

NEWSPAPER MAN IS LOCKED UP WHEN CLEAN TOWN IS PLEADED

Two Commissioners Standing Pat Against The Chief

RANGER COMMISSIONERS GIVE CHIEF PARRISH FIFTEEN DAYS' MORE TIME

Chief of Police Byron B. Parrish was placed on fifteen days' probation at continuation of the city commission's investigation into open gambling Wednesday afternoon. A. Davenport, police and fire commissioner, said that he would be willing to give up his responsibility for the police department if gambling was not closed in that time.

"There is no doubt that gambling will be closed for the fifteen or thirty days, if we put Parrish on trial. His inefficiency and failure to keep his promises are clear to me. I am against continuing him," said Commissioner M. R. Newnam.

"The great big fact that sticks in my craw is that gambling has been open and the chief has failed to stop it. We have not proved corruption, but we have faced inefficiency at the least," said Commissioner T. G. Delfbach.

Mayor M. H. Hagaman and Commissioner R. M. Davenport were in favor of further investigation of the police department. "If there is one good man down there, and only one, we want to find him," said Mayor Hagaman.

One civilian and several officers were investigated at the meeting of the commission. The civilian testified that he had been in a gambling house on Marston street, opposite the Presbyterian church, on Monday afternoon, and that a hundred men were present, fifty of them playing. He said that two officers of the Ranger police department were present, one in plain clothes, the other in uniform.

"From the street you could watch the numbers of men entering the stairway and coming down, between 4 and 5 p. m. Monday. The testimony of Parrish the day before was that gambling had been closed at 10 p. m. Sunday.

"In the room where the games were going on, one of the dealers said that the two big houses down town were closed up on account of some jam with the police, but that it probably would be straightened out that night," continued the witness.

An effort was made to locate the officers reported to be present at that game, without success.

In regard to gambling one of the officers, when asked, "Did you know gambling had opened up again in Ranger?" replied, "I didn't know it ever quit."

"The chief told us not to do any raiding without he knew it. We had raided all these other places and there was a kick."

"The chief was working under orders himself, I thought. There was someone holding him back."

Other officers testified that no white men had been arrested for gambling lately.

FILES SUIT AGAINST PARRISH

Special to The Times.
EASTLAND, Jan. 29.—A libel suit praying for damages in the sum of $5,000 was filed here today by Paul C. Yates of the Ranger Daily Times against Byron B. Parrish, chief of police of Ranger.

The suit was filed on accusations, which, the petition states, Chief Parrish made against Yates, alleging that he accepted bribes from alleged gamblers of Ranger.

It pays to be persistent in the use of Daily Times Want Ads.

Casing Is Set in Abilene Well

Special to The Times.
ABILENE, Texas, Jan. 29.—The drillers at the Gillespie-Remick-Schaeffer well at Caps, ten miles southwest of Abilene, are setting the eight-inch casing at about 2,300 feet. Many Abilene men have gone to southwest Eastland county to visit the Hilburn well, near which they have large acreage. At last reports here, this well was making from 500 to 1,000 barrels daily. It is a genuine wildcat, many miles from previous production.

LAUNCH MOVE FOR ABILENE SANITARIUM

ABILENE, Texas, Jan. 29.—Final preparations are being made here to launch the campaign in this county for $150,000 to be used in establishing the first unit of the West Texas Baptist Memorial Sanitarium at Abilene. The first unit will cost $250,000, of which sum the recent 75-million campaign furnished $100,000.

The movement has received the endorsement of physicians in the city and county and the entire sum is expected to be raised in one brief campaign.

WHY?

WHY has open gambling persisted in spite of general knowledge of it?

WHY did Chief of Police Parrish wait until Sunday night to close the open games, in the most recent siege of gambling, when he admitted knowledge of them as early as Thursday?

WHY did the chief tell a representative of the Times that "his hands were tied" and tell the city commissioners that no one had a string to him?

If his hands were tied, why did he not tell who had tied them?

WHY has Ranger gained, in Mayor Hagaman's words, a "notorious" reputation because of the open gambling under Parrish's regime?

WHY did he want co-operation of the commissioners in executing a task that demanded the attention of any conscientious officer?

WHY did he evade and say, "Close the cabarets and I'll close gambling?"

WHY did he fall down on his last promise to the city, that he would close every open gambling game in town and keep it closed?

WHY was the original pledge, given when Parrish took office, broken?

No gun-toting;
No high-jacking;
NO GAMBLING.

WHY are conditions in Ranger "so rotten, so crude, so stinking" that a city commissioner should feel ashamed of the office he holds?

WHY does Parrish claim he wants the cabarets closed, when he called a meeting of several cabaret owners in his home and suggested that they secure an attorney to obtain an injunction restraining county officials from closing cabarets, and offered to help them secure this injunction?

These questions are being asked by citizens who want a law-abiding citizenship and realize the laxity of law enforcement.

AN UNMUZZLED PRESS FOR A CLEAN CITY

In following up the stand it has always taken for a clean town, the Times Wednesday encountered organized opposition in the person of officers vested with authority, which was used, or abused, to place one of the editorial staff of the Times under arrest.

Without opportunity to make bond, he was locked up and held from 7:30 p. m. to 3 a. m., when he was released on his recognizance. Leading citizens offered to sign bonds, in any amount necessary, that he might be freed. They were told that the offense was not bailable. Later, he was released with no forfeit posted.

Prior to the printing of Wednesday's issue of the Times, Chief of Police Byron B. Parrish called up the Times office and told the business manager.

"If you print the account of the commissioners' meeting held Tuesday in which my resignation was suggested, I will lock horns with you good and strong. There's a case against one of your men which can be brought up."

In attempting to suppress news the Times may print, with intimidation and threat, Parrish is not only attempting a foolishly futile thing, but is striking, and in a clumsy way, at a bigger thing than one man, or group of men, a bigger thing than one city. He is striking at a bigger thing than one newspaper, or the newspapers which will take up the fight. He is striking at one of the corner-stones of the liberty on which America's plan of government is based.

He is attempting to muzzle the press.

There have existed, before now, men who considered themselves large enough that they could turn a deaf ear to the mouthpieces of the people, or that they could dictate the words that those organs should utter. The theory has been held, at times, that some men were big enough and strong enough, that they could say when to keep silent.

The annals of American journalism are records, thank God, of the failure of such intimidation and attempted suppression.

The Times stands for a clean city. It has supported movements for such a city in its news columns, and editorially. It always will.

TIMES EDITOR ARRESTED AFTER GAMBLING INQUIRY AND PARRISH'S THREAT

Following the account printed in yesterday's issue of the Daily Times concerning the investigation of Chief of Police Parrish by the city commission, Larry Smits, editor of the Ranger Daily Times, was arrested by Chief of Police Parrish, as he left the hall where the city commission had been investigating open gambling and debating the suggested resignation of Parrish. Mr. Smits, was arrested on a complaint preferred by the alleged husband of a former cabaret girl of this city. He was taken to police headquarters, searched, and locked in one of the cells of the city jail.

The arrest was at 7:30. Two members of the Daily Times force who tried to see him, were denied the right to talk to him.

About 8:30 he was taken from the cell by Desk Sergeant Reynolds and allowed to talk to City Secretary Armstrong. He was then taken back to the run-around and kept there until 1 o'clock this morning.

He was taken out again and questioned by Parrish, and put back until about 3 o'clock in the morning, when he was released on his own recognizance.

Today he pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor and paid a fine.

Before being released, Mr. Smits told Chief Parrish in emphatic terms that the Times reserved the right to print the truth and publish the news no matter where it hit.

Byron Parrish called the manager of the Times yesterday afternoon and stated that if the account of the session of the city commission was published he would "lock horns with the Times force and get even."

He threatened yesterday afternoon to Arrest Larry Smits if the article concerning him was published.

Mr. Smits is not the first newspaper editor who has been subjected to arrest on account of his stand for a clean town. The Daily Times stands for a clean town and clean officials. It stands for the suppression of open gambling, which is a felony under Texas laws, for the suppression of rampant prostitution, the enforcement of the law, and the removal of all officials who are unable to enforce the laws they swore to uphold.

HIPPODROME — Blue Grass Belles present "THE BOSS OF THE BAR Z"; also feature picture, Alice Brady in "The Knife."

OPERA HOUSE — Dorothy Phillips in "THE RIGHT TO HAPPINESS."

OPERAHOUSE.

"The Right to Happiness," being shown tonight at the Operahouse, is one of the greatest pictures ever shown on the screen. It was shown here a few months ago and is brought back at the request of many who were unable to get in at the previous shows.

Dorothy Phillips, who plays a dual role, is supported by one of the strongest casts ever brought together. It is a picture that every member of the family should see.

This mighty drama of eight reels took six months in making and cost a quarter of a million dollars.

HIPPODROME.

"The Knife," Alice Brady's latest Select Star Series picture, is a story of modern metropolitan life in all its uplifting and degrading aspects contrasted with the peaceful idylls of an old-fashioned southern home. This picture, which was adapted by Charles Maigne from Eugene Walter's brilliant play of the same name and was directed by Robert G. Vignola, will be shown at the Hippodrome theatre today.

On a visit to New York City, Kate Tarleton (Alice Brady), the ward and fiancée of Dr. Robert Manning, a famous surgical experimenter, wanders into a trap from which he rescues her with the aid of the secret service. How he takes a unique but adequate revenge on those responsible for her drugging and imprisonment, at the same time furthering the social welfare; how he wins Kate back to complete health and strengthens her wavering faith in herself; how he wins her heart, too—"The Knife" presents a fast-moving tale of genuine heart interest, in which Alice Brady displays to full advantage an artistic delineation of a sympathetic character study, similar to her performances in "Her Silent Sacrifice" and "Woman and Wife."

Musical bill for tonight is "The Boss of Bar Z."

LONE STAR.

Hilarious Farce is "Fair and Warmer" For sheer absurdity of situation, clever and intriguing acting by a star, sparkling wit in titles and finish in production, "Fair and Warmer," presented last night at the Lone Star theatre, with May Allison—dainty and appealing May Allison—as the star, has, to use the effective if colloquial expression, all other pictures we have seen before completely backed off the map.

The cocktail scene, of course, will stand out anywhere. It is considered—and after seeing "Fair and Warmer" last evening at the Lone Star we understand why—the funniest one scene ever written into a play. But the rest of the picture is fully as funny. The theme, or plot itself, has unlimited humorous possibilities, and Mr. Hopwood with his agile genius for getting the most out of things, has taken fullest advantage of it. The action concerns two young married couples. In one instance, the husband is too perfect; and in the other, the husband is also loyal and devoted but he considers it better policy to contrive to make his wife think he is not. Jack Wheeler's philosophy is that if you keep 'em guessing, you keep 'em in love with you. And from the misfortunes of the impeccable other husband, Billy Bartlett, whose wife, driven nearly frantic by his thoughtfulness and freedom even from the little wives, seeks divorce, Jack would seem to have the right idea.

LOSES MEMORY POLICE OF FORT WORTH BAFFLED

FORT WORTH, Jan. 29.—Police and attendants at St. Joseph's infirmary are completely baffled over the identity of a man who was found at Seventh and Lamar streets Sunday night in a dazed condition and who has since been unable to recall his name or where he comes from.

The man appears to be rational and physically normal in every respect, but his mind is a blank or events in his past life.

This much was gleaned from him Monday following a cross-examination by Chief of Detectives John Connolly. He believes his name is Howard and that he came to Fort Worth from Kansas City. There was nothing on his clothes that gave the police the slightest clew to his identity, except a laundry mark on his collar which bore the initials "H. L. T."

The man is about 40 years old and six feet tall. He has a ruddy complexion, high cheekbones and a sharp nose. His hair is turning gray, but this is believed to be premature, as his face is free from any wrinkles.

It is believed the man is suffering from amnesia brought about by a blow on the head. He was found on the sidewalk by former Judge James W. Swaney. He has a slight bump on the side of his head which may have been caused by a sandbag or blackjack. No money or valuables were found on him and he was unable to tell whether he was held up or not.

The few papers found in his pockets contained mostly sentimental verses and one letter signed "Sister." He could not recall whether he has a sister.

The man's hands showed he had not been doing physical labor, although he said he believed he was a carpenter. His nails were neatly manicured and his hands white and soft. His linen was clean and his clothes neat.

The man sat on a cot in the hospital Monday afternoon peering into space as if vainly endeavoring to recall the past.

"Do you know what city you are in?" "They tell me it is Fort Worth."

"Do you recall being held up by anyone, or receiving a blow on the head?"

"I cannot recall anything."

"Do you recall at any time that you planned to visit Fort Worth?"

"No, I do not, but I seem to recall being in Kansas City and then being on a train going some place where it was I cannot recall."

The man says he had a gold watch but what happened to it, he does not know. He says he believes he had money, but how much he does not recall.

"Everything just seems a blank," he says. "I know everything that has happened since I came to this hospital."

"What makes you think your name is Howard?" he was asked.

"I seem to have a vague recollection that is my name, but where I come from I do not know."

"Were you ever married?"

"I cannot say; I do not know."

"What makes you think you are a carpenter?"

"I don't know. It just seems that I am. I could quickly find out if I

"Where you ever in Fort Worth before?"

"Do you recall being in Chicago, St. Louis, or Kansas City?"

"It seems that I remember being in Kansas City recently with the mention of that name trains seem to appear before me."

The man eats heartily and with enjoyment. He talks freely with the other patients and smokes incessantly. He is a man of quiet demeanor and speaks slowly as if weighing each word. He declares that he is feeling well except for a slight headache which he has had since coming to the hospital. The bump on his head is about the size of a quarter, but the scalp is not broken.

Physicians who examined the man are puzzled over the case. They said that perhaps in a few days he may regain his memory, but this is a matter of conjecture.

The man says he believes he is of Scotch-Irish descent, but is sure that he was born in the United States. He says he believes he was prosperous at one time. When found he had a bag of fruit but cannot recall buying it. He said that he did not drink.

Chief Connolly probably will take the man over the spot where he was found in an effort to refresh his memory today. No name that corresponded to the initials "H. L. T." was found on any of the hotel registers. It is believed he had secured a room in some rooming house in the vicinity of Seventh and Lamar.

U. S. Aviators Not Being Held by the Mexicans

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Jan. 29.—Lieutenants E. F. Davis and G. E. Crimes, American aviators who yesterday were forced to land near Guerrero, Mexico, are not held prisoners by Mexicans and probably will fly back to the United States territory today.

Captain Bradford, assistant district adjutant, went to Matamoros today to arrange with the Mexican officials to get gasoline and oil for the aviators. Captain Bradford said that the aviators were not prisoners and when the usual preliminaries had been disposed of, their return to the American side would be facilitated.

JOHNSON TO RETURN TO U. S. SOON

By Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight pugilist champion, plans to return to the United States immediately to face a charge pending against him in Chicago, according to a letter shown the Associated Press by Johnson.

The former champion is confident that he can arrange the legal difficulties in time to fight Jack Dempsey before the latter meets Georges Carpentier and asserts that Dempsey must meet him before he claims the world's championship.

Johnson was tried in Chicago in 1913 on charges of having violated the Mann white slave law, and being convicted was sentenced to a year's imprisonment at Leavenworth, Kans. He appealed his case, but before the case was argued before the higher court, Johnson forfeited a $15,000 bond by fleeing to Canada.

He sailed for Europe in June of that year and has not been on American soil since.

GYPSY HUSBAND SOLD TO OTHER WOMAN CHEAP, HIS WIFE SAYS.

International News Service. DES MOINES, Ia.—Here's a new and decidedly commercial angle of the "eternal triangle," wandering tribe of RomanyETAO.

Peter Guy, a gypsy, was the husband of Mary Guy, also of the wandering tribe of Romany. He is now the "property" of the "other woman" who wanted him and had the money to buy him. The bill of sale was drawn up by a local attorney and is now a matter of record.

By the terms of the "sale," the "other woman" gave the former Mrs. Guy $5,000 in gold for Peter, and his bargaining ex-spouse retains the property the two jointly accumulated during their period of gypsy wedlock.

Apparently, Peter has been transferred thus before, for Mrs. Guy told the attorney who drew up the papers that she "paid $5,000 for him myself and I'm selling him cheap."

"Experience," Good Road Show, at the Liberty

"Experience," George V. Hobart's modern morality play, was shown last night at the Liberty theater and will be the attraction again tonight. This is a road show of eighty-two people, including some very pretty girls, and those who revel in a breath of outside air would do well to see it.

In ten spectacular episodes, "Experience" tells the love story of Youth (who is you, and I, and every man). It deals with his adventures from the time he leaves his home to follow Ambition into the great world, the temptations, the hindrances, the help and encouragement he finds in various walks of life, and finally his return home, to find that Love alone is true, of all the lures which he has met.

"Experience" is a cross-section of life itself. The characters, beautiful, revolting, amusing, disgusting, every kind, bear the names of virtues and emotions and attributes which we all possess to a greater or less degree. And when Youth, with his innocence, his ingenuousness and enthusiasm, falls a slave to beautiful Pleasure, is enraptured with Intoxication, capers madly with Excitement and pats the back of Wealth, who among us but recalls the enthusiasm of his own younger days, and drifts once more on rose-tinted clouds. Who of us, when fair weather friends passed Youth by, did not call to mind the disappointments of our own younger days? Who of us failed to recall the days when we longed to meet Sincere, (oh, you soft spot and gorgeous position of our youthful dreams)?

Mr. Gerald Rowan, as Youth, won the hearts of the audience. His voice, his manner, made real the thoughts and emotions of which we all are heir. His presentation of intoxication brought many a man happy memories of those happy days now gone—the "good old days." His eagerness to dare all in "The Corridors of Chance" and his despair in "The House of Last Resort" were typical of youth's exuberant reaction to surroundings. Experience, as Youth's companion, with his homely philosophy, added punch to many scenes. Grouch put over perhaps the best comedy of the play, except that of Youth himself. Patricia Carr, as Frailty, made the biggest hit among the women players. "Experience" will be shown again tonight. It's worth the money.

Women Are Abject Slaves in Africa

MRS. RUTH IS CONFIDENT THAT BABE WILL HANG UP MORE HOME RUN RECORDS

Babe Ruth and Mrs. Ruth snapped recently at Los Angeles. Ruth is showing his wife how he holds the ball in pitching.

There is no doubt, as far as Mrs. Babe Ruth is concerned, but what Babe Ruth will more than live up to the expectations of the Yankee owners and fans in general this coming campaign. She's sure that Babe's twenty-nine home runs last year weren't the result of a "flash." The Yanks paid the Red Sox $125,000 for Babe a few weeks ago.

four years spent in the Belgian Congo. A man's standing on the "dark continent" is based on the number of wives he has, Mr. Schlotter declared, adding that it is "considered dishonorable for a man to work."

Speaking of his experiences while in Africa, the missionary said: "The natives live entirely by superstition. Everything that happens is given some uncanny significance. If a party goes hunting and fails to bring in game, it is blamed on some one. If lightning strikes a tree, some innocent person is selected by the tribal medicine man as the cause of it and he is punished."

"The natives are absolutely groping in the darkness. They want to learn but don't know how. The influence of Christianity is going a long way to wipe out polygamy. Then, too, the Belgian government has started a system of taxation on wives that has done a great deal to diminish the evil of plural wives.

"The worst influence on the native African is the low class of white people in the large centers. The home life of the missionary in the country districts sets an example which the natives readily pattern. There are many natives who have been converted and they, too, set good examples for the others."

BIG SPORTS FEATURES PLAN FOR 1920 NOW

BY JACK VEIOCK.

International News Sporting Editor. NEW YORK—The sport schedule for 1920 has quite an international flavoring.

The outstanding feature in prospect is the Dempsey-Carpentier battle for the world's heavyweight championship, and when these two great fighters come together boxing fans of Europe and America will witness the first heavyweight scrap of international importance since Jim Corbett defeated Charley Mitchell at Jacksonville many years ago.

Yachting will come back to its place in the spotlight, too, for Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV., which already is being rigged for the America's cup races next July against either the Vanite or the Resolute, will soon be ready for the water.

The renewal of the Olympic games, to be held next summer at Antwerp, Belgium, will revive interest in athletics the world over, and competition for places on America's team will be keener than ever. Many of the country's best athletes in track and field sports are already in training to fight for places on the team that will represent this country, and Americans are confidently looking ahead to another glorious victory.

Bobby McLean, champion skater of the world, already is on his way to Christiania, Norway where on Feb. 7 and 8, he will meet Oscar Mathieson, Europe's champion skater, in a series of six races at distances ranging from 200 to 10,000 metres, for the world's title in each event and the international skating championship.

Word recently received from Boston indicates that America will be out for rowing honors next season. The Union Boat club of the Hub city is now making arrangements to send a crew to the Henley rowing regatta, which is to be revived on the Thames, London, June 20 to July 3.

Yale and Harvard will compete, it is reported, for the challenge cup now held by Harvard as a result of the victory of the Crimson's second crew in 1914, so that America's foremost collegiate crews will be seen in action against the best in England. The Union Boat club also plans to send individuals to the Henley to compete in the diamond sculls events.

The recent visit of the Yale hockey team to Canada has stirred up a movement for the formation of an international hockey league and it is expected that representatives of Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Dartmouth will confer shortly with hockey officials of the universities of Queens, McGill and Toronto regarding the formation of a seven-club league.

Golf will be internationally favored next summer, both on this and the European shores of the big pond.

Many British amateur and professional golfer as planning to visit America, while the same applies to the leading golfers over here. It is quite probable that when entries are checked up for the national amateur and open championships in America that a number of British and Scotch names will be seen on the list.

Henry J. Killilea, reported to be Ban Johnson's candidate for the chairmanship of the national commission, is a Milwaukee lawyer who has not been actively identified with baseball for a good many years, but who was active back in 1900.

Killilea and his brother, the late Matt Killilea, were the owners of the Milwaukee club when that city was a member of the American league. In 1902 the Killileas lost their Milwaukee franchise, which was transferred to St. Louis, but they continued in baseball as the backers of the Boston club. The following year, however, they sold out to General Taylor.

In the early days of the American league the Killilea brothers rendered valuable financial aid to the struggling young major.

Brief Texas Notes

ABILENE, Jan. 28.—Four days of frigid weather, accompanied by heavy snow and sleet falls, insures bumper grain and cotton crops in West Texas this year, says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which has data of many years' standing showing that wet winters make bountiful yields.

That the west is standing prominently in the eye of the nation as the wonderful agricultural belt of the southwest is indicated by the enormous tonnage of household goods and immigrant outfits which are moving hitherward. According to a report from Sweetwater recently thirty-four "zulus," emigrant outfit cars, were attached to one train westbound, all assigned to points in West Texas. Immigration during the spring of 1920 is expected to be as remarkable and as startling as the exodus in the summer of 1918.

PECOS, Jan. 28.—A special study of irrigation possibilities of the Pecos river in this section will be made shortly, according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The fruits of this investigation will be given to the press of the state through the daily press.

The Red Bluff irrigation project at the present time has the limelight since it offers a most auspicious location for a dam and an immense sweep of land for storage of waters. The Pecos river district has recently become known as the greatest section of Texas for irrigation development. To put these facts before the people is the purpose of the organization.

AUSTIN, Jan. 28.—The March number of the Monthly News Bulletin, R. H. Why Druggists Recommend Swamp-Root.

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do. Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Ranger Daily Times.—Adv.

CIVIC DISCRIMINATION.

The manner in which building regulations are enforced and building permits granted has caused a flood of criticism on the part of architects, contractors, plumbers and other citizens of this city. Charges of favoritism are heard, and members of one large firm here allege that they have been greatly handicapped and almost put out of business by unfair methods on the part of the city manager and the building inspector.

The regulations governing the thickness and build of brick structures and the rules pertaining to fire-proof buildings in the fire limits have been variously construed for the benefit or injury of various persons, it is charged.

These charges should be investigated and if proved true, steps should be taken to remedy the situation. Why certain persons in the fire limits are allowed to build sheet iron structures, while other persons with the material on the ground are refused a permit, is a question which seems to need explaining. This is only one of the numerous complaints which have come to the attention of the Times.

The architects, contractors and builders of a city, and the general public, have a right to impartial treatment. If they are not getting it, the remedy is not far to find.

EVEN AS THE BEDBUG!

Persistently fixed study of the radical, a condition for which he is responsible himself, has developed the interesting fact that he is a social parasite. His living he gets either from his dupes, stupefied by his fallacies, or from propagandists who seek to plunder the middle classes.

In their rhetorical bombarding of the capitalists they always picture them as rolling along the boulevard in expensive automobiles, this being the simile of the dry orators who all ways painted the liquor dealer riding in a costly carriage bought with the money spent for strong drink. Investigators, driven to close inspection by the great clamor and excitement of the hour, are beginning to observe what the disciples of the "Red" agitators have overlooked—that the servants of the altar of unrest are living off the worshippers at that altar.

In this connection it is a highly interesting contribution that one of these students of conditions, Thomas H. Dickinson, has made in an article written for the Review recently, his findings being based upon personal inquiries into the agitating class. He says:

"I have no record of any member of any of the more radical group raising his food for himself. Believers in 'direct action' with regard to man's accumulated stocks and organized institutions, they take no direct action with respect to nature. As summing some credit for courage in calling a spade a spade, they do no often use one. Much as he attacks capital, your radical reformer is all ways found where capital is. He takes his place in a great city or at a mine. He does not appear on the farms. I is a mistake to say that Bolshevists took Russia and Hungary. The Bolshevists took Petrograd and Budapest and held them just as long as the country behind could or would provide food. Your American Bolshevist lives in New York, Chicago or some other large city. He is as likely as not to belong to the leisure classes, whose income was long ago guaranteed, or to be an artist or a poet to whom 'society owes a living.'—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"THAT LITTLE GAME" --- "Razzing" the Host

Wins Prize for Best Reporting of an Address

Rev. Collins, pastor of the Presbyterian church, addressed the students of the Cooper school recently and a contest was held for the best reproduction of his lecture by the students. Murkle Mills, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mills and who is a student grade pupil, won this honor. Missie Bishop won second place.

Rev. Collins emphasized promptness and concentration, taught by discipline as being a requisite for success in any avocation or life.

The following is an extract of his talk and was composed by Miss Mills: Soldier. "Concentration is one of the most important things in the life of a school child. Many of us do not realize just why we fail in so many of our undertakings, but I feel that it was brought to us Friday when Mr. Collins, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city came through the mud to talk to the pupils of Cooper school.

In his address to us Mr. Collins brought out many points that helped us to be better soldiers, as he called us. He told us of the life of a real soldier in France, of how they had to make long, hard marches in all kinds of weather. Their feet blistered and sore; their guns heavy on their shoulders, yet on and on they trudged, never stopping only at the command of an officer.

"Of how they obeyed orders instantly. All these things and many more were brought to us in Mr. Collins' address and made us wish to be more like real military boys and girls.

"And the way to gain the place we wish in our school and go out in the big world, is to keep our minds on just what we are trying to do, and nothing else, and as the scriptures say, quoting from Mr. Collins, 'Whatever our hands findeth to do, do it with all thy might.' Keeping orders like the soldiers do; quickly and quietly we are bound to become strong boys and girls, and thorough in whatever we may take up as our life work."

A point to think of is that most any fellow can put 3 per cent of his gross sales in newspaper advertising and earn a 33 1/3 per cent increase. Let a Daily Times representative show you how to do this intelligently.

That which is not worth advertising is not worth buying.

A TEXAS MOTHER'S EXPERIENCE

Houston, Texas:—"After the advent of one of my babies, my health became very poor. I was nervous and so weak I could not do anything, could not eat or sleep and was nothing short of a physical wreck when a friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took several bottles but it was well worth it for it completely restored me to good health. My advice to women who suffer is to give 'Favorite Prescription' a trial, it will surely help them."—Mrs. E. L. BROWN, 2414 Freeman St.

San Antonio, Texas:—"After a serious illness, when my strength seemed as though it would not come back to me, I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic. I had seen it advertised and recommended so highly that I felt I could not go far astray. This medicine did all for me that could be desired. It restored me to perfect health and strength in a comparatively short time and I am just as strong and well as can be. 'Favorite Prescription' is a splendid tonic and builder for women and it is a pleasure to me to recommend it."—Mrs. HETTIE McLANE, 308 Bowie St.

Houston, Texas:—"When I had become all run-down, weak and nervous and was feeling miserable all the time I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It was only necessary for me to take two bottles to build me up in health and strength. 'Favorite Prescription' is an excellent tonic for women."—Mrs. F. E. GORE, 2615 N. Main.

Stars and Stripes Representative Is in the City

Teal Hite, formerly member of the United States Expeditionary Forces, Twenty-ninth Division, is in this city as a representative of the well known army newspaper, the Stars and Stripes. He has been appointed agent for North Texas and is empowered to appoint subsidiary agents in the several towns.

Mr. Hite states that the Stars and Stripes is still under the same management that it was while on the firing line. He wishes to assure service men that the old paper is still as independent and daring as ever. Mr. Hite will be in Ranger tomorrow. He is stationed at the post office corner on Main street and has on display charts and sample copies of the Stars and Stripes.

Denies Japs Are Seeking Mexico Oil Lands Now

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29.—Reports that Japanese interests are securing a large grant of petroleum lands of the Pacific coast of Mexico were denied yesterday by P. Elias Calles, former governor of Sonora, and now secretary for industry and labor. Calles declared that not a single Japanese had made application to his department for petroleum concessions but added that they would receive the same treatment given other foreigners.

AUSTIN, Jan. 29.—Governor Hobby today declined to discuss reports that Governor Robertson of Oklahoma may deputize as many men as necessary to carry out the orders of the Tillman county district court in the boundary dispute.

He said that orders given to Texas rangers when they were ordered to the oil fields were to preserve law and order in the district unchanged.

OLDEST FIREMAN IN U. S. WILL CONTINUE IN SERVICE

International News Service. LAWRENCE, Mass.—A member of the Lawrence fire department for sixty-five years and hale and hearty on his eighty-sixth birthday, Charles W. Foster, Lawrence's oldest fireman and incidentally oldest fireman in the United States as well, believes he will be able to "carry on" for many years as a fire fighter.

He was born in Leeds, Me., in 1834, and began his service in the Lawrence department as a torch boy and saw the evolution of the hand and steam engines up to their present state of perfection. He has seen service under seventeen different chiefs.

JOAN OF ARC BODICE FOR 1920 DANCING GIRL

LONDON.—The 1920 dancing girl will have a bodice like Joan of Arc. Dresses with long straight bodices of meshed silver stuff like steel coats of mail are appearing in London show windows.

So those who pretend to be fashionable will mimic the immortal French soldier girl. Frocks with these meshed corsets are arriving daily from Paris, where they are a riot.

London the idea is carried out in frocks for day wear. The material used to give the armor-like appearance is not heavy, but light and cool.

GERMANY ASKS LENIENCY OF THE ALLIES NOW

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—An indication of the government's growing concern over the extradition of Germans accused of war offenses is given in a note sent to the Allies Wednesday asking revision of the Versailles treaty.

The attempted assassination of Matthias Erzberger, minister of finance, Monday was viewed in official circles as the precursor of what likely is to happen on a larger scale if the government, yielding to the Allies, appeals to force in arresting the men on the lists submitted by the Allies.

GOTHAM SPIRITUALISTS SEEK MEDIUM WHO CAN RELAY SPIRIT MESSAGES International News Service. NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—New York is suffering from a psychic medium shortage, according to Dr. Hereward Carrington, writer on psychic topics. The present interest in psychic phenomena is turning so many hundreds to spiritualism that the demand for persons who can relay messages from the unseen world is many times greater than the supply. But mediumistic ability may be developed? Dr. Carrington says, by anyone. Ninety-eight per cent of so-called messages, however, he said, are merely the ramblings of the subconscious mind of the medium. He explained that mediums usually are drawn from an illiterate and mentally undeveloped class because highly organized mentality refuses free play to the subconscious mind. GROCERY STORE DESTROYED BY FIRE YESTERDAY

Fire, originating it is believed from a gas stove, completely destroyed the Peters Grocery, located on Pershing street, yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Nill Peters, proprietor of the store, had gone to the city for supplies, leaving a small gas stove in the rear end of the store burning. During his absence the gas pressure came on, and the supposition is, inflammable rods in the store were thereby ignited.

The flames were soon discovered and a messenger sent to notify fire headquarters, but by the time the department arrived the building and stock was a complete loss. It was thought for a time that the adjoining buildings would also be destroyed, but by the use of fire extinguishers and water they were saved. As near as could be ascertained, no insurance was carried.

WILL DISCUSS HIGHWAY ROUTE FROM THIS CITY

J. F. Driehof of the Chamber of Commerce good roads committee Wednesday was in Eastland in conference with Judge C. R. Starnes to arrange for a meeting of Ranger men with county highway officials on the routing of the road south from Ranger to Desdemona. At that time, attention of Judge Starnes will be called again to Ranger's provision for a thousand-tons of crushed rock a day, produced by the Thurber Products company. When he visited Ranger, the judge was shown the site had been made. The crusher will be in operation before the road-building program is under way.

Good roads were discussed from several other angles at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday. Mayor Hagaman expressed his confidence that the east and west road, the Bankhead highway, would be properly located, crossing the T. & P. tracks at Elm street and coming through the main business section of Ranger. The underpass at Elm street probably will be constructed with east divided between city, county and railroad company, according to the mayor's word from Chief Engineer Mitchell of the T. & P.

M. H. Smith suggested that the city, furnishing the bulk of the taxes for the road, particularly in this district, should have the first consideration in its location. The utility to the city, he said, was more important, in view of the share of the expense, than the items of cost and engineering recommendations.

WAR LESSONS TO AID MAN IN TIME OF PEACE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 29.—Lessons in plastic surgery learned in war are to be adapted to the needs of peace to the end that facial injuries received in accidents, industrial or otherwise, may be so treated that disfigurement may be reduced to a minimum or entirely eliminated.

One of the leaders in the movement is Dr. Y. H. Kazanjian, of the chair of oral surgery at Harvard Dental school. Dr. Kazanjian was a major in the first Harvard unit, and during the war restored the faces of hundreds of soldiers whose faces were partly shot away, whose jaws were shattered, whose noses were mutilated or whose tongues were paralyzed. He is now engaged in fitting the surgical methods he learned in war to the needs of peace.

In his laboratory, surrounded by plaster casts that illustrate the methods he uses, Dr. Kazanjian outlined some of the surgical principles and practices he follows:

"It was not I," he said, "nor was it my assistants. It was the great need of the times that evolved the technique which made it possible for injured men to speak again, to look something like they did before. Take the need, add patience and hope, and resourcefulness, and you have the ingredients that will bring the surgeon to success in most cases of shattered jaws, paralyzed tongues, noses shot away. Small credit is due the doctor when we consider the enormous need that made the new invention necessary.

"First of all, you have to see to the general health of the man. Perhaps the whole lower portion of his face is gone. You have to prevent hemorrhage, see that you keep him alive, and that he doesn't develop septicemia. Then you have to feed the man. You must remember that in most of these cases the patient, whether in war or in industrial accident, can neither eat nor speak. So a tube has to be let down his throat or inserted through his nose to provide liquid nourishment.

"First the oral surgeon has to see what the gunshot, or the automobile accident, or the pitiless factory machinery has left in the way of bone or tissue, to be patched together. Bring the shattered bones together or hold them together by mechanical appliances to prevent deformity. Then stitch or suture the parts into their original shape as nearly as you can.

"The majority of cases may be brought to decent shape in four or five weeks. When there has been loss of the lower jaw or part of the nose, or much tissue, you have your real difficulties."

OIL FIELDS OF TRINIDAD WILL SEE BIG BOOM

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Considerable attention has recently been drawn to Trinidad, British West Indies, in connection with the boom of oil throughout the world. Spectacular advances have marked the shares of companies listed in London interested in oil developments in Trinidad, and there seems now a rapid movement to organize new companies to drill for petroleum on this island, according to reports received by the department of commerce from the American consul there.

The leading companies have determined on a policy of further expansion, and in their keen competition for the purchase of lands thought to be oil bearing, the price for such lands has been as high as $500 per acre when indications of finding oil seemed especially favorable. This applies only to private lands, as all crown or government lands in the mineral oil districts have been covered long ago by concessions to British companies to explore, prospect and mine for petroleum.

The island of Trinidad has an area of 1,802 square miles, being almost the size of the State of Delaware. The petroleum indications are confined to the southern part of the island, and particularly along several more or less clearly defined anticlines which follow an approximately east to west course.

The Trinidad government receives royalties of ten per cent on the value of oil obtained from the crown lands, as well as an excise duty of eight cents per gallon on the oil produced in the colony or removed from a public warehouse. The local oil companies receive a fair measure of protection from outside competition, since, in addition to the excise tax, a duty of twelve cents per gallon is imposed on kerosene and other refined petroleum burning oils, and eight cents per gallon on motor spirits, including benzine, gasoline, naphtha and petrol spirits generally. In 1918 the imports of kerosene oil from the United States amounted to $128,774, and of other kinds of mineral oils $106,664.

SMOKING ROOM FOR WOMEN IN CHICAGO THEATRES

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—A Chicago theatre announced today that it had opened a smoking room for women.

"Women smoke more cigarettes than men," the manager said.

Wenzel Gains Eight Pounds Taking Orgatone

"I doctored and took medicine for five years trying to get rid of my troubles, but nothing seemed to do me good until I took Orgatone. After taking five bottles of this treatment I am now a well man and I have gained eight pounds and am still gaining."

The above statement was made a few days ago by F. Wenzel, one of the most popular barbers in Fort Worth and who resides at 3429 Avenue I, Polytechnic, Fort Worth, Texas. In relating his experience with Orgatone, Mr. Wenzel said:

"I think stomach trouble, which began five years ago, was the beginning of my bad health. All that time my digestion was so poor that it just seemed like I couldn't get enough to eat. However, after every meal I suffered with acute pains that put me in misery for hours. I fell off in weight and got weaker and weaker and I finally got so I felt tired and worn-out from the time I got out of bed in the morning until I retired at night and the worst of it was that I was so nervous I could hardly sleep after I had gone to bed. You can just imagine what a fix like this would do for a man in the barber business, but in spite of all I could do, no medicine or treatment seemed to help me. It just looked like there was nothing for me but to go ahead and bear it.

"Well, I admit I had read a lot about this Orgatone in the papers, but I never thought very much about it until one day I was talking to a friend of mine and he said to me, 'Look here, Wenzel, you go right to Renfro's and get a bottle of Orgatone. I'm sure it will do you a lot of good, for I took it myself and it helped me wonderfully.'"

"I ordered a bottle of Orgatone and began taking it. I have used five bottles in all and I don't feel like the same man. I have improved in every respect; I am much stronger and more energetic; I am no longer nervous. I sleep like a ton, my digestion is as sound as a gongar and I have gained eight pounds. I wouldn't be back like I was for anything in the world. I can eat heartily of anything I want now and it seems to agree with me perfectly. I certainly do recommend Orgatone heartily and sincerely after the great good five bottles of it have done for me."

Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Ranger by the Renfro Drug Company exclusively under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.
