Soldiers' Memorial Fountain Unveiled Before Great Crowd

Observance of Armistice Day in Eastland featured by ceremonies in Courthouse Yard. Mrs. Wolfe makes formal presentation to city and county.

Armistice day's principal feature in Eastland was the unveiling of the memorial fountain erected by the Civic League to honor the 13 Eastland county soldiers who died in the World war.

It was a highly creditable ceremony of infinite pathos. Under a lowering sky that threatened rain at any moment, 500 or more citizens, women, children and men, gathered in the southwest corner of the courthouse yard to participate and look on. That they were deeply stirred by the simple tribute was evidenced by the fact that nearly every man in the throng removed his hat before things had moved very far.

To insure quiet, the streets around the courthouse square were roped and all automobile traffic detoured during the hour of the dedication, which began promptly at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Scores of cars lined the streets up to the rope barriers and thus gave their occupants "ring-side" seats.

Flag Covers Fountain.
In the midst of the group attending the unveiling stood the memorial fountain completely covered by a huge American flag. The fountain is of marble, cylindrical in form, made of highly polished marble, with the names of the 13 Eastland county dead carved upon it. It also bears an inscription telling by whom it was presented and when.

At one side of the fountain, a motor truck carrying chairs and decorated with bunting formed a speakers' stand. Mrs. W. K. Jackson, president of the Civic League, was master of ceremonies.

Brelsford Extols Locality.
After a bugler of the Salvation Army sounded reveille on a sliding trombone, Mrs. Jackson presented former Senator Homer P. Brelsford, president of the First State bank, as the principal speaker. "Why are we here?" was the subject assigned to him and Senator Brelsford answered it by saying that he doubted if there was anyone within sound of his voice who did not know the purpose of the gathering.

He briefly reviewed the hectic days of 1917 when a thousand or more Eastland county boys answered their country's call and went away to war. He paid a heart-felt tribute of respect to the 13 in whose immediate honor the fountain was erected and closed his remarks with fitting quotations from the Gettysburg speech of Abraham Lincoln and some excerpts from an address by Woodrow Wilson.

Founder of League.
Mrs. Jackson then introduced Mrs. P. S. Wolfe, founder and first president of the Civic League, who formally presented the fountain to the city and county of Eastland. Mrs. Wolfe confined her remarks to a history of the Civic League and a recapitulation of the efforts put forth by the women to make the memorial possible.

The chaplain of the American Legion post, the Rev. Mr. Nelson, offered prayer and then Virgil Seaberry, commander of Dulin-Daniels Post No. 70, American Legion, formally accepted the fountain on behalf of the city and county and the legion.

He called attention to the fact that two "gold star" mothers, parents of two of the dead soldiers, Dulin and Daniels, for whom the local post is named, were present at the dedication.

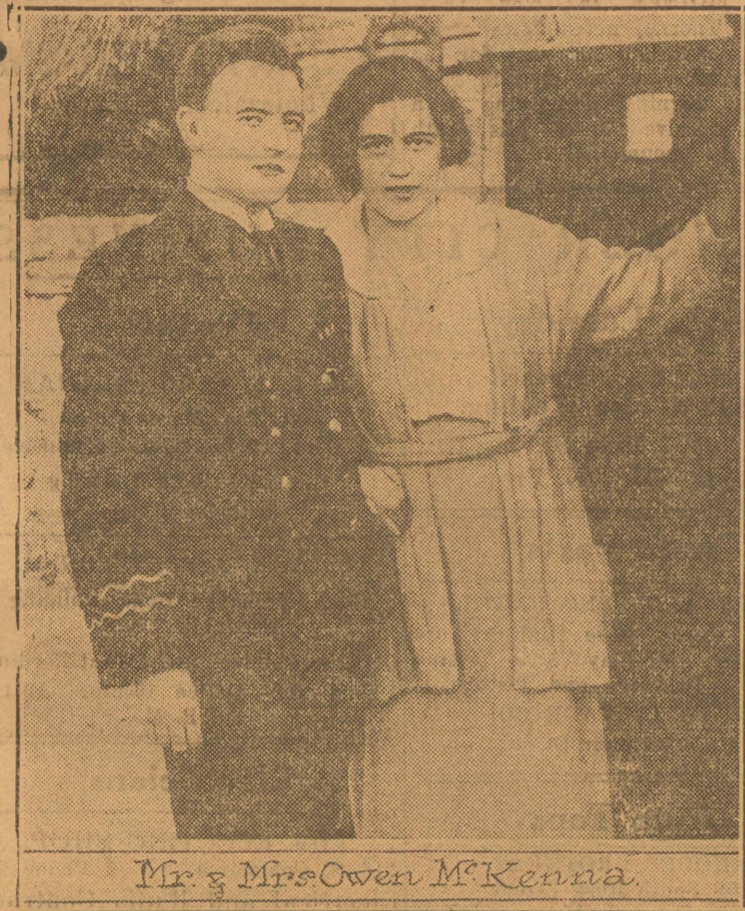

The fountain then was unveiled and the ceremonies were closed by the singing of "America" by the High School Glee club.

The audience then departed, largely for Connellee field to see the football game.

EARL'S DAUGHTER SEEKS JOB AS SEAMSTRESS

Mr. & Mrs. Owen McKenna.

The daughter of the Earl of Stradbroke, governor of Victoria, Australia, who last spring married Owen McKenna, wireless operator on a British liner, is seeking a job as a seamstress, according to a statement she made to the London Daily Sketch. The bride was Lady Pleasance Elizabeth Rous. She declares she has never been happier in her life, but that she must earn money. McKenna left the sea when he married and is employed in London. The couple live in a lodging house.

CITY-COUNTY HOSPITAL

County Commissioners Promise to Take Up and Dispose of Matter This Week.

The Eastland county commissioners' court was convened Tuesday for the regular November term. There was nothing of importance scheduled for the first day and little business was transacted.

The commissioners said that the city-county hospital matter at Ranger would be taken up and disposed of during the week.

The county court house apparently had not fully recovered, Tuesday, from the Armistice Day celebration. Several cases were docketed to come up in the 88th and 91st district courts, but some of the interested persons failed to appear and up to Tuesday afternoon no matters had been disposed of.

The Burns murder case in Judge Hill's court went over to November 19, by agreement as previously announced.

The Eastland county court at law convened Tuesday morning. Only minor matters were to come before it.

RAIN, RAIN, COMES AGAIN, BUT CLEARING WEATHER FORECAST

Following a 10 days suspension of the activities of old man Jupiter, Ranger people awoke this morning to find that he has returned to his job of weeping. There was a light precipitation Sunday morning and also Monday afternoon, but the rainfall today was greater than the other two combined.

The roads were getting back to something like normal last week, while the settled and dry weather continued following the unsettled period of the preceding week. Oil producing companies are fearful that this section is again in the throes of another week of unsettled weather and precipitation.

The government's weather bureau report for the gulf states for this week said that unsettled weather would prevail at the beginning of the week but it would become fair after the middle of the week.

Ranchmen, while welcoming rain, are afraid that this section is in for an excessive and damaging rainfall. An over-abundance of rainfall is hurtful when the frosts come.

FRENCH DEPUTIES VOTE CONFIDENCE IN POINCARÉ

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The French chamber of deputies today passed a vote of confidence in Premier Poincaré's ministry by 379 to 165.

FORMER KAISER STILL REMAINS ON DUTCH SOIL

European Allies, Except Great Britain, Excited by Rumor of His Departure.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—The government today denied the reports that the former kaiser is returning to Germany.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Rumors that former Kaiser Wilhelm would return to Germany, following his son's dash into the fatherland, startled Europe today.

A movement is now on foot in all the allied capitals to restore sufficient war-time unity to head off the return of the former war lord. Reports from Brussels and The Hague that the Germany embassy had handed the ex-kaiser 12 passports for himself and his party at Doorn aroused the allied powers to immediate action in seeking means to keep former Emperor Wilhelm out of Germany.

The news came so suddenly that the British cabinet had no time to decide today what policy to follow. British objections to the return to Germany of the former crown prince were only a slight indication of its objection to any return of the ex-kaiser, it was stated. In view of the dissent among the allies it was feared that common action would be difficult.

While the government will continue to consider what steps might be taken, there is some disposition to regard the rumors as ill founded. Steps will be taken to ascertain the truth of the story, but in the belief of many the report that the ex-kaiser was preparing to return to Germany is merely the idea that would occur generally following the return of the former crown prince to the fatherland.

BRITISH BELIEVE DUTCH WILL HOLD FORMER KAISER

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The British government officially reiterated today that they were entirely satisfied with the assurance given by Holland that former Emperor William would not be allowed to leave Dutch custody.

They say that up to the present there is no reason to expect that the former kaiser expects to decamp and if there was plans could be made to frustrate his move.

U. S. Will Not Join In Protest Against Kaiser Going Home

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The American government will not join the allied powers in any protest against the return to Germany of the former crown prince or the former kaiser or the restoration of the monarchy, it was said at the White House today on behalf of the president.

This attitude is in line with the policy of the United States, it was explained, that a country is entitled to decide the form of government it wants. Any protest by the allies would have to be made, it is said, under provision of the Versailles treaty, and this country is not a signatory to that treaty, hence there is no call for action by the United States.

COURT DISMISSES THE PEACE WARRANT ASKED AGAINST DR. H. W. EVANS

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 13.—The peace warrant sworn out by Dr. Fred E. Johnston, chief of staff for Emperor Simmons of the Ku Klux Klan against Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans was dismissed today by Municipal Judge Hancock after Walter Colquitt of Dallas, attorney for Dr. Johnston, asked it be dismissed for the best interest of all concerned.

Alienists were preparing today to resume their examination into the mental condition of Phil Fox, slayer of W. S. Curnin. His personal physicians said they believed the accused man to be insane, but the form of his insanity is yet to be determined.

Two Former British Premiers United In Fight On Free Trade

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Former Prime Ministers David Lloyd George and Herbert Asquith have closed their breach and will fight Premier Baldwin on the free trade issue at the general elections scheduled for December. The two former liberal prime ministers will unite their forces that parted company in 1916 and conduct a national campaign jointly, it was learned in political circles today.

CHIEF JUSTICE 3RD APPELLATE COURT IS DEAD

Judge William Mercer Key, Noted Jurist, Dies After Long Illness.

AUSTIN, Nov. 13.—Judge William Mercer Key, chief justice of the Third court of civil appeals, died at his home here at 6:25 o'clock this morning, following an illness of several months. Among those at his bedside when death came were his son, Scott W. Key of Eastland, and Mrs. Scott Key.

A long life spent in the service of the judiciary came to a close with the death of Judge Key. Born in Georgia in 1850, he came to Texas with his parents who settled in Gonzales county, and it was there his boyhood days were spent. When a young man, Judge Key came to Austin, where he first took up the study of law. Several years later he moved to Georgetown, Texas, where he was elected county judge, his first judicial office. From that post, he was elevated to district judge, which office he held a number of years.

During the time Judge Key held the office of district judge, he had many intricate questions to decide. It was he who handed down a ruling, the first of its kind in Texas, that suit against a receiver for damages resulting in death, could not be sustained. This decision resulted in the passage of a statute, amending the law in regard to cases of this kind.

In 1892, when the courts of civil appeals were created, Judge Key was appointed associate justice of that tribunal at Austin by Governor Hogg, and in February, 1910, he was appointed chief justice by Governor Campbell to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Chief Justice H. C. Fisher.

Judge Key held the office of chief justice from that time until his death, and his administration of this high office was characterized at all times by his distinguished ability.

Judge Key is survived by his widow, by a daughter, Mrs. Thomas White of Austin, and by three sons, Newell Key of Dallas, Scott Key of Eastland and Dr. Sam Key of Austin, and by a brother, George Key of Austin.

Telegrams announcing the death of Judge Key came from Austin to the law firms of Scott, Brelsford, Funderburk & Ferrell, Sayles & Fyler, and Conner & McRae.

Considerable interest was created in Eastland by reason of the fact that Scott W. Key, son of the dead jurist is one of the best known lawyers of the county seat and Mrs. Scott Key is prominent in Eastland social affairs.

Senator Brelsford and Earl Conner immediately arranged a meeting of the Eastland County Bar association, which was held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the courthouse, to adopt resolutions fitting the occasion. The meeting was attended by practically all of the lawyers of Eastland and some members from Ranger and Cisco.

Judge Key had been sick for a considerable time and several days ago Scott W. Key and Mrs. Key went to Austin to be with him.

Harry Sinclair To Be Chief Associate Of German Industrial Leader In Effort To Control Oil Business In Germany.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The tour of Hugo Stinnes, Jr., and Harry Sinclair, the latter head of the Sinclair oil interests, who are now inspecting Sinclair oil properties in the southwest, is reported to be preliminary to an announcement of an agreement between Stinnes and the Sinclair interests for the organization of an American oil company by the German industrial leader with Sinclair as his chief associate.

The Stinnes company, according to the report, will compete against the Standard Oil company, which now operates a subsidiary in Germany.

MASKED BAND MAKES RAID ON "OLD TIMER"

Only Wish to Give Him Shave and Haircut, to Which He Finally Submits.

"Old Timer," he has another name but may be better known by his title, was in peaceful possession of an unoccupied cottage on Eastland Hill belonging to L. B. Paschall. He carried up his bed, laid in a small supply of food and was preparing the night of Armistice Day, for a quiet evening and nice slumber when a party of eight or ten masked men entered and seized him.

"Old Timer" was just getting ready to eat his supper when the unannounced and uninvited visitors entered. Naturally he was alarmed. He had no weapons of defense, but he used his arms vigorously and his lungs clamorously. The former availed him little against the superior strength, but the latter brought Denton Martin, who lived near by. Martin rushed to the rescue and when he entered, the mob fell back, but only for a short distance.

After "Old Timer" had been quieted down, Martin suggested that the visitors might have intended nothing more than to give the old man a haircut and shave. This "Old Timer" agreed to, and sitting down on an overturned bucket, he submitted himself to the tonsorial artist. He asked that his mustache be spared and it was, merely being trimmed in French style. Altogether, he was made very presentable in appearance.

The masked mob was taking up a collection to buy "Old Timer" a new suit of clothes, when one of them happened to lift up the bedding and found four tobacco sacks filled with silver coins and a wad of bills with a $20 bill on the outside. "Old Timer" wanted Martin to keep the money for him, but Martin insisted he would not be harmed or robbed and finally "Old Timer" put it in his pocket.

That's all there is to the story. The masked mob went its way and "Old Timer" laid himself down, presumably, to peaceful slumber, and when he awoke this morning he hardly recognized himself.

TAX REVISION TO PAYE WAY FOR LOWER TAXES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Without committing himself to approval or disapproval of the tax revision program, President Coolidge let it be known today that he regards the proposal to a step towards opening the way for meeting the demands of the country for lower taxes. It is believed that he will feel out leaders of his party and members of his cabinet before he will commit himself.

COUNSEL FOR WALTON USES TABOO TACTICS

Members of the Impeachment Court Term Questioning as "Unfair."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 13.—The senate court of impeachment was thrown into an uproar today when defense counsel for Governor Walton launched into a bitter questioning of Dr. E. T. Bynum, former counsellor of the suspended governor, which was characterized by members of the court as "outrageously unfair."

Bynum had testified that he and Aldrich Blake, who succeeded him, had consulted on placing a secret telephone device to protect the state executive. Defense counsel immediately asked the witness a series of questions which forced him to a defense of his integrity and loyalty. It was during the questioning by Warren Snyder, defense counsel, that the witness denied he was compelled to kiss the American flag. Snyder asked him:

"Is it not a fact that shortly after the war, at the Huckins hotel in Oklahoma City, a gentleman asked you if you had written a letter to Germany in which you said that the best of our citizens were with Germany in her troubles, and you replied you had, and whereupon he said he was proud to have the opportunity to knock you down and proceeded to do so?"

A member of the court demanded that Snyder show what he was getting at.

"We are trying to show that this witness is not loyal to his country, his flag and to his chief," he said, "and consequently he couldn't be straight if he wanted to."

The remark was stricken from the record. When the court reporter repeated the question of Snyder's, Bynum replied that it was absolutely false.

Bynum was questioned about his work in the campaign for Walton. He testified that he had collected subscriptions and had accepted gifts from wealthy men who contributed to the campaign chest.

COUNTY CONSTITUTIONAL CLUB TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT NEXT IN GORMAN

Members of the County Constitutional club, headquarters in Eastland, and their friends are reminded to bear in mind the called meeting, next Monday night, Nov. 19, at Gorman.

The speaker will be William Pannell, of Stephenville, former district attorney of the Twenty-ninth judicial district. Pannell is well versed in Texas politics and ought to give his hearers something to think about.

It is hoped that a large delegation will go from Eastland to the Gorman meeting. The last meeting, held at the Eastland city hall, was a hum-dinger and furnished much entertainment as well as valuable information.

FRIEDRICH WILHELM'S WIFE APPEARS TO KNOW WHERE HE MAY BE FOUND

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm, en route from Holland to his castle at Oels, in Silesia, had disappeared again today. Up to a late hour this morning the prince had not reached his castle, but presumably was near his home. The former crown princess left her home last night without announcing her destination, but it was believed by those at the castle she was going to meet her husband.

ARMED BANDITS ROB DISTILLERY OF WHISKY

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 13.—Armed bandits, about 25 in number, early today raided a distillery in a suburb of this city and are reported to have obtained five truckloads of whisky. The police captured two drivers and three trucks loaded with the whisky about 10 miles from the hold-up and were on the trail of the other two trucks.

Lewis Alexander Dulin, Winter Daniels, Beam, Jones, Shirley, Robinson, Hastings, Dunn.

Space has been left for the Christian names of the last six, if they can be ascertained, and room also is available on the shaft of the fountain for additional names.

Senator Brelsford suggested to the women of the Civic League that it might be possible that further information might be obtained if the names, so far as learned were made public. Mrs. W. K. Jackson, president, thereupon requested that if there are those who know the first names of those left blank, or know of any other Eastland county soldiers who died in action, they communicate with Mrs. G. W. Dakan, corresponding secretary of the Civic League.

Mrs. Earl Conner laid the floral tributes at the base of the memorial fountain during the ceremony. The truck for the speakers was furnished through the courtesy of Miss Agnes Harwood. The flowers came from Mrs. Smith, florist, of Cisco. The memorial was erected by D. A. Rice, of De Leon and Eastland, who made the women a lower price than other bidders, because of the public nature of the work.

Mrs. Wolfe's Address
The presentation address of Mrs. Wolfe follows:

"Ladies and gentlemen, it is indeed a great pleasure to me to participate in these exercises I consider it the greatest honor that you could confer upon me. And not to tell you that I appreciate it I would be an ingrate indeed.

"First, I would like to tell you of the origin of this fountain. In the busy days of life a few years ago, the ladies of the Civic League of Eastland, realizing that when it became time to ask for volunteers for the army our own Eastland county boys were among the first to bring the regular army up to its full war strength, and that Eastland county along with the rest shared her part in the casualties, the league decided that they would like in some way to honor the memory of those noble boys who went from Eastland county into the greatest conflict the world has ever known and there made the supreme sacrifice in order that the world might be safe for democracy.

"So, a committee was appointed, known as the memorial fountain committee, whose duty it was to raise funds for this purpose, and it was through their efforts that an amount more than $3000 was raised. This amount not being sufficient we decided to solicit the cooperation of the different organizations of Eastland county, for some reason this plan was not a success as we only received a few small contributions from some of the county schools. The league then decided to combine the fund known as the park and playground with that of the fountain, giving us an amount in the neighborhood of $1,000. This fund was created several years ago, and it has been through the wise council and foresight of our honorable president, Mrs. W. K. Jackson, that this reserve fund has never been touched. The Civic League during her administration has made sufficient money to carry on their work without drawing on this fund.

"So through the efficient service of the present fountain committee the long cherished dream of the Civic League has been realized.

Work of Love
"While we have not built as large a monument as we would like to have yet the one we have supplied is from our hearts. And Michael Angelo never stood and looked upon any of his greatest achievements and have his heart swell with greater pride than we, the ladies of the Civic League of Eastland, do in presenting this monument to Eastland and Eastland county. He may have had greater sculptors of beautiful images of wonderful carvings, but yet, I know that there is no image of carvings here today of these dear boys. And we trust this monument will not be looked upon as an edifice of adornment nor of beauty itself, but that it shall be a herald to the world that Eastland county helped to furnish the purest and the best and to whom future generations may know to whom they are indebted, for the peace and happiness that they enjoy. And whenever a passerby will stop and drink of its waters that it shall be brought to his mind these noble boys who have made the sacrifice for him.

"Thirteen heroes of Eastland county gave their lives for their country in order that liberty might live.

"These were they whose names were lettered on fragile crosses. These were they who heard not the trumpet tidings that resounded through the earth. These were they who found release from the thrall-dom that men call life.

"James Lee Miller, Ernest Clyde Dunnam, Dennis George Perdue, Edgar A. Bailey, James B. Wright, Lewis Alexander Dulin, Winter Daniels. The parent of each of the others follow: D. L. Bean, John T. Jones, Mrs. Mary E. Shirley, Mrs. Emma Robinson, J. T. Hastings, Mrs. Sensena J. Dunn.

"Many graves will be banked with fresh cut flowers of the field today, but we pay tribute of respect and gratitude, by giving this fountain in their memory. In behalf of the ladies of Civic League of Eastland, I now present to the people of Eastland and Eastland county this memorial fountain."

HOPEFUL SIGNS.

Eastland, at heart, is a normal community. It is American in spirit and in truth. There was a helpful lesson to be learned from the way in which Eastland took note of Armistice day. The football and basket ball games were well patronized.

That denoted that Eastland is a healthy, regular youngster, fond of athletics and amusement. That is as it should be. All work and no play makes for dullness and stolidity in the town as well as the individual.

But Eastland did not expend all her energies on amusement and frivolity. The patriotic side of Armistice day, the solemnity of the occasion, the realization of the spirit of the thing, which was typified by the unveiling of the soldiers' memorial fountain in the courthouse yard was well attended and earnestly followed.

Just as many persons attended this worthy enterprise of the women's Civic league as attended the Eastland-Weatherford football game. In large measure the same young people went to both events.

But the memorial exercises brought out the best that was in Eastland. It easily could be seen that the audience, boys and girls as well as older persons, was impressed with the thing. They felt the spirit of the day.

This was evidenced by two facts: In a very few minutes after Senator Brelsford began to talk, men in all parts of the crowd reached up and removed their hats. It was voluntary. Nobody asked them to. But, when the services got under way, there was something electric in the air, a revival of the spirit of 1917 and the bystanders felt it. Likewise, when the girls and boys of the Glee club started singing "America," old men and women joined in and sang with them. Nobody asked them to. They simply responded to the call.

This little gathering showed that patriotism still lives in Eastland and Eastland county. Its people are true Americans, willing enough to be entertained by a football match, a minstrel show or a dog fight. But they still have room for the finer things of life and still respond to the stirrings of love for their country and honor for its heroes.

TERRACING IS FOUND VAULABLE AT RISING STAR

Farmers Who Tried It Last Last Year Are United in Their Approval.

Farmers in the Rising Star community, who terraced their farms the past year are thoroughly convinced of the value of the work and their success has influenced others to try more scientific methods in farming. As a result County Farm Demonstration Agent R. H. Bush was invited to come to Rising Star and arrange for a number of terracing demonstrations in that section. After surveying the field Mr. Bush divided the terracing into three divisions, west, north and east and will hold demonstrations in each.

Beginning Monday morning, November 19th, a demonstration will be held on the J. W. Tume farm in the west district and the terrace will be completed before leaving the place. The farmers in that district who have signified their intention of having their farms terraced are James Irby, J. R. Pollock, Dr. W. L. Allen, J. W. Tume, Jones, H. M. Dugan, and J. M. Dill. These and others who may be interested are invited and expected to be present at the Tume farm when the demonstration is made. After this Mr. Bush will go to the farm of each of them and run the terracing lines desired.

On Monday, November 26th, the same kind of a program will be carried out in the east district on the farm of G. W. White. Those expected to attend are S. H. Nance, J. T. Harris, R. F. Cox, Allen Haynes, G. W. White, J. M. Mathis, and T. C. Johnson. Others who may be interested are urged to be present.

The third demonstration by Mr. Bush will be on Monday, December 10, on the farm of P. D. Richardson in the north district. Those who are to be present are R. O. Jackson, J. B. Eberhart, P. D. Richardson and T. M. Sherrill. Any others who may be interested are also invited.

Parliament Will Dissolve Friday To Open Election Path

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Parliament opened today for a session that will be dissolved Friday in preparation for the general election, Dec. 6.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Dissolution of parliament before the coming week end was forecast by Prime Minister Baldwin today at the opening session of parliament. He announced that he had advised the crown to dissolve parliament as quickly as possible and that he did not see any reason why the date should not be next Friday.

The prime minister said that elections are always a disturbing element and should be carried out as soon as they could be. He said that he was convinced that protective tariff was necessary to solve the unemployment problem.

An electric cleaner cleaned the largest American flag in the world. The flag is 74 by 39 feet and hangs on the postoffice building in Washington, D. C. It had not been cleaned for five years. Considerable though had been given to ways and means of having it cleaned, but no feasible method was found until an electric cleaner salesman learned of it through the newspapers. He at once offered his services, which were gratefully accepted. It took eight hours of steady work to do the job. The flag was cleaned in the same manner as one cleans draperies in the home.

The Wrigley building in Chicago is illuminated by 128 electric floodlights, which enable it to be seen for 15 miles around.

Do you know that you can keep the inside of your electric oven clean and shining by using steel wool and ordinary kitchen soap?

NATIVE PECAN TREES MAY BE IMPROVED BY BUDDING AND GRAFTING

AUSTIN, Texas.—"Whenever I saw a pecan that I liked and that my trees did not produce, I cut part of the other tree and grafted it into mine. In that way I got good nuts," said J. E. Pearce, professor of anthropology at the University of Texas, in explaining why he had taken up pecan growing.

Mr. Pearce began his work in pecan growing about twelve years ago. At that time the trees which he owned were producing the ordinary scrawny variety of pecans, he said. Mr. Pearce believed that by budding and grafting poor trees with scions from trees producing good nuts, he could make the poor trees better. His experience in boyhood with farm work enabled him to carry on experiments in this line. He had great difficulty, he said, in obtaining good buds and shoots for grafting.

"Finally," said Mr. Pearce, "I succeeded in getting good scions from pecan growers living along the upper Colorado. I began topping my trees, that is, cutting away the branches from the top and substituting the young shoots that had been sent me. I found that certain kinds of pecans could withstand cold better than others. I also found that some varieties were more susceptible to disease than others. By constant experimentation I found what kind of trees were best suited to my soil. Five years ago the trees began to bear."

The best trees for this locality, Mr. Pearce stated, are the Texas prolific. These trees withstand drouths and insect pests better than the average varieties, and bear the largest nuts in the greatest quantities. He stated that from one tree of this variety he harvested more than $100 worth of pecans. He has about 300 trees. Some of them, however, are not bearing as much as this one tree. Last year he sold more than $3,010 worth of nuts; in fact, he had difficulty in keeping enough for his own use.

Mr. Pearce believes that the pecan growing industry is in its infancy, and he sees great possibilities in its future. He says that the market is infinite. Quantity production will lessen the value of pecans, but he thinks that the time is far away when the pecan crops of Texas will supply the demand, and that the time is still more distant when there will exist a surplus of good pecans.

Ruffled Taffeta and Lace Design for Slender Girl

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

THE loveliest dresses of all seem to be those intended for the slender girl and made of taffeta. There is the shot taffeta, which is changeable in effect and with a wee bit more stiffness than just plain taffeta, the taffeta with a moire finish, and then just the plain taffeta—and all are delightful to see when artistically developed and ornamented with lace of a soft color and texture, or with silk flowers that harmonize perfectly.

The basque effect is best for taffeta, especially if rather snug-fitting short sleeves, or no sleeves, are used, also a low boat, or a deep square neck, and of course a bouffant skirt gained by ruffles, puffs, lace or bouquets of ribbon applied to the skirt.

The jabot frill of this dress and the wee circular-sleeve finish are also new notes for consideration.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water.

Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, before breakfast in a glass of water your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

CULWELL KNOCKS BRADLEY OUT IN THIRD ROUND; RAINEY TAKES COUNT; SEALE PUTS WHITEHALL OUT EASILY

Lashing out his right viciously, Lefty Bradley fell and rolled over on his back under the rain of blows in the third round of his scheduled 10-round bout with Dutch Culwell last night and he was counted out by Referee Ad Friedman of Wichita Falls. It was the main bout of the Lions club boxing show at the Liberty theatre in Ranger.

Bradley made no attempt to rise. Three jabs to the face, including a hard one to the jaw and also one to the chest did the work. Only the sounding of the gong in the second round averted a knockout when Culwell, clever and fast, punched Bradley's nose a nasty one following a hard lick to his chest. The gong sounded on the count of nine.

It was the third knockout in the evening's program of boxing. Shorty Houghton jolted Pirtle Rainey behind his right ear after one minute and 20 seconds of furious and hard fighting in the first round and Rainey never rose.

Whitehall Takes Count.
In the bout preceding the semi-finals, Pug Seale turning viciously on Red Whitehall after the latter had rushed him to the ropes in the third, let go a hard swing on Red's jaw and he took the count. This came after one minute and 15 seconds of fighting.

In all there was 11 minutes and 10 seconds of fighting or less than six rounds, but there was action every second in all three bouts. For those who came to see action and not stalling, they got their money's worth. The crowd was disappointingly small.

The fighters did not neglect any opportunity to get in the knockout blow. It was a whirlwind finish for all three victors and cleanly earned.

Culwell Does a Standstill.
Culwell was so happy over his victory that he did a handstand in the ring following the raising of his right hand by Referee Friedman. His little wife, sitting out in the auditorium with a companion, was beaming with joy.

Bradley was badly jolted in the second by a terrific right to the chest. He registered pain and when Culwell shot a hard one to his nose, he fell in a heap. It was the opinion of Referee Friedman that the blow shut off the passages to the ears and caused his head to whirl.

Bradley was the first to enter the ring. He was wearing black tights and was accompanied by Bob Decker of American expeditionary boxing fame. He took his corner in the northwest edge of the ring. Culwell clad in faded blue tights and with red, white and blue ribbons encircling his waist, followed shortly afterwards. T. E. Woodfield was with him. The weights were announced as 161 for Bradley and 158 for Culwell.

Bar Rabbit Punch.
Referee Friedman called the men together at 9:05 o'clock for final instructions. It was then announced that the rabbit punch would be barred but the kidney punch would be allowed.

They went to it as soon as the gong sounded, almost forgetting to shake hands. Bradley tapped Culwell a light one. Culwell was more cautious than Bradley and stepped back. He stopped Bradley's left with his gloves in front of his head. They fight close. Both rain blows on the other's kidneys. Culwell got the benefit of a short jab to the face. Maddened, Culwell rushed Bradley to the ropes but did no apparent damage. Bradley was swinging his left at both long short range, but ineffectively. It was Bradley's round. In fact Culwell stumbling to his seat shouted, "It's Bradley's."

Culwell rapped Bradley's face at the beginning of the second round. Bradley punished Ditch's face severely but he only smiled. Bradley missed with his ugly left. Culwell's right jarred Bradley's head. Bradley missed wildly at Culwell's head with three short swings. Culwell went after Bradley in the center of the ring and rushed him to the ropes. He jabbed his chest and followed it up with a blow that seemed to strike Bradley on the nose. He fell into a squatting position with his head bowed. His attempts to rise were feeble and the gong sounded on the count of nine.

Lashed Bradley Hard.
Bradley and Culwell exchanged a series of blows in the center of the ring in third. Bradley's nose was bleeding. Dutch lashed out viciously, one getting Bradley on his jaw as the latter was doubling up. They had been fighting only 55 seconds as Bradley fell. He laid flat on his back. He never moved. It was evident that he never recuperated from the hurt he suffered at the close of the second round. He was groggy when he left his corner in the third.

The first and only round of the Houghton-Rainey fight was faster and more furious than any of the 10 rounds they fought two months ago. There was no sparring or feeling out. Houghton made the first swing. He lost his balance but quickly regained it after making a wild swing. Houghton pummeled Pirtle's face at close range. Rainey returned one to the face. Houghton missed with his right twice.

Rainey on Defensive.
Rainey was on the defensive when he ducked a left. As his head came up, Houghton shot his right to the angle formed between the neck and the shoulder below the right ear and Pirtle sagged and toppled over. He lay on his back panting heavily while the referee stood over him counting. He was still motionless at the count of 10, and Houghton was declared the winner.

Rainey's seconds, Hanks Turnbow, rushed out and with the assistance of another man picked Pirtle up and got him through the ropes. He insisted in walking alone but stumbled and Turnbow put his arms around his shoulders and got him to his dressing room.

Whitehall and Seale were called to the center of the ring at 8:33 o'clock. Pug struck the first blow, a right to the head. They clinched, and were separated by Referee J. B. Heister. Fighting at close quarters, both rained blows on the other's left kidney. Both held on to one another. Seale swung his right at Whitehall and he dodged. They clinched again. Pug rapped Red's head. The gong sounded after Referee Heister had separated them. It was Seale's round.

Punishes Red's Kidneys.
Pug went after Whitehall's kidneys and they became locked together. Pug again did kidney punishing. This invariably led to clinching and the referee broke it up the second time. Pug missed a right. Seizing the opportunity, Red crowded Pug and had him against the ropes. Pug bounded free and the round ended in the center of the ring. It was a tame round but Pug had the margin.

Pug punched Red's face and followed with a left jab to his head. Red covered his face up and pulling his arm back suddenly swung hard to Pug's head. He drew back and Red crowded his opponent to the ropes. It was then that Pug uncorked a right to the jaw that sent Red to his knees. Heister counted slowly but Red remained in a crouching position. The round lasted one minute and 15 second, according to J. M. White, timekeeper.

CLOCK LOSES SECOND IN THREE YEARS; SCIENTIST LOOKS FOR IT
CLEVELAND.—Cleveland possesses one of the most accurate clocks in the world.

In a series of international tests, the clock in the physics building at Case School of Applied Science has won its title. According to Dr. Dayton C. Miller, professor of physics at Case, the clock has lost one second in three years.

The clock is so delicate that it must be kept in a room in which the temperature and air pressure are unvarying. Dr. Miller is devoting much of his time to an attempt to correct the one second error.

The second number of the Dixie Lyceum Course, being put on by the High School library, will appear at the high school auditorium, Thursday evening, Nov. 15. This number is the celebrated Master Magician Davis, "the man who mystifies." Tickets and reserved seats may be had at the Crawford pharmacy at 50c and 75c. Season tickets for the remaining four numbers may be had for $2.00 and $1.30.—Advertisement.

Rival Attractions Cut Boxing Show Attendance Down

Money was lost on the Lions club boxing show last night. The receipts totaled approximately $300. The expenses amounted to about $400. It has convinced the committee that a holiday is not the most desirable day for a boxing program.

There was entertainment galore yesterday, because of Armistice day. The Strawn-Cleburne football battle at Strawn was a big drawing card in the afternoon. The Fort Worth diamond jubilee attracted many to Fort Worth. And there were several dances programmed close to Ranger.

Ad Friedman of Wichita Falls, who refereed the main and semi-main bouts, was formerly a wrestler of note in the Southwest. He held the championship title for four years, 1912 to 1916, after which he enlisted in the army. He was also at one time a sports writer for the Fort Worth Record. He is in Ranger on a business mission.

Friedman handled the bouts in excellent fashion. He officiated at many of the boxing shows in Wichita Falls.

EASTLAND OUTPLAYS WEATHERFORD DECISIVELY, 19 TO 6; MITCHELL SCINTILLATES FOR THE MAVERICKS

Weatherford was decisively outplayed by the Eastland Mavericks at Connellee park Monday afternoon, 19 to 6. Weatherford showed nothing at all after making a touchdown via the aerial route in the second period. Captain Homer Mitchell's team improved both on the offense and defense in the second half.

The Parker county athletes played tricky football in the first half and more than held their own with a fake forward pass and a delayed fake line buck. Captain Mitchell of the Mavericks scintillated for his team. Day, C. Hunt and Mitchell alternated at carrying the ball, but Mitchell's work brought the cheers of the crowd.

Trick Play Helps Eastland.
Eastland made eight first downs and Weatherford six. The Mavericks traveled 77 yards on line plunges and 61 yards on end runs. Besides Cox, left tackle, grabbing the ball slid off tackle while the Eastland line and backfield rushed to the left and tore on down the field, his path of progress unopposed for 65 yards and a touchdown. It was one of the Mavericks' little tricks and it tied the score. Mitchell's booted ball hit the left upright post.

The aerial attack of the visitors fell down. Out of 12 attempted forward passes only two succeeded. The Mavericks attempted five, of which two were completed. None of the passes were intercepted by either team.

There were some differences between players of both teams. On several occasions some one would find either a reason or an excuse to take a swing at an opponent. Once in the last period, Referee Labaugh had to blow his whistle while Mitchell was dashing down the field for a marker, and run to the 20-yard line where Simmons of Eastland and Grable of Weatherford were taking a healthy sock at one another. Grable told the referee that Simmons slugged him but this Grable disputed saying that he only blocked him, whereupon the former took a crack at his blocker. Simmons retaliated and before they could continue their pummeling, the referee had them separated.

Mitchell's Run for Naught
In the meantime, Mitchell, fleetly runner that he is, had laid the ball down behind the visitors' goal line and then an argument ensued as to the score and later on penalties and where the ball should lie. The ball was finally placed at a point where the ball was in motion when the whistle sounded. Mitchell's run netted nothing.

Eastland kicked off in the first quarter and Weatherford started off with a rush, Hartnett and Grable carrying the ball for 20 yards gain. But quarterback Hartnett dropped the ball on the third play and Mitchell pounced upon it and the march started towards the Weatherford line. It was only a threat, and the period ended with the ball in Weatherford's possession on her own 20-yard line.

A fake delayed line buck netted 20 yards for Weatherford in this period and a forward pass 12 yards. Hartnett attempted a drop kick but it was a dismal failure. In Eastland's hands, the biggest gain was a 30-yard punt by Mitchell. A forward pass was tried without success. A fake end run and line buck netted two yards. With the ball resting on the 20-yard line, a fake forward pass, Hartnett to Taylor, resulted in the first touchdown. One of the Weatherford players got in the way of Hartnett's booted ball and it arose only about eight feet in the try for a point.

Cox Sprints 65 Yards
In the third quarter, a fake left end

formation play, while Cox slid off tackle, threw the Weatherford line to the left and gave Cox ample room to race down the field for 65 yards and a touchdown. Mitchell's boot hit the post and the score was 6-6.

In the fourth quarter, the Eastland backs began to assert themselves. The quarterback shot the ball to Mitchell and he started running to the left and dropped the ball in the hands of Lawrence, left halfback, and skirted right end beautifully for a 22-yard gain.

The Mavericks started off with a rush in the fourth quarter after getting the ball on downs. E. Cox threw off several tacklers and was dropped finally on the invaders' 5-yard line. The quarterback called on Mitchell and he dashed his way over for the second touchdown. Mitchell failed to place kick.

Weatherford punted after the failure of three forward passes. Mitchell made 12 yards in a broken field. The ball was worked to the seven-yard line. With seven yards to go and first down, the invaders line held and it was Weatherford's on owns. Weatherford punted but it was a pitiful effort for it simply ascended and came down about where she got it on her first down. Mitchell carried it across on the first play. He kicked goal.

STRAWN TO PLAY WICHITA FALLS IN SECTIONAL FIGHT

Victory Over Cleburne Yesterday, 24 to 21, Witnessed by 2,500 People.

STRAWN, Nov. 12—Strawn High school by her victory over Cleburne High yesterday afternoon here won the championship of the southern half of section four and will meet Wichita Falls for the title of the section. The score was 24 to 21.

Yesterday's game was played before a holiday crowd of 2,500 people, the largest crowd ever gathered here in observance of Armistice day. Many visitors from this section of North Central Texas attended the game.

The margin of three points was scored by a 30-yard place kick in the second quarter. The breaks were about equally divided. Both teams gained when they had the ball—Cleburne circling the ends and Strawn passing and plunging. There was no roughing and only three penalties were assessed during the game.

Whittaker, Higgins, True and Brookman played stellar football for Strawn. Meals, Rhome, Boling, Head, Horton, Draper shone for the visitors. In the first half Whittaker played Cleburne nearly single-handed when his team was fighting offensively. He scored all of the 17 points made by Strawn, two touchdowns and two points after touchdowns and a field goal.

Meals made the first touchdown of the game, when he scooped up Gobel's fumbled ball on Strawn's 15-yard line and when over the goal line for a touchdown. The line-up: Strawn. Position. Cleburne. Brookman. Rhome. Left end.

A. Andrews. Meals. Left Tackle. Vaden. Sanderlin. Left guard. T. Sarrell. Mitchell. Center. T. Waugh. Cole. Right guard. Stewart. Dennis. Right tackle. True (c). Boling. Right end. Whittaker. Lee. Quarter. Campbell. Horton. Left half. Higgins. Draper. Right half. Gobel. Head (c). Fullback.

Officials—Referee, Sellers (Texas). Umpire, Bells (S. M. U.); head linesman, Wisdom (John Tarleton). Substitutions—Cleburne. Dunlap for Meals, Muse for Cole, Box for Draper, Draper for Box, Stalcup for Horton.

Strawn—T. R. Waugh for Vaden, Vaden for R. Waugh, R. Waugh for Vaden, Jennings for Gobel, A. Andrews for R. Waugh, Pruitt for R. Andrews.

American Legion's Eastland Program Is Very Enjoyable

Armistice day in Eastland wound up in a blaze of glory at the American Legion Athletic club. Besides all the legion members and other ex-service men of Eastland, there were many visitors from Ranger, Gorman, Cisco and elsewhere in the county.

The program passed off smoothly, without a hitch and it was voted the best time Eastland has had in a long time.

First off, there was a bountiful dinner at 6:30 p. m., to which all ex-service men were invited, whether members of the American Legion or not. Mrs. J. B. Nunn had charge of the dining room and she was assisted by a corps of women who made each guest feel at home and put up a menu that left nothing to be desired.

There was so much to eat that the loosening up of belts immediately thereafter sounded by the rattle of musketry.

After the feed there were speeches by Post Commander Virgil Seabery and several others, which were well received.

The justification wound up with some athletic events. The scheduled basket ball game between the Eastland and Cisco American Legion teams did not take place, but there were other contests that more than made up for the lack.

The Eastland High school girls defeated the Ranger High school girls without much difficulty and by a safe margin.

The basket ball team representing the Elks played the Outlaw five and the Outlaws came off victorious. As a finale of the athletic program, ex-service men of the army went into a baseball scrimmage with a team composed of ex-navy men and the seamen won the contest.

Four Years Ago In Ranger

Taken from the files of the Ranger Times, Nov. 13, 1919:

Under a bright sun but through mud and water they came, 500 strong, to witness the opening of the new town in the oil field to the northwest of Ranger. It is named Leeroy. The first man to buy a lot was Robert C. Finley of Ranger.

TRIAL OF TWO STEPHENS COUNTY OFFICERS POSTPONED

BRECKENRIDGE, Nov. 13.—The trial of Sheriff L. D. Head of Stephens county, and Chief Deputy Wallace Crawford in connection with the killing of M. A. Stroup last May during the raid on a still was postponed Monday until next Monday because of the absence of one of the state's witnesses.

At the coroner's inquest, following the shooting, the two defendants testified they found Stroup operating a still and sought to arrest him, but he opened fire on them and they were compelled to shoot him.

CARBON BLACK IS NOW MADE BY ELECTRIC PROCESS

Electrical experts have developed what promises to be a new source of carbon black which, when developed, will do away with the wasteful use of natural gas in the manufacture of this commodity. The discovery is that under certain conditions the discharge of high voltage electric current upon hydro-carbons will decompose the carbon and produce carbon black.

Forty billion cubic feet of natural gas is now being used every year to make fifty million pounds of carbon black. It is a most wasteful use of natural gas. This amount of natural gas is equal to the entire consumption of natural gas in Texas for domestic and industrial use.

Natural gas supplies are becoming depleted. In several states manufactured gas is being added to the supply of natural gas to afford sufficient fuel to meet the demands. The conservation of natural gas for its best purposes—domestic use—is being urged by the United States bureau of mines and by gas companies generally.

ALMOND DROP CAKES DELICIOUS FOR TEA

Now that winter and more frequent social events are at hand afternoon tea is the thing, says Helen Harrington Dowling, expert writer on food subjects and the preparation of dainty menus.

Make it "tea for three" if you choose—but at four-thirty in the afternoon, of course, it is tea! "Lemon or cream" "Lemon" please, and two lumps of sugar.

In certain localities tea will always be the thing. There is something so hospitable about it. Something that makes the place look cozy and appeal to you—and put you at your ease.

A pleasing hostess, dainty appointments, a congenial group of guests—faultless food, and you are a success, and envied by your friends who wish they knew your secret.

- Almond Drop Cakes
- 3 cups pastry flour.
  - 3 level teaspoons Calumet baking powder.
  - 1 teaspoon cinnamon.
  - Pinch of salt.
  - 3-4 cup blanched and chopped almonds.
  - Yolks of 3 eggs.
  - 2-3 cup melted fat.
  - 1 cup milk.
  - 2 eggs.
  - 3-4 cup sugar.
- Sift flour once, then measure, add baking powder, cinnamon and salt, and sift three times; then put in a mixing bowl. Add sugar, nuts, then eggs, fat, milk and flour. Beat all together thoroughly, drop in small spoonfuls on well-oiled pan and bake in a hot oven until light brown.

NEW INTERNATIONAL HOLIDAY

GENEVA.—Fourteen foreign nations have signified their intention of following President Coolidge's lead by backing the observance of Dec. 2, as "Golden Rule Sunday." People will forego their usual noonday meal and eat instead the frugal ration usually partaken by the refugees and orphans of the Near East, contributing the difference in cost to the big national relief organization in each country for refugee work.

Heretofore, only four annual holidays have been observed internationally—Christmas, New Year, Easter and Armistice Day. The addition of Golden Rule Day to this list is notable because the movement for its adoption was purely American in origin.

A delightful social hour was spent. The hostess served a 5 o'clock tea of fruit salad with cake and hot chocolate. In honor of Armistice Day, tiny flags stood sentinel over the salad. Charming decorations of autumn leaves intermingled with flags and bouquets of mums were used with good effect in decorations.

The Eastland Guild will meet Wednesday at 3 o'clock with Mrs. W. L. Gupton.

three years, but who are much at home in Eastland, were Eastland guests over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Walter I. Clark, on South Seaman street, who kept open house for them on the eve of their departure Monday night. They left today for their new home in Holdenville, Okla., where Mr. Jones has accepted the superintendency of the production department of the Dixie Oil company in the Wetumika field.

Eastland claims the family socially. Mrs. Jones was a member of several organizations of this city, and both Mr. and Mrs. Jones were enthusiastic members of the Eastland Golf and Country club. Many friends dropped in informally to bid them au revoir, Monday night, and their popularity was attested by the gathering, without invitation, of friends of years standing, to wish them good luck in their future home.

CIVIC LEAGUE TO MEET TOMORROW

A cordial invitation is extended those ladies not already members of the Civic league to attend the meeting of the league tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock which will be held in the public library, located in the basement of the First State bank.

INFORMAL LINE PARTY AT CONNELLEE THEATRE

At the conclusion of the Armistice Day dedication of the Memorial Fountain, Mrs. W. K. Jackson assembled the members of the Memorial Fountain committee for an informal matinee party at the Connellee theatre. Her guests included: Mrs. Charles F. Smith, Homer P. Brelsford, Sr., Phillip S. Wolfe, Miss Eulalia Howard, Mrs. M. Paul Martin, Homer Brelsford, Jr., Beulah E. Whittington, and Rivers R. Mizell and Miss Agnes Harwood, and the other members of the official board of the Civic league, Mrs. Ben F. Reinking, G. W. Dakin, Allen D. Dabney, Rufus H. Bush and H. B. Tanner.

Clara Louise Burnham's beautiful story, "A Chapter in Her Life," peculiarly suitable to Armistice Day, was the theatre's offering. A clever vaudeville, Stewart's Greenwich Village Syncopators carried the spice of the program. The little compliment was enjoyed.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Murray, who formerly lived in Eastland, but now of Fort Worth, were guests at the Charlotte hotel over Armistice Day.

Mrs. Lillian Shinholt and Miss Averson were week-end Fort Worth visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Furse and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brelsford, Jr., returned last night from a week-end Fort Worth visit.

HINTS ON DRIVING

The average man buys a car, gets a rough idea of how to steer and control it, and then, when his bills come in, discovers that it is costing him more than he originally anticipated.

He blames his carburetor for the inordinate large gasoline consumption. But if his car is a modern one, his carburetor probably will be all right. Proper adjustment is an easy matter, and the waste of gasoline from this source will not be appreciable. Unnecessarily rapid acceleration, driving too fast, too frequent use of the clutch, and for the power wasted. For every movement the driver makes in a car there should be a reason, and every unnecessary manipulation of the control levers means waste—whether of the energy supplied by the engine or of the life of the tires.

The motorist should remember that the clutch is not a substitute for neutral. It is intended for use when changing gears, and then only.

The whole question of driving resolves itself into knowing what one is doing, why he is doing it, and what he is going to do next. The driver should keep his eyes and thoughts ahead of him, and let what he sees react upon the amount of power supplied to the back wheels. He should not be content simply to press his accelerator pedal right down, and then trust to his brakes to get him out of difficulties. He ought to observe everything; remember that pedestrians have a habit of stepping suddenly off the pavement, that children dash out of by-roads, that every bend conceals a possible obstruction, and that there is no canine rule of the road—Automobile Digest.

"The Man Who Mystifies" well describes Davis. His program is a wonderful combination of clever manipulations and interesting chatter which adds to the enjoyment and interest of his tricks. There is one strange thing after another, and fun all the time. He performs twice as many feats as the average magician, and usually, just when you think he has finished, he is getting into the interesting part, and there are likely to be two or three more mystifying developments. It's a real evening of climaxes. High school auditorium, Ranger, Thursday evening, Nov. 15.—Advertisement.

Ladies of the First Baptist church of Ranger will give a bazaar and bake sale Friday afternoon and all day Saturday, Dec. 7 and 8, and want everybody who is making something for the bazaar to have the articles ready by that time.—Advertisement.
