One of the largest land deals that has been transacted in Ranger recently was the sale of the Pierson ranch at Plainview, Texas, to J. M. Gholson and M. H. Smith of this city. The property formerly was owned by A. H. Pierson, wealthy New York capitalist, who planned it for a summer home. The ranch comprises two sections of irrigated land and was bought for $180,000. It was bought solely as an investment and a manager will be appointed to take charge in the near future.

DEMOCRATS MAY FAVOR COMPROMISE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A letter from President Wilson renewing his objections to some features of the peace treaty reservations framed by the republican majority of the senate furnished the basis of an earnest discussion today in a conference of democratic senators called to consider what course the treaty's friends should pursue when it again comes before the senate next week.

The only decision reached was to co-operate in the parliamentary action necessary to re-open the question of ratification and to work for an acceptable compromise on reservations. Just what sort of compromise should be considered acceptable was debated in the light of varying interpretations of the president's letter, but there was no attempt to frame a definite reservation program. Striking directly at the republican reservation to Article 10 and various proposed substitutes, the president wrote that any reservation which said that "the United States assumed no obligation under such an article" would be likely to "chill" the relationships between this country and the other powers.

T. P. TRAIN DELIBERATELY DITCHED; 1 MAN KILLED

One man was killed and six or eight others, mainly negroes and Mexicans, were injured when the Oil Field Local was deliberately wrecked within two miles of the Ranger depot early this morning.

The train, which had already been delayed by a derailment at Cisco, left Ranger about 1:45 a. m. Near the Sinclair camp, suddenly a man, in full glare of the headlight, threw a switch and ran. With only three lengths to run, Engineer Smith was unable to stop the train. The engine took the switch, and smashed two boxcars to splinters, but did not overturn. The cars immediately behind were not so fortunate. The first three overturned, and the occupants were shaken up and bruised.

The engineer, N. Smith, and the fireman, B. A. Cannon, seeing a wreck was unavoidable, shut off the power and the fires, and went overboard, thereby escaping with only slight injuries. The dead man is unidentified. It is thought he was riding the blind baggage, and his body was horribly mangled.

PROSECUTOR OF SENATOR CLAIMS GAIN

GRAND RAPIDS, Feb. 7.—Truman Newberry received letters concerning the 1918 senatorial campaign from the Detroit headquarters and the manager of the campaign used Newberry's letter box when in New York, according to testimony given at the big election conspiracy trial here today.

The testimony came from Mrs. Annabelle Hamilton, one of the chiefs of the stenographic force of the Newberry senatorial campaign committee. The evidence was considered by the prosecution as one of the strongest links it has thus far forged in the chain by which it is thought to link the 123 defendants into a common purpose to violate federal election laws. It went unchallenged upon examination although other portions of Mrs. Hamilton's testimony were subjected to a heavy cross-examination of questions from Martin W. Littleton, one of the chief counsel for the defense.

AUSTIN, Feb. 7.—A local newspaper today declares that Ranger Captain Charles F. Stephens has forwarded to the state adjutant general a letter tendering his resignation, which the newspaper says is based on the ranger's inability to reconcile "my conception of duty as an officer with the adjutant general's conception of his authority over me."

The census enumerators in the territory near Ranger will start on their rounds on Monday. Mayor Hagaman has kindly donated one horse for their use and another is required. The Chamber of Commerce has been trying to obtain another mount, but as yet none has been placed at their disposal. As this will retard enumeration, it is earnestly requested that any one who has a riding horse available communicate with them immediately.

COL. SLOCUM WAS WARNED BEFORE RAID

EL PASO, Feb. 7.—Repeated warnings that Mexicans had planned to raid Columbus through New Mexico received so little credence by the commanding officers there that when the attack was made on March 9, 1916, no unusual precautions to prevent a surprise had been taken, witnesses today told the senate sub-committee investigating the Mexican situation.

Lee Riggs, a deputy customs collector, said he had been the interpreter when Col. H. J. Slocum, commanding the army post, sent a Mexican scout into Mexico to secure information concerning the movements of Villa's troops and he reported the night before the raid that a body of Mexicans was then marching on Columbus.

W. F. Murphy, a telegraph operator, testified that a message of warning from the American military headquarters at Douglas, Ariz., also had been sent to Colonel Slocum and other witnesses declared the knowledge that the raiders were a few miles south of Columbus was common.

Murphy told the committee that an Associated Press correspondent was so nearly convinced a raid would be attempted that he appeared in Columbus two or three days before and made arrangements for an extra telegraph operator to assist in the transmission of the story he expected to write.

The account of the raid as given by the different witnesses agreed in the statement that when the Mexicans did appear they met no opposition until much of their killing, looting and burning had been accomplished.

Judge E. L. Medler, who tried and convicted seven of the captured Mexicans, testified that urgent representations had been made to him by the attorney general of the United States not to proceed with the case on the grounds that they should not be tried in a civil court for murder since they were taken prisoners in connection with an invasion and because it might result in diplomatic complications with Mexico. The judge refused to halt the proceedings and seven of the men were condemned to death. Six were executed, the sentence of the seventh being changed to life imprisonment by the governor of the state.

R. R. WORKERS WAGE FIGHT TO CONTINUE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Wage increase negotiations between Director General Hines and representatives of the two million union railroad employes promised tonight to extend well into next week.

While no official view was expressed, it was understood several 'important differences' remain to be considered.

Some union officials were said to be chafing under the delay, having expressed a definite proposal yesterday. This, Mr. Hines was unable to do, because he could not complete the plan to be offered. The union leaders met again late today but still had not received the proposition, it was understood.

Many local unions have communicated with their representatives here urging that the continued high cost of living be kept persistently before the government officials. Some leaders, however, are reluctant to call up that argument continuously at this time because of the possibilities in the present situation of foreign exchange. This was declared.

These few believe a decided drop may come soon and they prefer to await the outcome of the new conditions.

ABILENE FAIR WILL ENLARGE PRESENT SCOPE

ABILENE, Feb. 7.—Answering the demand from other towns that the scope of the Central West Texas Fair be widened so as to include all West Texas, a mass meeting of citizens and fair stockholders here decided to double the capital stock of the association, subject to ratification of the shareholders, sell the additional $12,500 worth of stock and use the money to make the $1920 fair bigger than ever.

At the meeting $2,825 worth of stock was taken and a committee was named to sell the balance, which is expected to be done without difficulty. While the old capitalization is only $12,500, the fair association's property has a valuation of between $25,000 and $30,000.

Resignation of Franklin K. Lane Is No Surprise

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Wilson today accepted the resignation of Franklin K. Lane, for nearly seven years secretary of the interior department.

"After twenty-one years of public life he must now think of other duties," was the reason assigned by Mr. Lane for his withdrawal from the cabinet and in reply President Wilson wrote his hope "that your entire career will be as full of honorable success as your past."

Mr. Lane's resignation was submitted last Thursday, his letter shows, but it had been known for many weeks that he intended this action as soon as President Wilson could spare him from the cabinet. A successor to Mr. Lane has not been named yet.

INFLUENZA AGAIN SWEEPING WESTWARD

Warning the people that the influenza epidemic is again breaking out and that all possible precautions should be taken against the disease is now being issued by the Health Department in several cities and states. The reports show influenza is again sweeping westward and is already raging in some of the larger cities. Already there have been hundreds of deaths from this disease, and the ailments which follow it. The disease has been very baffling to the medical profession and health authorities frankly agree that all means of prevention should be taken.

Persons who are weak and run-down and have improper bowel action, who have not the strength to throw off the influenza germs, are the earliest victims. Those who catch cold easily or who are suffering from catarrhal trouble are also early victims, as the inflamed mucous membrane linings of the nose and throat are an open door to the germs. If you are suffering from any of these symptoms, nothing will build you up or fortify your system against an attack like Orgatone five-grain tablets which contain the best known property of a biliary antiseptic and are known as a solvent of cholesterol. These tablets have been accomplishing remarkable results during the present epidemic and thousands of people who are using them are enjoying the best of health.

Actual experience has shown that the best way to keep from taking influenza is to keep the system in good shape, as it is a well known fact that the powers of resistance of the human system can be so perfected that it can throw off almost any infection, not even excepting influenza, which is one of the most contagious diseases known.

The action of Orgatone five-grain tablets is to bring about a secretion of healthy bile, which prevents bile-stasis, as the flow of bile is stimulated so that antiseptic action ensues, calculi softened and excretion gland calculi concretions and mucus eliminated. Swelling is diminished and the infection which is usually present is antagonized. Relief is plain evidence as a result of the treatment, the skin and eyes become normal in appearance and in a short time the appetite and indigestion are improved and the soreness in the region of the gall bladder is entirely relieved. Orgatone is not only a true cholagogue by its direct action on the liver cells, but it is also used very extensively now with most excellent results in intestinal putrefaction or auto-intoxication conditions, as an intestinal antiseptic. By increasing the flow of bile, this bile always contains an excess of cholates, flowing continuously through the intestines, it prevents abnormal fermentative and putrefactive process in the bowels. In other words, they keep you physically fit and make you strong vigorous and well, and in this way fortify you against the disease germ.

Orgatone five-grain tablets are sold in Ranger by the Ranger Drug Company.

TEXAS.

Unconventional Musical Comedy.

Except for the one fact of its theme being a fairy tale extraction, "M. Sunshine Lady," Le Compte and Flesher's new musical comedy success coming to the Texas theatre tomorrow could lay claims to being the first of the awaited Argonauts in the sea of theatrical originality.

Fairy tales, however, are not new to the stage. Many of its greatest successes have come there on and the retty origin of "My Sunshine Lady" has been deliciously preserved. The action, chaotic to the extreme, never quite overcomes this flavor, so fittingly has Howard McKent Barnes put his yarn, and throughout the rollogue it is maintained and by the end of the last big scene, the finale, here "they all live happy ever after." But, aside from this underlying theme, it is in all other respects pioneer. Deftly tapping new vein of humor to freshen its comedy flow, and with unconventional introductions of the many characters in the scene and their novelty conceived relationships to each other, the author literally upset the whole business of playwrighting and from comparative obscurity he was overnight acclaimed for his marked individuality.

E. H. McClurkin, manager of the larger exchange of the Southwest Telegraph & Telephone company, is recovered from two weeks' illness and is again able to be at work.

GEISHAS ON STRIKE.

International News Service.
TOKIO.—The municipal amusement tax which Japanese town councils have imposed as a means of helping them to meet rising costs was responsible for a strike of geishas in the city of Sendai. The geishas, together with their "agents," the keepers of the geisha houses and the restaurant or tea-house proprietors, held a mass meeting in the public park and passed resolutions denouncing the city fathers and pledging themselves to go on strike until the tax was removed.
All the geisha houses and the restaurants which cater for the "geisha spree" trade have since been closed and the tax remains.

GIRL STOWAWAY, FOUND UNDER COAL BUNKER

International News Service.
NEW YORK.—The American steamer Muscooge, which has reached this port from Messina, brought an adventurous 18-year-old Italian girl as a stowaway who wanted to get to this country so bad she took this means of fulfilling her ambition.

She had rather a difficult time of it for ten days under one of the coal bunkers of the ship, after which she was discovered by one of the Muscooge's officers. The captain thereupon locked her up in a cabin and turned her over to the immigration authorities when the Muscooge docked. The girl has kept her name a secret. She will probably be sent back.

COMMUNISTS WANT SAME TREATMENT AS KAISER

THE HAGUE.—Citing Holland's refusal to surrender the ex-kaiser as a precedent, seven Dutch labor unions have adopted a joint resolution demanding from the government the same rights for Russian communist prisoners who are in jail in this country.

The resolutions contend that the Russian prisoners are "political refugees" in the same sense as the ex-kaiser.

EBERT GETS FURNISHINGS OF EX-KAISER'S YACHT

NEW GOLD DISCOVERY IN WALES CAUSES EXCITEMENT

International News Service.
LONDON.—Will Wales prove to be the great gold field of Great Britain? is the query that is agitating miners just now, following the discovery of another vein at the Clewan mines at Bontdu, near Barmouth, W.les.

New machinery has been hurried to the mine, and the foreman of the men received a gift of $50 while the miners received $25 each as a token of appreciation from the owners.

This is the second time that gold has been discovered in this mine, a vein having been made last August.

Godfrey Isaacs of Marconi wireless fame, is managing director of the mine, and it is stated that so far, gold to the value of $300,000 has been taken from it.

Before last August, the mine had been closed for over six years, but it is understood that this latest discovery will result in the mine taking a renewed lease on life.

FROM VAUDEVILLE TO MOVIES FOR JOSIE SEDGWICK

Josie Sedgwick, Goldwyn player, is one of the comparatively few in pictures who gained their entry by invitation. She was playing on the Orpheum circuit in the East in an act called "The Five Sedgwicks," composed of her mother, father, sister and brother, when she attracted the attention of a moving picture producer who asked her to play the lead in his next production. She came back to vaudeville, but the pleasant impression which studio work had made soon induced her to re-enter the screen world. Miss Sedgwick was then playing on the Pacific Coast, so she visited the film colony in Southern California. In some way the executives of the studio in which she was working learned that she was a Texas girl, so for a long time Miss Sedgwick was cast in nothing but western parts. She was born and raised in Galveston, Texas, and survived the flood of 1900 in spite of the fact that she can't swim. Josie Sedgwick will be seen at the Lamb theatre beginning Wednesday as Rose Hardy in the Will Rogers picture, "Jubilo."

SEMAPHORE AIDS FILM.

Signal System Helps in Filming of Climax of "The Invisible Band." Military tactics of the United States army were used during the filming of the spectacular climax of "The Invisible Band," Irene Castle's latest picture, in which an automobile plunges over a 400-foot waterfall. The picture will be shown at the Lone Star theatre tomorrow. Director Charles Maigne had five cameras stationed at various points to "shoot" the plunge. To his consternation he discovered that the roar of the waterfall prevented his voice from being heard by the cameramen. But the modern screen director is nothing if not resourceful. Remembering that three of the photographers had just been mustered out of the Signal Corps and were familiar with the semaphore signal code, he obtained three regular army non-commissioned officers from the training section of Cornell University. By means of the wig-wag signals the big scene was photographed in every phase.

EUGENE O'BRIEN HAS GOOD SUPPORT IN "SEALED HEARTS"

"Sealed Hearts," the second Selznick picture in which Eugene O'Brien is starring, will open at the Opera House Tuesday. Of noteworthy interest in this production is the brilliancy of the cast which supports this popular star, it being headed by Robert Edeson on the one side and on the feminine side by Lucille Stewart. Miss Stewart, it will be remembered, played a prominent role in "The Perfect Lover," which recently showed here.

PICTURE REVEALS DW ADROIT TONGUE CANUIN LIVES

How an adroitly of tongue can work the destruction many lives is demonstrated in a dramatic fashion by Vitagraph's new picture, "The Vengeance of Durand." The production, in which Alice Joyce sees the stellar role, will be shown at the Opera House on Saturday and Sunday. Armand Le Fan, villain of the photoplay, employ the evil tongue. With deft word of smile bestowed here and there, creature incites others to violent jealousy. The tremendous emotion produced in Henri Durand, an ardent Frenchman, brings about the dramatic climax of the play, a starling revenge. "The Vengeance of Durand" was adapted from the famous novel written by Rex Beach. It has its settings in Paris before the war.

GERALDINE FARRAR COMING TO THE LAMB THIS WEEK

Can you imagine yourself walking the picturesque streets of old Egypt; watching with awe the mysterious ritual celebrations of the Moslem hordes? Can you picture yourself on the trackless wastes of the Sahara at night, watching the beautiful yet tragic courtship of a superb American woman and a fascinating Arabian, the chief of a powerful desert tribe. But imagination can hardly convey to you the power, appeal and color of this desert wooing. See Geraldine Farrar supported by Lou Tellegen in her latest triumph, "Flame of the Desert." A revelation of pictorial magnificence. An intensely emotional picture. Coming to the Lamb.

Boxcar Thieves Take Whole Load Automobile Tires

In the police court Saturday morning one man was found guilty on charge of drunkenness and fined, another was fined $10 and costs for cruelty to animals and another with no visible means of livelihood was given a short sentence in the city jail. A box car loaded with automobile tires was raided some few miles from Ranger and the entire stock taken. One arrest has been made and it is expected that other men implicated will be taken within the next day or two.

International News Service. NEW YORK—Conductor Mortimer Scott of the I. R. T. has lost faith in the gratitude of mankind. When Scott reached the end of his run he noticed a package on one of the seats belonging to one of the departed passengers. Mortimer picked up the package and ran several blocks to catch up with the passenger. He was just about to hand over the package when he slipped on the icy sidewalk and fell. The package was smashed. Before Conductor Mortimer could regain his feet, the irate passenger belabored him with an umbrella and finally chased him all the way back to his car. Said package contained a quart bottle of Scotch.

POSITIVELY EVERYTHING ON SALE AS ADVERTISED

HOTEL THEODORE RECHRISTENED TITLE OF HANDSOME BUILDING LEASED BY THE TEXAS PACIFIC CO.

Ranger is promised an exclusive oilmen's and commercial travelers' hotel in the Hotel Theodore, into which the former office building of the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company will be converted. It is leased to Mrs. Mabel Wilson, through C. S. Heffern, for a period of three years. Workmen already are engaged in decorating the interior and starting the extensive work of remodeling.

"Hotel Theodore," as the new hostelry will be named, and as will be blazed in electric letters across Commerce street, is named in honor of the late ex-president, Theodore Roosevelt, whose portrait, in oils, will decorate a large space near the Commerce street entrance to the lobby.

The new hotel project does not mean that Mrs. Willson is postponing the opening of the new Wilson. Ranger's new first-class hotel, which will be opened July 1, according to present plans.

The Hotel Theodore will be finished throughout by L. D. Canfield of Albert Pick & Company of Chicago, who has established his headquarters in Ranger, at the present Wilson hotel, in the Republic Supply building. It will have sixty rooms, several with private baths.

The lobby will be finished in fumed oak and Carrara glass and the cafe, which will occupy a space of 40x50 feet, will be partitioned from the lobby. Pedestals, palms and ferns, above the partition, will ornament both lobby and cafe. The lobby will be furnished with wicker rockers and settees, upholstered in leather. The floor of cafe and lobby both may be used for dancing and Mrs. Willson plans to have orchestra music, not only at the house-warming with which the Theodore will be opened, but regularly at the dinner hour.

A commodious safe, 10x12, will protect the valuables which guests wish to leave there and a check room, on the main floor, will be run as in any metropolitan hotel.

A spacious parlor, on the second floor, will be furnished with old ivory wicker, cretonne upholstered. This will be the ladies' writing room. It will be lighted with shaded floor lamps. The writing desks will be wicker.

The furnishing of the rooms will be in keeping with the reputation Mrs. Willson has made as a hotel operator. Sample rooms, with every convenience, will be provided for traveling men, as well as private rooms for the transaction of all deals.

In front of the hotel, hickory chairs will invite the guests to comfort in pleasant weather.

The entire building will be remodeled. The roof, which was used as screened sleeping quarters when the building was occupied by the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company, may be made into a hotel roof garden. A garden, to make the place as attractive within as without, is planned, for the space at the side of the building.

The building which will be converted into the Hotel Theodore was one of the first substantial, creditable, three-story brick structures in Ranger, and was built to house the office force of the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company before that company concentrated its entire activities in its new camp on the Bobo property. The building is 50x80 feet in size.

With the house-warming, planned for March 1, Mrs. Willson invites the public to enjoy the lobby and the comforts of the new Hotel Theodore.

STERLING CO. TEST SHOWING SHALLOW OIL

An extract from a Sterling county paper states that the McCarley Oil association of the D. D. Parramore ranch in Sterling county has been tested and at 750 feet shows production of between fifteen and twenty-five barrels. This is said to be the most important development in the tier of counties along the Texas & Pacific railroad and overshadows the gas blow-out that occurred on Jan. 26 at the General Oil company's third test on the McDowell ranch in Glasscock county. No water was found in the stream where the gas was struck, around 1,460 feet, and oil men who have visited the well believe that production will be obtained further down.

Black Bros. stated Saturday that the General Oil company was sinking ten wells at the McDowell ranch and that strainers for all wells were ready for installation.

News hot off the forge of history in the making—in the Times.

TOMB-LIKE IN SILENCE, THEY STAND ALONE

OLDEN, Feb. 7.—Dead and alone they stand. Where once was life, and gaiety, and joy, nothing remains but silence like that of the tomb.

In the engulfing future that that once had pulsated life will fall into decay and return to dust. Dead and alone they stand, with their shrouds around them, nothing to keep them company but the scurrying mice, and the spirits of the life once so gay. Dead and alone they stand in perfect alignment, like the ghosts of a regiment of soldiers before the peaty gates. Sad, sad fate, the knife of the reformers went deep and Kelly pool is no more. The busy cues are laid away among the relics of a by-gone age. The click of ivory against ivory that once answered so sweetly to the tap of cue are nestled way in beds of cotton to stay.

King Kelly is dead.

CEMETERY HERE IS MUCH IN NEED OF ALTERATIONS

The Ranger cemetery, located four blocks northeast of the Texas & Pacific depot, is in a deplorable condition. Grass and weeds abound and the cemetery appears to have been made a dumping ground for tin cans and trash of various kinds. Many of the graves need re-mounting, a number of headstones need aligning, and, in fact, the whole plot is badly in need of a general overhauling and cleaning up.

Strangers passing by the cemetery wonder at its unkempt appearance. As a token of respect to the dead and to the living, steps should be taken to have the only burial ground in the city put in better condition.

Charles P. Ashcroft, who works in the C. O. D. window of the local post office, has offered to head a list of contributions to be used in improving the appearance of the cemetery.

"I haven't any relatives buried there," he stated, "and don't expect to have, but I think it is a reflection on the city to have the cemetery in such a shape. I will give $5.00 toward a fund for cleaning it up."

John E. Milford, of the Milford Furniture company, expressed the belief that it would take $7,000 to put the cemetery in first class shape, but that $250 expenditure would effect a great improvement.

Mr. Milford has requested to see the situation before the Chamber of Commerce at its next meeting.

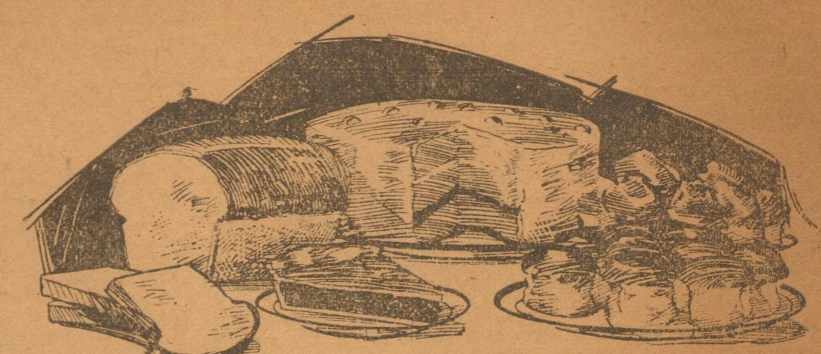

HUSBAND SO GOOD HE SEEMED IMPOSSIBLE

International News Service.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—"He was so good that he was impossible," was the reason given by Mrs. Angelique Reese of Yonkers for suing for a separation.

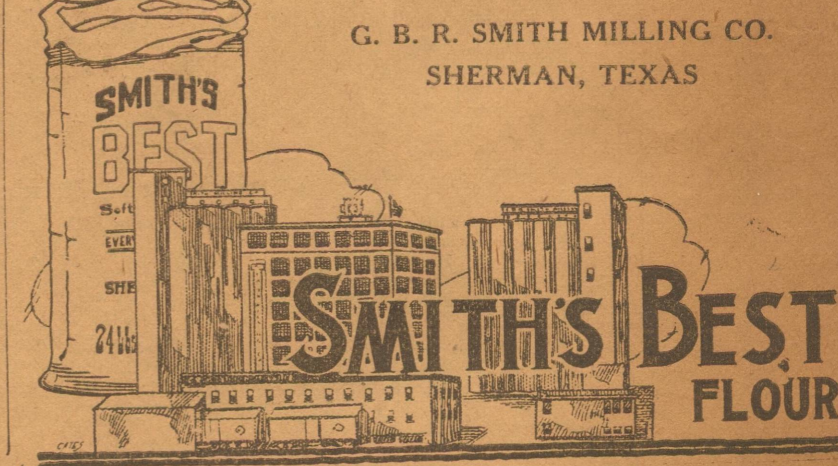

Mrs. Helen Grant testified in the supreme court here.

Richmond H. Reese testified that his wife left him two days after he told her that he had been rejected for a life insurance policy. He blamed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Hart, for most of his married troubles.

Smith's Best is scientifically milled to meet any need.

A highly developed flour, combining in one bag—at no greater cost than just ordinary flour—the cumulative result of the best that milling science has to offer. In every bag of SMITH'S BEST is concentrated the qualities required for BISCUIT, BREAD, CAKES, PASTRY or Particular Baking, with nothing left out that would add to the superiority of all. It is the summarized result of Successful Experience, Scientific Methods and close study of an "all-service" product.

With the continued good weather conditions, building operations are moving forward rapidly in all sections of the city. Duggan-Brown company, on West Main street, are making extensive improvements and additions to their truck service station. Their new brick front is about completed and interior improvements are progressing rapidly. The aim in these improvements is to make a first class service station for White Trucks.

Mr. Shouse, service manager for the Duggan-Brown company, has just returned from Dallas with a complete equipment for quick and satisfactory solution of all service problems. He has had several years' experience with the White Company and is at work on a system of keeping every truck in service at all times. In order to do this, complete assembled units are kept ready at all times. These include differentials and transmissions complete, wheels and cylinder blocks fitted with pistons and pins.

This is a service, the need of which has been felt keenly by truck owners in this section, where a great deal of heavy and difficult hauling has to be done as quickly as possible.

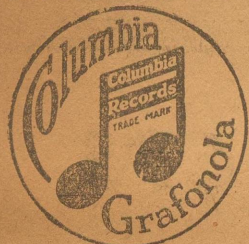

The service will be of great assistance to White truck owners and it will be the solution of their numerous difficulties.

CHILDREN IN CITY ARE HEALTHIEST, RECORDS SHOW

International News Service.
NEW YORK—Proof that city children are more healthy than their country cousins was obtained from a study of the health records of 500,000 youngsters by Dr. Thomas D. Wood, of Teachers' college, Columbia university.

"Forty-eight per cent of the country children have defective teeth; only 33 per cent of city children," Dr. Wood said. "Twenty-eight per cent of country children have had tonsillitis and 23 per cent adenoids, while urban figures are 16 per cent and 12 per cent, respectively.

"In ear defects country children are four times worse than children of the cities. Eye defects run 23 per cent for rural and 12 per cent for urban children, and 16 per cent of country children are improperly fed and undernourished; only 7 per cent of city children."

Weekly Metergram Wants Metric Plan

One of the most unique publications ever attempted is the Weekly Metergram, published at San Francisco by the World Trade Club of that city.

It is strictly a one-idea sheet, its announced purpose being to secure the universal adoption of the metric system of weights and measures.

The claim is advanced by the magazine that "200,000 men were needlessly killed and 400,000 needlessly wounded because of the delay caused by lack of metric standardization on the part of the United States and Great Britain in the world war." The theory is advanced that German agents in this country have for years fought the adoption of the metric system, knowing that its adoption would cause standardization of ammunition, machinery and implements of war.

Home Makers Are Investing Heavily in Furniture at E. B. REID'S

Present and future needs filled at low prices in February Clearance. Living and bedroom suites bought as fast as they go on the floor.

The furniture sells itself—and so quickly that it has caused us some embarrassment.

One man—who had probably never seen so many "sold" tags on goods before—bluntly told us Friday afternoon that it was impossible to sell so much furniture in one day. It isn't the first time that the people have marveled at the tremendous interest the public takes in E. B. Reid's merchandise events.

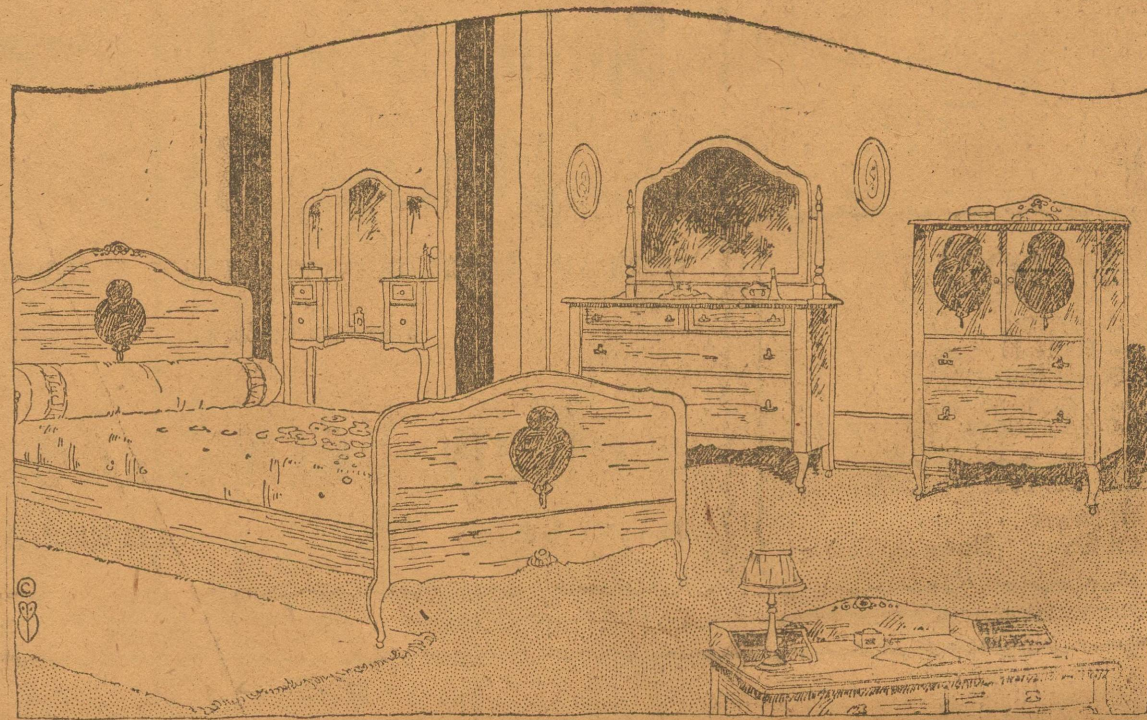

But it is apropos to state that as much furniture as the two floors will hold, conveniently, is on exhibit. Pieces and suites that are sold are removed as promptly as the delivery force can get them out. And new pieces and suits are brought in from the warehouses.

The men thus far have not been able to keep pace with the buying. And the secret of the BIG buying can be told in just seven words—

GOOD Furniture Plenty of It LOW Prices

We have told of the present condition of the furniture industry—of bare sample rooms at the factories—of the scarcity of lumber—of the high cost of plate glass and nails and upholsteries and leather. And we have told how we managed to assemble for the February Clearance more than $100,000 of Furniture—our kind—to sell at savings of 10 to 33 per cent. And that this collection includes every kind of home furniture for every room.

It is for you to decide what YOU want to do. The furniture is here.
