ROME, April 4.—News of the excution of Monsignor Constantine Butchkavitch, the Roman Catholic prelate by a Russian firing squad, aused a tremendous sensation at the atican. Up to the last minute Pope Pius was of the belief that the vicar general's life would be spared. The understanding in Vatican circles was that the death sentence would be postponed and later would be commuted to life imprisonment in exile. The Pope spared no effort to save the Catholic prelate's life. It had been expected the Russian authorities would heed the Vatican's appeal out of gratitude for what the latter did for the starving Russians in the fam-

All the world loves and re-

Every citizen of Ranger is keen for a Greater Ranger. Those who supported the candidates of the Citizens' Committee in the municipal election of yesterday and supporters of the Greater Ranger ticket were alike working for progress. None wanted and none now wants or expects to see Ranger take a backward step. All are looking forward to a better and greater community, to a loyal and united people, a law-abiding and harmonious city, to a period of peace, welfare and progress.

It was a clean and hard-fought battle. Few personalities were injected into the campaign. It was a contest between friends, some urging one candidate or set of candidates and some another, but all working for the same end-a Greater Ranger. There was no animosity during the campaign, and, since the people have declared their choice at the polls, the result of the election will be made unanimous. Issues come and go and each has its adherents. Those who are united for one issue today may be divided on another tomorrow. Differences should be and are but for a day; the heart of the people beats for higher ideals. Issues often are virtually identical and the people who think they are divided on them are merely looking at them from different viewpoints. The municipal campaign passed is an augury for a glowing future. It was clean and fair. It is human nature to hold divergent views; there must be competition to give a greater zest to life. But so long as the people are united in the basic principles of better living, better doing and continued progress they are moving along the right

The people of Ranger are united today for a Greater Ranger. The campaign differences of yesterday have vanished. Other differences will arise that may bring different line-ups and those who were united for one ticket yesterday may be divided on tickets of the future.

But at all times Greater Ranger will be the purpose sought. It will matter not what the ticket may be named or in what words the "party" platform principles are enunciated. The meaning is the same and the goal is the same, and the roads to be traveled, while seemingly apart from each other, go in the same direction and frequently are divided by a very narrow and almost invisible line. A Greater Ranger includes a law-abiding, peaceful, harmonious, clean and progressive community and that is what the people will work for, all together and each giving the best that can be given.

'BABE' RUTH

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, April 4 .-- Among

those great sport celebrities who have turned literatists, Babe Ruth, the swatter, is one of the most promi nent. The Bam is not only the high priced man playing ball, but he is the highest salaried man writing baseball, if his terms haven't been reduced since 1921.

Not only that, but the Babe on his 1921 rate for wordage is the highest priced writer in the world.

In the spring of 1921, when Ruth's name began to have commercial value, he was hired by a press association to describe after every home run just how he did it, what kind of a ball it was and all the exciting de-

He signed a contract for a flat sum of $1,000 with a bonus of $5 for every home run. The Bambino hit 54 homers and that ran his pay up to $1,270, and the Babe's only contribution all season to his editor was one Dear Al: wire on the first trip to Boston, which came to have such valuable trappings. An investigation showed that all the members of the band had similar spurs, and had owned them for generations. They were heirlooms of the tribe, and the owners had decided to part with them for the purpose of raising more money to engage in horse-trading on a larger scale than their depreciated paper marks made possible.

NO INDICTMENT RETURNED YET IN KNOX SLAYING

By Associated Press. HEMPHILL, April 3 .- The grand jury which has been expected to investigate the shooting to death of Hiram Knox, wealthy lumberman, at his home here on Nov. 26, 1922, recessed today until April 16 without returning any further bills. A few days ago the jury brought in indictments in a few minor cases.

Mrs. Lillian Knox, widow of the slain man, is under $5,000 bond in connection with the case.

DRINK PLENTY WATER AND TAKE GLASS OF SALTS BEFORE BREAKFAST OCCASIONALLY.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.-Ad-
