RAIN, HAIL AND WIND TAKE TOLL IN NORTH TEXAS

Cloudburst In Nacogdoches County; Tracks Washed Out In Jones County.

DALLAS, April 26.—Following the cloudbursts, hail and wind that prevailed Tuesday night and yesterday throughout North Texas and South...

Hail and wind at Henrietta is said to have caused damage amounting to about $100,000. Flood warnings probably prevented loss of life in Nacogdoches county when a cloudburst flooded the valley of Bonita Creek and the waters swept through the village of Needmore, six miles from the county seat, inundating residences and destroying gardens.

Rainfall that amounted almost to a cloudburst was reported at Anson, in Jones county, where a section of the Wichita Falls Valley railroad track was washed out, and also at Stamford, where about 1,500 feet of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad tracks were carried away.

Osborne told the officers he had lived 5 years in Fort Worth and previously for 25 years had been a policeman in Temple.

GALVESTON HAS VISION OF SOCIAL IMPORTANCE

The occasion will be made a state-wide social event and Galveston debutantes are inviting their friends from every city in the state to join the Island City in its festivities.

The navy department has dispatched the squadron from Key West and it is scheduled to arrive at Bolivar Roads at Galveston today for a one week's stay, leaving for Atlantic waters May 2.

King's Son and Bride

Bells of Westminster Abbey Peal Joyfully and Sun Beams Brightly While London Acclaims Royal Couple

LONDON, April 26.—The Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon were married at noon today in Westminster Abbey.

While the great bells of Parliament square tolled the nation's joy at the union and millions sent up a thunder of tears the lovely bride who had entered the abbey a commoner emerged, Cinderella-like, on the arm of her smiling husband, fourth lady of all England.

At the wedding breakfast at the palace following the wedding ceremony, King George called the bride "Your Royal Highness," and Lady Elizabeth became third in rank from Queen Mary, among the women of Great Britain.

Just at the moment when the blushing bride and the young duke stepped from the abbey doors and started for their carriage the sun broke out from behind clouds striking on the sheen on the wedding gown. The 500-ton bells of Westminster set up the pealing they maintained for three and one-half hours and the duke carried away his bride on a long ride through London streets, where several millions saw them pass. The wedding breakfast and reception at Buckingham palace over, the royal couple became a happy pair of newly married lovers off on a honeymoon.

The Prince of Wales acted as best man to his brother and attracted more attention than the bridegroom. The fact that, like his sister Princess Mary, who married Viscount Lascelles just 14 months ago, the Duke of York had stepped outside the royal circle for a bride naturally increased public enthusiasm over the match, and everywhere the wish was heard that the Prince of Wales would also find an English bride.

The wedding breakfast was a brilliant affair, but the guests were strictly limited to members of the families of the "high contracting parties." After receiving numerous delegations bearing addresses of congratulation, the newly-weds were permitted to change into traveling kit and depart for their honeymoon. The duke's Hussar regiment provided the escort to the station.

Led by the energetic Prince George, the royal family, friends and servants pelted the happy couple with flowers, rice and confetti in quite ordinary "plebian" style.

MONTE CARLO PROFITS AS FIGURED IN FRANCE

PARIS, April 26.—The profits of the Monte Carlo gambling tables for the 1922-1923 season amounted to 13,238,000 francs, according to figures just published by a financial journal. This amount represents an increase of 508,000 francs over the previous season. The total receipts were 65,860,176 francs and the expenses 52,622,176. A dividend of 100 francs per share on the stock was declared at a meeting of the board of directors of the casino several days ago.

The old saying, so familiar to Americans frequenting the tables at the casino, "Rouge et noir" sometimes wins, but Blanc was always will be heard no more as Camille Blanc, president of the Casino company, has retired owing to ill-health.

BOY PLEADS TO DIE ON GALLOWS WITH BROTHER

Governor of Georgia Spares Life of One, But Not the Other.

ROME, Ga., April 26.—Ralph Baker, 15 years old, tried today to die on the gallows alongside of his brother, George, 19.

"If George has got to die, I must die, too," the haggard youth sobbed hysterically as he received a commutation to life imprisonment from Governor Hardwicke, who at the same time ordered that George Baker must pay tomorrow with his life for the murder of a deputy sheriff.

Ralph paced with quick, nervous steps for hours about his narrow cell as he pleaded for the right to accompany in death the brother with whom he had been inseparable in life.

The father of the boys, a broken-down little old man who parted with all his possessions to fight for his sons' lives, kept an all-night vigil with the youths. Ralph and George quietly awaited the decision of the governor, as the father tried to control them. Profers of food were refused by the boys and they calmly waited. Then when the slip of paper came bearing the message George held up bravely, while his younger brother burst into a storm of protest that his own life had been spared.

"Oh, God; I've got to die," Ralph wept. "They're going to hang a man who never killed anybody," he said as he grasped the import of the message.

STOCK PROMOTION PUBLICITY WRITERS ALSO ARE INDICTED

FORT WORTH, April 26.—The United States government struck again yesterday in its war on alleged fraudulent oil promoters in Fort Worth.

Three men, all said to be connected with Bucher's Smackover Trust, were arrested on warrants charging use of the mails to defraud. The three men were placed under bonds of $20,000 each. The men are Bucher, sole trustee of the trust; E. J. Dailey and W. P. Elwell.

The latter two men, according to federal officials, were doing publicity writing for Bucher and taking a percentage of the stock sold.

RANGER TO HAVE LEGISLATURE AS LUNCHEON GUEST

Lawmakers Will Be Here Saturday At Noon In Swing About Oil Belt.

Texas legislators, invited to visit the Eastland county oil fields for the week-end as the guests of commercial organizations who are opposed to the placing of a higher tax on gross petroleum, will circle about the city of Ranger Saturday morning before coming in for luncheon at the Gholson hotel.

Desdemona, Gorman and Pleasant Grove will be among the more prominent fields visited.

The banquet plan in the evening has given away to a luncheon, B. F. Bennett, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, said today. Mayor R. H. Hodges will give the address of welcome and a response will probably come from one of the visiting party. The solons will leave after the luncheon to complete their tour of the county.

Austin advices say that the railroad commission of Texas and R. B. Walthall, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division, will be here with the party.

The special train will consist of seven Pullmans. The train will stop at Fort Worth and Waco and at the former city will be the guests of the local chamber of commerce at an evening dinner. The train, following the dinner, will pull out for Eastland, where the Pullmans will be during the two-day stay in the county.

Indications are that practically all members of the legislature will be here, the Austin dispatch said.

SHIP FOUND GROUNDED ON REEF DESERTED BY PASSENGERS AND CREW

LONDON, April 26.—A Reuter's News dispatch from Cape Town says that the Portuguese mail steamer Messamebes, which grounded on a reef near Cape Frio, apparently several days ago, was found abandoned early today with no trace of the 237 passengers the vessel carried. No boats have been picked up and no evidence has been found of any survivors.

Cape Frio has no near landing place and boats in a heavy sea would have little chance of surviving. Among the passengers on the ship were 29 women and 25 children, two of them being British and the others Portuguese.

AUSTIN, April 26.—Governor Neff inaugurated his legislative program today by submitting to the legislature several proposals for consideration.

AIRY CONTEMPT OF LAWMAKERS IS CHASTENED

Court May Intervene, However, To Mitigate Youngblood's Punishment.

AUSTIN, April 26.—Application for a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Hull Youngblood of San Antonio, sentenced to the Travis county jail last night after being adjudged in contempt of the joint legislative committee, was filed with District Judge James R. Hamilton this morning.

Youngblood, who refused to be sworn and to testify before the joint committee regarding an alleged speech he made before a civic club in San Antonio last week, was sentenced to 20 days in the county jail unless he wished to purge himself and appear before the committee and testify. The hearing on the application was held immediately, but Judge Hamilton is not expected to act until late this afternoon.

The legislative committee was represented by Attorney General Keeling and his first assistant Judge Wall. Youngblood is held in the Travis county jail.

It was Youngblood who made the so-called "rabbit chasing and hill billie" speech which offended the Texas legislature. In it he made references which were construed by the lawmakers to be reflection on their honesty and integrity, although Youngblood has since said that he made no such reflections and intended to make none.

Brutal Treatment In Convict Camp Being Revealed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 26.—A cyprus box found buried in the swampland near Clara, was believed today to contain a dead body's evidence of brutality in a Florida convict camp. The box (unopened on protest of attorneys, is believed to contain the clothing of Martin Tabert, the North Dakota youth who died following an alleged flogging in the prison camp of the Putnam Lumber company. The dead boy's clothing is expected to be used as evidence substantiating a witness account of Tabert was held on the ground by a booted foot of a guard while Tabert was flogged in an unmerciful manner.

The legislature called for this evidence yesterday after a negro testified he had helped to bury Tabert's body in a water-soaked grave in a palmetto grove near Clara.

SUPPLY IS SURE—Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.

Texas farmers are not going to have excessive additional taxes heaped upon their shoulders by the special session, in the opinion of Representative R. E. Sparkman, of Italy, leader of the Farm Bloc.

"The farmers of the state need have no fear of the outcome of the special session so far as taxes are concerned," he said.

If the Patterson quo warranto bill becomes a part of the Texas statutes it will be one of the most dangerous pieces of legislation in the history of the state, according to Representative Lewis T. Carpenter of Dallas. Carpenter declares the effect of the bill is centralization of power in the chief executive which he opposed.

The financial situation of the state is to be relieved and solved by the present session under present indications, Representative J. M. Melson of Sulphur Springs states. Judge Melson has a number of tax measures pending and was author of one of the three successful tax bills in the regular session. He is of the opinion that measures will be enacted to bring sufficient revenue to place the state on a cash basis in the near future.

"We are going to fight the repeal of the reclamation act to the last ditch." This is the ultimatum Representative Lee J. Rountree served on members of the house who are seeking repeal of the $600,000 flood control bill. Rountree expressed the belief that the conservation act will be retained.

"We are going to the bottom of the tax situation and claims of certain tax organizations," Senator Pollard of Van Zandt county said following the adoption of his resolution for an investigation committee. He said that leaders of the movements for tax equalization are to be questioned at length regarding reports of "tax slacker" counties.

Peanut growers of Texas will meet in annual session at Brownwood May 29-31. Several out-of-state speakers are expected to be present. Prospects are favorable for at least an average crop of peanuts this fall, according to J. H. Burkett, specialist, of Austin, who said that the late freeze appears not to have injured the crop more than 5 per cent.

IDOLATRY IS GREATEST SIN, SAYS EVANGELIST

Good crowds and excellent attention still mark the interest in the revival services in progress at the Church of Christ, Rusk and Mesquite streets, conducted by Evangelist O. E. Phillips.

Special features of the evening services are the Bible stories and lessons to the children, and the delightful congregational singing.

The theme of the Wednesday night discourse was the question of man's greatest sin. And the text for the evening, which formed the nucleus around which the answering arguments were woven, was the question by the lawyer to Jesus, and His reply concerning "the first and great commandment," as recorded in Matthew 22:36-38.

Dealing with the great question of sin from many angles, and viewing the sins of the world today in their various kinds and degrees, the evangelist said in part: "Every sin condemns us, and man cannot free himself from the guilt and condemnation of sin. God alone, through the sacrificial offering of Jesus, can do that. And that lying, stealing, drunkenness, false swearing, adultery, murder, etc., are all horrible crimes; but the worst sin is that one which underlies and begets and fosters every other—putting God out of one's life. If God holds not first place in your heart and the activities of your life, then something is between. And whatever is between the love of your whole heart, mind and soul, separating it from God, is an idol.

"Paul said, 'I had not known sin, but by the law.' John tells us, 'Sin is the transgression of law.' And Jesus said, 'All the law and the prophets are suspended upon this first, great command; therefore, to transgress the first and greatest command is to violate all the law. And every other sin a man may do, whether to fail to honor God with his time, his talent, his substance, etc., is directly traceable to the fact that he doesn't love God with all his heart, mind and strength."

Services daily at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. Subject tonight, "Sin and Its Cure." Children's service begins at 7:45. "Tacks, Nails and Bolts." All are welcome.

THIEVES HIDE STOLEN LOOT UNDER COTTON FIELD

TEMPLE, Texas, April 26.—What is declared to be the cleverest and most interesting trick in recent years was discovered here following an investigation into recent automobile thefts when an "acre" of stolen property was unearthed and seven men arrested in connection with the finding.

The stolen property consisted mostly of automobile accessories taken from parked cars and from garages and was found buried in a field southeast of here. A cotton crop had been planted over the hidden loot.

The trick was discovered when it was learned that an automobile which was wrecked in a grade crossing accident early one morning had been stripped before daylight when the owner returned to tow the car in.

An investigation was made and the seven men arrested and the "acre" of stolen property recovered.

Save More Baby Chicks This Year

The very surest way you can save more baby chicks this year is to use the right starting feed. Ordinary grain feeds and home mixed rations kill countless chicks every year. How often you hear the expression "I had bad luck with my chicks." So many of them died." In most cases the trouble is in the starting feed. Make up your mind to save more baby chicks.

Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Baby Chick Chow

fill every requirement of a perfect feed for baby chicks. With Purina Poultry Chows you can give your chicks a double start.

Double development or money back is the guarantee if, when fed as directed, these two Chows do not produce double growth over ordinary grain feeds the first six weeks.

Order these Chows now before your chicks become stunted for lack of proper nourishment.

American Boxers Shy From Europe

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, April 25.—Europe will see very little of Uncle Sam's star athletes during the coming outdoor season. What there is of international competition will be staged principally on this side of the Atlantic.

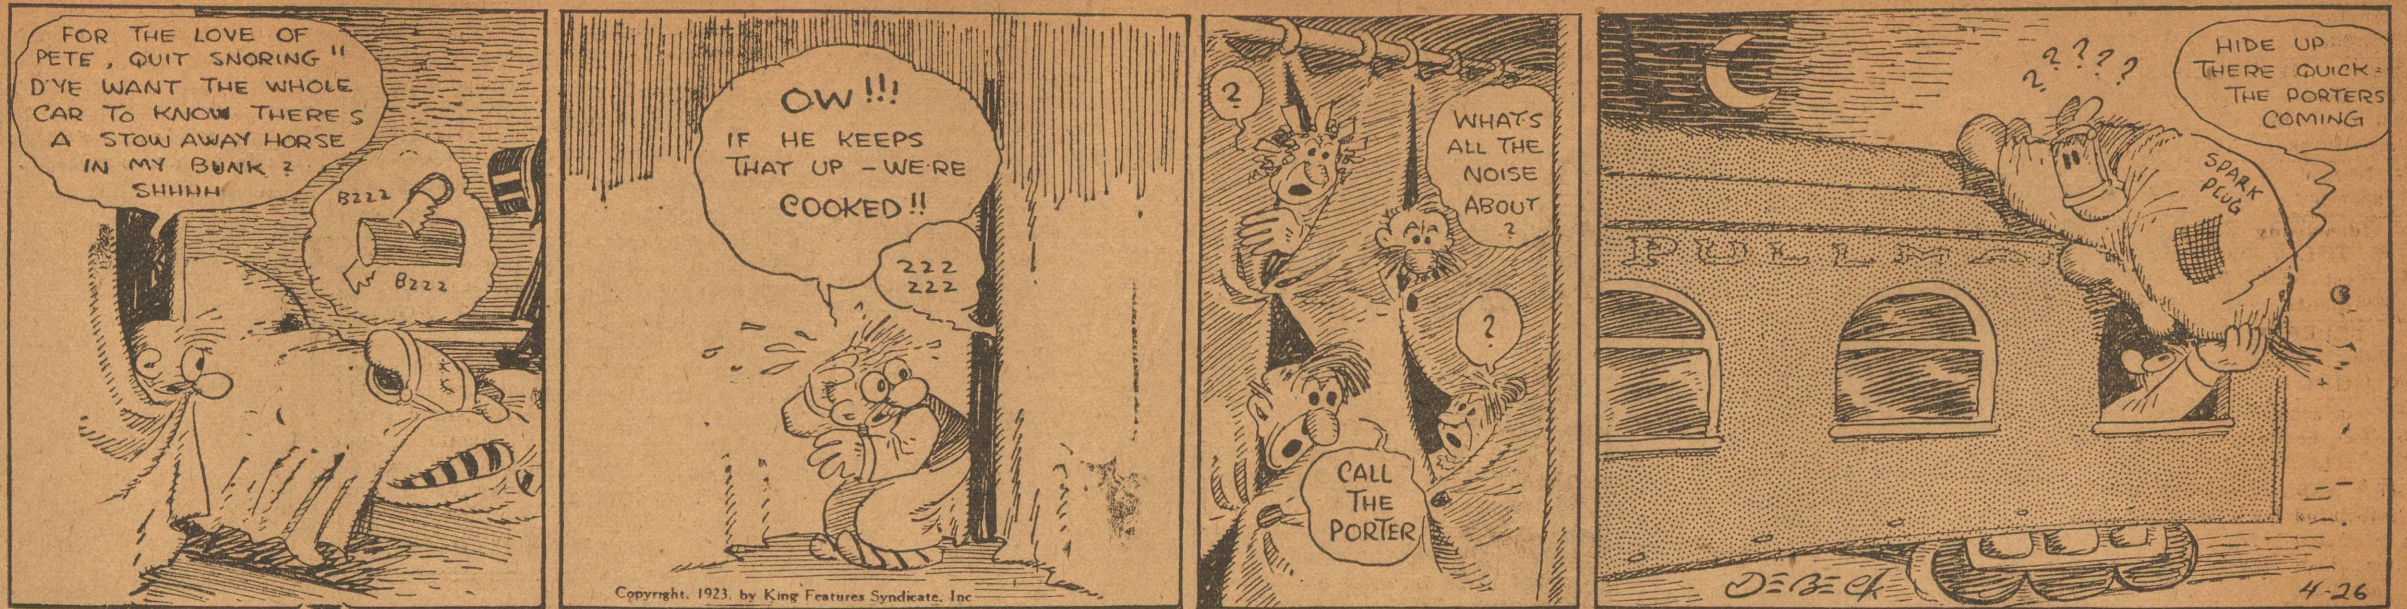

The golfers and a few tennis players will make their annual pilgrimage to the other side for the British classics, and Charlie Paddock may carry the American colors on the French track, but the other invaders will be few and far between.

Professional athletics, especially the boxers, have had their fingers crossed whenever Europe was mentioned, since it has been proved to some of their numbers that coin wasn't what they had the most of over there.

Since Pete Herman knocked out Jimmy Wilde more than a year ago and got part of his money in a check that Pete has framed in his parlor, the elite of the tin-ear circles have been wary of all foreign offers.

Billy Gibson announced some time ago that he was going to make a grand spurge around England and France this summer with his two champs, Gene Tunney and Benny Leonard, and his bantamweight, Frankie Jerome, but Gib hasn't booked reservations and it is necessary to engage passage months ahead.

Retail Merchants Association Urges Fair Play for All

Credit Ratings and Collections Part of Routine for Public Service.

A great many people, and many business men, do not fully understand what the retail merchants' associations stand for, their methods and workings. Primarily, they were organized for protection of the retail merchandisers, and such is still their main purpose today, although they have other work which has later come into their scope.

It is the business of the merchants' associations to keep a record of the credit buying public and how they meet their obligations. This works two ways. It helps and protects the merchandiser, and it is an aid to people who see to it that their accounts are taken care of.

Many people take exceptions to accounts being placed in the associations' hands for collection. Really if the right view was taken of this, many advantages could be seen from both sides.

Now to the debtors side of it: If things have gotten to the point where he hasn't, or can't pay, isn't it to his advantage to place himself right with the associations of the business people and show his good intentions?

Encourage Fair Play. Merchants' associations invite those in difficulty to come to them and secure any possible assistance available. There have been cases where associations have acted as referee for a debtor who owed many accounts which he could not pay.

The merchants' associations stand for better credit conditions, fair play, and a determination to protect the credit business of its members at any cost. They are always ready to help anyone who will come to them in a spirit of fair play.

Many interesting facts were noted, and the relation of the Egyptians to modern times brought out. The topic of moving picture theatres received still more spirited attention, hearty approval being accorded the pictures as an aid to modern study, and the behavior of children in the shows being urged upon mothers and not on the managers of the shows.

Civic needs of Ranger will be discussed at the next meeting, as well as the establishment of a question box. All members were urged to study harder in order that the most benefit may be derived from the lessons.

Most Radical of Tax Legislation in History Defeated

By Associated Press
COLUMBIA, S. C., April 25.—A deluge of telegrams, coupled with a storm of newspaper criticism and verbal complaints by constituents, recently turned the South Carolina state legislature from what was regarded as probably the most revolutionary piece of tax legislation ever attempted in the state and possibly in any state in America.

The state senate seeking the means of raising revenue needed for public buildings at the six state colleges and universities, the penitentiary and the various reform schools and public institutions, decided at the eleventh hour on a sweeping measure which its proponents called a "sales tax bill." The measure carried with it, however, a sweeping occupational tax measure that did not stop at workers and professional men making comparatively comfortable incomes, but also imposed a tax on more modest wage earners.

Hits at Housewife.

The measure as passed by the senate taxed manufacturers, merchants, retailers, professional-men and workers one-half of one per cent on their gross receipts from whatever source realized, after an exemption of $500 had been allowed. This feature touched the housewife who under the law was compelled to keep account of the sale of old clothing, old furniture or anything else for which she received money. In order that she might not be missed, the bill required that every worker and business man must pay a license of $2 a year for the privilege of engaging in business and must keep said license posted in his or her office. Sales of farm products by the producer alone were exempted.

House Refuses to Concur.

Hardly had the news of this measure, which was in the form of an amendment to a house tax bill, been carried over the newspaper wires of the state, when a deluge of telegrams struck the solons. The house refused to concur in the amendment and it went to conference.

The conferees reported a modified bill but still carrying the occupational and gross receipt features. This was rejected. A new conference committee was formed and a second report eliminated the occupational features but retained a modified gross receipt feature together with a ten percent tax on tobacco, amusements, jewelry and other so-called luxuries. This in turn was rejected.
