Meeting of County Constitutional Club Tonight In Ranger

All County Constitutional club members, friends and sympathizers and all other citizens who stand for good government are herewith reminded that there will be a special meeting of the County Constitutional club tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the city hall in Ranger.

Judge William Pannell, of Stephenville, a former district attorney, will be the principal speaker and his subject will be the Ku Klux Klan in politics and business.

In his official capacity as a public prosecutor, Judge Pannell had ample experience with politics and business and he knows whereof he speaks.

A considerable delegation from Eastland to the Ranger meeting is planned and there will be many present from Cisco, Gorman and elsewhere. It will be one of the most important meetings of the C. C. C. this winter, it is said.

The Ranger meeting, Monday night, takes the place of the gathering announced for the same date at Rising Star. That was called off because of the difficulty in reaching that place from other parts of the county.

The claims were consolidated under direction of R. A. Jeanneret, chairman of the transportation committee of the Kansas City Board of Trade, representing the shippers. The suits were filed simultaneously in Kansas City, Chicago, St. Louis, Topeka and St. Joseph, Mo., and are based on the assertion of the Interstate Commerce Commission that previous freight rates on certain commodities were unreasonable, it being claimed the rates charged exceed the rates fixed by the commission in August, 1920. Defendant railroads are: Union Pacific, Great City Southern, Chicago, Great Western, Chicago & Alton, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific, Katy and the St. Joseph & Grand Island.

COOLIDGE IN FAVOR OF MELLON TAX PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—President Coolidge is strongly inclined to the Mellon tax reduction program and is expected by some of his advisers to come out and flatly endorse it. Such endorsement in the minds of several government observers, would be sufficient to sweep aside the opposition of some Republican leaders to a tax revision at this time.

MANILA ALMOST SUBMERGED BY HEAVY RAINS

Sixteen-Inch Downpour Within Few Hours Floods City's Streets.

MANILA, Nov. 19.—A typhoon from the Pacific ocean has swept over the islands of Luzon and Visayas. Radio and wire communication has been entirely suspended. A portion of Manila is under water by reason of the terrific downpour, and boats have replaced the motor cars in some of the city streets. The storm is reported also to have done considerable damage to crops. More than 16 inches of rain fell in Manila and over the adjacent territory within the last 10 hours. The rainfall was accompanied by high wind storms. The storm had faded today. Wires were torn down by the wind and rain and roads washed out in many sections of the island. A number of ships that were scheduled to sail were kept in port by the storm.

VICTIM OF DARE BY COMPANIONS BOY MEETS WITH SUDDEN DEATH

LEWISPORT, La., Nov. 19.—Lewis Moore, aged 12 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore, died here today, the victim of a dare.

The boy was knocked onto other wires and then, with his clothing in flames, fell 50 feet to the railway track below, sustaining fatal injuries.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Investigation of reports that more than 100 physicians practicing medicine under fake certificates and by license obtained through fraud have taken refuge in New York following a clean-up in Connecticut was under way today.

Officials here co-operating with the Connecticut authorities said it had been found men were practicing in the east who had obtained fake certificates issued by a so-called western medical school.

Fourth Arrest Made In Effort To Break Up Gang of Alleged Auto Insurance Swindle Gang

Physicians Require 1,400,000 Gallons For One-Year Supply

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—More than 1,400,000 gallons of liquor were sold on physicians' prescriptions in 27 states, District of Columbia, Porto Rico and Hawaii, where such sales are permitted, in one year. Statistics compiled by the prohibition bureau from retail druggists reveal that 50,000 of the 150,000 physicians in the United States have prescribed liquor in that period.

PSYCHOLOGIST SAYS KLANSMEN RECALL HAMLET

Members of Invisible Empire Obsessed With Wish to Reform World.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Ku Klux Klansman suffers from the "Hamlet complex," the obsession that it is his personal duty to reform the world, according to Dr. James E. Lough, professor of psychology at New York university.

"The true explanation of the Ku Klux Klan is to be found in certain general traits and tendencies of human nature," Dr. Lough said. "We all possess these traits, but they are not present in every one to the same degree. Moreover, we have established very different outlets or modes of expressing our tendencies. Otherwise, of course all of us would be klansmen or else there would be no Klan."

"Chief among the tendencies just referred to is what is sometimes called the 'Hamlet complex.' Hamlet was convinced that the burden of setting the world straight rested on his shoulders. 'The time is out of joint. Oh! cursed spite, that ever was born to set it right.' All of us are subject to this 'Hamlet complex,' but most of us have abandoned the attempt to set the world right and have concentrated on some pet aversion."

"The second general principle of human nature that must be considered is a universal demand for excitement. In cities this trait finds outlet in countless ways—daily papers, theatres, movies, baseball, even subway crowds. In rural districts and in small towns natural outlets for this trait are few and far between. The rural community is, therefore, predisposed to seize on and to magnify every occasion that promises to provide even a slight degree of excitement. It is significant, therefore, that the activities of the Ku Klux are confined largely to country districts."

Mystery Attracts.
"The third factor is found in the reaction of all men to anything that is mysterious and exclusive. We want to know! We want to belong! The fourth human trait that must be considered is the fact that in each of us there goes on a constant struggle between impulses urging to action and inhibitions or conservative tendencies which restrain from action. The conduct of a man in any situation will depend to a large extent on the relative weight of his impulses and his conservative tendencies at the time he decides on his line of action."

Cisco Man Brought From El Paso to Ranger In Connection With Ring Said to Be Operating In Eastland and Stephens Counties.

Another alleged member of the huge automobile insurance swindling gang, believed to have been broken up last week by the arrest of the leading spirits of the gang, was lodged safely in the Ranger city jail this morning after a long trip from El Paso.

E. A. Miller of Cisco, charged in a complain filed by the Ranger police with disposing of mortgaged property and said by the Ranger police to be the individual who altered engine numbers on stolen cars so that the car could not be identified easily by this method, arrived here at 3:40 a. m. today, the prisoner of Officer Jim Ingram.

Miller's wife was using an auto, alleged by Assistant Chief L. E. Davenport, as not belonging to him and it was taken away from her at Larue recently.

In the meantime, Stephens county authorities are looking for a man, who "hangs out" in Ranger off and on who is believed according to the evidence uncovered, to have stolen three autos in this vicinity. He is said to follow no gainful occupation, but possesses a new or almost new auto on various occasions. He was seen in Breckenridge Saturday, it is reported.

A Desdemona man, under two indictments for stealing pipe in Eastland county, is under surveillance of the local police. He was questioned late Saturday night and he gave his promise that he would tell all he knew of the operations of the auto theft ring.

Miller, according to Davenport, denies any connection with the swindling gang. He protested his innocence when first questioned this morning and broke into tears.

NEW IMMIGRATION BILL OF ADMINISTRATION TO REDUCE IMMIGRANTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The administration's new immigration bill will provide for a 2 per cent quota instead of 3 per cent and it will be based on the census of 1920 instead of 1910, Representative Johnson said today.

The new bill will let in about 840,000 immigrants annually, as compared with 350,000 under the present law, Johnson said.

VIENNA.—Medical students who as physicians intend to specialize in children's diseases, are making a first-hand study of the aches and annoyances that cause babies to cry. HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 19.—Judge Chester H. Bryan has a heart. When numerous youthful offenders against the public peace were haled into juvenile court after a riotous Halloween night, Judge Bryan released them all.

"Boys that can't keep out of mischief on Halloween night," he said.

Cotton Goes To New High Price With Futures Very Strong

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Cotton made new high prices for the season on renewed trading and rebuying by recent sellers, who evidently were influenced by the better European news and the rally in foreign exchanges. December cotton advanced to 34.70. Contracts for delivery next August in which there has been little interest so far, shot up to 31.50 or 150 points above the closing price of last week.

Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association To Distribute Cash

DALLAS, Nov. 19.—The Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association will distribute $4,207,702 to its members Dec. 15, the executive committee decided here today.

The December payment will bring the total cash distribution to its members in Texas up to $13,500,000, according to T. J. Orr, president of the association.

ARREST FOLLOWS SCENE IN RANGER BUT NO COMPLAINT FILED

A Thurber man, by occupation a miner, arrested in Ranger Saturday, following a scene between him and an 18-year-old girl on Walnut street, was released by Police Chief Davenport Sunday.

The young girl, daughter of Eastland parents, did not make any formal charge and he was dismissed. She has been making her home in Ranger. The Eastland authorities were notified and her parents took her home following the Walnut street scene.

The Thurber man was alleged to have said he was going to take her in his auto to his home in Thurber. The girl screamed and attracted the attention of others. His arrest followed.

ENTENTE ALTERNATELY UPLIGHTED AND CAST DOWN

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The Anglo-French entente early today appeared to have weathered another crisis, when it was learned that the ambassadors' council had reached a virtual agreement dealing with the proposed allied action towards the former crown prince and allied military control. Later the crisis again appeared imminent.

The ambassadors were to meet again today between 2 and 6 o'clock, and Premier Poincare was to submit the proposed compromise between the British and French to the cabinet today.

FRANCE WOULD SHOW TEETH IN NOTE TO BERLIN

Anglo-French Entente May Yet Split on Question of Deposed Prince.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—After the Anglo-French entente appeared to have weathered the serious crisis and to have reached an agreement today, a new obstacle arose when the French cabinet refused to accept the principle of the note dealing with the proposed expulsion of the former crown prince. Announcement of this included the statement that France had accepted the note dealing with the re-establishment of allied military control.

It is believed that the chief obstacle in the French minds to that part of the note dealing with the crown prince is that it has no "teeth" in it. Announcement of the cabinet decision followed announcement that the cabinet agreed with the attitude so clearly expressed by Premier Poincare.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—Chancellor Stresemann declares the German government will guard and protect the former crown prince, just returned from exile in Holland to his estate at Oels, against any demand of France for his extradition. The Volkspartei, or People's party, meeting in caucus, gave Stresemann a vote of confidence on the expression of his internal and foreign policies and his statement that the former crown prince would remain in Germany.

"If the surrender of the crown prince is demanded," Stresemann declared, "we will categorically refuse, preferring new threatened brutalities of the French."

Germany has refused to submit to military control, the leader of the government told his party chiefs.

FRANCE CONCERNED ONLY IN RUHR AND RHINELAND

PARIS, Nov. 19.—France's determination to continue the occupation until the treaty of Versailles has been executed and protection assured as expressed by Premier Poincare, applies only to the Rhineland and the bridgeheads, according to an official foreign office statement, issued through the Havas agency today. The statement adds that the decision concerning the Ruhr is dependent upon an agreement with Belgium.

RHINELAND PEASANTS OPPOSE SEPARATISTS, EIGHT DIE IN CLASH

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Eight persons were killed and 60 wounded in renewed fighting between peasants and Rhineland separatists at Hinberg early today, dispatches from Dusseldorf said. French troops interfered and dispersed 1,000 separatists. The peasants fled when the French arrived.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH OF RANGER FREE OF DEBT

Yesterday was a great day for the First Christian church in Ranger. Good congregation participated in a service at the morning hour.

In the evening, after the sermon, T. C. Ramey came forward at the request of the pastor and made a splendid talk on the two-fold duty of a church member. At the close of this talk he announced that the debt on the church, which was $2,700, had been settled in full. After this an old-fashioned talk meeting was engaged in and all went away happy to know that the Christian church in Ranger was out of debt. The congregation plans to do some improvement which will add much to the general appearance of the church.

Need of daily prayer: Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me; then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression.

INTERNATIONAL GOOD WILL
Every race and every nation likes to believe that it has a mission in the world. The Goddess of Liberty with her flaming torch symbolizes American leadership in a sense that we of America hardly realize. To the American who travels abroad, there comes a startling impression of the pre-eminent place which the United States today occupies among the nations of the world.

Regardless of international or national politics, we agree in our desire to express international friendliness. The very foundation of our understanding of this international friendliness is the biblical instruction, "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

Golden Rule Sunday, which Americans and Europeans alike will observe on December 2, should commemorate and re-emphasize this American principle of a new brotherhood among the nations. It should emphasize not only the great sums given to alleviate human suffering, for which America is honored among nations, but the spirit of friendliness which has been back of those gifts.

It is entirely possible to make this day a day for stretching friendly hands across the oceans and continents. Never was there a more opportune time for such a demonstration. With fear, jealousy and suspicion running rampant throughout Europe, there is a place and a mission for the calm friendliness and human sympathy which is the common heritage of us all. It should find a universal expression and emphasis on this Golden Rule Sunday, which embodies the very essence of America's steady purpose through all the surface changes that have come and gone.

The world needs sympathy and help. The present danger to civilization is imminent and fundamental. Only the united efforts of all peoples can solve the problems which face us today. Never can they be solved in any spirit of selfishness. The only remedy lies in a united friendliness and helpfulness. This is the spirit in which we shall all gather at a common board on December 2. And is it emphatically the spirit for which the statesmen of America have stood four-square through every succeeding wave of world-crisis. It is the spirit which will conquer.

So, while the world is discouraged by the political failure of the great Powers in the peace, and by the sufferings and greeds and cruelties which have followed, the peoples of all nations are reaching out slowly but surely, toward the fundamental idea of brotherhood, as the solution of the situation.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER REPLIES TO THE TIMES

To the Editor of the Ranger Times: On Friday, Nov. 16, there appeared in the Ranger Daily Times, an article which stated that the staff of the "Touchdown," the yearbook of the Ranger high school, had entered into a contract for the publication of the annual without asking for competitive bids.

In every school where an annual is published, it is a well known fact that early in the school year, and often in the previous year, printers and engravers advertise the fact that they are desirous of doing the work, send samples of previous work done and visit the school and ask for the work.

This has been the case in Ranger high school this year; every house which has advertised their work has been considered; every contract sent for our inspection has been considered. All local dealers knew the work was to be done, but they sent no representatives, no advertisements, no samples of former work; in fact, they showed in no way that they were fitted to do such work, and as the Ranger high school teachers and pupils are ordinary human beings depending on the same means of communication as the other citizens of Ranger, they did not learn that the local dealers desired to bid. They considered the offered contracts, selected the best to their knowledge, and awarded the contract.

We have asked for this plain statement of facts because the article in the Times stated that "it would seem that the teachers who fail to instill this thought (to buy at home) into the minds of the students are lacking in the knowledge of citizenship. They fail to get outside the narrow horizon of the three 'r's' and are unable to direct the students in larger ways."

Considering the fact that the teachers are not mind reads and that they have no information regarding the ability of any local dealer to publish an annual, is this a just accusation?

During the school year 1923-23 ending in September, the Ranger schools spent $1,049.54 for printing done in Ranger. The Hi-hub, the semi-monthly High school paper, was published in Ranger. Since September, the Ranger schools have already spent $601.60 for printing done in Ranger and the "Gusher," the high school monthly publication, is printed in Ranger at a greater cost than bids offered by an Abilene firm.

This is positive proof that we "buy at home" when the business men of Ranger let us know that they have something to buy. The teachers of Ranger high school are loyal citizens but not super-citizens, they teach good citizenship but not mind reading.

PSYCHOLOGIST SAYS KLAN RECALLS HAMLET

"Youth is impulsive; old age is conservative. The Ku Klux Klan is ultra-impulsive. Imagination, prejudice and hatred supplant judgement and reason. Impatient at the law's delay, scandalized by the immunity enjoyed by any prominent law breaker, unable to obtain the enactment or enforcement of laws against acts firmly believed to be injurious to the welfare of the state, the Ku Klux Klan impulsively proceeds to set up a super-state.

"What suggestions can psychology offer in the matter of dealing with the Klan?"

"First the public must accept the proposition that the Ku Klux Klan is serious and conscientious in undertaking to 'uphold the constitution of the United States' and to 'work for a better America.' This in spite of grotesque costumes, mistaken conceptions of law and order, and outrage committed against innocent or guilty citizens.

"Second, any attempt to suppress the Klan by violence or by ridicule will be worse than wasted. It is easier to reform the crusader than to reform the martyr.

"Third, the Klan must come into the open and must operate under the laws of the land, and not as a super-state. If state officials are lax in the enforcement of law, the Klan must help other good citizens to stimulate them to action, or, if necessary, to remove them by process of law.

"The Ku Kluxers have as much right as any one to don regalia and to indulge in mystic rituals and queer antics. It is the height of folly to arrest them for participating in these innocent pastimes.

"On the other hand, every violation of law must be ruthlessly punished, and any attempt of any organization to set up a government of its own must be branded, not as un-American, but as treason."

EASTLAND RETAIL MERCHANTS TO MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

The Eastland Retail Merchants' association will hold a meeting Tuesday night, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Chamber of Commerce, according to an announcement by Miss Marie Stevens, secretary. It is to be the regular semi-monthly meeting, with the usual routine business up for discussion.

In addition, the members will hear reports from the special committees appointed at the last meeting, to consider plans for a business revival of some sort, and to recommend to the city commissioners that Eastland have sufficient daylight police protection to enforce the city ordinances and guard against robbery.

Delays To Extend High School Race One Extra Week

The Texas Interscholastic league football championship race must last a week longer on account of unavoidable delays, according to Fort Worth press advices.

Roy B. Henderson, secretary of the league, according to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, said Sunday that circumstances had prevented the establishment of a champion in five sections, and another will be required to determine winners for inter-sectional battles. If there are no more delays, the championship game will be played Christmas week.

With her crushing defeat of Comanche Saturday, Stephenville High school hopped into the running for section three honors, when it was believed that she was a weak contender for the championship of this section. Stephenville will play Abilene for this honor next Friday at Stephenville.

Undisputed sectional champions now are: 1, Amarillo; 2, Ralls; 4, Wichita Falls; 6, Texarkana; 8, Lampasas; 9, Waco; 10, Livingston; 11, Sabina; 12, Granger; 13, Calvert; 16, Corpus Christi.

Some of the sectional champions have already been matched by Henderson. Date or place of the games have not been decided upon. The teams have until Dec. 1 to play the games, but they may play any time between now and then, it is stated.

Following are the teams that have been paired for the first round of the inter-sectional game:

Amarillo vs. Ralls.
Waco vs. Calvert.
Corpus Christi vs. Sabinal.
Probable pairings in other sections will be:

Wichita Falls vs. the winner of the Oak Cliff-Forest game.
Texarkana vs. Livingston.
The winner of 14 vs. winner in 15.
Lampasas vs. Granger.
Winner of 3 vs. winner in 7.

RANGER TELEPHONE GIRLS CHOOSE DATE FOR THEIR AMATEUR THEATRICALS

"The Ugliest of Seven," a German play and often produced by college and university casts, will be offered as well as a curtain raiser, "The Case of Sophronia."

To insure a big attendance, the girls are going to sell the admission tickets themselves.

Why Bob Hansford, Veteran of Two Wars, Bearing the Scars of Battle, is Soon to Leave Ranger; Coming Election Forecast.

By P. G. T.

Ranger stands to lose one of her largest and best-liked citizens, as good a pipe line contractor as ever used tobacco; a veteran of the World war, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, a veteran of many and sundry private wars, including the daily battle for beans. Bob Hansford's-for, in sooth, such a man could be no other-last battle during the World war was the battle of Stonewall. Bob fought this battle all by himself, with the aid of his trusty iron steed—a two-lung motorcycle. The battle came about in this manner:

Our hero and his trusty iron steed was on government business, hurry-up stuff. Speed was paramount, chickens and dogs were unimportant; to arrive was the thing, to arrive hurriedly was the important thing. Chickens and other farm produce had been met and conquered at the terrific speed of 70 miles an hour, then came a short turn in the road, behind which was concealed a stone wall. The wall loomed up ominously, its very attitude seeming to say, "thou shalt not pass." Bob admits that he was tempted to stop and parley, to get by the wall with the aid of trickery if no other means presented itself. But the iron steed was obdurate. It had all confidence in its iron frame and two, fast parting lungs. Its battle cry was "thou shalt not hinder."

When Bob awoke he was reclining between cool sheets. A motorcycle was going around inside his head, occasionally speeding to other parts of his tortured frame, with a return trip ticket. Somebody said "take this" and again consciousness left him and he dreamed that his motorcycle had wings attached and was looping the loop over a stone wall.

But this does not explain why Bob is leaving town. Bob is traveling on because of two of the above mentioned wars, the Spanish-American and World. Bob got his pension from the former war last week to join the old kid's compensation from the latter war coming in right along. But let Bob finish this tale:

"Boys, got muh pension from the Spanish-American war yesterday; got compensation, too. Nothin' to do now but pile into the red Studebaker and go out to the soldiers' home at Santa Monica. I'm going out there, get myself a cane and a pair of specks. They furnish all tobacco, clothes and feed out there. Nothing to do with the old pension except to put it into a swell green Lincoln and drive around the beaches. Why should a man waste his time pipe lining when he can do a thing like that?"

The chief cohorts of the mayor of Thurber paid us a little visit Saturday night. Seldom has it been our pleasure to see men who hold such weighty positions as these and who at the same time appeared to be in such exuberant spirits.

One of the party drew us aside and made a confidential statement to the effect that the mayor was in the party and traveling incognito. He had the same appearance as the rest of the boys and it was impossible to pick him out. A blunt question to the party as a whole regarding the identity of the mayor, caused each of them to accuse the other of holding that honor.

Mort Furst, playfully called Moore Thurst, by his companions, and Geo. Polaski, both members of the mayorality party, are to compete for the mayorship in the next election, it is understood.

POINCARE SAYS FRANCE WOULD AVOID QUARREL

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Premier Poincare took issue with Prime Minister Baldwin of Great Britain today as to who is to blame for the present Franco-British difficulties, when he arose to speak unexpectedly in the chamber of deputies.

"I can not let it be said that it is our fault and agreement has not been reached," Poincare said. "For several years we have not ceased to make concessions from our rights and it is not on our side that the attitude is uncompromising."

Eastland Mavericks Defeat Gorman High By Score 20 to 0

Eastland Mavericks won over the Gorman High school by the score of 20 to 0. The game was hard fought throughout, but the Mavericks' goal was not in danger until the final quarter. Gorman fought hard at all stages of the game but was unable to stop the powerful backfield of the Mavericks. At no time did Eastland fail to gain until the last quarter. Fumbles were costly to the Mavericks and once a fumble on Gorman's five-yard line cost the Eastland team a touchdown.

The side-stepping of Captain Mitchell was the feature of the game. Mitchell's gains were cut short by the lack of interference but several times he got away side-stepping several would-be tackles. Especially was Mitchell good in returning punts. Only twice during the entire game was Mitchell called on to punt. Each time he punted 45 yards.

Maddox was easily the star of the Gorman team, making several nice gains, one for 27 yards or more. Captain Pittman, who played center during the first quarter but substituted at quarter in the remainder of the game, played a good game, doing all of the punting for Gorman. His punts average 35 yards.

Eastland's first touchdown came late in the final quarter when Gorman attempted a place kick from Eastland's 30-yard line, but the kick was blocked and Neil Day grabbed the ball, running 65 yards for a touchdown. Mitchell place-kicked a goal in the play after touchdown. The quarter ended with the ball on Eastland's 60-yard line.

In the third quarter after Mitchell placed the ball on Gorman's five-yard line, C. Hunt made two through center and R. Cox, who had been substituted for Lawrence, carried the ball over, being his first touchdown of the year in an interscholastic game. Mitchell failed to kick goal.

The Mavericks' last touchdown came in the final period, being a bit of luck more than straight football. Mitchell, who received Pittman's punt, returning it 10 yards, punted to the Gorman safety, who fumbled, the ball rolling over the goal line. E. Cox fell on the ball making Eastland's last touchdown. Mitchell kicked goal.

The game almost terminated in a fight when the referee, Walker, put Laffoon, Eastland's right end, off the field. In a few words exchanged between them Walker struck Laffoon. The spectators broke across the sideline and on to the field, the two factions almost came to blows. Walker was resumed, however, when Walker apologized. The game ended with the ball on Eastland's five-yard line.

MILITARY AND NAVAL TERMS

Definitions of military and naval terms, grouped together under a single heading, is one of the special features of The New Universities Dictionary now being offered to readers of this paper, contributing to the splendid success attending the distribution of the book. In reading about the war, not infrequently the reports contain some word or expression with which the average reader is unfamiliar.

The meaning of such terms can readily be had by turning to The New Universities Dictionary, as well as that of many expressions which have come into more common usage since the continent of Europe became one vast battle ground and the high seas turned into a "danger zone" by the naval operations of the contending powers.

Coupons are being redeemed in large quantities, so enthusiastically has the offer been received, and it is evident that The New Universities Dictionary is finding its way into the business office as well as the home.

What is believed to be the earliest recorded example of indirect lighting is credited to Queen Victoria, when in 1890, at her suggestion, the Durbar room at Osborne was illuminated entirely by "deflected" light, not a lamp or fixture or any course of light being noticeable.

Scoffer At Golf Now Counted With Its Enthusiasts

By Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 17.—M. Tardieu has become a devotee of outdoor sports, but until recently a great deal of mystery surrounded his sporting activities. It has now become known that, braving the dangers the ancient and honorable game has held for the political fortunes of other public men of France, he has boldly taken up golf.
Some fun-makers recall that M. Tardieu severely jibed former Premier Briand for playing golf with Lloyd George at Cannes just before M. Briand's ministerial career was interrupted for the seventh time. M. Tardieu was not alone in chaffing the premier at that time, and that unfortunate round of the links was made to bear the onus of Briand's fall. Golf immediately became unpopular with aspirants for political honors.
M. Tardieu is now confronted with the problem not only of learning the game but of bringing it back into repute among statesmen. It is said that so far he has succeeded with the technical part of his job and that he is now willing to play before a gallery, taking a chance as to what effect his game may have on his political career.
A whale caught off Greenland had in its body the head of a harpoon, which experts estimate had been there at least 50 years.
