RANGER PROFITS BY CONTEST OF DAILY TIMES

Community With Wide-Awake and Progressive Newspaper Always in Lead.

What profit can come to Ranger through such a contest as the Ranger Daily Times is now running? This question comes to mind with various people who do not always see behind activities and reason out their purpose. It should be a self-evident fact to all people of the city that a real live newspaper is the logical medium between the business activities and the people of any city.

Realizing this fact it then becomes evident that neither the people nor the business men can afford to do without the newspaper which serves them both, for the business man must have some means of letting the people know what he has to offer them, and the people benefit by such knowledge in many instances, both by reading the individual ads in the newspaper and also by being able to compare them with each other, thus getting to know where the best prices are to be obtained.

Business Values.

This is the business value of a daily newspaper like the Ranger Daily Times. The news value is no less important because it keeps the people informed daily as to what is going on in the world as well as to events in their own city, thus helping them to keep abreast of the times in every way. And more than this, the daily newspaper advertises its own city to the world at large. Wherever a copy of the paper is sold the life of that city is known, so the activities of the people as told in the social column, club news, business stories and reports in general is just a picture of that city given each day to the public wherever the paper may be read.

In placing the merits of the Ranger Daily Times before the people, the candidates in the circulation campaign now running are giving them a chance to get better acquainted with their own city. They are offering them an opportunity to be well informed in world affairs as well as in local events. They are not asking a favor of them but are really conferring a favor on them by placing before them the merits of the Ranger Daily Times and its usefulness to the citizens of the community.

Support the Candidates.

It takes real live men and women to run a campaign of this sort, and the candidates engaged in securing subscriptions for the Ranger Daily Times in the contest now on will be entitled to the prizes offered by the paper in this contest. The grand prize is a fully equipped Ford coupe. The second prize is a handsome diamond ring in platinum setting which will be a joy to anyone receiving it.

Other candidates will be awarded liberal commission on all subscriptions turned in amounting to thirty dollars or more, so no one who has made an effort to obtain subscriptions in this campaign will go unrewarded, and the people of the city will become better acquainted with the opportunities offered in Ranger through reading the Ranger Daily Times.

Already, too, the legislature has defeated several "wet" measures.

TRUCKS NEEDED FOR CLEANUP IN CITY NEXT WEEK

Mass. of Trash and Rubbish to Be Removed, Says Sanitary Officer.

Representatives of the organizations which have agreed to boost the three-day campaign of cleaning up lots, streets, alleys and yards that have been neglected, met at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce offices to report on the plans they have made to make June 11, 12 and 13 the three days decided upon for the best clean up ever held in Ranger.

The club representatives reported an interest in the work on the part of business men and home owners. A number of teams and trucks have been promised the committee on hauling, but this number still falls short of the actual needs.

There is much rubbish and waste matter to be removed from the city, according to City Sanitary Officer Wade Swift, who will direct the campaign next week. Last year, according to the sanitary officer, more than 300 loads of rubbish were hauled to the dumping grounds by trucks and teams. In the campaign to clean up the city in March, because of the lack of help, only 93 loads were gathered up.

If figures are not deceptive in this comparison, Mr. Swift says, there remains much to be hauled away, once it is gathered into piles.

CORNETT INDICTED FOR ALLEGED BREAKING STATE'S DRY LAW

Special to the Times.
FORT WORTH, June 8.—Joe M. Cornett, a former police captain of this city, and also a former chief of police at Ranger, Texas, has been indicted by the Tarrant county grand jury on a charge of violating the state prohibition law.

It is charged in the indictment that Cornett sold intoxicating liquor to K. N. Howard, and in separate counts Cornett is also charged with illegally possessing and transporting liquor. Cornett resigned from the police department more than a year ago. Before he left the service he gave out a statement declaring that there were "100 stills" in operation at Lake Worth. An investigation of his charges failed to locate the "100," police officials said.

INHERITS GREAT WEALTH.

WARSAW, June 8.—All the lucky Poles with rich relatives in the United States seem to live in Chonstohova. During recent years several citizens of this town have inherited large sums of money from American Poles, but it appears that the biggest fortune of all has just fallen to the members of a family of the name of Holich, in moderate circumstances, who are reported to have inherited $30,000,000 from Frank Holich, of Buffalo, N. Y.

RUNAWAY CAR IN NEW YORK CITY GOES TO SMASH

One Girl Killed, Several Persons Hurt, in Its Wild Career.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 8.—Patrick McMelin, motorman, was held on a charge of homicide today, charged with deserting his car last night when it plunged eight blocks down a steep hillside in the city after the power and breaks had failed, killing Mary McLaughlin, 13, and seriously injuring several others.

The runaway car also made a number of families homeless when it jumped the track at an open switch as it went plunging down the hill at a pace said to have reached 60 miles an hour, tore along the street for a hundred feet and then crashed into a frame tenement house, being buried under the mass of debris that fell on it.

Motorman McMelin said that as soon as the power failed he applied the breaks, but they failed to hold the car and it went tearing down the hill gathering momentum every minute. Finding he could not stop the car, the motorman jumped, and was followed by one or two of the passengers, but Mary McLaughlin and several other passengers remained in the car as it continued its mad downward plunge.

Another letter was found in his room addressed to Mrs. K. K. Isbell, Whitehouse, Texas. In one of his missives there was reference to Esther, and it was declared "my girl has shattered my heart."

SAYS JAPAN'S NEED OF LAND MAY BRING DISASTROUS WAR.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, June 8.—Unless some of the western nations are awakened to their mistaken attitude toward the eastern nations, the struggle between east and west will involve the whole of humanity in the most disastrous war the world has ever seen.

These frank words were spoken by Professor Hishinuma, a Japanese, at a recent dinner in London of the Japanese society. The limited area of Japan, the professor explained, was a cause of great anxiety to her statesmen. With only 16 per cent of her territory available for agriculture, and a population of 360 to the square mile, Japan looks with longing eyes to North and South America, Canada, Siberia and Australia where there is so much land available for development. She wants to send her surplus population to these empty acres.

Merchants and wholesale houses may be asked to display this slogan in their advertising and on their letterheads.

PEOPLE URGED TO MAKE RANGER CITY BEAUTIFUL

F. R. Parker Points to What Oklahoma Has Done and May Be Done Here.

Ranger can be a city beautiful just as well as any other city or town, says F. R. Parker, president of the Eastland County Mutual Aid association. The downtown district of beautiful, brick business buildings here is a nucleus that any city with 12,000 people would well be proud of he declared.

Mr. Parker, who came to Ranger from Oklahoma City, said that city has earned the name of the "City Beautiful" because of its thousands of nice homes. "Retired oil men and retired farmers have come to Oklahoma City to make it their home," he said. "They brought money with them and invested it in homes. They also wanted to make Oklahoma City their home because they could educate their sons and daughters at the state colleges near the city. The state university is 20 miles from the city in one direction and the state normal school 18 miles in another direction. You can get to both places by interurban. The city has fine grade schools and churches."

Mr. Parker sees in the new and modern churches and schools of Ranger an inducement for West Texas people to want to make their home here. The brick highway through the county, the modern hotels, the numerous clubs and metropolitan character of Ranger should make the city attractive to homeseekers, he says.

TWO SHIPS GO ON ROCKS IN STORM BUT CREWS OF BOTH SAVED

SEATTLE, Wash., June 8.—The crews of two ships, victims of a double disaster at the Christoff Island, 100 miles south of the Alaskan peninsula, were saved today by the United States supply ship Cuyama. The United States mine sweeper Cardinal and the survey ship, Discoverer were piled on the rocky reefs by the wind-lashed waves. The Cardinal was driven on the reef late yesterday and it was apparent today might become a total loss. The Discoverer answered her call for aid and met the same fate. Early today radio reports said the Cuyama had removed the crews of both vessels, about 155 men in all, in small boats.

GERMANY'S NEW PAYMENT OFFER VIEWED AKANCE

France and Belgium Show Hesitancy About Even Considering It.

By Associated Press.
PARIS, France, June 8.—Paris and Brussels were in communication today discussing the advisability of replying to the new German reparations note or ignoring it entirely as not being susceptible for negotiations.

In the event a decision is reached that a reply be made, the French government favors dismissal of Germany's latest offer. The Belgians favor wording the reply, if the reparations offer be declined, in such a way as to leave the way open for further parleys.

The French foreign office today was silent on the subject, but it was said that if a reply be made Germany would be required to announce whether she intends to continue or abandon her policy of "passive resistance" in the Ruhr.

BRITISH EXPRESSION ON REPARATIONS NOTE GUARDED

By Associated Press.
LONDON, June 8.—British officials were reluctant today to express an opinion about the latest German reparations offer, but admitted that in certain points it was better than any previous offer. None would say what position Great Britain would take towards arriving at a solution of the dispute.

It was said, however, that Great Britain would favor a settlement of the allied difficulty with Germany by an international conference on Berlin's reparations proposal, or by the adoption of the suggestion by Secretary of State Hughes that Germany's capacity to pay be determined by an international commission.

U. S. MAY JOIN IN REPARATIONS DISCUSSION.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, June 8.—Germany's latest reparations offer may pave the way for suggestion by the allied governments that the United States join in the reparations and debt conference, it was believed today in high official quarters, based on Germany's insistence that "payments can only be agreed on in direct conversation with those entitled to receive them."

It was believed here today that Premier Poincaré would accept Germany's reparations promises only when underwritten and guaranteed by the United States and Great Britain.

FRANCE INSISTS SABOTAGE IN RUHR MUST STOP

By United Press.
PARIS, June 8.—France sent a positive demand to Germany today in a strongly worded note demanding that the control commission in the Ruhr be not opposed. Premier Poincaré will communicate with the other allies regarding the advisability of replying to the latest German reparations offer, but in the meantime has made it clear that Germany's policy of sabotage and resistance in the Ruhr must cease if the Inter-Allied commission is to resume its sittings and take up Germany's offer for consideration.

After French and Belgian occupation of the Ruhr, Germany disclaimed responsibility for possible attacks on the commission. The French cabinet will meet tomorrow to take up the reparations offer.

ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITIES NOT WORRYING

Silent Regarding the Possible Plans for Meeting Situation in New York.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, June 8.—With bootleggers operating along the New York border, reported to be bringing in quantities of liquor, the federal prohibition enforcement authorities appear very indifferent. Some of them declare the situation has been grossly exaggerated.

If the federal government has any plans for meeting the situation, officials are guarding them secretly. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, nominal chief of enforcement, said he knows of no definite plan for federal action and that apparently there was no need to stiffen the lines in New York or Commissioner Haynes would have reported it to him.

MEN CHARGED WITH KIDNAPING FURNISH CLEW

Tell Officer Ingram They Drove Girls to Dublin And Left Them.

Wesley Fox and Jim Carter of Ranger, according to word received today from Officer Jim Ingram of the Ranger police department, are alleged to have made a statement to Ingram at Gainesville admitting that they took 14-year-old Winnie Lee Harper and 17-year-old Odessa Mae Akers with them after visiting the farm homes of the girls' parents near Cheaney, 10 miles south of Ranger last Monday night.

Take Girls to Dublin. According to the story told to J. A. Pitcock, day sergeant, by Ingram, the men and girls drove to Eastland from the Harper home and then to Dublin. The men, Ingram said they told him, left the girls at Dublin, Tuesday morning.

The Ranger officer and George Harper, father of the 14-year-old girl left here yesterday afternoon in an automobile, the officer to bring back the two Ranger men under warrants sworn out charging that they had removed the girls from their homes, and the father to look for the girls, supposed to be either south or north of the Red river.

First Make Denial. The Gainesville police, who arrested the men Wednesday morning in an automobile as they were about to cross the Red river, failed to get from the men any admission of their connection with the disappearance of the girls. In telephone messages to Chief O. V. Davenport, the men denied any knowledge of the girls' whereabouts, according to the Gainesville police.

The men told Ingram the girls intended to go to DeLeon when they separated. In a telephone communication with the DeLeon authorities this morning, Chief Davenport said he was informed by the former that the girls were believed to be about 10 miles from DeLeon. An officer was to leave for their supposed hiding place at once.

The police and families of the missing girls had been working on the theory that the girls were somewhere north of Ranger. A warrant sworn out by F. W. Akers, father of Odessa, charged Wesley Fox with removing his daughter from Texas to Oklahoma. The warrant signed by G. F. Harper charged Jim Carter with the same offense.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
THE ROAD TO WANT:—He that oppresseth the poor to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich, shall surely come to want.—Proverbs 22:16.

ENFORCING THE LAW.

President Harding has stated his recognition of the benefits of the prohibition law and has repeatedly evidenced his sympathy with it. Before Governor Smith of New York approved the Cuvillier bill, which repealed the New York state enforcement law, Wesley Wait of Newburgh, N. Y., wrote to the president that in the event the governor did approve the measure it would be in direct opposition to the will of the nation of which New York state is a part and would tend to alienate the sympathy of the American people upon whose prosperity and friendship the New York metropolis had been built.

"This nation has deliberately, after many years of consideration, adopted the present policy, which is written into the Eighteenth amendment," wrote Mr. Wait. "It is the law of the land and of every state within the union. So long as it remains the national policy there can be only one course for the national government to pursue—that is to use every means to make effective the law passed in compliance with this constitutional mandate. To do this will be the unquestioning policy of the present administration, and I may add that I am finally convinced that it must be the policy of other administrations that shall come hereafter."

"The executive of the nation, and equally the executives of the states, are sworn to enforce the constitution. It is difficult to believe that public approval will ever be given to any other than a policy of fully and literally discharging this duty. It will be obvious that many complex and extremely difficult situations must arise if any of the states shall decline to assume their part of the responsibility of maintaining the constitution and laws enacted in pursuance of it. The states are equipped with police organizations and judicial establishments adequate to deal with such problems. The federal government is not thus equipped."

"I venture that if by reason of the refusal or failure of any state to discharge its proper duty in such connection, the federal government is at length compelled to enter upon the territory and jurisdiction of the state, and to set up those police and judicial authorities which would be required, the most difficult and trying situations would inevitably arise. More or less conflict between state and federal authorities would seem unavoidable in such circumstances. The impression would be created that the federal government was assuming to interfere with the functions of the states, and the distressing results that would ensue readily suggest themselves."

The president can feel assured that he has behind him the approval and determined support of the church people of the United States and more important than this, of that great body of public opinion which believes in loyalty to American law as the basis of American citizenship.

Sometimes we're sorry for the next generation. Every four years it will have to hear Edsel Ford mentioned for president.—Kansas City Times.

Miss Mary Buhner, of New York, is recognized as the "bravest girl in America." She has been awarded the American Red Cross "bravest" valor-honor and the bravery medal of the Carnegie institute as a tribute to her courage in making a valiant fight in Tampa Bay, Fla., last year to save Miss Dorothy McClatchie, a friend, who had been attacked by a barracuda while swimming. The girls were half a mile from shore when Miss McClatchie's leg was almost severed by the sea tiger. Swimming in a pool of blood, Miss Buhner towed the dying girl to shore, while sharks broke the water all about them, drinking in the victim's life blood.

Kellogg's Bran Is Efficient Diet for Preserving Health

Some state boards of health are taking a definite stand on the matter of a more efficient diet particularly as it affects general health habits. Speaking on the matter of the substitution of roughage foods for drug cathartics, Dr. S. J. Crumrine, secretary of the Kansas State Board of Health recently said: "I think it is very generally agreed that producing cathartics by drug action, if continued with any degree of regularity, is harmful."

"Overcoming constipation by a proper selection of diet, including liberal use of fruits, vegetables, and coarsely ground grains, including bran, is certainly more effective and without harmful results. There is scarcely any question but what the liberal use of bran in the diet will beneficially affect the most obstinate case of constipation."

The following recipe for cookies presents Kellogg's Bran in one of its most attractive forms.

BRAN COOKIES
 (Chef Hubert Van der Broeck, Hotel Statler, Buffalo.)

1-2 cup brown sugar, 1-2 cup butter, 1 heaping teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1-2 cup Sultana raisins, 1-2 cup chopped walnut meats, 2 cups flour, 1 level teaspoon baking powder, 2 1-2 cups Kellogg's Bran, 1 egg, 1-2 cup water.

Beat sugar and butter to a cream; add egg and beat well; add water, mixed with baking soda and flour, sifted with baking powder; then add the other ingredients and mix thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven. Sufficient for thirty cookies.

Disposal of stocks by jobbers and distributors was urged to solve the difficulty to prevent a condition of complete occupation of storage arising which would necessitate serious curtailment of refining.

Testing Various Sands for Best to Use In Concrete

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 8.—Row after row of little glass bottles, filled with sand and carefully filled away in glass-covered cabinets is a part of the technical "library" at the Structural Materials Research Laboratory at Lewis Institute in Chicago. It is probably the only collection of its kind in existence, and the information contained on the labels of the bottles gives an interesting insight into the part that science is playing in modern industrial undertakings.

This "sand library" was started ten years ago, and specimens have been added from time to time until there are more than 2,800 different bottles of sand in the collection. The specimens come from every state in the union and from Canada, Cuba, Mexico and other foreign countries.

Each sample has been carefully tested, and the results of the test are kept in the files. They include the source of the specimen, the grading, silt content and the results of the colorimetric test for organic impurities. In most instances mortar and concrete tests also have been made. The reasons for the tests were to ascertain the suitability of the various sands for concrete and mortar work.

The experiments with the various sands were undertaken at the laboratory as a part of the work of ascertaining methods that will assist the concrete user in obtaining the best results in the use of the material.

JUMPS TO NORTH POLE IN JUNE; EXPLORER WILL BE ENVIED HERE

By Associated Press.
BERGEN, Norway, June 8.—Ronald Amundsen, the famous Norwegian Arctic explorer, will attempt his hazardous air flight from Point Barrow in Alaska to Spitzbergen at the end of June, it is announced here. Between these two points he will traverse what has hitherto been the Arctic's "blind region," a territory of which nothing whatever is known. The greater part of this blind sector lies directly between Point Barrow and the North Pole.

Experts in polar work consider that one of the greatest of the difficulties Amundsen will have to contend with will be that of orientation—the determination of his latitude and longitude while under flight. Assuming that Amundsen starts from Point Barrow under ideal conditions, and in due course finds himself directly over the Pole, he will according to astronomic theory, have south on all sides of him. It is of vital importance that he start his southward course along the right meridian, for although in which ever direction he flies it will be south, the following of a wrong meridian may lead him along the icy wastes of the Greenland tableland or even across to Siberia.

Another danger, according to polar experts, is that he may find himself over the open sea between Greenland and Spitzbergen, which is some 350 miles at this point, and entirely out of the routes of any vessels employed in Arctic work. Spitzbergen is notorious for thick fogs which suddenly and completely envelope it in the course of a few moments, and here again lies a danger.

The success or failure of the adventurous flight, polar navigators say, depends upon atmospheric conditions, and on these alone—engine failure, of course, excepted.

ENGLISH WOMAN LIKES CHILDREN; MOTHER OF 23

By United Press.
LONDON, June 8.—Mrs. Emma Crossman likes children. She liked 'em well enough to have twenty-three of her own. Her husband died and she still had enough spare maternal instinct to become the second mother to the seventeen children of the man who became her second husband. Then she gathered together a brood of 23 horse children. Mrs. Crossman was one of twelve children. Her mother was one of fourteen.

U. S. SUFFRAGE LEADER SPEAKS IN ITALY

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, American suffrage leader, addressed the Congress of the International Women's Suffrage alliance in Rome, Italy, after Premier Benito Mussolini had promised to extend to the women of that country the right of suffrage, with certain limitations. It was the first time in the history of Italy that a premier presided at a women's suffrage meeting. Mrs. Catt is shown addressing the congress in the first photograph of the meeting to reach this country.

NEW VICTOR RECORDS RELEASED FOR JUNE

New Victor records for June include the following classical and dance numbers calculated to please all ears:

Two waltzes horn in on the June Victor records, both by the Troubadours, and real, sentimental, string waltzes they are. "April Smiles" is French and floating. "Zenda" is similarly styled, clear and cool.

Zet Crofey's boys put a real Yankee twang into "New Hampshire," a lively fox-trot on the new Victor list. Geographically the south has hogged musical nomenclature, and this trip to "points on the Fitchburg road" comes as a novelty. On the reverse the Great White Way play "Marcheta," a brilliant medley fox-trot in the Spanish style.

Again an organization makes its premiere on Victor records in June. W. Brooke Johns and his orchestra has his own peculiar style, with the conductor for his own song-plugger in two vocal refrains. "I Want a Pretty Girl" has brisk melodies, with two vocal refrains. "Don't Cry Swanee" has its typically "swanee" dance rhythm re-infused with a banjo.

As a companion record of that land which Kipling said, "In her time had so many lovers," Gigli sings in May the "Oh Paradiso (O Paradise)," from Meyerbeer's "L'Africaine." It is of Vasco di Gama, who, a prisoner in India, condemned to die, sings of the beauty of nature. Gigli sings it superbly, exhibiting the full volume of his glorious tenor.

Mme. Homer chooses for her latest record an Irish melody "The Lane to Ballybree"—modern but characteristically Celtic. There is a note of sadness in it, and those who have heard Homer will understand the rich and austere manner of its singing.

It is Ruffo's happy forte to play genial roles. In his latest record, as Sir John Falstaff from Verdi's opera on that worthy, he is stringing the adamantine Mistress Ford with an account of his youthful beauty as a page-boy to the Duke of Norfolk. "Quand'ero paggio" (when I was a page), is a fine melodic rumble of Italian gutturals, vibrant with the spirit of pure comedy.

Emilio De Gogorza turns to ancestral sources for two Spanish melodies which he sings for May. The Pyrenees are said to have been the background for "La Boca de Pepita" (Pepita's lips), and the dashing "Bolero" which he sings with characteristic joy and vigor.

SIMMONS NOW ORGANIZING KNIGHTS OF KAMELIA.

ATLANTA, June 7.—A new secret order, Knights of the Kamelia, is being organized by W. J. Simmons, emperor and founder of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. Simmons' latest proclamation was interpreted by klansmen here as widening the breach between Dr. W. H. Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan, and the founder of the Klan.

In his proclamation Simmons said he determined to establish the Knights of the Kamelia in order to "save the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan from spoliation and destruction."

KANSAS MAKES GOOD RECORD RIDDING STATE, LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS

By United Press.
TOPEKA, Kan., June 8.—Kansas, cradle of prohibition, has made an enviable record in ridding the state of Volstead law violators, according to George A. Wark, federal dry agent.

The state which long ago outlawed the whiskey business while it still flourished in most other states, has met the new emergency created by the national prohibition act with amazing effectiveness, in the opinion of Wark.

In the old days Kansas had to deal with the men who brought the liquor in from other states and retailed it via the "blind pig" route. The Volstead era, Wark pointed out, introduced the bootlegger who makes or imports his product, and peddles it in various ways to his customers.

Under Wark's direction a force of 13 enforcement officers for eighteen months has driven the bootlegging forces to cover. Organized bands of rum runners have been broken up, hundreds of stills have been confiscated, and the illegal liquor traffic cut in half, Wark declared.

Within the last three months the federal organization in Kansas has produced the following results, Wark said: Captured 87 stills, arrested 258 bootleggers, seized 10 motor cars, captured 1,729 gallons of liquor, destroyed 16,371 gallons of mash, and reported fines and penalties for collection totaling over $200,000.

According to Wark, public sentiment was aiding in the fight against the outlawed liquor traffic in Kansas.

TO HARNESS GEYSERS AND MAKE 'EM WORK

By United Press.
SANTA ROSA, Calif., June 8.—Many a man has sat and watched his dog, and wondered if ever it would be possible to harness the potential power to be generated by that wagging tail.

Others have sat and watched geysers and wondered the same thing, but the dream is going to be a reality in the case of geysers, according to M. O. Christie, of the Geysers Development company of Healdsburg, near here.

Along Little Sulphur creek, near Healdsburg, the ground is pockmarked for ten miles with geyser holes. The steam which is generated daily beneath that strip of land might do untold things, the citizens of Healdsburg believed, according to Christie, so they formed a holding company and took over the land from a summer and winter resort company.

Useless As Wag of Dog's Tail.
They decided to make use of something heretofore as economically useless as the wag of a dog's tail.

Christie revealed that the company already has dug two wells, each of them 220 feet deep. Deeper than this their drills would not go. An eight-inch casing was sunk in each hole to bring up the steam generated in the geysers depths of the sub-strata, and this was forced through 3-4-inch pipe into a steam turbine.

It has been found, according to Christie, that the pressure of the steam on the 3-4-inch pipe aggregates 70 pounds to the square inch. With a 5-inch vent. The pressure aggregates 30 pounds. The turbine through which the steam from the two wells is forced generates 1,500 kilowatts. According to Christie, the company will sink other wells and generate and sell electricity for light and power in Healdsburg and vicinity. Should the sub-strata prove sufficient an extensive power development project is planned.

Some things you should know about your heart

THE first thing a physician examines, when summoned, is the heart pulse. A normal heart will beat one hundred and three thousand times each day. You depend on it to beat every second of your life. You realize the heart should not have to overwork constantly to throw off blood impurities. It is impurities which increase the heart beat. More red-cells mean cleaner, purer, richer blood. They mean nerve-power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. This means freedom from pimples, from blackheads, from boils, eczema and skin eruptions; from rheumatic impurities, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you! S. S. S. has been known since 1825 as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced.

Mr. Arthur A. Smith, 5009 S. Ada St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "After suffering with bad boils, I commenced using S. S. S. I wish to say that it came up to all expectations, and relieved me of boils. I wish to express my appreciation for what S. S. S. did for me."

AMERICA WON'T FIND OLYMPICS SO EASY TO WIN

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor.)
By United Press.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Three years in succession, the University of California has sent a small band of athletes eastward from the Pacific coast to win the intercollegiate track and field championship.

That, in itself, is not an extraordinary feat, because two years before the Californians came east to start their run of three straight victories, Cornell had completed a high run of five championships in a row.

In winning the last three championships, California, however, should have given those who look forward to another easy victory for the American team in the Paris Olympics next year something to ponder over.

Three years in a row, the California team has shown that brawn in the field is better than speed on the track. America, in the last Olympics, came out first principally because of her speed on the track and because a few veteran field performers were better than some of the Europeans who were just beginning to learn.

The California team this year won only three points in the track events and it follows without stretching a point that the Finns or the Swedes, might do no better on the track and yet make superiority in the field bring about the same successful results at Paris that California was able to secure.

Considering that the Finns are almost sure to repeat what they did in Antwerp in the javelin throw, the shot-put, the pentathlon and decathlon and the distance events and that the Swedes are liable to do better in the sprints, the hurdles and the jumps, it follows that the United States cannot win the championship again on a few good sprinters, a hurdler and a pole vaulter.

In addition, the California team has demonstrated three times in a row that might and power do not rest in numbers. There were more coaches and officials with the 1920 American Olympic team than there were athletes on the Finland team and the Finns won as many first places as the Americans did.

Up to the present time it seems that the United States might be depending upon a few sprinters, a couple of pole vaulters, several hammer throwers, a shot-putter or two and some jumpers to win the next Olympics games.

And much more is needed.

Two Plead Guilty Using the Mails to Defraud People

FORT WORTH, June 8.—Withdrawing their pleas of not guilty and entering pleas of guilty to charges of using the mails to defraud, J. W. "Hog Creek" Carruth and L. G. Reynolds were each sentenced to serve a year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5,000, by Federal Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Thursday afternoon.

No testimony was introduced in the case and the court did not reconvene in the afternoon until the defendants were ready to plead guilty. The sentences were imposed on recommendation of United States District Attorney Henry Zweifel, following a conference of attorneys early in the afternoon.

Marvin Brown, representing the defendants, declared that the two men wished to withdraw their pleas of immunity and of not guilty and to plead guilty.

Zweifel said that the government had agreed with the defendants, in consideration of their pleas of guilty and not to put the government to further expense and time, to recommend the punishment not exceed a year and a day in the penitentiary and a $5,000 fine for each of them.

IMMIGRATION LAW BARS "SAPPHIRE OF SIAM"

Because Margaret Storm, 14, was "born in the barred zone," as the immigration records at Ellis Islands, New York, have it, she has been refused admittance to this country and ordered deported. Her father is a German of culture, and once was a wealthy jeweler, but she has been made to suffer because her mother was a native of Siam, which country is in the "barred zone." The girl is educated and refined and very pretty. She was sent here for adoption by her uncle, Reinhold Storm, of Carlos, Minn.

Tommy Gibbons Has Made Boxing His Life Career

ST. PAUL, June 8.—Just about the time most anxious fathers are "feeling out" their sons to ascertain their life-work desires, a young man of St. Paul—"hardly more than a kid," his friends said—grasped the lower ring of pugilistic fame.

It was his selection for a life profession, and how well he has mastered it will be demonstrated July when he seeks to wrest the heavy-weight boxing crown from Jack Dempsey at Shelby, Montana.

For the young man who decided on fisticuffs as a life work was Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, only a youth of 16 years when he answered the lure of the game. Many boxers have gained their start in the ring through their prowess as rough-and-tumble mixers, with science developed later as a necessary requisite to greater success.

Not so with Tommy Gibbons. It was purely a business proposition with him, and he selected his career for the same reason that many other young men have entered less violent professions. It was the attraction of more money than he could make any other way.

Tommy's path had been beaten by his brother, Mike Gibbons, 5 years his senior, whose boxing skill later gained for him the sobriquet of "The Phantom." It was the verbal persuasion of Mike, coupled with his success at fighting, that decided Tommy.

"I had left school and had gone to work for the Great Northern railway here," he said in recounting his start. "Of course, I was only making a little money no more than any kid of that age is likely to make."

"One day Mike came to me with a proposition that I enter the ring. He said he could pay me more than the railroad could, and as I had watched with some envy the money Mike was making, I decided to take him up."

"Mike was a great teacher, and from that time until very recent years, when Mike's eyes have been bothering him, he gave me thorough instruction. It is to this, of course, that I owe much of whatever boxing ability I possess."

NEW TYPE OF FEMININE BEAUTY IN THE MAKING IN AMERICA

By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
PARIS, June 8.—"An entirely new type of feminine beauty—as individual as the classic types of Greece and Rome and as beautiful as any yet developed by the human race—is now developing in the United States."
This is the opinion of Dr. Bretton, the noted Parisian beauty expert and facial surgeon.
Dr. Bretton in an interview with the United Press declared that the "melting pot" of European types—the climate, the American mentality and outlook on life, the practical domination by women in America and prohibition—are combining to produce a distinct composite national type of super-beauty more lovely than any the world has yet seen.
The process of definite formation of type will take from fifty to one hundred years more, assuming immigration is restricted, but the main lines of the type are already visible.
"In this development prohibition will have a large part," said Bretton. No woman can be beautiful without a clear complexion and women cannot have clear faces and drink alcohol as women in Europe do."
The American Type
In Bretton's opinion, the chief characteristics of the American type are:
A pretty nose inclined to turn up at the tip—a pug nose. Bretton declared the nose is one of the most important features of a beautiful face.

Fine complexion, due to good general health and outdoor life.
Dark hair and attractive eyes.
Good figure with narrow boyish hips, which is one of the individual characteristics of the American type.
Fascination of personality due to exuberance and self-reliance and good education.
"The American beauty will be the first in history to have a 'pug nose.' Hitherto the accepted standards of beauty have demanded a long straight nose. But the American girls have proved that woman can be really beautiful with a nose that is not long and straight.
"One reason the future American beauty will be the most lovely in the world is because the principles of bodily hygiene are more extensively and widely observed—for instance the care of the teeth which is yet not widely understood or practiced in Europe except among the upper classes.
"Then too there are more advantages for practicing hygiene in America—more bath rooms.
The Poor Man
"I see no signs that the American man is growing more beautiful, or will excel the ancient types of beauty in manhood of the Greeks. He works too hard and eats too fast and burns himself out before he reaches middle age.
"The face of the American man indicates that he is built for utility rather than beauty. But that may change in future generations."

SMITH LEGACY GOES TO DAUGHERTY

Jesse W. Smith & Atty. Gen. Daugherty

Attorney General H. M. Daugherty has been named the chief legatee in the will of Jesse W. Smith, chum of President Harding and Daugherty, and Washington "man of mystery" who shot himself in the attorney general's suite at a hotel in the capital. Relatives also share in the estate. The will, scribbled in pencil, was drawn two days before Smith committed suicide, an act ascribed to despondency because of continued ill health. Smith, once head of Ohio's Elks, was for years the political aide of Daugherty and lived with him in Washington.

COUNTY FILES SUIT TO RECOVER MONEY IN FORMER FIRST NATIONAL

EASTLAND, June 8.—Eastland county, by and through Ed S. Pritchard, county judge, filed its petition in the Ninety-First District Court against the comptroller of the currency of the United States and of the National Surety company of New York, to recover certain monies deposited in the First National Bank of Ranger.

The petition sets forth that the First National Bank of Ranger was selected and became the depository under the laws of Texas, for certain monies derived from the sale of good road bonds of Eastland county, and that on July 14, 1920, the First National Bank of Ranger, together with the National Surety company of New York, entered into a bond to secure the county against loss of the funds.

The bond was made in favor of Judge C. R. Starnes or his successors in office in the principal sum of $125,000.
The bond executed by the surety company was conditioned that the First National Bank had agreed to pay the sum of 4.52 per cent interest on daily balances of all funds of Eastland county, derived from the sale of good road bonds, for the period of time from the 14 day of July, 1920, until the 10 day of February, 1921.

The petition states that the bond was approved by the old commissioners' court on August 9, 1920, and thereafter the bank became the depository of monies in excess of $75,000; that when the bank closed its doors on the 17 day of February, 1921, the county had a balance of $18,291.27, the amount for which the suit is brought, together with the interest thereon at the rate of 4.52 per cent since February 13, 1921.
Grisham Brothers and T. J. Cunningham of Eastland represent the county in the litigation.

EASTLAND, June 8.—The case of Louis J. Starkey, charged with the killing of Elmer D. "Pet" Brown, in a road building camp near Cisco on the night of May 6, is set for trial in the Ninety-First District Court at Eastland on June 27. A special venire of 150 will be summoned as jurors.
Brown, a road contractor and favorably known as a wrestler, was killed

FASHIONABLE FEMININE FIGURE RESEMBLES LIMA BEAN IN SHAPE

By HEDDA HOYT
Fashion Editor of the United Press.
By United Press

NEW YORK, June 8.—What will eventually become of the feminine figure?

In recent years the ideal of perfect womanhood has dwindled from a "perfect 36" to an imperfect 34. We used to think that a girl couldn't be beautiful unless she had a figure with a certain amount of natural curves. We accepted the idea that Venus de Milo was the perfect type of womanhood and we sought to be as nearly like her as possible.

But the fashionable feminine figure has grown smaller and smaller in the last decade until today an angular curveless size 34 is considered the ideal figure. "Perfect 36's" are all dieting or taking up violent physical exercises in order to reduce.

The models of a year ago are out of work and in their places are an emaciated lot of tall, gaunt women that look like refugees. Most of them are so painfully thin that they would have been shelved as old maids ten years ago.

The Lima Bean Shape.
Their figures remind one of the traditional "bar of soap after a week's wash." They resemble in shape the lima bean and their only curves are located at the joining of the foot to the ankle or perhaps bulges the stocking. Their soda appetites augment the bank roll, if not the figure.

To be in perfect form today a woman must be hipless, waistless, bustless and footless. It's pretty hard on the girl who has been brought up to believe in athletics, for she can't hope to compete with the women who look as if they were in the last stages of wasting disease.

The normal, wholesome body is decidedly not in the style according to the modistes and gown manufacturers. Some of us, however, will be old fashioned enough to continue believing that Venus is the perfect type of beauty, regardless of the 1923 verdict. Others will diet for style's sake and steam themselves in Turkish baths from size 38's to 34's.

In the meantime what's to become of womanhood if this narrowing and reducing of the feminine figure continues?

Fashion Notes.
Skirts are growing shorter as summer advances. Most of the cotton fabrics show skirts that are quite full, but silk gowns continue on slender lines.

New turbans that are draped on the head are lovely for automobiling. They are made out of a yard of material that is one-half of a yard wide. The center of the material is gathered into a buckle which is placed over the forehead. The material is then drawn back to the nape of the neck and is then split so as to form two ends which drape about the head in turban fashion and fold under at the sides of the head. If properly adjusted a turban of this sort looks as though it were a hat and not a drape wound about the head.

Colored voile undergarments ornamented with rosebuds embroidered in colors are cool and launder easily.

STARTLING NEW FACTS ABOUT HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

The most frequent cause of high blood pressure is chronic toxemia, which is a general poisoning of the body by the absorption of poisons from the intestines. Poor digestion and constipation create toxic poisons that are absorbed into the blood causing the muscles controlling the arteries to contract, which in turn forces the heart to pump more vigorously to overcome the obstruction.

The pressure within the arteries rises and high blood pressure is present. It should be accepted as a warning which, unless heeded, will eventually result in turning a curable condition into an incurable disease.

Nature, as in most ills, gives us ample warning. Dizziness, palpitation of the heart, nervousness, shortness of breath, ringing in the ears, feeling of fullness in the chest, are all symptoms of high blood pressure and should never be neglected.

A well-known physician has devoted much of his time to discovering a means of reaching the cause of high blood pressure and only recently, after many thousands of successful clinical tests, his preparation has been put up in convenient tablet form and is dispensed by druggists under the name Bi-a-lin. Bi-a-lin has the same medicinal properties as the human bile which is Nature's great antiseptic. Just a few days' treatment with Bi-a-lin so regulates the bile that it resumes its work of overcoming and eliminating the poisonous wastes that accumulate in the intestines. With these poisons gone, your blood pressure returns to normal.

Bi-a-lin is a mild, pleasant, harmless preparation that has been so remarkable in its results that the American distributors have authorized local druggists to dispense it with a guarantee to return the full purchase price if in any rare case the very first bottle does not give wonderful relief. SPAIN WILL HONOR FOUNDER OF ST. AUGUSTINE, OLDEST WHITE SETTLEMENT IN NORTH AMERICA

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 8.—Harking back to the days of conquest when proud galleons sailed into the setting sun to explore the riches of this newly discovered hemisphere, the little village of Eviles, Spain, has invited St. Augustine, Fla., to return a social obligation incurred 358 years ago.

Aviles is making ready to move the bones of one of the proudest Castilians and most noted heroes, Adelantado Pedro Menendez de Aviles, to a new and more pretentious sepulcher. And, since de Aviles was the founder of St. Augustine, oldest white habitation on the American continent, that city has been asked to send some of its natives to Spain for the ceremonials.

Plan Festivities.
So confident is Aviles that the invitation will be accepted that one of her sons, Don Angel Cuesta, a millionaire in his own home town and for 30 years a resident of Tampa, Fla., has sailed for Spain to welcome the American delegation when it arrives for the celebration in August. In fact, numerous entertainments and festivities for the St. Augustinians are already being arranged over there, according to cables received by Spanish newspaper correspondents in this city from Don Julian Orbon, director of the ceremonial. The invitation to St. Augustine is reported already on its way. Another invitation to the United States government, with a request that it dispatch a gunboat overseas for the occasion, is reported to have been tendered through Alexander P. Moore, ambassador at Madrid. A third invitation is said to have been sent to Senator Fletcher of Florida, asking him to have the battleship Florida designated for this mission.

Was Haughty Adventurer.
Adelantado Pedro Menendez de Aviles was a haughty adventurer in the reign of King Philip II whose name appears in the almost forgotten histories of more than one American settlement.

He was born at Aviles, in the province of Asturias, in 1519 and, like many of the aristocratic youths of his day, the castles of his ambitions lay to the westward where Columbus, the Italian to whom Queen Isabella had been god-mother, had but recently found fame and fortune. He joined the navy, became a captain-general, served his king in many daring enterprises and in 1560 landed in prison, disgraced.

But Columbus, too, had been disgraced once, so this young Spaniard kept heart. In five years he regained the king's favor and shortly was appointed governor of Cuba and Florida, with orders to colonize the latter country.

Storm Scatters Expedition.
With a proud armada of 19 ships and 1,500 men, de Aviles sailed from Cadiz in 1565. A storm scattered the expedition. Only seven of the ships reached Florida. Ten weeks from the day they embarked, de Aviles founded St. Augustine and, after massacring nearly all of a colony of French protestants that clung precariously to the banks of the St. John's river, Spanish dominion was established over Florida.

On the subsequent expeditions Menendez raised the flag of his king over a post on Fort Royal Bay, South Carolina, and founded a mission on Chesapeake Bay. When the Indians annihilated the latter colony in 1572 the founder sailed his ships up the Chesapeake and Potomac and slaughtered hundreds of the red-skinned natives.

His career ended at sea, for he died soon after being placed in command of an armada which was destined to descend upon the Netherlands.

STEAMSHIP CARDINAL GOES ASHORE ON ROCKY ISLAND

By United Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The United States steamship Cardinal is ashore on the rocks of a rocky island about 100 miles south of the Alaskan peninsula. The supply ship, Tujama, and service steamer, Discovery, are standing by to take off the Cardinal's crew of eight officers and 60 men.

SAYS REAL WORK WOULD HELP SOCIETY GIRLS

Surgeon Gen. H. S. Cummings

Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings of the United States public health service, has issued a statement advising that all persons should plan their vacations to be radically different from their daily occupations. "A society girl, who really works as hard as anybody else in the service of the Goddess Pleasure and is probably (temporarily at least) sick of teas and men and other girls, would do well to attend a summer normal school where she could get a new outlook on life, unless she has courage enough to get a job in a factory," the surgeon general said. "If she is not too haughty there some factory girl might take pity on her and teach her the ropes."
