek to the confluence of the Colorado without breaching the main dam and lake spillways.

Base of the canal is 40 feet in width. The walls are on 2:1 slope. Greatest depth at any point is to be 70 feet. This occurs near where a lateral road crosses the channel. The State Highway Department is developing plans for the bridge but so far has given no definite information to the district.

The contractor is working right up to the road on both sides, delaying the cut pending instructions about the bridge. It is probable that the job may be completed before the bridge is constructed and thus delay the date for diverting floodwaters.

E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, is optimistic about prospects of the Bull Creek diversion. Originally, it was set up for years hence when demands upon the lake would increase materially. However, construction costs have been such as to permit the diversion now when severe drought argues for impounding all possible water. While the Bull Creek watershed is roughly 40 per cent of the total, Spence thinks that it will contribute substantially more than that percentage to the total of Lake J. B. Thomas' supply.

Col. Tice Tells Graduates Truce Won't Cut Pilot Need

Col. Clay Tice Jr. told 104 graduating members of Webb's Jet Pilot Class 53-E Saturday that the Korean truce will have little effect upon the need for Air Force fighter pilots.

The colonel, who commands the advanced fighter pilot training group at Nellis AFB, Nev., said that so long as the Soviet Union continues its present political policies, the United States will urgently need the best and the strongest Air Force in the world.

"Your graduation today is only the beginning of your training," Col. Tice told the class. "The really hard work for you lies ahead, because a fighter pilot never ceases learning if he is to be better than a potential enemy. If he is to survive in this most competitive of all fields, he must be the very best."

The 104 members of the graduating class included three British Royal Air Force officers, one Belgian Air Force officer, eleven French Air Force cadets, one United States student officer, and the remainder were American aviation cadets who were commissioned as second lieutenants during the ceremonies.

Col. Fred M. Dean, Webb commander, introduced the guest speaker. It was the new base commander's first time to preside at the graduation of cadets.

After Col. Dean presented the diplomas to the 31 members of the class who had completed their flying and were awarded pilot's wings, he introduced five members of the class who had been selected by Flying Training Air Force as distinguished graduates of pilot training.

The five top cadets, who may have Regular Air Force commissions after a year's active duty, were Hubert R. Martin, Henry L. Maxwell, David L. Napoli, Leon R. Shaw Jr., and Howard R. Vasina.

Class 53-E was the 10th pilot class to complete their training at Webb.

Atom Spy, Now Out Of Prison, Weds For The First Time

CAMBRIDGE, England, Aug. 1 (AP)—Dr. Alan Nunn May, 42-year-old British scientist who was jailed in 1946 as an atom spy, was married today to Viennese-born Dr. Hildegarde Pauline Ruth Broda.

Nunn May was released last December after serving nearly seven years of a 10-year term. His bride, who is 42, is deputy medical officer for schools in the Cambridge area.

The marriage was Nunn May's first. It was his bride's second. The ceremony took place at the Shire Hall and the couple were accompanied by two men, a woman and a small boy.

The balding, bespectacled scientist pleaded guilty at Old Bailey Central Criminal Court in May, 1946, to the specific charge of passing atomic secrets to "an unknown person"—actually to a Russian contact.

Nunn May, the West's first atomic spy, was grabbed after Canadian police, acting on the advice of a young Russian code clerk in the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, broke up a Communist espionage group.

Six Sheriff's Poses To Ride In Parade

Six Sheriff's Poses—122 horsemen—will ride in the annual Big Spring Rodeo parade Wednesday afternoon, the Chamber of Commerce announced Saturday.

Poses from Midland, Gaines, Borden, Dawson, Martin counties and Pecos will be represented. Graves Pony Farm of Dawson County also will have an entry.

The horsemen will be guests of the rodeo association at a barbecue following the parade.

Friendship Counts Now In Assignment To Duty In Army

Men now joining the Army together have a good chance of staying with one another during their entire service period, according to Sfc. A. M. Burt, local recruiter.

A new Army regulation will allow soldiers forming friendships in basic training to continue to serve together, he said. The rule states that men trained to the same duties may be formed into four-man teams, with friendship as a consideration.

This means, Burt pointed out, that if men enlist here together and go to the same basic training center, they have a good chance of remaining together.

New Hoover Commission Will Take Up Reorganization Task

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Twelve men of diversified interests, led by former President Herbert Hoover, will soon take up the tremendous task of reorganizing the government's executive branch.

With new blood and expanded power, the group will start where the old Hoover commission left off for four years ago.

Hoover, who will be 79 on Aug. 10, has agreed to accept the chairmanship of the new bipartisan commission against his better judgment, as he put it.

Lawrence Richey, private secretary to the former President who served as his special assistant on the last commission, has taken over the same assignment for the new one. He is now looking for office space and staff and clerical help.

The new group, Richey says, has put off organizing until President Eisenhower returns from his summer vacation, expected to be sometime in September. As the first one did, the new commission will organize at the White House, elect a chairman and vice chairman and get a sendoff from the President.

The first commission headed by Hoover under President Truman in 1947-48 came up with approximately 340 recommendations. Hoover and his associates say about half of these became law. Estimates in money savings range upward from two billion a year. All agree, however, that this is almost impossible to determine accurately.

The new body should get off to a smoother start than the old one since five of its members also were members of the first—Hoover, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), Rep. Brown (R-Ohio), Arthur S. Fleming, defense mobilization director, and Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Great Britain.

A sixth new commissioner, Sidney A. Mitchell, New York banker, was executive director of the old Commission.

The new faces on the second commission will be those of former Postmaster General, James A. Farley, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), Solomon C. Hollister, dean of the school of civil engineering at Cornell University; Robert G. Storey, president of the American Bar Association, and Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif.).

The first major act of the present Congress under Eisenhower was to extend the presidential reorganizing power for two years until April 1, 1955. Under this reorganizing plan designed to increase operating efficiency. They become effective automatically unless within 60 days either House or Senate rejects them by a constitutional majority—49 in the Senate or 218 in the House.

Separate legislation setting up the new commission was signed July 10. The President, House Speaker Martin, and Vice President Nixon each named four commissioners.

The new agency will have far greater scope than the old one. Whereas the first one was limited to reshuffling and mostly intra-departmental changes, with some regulatory agencies exempt, the new one will be authorized to recommend:

1. Abolition of unnecessary government functions—such as Hoover warns will be tough because there are a "lot of sore toes around Washington" that can't bear being stepped on.
2. Reorganization of regulatory agencies.
3. Ways to eliminate inefficiencies from inter-departmental relations.

In examining government policy and functions, it has been suggested for example that the commission could recommend doing away with government corporations found to be competing unfairly with private industry, or abolishing functions that might best be exercised by states and municipalities.

Hoover, who has accepted important chores under six presidents, expressed pleasure at the results of the commission under the Truman administration, but said he believes he can work better with the Republican administration.

"It is pledged to cleaning up government and I think it will do it," he said. He expects the new study to take more than a year.

Acting under the old and new power to reorganize, President Eisenhower has a perfect batting average this session. He has recommended 10 plans and all have become law—four of them this weekend.

Truman's record was good until he got into the patronage field. Congress rejected three of his plans last year which would have taken away Senate power to pass on appointments of postmasters, U. S. marshals and customs collectors.

Plans so far adopted under Eisenhower created a new Cabinet Department of Health, Education and Welfare; reorganized the De-

No Sudden Slashes Foreseen In Military Buying Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Defense Department's budget chief said today he foresees no sudden slashes in military buying like that which swept industry at the end of World War II.

Asst. Secretary Wilfred J. McNeil told reporters that the effect of the Korean truce will be felt first in ammunition buying. But a drop-back in ammunition manufacture, which uses large quantities of steel, will not come for at least two months and then will not be the sharp cutoff type which came after V-J Day.

McNeil was cautious in discussing a previous estimate that the truce can reduce military spending for this fiscal year by about one billion dollars. The revised military budget for fiscal year 1954, laid down before the Korean armistice, is $48,200,000,000.

The Defense Department and armed forces, said the comptroller, first will have a job to get down to $43,200,000,000. If the truce holds firm "we may be able to shave that" by some figure up to a billion dollars, McNeil thought. But he emphasized: "We'll have to play it safe until we can be sure of the truce."

The spending rate for this month is running slightly over $3,900,000,000, McNeil said.

The department may be able to advise some ammunition producers within the next 10 days or two weeks what to expect on future procurements, McNeil said. But he emphasized that production at the present rate probably will continue for at least two months.

McNeil, saying these were not firm plans but "my best guess," gave this summary of the outlook on military procurement:

Aircraft—"I see nothing that is going to change the combat plane schedules for the Air Force or naval aviation during the year. I know of no change in (procurement) of support aircraft, except for the Kaiser contract which already has been announced." (The Air Force ended a contract for production of C119 and C123 transport aircraft which Kaiser held.) Naval ship construction—there is nothing in sight that will affect ships now under construction or in the process of conversion. However, it is possible that some overtime work schedules may be reduced.

Army—The Army "generally is getting into a pretty healthy position" in deliveries of equipment. There are no changes in Army procurement schedules under way which have not already been announced. (Among these latter are reductions in tank and truck production as deliveries catch up with previous orders.)

Suspended Sentence Is Assessed Woman

Frieda Landers of Fort Worth was assessed a three-year suspended sentence in 118th District Court Friday afternoon after she pleaded guilty to charges of forgery.

Miss Landers and another girl were arrested several months ago here by sheriff's officials. They passed several checks, Miss Landers said, before apprehension. Her parents were in the courtroom with her Friday.

Gifts Are Due Mayor On First Trailways Bus

Mayor G. W. Dabney this morning will receive gifts from the mayors of San Diego, Calif., and Memphis, Tenn., to mark inauguration of a new Continental Trailways through-bus service between the two cities.

Mayor Dabney will receive the gifts when the first bus arrives at 8:33 a.m. Mayor John Butler of San Diego is sending a package of San Diego County avocados. Mayor Frank Tobey of Memphis has dispatched a hardwood sandwich board manufactured in his city.

The new bus service is a result of Continental's acquisition of American Trailways throughout the area, according to A. F. Baldus, vice president in charge of traffic for Continental Trailways.

Two new schedules have been added to the system in Big Spring. A new westbound bus will arrive at 11:08 p.m. daily, and the new eastbound bus is due here at 12:10 p.m., according to the H. S. Parrott, local manager.

Continental also has employed three new drivers here, Parrott reported. They are J. W. Neece, Carl Knapp and L. J. Sparks. In all, Continental Trailways now has 20 employees living here, including station personnel, drivers and service workers. In the group are nine drivers.

Parrott estimates annual payroll at $100,000.

The bus company re-fuels all vehicles during their stops at Big Spring.

There are 10 schedules daily through Big Spring—five from the east and five from the west. In addition to the two new schedules, buses arrive from the east at 5:10 a.m., 9:45 a.m., 2:59 p.m., and 6:59 p.m. Eastbound buses arrive at 3:15 a.m., 5:23 p.m., 8:33 a.m. and 12:08 a.m.

Commanders Confab

Colonel Fred M. Dean (center), Webb AFB commander, discusses command level problems concerning training of pilots for the United States Air Force with Colonel Jerry W. Davidson (left), commander of the 8708th Pilot Training Wing (Reserve) from Hensley Field at Fort Worth and Colonel Leonard "Stormy" Raines, Pilot Training Group commander of the same reserve wing. Col. Davidson and Col. Raines were at Webb Saturday when 20 more of the 8708th's reserve pilots and commanders arrived at Big Spring installation to learn the flight characteristics of the T-33 jet trainer. More than 60 members of the 8708th Wing have been at Webb the past two weekends. (Official USAF Photo).

Webb Completes New Role As Reserve Unit Ends Training

Webb Air Force Base Saturday completed the newest role of its youthful existence with finishing touches on jet plane indoctrination and cross-training of the 8708th Pilot Training Wing (Reserve) from Hensley Field at Fort Worth.

More than sixty reserve pilots and commanders from the reserve wing, completing two weeks active duty training, learned the flight characteristics of the T-33 jet trainer and the functions of the various sections of the 3560th Pilot Training Wing, Webb AFB, from the Wing Commander's office down to squadron operations offices.

The reserve pilots, nearly all of whom has seen active duty during World War II, came to learn at first hand the Air Force as it is today versus the Air Force as it had been during their active service.

Commanded by Col. Jerry W. Davidson, who is an engineering test pilot for the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Fort Worth, the reserve group contains men from all walks of life—many of them employed in civil aviation.

For example these are: Col. Leonard H. (Stormy) Raines, associated with Pioneer Air Lines in Dallas; Lt. Col. J. W. Christner, Dallas, a pilot with 17,000 hours flying time who is captain of a DC6 four-motored airline run for American Airlines from Dallas to Boston; and Maj. Glenn Schneider, who is chief design engineer on the new monster-bomber, the eight jet inter-continental B60, built by Convair in Fort Worth.

These pilots and 340 other pilots, non-rated officers and airmen were called to the two-weeks tour of active duty from Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma. The 8708th Pilot Training Wing is attached directly to the 14th Air Force, and for their annual summer training they were

AP Science Reporter
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1 (UP)—Biological warfare is almost certain in a third world war, says a doctor of public health who specializes in disaster preparedness.

He indicates that the United States is pretty well heeled in this respect, and also has concentrated on "satisfactory defense measures to be used against these same agents."

But he draws no picture of people falling dead by the thousands. It might show up in failure of fields to develop crops, dwindling yields from trees, vines and other vegetation, or in the sickness or sterility of livestock.

This view of the possibilities is presented by Dr. John Beeston, acting director of disaster preparedness at the University of California at Los Angeles. It is published in the Journal of California Medicine.

Dr. Beeston brings up synthetic hormones as one of three major agents which might be used.

Hormones are widely used beneficially in medicine and agriculture. But used destructively, certain hormones can injure or kill plants. They can cause freakish development in animals as well as in vegetation.

Plant killer hormones work slowly. Sometimes it takes two to four weeks for their effects to show. People in an area under a BW—as biological warfare is called for short—attack carried out by "sneak" planes releasing clouds of hormone-laden aerosols, might not realize what had happened until their vegetation started to die.

Aerosols, like the extremely fine mists coming from push-button spray guns would be good spreaders of biological war materials, Dr. Beeston reported.

Some things more deadly than hormones could be spread to good advantage by aerosols. Bubonic plague and influenza, for example. However, the United States has ways of sampling air quickly, the health expert reported, and can do the same with water supplies.

Probably the best immediate defense against an aerosol attack is to stay inside the home and keep the doors and windows shut, Dr. Beeston said.

If a BW user wanted to do a quick job of wholesale human killing, he probably would use things like botulinus toxin, a substance produced by a microbe which can grow without oxygen. Dr. Beeston points to calculations by others that one ounce of botulinus toxin is enough to kill 180 million people, more than the population of the United States.

Of course the stuff would have to be spread in such a way that none of it would be lost and all of it would go down the throats of victims. This is a practical impossibility. But in the water supplies of cities it might deal wholesale death.

There is a good defense against botulinus even there, Dr. Beeston adds. Ten minutes in boiling water will destroy the toxin.

Any user of BW probably would use a good many different kinds of material all at once, in order to confuse health workers, the expert said.

'Short Changers' Are Assessed Fines

Two men described by authorities as short change artists were fined $14 each in Justice Court this week-end. They pleaded guilty to charges of cheating a local cashier out of $5.

Arrest was made Friday afternoon by sheriff's officials. The two men had just emerged from Safeway Store where they had got the cashier confused enough to give them $5 extra change on a purchase.

Deputies said the two men had tried the same trick at another grocery store earlier with no success. The men said they were oil field workers.

Collision Damages Two Automobiles

Two cars were damaged in a side-swipe collision on the Scenic Mountain cut-off road Friday night about 11 p. m. No injuries were reported.

Oscar J. Watts was driving one of the cars, and Delbert Oecke was driver of the other. The cars were headed in opposite directions at time of collision.

Webb pilots flew 40 of the reserve pilots on July 25, another 20 pilots Saturday, and in addition thoroughly briefed the 8708th's staff officers Saturday in the operation and organization of a basic single-engine flying school.

All the reservists were flown from Hensley to Webb and back in air Force C46 Commando transports.

Many U. S. Cities End Red Light Districts Since World War II

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP)—The old-time Tenderloins in American cities are getting to be as rare as the red lights which once were their sinful symbols. A few communities remain with wide open, rip-roaring vice districts in which anything goes. Many others are sub-standard. But the American Social Hygiene Association, warring on prostitution as a public health menace for four decades, finds that practitioners of the oldest profession are under tight control in at least 75 per cent of our cities. The association tackles venereal disease at various levels. It promotes sex education for all age groups and fights the widely held theory that segregation and control of prostitution by police authorities is the most effective way of handling the problem. It insists elimination is the only answer. Heading the association's division on legal and social protection is a veteran vice fighter who for more than 35 years has specialized in tilting with prostitution. Because his work is often cloak-and-dagger and he usually works with aliases fairly close to his real name, he insists on anonymity. "Since the war ended," he says, "any number of cities have cleaned up. Seattle, Tacoma, Topeka, Sault Ste. Marie, Charleston, Norfolk, Pensacola—inside the city limits, Key West, Houston, San Antonio... I could go on with quite a list." Currently, all states have some legislation prohibiting or regulating prostitution. "With prostitution forbidden by law," he says, "you will find it flourishing only where it is permitted. If a police department allows it to exist, it may mean that the police department is corrupt. But it may also mean that the permission has trickled down from higher places. Help sometimes comes from unexpected quarters: in one Southern city it was a bereaved politician. "This fellow for years wasn't a bit interested in closing the houses," he commented. "He thought, as so many others do, that a wide-open town was good for business. Then one day his wife and daughter were killed in an automobile accident. His minister told him the tragedy was his payment for what he had permitted to happen in his city. "He got religion—and in a couple of days, there wasn't a house operating in the area." Frequently a messy vice situation explodes into a civic reform movement. San Antonio, the association director said, cleaned house in two weeks after public indignation elected a reform administration in the spring of 1951. Since the red light district has been eliminated, the ASHA reports, San Antonio's crime rate has dropped sharply—murder, sex crimes, assaults and drunkenness. Even traffic fatalities dropped in one year from 53 to 44. At the moment the association is concentrating on assisting a law enforcement committee of profes-

Italian Express Train Offers You Real Luxury

By STAN SWINTON
ROME (AP)—It starts with the tickets. No waiting in line at the railroad station, no air. You phone for a reservation. Within minutes a messenger delivers the train ticket in person. At the station an attendant is standing beside the green-and-silver train. He politely takes your bags and checks them through to your destination, as on a plane. The conductor speaks Italian, English, French and German. He guides you to your air-conditioned compartment. The decor is green and grey. There are two divans and four lounging chairs. Picturesque Italian prints above the divans conceal overhead hand-baggage storage space. Sweep back the long wall drapes and wide windows give you a panoramic view. A public address system announces in three languages that train hostesses will be along shortly to check your coats. The electric engines almost soundlessly go into action. Within minutes you are at normal cruising speed—100 miles an hour. There is far less feeling of motion than on conventional trains. Each seven coaches form a single 324-ton unit, bridged by rubber connections and carried on 40 wheels to minimize shock. Strolling through them, you discover four passenger coaches, holding 160 passengers a restaurant and bar decorated with paintings; a kitchen coach with white-capped chefs working over gleaming copper pots. Best of all, both end coaches—the trains are bi-directional—are huge observation cars with wide, curved Plexiglas windows like those in a plane cockpit. The engineer's cab is elevated and out of sight. Thus, just as in youthful dreams, you sit at the cab window as tunnels race up and engulf you in darkness. Signal lights flicker red and then green, switches click and gapping youngsters stare anxiously from beside the tracks. You're the driver—or so it seems. The train, owned by the Italian State Railways, operates between Milan, Rome and Naples. It was commissioned in 1948 as the government railway system's bid to prevent the airlines from winning away the luxury tourist trade. Some 2,000 drawings later, architect Giulio Minoletti and the workmen of the Breda workshops at Sesto S. Giovanni completed their work.

Construction Up In City In July

Construction picked up again in Big Spring during July, records of F. W. Bettle, city building inspector, show. Permits for building amounting to $210,150 were issued during the month, said the building inspector. That boosted total for the year to $1,332,885. There were 72 permits issued in July, pushing the permit total up to 548, Bettle reported. July building amounted to more than five times the amount started in June.

Mother Of Local Woman Dies Friday

Mrs. Julia Didlake, mother of Mrs. John Currie, died at her home at 3803 Ridgeway in Natchez, Miss., on Friday night. Services are to be held there Sunday with burial in the Natchez cemetery. Mrs. Didlake had been ill for a long while. Last week her condition became serious and Mrs. Currie went to her bedside. John Currie left Friday morning for Natchez.

Citizens' Water Use Is High During July

Big Springers used 155,073,000 gallons of water during the month of July, city water department reported Saturday. That was the second highest quantity ever consumed here in one month. The record amount was the 160,388,000 gallons used in June. Prior to this year the most water consumed in one month was 130,003,000 gallons—in June, 1951.

Construction Lags

AUSTIN, Aug. 1 (AP)—Construction dipped in Texas this week, the Texas Contractor reported today. The total was $18,165,797 compared with $24,452,147 the week before, the trade journal said. For the year, construction contracts total $716,914,173.

Casualty List Out

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 149 Korean War casualties. The new report (No. 867) listed 14 killed, 69 wounded, 63 missing and three injured.

More Drivers Are Cited For Their Motoring Manners

The last group of drivers cited for courtesy during Motor Manners Month was reported Saturday by the Citizens Traffic Commission. They are E. V. Spence, L. T. Klump, Josephine Roberts, Farrell D. Hamill, Charles E. Long, Mrs. Lucian A. Jones, Walter Woodson, Hugh Merworth, Mrs. R. P. Kountz, J. D. Blair, L. A. Webb, R. P. Baird, Walter E. Collins, Lorene Williams, Mrs. D. M. Ray, Stanley Griffin, Mrs. J. R. Farmer, Robert Johnson, Janice Dunagan, and James T. Johnson. All but Blair and Mrs. Ray are from Big Spring. Blair resides at Robert Lee and Mrs. Ray is from Knott, the CTC said. The 516 carat diamond in the British royal scepter is the largest of nine stones cut from the Cullinan diamond found in 1905.

Thrown Hand Grenade Kills Man In GI-Civilian Fight

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 1 (AP)—A thrown hand grenade killed one man and injured between 18 and 30 persons early today in a fight between Camp Breckenridge soldiers and civilians outside an all-night restaurant. Sheriff Frank McDonald of Vanderburgh County said Jesse Triggs, 38, Evansville, was killed instantly. Cpl. James B. Madison, 23-year-old Korea War veteran from Oakland, Calif., was held without charge pending an inquest called immediately. Sheriff McDonald and Inspector Bennett Kellams of Evansville city police said eyewitnesses gave this account of the fight leading up to the grenade explosion: Cpl. Madison and a civilian argued over a 50-cent sandwich in Ted Cole's restaurant, just south of Evansville near the Kentucky state line. The civilian knocked the sandwich out of Madison's hand and the two went outside to fight. Another civilian joined Madison's opponent and Madison was joined by another Camp Breckenridge soldier. About 30 soldiers and civilians poured out of the restaurant and joined in a general fight. Madison and another soldier, Lawrence Terry, 22, retreated to an automobile. They were joined in the car by three other persons and somebody threw the grenade from the back seat. Frank Cough, 39, of Evansville, employee of the restaurant, saw the grenade land and kicked it away from the main body of the crowd before it exploded.

Howard County Has Sixth Polio Case

Howard County's sixth case of polio for 1953 was reported Saturday and victim of the disease is going back to work Monday. John Wiley of Big Spring suffered a mild attack of the disease about a week ago. There was no paralysis and after a few days of rest he is ready to return to work, doctors said. None of the county's six polio victims this year have been paralyzed.

What Car Belongs Here?

Not many people would hesitate in naming the car they feel belongs in that inviting driveway. It's the entrance to a fine American home, with a tradition of gracious living behind its handsome pillars—and the car which so obviously belongs before it is a Cadillac. But here is a fact which it is important to remember—a Cadillac likewise belongs in the driveways of millions of other American homes which are far more modest than the beautiful structure shown in the illustration above. For it is practical, as well as thrilling, to own a Cadillac. Listen, if you doubt it, to these amazing and significant facts: —there are twenty-two models of other makes of American motor cars which actually cost more than the lowest-priced Cadillac! —a Cadillac will actually run farther on a gallon of gasoline than numerous cars which are built and sold primarily for economy! —a Cadillac is so dependable and long-lived that it is just about as economical to service and maintain as any car you could buy. —and, finally—according to authentic used car evaluations—a Cadillac may be expected to return a greater percentage of its cost at the time of resale than any other car built in America. In view of these significant facts, don't you think you should consider a Cadillac for your driveway? Whether you live in a mansion or a house designed for easy living—a Cadillac belongs. You can buy a Cadillac for prestige and glamour—or you can buy it for economy and common sense. And whichever you buy it for, you'll get all four. Better come in and see us today. We'll gladly give you the facts and a demonstration.

Car Makers See No Slump In Production

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT, Aug. 1 (AP)—What lies ahead of the nation's automotive industry during the remainder of 1953 is being widely discussed in trade quarters right now.

There is a sharp difference of opinion between the manufacturers and most retailers as to how many vehicles the domestic market can absorb this year.

You can hear it said a sharp slump is about due because of the terrific production pace the industry has maintained during the last few years. Industry analysts who hold this view point to a history of repeated peaks and valleys in production almost since the beginning of the assembly line era.

But this view—in an era of much higher production and far greater use of the motor vehicle than the industry ever has known—isn't shared by the car makers and many industry analysts.

It is true that truck production has fallen off slightly. But the nation's auto plants built approximately 3½ million passenger cars by June this year. Bringing a serious slash in the nation's overall buying power the assembly lines will roll out close to three million passenger cars by the end of the year.

If that volume is achieved and the expected 1,150,000 trucks are built, 1953 will go into the record books as the second largest production year in the industry's history.

The record year was 1950 when more than eight million cars and trucks were produced.

The manufacturers believe the 1953 market can handle six million cars. But many retailers, harassed by an accumulation of trade-in cars, say factory output exceeds demand. To this factory sales chiefs reply that many retailers haven't yet begun to display the sales effort needed in a truly competitive market.

Privately, some of the manufacturers' spokesmen go even further. They say many dealers, entering the business since World War II, never have had experience with a competitive market and have made no effort to train their salesmen for all-out selling campaigns.

Whatever uncertainty is expressed by manufacturing spokesmen seems to come from the so-called "independents," or smaller companies. The Big Three of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler account for close to 90 per cent of the industry's overall production.

Big Three executives say sales are being maintained at high levels and see no serious difficulties immediately ahead.

Riding The GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

There's a whole lot more to the wild cow milking contest, that will be seen at the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion Rodeo starting Wednesday evening, than just some entertainment for the spectators.

It's also one of the most dangerous features of the show because those cows are fighters right out to the tips of their long horns. These cows are Brahmas and crossbred Brahmas and most of them have young calves. While the cows are out of the pen and in the chutes or arena the calves will be bawling for them and the cows will also be bawling for the calves and fighting to get back to their little ones.

They won't be in a very good humor to have cowboys messing around with them. The situation will add materially to the excitement and activity. Somebody may get hurt.

A cow will be turned into the arena to a team of cowboys. It will be the job of one of them to drop his loop over her horns and then wrap the other end of the rope around his saddle horn. His partner is to then run up and "mug" the cow or hold her head while the ropers dismount and milk her into a designated spot to deliver the milk to the contest judge at a designated spot. While this cowboy is making the milk run it will be the job of the other cowboy to take the

Cowboys' Dairy Herd

These are a part of the fighting Brahma-crossbred wild cows that contesting cowboys will undertake to hold and milk as one of the exciting features of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion Rodeo, the first performance of which will be held Wednesday evening. Their horns are rugged and sharp and their dispositions are wicked. All this adds up to thrills and fun for the spectators, and maybe some ripped Levis and hides for the cowboys.

grand old horse and one of the very first cutting horses to show a big audience just what he could do.

Over the 13-county West Texas section designated by the Soil Conservation Service as the "Big Spring Area" conditions generally show an improvement over those of a month or six weeks ago, according to W. S. Goodlett, area conservationist.

Fair showers, even some good rains, have been spotted over the area, Goodlett says, and these have made it possible for some farmers to plant sorghums and guar, and where enough moisture has been received these crops look pretty good as compared with the rather hopeless appearance of things a few weeks ago. More rain is needed almost everywhere, however, Goodlett says.

He reports some farmers north of here are planning on planting German Millet which requires only from 60 to 90 days to mature, and which even if it doesn't mature will help the soil that much and probably hold it fairly well against the severe blowing these farmers expect next spring. The millet can be planted up until the last of August.

The implement dealers at Lamesa, he says, have promised the farmers that they will see to it that enough drills are available for drilling in cover crops. The plan will probably be for the dealers to charge a small rental fee for the maintenance of these implements. He says also that almost everywhere over the area the dealers are helping the farmers get together or all the machinery they need on a loan or rental plan.

There is plenty of guar seed

97 Communicable Disease Cases Are Found In Past Week

Ninety-seven cases of nine communicable diseases were diagnosed by local physicians during the past week, the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit said Saturday.

Diarrhea continued to be the most prevalent infection with 32 cases. Second was gastroenteritis with 16 cases. There were 14 strept throat infections, the report said.

Other diseases and the number of cases of each were tonsillitis, nine; gonorrhea, four; bronchitis, seven; measles, two; polio, one; and pneumonia, one case.

House Group To Probe Texas City Disaster

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—A three-member House judiciary subcommittee said today it will go to Texas City to investigate a ship explosion of six years ago in which 360 or more were killed.

Rep. Jonas (R-Ill.), subcommittee chairman, said the investigation will determine the government's liability in the April, 1947, explosion.

Fire from government-owned ammonium nitrate fertilizer spread to a ship loaded with sulphur and ammonium nitrate and the ship's cargo exploded.

About 3,000 persons were injured. Property damage approached 100 million dollars. Other members of the subcommittee are Reps. Hyde (R-Md.) and Lane (D-Mass.).

In Milk Business

BOSTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Massachusetts was in the milk business today. Gov. Christian Herter, using emergency powers to protect the public health and welfare against a threatened strike by 1,200 milk wagon drivers and processing plant workers, ordered state seizure of 12 Boston milk companies.

Death and Taxes? Well, there's something else you can be certain about—something more everlastingly important and satisfying.

You can be certain about eternity.

If you lack that sense of satisfaction about your soul and your spiritual life, come hear straightforward Gospel messages that will tell you clearly what to do. If your Christian experience is not as fruitful as it should be, come and be renewed and find again that indescribable peace.

Come just as you are . . . and pray that God's will will be done in these services.

Water Problem Becomes Major Texas Interest

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Water conservation promises to succeed the tidelands controversy as a major Texas interest in Washington.

The problem of more water for Texas for crops, livestock, industry and recreation has been brought sharply into focus by the drought and likely will remain a lively subject.

Texas probably can get into a dispute, without much effort, over how much federal help can be had for building dams without federal control of such projects.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson gained the Senate floor several times and requested an "Appraisal of the Texas water problem" by the Reclamation Bureau.

The report, saying about 85 per cent of the flow of Texas streams and rivers empties unused into the Gulf, was prepared at Johnson's request.

Early in 1949, Johnson wrote J. A. Krug, then secretary of the interior:

"The State of Texas has not received the attention or the funds in federal water programs that would represent its appropriate share on either a per capita, per acre, or per problem river basis.

"Moreover, such water developments as have been authorized have been, for the most part, single isolated projects, not always adequately related to the whole needs of the river or the region."

Out of that came the Texas water appraisal, a 91-page document, which says that the federal government has invested 247 million dollars in reservoir projects in Texas and that other projects now proposed would require federal funds of 286 million dollars.

During debate on the Interior Department appropriation bill, Johnson spoke of this report and commended Sen. Gordon (R-Ore) for helping to get more funds for the Reclamation Bureau's planning activities.

The Oregonian said:

"I can see no reason in the world why a general investigation of the importance of that which has been underway but is not yet finished, in the State of Texas, should not be hurried through to completion. That is the reason these funds are in the bill."

Cordon was born in Texas, at Cuervo April 24, 1890. Johnson said he was glad the Oregon senator had not abandoned Texas in spirit.

Spahn Hurls One-Hit Shutout For Braves

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 1 (AP)—An infield bouncer beaten out by Richie Ashburn in the fourth inning cost Warren Spahn a perfect game today as the veteran Milwaukee Braves' southpaw tossed his second shutout of the week and the 31st of his career to beat Philadelphia 5-0.

Spahn faced only 28 men in spinning the fifth shutout of the week by a Braves' pitcher, Ashburn's single, a high bouncer to shortstop Jim Pfenning, was handled cleanly by the flashy Phil's outfielder beat the throw to first. The lean left-hander struck out eight.

The shutout was Spahn's fourth of the season and the 31st of his career. Only other active National League pitchers with as many blankings are Ken Raffensberger of Cincinnati and Dutch Leonard of Chicago. Leonard recorded most of his 31 shutouts in the American League.

Osorio Continues To Lead Batters

Elias Osorio, of Carlsbad, held on to the Longhorn League batting crown as the 1953 race passed the three-quarters mark.

With 302 trips to the plate, Osorio hit 117 times to maintain his batting average at .388.

In second place is Buddy Grimes of Roswell with a .385 average. Others among the "big five" with the stick are Jackson of Carlsbad, .382; De la Torre of Midland, .380; and Gonzalez of Roswell, .379.

Jiminez of Odessa led hurlers past the three-quarters point with an earned-run average of 2.47. Next were Rodriguez of Odessa and Schaening of Midland with ERA's of 3.00, although Schaening has pitched only two games.

In the individual fielding department, Joe Nedson of Big Spring ranks second among catchers with a .969 fielding average. First is Rudy Briner of San Angelo with a .990 record.

George Murphy of Big Spring is fifth among infielders with a .983 mark. Angela's Galina leads that department with a .990 percentage.

League pitchers with as many blankings are Ken Raffensberger of Cincinnati and Dutch Leonard of Chicago. Leonard recorded most of his 31 shutouts in the American League.

The Braves presented a revised batting order with Andy Parks in the cleanup slot in an attempt to snap a hitting slump.

The veteran right fielder came through with three runs batted in the first three innings. Spahn contributed another himself with a fourth-inning double and Eddie Mathews, still swinging third, boomed his 33rd home run of the year in the eighth.

PART-TIME PRO

Hog Farmer Leads In Tam O'Shanter

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN CHICAGO, Aug. 1 (AP)—Pete Cooper, a part-time golf tournament pro and Florida hog farmer, acted as if he had to pay off the old homestead mortgage today as he forged a 68 to capture the 54-hole lead in the $25,000 All-American golf tournament.

The 38-year-old instructor at the Century Country Club in White Plains, N. Y., father of four children, parlayed his 34-34-68 with 69, 70 for a total of 207, nine under Tam O'Shanter's battered par.

This handiwork, featuring 45-on each of the long par 5 holes and standard figures on all the rest, grabbed a one-stroke lead over Tam's home pro and 36 hole leader, Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill.

The Babe, playing her first competitive golf since a cancer operation April 17, was all smiles after blasting her final 34, two under men's par and four under feminine figures. However she was far off the pace in the Women's Open.

Cooper, who plays only six or seven tournaments a year and counts the Seminole pro-amateur meet in Florida in March as his only triumph of the season, beat a severe electric storm in while Mangrum and other favorites were caught in the windy gusts.

Mangrum, second leading money winner of the season, was underfunded, however, and closed with a 35 for a 71 and 208.

Grouped at 209 were Walter Burkemo, the current PGA champion from Franklin, Mich., with a third round 69; Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif., with 71, and Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., also with 71.

In all, 39 pros were under the 215 par with only 40 prize spots on the list for tomorrow's finishers. The awards range from $3,420 for winning to $65 for 40th place.

TCU Is Hard Up For Football Ends

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor
Abe Martin, new head football coach at Texas Christian, played end in his college days. That's fortunate, because Abe may have to play some at TCU this fall if he's going to get enough wingmen on the field to carry out the schedule.

The spring training roster. The varsity squad this year will number only 52 boys against 68 or so last season.

This is, of course, an exaggeration but it is doubtful if a fellow moving in as coach ever ran into quite so much trouble as Martin.

The backfield looks especially good. Malvin Fowler, the powerful five-year man, looms as the man-under on the new T formation.

When Dutch Meyer retired from coaching and Martin was stepped up from assistant, TCU had one letterman and returning—Johnny Crouch. But Abe wasn't worried too much in spring training, a 64, 200-pound squadman named Weldon Dacus, squadmen Wayne Buchanan and Don Ford, transfer Guy Thompson and Irishman graduate Bryan Engstrom of Dumas looked very good.

Ray McKown, sensation of the 1951 champions, is Fowler's "understudy" and will open the Kansas game. Both of them are big and versatile.

Ronald Clinkscale, one of the fastest men in the country, will be at left halfback. He will be a junior and should go great. He's backed by a fine sophomore in Van Williams, son of Blackie Williams, captain of the TCU team of 1927.

There are four lettered tackles—seniors Marshall Harris, Hal Lambert and R. C. Harris and Junior Bill Sikes. And look for Ray Hill, a 200-pound Marine veteran who is coming up at right tackle.

Bartzen Beats Gardner Mulloy

BALTIMORE, Aug. 1 (AP)—Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, the nation's 11th ranking tennis player from San Angelo, Tex., upset No. 1 man Gardner Mulloy 6-2, 2-6, 6-4 to gain the finals of the Middle Atlantic Grass Courts tournament today.

Mulloy, 39, obviously was not up to par and was unable to handle the 25-year-old Bartzen's sizzling backhand shots and driving serves.

Five 'All-Stars' To Enter Tech

LUBBOCK, Aug. 1—At least five of the high school all-stars playing in the Texas Coaching School game at Houston next week will enroll at Texas Tech in September.

Amarillo Meet Finals Slated

AMARILLO, Aug. 1 (AP)—Wesley Ellis and Dwight Wier, San Antonio, will meet Gene McBride, Wichita Falls, and Billy Erfurth tomorrow in the finals of the annual Amarillo Invitational Partnership golf tournament.

Mulloy missed his first serve. Bartzen clobbered the easier second serve and Mulloy just touched it with his racket, the ball going into the net, giving Bartzen the victory.

Pirtle, Thomas Meet In Pike's Peak Finals

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 1 (AP)—Skip Pirtle, Colorado Springs, and Bill Thomas, Wichita Falls, Tex., today battled their way into the finals of the Pike's Peak Invitational golf tournament.

Trabert tamed up with Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas, who did not play singles here, to beat Atsushi Miyagi and Ksei Kamo of Japan, 6-3, 6-3, in one of the semifinal doubles matches.

Swimmer Ready

DOVER, England, Aug. 1 (AP)—Calmer seas and more settled weather today heightened chances that Florence Chadwick, San Diego, Calif., would start on her attempted round-trip swim of the English Channel early Sunday.

Mulloy, without taking a break after losing to Bartzen, joined Ham Richardson in doubles and defeated Mervyn Rose and Clive Wilderspin of Australia, first-seeded foreigners, 6-3, 18-20, 6-3.

Cowboys Club Broncs By 11-1

The Alpine Cowboys, a semi-pro team that takes delight in knocking over professionals, injected a sour note into the Big Spring Broncs' song Friday night by clubbing out an 11-1 decision over the now defunct Longhorn League entry.

A fellow by the name of Pete Swain, who was stationed in centerfield during brief intervals when the Cowboys weren't batting, contributed most of an 18-bit attack against three pitchers. Swain clubbed two home runs and tapped two singles. His RBI production was four for the evening's work.

Tommy Bowers, a righthanded fireballer whose slants seldom came across the dish without a wrinkle of some sort, put the Broncs down with three hits and issned eight during the first five innings. Linker and Russell, his successors, were little more generous, although the Broncs did manage to make a run in the sixth on two hits and Hayden White's tall fly lococenter.

Swain's home runs came in the fifth and sixth innings, the first with nobody on base, and the second with one on.

The action on the diamond came after the Broncs had crowned Shirley Thomas as Miss Baseball of 1953. Named as Miss Baseball of the queen were Jan Burns and Cecile Niblett.

Feller Notches 5-2 Victory Over Athletics

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1 (AP)—Veteran Bob Feller survived a ninth inning scare today to lead the Cleveland Indians past the Philadelphia Athletics 5-2.

After limiting the A's to six hits through eight innings, Feller gave up a double to Loren Babe and a home run pitch to Gus Zernial in the ninth for the A's only markers.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics today defeated the Cleveland Indians 5-2. Feller pitched a complete game, allowing only six hits and one run in nine innings.

Batters' Race In TL Tightens

DALLAS, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Texas League batting race tightened up the past week with Joe Frazier of Oklahoma City dropping off his blazing pace and Earl Brucker of Beaumont moving into second place, 19 points behind.

Frazier, batting .355 on 138 hits, fell off 13 points. Brucker is clouting .336.

Bobby Balena of San Antonio led in runs with 83. Harry Elliott of Houston, sent to the St. Louis Cards this week, was out front in hits with 143.

Frazier leads in doubles with 44. Santurino Escalera of Tulsa in triples with 15. Harry Hestler of Shreveport in homers with 33 and Russ Burns of Oklahoma City in runs batted in with 87.

Wayne McLeand of Dallas with 14-5 had the lead among the pitchers. Kinold Duren of San Antonio is the strikeout leader with 127. Tulsa and Dallas are tied for the lead in club batting with .264.

Pirates Lose Sixth In Row

CHICAGO, Aug. 1 (AP)—The ill-fated Pittsburgh Pirates won their second straight game from the Chicago Cubs today 10-3 before 8,017 fans in Wrigley Field. The Pirates knocked out their old teammate, Howie Pollet, with 5 runs in the first two innings.

Chicago's pitcher, Phil Minton, was hit in the head by a pitch from the Pirates' pitcher, Bill Skowron, in the first inning.

Frank Considers Bids For Broncs

Several offers are being considered for the purchase of contracts of Big Spring baseball players, Bill Frank, general manager for the Big Spring Broncs club, announced Saturday.

No transactions have been completed, however, he said. Curtis Borrett, whom Frank had on option from Abilene, has rejoined the Blue Sox.

Frank and R. L. Tollett, co-owners of the Big Spring club, Thursday announced that their franchise would be returned to the league. That leaves six teams active in the loop and a revised schedule to eliminate "off nights" for some of the teams was announced Saturday for a six-day period.

Maureen Paces Americans To Wightman Lead

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP)—Maureen Connolly, 18, princess of the world's tennis courts, paced the United States to a 3-2 lead over Britain today in the 23th Wightman Cup competition.

The 7-match international series will be completed tomorrow. A crowd of 1,200 today watched the first half of the inevitable rout under a warm sun.

Miss Connolly, murdering the ball with a flat forehand, won the first singles match in just 22 minutes from Angela Mortimer, 8, thoroughly bewildered lass from Torquay 6-1, 6-1. Then she teamed with Louis Brough, Beverly Hills, Calif., to take a doubles decision from Miss Mortimer and Ann Shilcock 6-2, 6-3.

The third American point came a bit harder. Doris Hart, the slender stylist from Coral Gables, Fla., had to rally twice to turn back Helen Fletcher 6-4, 7-5.

Tomorrow Miss Connolly gets a look at Miss Fletcher's canny southpaw attack while Miss Hart shifts over to play Miss Mortimer. A third singles match sends Shirley Fry, Akron, Ohio, against Mrs. Jean Quigley Rinkel while the closing doubles pits Misses Hart and Fry against the Rinkel-Fletcher combination.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1 (AP)—Johnny Bernardo, an ambitious Philadelphia welterweight, made the most of a lifetime opportunity before the television cameras tonight and stopped fellow townsmen Joe Brewer in 2:52 of the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round fight.

Bernardo and Brewer took over the main event feature tonight when interim featherweight champion Percy Bassett, scheduled to meet Philadelphia's Bob Land Abrams, came up with an attack of virus which Pennsylvania Athletic Commission Dr. George Simpkins said was "bordering on pneumonia."

ELGIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla., Aug. 1 (AP)—L. Morris Williams, Austin, Tex., won the Air Force golf tournament today with an 18-hole 76 for a final mark of 290. In second place was Lt. Dow Finsterwald, Athens, Ohio, with a 294, although he came in one stroke ahead of Williams today with a 75 on the par 72 course.

Quarterback Club Expects Big Year

The Big Spring Quarterback Club, looking forward to one of the most active football seasons in the history of the local school system, will organize for a new year of work Thursday night.

The club's "board of strategy," or directors, already have made plans for the first official meeting of the season.

At the Thursday night session members will hear a report from the nominating committee and will select a new "board of strategy" to serve during the coming year.

Co-Captains Jack Cook and Joe Williamson said the Quarterback Club hopes to enlist hundreds of members during the next few weeks. They are stressing the fact that the minimum fee for a membership is $1 per year.

than the minimum fee, but they are interested in numbers as well as funds.

"We are proud of the activities of the club during the past year, but feel that we can improve on things this year," said Williamson.

"You know football season was already in progress last fall before the club was organized, and we are confident that we can do a better job of boosting athletics by getting organized earlier this year," Cook remarked.

Cook and Williamson said the club particularly wants all prospective members to become familiar with Article II of the organization's by-laws. This club has been formed and exists for a purpose of promoting and installing interest in athletics throughout the Big Spring area, not only among students of the school system, but among the citizens of the Big Spring area.

Serving on the "board of strategy" during the past year were Lee Porter, Omar Jones, Frank Martin, Jack Robinson, W. P. Hughes, Robert Currie, Hunka Stewart, Ted Hull, T. L. South, Glenn Brown, Jack Smith and Mack Rodgers. Clyde Angel has served as secretary-treasurer.

In reference to activities of the past year, Cook and Williamson cited the annual financial statement of the club.

The statement shows receipts totaling $840.02. At present there is a balance of $40.98 which will be used to print membership cards for this year.

Among the disbursements made by the Quarterback Club during the past year were the following: $204.38 for motion picture film to record action at Steer games; $13.50 for membership cards; $94.55 for label buttons; $7.50 for mimeographing; $100 donation to school for use of bus; $60 for a banner; $141.50 for a banquet; $15 for printing a special program; $33.05 for gifts to coaches $117.84 for trophies; and $5 for a special escort for a motorcade.

KILGORE, Aug. 1 (AP)—"Junior college team of the year" is how Wayne Douglas, sports director of KOCA, is labeling the Kilgore Rangers.

The analyst, speaking the sentiment of Kilgore fans, thinks the football Rangers will be in the Little Rose Bowl in December.

This in spite of only three lettermen being back from last season, when Kilgore College didn't do very well.

"It'll be all new—both team and coach," says Douglas, but the personnel of the squad won't be known by the public until mid-August.

Jasper Flankin is the coach. He comes from Tyler College where he tutored the line.

Warren To Enter Texas University

Charley Warren, star basketball player at Howard County Junior College last season, has indicated that he will accept a scholarship at the University of Texas.

Frank Hardesty, local Texas alumnus and ardent supporter of Longhorn teams, reported Saturday that he had received a telegram from Warren advising that the HCC star would go to Texas.

Warren is now in South America on an evangelistic sports tour sponsored by Wayland College.

Queen Gets Bouquet And ...

Shirley Thomas, named Miss Baseball of 1953 at Steer Park Friday night gets a bouquet and an enthusiastic smack on the cheek from Jess Jacinto, Big Spring Broncs shortstop. Jan Burns and Cecile Niblett were named attendants to the queen in the judging, which preceded a ball game between the Broncs and the Alpine Cowboys.

BRECHEEN WINS

Lenhardt's Homer Defeats Yankees

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP)—Don Lenhardt, a part time outfielder, hit a 3-run homer off Bob Kuzaiva in the eighth inning today for a 3-2 St. Louis Browns' victory over the New York Yankees.

It was only the third time in 16 starts that the last place Browns had beaten the world champions. Harry Brecheen, the crafty southpaw veteran, scattered 10 Yank hits in his first complete game since April 16; the Browns' second start of the season.

Until the eighth Kuzaiva had the Browns under control, allowing only six singles in the first seven innings. Then came the explosion that brought Al Reynolds to the rescue, too late to help.

Billy Hunter, the Browns' rookie shortstop, opened the eighth by beating out a bunt toward first. Roy Sievers drove Mickey Mantle into deep center to take his long out. Vic Wright followed with a single to right center, sending Hunter to third.

Lenhardt then came through with his seventh home run of the year into the lower left field stands giving St. Louis the lead. Manager Casey Stengel let Kuzaiva pitch to Les Moss but after Moss singled, he called for Reynolds.

Oilier-Yankee Series Delayed

The Oilers, champions of the Little American League, and Yankees, Little National champs, will clash Monday, Aug. 10 in the first game of a playoff for the city championship, Pancho Nall, league president announced Saturday.

First game of the two-of-three series had been scheduled for tomorrow. It was postponed, Nall said, because some players are to be out of town.

In games Thursday night, the Eagles defeated the Flickers in a doubleheader. Score of the first game was 7-5 and the second tilt ended 10-1. Joe Perry pitched all of the first game and four frames of the second for the Eagles.

Los Angeles Will Win Tennis Crown

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 1 (AP)—Two Los Angeles youths will battle it out tomorrow for the National Junior (18-and-under) tennis championship.

They are third ranked Mike Franks and eighth seeded John Leach.

AMARILLO LAD Rex Baxter Wins Junior Golf Title

TULSA, Aug. 1 (AP)—Rex Baxter, a bold young golfer from Amarillo, won the U. S. Golf Ass'n. annual Junior Amateur championship today from George Warren III, Hampton, S. C., 16-year-old.

Baxter's winning margin in the 18-hole final match was 2 and 1. The slender, unsmiling Texas youth closed his triumph by sinking a 20-foot putt for a birdie three 340-yard 17th hole after Warren's do-or-die stroke from 30 feet rimmed the cup and stopped four inches beyond.

Tourists Warned To Dress Properly

MILAN, Aug. 1 (AP)—Scantily-clad tourists were warned today by Ildefonso Cardinal Schuster, archbishop of Milan, to stay away from his world-renowned, many-spired cathedral.

The Cardinal wrote for tourists not to enter the cathedral in shirt sleeves, shorts or scanty dresses. "The foreigners stroll about the holy place as though it were a museum or an art exhibit," the Cardinal asserted. "Yet these same tourists who outrage the religious feelings of Italians, would not dare do the same in their own temples."

Vote Trial
Vowed To Be Held Monday

AUSTIN, Aug. 1 (AP)—Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said today one of his assistants and Rangers are at Rio Grande City as "observers" in a Starr county election suit.

Special Judge Royce Oxford said he would start testimony Monday whether the defense attorney is there or not.

The regular judge, Woodrow Laughlin of Alice, failed to appear earlier this week when the case was set for trial. Oxford was elected special judge.

Trial was prevented again Thursday when the courtroom was found locked. The defense attorney, Rep. A. J. Vale, could not be located.

William King, an assistant attorney general, Ranger Capt. A. Y. Allee and Ranger Joe Bridge were on hand as efforts were made to bring the case to trial.

Shepperd said he felt Laughlin's action was "highly irregular." Laughlin's removal has been sought by 12 lawyers who practice in his court. A Supreme Court hearing begins Aug. 17 into the ouster charges.

Referring to the Rio Grande City case, Shepperd said: "A state court is involved and I feel the attorney general's department has a legitimate interest in a case of this sort. My assistant and the Rangers are there as observers for the state, 'just in case' you might say."

Wrong Side Of Street

Fern Crabtree Weds Justin Allen Holmes

Fern Crabtree and Justin Allen Holmes repeated vows Saturday night in a semi-formal ceremony at the First Christian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Crabtree, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Holmes.

The Rev. Clyde E. Nichols, pastor of the church, read the double-blessing ceremony at 8 p. m. Yellow flowers and greenery decorated a white archway. Two baskets of yellow gladioli were placed in front of candelabra on each side.

Betty Earley was organist and Joyce Howard was vocalist. Music included "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace over nylon tulle. The long-sleeved fitted bodice buttoned down the front from a high neckline. The bride's veil fell from a tiara set with pearls, and she carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli.

Lynn Mitchell was maid of honor and Sue Love was bridesmaid. The bridegroom's father served as best man. Bobo Crabtree, brother of the bride, and Henry Holmes, uncle of the bridegroom, ushered.

Candlelighters were Miss Love and Jimmie F. Wilcox, who also was a groomsman.

A reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of yellow gladioli, flanked by crystal candelabra. A miniature bride and groom topped the three-tiered wedding cake.

Theresa Crabtree served punch and Beulah Crabtree served the cake. Nan McGabey was in charge.

of the register. Mrs. O. C. Duke was an out-of-town guest.

For traveling the bride wore a beige linen suit and brown accessories. The couple will live in Big Spring until September, when the bridegroom will enter Texas Tech at Lubbock as a junior.

He was graduated from Big Spring High School and Arlington State College. The bride was graduated from Big Spring High School where she was chosen sweetheart for the FFA and for Distributive Education. She is a past worthy advisor of the Order of Rainbow Girls, attended Howard County Junior College and is employed by Swartz's.

The guests were entertained at a barbecue in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Patterson, brother and sister-in-law of L. L. Patterson. Another brother, C. A. Patterson, Mrs. Patterson and John, of Whitesboro, visited the L. S. Pattersons.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Third Man Theme

Dear Beverly:

I am fifteen years old and have been dating two sixteen-year-old boys for three months now. The problem is that it's not my idea to date both of them, but they seem to come in pairs like Siamese twins.

They are good friends and exist as one. During the three months I've never dated Marshall without Kenneth. We've gone to dances, parties, movies, shopping, swimming, picnics, and horseback riding—but always as the three musketeers, for Kenneth doesn't care to bring a girl. Is there any solution?

FRUSTRATED

I've heard of boys aged thirteen and fourteen acting like this, but usually by the time they are in high school they have passed through this stage and started to grow up—at least as far as girls are concerned.

Most boys would sooner share their toothbrush than their girl.

Your's is a ticklish situation, for if you make Kenneth angry, you'll most likely lose both boys!

Analyze Kenneth's chief interests and the next time the boys come calling have a girl you think Ken might like, present. Bring out all the things they have in common in your introduction. If you can just get Ken interested, I'm quite sure you'll find he is not so loyal to Marshall when a girl is involved.

If this doesn't work, make a play for Kenneth yourself and hope Marshall has at least an ounce of jealousy, if not common sense. I'm surprised his mother hasn't told him that two's company and three's a crowd.

Direct most of your conversation to Kenneth and try to give Marshall the idea you idolize his pal. If you succeed in doing this he may become less eager to bring him next time. Personally I'd be tempted to present them with a copy of the "Third Man Theme."

My most heartfelt advice is that you forget both boys and date one who is more grownup and no longer girl-scare.

(Got a problem? Write Beverly in care of The Herald, including a three-cent stamp. Actual names are never published in this column, but are changed for your protection.)

For Washing Nylon

Rinse nylon blouses and shirts well but do not squeeze or wring them, advises a consumers institute. Hang them right from the wash onto wooden hangers (wire hangers may cause rust or leave a ridge in the dried shirt.) Smooth out collars, seams and cuffs.

Maxine Rosson is visiting L. and Mrs. Andy Arcand in Houston. She will be gone about three weeks.

MRS. GIFFORD ROBERT EISLER

Barbara Ann Rowland, Gifford Eisler Wed

Barbara Ann Rowland and S-Sgt. Gifford Robert Eisler exchanged wedding vows in a semi-formal candlelight ceremony Friday at the S. 4th and Benton Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rowland, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Eisler of Somerset, Pa. T. H. Tarbet, minister of the church, read the double-ring ceremony at 8 p. m.

Baskets of white gladioli and asters decorated the church. Fern and palm leaves formed an archway. David Elrod sang "The Lord's Prayer," and O. W. Fletcher sang "With These Hands." Mr. Elrod, Mr. Fletcher, Mary Fletcher, Lela Fletcher and Evelyn Elrod sang "I Love You Truly" and "Wedding March."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of champagne Chantilly lace over white nylon taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a rolled collar at the V-neckline and sleeves coming to points over the hands. Her veil was fingertip length.

She carried a white orchid on a white Bible. For something old she carried a handkerchief which had belonged to her great-grandmother, the late Mrs. Alec Green. A strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, was something new and the Bible was something borrowed. She wore a blue garter and a penny in each shoe.

Darlene Montgomery, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of orchid lace styled with a fitted bodice, full skirt and short sleeves and carried a colonial bouquet of pastel flowers.

Delbert Rowland, brother of the bride, served as the best man. Ushers were Jack Alderton and Cecil Rasberry. Totale Ingram and Kathleen Cudwell were candlelighters.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations. Pink gladioli were also used in decorations.

The three-tiered cake was decorated with pink roses. Miss Ingram served cake and Mary Ann Moore served punch. Madge Anderson presided at the register. Mrs. Harry Montgomery, Mrs. Olen Cates and Mrs. Fannie Lee were also in the houseparty.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's parents; Mr. and Mrs. Cates, Jimmy and Bobby, of Odessa; Mrs. D. C. Stroaps, Mrs. F. G. Lee of Quemado and Mr. and Mrs. Noble DeVaney of Midland.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Black River, N. M.; Somerset, Pa.; Washington, D. C.; and Norfolk, Va. The bride wore a light blue suit with navy accessories.

The couple will live in Big Spring. The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and plans to attend Howard County Junior College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Somerset High School and is stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

'Body Beautiful' Hints Given By Lili St. Cyr

HOLLYWOOD — Every once in a while Hollywood searches to find a newcomer for an important part. R. I. O. tested many for the bewitching siren in "Sinbad the Sailor," and after a long search the contract was given to Lili St. Cyr — the girl who has done her bubble bath act in many night clubs including Hollywood's fashionable Ciro's.

I wondered how it must feel to jump from being a strip tease into a contract at a major studio. When I called on Miss St. Cyr in her dressing room she was wearing a simple grey linen sheath, beautifully cut. Her sun-tanned skin was a flattering contrast to her blond hair and blue eyes.

"Have you always had a dream to be in pictures?" I asked.

"No, I wanted to be a ballerina," she answered. "When I was six years old my grandmother took me to the Ballet Russe, but we couldn't afford the training that was necessary."

"How did you get started in burlesque?"

"I'd never been to a burlesque show before I was acting in one," Lili explained. "My family was not in show business and they didn't like my doing this type of work. But I've always been independent."

"Everyone has a right to his opinion," she continued, "but a lot of people are prejudiced who would not be if they could see my act. I don't like vulgarity—I think it is ugly. On the burlesque circuit they think I'm high-bat."

Lili told me a little about herself. She is one of five children, came to California when she was two. When her parents were displained. "But I also keep myself underweight."

"What is your top beauty secret?" I asked.

"I'm a great believer in lanolin oil," she explained. "I find my skin has a more shining look when it is oiled, and before I go to bed I rub a bit of lanolin oil over all of my body."

"I wash my hair every three days with an oil shampoo, and I soak lots of oil into it the night before I wash it," Lili added.

When I asked if she were a natural blond Lili answered: "No, and I've been bleaching for years. But I find when I use plenty of oil, my hair never gets brittle or dry."

"Does oil also help your nails?" I asked, noticing how long and graceful they were.

"Yes, I remove my polish every other night, and I soak my fingernails in a good brand of nail oil."

"I take good care of myself," Lili continued. "I don't feel well unless I get enough rest. I think sleep is a big beauty secret."

"Do you dress for men or women?" I wanted to know.

"Women," she answered quickly. "Men are not interested in clothes. I'm very extravagant about clothes, and I hope someday I make the 'ten best dressed' list."

As a final question I asked Lili: "What has helped you most to become a success?"

"Intuition," was her surprising reply. "I get into trouble every time I don't follow it. And when I do, it leads to something good."

A LESSON FROM LILI

Many in Hollywood say that Lili St. Cyr's body is the most beautiful in show business. And Lili gives exercise a lot of credit for her shape. You'll be on the road to a better figure, too, when you plan your own exercise routine with the help of Lili's "Exercises of the Stars." ## Marilyn Bennett Is Crowned Texas Queen

Marilyn Bennett was crowned Texas queen in the American Queen Contest at the Texas Pharmaceutical Association meeting in Dallas last week by Dinny Robb, president of King's Candy Company, which sponsored the contest. Her coronation climaxed a round of parties, including convention banquets and dances and an ice show. She and the other contestants also attended special events for the women at the convention—a luncheon, tea, book review, fashion show and special breakfast. She was selected by a vote of the delegates and crowned before a crowd of 1,500 attending a convention luncheon at the Adolphus Hotel. She received a pin shaped like a crown. Miss Bennett was selected West Texas queen at the West Texas Pharmaceutical Convention at Lubbock in May and competed for the state title with queens from east, south and north Texas. Judging was on the basis of charm and personality typical of the average American woman in business. Miss Bennett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Bennett.

MRS. WILLIAM ALLEN WHEELER

William Wheeler Weds Wylie Girl In Dallas

Marilynn McNatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Reid McNatt of Wylie, became the bride of William Allen Wheeler of Stanton Friday evening in Dallas.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wheeler of Stanton. The Rev. E. E. Kifer, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Wylie, read the ceremony at 8 p. m. in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bradford Jr.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly-type lace. The bodice was fashioned with long sleeves coming to petal points over the wrists and a deep neckline, which was bordered with pearl-centered flowers of lace and filled in with a yoke of tulle.

The gathered skirt of lace over satin and tulle was worn over an old-fashioned petticoat, a family heirloom. A crescent of matching lace forming a calot held a fingertip veil of illusion.

The bride carried cascade bouquet of orchids and stephanotis with streamers of lace.

Her only attendant was her sister, Tahlie Ann McNatt. The bridegroom's father served as best man.

Truett Smith of Wylie was soloist and Freddie Christopher of Wylie was pianist. Harold Harris of Pittsburg and Jake Moore of Fort Worth were candlelighters.

Members of the houseparty at the reception included Jane White of Sparkman, Ark.; Geanne Glover of Pine Bluff, Ark.; Mrs. Jimmy R. Davis of Dallas, Ann Landrum of Fort Worth and Sue Lovett of Denton.

The bride was graduated from Sunset High School in Dallas and attended North Texas State College in Denton where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. The bridegroom attended Howard County Junior College and was graduated from North Texas State College where he was a member of the Trojans. His family formerly resided in Big Spring.

After a wedding trip to West Texas and New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Odessa, where the bridegroom will await orders to attend the Marine Corps Officers Training School in Quantico, Va.

A Bible Thought For Today —

We do not owe much to great orators and rhetoricians. Paul turned the world upside down by the sheer splendor of his faith and daring. "I... came not in excellency of speech or of wisdom." — I Cor. 2:1.

You Owe It To Yourself And Loved Ones To Participate In Survey

The best things in life are free, according to the old saw, and one of the best health precautions ostensibly is free.

While X-ray equipment obviously can't be set up and operated for nothing, you do have the opportunity of having an X-ray picture made of your chest—this week without charge.

This is made possible through the cooperation of the Texas Health Department, the Texas Tuberculosis Association and the Howard County Tuberculosis Association. The least that any adult can do is to take a few minutes out for the routine.

Our local association has been doing a fine work in testing school children to ascertain possible lung conditions. Positive reactors are referred to their physician for diagnosis and treatment. The mass X-ray program, such as we have been fortunate enough to have for several seasons, takes up where the school program leaves off.

Grown-ups can have TB, too. In fact, they might be more likely to let it slip up on them.

The odds are happily overwhelming that you won't have any indications of TB or other pulmonary difficulties, but if you do, you would be far better off knowing it.

Every year there is a certain small percentage who get back unsatisfactory reports from the X-rays. Most of them didn't dream there was the slightest weakness.

Tuberculosis has lost much of its awesomeness but principally because we now discover more and more cases in their incipency. Nipped in the bud, TB can be handled with assurance and effectiveness.

You owe it to yourself not to let the possibility of TB go undetected. You owe it to those near and dear not to run the risk of exposing them to disease or to loss of support which would inevitably result from tragically delayed discovery. And you owe it to your community to participate in all things which might contribute to public health.

Do yourself a favor this week—spare a minute to stop in at Zales and have your chest X-ray taken.

Even The Grim Business Of War Is Lighter At Armistice Time

As in all wars, the armistice in Korea produced some lighter moments to make the men forget even momentarily the grim aspects of the conflict.

For instance, the story of how Lt. Col. J. T. Hill's Marine detachment got the last laugh on the Communists. As Hill's men were demolishing the bunkers on Outpost Esther preparatory to withdrawing the prescribed distance, a group of Chinese stood on a hill a hundred yards away and gave the sweating Marines the horselaugh for having to toil. But at noon Hill's 3d battalion of the 5th Marines got their revenge. The colonel sent his men a truckload of steaming hot lunches, and the Leathernecks sat down in full view of the Chinese and laughed at them between bites.

At another point in the line, Marines finally got a look at the Red Dragon Lady, who had beguiled them with song and propaganda for the loudspeakers for months. After the cease-fire, the Red Dragon on Lady, for whom the Marines had a different and probably unprintable name, came out in the open between the lines and put on a show for the Americans. Field glasses were at a premium as the men took turns giving the Red Dragon Lady the once over. She appeared to be about 21, was dressed in shapeless soldier clothing, and she failed to make a feminine impression on the usually impressionable Leathernecks. "That hag is ugly," commented Pfc. Tommy Williams, which seemed to sum it up for his buddies.

One officer said the Reds came near enough to Allied lines, after the truce became effective, to "bum a smoke." But there was no fraternization. At T-Hour, the Communists troops came out of their bunkers and stood on the ridge lines, while both sides watched Red stretcher bearers pick up their wounded in no man's land. What would have been suicidal 60 seconds before became perfectly safe.

Washington Calling — Marquis Childs Measure Admitting Aliens Is Tarnished By A Few Gimmicks

WASHINGTON — A story from Germany the other day told how five courageous and ingenious Czechs escaped from behind the Iron Curtain by building a fake tank that looked so much like the real thing it fooled the border police. Secretly they had accumulated sheet metal over a long period in order to put together the machine in which they were to risk their lives on a chance for freedom.

Theoretically it is refugees such as these who would, after careful investigation, be admitted to the United States under the Administration measure providing for admission of some 200,000 aliens above the McCarran-Walter quotas. Both on Capitol Hill and in the White House the generalship behind the fight for the bill has been tough and well-coordinated.

But the victory is tarnished by the gimmicks with which the bill is loaded, making it doubtful how many refugees will ever gain admittance. The applicant must prove that he is admissible and part of this proof must be a documented history covering the previous two years of his life. In other words the five Czechs, if they had hoped to come to America, should have stopped by the Communist police station to get their identity papers and other documents necessary to satisfy American immigration and consular officials. That, of course, would have been the end of their journey, with liquidation or a slave labor camp as the epitaph.

The provision must be waived only on the recommendation of the Secretaries of State and Defense when admission of an alien without a documented history is determined to be in the national interest. Obviously that would not happen very often.

Another gimmick is likely to prove almost as effective in keeping out refugees who have fled from tyranny. The applicant for admission must be assured of readmission to the country of his nationality. This is naturally out of the question, since he could go back to Czechoslovakia or Poland only to be liquidated. Without such assurance he must have a certificate guaranteeing his readmission to the country in which he obtained a visa.

This last is nearly as impossible a requirement as the first. West Germany is carrying a tremendous refugee burden. The Bonn Government would not be likely to issue such certificates which would mean that the alien would come back if he got as far as Ellis Island and then ran up against the tight security barrier.

The bill provides that both immigration and consular officials on the ground in Europe must be "entirely satisfied on affirmative evidence adduced by the applicant." Furthermore, extraordinary power is given to officials of both services. An official has the right personally to exclude any individual whom he "knows or has reason to believe" is inadmissible. In view of the fear and timidity which at present rules the bureaucracy, little imagination is required to see how strictly that provision would be interpreted.

The determined applicant who gets by all those hurdles in Europe must then undergo a re-check when he reaches the shores of freedom. The written report made by the investigating agency in Europe will be combed over by the immigration service in this country.

While this does not mean that all refugees will be excluded the measure is highly deceptive. The gimmicks were written in by members of the Senate Judiciary Committee staff put in office by Senator Pat McCarran (Dem.) of Nevada when he ruled the Committee with an iron hand.

Those who worked long and hard for the bill felt the restrictions were the price of its passage on the theory that even a small part of a loaf—far less than half—was better than none. One of these was Senator Arthur V. Watkins (Rep.) of Utah who stood up to the McCarran barrage as long as he could. In last-minute debate in a night session he collapsed under the strain of weeks of puffing and hauling for a measure that the Administration considered vital to foreign policy.

It was never intended to be more than a token—a sign to the oppressed of the world that the lady holding up the torch in New York harbor still means liberty. President Eisenhower's original request was for 240,000 divided roughly between Iron Curtain refugees and immigrants from Italy, Greece and Holland, all countries where the population pressure is almost intolerable. Measured against America's total population of 155,000,000 and the annual birth rate of 3,800,000 this is small.

One objective when the proposal was first put forward in April was to overcome the Communist propaganda in Italy that the McCarran-Walter Act discriminated against Italians. A crucial Italian election was approaching with America's friend Premier DeGasperri in trouble. The DeGasperri government has now fallen and the outlook is dark. It was too late and much too little.

Truce In Korea Starts Economic Change Despite Lack Of Fanfare, Enthusiasm

The truce at Panmunjon went off like a dud pinwheel at a Fourth of July celebration. No enthusiasm, no excitement. No satisfaction. And some disappointment. It was the end of a war but not the beginning of peace.

Mothers, fathers, relatives and sweethearts of men at the front had prayed for it. Soldiers and statesmen had worked for it. Business men and speculators had discounted it, so Wall Street took it with hardly a fluctuation.

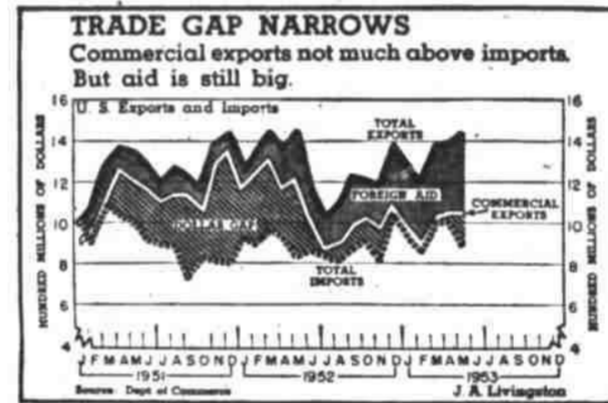

There was relief that the shooting was over. But no elation. Because of the ever-existing threat of a diplomatic breakdown and of trickery, the vigil must continue unceasingly.

Yet the truce initiates a period of change—economic change. The mere fact that men won't be killed and wounded constitutes a small, but important, addition to the labor force. Inevitably, the number of draft calls—racial and machinery from the west, Russia promised a great deal, but Russia has been a better promiser than doer. Russia is bent on its own industrialization and, therefore, is short the very things Mao Tse-Tung needs, capital goods.

Trading between the two armed camps improves, the effect commodity prices would be downward. Supplies which are bottled up in China, say, or Russia, would be available to the western world. And, in reverse, goods which now cannot be obtained by Russia or China, would move with greater ease across the Iron Curtain.

The greater availability of supplies would naturally increase competitive pressure to sell. Perhaps that explains why tin and rubber prices fell on the news of the truce. Their scarcity value diminished. Likewise, grain markets suffered a jolt. Peace would open up food markets everywhere. Effective demand would rise, but so would supplies.

For this country, the economic impact of the war's end is subtle and indirect. The defense program, which had been leveling off, will now probably decline. Senate House conferees cut President Eisenhower's request for defense funds by $1,400,000,000 to $3,471,000,000. Aside from that, the urgency in the Department of Defense to get production well diminished. The tendency will be to delay orders. That will avoid building inventories and provide time for perfecting designs on weapons.

Similarly, there will be somewhat less concern in Congress and throughout the country about sending military and economic aid to allies. This is but natural. When you're being hurt, when you're at war, you're much more solicitous about the welfare of those who are on your side. But when you're not being hurt.

This is bound to bounce back on U.S. business, particularly on export trade. In the first five months of this year, U.S. exports amounted to $6.7 billion. Foreign aid accounted for $1.6 billion, or almost 25 per cent. Commercial exports (excluding aid) amounted to $5.1 billion, as against imports of $4.7 billion. The commercial trade gap, therefore, was only $400,000,000, but only because U.S. commercial exports were off 18 per cent from the year before. Obviously, the dollar shortage is having its effect.

Foreign countries are buying less. And any significant drop in foreign aid—without a corresponding increase in U.S. imports—will force a decline in foreign sales. Trade not aid means less and less unless the U.S. buys more and more goods from abroad.

The truce, assuming it isn't broken, will provide one sure lift to business. It will permit President Eisenhower to carry out his promise to cut taxes.

Starting Jan. 1, personal income taxes will revert to rates prevailing in 1950. That means a 10 per cent cut. The excess profits tax on corporations will expire December 31. And the corporation regular rate will go down during the year from 52 per cent to 47 per cent. The law calls for the reduction on April 1. But President Eisenhower has recommended keeping present levels. Some excise taxes also are due to be reduced April 1, but again Eisenhower has suggested extension. Presumably, the corporation and excise taxes would be changed if the Treasury and Congress get around to a general tax overhaul scheduled for early next year.

Lower taxation next year would be especially important if a business decline were to get under way. It would pump purchasing power into the economy, when, perhaps, automobile, appliance, new housing, and machinery sales were falling off. It would be an automatic anti-deflation measure.

Sometimes There's A Month That Is Full Of Frustrations

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

July turned out to be sort of a disappointment to me, and I am glad he's gone, the rascal.

There are days like that, so they say, and there are also months like that. In the first place, I started off July by predicting rainfall. I assured all and sundry that satisfactory moisture would come by the 4th, then the 15th, then the 25th, and so on. Nothing happened.

This is not only bad for the country, but is a telling blow to my pride as a prognosticator. That last is a big word meaning that fools rush in where an angel would not even timidly thrust out a toe.

In the second place, the month brought a mid-summer water bill. I noticed a piece in the paper which said there had been a large number of complaints about the high billings. I felt that this was the understatement of the season. I didn't complain when I got my bill. I just came unbinged, that's all. Blew my top, flipped my lid, went into screaming convulsions, threw myself on the floor and writhed in agony, screaming of man's inhumanity to man, called upon the gods to witness this gross inequity. As some of the body rigidity began to pass, I recalled how I had bragged about the greenness of my grass and the depth of my turf. This cooled me off, but not much.

I love the gas people in the summer time and hate the water people. In winter time, it's vice versa.

Then again, this July brought Motor Manners Month, and again I suffered vast disappointment and even frustration.

People's names have been appearing in the paper as those cited for uncommon courtesies in driving. Quite an accolade, I felt, and motored forth each fine morning, happy in the anticipation that somebody would see my doing something just real nice—nice as a driver and submit my name. A few days passed, and no name. Oh, well, I thought, people are just not noticing yet, but they will. I tried driving down different streets, courteous driving just oozing out of me and even dripping down the side of my car. No name. I even backed away a full half-block, to let through another car that was three blocks farther from the intersection than I was. Went too far, I guess, because the driver didn't notice me. No name. I stuck out my hand so many times the past month that it has become frozen in the horizontal out-thrust position. This causes me to list when I walk, and gives the impression that I am trying to take off on one wing, but this was done in the cause of Motor Manners. But still no name, alas.

During the month an auto dealer brings me a new car, inviting me to drive it for the weekend. This, on the face of it, sounded just swell. This big sleek machine, humming so quietly but surging with such power! This beautiful color, just matching my last year's suit! This inviting upholstery, so smooth, so comfortable! These efficient control gimmicks, to make you think you're handling a space ship! This great feeling of luxury, this out-of-the-world feeling, to be in one of America's great mechanical marvels, performing just at your fingertip touch! Ah, this richness!

Then we got down to talking prices. The month ends, and I am still driving my old clunker. It still has not rained. I have not paid my water bill, and I am not even recognized as a courteous driver. Goodbye, July, you—you—your tatter-tattered tatter-tatter-tatter. —BOB WHIPKEY

Secret Of Peace For Troubled Mind Readily Available To All

The purpose of this column is to help my readers who may need it to find the secret of peace for the troubled mind.

There is such a secret, and it is readily available to those who seek it. It is neither complicated nor difficult. All you need do is apply the simple principles of your religion. A great fact about religion which, unfortunately, all too many people miss—which I have forgotten about all too often myself—is that the principles, teachings and techniques we learn in our churches will work when they are believed in, practiced and applied. And they work so effectively that people who stumble on this easy-to-find secret are amazed by the results.

I met a young man on the street the other day. He was infectiously buoyant; indeed he was bubbling over with a great discovery. "There's something I want to tell you," he said. "I got hold of those 'How Cards' you give out. I read your ten rules on 'How to Relax.' They didn't mean much to me at the time, but I kept them around because I figured I really needed to know how to relax and maybe sometime they would come in handy. Well, one day I looked at them again and thought I'd try them to see if they worked. I went at the rules for relaxing just as you suggested. What happened was a truly wonderful experience. Now I'm beginning to conquer my mental unrest, getting peace of mind and I'm learning how to relax."

Then he shook his head wonderingly and continued, "I wouldn't have believed this could happen to me. It's all so astonishing that I've become a regular church goer. I figure that if the practice of faith techniques can give me peace of mind, it can help me in other ways and help me to help people, too."

Then he added, "There's one thing I've found in the Bible—I've started to read it regularly since I begin to take your advice—and I think the whole secret of mental peace is wrapped up in one sentence. It's this: 'Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.'

My young friend was quite right. This short Scripture passage (Isaiah 26:3) contains three practical suggestions for bringing peace to the troubled mind:

First, it tells you that all profound, continuous and lasting mental peace comes from God. As Augustine said, "Our souls are restless until at length they rest in Thee."

Second, it urges you to fix your mind on God and keep it there. Don't keep your thoughts stayed on your troubles and fears. Whenever they come to mind just practice thinking of God. The more you do that, the less effect your troubles and worries will have on you. The thought of God is the most powerful thought in this world and no lesser thought can long stand before it.

And, last, but far from least, we are told that such practice will bring peace because it stimulates trust in God. And trust in God is important. Even your government says so. Put your hand in your pocket or purse and take out a penny, a nickel, a dime, a quarter. On every one of them you will find the words that guided the founders of our country: "In God We Trust." The formula is simple. Just do the best you can and trust God. Leaving things to God after doing your full share is a most effective peace-producing mechanism.

The well known psychiatrist, Dr. Sigmund Blanton, told me that in his work of helping people he teaches his patients to have faith and to practice trust. When they learn this, he says, he can overcome their fears and inner conflicts. Dr. Blanton says this Bible verse is an extremely valuable aid to mental health and peace of mind. "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee."

Coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress; working together is success.

Some Talk On Surface Gravity

From a reader with the initials of J. C. E. comes a question about the surface gravity of the planet Mercury as compared with that of Jupiter.

Jupiter is vastly larger than Mercury, but the difference in surface gravity is less than we might expect.

Let us suppose that a certain boy weighs 100 pounds on the earth. If he went to Mercury, his weight (on a spring balance) would be only 20 pounds. If he went to Jupiter, he would weigh 250 pounds.

That is quite a difference, but it is less than we might expect from the comparative sizes of the two planets. Jupiter has a diameter at the equator of 143,763 miles. Mercury's diameter is only 5,150 miles.

Jupiter's diameter is about 28 times as great as that of Mercury, but the boy on Jupiter would weigh only 12 and a half times as much as on Mercury.

In figuring surface gravity, scientists must take several factors into account.

One factor is density.

Let us note that the material of Mercury is more dense, on the average, than that of Jupiter. This has been proved by comparing the mass and volume of each planet. If we could bring an average cubic yard of material from each of those planets to the earth, the cubic yard from Mercury would weigh twice as much as that from Jupiter.

Astronomers know the density of all the main planets except Pluto. Among the eight with known density, Saturn is made of the lightest material. An average cubic yard from Saturn would weigh less than one eighth as much as an average cubic yard from our earth.

If our 100-pound boy could go to Saturn, he would be on a planet many times as large as the earth. He would weigh little more on Saturn, however, than on earth. Scientists estimate that his weight would amount to 106 pounds on Saturn.

SIMPLE YET CHARMING

Tailored Dress Cut For Average Or Small Woman

This charmingly simple dress by Herbert Sondheim, famous American designer, is available in sizes either for the average-sized woman or for the diminutive woman (five feet five and under).
 Noted for his tailoring skill, Sondheim artfully attains crispness with gentle curves, as witnessed in the pockets and jacket front, closed with a row of buttons and a pert bow at the neck. The gusset, so loved by high fashion designers, is uniquely cut as part of the sleeve eliminating a separate insertion of this feature.
 Note the reed slim skirt is relieved by a back pleat for walking ease. Originally made of fine wool this design lends itself equally well to falles or bengaline. In selecting your pattern size, please use the guide below which represents body measurements used by this designer:

BOZO THE CLOWN

Clown To Appear At Big Electric Fair

STANTON, (SC)—This year the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cap Rock Electric Co-Op, with headquarters here, is being combined with an Electric Fair and an appearance of Bozo, one of America's funniest clowns.

Also included in the program are cowboy and hillbilly musical numbers by the Black Mountain Boys, television performers from San Antonio; a presentation of General Motors famous science show and its previews of progress; a ferris wheel for the children; wiring demonstrations; the showing of movies in a special tent; a trained animal act which includes dogs and monkeys, and one of the largest exhibitions of electric appliances ever held in West Texas with all the dealers from over a wide area participating.

The regular annual stockholders meeting will be held at 2 p. m. Friday, and immediately following this business meeting there will be an amateur hour in which any or all members of a Co-Op family are eligible to participate.

The event will get underway Thursday between the hours of 6 and 10 p. m. with the appliance exhibit. Friday the various events will be open at 9 a. m. and will continue until 5 p. m.

Bozo, The Clown, is really H. R. Ray, a 63-year-old native of Weatherford, who joined the old Bailey Circus when just a boy and who has been in the show business

Poultry Markets Steady In Texas

AUSTIN, Aug. 1 (AP)—Poultry markets continued steady last week with supplies adequate except in South Texas, the Department of Agriculture said today. South Texas trading centered on 2.5 to 2.65 pound birds. Demand was fair to mostly good.

In East Texas demand was good. Some underweight birds went at a one-cent discount. The Waco-Corsicana market demand was fair. Trading was moderate. Closing prices were 29 cents in the south and east and at Waco and 30 cents at the Corsicana plant.

Completions Gain Over Last Year

AUSTIN, Aug. 1 (AP)—Oil well completions this year total 6,175 compared with 6,165 last year, the Railroad Commission said today. Completions for this week totaled 192 compared with 224 the week before. The average calendar day allowable slumped 24,081 barrels to 3,140,821.

Send Condolences

TAIPEH, Formosa, Aug. 1 (AP)—Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek and other government leaders sent messages of condolence today to Mrs. Robert A. Taft.

Typhoon Near Tokyo

TOKYO, Aug. 1 (AP)—The edge of a typhoon is expected to plaster Tokyo with wind and rain Sunday. The Weather Bureau said its center probably will pass more than 60 miles east in the Pacific.

Wild turkeys are found distributed from Canada south to Central America.

Stock Market Erases Losses In Big Advance

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP)—A strong recovery movement in stocks this week erased Korean trade losses and sent the market ahead for the best advance of the month.

Monday's selling was the last gasp of liquidation on true news, an event discounted in advance. Almost immediately the stock market got back on a normal footing. High profit showings of one corporation after another appeared. The first 378 corporations reporting in the first half had 17 per cent higher profits than a year ago.

Fat balance sheets were shown by such giants as General Motors, Standard Oil (N.J.), U. S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel.

The stock market started a rally that was going strong at the end of the week after wiping out previous losses. The Associated Press average gained $1.30 on the week. The optimistic in Wall Street believe that the upturn was the signal for the start of the long delayed summer rally.

The five most active issues were New York Central off 1/2, General Motors up 1/4, United Gas Corp. up 1/2, National Theaters off 1/4 and Loew's up 1/4.

Whose Sapphire Ring Was In Suit Pocket?

KOKURA CITY, Japan (AP)—The recent flood wrecked Mrs. Shituko Sato's pawn shop.

But she assured her customers she would repay them for pawned valuables.

How, she did not know. She had only the dress on her back. Then came clothing and help from all over the world, to flood victims.

Mrs. Sato was given a suit. In a pocket she found a large sapphire ring.

Mrs. Sato asked relief officials to trace the donor so she might return the ring.

She doesn't know whether the suit came from Japan or abroad.

REV. ROY SHAHAN

Prairie View Revival Starts

Revival services will begin today at Prairie View Baptist Church located at Fairview six miles north of Big Spring. The Rev. Leslie Kelley, pastor of the church, has announced.

The visiting preacher will be Rev. Roy Shahan, pastor of First Baptist Church, Post. Rev. Shahan has had more than twenty-five years in pastoral and evangelistic work. A graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, his pastorates have included Moran, Rule, Littlefield, Snyder, Immanuel in San Angelo and Memphis.

Song leader for the revival will be Mrs. Vernon Langley, and the pianist will be Mrs. Carl Hammack.

Services will be twice daily at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Two special nights have been planned—"Family Night" on Monday and "Youth Night" on Thursday. Booster Band for boys and girls will meet each night at 7:30, and at that hour the adults and young people will also meet for special prayer services.

Jet In Crash Here From Marine Base

The U. S. Navy F2H Banshee jet fighter which crash landed at Webb AFB shortly before noon Friday was from El Toro Marine Air Station, Webb officials announced.

The pilot, Capt. W. A. Harris of the Marine Corps, was not injured. The plane crash landed on a jet runway at Webb following engine failure.

There are about 10 million cattle and 19 million sheep in Great Britain.

750 School Chairs Need Some Mending

It's no secret that children are sometimes a little hard on furniture, so it's only natural to expect that Big Spring Independent School District maintenance men have some renovating work to do each summer on classroom chairs.

However, it's only about thirty or forty chairs a year (or the equivalent of one roomful) that are damaged beyond repair by the youngsters.

Some 750 chairs this summer will get some work done on them, from cleaning to refinishing the tops. Part of the work is done in the schoolrooms, but the more serious mending jobs are done in the maintenance shop.

This year the school district is not buying new classroom furniture, Edward S. (Pat) Murphy, business manager, said this week. He said such purchases are usually staggered and this year the school district has a $22,000 insurance policy premium due. He said about $25,000 had been spent on furniture for the elementary schools recently and that the new high school had called for new furniture throughout when it was finished.

Some of the present furniture is about 20 years old, he said. There are over 5,000 chairs in the system.

When chairs are damaged beyond repair, the metal bases are used for trading purposes. Usually pipe to mark off parking places is obtained. The lumber is not worth trying to salvage.

ABC Club Prepares For Annual Rodeo

Plans for arranging concessions for the annual Big Spring Rodeo and the club's annual Rodeo booster trip were discussed Friday at the American Business Club's luncheon meeting in the Settles.

The ABC-sponsored booster procession will leave from the Settles at 8:30 a. m. Monday. All persons who wish to make the trip are invited to appear at the starting point before 8:30. Transportation will be provided for those who need it.

The ABC club will vend popcorn, peanuts, snow cones, hot dogs, cigars and soft drinks at each performance of the rodeo, which opens Wednesday night for a four-day run.

MEN IN SERVICE

KENNETH W. WILLIAMS

Pvt. Kenneth W. Williams of Big Spring is now stationed at Camp Roberts, California, where he will take his basic training in the Army with a field artillery battalion. Arriving at the camp during the latter part of June, Williams will complete his basic training there and await further assignment. The camp is about halfway between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Pvt. Harold J. Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cain, 309 W. Third, recently graduated from the Army's Engineer School in Murnau, Germany.

Cain, whose wife Mary lives at 1400 Nolan, is assigned to an engineer service platoon at Stuttgart. He is a former student at New Mexico A. and M. College and was employed by the Norwood Drilling Company before entering the Army in August, last year. He received training in the operation and maintenance of the tractor-scraper type road machinery used by the Corps of Engineers.

Pfc. J. E. Fort Jr. is being sent to Japan for duty with the U.S. Marines.

He is a member of the 3rd Marine Division. Mrs. Fort, who until recently was with her husband at Camp Pendleton, Calif., is returning to Big Spring.

Agency To Open Handling Office Equipment Lines

A new office equipment agency is being opened in Big Spring by Jack Turner and Jerry Worsham, both experienced in the field of office machine sales and service.

The new business, Turner-Worsham Business Machines, will open formally Monday. It is situated at 305 1/2 E. 3rd Street.

The firm will handle all leading brands of office equipment, according to Turner. Complete service for all makes and types also will be made available.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner and two children reside at 514 Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Worsham and one child will move here from Midland. Mrs. Turner is the former Betty Robertson of Forsan.

Worsham has worked as an office equipment salesman throughout West Texas for the past few years. Turner, who will assist with sales in the new business, has worked for the past four years in this area as an office equipment service man. They expect to make their products and services available throughout the area from Sweetwater westward.

Turner-Worsham is distributor in West Texas and New Mexico for the new Pres-to-Line typewriter copy holder. The firm will sell Monroe calculators and adding machines, Remington adding machines and portable typewriters, R. C. Allen business machines of all kinds, including cash registers, and Burroughs office and business equipment.

A large stock of used machines is to be available, also. The business will remain open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily. The telephone number is 4-4646.

Lyric Offering Another Kettle Comedy Series

Another Kettle comedy is scheduled at the Lyric theatre today and Monday. This time it's "Ma and Pa Kettle At The Fair."

Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride have their usual parts as Ma and Pa. Lorie Neison plays the eldest Kettle daughter, around whom all the action centers.

A romance between James Best, who plays a next door neighbor of the Kettles, and Miss Neison gives the home-spun comedy some spark.

Action and suspense is predominant in this comedy, also. Story begins when Ma and Pa figure out a scheme to send their daughter to college. Ma decides to try to win the bread baking and jam making contests at the county fair. But she enters the family horse in the trotting race by mistake. Here the fun begins. When Ma finds that most of the townspeople have bet heavily on another horse, she shoots her horse with a slingshot, causing it to trot and be disqualified.

Centenarian Spends Birthday In Court

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 1 (U)—Elizabeth Stringer observed her 100th birthday in the dock at magistrates court on vagrancy charges. She was found asleep on a step by a police officer.

"I won't go," the constable quoted the centenarian as saying when he informed her he would not go to an aged home. "Believe it or not, I am 100 today," she told the court. She said she was an "old artist of the music halls."

Told to go to the old folks home, she said "Get a gun and shoot me." Later she yielded and said she would go.

Plant Inaugurated

ATHENS, Aug. 1 (U)—A 16-million-dollar electric power plant, one-third of which was paid for with U. S. aid funds, was inaugurated today on Ervoia Island off Greece's East Coast. It is part of a 100 million dollar power development program intended to bring electricity to many rural areas for the first time.

Cows Rule Country In Central Africa

USUMBURA, Ruanda-Urundi, Aug. 1 (U)—This is a land ruled by cows. Long-horned, red-brown cows.

Technically, its rulers are two kings, who reign under a United Nations trusteeship administered by Belgium.

But actually, the lives of four million backward, underfed natives are ruled by cows—politically, socially, economically, emotionally.

These strange despots, who live even when humans starve, are part of a strange land, the overcrowded kingdoms of Ruanda and Urundi, in central Africa, mountainous and smaller than West Virginia, but with twice the population, jammed in some areas into 200 per square mile.

Cows are even more important here than gold or dollars to Western economies. They are the natives' symbol of wealth and the basis for a medieval-like social structure which prevails in this remote area—isolated by huge lakes on the west and mountains in the east.

Where there is overcrowding, the people move to make room for the cows, not vice versa. Where there is famine, the cows eat first, not the people. Yet, poorly bred, the animals yield no more than a quarter to a third of a gallon of milk a day.

But no one would think of killing a cow to eat. Natives would rather starve than slaughter one. In fact, they did just that, as recently as the famine of 1944. Cows lived; people starved to death.

For years, the cows have been extending their pastures, exhausting the soil, and thus reducing the food supply of the natives. But still the people are reluctant to do anything about it.

The problem is one of the biggest facing Belgian administrators as they seek to civilize the area, halt erosion and increase the land's food productivity.

White men have succeeded in building roads, planting trees and creating some irrigation systems, but they have made their slowest progress in combatting the ancient reverence.

It took the greatest and most patient kind of persuasion to get the natives to humanize their severe laws governing cattle thieves.

Until recently, such a thief was crucified at a crossroads, with a wooden pole penetrating his hands, feet and abdomen, then jammed into the ground. There he was left to die, under the searing sun, a helpless prey for insects and animals.

Nathan Swift Killed

UNION PIER, Mich., Aug. 1 (U)—Nathan Swift, 41, vice president of Swift & Co., huge meat packing firm, was killed late last night in an auto accident. Police said Swift's English sports car was rammed broadside by an auto driven by Semour Gottlieb, 25.

Leibowitz Quits Race For Mayor

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (U)—County Judge Samuel Leibowitz of Brooklyn withdrew today from the race for mayor. He said he lacks funds to wage a winning campaign. Leibowitz, a Democrat, was the candidate of the Fusion Party. Major candidates still in the race are Mayor Vincent Impellitteri, Manhattan Borough President Robert Wagner Jr., and Rudolph Halley, Liberal Party candidate.

Fire Claims Life

SANFORD, Me., Aug. 1 (U)—A forest fire that claimed one life and threatened numerous homes raged unchecked today after blackening an area six miles long and two miles wide. Some 600 firefighters tried to confine the flames to thickly wooded sections of this southwestern corner of Maine.

Official hottest-in-the-world outdoor temperature is 136.4 degrees once-recorded in Libya.

FEARLESS FOSDICK IS THE IDEAL OF ALL US RED-BLOODED AMERICAN BOYS. HE'S KIND TO DUMB ANIMALS.—SPESH'LY HIS TALKIN' PARROT!!

THEY WOULDN'T LET ME MAKE THIS 2-HOUR SPEECH AT THE POLICEMAN'S BALL LAST NIGHT—SO I'LL READ IT TO YOU, SIDNEY.

AWW!! ONLY REASON I STAY HERE IS, HE'S GENEFC'US WITH THE BIRDSEED!!

—AND SO, I REPEAT—IT IS A DETECTIVE'S DUTY TO ARREST ANYONE FOR LAW-BREAKING—EVEN HIMSELF!!

BRACK!!

THANK YOU, GENTLEMEN—AND NOW, OFF TO POLICE THE PARK—

A HOLD-UP!!

KEEP OFF THE GRASS

I'LL SAVE YOU FROM THAT GUNMAN, SIR!!

BANG!!

KEEP OFF

THAT WAS NO GUNMAN, YOU IDIOT!! HE WAS OFFERING ME A CIGAR!!

HE WAS MY—GOD!!—BEST FRIEND!!

WELL—THE LAUGH IS ON ME!!—BUT YOU'LL MAKE OTHER FRIENDS—??

EGAD!!—

I DIDN'T REALIZE IT—BUT I WALKED ON THE GRASS!! ACCORDING TO MY PRINCIPLES, I MUST TURN MYSELF IN!!

SHOT AN INNOCENT CITIZEN? WELL, THAT'S A HARMLESS ERROR. BUT—YOU ALSO WALKED ON THE GRASS!!—THAT'S A CRIME!!—FIVE DOLLARS, PLEASE!!

(—THIS WILL CAUSE SOME DRASTIC CUTS IN MY BUDGET!!)

??—THERE'S ONLY TWO BIRDSEEDS HERE!! THAT'S NOT ENOUGH TO KEEP A BIRD ALIVE!!

I'M SORRY, SIDNEY—BUT I MUST CUT OUR RATIONS!!

(—THAT DOES IT!!—I'M LEAVING FOSDICK!!—I KNOW ALL HIS SECRETS. IF I CAN GET A GANG OF HUMAN BEINGS TOGETHER, I CAN BE THE SMARTEST CRIMINAL IN HISTORY!!—)

Prince Valiant

Synopsis: AFTER WEEKS OF DELAY RORY MACCOLM, KING OF IRELAND, WILL SPARE A FEW MINUTES TO HEAR WHAT KING ARTHUR HAS TO SAY THROUGH HIS REPRESENTATIVE. SO PRINCE VALIANT IS SUMMONED.

VAL HAS LEARNED MUCH FROM PATRICK AND THE GOSSIP AT THE FAIR. HE KNOWS THAT AMONG THIS GLITTERING THrong THERE ARE MANY WHO DESERVE THE THRONE MORE THAN RORY AND THAT ONLY HATRED OF EACH OTHER KEEPS THEM FROM UNITING TO HURL HIM FROM POWER.

KING ARTHUR'S KNIGHT FEELS VERY SMALL AS HE BEHOLDS THE PERFECT BODY, THE PROUD, HANDSOME FACE OF A MAN EVERY INCH THE PICTURE OF A WARRIOR KING.

BUT A PICTURE THAT CHANGES AS VAL STARES AT IT.... NOT PRIDE BUT ARROGANCE.... NOT COURAGE BUT A RUTHLESS FEROCITY.... NOT A KING—A TYRANT!

"WHAT FAVOR DOES YOUR KING BEG OF US?" ASKS RORY CONTEMPTUOUSLY. "KING ARTHUR REQUESTS THAT YOU CEASE YOUR RAIDS ON THE COASTS OF BRITAIN!" ANSWERS VAL.

"AND WHAT TRIBUTE WILL HE PAY US TO STAY AT HOME?" THERE IS A MOMENT OF SILENCE WHILE VAL TRIES HARD TO CONTROL HIS RISING ANGER. "NOTHING!" HE ANSWERS, SMILING.

THE IMPUDENCE OF THIS ANSWER BRINGS A DARK FLUSH TO KING RORY'S FACE AND IN HIS BLEAK EYES A LOOK THAT COULD MEAN DEATH!

NEXT WEEK—The Threat.

RUSTY RILEY

I RECKON WE'VE CLEARED ENOUGH O' THESE GAPLIN'S TO TURN THE VAN AROUND... WE BETTER GET ROLLIN'!

TEX, I'VE BEEN THINKING OF WHAT YOU TOLD ME ABOUT MR. MILES' TROUBLE... HOW CAN IT SAVE MILESTONE FARM IF WE GET 'SILVER LAD' TO LEXINGTON BY TOMORROW?

WELL, RUSTY, THERE'S A BIG SHOT FROM SOUTH AMERICA WHO'LL BUY EV'RY YEARLIN' MILESTONE CAN RAISE IF WE CAN PROVE WE'VE GOT A STALLION OF THE LINE OF 'GALLANT CORPORAL'.

OH, I SEE... AND 'SILVER LAD' IS THE ONLY ONE ALIVE...

RIGHT... AND THIS SEÑOR CALDAREZ LEAVES FOR SOUTH AMERICA TOMORROW... IF WE DON'T PRODUCE 'SILVER LAD' THE CONTRACT GOES TO 'VELVET' KANE, AND THE BANK WON'T EXTEND MR. MILES' LOANS.

GOLLY! LET'S GET GOING... I'LL PUT THIS AXE BACK IN THE CABIN WHERE I BORROWED IT FROM.

I'LL PUT IT RIGHT BACK IN THE CORNER WHERE I FOUND IT... JEEPERS! THE WIND MUST'VE BLOWN ALL THOSE PAPERS AND LETTERS OFF THE TABLE!

I'LL JUST PICK 'EM UP WHILE I'M HERE... HEY!! OO-OOH JIMMY!! ..WOW! WAIT'LL I TELL TEX ABOUT THIS!

ARE YOU SURE, RUSTY? ARE YOU POSITIVE YOU READ IT RIGHT?

POSITIVE, TEX! THREE LETTERS ADDRESSED TO MR. MARKY AT GREAT OAKS FARM... ISN'T THAT 'VELVET' KANE'S PLACE?

IF THAT BIG COMPOKE STARTS... WELL, TWO BLASTS ON THIS HORN AND PORKY WILL BLOW A TRUSS OUT FROM UNDER THE BRIDGE.

WHAT'S UP, BURT? FIND SOMETHING?

DON'T SEEM TO BE NO SIGN O' HIGH-JACKERS LIKE YOU THOUGHT!

SEEMS TO BE A WIRE RUNNIN' THROUGH THE GRASS... I TRIPPED ON IT!

B-2--TO BE CONTINUED

TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

PRESENTLY, HELD AT BAY BY THE ROPES OF EIGHT MON-GOLS, THE 'KILLER OF MEN' WAS BROUGHT INTO THE ARENA-- A GIGANTIC, HIDEOUS CREATURE!

THEN A SUDDEN BURST OF STRENGTH FREED THE MONSTER'S ARMS! ABRUPTLY HE JERKED TWO TERRIFIED GUARDS OFF BALANCE, TRAPPED BY THEIR OWN GUIDE ROPES!

WITH A FEW OF FRENCH LIGHTS, HE KNOCKED THEIR SKULLS TOGETHER, WHILE THE OTHERS FLED IN PANIC!

SULLEN AND CUNNING, THE BRUTE SEARCHED THE HUSHED ARENA. SOON HIS BLOOD-CRAZED EYES FLARED. THERE WAS AN EAR-SPLITTING ROAR AS HE THUNDERED TOWARD TARZAN OF THE APES!

I CAN TELL WHO IT IS FROM HERE, BARTOLO! IT'S JOAQUIN!

THERE'S EES BETWEEN YOU AN' HIM, BARTOLO! DON' COUNT US EEN!

BUENAS TARDAS, JOAQUIN! YOU COME FOR ME, AH?

WHAT DO I WANT WITH YOU, BARTOLO? PUT AWAY YOUR GUN!

I PROMISED THE PADRE AT SAN ANTONIO NEVER TO BEAR ARMS IN ANGER! SO I COME MERELY TO PASS THE TIME OF DAY! AH, CAFE!

BARTOLO EES NOT STUPID, JOAQUIN! YOU DON' FOLLOW US HALF ACROSS CALIFORNIA TO PASS TH' TIME OF DAY!

TRUE, BARTOLO!-- I SHOULD HAVE REMEMBERED HOW SMART YOU ARE! IF YOU WILL LOOK HARD ON THE HORIZON, YOU WILL SEE I AM DRAGGING THE CALIFORNIA RANGERS BEHIND ME!...

STAY, AMIGOS!-- AND RECALL THAT I WARNED YOU NOT TO BE NEAR BARTOLO WHEN HE IS SHOT! NOW WE WILL ALL SIT AND WAIT FOR THE RANGERS! SIT!!

THE BAXTERS

I'M HOME, ALICE! WHY, WHAT'S WRONG? YOU'RE CRYING!

OH, JOHN! THE TWINS BROUGHT HOME THIS NOTE FROM THEIR TEACHER TODAY! SHE WANTS TO SEE US TOMORROW ABOUT THEIR TERRIBLE MARKS!

I'VE FOUND THAT IN HOMES WHERE THERE IS A GOOD ENCYCLOPEDIA THE CHILDREN OFTEN SHOW BETTER MARKS. THE ENCYCLOPEDIA HELPS THEM WITH THEIR HOMEWORK!

SAY, I COULD USE A SET OF REFERENCE BOOKS MYSELF, ALICE! I'LL GET ONE TODAY!

THAT NIGHT... I ASKED AT ALL THE STORES TODAY, ALICE, AND THEY WANT $150 TO $250 FOR A GOOD ENCYCLOPEDIA! I'M AFRAID WE JUST CAN'T AFFORD ONE!

JOHN! HERE'S JUST THE THING! LOOK AT THIS AD ABOUT THE NEW FUNK AND WAGNALLS ENCYCLOPEDIA!

WELL, WHADDYA KNOW? THE PUBLISHERS WANT TO GIVE US THE FIRST VOLUME OF THE SET FREE. THEN... IF WE LIKE IT, WE CAN ORDER THE REST OF THE SET, THREE VOLUMES AT A TIME. THAT SURE IS A SWELL IDEA, ISN'T IT?

AND LOOK AT THE BOOK-- IT'S FULL LIBRARY SIZE AND IT SURE IS GOOD LOOKING!

FULL LIBRARY SIZE

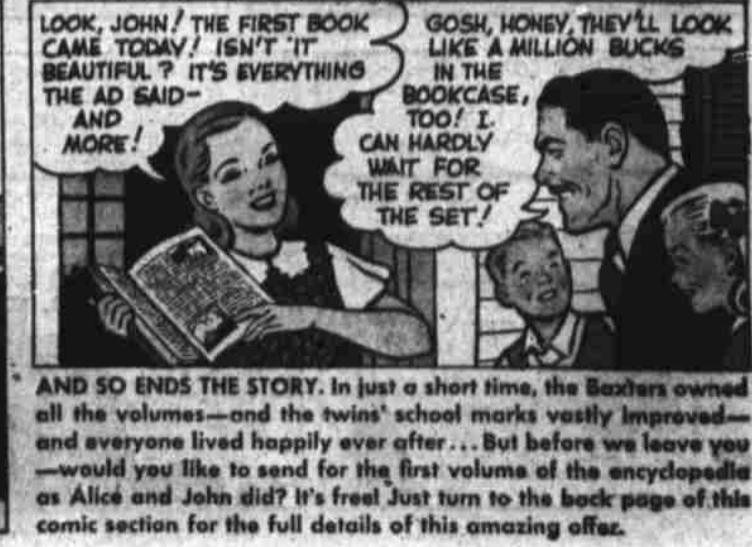

WHAT DO YOU THINK, MISS TURNER? I'VE HEARD ABOUT THIS SET, MRS. BAXTER! LET'S SEE... H'M... 50,000 SUBJECTS WRITTEN IN AN EASY-TO-UNDERSTAND STYLE... 8,500,000 WORDS... I THINK THIS IS JUST THE ENCYCLOPEDIA YOU WANT!

MISS TURNER RECOMMENDS THE FUNK AND WAGNALLS ENCYCLOPEDIA! ARE YOU ORDERING A SET?

NO! I'M SENDING THE COUPON FOR THE FREE VOLUME. THEN WE CAN DECIDE IF WE WANT THE REST OF THE SET.

LOOK, JOHN! THE FIRST BOOK CAME TODAY! ISN'T IT BEAUTIFUL? IT'S EVERYTHING THE AD SAID-- AND MORE!

GOSH, HONEY, THEY'LL LOOK LIKE A MILLION BUCKS IN THE BOOKCASE, TOO! I CAN HARDLY WAIT FOR THE REST OF THE SET!

AND SO ENDS THE STORY. In just a short time, the Baxters owned all the volumes--and the twins' school marks vastly improved--and everyone lived happily ever after... But before we leave you--would you like to send for the first volume of the encyclopedia as Alice and John did? It's free! Just turn to the back page of this comic section for the full details of this amazing offer.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

With Major Hoople

SO ONCE AGAIN YOU'VE COME THROUGH ON ONE OF YOUR HUNCHES!

MR. LIVWRIGHT, I JUST KNEW THAT HOWIE HADDUM WAS NOT A MURDERER!

AND I THINK THAT YOU SHOULD MAKE IT UP TO HIM BY GIVING HIM HIS JOB BACK HERE ON THE FLASH!

NEVER!

BUT UNCLE ATWELL! YOU DON'T WANT OUR BABY TO HAVE A DADDY WHO'S UNEMPLOYED!

WHAT?

THE WEALTHY WIDOW HATFIELD'S VISIT TO THE CITY WAS JUST HOT ENOUGH TO MELT THE BARS THAT HELD OUR HOWIE AND PUT THE POLICE ON THE TRAIL OF SIR OLIVER TWERP

WELL, I GUESS THAT TAKES CARE OF THAT FAMILY!

NOW ALL THEY HAVE TO DO IS FIND SIR OLIVER AND THE BODY OF POOR LITTLE ZEELA LEE.

WILL THEY EVER FIND HER... OR WILL SHE BE ANOTHER ONE OF THOSE UNSOLVED MYSTERIES?

MEANWHILE...

SHE CAN'T DO THIS TO ME!

I MUST FINISH WHAT I START!

BABY OR NO BABY! THERE'S GOING TO BE A PINK POODLE COCKTAIL LOUNGE BY TEDDY FLAIRE OR ELSE!

YOU'RE WELCOME TO STAY AS LONG AS YOU LIKE!

I SURE APPRECIATE IT, MICKEY... BUT I'M GONNA FIND A PLACE OF MUH OWN!

BE CAREFUL WHAT KIND OF A DEAL YOU GET INTO!

DON'T WORRY ABOUT ME! I CAN BE PRETTY SLICK SOME-TIMES!

LOOKING FOR SOMETHING, FRIEND?

YEAH... I'M SORTA LOOKIN' FOR A HOUSE!

A. FOX
I SELL ANYTHING!
ALL TERMS CASH!

THE KIND I WANT IS...

I KNOW JUST WHAT YOU HAVE IN MIND! NEVER MIND THESE HAND-CLIFFS, FRIEND... JUST A FORMALITY!

TOO MODERN?

UGH!

TERRIFIC SPOT! EIGHTEEN BATHS! OF COURSE... IT'S A LITTLE HAUNTED!

TOO BIG! I WANT SOMETHIN' JUST FER MUHSELF!

I KNOW JUST THE PLACE! BUT YOU'LL HAVE TO ACT IMMEDIATELY! 200 BUCKS! GREAT VIEW! THE COZIEST LITTLE NEST YOU'VE EVER SEEN!

I'LL TAKE IT!

SOMETIME LATER

WELL, AT LEAST THAT GUY TOLD THUH TRUTH! HE SAID IT WUZ A NEST!

WE'LL MAIL YOU FREE THIS VALUABLE 424-PAGE ENCYCLOPEDIA VOLUME IT'S YOURS TO KEEP — JUST FOR THE ASKING!

The reason we wish to give you this important, expensively made volume is very simple.

The book pictured here is the first volume of a world-famous set of books—The New Funk & Wagnalls Encyclopedia. It is the one set of books every forward-looking American family MUST HAVE — for it is the sum total of all man's knowledge from the beginning of time, condensed, simplified, and made easy to read and to understand. Such a set can be of priceless help to child and adult alike — to every member of the family.

We GIVE you this first volume, because by so doing we hope to interest you in the rest of the set! We make a gift to you of the first volume really as a sample. We think the book is so terrific that once you see it, and read it, and examine it, you will want all the other volumes! And we are willing to take the gamble of giving you one book to PROVE TO YOU and CONVINCE YOU why you need the others.

WORTH $5.00 — YOURS FREE!

Remember that this one volume is a fascinating and very valuable possession. Even if you decide against getting any other volumes, you will be proud to add it to your home library. It contains 2000 separate articles on 2000 vital subjects. It is crammed full of interesting and important information. It has pictures on nearly every page, with many in brilliant full color, including a complete 32-page atlas of maps of every country and state in the Western Hemisphere!

It is worth every bit of FIVE DOLLARS—and you get it ABSOLUTELY FREE. All you need to do is ASK FOR IT.

... Only one small favor we ask in return.

With your gift volume we will send you complete details on how you can get the rest of the set, at the rate of three volumes a month, at a MIRACULOUSLY low price.

We ask you to read these details, and look over the free volume very carefully, and then LET US KNOW whether or not you want any more volumes.

THAT IS ALL! We merely want to know from you whether or not you are interested in the set. We will enclose a postcard that we ask you to send back to us. On it you will say "YES"—that you want the other volumes of the set. Or you will say "NO"—that you do not.

And if you say "NO," you can still keep the free Volume 1—because that is our gift to you.

NO STRINGS OR CATCHES

There are no strings or catches to this amazing offer. YOU GAMBLE NOTHING because you are under no obligation whatsoever to pay anything or buy anything. WE TAKE ALL THE GAMBLE—believing we can convince you how much you need this wonderful set of books.
