BILL SHAMBLIN ATTORNEYS ASK CASE QUASHED

EASTLAND, Feb. 11.—In the case of the State of Texas versus Bill Shamblin, charged with the murder of Albert Jordan, a policeman at Ranger last November, Burkett, Andersn & Orr of Eastland appeared for the defense and both sides announced ready for trial.

The first matter taken up was a motion by the defense that the indictment be quashed and set aside as being illegal and void, because the grand jury that returned the indictment was not legally empaneled, and because one of the grand jurors had not paid his poll tax for the years 1919 or 1918 and because no order appeared on the minutes of the court empaneling the jury commissioners that selected the grand jury at the November term of court, 1919, when the indictment in this case was returned.

The court overruled the motion to quash the indictment. Next the defendant presented a motion for continuance on the ground of absent witnesses, whose testimony would be material to the defense. Among the eye-witnesses alleged to be absent was Nell Shamblin, the wife of the defendant, who is alleged to be sick in Fort Worth and unable to attend the court.

The application for continuance also states that an eye-witness to the killing, J. R. Speice, is absent and his testimony is material to the defense, that he is in Fort Worth; that F. Frederick, an eye-witness to the killing, is absent and lives at Fort Worth; that J. S. Petty, Slim Payne and another unknown witness are absent and material witnesses for the defendant.

The court overruled the application for continuance and proceeded to the selection of the jury. When the court adjourned ten jurors had been selected from the special venire. The court ordered the sheriff to bring in others on the venire who were absent and at noon Tuesday the court was waiting for the absent jurors to show up in court. Considering the prevalence of sickness, the bad roads and the irregular trains, it may be said that the court made fine progress in the case the first day of the trial. It may be Thursday before the case is finished.

LITTLE HOPE TO HEAD OFF R. R. STRIKE

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 11. Officers of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees today professed to see little hope of action by the railroad administration at Washington that would avert the strike called for Feb. 17.

President Barker said that nothing that had happened since Tuesday has changed the attitude of the brotherhood officials, then declared to be that the strike would go into effect regardless of any governmental steps, short of granting the wage demands.

"No court injunction can stop the strike," he declared. "The strike order is out and the strike will take place unless Director General Hines meets our wage demands."

No wage agreements have been violated, the brotherhood leader said, as the demands upon which the strike order is based were first entered last July and renewed Dec. 30. The wage agreement contains a thirty day notice clause.

HINES ANSWER TODAY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Director General Hines will make his answer to the wage demands of 2,000,000 railroad workers on his own responsibility and from the standpoint of the railroad administration and will then report to the President, it was said today at the White House. President Wilson then will approve or disapprove of the decision. Herebefore the President generally has passed upon the wage decisions before the railroad administration, and before the answer was given to the representatives.

In view of the urgent demands of trainmen and the strike call issued by officers of the railroad unions, both railroad administration and White House officials regard the situation as extremely grave.

YEAR PROFITABLE FOR ALIENS; FILE INCOME TAX RETURNS

Aliens filing their income tax returns in New York.

America is now more than ever the land of opportunity for foreigners. Thousands of aliens in every large industrial city must file income tax returns this year, showing that they made good wages in 1919. New York tax officials report that an average of 3,000 aliens, planning to return to their native countries, file the returns each day in New York and the average day's returns total about $25,000.

those who love the beautiful in stage representation—but from the exceptional production and cast that has been given the production by the Famous Players-Lasky corporation.

In the search for those best suited to the many roles in the picture play, every effort was expended to secure those who were ideally suited to the parts. As a consequence, the happy choice of Violet Heming to play the title role, of Wanda Hawley as Beauty, Theodore Roberts as Wealth, Raymond Hatton as Flattery, Irving Cummings as Passion, Bebe Daniels as Vice—and so on. Those who recall the splendid work of these players in former Paramount-Artcraft pictures will also recall their special fitness for the parts assigned to them.

George H. Melford was chosen to direct the production and surrounded his production with the most sumptuous backgrounds; settings that reflect the skill of the artist and designer in a spectacular degree. The gowns in particular are a feature that will interest the feminine contingent—gowns that rival the most modern models from Paris or New York centers of fashion.

There is a beauty chorus of hundreds of girls wearing costumes that are said to be superior to any stage musical comedy or spectacular production that has been seen on Broadway.

The filming of the picture was done in California, where the massive sets were erected on the enormous studio stages. The especially attractive scenes include the banquet of Wealth, the court of King Love and the street scene in New York on New Year's Eve, etc.

The scene wherein "Everywoman" makes her debut in the theatre is a sumptuous one, and interesting from the point of view that the setting showing the production of an extravaganza was staged at the studio, the complete stage and other features being erected on one of the studio stages.

Beauty is the keynote of this production, which will appeal to every class because it combines the charm of thought analysis and deep symbolism with a human and modern story interpreted by real artists; it will enthrall the spectators along with "Everywoman" in her quest of Love—along those paths that many men and women must tread in their own search for happiness.

By Associated Press. JUAREZ, Mexico, Feb. 10.—Twenty-seven border permit cards were revoked by the American consulate here during December, 1919. Madlaine Traverse, who is noted for her "fetching" frocks both on and off the screen, dresses to perfection the part of Lady Marion Chatham, an English society woman, in her latest photoplay, "The Splendid Sin," a William Fox production in which she will be seen today at the Queen theatre.

Miss Traverse is possessed of consummate taste in dress, as well as that indescribable "style" that seems a natural talent. While she is noted as the best dressed actress on the screen, her dressing is always that of extreme refinement. She has made a study of dress with reference to her own person, to effective filming and, of course, to the character she portrays at the time. Always she makes a dress subordinate to her art as an actress.

LAMB, How Will Rogers Earned a Dog.

Will Rogers, who is starring in "Jubilo" at the Lamb theatre, is the owner of a genuine German police dog valued at one thousand dollars. He received the animal as a gift from Adolphus Busch, the multi-millionaire brewer, while he was playing in St. Louis with the last Ziegfeld Follies show. Mr. Rogers, in his roping and monologue act, gave much attention to the June prohibition law which was then a lowering cloud on the horizon. His humorous remarks made a hit with Mr. Busch and he invited the actor out to his estate. There he showed him about his kennel, and suggested that Mr. Rogers accept one of the police dogs as a play-fellow for his children. Shortly after the star's arrival at the Goldwyn studios in Culver City, a big crate arrived at the property room, addressed to Mr. Rogers and containing the teeming offspring of two of the most famous German police dogs in the country.

GRAND JURORS TAKE SLAM AT OPEN GAMBLING

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 11.—The grand jury today took the following report: District Judge, Eighty-eighth District, Texas.

The grand jury for the January term of the court, submit herewith the following report:

We have been in session twelve days and have returned seventy-seven bills of indictments.

We have examined 179 witnesses and have made as full an investigation of matters brought to our attention as has been possible under the existing circumstances, having been handicapped by the sickness of officers and witnesses.

We therefore recommend that the grand jury following us give such matters as we have been unable to investigate their special attention.

We also find that some city and precinct officers have been negligent in the matter of returning reports to the proper officials and we recommend,

That these city and precinct officers be required to return proper reports promptly according to the law governing such matters.

We also find that it is impossible for the grand jury to attend to all misdemeanor cases throughout the county and we therefore recommend,

That the various city and precinct officers heartily co-operate with the county officials in the suppression of such misdemeanors as may be committed in their cities and precincts.

We find that the most prevalent violations of law have been open gambling houses, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, forgery and the passing of bad checks; and having diligently investigated all such violations as were brought to our attention, we also recommend

That the following grand juries vigorously investigate such offenses:

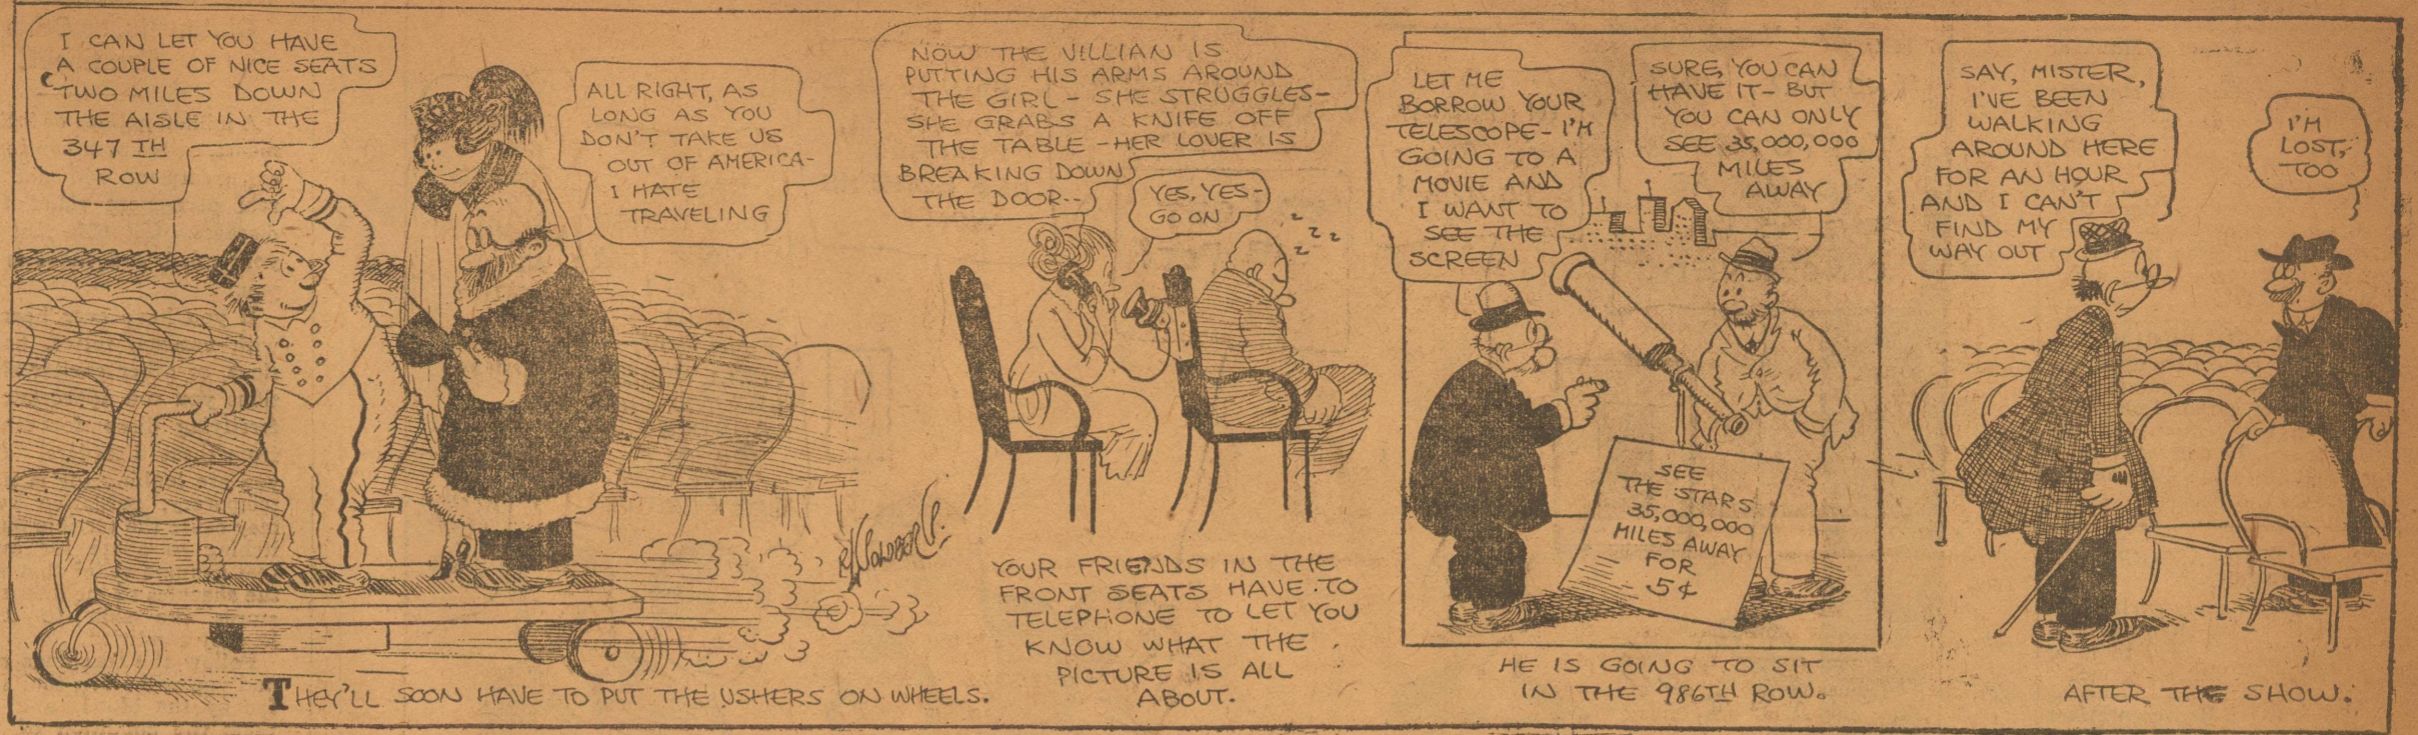

We also find that the various officers of this district court are doing faithful and effective work in the face of peculiar and unusual conditions.

Having done all the business we can do at this time we respectfully ask to be discharged.

Respectfully submitted,
REX C. OUTLAW,
 Foreman.

Walking Plank Sport Revived at Marston and Main

"Walking the Plank" was a favorite diversion among the devoted followers of Captain Kidd and other genial gentlemen who roved the seas in the good old days. Of course, the fun consisted in watching the other man walk the plank.

This sport is popular in Ranger since the last rainy day. A narrow plank spans the street at the intersection of Marston and Main, and a large crowd was assembled Wednesday, watching bold hearted individuals attempt to cross on the plank. Of course, the fun in this case consisted in seeing them fall off into a foot or two of mud.

Some were lucky—others not so lucky, as Bill Hart says.

BACK TO SANITY.

Most epigrams are lies, and the age old saying that a burnt child dreads the fire is open to qualification. Experience is one of the slowest teachers in the world. Humanity has constantly to relearn, at a terrible cost, what it has learned and forgotten dozens of times before.

During the war many writers professed to see a new era of brotherhood growing out of the trials and sufferings of the great conflict. They pointed to the closer ties established between the rich and the poor and between men generally; and there is no doubt that men forgot some of their differences and felt drawn together by the tie of common danger. But it would seem that this spirit of co-operation and unselfishness is already forgotten.

The teachings of Christ, the immortal principles laid down by the Great Teacher two thousand years ago are still calling a challenge. The query, "who is my neighbor?" still has the same answer.

There are those who seem unwilling to recognize this answer. There is reason for careful pause when we consider the food hoarder, the profiteer, the capitalist bent on exploiting the last penny within his grasp, the labor leader equally determined to rule or ruin—selfishness the motive and greed the end.

Political warfare was never fiercer than at present. The good of the nation is being threatened by the ambition for party gain.

An orgy of spending has possessed the newly-made moneyed class. So pronounced has this movement become that economists are shouting their warnings from the housetops, pointing to an inevitable crash which will follow the continuance of such folly.

More than ever before, the United States needs to return to its old way of thinking. The spirit which made an empire out of a wilderness is not the spirit which seems to have the whip hand now.

Hard work, moderate living, co-operation and helpfulness are needed today. These qualities are practised by many, but they seem to be forgotten by many others in a mad race for money and for power.

THE SLIM WAITRESS THEORY.

(St. Louis Times.)

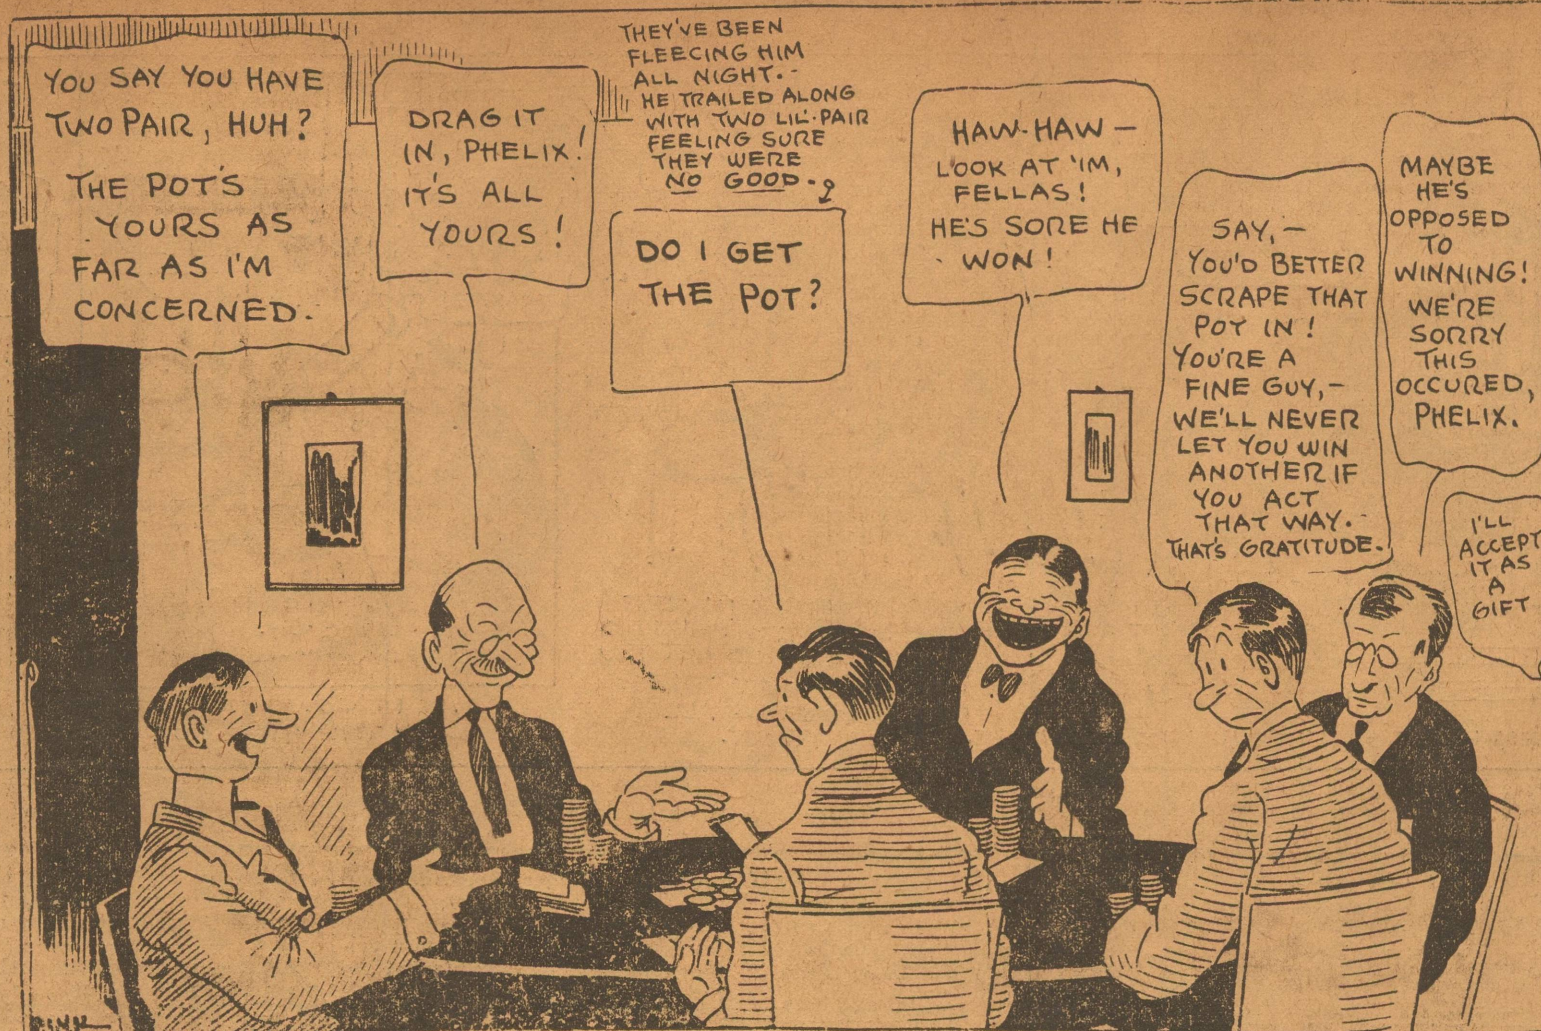

That Wisconsin restaurant man who wants "slim" waitresses because they take up less room has not discovered a new law of physics, nor of physiology. However, the remainder of his argument—which sets forth that "slim" girls do more work and show less foot weariness than any other kind—is open to question.

Avoidropis is not noted for slackness. The average heavy man or woman can be depended upon for a full day's work. Moreover, the task will be completed without the last hours being crowded with lamentations. As a rule, the fleshy individual is no complainer. If his bones ache or his feet are tardy in responding to his will, he cracks a joke and lets it go at that. Taking up more space than some other folk require is a charge the stout person cannot well refute; but that he does not make his locality known for its cheery atmosphere is never alleged against him.

Taking them as they go, slim waitresses may be better for restaurant than the more ample kind. For the general purposes of life, however, not much advantage is held by attenuation over widespreadness.

Big Value in Tires for Small Cars

Back of the manufacture of Goodyear Tires for small cars is the same purpose to supply high value in the product that is behind the manufacture of the Goodyear Tires that equip the most expensive automobiles built.

This purpose is expressed by the enormous resources, extraordinary skill and scrupulous care applied to the manufacture of Goodyear Tires in the largest tire factory in the world devoted solely to the 30x3-, 30x3 1/2-, and 31x4-inch sizes.

The effect of this endeavor is noted in the fact that last year more cars using these sizes were factory-equipped with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

It is also noted in the fact that, if you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car requiring the sizes mentioned, you can secure Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes at the nearest Goodyear Service Station.

30x3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread..... $20.00
30x3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread..... $17.65

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with a cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30x3 1/2 size in water- $3.90 proof bag.

SURE RELIEF FROM ITCHING SKIN DISEASES

Will Never Come From Salves, Ointments, or Other Local Treatment.

A million gallons of lotions, ointments, salves or other forms of local treatment will not give any real permanent relief from skin diseases. Get this fact firmly in your mind, and there is hope for you.

If you have ever been afflicted with eczema, tetter, boils, eruptions, or other similar skin irritations you can appreciate the real terrifying discomfort that comes from these disorders. And what you are looking for is not merely temporary, palliative relief that may cause the terrible burning and itching to abate for awhile, but real genuine relief that shakes off the shackles of the disease, and restores the skin to its former healthy condition.

Follow the teachings of science, and you will learn that the skin is affected by the blood, and naturally, vice, you can obtain same without then, the condition of your skin will depend upon the condition of your blood. If the blood becomes infested with millions of tiny disease germs that attack the skin, then the fiery irritation and intense itching will remain with you until these germs are attacked at their source and removed from the blood.

Genuine relief, therefore, can only be expected from a treatment that goes right to the seat of the trouble, and strikes at its cause. Such a remedy is S.S.S., the reliable old blood purifier that kills the germs of disease, and sends a new supply of rich red blood coursing through the veins.

S.S.S. has been used successfully in some of the worst cases of eczema and other skin disorders, and it can be relied upon to cleanse the blood thoroughly of the germs which cause these complaints. S.S.S. is also a splendid tonic and system-builder, and it builds up and adds new vigor to the whole system.

Go to your drug store and get a bottle of S.S.S. today, and begin the right treatment for skin diseases. Then if you feel that your case requires special medical advice, you can obtain same without cost, by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, 13 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

"Hinky Dink" Closes Up and Henna Sells Gum-Drops

International News Service.
CHICAGO—"Hinky Dink's" is closed up.

Scarcely recovered from the shock entailed by the advent of constitutional prohibition, bibulous Chicagoans were given another jolt that still has them dazed when the words quoted above flashed around the city. For the "little feller's place," as the famous barroom which Alderman Michael ("Hinky Dink") Kenna had operated for thirty years was known, was as such a Chicago institution as the stockyards or the "Bowl Mich."

The words was true, however, for "Hinky Dink's" saloon, called the "workingmen's exchange," is dark and the doors are barred. Not only that, and this, perhaps, is the crowning catastrophe, but "Hinky Dink's" swell buffet, a few doors up the street, where the famous alderman had his headquarters, is being converted into a candy shop.

Admitting that national prohibition has forced him to "take the count," "Hinky Dink" indulged in some reminiscences of his career as proprietor of a brace of Chicago's most famous barrooms. "The Exchange had the longest bar in the world, if I do say it myself," said Kenna, "and has had more distinguished visitors, in addition to hordes of 'bos,' than any other saloon on record. Every man of note who ever visited Chicago has come to the Exchange at least once in its twenty years of history. Why, the daily cost of the free lunch alone over there used to be $30 in the good old times, and we never used less than twenty-five hundred dollars worth of coffee and sundries to our genial clients and sunset to fill and shove the tallest and coolest in the city across the bar. It used to keep a small brewery busy supplying us."

"My other saloon—this one, where I have my office—I am changing into a candy shop."

He gazed sadly toward the black bar, now graced with rows of soft drink bottles and candy boxes. "I don't know how the boys will take to the chocolate drops and spearmint," he said, "but there's nothing left to do but this. The rent here is $500 a month, but I've got to have some place as a hang-out, and this will continue to be my office and headquarters, where I can meet my constituents and talk things over with them."

"I'm proud of the way I've run my saloon, if I say it myself. I've never permitted a woman to enter either place except for a charitable purpose or to sell some merchandise, and no woman can say that she ever bought a drink in a saloon I conducted."

"And I never allowed any music, with the exception of that furnished by a Victrola, which I bought to entertain my friends."

"I saw all this coming—this dry nation stuff. First, those fellows down in Washington began monkeying with the booze and then with the beer. Then I knew it was all off. I used to own some stock in a brewery, and at a directors' meeting I told the other directors that the United States would be gone dry within six years. They laughed, and I told them that if I said didn't come true, I'd eat the brewery, smokestack and all. I haven't had to eat it yet—and there's no use for it now, whatever. It's too bad the people of the whole country couldn't vote on the question."

"But we'll have to get used to the new order of things. This business isn't the only one that is changing. Take politics. I read in the paper recently that out of 11,000 Chicago election officials for the year 1920 nearly 700 are women. It's a changing world, sure enough."

But other famous Chicago bars besides "Hinky Dink" have hit the grid. There's "Old Quince No. 9," haunt of city hall and county politicians, which is now a Knights of Columbus employment agency for soldiers, sailors and marines; Righimer's, soon to become the site of a drug store, its Lucullan free lunch of hot roast beef and baked ham long a matter of dim legend; Stillson's, beloved of opiumers, a coffee shop; Moran's, on Randolph street, a doughnut grove; Dr. Lane's, a luncheon where they serve 'em sunny side up, and so forth and so on.

"And 'Hinky Dink' is going to sell candy. Need more be said?"

General Construction Company
Released of Contract to Finish
Half Block on Austin Street

The General Construction company Tuesday was released from its contract to pave the half block on Austin street between the McCleskey hotel and the new Guaranty State Bank building.

The commissioners decided that a petition from citizens of Ranger to stop the rattler used by a local riveting concern was beyond their jurisdiction. The residents will have to wait, they decided, until Ranger grows large enough to boast of a "sound zone."

The question arose before the city commission Tuesday afternoon as to whether or not the city should purchase as much chemical disinfectant during the coming year as for the preceding year, and whether a carload lot should be ordered at the present time. City Manager M. A. Turner showed that while a carload shipment would mean a saving of some hundreds of dollars to the city over the purchase of smaller lots, the present condition of the treasury would not entertain such an expenditure.

After discussion a motion to buy fifty-two barrels was passed.

In this connection the present sewerage system was discussed. The remark was made that the city of Ranger had spent $165,000 for a sewerage system and had received very little good. This, it was explained, was due to the fact that the citizens "not tried to profit by the installation of the sewer. At the present time the city has only 161 connections and there should be several hundred at least."

It was moved and carried that at least three new disposal plants be built in different sections of Ranger to care for some of the waste that the present city incinerator and dump are unable to handle.

The Janes Construction company was allowed 15 per cent on all piece work to be undertaken in the future and on that portion of their work not in the original contract now in progress. This increase will not apply to any portion of the original contract.

The commissioners decided that a petition from citizens of Ranger to stop the rattler used by a local riveting concern was beyond their jurisdiction. The residents will have to wait, they decided, until Ranger grows large enough to boast of a "sound zone."

MODERN MEAT MARKET OPENS IN FEW DAYS

Jameson's market, located at the corner of Austin and Walnut streets, will be open for business in a few days.

The building in which the new business is located was purchased by the Jamesons several months ago. It has undergone extensive remodeling, new doors and windows have been installed and the interior finished in white plaster.

The owners have installed their own ice plant and refrigerating system. Two huge iceboxes, having a capacity of two carloads of meat, have been put in, and the most sanitary and modern equipment installed throughout.

The market will handle only government inspected meat, importing it in carload lots from the Fort Worth packing houses. Mr. Jameson stated today, and will cater to both wholesale and retail trade.

The establishment has spared no expense in securing the best and most sanitary machinery and equipment, and the business will represent an investment of many thousands of dollars.

Failure of meat blocks to arrive has delayed the opening of the market, but Mr. Jameson expects to be able to open the first next week.

TOURISTS PAY
CASH TRIBUTE TO SOUTHWEST

Special to The Times.

EL PASO, Feb. 11.—Winter tourists in the southwest this year will leave $96,000,000 as their contribution to our genial climate and growing cities, says the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Figures obtained locally indicate that not less than 120,000 tourists are spending the winter in El Paso, San Antonio, Galveston and West Texas towns, and that this number will be increased to 150,000 before the present month is past.

Figuring that each of them spends on an average of $15 a day, and will remain forty days, the big sum of $96,000,000 is obtained.

The local hotels declare that the tourist "crop" this winter was twice that of last year. This has been the best season since 1917-18, say hotel men of the southwest.

At Ranger, Eastland and Cisco a great influx of northern people has been noticeable this month. The oil fields have been alluring in the summer, but they seem to have a pulling power also in the winter. Likewise a great number of northern and eastern people are visiting in Abilene and San Angelo, among the latter a group of wealthy business men, who have been deeply impressed with the outlook for business expansion and who may be reasonably expected to invest heavily there in the next few months.

El Paso hotels have been heavily taxed during the entire winter. Much of the tourist traffic has been attributed to the hope that Juarez might be visited occasionally to get ruffs of the liquid denied by enlightened Americans. However, El Paso has charms other than the fire liquid which has drawn many.

Another fact which has brought about a great flock of northern tourists is the modern hotels which have been built all over the southwest in the last twelve months. At present several millions are being spent for new hostleries which will be open in time for the 1920-21 "crop" of tourists anticipated.

AL HASTINGS
WILL BE HOST TO LEGIONERS

Members of the John Barnes post of the American Legion, after determining Jack Dempsey's status, or non-status, rather, as a service man in an enthusiastic debate last week, will take up the questions of quarters and other proposed steps for 1920 at Thursday's meeting, at the Baptist tabernacle, a half block north and a half block west of the postoffice.

After the meeting, the members of the legion will be the guests of Al Hastings, who was voted "mess sergeant" for this week's meeting, and will entertain at a smoker at the McCleskey cafe. Al promises surprises. Guests of honor of the legion this week will be Sergeant Major A. J. Davis, late of the Fifteenth Battalion, Australian Imperial Forces, a veteran of the fierce fighting on Gallipoli peninsula.

Interior decoration of the new First National Bank building is more than half completed. The interior is being finished in white plaster.

SAYS "EVERYWOMAN" TO DECIDE PUBLIC'S TASTE

Violet Heming, brilliant stage and screen star appearing in the elaborate picture version of "Everywoman," regards the success or failure of a large-scale artistic venture such as the filming of the famous morality play as a commentary upon the public taste in motion pictures.

"It's a lamentable fact," said Miss Heming recently, "that some of the picture pictures exploited by semi-suggestive advertising have packed theatres when the productions themselves were stupid and far from being up to their press notices even in their naughtiness. When a big, clean, beautiful product of art like 'Everywoman' comes along it deserves the support of every right-thinking movie patron. It's success will encourage producers to make more like it; its failure would be an indication to them that the public doesn't like pictures that have an uplifting influence on the screen. The temptation would be to return to the cheap, tawdry stuff that the right kind of advertising can get over big. However, the wonderful success with 'Everywoman' has made me a stage play shows what the public thinks of it. I am convinced that the screen version will be just as enthusiastically received."

Black-Draught a Family Medicine

Some Kind of Stomach Trouble With Cramps and Terrible Pains Made This Oklahoma Man's Life Miserable Until Black-Draught Relieved Him.

Chickasha, Okla.—Mrs. J. W. Walker recently said this: "We use Black-Draught as a family medicine and think it is the only liver medicine made. My husband makes it up and uses it as a tonic as well as a laxative. I use it for headache, sour stomach, a full heavy feeling after meals, which I suppose is indigestion, and it certainly does me a lot of good."

My husband had some kind of stomach trouble—we don't know just what. It would strike him just any time in the day and cramp or pain him just terribly bad. Someone told him how to make a tea of Black-Draught, which he did. It did him so much good, it removed the cause and cured him. Since then we have praised the Black-Draught to our friends, and gladly do so."

Seventy years of successful use has made Theford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member of the family at times needs the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and preventing or relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc.

Try Black-Draught. Sold by druggists.—Adv.

THE FIRST MEETING OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The first meeting of the League of Nations marked a new epoch in world affairs. A photograph of the historic meeting, January 16, is shown above. The session was held in the famous clock room of the French foreign office at P. 16. Seated at the table, left to right, facing the camera, are: Premier Venizelos of Greece (head resting on hand), Dr. Cunha of Brazil, M. Satsumi of Japan, Lord Curzon of England, Leon Bourgeois, president of the French senate and permanent chairman of the league; Ferraris of Italy, Paul Hymans of Belgium, and Guinones de Lion of Spain.

Since 1859 every DIEBOLD SAFE has preserved its priceless records intact against the ravages of the most severe conflagrations. Read what one of Ranger's citizens has to say regarding the great Ranger, Texas, fire last April:

The Wilson Hotel

Ranger, Texas, April 9, 1919. Hoera-Rosenthal Safe Co., 824 Monroe Street, Fort Worth, Texas. Gentlemen: I purchased through your Mr. Montgomery one of your Diebold Filing Safes No. 2039, equipped with lock boxes, which was used as a safety deposit box for my guests. On the night of April 6th, my Hotel was destroyed by fire that burned two city blocks, my place being located in the heart of the burnt district. My hotel was a two story frame building containing fifty rooms on the second floor and numerous offices and stores on the first floor. The heat was so intense that the dial on the safe was melted off and it was necessary to force the outer door open, which was done on the morning of the 9th, and I am glad to say that the contents of the safe were in perfect condition and the papers were not even scorched. I shall need another safe as soon as I am located and will want one similar to this. Yours truly, MRS. MABEL WILSON, Proprietress.

We carry the largest stock of Fire and Burglarproof Safes, Vault Doors and Safe Deposit Boxes in the entire Southwest, also complete office outfitters in wood and steel. We make a specialty of ONE-DAY EXPRESS SHIPMENT SERVICE to Ranger from our Fort Worth stock.

THE HYPNOTIC EYE OUGHT TO BE A GREAT HELP ALL AROUND

News Note—Prof. Europe emanates the story that the reason for the success of George Carpentier, European heavyweight champ, is the hypnotic power his manager, Desamps, wields in the fight confining Carpentier's opponent and thereby helping to subdue him. European telegraphists say Desamps, having control of Carpentier's mind, injures his personality against Carpentier's man. This "hypnotic eye" is credited with helping Georges to bring about the 78-second defeat of Joe Beckett. Carpentier knocked Beckett cold with a right to the jaw in the first round.

SANITARY CO. WOULD HANDLE ALL OR NONE

P. R. Hopkins, in charge of the Ranger incinerator and dump, stated before the mayor and board of commissioners at their regular weekly meeting Tuesday afternoon that he would not continue in his present capacity as regards the hauling of the garbage from local restaurants and other buildings unless certain alterations were made in his contract with the city.

He stated that the city was continuing to let other and smaller contracts to other parties to dispose of this same garbage. He said that these men were using it to feed their hogs with and that whenever they grew tired of the job or sold their stock the duties fell back on him. He would not be notified that the other man had quit work and would not attempt to haul off the garbage consequently it would pile up until conditions around the cafe or restaurant grew unbearable.

The request was made that his contract with the city of Ranger be changed so that he would either haul all the garbage or none of it. As one of the commissioners interested was not there, the request was laid on the table until the next weekly meeting.

ARE YOU TIRED, WEAK, NERVOUS AND WORRIED?

Do you "hate" to get up in the morning? Do you always feel tired out? Do you feel weak and nervous, but not sick enough to go to a doctor?

If your blood is healthy you should sleep peacefully and wake up in the morning bright and cheerful, thoroughly refreshed and full of energy for the day's work.

Science has proved that the body is only a collection of cells and that Nature requires twelve cell-salts to keep the cells of the body in perfect health.

It has been demonstrated that these cell-salts not only build, nourish and repair the cells, but govern the health and vitality of the tissue, nerve, blood, bone and brain, of which the cells are a part.

Exhaustive laboratory tests and the clinical experience of many years have demonstrated that the health of the human body depends entirely upon the Red Blood Cells which carry in their hemoglobin the oxygen that is absolutely essential to human life.

These cell-salts attract and retain the oxygen as it passes from the lungs into the blood, and by their presence in the cells repair, nourish, revitalize and maintain the vigor, vitality, health and energy of the cells, of the blood, tissues, nerves, veins, arteries, bones, muscles and brain.
