

TWO MEN FATALLY BURNED AT OIL WELL

RIGHT KIND OF FRIEND TO HELP CITY PROGRESS

If One Living Away Needs The Times, Much More Does The Resident.

J. E. T. Peters, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Denison, formerly was secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce and it is doubtful if any man ever had more friends in this city. He liked Ranger and was reluctant to leave here, but Denison was determined to get him there and the offer he received was too attractive to be turned down. But he has never ceased to keep in close touch with Ranger and this is what he wrote to the Ranger Daily Times under date of May 29.

"Life holds no pleasure without the daily arrival of the Daily Times. From your notice my subscription seems to have expired, died and given up the ghost on April 22nd, but you continued to send it to May 20th inclusive.

"I am enclosing check for $7.50 as renewal and would like to have the back numbers beginning with the 21. "Somebody in Ranger had better get in touch with the big tourist routing bureaus. Their bulletins reaching this office show that the majority of them are sending tourists west from Fort Worth by way of Breckenridge."

Right Kind of Friend. That is the kind of friend to have, that is the kind of citizen to be proud of. Though long absent he posts himself daily on events of local interest and, seeing an opportunity for the improvement of Ranger, he suggests what may be done.

If one who lives away from Ranger feels the need of the Ranger Daily Times, how much more must it be needed by those who live here. This is an argument that may be used to good effect by those hard-working candidates who are seeking in a "battle of the ballots" to win that Ford coupe now on exhibit in the Gholson hotel or that diamond ring which is being displayed at the W. E. Davis Jewelry and Music store.

Without Any Bias. It is the ambition of the Ranger Times to be looked for daily in every home in this city. It is published without bias or prejudice for or against any class, clique, faction, society or interest in the city as it is intended to appeal to all. There is no news that is news barred from its columns, but prejudiced or partisan reports are avoided.

This is one reason why The Times appeals to Mr. Peters and it should appeal likewise to every citizen of Ranger. This is written in the interest of the candidates seeking to win that coupe and ring. The Times wishes to make no enemies; neither does it bend the fawning knee to any for friendship. Such friends would not be worth the winning. The Times is a newspaper and as such "plays" no favorites. That policy carried out as The Times is trying to do should appeal to every fair-minded citizen.

HUDSPETH COUNTY'S IRRIGATED AREA TO BE TREBLED IN SIZE

ALPINE, Texas, May 31.—Hudspeth county will have a new irrigation district, as a result of the efforts of the county's irrigation advocates. At a recent meeting of committee at Fort Hancock, the matter was thoroughly discussed, and steps were taken to secure a charter. The water is to be furnished from Elephant Butte Dam, and the canal will be lengthened so that approximately 30,000 acres may be irrigated, whereas only 10,000 is under irrigation now. The proposition calls for the continuance of the big ditch, which runs through Tornilla, extending it to cover as much irrigable land in Hudspeth county as possible. The committee appointed to secure the charter is J. S. Speers, Lamar Davis, Charles Newman, Dr. McGregor and Charles Stevens.

German Troops Reported Massing In Ruhr Valley

PARIS, May 31.—German troops, including infantry, cavalry and artillery, are massing at Muenster, according to a report from French sources. German communists and French observers in the occupied area reported that troops had been assembling near Reich since Sunday. This is the headquarters of French occupational forces. The German government gives the explanation that the troops are on their way to attend summer maneuvers.

NURSES RESCUE CHILDREN FROM BURNING WARD

Pittsburg Hospital Destroyed by Fire, But 67 Little Patients Saved.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 31.—Four nurses fighting their way through flames and smoke carried 67 crippled and sick children to safety when fire raided the Children's Hospital here. The children were asleep when they were taken out. The building engineer risked his life to reach the boiler room and turn off an oil supply tap, and this saved the wings from destruction.

Miss Laura Wilson, superintendent of the hospital, was trapped in her bedroom on the second floor. She climbed out of her window and along the roof to a fire escape and down that to the ground and then directed the rescue work until the firemen arrived.

Ranger Boys Wanted To Attend Military Training Camps

Six or eight Ranger boys last year attended the Eighth Corps Area military camp at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio. This year it is hoped that at least 20 Ranger boys will attend. If any who may wish to go will get into communication with R. H. Hansford, phone 234, he will be glad to furnish all desired information, he having charge of the work of rounding up a company of Ranger boys for the camp. He is the civilian representative here.

Two camps will be held during the summer, each of 30 days duration. One is scheduled to open early in July, the other early in August.

These citizens' military training camps are for young men from 17 to 24 years of age. It is at this age that the mind and body are most easily moulded. The camps in this corps area are to be held at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas; Ft. Sill, Oklahoma; Ft. Logan, Colorado, and Ft. Huachuca, Arizona. The government pays all expenses incident to this month's training from the time the candidate leaves his home, until the time he returns, and furnishes all clothing and equipment, etc. There is a civilian representative of the C. M. T. C. in practically every town in the area to whom application may be made. Applications can also be made direct to the C. M. T. C., Eighth Corps Area, Ft. Sam Houston, Texas.

KITCHEN STOVE STOLEN WHILE DINNER IS COOKING.

EL PASO, Texas, May 31.—"I had just gone out in the yard while I was cooking dinner and when I returned to the kitchen the stove was gone."

This was the tale of woe told by an excited woman to police authorities here.

Detective J. J. Coleman took up the trail and located the stove, still warm, at a second-hand store.

Investigators say the woman's 45-year-old son picked up the hot stove and carried it to the store where he sold it.

The son was arrested on a charge of vagrancy but the case was later dismissed.

NEFF VETOES APPROPRIATION BILLS ENACTED

Says Aggregate of $39,000,000 Is $8,000,000 Ahead of Revenues

AUSTIN, May 31.—The Senate finance committee immediately after receiving the veto on the appropriation bills reported favorably the eleemosynary, judiciary and miscellaneous claims and departmental emergency bills, carrying the same appropriations as passed in the last session.

AUSTIN, May 31.—Governor Neff today sent to the legislature vetoes on all of the appropriation bills passed by the last session of the legislature. The appropriations aggregated $39,000,000 and included the following measures:

Departmental, eleemosynary, general educational, rural school aid, emergency school, judiciary and miscellaneous items.

The message stated the appropriations exceeded by $8,000,000 the available revenue. Neff said he considered it his constitutional duty to veto the appropriation bills and give the legislature the opportunity to reconsider such bills.

The governor stated that the state cannot pay out any money that it does not have, therefore he was called upon to veto the appropriation bills in order that the legislature might have time to give them further consideration.

SENATE KILLS TWO REVENUE MEASURES.

AUSTIN, May 31.—Within less than 10 minutes after convening today the senate killed the Coffee oil production tax bill, increasing the tax on gross production from 2 to 2 1/2 per cent. A majority adverse committee report was adopted by viva voce vote, Senator Lewis being in the chair. Only a few members of the senate actually voted.

Immediately afterwards the Patman pipe line bill was brought up and killed by vote of 15 to 9.

CLERGYMAN SHOOTS AND KILLS HIMSELF.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Dr. James McBride Sterrett, a widely known Episcopal clergyman and university lecturer, shot and killed himself today. Sterrett, who was 76 years old, was rector emeritus of All Souls church, which he founded. He had served in various churches and lectured on ethics and philosophy in various educational institutions over the country. He is said to have suffered a nervous breakdown.

Lions Defeat Rotarians In Entertaining Ball Game For Tourists Camp Benefit

By H. H. BARMAN
It was an entertaining ball game at Municipal park yesterday afternoon in the scramble between the easy going Rotarians and the hard playing Lions. Seventeen runs were scored of which the Lions got 10 and the Rotarians seven. And all this in seven innings.

Playing with all the vim and fury of youngsters who feel their power, the Lions, with J. M. White in the box, scored at will in the early part of the game. But the Rotarians got next to White in the sixth and four men crossed the rubber.

The game was replete with wild throws, muffs, fumbles, falling and diving of players and slam-bang baseball. But nobody seemed to mind that in the least. In fact the misplays put the crowd in rattling good humor.

Receipts of the game, which will be devoted to further improvement of the tourists' camp grounds, a special charge of the Lions and Rotarians, amounted to about $300.

Presidents of Ranger civic clubs, including men's luncheon and women's clubs, are to meet in the office of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce at four o'clock this afternoon to discuss plans for holding a clean-up week campaign very shortly. It is planned to have it in effect for one entire week.

CLAUDE KITCHIN, LONG LEADER IN CONGRESS, DIES

He Was Democratic Floor Leader in House of Last Congress

WILSON, N. C., May 31.—Claude Kitchin, noted democratic leader, died in a hospital here early today. He was democratic floor leader in the house of the last congress. He had been ill for a long time with stomach trouble and had a relapse several days ago.

FIRE IN PETROGRAD THEATRE CAUSES PANIC RESULTING IN DEATHS

HELSINGFORS, Finland, May 31.—Fire sweeping through the Petrograd opera house last night destroyed that building and caused a panic among the spectators and many of them are reported to have been killed and injured. The dress of one of the actors caught fire and although the heavy curtain was lowered at once the panic had seized the audience and there was a rush for the exits. Many were killed and others injured in the crush at the entrance.

RECEIVERSHIP ASKED FOR KU KLUX KLAN

ATLANTA, May 31.—Receivership for the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan was asked for in a petition filed in the Fulton county superior court by C. W. Rittenhouse and others of Philadelphia, who charged gross mismanagement to W. H. Evans, imperial wizard. Petition also charges that Evans and W. J. Simmons, former imperial wizard, entered into a collusion in settling a recent controversy between them.

MAIN STREET BUILDING SOON TO BE REBUILT

Insurance Claims Dating Back Two Years Being Settled. Property to Be Restored.

The former three-story building that housed the Commercial hotel and which burned down two years ago today will be rebuilt. This was stated today by Lytton R. Taylor, attorney, who has been engaged in settling insurance claims on the building. "Mr. Halbert's plans are to improve the building as soon as the claims are settled," Mr. Taylor said. The insurance claims will be settled within a few days, he said. Delay in making an adjustment has been because of the many claimants to a portion of the insurance carried on the building. There are eight claimants to the insurance.

The building, was insured for $60,000, and the insurance company will settle for $30,000. The building is said to have originally cost $100,000. The brick walls are still standing.

The location of the old Commercial hotel is one of the best on Main street and visitors have often commented on the location being idle when it could be converted into a revenue paying proposition.

The extent of the rebuilding to be done is not known by Mr. Taylor. It was built by Harper & Barnes.

GENERAL LEE OIL INTERESTS ON TRIAL FOR ALLEGED FRAUD

FORT WORTH, May 31.—Government continued today its introduction of testimony in the General Lee oil promotion trial in its effort to prove that Charles Sherwin, H. H. Schwarz, and Robert A. Lee conspired to use the United States mails to defraud. Two witnesses testified that they bought stock on promises of rich returns and they received nothing. The witnesses, Rev. M. J. Weaver of Elgin, Ill., and J. H. Bryant of Shelbyville, Ky. Rev. Mr. Weaver said he invested $275. He sent his certificate of stock to the company's offices advising them to sell half of it but he never saw the certificate again. Bryant said he invested more than $400. Both testified that representatives of the company called on them and said the stock would be worth 4 for 1 in one month.

Declarations of trust in the Lee Development interests were read into the record by government attorneys. The declarations revealed that Sherwin and Schwarz were to have complete control.

The company, it was shown, was to have drilled 10 wells. Government witnesses have testified that only one well was drilled.

Chinese Bandits To Set Free All Foreign Captives

PEKING, China, May 31.—All of the foreign captives held by the Chinese bandits may be released today. This was indicated in a message from a newspaper man named Powell, who has been conducting negotiations with the bandits. Major Robert Allen of the United States army and an Englishman named Smith, already have been released. The brigands have decided to let the foreigners go without ransom, but are expecting to hold the Chinese prisoners, it is stated.

GOVERNOR SMITH FACES PROBLEM OF ENFORCEMENT

His Chances for Presidential Nomination May Hang on Decision.

ALBANY, May 31.—Facing a crowd, mostly women in the capital chambers, Governor Smith today opened a public hearing on the question of signing the bill repealing the state enforcement act.

Governor Smith faces what is declared an important decision affecting prohibition nationally and on which his Democratic presidential possibilities were declared to hang.

Opposition to the repeal of the prohibition law was expressed by Colonel Hayward, United States district attorney. Governor Smith was told by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the anti-saloon league of New York, that the state would become a rendezvous for liquor runners if the repeal bill was signed.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, urged that the repeal bill be signed and questioned the contention of the opposition that it would bring on a conflict between federal and state authorities.

Mrs. Woodruff, representing the League of Women Voters, told the governor he would violate a campaign pledge if he signed the bill. She claimed that in reply to a questionnaire sent out by the league before the last election, Governor Smith had declared to the league he was in favor of prohibition enforcement.

CLARA PHILLIPS SAYS WILL FIGHT FOR HER FREEDOM

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 31.—Clara Phillips, who passed through here early today in company with officers on the way to Los Angeles, said she would fight to the last court in an effort to win her freedom. She gave the interview in the Southern Pacific railroad yards, where she was in company with her sister, Mrs. Etta Mae Jackson and her guards.

LOS ANGELES, May 31.—Plans to take Clara Phillips direct to San Quentin prison on her arrival here tomorrow afternoon were abandoned when a deputy district attorney announced that he would have to serve a notice on the woman that the request for a new trial had been denied and that he must make a formal motion to that effect.

This means that on her arrival here she will be taken to the jail from where she escaped. She will be kept in solitary confinement while in jail here, the sheriff's department announced.

ONE GIVES LIFE VAINLY TO SAVE LIFE OF FRIEND

S. G. Fisher and Ben Makley Dead and Richard Fisher Severely Burned

S. G. Fisher, 27, and Ben Makley, 25, fatally burned late yesterday afternoon on the Davis lease, six miles west of Ranger died a few hours after the accident, at the Clinical hospital, where they had been removed.

The two men and Richard Fisher, a brother of the dead man, were burned when "Whitey," as he is known by his friends, ran to the boiler with his clothes oil soaked with a spray of oil from a shallow pool in the well to yank the burner from underneath the boiler. His clothes caught fire from the burner.

Makley ran to his assistance and he too was ignited. Richard was badly burned about the lower arms while working to extinguish the flames.

The faces of both men were burned almost beyond recognition. The bodies were covered with burns from head to foot, varying in severity.

Oil Flows Suddenly According to the story told by John Nation, who, with S. G. Fisher, had the contract for pulling the casing from the abandoned Davis No. 4 well, the oil gave but one sudden flow without any warning. This was about 4 o'clock, according to Nation.

"We must have struck a shallow oil pool," he said this morning. "The oil gave but one flow. We had no warning. 'Whitey' ran to the boiler a few feet away to pull the burner out. I yelled to him to leave it alone. His clothes got some of the oil. His clothes took fire."

"Makley was right after him. We didn't have much of anything to put the fire out. Ben took sand and rubbed 'Whitey's' body. I got a blanket and threw it around him. Richard got burned working to put the flames out."

Boiler Better Forgotten. The tragic accident would never have happened if the boiler had been forgotten about, Nation said. "The platform about the well didn't take fire," he said.

When oil or gas shoots up suddenly, the first thought of an oil worker is the boiler. Usually a man is assigned to the duty of acting as a safety man in case of an emergency. This, undoubtedly, was the first thought of S. G. Fisher when he was sprayed with the oil.

Fisher Showed Stoicism. The two men were rushed to the hospital in an automobile. S. G. Fisher showed remarkable stoicism when he arrived at the hospital. He sat on a stool in the elevator on the way up to the sixth floor of the Ranger State bank, where the hospital is located. When the elevator stopped, he stood up and walked to the bedroom. A stretcher was sent to the automobile to bring Makley up. Fisher expired at 8 o'clock and Makley at 9:40 o'clock.

The body of Fisher was put on the Sunshine Special this morning to be taken to his old home at Martinsville, Va. It was accompanied by his brother, Richard, and his business associate, Nation. He is survived by his mother and a sister, living in Martinsville.

Makley's body is being held at the Milford Funeral home. His mother and a brother, Pete, of Tulsa, Okla., arrived early this afternoon. They will return to Tulsa with the body tomorrow morning. Makley was a member of the Ranger Council, No. 2123, Knights of Columbus. He joined the Ranger council three years ago here.

Both men had made Ranger their home for about three years. Fisher lived at the Majestic hotel and Makley at the Hazard rooms.

Senator Burkett will be commended by the people for his stand against top-heavy revenues. He points out that appropriations already voted are excessive in ways that the governor has the power to remedy.

There is no need to worry about the condition of the state's general revenue fund. It will come out alright. But there is need for care in placing unwarranted tax burdens on the people just to accumulate a surplus, which is certain to lead to extravagance, and Senator Burkett is right in the position he has taken.

BIBLE THOUGHT GREAT GAIN.—Godliness with contentment is great gain.—1 Timothy 6:8.

TIME TO CALL A HALT, SAYS BURKETT. Senator Joq Burkett has never been regarded as a watchdog of the treasury, so when he sees occasion to call a halt, both on large appropriations and enlarged revenues to meet them, there must be reason for it.

In a statement given out at Austin, Senator Burkett suggests that appropriation bills now on the governor's desk, awaiting action by him, are susceptible of considerable pruning, and he declares that until the governor does act on them he will not vote for any measure placing an additional tax burden on the people.

Senator Burkett points out that in the event the legislature should enact large additional measures and the governor afterwards should cut the appropriation bills, a large surplus in the treasury would follow, naturally, and this might prove, probably would prove, a temptation to the next legislature to be extravagant in its expenditures.

The general revenue fund in the state treasury has at present nothing to its credit. Warrants have been drawn against it which must be taken care of as additional revenue comes in and probably several months will elapse before the fund will be sufficiently large to take care of all these warrants and others that will be drawn each month and also accumulate a surplus.

appointees and a vast extension of government control over industry. If the special privilege of borrowing money without interest is really a boon and is granted only to certain groups of producers, the list to be changed from time to time, somebody must decide who are to be the favored groups, and whether that somebody is Congress or Federal warehouse directors who are subject to partisan appointment and removal, the question who is to receive free money will undoubtedly remain in politics and will recurrently become of great moment as election day approaches.

At the coming of springtime much activity is noticed here and yonder, especially at the residence of Sim Flinders. In passing there this morning, while gathering up eggs and butter the Tin Peddler observed the following taking place all at once: Sim's wife was planting two more rows of onions; one of the children was chopping up a fence paling to make a fire under the wash kettle; two of the dogs had a peg hemmed in a fence corner; one of the larger boys was untangling the fishing lines; a hound dog had treed a cat on a dead peach tree; the pot of cabbage on the cook stove was boiling over; Sim was installing a new stem in his pipe, and the baby was trying to fall off of the front porch.

Business Chaos in Edison-Ford Money Scheme. Expert Shows How Commodity Money Would Make Worse the Evils it Aims to Correct. MEANS SPECIAL FAVORS AND ADDITIONAL TAXES. Would Open Way for Political Meddling With Business and Complicate the Conduct of Trade and Finance.

The weaknesses of the Edison-Ford commodity money scheme to abolish the gold standard and do away with monetary instability, interest charges and speculation in farm products are exposed by William T. Foster, Director of the Pollack Foundation for Economic Research, in an article in the Proceedings of the Academy of Political Science. He shows that the only result of the plan would be to aggravate the evils it aims to cure.

Everybody would have to observe carefully whether he had Grade A Kipped Herring notes or Grade X Salt Cod notes. If there was a strike of bituminous coal miners he would hoard Bituminous Coal notes. If there was a slump in cotton he would try to get rid of Cotton notes.

Consider, on the other hand, the simplicity and definiteness of a gold-secured dollar. All the world knows precisely what is meant by the convertibility of a paper certificate into gold. All the world accepts the gold in exchange. Its value is known in every market. It is readily tested, stored, preserved, divided, transported. Moreover, there are the gold reserves, maintained for the very purpose of conversion any day for no other and available on demand.

LANDIS ASKS MORE BASEBALL LOTS FOR BOYS

CHICAGO, May 31.—A vacant lot where boys can engage in a game of baseball is the best insurance policy taboanible, Kenesaw Mountain Landis baseball commissioner, believes.

The former federal jurist, always with a deep interest in boys, said today that too few cities and towns have made the proper provision for a boys' playground. The average boy, he said, may not have a very great sense of justice, but no one has a better sense of injustice.

It is an injustice not to provide a spot where boys can enjoy themselves at will and with the knowledge they are not victims of injustice, Commissioner Landis said.

One of my chief reasons for my interest in baseball is that I have always had a very deep interest in boys. Baseball must justify the confidence of the boy of today.

Every boy, if he is normal, has a hero and in times of peace that hero is an athlete. In 99 cases out of 100 that athlete is a baseball player.

To this hero, the boy builds an altar in his heart and keeps the candles burning. Unconsciously or otherwise he turns to that altar day after day.

Scientists Find Relativity Theory Food for Argument. PARIS, May 31.—A division in scientific circles has been made here by the relativity theory of Einstein, challenging old conceptions of time and place.

Former Premier Painleve, first a mathematician and later a politician, is threatening to drop politics long enough to prove that the earth has stopped turning. In fact he asserts that it never did turn.

Emile Picard, the genial permanent secretary of the Academy of Sciences, from his retreat in the Institute palace, has sought to dodge this battle of the worlds. However, he is inclined to the belief that the old-timers were fairly correct.

Director Baillaud, of the Paris Observatory, says that in many respects science is still like Diogenes, stumbling along with his lantern. "As for me," he added, "I have no opinion as to the relative merits of the discussion. It would take me two years of my life to become familiar with the Einstein theory, and as I am 75 now, I really haven't the time to spare."

It is said that Germany wants to sell the Britain-to-Bagdad railway to the United States. Sure—she wants somebody to have all her worries.

TOMMY MILTON WINS GRUELLING MOTOR CAR RACE

By Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, May 31.—Tommy Milton of St. Paul, Minn., achieving the ambition of his brilliant racing career Wednesday, when for the second time he won the 500-mile automobile race over the Indianapolis motor speedway, repeating his victory of 1921 before a crowd of 150,000 spectators. It was the greatest throng that ever witnessed a sporting event in America.

Milton's time for the 500 miles was 5:28:06.27, giving him an average speed of 91.4 miles an hour, as compared with the record-breaking speed of 94.48 made a year ago. Harry Hartz of Los Angeles, who finished second in the 1922 race, thundered across the finishing line five miles behind Milton, while Jimmy Murphy, winner of the 1922 race, was third, about thirteen miles behind Hartz. Hartz's time was 5:33:05.90 for an average of 90.06 miles an hour. Murphy finished in 5:40:36.64 for an average speed of 88.08 miles an hour.

Cooper Takes Fourth. Fourth place went to the veteran Sari Cooper, while L. L. Corum of Indianapolis furnished one of the mechanical surprises of the race by piloting a specially built "fliver" into fifth place. Frank Elliott, a California driver, finished sixth and Eddie Hearne seventh. Max Safler, one of the three German entries, was eighth, Prince de Cystria, a French entry, was ninth, Phil Shafer, driving an Indianapolis machine, was tenth, Christian Werner, another of the German entries, finished eleventh, just outside of the prize money.

Of the 24 cars that roared away in a belching of smoke at the start of the race, only eleven survived the gruelling test of speed and endurance. Eight of the survivors were American creations, two were German and one was French. Four of the French machines were eliminated because of motor trouble and the third German entry was wrecked in a smash-up.

Winner Gets $35,000. Milton, who collected about $35,000 as his reward for victory, gave a wonderful exhibition of gameness, skill and daring, as he was pushing every mile of the race by the thundering speed marvels attempting to beat him. Howard Wilcox, an Indianapolis driver, shared in Milton's triumph, for, after his own car was eliminated, he relieved Milton, whose hands were painfully blistered as a result of gripping the wheel. Wilcox drove 115 miles of the race.

Human Features Changing Rapidly Says Scientist

LONDON, May 31.—We do not use our brains to half their capacity, says Sir Arthur Keith, British scientist, who has just returned from the African jungle where he made a minute study of the brains of gorillas and gibbons.

"Most of us," declares Sir Arthur, "have more brains than we know what to do with."

The famous anthropologist said that changes are now taking place in the human world more rapidly than at any former period, but that the time has not yet come for the production of supermen.

JOHN BULL CAN STILL PLAY GOLF

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor). NEW YORK, May 31.—Johnny Bull may be the globe's biggest joke in the ring, he may not be able to ride a horse in polo, and as a tennis player he may be a bust, but John can still play golf.

The superiority of the British amateur golf game was shown most conclusively in the recent British championship when the American team was perhaps fortunate in being able to provide the runner-up in Francis Ouimet.

The American team was the most formidable ever sent in quest of the coveted British titles, and even if Ouimet did win that famous St. George's Cup, something no American had ever done before, it is the amateur crown that John is most proud of and most desirous of retaining.

Chick Evans, in deciding at the last moment not to go to England, did weaken the American team, but it is doubtful if the result would have been different had the noted Chick been over there doing his stuff.

Luis Firpo, the South American giant, hurt his hand with McAliffie, and had to call off several matches. Jimmy DeForest, his trainer, explained that Firpo did not hit the mitt on McAliffie. He hit one of the ring posts.

Nice, mild boy, Luis! Richard C. Kendall, a West Virginia midshipman at Annapolis, was given a gold watch as a prize "for trying." It was the first time that a big college recognized the gamest and noblest boys in athletes, the "drudges" who haven't the stuff and refuse to admit it.

Kendall slaved for four hard years trying to earn a place in the "varsity" rowing shell, but he failed. There is no sport calling for so much heart and giving such a little reward as rowing.

Even if Kendall did fail to make good, his example of spirit must have been so inspiring that in his humble place he might have done more good than at the stroke oar of the "varsity."

The citation for his decoration read: "To a non-varsity oarsman whose spirit helped to make the United States Naval Academy crew for 1923."

Life's noblest characters are not those who achieve mighty success but they are those who always keep trying.

"In these contracted palates there is no longer room for the normal number of teeth. Such as appear are crowded; the wisdom teeth often fail to cut or are absent altogether."

"The recession of the teeth give the modern nose and chin an undue prominence; the tendency of all modern changes is toward the production of long and narrow faces. The 'adenoid' type of face, with which medical men are so familiar in modern children, was unknown in prehistoric times."

LIONS BEAT ROTARIANS

(Continued from page 1) relieving Mendenhall of the Rotarians. Dr. C. C. Craig slammed the ball for two bases that brought a rise out of the crowd. It was timely hit for he scored Savage. Singularly enough the doctor binged in the fifth inning and scored Savage. There were whisperings of a dark collusion between these two gentlemen to carry off all the honors.

Logsdon Out of His Class. Spectators generally agreed that Dr. H. C. Logsdon was playing out of his class and that he did not need any sympathy. But he did need it in the sixth inning. Karl Jones, who was on base somewhere when a hit was made, tore around the diamond for home. Larson threw to head off Jones and Logsdon in the manner of a real catcher (which he is) placed himself squarely at the homeplate prepared to take the throw. He took the throw easily and tagged Jones just as the latter touched the base. The ump yelled safe and the Lions' rooters roared as if the heat was beginning to be felt more severely. Some in the grandstand thought the ump mistaken.

Trailing behind didn't seem to appeal to the Rotarians when the sixth inning came around for they put four runs over and again in the seventh inning they scored two more runs. If the game had gone on for the regulation nine innings the Rotarians might have won—who knows?

Those Funny Looking Men. The box score is not published with the understanding that it is an accurate one. The scorer was as much interested in the crowd on this occasion as he was in the ball game. Besides there were funny looking men, with their faces painted up and dressed in clown suits running around in the stands—and they were amusing. The box score:

CHANCE FOR SPORTSMEN TO PROVE REAL FRIEND IN NEED TO GAME BIRDS

A movement is under way to protect the game of this section by enlisting the aid of sportsmen in shoot-birds before they have an opportunity to cause destruction during the nesting and mating season. Plans are being made to have every sportsman interested in game protection, spend some time ridding the woods, field and marsh of predatory hawks, owls and crows, weasels, and others who annually kill ten times as much game as all gunners combined. It has been stated that the red squirrel alone will kill 200 birds in a season, while the great horned owl destroys annually covey after covey of quail. Special efforts are being made to enlist the aid of game lovers against the crow who is described as destroying individually more birds of all kinds, more birds' eggs and young poultry than any other bird that ever flapped a wing.

Oleander Blossom Fete to Open This Week In Galveston

By Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Texas, May 31.—A fete to perpetuate the Oleander blossom, Galveston's distinctive flower, will be held here June 2, 3, and 4, under the auspices of the Galveston Playground association, the Galveston Commercial association, and the Women's Health Protective association.

Contests are being conducted to select Queen Flora, the reigning head of the fete, and Queen of the May, who will preside over the children's festivities. Elaborate prizes are offered the winner, and those winning second and third awards will serve as maids of honor to chosen queens, and members of the royal party.

Proceeds derived from the contests will revert to the Playgrounds association for playground work here.

A flore parade, in which all children of the city are invited to participate, will be the opening feature. Walking sections and vehicle sections will comprise the parade. The Oleander blossom will be featured in the decorations. The Galveston Playground association is directing these activities.

Following the children's parade a pageant will be held at Menard park when the Queen of May will be crowned amid much pomp and ceremony.

Sunday, the second day of the fete, the Galveston Commercial association will sponsor the decorated automobile parade to be staged on the beach boulevard and the principal residential sections.

On Monday the Women's Health association is entertaining with a crepe paper ball at the Garden of Tokio, in honor of the royal party, when Queen Oleander and King Neptune will be crowned. Three cash prizes will be awarded to those wearing the most attractive costumes distinctive of the Oleander.

POLICE ASKED TO FIND YOUNG GIRL WHO LEAVES HOME

Displeased, it is thought, because the family automobile was denied her following its repair after an accident while she was driving the car, Miss Willie Betts, 15, bob-haired and said by her friends to be a "quiet girl," ran away from her home yesterday morning and has not been heard from. She left on the Sunshine Special for Dallas, it is said. She left home without telling her mother or stepfather of her intentions. Her mother is prostrated over the girl's action, according to police.

"She was in our house just before she left for the station," Mrs. Blake Chilton told a Times reporter. "Willie said her stepfather has relatives in Dallas and she was going to stay with them and look for work. She told us she did not say anything to her mother about leaving." Mrs. Blake is the mother of Mrs. Nellie Chilton, a chum of the runaway.
Mrs. Chilton ventured the prediction that she would return home in a few days. The girl's mother lives on Eastland hill.

Every Day A Mother's Day Is Aim Of American Child Health Association Program

According to the calendar, Mother's Day is over now. The white carnations and the red ones alike have faded. But every day is mother's day, as "those only who have ever had a mother" will agree, and one of the great lessons taught this year by the official Mother's Day should not be allowed to fade, but should go with all good Americans through the year.
That lesson was the plea made by the American Child Health Association to "Save the mothers of the United States." The Association which was recently formed by the amalgamation of the Child Health Organization and the American Child Hygiene Association, with Herbert Hoover as president, pointed out that "Over 18,000 of our mothers died in childbirth in 1921. Most of them could have been saved, and it asked of the people of the United States, 'Why weren't they?'"
The American Child Health Association refers to this condition as "An appalling waste of human life," and calls the mother statistics "The most shameful figures in our national records."
"Motherhood is a normal state," declares the American Child Health Association. "Child-birth need be neither alarming nor dangerous.

But more interest must be taken in the mothers of our nation."
The Association appeals to the country at large to "Make Mother's Day in 1924 a real Mother's Day" to raise our standard in maternal mortality during the ensuing year, and to be able to point with pride to our national mother-conservation by the end of that time. It urges upon the public the need of more pre-natal clinics and better care of expectant mothers. Its plans include the dissemination of health information which will be of use to mothers, both before and after their babies are born.
The officers of the American Child Health Association include some of the best-known medical men in the United States, such as Dr. L. Emmett Holt, eminent child specialist; Dr. Philip Van Ingen; Dr. Livingston Farrand, former chairman of the American Red Cross, and now President of Cornell University; Dr. Thomas D. Wood of Columbia University.
The National headquarters of the Association is at 532 Seventh Street, Washington, D. C., to which applications for membership may be sent to the Treasurer, Corcoran Thom. The administrative headquarters is at 370 Seventh Avenue, New York City.

SCIENCE SEEKS METHOD TO USE LIGNITE CHAR DIRECT

By United Press.
MONTREAL, May 31.—Science's quest for a method that will add lignite char to the available fuel supplies of the United States was described at a session of the fuel division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers here today by O. P. Hood, chief mechanical engineer of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

"The bureau of mines is investigating the possibilities of a program," said Hood, "which has for its main features an inexpensive carbonizing device and the use of the lignite char direct, without briquetting. If a market for the char can be developed, and the small mine can produce char, there would be provided means for a natural evolution of an industry that in time might realize the larger vision of briquetting and recovery of by-products."
"Lignite char can best be described in a few words as a fuel rather near in analysis to anthracite coal but softer, with a little more volatile matter, and thus kindling easier. Whether a market can be developed for such a fuel at prices around five dollars a ton at the mine, remains to be shown, but it is at least encouraging to know that Germany used last year 400,000 tons of similar material for domestic heating and cooking.
This fuel burns well with natural draft where a thin fuel bed, about one and a half inches in thickness can be maintained. Base burners, cook stoves, and other heaters can be adapted to use the fuel satisfactorily. It makes a very clean fire, is smokeless, and the char is clean to handle. It is, however, slow in getting under way as compared to a gas range."
The greatest difficulty with our lignite is the fact that in nearly every district where it should be the natural fuel it is put in competition with high grade fuel, according to Hood, who continued:

"We are all spoiled by having been blessed with an abundance of the best, so that we are impatient with the limitations of lower-grade fuels. If we had been obliged to go down 2,000 feet or more and win good coal from thin seams in scattered districts, as they do in Europe, we would have long ago worked out a successful technique for utilizing our lignite. Canadian and North Dakota lignite must compete with anthracite and with Pittsburg and Illinois bituminous coal; our Texas lignite must compete with gas, oil, and Oklahoma bituminous coal.
"It is evident, however, that there must be a price at which the lower-grade fuel will begin to be attractive. In round numbers the ratio is somewhere in the neighborhood of half the price of good coal. With the rising price of bituminous coal we are fast approaching the time when this ratio will be common."

MANY ACCEPTANCES FOR ANNIVERSARY DINNER OF COOKS AND WAITERS

Nearly 60 persons have accepted invitations to be present at the fourth anniversary dinner of the Ranger Cooks and Waiters local No. 399, Friday night at the Ranger cafe. More than 120 invitations have been sent out, according to Don Shepard, secretary of the organization, and about one dozen have not yet been heard from.
Mayor Hodges and the city commissioners, the city secretary, police and fire chiefs have been invited to be present. Representatives of the organizations at Fort Worth, Abilene and Breckenridge relied that they would be here.

The Ranger local was formed on June 2, 1919, but the officials decided June 1 would be the best date to hold the dinner.
Don Shepard will be the toastmaster at the dinner.

OFFICER SHOTS DOG WHICH ACTED STRANGELY

A supposedly mad dog was killed underneath the house of Robert Hansford yesterday afternoon by City Sanitary Officer Wade Swift. The dog had been around the Hansford property for several days and had been acting strangely. It is reported to have bitten several other dogs.
The canine's head was so badly riddled with bullets from the officer's gun that it could not be examined at the biological laboratory to make certain whether it had the rabies. It was a stray dog.

FLAPPER 1923 STYLE IS MUCH MORE FEMININE

She Is Therefore More Adorable and More Interesting.

By HEDDA HOYT
Fashion Editor of the United Press.
By United Press.

NEW YORK, May 31.—It is said that shop girls and society girls dress so much alike that they can't be told apart.

This is somewhat of an exaggeration. While it is true that the society girl and the shop girl wear similar clothing, they wear them for entirely different occasions. The shop girl wears her sports clothes on week days and dolls up in chiffons and horse-hair hats on Sundays.

Just the opposite is true of the society girl. You seldom see a debutante on Fifth Avenue in sports attire. She confines her taste for sports clothes for sports wear in the country. While the little shop girl is out in all her glory on the Sabbath, the society girl is usually out on the links in very modest sports attire.

American girls have a tendency to be standardized and that is why the shop girl and the debutante look so much alike. Just a year ago we had the flapper with us—society flappers and shopgirl flappers. One really couldn't tell them apart.

The New Flapper.
Do you ever wonder what's become of the flapper? The girl with the polo coat, up-turned hat, woolen hose, flat heels and muffer? Look on Fifth Avenue and you'll see her. She's a different creature this year, but there are thousands of her. She wears a flowing chiffon gown, short fur jackette, brilliantly colored shoes with high heels silk stockings and a demure little poke bonnet. Instead of the boyish strut, she minces along as though she were walking on thin ice. A little wisp of chiffon edged in lace replaces the bandana handkerchief of last season.

The 1923 girl is far more interesting than the "little old last year's flapper" because she is more feminine. Her feet are encased in tiny cut-out sandals, that scarcely cover her toes, instead of the wide, flat, sports shoes of last year. The flapper is dead! Long live the high-heeled, chiffon-garbed charmers of 1923!

FASHION NOTES.
Barundi, a new summer fur, is really just old fashioned chipmunk; those little striped animals that were seen scampering about the woods of the northwest.

Now for the girl who wants to be just a little quaint! The latest word from England says that wall-flowers are the newest corsages for evening wear. Yellow chiffon dancing frocks are using corsages of velvet wall-flowers placed under one arm. Wall-flowers with their organdy tones fading into browns are extremely lovely on the crisp organdy summer gown. Again wall-flowers are used on the summer hat of bronze straw. Nothing could be more attractive on a girl with reddish hair and brown eyes.

Hoop earrings are being revived again! They come in jet, silver filigree, metal hoops set with Egyptian stones and jade. They are said to be newer than the pendant earrings for summer wear.

When one tires of the colored kid shoe, it can always be bronzed and worn with cinnamon colored stockings.

One of the prettiest ways to use black lace this season is to have it pleated over printed material of brilliant coloring. Sometimes skirt lengths are made by basting the lace onto the printed material and pleating the two layers together. The bodice of such a gown is very simple, having the lace draped over the printed material.

Smart and Simple Dress for Girls of Scout Age

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

The young girl who has reached a point of interest in clothes makes her first decision in favor of practical simplicity. This dress, for example, will find favor with many girls of scout age because of the evident freedom and smart simplicity.

The knife-pleated skirt and the collar of this model are of blue suiting of fast color. The blouse with belt is of the same kind of material, but white in color, with blue collar. The darning stitches are done in blue and the wee tie is of black.

In making pleated skirts of wash material be sure to tear the skirt lengths and straighten each piece with the warp threads so as to insure a perfect hanging skirt after laundering.

ONE ARM BROKEN, YET PLAYS GOLF AND WINS.

By United Press.
DALLAS, Texas, May 31.—Oswin K. King, who writes for the Dallas Journal and plays golf under the moniker of "Uncle Jake," hurt his right arm a couple of weeks ago.
But when the time for the Dallas newspaper men's golf tourney came along he decided he had to play despite the paining member. He played and won, ending the tournament with a gruelling match which he took, one up.

After the finals were played he went to a doctor to have his arm examined and found that it had been broken all along.
He is believed to be the first golfer to have won a match with a broken arm.
Send your messages of condolence to John D. Rockefeller now. He has only $300,000,000 left, while Henry Ford has $750,000,000.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poisons!

Constipation is largely responsible for auto-intoxication that leads to dangerous diseases unless it is not only checked but permanently relieved. Constipation, in fact, is the basis of a majority of human ailments which could be headed off if people would only help rid themselves of this serious, health-undermining condition, which can be easily done.
Constipation must be fought to a finish—not with pills and cathartics, which are dangerous to the delicate membranes of the intestines and tend to break down the system. Kellogg's Bran is the greatest cereal health food—Bran—Kellogg's Bran, which is as delicious as it is beneficial.
Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its work because it is ALL BRAN. And, to get permanent relief, ALL BRAN is a necessity, for it is the "bulk" of Kellogg's Bran that sweeps and purifies, ridding the system of poisons and bringing conditions to normal. Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two table-spoonfuls daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases—and we guarantee that you will get relief permanently and naturally.
Kellogg's Bran is delicious. You do not have to learn to like it. Eat it as a cereal or sprinkle on or mix with hot or cold cereals. Or, cook it with hot cereals, allowing two table-spoonfuls for each person. Kellogg's makes wonderful muffins, griddle cakes, raisin bread, macarons, etc. Recipes on package.
Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.
