BEAUMONT, May 18.—A near waterspout that fell here at 6 o'clock this morning and a heavy rain that was still falling early today had the city almost inundated. Street cars were stopped, automobiles were stranded everywhere and water was flowing over the curbing, flooding many of the lower floors of buildings. Lightning struck the Hughes building, but did no serious damage.

RUSSIAN SOVIET SEIZES AND HOLDS PROPERTY OF AMERICANS AT VLADIVOSTOK IN SIBERIA

Close Office of American Consul After American Refuses to Recognize Bolshevik Government in Russia. Other Foreign Consulates Closed.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, May 18.—More than $300,000 in property of the International Harvester corporation, the General Electric company and other American properties was seized in and around Vladivostok by soviet authorities, it was learned today at the state department in connection with closing of the American consulate there.

Soviet authorities closed the office of the American consul and this made it impossible for him to continue his duties. When the city was taken over by the soviet, the Moscow government gave three months to the foreign consuls to present their credentials. The American government refused because this would have implied recognition to Russia. The British, French and Italian consulates also were closed.

The Japanese and Chinese consulates alone remain.

Chinese Bandits Trying to Stir Up An Insurrection

By United Press
PEKIN, May 18.—Chinese bandits have issued a call to the troops of the government to join them in opposition to the present administration. A proclamation has been issued by leaders of the bandits and circulated among the troops.

"If the government does not meet the kidnappers' demands, the latter must wage warfare on the largest possible scale," the proclamation of the bandits says. Depredations by the bandits who continue to hold foreigners captive may cause a collapse of the government in China, it is said.

BANKER SEES BANNER YEAR IN TEXAS PRODUCTS

Crops and Industry Alike Promise Bountiful Returns in All Quarters.

By United Press
YOAKUM, Texas, May 18.—Texas is on the high road to prosperity and a determination exists throughout the state to make the present year the banner year in Texas production and Texas industrial affairs.

This was the thought expressed by M. C. Driscoll, president of the Texas Bankers' association in an exclusive interview with the United Press. Driscoll has just completed a tour of Texas and is probably better acquainted with business, industrial and agricultural conditions in this state than any other person.

"As president of the Texas Bankers' association, it has been my duty as well as my privilege, to visit almost every portion of the state," said Driscoll, "and I find among bankers whom I have visited and the business men with whom I have talked a general feeling of optimism and a determination on the part of everyone to make the present year the banner year in Texas production and Texas industrial affairs."

"The cotton farmers have been somewhat retarded in their planting by cold weather and excessive rains in some portions of the state, but a very large per cent of the cotton is now planted and up, and gives promise of yielding in abundance.

"The grain farmers are far advanced and are looking forward to a splendid grain crop, which will soon be ready for harvesting.

"I do not believe that I have ever seen a corn crop in Texas further advanced than at the present time.

"The sheep and goat men are feeling very optimistic and happy, and they have a right to be, for with range conditions almost ideal and wool and mohair selling at from 55 to 60 cents per pound, I know of no reason why optimism should not prevail among them.

"There is a great activity in the oil industry and the lumber industry as well as in the rice and sulphur industries, and from every viewpoint Texas gives promise of having a very prosperous and successful year.

"There is only one dark cloud in the sky, and that is the cattle industry, but recent advances have put new hope and new ambition in the cattleman, and they have resolved to 'beat it back' as it were, and when this important industry has been fully revived, you may say that Texas can look the entire world in the face and maintain an air of contentment."

Senate Puts Resolution On Table

Effort to Inject Mayfield Controversy Into Deliberations of State Legislature Received In Silence.

By Associated Press
AUSTIN, May 18.—Congress is called upon to investigate fully charges set forth in the contest for the seat of United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield under a resolution introduced in the senate today by Rogers of Collin county. Without discussion it was laid on the table subject to call.

The resolution sets forth that the protest against Mayfield's election filed by George E. B. Paddy charges that "Mayfield prostituted his office as railroad commissioner to extort funds from various industries," and further claims that "a secret, out-of-bound organization contributed vast sums of money to the campaign" of Mayfield and sought to gain control not only of the Democratic party but also of the state government.

Man Killed In Stephens County Defending Still

BRECKENRIDGE, May 18.—"Killed in defense of his still" might be the coroner's verdict in the death of M. A. Stroup, 38, who was shot and killed Thursday at a place about six miles east of this city.

Sheriff L. D. Head and Deputy Sheriff Wallace Crawford had been advised a still was in operation there. They kept an all-night watch and claim to have seen Stroup in the early morning lighting a fire beneath the cooker. They called on him to throw up his hands and although they had the drop on him he pulled a pistol and began shooting, according to the officers. They returned the fire and Stroup fell dead.

This was the first time Sheriff Head had even to fire at a man during the three years he has held office, he said, and he regretted the death of Stroup. Three bullets entered the man's body. His pistol showed he had fired several shots.

The still was in a dense wood at the foot of a mountain off the Eliasville road. Officers destroyed it and the mash found there.

CONFERENCE IN MEXICO PROCEEDING IN HARMONIOUS WAY

MEXICO CITY, May 18.—Mexico will present her side today in the conference between American representatives and President Obregon relative to the recognition of Mexico. Presentation of Mexico's case will require several days.

America's views, presentation of which were concluded yesterday, have made President Obregon hopeful, according to a high Mexican official. Obregon feels that a most cordial spirit prevails the conference.

American Commissioner Warren yesterday asked the Mexicans several direct questions which required direct answers. These, it is understood, referred to American property in Mexico.

Fire in Schoolhouse Attended by Wild Rush Claims Many Victims

TRAGEDY TURNS FESTIVITY INTO GRIM MOURNING

People Crushed in Narrow Doorway Fall Victim to Destroying Flames.

By United Press
CLEVELAND, S. C., May 18.—Seventy-four crushed and blackened bodies was the toll of a disastrous fire that trapped about 400 children and their friends in a schoolhouse here last night, while the many that were injured are being cared for in the homes of the people.

Police and others engaged in the rescue work announced at 9 o'clock this morning they did not believe any more bodies would be found in the ruins.

Every home in the little village has been pressed into service as a morgue or hospital to care for those who were trampled in the rush that followed the cry of "fire" in the crowded schoolhouse, where the children and their families had gathered in an auditorium on the second floor for the closing school exercises.

Homes of the rural community were converted into houses of horror by the agony of the injured. Some had suffered broken backs in daring leaps from the burning building, while others including many women and children, had been crushed in the struggling mass of humanity at the door of the schoolhouse through which the audience sought to escape the onward rush of the flames.

Farmers and their families who came to town to be entertained for the evening by their children were among the victims of the disaster. Many of those who fell were trampled under foot. Then the flames, roaring through the building, reached the crush at the entrance and consumed numbers of the struggling mass together with those who had gone down during the wild flight to escape.

DEATH LIST INCREASED AS MORE BODIES ARE FOUND

By Associated Press
CAMDEN, S. C., May 18.—The death list in the Cleveland schoolhouse fire stood at 73 this morning with one person missing. The body of Danny Truesdale, listed as missing, was identified among the charred bodies, and the body of Huey Hinson, not previously listed, was also found.

Mrs. B. Croft was burned with two children, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Nabors were burned with two children, one child of Huey Hinson was burned and also two children of AH Hinson.

Lamp Overturms During Commencement Play and Building Bursts Into Mass of Flames. Stairway Falls Under Weight of Panic-Stricken Men, Women and Children Struggling to Escape, Crushing Many As It Goes Down. Many Burned Beyond Recognition.

By Associated Press.
CAMDEN, S. C., May 18.—Tragedy, stalking in the wake of comedy, today has turned Kershaw and Greenville counties into mourning districts. As an aftermath of a commencement play at Cleveland, a community eight miles from here, more than 70 persons, including whole families, are dead and many are injured.

As the play approached a climax, an oil lamp on the stage was overturned and exploded, and in an instant the draperies had caught fire and the building was in flames. The wild rush to get out of the building was directed towards the one exit, which was down a wooden stairway, which collapsed under the strain put suddenly upon it and many were crushed to death and their bodies afterwards consumed by the flames.

Nearly every home in Greenville county and many in Kershaw county was affected by the disaster. Those who had made their way out of the building turned at once to aid other victims, but had little opportunity to do so. With the stairway down, the victims remaining on the second floor had no escape except by the windows. No ladder were available and many jumped, some escaping with slight injuries, but other with broken limbs. Several mother hurled their children into the uplifted hands below.

Forty children, 16 men and 15 women, including a negro nurse, were burned to death, and two men are reported missing. In some cases, because all members of several families lost their lives, bodies remain unclaimed.

Funeral services were to be held late this afternoon near the scene of the holocaust. It was decided that all would be buried at the same time. The charred condition of many of the bodies made identification impossible. Nothing was said about holding an inquest. The coroner, C. L. Dixon, was among the dead and no one had been named to act for him.

The dead:
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Humphries. Mr. and Mrs. George Brown. Mrs. M. L. McLeod and two children.
Sam J. West.
Two children of M. L. West. J. E. Pierce.
Mrs. J. A. Phillips and three children.

50 WITNESSES TO TRAGEDY SEE IT DIFFERENTLY

All Are Sure of Their Evidence Yet None Tells What Really Happened.

BOSTON, May 18.—A class in psychology at Northeastern University was disturbed by a clash between two fellow students, a shot was fired, one of the men fell and the other fled. Prof. Milton J. Schagenhauf called on the class to write reports of everything that had occurred.

Out of fifty students, all but three insisted they saw a revolver, some added a flash and some smoke. The student supposed to have fired actually held a banana in his hand. The shot was fired in the rear of the room, out of sight.

Descriptions of dress varied widely; versions of the exclamations that preceded the shooting were equally incorrect. One student attempted to give the time exactly, saying he had taken out his watch for the purpose. He was an hour out of the way and he gave the date four days wrong. Prof. Schagenhauf staged the incident as a test of observation after he had taken the class to a court room, where a witness said positively he could describe every thing that happened in a burglary that took three minutes.

CHILDRESS, Texas, May 18.—Fire loss estimated at $400,000 was caused in the Fort Worth & Denver railway shops here Thursday afternoon when the coach shop, car plant and carpenter and paint shops were destroyed. The fire started about 2 o'clock and every available fire-fighting apparatus was brought into service, together with the volunteer system of the railroad company.

An acetylene gas torch is said to have been the cause of the fire starting. The tube attached to the torch broke, causing an explosion and setting fire to a freshly-painted car. Between 300 and 400 men were employed in the plants that were burned.

Southern Baptists Take No Stand on Evolution Dispute

FRENCH IMPOSE DEATH SENTENCE AT DUESSELDORF

DUESSELDORF, May 18.—The death sentence given Alfred Schlegel, a former German official, charged by the French with espionage and sabotage and said by them to be head of the so-called "murder gang," today was confirmed by the court of revision. ## RUSSIAN SOVIET BELIEVED FACING GREAT UPHEAVAL

MOSCOW, May 18.—A great annual upheaval is feared by responsible foreign governments here. ## BOMB EXPLODED NEAR AMERICAN CONSULATE

MEXICO CITY, May 18.—A powerful bomb was exploded today in the building here occupied by the American consulate. None was injured by the explosion and very little damage was done. No arrest has been made.

If you are not in on the big contest of the Ranger Daily Times, get wise and get in at once. There will not soon be another such a chance to get a Ford coupe without paying out a lot of money for it. And that Ford coupe is a handsome little car which would make anyone proud to own. It gives one a thrill just to look at it and think how easily it can be won.

The diamond ring, too, is a beauty. It is on display in the window of the W. E. Davis Jewelry company, where passersby stop to look and admire, many of them wishing, no doubt, that they could own this handsome ring.

Votes, and votes alone, will decide the winners. Don't throw away a single vote coupon, and urge your friends to save them for you. The securing of the first prize, the Ford Coupe, is simply a matter of getting enough votes, which results from obtaining subscriptions to the Ranger Daily Times, and clipping the free vote coupons which appear daily in the Times. These are much easier to secure now, while the contest is young and much of the field remains untouched. After the city is worked there will be localities in the vicinity where many subscriptions may be secured.

Candidates names will not be announced for several days in order to give others a chance to get in on the race. A number of well known and prominent workers are already in the field and others are talking of adding their names to the list.

The tremendous advantage of entering now becomes apparent when all these things are taken into consideration. Those who enter soon will have the advantage of more advertising of their candidacy. Sometimes a friend will not only help in the race by giving his or her own subscription, but will secure some from others, thus helping materially in the success of the candidates.

After the two big first and second prizes are awarded there will be a number of cash awards for those who have done good work but fallen a little short of the winning marks. Get in soon on this prize contest and have your name added to the list of candidates.

KRUPP VON BOHLEN SENTENCE BY COURT MARTIAL CONFIRMED

DUESSELDORF, May 18.—The penalty imposed by a French court-martial on Dr. Krupp von Bohlen and other Krupp directors charged with instigating opposition to the French at the Krupp plant at the time a number of workmen were shot there in March 1922 was confirmed by the court of revision.

The convicted men will be removed to prison in France while another appeal on their behalf is filed with the court of cassation.

Large Towns in Soft Coal Fields Built for Temporary Use Serve as Examples of Better Conditions

Although the life of the average mining camp is only 25 years, bituminous coal operators are investing heavily in modern villages. Many of these new towns are worthy examples of rural community development as the above photograph of a community at Dun Glen, O., shows. Just outside the range of the camera were large recreational grounds.

While the miner has his problems, he is fortunate in not having to contend with many of the difficulties which confront the man in the city. Items like rent, fuel and light are the least of his worries. The first day of the month holds no terrors for him.

In the average camp, house rent seldom exceeds $8 a month. Rent is usually figured on a basis of $2 a room. Coal for heating and cooking purposes is plentiful. In some fields it is given away; in others a charge is made of $1 a month. The spirit of progress is keen in the bituminous coal fields, crowding out the backwoods camps of years gone by. Schools, churches, good roads and recreational facilities are necessary features of the new towns.

The Bituminous Operators' Special Committee, formed to cooperate with the United States Coal Commission, has filed briefs alleging organized violence in support of destructive labor monopoly on the part of the United Mine Workers of America. There is no excuse for the union's course, the operators contend, because the industry is highly competitive—wages are high and conditions good.

The United Mine Workers of America launch constant violent attacks against any form of industrial relations, no matter how satisfactory, other than their own, according to one recent brief filed before the Coal Commission, dealing with conditions in Johnson County, Kentucky. The operators said:

"The advent of coal mining in Johnson County, of which Paints-ville is seat, brought paved streets, recreation centers, hospitals, shower baths at working quarters, abolition of typhoid fever and doubled wages in what was formerly a poor farming section. There had never been trouble between workers and employers, improvements in working conditions had been steady under shop committee systems or on the employers' initiative, and the companies at Van Lear and Thealka had employed union and non-union men alike. Then, in 1922, as part of a nation-wide attempt to starve the public into submission, the union minority among the workers in these mines, by systematic intimidation and violence culminating in two murders, succeeded in terrorizing the much larger number of contented men who wished to work and in paralyzing to a larger extent the operation of the companies and the production of coal.

"It is alleged that there were no local grievances or issues of any kind."

RAINFALL AT BEAUMONT MORE THAN THIRTEEN INCHES TODAY AT NOON

BEAUMONT, May 18.—Official figures of the weather bureau showed that 13.54 inches of rain had fallen here up to noon today. The down-pour all the morning was terrific.

QUEER DRAWINGS ON WALLS OF JAIL TELL LIFE STORIES OF MEN

EL PASO, May 18.—Gypsy feet have led many a soul down the Roamy road past El Paso.

Quaint signs, queer drawings, peculiarly appealing songs of the open road on the walls of the local jail bear silent testimony to the hundreds of wanderers who came through here enroute—where?—they probably did not know themselves.

"My Moniker is Overland Red."
I love the life of the open road.
I use a box car for a bed.
I'm as happy as a doggone toad."
Overland Red has come and gone singing his song all the while. Few knew he came, few knew he went. None cared. Overland Red cared least of all.

"They come in some nights, ask for a place to sleep, and are gone when day breaks," says jailer A. A. Funk. "Just hoboos going some where; they don't know themselves just where and don't care."

Here are some of the names or "monikers" scribbled on the walls:
"Silent Joe—going west."
"Boston Blackie."
"The Traveling Tramp."
"The Takoma Kid."
"Kentucky Slim, better known as the Panhandle Kid."

BROWNSVILLE.—There will be a bumper crop yield in this section of the Rio Grande valley from the present indications this season, although late due to the late springs and the forced late planting. The first shipment of roasting ears from this section was recently sent to Fort Worth.

SEVEN PRESIDENTS HAVE SERVED UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AND THE EIGHTH IS SOON TO BE CHOSEN

By ELEANOR KING.

AUSTIN, Texas.—With the the resignation of President Robert E. Vinson from the University of Texas reminiscences of other presidents have come to the faculty. Dean T. U. Taylor has been connected with the University since Leslie Waggoner's presidency, 1894-5.

"We have had good presidents and bad ones, but the University has been marching steadily on, nevertheless," he said.

"In Leslie Waggoner's time," continued Dean Taylor, "we received our first appropriation from the general revenue for the support and maintenance of the institution—a mite of $10,000. It's a far cry from 1890 to 1923—but we were happier over that small sum than we are with a three million appropriation today. Waggoner said to me, 'It is the entering wedge, and the amount will never grow less.' Each board of control has approved an average appropriation of $1,520,278 per year since then.

"George T. Winston was the first full power president we had," continued the dean. "During his turbulent reign of 1895-98, he lost control of the student body and the support of the citizens of Austin.

"William L. Prather succeeded him. Prather was a distinguished lawyer, a member of the board of regents, and a graduate of Washington Lee university. It was there that the forerunner of the 'Eyes of Texas' appeared in General Lee's speech when his keynote was the 'Eyes of the South are upon you.' Prather liked the sound of that phrase and brought it on to Texas, and from that nucleus our anthem arose. In 1903, the song was written in jest to furnish a number for a University minstrel. The chorus has lived as the battle hymn of the University. In 1905 Mr. Prather died—a martyr to overwork and devotion to school duties.

For the next three years, Dr. D. T. Houston, a trained Harvard man, was the executive. He raised the standard of entrance, always an advocate of this and of a higher standard of graduation. He was the first to organize the University into real operating departments. He acted as an executive and trusted each dean to run his own college.

"Upon Houston's resignation in 1908, Dr. S. E. Mezes took the helm. In December, 1914, he resigned to accept the presidency of the College of the City of New York. He made the mistake of his life in leaving Texas. He was here in the midst of Southern hospitality and suddenly transplanted himself into the entirely different atmosphere of commercialized New York. Everyone of his friends know that his heart is still in Texas.

"Dr. W. J. Battle was acting president from December 1914 until 1916. The chief event of the period was the Ferguson affair.

FIFTY-TWO MEXICAN WAR VETS STILL ON PENSION ROLLS OF UNCLE SAM

LOVE DEFRAUDS NOT:—Owe no man any thing, but to love one another. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not covet. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Romans 13:8, 9.

SUPREME COURT INTERPRETES.

The supreme court of the United States has decided in effect that ships of the United States may sell liquor on the high seas, but cannot take it there, and that no ship, whether it belongs to this country or some other country, may bring liquor into a port of this country or inside the so-called three-mile limit.

The decision on the whole is favorable to prohibition enforcement. A great deal of liquor has heretofore escaped from ships in port. These ships are now made responsible as they have not been heretofore.

It is perhaps very true that the application of the prohibition law to foreign ships in American harbors will work a hardship upon some people who do not see the question as do the people of the United States.

Under present circumstances, however, there is no reason why the United States should view the perplexities of these people with any consideration whatever. Never before have nations not at war with the United States given so little consideration to this country as they have in the case of the prohibition law.

The administration and congress would be justified in absolutely rejecting any protests against the application of the prohibition law to foreign ships and further than that would be justified in making the best possible use of the favorable international position of this country until such time as these countries compel their nationals to abandon filibuster expeditions against the coasts of this country.

WHAT THE WORLD IS DOING

AS SEEN BY POPULAR MECHANICS MAGAZINE

Shipwreck Victims May "Walk" to Land

A one-man life-saving device with which shipwreck victims may "walk" to land has recently been produced. It consists of two pontoons that slide back and forth alternately in a rigid frame, the operator placing a foot in each one, standing erect, of course, and grasping the handles of a steering device. As the pontoons are worked, paddles on the bottom aid the walker, folding up so as to offer no resistance on the forward slide. In windy weather a sail assists the walker.

Street cars equipped with roller bearings are soon to appear in St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., and it is expected that this departure will make the operation of the cars almost as noiseless as eight-cylinder automobiles. In addition it is believed 12 to 15 per cent on power will be saved and service speeded up.

All Is Not Ice That Clusters

Among the many ingenious methods of producing "atmosphere" in motion pictures, one of the most novel is using paraffin in taking scenes that call for floating ice. The paraffin is spread over the water in hot melted form, and when it cools—which is almost instantly—it looks as much like ice as that substance itself, especially in the motion pictures. Thus, a movie director can produce a setting for an Arctic scene—ice floes and everything—on a river or lake in sunny California.

Sail Hand Cars on Railroad

Sailors should be perfectly at home on an English-coast railroad on which small hand cars are rigged with sails. This novel means of transportation is used by battery officers and men, lighthouse and coast guards, and visitors, to travel from Spurn Head, the utmost point of a narrow spit of land on the east coast of England, to the town of Killesno, about four miles away. These "sail" cars make good time.

Burning Out Stumps Effectively

A good method of clearing land of stumps is to burn them out with the aid of saltpeter. Saltpeter, if so applied as to penetrate into the heart of a stump properly, will in a year's time reach down to the very ends of the roots. During the summer, when the stumps are thoroughly dry, drill a 1 1/2-in. hole, about 3 or 4 in. deep, in the center of the stump, as indicated. Into this hole put 3 tablespoonfuls of saltpeter; then close the hole, with decayed wood and dirt. During the following summer, dig out the dirt, fill the hole with kerosene, and set the stump on fire. It will burn slowly but surely, and will keep on burning under the ground until every piece of root is consumed. The action of the saltpeter makes a slow-burning match of the fibers of the roots, and carries the fire wherever it has penetrated. This method eliminates the possibility of roots being left in the ground to catch on plowshares.

MENTAL TESTS OF CHILDREN'S DEVELOPMENT

Tests are being conducted to find out the mental development of juvenile pupils.

At eight the child is supposed to give an intelligent answer to such a question as:

"What are you to do if you break something that belongs to somebody else?"

Satisfactory answers included: "Pay for it." "Own up." "Buy another." "Say I was sorry."

Unsatisfactory answers included such as: "I should cry." "Hide it." "Mend it." The last answer was considered useful as giving some indication as to the pupil's moral disposition.

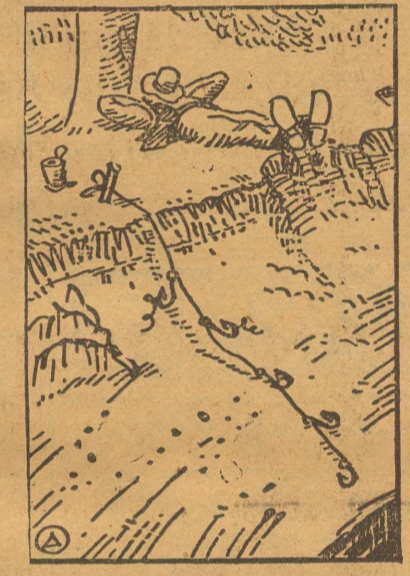

The solving of circumstantial problems is one of the tests allotted to indicate normal development of children of 13. One of the riddles was: "My next door neighbor has had three visitors: first a doctor called, then a lawyer, and then a clergyman. What do you think has been happening there?"

One youngster thought that "the lawyer was employed to get the man to marry the girl" while other replies not adjudged as satisfactory attributed the circumstances variously to "A murder," "A marriage" and "A baby was born."

As an illustration of the fact that a person has to be right on the job to succeed nowadays, Sim Flinders went fishing Monday afternoon while the creek was out of its banks, and after setting his hooks he dropped off to sleep for an afternoon nap, and when he woke up the creek had gone down, leaving Sim fishing on land.

Sile Kildew started out bright and early this morning feeling fine until some friend stopped him from whistling long enough to remind him of the fact that he was beginning to look old.

While invoicing his stock of goods today the Rye Straw storekeeper found several articles missing that were there last year, but as he don't keep books he says he don't know whether they were sold or stolen.

The Great Danger of High Blood Pressure

Thousands of men and women have high blood pressure and do not realize it. Dizziness, headaches, sleeplessness, nervousness are some of the tell-tale signs. It is usually caused by some functional derangement of the vital organs such as the liver or kidneys or a habitual clogging of the intestines. When this happens, as it usually does, in middle life, Nature calls for help and the heart tries to answer by doing double work; by pumping more blood to the attacked part of the body.

This creates a terrific pressure and often results in apoplexy, of which we read so often.

A simple, safe remedy for high blood pressure and the conditions that cause it, is now offered in scientific Bialin. Bialin will relieve your high blood pressure by acting quickly and effectively at the seat of the trouble. It will stimulate your liver and cleanse the system of the impurities that interfere with the regular functioning of the vital organs.

Bialin will make you feel better in a few days. It is put up in convenient tablet form and can be had at all good druggists such as Harman's Drug Store and Texas Drug Store.—(Advertisement.)

FREED OF FAMINE, RUSSIA'S BINS NOW BULGE WITH GRAIN

By Associated Press
MOSCOW, May 18.—Too much bread promises to be Russia's dilemma in 1923.

From 1917 until 1922 bread was the most precious thing in Russia. A farmer could trudge into Moscow with a small sack of grain and trade it for a grand piano or anything which the hungry city dwellers had to offer. Now the same peasant could walk from one end of Russia to the other and, excepting in a few isolated famine districts, could not get a jack-knife for the same sack of grain.

If the harvest of this year turns out as expected, Russia will have a surplus of grain which could be sold abroad.

From a country which less than 18 months ago was clamoring for crusts, Russia has changed into a nation which promises within a few months to be swamped with wheat and rye.

At Saratof, near certain communes that have been listed as famine-stricken, rye flour, the staple of bread, is quoted at less than 25 cents a pood, which is 36 pounds. At

IF SKIRTS MUST BE LONG, SLEEVES MUST BE SHORT, SAY THE SPRING MANIKENS; SHORT SLEEVES OKEH

By HEDDA HOYT.
(Fashion Editor of the New York Press)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Though girls can't show their slender limbs this year they are not alarmed. There's always something up their sleeves.

"They're going to go bare-armed! 'If skirts must be long, sleeves must be short," say the spring manikens. And that's the long and short of it.

Already we see the influence of the short sleeves which are threatening to become so popular this summer. The little hip-band blouses which are worn with the spring jacquette suits are almost all sleeveless. Many of them are made with colorful batiks and printed linens which add color to the street suit and can be used as sport blouses with white pleated skirts later on. Sleeves are merely little caps which extend just over the shoulder. Sometimes they are let into fitted armholes and again they are just a continuation of the shoulder. In most instances they hug the arm snugly.

Invariably Short Sleeves.
The summer frocks of organdies and voiles, invariably, have short sleeves, either tight and cap-shaped or puffed and trimmed in tiny ruffles.

Even the newer sweaters often use the extremely short sleeves instead of the long tight-fitting ones. One sees many of them among the French imported sweaters with the borders of the tiny sleeves worked in embroidery of contrasting colors or outlined in cross-stitching.

Chiffon Velvet Sport Coats
Jacquettes of chiffon velvet are the newest thing in sports wear. They may be plain, embroidered in self-color or barked in brilliant colors. When worn with a finely pleated white skirt they are extremely attractive and take the place of both sport and semi-dress wear. While some of them are made in the very short, flaring box-coat style, most of them are of the popular jacquette type fitting snugly about the hips and tying at one side with a sash of satin ribbon or self material.

Colored pocket handkerchiefs with corner pockets made of contrasting color, the pockets holding tiny powder puffs, are the latest word in handkerchiefs. They come in linen, crepe de chine and silk batiks and should harmonize with the color of the frock with which they are worn if they are to be ultra smart. A tiny crocheted button fastens the pocket to the handkerchief.

Bandana-shaped collars of net and lace are replacing the brilliantly printed silk bandanas. They can be worn with almost any summer dress and are easily adjusted to the neck.

Bead necklaces which fit snugly about the throat are considered a trifle smarter this season than the longer length chains. Amber, corallian, jade and pearl beads are the most popular types at present.

CROSS-COUNTRY PARADE OF AUTOMOBILES PLANNED

By United Press
DALHART, Texas, May 18.—The latest plan to secure a large attendance at the annual membership meeting of the Colorado-to-Gulf highway association is a proposed automobile parade starting at Colorado Springs and ending at Alvarado, where the meeting will be held June 27-28.

The parade will move on schedule, reaching each point at a definite time. Each town, it is planned, will furnish additional parties for the procession.

Each car will bear banners advertising the town from which it came and boosting for better highways. County authorities are urged to put the highways in the respective counties in the best condition possible, as it is pointed out that such action will do much to stimulate sentiment in favor of better highways and will be far reaching in its effect throughout the state.

AUSTIN, May 18.—According to Berry M. Whitaker, director of intramural athletics in the University of Texas, the future of the horseshoe pitching sport is assured. Not only is it here to stay, but it is promising to rival the older and better known forms of athletics in popularity.

At the present time, the athletic department has invested more than $150 in the horseshoe equipment, including both the shoes and the iron posts. Mr. Whitaker declares also that he could use 200 additional sets of the shoes. There is a big demand and a constant calling for more shoes on the part of the fraternity and boarding houses.

Fashions Fairways Lead From the Wigwam to the Golf Course

Once upon a time, when baskets were art, not industry, a Navajo Indian lady wove a basket from sun browned reeds and probably gathered blackberries in it until she died and a good kind collector put it in a museum. Now a museum isn't much of a place for a basket that has seen life, but it must have been diverted for a day at least when it served as the inspiration for a designer.

Its beautifully simple pattern is now more widely perpetuated in a new spring Cheney Crepe de Chine, which is the exact thing for an outdoor summer frock. The unadorned lines of the accompanying design make it one that would not have disgraced the proud bearing of the Indian lady herself.

The skirt is full enough—a straight apron at the front with a few small cartridge pleats over each hip—for tennis, golf or a country ramble. The short sleeves are slightly puffed, the long bloused waist is full at the shoulders. The new tendency reported from Paris—to cheer a dress with a touch of the white collar that has been on a three years vacation—is here manifest. This particular collar is of supple muslin, with a fluted edge, tied in one loop at the neck. Color—a soft, pale brown with black markings, through which run thin red vertical lines. Bands of red ribbon or thin red kid finish the waist and the sleeves.

STATE SENATOR ASPIRES TO SEAT IN CONGRESS

By United Press
DALLAS, May 18.—B. E. Sturgeon, former state senator from the Third senatorial district and for six years county attorney of Lamar county, has announced his candidacy for congress from this district, subject to the action of the Democratic primary next year.

Aid of stock raisers, immigration and a soldier bonus are certain to be the more important issues in the next political campaign, Sturgeon believes.

Sturgeon declared he would favor more stringent immigration laws, a fair bonus for former service men and insist on a just return for farm and ranch products through legislative action.

"Prohibition will be among the more important issues of the next campaign," declared Sturgeon. "I believe that the government is amply able to enforce all its laws and to that I will, if elected, aid in the rigid adherence, to our national prohibition act."

COLORED LIGHTING MAY DISPLACE PAPER FOR WALL DECORATION

CLEVELAND, May 18.—A method by which the mistress of the house may completely change the mural decorations of the entire domicile in less than five minutes is being devised here in the Nela Park research laboratories of the General Electric company.

The new device, operated entirely by electric lighting, is capable of throwing as many as fifty distinct paper designs on the walls of the room in less than sixty seconds, with practically no human effort save the movement of a tilted glass slide on which are arranged various colored daubings.

The effect is obtained by the use of a specially made magic lantern box which, when completed, may be concealed in the room and arranged so that the wall designs will be focussed perfectly and changed at will. The colors, as well as the designs of the decorations, may be varied according to the effect desired. One may brighten the home to the stage of absolute gaiety through a play of brilliantly colored designs, or change to quiet and so-abre tones at will.

DENTON.—During April, 5046 head of cattle in 92 herds were dipped and inspected, according to Dr. J. M. Pitner, county inspector. No ticks were found on any of this number, the inspector's report shows. There are 19 herds of cattle containing 190 head under quarantine in this county at present, Pitner said, but some of them will be released this month if they continue free of ticks on the next inspection.

TYLER—A religious census of the entire population of Tyler is being made by the local church leaders. More than 100 are engaged in the work. A census of Sunday school affiliation also is being taken with the church census.

WAR ON SUMMER FURS TO SAVE WILD ANIMALS

NEW YORK, May 18.—War is declared against the fashion of summer furs, which is expected to reach the peak of popularity this summer, in a circular issued by the American Blue Cross society, with headquarters in Springfield, Mass. The purpose of the campaign is to check the slaughter of fur-bearing animals, which threatens total extinction of the wild animals if the craze maintains its present pace, says the society.

The "call to arms" reads in part: "Every right-minded person should protest against such monstrosities of fashion violating the laws of health and comfort, causing wastage that involves needless sacrifice of fur-bearing animals, and perverting every true sense of beauty and propriety."

BROWNSVILLE—The annual convention of the Valley Federation of Women's clubs was held recently, with approximately 100 delegates in attendance. Officers elected include: Mrs. G. C. Pritchard, Edinburg, president; Mrs. H. O. Schaelebaum, Edinburg, secretary-treasurer.

MUCH MUSIC PROMISED FOR BIG CONVENTION

Nineteen Brass Bands to Attend West Texas Chamber of Commerce Meeting.

By HAMILTON WRIGHT
Special Correspondent.
SAN ANGELO, May 18.—Nineteen brass bands have been entered in the contest for total cash prizes of $2250 at the fifth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here May 21, 22 and 23. The nineteen bands enroll a total of 575 pieces.

Contests will be held on the platform on the north side of the fire station. Contests are scheduled to begin at 9 or 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, May 22, allowing each contesting band not less than 45 minutes to render its program.

All bands will report at pageant grounds at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for rehearsal for the pageant. All bands must play "Stars and Stripes Forever" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Bands with total of pieces and directors entered in the contest follows: Plainview Chamber of Commerce, 31, I. Hlefeldt.

Memphis Chamber of Commerce, 25, E. A. James.

Ballinger Band, 24, H. H. Carsey. Weatherford Municipal, 37, E. King.

Paint Rock Boosters' Band, 20, Roy L. Hill. Simmons College Cowboy Band, Abilene, 33, Dewey O. Wyle.

Lorenzo Chamber of Commerce Band, 30, Monte Bowron. John Tarleton College, Stephenville, 29, D. G. Hunewell.

Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, 64, G. Ward Moody. Benjamin Concert Band, 25, W. J. Morris.

The Sweetwater Boosters' Band, M. C. Monroe, manager, will be at the convention, but will not compete for prizes. It will however, take part in the parade and pageant program. The Baylor University Band will accompany the special train of Waco boosters. It is said to be one of the best bands in Texas.

Some of the Plains owns are preparing to send jazz bands, minstrel bands and orchestra.

The large sum hung up as prizes have stimulated the contestants to be probably the greatest ever held in Texas. Last year at the fourth annual convention, at Plainview there were less than ten bands all told.

The "Old Grey Mare Band," 142nd Infantry, the official band of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, from Brownwood, under the direction of R. Wright Armstrong, which won the first prize at Plainview last year, will not compete, but will furnish the cue music in the pageant of progress and be the leader in all the band music entertainments.

SUCCESS IS CARVED OUT BY HARD WORK, SAYS KIRBY

By United Press
HOUSTON, May 18—Success is not meted out—it is carved out by hard work.

This from John Henry Kirby, one of the South's most successful business men in an interview on success.

"The secret to success? Why there is no secret to it," said Kirby. "Neither is there any royal road to success. The key is hard work, and then more hard work."

"Of course there are certain qualities that ail one in the attainment of success. Among them are: Character, kindness, promptness both in payment of debts and appointments, steadfastness of purpose, the living of a personal moral life and an intelligent anticipation of the future."

"Young men of today are not made of the same stern stuff that men of a quarter of a century ago were," said Kirby, adding that the present generation is living at too fast a clip.

The "fair haired boys" never amount to much, he said. "They spend too much time searching for pleasure."

"One of the main things in the struggle for success is steadfastness of purpose. Lacking that quality success is rarely attained by anyone."

"When you start to do a thing do it."

"It's all up to the man himself—and that involves work and steadfast adherence to the goal one has set for oneself. If a man will observe these things he will get there—remembering all the while that success is carved out and not meted out by someone higher up."

DALLAS—A tour of Texas by members of the Texas Chamber of Commerce will be made beginning May 20. An industrial survey is the object.

AMERICAN VICTIMS OF CHINESE BANDITS

Major & Mrs. P. W. Pinger, Roland Jr. & Edward.

Among the American victims of the Chinese bandits, who held up the Shanghai-Peking railway, were Major Roland W. Pinger, his wife, Mrs. Pinger, and their two children, Roland, Jr., 8, and Edward, 3. Mrs. Pinger and Edward were immediately released. Roland, Jr., was freed several days later, but Major Pinger was held captive.

RANGER—Negotiations for the establishment of a large brick plant are under way between the Chamber of Commerce here and an Iowa brick manufacturer.

FORT WORTH—New street car lines to Riverside and Sycamore Heights are to be ready by the time school opens in the fall. The traction company also is doing other improvement work.

SAN ANGELO—Miss Maud Neff, daughter of Governor and Mrs. Neff, has been designated as "Lady Texas" representing the entire state at the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held here May 21-22. A pageant with representatives of various sections included in the chamber's activities will be a feature of the convention.

REVOLUTIONS IN MEXICO DUE TO ILLITERACY

Education of the Plain People Expected to Work Great Change.

By FREDERICK G. NEUMEIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
MEXICO CITY (By mail to United Press)—The great errors of the Mexican revolution were due to the illiteracy of the masses, according to Jose Vasconcellos, secretary of the department of public education in the Obregon cabinet.

In an exclusive interview with the United Press he stated that this was a fact because the masses could not understand the true orientation of the social movement and placed all power in the hands of ignorant leaders and military chiefs who completely perverted its purpose and practically produced an abortion.

"I consider that the Mexican revolution failed because one of its principal objects was to obtain the destruction of big properties" (latifundio), Secretary Vasconcellos stated. "During the critical period of the revolution large land owners were dispossessed of their properties by military chiefs, but these chiefs took them for their personal use and not for the purpose of public utility, and the result has necessarily been that all properties so confiscated have had to be returned.

"Carranza, who was not a revolutionist of conviction, but rather a political opportunist, permitted the generals to take possession of haciendas to keep them contented and to gain by the assistance they rendered, but it never occurred to him to issue laws which would have destroyed the 'latifundio' as, for example, the progressive tax which is now established in a large number of civilized countries, without the necessity of armed revolution.

"If the Mexican masses had not been illiterate they never would have tolerated the crude and ignorant despotism of Carranza, but would have seen that the revolution was won by men capable of understanding and finding a solution of the agrarian problem."

AUSTIN—Excavating work on Austin's new $1,000,000 hotel project is well under way. It is expected that preliminary work will be completed and construction work begun within 30 days. Austin residents raised over $600,000 for the hotel.

TAYLOR—Barker school near here has been notified that it has been awarded one of the ten pennants offered by the Texas public health association for the best observance of health rules promulgated by the state health department. All schools are graded on daily reports.

Dry Agent insists it is Sures We'll Suppress Boot-Rootlegging.

HOUSTON, May 17.—The Volstead act can't be enforced, is the declaration of Bracey Melton, field agent for the prohibition forces of this district.

Melton has a novel system of his own for enforcing the law and he believes it will work.

"Not five times the present prohibition force could dry up all the stills," he says. "A system of education is the thing that will do it though."

Put the stuff on display in prominent places about the city. Show the people what they are drinking. Print a chemical analysis of each sample on display; tell where it was confiscated and what it will do to a person who would be foolish enough to drink it.

"A few photographs showing the repulsive conditions under which many stills operate, would help along wonderfully."

"Give the boys who like corn liquor a squint at some of the stuff from their favorite bootlegger. Explain that it is full of fuzil oil; made in stills with lead pipes and contains deadly lead acetate—a slow but sure poison."

"Make them understand that the 'Scotch' they are getting is nothing but raw corn whiskey with creosote in it."

"Yes and I would give them all a list of the dead, dying, blind, sick and hopelessly wrecked for life from the effects of the stuff they are lapping up."

Then as a chaser Melton says he would recommend a few demonstrations of the real organs of some of the men who are drinking stuff with fancy labels reading "Scotch" and let them see what it does.

"I think that would put a crimp in their trade pretty quick," he finished.

HAVE YOU ENTERED THE TIMES' CONTEST?

KEEP THE CORNERS CLEAN

By JACK MAXWELL

While sitting in a room, waiting perhaps, for the "lady of the house" to appear, did you ever let your eyes wander from ceiling to the most remote corner, viewing the housekeeping activities of the good lady above mentioned? If you have never indulged in this bit of personal, domestic pastime may I suggest that you at your earliest convenience try it and see what you see. My word for it, if you will use your eyes properly you will be surprised at the many bits of household flotsam found floating here and there on the ocean of housekeeping waters—especially in the corners.

What is true of the household is likewise true of your life and mine; for hidden away, here and there, from the prying eyes of our friends and neighbors, are many bits of flotsam—driftwood from the troubled waters of the ocean of life. It may be a tiny discord in the supposedly sweet symphony of married life, brought about by our neglecting the little things along the way; or telling too many of the personal things within the home—happenings of apparently but little moment, but which in reality oftentimes act as a boomerang and come back to us with a mighty wallop—knocking the props from under the castle of love, and it falls to the ground a wreck beside the ever-changing trail of life.

In order that happiness may reign supreme in your life and mine, let's look well to the corners; keep them clean, so that when prying eyes may search therein, they will find nothing with which to destroy the love and confidence so essential to the maintaining of a home and all that enters into the warp and woof of splendid, happy living.

My dear reader, practice not deceit with your loved ones. "Shoot straight" and play all your cards from off the top o' the deck in the game of life. And when you "round in" at the family shack at the close of the day, and mother and the kiddies gather with you around the family board; if during the past day you have played the game according to the rules, you can look the little family right square in the peepers and away down, deep within yourself, realize you are doing your dead, level best to keep the corners clean in the household of your earthly existence.
