RANGER LIONS ENTERTAIN WITH FEAST AND FUN

Banquet Where Couples Are Mixed Followed by Dance With Imported Orchestra.

Announcement that the banquet and dance arranged by the Ranger Lions for Thursday night for the entertainment of many friends and themselves aroused additional interest when it became known about that a special nine-piece orchestra from New Orleans, an organization of star musicians, would provide the music for both events, stopping over in Ranger on their way to Mexico City.

There was consternation when the Sunshine came in without the orchestra, but a telephone report from Fort Worth brought word that the musicians, wishing to glimpse a bit of Texas scenery, had left the train at that city and were coming to Ranger in automobiles. A later report brought word that both cars in which the musicians were on their way had become hopelessly mired in a detour before reaching the improved Bankhead highway in Eastland county, so a relief party headed by Lion Murray went out to their rescue.

Craig Leads Singing.
Because of this delay, there was no music at the banquet, served in the Gholson hotel, but Lion C. C. Craig came to the rescue by leading the assembly in song. The orchestra arrived before the hour for the dance, so when the diners arrived at the Summer Garden, the players were properly ensconced in the center of the hall, hidden from view of the dancers by curtains. They were playing their instruments merrily when someone exploded a bomb and it did not interrupt the music. Accustomed as they are to outbursts by the Mafia and all that sort of thing, they were not one bit upset by the catastrophe that tore down their shelter, and, after being mired in Texas mud, they were ready for anything.

The orchestra included the following musicians: Mrs. Coleman Augustus, piano; Miss Keith Lucile, violin; Lucy Paul, trombone; Craig Clyde, trumpet; Finney Pete, cornet; Larsen Swede, French horn; Box Redd, saxophone; Coleman Augustus, drums and banjo. All were in Mardi Gras costume.

While the dance went merrily on, those who did not care to dance gathered in one corner of the hall for a game of bridge. Mrs. T. J. Holmsley carrying off the prize, a pair of silver candlesticks.

Feast Is Jolly Affair.
Merriment and jollity held full sway and all participants voted Lion's club party, the most enjoyable given in Ranger for many months. Nearly one hundred and fifty attended the banquet and had a feast of fun there as well as a delicious dinner. The tables were festive with sprays of fern and white chrysanthemums dotted with pretty favors filled with nuts and candy.

ANTI-CIGARETTE RULE PROPOSED IN THE TEXAS INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE
AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—Elimination of cigarette smoking among members of athletic teams in the Interscholastic League of the University of Texas, is to be proposed at the next meeting of the league, according to Roy Bedichek, editor of the Interscholastic Leagueur.

In three states, interscholastic leagues enforce an anti-cigarette rule for all team members. The three states, according to Mr. Bedichek, are Minnesota, North Dakota and Kansas. The Minnesota rule bars tobacco throughout the school year; in the other two states no student who uses tobacco at any time is eligible to compete in league contests.

By United Press.
EL PASO, Oct. 26.—This town is a stickler for its laws. When H. Beard, deputy constable, with motorcycle copping his special duty, started breezing down main street in his automobile at a thirty-five mile an hour clip he was reported and there-by lost his job.

Gasoline Proves To Be Trade Getter When Given As Premium

By United Press.
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26.—A gasoline price war among local filling stations has resulted in: Gasoline free with every car washed at some stations. Free gas with the purchase of an inner tube at others. Gasoline free with lubricating oil.

A number of stations, not participating in the "bonus" system, are retailing gas as low as six cents a gallon. Quotations on the motor fuel are now ranging money to money and a bonus. Motorists who remember when they once paid 32 cents a gallon are chuckling over the situation as they lay in large supplies.

BIT OF WINTER WEATHER COMES TO VISIT TEXAS

Rain Falls Over Lorie State and Snow Further North.

General rains, cold and snow are predicted for all parts of the state of Texas Saturday by the United States weather bureau at Fort Worth. The rains that fell in Ranger yesterday afternoon and throughout the night were duplicated in North and West Texas.

Snow shovels were used in the Rocky Mountain and Middle West sections Thursday, according to news dispatches. Snow from one to five inches deep covered all of Colorado, east Wyoming and western South Dakota and rain and snow accompanied a gale which swept east over the Northwest and Great Lakes region Thursday night. Western Minnesota and sections of Montana and Idaho reported snow Wednesday night.

Rains turning into snow fell all over the Plains country Thursday. The rain began falling Wednesday night and continued without letup until late Thursday. The rain turned into a snow at noon yesterday but a slight rise in the temperature was recorded and it turned to rain again. Four and one-half inches of snow was reported at Denver. Considerable damage was done to electric and power lines throughout Colorado. Heavy winds piled up the snow and made roads impassable on the western slope. Tram cars were tied up and snow plows had to be used.

By United Press.
ABILENE, Oct. 26.—Student delegates from schools and colleges throughout Texas will be guests of Simmons college for three days when the Baptist Student union of Texas assembles here today for its fourth annual meeting.

A special train was to be made up at Fort Worth last night to bring delegates from the southern and eastern parts of the state. West Texas delegations arrived in Abilene this morning. Plans have been made for a large celebration, some of the foremost speakers and leaders of the Baptist faith appearing on the program. Dr. George W. Truett will address the young people Friday morning and Dr. L. R. Scarborough will speak Sunday.

OWEN'S CASE MAY REACH JURY THIS AFTERNOON

Defense Places Character Witnesses on Stand, Following Plea of Vindication.

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, Oct. 26.—Attorneys for the defense placed character witnesses on the stand this afternoon in the murder trial of J. W. Owens, Ranger dairyman, who is charged with killing Jack Payne, former employe of Owens. The case is expected to go to the jury late this afternoon after the conclusion of rebuttal testimony.

Most of yesterday's session was occupied with testimony by the state and defense. J. E. Ratcliff of Corsicana, formerly in the harness business in Ranger and in whose store the killing occurred; J. T. Black, an employe of Ratcliff's, and J. N. McFatter, justice of the peace in the second precinct of Ranger, testified yesterday. Owens' plea is self-defense and vindication of his daughter's honor.

Mrs. Massengale Is Awarded $25,000 For Death of Husband

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Emma Massengale, widow of Jim Massengale, who was killed by the force of an explosion of nitroglycerin in August, 1922, was awarded $25,000 damages for the death of her husband by a jury here yesterday afternoon which heard the case. The Shell Torpedo company, which with the Independent Torpedo company and Kirk-Brewer company, oil producers, were sued jointly, must pay the damages. The jury was out about one hour.

All three companies were named in the plaintiff's suit, in order that the jury might determine who was responsible for the nitroglycerin being left in the Massengale farmyard near Pioneer. The Shell company is held responsible by the jury's verdict.

Massengale and others were heating linseed, as they thought, in a vat on a wagon when the explosion occurred. The men got hold of nitroglycerin instead, it is said, and the fire under the vat caused it to explode.

HOUSTON MAN FACES CHARGE OF KILLING WIFE

By United Press.
HOUSTON, Oct. 26.—E. B. Moy, 37, garage proprietor, is in the city jail, charged with murder as the result of the fatal shooting of his wife, 34 years old, last night. Moy surrendered to the police after the shooting.

The 12-year-old son of Moy's was a witness to the shooting. He told the officers that his father asked his mother if she loved him. She replied she did not after he had "beaten and cursed her all these years." The father then shot three times, the boy said.

WACO.—Waco is to be the meeting place for the state older boys' conference to be held here the latter part of January. This announcement was made recently at a meeting of the local Hi-Y club, of the organization. Plans will be launched immediately to provide for a large assembly of older boys throughout the state. About 500 boys are expected to attend the meeting here.

POLICE VERY LENIENT ENFORCING RULE FOR LEFT HAND TURNS

Although the wise ones predicted that the left hand turn traffic ordinance would be hard to enforce without accompanying arrests, when the city commission passed the ordinance almost two months ago, the police records show that not a single arrest has been made because of its violation.

There have been numerous violations, mostly because of ignorance or forgetfulness, the police say, but officers have been lenient and have not brought a single violator to the station. Assistant Chief L. E. Davenport said today that the violator will determine whether he shall be arrested. If he persists in turning off repeatedly, he will be arrested.

NATIONS LIKE PROPOSAL MADE BY MR. HUGHES

France, Germany and Great Britain Ready to Try Plan, With Reservations.

By United Press.
PARIS, Oct. 26.—France will accept the proposal of Secretary Hughes for the settlement of the question of German reparations by a commission of experts only if such a commission be designated by the reparations commission, it was learned from a semi-official source today.

France will insist that the commission of experts must report to the reparations commission on any possible question of readjustment of the entire question of the German debt. Final decision on all questions must be left to the reparations commission, admittedly under French control.

France will be delighted, according to Premier Poincaré in a semi-official statement, if the United States will agree to collaborate, but insists that the settlement of the reparations question must be within the limit of the Versailles treaty.

GERMANY PLEASSED WITH U. S. OFFER TO PARTICIPATE

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, Oct. 26.—America's offer to participate in an impartial inquiry into Germany's incapacity to pay reparations has been met by a statement given out by Chancellor Stresemann that Germany will abide by the result of such an examination.

The chancellor, in a speech at Hagen, reiterated the willingness of his government to submit the whole question of Germany's capacity to pay to examination by an impartial commission, as suggested by Secretary Hughes. At the same time, Stresemann warned France what she can expect if she rejects the United States offer.

"We have already offered more than we can fulfill," said Stresemann, "and we cannot stand dictatorial treatment much longer."

BRITISH LOOKING FOR RESULTS VERY SOON

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 26.—The official British opinion concerning the response of Secretary Hughes to Lord Curzon's reparations conference invitation is that it is courteous and reserved. However, there is a feeling that the American clear-cut declaration of readiness to cooperate brings an international conference on reparations appreciably nearer.

CONFERENCE OF EXPERTS MAY MEET IN BERLIN

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 26.—France, Belgium and Italy have accepted the British invitation for a reparations conference with the understanding that it will take the form of a conference of experts.

It is understood that the British members will be the same as those who served on the bankers' committee at the conference, at which United States had representatives. It is thought Berlin will be chosen as the seat of the conference since the function of the conference will be to inquire into Germany's assets. Selection of the French, Belgian and Italian personnel will be made soon.

GERMAN COMMUNISTS HALTED BY POLICE IN THEIR MARCH ON BERLIN

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 26.—Yesterday's attempt by communists to march on Berlin was frustrated by the police, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin today.

Everywhere in Germany, according to the Berlin advices, the situation is quiet except at Harburg, near Hamburg, where the fighting is continuing. The marines were engaged near there in a battle with the communists who are reported to have lost three killed and 15 wounded.

When Teacher Steps On Student's Toe Bile Forms and Cholera Rises

HOUSTON, Oct. 26.—Alleged tardiness to meals by professors at Rice Institute here has caused a wrangle.

Some of the professors had been coming to their meals in the students' dining hall a few minutes late, causing the student waiters to be late to their classes, according to the students. The under-graduates attempted to discipline the professors by stamping their feet on the floor when the tardy ones arrived.

A professor took his class to task for this practice. His lecture was followed by an editorial on the front page of the student publication. The matter is still raging with neither side gaining a victory.

C. P. STEINMETZ DIES SUDDENLY AFTER JOURNEY

Electrical Wizard Physically Exhausted by Trip to the Pacific Coast.

By United Press.
SCHNECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Dr. Charles Proteus Steinmetz, electrical wizard, died at his home here at 8:30 o'clock this morning from a physical breakdown, due to a trip to the Pacific coast, from which he returned about two weeks ago.

A few minutes before he died he told the nurse that he was feeling fine. Breakfast was being served to him when he gave a sudden turn in his bed and was dead. His heart seemed to give way suddenly.

Dr. Steinmetz was born in Breslau, Germany, April 9, 1865, and came to the United States 34 years ago. A recent feat of the wizard was the production of an artificial indoor thunderstorm, including a bolt of lightning. The storm, which he both produced and controlled, had all the elements of a natural storm, except the clouds.

Upon the return of Dr. Steinmetz from the Pacific coast, he complained of "feeling tired," and his physician at once ordered him to bed. This week he appeared to be improving, and was thought to be on the road to recovery.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 26.—Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr., golf star of international repute, today filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court, placing his liabilities at $262,380 and his assets at $50,719.

The indebtedness was largely incurred, the petition states, in stock transactions, most of which he borrowed on scrip from supposed friends.

COOLIDGE MAY GET SUPPORT OF AUTO BUILDER

Ford Promises His Aid If President Will Enforce Country's Dry Laws.

By United Press.
DETROIT, Oct. 26.—Henry Ford's supporters will meet here tonight for a showdown on his prospective candidacy for the presidency of the United States.

The executive committee of the Dearborn Ford-for-President club will consider the advisability of urging Ford to make the race. The call for the meeting followed the announcement by Ford that he would not be a candidate for the presidency, but he would throw his support to President Coolidge if the latter would enforce the prohibition law.

There has been some talk of putting Mr. Ford on a third party ticket, but it seems to have gained little headway. If Ford says he will not accept a nomination on any ticket, his presidential boom will be ended.

More Impeachment Charges Are Voted Against Walton

By Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 26.—With virtually no debate, the lower house of the legislature immediately after convening today added two articles to the impeachment bill against Governor Walton, charging him with abuse of his pardon and parole authority and illegally issuing deficiency certificates when deficiencies did not exist, by votes of 77 to 11 and 79 to 9.

Passing quickly to charges that the governor had appointed a number of irregular persons as state police, the house hurriedly approved it, 77 to 12. The second charge of issuing deficiency certificates was accepted 81 to 6, the largest vote recorded so far against Walton.

ADJUTANT GENERAL DEFENDS ACT OF RANGER CAPTAIN

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—Ranger Captain Baldwin, indicted in San Antonio in connection with the alleged sale of liquor there, was defended today by Adjutant General Barton, who said he could not understand how a state grand jury could supersede a federal court in returning a bill of indictment against an officer who performed his duty and complied with the federal statutes.

These statutes, said Barton, provide that all liquor seized shall be destroyed except a small amount which shall be kept to be used at the trial of the party charged with possessing it. He said this was all Baldwin had done.

BUENOS AIRES.—Manufacturers of cotton fabrics in Argentina have presented an appeal to the government committee for an increase in the tariff on cotton yarns from 40 to 80 centavos gold and from 50 centavos to a peso gold on colored yarn. BIBLE THOUGHT.

WHY LUMBER COSTS ADVANCE.
Some Long Island, N. Y., house builders who were curious to ascertain for themselves why building costs so much more than formerly, made a special inquiry regarding lumber. This material was evidently chosen because it is the favorite dwelling-house building material in the United States—about 89 per cent of all dwelling construction at present being of lumber. These builders realized that proper housing at a reasonable cost depends largely upon the price and the availability of building materials. Although lumber is now 25 per cent less than it was in 1920, it is still higher than it was before the war.

It did not take the Long Island builders long to find out why lumber is costlier than formerly. They were surprised to find that it is due to a scarcity brought about in great measure by the consumption of timber in ways of which the public is rarely reminded.
It was discovered that forest fires burn up enough good timber yearly to build a row of five-room frame dwellings placed 100 feet apart on both sides of a highway running from New York to Chicago.

They found that the railroads of the United States use 125,000,000 wooden cross-ties every year, or enough to build 40,000 miles of new railroads. The equivalent in lumber of the material that went into these ties would thickly dot the whole of Long Island with charming homes.
Then it was discovered that the farmers of the United States have about 200,000,000 acres of woodlots which are usually neglected and are drawn on for firewood instead of for timber. It was calculated that these 200,000,000 acres of land should yield enough lumber every year to build about 60 good-sized cities.

Turning their attention to the printing and publishing industries, the builders found that the area of timber land cut over annually to provide newspaper was equivalent to a strip as wide as an ordinary daily newspaper and 46,000,000 miles long. If the newspapers had not been drawing upon the forests to such an extent, the material they used could be made into a continuous row of houses clear across the continent.

Another factor is transportation. The average lumber consumer is now 480 miles from the sawmill, according to the estimates of the bureau of economics of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, and his lumber freight bill is almost four times what it was 30 years ago.

When you build a six-room frame house your lumber freight bill is around $100—perhaps $300—even if you never see it. That is more than your father paid for his lumber delivered.

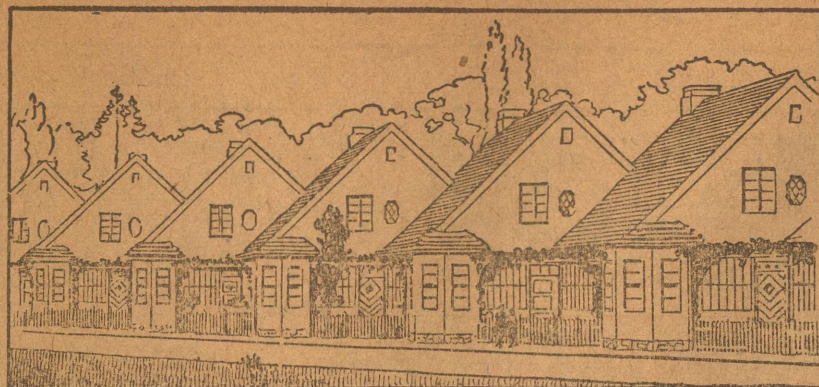

Altogether, the timber account in the American Bank of Natural Resources is being checked out five times as fast as nature deposits.

Even outside of the farm woodlots there is enough neglected timber-land in America to supply perpetually the minimum requirements of the country for lumber as well as other forest products if forest fires could be kept out and nature given a chance to reforest in her own way. With some assistance, the fires being kept out, these forest lands would yield forever about as much forest products as we are now consuming.

A special committee of the United States senate is now considering legislation aimed at procuring reforestation.

Small Dwellings Set at Angle to the Street to Give More Light and Air and Greater Security against Intrusion. Heat and Electricity are Supplied from a Central Plant

More Light and Air for Small Homes

Some of the disadvantages of small dwellings built in groups for the sake of economy have been overcome in Germany by placing the houses at an angle to the street to provide more light and air for each dwelling. Such groups are easily supplied with heat, electricity, and water from a single center. Under the German plan each of the houses has a little garden, secure against the prying curiosity of neighbors and equally protected against intruders in the front and rear.

Million Wasps Are Freed To War on Crop Pests

One million wasps, the size of pin-heads, have been imported by the government and are now distributed in the East to destroy the corn borer. The wasps will save millions of dollars in crops for the farmer, if they serve as well as they have in Europe. Whether they can flourish in this climate has not been determined. The borer, resembling a caterpillar, attacks corn, beets, celery, beans, rhubarb, potatoes, buckwheat, clover, and many other products. By laying eggs on it, the female wasp kills the borer.

Registration of trucks and automobiles as reported recently indicates that there are now more than 13,048,128 motor vehicles in the United States, an average of one machine for every 8.5 persons. Between July 1, 1922, and July 1, 1923, there was a gain of 2,440,000, almost 23 per cent.

NEED FOR BUILDING AND LOAN COMPANIES IN TEXAS

DALLAS, Oct. 26.—There is a great field in Texas for building and loan associations, B. F. Werkenshen, of Austin, deputy state fire commissioner, said here today before the opening session of the Texas League of Building and Loan associations. "The state is attracting a large number of new business enterprises," he said, "and there is a need whereby a salaried man can own his own home."

London errand boys have been the subject of an inquiry which shows that 33 per cent enter low-skilled trades, 10 per cent become shoemakers, 13 per cent enter the skilled trades, 4 per cent join the army, and 2 per cent the navy. The proportion in the United States is believed to be about the same.

There was an increase over 1922 of 185 fox farms, and 12 miscellaneous fur-bearing animal farms.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

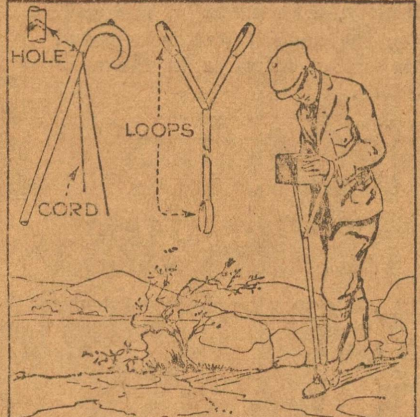

A new oil lamp that gives an amazing brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. T. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without expense or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Advertisement.

Novel Method of Taking Time Exposures with Hand Camera

Tripsods are more or less of an annoyance to the camera enthusiast, and few use them. However, it is sometimes necessary to make a time exposure to get the desired picture, but the camera cannot be held steadily enough with the hands to avoid doubling the image. It is, however, a simple matter to hold the camera steady if a cane is carried along. Just below the crook of the cane two holes are drilled from opposite sides to meet in the center, both slanting down from the point of junction. Another hole is drilled through the crook to take a tripod screw, on which the camera is mounted. A cord is run through the angular hole, the ends of the cord are stepped on, and pulled taut by pulling back on the cane, which has the end planted on the ground in the position indicated, thereby holding the camera firmly in position. The arrangement thus improvised is steady enough for long-time exposures.

Another method of steadying the camera is to cut a length of tape into three pieces, and to tie or sew these pieces together at the central point as shown, making a form of the letter Y. Loops are made at the ends so that the foot can be placed in one loop, and each wrist in another. Then, with the camera clamped between both hands, an upward pull will enable the user to hold the camera steadily enough for a time exposure of four or five minutes.

Women Inventors Are Busy on Industrial Problems

To learn just what part women were taking in inventions, government officials recently undertook a survey that showed over 5,000 patents had been granted to them in 10 years, more than the total for 105 years previous. The first patent granted an American woman was given by the British government to the wife of a Pennsylvania planter, for a device to clean and cure corn. Labor-saving machines are said to make up the majority of women's inventions, one making an apparatus for scattering fertilizer, another an article to strip sugar cane, while an adjustable horse collar was made by a London woman. For the kitchen, a pie pan was brought out that prevented juices from overflowing the brim, and a wooden mixing bowl was invented that would not split. Almost every line of business was included, but 1,385 patents were for articles of housekeeping.

REWARDED AFTER 27 YEARS.

For gallantry in saving the lives of 16 Germans in the North Sea in 1896, Skipper Samuel James Ryder, of Grimsby, England, has received a gold tie-pin and diploma from the German government. The pin forms a representation of the German eagle.

HARNESSING DOG A CRIME.

Though dogs are used for dragging small vehicles in many parts of the continent it is an offense in England. At Colloompton, Devon, a summons was heard against an elderly man who had harnessed a dog to a four-wheeled invalid carriage. A fine of five shillings was imposed.

FUR COAT SLASHING COMMON.

More cases of fur slashing in the streets of London are reported. A woman took to the Brixton police her beautiful fur coat which had been slashed in several places in the back. A similar complaint has been made to the police at North London.

DEPRESS CLUTCH PEDAL.

It is necessary to depress the clutch pedal when applying dressing or cleaning the friction surfaces. This usually means that one must disengage the clutch while the other applies the dressing or treatment. To simplify the operation, it is a good plan to force down the pedal by means of a stick pressed against the front seat and the pedal.—Automobile Digest.

sPark Benches Agree That Musicians From Afar Play Great Dance Music; Joker Alarms Nurses; Sanitation Cuts Out Old Friend.

By P. G. T.

For weeks it has been rumored around Ranger that an orchestra, a combination of clever boys who make music for their famous records, would make their initial Ranger appearance last night at the Ranger Lions' banquet and dance.

The feet of Ranger dancers itched and female hearts fluttered at the thought of the spell they could put on their admirers. Then the glorious night came.

Lions were allowed to invite two guests and people from Ranger and neighboring towns drove their cars through the rain and wet streets with but one thought, to hear and dance to the imported orchestra.

The celebration opened with a banquet that carried a peppy program of foolery and seriousness. Diners were amused and interested but, for the most part, their minds were on the wonderful orchestra from afar.

Finally after interminable waiting they trooped into the Summer Garden dance hall to see the musicians platform enmeshed in an opaque paper screen. There were the soft sounds of many musical instruments and a dreamy waltz floated from the concealed musicians. Ah! This party would be perfect.

"Does that music sound so wonderful?" a debutant asked.

"Nothin' extra now," answered her partner, "but it will get better shortly, I am sure."

The waltz over, the dancers applauded awedly, at th oughout of having such artists in their midst. The second dance started, jazz music this time. There was a pistol shot from the concealed dance platform, the musicians tore down the paper screen, and there was the orchestra, conducted by a wonderful musician. The players were dressed in yama-yama costumes and some tooted on vari-colored paper mache musical instruments. And they played merrily for the dancing Lions.

Humor is usually thought to be out of place in a hospital, but Doctor Holland believes that it has its place there, too. As proof, witness the following incident:

A man clad in khaki and high leather boots stepped out of a room in the Clinical hospital yesterday. His head was wound in abl ody bandage and as he started walking toward the hospital his step faltered, suddenly he fell in a twitching heap on the floor.

A student nurse ran to his aid and helped him rise to his feet. Then suddenly he stiffened and fell to the floor, this time motionless, apparently dead. Nurses crowded around.

a wheel stretcher was brought and they laid the dead or dangerously ill man upon it. As soon as he had been lifted to the stretcher he snapped out of his faint, stood up and un-wound the bloody bandage, exposing the smiling features of one of Ranger's most practical jokers.

Sanitation and health is still encroaching on the pleasures of the people.

Take for instance the nice, big potbellied stove that used to turn red hot on cold days in the local branch of the National Supply company. Imagine the pleasures that loafing oil men used to get from spitting streams of drillers' licorice on the red iron and hearing it sizzle.

When it was decided to put up a stove this winter, did the comfortable old potbelly come back? We should suggest no. Instead there is a sanitary little heater that will never get hot enough on its broad surfaces to furnish a disapparently for drillers' licorice. Ain't this world getting to be a tough place to live in?

and determine which one was to receive the prize. The jury included Mmes. Fair, Hickey, Craig, Miss Helen Brown and Ruth Hagaman. After some deliberation they decided that the prize, which to all intents and purposes was a handsome frosted cake, should be given to Aubrey Jameson. The cake was received with thanks and Mr. Jameson announced that he would cut it in five equal parts and distribute it among the ladies of the jury, offering a prize to the one who could eat her piece first. But the knife would not go beyond the frosting, for the "cake" proved to be an inverted baking pan covered with white icing.

Generous Givers. Consternation was created among the men present when it was announced by Lion Bennett that it was found necessary to raise another $2,000 for the glass factory preparing to move here. Mr. Bennett asked that four men present rise and signify their willingness to donate $500 each for this cause. But the electric wires attached to some of the chairs were slow in transmitting the "juice" and it was some minutes before Lions Wilson and Owens rose hurriedly from their seats. A hearty round of applause greeted their apparent "willingness" to give so generously.

Fun for the ladies was not lacking either, for collars and ties were removed from a number of the men present, taken to the platform table where they were separated and well mixed, and the ladies told to pick out the ones belonging to husband or escort and a prize would be given to the one who could put it on again the quickest. Mrs. C. E. Maddocks was presented the prize, which proved to be a set of dishes, but of doll size.

The evening passed so merrily that

Back to Petticoats Again; So Rules Milady America

FEMINE America has issued her dictum. The petticoat rules again. No more abbreviated skirt which more than half reveals and discloses. No more ankle-length dress to supplement the work of the street cleaning bureau. Eight inches above the pavement and a petticoat for safety. So announced sensible Milady America, or words to that effect.

Anyhow, that is the way they will wear them this fall. Not high! Not low! Just medium length with a petticoat beneath. A blow, that, to Paris and Main Street. Paris declared for the sweeping skirt and lost her strange hold on American fashion. Main Street undertook a defense of the ballet-length type and ridicule overwhelmed her. She is out in the alley, today trying to pull the scanty few realized it when time came to adjourn to the dance hall, the Summer Garden, but the toastmaster announced that the fine orchestra engaged for the occasion had arrived and was awaiting the guests at the appointed place.

An enjoyable "extra" at the dance was a velocipede race between Rarian "Jack" Gullahorn and Lion W. L. Jackson, one time around the dance hall. It was almost a tie, but Gullahorn was adjudged the winner by a nose. The prize was a motor-cycle, which Mr. Gullahorn drove home after the ball.

Guests at Banquet. Among those at the banquet, the only omitted being those who failed to sign the register, were: Drs. and Mmes. Harry A. Logsdon, W. L. Jackson, W. C. Palmer, J. W. Shack-

Four Years Ago In Ranger

Taken from the files of the Ranger Daily Times, Oct. 26, 1919:

Construction on the Wilson hotel, formerly called the Gholson hotel, will be started as soon as the water can be removed from the basement, according to Mrs. Mabel Wilson, the owner. The building will be five stories in height and will exceed that of any other hotel in West Texas in cost.

The building will contain 200 rooms and has been designed in Italian renaissance, faced with brick and stone trimmings. It promises to be one of the most attractive structures in West Texas.

FOOTBALL CARD FOR SATURDAY IS OF THE BEST

Little Centre College Bucks Pennsylvania and Georgia Tech Meets Notre Dame.

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor. NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Nothing but circus adjectives can be used to herald the approach of the weekly football attractions as the season draws to its close. "Bigger and better than ever, filling and thrilling," can be used aptly as descriptive for each succeeding program.

Again tomorrow, the card which will be offered for fans all over the country will be the best of the season. Last week's was just as much the best before this week's and next week's will be another best.

Three big inter-sectional games furnish the brightest spots on a very fine schedule that will be played off tomorrow.

Little Centre college, for several years one of the finest attractions in the country, will make its annual invasion of the east by appearing against Pennsylvania in Philadelphia.

Earlier in the season, the wise birds in the east, remarked: "Well, this is Centre's last big whirl in the east. The Colonels are through."

On the contrary, the evidence points now that Centre not only is not through, but that Centre very likely will beat Penn and retain its former rating in the east.

Georgia Tech, once the leading standard bearer of the south and still one of the most illustrious representatives, also journeys across the border to meet the great Notre Dame team on one of the few occasions when the Notre Dame students have a chance to see their "Mick" idols in action in a big game.

This game should be one of the best in the season and Tech has assumed a big obligation.

Detroit university, which has risen high in the football world in recent years, also invades the east with a game against Washington and Jefferson. These two teams have become established rivals, and as both are high-class teams they should provide one of the real battles of the day.

Perhaps the most important game of the day, because of its effect on the eastern championship fight, will be staged in New York between the powerful West Virginia eleven and the always good Penn State team.

West Virginia was one of the outstanding teams of 1922 and the Mountaineers have another fine eleven this year. Penn State always has a smart, capable team.

CLEBURNE HI GOES TO DAYTON OHIO FOR GAME ON NOVEMBER FIFTH

CLEBURNE, Texas, Oct. 26.—A special train will carry the Cleburne high school football team of 22 athletes and many of the loyal fans to Dayton, Ohio, for a game on Nov. 3 with Steel high school of Dayton.

The special will leave Cleburne at 6:40 a. m. on Oct. 31, and arrive at St. Louis Nov. 1, and at Dayton on the following day at 7:25 a. m. The game will be played on Nov. 3.

The special train will leave Dayton at 11 p. m. Nov. 2 and arrive home on the fifth via St. Louis and Kansas City.

SAN ANTONIO. — A new street car line is under construction here along Guadalupe and South Zarmora streets for a distance of a mile and a half.

"ETERNAL TRIANGLE" WITH CATS AS CO-RESPONDENTS

Mrs. Ed Carr and The Cats

Fifteen cats, with one handsome feline named "June" as the central star, figure in a new "eternal triangle" brought to light by the suit for divorce filed in Fort Worth by Ed Carr. On All Fools' day, 1922, he married a woman who called herself "Mrs. Womack," though he now alleges that was not her true name. However, all went well until Sept. 2, 1922, when "she" took in a bunch of cats upon which to lavish her affections. About one, "June," "she was extremely foolish." A divorce is the only solution of his domestic troubles, he declares in his suit.

Two Co-Eds Bet on a Football Game

BOULDER, Col., Oct. 26.—Contrary to the reports from Boulder that the University of Colorado defeated Brigham Young university 41-0, later information disclosed the fact that Brigham Young walloped Colorado 173 to 89.

Two co-eds, sitting in the west bleachers, made a bet on the outcome of the game. Both had a pencil and pad and kept score. Instead of adding up the touchdowns and goals from touchdowns, they added up the yards to be made—as copied from the large scoreboard at the south end of the field.

The end of the game found one co-ed with the score of Colorado, 89; Brigham Young 173. The second co-ed counted up the score. Yes, that was right. Whereupon the co-ed who placed the bet on Colorado paid up.

Help them wherever you see that they are standing back, afraid to assert themselves simply because they feel sensitive about their pimply, red and rough face!

Thousands of people all over the country are praising the wonderful Black and White Ointment because it gets rid of their skin troubles when everything else they tried did them no good.

General Whittaker, the Strawn High school football star, are coming to his rescue in the face of charges by the athletic authorities of several schools that the general is 21 years of age. They have turned to the Whittaker family Bible, which shows that the star player will not be 21 until next September. Strawn plays Mineral Wells high Saturday. The latter team has scored 21 points against weak teams to nothing for her opponents.

COLONIAL SCENES TO BE REPRODUCED ON SCREEN

New England has agreed to open its treasures of Revolutionary relics to motion pictures, and D. W. Griffith has gone to Boston with 150 members of his staff and players to photograph the incidents of the early war on the actual sites, for his next production, "America."

By arrangement with several of the historical societies including in particular the Lexington Historical society, the weapons, drums, costumes, vehicles, etc., used during the war will be used in the action. It will be the first time these articles have ever been shown to the world through motion pictures. Battle scenes will be taken on the famous Lexington common, where the historic "shot heard round the world" was fired. Buckman's tavern and the Adams house where John Hancock and John Adams were sleeping on the night the British came, will be used as settings.

The action under Griffith's direction will continue along the road to Concord where the battle of the bridge will be fought. It is Griffith's intention that all scenes shall be taken on actual sites excepting where improvements prohibit, but in every action some photographs of the actual sites will be included.

AUSTIN.—Horseback riding will be a feature of the school activity for co-eds of the state university again this winter. Miss Anna Hiss, director of women's athletics, has announced several courses in riding will be offered under expert supervision. Credit will be given for the courses the same as other classes.

HOUSTON.—Extensive improvements and enlargements of facilities by the gas, electric power and light, and telephone utilities in this city are under way or have just been completed, having been made necessary by the increase of population and business in Houston.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

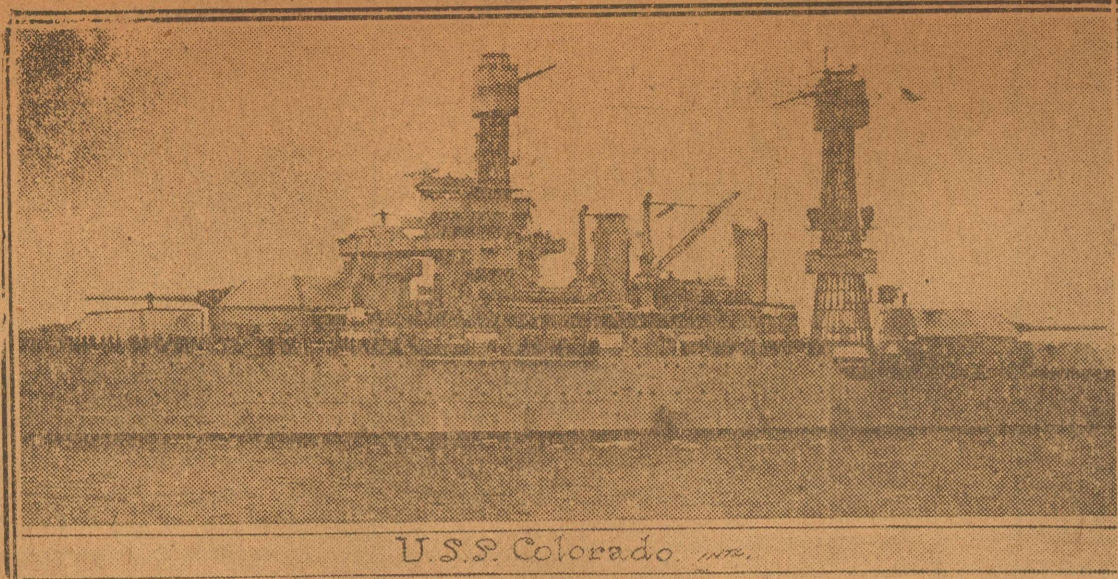

Medical Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected New Tablet Called "Calotab."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-maustrated" calomel tablet known by the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, head aches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swal low of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning and are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package—ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—Advertisement.

EATING AND DRINKING CHIEF OCCUPATION OF AUSTRIANS, SAYS VISITOR

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 26.—Austria is a nation of spendthrifts, and the one characteristic for which Austrians were noted—frugality—has almost entirely disappeared since the war, according to Prof. Ernest Katz, who has just returned to this city from a three months' visit overseas.

Most everyone has a job, Katz explained, but instead of saving a part of their earnings, the Austrians are busily engaged in spending it as rapidly as they make it. The chief occupation is eating and drinking, according to Professor Katz, who said that cafes and drinking places are crowded constantly with persons whose sole aim, apparently, is to spend their entire salary for food or liquor.

As for living conditions and prices, a five-room apartment house rents on an average for 140,000 crowns, but is very cheap, Professor Katz pointed out, since a glass of beer costs 2,700 crowns.

Industries in Austria are in a very run-down condition, due to a lack of a domestic market and the high duty on exported finished products.

One of the interesting sights about Vienna, Professor Katz said, is the large number of bootblacks on the streets, nearly all of them crippled war veterans to whom the government has granted a small space on the street with permission to conduct a shoe shining business.

Vienna, he said, is rapidly taking on its old life.

FIELD BALL POPULAR WITH TEXAS CO-EDS

AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—Field ball, which is a combination of basketball and soccer ball, has been substituted in the list of sports open to co-eds at the University of Texas. TEXAS KNOWS SOUTHWESTERN HAS GOOD TEAM

AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—Coach "Doc" Stewart is drilling his Longhorn players as hard for the Southwestern university game, that will be staged here Saturday, as he did for the Vanderbilt contest in Dallas last week. The Pirates have a real football team this year and Coach Stewart realizes that Saturday's game will be close, much closer than most fans expect.

In closer than most fans expect. In closer than most fans expect. In closer than most fans expect. In closer than most fans expect. In closer than most fans expect.

Lane Tynes, the star Longhorn captain, will be out of Saturday's contest, Joe Ward, who is a tower of strength to the Texas university line, was injured again this week and will be unable to play.

On the other hand the Southwestern Pirates are in their best condition. Recent additions to the eleven have materially strengthened their already excellent team. Akin, a big 200-pound end and former University of Texas student, is certain to make trouble for the Longhorns. Longhorn scouts who have seen the Errates in action state that the Georgetown squad is getting better with every game.

GRAY SKIES GREET FOOTBALL ATHLETES ON EASTLAND FIELD

Gray skies that resembled almost the gray pallor of death, greeted the football teams of Ranger and Eastland high schools this afternoon when they took their field at 3:30 o'clock for the first inter-school game of Eastland county. The continued rains of yesterday and early this morning made the football fans of Ranger despair of the game being played, but as the morning wore on, it became colder and the prospects of more rain became very slim.

Coach Marshall said at noon his athletes were ready for the whistle. None of the regulars will be disqualified for play, everyone being up in his studies. Nearly all of the boys ate their noon lunch at the high school cafeteria under the watchful eye of Marshall.

EVAPORATION OF GASOLINE IN TANKS AND ITS PREVENTION IS DISCUSSED IN BUREAU BULLETIN

The use of cooling systems in vapor-tight tanks should serve as a means of checking evaporation losses of gasoline which amount annually to 3 to 4 per cent of the stocks accumulated during the winter season and whose value runs into millions of dollars, states the department of the interior as the result of experiments made by the bureau of mines.

The consumption of gasoline in the United States varies materially with the seasons; during some of the summer months it exceeds the rate of production and in the other seasons the production of gasoline exceeds the consumption. The usual practice of the large refiners is to store surplus stocks during the winter season in order to meet the heavy demands during the summer months. Thus on April 1, 1923, 1,336,417.871 gallons of gasoline had accumulated over the winter months and was subject to losses by evaporation.

Refining Gasoline.

Gasoline is usually refined to meet certain specifications. The specifications vary with the contracts under which the gasoline is sold, but certain specifications are designated by practically all buyers of refined gasoline. These are gravity in degrees A. P. I. (American Petroleum Institute), initial boiling point, and end point in degrees Fahrenheit. Specifications defining the percentages of gasoline that must distill over below certain temperature, are also coming into general use.

Gasoline may be considered as a mixture of the lighter liquid hydrocarbons found in petroleum. The first fractions to evaporate are the most volatile; therefore they have the highest A. P. I. gravity and the lowest boiling point of any fractions of the gasoline. The escape of these light fractions from gasoline in storage results in a large financial loss to oil refiners, not only because of the reduction in volume, but mainly because the characteristics of the gasoline are changed. The loss by evaporation of a small percentage of a tank of gasoline will usually require a relatively large addition of light products. Blending is usually done at the time of shipment, and this may entail an additional loss to the refiner as he must often make or buy on the market, low-boiling products at a time when prices are the highest. The aggregate losses to the refiner resulting from evaporation of gasoline in storage, therefore may be considerable and it is to the refiner's best interests to reduce evaporation losses to a minimum.

Vapor-Tight Tankage.

A prime requisite for the reduction of evaporation losses under present storage conditions is vapor-tight tankage. Vapor-tight tankage will practically eliminate the renewal of air over the surface of the liquid in the tank, except as it may be caused by temperature changes and by emptying and filling a tank. Even with vapor-tight tanks and equipment, however, "breathing" losses are considerable. During the hot summer months the vapor expelled from gasoline storage tanks often contains over 80 per cent gasoline vapors; also during the summer months the maximum and minimum temperature variation of the vapor in the tank is more than 70 degrees Fahrenheit in 24 hours. From a 55,000 barrel tank filled to 29 feet, the breathing loss caused by temperature change of 70 degrees is 3,700 cubic feet of saturated air or vapor. If this air carried 80 per cent gasoline vapors, the loss in gasoline, assuming 30 cubic feet of vapor per gallon, would be 97 gallons. This does not include the losses from breathing caused by minor temperature changes, barometric changes, wind pressures and other atmospheric changes which at times would double the loss due to one large change in temperature.

In addition to vapor-tight tankage, some refiners have installed cooling systems on their gasoline storage tanks for reducing breathing losses.

Frail and Sickly

Men and women who are always feeling more "poorly" and "out of sorts" will find new life, new mental and physical strength, increased energy and greater endurance in FORCE.

FORCE Tonic

Others have tried various forms of insulation on tanks or a combination of insulation and cooling, such as a water spray under the insulation on a tank.

Details of this investigation are given in Serial 2531, by Ludwig Schmidt, assistant petroleum engineer, which may be obtained from the department of the interior, bureau of mines, Washington, D. C.

WELSH RABBIT RECIPE.

Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in the grill stove pan and add half a pint of near-beer. Those who do not care for this may substitute hot water. In the liquid put two heaping cupfuls of good dairy cheese, grated. Let it melt slowly; stir from time to time. Do not use the strongest heat at any stage in making this dish. When the cheese is soft and smooth, season with a teaspoonful of celery salt, a saltspoonful of dry English mustard and a dash of cayenne pepper. Have ready two eggs whipped light, the whites and the yolks separately and then put together. Pour a little of the cheese mixture upon the eggs, beat for a moment and then turn back into the grill stove pan, continuing to stir. As soon as the rabbit is creamy and smooth, put in a teaspoonful of lemon juice and one of Worcestershire sauce and serve the rabbit immediately. The toast for it can be made upon the electric toaster while the rabbit is cooking. These directions may found rather prolonged, but if followed the result will be worth the pains taken.

CRUDE OIL SURVEY.

The purpose of the crude oil survey being conducted by the department of interior at the Bartlesville, Okla., experiment station of the bureau of mines is to analyze crude oils from every field of commercial importance in the United States and foreign countries and to publish the results. The value of this work lies chiefly in the methods in which the analyses are made, every oil being run in a similar manner so that the analyses of the various oils are comparable. Thus a Pennsylvania crude oil, for example, may be compared with a Rocky mountain crude or with a crude from Egypt. All fields in the United States, excepting the California fields, have been reported upon. During the coming fiscal year it is planned to complete the analyses of California crudes, as well as of foreign crudes, all of which have been received excepting samples from Russia.

TWO MEN FIGHT DUEL TO DEATH WITH PISTOLS

TEAGUE, Texas, Oct. 26.—Both dying without a word of explanation, Norwood Huckaby, 36, and Charles Williams, 50, are dead as the result of a pistol fight fought out on a farm near the town of Young, Freestone county, Wednesday night.

The men were discovered locked together, with the pistols in their hands by T. F. Young, Jr., on whose farm the men fought. Huckaby had fired six times and Williams four times and had one bullet in his pistol not used.

Huckaby's people had been citizens of Freestone county for probably 60 years. He was a widower, and is survived by four children and his father. It is understood that the men had had trouble in the past.

BLIND MAN CAN PLACE PERSONS BY FOOTSTEPS

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—Footfalls along the stone corridors of the Texas state capitol speak a secret language to the ears of Arthur Nichols, official purveyor of sweets and tobacco to heads of the state department. Arthur is blind. During a decade he has presided daily behind a little counter in the left wing of the capitol where he makes his living by selling cigars, candies, and tobacco. In that decade he has become acquainted with practically all the state officials who come and go with the changing years, and by the various mysterious ways known only to the blind has had to remember his customers, learn their varying wants and meet their needs without ever gazing of their faces.

Among the ways he has devised for remembering the many who pass the counter is the studying of foot-steps. These, he declares, are an infallible guide. For no two persons walk alike, and once a certain manner of walking is identified with the particular individual, that walk is as certain a sign of identification to the sensitive ears of the blind as sight is to the seeing, according to Mr. Nichols.

Mr. Nichols is never at a loss to find his stock. He knows where each brand of cigar is to be found, and where each variety of candy is placed. But even more valuable to his business, is the fact that he can distinguish a $1 bill from a ten dollar bill, as well as all the other money denominations. Mr. Nichols cannot explain how he is able to perform such feats with money, but those who have traded with him declare that he never mistakes the denomination of a bill.

Nichols is a graduate of the state school for the blind which is located in this city. His wife is also blind. They met at the blind school. She helps him at times behind the counter.

WAX AND LUBRICATING OIL FROM OKLAHOMA CRUDE

A study of more efficient methods for preparing and separating paraffin wax which will necessitate a more complete understanding of the wax itself, and a study of the methods of handling the wax-free oil so as to obtain the greatest volume of valuable lubricating oils, is being made, with special reference to Oklahoma crudes, by the bureau of mines, department of interior. For the purpose of this study a complete wax plant including a cold room and a sweat box has been constructed at Bartlesville, Okla., experiment station of the bureau of mines. A novel feature of the cold room is the refrigerating system which makes use of high-gravity natural-gas gasoline as a refrigerant. A separate report of this refrigerating plant has been published as serial 2510, and may be obtained from the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C.

Diners Kiss Hands That Feed Them In Sofia Restaurant

SOFIA, Oct. 25.—There are not many restaurants in the world where a diner kisses the waitress' hand before he proceeds to order his dinner. But there is such a public restaurant in this city, and it is probably the only one of its kind in the world.

This restaurant, called the "Russki Restaurant," is kept, waited on and cooked for by Russian women of the nobility, some of whom used to have "salons" in Petrograd under the empire, to which princes, generals, diplomats and savants regarded it an honor to be admitted.

Driven to the ends of the earth by Bolshevik persecution, these particular "prinzessen, comtessen, serena, English attesen"—as Svengali called them in "Tribby"—settled down to the business of their wretched lives in this little corner almost beneath the shadow of the beautiful equestrian statue of the "Czar Liberator," Alexander II.

It is somewhat disconcerting to American eyes to see a tall Russian who seems to have seen better days rise from his table when the waitress comes to take his order, salute madame's hand with his lips in the best manner of a courtier, then resume his seat and address himself to the prosaic business of ordering his meal.

And the food—served in the open air under the trees in the summer—suggests enough of an approach to American ideas of what is good to eat that Americans and Englishmen, to say nothing of other "Europeans," are among the best patrons of the "Russki Restaurant."

The prices are enough above the average to make the place rather exclusive, and the waitresses are pronounced, by Americans at least, to be entirely satisfactory.

How Can a Poor Man Get Ahead

"You Don't Get Something for Nothing," Says the Postman.

By SAMUEL O. RICE (Educational Director Investment Bankers Association of America.)

That 200-million dollar cash balance Henry Ford is said to carry, and how he got it, that's interesting reading. It's instructive to read how John D. Rockefeller, Charles M. Schwab, George F. Baker, John G. Shedd and a score of other "shirt-sleeve" millionaires came up by their own, sheer, unaided ability. Maybe another Rockefeller or a Schwab or a Baker can read it and find the way to go and do likewise. But it doesn't apply to millions of men and women, everyday folks who haven't Rockefeller ability and who are asking themselves, "How can I get ahead, give more to my family, own a home, have an assured income for old age?"

To answer those questions I have gone to wage earners and small salaried men and women, mail carriers, teachers, ministers clerks, a washer woman, and I have found a surprising number who have accumulated enough money to be wholly or partly financially independent. Their way of getting ahead is doubtless more practical for the average person than that of Ford or Rockefeller. Every instance recited herein is absolutely true. The names are changed entirely, in deference to the wishes of these 12, average, everyday folks, who have gotten ahead or are well on the road. I give first the postman's story. He has never earned more than 1,800 a year, yet his wife could afford, and took, a seven-month vacation tour of Europe. The postman's story:

"You don't get something for nothing," said the postman. "That's the first big thing I learned in trying to get ahead. I was an orphan at six weeks and a newsboy at six years. I found out terribly early that you've got to put something by for bad luck. I got $600 a year when I entered the postal service. I regularly put by at least 10 per cent of every pay day. Put it in a savings account. When I'd get a few hundred dollars, I'd put it in safe bonds. "How'd I know what securities to buy? I didn't and don't. But I can read the newspapers, can't I? I've never forgotten that you don't get something for nothing. I know there are sharks waiting for uninformed investors like me—read of fake oil promoters and bucketshops in the papers. I simply looked and asked for reliable investment security dealers until I was sure I had a good dealer. He picks my investment securities. I picked men who made a business of picking investments, and who I was dead sure were honest and knew their business. That's all there is to it."

"How old am I? Oh, not so old. I was in the navy during the war. That was the first time we ever used any of our interest. My wife lived very comfortably on it while I was getting $30 a month in the navy. Be-

Vigorous Old Age

WHY separate youth and old age with a deep and ever-widening abyss?

The bloom of youth and the hardy, ruddy glow of Old Age—sixteen and sixty—should be separated only by the span of years and not by varying differences of physical wholesomeness.

Vigorous old age is within the grasp of all. S. S. S. brings that hale and hearty feeling back with a rush. Rich red blood is the greatest enemy of weakening, health undermining Old Age. S. S. S. builds Red Blood Cells. Rich, red blood coursing through your veins sweeps away impurities that retard the proper functioning of your system. Old Age—once a dreaded agony becomes a vigorous, enjoyable, care free time of life.

S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks—scientifically prepared and proportioned. Welcome Old Age when it comes. Be ready to withstand the attacks of diseases that follow in its wake. Meet Old Age with a hearty handshake. A handshake that speaks of well being—of a vigorous, clear thinking, red blooded constitution. S. S. S. is your best friend when Old Age is seen rounding the corner. Get a bottle and drive care and worry away. All leading drug stores carry it. The large size is the more economical.

POLICE MAKE ARREST AFTER FOLLOWING TRAIL OF FOOTPRINTS IN MUD

Trailed by shoe prints in the mud, Ross Johnson, negro, was arrested by the police last night, following an attempt to break into the rear of the J. M. White & Co. department store on West Main street. A charge of breaking into a store has been placed against him, and he will be turned over to the county authorities.

Sam B. Henry, who stays in the building at night, took two shots at the negro but missed his mark. He notified the police and they found Johnson at his home, sitting by a fire, with his shoes off. Officers took the shoes and compared them with the marks left in the mud. They coincided.

Henry's attention to the intruder came when he heard the screen door jerked loose from its hook. Then came the crash of glass, following which Henry fired.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart. I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle of Cardui, then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up. Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."

Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

TWO MEN IN JAIL HELD ON SUSPICION OF AUTOMOBILE THEFT

Police are holding two men in jail pending an investigation of the ownership of a Ford coupe which they drove into Ranger yesterday. The police had received a telegram from the state highway department giving the motor number of a coupe, which had been stolen from a San Antonio man, G. W. Hamorick. The two suspects are believed to have the auto stolen at San Angelo.

The motor number of the coupe has been slightly changed, Assistant Chief of Police L. E. Davenport said this morning.

New developments are expected in the case this morning, and Davenport was expecting the filing of charges against the men this afternoon. The telegram from the state highway department at Austin carried the numbers

HELP KIDNEYS BY DRINKING MORE WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

ANNOYING RAT MITES ANOTHER GOOD REASON FOR KILLING RATS

Bites from a mite, a known parasite of rats, have proved an annoyance to a great many people in the South. The trouble has been particularly prevalent in certain localities in Texas and Mississippi. In some instances it has been acute, causing the expenditure of much time and money in efforts to combat it, and, in certain cases compelling the abandonment of parts of buildings.

Outbreaks of this pest, it has been observed, are coincident with the presence of many rats, and the presence of the mite appears to be essentially a problem in rat control. Department Circular 294, "The Rat Mite," issued by P. C. Bishop, entomologist, recently issued by the United States department of agriculture, deals with the life history and habits of the mite and the character of its attack on man. It has not yet been shown that the mites carry disease, but their bites are distinctly painful and annoying. Both nymphs and adults attack man freely, crawling and running about over the body, and biting here and there, especially on the upper arms, legs and around the belt, or in other places where there is some constriction of clothing. In the city of Dallas, rats began to appear in unusual numbers in 1920 and 1921. Even newly constructed buildings of steel and concrete were overrun, and residences in which a rat had never been seen before were frequently invaded. The mites seem to have been confined to buildings in the business sections of the city rather than to residences. They gave trouble on all floors of the buildings. Apparently they feed largely on the young or adult rats while they are quiet in their hiding places. When hungry, the mites crawl up or pass from one floor to another along pipes in search of food.

In addition to a continuous and energetic warfare against rats, the bulletin recommends the cleaning out of all debris and nests and a thorough spraying of kerosene. On floors a mixture of one part anthracene oil with two parts kerosene has been used with success to destroy and repel mites for several days. A fine mist spray of gasoline on cabinets, desks and shelves gives temporary relief. Fumigation with hydrocyanic gas is also recommended if done by an expert.

REINDEER—NEW MEAT SUPPLY

The great reindeer herds of Alaska are under the supervision of the board of education, because this bureau of the interior department instructs the natives in reindeer breeding. As early as 1921, over $100,000 worth of reindeer meat was sold in the United States. The range is sufficient for 10,000,000 of these animals which may some day constitute a new meat supply for all North America.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in McClure's Magazine for October.

DALLAS.—The annual convention of the Texas division of the Farm Labor union will be held here Dec. 3, according to G. W. Fant, chairman of the state executive committee. Over 700 delegates representing the 150 county unions of the state are expected to attend.
