

SUPREME COUNCIL WAITS UNTIL "BOLSHEVISM AT END"

NATIVES FLY WHITE FLAG LIQUOR RIOT

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—The liquor rebellion in Iron county, upper Michigan, apparently has subsided today in the face of the approach of Major Dalrymple, federal prohibition enforcement chief of the central states, with a picked force of armed assistants.

Dalrymple announced he would clean up the county, and arrest state, county and Iron River city officials who interfered with the federal agents seizing contraband wine last week.

The foreign-born element, composing most of the population of the section, is greatly excited over rumors of the possible strength of the federal troops.

In a number of instances white flags made from pillow slips and sheets and towels flew windows and housetops.

Much home-made wine and liquor is reported to have been hauled to the caves in the hills on sleds pulled by men, women and children. Other stores have been hidden in mine shafts, tunnels and underbrush. Quantities also have been poured away.

WAVES' DIRGE STILL SOUNDS FOR SEA DEAD

By Associated Press

CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 24.—The body of a victim of the storm of September 14, last, has just been found on an island about four miles south of Aransas Pass, bringing the total number of bodies recovered from the water in the five months that have elapsed to 255. The last body found was in November, when the skeleton of a woman was discovered near the mouth of the Nueces river.

It is believed that comparatively few persons were drowned whose bodies were not recovered, despite the fact that reports reached Corpus Christi that a number of bodies were seen drifting through Aransas Pass and Corpus and pass out into the Gulf of Mexico. The fact that the list now carried as missing is smaller than the number of bodies remaining unidentified leads to this belief.

More than half of those who lost their lives in the storm were washed up at White Point, about seven miles across Nueces bay from Corpus Christi. A total of 147 bodies were found and buried at White Point were later brought to this city, where they were reinterred in Rose Hill burial park.

In addition, eleven bodies were buried in the cemetery at Sinton, seven were shipped out immediately after the storm, one was buried at Gregory, one at Nueces river, one at the mouth of the Nueces river and one found on the island has been brought here for burial.

Of the 255 bodies actually recovered, 180 have been identified. Efforts are still being made by the identification bureau to identify the remaining seventy-five, and it is believed that some of them will be.

After every resource has been exhausted, the Red Cross plans to purchase a lot and bury all bodies that remain unidentified in one place, erecting a memorial shaft in their honor.

U. S. OFFICERS' WIVES BARRED FROM COBLENZ

By Associated Press

AMERICAN G. H. Q., Coblenz, Germany, Feb. 24.—No more American officers are to be permitted to bring their wives from America to the Rhine, until living conditions improve in Coblenz, it was announced recently in a war department cable from Washington. Coblenz is one of the most crowded cities in Europe, being headquarters of the Inter-Allied Rhineland High commission in addition to the seat of command of the 15,000 United States troops stationed in the bridgehead area.

It is estimated that there are approximately 200 American officers with their wives in Coblenz, many of whom have also brought over their children and servants. In numerous cases, an American family and a German family are quartered in the same house or apartment, using the same kitchen. There is scarcely a German family in Coblenz which has not one or more allied soldiers or members of the Rhineland commission billeted in their home.

COYOTES INVADE FARMS. HIAWATHA, Kan.—Due, it is believed, to their inability to obtain food during the last protracted cold spell, coyotes in this vicinity have become very daring and are making inroads on such livestock as pigs and lambs on farms near here.

Many of the animals have fallen victims to charges of buckshot, but it is believed that it will take an organized drive to clear the county of the pests.

FAT MEN BESEIGE OFFICE OF CHICAGO PHYSICIAN

International News Service

CHICAGO.—The star of the fat man shines brightly now. As the result of an operation whereby Dr. Max Thorek, a Chicago surgeon, pared 100 pounds of surplus flesh from the "bay window" of Paul Biese, who weighed 400 pounds before going to the operating table, many heavyweights are preparing to get scraped into sylph-like form. So many have applied for the operation, after years of fruitless dieting and unproductive messages, that Dr. Thorek has become known as "The Fat Man's Samaritan."

FARMERS SEEK CO-OPERATION, DEVELOPMENT

By Associated Press

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 24.—Extension of agricultural development and means for bringing about closer co-operation among the farmers of the south are the principal objects to be discussed in addresses in the twenty-first annual convention of the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers which began here today. The convention will last three days. The program for the convention includes addresses of welcome to the delegates by Dr. Trait Butler of Memphis, Tenn., president of the association; J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture of Georgia, and Mayor Chandler of Atlanta. This was followed by the extension of agricultural work in developing large farms through local and state organization of the farmers.

At tomorrow morning's session Dr. H. A. Morgan, president of the University of Tennessee, will speak on an agricultural policy for the guidance of producers in the Southern states. Reports on the co-ordination of investigational work conducted by the various experimental stations will be presented by the Agronomy committee, headed by C. A. Moores of Knoxville, Tenn.

The afternoon and evening sessions of tomorrow and Thursday will be taken up with sectional meetings including the following: Field crops and fertilizer section, animal husbandry and livestock section, extension section, horticultural section and the showing of practical exhibits. These meetings detailed reports will be presented on a wide variety of subjects. Some of them are:

Reports of L. O. Watson, cotton expert, United States department of agriculture, on co-operating cotton breeding for large adoption by the farmer; George Roberts, University of Kentucky, on co-ordination of soil fertility work; Dr. H. B. Brown, Mississippi Agricultural college, increasing corn production by selection and hybridization; R. Y. Winters, North Carolina experimental station, co-ordinating farm crops work.

Livestock questions coming under the animal husbandry and livestock section, to be presented, will take in the feeding of beef cattle in the south, rations for wintering steers, discontinuance of movement of tick-infested cattle, and the results obtained through investigational work by the livestock committee.

E. R. Miller, field agent of the department of agriculture, will address the delegates of the extension section tomorrow, according to the program, and will urge adoption of a program to create more intense interest among the farmers in agricultural betterments. What the extension workers of the south may do to solve marketing problems, authority for which is limited by the Smith-Lever act, will be discussed by J. A. Evans, chief of the office of extension work in the south, United States department of agriculture.

Horticulturists and pathologists representing their respective sections, will discuss at a union meeting Thursday, matters relating to tick-infested cattle, and a meeting in Birmingham, on the methods of co-operation.

Dr. W. M. Riggs, president of Clemson college, South Carolina, will bring the convention to a close Thursday morning with an address on European work with the American army.

SUGAR EXPORTS IN 1919 BIGGEST OF ALL

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Although general complaints of a sugar shortage were heard in this country last year, the exports of the commodity during the year exceeded those of the year before by over a billion pounds, according to the department of commerce. The exports totalled over 1,475,000,000 pounds, compared with 470,000,000 pounds the year before.

Relaxation of the restrictions on shipments by the Allied countries after the war is believed to be largely responsible for the increased exports.

MANY BOOKS TODAY; MOST OF THEM BAD

By Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 24.—More books are being written today than ever before in the history of publishing, says John Murray, widely known publisher. "The average is better than it was 30 to 40 years ago," he added. "Great numbers of people have contracted a feverish desire to write novels, but many of them have no real knowledge of the author's craft, and are sadly unequal to the task they undertake. Any successful novel now seems to call into existence a veritable host of aspirants who are fired to emulate the happy author."

"Two vital qualities which are often lacking in the novelist of today are a sense of humor, and a really clever working out of the plot."

"It is too early yet to say what will be the effect of the war on fiction. Recently there has been a tendency for novelists to deal with sex problems in their stories. I sincerely hope this is a passing phase. My experience is that the 'wholesome' novel meets with success just now."

Mr. Murray said the present demand in war books is for histories of regiments and divisions, many of which are being written, and will form the material for a permanent history of the war. This, he said, could not be written for many years.

SCHOOL BOND VOTE FRIDAY, F. & M. BANK

The following men will serve as election officials in the school bond election to be held at the directors' rooms of the F. and M. Bank next Friday: J. E. Barnes, election judge; P. E. McDonald, clerk; Miss Gertie Hooker, M. K. Collier, and Mr. Madaras.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. Every one in the Ranger independent school district, who has the good of the schools at heart should cast a ballot, if he is qualified to vote. Soldiers who have paid real or personal tax are permitted to vote.

At an election held last fall, no opposition to the bond issue developed, but there were only forty votes cast in favor of the measure, and the low vote rendered the bonds unsalable, investors taking the view that failure to vote indicated passive opposition to the issue.

Concrete work on the Young school building, the Cooper building and the one at Tiffin is about completed and brick laying will start soon. In order to complete these badly needed structures it is necessary to get a heavy vote on the bond issue, and to insure the sale of the bonds.

SMOKE SCREEN BEST WAY OF SIGNALLING MARS, SUGGESTION

By Associated Press

BRYN MAWR, Penn., Feb. 24.—Use of the government's surplus smoke making material, left from the war, in signalling Mars has been suggested by James Crenshaw, associate professor of chemistry at Bryn Mawr, who served during the war in the chemical warfare section of the army.

Smoke screens hundreds of miles wide, covering a space as large as the state of Pennsylvania, are more likely to be discerned by possible Martians than the geometric designs which Sir Oliver Lodge suggests be laid out on the Sahara desert, he stated.

HOW MUCH FOR A WIFE?

By Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 24.—What is the cash value of a wife is a question which agitated the London divorce court for a time. Counsel for the husband in a case, urging on the question of damages, said that the old theory that a wife was a chattel and that the jury had to award damages to the owner of the property still holds true "with some slight modifications."

"Then you call her a quasi-chattel," said the judge. The court found the matter too heavy for hasty decision and reserved judgment.

CO-EDS' DEMAND FOR YEAST LEADS TO INVESTIGATION

International News Service

EVANSTON, Ind.—Grocers here recently started an investigation into the suspicious circumstances surrounding the unusual purchase of yeast by many of the co-eds of the Northwestern university. Enough of the yeast has been sold to supply the demand of a chain of bakeries. They couldn't understand it unless the girls were trying home brew recipes.

The inquisitive grocery learned that the co-eds had been reading beauty hints, which stated that yeast is a great producer and maintainer of complexion, form and general plumpitude. Those who were too plump, munched the yeast cakes to reduce. Those who were too thin nibbled the cakes to grow plump. Those who were just right ate yeast to remain that way.

The Evanston grocers were much relieved and laid in fresh supplies of yeast cakes.

ALLEGED LYNCHER TO SECOND TRIAL

By Associated Press

CANTON, Texas, Feb. 24.—Much interest attaches to the second trial of Charlie Lansdale, under indictment for murder in connection with the lynching of Chilton Jennings, a negro, at Gilmer, Texas, July 24. His first trial ended in disagreement, and he will again go to trial here in April.

Lansdale's case and those of three other men indicted in Upshur county in connection with the lynching were transferred to this (Van Zandt) county on change of venue, granted on motion of the district judge in Upshur county. The cases of two other men also indicted in connection with the lynching were transferred to Dallas, and have not been brought to trial.

The first trial of Lansdale, which ended early this month, was hotly contested and after two days' deliberation, the jury was discharged as it was unable to reach a verdict. It was learned that nine jurors were for conviction and three for acquittal. The case was continued until the next case of court, which starts April 5th.

RED ARMY MADE UP OF MANY NEUTRALS

By Associated Press

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 24.—About 80 per cent of the Red army in Russia are not Reds, but neutral, according to a staff correspondent of Handelsblad just returned from an extended trip through Russia. He says that about 60 per cent of the officers are largely drawn from the trained military men of the upper class and that they are Zerst by inclination. They have been forced to serve in the Bolshevik forces by various methods, because of their fitness. In some cases, their families are held as hostages.

BUT RUSSIA TRADE MAY BE RESUMED

By Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The allies decline to deal with soviet Russia "until they arrive at the conviction that the Bolsheviks have come to an end," it was announced after a meeting of the supreme allied council today.

The decision of the supreme allied council precludes diplomatic relations between the allies and the Moscow administration in the immediate future. The council expressed pleasure that the International Labor bureau had decided to send a delegation to Russia to study conditions.

The council decided that the allies could not accept the responsibility of advising the border states to continue in the war against the Bolsheviks, which course by such states might be injurious to their interests.

Recognition of the Russian soviet government by the entente is not contemplated by the supreme allied council, but trade relations may be resumed. Premier Millerand is understood to have voiced the fear of France that united Russia might be a serious menace to western Europe, while Lloyd George and Nitti held that Russia was broken up and not dangerous.

ANCIENT CLIFF CITIES TO SEE MODERN VISITORS

By Associated Press

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 24.—Efforts to reach and explore ruins of ancient cliff cities, known to exist in Zion canyon, Utah's newly created national park in the southwestern part of the state, will be made during the coming summer by a party of archeologists and geologists, several of whom are attached to the University of Utah here.

The cliff cities never have been visited because of their inaccessible locations on high cliffs. It is hoped, however, that this difficulty will be overcome by the lowering of the explorers from the top of the bluffs by ropes. Long range photographs taken show that the cities are large and their adobe houses are clearly outlined and appear to be in perfect preservation.

LAMB.

A Vital Question in a Big Fox Play.
 The theme of "Should a Husband Forgive?" the big William Fox special which will be seen tomorrow at the Lamb, deals with the question of whether or not a husband should forgive his wife for a crime of which she is guilty.
 The great question, "Should a Husband Forgive?" is one of academic interest to all married persons and to those contemplating matrimony. No matter how little a person may be affected personally the tendency to imagine one's self as the central figure of a dramatic situation makes the question one of universal interest.

Whether a husband should forgive is perhaps the most important of all questions affecting married life. Many homes have been wrecked because a husband refused to forgive on his wife's confession. Again, countless lives have been wrecked because the wife weakly tried to conceal her past from her husband only to have it discovered under aggravated circumstances.

LIBERTY.

Liberty Filled to Standing Room for "Lone Star Ranger."
 "The Lone Star Ranger," with William Farnum in the title role, was greeted yesterday at the Liberty theatre by enthusiastic audiences. As heretofore announced, the play is based upon Zane Grey's novel.
 Through this stirring picture of Texas life, at a time when the only law recognized by bandits and cattle thieves was that of the gun, run thrilling episodes showing how the Rangers cleared the border of marauders.
 Mr. Farnum gives a masterful interpretation of the character of the range rider and lover who finds that his sweetheart is the daughter of the chief of the bandit gang he is pursuing.

LONE STAR.

"A Girl Named Mary" is a Delightful Picture.

It is an appealing bit of girl-psychology that Marguerite Clark unfolds in her new picture, "A Girl Named Mary," which is being shown at the Lone Star theatre today. She has the role of a stenographer living in a humble flat with a woman whom she has always called mother. A rich widow has been searching for fifteen years for her daughter who was carried away, involved in a train wreck, and never heard from again. The widow suddenly discovers that Mary, the stenographer, is the long sought-for girl and she pours out her heart to her, offering her ease and luxury instead of her humble life of toil. Mary's heart is torn with conflicting emotions. She hardly knows her real mother and she has learned to love her foster-mother dearly. At first she rebels at the elegance and lofty tastes of the widow's household and runs away. But finally a certain young man, the sweetheart of her less prosperous days, clears up the difficulty by asking her hand in marriage.

Sammies Gas Corp To Move Offices

The gas shortage which occurred about 9:30 a. m. on Tuesday was occasioned by the shut-off of one of the meters of the Texas company. This meter was cut out in order to make essential repairs.
 Work has started on the eight-inch main running to the new gas supply at the Coe wells about four miles northwest of Ranger. A six-inch line which will connect with the eight-inch main in the Pace addition is now in process of installation. The laying of mains in the paving areas of the city has been practically completed.
 The office of the Sammies Gas corporation will be moved from its present location in the Clifford building to the new offices recently completed in the Poe building.

HIPPODROME RANGER'S MUSICAL COMEDY HOUSE

LONDON SAYS DEMPSEY WON THROUGH FOULS

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The marked difference in the interpretation and enforcement of boxing rules and regulations in this country and England is well illustrated in the impressions gained from witnessing the film views of the Dempsey-Willard heavyweight champion contest. The movies of this bout have been exhibited privately several times in the United States. One or two pugilistic experts have raised the claim that the pictures clearly show that Dempsey fouled Willard in the first round by hitting the title holder while he was down. They found little support, however, for their charges. The same films viewed through English eyes recently, brought forth several articles by prominent pugilistic writers who charge that Willard was fouled not once but several times and that under English boxing rules Dempsey would have been disqualified and ordered from the ring. The following is a typical English view of the affair as printed in one of the most prominent London sport dailies:

"In that single round (the first) Willard was sent down no fewer than seven times, but on three occasions he was hit when still 'down,' according to the spirit and letter of the rules of boxing in this country. Each time Willard was put down Dempsey practically stood over him ready to strike again and would have done so had not the referee got in front of him and pushed him away; but on the three occasions specially mentioned

Willard was hit while still no more than half-way to an erect position, and helpless to defend himself. After being sent down for the sixth time, and while still grasping the middle rope and struggling to rise, Willard was hit again and again, until he half rolled, half sank, to the floor in a neutral corner for the seventh time. In England Dempsey would have been disqualified then, if he had not been when he committed any one of his previous technical breaches.

Lawn tennis throughout England may be said to have regained its pre-war position and there is every evidence that the sport will experience a tremendous boom during the coming summer, especially with an American team playing in the Wimbledon championships.

Reserved stand tickets for this tournament, which will not begin until June 21, have already been placed upon sale and so great was the demand that they allotted in part by ballot.

These seats, which are good throughout the entire tournament and are also transferable, were placed on sale about the middle of January at a cost of approximately $12 each. According to the latest announcements from abroad it is expected that the tournament will continue for close to two weeks and will contain entrants, both men and women from all the European tennis playing countries as well as the United States, Australia, Japan and South Africa.

Other plans include the revival of the famous London-Paris matches beginning April 9 and the inauguration of an English professional championship. The conditions for this innovation are roughly as follows:

Under the regulations, a register shall be kept of all professional players, no registration fee being payable. Every challenge shall be for a stake of $100 a side, and within seven days of the issue of the challenge the challenger shall deposit with the treasurer of the Lawn Tennis association the sum of $100. The champion must accept the challenge within fourteen days and deposit a similar sum. By mutual consent the side stake can be over $500. The annual contest is to be held in July each year, and challenges must be received by the preceding March 1. If there be more than one challenger eliminating sets of matches shall be played in May.

After deducting expenses the gate money shall be divided by the champion and his opponent in the championship match in the proportion of two to one. The champion shall hold the trophy, value $500, so long as he retains the title.

BOY, 15, ARRESTED AS DANGEROUS PYROMANIAC

International News Service, CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Theodore Sadowski, fifteen years old, is under arrest here as one of the most dangerous pyromaniacs ever at large in Chicago.

"I like to see the pretty flames burn up buildings," he explained when caught in the act of setting fire to an apartment building. "They make me laugh. There is something in my head that keeps saying: 'Burn! Burn! Burn!'"

Schedule for track meets at the University of Texas this year is as follows: April 7, Rice Institute, Houston; April 17, Baylor University, Austin; April 24, A. & M., Austin; May 7-8, Interscholastic League Meet, Austin; May 14-15, Southwestern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Meet, Houston.

86, HOLDS BELT AS CHAMP SNOW SHOVELER

International News Service, LENOX, Mass., Feb. 24.—Henry Snyder, eighty-six years old, one of the oldest residents of Great Barrington, holds the belt in this section as the champion snow shoveler. For two days he shoveled seven hours a day and during that time figures that he handled thirty tons of snow at least.

On his last birthday he entertained some of the village youths by standing on his head and turning a hand-spring, at both of which tricks he is unusually adept.

LAW MAKERS TOO FAST.

BERLIN, Feb. 24.—The German Jurists' league has complained to the National Council against the alleged haste with which important legislative measures are rushed through the council and the assembly and written on the statute books. The jurists declare that the national assembly is without an adequate number of competent legal advisers.

VAGS AND CLEAN STREETS.

Now that the paved streets have become more passable, it is suggested that the city revive a practice that was started some time ago with more than fair success—that of using the "wiffully unemployed" on the city streets, to clean away the dirt and debris that remains.

The men who are sentenced for vagrancy are, if they do not pay their fines, as they generally cannot, a liability as long as they are imprisoned, for they must be fed. The city could well afford the expense of putting them to work, for the return coming from better cared for paved streets.

CARELESS DRIVERS.

Complaints are being made again about the attitude shown ambulances by some drivers of automobiles, trucks and heavy wagons, when it is going to a call or carrying an ill or injured person whose quick transit to hospital or train may mean the difference between good and poor chances for recovery.

An ordinance to this effect has been passed by the city council and a penalty provided.

None should be necessary. Inmate decency and manhood should prompt as quick a response to the ambulance driver's hail for right of way as is found, in moments of stress, for the unspoken cry of the weaker for protection, or rescue from danger, or imminent death.

But there are some who show a callous disregard for the ambulance driver's signal; and for them the measure has been provided.

The police department promises official attention to those who offend further.

FEDERAL RETRENCHMENT.

Another angle on the federal building situation is added by a letter received by the Times from Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, who addressed a similar communication to the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Blanton has been a worker for better conditions in postoffices of the oil fields.

His report as to the prospect of putting through a new building cannot be called encouraging. He says: "As to a new building, we are now facing a deficit of over $3,000,000,000. No new building bill has been passed since war began in April, 1917. None will pass this session, for we must pay our debts, without increasing taxation."

"To pass any building bill, it would be necessary for us to agree to give the big cities like New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco and others, millions of dollars that are not needed, and for this reason I have fought to keep back such a bill until our government makes plans to get her head above water financially."

His suggestion as to immediate solution of the building question is exactly the one upon which the postoffice inspector of this section has acted; namely, a privately owned building offered for departmental use.

Encouragement is held out, too, in his communication: "We have at last gotten through congress a bill providing appropriations to take care of such emergency conditions. I have succeeded in getting the department to send William S. Ryan, assistant director of postoffice service, in person to the various postoffices in the oil section, to make a personal inspection of prevailing conditions and immediate needs of such offices."

Mr. Ryan was scheduled to leave Washington last Thursday on this trip.

Life of Splendid Isolation Is Promised for Future

International News Service. LONDON, Feb. 24.—These are some of the conditions of social life in 500 years' time predicted by Dr. A. M. Low, a well-known London consulting engineer, who invented a motor-scooter and has produced an apparatus for seeing simple objects by wire.

Delightful underground avenues. Roofed-in city parks. Drawing-rooms travelling 100 miles an hour on roars as smooth as a billiard ball. "The happy people in those days," he said, "will look back upon our condition today with just such feelings of amused pity as we show for the state of the savages of prehistoric times."

Humanity, having continued to develop the "coddling" process of civilization, which has so far had the effect of making it necessary to wear clothes, live in warm houses, and to seek all sorts of enervating luxuries and comforts, will have reached so delicate a physical condition that people will not be able to stand exposure to the common elements of nature, such as wind, cold, rain, snow, excessive heat.

"They will tend to live underground. There will be underground streets, through which all traffic will proceed. Roads will be absolutely smooth and not touch-shewn and humpy as they are today."

"When a man sets out for business he will not proceed, as he does now, by tramway car or train; he will pass along delightful avenues underneath the surface of the earth. "Motor cars and all motor vehicles will proceed by wireless power and not by the crude method of using petrol."

"Motor cars will be fitted up like luxuriously appointed drawing-rooms and will be driven (by wireless) at a rate of 100 miles an hour. Wireless telephones will be installed, as well as every kind of appointment making for luxury and comfort. Many people will own these cars. "People will live in a condition of splendid physical isolation. Television—that is, the ability to see your absent friend over a distance of many miles—and wireless telephony, which will enable you to talk to him (or her) in comfort, will lead to this condition."

"There will be less desire in those days for close physical communion. That desire is a relic of barbarism. "Savages will not touch a telephone. They prefer to travel to the presence of the one they wish to speak to. Many people still are not content to talk to their friend over the telephone merely because they like to see and touch him."

"That relic of the barbaric age will probably disappear in the next 500 years. "There will still be the wealthy classes, and other classes less well off financially. That will mean that there will still be servants in the house to do the necessary housework. But that will not interfere with the condition of splendid physical isolation, because these servants will not be intimate associates. "This vision is not an extravagant or wild set of theories. It is the direction in which scientific discoveries

PERFECT HEALTH IS EVERY WOMAN'S BIRTHRIGHT

Houston, Texas—"I was in a terribly run-down condition of health after a siege of ptomaine poisoning, and then the influenza. I could not seem to regain my strength and was really not able to do my housework. I knew I needed a good tonic and builder and remembered how my folks used to regard Dr. Pierce's remedies in my girlhood days, and then I decided to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I am now taking the second bottle and it is doing me a world of good. My strength is returning rapidly and I feel better in every way."

"I am glad indeed to recommend the medicine that is doing me so much good and do not hesitate to give this statement."—Mrs. GERTRUDE SELL, 2117 Common St. Beaumont, Texas—"One of my sisters became quite a sufferer periodically and would have fainting spells. She doctored but did not improve. Then, three years ago, a friend advised her to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It helped her right away and she has been in a healthier condition ever since that time. "I would never hesitate a moment in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all young girls who suffer, I have such great confidence in it, seeing how it helped her."—Mrs. MARY E. BRAMMER, 1970 Harrison Ave.

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances. At these critical times women are best fortified by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, an old remedy of proved worth.

COUNTY JUDGE C. R. STARNES A CANDIDATE

County Judge C. R. Starnes will be a candidate for re-election, if he feels that the electorate of Eastland county is satisfied with his work in that office.

"The commissioners court and the county judge have the expenditure of approximately $5,000,000 for good roads. There is an immense amount of work incident to getting this large enterprise in motion and for several months I have given it practically all of my time."

"I would like to know whether your community feels that the best interest of the county would be served by me finishing the work that has been started. In this connection, you may say that I will be a candidate and my formal announcement will follow when I learn the sentiment of the people."

"We have planned and will try to present soon to the people of the county a feasible arrangement to get a new court house. We are now working and making arrangements to build a house to take care of the and experiment tend. It is no more and no less 'wild' to us than our present social conditions would have appeared to our forebears generations ago."

"Many scientific men have come face to face with discoveries and inventions which are only separated from actual realization by a simple little difficulty which will certainly be overcome in time."

SWITZERLAND A HAVEN FOR FORMER KINGS

By Associated Press

GENEVA, Feb. 24.—Switzerland has become since the armistice, the refuge of royalty. There are probably more ex-kings, ex-princes and ex-nobility in Switzerland than in any other country in the world.

Former Emperor Kary of Austria-Hungary has been residing at the beautiful chateau of Prangins near Geneva since a few days before the armistice, when, accompanied by British officers, he was rushed across the frontier. The lives of the imperial family were believed to be in danger in Vienna at the time. The chateau at Prangins belongs to Mrs. Helar Clarke, of New York, and was formerly the property of Prince Jerome Bonaparte.

Karl spends most of his time shooting, fishing and boating. His wife, the former Empress Zita, has much to do looking after the welfare of her five children, one of the young dukes being in rather feeble health.

The Associated Press correspondent met the formerly imperial couple a few days ago. Dressed as ordinary tourists, they had come here from Prangins on a shopping tour when the correspondent ran across them in a flower market. They were unaccompanied and Karl was loaded with parcels. No one took any notice of the couple.

Karl greatly embarrassed the Swiss president recently. The former emperor sent President Ador a message announcing the birth of a son, adding that he was "happy and proud to find that he had a son born in Switzerland, the cradle of the House of Hapsburgs."

The ruins of the original chateau of the Hapsburgs, built in 1020, still exists in the Canton of Argovie, but it is said that, owing to the fact that for more than a century the Austrians have been considered as hereditary enemies of the Swiss, the Swiss president thought the message from the former emperor was in doubtful taste.

The former king of Bavaria, Ludwig III, who celebrated his seventh birthday a few days ago with all the members of his family, resides at Locarno. He crossed the Swiss border a few days before the armistice and has not returned to Germany since. He spends most of his time reading books of the late war and motoring around beautiful Lake Lugano. It has been stated that he has shown signs of insanity, hereditary in his family, and he is always accompanied by a Munich mental expert.

His nephew, former Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, makes frequent visits to Davos, traveling more or less incognito. His name was on the list of Germans wanted by the Allies for war crimes and he is reported to be preparing his case in the event of extradition being granted. He is charged with being the first German general to employ poisonous gas.

The Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Hess came to Switzerland during the German revolution and have been residing here since.

The Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, who has spent most of her time in Geneva since the beginning of the war, recently told the correspondent that in the last five years she had received very few letters from her daughter, the former Crown Princess Cecile of Germany, and attributed the fact to the influence of the former German emperor, with whom the grand duchess smilingly acknowledged she was "persona non grata."

He denied, however, the report that her daughter intended to seek a separation from the former Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm.

There are several other ex-princes in Switzerland whose chief preoccupation is the depreciation of the mark and calculation how to make both ends meet.

All the foregoing have been living quietly and have not attempted to break the rule of the Swiss government, conveyed to them in diplomatic language at the time they took up their residence in Switzerland, to the effect that no political propaganda of any sort would be tolerated.

Ex-King Constantine and the former Queen Sophie of Greece, however, have been much more prominent, and, in fact, the present Greek minister at Bern publicly accused them in the Swiss press of being the instigators and accomplices in the plot against Mr. Venizelos, which was recently discovered in Athens.

Constantine and his family and suite consisting of about thirty persons stayed for some months at a hotel in Lucerne, but recently the ex-king was removed to St. Moritz, where, it is said, lower rates were granted to feel the pinch for funds. They spend most of their time motoring.

Jewelers have profited by the advent of these erstwhile royalties in Switzerland. A diadem belonging to ex-Empress Zita valued at 200,000 crowns was recently sold at Bern. A lot of very high-class jewels from Austrian and Hungarian royalties and aristocrats have been purchased by Swiss dealers and much is lying as pledges in the safes of the banks.

J. M. Hubbard has sold the New-castle Register to a syndicate of local business men.

Miss Jane Duffy, director of the School of Public Health Nursing at the University of Texas, announces that enrollment for the spring term, beginning March 22, is now in progress.

SILVER MINES LOOK FORWARD TO PROSPERITY

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Use of the silver standard in oriental countries, coupled with the enormous commercial expansion now in progress between West and East, indicates that there is an immense shortage of silver to meet the demands of trade, says the American Chamber of Commerce in London.

One result of this shortage, says the American Chamber of Commerce, is that American and Mexican silver mines may look forward confidently to an era of unprecedented prosperity for many years to come. Silver, it is understood, must also be found to back over $30,000,000,000 worth of paper money issues floating in Europe today, in addition to which America's increasing volume of trade with India and China calls for almost an unlimited supply of the metal.

The United States and Mexico furnish nearly three-fourths of the world's yearly output of silver, the larger portion coming from the United States. As the price of the white metal advances it has become profitable to most countries to convert silver into bullion. "Small change" continues to disappear on the European continent with remarkable rapidity, postage stamps largely replacing the former silver coin of small value.

The United States is said to be the one country in position today to buy silver for coinage without debasing its standard coins.

AIRSHIP MAKERS MAY JOIN.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 24.—The leading British constructors of dirigible airships are considering favorably a proposal by the British Air Ministry that they should combine so far as the line of development is concerned, according to the American Chamber of Commerce in London.

It is anticipated, says the chamber, that the current year will see progress in replacing the enormous airships now in use with mooring towers to be erected throughout the country.

MEXICANS THOUGHT PLANE VISITATION FROM HEAVEN

By Associated Press.
CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Feb. 24.—Mexicans near Nacozari in the state of Sonora, Mexico, many of whom had never seen an airplane, thought they were perceiving the miraculous visitation of the flight of a cross through the heavens when an American army plane crossed the Rio Grande and landed at Nacozari, says W. H. Williams, who has just arrived in Corpus Christi from El Tigre in Sonora.

JUDGE HILL IS CANDIDATE FOR ELECTION

JUDGE E. A. HILL, Judge E. A. Hill, district judge of Eastland county, and as such presiding over "the biggest district court in the United States," has announced his candidacy for election to that position, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

Judge Hill was a native of Tennessee, coming to Eastland in 1885, where he started reading law in the office of Davenport & Conner. Major Davenport was then a state senator and an able attorney. Judge Truman H. Connor was for several years a district judge.

Judge Hill was admitted to the bar in Eastland in 1888 and was elected county attorney that same year, though he was only 22 years old. He was re-elected in 1890. He retired from office in 1892, resuming the practice of law. In 1906 he was elected county judge and filled that position for eight years, retiring from it in 1914.

Though he had retired from office at that time, to devote himself entirely to his practice, he was elected mayor of Eastland, which position he held until 1919. He was appointed district judge by Governor Hobby when the present judicial district was created.

One of the most noteworthy features in connection with the introduction of Tanlac throughout the south has been the large number of ministers of the gospel who have unhesitatingly and voluntarily given this wonderful medicine their unqualified endorsement.

The Rev. W. C. Norton, presiding elder of the Miami district, Florida conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and for many years pastor of the Wesley Memorial church at Jacksonville, adds his testimony to the thousands of others who have been restored to health by its use.

After saying that Tanlac had been recommended to him by several members of his congregation he made the remarkable statement that Tanlac had entirely relieved him of a severe case of chronic indigestion of eight or ten years standing. His statement follows:

"For eight or ten years I suffered from chronic indigestion causing intense pains from gas in my stomach. At times I would become very dizzy and seldom slept well and suffered at times with severe headaches; attacks of acute indigestion were frequent and I was simply uncomfortable all the time.

"I became interested in Tanlac through my friends who had tried it. The benefit I have derived from the use of this medicine is nothing short of wonderful, for I really feel as well now as I ever felt in my life. I sleep well and eat anything I want and indigestion never troubles me now. My liver and kidneys seem to be acting perfectly and I feel splendid in every way. In short, Tanlac has simply restored my health and I feel it my duty to recommend it as a medicine of exceptional merit, especially to those who may be suffering as I once was."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Drug and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Adv.

FEMINE HEADGEAR WILL INCLUDE HORSE HAIR

CINCINNATI, Feb. 24.—Time works changes. The headgear of femininity in America this spring will include horse hair.

Time was when hermits used horse hair as a garment for self-inflicted penance.

One most consistent of cephalone into spring millinery," was the explanation offered when the discovery was made at a local exhibition of spring hats that some of the new hats have an irregular, or jagged, outline.

Some of the new millinery is fashioned from celluloid which has been made into a fire-proof, shiny substance called cephane.

One most consistent of cephalone combined with black maline.

Speaking from a millinery point of view, the coming season will be a shiny one.

Great quantities of jet will be used as well as braids with a metallic surface, and a glossy variety of trimming known as glycerine ostrich.

TOURIST CROP SOLE ECONOMIC HOPE OF FRANCE

(By Newton C. Parke, International News Service Staff Correspondent.)
PARIS, Feb. 23.—Many sober French economists see no hope for a material improvement in the country's financial position and in the rate of exchange until a great influx brings new wealth into France this spring.

The new government promises an energetic programme of taxation. But there are many members of the chamber of deputies who advise care in levying new taxes until the people have a chance to escape from some of the burdens imposed upon them by the war. Any measures which will tend to increase the abnormally high cost of living seem doomed to failure.

France derives most of her export business from so-called "luxuries," Parisian gowns, silks from Lyons and wines. Prohibition in America hit her severely, because it wiped out her greatest wine market. The fact that most of the countries which were heavy buyers of luxuries in France before the war are now no longer in a position to make heavy purchases has been another important factor in keeping down the rate of exchange and making the financial situation acute.

Just now the French are buying large quantities of raw materials which they are converting into manufactured products for export as rapidly as possible. Because of the adverse rate of exchange on the American dollar and the English pound she is buying as much as possible from Germany, and doubtless will continue to do so until conditions improve.

The recent downward movement of the franc has made it practically impossible for Americans to do business here except in articles which the French absolutely must have.

Though peace with Germany actually has been in effect for several weeks, most of the trade between France and the over-the-Rhine country is being carried on under arrangements that prevailed during the armistice period. French business men are swarming into Berlin and the more popular centers, but credit arrangements are still difficult to make and are requiring much time.

The Paris banks have not yet begun to deal in marks and exchange is generally regulated in the area occupied by the French army of occupation on the Rhine. Three weeks after peace was made effective, it was still impossible to send ordinary commercial messages from Paris to Berlin, except by special dispensation, and mail from Paris to Berlin, or vice-versa, arrives more rapidly if sent via Switzerland, Holland or the Scandinavian countries.

The difficulty and inconvenience of traveling between Paris and Berlin is another obstacle to the resumption of before-the-war commercial relations, to say nothing of the delays encountered in shipping goods. At present only one train daily moves direct from Paris to Berlin via Cologne, and it is reserved for diplomatic personages. The ordinary commercial traveler must put up with all kinds of inconveniences in making the journey.

The high tide of the tourist rush is expected about the first of July, when it is believed here that the exchange situation will show improvement even if no other encouraging factor develops. Not only from the United States and France, but from far-away South America thousands of battlefield visitors are coming, the tourist agencies report, and they are expected to pour millions of francs into the treasury.

Planting and caring for bulbs for the purpose of sending flowers to students who are ill is one of the interesting features of the work of the Social Service committee of the University of Texas. W. C. A. Easter lilies are grown every year and taken to the Old Ladies Homes as gifts on Easter Day. The aim of the Social Service Department is to create a spirit of social responsibility. Miss Katherine Quarles of Van Buren, Ark., and Miss Lillian Ross of Mexico, are serving as joint chairmen of the Social Service committee this year.

Dempsey Must "Win in Hurry" to Beat Carpenter

Jack McAuliffe Declares Carpenter Will Be No Setup For the Champion.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Jack McAuliffe, the only world's undefeated lightweight champion, believes Carpenter has more than a Chinaman's chance of beating Jack Dempsey.

McAuliffe's opinion is at least interesting, the more so because he takes sides with the minority of boxing fans on this side of the water who believe Jacques Dempsey's crown will be in dire danger when he toes the mark with the Frenchman.

"I understand," said McAuliffe recently, "that there are quite a few good folks on this side of the Atlantic who figure Georges Carpenter is a setup for our great Dempsey. Now maybe they're right. No one will be able to say positively whether or not Carpenter is a Dempsey setup until after he has met the champion.

"But I want to say one thing in particular for Carpenter. He's one of the craftiest men I've seen in the ring, and I've seen a lot of 'em. He's no body's boob. And neither is this Deschamps, his manager.

"It is my humble belief that Carpenter has better than a chance with Dempsey. The way I figure him is this: He's just like a torpedo aimed at an anchored boat. Once the torpedo collides with the boat, there is no more boat.

"This Carpenter is a finished boxer. What's more, he knows the American style. Why, he's been boxing like American boxers for a good many years. I think he knows more about boxing—the science of it—than Dempsey does. He's been fighting longer, and he's a very smart lad. Nothing escapes him that he can use to his advantage in the ring.

"Now when these boys meet, and they will surely meet within the year, it strikes me that Dempsey will have to win in a hurry if he's going to check up a splendid victory over Carpenter. Dempsey reminds me a whole lot of John L. Sullivan. One of those hurry up, hammer and tongs lads. If he lands in the first rush or two they carry the other fellow away in a cart. If he fails to land on the button the fight goes on. And if Dempsey's fight with Carpenter lasts after the first few rounds, well just look out for Carpenter. The old title may take a long vacation to the boulevards of Gay Paree.

"Don't forget that when Dempsey faces Carpenter, he's going to look the fastest fighter of the generation squarely in the eye. Carpenter makes the fastest fighters look slow. That's how fast he is. And with this speed he carries a wallop, hen he hits 'em, he hits 'em hard. What's more, Georges is a fast thinker.

"When Willard lost to Dempsey in Toledo he overlooked a bet. Had he been a fast thinker he would have yelped for Dempsey's disqualification when Jack left the ring, thinking he had won. And Jess would probably have gotten by with it. But he wasn't a fast thinker. Nothing slow about the grey matter under Carpenter's bonnet. He'll be thinking a mile a minute when he meets Dempsey, and fighting the same way. I think he has a good chance."

That women are fast forging to the front as draftsmen is indicated by the decision of the United States navy department to allow them to take the examinations, whether it is for general engineering work or for specific lines of aeronautical ordnance, ship, electrical, radio or building drafting.

FRENCH GIRLS SHUN FOOTBALL; SAY IT RUINS THE ANKLES

(By International News Service.)
PARIS.—French girls are not taking very well to football, despite several attempts to make it a real feminine sport. The reason is that the doctors will advise them it will spoil their figures.

Every Sunday several football games are staged between teams of young girls, but it is noticeable that the feminine football associations are not gaining recruits. But the sporting newspaper, L'Auto, points out that so long as football develops large ankles it is not apt to gain a strong foothold with the French fair sex.

Only nineteen immigrants came to the United States from Rumania in 1919, the smallest number from any foreign country.

CLERK GOING TO EVICT WOMAN MARRIES HER

CHICAGO.—Going to an apartment to evict a woman because of a rent dispute and ending up by marrying her, is the story of the first wedding bell romance in the life of Homer D. Fetty, a law clerk, and the fourth in the life of Mrs. Donna Rena Dickey-Steere-Langley-Fetty formerly the owner of a fashionable beauty shop.

Fetty, who studied law in the office of a Chicago attorney, was sent to the flat of Mrs. D. R. S. L. F., then minus the F., with an ejection notice. After seeing her, he concluded that it would be heartless to turn her out in the cold, cruel world, and so informed his boss. What the boss said doesn't matter, the result being that Mrs. D. R. S. L. gave up the flat, anyway, when she added the "F" to her "string."

The bride's first husband was Earl Dickey, an actor; the second, Dr. Harold F. Steere, a physician; the third, Charles Langley, occupation not mentioned. She was separated from two of them by judges, and from one by an insane man with a carving knife.

AND LEARN HOW WIERD AND WONDERFUL Concoctions Are Made, Defying Thirst

A friend of the Times, whose intentions toward the mixed drink editor yet might be open to question, has submitted a series of interesting and different anti-prohibition drinks, which, according to the chart, need be tried but once.

They are listed in a piece entitled, "Every Man His Own Distillery," the product of the facile pen of H. L. Phillips. The mixed drink editor claims to have known Mr. Phillips when, in a manner of speaking, less ingenuity was required in solving thirst. Mr. Phillips' formula was simple, somewhat to this effect, "One up in the night," which brought the welcome attention of a courteous Alsatian, bearing on lofty tray tall glass mugs of a brew which had the number "8."

And with the question of thirst so readily and so satisfactorily solved, Mr. Phillips was free to apply his deft wit to vers libre, and post impressionism, and anthropomorphism, and other questions quite as dizzy.

But to the recipes:

Every Man His Own Distillery.
(By H. L. Phillips.)

"Make Real Liquor!" urges a large advertisement now appearing in many newspapers. "Book of valuable information by experts. Reliable formulas for making whiskey, wine and beer at home. Send $1 in cash or stamps now. Don't delay. These formulas may soon be illegal. Get this book and make real, red liquor with a real kick in it," the ad continues.

The authors of the so to speak "cook book" are probably making a fortune. But it is barefaced robbery. To give such information is a public service and a duty in these parched times. There should be no charge for it. And to offset these thirst profiteers, we have decided to give a gasping world a real set of formulas. We ask no payments; we place them before you without strings. If our readers try these wonderful concoctions and live, we may try them ourselves. That's "us all over," as Bill Streeter might say—and in fact does. Step up and take your choice.

ANGEL'S FELICITATION—Take one hucker of wood alcohol. (This may be obtained by going into any Volstead-defying saloon these days and calling for the best grade of whiskey.) Pour it into an urn made of grade A, armor steel. Add one gill of gasoline, two spoonfuls of Weatherwax's Soup Stain Remover, one paper of carpet tacks, a quart of varnish remover, and some ground glass. Stir well with a lighted Roman candle. Adjust your affairs and drink the contents outside the city fire limits. The drink is smooth, delicious, palatable and nutritious. It solves the problem of the dark brown taste the morning after—by eliminating the morning after.

HOUDINI FLIPPE—One drink of this and you will drink no other! We have never heard a complaint from any patron who tried this; in fact, we never heard a whisper. Indignant members of the surviving family may have had a few remarks to make, but that is another reel. The main ingredient of this is the juice of an elderberry—one of the younger ones will answer. Juice that has been in one preserving jar or hoghead at least two generations is preferable. Put two quarts of this into a brick silk hat. Add one gill of Sloan's Liniment, two pints of brass rail polish, and about two drams of TNT. Mix well. Drop in a red, white and blue flag, the nine of diamonds, a pair of white rabbits, and a blazing fagot. Your disappearance will follow immediately. In going through the golden gates, keep to the right and walk your horses.

THE DEPTH BOMB—This should be taken at sea (and the farther out to sea you go, the better for trans-Atlantic travel). It is particularly recommended to sailors with galvanized iron digestive systems. To make this it is necessary to get the white of an egg from a wild Albatross. Inasmuch as this is a process which first requires that you get a wild Albatross or its egg, the quest of the drink is quite as exciting as the drink itself. Nothing works up a thirst so much as the pursuit of this insane bird. The pursuit of its eggs is even more stirring, as it lays its eggs while in full flight and is very partial to the Gulf stream. One having secured the white of such an egg, however, you swap it with any bartender for a phial of one per cent. beer. You then place one drop of the near-beer on the extended tongue. The idea of all this is that you will be mad enough by this time to drink anything. You then purchase a bucket of hot tar, which you mix with red pepper, restaurant catsup and that poisonous chemical composition which lunch-rooms call coffee. Attach a percussion cap to your forehead, place about one grain of dynamite under your hat and strike the cap with a hammer at the same time you lift the potion to your lips and say, "Over the river!" In ten seconds you will be a first-class harpist or a third assistant fireman.

FIRST TRAIN FOR EDHOBBY MONDAY MORN

Track has been laid on the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth railroad for a distance of seven and a half miles south of Ranger. One and a third miles of track was laid Monday, making the best day since the work started. Track will be laid into Edhobby, twelve miles south, by Friday, if the present rate is maintained.

Another tracklaying machine is expected here this week, George McQuaid stated today. It is expected to begin working north toward Frankell by the first of March.

The townsite of Edhobby will be opened next Monday morning. A special train will be run over the new road from Ranger, according to tentative arrangements now being made. The train will leave here about 8 o'clock, and return to make another trip about 11. It is expected that a large number of investors will take advantage of the opportunity to ride the first passenger-carrying train over the new road. It is probable that the cars will be of the "Hommes 40, Chevaux 8" variety, familiar to the A. E. F., but that will only add to the fun. Passenger equipment for the new road has not yet arrived.

The grade is practically completed from Ranger south to Jakehamon, and steel will probably be run into Jakehamon by March 10, Mr. McQuaid stated. From Jakehamon south to Dublin the grade is not completed, but a large force is at work on this strip, and as soon as the grade is finished steel will span the gap to connect with the Frisco and Katy at Dublin.

Trains will be running from Fort Worth to Dublin, Ranger and north by the middle of April, Mr. McQuaid predicted. Until the strip between Jakehamon and Dublin is finished trains will be run out of Ranger south to Jakehamon and north to Frankell.

The townsite of Edhobby is laid off and ready for the sale next Monday. It is about half the size of the Jakehamon townsite. No depot has been built at Edhobby yet, but an administration building two blocks from the railroad will serve the purpose until lumber can be shipped over the road to build a depot.

Edhobby is located on high, rolling ground, a little east of the "ridge route to Desdemona. A remarkable fact in connection with the route is that the only bridge between this city and Edhobby is in the edge of Ranger.

The new town is about a mile and a half from the north edge of the Hog Creek pool. Guadalupe college land, rich in production, is due south, and good showings have been developed southeast and east. Drilling operations are going on two miles north of the townsite, and six miles northwest the Webb well, now owned by the Leon Oil company, attracted much interest when it came in for good production.

The sale will be opened by George McQuaid, manager of townsites. Other officials will be present to assist in the work. William Newsome, an experienced townsite man from Oklahoma, will be residential manager of the new town.

A fee of $10 is required by law with each application for the registration of a trademark.
