Gordon Gave The Punch, But... Yank Hurlers Were Real Aces Of Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—Joe Gordon, the Yankees' great second baseman, was having his right arm pumped practically off at the champions' victory celebration the night of the fifth and deciding world series game.

His coat off and his tie loosened, Gordon could only grin happily as the invited guests congratulated him on his spectacular play against the Dodgers and his selection as the official series hero. President Ed Barrow, head of the greatest empire the sports world has seen, smiled benignly.

Paul Krichell, chief scout of the Yankees, the man who passes final judgment on promising players dug up from a thousand diamonds over the country, was broad as a grin on the floor, sipping the rewards of victory and accepting a few congratulations, himself.

The writer chose a lull in the happy conversation to assume that

Paul agreed with everybody else that Gordon had been the bright shining star of the play-off.

"No," he said decisively, "I don't. Gordon only did what we expected him to do. We knew he was a great player. The real heroes of the series were two pitchers—Ernie Bonham and Marlin Russo."

There was a shocked silence for a moment while Paul's words were digested thoroughly. He noticed it.

"What did Russo and Bonham do?" he asked, patiently not expecting an answer. "Here were a couple fellows we didn't know what they would do. Russo had a bad stomach and Ernie had a bad back. Neither had been in a world series before. And all they did was pitch a couple of four-hitters and win games we had to have."

Looking back on the five-game series, there was a lot in what Kir-chell said. Gordon with his .500 batting average, his seven walks, his slick fielding and his homerun that jarred the Dodgers at the outset of the classic, undoubtedly supplied the Yankees' sustained punch. But what if either Russo or Bonham, owners of inconspicuous records for the regular season, had failed to come through exactly when he did with one of the greatest performances of his career?

When Russo, the slim, nervous left-hander, went to the hill in the third game at Ebbets Field, the series was deadlocked at one victory apiece and the Dodgers were loaded with confidence.

Well, most of the millions of words written about that crucial contest told of the tough luck that befell Freddie Fitzsimmons, the Dodger hurler. An injury forced him to leave after he had stopped the Yankees dead for seven innings.

But it remains that Russo for seven frames had hamstringed the Dodgers even more effectively than Fitz had hampered the Yanks. The score that went into the book was "Russo 3, Brooklyn 1."

As for Bonham, he was Joe McCarthy's fifth choice as a starting pitcher. He might even have been considered a sort of sacrifice, as the Tanks had been beaten by Whitlow Wyatt in the second bout of the series and knew he was a tough proposition. Red Ruffing was not ready to start again. Bonham, a strapping 210-pounder, was about the only man McCarthy had left, barring the faded Vernon Gomez.

And so it was under those circumstances that he lumbered out to the mound and gave perhaps the outstanding pitcher performance of the series, throttling the Dodgers and blasted their last hope of getting back in the lining.

Lamesa Camp Hopeful Of Holding Eagles

Tackle Kent Morgan Only Tornado Due To Be Out Of Lineup

LAMESA, Oct. 8.—Awakening hopes are coming to the front in the Lamesa Tornado camp. Still glowing over their unexpected victory over Odessa last Friday, the Lamesans are looking forward to setting down the highly spoken-of Abilene Eagles.

Lamesa's Coach Lester Gregg figures chances are greatly improved for a close game with Abilene but he still refuses to admit an outright possibility of a win. "But, the boys are keyed up over beating Odessa... a team like that will be hard to beat," he pointed out.

Kent Morgan, one of Lamesa's tackles who was missing from the lineup last Friday will still be out of the fray this coming weekend. His shoulder was knocked down in the bout with Plainview. Morgan will be the only absentee on the Lamesa roster. Several of the youngsters are nursing bruises but will be ready for battle come Friday.

Abilene is viewing Gus White, Jr., with some alarm. Feeling capable of holding the Lamesa easy down most of the time, yet remembering what happened to Odessa when White did get away a couple of times, the Eagles are working strenuously on plans to keep a solid front every moment of the game.

Jim Brennan, Abilene's top back, is a bit under the weather but is slated to take the field, regardless. He's the only outright casualty on the list thus far.

Broncho-Steer Battle To Be Comeback Affair

Odessa Has Rough Road To Travel

Big Springers Slated To Have Edge In Punch And Mobility Of Units

A battle of the unhappy ones is scheduled for Odessa Friday night. The Odessa Bronchos are considerably grieved over the blow dealt out by the Lamesa Tornadoes—Big Spring's Steers aren't particularly hepped up about their deadlock with Colorado City's Wolves. Something is bound to break.

Both clubs are slated to be in fairly good physical condition. Several of the Big Springers are still nursing various and sundry bruises but should be able to show their wares Friday evening.

Big, rugged Odessa is free of outstanding injuries, other than the heating which its feelings were subjected.

Odessa uses a variety of defenses—against Colorado City a plan was worked out whereby flanking units on the right and left sides of the line were given the job of keeping Roy Allen, Colorado City's express train back, within reasonable bounds. In fact, according to one of the Odessa scouts, the setup was the same as having two ends on each wing.

A similar plan was attempted in the clash with Lamesa. For the greater part of the contest it worked to perfection—it slipped a few times and those were the only moments the Tornadoes needed to pin back the Bronchos' ears.

In some respects the Odessans bring back memories of Big Spring's 1940 crew. Like the district-winning Longhorns of '40, the Bronchos move with a ponderous, unswerving force. The line is heavy, hard-to-move, and slow in charging out. The backfield has potentialities. Jimmy McCracken is a smooth ball-hander but needs more cooperation to deliver a first-class scoring punch. Others of the secondary show up good but are somewhat inclined to be individualists. Furthermore, the Bronchos have a tendency to take their rest when the going is smooth. Friday night, there will be no rest for the weary.

Big Spring does not have the deadly weight of the Odessa club but that lack is made up by a fairly fast bunch of lads. Although there were no indications of it in the Colorado City fracas, the Big Spring backfield does have a certain dash and flexibility. That one item, perhaps more than anything else, may turn the tide in Big Spring's favor. The Steers just didn't have it last Friday—they should this Friday.

Something New, Coach Stars As SMU, Pacific Vie

TYLER, Oct. 8 (AP)—They're building a football game around one man Saturday and what a man!

When 15,000 jam their way into the stadium to watch Southern Methodist battle little College of Pacific as many will turn out to see Amos Alonso Stagg in action as will come primarily for the gridiron festivities.

Stagg, who through a half century of coaching has become Mr. Football himself, started back in the gray nineties at Springfield college. Then for 41 years he was the grand old man of the midway at Chicago.

Retirement regulations said he was through in 1933 but he went out to the coast and started all over again, bringing honors to the College of Pacific.

Saturday a Stagg-coached team plays in Texas for the first time. It will be in the seventh annual Rose Festival game.

The dean of American football goes against the dean of the Southwest conference—S. M. U.'s Matty Bell who is the oldest coach in point of service in the major circuit down here.

Southern Methodist will be a heavy favorite but Stagg never got that reputation as a "giant-killer" by twiddling his thumbs. His teams have worried titans of Pacific coast football.

Neither S. M. U. nor Pacific have scouted each other but the coaches have exchanged basic formations. And rest assured Stagg's plays will be as modern as they come.

He's 79 and coached back when the flying wedge was about all the razzle-dazzle they knew, but he hasn't permitted moss to grow around his feet. He couldn't have won 523 games in 51 years if he had.

Texas Tech Given Edge Over Loyola

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8 (AP)—Texas Tech's Red Raiders should blow through Los Angeles Loyola Lions like a whirlwind, take it from Billy Byrne, who scouted them in their 34-0 triumph over Abilene Christian and 16-0 victory over Oklahoma Aggies.

Byrne reports Tech has about 10 backs who "go so fast most line-men haven't a chance to tag them. Fullback Charles Dvorack, weight 190, hits like a bullet. He's almost unstopable. And Don Austin, the little right half, will go by you while you're blinking your eyes."

Not only that, Red Amonet, offensive star in Tech's 19-0 triumph over Loyola in 1940, has been dropped among the reserves.

So Coach Marty Brill is concentrating on defense in preparation for the Raiders' visit Friday night.

Most Mentors Of Nation Off To Good Start

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—One swallow seldom makes a headache and one or two games don't make a football season, but a survey shows that a majority of the football coaches in new jobs this season got started with the right amount of touchdowns.

Top among them at this early point are Paul Brown, the ex-high school mentor, now tutoring Ohio State; Tom Stidham, Marquette's boss; Emerson W. (Spike) Nelson of Yale, and Frank Leahy at Notre Dame.

Brown, who arrived on the Buckeye campus just as the football season was supposed to have run out, took the messenger supply in hand, spent the spring in drilling fundamentals and this fall won the first two games.

Ohio came through with a mild surprise in downing Missouri, 12 to 7, then almost pushed the world series of the sports pages by blasting Southern California, 28 to 6.

One game almost does make a season for Marquette and Stidham triumphed in that, beating the University of Wisconsin, 28 to 7.

Yale went through its last depressing season in history last year winning only one of eight games. The first half of the 1941 inaugural continued on the same pattern with Virginia ahead, 19 to 0 at the rest.

The Blues, however, staged a comeback to put Nelson and his phenomena in the limelight, 21 to 13.

Notre Dame has a fair start on the victory trail under tradition-breaking Frank Leahy who guided the Irish to wins over Arizona and Indiana.

In the Southwest, Baylor is striding along under Kimbrough and Tulsa finds little of which to complain under Henry Francka. Oklahoma, now under Dewey (Shorter) Lester, walloped the Oklahoma Aggies but gets its real test Saturday against Texas.

Denton Crowd Hears Murray

DENTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, former Oklahoma governor, carried his attack on national administration foreign and domestic policies to Denton today on a trip that is scheduled to take him into several North Texas communities.

While an audience listened quietly on the courthouse grounds last night, Murray sat comfortably on a stone bench and assailed alliances with other nations in a talk under the auspices of the America First Committee of Texas.

"Our liberty and safety depend on our return to America's traditional foreign policy," he said.

He advocated the making of treaties only for trade and commerce, peace and friendship, consonant with "the old Washington and Jefferson principle."

Convict Guilty Of Murder In Warden's Death

MCLESTER, Okla., Oct. 8 (AP) Convict Hiram Prather was convicted today of murdering Warden Jess Dunn during a bloody prison break August 10 and sentenced to death.

A district court jury reached the verdict after deliberating 8 hours and 10 minutes.

The state contended Prather, one of four convicts who seized Dunn as a hostage, was the man who fired the shot that killed the warden.

His three convict pals in the break were fatally wounded by Deputy Sheriff Bill Alexander. He advocated the making of treaties only for trade and commerce, peace and friendship, consonant with "the old Washington and Jefferson principle."

Lookin' em Over

With Jack Douglas

It seems as though Sweetwater's Mustangs have put one concern in their Friday evening clash with the Midland Bulldogs—Midland's passing attack.

The aerial unit gave San Angelo's Bobcats a bit of trouble last Friday but finally it was bottled up and the lads from the sweeping banks of the Concho settled an old score.

This week, the air is scheduled to become the chief route used by the Bulldogs. Light and lacking too much of a ground attack, the Midlanders will put to a conference test the pre-district night of the Ponies. Although the books indicate that the test will be more in the warm-up category, it must be remembered that Sweetwater has yet to meet a top-notch.

Coach Earle Clark has been putting in long hours on the Midland aerial game. It's due to start clicking at any time now—perhaps Sweetwater will be the one to get the fruits of Clark's campaign.

Naturally, Sweetwater has a distinct edge over Midland. But Big Spring had a wide margin over Colorado City and there was no doubt about Odessa's superiority over Lamesa. Well, Lamesa beat Odessa—Colorado City tied Big Spring.

Texas' Law Jenkins has had all sorts of troubles since he won the lightweight crown. Now, he's in dutch with the New York boxing fathers. The question probably will be ironed out to the satisfaction of all, but in the meantime Jenkins has a mark counted against him. His share of the purse from the match with Welterweight Champ Rex Cochrane has been held up until the fight is studied.

According to information given out, Jenkins' manager directed him to take it easy the first few rounds. Fight managers usually direct their boys how to conduct their scraps. When the directors are actually questioned, other items are involved.

Jenkins' Purse Ordered Held

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (AP)—The New York State Athletic commission today ordered one fighter's purse held up and suspended two managers for six months and a trainer for 60 days as aftermath of Monday night's Freddie Cochrane-Lew Jenkins fight at the Garden and last week's heavyweight title bout between Joe Louis and Nova.

The commission ruled:

- 1—That Jenkins' purse, amounting to approximately $7,000, be held up and that Jenkins and his Texas manager, Fred Browning, immediately post a $1,000 forfeit for the lightweight champion's title fight here with Sammy Angott, Oct. 31.
- 2—Willie Gilensberg of Newark, manager of Cochrane, suspended six months for instructing his fighter to hold back the early rounds.
- 3—Wally Carlen, manager of Nova, suspended for six months, and Ray Arcel, Nova's trainer, for 60 days, for instructing Lou to hold back in the early rounds and fight a defensive battle against Louis. Carlen and Arcel also were reprimanded for refusing to heed the referee's warnings to stop using grease on Nova.

House Committee Approves Six Billions More For Lease-Lend

Body Reports Armament Not Yet Enough

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—The house appropriations committee approved a $5,985,000,000 lease-lend appropriation today with the statement that production of munitions has not yet reached the point where defeat of axis powers was assured.

The committee reported to congress that almost all of the huge new fund could be obligated by next March 1, and that delivery of material could be completed not later than June 30, 1942.

And then, with publication of voluminous hearings on the appropriation, the members presented the first, overall picture of the lease-lend program which began with a $7,000,000,000 appropriation last spring.

They asserted that production necessarily was slow at first; that there had been no abuses in putting the dollars to work; that the new fund was imperatively necessary.

The War Today—Tide of War May Hinge On Present Nazi Drive

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Herald Special News Service)

The great German drive against the fiercely resisting Russians is Hitler's supreme effort to administer the coup de grace to an enemy which he claims is on the verge of collapse, and thereby avoid the dire results of waging war across the blizzard-swept plains of Moscow in the winter which is almost on him.

Success will remove a grave threat from his eastern front and will increase his source of supplies.

It might bring Japan into the war against the Soviet.

Failure, means that in order to defend himself from the east through the winter he must expend strength which he should be flinging against England. It means that spring will find the trench great between two great powers—Britain and Russia, with their allies—thereby giving an incalculable lift to the allied cause.

The whole Russo-German fighting front of 1,100 miles is swirling with many battles at close quarters, and an endless stream of Nazi troops is being poured into the conflict.

Tulsa Gets Kiwanis Office

BEAUMONT, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Texas and Oklahoma district of Kiwanis International concluded its 24th annual convention here yesterday after electing Charles C. Toomey, Tulsa, Okla., civil leader and oil executive, governor and selecting Dallas as the 1942 convention site.

Toomey succeeds Fred Thompson of Pampa, Tex., as district governor.

Lieutenant governors elected for the 10 Texas and Oklahoma divisions:

Division 1—Julius P. Johnson of San Angelo; Division 2—Judge W. W. Cavas of Henderson; Division 3—Jake W. Mason of Houston; Division 4—Glenn Scheupbach of Harlingen; Division 5—Dr. Dwight R. Knapp of Kerrville; Division 6—W. J. Beecher of Amarillo; Division 7—John T. Craig of Pawhuska, Okla.; Division 8—Charles W. Hartness of Hobart, Okla.; Division 9—Judge Gilbert Bond of Duncan, Okla.; Division 10—C. Ray Colpitt of Collinsville, Okla.

The immediate objective of the drive against Moscow is the destruction of the Red manpower under Marshal Timoshenko. Success would throw the route to the capital wide open and, what is even more important, would jeopardize the Russian armies in the northern and southern sectors by outflanking them.

Half of 1941 Cotton Parity Checks Here

Approximately half of the 1941 cotton parity payments for Howard county have been received, M. Weaver, administrative assistant, said Wednesday.

Thus far, a total of 604 checks amounting to $2,237 has been received. The county is due about $128,000 in parity payments for the year's crop.

The AAA staff now is computing cotton acreage allotments and average yields for the farms of the county, and these will be mailed out within a few weeks, Weaver said.

It is planned that farmers will receive allotments and acreage yields for the farms of the county, and these will be mailed out within a few weeks, Weaver said.

Tulsa Gets Kiwanis Office

BEAUMONT, Oct. 8 (AP)—The Texas and Oklahoma district of Kiwanis International concluded its 24th annual convention here yesterday after electing Charles C. Toomey, Tulsa, Okla., civil leader and oil executive, governor and selecting Dallas as the 1942 convention site.

Toomey succeeds Fred Thompson of Pampa, Tex., as district governor.

Lieutenant governors elected for the 10 Texas and Oklahoma divisions:

He Didn't Get Seasick—Hank Hart Ends Sea Voyage To Puerto Rico, Via Bermuda

After a year of being stationed in various sections of the country, Hank Hart, former sports writer for The Herald, has been shipped by the army to Puerto Rico, where he had planned to go in the beginning.

From New York to Puerto Rico, by the way of Bermuda, the 6,000-ton American Legion encountered a hurricane and 1-600 of the 1,500 troops aboard became "visibly ill," according to Hart, who modestly claimed he proved a good seaman. The ship, incidentally, carried 6,000 tons of explosives aboard.

FD Asked To Stop Texas Arms Strike

TEXARKANA, Oct. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt's intervention was sought today by American Federation of Labor unions which called a strike at the $11,000,000 Red river ordnance depot construction project.

E. H. Williams, regional director of organization for the unions in Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, disclosed that he had sent a telegram asking the president's aid and charged that strikers had been intimidated "by men driving government owned or government rented cars."

Jap News Service Urges Axis To End War With Russia

TOKYO, Oct. 8 (AP)—Domei, in a special article, today urged the axis powers to terminate the war with Soviet Russia to conserve German resources in manpower and equipment for an all-out assault on Great Britain.

The news agency warned that if the war with Russia is extended over a long period the axis powers may be faced with a dearth of materials because, it said, they are a union of "have-nots."

Woman Dies In Jump From Burning Car

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 8 (AP)—Mrs. F. F. Taylor, 57, of Ott, Okla., yesterday became frightened and jumped from a moving automobile that was on fire.

Severely injured, she died in a hospital here early today, 14 hours after the accident which occurred six miles east of Wichita Falls.

A leaky gas line ignited the motor of the car that was driven by her husband.

A word about the calibre of the distinguished new automobiles that Buick now brings to market for 1942

Two thoughts stood solemn sentinel throughout all the planning of our 1942 cars.

The first was—in their materials these cars must not trespass on the current needs of national defense.

The second was—in their quality and performance they must not be an "ersatz" product.

If you think this leaves only a cramped and stifling byway for engineering to advance in, remember that difficulties are sometimes the spur that real ability needs.

Our new cars, it seems to us, superbly prove this. But we neither expect nor ask you to take our word for it.

The real way to know what they are, and how marvelously they perform, is to breeze them down a country road or tool

Tanker Transfer May Relieve Oil Worry In East

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 8 (AP)—Tankers, priorities and prices held the attention of the oil industry today.

The supply situation for the east coast may be altered by the temporary release from British shuttle service of 10 to 15 American tankers.

Petroleum Coordinator Ickes, who announced that the release of the tankers may be made "due to greatly diminished sinkings" in the Atlantic, indicated however, that some of the ships would see other defense service.

It was the diversion of tankers to Britain from the Gulf coast-Atlantic seaboard routes that brought from Ickes a warning that the east faced a petroleum shortage.

"Rather than impose new burdens on the east coast of the United States, some of the tankers made available by release from the shuttle service may be used for this purpose," Ickes said.

He indicated that some of the returned tankers might be put to hauling molasses, used in manufacturing ethyl alcohol, an essential for munitions making, and for meeting defense requirements in some areas of the western hemisphere.

Meanwhile, 11 oil companies sprung a plan made last spring to finance shipyards for construction of 22 new tankers. In an announcement, the companies said that the maritime commission believed that there "will not be available the steel, machinery or skilled labor for the new yards and that if they were to be undertaken it might be at the expense of the program being carried on through existing yards."

In the Mid-Continent and Texas, operators still plugged for higher crude oil prices. The East Texas Oil association named a 10-man committee to place its crude price problems before Ickes and the Texas congressional delegation.

The present price for East Texas crude is $1.35 a barrel, and E. F. Nichols, executive vice president of the association, asserted that because of increased costs a fair price would be $1.75, adding "and we wouldn't make much money at that."

New WPA Recreation Official Appointed

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 8 (AP) R. Melvin Sharp, recently of Gatesville, will take charge Monday as WPA recreational director for Colorado City and Sweetwater, succeeding Mrs. Beatrice Allen, who is being transferred to Abilene.

Sharp was superintendent of Forest high school near Sweetwater for 11 years. He will live in Sweetwater. H. F. Malone of Big Spring, area recreational supervisor for the WPA, was in Colorado City Tuesday in connection with the change.

Past Matrons and Past Patrons were honored with a banquet and program Tuesday at the Masonic hall by members of the Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Ethel Lees had the invocation and Mrs. Grace Miller the toast. The group sang jingles about the past matrons and patrons.

The table was decorated with autumn flowers, fruits and leaves. After a short business session, Elouise Haley gave an appropriate verse about each of the honored members.

Mrs. Olive Biles, chairman, and Mrs. Minnie Michael paid tribute to the accomplishments of all the past matrons and patrons.

A duet was given by Mrs. Sella Nabors and Mrs. Sallie Sue Young with Mrs. Alma Blount at the piano. More than 100 persons attended.

Double Help For WOMEN!

When periodic functional distress begins to make you miserable, why not do as thousands of women and take CARDUI! It may be used 3 ways: First: To help relieve periodic distress, start 3 days before "the time" and follow directions. Second: To aid in building energy, strength—through better appetite, increased flow of gastric juice which should help digestion—take it by directions as a tonic. Try CARDUI!—adv.

Do You Support Church Budget?

From now until the first of the year most churches in Big Spring will be staging their annual campaigns to raise funds or subscribe budgets.

These worthy drives often go without much fanfare outside the individual congregations and the public in general is not aware of them.

Yet it is probably conservative to say that annually the faithful members of local congregations raise in excess of $100,000 for local and mission purposes. They have property valued perhaps above half a million dollars and support more than two score workers.

None questions the value of churches to a community. They contribute more than can be said to a city, and every penny given to the church, whether wisely spent or not, is a penny well spent. The mere presence of the building in our midst to remind us that the church does have a place in our lives is worth all that we contribute to them. The influence that does radiate from them is worth many fold the investment all of us make.

The unfortunate part of it all is that the financial loads of these indispensable institutions is borne by a faithful minority within the churches themselves. The bulk of membership fails to give anything, much less sacrificially.

Based on the last census, retail sales in Big Spring amounted to well over $9,000,000, which is by no means the total amount of income represented for the inhabitants here. Fancy what the churches of this city could do for community good, for the cause of home and foreign missions, for the spiritual uplift of humanity if anything like the scriptural tithes were given.

Yet it will take tears and prayers and hard work to raise the $100,000 or more needed for this work. Certainly, if there is a gift which all people should make above all others it is to the church. We think there could be no finer thing to plan for the people of this city than now to lay aside a just portion of their income for contribution to the church of their choice. There is no end to the dividends such gifts would pay.

In all sincerity, we say to the people of Big Spring—support your church!

Hollywood Sights and Sounds—Earning $270,000, Colbert To Pay $210,000 In 1941 Taxes

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Claudette Colbert, who never talks about money, talked about money today. Money and taxes, and what fools most actors are—including Claudette Colbert.

Claudette was very gay. Many actors get grim when you mention taxes. I mentioned taxes and Claudette just laughed and laughed, as if the pleasure were all hers. She was laughing anyway at the time, because she was looking back on the smart girl Claudette intended to be and the not-so-smart girl she said Claudette had become.

All she said about taxes, of which she expects to pay about $210,000 worth next year, was to the effect that she was happy and proud to be able to pay them, especially in times like these.

"'Ridiculous, I mean," and she got down to cases, "that I spend about $30,000 a year for living and upkeep. It's absurd, but that's what it costs. This year I'm making two pictures, so I'll earn $300,000. Ten per cent for my agent leaves $270,000, and as I expect, I'll have $60,000 left. With $20,000 for expenses, I may save $10,000.

"And I remember how I always said it would never be like this with me," she reminisced. "When I first came out here and saw extras who had been big stars I vowed I'd be different.

"So I built a house. It started out small—they always do—and then it got bigger as the plans developed. With a house like this I couldn't do without a little ground around it. I got ground. And now it's a lovely house, surrounded by ground and upkeep. Would you believe it, I need five servants to keep it running smoothly while I work? I do, and that's ridiculous too. Then there's mother's house, and the upkeep on that."

What I wanted to know was how the star who a couple of years ago drew about $400,000 in movie salaries to be billed as the biggest woman earner in the land was going to meet the new year's increased federal tax bite.

Claudette laughed again. "That year," she said, "I saved $15,000 for myself—to apply on my next year's tax bill. I'm never ahead of my next installment's taxes. It's ridiculous, isn't it?"

Ever helpful, I asked if she'd thought of selling her dream house. Even trying, I couldn't have been fatter. "Just try to!" Claudette chorled with explosive merriment. (Now I know how Bob Hope feels when he rolls 'em in the aisles!)

Man About Manhattan—Top-Billed Actors of Few Years Ago Hard To Locate

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—Some time ago I became interested in ascertaining the whereabouts of an actor who had made quite a name for herself during the Twenties but who had dropped out of sight in recent seasons. After calling Equity and various agents without getting anywhere I got in touch with Ward Morehouse of the New York Sun, a sort of drawing encyclopedia of the theatre who knows the theatre and everybody in it.

"Yes," said Ward, "she's dead. She died in Hollywood about two years ago. That's the trouble with trying to find people who have disappeared from Broadway. They're either in Hollywood or they're dead or married and living private domestic lives."

I thought of this the other day when the Music Box Theatre, that bright little playhouse on West 45th street, the street of hits, was celebrating its twenty-first birthday.

The Music Box doesn't look at all like an old theatre and the reason perhaps is that so many successes of the theatre have kept the name so continually in the theatrical page news and in the minds of drama-goers.

But it did seem odd, suddenly, when one scanned a playbill of the first Music Box Revue, which Irving Berlin and the late Sam Harris and one of the Shuberts put on there, September 22, 1920. One saw names of persons who were widely applauded in that day but who are prominent no more. You also saw a name that startled you because it is the name of a young actress who is in Hollywood today and who is well known everywhere and is highly thought of on both sides of this theologically-minded country. Her name is Miriam Hopkins.

Scanning the list further you find these names: Florence Moore, Willie Collier, Sam Bernard, Wilda Bennett, Margaret Irving, Helen Claire, Ivy Sawyer, and Joe Santley.

Well, let's see. Ivy Sawyer is married to Joe Santley, who is a motion picture director and they are on the West Coast. Helen Claire is not the southern Helen Claire two years ago who starred in "Kiss the Boys Goodby," Margaret Irving, the last time I saw her, was still with the Shuberts, in "The Streets of Paris." But Florence Moore is dead, and so is Sam Bernard. Willie Collier is on the coast. I do not know where Wilda Bennett is. I do not know where Helen Claire is.

After the Music Box gave up its policy of musical revues it became the home of celebrated comedies and dramas by such authors as George S. Kaufman, Noel Coward, W. Somerset Maugham, Edna Ferber, John Colton and Morris Ryskind. It will have for its tenant this season a new comedy by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman. But next year Irving Berlin is going to revive some of the old Music Box revues that were so appreciated in the early Twenties. This should be an interesting venture, but of course he will have to have new stars, new names, and maybe in some instances even new songs.

The 30,000 men in the swamps and jungles of Panama have awarded their favorite actress a commission. She's Gertrude Lawrence of "Lady in the Dark," and Miss Lawrence entertained her chums in Panama by radio recently. Miss Lawrence's commission is that of "First Class Mudder."

Washington Daybook—Automobile Men Are Busy Guessing What Will Happen Next With Cars, New Parts

(Back of the reduction in car manufacture are things that will affect every community. In two articles, Jack Stinnett, Washington columnist for The Daily Herald, explores possibilities.)

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—Nearly everybody knows by now that during the five months ending in December there will be 500,000 fewer new cars produced than in the same period a year ago, but there is a lot of guessing by government priorities and production officials, and automobile association heads, as to what the results of this drastic curtailment will be.

For once, there is no precedent to go by. Never in the history of this industry has production been drastically curtailed—except by depression.

Two things seem fairly positive. The repair business is in for a boom which will gladden the hearts of garage men, if they can meet demands. And the second-hand automobile dealers are likely to get the screaming-meemies trying to fill orders.

It would seem another ill wind that doesn't blow good, but there are factors which should cause hesitation before a man tosses his surplus cash into an auto repair shop or used-car lot.

There is a saying in the industry that for every two new cars sold, there is one second hand car on the market. It would seem simple arithmetic then to say that if you cut the new car sales in half, you would cut the available used cars by the same proportion.

But if the demand for used cars remains static or increases, and the supply is cut in half, that backlog burns like fury. Increasing turnover in second-handers puts more and more on the junkheap. Nobody wants to trade a car for a poorer one, and with available new cars nearly cut in half, the spread between good used ones and junk-piles held together with baling wire probably will widen rapidly.

(Tomorrow: If you are buying a used car—look out.)

Farm Payments By Government Due To Decrease

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—With farm products bringing the highest prices since 1930 and still advancing, agriculture department officials said today that the administration should be in a position to make a sizable cut in its budget for 1942 crop benefit payments.

Indications were that the cut might exceed $200,000,000, or more than one-fourth of the cost of the present benefit program.

Agricultural prices are nearly 45 per cent higher than a year ago. Departmental economists predict further advances this winter and next spring. Because of the higher prices and prospects for the largest food demand in history, the department forecasts that farm income may approach $12,000,000,000 next year.

An income of this size would be the largest since 1920 and $2,000,000,000 above the estimate for this year.

Congress appropriated about $700,000,000 for farm benefit payments for 1941 crops, including $500,000,000 for cooperation with soil conservation programs, $48,000,000 for cooperation with the sugar production and marketing control program, and $212,000,000 for parity payments.

Farm officials said that the president's new budget to be placed before Congress in January probably would seek for the same amount for soil conservation, but a reduction of at least $100,000,000 in parity payments and possibly the elimination of appropriations for sugar programs.

Greatly improved prices for cotton make it possible, officials said, to drop parity payments for this crop. The department has set aside $88,000,000 for such payments on the 1941 crop at a rate amount of 2.75 cents a pound. Cotton now is bringing slightly more than parity prices.

Defense Contract Pool Discussion Set At Midland
MIDLAND, Oct. 3 (SpI)—Proposed organization of a pool for defense contracts in this section of West Texas will be discussed at a meeting of interested parties at Hotel Scharbauer here at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

L. A. Wilke of El Paso, area manager for defense contract service, office of production management, will lead the discussion and assist in forming the contract pool. Wilke also will answer questions relative to defense contracts.

The Midland area, under the defense contract set-up, is recommended by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is composed of Borden, Martin, Andrews, Winkler, Ward, Crane, Pecos and Midland counties. R. L. Miller and Bill Collins of Midland are advisor and co-advisor, respectively, of the area. Max Bentley of Abilene, activities director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is expected to attend the meeting here. The regional organization has assisted in organizing the West Texas territory for full participation in defense contracts.

Treasury Announces Record Size Loan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—The treasury has announced it would borrow $1,300,000,000 Thursday in the largest single cash financing operation of the treasury since the Liberty Loan drives of the World War.

A new issue of long-term bonds will be sold to the investing public for $1,200,000,000 and an additional $100,000,000 of the new bonds will be sold for cash to government trust funds.

Officials said the money was needed to finance the approximately $1,000,000,000 monthly deficit being caused by defense expenditures. Since July 1 defense has cost $3,820,024,832 out of total federal expenditures of $5,862,024,453.

Chapter Two
Bad News

Riv tossed the list back in her lap and said abruptly: "There's no need to bother about that now."

"Of course we don't have to do it today, I only thought—"

His black eyes were dull and heavy. "Not today, nor for quite a while."

"But Riv—" She was angry.

"We can't be married in December," he said bluntly. "I can't tell you why right now. It may look queer — it is queer. There's nothing I can do about it. God knows I hate this like the devil. I've tried all the way from Washington to think of some way to break it to you easily, and now I've made you angry. You don't hate me, do you, honey?"

He sat down beside her and drew her into his arms and held her close. He kissed her over and over again, until she was frightened and breathless and unable to speak.

"We'll be married in June." He laughed a harsh, unnatural laugh. "After all, June's the month for brides. That will be just six months, and in that time everything will be fixed up."

"Riv—" She pushed him away. "What will be fixed up? Is it something about the draft? If so, why can't we be married quietly right now? I don't care about a wedding. I can go back with you and we'll get a little apartment and be happy. Really, Riv."

"You don't understand." He consulted his watch and arose. "I have to see a man about some property he wants in this county. He's a prospect the Colonel made in Washington. Man named Harris. Johnny Harris."

"Harris."

"Of course not, but Harris is the name of the man Aunt Car met overseas. The one Grandfather Fairhope refused to let her marry."

Riv showed no interest. He passed a long lean hand nervously over his forehead to smooth back his sleek black hair. He stared gloomily at his narrow feet. He lighted another cigarette and stubbed it out when only half finished. Then when the silence between them became awkward, he turned and attempted a smile. "Just a matter of a few months, honey. I'll get down often after this conscription affair is settled."

"Then you don't want to be married now?"

He avoided her serious glance. "I can't be married now," he said impatiently. "I can't tell you why — it isn't necessary. We'll be married in June. I'll see you about seven. Ginny Fairchild asked me to bring you by for a drink before we go out to the dinner dance at the country club."

Then, as Sue Ellen hesitated, he said angrily: "You'll have to go. There'll be enough gossip as it is about the postponement of our wedding. If we're seen together tonight — what can they say?"

"Nothing," said Sue Ellen, "nothing to us, Riv, but I know what they'll say, and you know what they'll say."

"You mean—"

"They'll say Deedora Waller made you change the date of our wedding."

Fear

Sue Ellen knew her accusation that Deedora Waller was responsible for her postponed marriage would enrage Riv, and it did. He sprang up, his lean face white, his mouth a hard straight line.

"What do you mean?" he demanded hotly.

"Just what I said, Riv. Before

Anthony's To Stage Sale

"It's our way of saying thanks to buyers in this area for a wonderful business since opening here," explained C. W. Grigby, Anthony manager, as he handed The Herald copy for his firm's full page advertisement announcing "October—Anthony Month," which appears elsewhere in today's issue.

According to Grigby, this bargain festival is an annual fall event with his company, and is offered at a season when the public is buying apparel and home furnishings for the winter months, thus enabling them to stock up on their requirements at an unusual saving. "This, we feel, expresses our appreciation for our customers' friendship and patronage better than all the personal thanks we could extend," the store official stated.

The event, which gets underway at opening hour tomorrow, will last throughout the month and covers all departments.

"Rising markets and production cuts delayed us a few days in announcing this event for Big Spring," Grigby said, "but we now have received most of our deliveries and are in position to serve the farmer, rancher and city trader at a cost much less than we will be able to offer in future months."

Commission Studies Salt Water Injection

AUSTIN, Oct. 8. (AP)—Railroad commissioner engineers are studying a plan by which salt water injection into strata of its origin by oil companies would be rewarded by granting of additional allowable crude production in the giant East Texas field.

Submitting at a hearing yesterday, the plan, evolved by Frank Spellers, consulting engineer at the field, and others, would permit an additional 50 barrels of one barrel of every 50 barrels of brine returned to the reservoir.

she thought. But after Riv had left her sitting alone in the dusk, the question she had asked Aunt Car returned to frighten her. Did she love Riv?

She would see Riv at seven and in the midst of her own crowd would be forced to announce that her wedding would not be in December. It had been postponed. Riv would have to laugh and claim that to be her plan. Many things could happen in six months. What would happen to her?

She felt tired and drained of all feeling, as she stooped and picked up the list which held the names of those whom she expected at her wedding, and crushed it, tossed it in the waste basket by the desk.

Caller

Now she arose and crossed to the window. Far away in the distance she heard the cotton mill whistle. The work day at Tyler Springs was over. She almost wished that she were like those men and women who had a work day and knew nothing of a life of idleness, a type of pride which demanded that a girl make marriage her one career, her one and only hope for a future.

There were girls in Tyler Springs who had a different plan of life. Girls who had gone away. Aunt Carolina and Aunt Pleasant Fairhope, who had raised her from babyhood, spoke scornfully of labor and had instilled the idea that a lady looked to only one career—her marriage. She had been trained for marriage with Riv. Sacrifices had been made and property mortgaged to give her that training.

She had gone too far to retreat. She must overlook things she could not understand and accept Riv for what he was. Spoiled... handsome and yet with a charm which made everyone overlook his weaknesses. She knew all this, had known it all her life, and until today had closed her eyes to his faults and believed wholeheartedly that the life with Riv would follow the pattern she set for it.

Now—would it?

Something was wrong today and she could not understand or analyze it. She felt restless, dissatisfied, as she stood in the high-ceilinged old room with the last rays of the setting sun striking the liquid surface of the old French mirrors. Surrounded by the grandeur of the past, everything in Magnolia House bespoke of the past. The faded carpets and hangings, the gloomy old oil portraits, the heavy mahogany furniture and trico-brac.

Riv hated the past and spent enough time in Washington with his father to divorce himself from Tyler Springs and its ways.

That was what she must do, if she hoped to keep him and assure her wedding to Riv in June. Paids demanded that nothing interfere with that wedding. Not even her own doubts—not even this restless feeling that there was a love unlike the affection she felt for Riv.

Absorbed in her thoughts, she did not hear the bell nor Uncle Freeman's shuffling step as he moved to answer it. She stood lost in troubled thought until Uncle Freeman said apologetically from

Group Expands Fair Plans

Further expansion of exhibits for the first agricultural and industrial display here Oct. 17-18 was proposed by the industrial committee in a meeting Wednesday to line-up manufacturing exhibits.

The group named Matt Harrington to extend invitations to organizations which might desire to install educational displays for the affair. These would be for such units as the Red Cross, to show knitting, sewing, etc., the safety council, scouts, home economic classes, etc. They would be separate from the other regular exhibits.

Plans for securing a representative display of locally manufactured products were mapped at the session in the chamber of commerce office. Agricultural and industrial exhibits will be segregated in the show quarters at 1st and Runnels street.

Yearling Game Hour Changed

Originally scheduled to be played here Thursday night, starting game time for the Big Spring Yearlings-Lamesa Juniors football engagement has been moved up to 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, according to an announcement by Coach Good Graves of Big Spring. Lamesa notified Graves of the change Wednesday afternoon.

Wool Market

BOSTON, Oct. 6 (UP)—(USDA)—The demand for domestic wools in the Boston market was rather limited today. Occasional sales of graded French combing length fine territory wools were closed at $1.02 to $1.07, scoured basis. Country-packed lots of three-eighths blood bright fleeces from Missouri and Iowa were sold in limited volume at around 48 cents, in the grease. Graded three eighths blood combing Ohio wools had a little demand at 48 to 50 cents, in the grease.

There are 21 islands in the Hawaiian archipelago, of which eight are inhabited.

FSA Studies Problems Of Land Tenure

Problems of land tenure, adjustment of debts and rehabilitation of farmers are claiming the attention of the Farm Security Administration council these days.

Of these, the matter of land is the most pressing. Even debt adjustments and rehabilitation hinge largely upon the ability to effect sound leases for land. Task of advising with FSA supervisors is made difficult for the council members when the tenant is unable to show a sufficiently long term lease which would offer the basis of a sound financing program.

FSA has programs adaptable for low income farmers, according to information from the council, but getting land is the primary problem.

Serving on the local committee, which is a combination of the Farm Debt Adjustment committee and the Rural Rehabilitation committee, councilmen at large, are Arthur Woodall, Walter Robinson, L. E. Thomas, Robert W. Currie, Robert V. Middleton, and M. Weaver.

Markets A? A Glance

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (UP)—Stock market prices slipped into a narrow groove today, following Tuesday's show of jitters as a result of the Russo-German war news.

At the finish quotations mostly ranged in fractions either way from the previous close, with movements mixed even within the various categories.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 6 (UP)—Cotton futures declined about $1.50 a bale here today under influence of a larger government-indicated crop figure and hedge selling. The close was barely steady 29 to 34 points net lower.

Grain

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (UP)—After an early decline had carried prices of wheat and other grains and soybeans to the lowest levels for the past several weeks, the market reversed its early downward trend today and all commodities rallied. Grains erased losses and substituted fractional net gains.

Traders attributed the recovery partly to buying inspired by implications of further governmental purchases of agricultural produce in connection with the lend-lease program.

Wheat closed 1-2 to 7-8 cents higher than yesterday, December $1.30 1/4 to 7-8, May $1.25 1-2 to 5-8; corn 3-4 to 7-8 up, December 79 to 79 1/4, May 84 3/4; oats 3-8 to 7-8 higher; soybeans 1 1/8 lower to 5-8 higher and rye 1-4 to 1-2 up.

The hog is a natural enemy of snakes.

Army Tanks Up—The modern army fights on its wheels, and one of the first things to be done when units of the 1st cavalry put in here Monday evening for an overnight camp was to take on fuel. Two of a fleet of a dozen gasoline trucks may be seen filling tanks of a scout car at left and a convoy truck at right. In the background may be seen a few more of the 600 vehicles and in the extreme right is a few of the battery of tents spread over the camping area in eastern Big Spring. (Ferry Photo).

Here 'n There

County Judge Walton Morrison has on hand a number of cards and badges awarded to those persons who completed Red Cross life saving courses during the past summer. Those who earned these awards may get them by calling at the judge's office.

Pearl Butler was called to her home in Arlington Tuesday due to the death of her father, Miss Butler is a teacher at the high school.

The dedication of the Dora Roberts Salvation Army Citadel here in September is given good play in last week's issue of the War City, official Salvation Army publication. The magazine contains pictures of the old quarters, the Citadel and officers' quarters, an interior view and two shots of the dedicatory services. Accompanying is a complete story of the affair.

A yellow-nosed Messerschmidt 109 fighting plane, shot down over London a year ago, is proving one of the most popular attractions along the midway at the Texas State fair, which continues at Dallas until Oct. 19. The plane was sent to America by Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the British prime minister, as a proceeds from the national tour will be used for Bundles for Britain.

Henry Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Jones, will join Kemas club as a freshman journalism major at Texas Tech and Mrs. C. C. Coffee, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Coffee, has been pledged to Silver Key. He is a sophomore chemical engineer at Texas Tech.

Champs Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Phillips, sophomore physical education major at T. S. U. in Denton, assisted in arrangements recently for the annual sophomore Harvest Moon, an annual big bonfire program at the school.

Fire Prevention Program Given Before Lions

Meeting in a joint session, Lions and Lions auxiliary members Wednesday heard and saw a program on fire prevention.

Fire prevention, said Fire Marshal E. B. Bethell, is "your business, my business and good business. It is a successful business when intelligently practiced—one that pays annual dividends in lower insurance premiums." Smoking and matches last year alone caused $30,000,000 in fire losses, he said.

Acting for Fire Chief Olie Cordill, who is ill, Assistant Chief E. C. Gaylor showed how careless smokers frequently fire curtains and wastepaper baskets, and how these fires can be quickly extinguished by smothering them. He showed how gas goes up and produces explosions and how flames settle and reach open flames. For his "gases" he used mixtures of air and cornstarch and flour.

Electrical Inspector J. D. Stembidge showed how lines are overloaded by double and quadruple sockets, how too much current through too small wires cause fires, how pennies behind fuses cause wires to suddenly burst into flame.

Open house program of the Hyperion club at the ABC park Thursday from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. was announced. Dr. J. O. Haynes invited Lions to hear Bishop H. A. Boaz, who also was a guest in the Methodist revival. Stanley Mate made an announcement about scouting, and Dr. C. W. Deats listed the club's "troop" or workers for the scout finance drive Tuesday. Dean Bennett was introduced as a "club" member.

Airport Drain Pipes Are Laid

Installation of drainage pipes at the municipal airport is underway now, and approximately one-fourth of the supply of corrugated spiral galvanized iron conduits for the drainage system is on hand.

The pipe, laid alongside runways, varies from six to 30 inches in diameter. Excavations are being made at the present time and the trenches will be backfilled with gravel so that overflow water will be shunted into the underground system of pipes.

All water mains from the city limits to the port area are in place now, said E. J. McDaniel, city manager.

While crews continue putting finishing touches on the caliche base for the east-west runway, it was estimated that the job of preparing stabilized base for the extra-long northeast-southwest runway will not be started before Oct. 15. Contracts for 1,500,000 gallons of stabilizing asphalt and equipment for mixing the emulsion, water and native soil, have been awarded to Hunter Strain, Colorado City.

$25,000 Paid County In Current Taxes

County tax collections on the current roll have reached a total of approximately $25,000, spurred by a payment of more than $11,000 today by the Texas and Pacific Railway company.

The Texas and Pacific payment was the first of the county's major assessments to come in, although nearly all of the large oil companies, pipelines and other big taxpayers will pay their taxes during October in order to obtain the 3 percent discount, it was expected.

Big Spring Hospital Notes
