Big News If It Be True-- Tut Could Not Sleep

Papyrus Tells That Egyptian King Suffered From Insomnia But This Does Not Worry the Cruising Millionaires.

LONDON, April 7.—A piece of papyrus just translated by the British museum shows that King Tut-enkhamun suffered from insomnia. Responsibility for the pharaoh's ailment seems to have rested with certain hippopati, which made so much noise as they wallowed in the sacred lakes of Thebes that he found sleep impossible.

The papyrus tells of a quarrel the ancient monarch had with the owner of the beasts over whether the king's slumber should be sacrificed to their physical comfort. How the dispute was settled is not disclosed.

Holiday traffic during the English Easter season broke all records for the complicated and extensive transport system of greater London. Sixteen million passengers used the underground railways in the vacation period that began on Good Friday and continued throughout Easter Monday, otherwise designated as Bank Holiday.

Hamstead, the terminal for Hampstead Heath, whither all London goes for a breath of fresh air and a glass of red lemonade, naturally was the busiest station. On Easter Monday, five million passengers used the undergrounds, 24,000 more than were carried on the corresponding day last year. However, no one who could squeeze on one of the big red London buses thought of riding to the tubes, and more than 50,000 gallons of gasoline were consumed by these pleasure seekers.

London is gradually assuming its pre-war appearance, and almost the last of the historic places which have been closed to tourists have reopened.

Nearly 2,000 persons last Sunday re-discovered Kensington Palace, visiting Queen Victoria's nursery to inspect the solemn array of ancient toys.

The palace was closed in 1913 during the suffragette agitation, but throughout the war it was given over to hospital and storage purposes. This, the birth-place of Victoria and Queen Mary, was closed to the public, although Kensington Gardens in which the palace is situated have remained open.

Kensington's history dates to the time of William and Mary. Those monarchs built it as a convenient residence that would be far enough from Whitehall to escape the fog and smoke. However, the most cherished memories of the place are those of Victoria. On the mantle piece, for example, are the dumb-bells she used as a child, and in her bed-room are her toys which scarcely attract a passing glance from the youngsters who are taken to see them today.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SENDS INVITATION FOR OPEN MEETING

Hamilton Wright, former editor of The Times, and now publicity director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has been asked to come to Ranger next Thursday for the open meeting of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce.

In a letter to Mr. Wright, the Ranger chamber secretary, B. F. Bennett, said his organization would not take "no" for an answer.

Replies from the letters sent to chambers of commerce Friday, asking them to be represented at the meeting, are expected to be here by Monday.

Committee heads of the chamber will be called upon to give five-minute talks at the meeting. Mr. Bennett said.

FIND MONEY TO PAY THE BILLS SAYS GOVERNOR

Calls Legislature to Meet April 16 and Suggests Need of Some Revenue Measures.

AUSTIN, April 7.—The Thirty-eighth legislature was tonight formally called by Governor Neff to meet in special session at 9 o'clock Monday morning, April 16.

A prediction that the state treasury would show a deficit of approximately six million dollars unless sufficient revenue be immediately provided was made by the governor in his proclamation, which declared there were some real constructive measures that should be enacted.

Governor Neff will send a written message to the senate and house immediately upon their reconvening, recommending certain measures to meet the treasury deficiency, it was stated in official circles tonight.

The proclamation requests sufficient funds to properly maintain public schools, eleemosynary institutions and the Texas government; to make appropriations with available funds for the support of schools, departments and institutions; to invest the courts with authority for removal of officials convicted in court for having failed or refused to enforce laws; to pass laws making more effective the federal and state constitutions, prohibiting the sale, transportation and possession of intoxicating liquors, and to act on other "vital and constructive measures" as may be submitted by the governor.

DRY AGENTS SET UPON IN JERSEY CITY WHEN RAIDING LIQUOR STORE

NEW YORK, April 7.—Seizure of more than $1,000,000 worth of liquor in New York by prohibition agents, with the subsequent sensation of an attack on the dry raiding party which made another large seizure in Jersey City featured enforcement activities today.

Dry agents raided the feed store of Angelo Leori in Jersey City and were set upon by an angry mob. A small boy hurled a stone which precipitated a riot, and it was with difficulty that 40 police reserves armed with revolvers rescued the federal men from their difficulty. Liquor valued at several hundred thousand dollars was seized at this place.

Thousands of cases of champagne, liquors and wines valued at between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000 were taken by the federal agents from a warehouse on West Broadway.

"MILLION-DOLLAR" MAIL BANDIT STILL AT LARGE

ATLANTA, April 7.—Gerald Chapman, "million-dollar" mail bandit of New York, who was wounded after escaping from the federal penitentiary here, was recaptured and later escaped two times from the hospital in Athens, Ga., where he was receiving medical attention, is being well taken care of by his confederates, in the opinion of William J. Burns, director of the bureau of investigation, who believes that Chapman soon will be recaptured and that his confederates will be revealed, but he would not indicate whom he suspected.

Brick Highway to Eastland Now Complete; Viaduct Work Finished

It's completed. The short stretch of improvised roadway, one mile south of Ranger, which every motorist had to plow thru when it rained, because of the work being done on the viaduct, has now been abandoned. The workmen completed their labors in laying the brick at the Texas and Pacific railroad viaduct this week. It's a brick road all the way to Eastland now.

Smooth-surfaced, low graded and wide-curved, this portion of the Bankhead highway will be the liveliest for many miles east and west of Ranger. The brick pavement into Cisco is still incomplete. When it is done, this will make 19.4 miles of paving

"Sheik" Is Sought For Embezzlement; Had Many Loves

KANSAS CITY, April 7.—Graham Polk, 23, said to be the "sheik" of Excelsior Springs, Mo., was the object of a nationwide search tonight. He was a clerk in one of the leading hotels and is charged with the embezzlement of $1,600 of the hotel's funds.

Officers searching his effects uncovered a multitude of love letters from women in all sections of the country, some of which they believe may give them a clue to his whereabouts. More than 100 addresses of women, many of them married, in various parts of the country were carefully listed in Polk's directory. Several of these were listed as living in Kansas City, others in Los Angeles, Borden, N. J., and Trenton, N. J., in Chicago and also in Paul's Valley, Okla.

GOOD PRODUCER NORTHWEST OF RANGER IS IN

States Oil Brings in Well Flowing 625 Barrels Daily.

The States Oil corporation well on the Dooley tract approximately six miles northwest of Ranger, came in for 625 barrels of oil, according to advices yesterday.

The well produced at a depth of 3,420 feet and 15 feet in the sand. It is reported to be making 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

The Gulf Production company well, Kinnebrew No. 4, is flowing 720 barrels a day, gauge readings showed Saturday, reports from the field said. The well came in making 450 barrels and was increased to 720 barrels by a further drilling of 20 feet.

The Panhandle No. 1 in the Gray-Hightower tract, five miles southeast of Ranger, will have to be pumped because of a low gas pressure, it was said yesterday. No estimates on the well will be available before Monday or Tuesday, company officials said.

HARDING RETURNING TO WASHINGTON, REFRESHED

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 7.—His vacation ended, President Harding tonight turned towards Washington with his mind fresh to take up matters of state. The departure of the President from Augusta tonight brought to a close a vacation of five weeks for the chief executive, four weeks of which were spent in Florida and one in Augusta.

That the almost entire separation from official duties has benefited Mr. Harding is plainly seen. Moreover, Mrs. Harding is returning convalescing from her illness of last fall, which while slow in Washington during the winter, she has regained much of her former strength. This return to health by Mrs. Harding has been as much of a tonic to the President as the days spent in the sunshine of Florida.

The presidential party will arrive in Washington shortly after noon tomorrow and Mr. Harding will return to his desk in the executive offices Monday morning.

Late Voting Feature of Electing Trustees

Morning Apathy Followed By Afternoon Rush to Polls. School Board Ticket Chosen as Agreed to Previously.

Ranger voters swarmed to the polls late Saturday afternoon and evening to vote for four school trustees. The forenoon voting was light and marked by general apathy. In the late rush to vote a few citizens were disappointed while waiting their turn to vote. The polls closed promptly at 7 o'clock, leaving some unable to cast a ballot.

The ticket agreed upon by representatives of both sides of the political controversy won, although there was considerable scuffling.

The votes stood: Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, 561. Mrs. Grace Dreinhofer, 804. E. H. Mills, 561. Lee Williams, 816. Jack Jarvis, 451. Mrs. L. A. Vandervoort, 423.

The last two named were announced as candidates for the trusteeships but withdrew along with two other candidates following the peace meeting held at the offices of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, Friday. A few scattering votes were cast for several other candidates, C. A. Bobo, election judge, said.

A large crowd gathered in front of the Marston building to await the returns. The results were announced about 8:45 o'clock. The last minute rush to the polls swamped the judges and clerks and delayed the announcement of the results.

Mrs. Maddocks and Mr. Mills will succeed themselves on the board. The two new members, Mrs. Dreinhofer and Mr. Williams, take the places of Mr. Jarvis and T. O. Gray.

The other members of the board are M. H. Hagaman, president, and V. V. Cooper.

A strong effort to elect two of the candidates who had withdrawn was evident by the 500 or more votes cast for them, which was done by writing their names in.

CROP INSURANCE TO BE PROPOSED WHEN CONGRESS MEETS

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Crop insurance under which the farmer will be able to recover a reasonable part of his planting and cultivating expenditures in the event of his failure to make an average yield is on the non-partisan farm bloc program for passage in the next session of congress, provided a satisfactory plan can be carried out," Senator Smith, Democrat, North Carolina, said today.

A special subcommittee of the senate agricultural committee, of which Senator McNary of Oregon is chairman, and Senator Keyes, New Hampshire, and Senator Smith are members, decided today to begin hearing on the crop insurance the last week in April.

BLACKHANDS BLAMED FOR MURDER OF TWO WOMEN

NEW YORK, April 7.—That blackhands may be involved in the murder of Mrs. Irene Blandino and Miss Bessie McMahon on a lonely road at Dongan Hills, Staten Island, was the theory advanced today by the police after they learned that Mrs. Blandino's husband had been killed previously by a woman with whom he lived.

KU KLUX KLAN AFFAIRS IN HANDS OF COMMISSION

ATLANTA, April 7.—After a week of bitter bickering between supporters of William Joseph Simmons, emperor, and Dr. W. H. Evans, imperial wizard, the affairs of the Ku Klux Klan were placed in the hands of a committee of three men, to be administered by them pending the further orders of the court. Superior Judge E. B. Thomas in announcing his decision named Mr. Simmons, Mr. Evans and Mr. George, marshal of the municipal court, as members of the commission.

Three Mothers In At Finish of Novel Race

BRIGHTON, Eng., April 7.—Mrs. Lilly Groom of East Bourne, wheeling a perambulator, in which Ethel, her baby was riding, finished first in the 52-mile perambulator race from London, covering the distance in 12 hours and 20 minutes.

The race was followed by many spectators and thousands had gathered to see the finish of the race. She was followed later by two others, the next finishing in 14 hours and 23 minutes.

None of the women showed much exhaustion and all three babies appeared happy and contented. Several of the mothers became exhausted and dropped out by the roadside.

FIRST LEGAL EXECUTION IN CITY OF ALPINE

Harvey Hughes, Who Murdered His Companion on Freight Car, Is Hanged.

ALPINE, Texas, April 7.—Harvey Hughes, 22, of Detroit, was hanged here this morning for the murder of C. H. Rogers, member of a prominent Travis county family on Jan. 24, 1922. It was the first degree sentence by a jury and legal execution in Brewster county, the largest county in the state.

Hughes and Rogers were "tramp" traveling companions on a freight car going west. Rogers was found shot and badly beaten on its arrival here on the night of Jan. 24. He died soon afterwards. His watch and a few personal effects were recovered the next day with the arrest of Hughes. The prisoner claimed he shot Rogers in self-defense. He escaped from jail last November but was recaptured.

Rogers called for help when the train carrying Rogers and Hughes reached Alpine. His cries were heard and physicians were called. When informed by them that his condition was such that he could not live, Rogers replied: "It is hell to have a man shot in the back for $20."

CARLTON IS AMATEUR GOLF CHAMP OF TEXAS

GALVESTON, April 7.—O. F. (Ossie) Carlton of Houston won the state amateur golf championship in the annual tournament of the Texas Golf association here today, defeating Tom Cochran of Wichita Falls, three up and two to play.

Cochran's playing fell off badly this afternoon in comparison with his brilliant playing this morning when he lost to Carlton by the narrow margin of one up.

BODY OF MISSING OFFICER FOUND HIDDEN IN CAVE

SAN ANTONIO, April 7.—The discovery of the skeleton of Warren Richards Ruten, of the army engineer corps hidden in a deep cave on the Camp Bullis reservation, 30 miles north of San Antonio yesterday, bears out the murder theory of relatives advanced when the officer disappeared from his home here in February.

PRINCESS OF ITALY TO MARRY ITALIAN COUNT

Prefers Union of Love Than Coronet of Another Nation.

ROME, April 7.—No event since the bloodless fascist revolution that swept Premier Mussolini into power has so served to unite Italy and revive the intense flame of nationalism as the forthcoming marriage of Princess Yolanda of the reigning house of Savoy to Count Calvi de Bergolo.

While there are all the amenities due to a royal wedding, such as state functions, brilliant parties at the palace and by the diplomatic corps, Italians regard the marriage as an Italian love affair.

Yolanda, like Mary of England, is marrying a commoner, since counts are rare in Italy. Moreover she is marrying an Italian when royal precedent would give her hand to a member of a royal family of another nation. Fascism regards this as a gesture of triumph for its cause.

The princess signaled her approaching nuptials with an act of kindness that resulted in 2,000 working girls getting jobs. Her father, the king of Italy, gave 100,000 lire to the poor of Rome.

In many ways, Mr. and Mrs. Italian Citizen, if they are not too radical are being made to feel that they are having a part in the ceremony.

Sealy Man Found Guilty and Given Five Year Sentence

AUSTIN, April 7.—After less than two hours' deliberation, the jury that has been trying Foster Bell, charged with assault and battery, returned a verdict of guilty and assessed his punishment at five years in the penitentiary. His attorneys announced their intention to appeal the case immediately.

Mrs. Ella Bell, mother of the defendant, was with her son when the jury filed into the courtroom. Tears were seen to trickle down her cheeks when the foreman announced the verdict, which Bell received stoically and calmly.

Bell, who was charged with assault to murder growing out of the fatal shooting of four men at Sealy, in Austin county, last December, still faces two charges of murder.

CORNICE FALLS FROM HEIGHT INTO HOLIDAY CROWD, INJURING FOUR

CHICAGO, Ill., April 7.—Three girls and a man were injured here tonight when a section of cornice dropped from the eighth floor of the Singer building into a Saturday shopping crowd. Miss Minnie Bozell of Holland, Ill., was hit on the head and her skull fractured. Her condition is reported critical.

SUIT SETTLED OUT OF COURT

EASTLAND, April 7.—A suit filed in the county court at law by Mrs. Lucy Meadows Cox against the Magnolia Petroleum company for the loss of her husband and two children in an explosion in the blending plant of the company on Feb. 7, was settled today for $16,500.

"American Women," White-Masked, White-Robed, Parade in Dallas

DALLAS, April 7.—Several thousand white masked and white robed women silently paraded through the streets of Dallas tonight in which is believed to have been the first public demonstration of the Kamelia, the woman's auxiliary to the Ku Klux Klan.

Torches carried by the paraders threw a weird light over the women marching two abreast. Thousands of spectators lined the streets and at intervals burst into applause. Only one placard was carried and it bore the original name of the organization, "American Women."

United States colors, the Texas flag and a white flag in one corner of which appeared an orange cross on a black background, were the only symbols.

Leaders of the parade refused to say if it was the Kamelia organized out of the "American Women" by William Joseph Simmons, emperor of the Ku Klux Klan, and would not say whether their organization was an auxiliary of the Klan. "We are American Women," they said in reply to all questions.

Drilling In Oil Field South of Ranger

Shallow Pool Six Miles Distant Attracting Operators. By Its Promise of Potential Wealth.

The shallow field, six miles south of Ranger, is attracting much attention and oil men, drawn from many places by the tidings of the sensational Panhandle well, have visited the field. Operations are getting started on an extensive scale and soon numerous wells will be going down.

The Panhandle No. 2 on the north Gray-Hightower tract is now making over 400 barrels a day, at the beginning of its third week of production. It is only four feet in the sand and the total depth is 1,171 feet.

The Panhandle has moved materials on the ground to start the third well on the north Gray-Hightower tract and also has the rig built on the E. H. Webb tract for an offset to the big well.

Two wells, one a shallow well and the other a deep test, will be started at once on the 1,400-acre lease adjoining the south Gray-Hightower tract to the south. This lease is held by the Mook-Texas company, G. A. Davison, C. R. Starnes and Luther Davenport of Eastland and Mills Davenport and Garvin Chastain of Ranger. The lease consists of the 1,122-acre Sibley tract and the Williams and Casey tracts, comprising 256 acres.

That the shallow production extends considerably west of the Gray-Hightower tract is strongly indicated by the States Oil corporation's well on the J. R. (Bob) Wright tract, which is due west three and a half miles from the big shallow well. While the Wright well did not get oil at the shallow depth, it had a showing of gas between 1,010 and 1,034 feet, a stronger flow of gas at 1,146 to 1,177 and another and heavier gas flow at 1,445 to 1,477, estimated at from 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 feet through the 12 1/2-inch casing. A straight line from the Gray-Hightower shallow well to the Wright well is just below the old Brashler well, which has been producing since June, 1918, coming in as one of the heaviest gassers in the field and is still a gasser. It made oil for a good while, making as high as 400 barrels a day.

The Wright well is being observed with great interest, as it is a quarter of a mile south of the Fox well which came in as a wildcat a few weeks ago with 500 barrels production. The Wright is now down about 1,500 feet.

Huge Gusher Sought.

In the shallow field, the E. H. Webb tract is highly promising as it is between the Gray-Hightower north and south tracts. There is already one well on the Webb. The No. 1 Webb was drilled by the Panhandle in 1919. Huge gushers were being sought then and when the shallow sand was encountered, it was not thought worth while to stop. It was drilled to 3,130 feet and produced oil until last June. Then in January of this year it was cleaned out and drilled to 3,300 feet and is now making 40 barrels a day on the pump. The log of this well is more favorable than the No. 1 north of the Gray-Hightower which is making about 30 barrels a day as a shallow well.

The Webb well also demonstrates that there are three producing sands in the new pool—a shallow sand at around 1,200 feet, another at 3,130 and a third at 3,300. This feature should make development in this field extremely attractive because, when production declines in the shallow pay, the well can then be deepened to get the oil at the greater depths. The length of time that the Webb No. 1 produced shows that production is long-lived, at least at the 3,130 level.

New Wells Near Gorman.

The Gorman field leaped into the limelight by bringing five wells during the past week. Jerome McLestey brought in two 300-barrel producers, his No. 2 and No. 3 on the Dorman, which adjoins the Westmoreland on the south. The Magnolia brought in two wells on the Westmoreland—the No. 6 making 300 barrels and the No. 4 making 150 barrels. The Kelly Petroleum company—of which George Kelly, former oil editor of the Star-Telegram is president—brought in a 40 barrel well on the K. S. Duncan tract.

McLester should bring in his offset on the Woods to Tom Harrell's well on the Ross, within a day or two. The Magnolia has a 5,000,000-foot gasser at about 2,800 feet on the Eppler and will drill deeper. Other wells due in within a short time include Kirk & Brewer on the Warren, Kirpatrick and associates on the Boone, Kokomo Oil company on the Clements, and Brainerd Petroleum company on the Hale. In the Eastland field, the best completion of the week was the Gulf Production's Kinnebrew No. 4, which came in Thursday evening with a production of 500 barrels at 3,195 feet, only four feet in the sand. It will be drilled deeper and is expected to prove a thousand-barrel gusher. The Gulf's No. 3 on the Kinnebrew is making 500 barrels a day after being in for several weeks. Gulf's Caudle No. 4 is due in within a week. Their Dav-entport No. 4 is drilling at 1,300 feet and their Caudle No. 3 is down 1,060 feet. The Gulf has made a location for the Caudle No. 5.

Gordon Company Busy.
The Gordon Petroleum company is conducting extensive operations in the Lake Eastland area and north of Eastland. The Caudle No. 5 is drilling below 2,700 feet and the Caudle No. 6 is down 2,000 feet. The Caudle No. 7 is drilling at about 1,400 and the Caudle No. 8 has the rig built. The Ray No. 1 seven miles northwest of Eastland is spudding in. Colonel Gordon is also invading Smackover where his company has two 80-acre tracts and one 40-acre lease. Drilling of a well on one of the tracts should start within a few days.

In the Lake Eastland district, Root, Rhodes & Sykes are drilling at 2,350 feet on their Hill No. 4 and at 2,050 feet on their Hill No. 5. They have three producers on this tract now.

TOWN FOLKS

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Jones of Olive, N. M., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Simmons of Ranger, the parents of Mrs. Jones. Mr. Jones is foreman of the Arrow C ranch in New Mexico, owned by A. J. Ervin, a former resident of Eastland county.

THURBER AND OLDEN PLAY TODAY ON FORMER'S GROUNDS

Thurber baseball club will meet the Magnolia Petroleum company team today at Thurber. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock.

NEW PLAN FOR BUYING A FORD CAR ANNOUNCED

Leveille-Maher Motor Co. and Ranger Banks Will Supply Details.

"I will build a car for the multitude," Henry Ford is purported to have said back in 1913. He built the cheapest car on the market and he is now the first auto maker to come forward and announce what is described as the "most reasonable purchase plan" for automobiles ever advertised.

An announcement today by the Leveille-Maher Motor company and the Ranger State and Peoples State bank carries full details of the purchase plan. Under the plan as announced in advertisements a lucky purchaser can begin with making an initial deposit of $5 at either one of the two banks. He is expected to make weekly deposits on which interest will be computed at the regular savings rate of the bank. The purchaser can make his choice of the type of car he wishes—touring, roadster, coupe or sedan.

Officials of the banks and the Ranger Ford agency will explain further details of the purchase plans, it was announced.

A telegram from the Ford Motor company of Dallas, Friday, declared dealers of the Dallas territory spoke enthusiastically of the reception the unusual announcement is making. It also said: "Practically all big banks are co-operating."

NOTICE.

To my many friends who insisted upon writing my name on the ballot, I wish to thank you for your kind consideration, but I announced thru the press Friday afternoon that I had withdrawn my candidacy for the best interest of the schools. During the past two years I have tried to work for the best interest of the schools and as a trustee I appreciate the cooperation that has been given me by the other trustees and my friends. (Signed) JACK JARVIS. (Advertisement)

MRS. WHITE GOES ON JOURNEY TO MEXICO

Mrs. Janie White is accompanying her son, Dr. H. D. White, director of a hospital at Monterey, Mexico, to that country. They left today. Mrs. White is making the trip for her health and will be gone for several months.

BUY IT IN RANGER

TIFFIN

The Parent-Teachers' association of Tiffin met Friday afternoon promptly at 4 o'clock at Tiffin school-house.

Mr. Elliott reported that the new see-saws would be ready by next Monday for the children's enjoyment. The ladies agreed to meet Tuesday afternoon and paint the benches in the auditorium. Several hundred trees on the school ground have been whitewashed, adding much to the appearance of the school grounds.

Mr. Elliott was voted authority to order or buy slides, in order to have them here in time for the picnic planned for May 5.

Motion made and passed to change lunch day from Thursday back to Wednesday of each week.

Group No. 2 is requested to furnish sandwiches, candy or 25c to buy fresh meat and bread for next Wednesday's hot lunch sale.

The names of the group are: Mmes. J. F. Cleveland, Ruth Flahe, W. R. Jarvis, E. O. Elliott, M. N. Parrish, J. A. Hodges, E. M. Moore, D. H. Boyd, T. T. Akers and A. W. Summers.

BIG NEWS IF—

800 wealthy American tourists sailed from Southampton today for New York on the last lap of what the English press has heralded variously as "the world's most luxurious yachting party," "the cruise of the wealthy six hundred," and "the flight from prohibition."

The newspapers, suffering from a dearth of news over Easter, gave grandiloquent descriptions of the wealthy globe-trotters, calling them all millionaires. It was said each tourist spent on an average of $5,000 on the trip, while $20,000 was said to have been left in London as the price of souvenirs acquired during the last four days of the sight-seeing trip here.

Many anonymous interviews with members of the party have been printed. Tourists were credited with lengthy statements to the effect that prohibition stimulates travel and the Morning Post quoted one woman passenger as stating that the eighteenth amendment explained the presence of 75 per cent of the Mauretania's party.

The passengers collected souvenirs with the abandon of sailormen and when the liner departed today her cabins were crammed with trophies of the East, including everything from Tutenkhamun scarabs, Luxor baskets, Madeira canaries, costly exotic perfumes, Turkish rugs and amber beads to Persian gowns and jewels from London.

FRAUD ORDER WILL BE USED AGAINST INDICTED OIL CO.'S AND PERSONS

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, April 7.—Henry Zweifel, United States district attorney, this afternoon declared the government would be required to use a fraud order against oil companies, or individuals when the situation demands it in the investigation now in progress.

Fifty-four cases are now in progress and just as soon as the information can be gathered and citations completed, the request will be made to the government to use the fraud order, he said.

The grand jury is now in session. Evidence is being presented to the jury by the United States district attorney's office. "There is enough work under investigation to last 12 months," he said. "Some 200 cases are being probed by the attorney general's office. The investigation will include my entire district, including Wichita Falls and Dallas."

OIL WELL STOPS TRAINS PASSING

By Associated Press.

TULSA, Okla., April 7.—An oil and gas well broke loose today at Bristow, alongside the right-of-way of the Frisco railway and stopped train service for several hours. The well is making about 1,000 barrels of oil daily and spewing about 8,000,000 cubic feet of gas and a high wind blew the oil and gas across the track, making it dangerous for the trains to pass. Several passengers were held up until the well was brought under control.

BODY OF MURDERED WOMAN IS IDENTIFIED

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The body of the woman found murdered alongside the body of Mrs. Blandino on Staten Island several days ago and who was said to be Mrs. McMahon of Utica, N. Y., has been identified by the Bayonne, N. J., police as Miss Ethel Phillips, 17, who disappeared from her home two weeks ago.

Blandino and his assistant, Rosairo de Lorenzo, are held on charges of homicide and unable to furnish $25,000 bail each are being held in jail.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY SWAMPS RICE IN TRACK MEET

AUSTIN, April 7.—Clyde Littlefield, Longhorn track star, routed the Rice institute Owls of Houston today in the first conference meet of the season, 101 to 15. Rice took only two firsts and two seconds in the meet.

Reed of Texas, running the half mile race, broke the conference record by about three seconds. His time was 1:56.4. Until this record was made it was 1:59.2, made by a Baylor athlete.

CARRIERS WILL SPEND BIG SUM FOR EQUIPMENT

Improvements and additions in 1923 to Cost Above $700,000,000.

CHICAGO, April 7. — Returns from one-third of the mileage in the United States indicate that the railroads will spend more than $700,000,000 for improvements and additions during 1923, according to the Railway Age in its annual report on railroad conditions.

Twenty-seven railroads operating an aggregate of 95,000 miles, or approximately one-third of the total mileage of the country, will spend something more than $350,000 for improvements to roadway and structures, and for new equipment, says the report.

"It may be assumed," the report adds, "that an equal amount will be spent by the remaining two-thirds of the railroads. The significance of this is in the fact that in only one year, 1917, during the last 10, have the records of the interstate commerce commission shown an increase in investment in road and equipment of this amount."

"This money will go for new lines, for second tracks, new yards and terminals, freight and passenger stations, shops and shop equipment, signaling, cars and locomotives, and other facilities that make up railroad equipment."

"Large as this amount seems, it includes only those expenditures which have been definitely approved. Many other projects will be undertaken during the year, and their total will add much to the amount."

Locomotives ordered during 1922 for service in the United States totals 2,600, according to the Railway Age's statistics. This is more than 10 times the figures reported in 1921. Freight cars ordered during 1922 were 180,154, the largest total in any year since 1912.

The most active roads thus far in approving equipment expenditures for 1923 are the Pennsylvania, with $55,000,000; the New York Central, which carried over for 1923 $29,000,000 of an appropriation of $50,000,000 in 1922, and the Louisville & Nashville, which carried over $20,000,000 of appropriations for use this year out of the $26,900,000 appropriated late in 1922.

The Illinois Central also has an improvement program on to the extent of $42,000,000, and the Norfolk & Western of $32,000,000.

The Union Pacific is listed as having approved expenditures for 1923 amounting to $20,000,000.

The report states that a large part of these appropriations will go to terminal facilities, as "these have been regarded as the limiting factor in fixing the capacity of the railroad. It is here that congestion first develops and becomes most pronounced."

Studebaker Wins South America's Racing Classic

A Studebaker Special-Six, driven by William T. Burke, won the Gran Premio of Argentina—South America's most important race of the year—against a field which included some of the world's highest priced cars. This race is an annual event held under the auspices of the Argentine Automobile club. This is the second year in succession that Studebaker has raced to victory in the Gran Premio.

The distance was from Buenos Aires to Rosario and return—about 470 miles—and the winner's time, 10 hours, 45 minutes and 35 seconds. Twenty-six cars were entered in the race, including those of the following makes: Studebaker, Packard, Lincoln, Hispan-Suiza, Hudson, Buick, Lancia, Chandler and Paige. Because of bad roads, only 10 of the 26 entrants finished, four of which were Studebakers. A Lincoln driven by Pedro Malgor, came in second, time 10 hours, 47 minutes, 29 seconds. A Studebaker Light-Six, driven by Paris Gianni, was a close third, time 10 hours, 48 minutes, 35 seconds.

The race is far more than a test of speed—it is a test of sturdy construction and endurance, especially under such driving conditions as were encountered this year. The service to which the cars were subjected was greater than months of ordinary driving.

Cowgirl Rodeo Star Who Will Compete in Pageant Near Iowa Park

FLORENCE HUGHES, NERVY TRICK RIDER, WHO CLAIMS MORAN AS HER HOME

Special to the Times.

IOWA PARK, Texas, April 7.—Florence Hughes, noted cowgirl rodeo star, has signed to enter the cowgirl bronc riding and trick riding contests of the Triangle ranch rodeo and pageant of progress which will be staged on Tom L. Burnett's ranch, seven miles west of this city, on April 19 to 22.

The affair is in celebration of the great Wichita Valley irrigation project which when completed will place under irrigation approximately 250,000 acres.

The entry of Miss Hughes into the rodeo events will make the outcome of these events in doubt as to winners as she is said to be one of the most fearless bronc riders and one of the cleverest trick riders in America and she will have as her opponents in these events such noted stars as Beatrice Kirnan, of the Triangle ranch; Mabel Strickland of Fort Worth, who won the Hotel McAlpin trophy at the great frontier days at Cheyenne,

Wyo., last summer and a score of other noted cowgirl bronc and trick riders including Fox Hastings of Pendleton, Ore., and Ruth Roach of Fort Worth.

Miss Hughes will be backed by a large delegation from the vicinity of Moran, and West Texas, where she is known and admired as one of America's greatest little horsewomen.

Two Estranged Daughters Cut Off With $5 Each To Buy Literature On "Deception To Their Parents"

Special to the Times.

DENVER, Colo., April 7.—The two daughters of the late John S.

Jumbus; Antonio Rodriguez, Durango, Mexico, and C. C. Wright, El Paso.

Among the best 10 per cent: R. M. Baker, San Antonio; J. B. Goldtharp; Frank Kurz, Ennis; C. P. Reming; C. C. Simmons, Denton, and H. D. Wilde, Tampico, Mexico.

Among the best 11 per cent: Brandon Bryan, Beaumont; J. C. Hall, Woodsboro; J. T. Humphries, Oakwood; C. A. Johnson, Tyler; C. H. Linder, Austin, and Josephine Price, Alice.

Among the best 12 per cent: W. W. Alsop, Austin; J. W. Knudson, McAllen; J. F. Bueez, Laredo; P. W. Clark, Austin, and Martha F. Doak, Austin.

Broughton, president of the Colonial Amusement company, are cut off in his will with bequests of $5 each, which the will directs shall be used "to purchase literature on deception and untruthfulness to parents."

The will, which is declared by attorneys to be unique in the annals of the local probate court, further provides that a $5 bequest shall be paid George W. Greber of Cleveland—Broughton's former business partner—"to purchase literature regarding ingratitude and perfidy to one's partner." Still another $5 bequest is made to Charles H. Eichorn of Cleveland "to purchase a medal for him for his kindness in advising our daughters as he did, for although he could not live in harmony with his own father, yet he could tell others how to act toward their father and anyone can see the result."

The will is a joint will of Broughton and his wife, Frances E. Broughton, and was drawn just before they started on a trip around the world, which was interrupted at Yokohama, when Broughton was stricken with paralysis. As it provides that in the event of the death of one of the parties the entire estate—valued at $150,000—shall go to the other, the various bequests, including the $5 "vengeance bequests," will not become operative until the death of Mrs. Broughton.

The Waco public library circulated 12,589 books during February, it reports. A total of 289 children attended the four story hours conducted by the library and 341 people visited the library on Sunday afternoons.

Our Scoring Machine Is Here

Starting Today Our Wagon Salesmen Will Deliver You SCORED ICE

This machine is a new patented device, very expensive to install, and expensive to maintain and operate. We have installed this machine with two objects in view; first, to improve the service; second, to guarantee weights.

Each piece of ice is cut exactly the same each time as to size and shape, making the ice in uniform sizes, removing the possibility for mistakes on cutting.

Furthermore, the score mark is put on by saws which are set to cut the ice in 25, 50 and 100 pound pieces and is Your Protection Against Short Weight.

We have it operating temporarily on our platform where the details of operation can be plainly seen.

When you are out riding Sunday afternoon drop by our plant and let us show you how it works—we will be glad to see you.

EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS OF CHILDREN.

Under the common law it was the duty of the father to educate his children, but there was no compulsion on him to provide any form of schooling. But with the passing of time the noncompulsory school system gave place to a compulsory system.

Compulsory education has two fundamental purposes: First, to insure the best possible citizenship in order that the state may thereby preserve itself; and, second, to enforce the educational rights of the child. That the first of these is fundamental in a democracy is obvious. The second is fundamental because the right kind of opportunity is essential. The latter purpose is probably even more important than the former. Children have a right to the best possible opportunity in life, and since this comes in large measure through education they have an indefeasible right to education.

This principle is not so much recognized in child-welfare laws as it should be. Child-labor laws were originally conceived for the protection of child life, but now we see that they also have a function in the enforcement of child rights. They formerly "winked at" some occupations, such as work on the farm, probably because these were thought harmless, but now these occupations are coming under regulation, as are those in stores and factories. The reason for this newer conception is plain; child labor on the farm is child labor nevertheless; it interferes with the educational rights of the child. Presently we shall see clearly that it is no man's prerogative to exploit a child, even though it be his own, and that the right to education is inalienable—along with the right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.—United States Bureau of Education.

COLONEL GREEN REVIVIFIED BY GLAND OPERATION

Col. & Mrs. E. H. R. Green, wife.

Colonel Green declares he feels 15 years younger as a result of a "rejuvenation" operation performed in New York City a month ago. The gland operation to which he submitted was devised by Dr. Eugen Steinhart, noted Vienna surgeon, and is described as "a retardation of the senile processes."

Wealthy Vermont Man Carries Out Purpose to Preserve Big Forest Reserve in Primal Beauty

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., April 7.—Rejection by congress of the offer in the will of Joseph Battell of Middlebury, of a large tract of the Green Mountain Range for use as a national park, gives to Middlebury college what is believed to be the largest body of heavily timbered land owned or controlled by any educational institution in the United States. It also means that Mr. Battell's hope to preserve a great section of the Green Mountains in their virgin form will be realized in a notable way.

By the terms of the will 3,900 acres of land in the towns of Lincoln and Warren, Vt., near Middlebury, were offered for use as a national park. It was provided that if congress failed to accept the land it would revert to the ownership of Middlebury college. The college already had been left a tract of more than 25,000 acres of mountain land which Mr. Battell had spent his time and fortune for 50 years to acquire. The new bequest added to this gives Middlebury college practically 31,000 acres of mountain campus.

President Paul Dwight Moody said recently that the college proposed to satisfy its own conscience and that of the courts in carrying out the terms of Mr. Battell's will.

Openness to vision rather than accessibility to market, influenced Mr. Battell as, bit by bit, he acquired these lands. He bought scenery, not timber. Sections beautiful for their timber growth or for their situation impressed him, and especially when any tract of virgin forest seemed to be in danger of destruction.

That the 3,900 acre tract was not accepted by the United States government for a national park is no reflection upon the gift or upon the scenery. The adverse action was taken solely because congress did not believe it was expedient to extend the national park service into Vermont at this time.

Scientific forestry will be applied by the college to a part of the tract, but under the provisions of Mr. Battell's will a large part of the holdings will be preserved in a primeval state.

In addition to his craving to acquire scenic lands, Mr. Battell was widely known for his unflinching opposition to the automobile and his friendship for the horse. As a breeder of Morgan horses his name became well known, and the farm used by him has since been bequeathed to the government. It is known as the

TANTALUM FOUND VERY USEFUL IN ELECTRIC WORK

NEW HAVEN, April 7.—The discovery that the metal tantalum can be used directly to change alternating electric current into direct current is claimed by Clarence W. Balke of North Chicago. Dr. Balke today described the apparatus by which tantalum is used as a rectifier in an address before the division of industrial and engineering chemistry of the American Chemical society.

This discovery is expected greatly to reduce the cost of charging electric batteries used in electrically operated automobiles and for starting and lighting purposes in gasoline motor cars. Apparently tantalum is the only metal which can be used as an electric valve.

Electric current supplied commercially and used generally for light and power is alternating current. For the charging of electric batteries, and for some other purposes, a direct current is required, and this has necessitated the installation in battery charging stations of expensive rectifiers. Every automobile driver is familiar with the greenish glow of the mercury lamps used in these rectifiers.

Dr. Balke has discovered that tantalum, used in a charging cell, almost entirely shuts off the flow of electric current in one direction.

"If a tantalum plate and a lead plate are placed in an electrolyte (a cell containing a salt solution) and a source of alternating current of the usual commercial frequency is connected to the tantalum and lead plates, the current flow in one direction will be almost entirely shut off and a pulsating, direct current will be obtained," said Dr. Balke.

"The direct current derived from this apparatus may be utilized for charging storage batteries, for the electro-deposition (platings) of metals, and various other electro-chemical actions requiring a direct current."

"It is possible, by using two tantalum electrodes in a single cell, so to rectify the current that both half waves of alternating current pass in the same direction. This current may be smoothed out by a suitable series of inductances and capacities to give what is practically a constant direct current."

Dr. Balke reported that the tantalum battery charging rectifier is noiseless in operation, has no moving parts and requires "only one attention which it has in common with the storage battery itself, which is the addition of distilled water to replace the evaporated and decomposed water of the electrolyte."

ICE SCORING MACHINE CUTS BLOCK INTO EVEN SIZES FOR CUSTOMERS

"I'll declare, I don't think I have 50 pounds of ice in that chunk," says the housewife sometimes as she surveys a block of ice cut by the iceman and left in her refrigerator. More often she thinks it is under weight than otherwise. Ice companies employ men who are adepts in cutting up blocks of 25, 50 and 100 pounds for patrons.

But those days of doubt are past for Ranger ice consumers. The Southern Ice & Utilities company, which supplies practically all the ice consumed here, has installed an ice cutting machine. It works interestingly.

A 300-pound block of ice is placed erect on a revolving framework, it moves through three pairs of circular saws, scoring the ice horizontally for three different lines. It is picked up by a dump and set down on a second revolving framework and scored for one line extending the entire length of both sides of the block, perpendicular to the three lines already scored.

As a result of these scorings, the 300-pound block can be broken up in 25, 50 or 100 pound cuts. At a demonstration Saturday afternoon three cuts were put on the scales and weighed. One weighed 106 pounds, another 102 and a third, 100 pounds.

The machine, according to Gus Coleman, manager of the company, insures full weight and uniform cuts.

COSTUME DANCE STARTS WEEK OF SOCIAL GAUITY

Numerous Events That Promise Much Pleasure Scheduled Just Ahead.

Although there was little cessation of social activities in Ranger during the Lenten period, the week immediately following Easter seemed to have something more of gaiety in it, and a suggestion of spring festivities that had not been noticed in any previous week.

Beginning with Monday when the costume dance at the Tee-Pee club house was a notable forerunner of the season's social events, the entire week seemed a busy one for those following gay fashion's footsteps.

Beautiful decorations, cordial hospitality and a large number of gay dancers enjoyed the evening in happy revelry and declared it one of the most delightful of the season.

Picnics, sewing teas for the church societies, parent-teacher meetings and elections, card clubs and study clubs followed each other in quick succession, and the bridge tournament for benefit of the Child Welfare club on Friday at the Gholson occupied the entire afternoon and evening and was attended by nearly 200 representative men and women of the city.

The coming week promises quite as much of interest, for the Presbyterian ladies are invited to Eastland on Monday to meet with Mrs. Garrett Bohning, who is also to be hostess on Thursday to the Thursday Bridge club. The Symphony club will have an interesting meeting on Tuesday, and on Wednesday important discussions of the New Era club, a bridge tea at Mrs. R. W. Thomas' honoring her mother Mrs. D. C. Housel, and the Lions club dinner will make a full day socially.

Numerous other clubs, including the new Delphian society, will meet during the week which promises to be one of the busiest of the season and which will always be an outstanding one on account of the delightful reception of the new high school which will occupy the afternoon and evening of Thursday and will attract the attention of many in surrounding cities as well as the entire citizenship of Ranger.

XXTH CENTURY CLUB HONORS MRS. BLAIR

Members of the Twentieth Century club entertained with a bridge luncheon on Saturday at the home of Mrs. E. J. Wiss in honor of Mrs. J. Scott Blair who leaves soon for her new home in Casper, Wyo.

High score was won by Mrs. Rarey who was presented with a hand-embroidered guest towel. Second score went to Mrs. Champion who was awarded a hand-painted score pad. The honoree was presented with a set of Madeira napkins. Those present were, Mesdames J. F. Champion, E. L. McMillen, W. H. Burden, W. R. Lowe, F. J. Reames, J. F. Martin, W. S. Cluney, Frank Rarey, John Thurman, W. D. Conway, J. Scott Blair and the hostess, Mrs. Wiss. The club will meet next Friday with Mrs. Wiss.

MESSES GRAY AND ICE GIVE CHARMING LUNCHEON

Mmes. J. T. Gray and Howard Ice entertained Thursday with a delightful four-course luncheon after which Mmes. Gray, Ice and Lowe took the guests to the Lamb theatre where they enjoyed the picture show. Those present were, Mesdames McNaughton, C. A. Fuller and son Ralph, H. Johnson and daughter Mary Louise, Houston Strong and baby and son Bois, Wm. Lowe, T. B. Steele, L. J. McMillen, Howard Ice, J. F. Gray and daughter Phyllis, Miss Flo Huffer and Miss Ella Leedy.

MRS. BRASHER GIVES THURSDAY BRIDGE PARTY

Thursday afternoon at her home on Odie street, Mrs. H. T. Brasher entertained with bridge in honor of Mrs. F. P. Brasher, who is leaving for Breckenridge to make her home. After the cards were laid aside refreshments of hot chocolate and angel food cake were served to Mesdames S. L. Thorpe, E. P. Brasher, W. D. Champion, W. C. Rhodes and the hostess.

CHEERFUL HELPERS ORGANIZED SATURDAY

Mrs. Chaplin's class of the Methodist church met Saturday afternoon for the purpose of organizing and selecting a name. "Cheerful Helpers" was decided upon for a name. Refreshments were served and all enjoyed a pleasant social hour. Next meeting will be the third Saturday in this month when the articles of the constitution and by-laws will be adopted and plans made for the annual picnic early in May.

PARTY PROVES SUCCESS. CHILD WELFARE BRIDGE

One of the largest and most successful parties of the season was the bridge tournament given Friday afternoon and evening at the Gholson hotel by the Child Welfare club for the benefit of the fund used to carry on their work.

The large banquet room of the hotel was attractively arranged for the occasion, hanging baskets of flowers and potted plants were used in decoration. Handsome prizes were provided for both afternoon and evening and delicious refreshments were on sale. The children of Mrs. Vandervoort and Mrs. Collie, in gay costumes, sold small baskets of nuts and candy among the players.

Mrs. John Thurman, president of the club, with a large committee of ladies assisted in the arrangements and serving of refreshments.

Prize awards were as follows: For the afternoon, high score, Mrs. C. H. Wright, a silver steak set; low score, Mrs. J. A. Martin, mayonnaise set; cut, Mrs. F. E. Langston, etched glass nappy.

Evening awards: High for ladies, Mrs. C. H. Endicott, silver flower basket; low, Mrs. Gray Powell, salt and pepper shakers; high for men, Gifford Clegg, two pairs silk hose; low, Rex Outlaw, Gillett razor. Cut, Miss Lorena Smith, handsome painted china dresser set, donated by H. Fair.

Those attending in the afternoon were: Mesdames G. H. Bohning, Funderburk, Caldwell, R. W. Thomas, D. C. Housel, M. E. O'Connor, Earl Taylor, T. J. Holmesley, Gray Wooten, Walter Murray, W. West, F. G. Yonker, F. E. Leneston, C. G. Norton, H. Fair, H. M. Reed, L. H. Flewelling, John Moyer, R. M. Schmuck, P. J. O'Donnell, Frank Hill, Nath Pirkle, J. W. Dunkle, C. H. Wright, C. L. Childs, R. D. Lavery, J. W. Cash, Harold Whitbeck, H. D. Bishop, P. F. Davis, R. J. Fleckenstein, G. B. Watson, Barton Durrette, J. F. Champion, W. C. Rhodes, J. T. Odem, J. A. Martin, C. N. Ochiltree, J. B. Burden, Gus Coleman, J. M. Ralston, J. Brown, Miss Clara Haden, Miss Mamie Ruth Langston, Mmes. J. D. Sandefer Jr., C. D. Northrup, B. H. Swinney, G. C. Wood, W. N. Binvon, and M. E. Hollern, all of Breckenridge.

In the evening the guests were: Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Harkrider, Dr. Carl Wilson, Mesdames H. B. Wilson, "Pop" Endicott, John Moyer, Loraine Mitchell, R. M. Schmuck, M. E. O'Connor, Rena Campbell, Messrs. and Mesdames R. D. Lavery, Walt Cook, Harry Pearson, F. C. Rarey, Robert J. Bates Jr., R. Gray, Powell, J. R. Tolland, T. B. Scott, E. E. Crawford, William Gifford Clegg, A. J. Orth, W. H. Fouke, T. R. Valliant, Ed Maher, W. J. McFarland, Saunders Gregg, Karl Jones, Glenn Garrett, Mesdames M. C. Van De Venter, R. B. Waggoman, John Gholson, N. J. Novakovich, C. O. Terrell, Charley Conley, Gus Coleman, John Thurman, Bruns, L. A. Vandervoort, Dr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Craig, Misses Lorena Smith, Marguerite Novakovitch, Bess Chastain, Mr. and Mrs. Rex C. Overton, G. A. Clements, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Logsdon, Jack Gullahorn, Wilbourne B. Collie, L. L. Rector.

MEMBERS Q. E. T. CLUB ENTERTAIN HUSBANDS

The Q. E. T. club members entertained their husbands Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Champion. Forty-two was the diversion and after several games were played the ladies' high score prize, a set of tea glasses, was awarded to Mrs. S. L. Thorpe, and the gentlemen's high score prize, a sterling silver belt buckle, went to Mr. W. C. Rhodes. At a late hour tempting refreshments consisting of chicken salad, olives, potato chips and ice tea were served to the following: Messrs. and Mesdames F. B. Brasher, C. R. Snauldin, S. L. Thorpe, W. C. Rhodes, H. T. Brasher, W. D. Champion.

PRESBYTERIAN LADIES TO GO TO EASTLAND

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will go to Eastland on Monday and have their meeting at the home of Mrs. Garrett Bohning. All are asked to meet at the church at 2:15 o'clock and go from there in a body. Those having no cars will be provided for and it is expected that nearly 50 will go.

NEW ERA CLUB WILL DISCUSS MARRIAGE

Not only marriage but divorce will be discussed at the meeting of the New Era club which will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Presbyterian club rooms. Papers on the subject will be given as follows: "Conflicting Ideas of Marriage," Mrs. L. L. Neal; "Causes for Divorce," Mrs. J. B. Stackable. A round-table discussion on the subject will be led by Mrs. M. H. Hagaman.

Navy Twill With Red Canton Crepe Blouse

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

The simplicity of this suit is evident in every line, the plainness being relieved by means of a red canton crepe blouse which for harmony of effect is beautifully embroidered in navy ribbons. The skirt has but one seam and this under the plait at the left side front. The smart bolero coat achieves a long waist-line effect without clumsiness by means of the fitting in of the belt edge and of the extending portions at the normal waist-line. Plain dresses and suits are extremely smart for the season and are invariably desirable if the skill in workmanship is so perfect as to be invisible. The off-the-face hat has not lost any of its earlier prestige, but figures prominently among the most exclusive designs. Tulle haircloth embroidered in ribbons is draped softly on the brim of this model and is finished at the right side front with a fan effect of burnt peacock.

TWO SNAPPY PLAYS TO BE GIVEN AT HIGH SCHOOL

The dedication of the auditorium in the new high school building for practical purposes will be given by amateur players of ability in the various classes of the school who will appear on Friday evening, April 20 in two snappy plays called "The Show Actress" and "A Dangerous Experiment."

These are the first plays to be staged in the auditorium under the direction of Miss Groves and the casts include the best amateur talent to be found in the school. Rehearsals that have already been given were exceedingly promising and there is every indication that these plays will be well worth the effort made to present them, or the small charge made for attending. The sale of seats will begin this week and as the seating capacity of the auditorium is less than 700 it will be well for those who expect to go to secure their seats in advance.

CENTRAL WARD SCHOOL ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of the Central ward school held Friday afternoon was one of the most interesting of the season. Mrs. Eloise Trigg Johnson of Eastland, county home demonstrator, gave a valuable talk on school lunches and illustrated the way in which lunches should be prepared in order to make them attractive and wholesome for the children. The annual election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. J. B. Fitch, president; Mrs. Baker, first vice president; Mrs. W. J. McFarland, second vice president; Mrs. L. L. Neal, third vice president; Mrs. C. H. Endicott, recording secretary; Mrs. Mills Davenport, corresponding secretary; Miss Jennie Hare, treasurer. Plans are being made for a picnic for retiring officers and teachers to be held in the near future.

CENTRAL BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY PICNIC

Thirty-five young people of Central Baptist church enjoyed a delightful social evening Friday night at the powerhouse lake, Olden. Supper was served on the dam and games were enjoyed until 10:30 o'clock. Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Leake and Mr. and Mrs. Houcker chaperoned the party.

ST. MARY'S GUILD TO MEET AT CHURCH

LIBRARY BOARD PLANS TO OPEN LIBRARY

The Ranger Public Library board which met recently has planned to open the library once each week on Wednesday's from 2 to 6 o'clock until some arrangement can be made to secure a permanent librarian. The room in the Marston building where the books are kept is conveniently located and well lighted and quiet. The books are catalogued and easily accessible to all readers and an attendant is in charge each Wednesday afternoon. There is a fine collection of fiction and lighter literature which would appeal to the average reader, and other books of varied character are being added from time to time, groups having been presented by various clubs of the city. Members of the library board are: Mayor John M. Gholson, O. D. Dillingham, Karl Jones, Dr. W. C. Palmer, Raymond Teal, A. G. Jurv, Mmes. L. L. Rector, F. G. Yonker, Saunders Gregg, Garvin Chastain and J. F. Dreinhofer.

Grand march and Pilgrim's Chorus, Mrs. C. S. Bronstad.

Paper, "Character Study of Richard Wagner," Mrs. W. D. Conway.

Vocal, "Evening Star," from "Tannhauser," Mrs. J. M. Dodson.

The story of "Tannhauser," Mrs. Jennings.

Vocal solo.

All those who wish to join the choral division of the club are asked to meet at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock in order to complete arrangements for this work. All singers of the city interested in the work of a chorus are cordially invited to attend the meeting and join the club, whether they can join the study division of the club or not. The choral group will be maintained as a separate division under the direction of Mrs. Bessie Luke.

MRS. DUNKLE ENTERTAINS "GOOD TIMES" CLUB

The "Good Times" club met with Mrs. Dunkle at the home of Mrs. Schmuck last Wednesday. Delicious refreshments were served. The high score was made by Mrs. Walter Cluney who was awarded a set of iced tea spoons, second by Mrs. C. L. Childs, a string of jet beads, and the guest prize, a hand-painted boudoir cap was won by Mrs. O'Connor. Guests and members present were: Mrs. Moyer and sister, Mrs. Mitchell; Mmes. O'Connor, Rolla Gordon, O'Donnell, Gates, Childs, McGinness, C. H. Wright, Pirkle, Bennett, Cluney, Schmuck, Hill, Dunkle and Miss Etta Gordon.

INITIATION MEETING OF WOODMAN CIRCLE

An initiation meeting of Woodman Circle will be held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Odd Fellows' hall. There will be a business meeting also and all members are urged to be present.

SILK FROCKS VARY CONTOUR

Agreeable to every type is the frock silhouette in silk. Smartly straight line ones plait or pleat their panels, others are draped or affect a jabot side treatment; and as you see from the illustration that many of them have the long drape sleeve to cleverly match the drape skirt effects, but some prefer the short sleeve. The collars are not so precise in their treatment as you can see that they differ greatly. They include a score of new printed and flat crepes in the bewitching tints as, tortoise shell, rust, mountain haze and lanvin green.

See Our Display of Hats

Selecting a new hat brings in some thought, to simply get a new hat that you like is not enough, it must go well with the rest of your costume. It must not be gaudy or it must not detract from your appearance by a lack of prominence. It is as much a part of the picture as the suit and in selecting one just bear this in mind.

LACKLAND TELLS WHY HE HAS COME TO PREFER THE LEGHORN CHICKEN ABOVE ALL OTHERS

By SYDNEY C. LACKLAND.

The white leghorn hen put California on the map as a poultry state. Figuratively speaking the cackle of the white leghorn hen is heard across the continent. When an egg is laid in the Golden state, they know about it in New York city the next morning. California eggs are known in all large consuming centers.

There are just as good eggs laid in other states and especially in Texas as there are in California, but the Californians know how to advertise and are very closely organized. They are not ashamed of any of their products and a small thing like a 3,000-mile handicap does not bother them. They produce something and make it look very pretty and attractive. Even a dozen eggs can be greatly improved in looks by the package size, and proper grading with all eggs the same size. Then they proceed to tell the world about what they produce.

A great many think that California ranks first in eggs and poultry production, and, in fact, only those who have a taste for delving into census figures know the difference. In fact she ranks ninth in egg and poultry production. Most people believe that there are more hens on the Pacific coast from Oregon south than in any other state, when, in fact, the old state of Missouri produces twice as many eggs as does California.

The great corn state of Iowa leads this nation in both egg and poultry production, the census of 1920 gives: Iowa 27,746,510 hens; Illinois, 25,120,643; Missouri, 24,888,985; Ohio, 20,232,637, and Texas 18,062,662, and so on down the line, from which you will see that Texas stands fifth in poultry. If Texas poultry men will put forth the same effort in producing eggs and poultry of quality and make them as attractive to the purchaser as does the California poultrymen, then we will reach the rank of first state and not before. If the same degree of attention is continued that has been manifested in the past five years the next census figures will show us way up next to head.

It is not because we do not produce as good eggs and poultry as other states but it is because we do not produce them in uniform quantities. Recently I saw it quoted from the New York city buyers that they much prefer the Southern poultry products to the Western and they gave as a reason that we were closer, for one thing, and the other that their trade preferred our eggs and poultry meat, claiming it to be even of a superior flavor.

Chickens Prove Salvation.

A few years ago down in Morristown, Tenn., when the boll weevil had about cleaned up on their only money crop, some thoughtful fellow called a meeting of a few of the citizens for the purpose of trying to see what they could do to get by. Someone said why not raising chickens for a living, saying so more in fun than anything else, but his remark was taken seriously and chickens turned to. At that time it is said there were not 50 white leghorn hens in the county. Today there is positively nothing else. That county is one of, if not the biggest, poultry and egg producing counties in the state, with that little town as the shipping center, and every Saturday night at 1 o'clock a solid train load of poultry, both dressed and live, and eggs, leave the packing shed direct for New York city, arriving on that market for the early Monday morning supply.

All this was brought about by close co-operation and having a uniform product that would bring the highest prices. I am giving you these facts and figures to show what is ahead of us before we can make Ranger the poultry and egg center she is bound to become in the next few years.

White eggs, brown eggs and red eggs, dirty eggs, small eggs, stale eggs and fresh eggs, all mixed, will not do it. Our product must be graded and all colors separated. Last fall there were shipped into San Antonio, Texas, two carloads of eggs from Kansas and they were quickly grabbed up and sold on the local market for 50 cents per dozen, while Texas eggs laid within only 50 miles of San Antonio found no takers at 23½ cents per dozen. The reason was that the Kansas eggs were properly graded and properly packed, while our Texas eggs were just eggs.

Selecting a Breed.

When my brother and I started this poultry ranch he asked what kind of chickens we would raise. I just handed it back to him the same way. Then we both asked what kind of chickens are the other fellows with commercial egg farms raising? At that time we both thought that some of them raised one kind and some another, so we thought we would find out what kind most of them were raising. The hunt began, we sought information from coast to coast and North and South, and all reports were that the white leghorn breed was the only hens that had a look-in on any of the large commercial plants. That was not the favorite with either one of us at that time. We again started the search to find out why all the big eggs and broiler producing farms preferred the white hens and we found that as an egg machine in large numbers she was head and tail above them all.

There are a great many cases where some few single hens have produced more eggs, but I am speaking of them in large flocks and as an average. Again we found out that the leghorn begins to lay several months before the heavy breeds, and laid longer and did not lose any time sitting. It is true they get a little broody once in a while, but it soon wears off and she is again shelling out the big white eggs.

We also found out that, with the exception of Boston, all the big consuming centers preferred and, in fact, paid a premium for white-shell eggs and as we, of course, had our eye on shipping to New York at some future time we considered that also. So far Ranger has been able to consume all the eggs we have had to spare, but the time is coming when Ranger shipments will go direct to New York and if there is any premium we all want it. We also found out that it took less feed to keep white leghorn hens. Sometimes I think it takes a whole lot to keep them also, when it is high and money scarce. Also we found out in our search that when it comes to broilers, a white leghorn broiler would reach a pound and a half before the heavy breed would get fully started and on less feed, a fact which I can show you in my yards today. We have 2,000 broilers of mixed breeds and 2,000 white leghorns a month younger and I believe they are now going to beat the mixed bunch to the pound and a half notch. We also found out that the white hens would produce more eggs on close confinement than the heavy breeds and stand it better. Our hens have not been at large half a dozen days since the first of last December and I don't think you will find a prettier or more healthy and happier bunch of hens any place. We were told that it would take a 10-foot fence to keep them on the ranch, and if you frighten them a little it would and then some, but we have only a five-foot fence and no one can say they ever saw one of our hens go over it. If they are not raised to run wild all over the country they will stay inside of a five-foot fence just as well as any other breed. As for being wild, it is true if you throw at them and continually scare them, but I can go in my laying house and my hens will be on my back and I can handle them easy, provided I am careful, but if I change clothes and put on clothes they are not used to then it is good-by.

Business Proposition.

Now with all that mass of evidence before us we had to lay aside our personal grudge against the white leghorns and take them up as a business proposition and not as a personal matter, and since handling them for the last three years I am ready to say that as for a commercial poultry proposition there is only one hen to consider and that the white leghorn.

Before closing this article, as I am having a great many ask me what I do for white diarrhoea in baby chicks, will say that I do not do anything, for I don't let it start. In all the three years we have run this plant we have not had a case of that dreaded complaint. But to those who do have it, will say that if you have only a small bunch soak some oatmeal in warm water for a few minutes and then squeeze out the water and give it to them for several days. Another thing, just one time, prepared chalk is fine. The kind used before talcum came into general use. Just put a small ball in a fruit jar of warm water for the first few days. Also be careful not to let them get chilled in the least bit. You can get them a little too warm and they will come out all right, but a chilled chick is a dead one and white diarrhoea is sure. Don't feed them for at least 48 hours and then only a little. There is nothing better than any of the good commercial baby chick starters on the market composed of buttermilk and so on. If you have your chicks shipped in, and especially from a long distance, do not water them at once, but instead give them buttermilk or sour clabber beat up. On their long trip they get very thirsty and if given a chance will just kill themselves right at the water jar. If you haven't any sour milk it would pay you to buy it. If not, give them just a little warm water and I would prefer just a small bit of permanganate of potash in that. But if any of your baby chicks do take the white diarrhoea kill them at once and get them out of the bunch. You are wasting your time on trying to cure it, put in your time in trying to stop it. At any time I can be of any assistance to you in your poultry trouble will be glad to help you out.

A REJUVENATED FLIVVER.

Joseph Cummings Chase, the well-known painter, was arrested for speeding, and he says he told the judge this story, which he further alleges caused his discharge:

A negro was arrested for speeding in the South.

"How fast were you going, Sam?" the court asked.

"Ah don't 'actly know, sah," Sam replied, "but Ah was goin' tol'able fast."

"Thirty miles?"

"Yas, sah; Ah was goin' more dan dat."

"Forty miles?"

"Oh, yas, sah; Ah was goin' more dan forty. Ah was goin' seventy. Ah always does mah seventy."

"What kind of a car have you?"

"A Ford."

"You don't mean to tell me you could make seventy miles an hour in a Ford? That's impossible!"

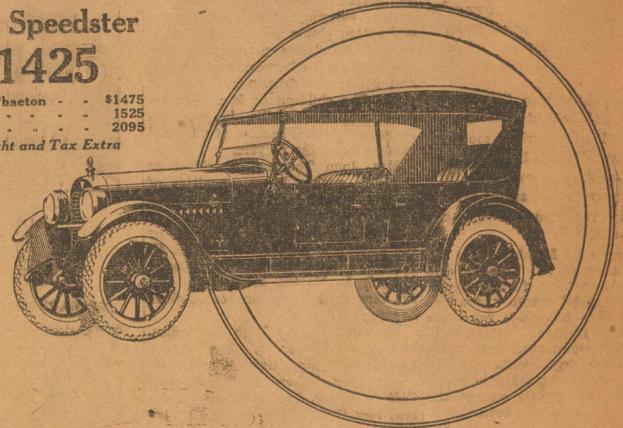

"Oh, no, sah; 'tain't impossible. Ah always makes mah seventy. Dis is one o' dem special Fords. Hit's got a Ford body and Pierce-Arrow glands." —From Everybody's Magazine for April.

The Dallas public library circulated 22,228 books during February, 40 per cent of which were non-fiction, it reports. A feature of the Dallas library's work is a weekly story hour, conducted for children each Saturday.

Why Hudson Owners Buy Hudsons Again and Again

Most Hudson owners remain Hudson owners. They find nothing to tempt them elsewhere. Some have owned five, ten, sixteen successive Hudsons.

They have found each succeeding Hudson a better, smoother, finer car.

Those who drive today's Super-Six call it the greatest Hudson ever built. Its price makes it conspicuous not only among cars of comparable fineness, but even among those that you never classify with Hudson in quality.

DO YOU KNOW WHY THE GEAR-SHIFT IS DIFFERENT?

The design of Dodge Brothers gear-shift takes into consideration the natural inclinations of the driver.

To start, you throw the lever forward. To reverse, you pull the lever backward. And when the car is running in high gear—which is about ninety per cent of the time—the lever is in a forward position, out of the way, where it does not interfere with passengers, robes or luggage.

Moreover, the transmission, developed and patented by Dodge Brothers, is so designed that the countershaft—used in intermediate speeds and in reverse—is disconnected when the car is in high. There are no gears in mesh. Power is transmitted directly from clutch to rear axle.

This exclusive feature prevents the loss of power through friction, reduces gear-box noises and eliminates a vast amount of wear.

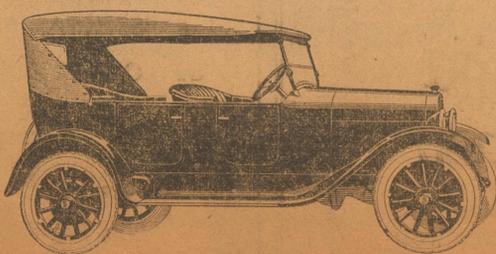

That is why the gear-shift of Dodge Brothers Motor Car is different.

How Old Is Man?

Origin Dates Back Ten Thousand or Perhaps One Million Years, According to British Geologist, Who Thinks Darwin Was Right.

LONDON, April 7.—Much speculation as to the age of man has arisen as a result of the recent discoveries of fossil human skulls in South America, Patagonia and the island of Jersey. The estimates as to the antiquity of the human race range all the way from ten thousand to a million years. Dr. Wolf's reported discovery in Patagonia of a fossilized human skull of the tertiary period, however, may nullify all previous scientific calculations on this subject, and the public is now getting a little chary about accepting even scientists' estimates regarding the date of the origin of the human race.

Ever since the unearthing of the ashes of King Tutankhamen, who, in the view of anthropologists, is to be reckoned only as an "infant," as the age of man goes, startling discoveries have been made all over the world which upset all well-established anthropological foundations.

Dr. A. Smith Woodward, director of the geological department of the British museum, makes some interesting commentaries on the latest discoveries in skulls and bones. "For a moment," says he, "the public seemed to assume that we had found at last the first man who lived on earth. I fear, however, that these conjectures are as baseless as they are interesting. Since the skull from Jersey is said to have been found near a neolithic burial chamber, it is probably much nearer our period than any of the skulls of fossil men which show resemblance to their ape-like ancestors. And since the specimen from Patagonia comes from a country which has furnished more 'mare's nests' in the study of prehistoric and ancestral man than any other part of the world, it will not excite interest among anthropologists until some geologist admittedly skilled in such matters has satisfied himself that this is a true fossil, definitely associated with the remains of extinct animals."

Who, then, Dr. Woodward asks, was the first man on earth? "To be strictly accurate," he replies, "we have some reason to think we know where to look. In the dim borderland of time which separates man from monkey there roamed, somewhere in Central Asia, a form of large-brained ape destined to be the precursor of man. It is impossible to fix a date for his appearance, but we do know that when he came into being the Himalayan mountains had not yet reared their peaks."

The eminent British geologist says nothing has yet been discovered respecting the habits and life of these apes. A party of American naturalists is now searching for them in promising localities in Mongolia, he adds.

It was in the Neanderthal, near Dusseldorf, Germany, writes Dr. Woodward, that the remains of the earliest man of whom anything is really known were discovered. "Compared with our knowledge of his ancestors," he says, "he is an intimate acquaintance. But it is impossible to assign him to a date in years. Swedish geologists reckon his age as about 12,000 years."

"Neanderthal man," continues the British scientist, "was definitely a man. He lived in caves from which he sallied forth to hunt the animals, such as mammoth, rhinoceros, reindeer, bison, which then roamed over Europe. We have found his tools, flint and bone, and we have found even the bone pins with which possibly the early women fastened their rough skins which served them for petticoats. We have also found remains of paint and rouge, which seem to signify the dawn of vanity."

"Most remarkable of all, we have ascertained that these early human beings believed in a future life, an enormous advance in thought. They buried their dead, and with the dead we have found both stone implements and the bones of animals which had

NEW CHURCH SERVICE KEEPS THE FAMILY GROUP TOGETHER, SUNDAY

CHICAGO, April 7.—How the family automobile may become to the city church goer what the family farm wagon has always been to the rural worshipper, is being worked out at St. Mark's church, a down-town Episcopalian parish in Minneapolis, the Rev. Phillips E. Osgood, rector of the parish, told the church club of Chicago in an address here today.

The Sunday school as a separate institution has been abolished in his church, Dr. Osgood said, and the parents and children are brought together for morning worship. Five months' trial has convinced him that the plan is a success.

When parents and children assemble at 11 o'clock in the church, the regular service of morning prayer is conducted with some slight modification, to suit the changed program. A five minute sermon for the children is then delivered, followed by the offertory, and then while a hymn is being sung the children retire to the parish house where they have 30 minutes of class instruction. Meanwhile the regular sermon is preached for the edification of their elders.

When the regular service is ended, the children are waiting for their parents, the family automobile is loaded, or the family group proceeds to street cars, and all return home ready for Sunday dinner.

"The chief object of this plan is to restore the family pew to its traditional position," continued Mr. Osgood. "We found that because of our situation on the edge of the downtown district, many of our parish children were not attending our school. But the difficulty was not so much that the children were going elsewhere for instruction, as that the family unity in worship was sundered, or that ultimately we lost the entire family because parents so naturally follow their children.

"The great fault of the traditional Sunday school was that it did not train children in church going. It could no more do this than a black-board diagram could teach a person to swim. The only way to teach church going is by going to church. The only way to learn how to swim is to get into the water and swim."

Mr. Osgood said the attendance of the children had been increased 30 per cent in the five months and that the regular attendance of parents at services had been well ahead of the same period for preceding years.

"The presence of the children has vitalized the service," he added. "Formerly we were a rather staid downtown congregation, but that condition has changed."

The plan has been supplemented by activities for the children starting at 10 a. m. so that parents who desire may attend the adult Bible classes assembling at that hour.

While the Bible classes are in session, children who care to do so may occupy themselves with modeling, map-making, extemporaneous dramatizations of Biblical stories, and similar activities under the supervision of an instructor.

Arrangements have been made by the Lubbock public library, a subscription institution opened recently, for furnishing books to rural subscribers by parcels post.

Low Cost—Comfortable Motoring

This Buick four cylinder, five passenger touring car affords dependable, comfortable motoring for every occasion.

Improvements in the design of both the chassis and the famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine have contributed further to the well known Buick qualities of dependability and economy. Innovations in equipment have provided comforts in the open model that approximate those found in much more expensive closed cars.

For instance, with the Buick designed storm curtains, reinforced by the Buick weather strip, closed car coziness in bad weather has been closely approximated. A signal pocket for the driver, complete instrument board, transmission lock and many other conveniences are features every motorist appreciates.

MORE MILK FOR CHILDREN SAYS HEALTH EXPERT

Under-Nourishment Prevails Most Where Less Milk Is Consumed.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—That country children are more prone to malnutrition than city children is indicated by investigations conducted in connection with the milk campaigns run in more than half of the states of the Union under the auspices of the United States department of agriculture.

Miss Jessie M. Hoover, milk utilization specialist of the dairy division, is authority for this statement. She has been carrying on milk campaigns in behalf of the department of agriculture for five years. Speaking of the situation among country children today, she said:

"The surveys show that in not a single case has the consumption by any group of children which we have studied reached an average equal to what is considered the minimum portion of milk for safety—one pint per capita per day. More frequently, the groups have averaged a half or three-quarters of a pint. Where milk consumption is lowest, under-nourishment is usually highest. The children of one Wisconsin county were the only exceptions I have found to the rule that mal-nutrition occurs as frequently among country children as among city children and in some cases more frequently. The rural situation is largely due to the fact that farmers sell their milk instead of using it at home."

Third Live on Farms. Since more than 32,000,000 people—practically a third of our continental population—live on farms, the vast importance of properly feeding the children in the rural sections is evident. H. E. Van Norman, president of the World's Dairy Congress association, has this to say about the lack of milk-drinking among country children:

"The milk check—the money received from the sale of milk by the producer—is only one cause for the failure of farmers to use more milk in their homes. Modern ways of life tend to specialization and the farmer is coming more and more to be a producer and less and less a manufacturer in every way. Time was when he made his own clothes, or had them made, at home as an example. Now, he buys his clothes, his shoes and most of his manufactured supplies from others. He does not even make butter on the farm in the vast majority of cases. Frequently, he buys his meat from other people. He raises his products and ships them to those who do the manufacturing.

"This tendency to send produce away from the farm extends even to milk; which is prepared for shipment as soon as it is drawn from the cow and then sent off to the milk-collecting station, or to the creamery."

The discussion of milk-drinking in the homes of the nation will play a very important part at the World's Dairy Congress, which is to open at Washington, D. C., on Oct. 2, and adjourn at Syracuse, N. Y., where the National Dairy Show will be in progress.

SUNDAY SERMON THEMES AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The subject for the morning sermon at the Presbyterian church, Rev. A. N. Stubblebine, pastor, will be "The Conquest of Fear; How Can We Overcome Our Fears of Things of Life's Uncertainties and Death?" The subject of the evening sermon will be, "At the Gate of Heaven." ### Roosevelt Medal for Service in 7 Fields of Work

Fac-simile of the Roosevelt Medal for Distinguished Public Service to be awarded every year by the Roosevelt Memorial Association for the greatest service to the American people in three out of seven fields.

NEW YORK, April 7.—William Loeb Jr., former secretary to President Roosevelt, and now acting president of the Roosevelt Memorial association, today announced that the association will shortly present the first of the gold medals to be awarded annually for distinguished public service in those fields of activity that were closest to Col. Roosevelt's heart, thereby exalting civic righteousness and perpetuating the principles for which Roosevelt stood.

The medals will be three and one-half inches in diameter and will bear on one side a profile of Theodore Roosevelt and, on the other, a flaming sword with the inscription: "If I must choose between righteousness and peace, I choose righteousness." The designer of the medal is James Earle Fraser, whose statue of Alexander Hamilton for the treasury department in Washington is shortly to be unveiled and whose bust of Roosevelt in the capitol building, just outside the senate chamber is well known.

The Roosevelt medal for distinguished public service will be awarded every year for the greatest service to the American people in three out of the following seven fields: (1) Administration of public office. (2) Development of public and international law. (3) Promotion of industrial peace. (4) Conservation of natural resources. (5) Promotion of the welfare of women and children. (6) The study of natural history and the promotion of outdoor life. (7) Development in the American character of those qualities of courage, foresight, initiative and patriotism associated with Roosevelt's name.

A movement for a county library in Hemphill county has been inaugurated and is gaining support, according to Mrs. Lois White Henderson, librarian of the Potter county library.

FIFTH OLDEST KNOWN LIVING THING IN WORLD IS GIANT CYPRESS TREE

NEW ORLEANS.—The fifth oldest known living thing on earth, and the third oldest in North America, is a giant cypress tree in what is known as the Edenborn Brake, in Winn parish, this state, according to Carleton F. Poole, of the Louisiana State Conservation department.

The age of the tree has been placed at 2,500 years by Professor Herman Schrenk, of St. Louis, and other scientists who have examined it. According to records, it is exceeded in longevity only by the Santa Maria del Tule cypress, near Oaxaca, Mexico, 5,000 to 6,000 years old; the Dragon tree at Orotava, Island of Tenerife, 4,500 years old; the Redwood tree, California, 4,000 years old and the Baobab tree, Senegal, 4,000 years old.

The Edenborn cypress was budding into life when Jerusalem was taken by Nebuchadnezzar. It was a lusty young sprout when the battles of Marathon and Thermopylae were fought, when Assyria was at the Apex of world dominion and when Rome was a village of mud roads and hovels. The tree was 600 years old when Christ was born in Bethlehem, a veteran when the Roman legions were withdrawn from Britain to leave the savage tribes of those islands to fight out their differences and was more than 2,000 years old when Columbus sailed into the Atlantic to begin his voyage of discovery.

The tree was one of a number of its kind in a tract of pine timber purchased by William Edenborn some years ago and when logging began he refused to permit it and three others almost as large, to be felled, although the giant contains approximately 23,000 feet of lumber. It is peculiarly situated for one of its species for while the cypress usually grows in swamps, the Edenborn specimen stands in a hollow between hills. One of the three cypresses left standing with it was felled by a storm some months ago. Mr. Edenborn has offered the aged giant and its two companions to the conservation department to do with them as it sees fit, so long as none is injured. The department plans the construction of a highway to them so that the spot may be visited more easily by tourists and home folks.

MAMMOTH AIRSHIPS WILL BE FLOATING OVER COUNTRY SOON, MARKING AIR-TRAVEL PROGRESS

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—The mammoth airship ZR-1 under piecemeal construction at the Philadelphia navy yard and at Lakehurst, N. J., will probably be ready for flight by July 1.

The huge ship may eventually fly to the North and South Poles and around the world, according to Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics. Starr Trausecott, aeronautical engineer of the navy department, predicts that the ZR-1 will be one of the wonders of the world.

The dirigible is now 75 per cent complete, according to Commander R. Weyerbacher, who is in charge of construction.

The ship will be 680 feet long (more than 100 feet longer than the height of the Washington monument) and it will be 79 feet in diameter. Its gas bag is divided into 18 compartments and these will hold 2,000,000 feet of non-inflammable helium gas. The gas bag is made of gold-beaters skin" fashioned from the intestines of cattle. The frame is duraluminum.

With this tremendous "lifting power" to keep the ZR-1 afloat, six 300-horsepower engines will drive it through the air. Tests of the six-cylinder engines have been satisfactory.

The giant ship will have a cruising radius of 5,000 miles and will be able to carry ten tons of gasoline. A special composition applied to all parts of the ship will, it is believed, help reduce air frictional resistance.

For the first few months after its completion, the ZR-1 will make only comparatively short flights. It will then be given its head for flight across the Atlantic with a crew of 20.

Another great ship will be seen floating over the country before the end of summer as a sister dirigible, the ZR-3, is being built at the Bodensee works in South Germany for the United States. This ship will be completed about the first of May.

A trial flight of the ZR-3 over the Alps is scheduled for May 1. The German built dirigible will then fly to Berlin, where it will be inspected by Ambassador Houghton.

From Berlin the ZR-3, manned by a German crew but flying the American flag will head for Chicago. Members of the American inspection commission will be aboard the ship as guests.

Dry Agents Make Seizure of Stores Worth $2,000,000

fect when they seized 10,000 cases of champagne, fine wines and liquor valued at $2,000,000 and arrested seven men.

Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

For many years it has been Henry Ford's personal ambition to make the Ford the universal family car—to put it within the reach of the millions of people who have never been privileged to enjoy the benefits of motor car ownership.

During the past fifteen years over 7,500,000 Ford cars have been placed in the hands of retail customers—more than a million and a half of them within the past twelve months—and yet there are still millions of families who are hopefully looking forward to the day when they can own a Ford.

And now the way is open.

Under the terms of this plan you can select your Ford Car, set aside a small amount each week and you will be surprised how soon you will own it. In the meantime your money will be safely deposited to your credit in one of the local banks where it will draw interest.

Think it over. Five dollars will start an account. The whole family can participate in it—father, mother, brothers and sisters each doing a little.

Why not start today. Stop in and talk it over with your local Ford dealer. He will be glad to fully explain the details of the plan and help you get started toward the ownership of a Ford car.

England Needs More Milk and Sunshine, Says Medical Man

Too Much Beer and Coal Smoke, He Says, for Good Health.

LONDON, April 7.—Sunlight and milk, says a medical writer in the Times, constitute the greatest panacea for the ills of the human race of the present day. He declares that the next important task of public health authorities is to arouse and apply a public opinion and an effective restoration of sunlight and milk to the urban population of the world.

"These two mighty agents of nutrition," he says, "are closely related and complementary. Our national supply of both, as compared to the United States, for instance, is deplorable, quantitatively and qualitatively." In some degree this may be due to inevitable geographical necessity; but in a large degree it is due to our own negligence and ignorance." We must drink more milk, enjoins this writer. He says the people of England are impossibly handicapped, industrially and otherwise, by the fact that the per capita consumption of milk is one-third that in the United States. "Monstrous machinery exists," he says, "to persuade the public to drink beer, for which no authoritative physiologist living has a good word."

The medical expert then says no one will deny the potency of sunlight as an agent in curing disease, and he makes a plea to the British authorities to stamp out what he calls "the disease of darkness," and restore England's black cities and blighted citizens to their place in the sun.

"We are not only badly housed, with infamous slums," he observes, "but our national source of power is soft coal, our barbaric combustion of which renders our cities the darkest on earth. Thanks to our urbanization, our industrialization, and our neglect of agriculture, we are very poorly supplied with those fresh and natural foods which abound in vitamins. It is time we learned the value of milk and sunlight. They are more needed by us than any nation on earth."

Creation of a social and cultural center is one of the primary aims of the circulating library of Mineral Wells, according to officials. The library has just completed a successful membership campaign, it is reported. Exhibits of the work of Texas artists and of school art recently have been held by the library.

Beginning Tomorrow Le Vero and Kabo Corsets are 1-2 Price

We have contracted for another brand of Corsets and have decided to discontinue all styles now carried in the Le Vero and Kabo. To clear out these models at once we have decided to let the whole lot go at just one-half price.

A model is carried for every type and to those who have been wearing these two brands, we would suggest that you come in and get that model at only half the price you've been accustomed to paying. If you haven't been wearing neither the La Revo nor Kabo, then come in and pick the model best suited to your type.

Careful fittings will be given in these Corsets that are reduced and as much time will be given to see that you are scientifically fitted as is given to the best numbers carried in stock.

Service plus real merchandise at a price is what you are offered in this sale of Le Vero and Kabo Corsets.

The regular price is $1.75 up to $17.50
Sold next week at 88c up to $8.75
