TEXAS NEWSPAPER MAN HAS BRAIN STORM

ELECTIONS IN 13 STATES ARE WATCHED TODAY

Elections in Vermont, Maryland and Ohio Arousing Special Interest.

By FRASER EDWARDS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The curtain went up on the 1924 campaign today as the people of thirteen states went to the polls to vote in bi-elections, which were expected to develop issues that will have an important bearing on the fight for the presidency.

Party managers were centering their interest on the contests in Maryland, New York, Kentucky, Vermont and Ohio. The Coolidge administration figures in some of these elections. Republican leaders are watching the returns from New York especially, where four members of congress are to be elected, because of the slight majority of the G. O. P. in the house. Veteran politicians also will closely scrutinize the results to discover any radical trend, which many are predicting may bring about some startling upsets in politics in the next presidential election.

The wet and dry issue figures to a degree in the gubernatorial contest in Maryland, where Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, democrat, and Alexander Armstrong, republican, both have declared in favor of modification of the Volstead act to permit light wines and beer.

Wet and Dry Issue
The prohibition issue also figures in the Vermont senatorial election. There Porter H. Dale, a dry, who resigned from the house to become the republican candidate, is running against Park H. Pollard, a democratic cousin of President Coolidge, who is a wet. Strange as it may seem, reports reaching Washington from "rock-ribbed republican Vermont" indicate that Pollard "has a chance."

Ernest W. Gibson of Brattleboro, republican, is opposing Barton E. Bailey of Montpelier, democrat, for the seat left vacant by Dale. Kentucky, once a democratic strong hold, is electing a governor to succeed Gov. "Ed" Morrow, republican, and party chiefs are interested in seeing whether the Bloody Hunting Ground is still debatable territory. Representative William J. Fields democrat, is opposing Charles I. Dawson, republican, attorney general of Morrow's administration.

The annual election of the New York assembly will furnish a test of strength for Gov. "Al" Smith. It is now democratic by a slight majority and the state senate is republican by one vote.

Vacancies left in the house by the deaths of Representatives Riordan, Cockran and Ganly, democrats, and Mott, republican, of New York, are to be filled. Successors are to be chosen in the places of the late Representative Cantrell of Kentucky and John W. Rainey of Illinois, both democrats.

"Pivotal" Ohio is another centre of interest. Columbus, Toledo and Akron are electing mayors. These results may furnish a straw vote for the 1924 campaign.

Elections in other states are: Maine, a special referendum on a forty-eight hour week for women and children; Massachusetts, municipal elections principally non-partisan; Virginia, election of the senate and house of delegates and county officers; Rhode Island, Connecticut and Louisiana, municipal elections; Mississippi, election of all state and county officers.

Rescue squads were making headway through the debris and several more bodies are being brought up. The cause has not been determined but it is believed to have resulted from a pocket of gas collecting far back in the mine.

APPLE POMACE EQUAL TO CORN SILAGE FOR CATTLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Apple pomace, the residue of ground apples after the cider has been pressed out, can be profitably used as food for wintering cattle, the department of agriculture announces. Thousands of tons of this pomace is wasted each year. When moist pomace can be used fresh or ensiled it yields a cattle food comparable with corn silage. Its most profitable utilization depends upon its preservation by dehydration and producing it as commercial food. Feeding trials with dairy cows proved dried-apples pomace to be equal pound for pound of dry matter to good corn silage. The material was fed wet and replaced the corn silage in a ration including grain and hay.

PHIL FOX OF DALLAS SHOOTS KLAN LAWYER

Aid to Imperial Wizard Planned to Clean Out Opposing Faction, Claimed.

By United Press

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 6.—Phil E. Fox, slayer of William S. Coburn, lawyer of this city and attorney for the klan faction headed by William J. Simmons, had planned to kill all leaders in the insurgent faction of the Ku Klux Klan organization, including Emperor Simmons, authorities were informed today.

Dr. Fred B. Johnson of San Antonio, Texas, once chief of staff for the Simmons faction, said Fox told him when calling at the Simmons' home Sunday night:

"You, Simmons, E. Y. Clarke and 'Bill' Coburn are slated to go."

Simmons was not at home at the time, Johnson said, and he backed Fox into a corner and disarmed him. "He tried to kill me," Johnson said.

Dallas Newspaper Man.

Fox, a publicity man for the klan and editor of the Night Hawk, official klan organ, was a leader in the faction headed by Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans. Fox shot Coburn to death in the latter's office in this city late yesterday afternoon, firing five shots, three of which took effect.

Fox came to Atlanta with Imperial Wizard Evans last March from Dallas, where for 15 years he was on the editorial staff of the Dallas Times-Herald, and for several years its managing editor.

Coburn appeared last week as attorney for the Simmons faction, endeavoring to have a receiver appointed for the klan because of alleged mismanagement by the Evans faction.

"He was going to publish some reports about me that would have ruined me and if I had not shot him he would have ruined me," Fox said, and when informed that Coburn was dead, he added, "I am glad."

He was grilled for more than an hour at police headquarters, but refused to make any additional statement.

Officials of the klan expressed deep regret because of the shooting and sympathize with the widow and three children of the dead man. They said it must have been a personal difference between Fox and Coburn. Fox had not been at his office for two days, it was said at klan headquarters.

BIBLE THOUGHT.
RICHES DO NOT SATISFY.—He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance with increase: this is also vanity. When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, saving the beholding of them with their eyes?—Ecclesiastes 5:10, 11.

UNSEEN HAND INTERFERS

According to a Washington story by Lawrence Martin in the Philadelphia North American of October 5, Governor Pinchot's drive against the Philadelphia saloonists "constitutes one of the most resounding slaps recently administered to those having charge of the federal enforcement of the prohibition law." The North American in quoting Mr. Martin discusses the situation as follows:

"It has incensed the dries all over the country more than ever against Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair whom they blame for 99 per cent of Commissioner Haynes' troubles. It has injected the department of justice into the prohibition enforcement situation."

"Pinchot's latest smash to the Philadelphia wets followed another request for help to the department of justice. This help was granted. This almost looks as if Commissioner Haynes' force in Philadelphia were falling down on the job. But it isn't Haynes' fault, his friends say. They blame it all on Blair, who they say forced Haynes against his protest to reorganize the Pennsylvania unit."

"The reorganization, dries say, has not worked out well for prohibition enforcement. Now Pinchot calls in the department of justice. There is to be a closing of saloons."

"The result is, two things will be demanded of the coming congress: (1) A thorough-going investigation of the whole prohibition enforcement machinery, and (2) reorganization of that machinery to make the prohibition commissioner independent of other officials so that his policies and choice of personnel will not be interfered with."

Himself Hears Radio Sermon and Enjoys Good Precepts While Smoking; Comments on How Other Folks Acted the While.

By P. G. T.

As a usual thing, some preaching is more or less of a bore to lots of people who have to listen, because they must sit up straight and pretend like they were interested whether they are or not, and sometimes they start to fall off into a sleep from the soothing qualities of the preacher's voice. Then they are most liable to be shoved by the one who is still awake closest to them because he is afraid the drowsy qualities in his friend will be noticed and that maybe some one will think it was him.

Sunday, we attended preaching via radio which was very comfortable, because the usual decorum that has to be observed as a rule during such things was noticed because of its absence. This particular subject which was coming out of the air was something about the evils of playing bridge and poker, roulette and dice and other kinds of card games. The particular building in which this radio station was situated must have been right next door to a stock-yard, because every so often some pigs would squeal real loud as though they were on the way to market through a sausage grinder and there must have been some very disrespectful boys in the place, as every once in a while there would be loud whistling like the traffic cops do in Chicago.

The congregation was all lolling back in their chairs while listening to this sermon and those who were in the habit of going to church to sleep would have dozed off into perfect slumber if it had not been for the pigs squealing and the boys whistling. For once, men got their lifelong desire of being able to smoke while a sermon was going on and ladies could go into the next room and powder their faces without much disturbance and listen at the same time, which was something they enjoyed a lot. Once the speaker asked everybody to turn to No. 263 which was going to be sung and the dozers who was proud of their voices rose up real quick only to discover they were no song books present.

The speaker also reprimanded his audience for some of them not thinking of nothing after Sunday dinner but taking a good nap, when they should be going to church, but he forgot that they was lots of people who like to take a nap after Sunday breakfast and Sunday supper. Which may be the reason he didn't argue against after-breakfast and after-supper naps was because he liked to nap at those times himself.

Then when this speaker had finished, all the radio hounds started talking to each other about wasn't that sermon just simply grand, like they do after a regular benediction sermon, but nobody mentioned any special thing that was grand.

Then the chief radioist started monkeying with a lot of little door knobs on the funny boxes that is a radio to see if he could pick up some good music like Whitemans jazz orchestra, but all the stations was giving radio sermons and everybody says "let's call it a day." Then they started to brag to each other what they had got on their radio sets at their own homes.

One bird says he got Havana and when asked if it sounded as though they was anybody intoxicated over there said "no, not any more than when I got New York last week."

Another bird says he got that red head gal and Louisville Lou from Bates' orchestra in Kansas City and some dumb bell in the crowd, who wasn't paying much attention to what was going on, wanted to know if this guy got the red head gal and Louisville Lou to start an orchestra of his own or was he going into the show business.

SECRET IS SAFE

People who have been embarrassed repeatedly on account of disfigured skin on their face, neck, arms and hands, caused by eczema, tetter, rash, boils, pimples, etc., are nearly always sensitive about these things to the point of feeling that every body is watching them and talking about how bad they look.

They even hesitate to ask anyone's advice about getting rid of these awful things, and for this reason the wonderful Black and White Ointment is making friends by the thousands because they can get it from their nearest dealer without a lot of explanations, and use it quickly gets rid of all those skin ruiners.

threatened to ruin him, in explanation of why he shot and killed the lawyer late yesterday.

The solicitor announced he would present the matter to the grand jury the first thing after that body assembled this morning. Investigators from his office and detectives questioned the prisoner last night at police headquarters and later at the jail to which he was transferred.

Fox entered the law office of Coburn while the latter was talking to a client and began firing when he was told to come back an hour later, according to Mrs. W. A. Holbrook, stenographer for Coburn. When taken into custody Fox is quoted as saying:

"I am sorry to have had to do it, but I am glad he is dead. He was planning to ruin me and I had just as soon be hung as hurt. What I did has no connection with the Ku Klux Klan. Coburn had threatened to ruin me and publish affidavits about my character that were not true."

Coburn was said to be one of the first attorneys for the Klan after the order got under way. As attorney for Emperor Simmons, he filed a suit in court yesterday morning restraining Dr. H. E. Evans, imperial wizard, from using the secrets of the Klan in forming a women's organization under the name of the Klan or like name.

A wife and three children survive Coburn.

The grand jury opened its investigation of the killing and will report its findings to the court probably this afternoon.

Mrs. Fox, who was reported ill at her home, visited her husband twice at the jail this morning.

Fox said this morning when interviewed: "Coburn was about to publish affidavits against my character and reputation made by other people and which were untrue. I had gone to see him in an effort to reason with him, but it was no use."

Asked if the killing was the result of factionalism in the Klan's ranks, he replied it had nothing to do with it.

ATTORNEYS REPORT STARKEY TRIAL CONTINUED FOR TERM

Judge Joe Burkett, Carl Springer and Roy Nunnally, district court clerks, were back home Tuesday from a flying trip to Brownwood. They were there long enough to hear Judge J. O. Woodward order a continuance to the February term of the Brown county district court of the case against L. J. Starkey, held in connection with the death of "Pet" Brown.

The continuance was granted on motion of the state, on the ground that material witnesses for the prosecution were absent.

Nunnally went as a witness. Judge Burkett was retained to assist the prosecution and Springer is counsel for the defense.

FERRASAL EFFECTS WONDERFUL CURE

Dallas Man Recovers From Paralysis

"I was stricken with general paralysis followed by impact bowels on April 16th. Hiccoughs set up, which continued for seven days. I tried every remedy suggested to me without results. I started taking FERRASAL and the first dose stopped the hiccoughs for two hours. I repeated the doses and the hiccoughs had entirely stopped by morning and I have not had them since. I kept taking FERRASAL night and morning and was able to be up in two weeks and had regained the use of all my faculties in one month. I have had no trouble with my stomach or bowels since and my general health is improving daily."

Kellogg Products Always Are Packed With Greatest Care

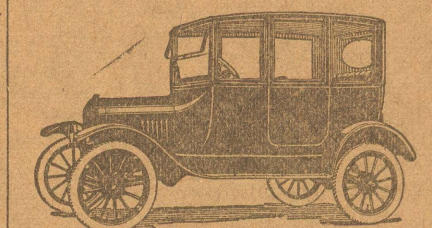

Not only the making but the packing of food products from the great Kellogg factories at Battle Creek is interesting. The famous Cornflakes Bran, Krumbles—all the foods are packed alike; that is, the same sort of container is used, the same waxed, water-proof paper lining is made, and when it is necessary for the packers to handle the package or touch the food they are equipped with clean white gloves for the purpose.

The Kellogg people even wax their own hair; they want the very best and want to be absolutely sure it is, so they make it; then they are sure.

Then they make the cartons. Their three-color presses not only print the cartons, but as the carton goes on through the machine it is cut so the ends will fold over.

These flat pieces are really boxes, of course, but they do not look it when they are carted in huge piles over to Howdy Friend!

COME TO FORT WORTH AND HELP CELEBRATE the founding of the Texas city that still breathes the Old Pioneer Spirit, the spirit of fellowship and militant Americanism. It was seventy-five years ago that a handful of pioneers banded themselves together on the banks of the Trinity river where now stands the Tarrant County Court House, and builded a fortress of oaken logs and set up for themselves a community that has since grown into the Forty-third city of the Nation. All railroads have ordered reduced rates so that a visit to Fort Worth can be made at the least possible expense. The celebration is a combination of the 75th and 50th birthdays of what is now Fort Worth. It was 50 years ago that the city was incorporated.

FREE! FREE! FREE!

All entertainment supplied by the Executive Committee is to be free. There will be no shell games, no grafting and faking. The great pageant participated in by 2,500 people will be free. The entertainments of the "Pioneer Village" are to be free. The Flying Circus and all Western Features will be free. A small charge is to be made to those desiring to attend the Victory Balls, given by the American Legion, because through this method the Legion can support its disabled buddies. The big college football games will make an entrance charge. Everything else will be free.

LINEUP WILL BE CHANGED FOR THE CISCO BATTLE

"With the backfield playing the same brilliant game as it did in the Eastland or Brickendonridge games, Ranger should have had two or three touchdowns."

This was the statement of an ex-college football player today, who saw the Comanche-Ranger game Saturday close-up and who has followed the fortunes of the Rampagers on other fields this season.

"When we had the ball our offense was weak. The whole backfield was off form except for punting."

He ventured the opinion that if the Rampagers play a defensive game such as it did in the Comanche battle, and the backfield is in form as in the Brickendonridge contest, they will have better than an even chance of beating Cisco Saturday.

That Ranger Defense. "Defensively, the Ranger line held," he said. "Wilson at right end was fast and his tackles sure. Collins had all the fight in him needed but his tackling was not deadly. Shell played a roving game at center. His end plays were marvelous. He broke down interferences frequently. He outshone Mason defensively."

Coach R. N. Sandlin of the Rampagers was enthusiastic over the gameness of his linemen. "It was evident to anyone our line was superior," he said. "Comanche linemen told us that our line held them better than Abilene linemen. At the banquet at Comanche after the game, good things were said about the line by players and the coaches. Tate, left guard for Comanche, was an All-State man last year, and he said Williams really outplayed any guard he has seen this year. Mahoney, right guard, said that Gullhorn was the best guard he has played against."

A change in lineup will be made Sandlin said today. John Collins, left end, will be shifted to Althausen's place at right tackle and Althausen placed in the back field, probably in the place of George Zarafonitis, who will go to left end. Sandlin said he has been considering this move for two weeks for he believed it would make for a better backfield.

Collins is a powerful end and will star at the tackle position. Putting George Zarafonitis at left end will give the team two fast ends positively necessary to go down the field on Tom Yonker's long punts. This combination—Zarafonitis and Wilson—ought to give the team good protection on a kick.

Some have been asking what was the matter with Ted Rummage Saturday. "He didn't use all the plays he knows," a Ranger supporter said. "He probably knows 18 or 20. I don't believe he used more than four in the Comanche game."

Ted was sick when he got to Comanche and he went into the game not feeling any too well, Sandlin said. Regardless of how he felt, or how many plays he called, his return of punts from Mason's boot was the best he has shown this year.

When someone asked Ford Shell why he waded into the Comanches the way he did, he said, "I got to thinking we had to do it to get that game." Ranger won and Shell had no small part in winning the game.

HOT STOVE PIPE SETS FIRE TO SHINGLE ROOF

A hot stove pipe, which passed through the ceiling of a small house on the Caddo road, set fire to the shingles and when the fire department arrived at the house, it was necessary to use chemicals. A slight damage was done to the furniture, it was said.

CULWELL AND BRADLEY SIGN UP FOR ARMISTICE DAY BATTLE; BOTH MEN ARE LAUNCHED UPON RING CAREER

Articles of agreement for a 10-round bout on Armistice day at the Liberty theatre of Ranger were signed last night by "Dutch" Culwell of Dublin and "Lefty" Bradley of Coleman in the presence of the athletic representatives of the Lions club. The men came in together by automobile from Dublin, and went immediately to the J. M. White and company department store, where the agreement was signed. J. M. White is chairman of the athletic committee.

While in the city, the men gave a representative of the Times their weight, general physical measurements and their record. Both men are young fighters, are ambitious and make a business of fighting for a living.

Both Are Young Fighters. Culwell is 21 years old and weighs 158 pounds. Bradley is 20 years of age and weighs 161 pounds.

Bradley in speaking of his career in the ring said that he and "Oklahoma" Cruley fought a 10-round draw in Oklahoma City and a 10-round draw with Howard Collins of Coleman. He has had one important engagement on the coast, meeting "Battling" Red at Los Angeles.

Culwell knocked "Speedy" Binyon, middleweight champion of the state of New Mexico, out in nine rounds at Brownwood. Fighting Jim Carroll, contender for the middleweight honors of Texas, he gained a draw in 12 rounds at Brownwood.

In his first engagement with "Spike" Kell of Kansas City, the bout was declared a draw by the referee, but in a return match, he put Spike to sleep in the fourth round.

Culwell also has met the middleweight champion of Arizona, "Whirlwind" Ray. Besides the Culwell-Bradley battle, J. B. (Shorty) Houghton and Pirtle Rainey will have the satisfaction of settling their argument as to who is the better scrapper. Pirtle and Shorty were in the main fight at a Lions club show here Labor day. The referee gave no decision, but a poll of the judges following the fight, showed that they considered it a draw.

IF BACK HURTS FLUSH KIDNEYS

Drink Plenty Water and Take Glass Of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Four Years Ago In Ranger

Taken from the files of the Ranger Daily Times, Nov. 6, 1919: Magnolia's J. M. Turner, No. 2, the first completion on the tract nixed the sand at 3,502 feet this morning, started out at 2,000 barrels and now, according to reports from the Magnolia office at Olden, has blown in into a 5,000-barrel well.

The Ranger Medical society was organized Tuesday following an impromptu meeting of a number of Ranger's surgeons and physicians. Ranger will get after the city streets and with the purchase of a power grader at a cost of $4,500 and the creation of the position of superintendent of streets, will see that the streets are made passable, kept free from holes and that alleys of the business section are put in shape.

Among unusual occupations listed in the London directory are "cocktail-shaker manufacturers," "hotel-keeping instructors" and "preservers of ferns and flowers."

UNDERWOOD-ATKINS WEDDING SOLEMNIZED.

The marriage of Miss Arletta Atkins, daughter of Mrs. Chic Atkins of Nashville, Tenn., to Charles F. Underwood of Ranger, Texas, which took place in that city Thursday evening, Nov. 1, is of interest to many friends in Ranger. The following account is from the Nashville Tennessean with which Mr. Underwood was formerly connected:

The ceremony was solemnized in the study of the First Presbyterian church at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. Albert C. Holt was the officiant. Only relatives and a few close friends were present at the marriage.

The bride was very charming in a gown of brown georgette crepe heavily beaded. A hat of panne velvet of the same shade was worn and she carried a bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Underwood left immediately after the ceremony for Ranger, Texas, where they will make their home. The groom is successfully connected with the Ranger Daily Times as manager of the circulation department. Mr. Underwood before his going to Texas to make his home, was a popular member of the circulation department of The Tennessean. Mrs. Underwood for the past six years has held a responsible position with the state highway department, and by her charming personality has acquired a large circle of friends who will be interested in her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Underwood returned to Ranger on Monday and are located at 114 North Marston street, where they are receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

MISSIONARY PAGEANT SUCCESSFULLY PRESENTED

More than two hundred women of the various churches of Ranger viewed with interest the Missionary pageant, "The Awaiting World," which was successfully presented Monday afternoon in the main auditorium of the Methodist church. The occasion was the quarterly union missionary meeting of all church auxiliaries, which had been deferred one week on account of heavy rains. This beautiful pageant was made possible by the gracious and complete cooperation of the women of all churches.

The white robes of the symbolical figures in the pageant were a background for the bright colors of seeking children of foreign nations who carried flags of many hues. In the pageant were groups of women from each Christian denomination, and standards carried showed the result of the work of women in the Methodist, Baptist, Christian, Presbyterian, Catholic and Episcopal churches of Texas during the last year. In many instances these sums were only approximate estimates, and especially in the case of the Methodist banners were not a true indication of the tremendous work done by the women of that church as the information was not easily obtained. The pageant was an appeal to the Christian womanhood of the city to go forward in their work with a larger, firmer purpose and broader vision.

The various groups in the presentation entered to the strains of "The Heavens Are Telling," while Mrs. Less Luke sang appropriate hymns indicated for the presentation, accompanied by Mrs. Charles G. Norton, president of St. Mary's Guild of the Episcopal church, which was the hostess auxiliary for the day. At the close of the pageant an offering was taken for the Salvation Army, which amounted to $18. Following a few remarks, and a prayer by Rev. Frank H. Stedman, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, the assembly joined in singing the familiar hymn, "The Morning Light Is Breaking."

At the close of the session the members and guests were invited to the church dining-rooms where refreshments were served. During the social hour songs were given by Mrs. A. L. Leake, and Mrs. Bess Luke. Those present were also asked to express on slips of paper their opinion as to whether the union meeting should be organized into a federation of churches with officers who would direct an interdenominational work in the city. Only a small proportion of the assembly voted, owing to the lateness of the hour and lack of facility in getting the slips to them, but those votes collected showed forty-three in favor of such an organization and only twenty against it.

The pageant was directed by Mrs. Charles G. Norton assisted by Mrs. W. H. Burden and Mrs. G. D. Chastain. Standards for the event were made by D. O. Marshall of the high school faculty. Those taking part were, Mrs. John H. Moyer, "Mother Church," "Spirit of Christian Womanhood," Mrs. M. H. Hagaman; "Spirit of American Patriotism," Mrs. O. S. Phillips; "The Voice," Mrs. Sandford Terrell; "Mary of Bethany," Mrs. Roy Jameson; "Faith," Mrs. J. W. Cash; "Prayer," Mrs. George Bohning; "Information," Mrs. W. H. Johnson; "System," Mrs. E. C. Shipp; Spokesman for America, Mrs. W. J. McFarland; for China, Miss Lillian Neal; for Japan, Mrs. H. U. Pond; for Mexico and Brazil, Mrs. W. J. McDonald.

The three Hebrew women were represented by Meses. Pickett, Burns and Bennett of the Christian church. Moses, Charles G. Norton; standard bearers for church auxiliaries, Meses McRea and Wolfe, Presbyterian; Meses Beulah Windham and Matthews, Christian; Meses. H. A. Logsdon and P. E. Nickel, Episcopal; Meses. Cross and Stedham, Baptist; Meses. Nell Whaley and O'Neill Catholic; Meses. C. D. Woods and S. P. Boon, Methodist. In the American group also were, Meses. Hinton and Clark; in the Japanese group with Mrs. Pound, Meses. A. R. Right and Bob Hunt; in the Chinese group with Miss Neal was Meses. C. C. Hoeker and Nelson Wagner, and in the Brazilian and Mexican group Mrs. McDonald was assisted by Miss Catherine Shea.

An invitation was extended by Mrs. Shipp of the Christian church, for the next meeting of the union which will be held December 13.
