TEXAS DOCTORS TO DRIVE OUT "FAKES"

Farmers In Ranger Area Offered Opportunity To Borrow Money To Develop Farm Lands

MEDICAL QUACKS FLOCKING INTO STATE, CHARGED

EARLE JOHNSON RECALLS STORY OF MAHOMET

Announces He Will Be at Peoples State Bank, in Ranger, Next Saturday.

RANGER, Nov. 24.—With more than a score of application for loans on farm lands filed with the Eastland County Land Loan Association since first announcement several weeks ago that it would soon be ready to do business, not a single application has been received from any farmer in the Ranger territory, Earle Johnson, manager of the new organization, said Saturday.

"Why is this?" asked Mr. Johnson. "The banks in Ranger do not seek farm loans. They handle commercial paper. Are the farmers about Ranger so prosperous they need no help to develop their agricultural lands? They may be, but there is yet the chance to bring in desirable home seekers who lack sufficient cash to buy farms outright and need some help in getting started. Such home seekers make desirable citizens and should be encouraged.

Coming to Ranger. Mr. Johnson believes no applications have come from the Ranger territory, because Eastland, where he makes his headquarters, is too far away for farmers who live on the opposite side of Ranger. He has, therefore, arranged to be at the Peoples State bank in Ranger next Saturday from 10 o'clock in the morning through the day, to receive farmers who may wish to file applications for loans with the Eastland County Land Loan association, and explain the method of procedure to them.

EASTLAND, Nov. 24.—The charter for the Eastland County National Land Loan association has arrived from Waco, Earle Johnson, agent, announced Saturday and the formalities now are being complied with.

The Eastland office thus becomes a part of the Federal Land Bank system of which Waco is the center for the district including Texas.

The Eastland County National Land Loan association has been in existence not much longer than one week and it has established a record for becoming full-fledged in a short time, under the guidance of Johnson, who is in charge of the work for the whole county.

Applications Roll In. The Eastland establishment more than doubled this requirement the first week of its existence. As told at the time in The Daily Telegram, the Eastland County National Farm Loan association began business with 22 applications for loans, totaling $65,000, and business has been brisk ever since.

This land bank branch makes it possible for any honorable citizen of Eastland county, whose record is clean, to borrow money for the purchase or improvement of any amount of farm land. It is not necessary that the borrower have an imposing amount of collateral and he able to give a long line of surety. If the land in question is any good at all, and the intentions of the holder are straightforward, the Eastland County National Farm Loan association will finance the proposition with an ample loan, within reason, at a low rate of interest.

Earle Johnson, who heads the association in Eastland, or the officials of the Chamber of Commerce, will be glad to explain the proposal in detail to all interested inquirers.

Next Saturday, Dec. 1, has been set as the time for an open meeting, at Ranger, in the Peoples State bank there, for the purpose of explaining the workings of the Federal Land bank system. All farmers in the vicinity of Ranger are invited to attend this meeting. Johnson will be there to answer all questions.

Million Gentlemen Farmers In U. S. Says Speaker At Meeting

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Nearly all American farmers have come to be "gentleman farmers," declares James R. Howard, president of the National Transportation institute, at a farmers' and traffic men's convention. "The term 'dirt farmer,' doesn't describe the American agriculturalist," said Howard. "The real distinction is that the 'gentleman farmer' doesn't do it for money, but instead, pays money for the privilege of being a farmer. On that basis the great majority of American farmers are 'gentleman farmers.' The gentleman farmer is above the necessity of making money out of his farm and holds a high social position. We have more than a million gentleman farmers in America and they ought to put on more airs than they do."

Eastland County Farmers Terracing For Better Crops

EASTLAND, Nov. 24.—R. H. Bush, county agent, who is giving special attention this fall and winter to the matter of terracing, reported Saturday that he had just completed a demonstration of that work on six farms in the Rising Star territory. On these six places, 39 terraces were laid out, approximately 6,500 lineal yards, taking care of 300 acres. Thirty men took part in the demonstration.

Terracing is something new in Texas, though it has been tried for several years in parts of the far west and in the extreme east. Only recently was the scheme introduced in West Texas and all of the county agents are taking it up. The idea of terracing farm land is double-barreled: It improves the drainage, conserves the water supply and in addition it holds the soil in place and prevents erosion. The terrace expert is like the landscape gardener. He views the land and lays out a plan whereby it can be reformed in such manner as to prevent waste. The landscape artist works for beauty while the terrace authority builds for utility, but both have to have the same training and employ the same methods.

A farm on a rocky hillside may be almost worthless because it cannot retain moisture and because it slopes in such shape that its top soil is constantly washed away until all nourishment is gone. Proper terracing can remodel this tract until it is fertile as the green bay tree and blossoms as the rose. It is comparatively easy to lay out a system of inland dikes, which is what terracing amounts to, in such manner that the washing of soil will be counteracted and the water turned back on the land.

Bush is giving particular attention to this work and any farmer in Eastland county can obtain his services for a terracing demonstration free of charge by filing application with the county agent.

FRENCH EXPECT TO CAPITALIZE CONTROL OF RUHR INDUSTRIES

PARIS, Nov. 24.—A Franco-German agreement giving the French control of the output of the Ruhr basin will be used as a lever to overcome British opposition to continued French control of the occupied area, it is stated here. The agreement, made with German industrial leaders, gives France control of the entire output of the mines, factories and chemical plants.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE BEING PLANNED

Lions Behind Movement to Help Poor Children Enjoy the Holidays.

RANGER, Nov. 23.—Not one boy or girl will be overlooked Christmas day in Ranger when Santa Claus makes his annual visit. The Lions club of Ranger is going to see to it that every deserving child is made happy on this, the greatest of all festivals, in the Christian world.

The Lions' plan briefly is this: Persons knowing the name and address of children, whose parents may not be able to remember them Christmas day, will be expected to leave information about them at the Gholson hotel office or at the Ranger Daily Times business office. On Christmas day, there will be a card with the name attached thereon of the child, whose name and address was left at one of the two places, placed on a gift at the big Christmas tree. The big tree, which will be the gift of M. H. Hagaman, will be placed at a prominent downtown street intersection.

The Lions are now raising funds with which to buy the gifts to go on the tree.

Jameson has had made an attractive sign to be placed probably in the lobby of the Gholson hotel. It reads: "Do you know of some poor child, who will not get a visit from Santa Claus?"

"Place his or her name in this box and Santa Claus will make them a visit at the Lion's municipal Christmas."

Jameson emphasized that it will not interfere with any plans the Child Welfare society, Elks or any other organization may have for that day. He also declared that the Lions were merely sponsoring the proposition. "It is a municipal affair. The Lions are sponsoring the affair and they don't look upon it as a strictly club idea. The Lions will raise the money, do the work and carry on the advertising."

FORMER GOVERNOR OF OKLAHOMA TO APPEAR IN COURT THIS WEEK

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24.—J. C. Walton, deposed governor of Oklahoma, will be arraigned in the district court next Wednesday upon seven indictments against him, returned by the grand jury. Walton appeared in the district court today and asked for more time to prepare his answer to the charges, which were scheduled to come up today. His request was granted.

INFLUENCE BEING EXERTED TO KEEP MAN OUT OF JAIL

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Political and private pressure was brought to bear from all quarters today to save Comptroller Charles L. Craig of New York from serving a sentence of 60 days in jail on an issue of "free speech." Craig was held in contempt by Federal Judge Julian M. Mayer because he criticized the court in connection with the Brooklyn Rapid Transit receivership. The supreme court upheld Judge Mayer.

United States Senator Copeland, Assistant Secretary of Navy Roosevelt and many other leading Republicans are seeking a presidential pardon for Craig.

FORMER EDITOR CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR DEAD

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Frederick Dixon, editor of the International Interpreter and formerly editor in chief of the Christian Science Monitor, died tonight at his home here. He was born in London and came over to the United States in 1908 to assist Mrs. Mary G. Baker Eddy in establishing the Monitor.

Henry Ford May Yet Be Candidate For President If Untrammelled

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 24.—Henry Ford will be a candidate for the presidency of the United States if he can run on an independent ticket and not be bound by any party dictates, according to Robert Pointer, a friend of Henry Ford and a leader in the Ford movement. "Ford has not declined to be a candidate," said Pointer. A meeting is to be held next week in Dearborn to advance Ford's candidacy.

Business Structure Long Idle Soon To Be Restored to Use

RANGER, Nov. 24.—After an almost apparent endless siege of court litigation, the three-story Harper-Barnes building, West Main street, but best known as the Commercial hotel, is now the sole property of J. L. Halbert of Corsicana. Halbert is going to make a two-story brick building out of the structure, which was gutted by fire in May, 1921. He made this statement at Eastland early in the week when he appeared there to sign important court papers, bearing on the building.

He told Lytton R. Taylor, Ranger attorney, representing the state banking department, that he would be in Ranger at an early date to see about the reconstruction of the building. An eyesore for more than two years, and considered by tenants in neighboring buildings to have a depreciatory effect upon their rented property, the litigation has dragged along for more than two years.

Eight claimants to the ground and building have resulted in 21 lawsuits being filed and the employment of 13 lawyers in the effort to clear up the title to the property, a lawyer, who has followed the fortunes of the property, said today.

The eight claimants were A. Davernport, trustee for both C. J. Harper and Barnes estates, J. L. Halbert, Texas Bank and Trust company, Guaranty State Bank, F. & M. State bank, Albert Pick and company and E. Y. Jennings.

The building was erected by Cleve Barnes and C. J. Harper in 1920. It is 140x50 feet in dimensions. The lower floor before the fire was occupied by a pool and billiard parlor, and the two upper floors by the Commercial hotel.

OPEN FORUM DISCUSSION

President of County Constitutional Club Replies to Klaliff of the Eastland Klan With Reference to Oath Subscribed to by Klan.

EASTLAND, Texas, November 24.—The following open letter from the president of the County Constitutional club has been sent to the Eastland Telegram for publication.

Mr. C. C. Roby, Kligraph, Eastland Klan No. 128: In your communication published in The Telegram of Nov. 18, you state, in effect:

"That if the oath of a Klansman as quoted by me in the issue of the Telegram, of date the 11th inst., is correct, and all there was to the oath of a Klansman, then you certainly would not belong, and that if the imperial instructions quoted by me were all the instructions in Document No. 1, you would not be a Klansman."

The quotations by me were not all of the obligation nor all of the imperial instructions, but those parts quoted were true and correct, and you failed to say what was true, too.

PRESIDENT OF GERMANY WANTS PEACE MAKER

May Decide to Dissolve the Reichstag and Recall Stresemann.

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—After Herr Siegfried von Kardorff, a landowner and member of the reichstag and dominant party, had declined the invitation of President Ebert to attempt the formation of a new cabinet, the president conferred with Deputy Hargt, who tonight appeared a possible successor to Stresemann. He is a member of the center Catholic party. He is studying the situation tonight, sounding out sundry members for cabinet positions with an eye to their aid if he consents to take over the ship of state.

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—President Ebert of Germany, despairing of the possibilities of finding a successor to Chancellor Stresemann capable of bringing together all of the sundry quarrelling factions within the republic, tonight considered the prospect of dissolving the reichstag and recalling Stresemann himself to the chancellorship. Chancellor Stresemann's ministry formally resigned last night following refusal by the reichstag, 230 to 155, to give Chancellor Stresemann a vote of confidence.

FIRE STARTS CLEAN-UP OF GAINING TOWN IN MEXICO NEAR BORDER

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 24.—President Obregon of Mexico may forbid the rebuilding of Tia Juana, which was partly destroyed by fire yesterday. According to reports received here today, President Obregon has been planning a cleanup of the border towns for some time and Tia Juana has long been regarded with official displeasure.

About half the town was destroyed by the flames which spread rapidly because of the large number of frame buildings. Many gambling houses and saloons were wiped out by the fire and many American tourists, visiting them, were compelled to beat a hurried retreat. There was no loss of life, but the property loss is placed at about $250,000.

POINCARÉ GETS DECISIVE VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

PARIS, Nov. 24.—The French chamber of deputies yesterday gave Premier Poincaré a vote of confidence by the impressive majority of 500 to 70, so he stands once more as the supreme power of France, a triumphant victor over his critics.

Fall of Stresemann Government May Prove Bad For Germany

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—That the fall of the Stresemann government in Germany means a change for the worse in the German situation is feared in authoritative circles here today. France fears that a reactionary government will be formed in Germany that will refuse to attempt further reparations payments.

Among those close to the German government it is believed that what will amount to a military dictatorship will follow the fall of Chancellor Stresemann. The American government is watching developments with close attention. It is stated at the White House that the American government would view the collapse of Germany with the gravest concern.

TWO CONSULATES IN PHILADELPHIA ARE WRECKED BY BOMBS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—The Italian and Spanish consulates in southern Philadelphia were partially wrecked by two bomb explosions today.

The first bomb was exploded on the steps of the Spanish consul's home about 1 o'clock this morning. The second bomb was exploded a short time afterwards at the Sons of Italians bank, above which the Italian consul was located. In the blast at the Spanish consulate, buildings were shaken and glass broken for a radius of six blocks. Many persons were hurled from their beds by the shock and a number were out by broken glass and bruised by falls. Police rushed to the scene and thousands of citizens gathered to contemplate the wreckage. While excitement there was at its height, the bomb was exploded at the Italian consulate.

Both the Italian and Spanish consuls escaped injury. No person was seriously hurt by either bomb, but more than a score were cut and bruised, but most of these having no connection at all with either consulate.

No motive for the two outrages has yet been revealed.

GOVERNMENT AND MEAT PACKERS TO DETERMINE LONG STANDING DISPUTE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The government and the meat packers are about to fight out in the courts the long disputed right of the government to lay bare the business record of big industry. The question has a vital bearing on proposed legislation to regulate the coal industry in relation to prices and the prevention of unreasonable profits.

The purpose of the present mandamus proceeding brought by Secretary Wallace is to see if the government can enforce its demand for the packers to open their books for government audit, it is just a beginning. The issue between the agricultural department and the packers is clear cut. The proceedings were brought under the packers and stockyards act, on the strength of which Secretary Wallace has levied a demand on the packers that they throw open their books to his auditors. The packers refused and Wallace has asked they be compelled to do so. The action leads straight to the United States supreme court, where it finally will be decided.

RIOTS OF UNEMPLOYED AGAIN DISTURB THE RUHR

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—Unemployed riots broke out throughout the Ruhr tonight. French troops and German police were helpless to quell the disturbances.

Recognized Physicians Plan Campaign to Warn People Against Frauds.

FORT WORTH, Nov. 24.—A drive on "quack" doctors in Texas will be started in January by the Sstate Medical association, Dr. Holman Taylor, Fort Worth, secretary of the organization, announced today.

Activities in the Egst, where a fake physicians' ring is under investigation, caused the association to decide on this step, Dr. Taylor asserted. The campaign will be started with a lecture tour by at least 100 reputable recognized physicians in which the state will be covered, health talks being given and warnings against "quack" doctors issued.

A wave of resentment has swept the state among the reputable doctors against physicians, alleged to be "quacks," and while charges will not be filed against physicians whose credentials are questionable, officials will be given assistance to eliminate them.

Quacks, driven out of other states, are congregating in Texas, Taylor warned.

Coolidge's Message To Congress Now Is Virtually Finished

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—A warning against legislation as likely to disturb public confidence or business stability will be given congress by President Coolidge in his first message. He hopes there will be little legislation enacted aside from necessary appropriation bills and immigration law with possible some miscellaneous laws.

With the rest of the world disturbed and troubled and this country on the eve of a national election, it is regarded no time to launch on legislative experiments. The message is virtually finished and ready for the printer. Among its recommendations are: That congress reduce taxes.

That the condition of the government finances will make it possible if congress has any regard for the budget. Congress will be asked not to create any new debts that will increase taxation, to adhere strictly to the budget and avoid all "pork barrel" measures.

That full provision be made for disabled veterans. On the soldier bonus question, the president is expected to express himself as clearly as did Harding that a bonus cannot be paid without destroying all chances of reducing taxation.

That an immigration law should be enacted which will not be adverse to labor interests but will admit a reasonable number of desirable immigrants.

The president is expected to recommend that Muscle Shoals be put to work to produce fertilizer for the farmers, if not by sale to Henry Ford then in some other way.

BOY SCOUTS

To the Citizens:
We are well organized along every line except for attention to our most vital asset—our growing boys:

The federal, state and county governments maintain a county farm agent in our midst to help us improve our hogs, our cattle and crops. We have chambers of commerce.

Our city government maintains a street department, a health department, a fire department and the strong arm of law.

Our churches and schools are doing splendid work, but cannot extend their activities to fill the 3,000 hours of unsupervised time that our average American boy is spending away from their leadership. They need help.

Coupled with home, church and school, Scouting has come to be recognized as a fundamental American institution. We want it for our Ranger boys. It has been tried and has rung true. The past four presidents of our nation—Coolidge, Harding, Wilson and Roosevelt, have all been ardent promoters of the Boy Scouts of America.

Our heart goes out to the thousands of fine boys who are annually "stumbling into citizenship"—utterly unconscious of the sacred birthright which has been won with the lifeblood of patriots and the vision of pioneers.

Let us invest in this great citizenship training and character building program for our boys.

We spent $44.00 per capita in the United States for tobacco, movies, soft drinks, candy and chewing gum alone last year. Surely the poorest laboring man under whose breast a patriotic heart beats can invest one dollar monthly, if he will. We stand ready to do our part for the future of Ranger and America. Won't you do yours?

(Signed) BOY SCOUT COMMITTEE

Why Ranger Needs Scouts.

RANGER, Nov. 24.—In connection with this appeal and in view of a movement to organize the Boy Scouts of Eastland county under one directing board, the following statement has been made on behalf of the Boy Scouts of Ranger in answer to the question, "why does Ranger need Boy Scouts?"

1. Because ten per cent of the population of Ranger are boys.

2. Because the average American boy has 3,000 leisure hours to spend annually away from the leadership of home, church and school.

3. That leisure time must be filled.

4. With activities that will teach him the duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

5. Prepare him to take his place in the community life.

6. As a verile man of character trained for the active acceptance of the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship in our own United States of America—a real patriot to the cause of "preserving America for future generations."

Experience covering 13 years of operation, during which time 3,000,000 different boys have been members, has shown that the Boy Scout program, supplementing and used by the home, the church and the school, meets those needs.

Scouting is a recognized success in practically every city in the United States where organized on this efficient basis.

We all agree that the Boy Scout movement should be maintained for the boys of Ranger, in keeping with the Boy Scout work of any other section of the country. Our boys are our greatest asset.

The Scouts call. Will the citizenry of Ranger respond. Shall we give heed to the appeal? The Scout movement has been in constant development since its organization. Will Ranger back up the Scout movement? We have many boys in Ranger anxious to join, but thus far the town has supported only two troops. And the latter are backed up by one civic organization. Numerous boys apply for admission, and we have to turn them down due to the limited basis upon which we are now operating. Shall these boys be deprived of the Scout movement? Shall we permit ourselves to lie dormant and leave the implication that we have no interest in them? Will the citizenry of Ranger permit other towns to surpass them in this movement? Or will each individual put his shoulder to the wheel and help push this movement?

Are the Scouts doing anything in Ranger. Answer, yes.

We have the best trained traffic squad in Texas.

We have the best trained fire squad in Texas.

We have the best drilled Scouts in Texas.

Ranger should be proud of its Scouts, but we can only take care of 64. Scoutmasters Wassoff and Pettit constantly receive applications from boys for admission, but owing to the limited facilities and finances have to turn them down. Both of the scoutmasters dearly love the boys and are devoting an appreciable portion of their time to Scout work. Shall we be partial to the 64 present Scouts, or shall we extend the movement to give other boys an equal chance?

The verdict is up to us citizens. Will you back up the Scout movement?

SHALL RANGER OWN HER WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM

Views of Some Tax Payers on Question of Buying Public Utility.

RANGER, Nov. 24.—The Ranger city commission has had the Ranger water supply system appraised and, in company with the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, is studying the question "Shall the City of Ranger Buy and Own the Water Supply?" It is proposed to mill the subject carefully and view it from every viewpoint. After that is done if the purchase of the water supply system appears advisable to the city commission and members of the Chamber of Commerce, the question will be placed before the tax-paying voters of Ranger to learn their wishes.

Anticipating that some of the citizens are already conferring with themselves relative to the purchase of the water plant, The Ranger Times has interviewed a number of citizens to learn their views. Here are some of the replies:

J. C. Smith, merchant—Let the city buy it if the plant is worth it.

C. E. May, banker—Ranger ought to own the water system if the plant is worth the price. I don't believe in recommending anything that is not worth the money. If the city owned the plant the citizens wouldn't have to take the promises of the owner to get better or more water. The city can operate such a plant cheaply.

James Davenport, property owner—The time has come when the people of Ranger are compelled to give her citizens pure drinking water. People will not build homes in Ranger if the city hasn't sufficient supply of good drinking water. What does a visitor think when he goes to the faucet and he is told, "don't drink that water?"

J. M. Dodson, bank cashier—I never knew of a city that amounted to anything that didn't own its water system. If we can buy it without paying a big premium, we ought to buy it.

Charles Bobo, hardware merchant—As I understand it, we are getting no more than we have. If we are getting fresh water fit for all purposes, drinking as well as sprinkling I'd be for it. If they'd put in wells on the east side, I'd be for it. As I see it at the present time, we'd have to spend $70,000 or more for improvements. That is a great deal.

Charles Bobo said that his father, S. W. Bobo, real estate owner in Ranger, held similar views.

J. B. Beeson mail carrier—If it'd make the water pure, I think it'll be alright.

Mrs. George Bohning, real estate holder—That which gives us the best service will have my approval, whether it be the city or the private company. There are advantages to both sides.

H. C. Jones, manager Harman's Red Cross Drug store—I believe we would get better service. If the Ranger Waterworks company made money out of it, the city surely can. I feel the plant would be a success if municipally owned. Keep it out of politics. It should save the taxpayers some money. I have always been for public ownership of utilities.

W. J. McFarland, automobile salesman—If the city gets water for all purposes it is a fine proposition. We want water like Cisco and Abilene have. If we can't have it, then I doubt the wisdom of it.

K. C. Jones, owner of the Jones flour mill—I'm for it without knowing much about it. I'm in favor of Cisco water being piped to the system.

J. M. White, merchant and holder of Ranger real estate—Good water is what we all want. I don't care whether the city or Mr. Hagaman furnishes it.

Joseph Kramer, bookkeeper, Leveille-Maher Motor company—I believe the city should own its water works plant.

A. E. Firmin, lawyer—I'm not for public ownership of everything, but in case of a waterworks plant, I am. I think every town worthy of the name should own its water plant.

EASTLAND PLANS FOR COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE

Sets Goal at $15,000 in Campaign of Two Days.

EASTLAND, Nov. 24.—Eastland's Community Chest campaign will be ushered in with a mass meeting on Thanksgiving Day next Thursday.

Preliminary work will begin in all of the churches of Eastland on Sunday morning, to be carried out every night during the week at the picture shows.

The drive for funds will be put on over a period of two days, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. It was thought by some of the promoters that the Thanksgiving spirit of giving would be more in evidence on the two days preceding the national feast day rather than on the two days following, but it was found impracticable to put on the campaign Tuesday and Wednesday.

The tentative goal set for the 1924 Community Chest for Eastland is $15,000. Efforts will be made to "go over the top" with this sum in the two days' campaigning. The drive is under the leadership of John Knox, with the direction of the executive committee headed by W. H. Sewell, chairman.

At 11 o'clock Sunday morning, in each of the churches of Eastland, there will be representatives of the executive committee, five-minute speakers, such as appeared during the World war, who will explain in detail the working of the Community Chest idea, and ask for the co-operation of all the congregations.

The first of the week, at a time and place to be announced later by Chairman Sewell, there will be a meeting of the executive committee to work out final plans for the drive. At that time the program for the Thanksgiving mass meeting will be announced and the chairman will designate the various campaign committees with their captains, who will make the drive for $15,000.

The Thanksgiving Day mass meeting will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in the city hall auditorium. There will be special music and a devotional period with fitting Thanksgiving features. Sewell, Knox and others, who are working out the details of the Community Chest move, will make talks fully explaining the plans of the executive committee.

There will be no collection taken at this meeting.

The $15,000 which the committee will try to raise will be apportioned among the Salvation Army, Elks, and other civic bodies doing charity work, with an allotment to the Boy Scouts and a balance kept on hand for emergency relief work to be directed by the executive committee.

EASTLAND STORE PICTURES CHRISTMAS IN SHOW-WINDOW

The first note of Christmas cheer in Eastland has been sounded by Robin's Jewelry and Gift Shop, on the west side of the square. A glance at the window display and decorations finished on Saturday by this establishment just naturally makes people see Santa Claus and his reindeer and hear the sleigh bells.

Robin has mounted his store entrance with a frame of brilliantly colored electric lights, intertwined with evergreens and the effect is very striking.

The jeweler has carried out the holiday effect in his window and show cases and has on display about as attractive a collection of gift articles and Christmas goods as can be found in this part of the country.—Adv.

Fur-bearing animals received legal protection in Maine in 1866, in Ohio in 1867, Nebraska in 1872 and Montana in 1885.

M'ADOO ANNOUNCES PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDACY

William G. McAdoo

Through his campaign manager, David L. Rockwell, of Ravenna, O., William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury in the cabinet of his father-in-law, ex-President Woodrow Wilson, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1924.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS LONG IN GETTING ESTABLISHED BUT ITS GROWTH AFTERWARDS VERY RAPID

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 23.—"The idea of a university for Texas is as old as Texas," said Dean H. Y. Benedict of the College of Arts and Sciences recently in addressing members of the freshmen class, "and the university has the most astounding and the most varied history of any institution of learning that has ever been on record."

"The Declaration of Texas Independence in 1836 had for one of the main counts in its indictment against the government of Mexico the fact that it had failed to establish any public system of education and in accordance with the doctrine thus proclaimed, the first Constitution of the Republic declared it to be the duty of congress to provide as soon as circumstances will permit, a general system of education.

"On November 20, 1838, Jessie P. Douglas, a Texas patriot, moved that a university be established. This act was the birth of the public school system in Texas. A statute provided that space for a university be reserved in the state capital, yet to be selected.

First Steps Taken

"The first direct steps toward the founding of the University were taken by the congress of the republic in two acts passed during January, 1859. One of these provided for the setting apart of land for a campus in the future city of Austin. The other appropriated fifty leagues of the vacant lands of the republic for the purpose of university education.

"In 1839 several thousand acres were laid off for the townsite of Austin. Outlots of forty acres each were surveyed from six thousand acres in what is now North Austin. An old map in the land office, for reasons unknown, designated one of these outlots 'College Hill.' Eventually that is where the university was built. The university holds no title to the property.

"In 1853, after Texas had been annexed to the United States, and the state was booming with immigration and prosperity, agitation for a university began again in the legislature. The greatest contention then was the location. In 1858, however, a university was established on paper, and given all of fifty leagues of land and $100,000 in United States bonds. Income from the bonds was expected to create in time a building fund, but during the civil war, before the university physically existed, the state of Texas several times needed money badly. Each time the state was in financial distress, the university's fund was drawn upon. At the end of the war, only seventy cents of its wealth remained.

Money Is Refunded

"By direction of the constitution of 1866, the legislature refunded the amount previously diverted. In 1874 the democrats came into power, but they retarded education, principally because the carpet baggers advocated it.

"The new state constitution of 1875 specified that a university be located as soon as possible, but that no buildings be paid for out of the general revenue of the state. Since the legislature could not decide on a location, the matter was put to a referendum. Many cities competed for the site. Speakers and editors of the various towns unanimously believed, and tried to convince the voters that if the university were located in any other town but their own, all university students would die. After a heated campaign, Austin was chosen in 1883.

"At various times land and money were given to the theoretical university by the legislature, and almost as often the gifts were taken away or lost. In 1881 the university was said to have in a sinking fund $150,000 for buildings and $40,000 for equipment.

University Opened

The act of the legislature providing for the organization of the institution was passed in 1881, and provided for the appointment of a board of regents, to be entrusted with its organization and government. Under authority of the regents the academic and law branches were organized, and on September 15, 1883, the university was formally opened in the present main building, then consisting of the west wing only. The exercises were, however, conducted in the temporary capitol, since burned, until the first day of January, 1884.

"In 1894, the college of engineering was inaugurated; in 1898, the summer session; in 1906, the school of education; in 1909 the bureau of extension; in 1910, the graduate school; in 1912, the school of business administration. The medical branch was opened with the school of medicine in 1891, following the donation of John Sealy Hospital to the state by the city of Galveston. The college of pharmacy was added in 1893; the college of nursing, in 1897. The college of mines and metallurgy was created in 1919, following the passage of an act by the 36th legislature constituting the state school of mines and metallurgy a branch of the University of Texas."

TWO MURDER TRIALS OF WIDE INTEREST SET FOR THIS WEEK

EASTLAND, Nov. 24.—Two murder trials of widespread interest throughout West Texas will hold sway in the Eastland county district courts during the coming week.

The sheriff's office has summoned 300 special veniremen from whom to obtain juries in the two cases.

The hearing of John W. Owens, charged with slaying Jack Payne, of Ranger, will come up Wednesday in the Eighty-eighth district court, before Judge E. A. Hill. A venire of 150 men has been called for this case. It was delayed until midweek by reason of the Gorman Home Refinery lawsuit that has occupied the court for a week. Owen has been tried twice before, hung juries resulting both times.

In the Ninety-first district court before Judge Davenport, the case of J. W. Burns, charged with killing Spurgeon (Bud) Hamilton is set for Friday. This case was docketed for last Thursday but was put over because of other matters taking up the time in that court. One hundred and fifty men have been called for jury duty in this case. Burns has been tried once before, a mistrial resulting.

These two are the only cases set for the week in the district courts. It is criminal week in both tribunals, a situation existing but seldom in Eastland county. Usually while one district court is giving attention to criminal causes, the other is devoted to civil actions.

A district grand jury has been ordered for next Monday, Dec. 3, by Judge Davenport in the Ninety-first district court. An unusually large number of witnesses have been summoned, as there is a great deal of business to be presented. Among the most important criminal cases to come before the grand jury will be those against C. E. Richardson, of Cisco, charged with forgery in seven counts and held in $1,000 bail in each case. The grand jury will also have a big grist of liquor violations to sift.

EASTLAND MASONS TO ATTEND MASONIC GRAND LODGE

EASTLAND, Nov. 24.—A number of Eastland Masons will attend the state Masonic grand lodge which meets in Waco on Dec. 4. Among those attending from here will be:

Dr. J. W. Simmons, worshipful master, who will represent the Blue lodge, and E. A. Bills, district deputy grand master, who will represent the local Royal Arch chapter. Mr. Bills is also on the committee of grievances and appeals.

Stephenville Loses To Abilene, 53 to 0

STEPHENVILLE, Nov. 24.—The Abilene Eagles ran the Stephenville Yellow Jackets ragged here Friday in a game that made the Eagles undisputed champions of the third section of the Texas Interscholastic league, the score being 53 to 0.

The visitors made their first touchdown five minutes after the first whistle blew and went across for the final touchdown as the last whistle was blown.

The Eagles outweighed the Yellow Jackets an average of 12 pounds. At least 2,000 persons packed the stands and overflowed the field as play began. The weather was warm enough for baseball. The John Tarleton college military band was present.

"JUNIOR RAMPAGERS" OF RANGER BEAT EASTLAND

A mixed team of Ranger boys, ranging in age from 12 to 16 years, defeated a scrub team from Eastland at the city athletic park Saturday morning, 20 to 6. Several members of the second team of the Ranger high school played.

E. Yonkers did the punting for the Rangerites, making them for 30 and 35 yards at times. Zaratofnetis, playing fullback, and Yonkers made several long end runs, a Ranger player said. Only one substitute was made by the "Junior Rampagers," as they dubbed themselves. J. Beard went in for A. Glenn.

Here is Ranger's lineup:

"THE BAT" ON WAY TO APPEAR IN EASTLAND

"The Bat" is now on its way to Eastland and is scheduled to appear at the Connellee, Dec. 15. An advance notice says:

"The Bat" does please the public. Of that, there can be no question. No play in the history of this country has given such universal satisfaction as a thoroughly pleasing evening of entertainment in the theatre. Nothing could be more logical, then, that it should be listed among the plays to be seen here this season.

"Judging from reports that have drifted in here from other sections of the country, 'The Bat' has practically ceased to be a play that belongs to those who first projected it upon the American stage and has become an institution of the American theatre. It is one of those plays that will live on and on for an indefinite time, finding an enthusiastic welcome from new and old theatre-goers always.

GRADE SCHOOL PUPILS OFTEN GET WHIPPED

Superintendent McNew Says Law Permits Teachers to Chastise Students.

RANGER, Nov. 24.—Complaints having been heard in Ranger of daily whippings in some of the grade school rooms, Superintendent E. O. McNew was asked Saturday if whipping was permitted in the Ranger public schools. He said that teachers are permitted to whip the pupils.

Superintendent McNew said the Texas law permits the whipping of pupils in that it places the teacher in the place of the parent when the child is in the care of the former. "According to the state law," said Superintendent McNew, "the teacher is privileged to control the child in the same manner as the parent or guardian does at home."

The superintendent said that the teachers only resort to corrective measures when it becomes necessary for the discipline of the class. He said he was not aware that whipping was a daily occurrence in some of the class rooms. He said that pupils in the high school were very seldom whipped, but that chastisement was not infrequent in the grade schools.

McNew said that teachers only resort to corrective measures when it becomes necessary for the discipline of the class.

"We have but few teachers here who use the paddle," he declared. "They try to get along without it. We have some teachers who do use it, sometimes severely, when a pupil becomes consistently unruly."

In some cities and town, the board of education has rules of its own regulating corrective measures, McNew said. "They will have a rule for instance that requires the presence of a witness to the correction. This is done to get a disinterested statement and to protect the teacher. Some children will say that the teacher struck them over the head, when as a matter of fact, she or he didn't. Then it is the teacher's word against that of the child."

J. M. White Buys Store At Loraine to Add To His Chain

RANGER, Nov. 24.—J. M. White, owner of the J. M. White & Co. stores, has added another store to his string of dry goods houses. He has purchased the store and store equipment of I. Colechman at Loraine, Texas, 10 miles east of Colorado. This will be four stores under his name.

He recently purchased the stock of an establishment, at Colorado Texas, to which he has added surplus stock from his Eastland and Ranger stores. Along with the Loraine store, he also bought out Colechman's stock in Colorado. His Colorado establishment will be in Colechman's location, he having secured a two-year lease. He gave up his first location in Colorado, the Colechman store being more centrally located.

TEPLINE NOW HARVESTING CROP OF BROOM CORN

TEJLINE, Tex., Nov. 24.—The annual harvest of broom corn crop in this territory is now on the way. The crop is grown generally from Teoline, Texas to Portales, New Mexico. The crop is selling at from $110 to $240 a ton, depending on the quality. Portales, New Mexico, will ship 240 cars this season.

Broom corn is rapidly becoming one of the principal money crops of West Texas and East New Mexico, and it is advocated by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce as a principle money crop for the higher altitudes of West Texas.

COAL MINES SHUTTING DOWN FOR LACK OF DEMAND

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Every coal mine in the bituminous coal fields of Illinois and Indiana faces a complete or partial shutdown because of the late arrival of winter in the middle west, the statistician for the Bituminous Operators' association said today.

More coal mines are reported to have been closed in Illinois during the last six months than during any previous similar period. Every day scores of cars are loaded at the mines where operations are continued and left standing on side tracks awaiting shipping orders.

TUNNEY AND GREB TO MEET FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

The battle will take place in Madison Square Garden, New York, on the night of Dec. 10, with Tex Rickard as promoter. The winner probably will be matched with Mike McTigue for the light heavyweight championship of the world.

GRAND OPERA DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE IN RANGER.

RANGER, Nov. 24.—A very creditable and satisfactory performance of Gounod's famous opera, "Faust," was given Friday night at the Liberty theatre by members of the Milton Aborn Grand Opera company now on the Redpath-Horner chautauqua circuit. The singers were all in good form and presented their parts well. The scenery was attractive, and the costumes elaborate, the entire presentation being an unusually pleasing one. The pianist and accompanist was a marvel, a large part of the success of the entertainment being due to her ability and alertness at the piano. Miss Taggart as Mephistopheles was especially good.

The cast included: Marguerite, Ethel L. Harrison. Valentine, Pietro Soldano. Siebel, Estelle Engler. Martha, Estelle Engler. Faust, Ferdinand Zigel. Mephistopheles, Frederick Taggart. Musical director, Margory Morrison.

The audience was one of the largest seen in Ranger this year, and showed its appreciation by hearty and frequent applause. There were many visitors from other neighboring cities for this event, some coming as far as from Weatherford, others from Cisco, Eastland, Thurber, and Strawn.

The performance was given under the auspices of the 1920 and New Era clubs.

REV. A. W. HALL AND MRS. HALL NOW IN RANGER

Rev. A. W. Hall, recently transferred from Weatherford, where he served two years as pastor of the Methodist church, to Ranger to be pastor of the Ranger Methodist church, accompanied by Mrs. Hall and their 10-year-old son, Paul, arrived last week and are now occupying the new Methodist parsonage. Their two daughters, who have been attending the Weatherford college, are expected this week and will enter the Ranger High school. A third daughter, who is head of the English department in Weatherford college, will remain in Weatherford.

Mr. Hall already is enthusiastic about Ranger. He says he feels quite at home with the people here, because a number of former Ranger families were members of his church in Weatherford, and some of his former members in that city are now members of the Ranger Methodist church. He said he had come to Ranger to work for the upbuilding of the people spiritually, both those in his church and those in other churches, and he expects to find plenty to do.

Mr. Hall has an extensive acquaintance in Texas, having held pastorates in Georgetown, Temple, Vernon, and Abilene before going to Weatherford. He will occupy his pulpit in Ranger for the first time this morning and give his opening message to Ranger. His work for the spiritual advancement of Weatherford met with such marked success that much is expected of him in Ranger.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS PLAN SOCIAL TUESDAY EVENING

MRS. MADDOCKS BACK FROM P. T. A. MEETING

Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, president of the first district, Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers association, returned Saturday morning from the annual state convention of that organization which was held last week in Tyler. Five counties have been returned to the first district. They are Montague, Clay, Cook, Archer, Baylor and Knox, making 25 counties that are now under jurisdiction of the first district.

The annual meeting of this district will be held in Mineral Wells in May, by invitation of Mrs. J. H. Campbell, president of the Mineral Wells council. Mrs. F. E. Williams, president of the Tyler council, was made a member of the executive board at the state meeting. It was also decided to hold council meetings for workers in different parts of each district during the year, and to endeavor to have the parent-teachers association work taught in the various teachers colleges of the state, as is now being done in other states.

An outstanding feature of the state meeting was the music which was largely presented by children of various ages, many of them being tiny tots, the welcoming number being a remarkable musical offering by children of six years of age. It was gratifying to the organization members to learn that the Congress of Mothers' song, "A little child shall lead them," composed by Mrs. Laura Hubbard Jaccard of Fort Worth, is soon to be available in phonograph records. The singer will be Mina Hager, of the Chicago Grand Opera company and soloist of the Fourth Presbyterian church, one of the best beloved and most popular singers of Chicago. Mrs. Jaccard is chairman of children's music for the Congress of Mothers, and a writer and composer of distinction.

CHEERFUL WORKERS MET WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

The Cheerful Workers of the Christian church had a delightful meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Pickett on Ranger Heights. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to the dozen or more ladies present.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday with Mrs. E. M. Glazner on Travis street, just off Strawn road.

RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS ACCOMPLISH PRACTICAL RESULTS

One cold, bleak, wintry afternoon in December a few days before Christmas, a doctor was called to see Little Amy, who lived with her parents in a tent on the outskirts of a small West Texas town. A mantle of snow covered the ground, while the snow birds were chirping and flitting from tree to tree. On a cot in the tent, Little Amy was lying. The snow had fallen through a hole in the roof, and flakes could be seen on the cover, which was thin and insufficient to keep her frail body warm and comfortable. Her large blue eyes glistened with the sign of the disease that was sapping her life away. She was pale, anaemic, and undernourished. Her face was drawn and her lips quivered as she talked; her hands were poor and her arms were thin and flabby; her voice was scarcely audible when she spoke.

As she talked, large tears streamed down her thin face. No so very long ago she was the picture of

COLLEGE FARCE, MUSICAL READING AND THREE-ACT PLAYLET TO BE GIVEN

RANGER, Nov. 24.—A bachelor dozing by the hearth of his fireside with his pipe in hand, visualizes his sweethearts of other days and meditates upon his treatment of them. The bachelor, a young man of Ranger, nine young ladies, telephone operators of the Bell Telephone company office of this city, all representing his former sweethearts, will portray such a scene, set to music in "Pipe Dreams," to be presented as theatricals Dec. 4 at the Ranger High school auditorium.

The main play will be a three-act playlet, "The Ugliest of Seven," adapted from the German. Preceding this play will be a college farce, "The Case of Sophronia." This has to do with the heart affairs of Richard Cour de Lyon, who has trifled with the love affections of certain ladies of neighboring institutions. The young dames conspire to get even with Richard by having him take an unpopular "grind," to the senior prom. But their plans went astray and the impossible "she" turned out to be an old-time sweetheart. Richard's love wins.

The main play brings in a mysterious guest with a mysterious mission at the Castle Falkenbrun. Ernestine, the ugliest and Ross, the loveliest, enter into the action early in the play and their doings focus attention upon them from start to finish. Old Dan Cupid, with his mysterious ways, baffled at first, finally wins out.

The telephone girls, themselves, have sold 260 tickets to their show.

EASTLAND MOTHER ASKS POLICE TO FIND AND RETURN DAUGHTER

EASTLAND, Nov. 24.—The mother of Gracie Jones, said to be just 15 years of age, complained to the police tonight that her daughter had run away from home in company with a Thurber girl who, according to the mother, has been trying to persuade her daughter to leave home.

Mrs. Jones said her daughter left in an automobile in company with the Thurber girl and two boys. She did not know their destination but thought it might be Thurber. She told the police her daughter was only 15 years of age and asked them to help find the girl and restore her to her home.

EASTLAND WOMAN MOURNS LOSS OF CHRYSANTHEMUMS

EASTLAND, Nov. 24.—Mrs. S. Thompson of 515 South Daugherty street is discouraged over the loss of her handsome chrysanthemums, which had grown to perfect beauty in great profusion and very large blooms. Friday morning she found the yards strewn with broken branches from the plants and a countless number of 'mums that the marauders found too small for their liking strewn on the ground, the despoilers having stripped out center large bloom, which they carried away after having broken the plants.

Output of Crude Oil in Texas Is Again Declining

RANGER, Nov. 24.—The principal part of the decrease of crude oil output last week came in the decrease in the Powell field, which is now on a rapid decline. It showed a decline of 25,000 barrels daily last week as compared with the preceding week.

Settled Fields Decline.

In the settled fields of North Central Texas, small gains in the north end are more than offset by declines from the pools of the south end of the field, according to figures compiled by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. The Ranger-Eastland field dropped from 8,190 to 7,270 barrels daily last week. The Desdemona-Pioneer field also declined from 6,985 to 6,030 barrels.

It is claimed by officials that the uncle and niece desired to be married. The niece was not at home at the time Mrs. Scott was killed, but was away at school. It is claimed that Scott visited his niece soon after the shooting.

EAST INDIAN PASSIVE RESISTANCE LEADER STIRRING MILLIONS

Romain Rolland, the great French novelist, begins in the Century Magazine for December a description of the life and character of Mahatma Gandhi, the leader of India's campaign of "passive resistance" against the British government, which may well be included among the permanent historic archives of these times.

In describing Gandhi, Mr. Rolland writes: "Soft dark eyes, a small frail man, with a thin face and rather large protruding eyes, his head covered with a little white cap, his body clothed in a coarse white cloth, barefooted. He lives on rice and fruit, and drinks only water. He sleeps on the floor—sleeps very little, and works incessantly. His body does not seem to count at all. His expression proclaims 'infinite patience and infinite love.'"

W. W. Pearson, who met him in South Africa, instinctively thought of St. Francis of Assisi.

"There is an almost childlike simplicity about him. His manner is gentle and courteous even when dealing with adversaries, and he is of immaculate sincerity. He is modest and unassuming, to the point of sometimes seeming almost timid, hesitant, in making an assertion. Yet you feel his indomitable spirit.

"He makes no compromises and never tries to hide a mistake. Nor is he afraid to admit having been in the wrong. Diplomacy is unknown to him. He shuns oratorical effect or, rather, never thinks about it, and he shrinks unconsciously from the great popular demonstrations organized in his honor. Literally 'ill with the multitude that adores him' he distrusts majorities and fears 'mobocracy' and the unbridled passions of the populace. He feels at ease only in a minority, and is happiest when, in meditative solitude, he can listen to the 'still small voice' within.

"This is the man who has stirred three hundred million people to revolt, who has shaken the foundations of the British empire, and who has introduced into human politics the strongest religious impetus of the last two thousand years."

RATTLING FENDERS EASILY CORRECTED

Unsubstantial fender irons—in light cars particularly these are frequently made of half-round or flat iron, and fitted in such a way that they overhang considerably from the point of support—i. e., the chassis—and while being strong enough to prevent springing, under the strain of constant road shocks, with the result that the valance and the iron will slap together with a sound like that of beating a tin can, and yet when the car is stationary and the owner feels the fenders to find the slackness which causes the noise, they appear to be perfectly rigid.

A good plan is to force the valance back from the iron with a screw driver, and insert a small piece of rubber, such as a piece of inner tube or felt, for though the fender and valance appear to fit snugly against the supporting iron when the car is stationary, this is frequently the source of the trouble in practice.—Automobile Digest.

Letter From Member of Ranger Party in New Mexico Tells of Wonderful Feast; Sounds Almost Like a "Fish" Story.

By P. C. T.

RANGER, Nov. 24.—Howard Gholson is in receipt of the following letter, presumably from Doctor Holland, who is on a hunting trip in New Mexico with five other Ranger hunters, who, judging from the contents of the letter, have been very successful. If they are as successful hunting for business when they return to Ranger as they seem to be hunting for big game—competitors, beware.

The letter:

My Dear Howard:
Made my first big kill today; it was a bear. Not one of these small innocent cinnamon bears like you see in zoos, neither was it a common, fruit loving black bear, but an enormous polar bear that measured nine feet from tail to nose. I am exceptionally proud of this kill because of the fact that I made it single handed and without the use of dogs or gun.

As you probably know we are staying at the N-Bar ranch up here near Magdalena. About 2 o'clock this a. m. I was awakened by a bel-lowing and tramping of feet from the buffalo corral. The N-Bar is keeping 200 head of buffalo here this winter. The mountains abound with them but the ranch boss is keeping it secret so hunters won't destroy the herd. This ranch supplies the world with buffalo meat.

To go back to the awakening. I arose hurriedly and inasmuch as the boys were sleeping soundly after a hard ride, didn't have the heart to waken them. Feeling that there was an urge for haste I caught up the closest thing handy, a long surgical knife and, without waiting to put on my shoes, or any clothing over my pink silk pajamas hurried out into the night.

The snow was in drifts, some of them six feet deep, but I didn't let that worry me. Barefooted and clad only in pajamas I made for the buffalo corral, so excited that I did not feel the cold, even when the drifts were over my head.

On arriving at the corral, what should I see but an enormous white shape leaping from back to back of the wildly milling buffaloes. This gave me a tip and I scrambled to the top of the 12-foot corral and leaped to the back of the first buffalo that came within jumping distance. The backs of the buffaloes are as wide as those of circus trick horses, and I had little difficulty balancing myself on the first buffalo. It was an easy matter to jump to the second and in this manner I chased the great white polar bear—for it was that animal and no other—for hours it seemed, from one corner of the corral to the other.

He had just leaped to the back of another buffalo, having completed a kill, when I saw my chance and leaped on the head of the same buffalo. The bear seemed astonished at first, at my appearance and only bared his great white teeth and lashed his enormous tail. I could see that he was getting ready to spring so I grabbed one horn of the buffalo with one hand and swung for the underside of the bear, twisting the buffalo's neck as I did so. One quick thrust into the belly of my prey with the surgical knife and I had wounded him. Another deeper thrust in the same place and I had neatly amputated his appendix. Still holding to the buffalo's horn I swung myself over the 12-foot corral and into safety.

Needless to say I am resting today but feel fairly well considering the desperate encounter. I was not injured.

Terrill and McGinley were first out to find the bear today, but the milling buffaloes had ground it to unrecognizable shreds beneath their feet. I am sorry for it would have made a wonderful trophy.

The hunters all send you their best.

Yours truly,

DOC.

West Texas Turkeys To Bring This Year About $2,000,000

STAMFORD, Nov. 23. — West Texas will market between 2,000 and 2,500 carloads of turkeys this season. Each car will contain approximately 2,000 turkeys, and it is estimated each car will sell for approximately $10,000.

Upon this basis it is estimated that the turkey crop of West Texas of 1923 will sell for something like $2,000,000. Ninety-five per cent of this West Texas crop will find its ultimate market in New England and the Middle Atlantic states. Prevaling prices are in the neighborhood of 20 cents per pound. Were it not for the fact that between six and seven million pounds of turkeys are now on cold storage in the East, representing the hold over from the season of 1922, the price would be much above what it is.

The indications are that the American turkey consumer will eat the cheapest turkey this Thanksgiving he has eaten in five years. Notwithstanding the low prices prevailing because of the abnormal conditions the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, nevertheless, is advocating increased turkey production in West Texas, since it is the native home of the bronze bird. The larger poultry dealers are interested in a year-wide consumption, and claim that there is no particular reason why turkeys should not be consumed throughout the year.

THE AMERICAN LEGION CARL BARNES POST

The sound has echoed around the world Of the Legion's reveille; The glorious bars and the flashing stars Are calling a message to me; Step up old "Buddy," the legion calls; Come on with our proud advance. Our call is out, we expect them all, (Save those whom we left in France).

Come on my "buddy" and do your bit In our glorious company; Remember how, when our nation called You fought for her destiny? And you pledged a troth with the gods of war Where death held a rendezvous And now that the curtain of battle is rent, Your Legion is calling for you.

Come on my "buddies" and take the hands Of the "buddies" awaiting you; Some stand at your side, and still others ride Far out mid the planets and blue. While your Legion holds out a kindly arm To offer its love, instead Of a slab of marble or hero's bronze, (Those things which belong to our dead).

Come on old "buddy," let's live and love And laugh, (though we won't forget Of those who sleep in the starry deep, And whose spirits march with us yet); Your Legion calls, and your "buddies" leap To the call of her reveille, To her God, her banner, and her side, And her glorious liberty. —B./ Sani K. NEW FISH HATCHERIES. SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 23.—Mark Riley, superintendent of the United States fish hatcheries of Texas, reports that the two new hatcheries, one at Medina lake and the other on a mountain stream 17 miles north of Kerrville on the S. A. & A. P. railway, will be ready to begin operations at an early date. On account of the large number of tourists that come to Southwest Texas, fishing in the streams and lakes has been poor in recent years, but this condition will be remedied very soon.

RESTAURANT OWNER CONTENTS FAIR PRICES BRINGS MORE PROFIT

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—It is lack of imagination that causes a man to say "ham and eggs" when he goes into a restaurant, according to Horace Boos, chain cafeteria owner, who claims he is chiefly interested in cutting the price of meals because he believes there is more money in the long run.

"Many times I have watched patrons walk in, look around bewildered and then, seeing the waitress impatient, sing out, 'ham and eggs.' Ham and eggs is the great American by-word in restaurants. Even menus fail to picture anything to the average person. Half the time people aren't conscious of what they're eating. Food to them is something only to give the body fuel.

"Improper eating is the cause for the great American disease of neurasthenia. People take on great quantities of protein foods, such as meat, eggs, beans and peas, which results in under-nutrition in carbohydrates, starches, vitamins, salt and iron, which are contained in vegetables. The result, after many years of such eating, is nervous disorders.

"There is too much eating of greases, astries and candies by the public. As always, though, the public refuses to be educated on the subject of dieting. People eat what appeals to their palates and let it go at that. There is no reason why the restaurant proprietor should be concerned. He simply gives the public what it likes the best and what he knows the public likes through his observations.

"Most people limit the price of their meals to a figure between 25 and 35 cents, because they have to deny themselves something else if they wax careless on eating.

"The old joke about the man who places a blotter over the list of entrees on the bill of fare, leaving only the prices in view, and then picking a price that conforms to the amount of money he has in his pocket, is about true.

"If the restaurant man can devise a way to give people a cheaper meal he will make more money in the end."

NEW IRRIGATION PROJECT ON COLORADO RIVER

BALLINGER, Texas, Nov. 23.—Plans are under way here to perfect a new irrigation project below Ballinger on the Colorado river, according to a report made to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. According to this report, work is to be started immediately on the proposed dam site, which is to be near the junction of the Colorado and Concho rivers. Surveyors are in the field and topographical engineer, United States geological survey at Washington, has established headquarters in Ballinger.

It is stated that the new project is to be an elaborate system of dam sites, the construction of which is now receiving consideration by the state board of water engineers at Austin.

"KILL 'EM" IS SLOGAN IN FIGHTING BOLL WEEVIL

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 23.—"Kill 'em in '23 and miss 'em in '24" is the shibboleth for action against the boll weevil being passed out to the human opponents of the "billion dollar bug" by R. R. Reppert, A. & M. college extension entomologist. "Destroy the cotton stalks, the hibernation quarters of the gluttonous pest through the winter months and be confident of reducing the numbers of the pest that will trouble next year with every stalk uprooted before the first killing frost." This is the abutting clause of the slogan for war.

"Over a large portion of Texas, there is still time for action," he said. "With the limited time at hand the work should be done quickly. The stalks need not be turned under, merely killing them is enough, and this is being done in some sections by turning them out of the ground with a plow set shallow, and from which the mold board has been removed. Killing plants now prevents the boll weevils from breeding and feeding. Many are starved before winter sets in and of those that remain the greater part are aged and die before spring opens up.

"There is a question as to what effect the recent defoliation of the cotton fields throughout most of Texas by the leaf worm will have upon weevil breeding. Apparently there are a few green boll or squares in which the insect may breed, and the present condition of the field is in the farmers favor, but a late fall cotton growth may begin anew and there may yet be a breeding period for the weevil."

WARD SCHOOL PRINCIPALS OF COUNTY MEET

Discuss Importance of Training Students in Interscholastic Grades.

RANGER, Nov. 24.—A very interesting session of the Ward Principals association of Eastland county, was held at the high school Thursday night.

There were present Principals Issacs and Warren of Cisco; Principals Andrews, Layton and Eldridge of Eastland; Principals Winn, Pettitt, Lewis, Mrs. Healer, and Mrs. Lewis and Superintendent McNew of Ranger.

On assembly all were ushered into the private dining room adjoining the high school cafeteria, and were served a delicious five-course dinner. Mrs. Healer, as hostess, made all the guests feel very much at home, and a pleasant hour was spent at the dining table. She was assisted by Mrs. Dudley, manager of the cafeteria.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mr. McNew showed the visitors through the high school and explained the work of all the departments. This done, all assembled in Mrs. Healer's office for the program of the evening.

Every member gave an inspirational talk, stating some particular problem he had been working on the last two weeks. Many valuable ideas were exchanged. Such an association can prove profitable to the schools, whose principals are members thereof.

Mr. McNew made a 25-minute talk, stressing the importance of cultivating the student's habits among pupils of the intermediate grades. He suggested that many of the failures in high school might be traced to a lack of such habits having been developed in the intermediate grades.

He further questioned whether the schools were turning out pupils today as efficient in mathematics, English and history as the schools of 30 years ago. He attributed this partly to a tendency to spread the curriculum over a greater variety of subjects and a considerable lack of stress upon the fundamentals of mathematics and English. He deprecated the fact that there is a lack of systematic study among the pupils in the home, and showed that pupils who made no preparation at home could not possibly complete a high school course of study.

His remarks were discussed at some length by the principals present, and all seemed to feel one of the most important duties of the ward principal was to inculcate in the minds of the pupils in the intermediate grades to cultivate the habit of study, both in the school room and in the home.

It was decided by the meeting to begin the contests in ward schools in basket ball and volley ball soon after the first of the year.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mr. McNew showed the visitors through the high school and explained the work of all the departments. This done, all assembled in Mrs. Healer's office for the program of the evening.

PROPOSED STRAW VOTE DEEMED WET PROPAGANDA

WESTERVILLE, Ohio, Nov. 24.—A policy of "passive resistance" has been adopted by the Anti-Saloon league towards the straw vote on prohibition being taken in the nation's capital under the alleged direction of wet propagandists, it was announced here today. Officials of the league said they would not try to remove the ballot boxes that have been placed in various sections of the city by representatives of the personal liberty association, but would continue a campaign to discourage persons voting.

The Anti-Saloon league protested against the straw vote, but the men who placed the ballot boxes and started the voting are said to have left the city. It could not be learned today when the ballots would be counted.

COMANCHE STEWS ARE FOUND GREAT AID TO IMPROVING THE ROADS

COMANCHE, Texas, Nov. 24.—Comanche is the first town in West Texas to utilize Comanche stew as a means of interesting persons in road work. Forty county road overseers were the guests of the county judge in the Slider & Lacy warehouse here, Monday for the purpose of partaking of one of these old-time Comanche stews. Talks were made by County Judge Reese and by many of the road overseers.

The road situation in Comanche and other West Texas counties is such that it has been difficult to drag the road recently. But a circular letter has been sent out by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce advocating that all counties endeavor now to drag the roads as promptly as possible.

This is of especial importance since the announcement has come out of Austin from Captain J. D. Fauntleroy, state highway engineer, that a ruling has been made by Attorney General Keeling to the effect that the state highway commission has the authority, and must exercise the same, to mark the highways of Texas. This work is to begin on Jan. 1.

Comanche county is anxious to have her roads in the best possible shape before this marking begins.

ONE-POUND BABY UNABLE TO RETAIN HOLD ON LIFE

HOUSTON, Nov. 24.—After a 20-day fight for life, during which she astonished physicians by her powers of resistance, Marie Rogers, the one-pound baby, died here last night. The 15-year-old mother, Mrs. G. W. Rogers, ill four months with typhoid malaria, is in a critical condition which is aggravated by her grief.

Fifteen minutes after the baby had died a stranger appeared at the home and offered $1,000 for the baby's body. Mrs. Bland, the baby's grandmother, indignantly drove the man from the door and he fled into the darkness.

GRAND JURY CLEARS MEMBER OF IMPLICATION IN FLOGGING PARTY

DALLAS, Nov. 24.—Tom Noell, Dallas county farmer and member of the grand jury, has been exonerated by that body of any participation in the flogging of Joe Westbrook several days ago. Westbrook claimed to have identified Noell as one of the floggers who had kidnapped and whipped him. In a special report, the grand jury said that diligent inquiry had been made into the charge and the evidence was conclusive that Noell was at home at the time the flogging occurred.

Further than this the grand jury announced that it had no intention of abandoning its efforts to run down members of the mob guilty of making the attack.

RANGER BUSINESS GROWS AND NOW MUST HAVE LARGER QUARTERS

RANGER, Nov. 24.—Vacant for nearly two years, a business room in the A. B. Poe building at 405 Main street, Ranger, was rented today to a wholesale house, the Texas Novelty company of which W. H. Dyar, Sr., is the head.

The company takes possession the first of December and will install a salesroom and storage room. The room is 25x60.

The growth of business has compelled Dyar to expand from an office at his residence, 1315 Spring Road and the use of the American Express company building for storage, to his new business home.

"Ranger is the best town in West Texas," Dyer said. "I came here four years ago and opened my business one year ago on the 18th of this month."

The company has two traveling salesmen and the territory is worked as far west as Lubbock and up east as far as Tonkawa, Okla. Candy is also sold in Louisiana and Arkansas. Dyer intends now to develop a mail order business.
