MISS MABEL WOOD NAMED MISS RANGER

ELECTION DAY DRAWS NEAR AND ALL IS READY

Qualified Voters Who Fail to Bring Poll Tax Receipts Must Sign Affidavits.

Ranger city election judges and clerks face the possibility of working part of the morning Tuesday without certified lists of poll tax payers. This will make necessary the signing of affidavits by qualified voters who fail to bring their poll tax receipts to the election booths. Ranger city commission is in possession of an uncertified list of poll tax payers but the law requires the use of certified lists.

John S. Hart, tax collector of Eastland county, in a letter to George Hemmingson, city secretary of Ranger, said his office was short of help and was covered up with work. "I think we will be able to have one ready by Tuesday," Hart wrote.

M. R. Newnam, presiding judge of the city election, pointed out Saturday that it is a penitentiary offense for anyone to swear falsely to an affidavit. He said the judges and clerks will be on the alert for any illegal voting.

Clerks and Judges.

Clerks and judges were announced Saturday by Mr. Newnam. Two men who were named late in February by the city commission will not serve. These include Colonel Brashier, who is barred from serving by virtue of his candidacy for the office of sanitary commissioner on the Greater Ranger ticket, and J. S. Davenport, who found it impossible to serve. In their place, Mr. Newnam named F. E. Langston and J. C. Smith. The other three members appointed by the city board are C. C. Chenoweth, judge; C. E. May, clerk, and W. H. Fouke, clerk.

The voting booths will be put up in a vacant room at 324 Main street. This will be the only voting place in the entire city. The polls will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock at night. As there are but five candidates on either ticket, it will not require much time to count the ballots. The results will probably be known within 45 minutes after the polls close.

According to Tax Collector Hart, there were about 3,100 poll tax receipts and exemptions issued for Ranger.

Voting Supervisors.

Supervisors or challengers at the polls have been decided upon. L. C. Gorton and L. R. Pearson will represent the Greater Ranger party, and H. E. Clewell and H. M. Holloway the Citizens' Committee.

TEXAS MAY PLACE PORTRAIT OF HOUSTON IN TENNESSEE HALL

AUSTIN, March 31.—Governor Neff will be requested to ask the legislature to appropriate funds to purchase and convey to the state of Tennessee a portrait of General Sam Houston, according to information received here from Representative William A. Fields, of Hillsboro. Fields has communicated with Tennessee officials regarding the portrait and expects a bill to be introduced in the special session appropriating $750 for this purpose, it is stated.

Information from John T. Moore, head of the department of library of Tennessee, is that General Houston is one of the few great men who formerly lived in Tennessee not represented in the state's hall of fame. Texas officials also are informed that if Texas presents Tennessee with a portrait of Houston, it will be placed in the new $2,000,000 memorial building now being constructed by the state at Nashville.

A communication from Tennessee officials to Captain Fields stated that Governor Neff had expressed hopes that such an appropriation will be made. The communication also states that a bronze tablet has been erected at the log cabin where General Houston lived before coming to Texas.

NATIONAL AD CLUBS TO PROSECUTE SWINDLERS

TULSA, Okla., March 31.—Mrs. A. M. Barr of New York city and Tulsa, alleged to have swindled thousands of investors in stock dealings by a "reloading process," will be prosecuted by the vigilance committee of the National Advertising Clubs of America, it was announced here today by counsel for the bureau.

Rush to Oil Pool So East of Ranger Recalls Past Days

The striking of pay in the Gray-Hightower tract by the Panhandle company in a well five miles southeast of Ranger this week recalls the drilling of this territory a few years ago and its subsequent abandonment without results. Drillers disappointed in not getting a gusher there passed the field up to test other fields.

Now that the Panhandle has produced 300 barrels a day by actual gauge, there is expected to be a stampede to secure leases in the adjacent territory. Stories reaching Ranger Friday and yesterday were to the effect that offers were being made for leases in increasing numbers as the result of the Panhandle drillers striking oil one foot below the sand.

Ten barrels an hour was the reported production of the Panhandle No. 2 Saturday.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD FOR AIR SPEED IS MADE

Army Aviators Drive Planes at Paces That Are Said to Eclipse Former Drives.

DAYTON, Ohio, March 31.—In spectacular flights today army aviators from the McCook field set a new world's record for speed at 500 and 1,000 kilometers, far eclipsing those made last week at other fields.

Official figures tonight announced that Lieutenant Ellis Pearson had completed 500 kilometers in 1 hour, 50 minutes 12 7-10 seconds, making approximately 169 miles an hour, and that Lieutenant Harold Harris and Civilian Ralph Lockwood traveled 1,000 kilometers in 4 hours, 32 minutes, 24 seconds, averaging around 126 miles an hour.

President Will Continue "Playing" Yet Another Week

ON BOARD PRESIDENT HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN, March 31.—The special train bearing President Harding and party left for Jacksonville at 8:35 o'clock tonight.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 31.

Rested and improved greatly in health, President and Mrs. Harding tonight brought their Florida vacation to an end, departing by special train from St. Augustine for Jacksonville to spend another week before leaving for Washington. Those who saw Mrs. Harding step from the train when she came to Florida and who also saw her board the train tonight could see plainly the improvement resulting from the vacation from the cares of Washington.

Mrs. Harding, who left the White House for the first time since the illness of last fall when she boarded the train for Florida, has been recuperating rapidly. The President for the most part, however, has "played" since he came to Florida, recognizing that this is the last real vacation he will get during the present administration.

AMARILLO PAPERS MERGED FOLLOWING COURT ACTION

AMARILLO, March 31.—Official announcement of the purchase of the Amarillo Daily Tribune by J. E. Nunn and J. L. Nunn, publishers of the Amarillo Daily News was made today. The Tribune, an afternoon paper, was suspended Friday. The Daily News will be published at the Tribune's plant.

The Tribune was taken over last year by the Commerce bank of this city. It was established in March, 1920.

SOVIET HAS NOT YET EXECUTED VICAR GENERAL

MOSCOW, March 31.—The soviet authorities have not yet carried out the death sentence against Vicar General Budkevich, convicted of inciting the Russians against the soviet, it was announced this afternoon. The announcement, while clearing away rumors that the prelate had already been executed, gave no information as to what the final answer in the case would be.

RANGER INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT WINS DECISION OF COURT AFFECTING $81,000 FUND

Officials Disagree Over Recognition to Be Given Auxiliary

ATLANTA, Ga., March 31.—Col. William J. Simmons, emperor and founder of the Ku Klux Klan, and Dr. H. W. Evans, of Dallas, Texas, imperial wizard, are in disagreement over the Kamelia, the newly founded woman's secret society or woman's auxiliary of the Klan, according to two official announcements.

Dr. Evans issued a statement announcing that members of the Klan who participate in any way, will be held guilty of a major violation of the rules and regulations of the order.

Dr. Simmons, opposing this stand taken by the imperial wizard, said: "Every Klansman has the same inalienable and indisputable right to participate in the affairs of the Kamelia that was exercised in founding that order, the proclamation from the imperial palace notwithstanding."

HUGE DOPE TRADE SINCE END OF WAR

By F. WILLIAM BUSCH, United Press Correspondent.

VIENNA (By mail to United Press).—Recent arrests and convictions of dope peddlers here have disclosed the extent to which the use of cocaine, heroin, and morphine has grown since the close of the war.

Testimony introduced by the state during these trials showed that 90 per cent of the drug stores in the city carry on an illicit trade in dope and that they are backed by a large percentage of the medical profession, who issue prescriptions to anyone asking for one.

TEXAS BOY WINS PLACE IN BIG NEW YORK BANK

AUSTIN, March 31.—News has just been received of the appointment of W. H. Mayes Jr., son of Prof. W. H. Mayes, of the department of journalism of the University of Texas, as advertising and publicity manager for the National City bank of New York. He is a former student of the University of Texas, and has been in the publicity department of the National City bank of New York continually since 1919, when he was discharged from the navy, after serving as yeoman during the World war.

ONE KILLED AND ONE HURT IN GRADE CROSSING CRASH

DALLAS, March 31.—Leroy Davis, 18, was killed, and his father, Paul Davis, probably fatally injured, when the wagon in which they were riding was struck by a passenger train at a grade crossing near here this morning.

FINAL COUNT IN SPIRITED RACE IS ANNOUNCED

Miss Wood Will Represent City at West Texas Chamber of Commerce Meeting.

Miss Mabel Wood is Miss Ranger. This was the decision of the three judges selected to count and tally the votes, Saturday night.

A statement prepared by the judges was written up and read as follows: "We, the undersigned judges after counting the votes find Miss Mabel Wood was elected by less than 100 votes." The signers were C. E. May, R. H. Hodges and J. M. Dodson.

The number of votes cast was said by one of the judges to be around 10,000. It was expected that the final standing of both candidates, Miss Mabel Baker and Miss Wood, would be given out but the judges decided to issue simply a statement.

Miss Wood holds a responsible position with the Peoples State bank and is popular with her business associates and in social circles. She came to Ranger in December, 1921, but was here previously with the Texas State bank in 1919 and afterwards returned to Abilene to be with a banking institution of that city. Previous to coming here in 1919 she was with the Abilene Chamber of Commerce. Her father lives at Hamlin.

She has a sister in Ranger, Miss Bobbye Wood, who is assistant to E. F. Bennett, Secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Wood will be joined by dozens of other West Texas young women who will represent their respective communities at the pageant and grand banquet of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at San Angelo in May.

The contest to determine who would be Miss Ranger was inaugurated two weeks ago tomorrow after Chamber of Commerce officials decided to allow members the privilege of making the choice. Miss Dixie Heath was entered by one of her friends at the outset of the contest but withdrew after she found she could not give her time to the race.

Miss Mabel Baker was entered by friends on Wednesday, the third day after the contest was officially opened. She made a gallant race and despite the odds against her fought pluckily to the end.

HARD HEAD SOMETIMES PROVES AN ADVANTAGE

EL PASO, March 30.—El Paso would have been the scene of another hammer-murder the other day, had it not been for one thing.

That one thing was a hard head. Jerry Scott and Bill Lewis, were having an argument. Bill was emphasizing his side of the argument by massaging Jerry's head none too gently with a hammer, according to Jerry.

When officers arrived, Bill was spitting on his hands as if to get a better grip on the hammer which lay on the ground. "Can't hurt that hard-headed nigger," said Bill.

RANGER AWAKENING TO GREAT POSSIBILITIES IN BECOMING CHIEF POULTRY SECTION OF TEXAS

By SYDNEY C. LACKLAND

The great question uppermost on all our minds now is to make Ranger the greatest poultry center in Texas and Texas the most important poultry state in the Union, so many things have to be done to accomplish this task and it is a long hard pull, many obstacles have to be overcome and many people think the poultry business is an overnight, get-rich-quick business have to have their try and their failures have to be overcome, it is said that one rotten apple will spoil a barrel, so will one man's failings in the poultry raising business knock many others who will be afraid of his experience, and I want to say right here that if it ever took a stout heart to win a fair maiden it takes a stouter heart to win in the poultry raising game, and it takes plenty of good old arm-strong work early in the morning.

There are a good many reasons why it is an important center for poultry raising. Ranger is well located for a poultry center and it would take

Shallow Oil Field Six Miles to South

Good Production Within 1,200-Foot Depth From New Sand. Renewed Activity Northwest of Ranger.

The outstanding development in Eastland county oil operations during the past week was the sensational shallow gusher of the Panhandle Refining company on the Gray-Hightower tract, about six miles south of Ranger, which is making about 325 barrels a day from a depth of 1,169 feet. The well is producing from a new sand and has opened up a big territory for development. The Panhandle is spudding in on the No. 3 on that tract and is beginning a well on the E. H. Webb tract just south of the Gray-Hightower land.

The Mook-Texas well on the J. C. Harrell tract, some seven miles northwest of Ranger, is holding up at around 40 barrels a day, it is reported. Tom Harrell, whose recent completion on the Ross tract in the new Gorman field was considered as a "life-saver" for that area, is preparing to drill an offset on the Bryant tract, to the Mook-Texas well northwest of Ranger. In the Gorman field, he is planning to drill another well on the Ross and it is stated that two offsets will be drilled at once by other operators.

A half mile extension westward of the Lake Eastland field was made Friday by the Texas company on the Jones tract, two miles west of Eastland. This well obtained production of 100 barrels a day at 3,780 feet, which makes it the deepest test yet put down in the lake field. It has not yet been drilled in. Turner & Clayton are setting the 15-inch casing at 340 feet on their well on the north part of the Jones tract.

The Gulfs Caudle No. 2 in the lake field was brought in during the past week with a production of 125 barrels a day. It is producing from the lake sand at 3,210 feet. This company is drilling four other wells in the lake field.

The George Beggs-J. R. Hill well on the lower Martin tract, three miles south of Eastland, is spraying oil and making gas from what is said to be the lake sand at 3,050 feet. It is being connected with the pipe line before being drilled in. If it proves a producer at that depth it will open up a big territory.

On the Connellee tract, just south of Eastland, the Texland-King's well is spraying oil at 3,340 feet in the Martin sand. It will be drilled deeper. The Gordon Petroleum company is drilling five wells around Eastland and Root, Rhodes & Sykes are making satisfactory progress on their Nos. 4 and 5 on the Hill tract in the lake field.

BOY IS HELD FOR INQUIRY INTO SHOOTING

Officers Claim to Have Signed Statement Relative to Death of Joe C. Randel.

ABILENE, March 31.—Startling developments in the ambushing and fatal shooting of former District County Attorney Joe C. Randel in Stonewall county last Wednesday are expected in a day or two, according to information here. A grand jury has been called to meet in Anson in Jones county Monday.

A signed statement is ready for presentation to that body, it was said. P. J. Smith, a 16-year-old boy, was arrested for investigation following the shooting. He was seen by newspaper men while officers were taking him to an automobile for "West Texas" for safekeeping.

The boy declares that the attorney was the best friend he ever had. No charges of any sort have been made against the boy.

More Costs Pile Up in Suit Having 1,500 Defendants

EASTLAND, March 31.—Trial of a suit for $90,000 was resumed in the Eighty-eighth district court here today. The Farmers & Merchants State Bank & Trust company of Gorman is the plaintiff and the Gorman Home Refinery et al. are the defendants. The case is often referred to as that of the "1,500 defendants," as this number of stockholders are cited in the petition. The plaintiff alleges this amount to be due them.

The defense scored heavily today when the court ruled that the citations issued for approximately 80 per cent of the defendants were defective. The plaintiff, it is said, have to issue new citations.

The costs in the case are now over $3,000, it is said, and the net is in sight. The case will be resumed Monday.

The suit of A. C. Brown, the Gorman Refinery company, $12,000 alleged to be due to the same set, but will follow the suit.

ST. LOUIS GANG WAR BROUGHT TO END BY MUTUAL AGREEMENT

ST. LOUIS, March 31.—A gang war which politicians say claimed seven victims in the last two years has been called off, according to announcement today. A number of shootings from speeding automobiles in recent months has been ascribed by police to the gang feud.

The "war" had its inception over a bootlegger's affair, politicians declare. Edward J. Hogan, a former member of the state legislature, and "Dimpy" Tolbeck, a member of the Democratic city executive committee, alleged leaders of the respective factions, this afternoon stated they would call off the feud, police said. There has never been a conviction in any of the killings.

GOLF PLAYERS WILL BE BUSY THIS WEEK TESTING STROKES

T. J. Holmsley and W. H. Fouke are expected to play off their tie that resulted from the "blind" tournament held last Saturday at the Ranger Country club. Both men received a score of 40 as the result of their 18-hole play and the drawing of numbers representing certain holes from a hat.

The inclement weather last week kept the men who participated in last Sunday's tournament from getting out and challenging one another. The tournament committee hopes that this week will be kinder as regards the weather, so that comparative scores can be had to determine the personnel of the Ranger team that will meet Weatherford here one week from today.

RANGER DAIRIES RANK WITH BEST IN ALL TEXAS

Nine Here Sell Locally More Than Five Hundred Gallons Daily.

By J. E. T. Gholston.

It is a recognized fact that Ranger has some of the finest poultry farms in the state, but little has been said of her dairies. Ranger has nine dairies with a daily output of approximately 500 gallons, most of which is sold in Ranger. These dairies are regularly inspected by the sanitary commissioner and are kept in the best of condition.

As pure and fresh milk as may be had may be obtained in Ranger at a smaller price than it costs in most of the surrounding towns. The standard price in Ranger is 15 cents a quart or 50 cents a gallon delivered.

The Sanitary Dairy on Eastland hill owned by A. F. Harn, was established here four years ago this spring. It is as modernly equipped as any dairy that may be found in West Texas, having pasteurizing equipment costing several hundred dollars. They milk only full blooded Jerseys and Holsteins.

The Silver Moon dairy is owned by John W. Owens, who has been a resident of Ranger for a number of years and is well known both as a teaming contractor and as a dairyman. The Silver Moon dairy is also well equipped.

The H. & G. dairy, which is now one of Ranger's foremost dairies, was operated here before the days of the boom. R. E. Harrell, the present owner, in addition to dairying is farming a hundred acres of land, and raising a number of blooded chickens and Poland-China hogs.

Another of Ranger's leading dairies is the Lake View dairy, situated just east of Hagaman lake.

Other dairies equally as good are: J. E. Kelley & Son's dairy, Harton's dairy, Duncan's dairy, and the Mid-night dairy, owned by H. S. King.

A dairyman's life is no snap, he must work from dawn until dark, sometimes even from before daylight until after dark. He must work on Sunday as well as other days, for the public is his boss, and the public is an exacting boss. Few cows were lost this winter, due to its mildness, and as a whole the cows are in a very good condition. With spring here and the grass coming on and plenty of stock water on the range the prospects are very good.

Ranger Awakens to Poultry Possibilities

try center in as much as she has a natural country and soil suited for poultry raising, well drained and the most of it porous. Her land that is in cultivation is well adapted to raising one of the very best of poultry feeds, that is maize and kaifer corn. Ranger railroad facilities are as good as are needed and she has an outlet in a few hours to all parts of the United States. It will not be many months now until there will be a hard surfaced road all the way from Ranger to Fort Worth and Dallas, which means that a loaded poultry truck can leave here about midnight and have it loaded on the Fort Worth and Dallas market for breakfast, eggs that are laid one day can be eaten there the next morning.

Ranger has people that are fast awakening to the importance of raising poultry. They are quick to grasp the opportunity to get into the biggest business on earth today and we must all talk poultry and raise poultry to such an extent that it will look like the entire county is one poultry yard, for it takes lots of chickens and then some more to make a poultry center. We must raise enough to make car lot shipments weekly and then daily to have the thousands of dollars flowing into the producers' pockets that must come, for poultry raising is ready cash 12 months in the year a hen has no respect for Sunday, she will lay just as many eggs on Sunday as any other day in the week. We have an admirable poultry raisers' association and it has done a wonderful work in its short life and our marketing association life and has much ahead of it to accomplish for out of it must grow our marketing association, for we can not hope to succeed as a poultry center without a first class co-operative marketing association where all poultry products can be pooled and properly graded for you have to have a standard product to get the top prices and command the attention of the buying public. Did you ever see a package of fruit or anything come out of California that was not graded and put in an attractive package, even in lots of cases the wrappers look good enough to eat.

Room for Growth.

Before closing this article I want to show you why Texas is not the poultry state she ought to be and we will have to overcome this. Texas is now fifth and she ought to be first, and if the interest that is now being manifested in poultry raising is kept up for the next few years, she will be. Did you know that Texas has 436,063 farms and that out of that number that she has 100,081, or 23 per cent on which there is not produced a single egg for market and that she has 154,687 farms on which there is not a single hen, or fowl of any kind raised in 1919, think of it, 23 per cent of our Texas farms not raising a single hen or fowl of any kind. While the great United States goes marching on with an egg production in 1919, according to the census report, she produced eggs valued at $661,082,803 and market poultry to the amount of $396,240,367, or a total of $1,047,323,170, and this does not cover the vast amount raised in back yards or consumed at home or on the farm, now what would the production have been if all the farm poultry had been pure breeds, bred from eggs production and all the marketing done on a business scale.

We also note that the agricultural department says that the output of 750,000,000 chickens furnished a market for $600,000,000 in grain and grain products. Now an industry that consumes such vast amounts of our raw materials is certainly to be looked on as a BUSINESS and NOT a side line or a business to be ashamed of, in fact personally speaking, I would rather be called a poultry raiser than any kind of a raiser, barring a check raiser, and if you will get into the poultry business here in Ranger, for there is not a place any better, you will say the same thing.

The big Corliss Poultry Ranch in Petuluma, Cal., which is considered the biggest egg factory in the world, has 50,000 hens and not a rooster on the place, and last year he made a dollar clear on each hen, or $50,000 clear above all expenses. Just a minute: if all the egg crop of the United States was all harvested at one time and put in cars, it would take, roughly speaking, 150,000 cars, or a train over 1,000 miles long. (Now I did not figure this out, I let the fellows up at Washington do that. I just read their figures.) This fellow also says that in the United States last year every man, woman and child used, on the average in one way or another, 200 eggs. Did you get yours? You can bet I got mine.

Next Sunday I will give you some more interesting facts and figures and try to make it plain to you why we selected the great White Leghorn as our standard bearer.

ELECTRIC CHAIR BILL IS VETOED BY NEFF

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, March 31.—Because of legal technicalities, Governor Neff today vetoed the Thomas bill passed at the regular session of the legislature, which sought to substitute the electric chair for hanging in Texas. The governor declared he is inclined to be in sympathy with the aim of the measure, but as enacted, it would probably cause difficulties in disposing of cases of those sentenced to death before the bill become effective.

If the bill became effective as enacted, persons convicted and sentenced to death before it become effective would be neither hanged or electrocuted legally, the governor declared. This is because the bill, while repealing the provision providing for hanging of condemned criminals and substituting the electric chair, permits persons sentenced to die by hanging to claim that their sentence does not include electrocution. It is understood the bill will be submitted to a special session of the legislature.

CISCO POLICE HAVE BOY ON THEIR HANDS

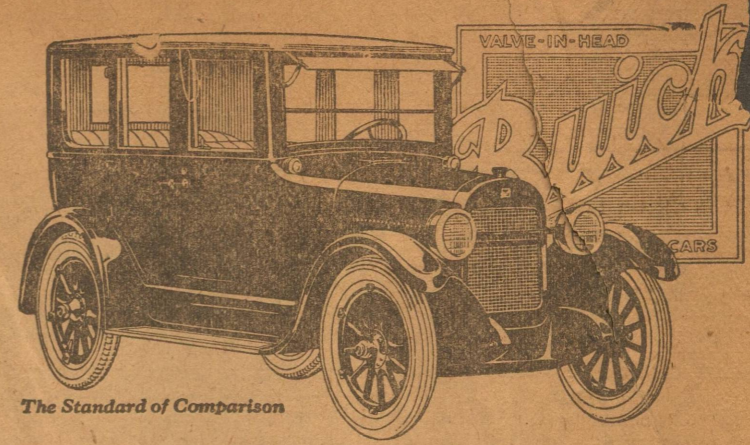

By United Press.

CISCO, March 31.—While little Andrez Quiroz, 7-year-old Mexican, romps happily about the police station here, the latter is looking for someone other than the protecting arm of the law, to shelter him.

Andrez was brought to the police headquarters here recently by a Mexican with whom the boy had been living, he told attendants at the station.

"I got him from the officers and now I will return him to them," he told the police.

The boy has been adopted by the officers until a place can be found for him.

County Attorney

MITCHELL QUESTIONED; ARRESTS IF ANY UP TO POLICE, ANNOUNCED

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, March 31.—After questioning J. K. Mitchell and his personal attorney, Jackson, for more than five hours late today, Assistant District Attorney Pecora said he had completed his investigations into the murder of Dorothy Keenan and that he would turn over all testimony and evidence to the police.

"Any arrest in the case is up to the police," he said.

Mitchell and Jackson explained in every detail their last visit to Dorothy and answered all questions asked them. Asked in Mitchell's revelations gave him a clear bill of health, the assistant district attorney declined to answer.

CENTRAL BAPTISTS GIVE EASTER PARTY.

A prettily planned party, with women of Central Baptist church as hostesses, was enjoyed Friday afternoon and evening at the lovely home of Mrs. J. M. White on Pershing street. The living, music and dining rooms were thrown en suite and made an attractive appearance with the W. M. U. and Easter colors of lavender and white predominating and green potted plants were also much in evidence.

On the other side of the colonades two cunning children dressed in white cotton, representing bunny rabbits and receiving the silver offering were much admired.

More than 60 ladies enjoyed the afternoon which consisted of the following numbers:

Piano duet, Mrs. H. V. Cole and little Mary McNeil.
Reading, Miss Krider.
Vocal duet, Mmes. Luke and Leake.
Reading, Rev. A. L. Leake.
Contest and clever egg hunt, revealing individual fortunes.
Solo, little Joy Leake.

A plate of brick cream and cake in lavender and white was served.

The evening hour was enjoyed so thoroughly by the young people of the city that midnight came before they tore themselves away.

Good, informal games were indulged in and more than could be seated were present. Not a dull moment was experienced during the evening.

A liberal offering resulted from both parties as well as enjoyable hours.

FAREWELL DANCE FOR MR. AND MRS. BLAIR.

A farewell dance was given Friday night at the Prairie Oil & Gas club rooms in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Blair, who are leaving to make their home in Casper, Wyo. The party was given by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wiss and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Champion. Those present were: Messrs. and Mmes. W. L. Lowe, Charles Walts, Frank Reams, A. Neal, E. L. McMillen, and H. P. "HARD TO GET AND DEARLY PAID FOR" FARM
By United Press.
MARLIN, Texas, March 31.—A copy of a deed 123 years old was recently exhibited here by T. C. Linthium, who brought the document from his home to be put in the bank for safe-keeping.

The form and manner of expression of the deed was most unusual.

The paper on which the deed was written was yellow with age, bearing the date of October, 1799, but the ink was as distinct as it was 123 years ago.

The property which the deed conveyed was a farm in Maryland which at that time was known by the name "Hard to Get and Dearly Paid For." The deed of conveyance was so designated.

The land today is in the hands of members of Linthium's family.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
THE BURDEN BEARER.—Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee; he shall never suffer the righteousness to be moved.—Psalms 55:22.

EDUCATING THE YOUTH.
 There continues to rage at the Ohio seat of law-making the controversy as to the soundness of the statute of two years ago giving the state control of the child for educational purposes until its eighteenth year. Bills modify this requirement have been offered and are being debated, the most prominent being that supported by agriculturalists, who have great faith in the efficacy of labor as a character-shaping element. Argument is made that the new system is breeding the worse disease of child idleness as a cure for the curse of child labor.

One thing is certain in this chorus of doubt. The charges for high school education are mounting to the taxpayer's grief. Unemployed children cannot be sent back to the grammar schools. At this point the psychologist has come into the debate. From the viewpoint of this science it would appear that the forcible detention of half-grown youths in school is a mistake. Discussing the celebrated mental tests made of the soldiers of the American army in the World war of which he had charge, Prof. Robert M. Yerkes says concerning education:
 "Not more than 50 per cent of our population are capable of satisfactorily completing the work of a first-rate high school. The remainder reach their limit of educability along intellectual lines at varying points on the educational ladder. Not more than 10 per cent of the population are intellectually capable of meeting the requirement for a bachelor's degree in a reputable college. Education, instead of increasing our intellectual capacity, merely develops and facilitates its use."
 From this it would appear that it is a fallacy to group all children up to the age of 18 years as of equal mentality and conformable to uniform treatment as required by the challenged law. This theory is emphasized by the impressively high proportions of the uneducable—50 per cent! From this it would seem that the state would confer greater benefits upon these wards by finding employment for their idle hands rather than keeping them unwilling prisoners in the schoolhouses. Failing in this, then the restrained children should be provided with vocational training. This is but common sense for the reason that it is a vain and useless task to endeavor further to stuff a crowded mentality with book learning. From these facts it will be seen that it is a grave condition and not merely a fascinating and sentimental theory which confronts the state.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The big problem: Where do the bootleggers get the stuff they drink themselves?—Nashville Tennessean.
 Whatever became of the gentleman by the name of George Bernard Shaw, once quite celebrated?—Boston Transcript.

Business Discussions

Member State Legislative Committee of Retail Merchants' Association and Secretary of Ranger Organization Suggest Employers Should Insist on Their Employees Paying Their Just Bills.

This is the first of a series of articles bearing on different phases of business. Mr. Jones was asked to lead off with an article of special interest to the merchants and others will follow along other lines.

By KARL E. JONES.

It is a conceded fact among the business world that the collection laws of Texas are a genuine hardship. This is due to some of our constitutional laws, and particularly those to laws governing collection of accounts and other obligations. It would seem that our law makers had in mind, in many instances, the protection of innocent parties who might suffer through no fault of their own. Like many reform movements, they were not able to anticipate the trend of human events, and in reality opened an avenue for shrewd and unscrupulous people who would weave the interpretations of these laws in such a way to evade payment of just debts.

An illustration of this maltreatment is seen in the homestead law of Texas, the abuse of which is seen every day. This law, originally drawn for the protection of widows and minor children, has grown to be almost a public menace. The few women and children actually protected under its workings, could be placed in sumptuous palaces with every luxury of life, were they to be turned over the funds which the law has allowed to be taken from honest creditors by dishonest debtors. This law is not the only law we have which has received abuse, as our garnishment, bad check, and other laws have come in for a full share.

Law Discriminates.

Texas legislation has made it impossible to collect an account from a wage earner unless outside pressure is brought to bear. Current wages are not not subject to garnishment, nor can an automobile be attached for a debt with a few exceptions. This indeed places the employer and the employee in a peculiar position. One goes blithely on his way, unafraid of any attempt by his creditors to tie up his personal property, while his employer must stand square on his own credit legs with the knowledge that his merchandise and bank funds are subject at any time to be levied against by law for just accounts. In other words, the wage earner enjoys privileges which his employer does not, under the law.

If business were to ask anything of the employe which it would not of the employer, such would not be just. The answer is obvious and plain to be seen, and the wage earner is taking full advantage, in many cases of this favoritism. He cannot be touched by law, and continues on his way, shifting his field of operation often enough to avoid final settlement of his obligations. In the final analysis it would seem that the fault of this lies not only in the salaried man himself, but in the employer who does not demand square dealing from his employes with his fellow business men.

This practice has brought into being certain organizations as a weapon with which to combat it. Taking into consideration the fact that 95 per cent of our business is done on credit, and millions of dollars lost through credit accounts each year, something had to be done or credit business would be a failure. Today the eyes of the merchandisers and their helpers, the credit men, are turned to the employers over the country, expecting their co-operation for the salvation of all. The remedy has been found, and it is so simple that it would be ridiculous not to make effective use of it. The remedy is, that every employed inform each employe that to competently fill his position, he must assume 100 per cent responsibility towards credit obligations, and should any employe not take this attitude, there is no place in the organization for him. In other words and in plain English, "he must either pay his just debts or he will be fired."

Fairness Pledged.

In handling this problem, there are several phases of the question to be viewed from both sides. In the first place the credit men have pledged absolute fairness and unlimited co-operation with the employe. This the employer demands, and practical demonstration has shown that the merchants and credit men are willing to go more than half way in time extensions, etc. On the other hand, 100 per cent co-operation has been asked of the employers, and sometimes this has been hard to secure. A business man should know that a man working for him cannot give his best effort if continually worried on account of unpaid bills, which he is trying to evade. He should know that an employe who will rob merchants by running accounts and then refusing to pay them, is capable of tapping his till or stealing his time. An employe who catches his clerk stealing, immediately disposes of him, and surely he would not protect a man who would take merchandise from others on their faith, and then refuse to settle for it. Theoretically the employer is placed in the position as a father to a child, and must guard the moral as well as physical welfare of his workers. In 90 cases out of a hundred, the man approached by his employer regarding an account he has neglected, will do the right thing and receive a valuable lesson.

Equity For All.

If this is true of big business, why shouldn't all business do it? It is a duty that all business men owe to business. Harsh methods are not advocated, nor is it demanded that employes be discharged, but it is the business, moral, and ethical obligation on the shoulders of the employers today. They should demand that those working for them and participating in the business and profits, stand four square to the business world and carry out the policy of fair play and prompt payment of all obligations.

Any business having in its ranks (from office boy to president), habitual credit abusers, cannot help but lose prestige and weaken the morale. They owe fair play to such organizations which furnish them with the necessities and comforts of life. It needs this attitude in business, to see that business stays in business.

NORMA REALIZES CHERISHED HOPE IN "ETERNAL FLAME"

Norma Talmadge has registered many screen achievements starring under the First National release banner. One of her most successful pictures, it will be remembered, was the emotional Spanish drama, "The Passion Flower." More recently came her notable triumph in "Smilin' Through." But Miss Talmadge has not yet been fully satisfied with the semi-costume pictures she had appeared in. She was consumed with ambition to attempt a monumental all costume production, which ambition she has at last realized in "The Eternal Flame," the attraction which will be shown at the Lamb theatre today and Monday.

"The Eternal Flame" is an adaptation of Balzac's "La Duchesse de Langeais," which after months spent searching for a suitable story was decided upon as a fitting one for the versatile young star with its background of pomp and magnificence, its frivolities and heartaches. Therefore, she depicts the complex character of that notable court beauty and coquette, La Duchesse de Langeais.

The Wyandotte Fowl

Produced in America Since 1883, It has Become One of the Most Important and Popular Breeds.

By D. W. MALOON

The Wyandotte is one of the most important fowls of the American production. In some parts of the country the Wyandotte is considered the most popular of all varieties. Much has been written of which there has been a diversity of opinion. The records tell us that previous to the year 1883, there were no Wyandottes. For several years before that date many fanciers in different parts of the country had been working to develop some new variety that might bring them such profit as had come to those who originated and perfected the Plymouth Rocks.

So when these new birds were recognized as worthy of classification as a standard variety by the American Poultry association then a name was born with them. To F. A. Handlette of Massachusetts belongs the credit of the name. The Wyandotte Indians had formerly occupied certain sections of New York and Michigan and it was in these parts of the country in which these fowls or their immediate progenitors were first produced. They had flourished there under various names such as Hambright, Hambletonians, Eurekas, Excelsiors, Columbians, Seabright, Cochins, Brahmas and American Seabrights.

It appears that at that time much bitterness was manifested among the various fanciers as to an acceptable name. Mr. Handlette proposed Wyandotte as a cognomen and like oil upon troubled waters, it was accepted as a happy solution of the difficulty.

The foundation of the Wyandotte was laid back in the seventies and probably as far back as the Civil war. The Wyandotte, we learn, for years before it reached its present perfection, was without a name. As far as the history of the fowl goes it was called Seabright Cochins, the product of the union of a Seabright bantam and a yellow hen.

John P. Ray of New York originated the Rose Comb fowl by a cross of a Seabright bantam male and a yellow Chittagong, which he named Seabright Cochins.

There are several varieties of the Wyandottes: Silver, golden, white, black, buff, partridge, silver, penciled and columbian. The most popular is the White Wyandotte.

In shape the Wyandotte has a peculiarity of its own. It is a band of curves, short broad back and deep around the body; also the close fitting comb which adds to the beauty of the specimen.

Since being admitted to the circle of standard breeds, they have become one of the most popular middle-weight breeds—admired by all. It appears by the data recorded that this variety of fowl was perfected by a top cross. It is claimed that the Wyandotte can be made quickly and most cheaply be made to weigh from four to six pounds than any other variety and are more in demand on the market.

In the history of the American poultry exhibitions there has not been recorded a more popular fowl than the White Wyandotte. They are one of the strongest, if not the strongest competitor of the Barred Plymouth Rock for public favor. The National White Wyandotte club is one of the biggest poultry specialty clubs in the world.

BALL PLAYER'S REPLY PLEASES CLUB PRESIDENT

By United Press

DALLAS, March 31.—Something new in ball players.

Ike Sablosky, president of the Dallas Steers, wired Roy Mitchell, veteran twirler of the Dallas staff as to when Roy would report. Mitchell was just recovering from a slight operation.

"I'll report as soon as I can do something beside eat," was Mitch's response.

"I can't understand it," says Ike. "Usually a ball player will report just to get to eat, and Mitchell is staying away because he can't work out yet. He's a man after my own heart."

HOPPE, STILL CHAMPION, IS COMING BACK

By HENRY L. FARELL, United Press Sports Editor.
 NEW YORK, March 31.—Willie Hoppe is still the world's champion at billiards, but he isn't the invincible champion he used to be. He still holds on to the title, because he was so far ahead of all other players that even when he slips back and back no one can yet reach him.

The strain of years of the most active playing and the strictest training have exacted their penalty and affected his nerves. About Hoppe's game, when he was in his prime, was an atmosphere of supreme confidence that is missing now. Hoppe used to rattle off a succession of difficult shots with the ease of a pianist playing the scales. Now he seems to ponder and deliberate and he never seems quite certain that he is playing the right shot.

Even if he is slipping and reaching the end, Hoppe need have no regret. He has made a record that perhaps never will be equalled and he will be known for years as the greatest of them all.

No other player today is within miles of the Hoppe who used to be. Jake Schaeffer, on the surface, has come fast in the last two years. However, it was not that Schaeffer was improving so much and bringing himself up to the standard of Hoppe's game, as it was that Hoppe was going back and getting down to the plane of Schaeffer's game.

RABORN WILL OPEN HARDWARE STORE IN THE COLE BUILDING

J. E. Raborn, former president of the Davenport Hardware company, 119-121 Main street, which burned out Feb. 1, will open a hardware and racket store in the room formerly occupied by the "Dash and Garry" store in the Cole building on Austin street. It will be known as "Raborn's Place."

The first of the stock will be moved in Monday, Mr. Raborn said Saturday. The store will be opened as soon as the equipment and a considerable amount of stock is placed.

Mr. Raborn assisted in the organizing of the Davenport company four years ago, and in 1921 was made president of the company.

The rental of the store property was made through the C. E. Madocks & Co., real estate dealer.

SINGING BOXER IN ACTION

"Throw away your knives and guns for boxing gloves," was the plea of Bobby Burns Saturday night at the Liberty theatre. Burns, who with Mickey Riley, Texas featherweight boxer, are appearing in an act entitled "The Manly Art" voiced this sentiment during his act. There would be less gun fighting if the art of self-defense were taught in the schools, both public and private, is the contention of Burns, who before retiring from active fighting, won 200 fights with a knockout each time. Burns suggested to the business men in the audience that they take up boxing to increase their efficiency. "It will make you cool, alert and active," he told them. Mickey, the inimitable singing boxer, was introduced by his manager and he proceeded to sing "I'd Like to Be in Texas When They Round Up in the Spring." He next gave an imitation of a negro singing the "St. Louis Blues."

The curtain then went up on a 12x12 boxing ring. Burns and Riley sparred gracefully and added some laughter to their footwork activities by "playing" with the ringside bell. The Burns-Riley act was preceded by the Brown Saxophone Sextette. A feature picture, "The Pretender," with William Desmond in the leading role, was also on the program.

GOVERNOR VETOES TWO BILLS PASSED RECENTLY

By Associated Press.
 AUSTIN, March 31.—Governor Neff today vetoed the so-called "truth in fabric" bill, declaring it was absolutely worthless for any purpose. The governor objected to the amendment attached by the senate which provided the act should not apply to merchants who had made written requests of the manufacturers as to the amount of wool to be contained in the garments.

The governor also vetoed the bill changing the time of holding court in the counties of Coryell, Hamilton and Comanche.

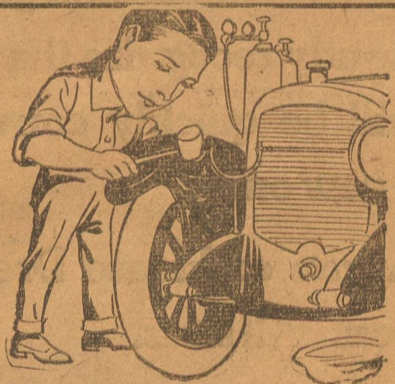

ARKANSAS BANK ROBBERS TRAPPED IN OKLAHOMA

JAY, Okla., March 31.—Four men who robbed the National Bank of Jentry, Ark., of $1,600 and escaped into Oklahoma, abandoned their automobile near Roe, Okla., this afternoon and fled into the hills. Poses who had fired into the car reported that at least one man had been wounded, as the machine was stained with blood. Part of the stolen money is said to have been abandoned in the machine.

Only one clerk was in the bank when the bandits entered and scooped all the money in sight. None of the bandits was recognized, it was said.

AN OPEN LETTER TO RANGER'S TAXPAYERS

I am seeking your vote for the office of Mayor of Ranger because I feel that I am qualified to hold that position; my payments to the City of Ranger notwithstanding.

I am not running for this office solely upon a record of having paid to the City of Ranger that which is and has been my duty, my pleasure and my obligations to my home, and had it not been for certain interrogations submitted by the so-called Citizens' Committee through the press, I would not at this time make reference to any person's tax payments.

However, in view of the fact this so-called Citizens' Committee has inquired as to how much tax that I, R. H. (Rob) Hodges, have paid to the City of Ranger, and furthermore, by reason of the fact that they have seen fit to publish certain statements showing amounts in dollars and cents paid by Mr. H. S. Cole and other candidates on the so-called Citizens' Committee ticket, I feel that it is my duty to myself; to my supporters in this contest, and to the citizenship of Ranger, to give publication to the following facts:

First, that I have personally investigated through the office of the Tax Collector of the City of Ranger the statements made by my opponents in this campaign, and find that the taxes said to have been paid by them, including those paid by H. S. Cole, are in reality the tax payments of the associations, interests, and corporations in which these gentlemen held even a small amount of stock, and are in no particular their own personal tax payments.

However, as stated heretofore, I am not submitting these facts as a reason nor an argument for my election to the office of Mayor of Ranger, but simply to keep the record straight, and for the reasons stated heretofore, I respectfully submit to the thinking people and the taxpayers of Ranger, the following figures showing the amount of taxes paid by me to the City of Ranger for myself and interests in Ranger, as compared with the figures published as having been paid by the candidates of the so-called Citizens' Committee ticket, and as these figures indicate (if tax payments be a reason for election), total amount of taxes paid by me exceed the total amount of taxes paid by ALL of the candidates on the so-called Citizens' Committee ticket. Below I respectfully submit the following figures:

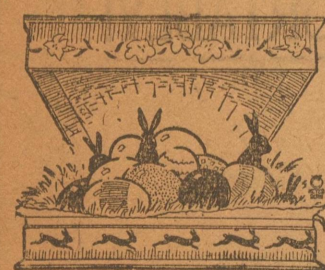

As published by the so-called Citizens Committee in The Ranger Daily Times, for the years 1920, 1921 and 1922:

|--------------|-------------------|
| H. S. Cole | $2,545.50 |
| J. M. White | 2,591.50 |
| Tom Russell | 2,065.94 |
| E. H. Mills | 677.28 |
| I. N. Roush | 354.75 |
| Total | $8,234.97 |

Actual payments of taxes, as shown by the Ranger Tax Collector's books, paid by R. H. (Bob) Hodges for the years 1920, 1921 and 1922:
 $12,497.25

Signed R. H. (Bob) HODGES.

TIFFIN

The Parent-Teachers' association of Tiffin met Friday afternoon in a call meeting at Tiffin schoolhouse. Report of Mrs. W. W. Hearne on lunch sales was, net proceeds over $8.

Report of Mr. Elliott on candy sales was a profit of $7.26 on $10 worth of candy.

It was decided to revise the "furnishing list" of membership. The names of each group to furnish for Thursday's sale will be published each week.

Mrs. J. F. Cleveland was appointed to buy two pot plants for Mr. E. O. Elliott's room and Mrs. R. H. MacFarland's room, as they tied on the egg contest, which closed Friday afternoon at recess, each room had to its credit 527 eggs, making a total of 1,054 eggs, which at 25 cents per dozen will net the club over $12.

Last but not least the club voted to give all Ranger schools a basket picnic on Saturday, May 5. In setting the date the ladies will have Tiffin school playground equipped in every way for the enjoyment of the school children of Ranger.

Tiffin school and all the children of the community enjoyed an Easter egg hunt on the extensive grounds back of Tiffin school. The children were marched out at about 15 minutes before 4 o'clock, Friday afternoon. When all started the school ground was a lively scene. Many soon had hats and caps full of gayly painted eggs. Not one of the little tots was allowed to go away empty handed.

A dance was enjoyed Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James MacFarland, about 20 couples being present. The string band from Ranger furnished music.

Mrs. W. W. Hearne, James Hearne and Miss Annabel Phillips will start Monday, April 2, for Kansas City, where they will visit friends and relatives for a month.

DO YOU KNOW WHY THE GEAR-SHIFT IS DIFFERENT?

The design of Dodge Brothers gear-shift takes into consideration the natural inclinations of the driver.

To start, you throw the lever forward. To reverse, you pull the lever backward. And when the car is running in high gear—which is about ninety per cent of the time—the lever is in a forward position, out of the way, where it does not interfere with passengers, robes, or luggage.

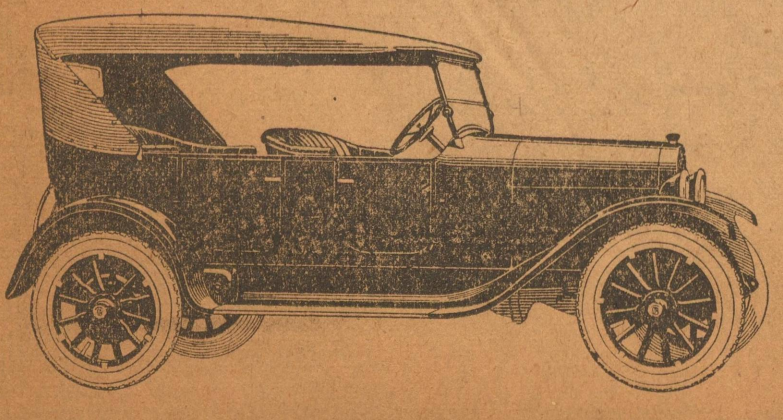

Moreover, the transmission, developed and patented by Dodge Brothers, is so designed that the countershaft—used in intermediate speeds and in reverse—is disconnected when the car is in high. There are no gears in mesh. Power is transmitted directly from clutch to rear axle.

This exclusive feature prevents the loss of power through friction, reduces gear-box noises and eliminates a vast amount of wear.

That is why the gear-shift of Dodge Brothers Motor Car is different.
