STARKEY'S FATE NOW RESTS WITH JURY

Oklahoma Governor Calls Out Soldiers To Silence Preacher

PRESIDENT IS SEEKING QUIET IN YELLOWSTONE

Will Speak in Spokane, Monday, on Social Justice, Women and Labor.

ON BOARD PRESIDENT HARDING'S SPECIAL, June 30.—Turning aside from the greetings of thousands of fellow citizens who are cheering him wherever he goes on his trip through the northwest and into Alaska, President Harding today went into Yellowstone Park for a rest. Even here, however, the impossibility of having a real vacation while President of the nation was borne in on him. He will make as much as he can of his sojourn in the park, although every minute is divided into schedules.

In Spokane, July 2, the President will speak on social justice, women and labor. In Helena last night he spoke on home and family life and the need to strengthen the religious side of family life. He said that both capital and labor had profited during the war and that if another war should occur all the resources of the nation would be drafted. He declared the nation must readjust itself so that women having to work would not be compelled to leave to teachers the rearing of their children.

CRIMINAL APPELLATE COURT DENIES MERCY APPEALS

AUSTIN, June 30.—The court of criminal appeals today dismissed the appeal of Sidney Oliver, from Hardin county, given a life sentence after being convicted of the murder of B. F. Ray, Dec. 5, 1920. An application for a second rehearing was denied Melvin Johnson of Liberty county, convicted of killing Alfred L. Daniels in September, 1921. John N. Gunn, from Bell county, also was denied a second rehearing. He was given a 99-year sentence for killing Sarah Gunn.

ASK RECEIVER FOR DALLAS KU KLUX KLAN

DALLAS, June 30.—A suit asking the appointment of a receiver "to demand an accounting of the defendants who have had charge of the collections as officials of the Ku Klux Klan," was filed in the district court today by E. G. Senter, an attorney for Preston Reynolds.

HILLES CRITICIZES FORD'S PRESIDENTIAL AMBITION

NEW YORK, June 30.—Election to the presidency of Henry Ford would be bowing down to Mammon, Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman from New York, declared today in a statement given to the press.

Kirk-Brewer Well South of Ranger Comes Blowing In

North Westmoreland field was extended one-half mile approximately yesterday with the blowing in of a well on the M. S. Sugar estate, about 15 miles south of Ranger. It was reported to be flowing 200 barrels yesterday. Pay was struck in the Desdemona sand at a depth of 2,870 feet. A million feet of gas came through Thursday night. The well is owned by Kirk-Brewer.

BUSINESS MEN WOULD PROTECT COMMON POINT

Will Combat Efforts of Certain Interests Affecting Freight Rates.

CISCO, June 30.—A meeting of representatives from a number of towns contiguous to Cisco was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday to take necessary steps to prevent the attempted effort on the part of certain business interests to break up what is known as common point territory. An executive committee composed of several members was named to carry out the details. It is probable that they will arrange to present the matter before the interstate commerce commission at the proper time.

A permanent organization was formed to foster the railroad interests in the section pertaining to the particular towns interested. The following officers and directors were elected: Guy Dabney, Cisco, chairman; Wright Armstrong, Brownwood, secretary. Directors—F. S. Abney and P. A. Glanville, Brownwood; J. F. Robertson and J. A. Martin, Rising Star; E. A. Robinson, May; F. E. Harrell and L. M. Brown, Cisco.

BELGIAN SOLDIERS KILLED AND INJURED BY BOMB EXPLOSION

DUSSELDORF, June 30.—Nine Belgian soldiers were killed and between 25 and 30 injured by the explosion of a bomb thrown into a carload of soldiers near here. The car was blown into kindling wood. The Belgians were on leave and were returning to their homes in Belgium. This is regarded as the German reply to the killing of two German workmen at Marl several days ago and the killing of two German civilians in the Wiesbaden station early this week.

GOMPERS LAUNCHES ATTACK ON HARDING'S SPEECH

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Statements by President Harding in his labor speech in Helena were assailed today by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who declared that labor needs more of specific action than speeches. "We believe the President is sincere in not wanting unions destroyed," he said in a statement. "No person would want that."

EVEN CHICKEN THIEVES USE MODERN METHODS

MARLIN, Texas, June 30.—The clumsy chicken thief who used to wake up folks who owned chickens when he made a raid on their hen house, is taboo. Modernized methods are being used by the up-to-date chicken thief. According to a theory held by the local police the thieves are using chloroform to lull their victims into a non-squaking state.

TROOPS HURRIED TO HENRYETTA FROM OKMULGEE AFTER MINISTER ADVERTISES HIS TWO LECTURES

MOTHER OF 14 CHILDREN ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Mrs. Mary Lonergan, aged 50, a Brooklyn, N. Y., woman, is on trial in that city for the murder of her husband, John. Mrs. Lonergan, the mother of 14 children, shot her husband after he had beaten his daughter, Anna, when she went to his bicycle shop to urge him to return to her mother, whom he had deserted.

MEMBERS OF KANSAS INDUSTRIAL COURT FACED BY REQUEST

TOPEKA, Kan., June 30.—Members of the Kansas industrial court today were asked by Governor Davis virtually to abolish the court since the recent decision by the United States supreme court has deprived it of all authorities and left it nothing more than an investigating medium. Governor Davis requested members of the body not to draw their salaries and to meet only once a month as a mere matter of form.

THINKING IT WAS WATER, POURS GASOLINE ON FIRE; VILLAGE IS DESTROYED

BEAUMONT, June 30.—Orangefield, a village 15 miles east of here, was practically destroyed by fire today. The estimated damage was $50,000. The fire started in the rear of a tailoring shop when a pressing machine took fire. A presser thinking he was picking up a bucket of water to extinguish the flames, threw a gallon of gasoline on the flames. The fire fighters were helpless to fight the flames because there was no hose at hand. By the time the hose was laid from the oil fields, the flames were beyond control.

REORGANIZE TREASURY DEPARTMENT; SECRETARY CLIFFORD WILL RESIGN

WASHINGTON, June 30.—A reorganization of the treasury department with a change of authority in several bureaus has been made and is effective tonight. It became known this morning that Assistant Secretary Edward Clifford, whose jurisdiction in the department is to be materially changed, is to resign. Clifford's friends insist that his resignation has nothing to do with the change in the department. He planned to return to financing and banking business in Chicago some time ago. In the reorganization, the supervising architects and coast guards are placed under Assistant Secretary Moss.

Sheriff Advises Chief Executive He Cannot Persuade Preacher Not to Talk and Governor Strengthens His Hand.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 30.—Only a handful of state troops was on duty late yesterday in positions of Okmulgee county remaining under martial law, but this force was augmented this morning by a company of national guardsmen mobilized at Okmulgee last night and which this morning entered Henryetta in motor cars. Officers in command said they did not know why they had been sent to Henryetta and Adjutant General Markham refused to comment.

HENRYETTA, Okla., June 30.—A bold-faced advertisement appearing yesterday in a local newspaper announcing two lectures by the Rev. Cornelius Bowles, Henryetta minister, on the situation in Okmulgee county that had resulted in martial law, is believed responsible for the unexpected order issued early today sending troops here from Okmulgee. The advertisement, which was signed by Bowles, declared that "Okmulgee county had been imposed on by a self-appointed committee, the governor and the lawless element. Okmulgee troops arrived during the night and this morning were encamped near the city hall. Sheriff Russell is understood to have informed the governor last night that his efforts to persuade the minister not to speak had proved unavailing and he believed the force here should be strengthened to prevent the meeting."

GOVERNOR APPOINTS JUDGE OF NEW DISTRICT COURT IN FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, June 30.—Tarrant county's fifth district court will become a reality now with the appointment of Hal S. Lattimore as its judge. His appointment has been announced by Governor Neff. It is not expected that any contested cases will be set in the new court until the beginning of the autumn term, although the court will probably hear a few cases transferred from present courts. Judge Lattimore is one of the youngest district judges who ever held the office in the state, being barely 30 years of age. He was born and reared in Tarrant county. He attended the University of Texas, Baylor university and later the University of Chicago, where he obtained his law degree. He is a son of former State Senator O. S. Lattimore, now an associate judge on the Texas court of criminal appeals.

MITCHELL, SENTENCED SIX TIMES TO DIE, HAS DATE OF DEATH FIXED

WACO, June 30.—Roy Mitchell, convicted and given the death sentence in six different cases, was sentenced yesterday afternoon to be electrocuted on July 30. The court of criminal appeals gave notice that the motion for rehearing had been over-ruled and Mitchell was sentenced shortly after 5 o'clock.

Ranger Boy Plans Daring Feat with Fire, July Fourth

Diving through a body of water afire with gasoline, will be a Fourth of July stunt by a 16-year-old youth of Ranger. Robert Weir, who says he will jump from a 50-foot tower at Shamrock park encircled by a belt of fire, asserts he is not the least afraid he will get burned. He will make the jump through fire at 8:30 p. m., on the Fourth.

FRANCE RESENTS LETTER OF POPE REGARDING RUHR

ROME, June 30.—Strained relations are beginning to exist between the Vatican and the French over French occupation of the Ruhr. The French resent the letter written by Pope Pius XI to Cardinal Gasparri, voicing a plea for Germany and containing a veiled condemnation of the French reparations policy. Postponement of the reception to have been held at the Vatican, July 3, has increased the tension. Announcement of postponement of the reception followed action of the French leaders repudiating suggestions of the pope. The pope believes his letter was misunderstood in French circles and feels that his efforts to relieve the situation were not received in the terms in which they were made.

The French ambassador in Rome has been instructed to seek explanation at the Vatican and will inquire for the motive of the pope in speaking for French evacuation of the Ruhr. It is understood the Vatican will reply that no denunciation of the French policy or approval of the German policy was intended.

CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES TO INTERPOLATE GOVERNMENT

PARIS, France, June 30.—The French chamber of deputies has decided to interpolate the government next Friday on the message of the pope. The French senate is strongly aligned against the pope's suggestion for French evacuation of the Ruhr, even leaders of the Catholic group reaffirming their stand for the government. They claim to be with the pope in matters of religion and will be with the government on questions affecting occupation of the Ruhr and other questions growing out of the war. Premier Poincare, speaking in the senate, Friday, gave his long hoped for pronouncement on French occupation of the Ruhr and stated with distinctness the position taken by France. The senate supported his policy unanimously and voted approximately 307,000,000 francs ($18,000,000) to maintain the Ruhr occupation.

TEXANS START ON VOYAGE TO HAVANA AND PANAMA

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 30.—A party of West Texas business men headed by Governor Neff were scheduled to sail today on a steamer of the United Fruit company for a trip to Havana and the Canal Zone. The expedition, which is to last for 10 days, is being taken under auspices of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to promote business relations.

The grand jury today took a recess until July 30. A total of 28 indictments were returned, but a number of those against whom indictments were found have not yet been arrested.

Six Hours Are Given Counsel For Arguments

Burkett Makes Closing Speech for State and Patterson for the Defense. Case Given to Jury This Afternoon and Verdict May Be Brought In Today or Early Tonight.

State Senator Joe Burkett, leading counsel in the prosecution of L. J. Starkey for the killing of Elmer D. (Pet) Brown the night of May 5 in the latter's construction camp near Cisco, concluded his argument at 1:55 o'clock today and the case was given to the jury. Senator Burkett was the last of the several attorneys to sum up the facts before the jury.

Both state and defense closed late Friday afternoon and the evening session of the court was devoted to arguments. Each side was allowed three hours. N. R. Rosenquest and County Attorney Barnes presented the case for the prosecution, and Carl Springer presented the cause of the defense. At 10 o'clock the court adjourned until this morning.

At today's session Dan Moody, district attorney in Travis county who aided in the prosecution of Starkey, spoke for nearly an hour, and B. P. Patterson, leading counsel for the defense, spoke for two and one-half hours, concluding the argument for the prisoner at the bar. Senator Burkett began speaking shortly after 1 o'clock.

The court gave the charge to the jury before arguments were begun, so that the case was placed in the hands of the jurymen immediately after Senator Burkett had concluded his argument. It is possible a verdict will be brought in today. The killing of Brown was not denied by Starkey and the question of motive, whether of self defense or something that went before, is the problem before the jury.

Immigrants Are At Door Knocking For Admission

NEW YORK, June 30.—Sixteen steamships, their rails lined with thousands of aliens who have forsaken their homelands and are seeking admission to the United States were outside the lights today waiting for midnight before knocking at the door which they are hoping will open to them under the new ratio effective July 1. Steamship officials feared disappointment awaited many of the immigrants who will face deportation if the number seeking admission be in excess of the number apportioned to that nation.

BIBLE THOUGHT
PRAISE THE GOOD GOD—
 Make a joyful noise unto the Lord. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving. For the Lord is good.—Psalms 100:1,4,5.

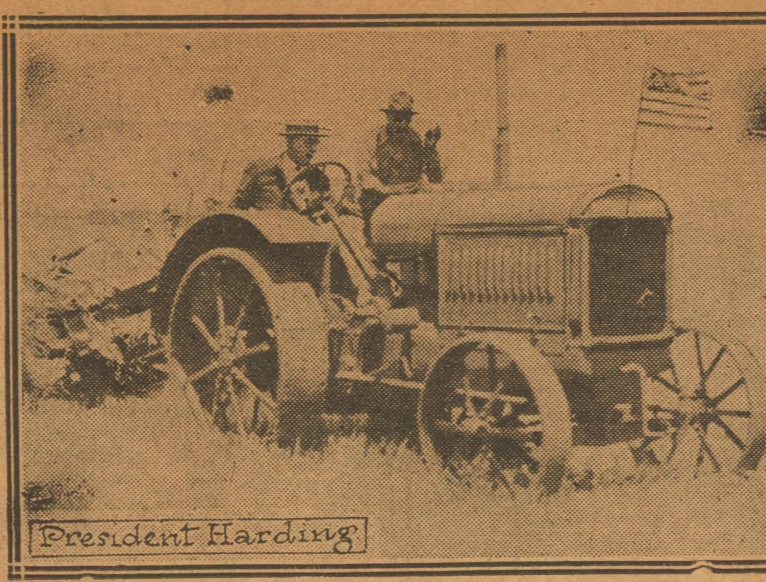

HIGHWAYS IN TEXAS.
 In Texas we need a highway system. Only the state can successfully build such a system.
 We need connected highways. Only the state can successfully connect them and keep them connected.
 We need permanent highways that are kept permanent. Only the state can provide successfully the constant maintenance which is necessary to permanence.
 It is state traffic which makes state roads necessary, and such roads should be built and maintained by the state so that the traffic itself can be required to pay a just share of the cost of such roads and their maintenance.
 Under the present system the roads being used by state traffic are roads built at an enormous cost to the counties and maintained by the counties to the neglect of the purely county roads. State highways should be built and maintained by the state, in co-operation with the federal government.
 And such highways should be built in a system and should be connected. Under the present system we are building highways only in patches. Thousands of miles of highways have been built in Texas in co-operation with the federal government, but you can scarcely find one hundred miles of improved highways in one connected link. Our highways should go somewhere. Most of our fine roads now go from the county seat to the county line. One little patch of impassable road between two points wipes out the value of all the rest of the highway. Our highways become much more valuable when they are built in a system and are connected. Only the state can build a connected system and keep it connected.
 We need highways that are not destroyed before they are paid for. We need permanent highways. The only permanent highways are highways that are permanently maintained. The old adage, "A stitch in time saves nine" can be applied to highways as to nothing else. A system of patrol and constant maintenance is absolutely essential to permanence and is much cheaper than a system of periodical repairs. We must maintain our roads, not merely "repair" them. Only the state can successfully provide this for our state roads.
 To provide Texas with a state system of permanent highways, permanently maintained, an amendment to the constitution has been submitted to the people.
 There are about 180,000 miles of public roads in Texas. Most of the heavy traffic, however, uses only about 10 per cent of these roads—say 18,000 miles.
 Most of this traffic is state traffic. It is not purely local traffic.
 But most of the money is being spent on these 18,000 miles of roads—and most of that money is county money.
 That means that 162,000 miles of county and local roads are being neglected so that the counties may provide and maintain 18,000 miles of roads for state traffic.
 State highways for state traffic at a federal expense will release county funds which can be devoted to rural roads for rural traffic.

 Vote for the highway amendment on the 28th of July (fourth Saturday in July) so that the state may take these state roads and thus make it possible for the counties to maintain the 162,000 miles of roads which the farmers use constantly.
 The federal government will pay half the cost of building 12,000 miles of our highways—those over which there is the heaviest traffic and thus the most costly—if we will place those highways under state supervision and control.
 If we don't do this, the federal government will not spend any more money in Texas.
 That means that it will cost the people of Texas twice as much to build these 12,000 miles of highways if we don't place them under state supervision and control.

"What did Brown say?"
 "We'll go on down to McDonald's and get it straight."
 The witness said Brown repeated his request when Starkey hesitated about going.
 "Starkey said: 'Don't get so damn fast,'" Wright said, "I'm a white man, Mr. Pet said, 'I know you are. I want to get this straightened.' Mr. Pet laid his hands on Mr. Poe. Starkey said 'lay off.'"
 "What did he do then?" pursued Burkett.
 "He shot him," he said. "I couldn't see where he got his pistol."
 "Did Brown make any demonstration?" asked Burkett.
 Patterson objected and was sustained by the court.
 The negro said that Poe said he wouldn't have done it for a million dollars.
 Poe unwilling to testify.
 Forest White, assistant city attorney of Cisco, was a new witness placed in rebuttal by the state. He said he was called by someone he didn't remember on the night of the killing to interrogate the witnesses at the inquest.
 Under the questioning of Dan Moody, one of the prosecutors, Wright said that Brad Poe, who was with Starkey, said he wasn't ready to testify at the time. Although not positive he made the statement that Poe wanted to wait until the next day to testify.
 Under cross-examination, he admitted that Poe did testify at the inquest regardless of his earlier wishes.
 Next on the stand was J. H. McDonald, justice of the peace at Cisco, former Eastland county treasurer, and a former United States deputy marshal.
 After telling of viewing Brown's body at the Cisco hospital and describing the dead man's clothing, over the objection of the defense, he was asked by Burkett if Brown didn't visit his office on Friday, the day before the fatal shooting.
 "Yes,"
 "Didn't he look over the records?" Burkett interrogated.
 "Yes, he partially did," McDonald replied.
 "What records?" asked Burkett.
 "Criminal docket," McDonald answered.
 The state was not permitted by Judge Davenport to have the conversation between the justice and road contractor related.
 Fred Jackson, a negro laborer at the camp, related substantially the same story as Jim Wright.
 He included a statement that Brown said he was "tired of the way you are doing," in referring to Starkey and Poe.
 "What door did you go out of?" Burkett quizzed.
 "I didn't go out," he said. "I rolls out."
 The judge called for order.
 The dense crowds in the court room at the beginning of the afternoon session prompted Judge Davenport to admonish the crowds to keep the aisles open and the windows clear of obstruction to insure proper ventilation. He delayed the opening for several minutes while the deputy was engaged in clearing the aisles. However the crowd would surge back into the aisles after the deputy passed. The judge seeing the apparent difficulty for the deputy to clear the aisles, suggested that he might employ help.
 "It's embarrassing to stop a trial to call attention to these things," the judge finally warned the crowd. "This is a public trial and we know everybody is entitled to a place but we haven't the room," he said.
 Evidence in Rebuttal.
 Fred Davenport and Frank Pugh of the Bohning Motor company of Eastland were placed in rebuttal by the state. Both men had talked to Brad Poe after the shooting. The questioning was along the lines of attempting to disprove Starkey's statement that Brown swung the lantern at him.
 "Didn't Poe say that about the time the lantern went out the shot was fired?" asked Burkett of Davenport.
 "He did."
 "State whether or not he said Brown was shot in the back?"
 "He did," was the reply.
 It was during the quizzing of J. T. Stamps, owner of the ground on which the Brown camp is located, that the lantern and the globe, broken

POLICE ACTIVE IN MAKING ARRESTS ON VAGRANCY CHARGES

Four Ranger hotels were visited at midnight by four officers, working in pairs, and eight women, mostly 21 years of age and under, were gathered in on vagrancy charges. One of them gave her age as 17.
 Police said today Ranger appeared to have a surplus of cooks as all eight gave their occupation as that of a cook. All paid their fines. One man who was brought to the station with one of the women promised payment on pay day. The fines assessed were $15.70 each. One paid $10 and promised the balance later.
 The wholesale arrests were made in compliance with an order of Police Commissioner C. O. Terrell against vagrants when the commission organized in April. The raids have since come at irregular intervals.
 At 3 a. m., a fifth hotel was visited and a young couple brought to the police station on vagrancy charges. Both fines were paid.

Canibalism Among Chicks and Fowls

By SETH W. SHOEMAKER, Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

Cannibalism among poultry is the habit of eating one another's flesh. This is sometimes quite common among chicks in brooders and even among grown fowls.

A chick may form this habit by pecking at a wound on the feet or body of another chick or sometimes by making lacerations on the toes of another chick when picking in the litter for food.

Other fowls will pick at spots or sores on the bodies of other fowls. Once the fowls find that they can secure blood by picking at one another the habit of flesh eating is formed.

Occasionally a chick or fowl may be eaten alive by companions that have acquired the habit of cannibalism.

This habit of cannibalism is a common one when hens are confined in close quarters and seems to have little relation to the method of feeding. In fact, fowls having raw meat at their disposal seem to turn cannibal as quickly as those deprived of flesh food.

Cure by Removing Cause. The treatment most recommended for young chicks that have contracted this habit is to remove the cause, give them plenty of exercise, attention is the best remedy for this because it is very difficult to break the habit in mature birds that have acquired it. Fowls on their bodies should be kept clean and run with other poultry that have been affected and removed, isolated and persons killed for food.

Some poultrymen advise hanging a piece of salt pork in the pen by a string attached to the roof. If this helps to relieve the habit it would indicate that a lack of salt in the ration gives the fowls a taste for blood after they have once tasted it and they are very eager to get more. In such cases a fairly satisfactory method is to mix six to eight ounces of salt with each 100 pounds of dry mash to supply the lack of salt.

Treat Wounds With Tar. Other poultrymen smear the parts of fowls that have been made raw with pine tar. This is also useful for dipping the feet of young chicks whose toes have been picked by their companions. The pine tar is distasteful to the fowls and takes away the attractiveness of the habit.

Fowls that are badly addicted to this habit may be sometimes cured by turning them loose out of doors until they forget that picking their neighbors will give them a supply of meat.

Van Loon Only Modern Author In Newest Home Book List

What books must be in American homes in order to make home libraries "ideal" in the opinion of college presidents, librarians, editors and others to whom Americans are accustomed to look for intellectual guidance?

Two agencies are now trying to answer that question, the National Council for Better Homes in America and the U. S. Army Library. The Council has asked the cognoscenti of the country to suggest a list of 200 books for the "ideal" home library, while the Army Library independently has made up a list for the soldiers.

Already an agreement has been reached upon a few books. Some time in June the "ideal" list will be announced by Mrs. William Brown Meloney, Secretary of the National Council, but the first twenty books on the list are: The Bible, Shakespeare's plays, Van Loon's "Story of Mankind," "David Copperfield," "Les Miserables," Mother Goose Rhymes, "Robinson Crusoe," "Two Years Before the Mast," a dictionary, Boston Cooking School Cook Book, Emerson's Essays, Home Book of Verse, "Our Republic," "Vanity Fair," "The Ordeal of Richard Feverel," Aesop's Fables, "Little Women," "A Vagabond Journey Around the World," an atlas, and "The Care and Feeding of Children," by Dr. Emmet Holt.

The one modern non-fiction book agreed upon by both institutions as essential is Van Loon's "Story of Mankind."

Luther L. Dickerson, librarian in Washington in charge of the Army Library, announces that the traveling libraries for the officers, enlisted men and their families include the "Story of Mankind" and Wells' "Outline of History," classics such as "David Copperfield," "Lorna Doone" and "The Three Musketeers," and some popular fiction.

By the time the list of 200 books for the "ideal" library is announced another book by the author of the "Story of Mankind" may be included, "The Story of The Bible."

Mrs. WILLIAM BROWN MELONEY, Secretary National Council for Better Homes which is Seeking Ideal Home Library.

Hendrik Willem Van Loon is now finishing his story of the Bible at Cambridge, England, in the house where Erasmus finished his great version of the Bible. His publishers expect soon to bring out the work.

That he believes such a book is necessary in his own home is indicated in a letter to his two boys, Hansje and Willem, in which he says: "For many years little boys of your age have been frightened away from it by the solemn faces and forbidding attitude of those who believe that the Holy Volume has been entrusted to their particular care. And yet, you never can be thoroughly educated without knowing these stories."

lighter tones. Even the little cotton frock has lingerie of colored voile to match it. Voile underwear is best when simply made and trimmed in embroidered rosebuds or hemstitching, rather than when lace trimmed, as lace is more effective when used on crepe de chine, georgette or chiffon.

Replacing flesh shades are colors such as peach, Nile green, mountain haze and lemon. These colors are made up in cotton garments as well as in silk ones. Quantities of lace are used this season, as women have grown weary of the simple hemstitched garments. Medallions of lace embroidered with monograms are set onto bodies of costume slips and step-ins. Wide bands of lace form yokes on many garments and are also used as a border about the petticoat hems and drawers.

Step-in drawers attached to long bodices are among the summery models. The other day I saw a practical garment of this sort which did away with a separate costume slip. A long bodice with drawer attachment had buttons at the sides, front and back of the waistline so that a petticoat could be buttoned onto it, eliminating the costume slip, and at the same time holding the petticoat at a low waistline.

Irish lace is used extensively this season on undergarments. It is often dyed to match the color of the garment. Since ecru is so popular as a dress shade, ecru dyed lace used on an ecru crepe de chine garment is lovely. Being a natural shade ecru can be used under various colored frocks.

Among the new crepes one can find numerous lovely materials for the vacation underwear, which is easily laundered and will require no ironing. Crepes are always prettier in colors than in white, as white turns yellow so quickly unless laundered by experts. The most practical crepe lingerie is made without lace or trimming, except hemstitching or border effects of contrasting color. Some of the novelty crepes are lovely for the out-door girl, as they have borders with tennis racquets, golf balls, etc., stenciled in contrasting colors. While pongee makes a practical vacation undergarment, it is not as cool as other silks or cotton materials. Nightgowns which have become torn under the arms can be cut off and stitched on a band of wide lace to which are attached shoulder straps, making a cool vacation nightgown.

LAREDO.—Under order of the federal government, Mexican officials have ordered the international bridge here closed on the Mexican side each night at 8 o'clock. The order was issued as a means of decreasing gambling, it is said.

SMALL CHANGE PAYS FOR PUBLIC UTILITIES SERVICE

Statistics assembled by the Society for Electrical Development make an interesting showing of what the average American citizen does with his income. Food takes 45 per cent. Rent and taxes claim 16 per cent. Amusements, books and charities require 14 per cent. Clothing amounts to 12 per cent. Miscellaneous expenditures take up 7 per cent.

The remaining 6 per cent goes for all public utility service. This six per cent is divided about as follows: Electric service 1.03; railroads 2; gas 1.08; water .21; telephone 1.25; street cars .42.

In other words, if the cost to the average citizen of all the essential utility services were reduced eight and one-half per cent his saving would be only one per cent on the dollar. His costs for the same services would be equal to the item expenses which is his income.

Guide Post of Business

RIDING along an unfamiliar road, you depend upon sign posts to guide you. Whether you're hitting the thank-you-mams in a flivver or soaring along in a costly car, they do their work equally well.

Today, as you spend your money to fill your needs, advertisements are waiting to direct you. They are the guide posts of business. They point the short, straight road to satisfaction in buying. They will serve you well, whether you spend much or little.

Do you stop to read the advertisements? They are published to tell you exactly where to go for what you want. They lead you to values of which you would never know were they not there to guide you.

And remember that advertising always points out goods of unquestioned value. When a store or manufacturing concern puts its name on goods and tells you about them, you may be sure that they are worth consideration. It does not pay to advertise unworthy merchandise.

SO-CALLED AMATEUR ATHLETICS APPEAR TO NEED CLEANING OUT

By PAUL R. MALLON, United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, June 30.—A new storm is being stirred up to clean so-called amateur athletics of professionalism. Great gusts of words are blowing from east and west, howling reform. The latest furore is being directed against track athletes. It is said a great number of running stars are receiving money in secret for performing in various meets. It is known that a policeman can't wear silk shirts and a high hat on his salary. It is known a taxi driver can't tour the world on his profits every year. It is known a poor man can't live in ease without money. A leading runner said he had been offered $30,000 to tour the west with a bunch of gamblers for three months. Another sprinter said he had received an offer of $1,000 for one race. Gamblers would take the runners to small towns, where there are some local "stars." They would let their man (under an assumed name, of course) lose a couple of races to loosen up the change on the small town. Then they would sock in a good bet and depart with the cash. One of these runners said he knew many of his brother amateurs that would be paid money. He named them, named the amount they received in various races. "If anybody knows about it," he said, "But what can you do? If you have a howl, they would sweep out the best runners in America. 'It would ruin the sport and spoil American chances in the next Olympic games.' That's interesting. It certainly cannot be considered 'American sportsmanship' to let such a condition continue, the storm stirrers say. If any amateur is receiving money he should be kicked out. And the only reason nothing is being done is because it would spoil American chances in the Olympics.

MINISTERS DIFFER ON BOXING BUT IT DOES NOT STOP FRIENDSHIP

By United Press. EL PASO, June 30.—Should a minister of the gospel temporarily lay aside the cloth for a pair of boxing trunks and gloves and forsake the pulpit for a roped arena to help out a worthy cause? That question has caused no little comment among the preachers of this city. It all came about when the Rev. Mr. S. J. T. Williams of the First Baptist church announced he would give battle to "Australian Billie" Smith to help raise proceeds for the Milk Fund. Rev. W. H. Joyner of Immanuel Baptist church didn't take much to his fellow pastor's intentions. "A good many El Paso men put up money on the fight," he said. "I don't think that a minister should furnish an incentive for betting and gambling." Rev. Mr. Joyner explained that he was personally criticizing Williams but added as his consolation that "a fighting parson lets his ministry in for a lot of cheap sensationalism." "Boxing is a dandy, clean sport, and is one of the means of keeping a man fit whether he's in the ministry or any other calling." This from the "fighting parson." "I don't have to get into a scrap of notoriety and I never entertained such idea when I promised to fight for a good cause." At any rate there's no hard feeling between the two ministers. "Let's go fishing together," Rev. Williams asserted. The stage of dressmakers was the general from coast to coast, with the exception of four New States. It was declared to be acute in Pennsylvania, Illinois and Michigan. Cougars are attracted by catnip.

BEWARE OF PRAYERS

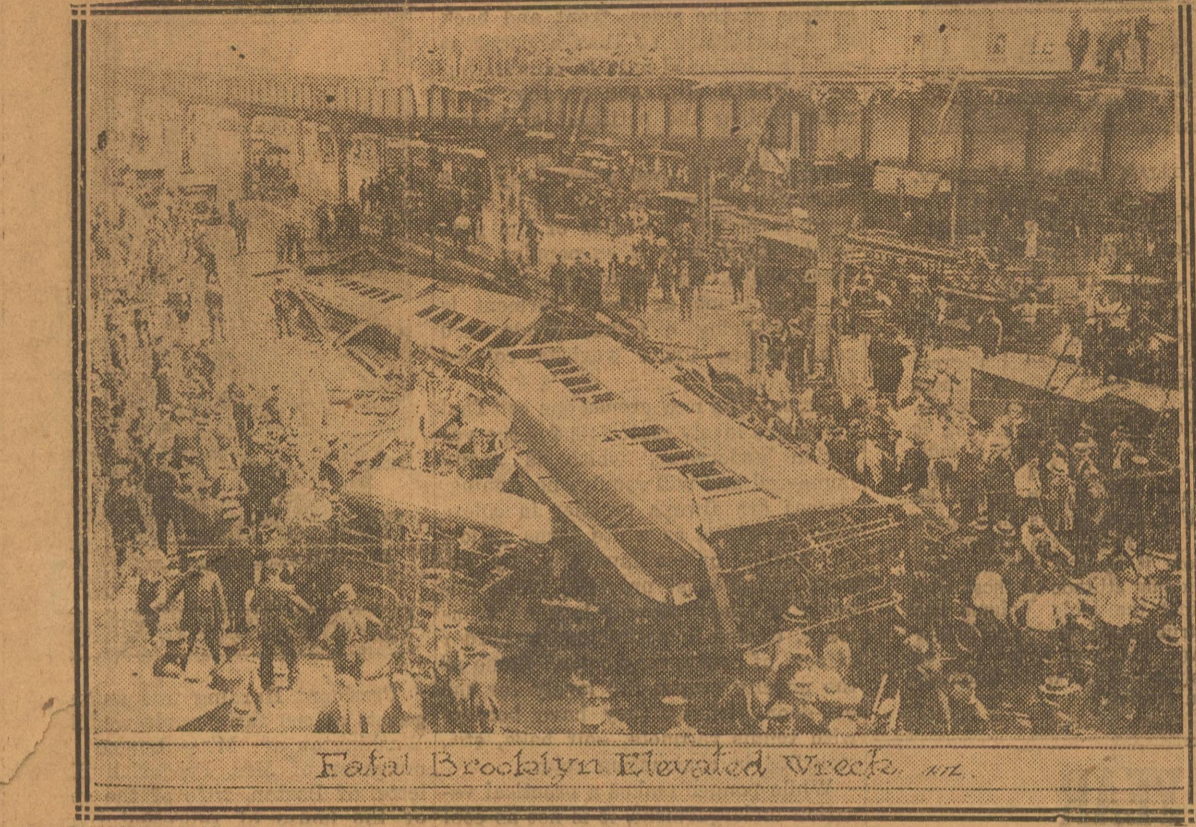

A few days before sailing back to England, Sir Philip Gibbs was a guest of the Dutch Treat club, New York. He talked to them on the relationship between journalism and literature, and in the course of his speech dwelt upon prayer as a factor of journalistic success. To prove his point, he related a personal anecdote of the time when he interviewed the late General Booth, of the Salvation Army. At the end of the interview the general fixed him with a burning eye. "Down on your knees, young man," he said, "and join with me in prayer for the salvation of Lord Northcliffe."

Sir Philip knealt, and, for twenty minutes at least, Lord Northcliffe was brought to the personal attention of his Maker.

CLIMBERS WILL TRY AGAIN TO SCALE WORLD'S HIGHEST PEAK

By Associated Press. LONDON, June 30.—Although last year's attempt to reach the summit of Mount Everest failed, the Royal Geographical society intends launching another expedition to reach the summit next year, the Earl of Ronaldshay said in his presidential address before the society here recently. He said that the experience gained by the expedition last year, and notably the fact established by the climbers that a camp at an altitude of 25,500 feet was a possibility, gave ground for hope that next year's attempt would be a success.

ELEVATED TRAGEDY IN BROOKLYN

Eight persons were killed and 83 were injured when two cars plunged from the elevated railroad structure to the traffic packed street 40 feet below, at 2 o'clock, Monday afternoon, July 25. Two automobiles passing under the structure were crushed with their occupants and a large number of other vehicles, including two large municipal busses, were grazed by the falling coaches. Every passenger in both coaches was injured. The wreck took place near the intersection of Flatbush and Atlantic avenues, one of Brooklyn's busiest corners.

OLD KEROSENE LAMP FAST PASSING INTO MEMORY

The old kerosene lamp is becoming but a memory, according to J. B. Baily of the department of electrical engineering of Purdue university in a speech broadcasted from the university station. "As night comes on," said Dr. Baily, "instead of getting the old lamp out, we press a button and the whole house is illuminated in every corner. In 1882 the central station industry in the United States, operating at Appleton, Wis., consisting for a brief period of a single plant having a capacity of 250 low-power carbon lamps. In 1922 the estimated central station output was 2,000,000,000 kilowatt hours, and of this output about a third is used for lighting. Of this lighting load about 25 per cent is used in residence lighting."

"WORSE THAN PAIN" Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city. "I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself. "I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart. "This nervous condition was worse than pain. "Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it. "After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well. "I have never found anything better for a run-down condition." If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles. Get a bottle of Cardui, today. NC-144
