GOVERNOR FINDS FAULT WITH ATTORNEY GENERAL

POULTRY AND EGG PRODUCERS NAME OFFICERS

Bankhead Association Holds Annual Meeting and Starts New Year of Activity

CISCO, Nov. 12.—The annual meeting and election of officers of the Bankhead Poultry Producers' association held here Tuesday afternoon, was fairly well attended and much business of the organization transacted. Directors for all divisions, with the exception of Seranton and Desdemona, had been selected prior to the meeting here. Sales Manager Jarrett made his report. R. L. Poe of Cisco, president of the board of directors, presided over the meeting. The organization starts on a new year of activity with splendid prospects.

Following are the directors elected for the ensuing year: Ranger, B. S. Dudley; Gorman, Henry Capers; Carhon, T. J. Morris; Eastland, F. M. Spurlin; Cisco, R. L. Poe; Rising Star, J. B. Eberhart; Seranton, Fred Sprawls. No returns were received from Desdemona. R. Q. Lee of Cisco was selected director-at-large.

The following were elected as officers by the board of directors: R. L. Poe, Cisco, president; T. J. Morris, Carhon, vice president; B. S. Dudley, Ranger, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Janie White Pioneer Citizen Dies In Ranger

Mrs. Janie White, aged 70 years, died at 1 o'clock today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. K. Wier, 212 Mesquite street, after an illness of about two weeks. Announcement of funeral arrangements awaits completion of plans.

Mrs. White was a native of Mississippi, but had lived most of her life in Texas and for the last 30 years in Eastland county, most of that time near Staff. Since the death of her husband, A. P. White, about 10 years ago, she had made her home in Ranger with her daughter.

Mrs. White is survived by her daughter and four sons, Dr. H. A. White of Monterey, Mexico; Rev. A. T. White of Harlingen, Texas, and Frank White and L. M. White of Fort Worth. She was a member of the Methodist church and one of the pioneer members of the Ranger church, in which she was an ardent and devoted worker.

Interment will be in the Merriman cemetery by the side of her husband.

Undeclared Ranger Team Wins Victory Over Cisco Cubs

One Ranger team came back from Cisco armistice day, glorying in the fact that they too have not met with defeat this entire season. They took a muggy game from Cisco, by a score of 18 to 6 on that holiday.

The team winning this last of a string of victories was the Ranger Rinkadinks, and the team they defeated, the Cisco—or whatever they call their grammar school team which they cracked up to tackle and take down the Ranger kinds, all in vain.

Those who saw the game say Rinkies are only sorry they did not have a chance at the lobes themselves. The game was played at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The outstanding start of the Cisco cubs was said to be Garland Ceady, who promises to be a leading lobe in a few years.

FRENCH AND SYRIAN INSURGENTS FIGHTING

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Damascus correspondent of the Daily Mail cabled that severe fighting between the French and guerrillas was in progress late Wednesday near Nebk, between Damascus and Hama. The details were not given.

It is possible this is a start of the new French offensive scheduled to begin yesterday. The rainy season has set in and this will convert Syria during the winter into a sea of mud which will hamper military operations.

ITALIAN DEBT FUNDING AGREEMENT IS REACHED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Agreement for funding the Italian debt to the United States was reached between the Italian and American debt funding commissions today. Secretaries Mellon and Hoover, Senator Smoot and Representative Crisp of the American commission, in a half-hour white house conference, laid the Italian representations before President Coolidge and returned with the promise of a statement very soon.

Powers Preparing To Protect Interests In China If War Comes

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Tokyo correspondent of the Evening News reported today that the Japanese cabinet had held a special session to consider protection to Japanese life and property in Peking in the event of a coup by the "Christian" general, Sen Yuh Siang. Cruisers are ready to depart for Peking on one hour's notice.

Far East reports recently have indicated the possibility of a coup in Peking and troops are reported ready within striking distance of the Chinese capital. It has been suggested that the Chinese customs conference now at Peking might come to naught as the possibility of war involved Peking.

ARMISTICE DAY MUCH ENJOYED IN EASTLAND

Business Suspended and Holiday Occupied With Varied Amusements and Sports

Having spent yesterday in observance of Armistice Day, Eastland citizens returned to their various occupations, business and professions this morning with renewed energy and zeal, feeling that the day just passed had been well spent and that the future just ahead was bright and offered much.

The program arranged by the Eastland Post of the American Legion, which included a parade, a dinner for the ex-service men and a dance at the American Legion Hall, was carried out as planned and was a great success.

Eastland football fans, some of whom went to Cisco and others to Stephenville, saw the Eastland Mavericks defeated by the Stephenville Yellow Jackets by a score of 13 to 26, but saw a good, clean game at that. Since the Mavericks were short of several of their best players, including Cox, it was not expected that they would make an extra good showing.

At Cisco the Lobos defeated the Bulldogs by a score of 24 to 7, but only after a hard fought game, that, according to many football experts, would have proved disastrous for the Lobos had not Mills of Ranger been injured and put out of the game when he was.

State Federation of Women's Clubs Elects Officers Tomorrow

AUSTIN, Nov. 12.—For the first time in years two candidates for the presidency are before the Texas state federation of women's clubs, which will hold its election tomorrow. Mrs. W. R. Potter of Bowie and Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell are the nominees and each has a large number of earnest supporters.

Nominees for other offices are: Mrs. J. C. Nagle of Dallas, first vice president; Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, of Ranger, second vice president; Mrs. Mollie Conner Cook of Austin, recording secretary, and Mrs. R. Q. Lee of Cisco, treasurer.

The annual convention has an unusually large attendance and there is much lobbying by partisans of the two candidates for the presidency.

Rising Star Citizen Meets Sister After Seventy Years Apart

RISING STAR, Nov. 12.—J. M. Tyson, pioneer settler of this section who is nearing the century mark in age, recently enjoyed a visit from his sister, Mrs. Mary Gaddy, 78, of North Carolina, whom he had not seen in 70 years.

Born in North Carolina in 1834, Mr. Tyson married and left that state when he was 21, leaving with his parents his sister, who was eight years of age. He went to Arkansas and lived in that state 24 years and came from there to Texas, settling near Rising Star.

Mrs. Gaddy came to Comanche county to visit a son living there and from there to Rising Star where she had a pleasant visit with her brother, whom she remembered very little about.

ORGANIZATION OF BUILDING AND LOAN PLANNED

Mass Meeting in Chamber of Commerce Will Be Held In Ranger Friday Night

A mass meeting of citizens, not confined to members of the Chamber of Commerce or any other organization, has been called for Friday night to discuss definite plans for a building and loan association in Ranger. A group of business men, Thursday, were discussing the matter, when as a feeler it was suggested that those present give their own reactions, with the net result that several thousand dollars in subscriptions were indicated as a starter for the mass meeting. This can, with certainty, be counted on, it was stated.

It developed that Ranger banks and business men are of one mind in regard to the pressing need of this movement to stabilize values and put Ranger in a class with other home-building cities, offering stable home investment to surplus capital. Friday night's meeting is called for 8 o'clock. Confidence is expressed that there will be present a highly representative number of Ranger citizens and the force for all sign is out for the meeting.

ROTARIANS ARE ALL READY FOR HUGE MEETING

Say Inter-City Meet Will Eclipse All Past Endeavors By Large Margin

Positive pledges of a 100 per cent attendance from Cisco and Eastland for next Wednesday's inter-city meeting of the Rotarians, at the Ghoslon hotel, Ranger, were reviewed at Wednesday's Ranger Rotary luncheon. That Ranger will be in attendance 100 per cent to meet the Rotarians and Rotary Anns to meet the Rotarians and their Anns from the other two cities was promised as a matter of course.

Wednesday's meeting, due to Armistice day celebrations and the like, was not largely attended and the club took up few matters, it was said, laying nearly everything over for a future meeting. However, the few who did attend seemed clothed with spokesmen's authority for the absent ones in the matter of the inter-city meeting. The luncheon was hurried through and the club went in large numbers to the game at Cisco.

Speaking, feasting, dancing and stunts were mentioned in connection with the entertainment features at next Wednesday's function. However, those in charge of the matter are keeping it a deep, dark secret, just who would speak or otherwise participate. The surprise element is obviously counted on as figuring in the affair.

Lions' Club Enjoys Music and Reading

Aside from the discussion of various matters looking to the upgrowth of Ranger, Thursday's noon-day luncheon of the Ranger Lions' club, enjoyed some rare musical and elocutionary renditions by Miss Carter, Miss Flahie and Miss Tibbels of the Ranger High school fine are depart. Miss Carter, after a vocal solo and encore, struck a popular chord by leading the club in singing "Long, Long Trail" and "Call Me Back."

Miss Flahie read that immortal poem "The Tree" and "Tie for Tat." Miss Tibbels played for Miss Carter and the club.

Fears of disaster if the club imposed more fines for calling Lions "mister" led to final caution on the part of Lions Lillard and Walker. New members introduced were Lions Holloway and Durham, both of whom spoke for the Lions in constructive and complimentary vein. The committee on building and loan reported that the matter had outgrown any one organization in its inception and suggested co-operation in the general mass meeting called for the purpose of formulating plans.

TRACTION CARS COLLISION CLAIMS SEVERAL VICTIMS

DALLAS, Nov. 12.—Seven persons were injured this morning when a Corsicana interurban collided with a street car on a suburban track. His view obscured by a dense fog and finding it difficult to stop the car because of slippery rails, the motorman of the interurban crashed his car into the rear end of the street car. The two cars then ran more than a block before the brakes held.

DALLAS, Nov. 12.—C. C. Gates, 20, died this morning of injuries sustained when the interurban crashed into a suburban traction car. His skull was fractured and both legs crushed.

Ranger Man Will Talk To Hotel Keepers On Art of Hotel Keeping

Arthur Jury, of the Ghoslon hotel in Ranger, vice president of the Texas Hotel Keepers' association, left Thursday for Galveston to attend the state meeting of that body. Mr. Jury has a prominent place on the Galveston program. He will deliver an address on "The Art of Hotel Keeping."

The meeting is scheduled to meet at the Galvez hotel on the beach, where the hotel men can enjoy the sights of autumn surf bathing and participate in that recreation, it is said.

DE MOLAY FEAST IS ENJOYED BY MANY

Ranger lodge De Molay, together with their invited Masonic guests, numbering around 50 in all, enjoyed a feast at the banquet room in Masonic building Wednesday night.

Refreshments, music by Miss Dixon, Leo Underwood, Jack Sandifer, Ruth Shirley, Floyd Killingsworth, and R. L. Mouring were features of the evening. Eastern Star members who chanced along were also informally pressed into service and made guests at the same time, it is said. Twenty-one De Molays participated in the business meeting preceding the spread, at which plans for betterment were discussed.

TRAIN CRASHES INTO REAR END SLEEPING CARS

Nine Or Ten Persons Reported Killed In Railroad Wreck Near Monmouth, N. J.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 12.—A Pennsylvania express train, Pittsburgh to New York, crashed into the rear end of a Washington-New York train and telescoped two sleeping cars near here today during a heavy fog. The scene of the accident was two miles west of Monmouth Junction, N. J.

A relief train was dispatched from here. Dr. F. M. Clarke, physician, who was summoned by the railroad, telephoned to New Brunswick that nine or 10 persons were killed and are still in the wreckage of the train. He said one man was yet alive in the tangled debris.

The American Red Cross station here sent two nurses to the scene. James Mahury Jr., chief of the railroad division of the state public utilities commission, immediately began an investigation. The two sleeping cars had been picked up at Baltimore.

Four men and three women, whose names were not obtained, were treated at a hospital here and then went to New York.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 12.—Four hours after the collision, three were known to be dead and seven others were still in the wreckage and nine known to be in hospital, more or less seriously injured. Rescuers were trying to cut through the steel caissons to release the imprisoned passengers.

Wrecking trains could not be used, it was said, on account of the danger of killing injured in the debris. The engineer of one train was quoted as saying he applied the brakes when he discovered he had run by a signal post but it was too late.

MONARCHY IN ITALY FACING BROKEN REVOLT

Plotters Seeking Life Of Mussolini Also Conspire To Overthrow The Italian King

ROME, Nov. 12.—Plotters who sought to take the life of Premier Mussolini last week also unsuccessfully conspired to bring about an armed revolt in Italy, according to an official revelation today.

The investigation today showed a definite organization to accomplish its aims. It had been previously rumored that an armed uprising to overthrow the monarchy and fascism was included in the plot, but today's announcement was the first official confirmation of a far-reaching conspiracy.

Jury Lacks One Of Acquitting Blazer

LITTLETON, Colo., Nov. 12.—The jury in the trial of Dr. Harold Blazer charged with the murder of his imbecile daughter, failed to agree after 14 hours' deliberation and was dismissed by the judge this morning. Dr. Blazer was told by the district attorney his bond of $10,000 would stand.

The defendant appeared disappointed, as he had expected to be freed. His daughter, who had testified in his defense took the verdict without any show of emotion.

The jury vote was 11 to 1 for acquittal, according to the foreman. On the first ballot three were for conviction and two were no voter, but the last man held back.

NEWSPAPER STAFF MEN SPEND NIGHT IN RANGER

Ned C. Record, sporting editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and Keke Handler, called the midge of the Star-Telegram staff, carrying his 500 pounds plus avoirdupois, spent Wednesday night in Ranger on his way home from the Ranger-Cisco game at Cisco.

Both expressed delight at Ranger's growth and signs of substantiality as compared with former days. Record, a frequent visitor to Ranger, was especially impressed with the city that is growing.

Man Tells Police He Shot and Killed His Friend As a Favor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Another "mercy murder" was added here today to the swelling number in the wake of the Blazer case in Colorado. Joseph A. Pickard, 25, confessed to the police that he had shot Joseph F. Stein, a fellow employee at a hospital here, to accommodate him, because Stein wanted to die, having wrecked his life.

Pickard said Stein had wanted to die for some months because of despondency, but lacked the courage to kill himself and finally asked that Pickard shoot him as a favor. Stein was shot through the head and died instantly.

MRS. LANSDOWNE SENSATIONAL IN TESTIMONY

Charges Attempted Influence Over Her Statement To Shandooah Court Of Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Casting aside all pre-arranged plans, the defense of Colonel William Mitchell, on trial before a courtmartial here on charges of insubordination in connection with criticisms of the army and navy departments, called Mrs. Margaret Lansdowne, widow of the Shandooah to the witness stand at late commander of the dirigible courtmartial today.

One of the charges by Mitchell was that Mrs. Lansdowne had been subjected to pressure by navy officials to give false testimony before the Shandooah court of inquiry concerning her public statements following the crash of the dirigible.

A hush came over the courtroom as Mrs. Lansdowne took the witness stand this morning at the call of Representative Reid, republican, Illinois, civilian counsel for Mitchell. Addressing the court of army generals, she charged:

That she had received a communication alleged to be from Capt. Paul Foley, judge advocate of the navy court, investigating the Shandooah disaster that suggested what she should say to the court.

That this statement would have had the effect of retracting her previous statement to the navy department and making her testimony false.

That this communication was delivered to her by Mrs. George W. Steele, wife of the commander of the Lakehurst naval air station, who told her it was from Captain Foley.

That it bore no mark of identification and she tore it up.

That Foley came to see her before she testified and attempted to get her to rehearse her testimony.

That she declined to enter into any agreement regarding her testimony and informed Foley she would testify as to matters the navy court had inquired about.

Captain Foley told the United Press he would make an effort to appear before the Mitchell court and answer the testimony given by Mrs. Lansdowne.

Ranger Man Sells Cockerel For $30; Takes 11 Premiums

W. P. Bryant of 428 South Rusk street, Ranger, won highest award for the best hen of all varieties shown at the Cisco poultry show, took 10 other premiums and sold his first prize buff orpington cockerel for $30.

Mr. Bryant made 11 entries in the show, all in the buff orpington class. He took first, second, third and fourth prizes on cockerels, first, second and third on pullets; first on cock bird; first, second and third on hens, besides the "sweetstakes" premium for the best hen shown. He sold his first cockerel to Mrs. Lelia Heald of Rising Star for $30.

SALVATION ARMY MEETINGS INCREASING IN INTEREST

The meeting in progress at the Salvation Army hall in Ranger is increasing in interest. Seekers after salvation have begun to come forward and the attendance is steadily growing larger.

Envoys and Mrs. Hudson are delivering messages that are appealing to the people, who are urged to continue coming and to bring their friends.

RANGER BOY SCOUTS WILL NOT MEET THIS WEEK

The meeting of the Ranger Boy Scouts scheduled for Friday night of this week has been called off because of absence of the scoutmaster, who is out of the city. The next regular meeting of the scouts will be Friday, Nov. 20, at 7 o'clock p. m.

STATE'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE MAY BLOCK OFFICIAL

Believe Planning To Oppose Attorney General's Right To Contest Road Contracts

AUSTIN, Nov. 12.—For the first time, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today commented on the suit brought by the attorney general for cancellation of road maintenance contracts given to the American Road company by the state highway commission.

"It is to be regretted," said Governor (Mrs.) Ferguson, "that the attorney general, for reasons known only to himself, sees fit to bring this suit with request by the state highway commission and without executive authority, attempting to set himself up as an independent authority and attempting to usurp the powers of the governor of the state."

AUSTIN, Nov. 12.—Presumably for the purpose of arranging for the defense of the validity of contracts let by the state highway commission to the American Road company, cancellation of which, with injunction to restrain the payment of money due on completed contracts, have been sought by Attorney General Dan Moody, J. C. Bickett and Joe Burkett, members of the highway commission, accompanied by their counsel, were in conference today with Governor Ferguson and James E. Ferguson in the governor's office.

Some action, it is said, is planned to test the constitutionality of the attorney general to bring the contract cancellation suits without request by the highway commission. The governor has directed the highway commission to file the proper pleadings in the court where the suit is pending, contesting the right of the attorney general to institute or prosecute the suit against the American Road company.

Three assistants of the attorney general are said to be working with the Travis county grand jury today and a report from that body is expected Friday or Saturday.

Attorney General Files Second Suit To Cancel Contract

AUSTIN, Nov. 12.—L. H. Shermans and F. C. Youmans are named as defendants in the second suit brought by the attorney general of Texas in the Fifty-third district court, in Travis county, on behalf of the state of Texas for cancellation of road maintenance contracts awarded by the state highway commission.

In a suit filed this morning, cancellation of road maintenance contracts in Harris and Galveston counties is sought, with recovery of $1,175 alleged overpayments, together with an injunction to restrain the defendants from the collection of any money for work they have completed.

Valuable Ring, Long Lost, To Be Returned To Pope At Vatican

ROME, Italy, Nov. 12.—The Papal ring of Pope Pius Sixth, regarded as the most precious of its kind in history, has been recovered after having been lost since 1795. The United Press learned today that the National Catholic Women of America has succeeded in purchasing the ring and will present it to the present pope.

Pope Pius the Sixth, when a prisoner of Napoleon, consigned the ring to the secretary of state, Cardinal Paca, to save it for him, after wearing it at the ceremony of the Holy Door, in 1775. The wonderful relic was purchased from the descendants of Cardinal Paca, and, in turn, the National Catholic women, who will give it to his holiness at the ceremony of the Holy Door, in December.

Month's Growth of Ranger's Newest Bank Indicates Progress

The Citizens State bank was exactly one month old Wednesday. At the loss of business Tuesday, the day before, the total deposits had reached the sum of $414,242.90, according to official figures given out. W. W. Housewright, active vice president, is authority for the statement that more than $300,000 of this consists of outside funds, which have been added to Ranger's liquid cash supply during this period of time.

This influx of outside money into Ranger is taken as an indication of growing confidence in Ranger's financial and business standing. A like upgrowth and like signs of this other institutions of the city and they confidence are said to be reflected in are regarded as indicative of a general upward trend.

ECHOES FROM STATE FEDERATION AT AUSTIN
The delegates and officers at the State Federation enjoyed an armistice day program given jointly by the Federation and by the American Legion, followed by the annual president's evening program and a Southern dinner in the evening. The election of president is a tense affair and promises to be a very hotly contested campaign. Mrs. W. R. Potter of Bowie and Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell were both placed on the ticket as candidates by the nominating committee. These two women represent two different types and the election of either will have its effect on the policies of the Federation. Mrs. Potter, who has worked long and faithfully in the federation is of the "old guard" type, while Mrs. Fields represents the younger women or "progressives" and has also done valuable service in the development of Texas Clubdom, especially in West Texas. Our own Mrs. M. H. Hagaman has been nominated for the office of second vice president.

A NEW WAY TO MAKE MONEY
The Denver Post has carried a story or two on a new way to make money. This novel affair was begun in Denver, and is called "The Vanishing Luncheon" and was first given by the Daughters of the American Revolution as a means of raising money for certain purposes. Its something like a chain letter. A hostess invites say fifteen guests to dinner, all of whom contribute a dollar, and in turn each guest gives a luncheon of fourteen covers, at which each guest also pays a dollar, now each guest at the various luncheons for fourteen guests are expected to give a luncheon of thirteen covers and so on down the line. At the very end of the chain some hostesses have but to invite one guest. The luncheon gets the name "Vanishing" because each hostess, each times invites one less guest, and thus one place at the table vanishes. And as for the results it would take an adding machine to compute the amount by the time the chain comes down to the last guest.

TAKE OIL BELT CHAMPIONS TO CISCO FOR THE GAME
Mmes. E. E. Crawford, A. Beasley and C. O. Terrell had charge of the transportation to and from Cisco yesterday of the Oil Belt Champions, the Rinky Dinks, who played Cisco yesterday morning, with a score of 18 to 6. Lunch was enjoyed after the game, after which the champions took in the street parade and of course the big game between their home team and the Lobos.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY
Mrs. Hodges, at her home on Cad-do Road, celebrated her birthday by entertaining the Royal Neighbor Camp, last Tuesday, with a most sumptuous banquet, as the menu included everything that appeals to one's appetite. There was a birthday cake, bearing the requisite number of candles. Every one present had a wonderful time and left wishing the hostess many, many happy returns of the day. Many nice gifts were received by Mrs. Hodges in token of the friends and co-workers have for her. Those enjoying this delightful evening were, Mmes. Stewart, Henry, Cooper, Riddle, Shelby, McDough, Trammell, Hunter, Carville, Tharpe, Coffman, Shoffstall, and Messrs. Hodges, Bal-lev, Shoffstall, Tharpe, Nal Hodges Carville.

DANCE AT THURBER WELL ATTENDED.
The Armistice day dance at Thurber last evening was well attended, and a number of Ranger folks were noted among those present. The Lone Star five of Dallas furnished the music. Among the Ranger folks present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Ochiltree, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Craig, Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Lauderdale, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Logsdon, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bowden, Mrs. Albert Riddle, Mrs. Walter Brananey, Mrs. Albert Dyer, Miss Elnetta Overlie, Charles Meade and Dr. Carl Wilson.

WESTMINSTER GUILD HAS SOCIAL MEETING.
The Westminster guild met in a social session, Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Cash at the Hagaman Refining company plant, near Tiffin. While they talked—for it was something of a talk-fest—they busied themselves with making articles for the bazaar, which they will hold on Nov. 21 in conjunction with the auxiliary. Refreshments suggested the coming Thanksgiving season and were pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, and coffee. The next meeting will be with Mrs. William Cooze, at her home in the Tee Pee camp.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES HAVE OPEN AIR PARTY.
Two Sunday school classes of the Presbyterian church were delightfully entertained Wednesday evening by their teachers, Mrs. Saunders Gregg and Miss Hogan, at the latter's home, Acorn Acres, on the Straun road, with an open air party. These two classes are composed of boys and girls, Miss Hogan teaching the boys and Mrs. Gregg the girls, and most of them are in their early 'teen age—the age that always has a good time. Wednesday evening was a delightful evening for an outdoor party and around a fire on the spacious lawn of Acorn Acres, the "bow-wow collies" as the South Americans call our hot dogs, or weinies, were roasted, marshmallows toasted, and doughnuts and hot chocolate consumed with the avidity that is only possible with growing girls and boys. All fresco games were enjoyed until it became too dark to play outside, and then the party adjourned to the house, where they played old-fashioned games like "clap in and clap out," "spin the plate," "winkum," and such age-old games, until a late hour.

Miss Hogan and Mrs. Gregg were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. C. E. Slack and Miss Catherine Potts. Those who are indebted to their teachers for such a lovely evening, expressing as it did, their appreciation of their pupils and their kindly spirit toward them, were:
Mildred Grant, Madie Manning, Allie Wallace, Marie Curtsinger, Lorine Roberts, Louise Smith, Burl Clarke, May Gilmore, Herbert and Elvin Rapp, Poke Robison, Allen Baker, Louis Gregg, Wesley Jones, Durwood Roberts.

PERSONALS.
Mrs. James R. McLaughlin and her two little daughters, of Fort Worth, are spending the week-end with Mr. McLaughlin at the Gholson hotel.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.
Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

CISCO LOBOES WIN GAME FROM RANGER HIGH

Score 24 to 7. Cisco Now Holds Championship Of Sixteenth District

Cisco High defeated the Ranger High Bulldogs Wednesday, at Cisco, 24 to 7. The 1925 championship is now held by the Big Dam Lobos in the sixteenth district. The winning of the Armistice day game, after the Ranger team held them to a near tie down to the last period of the game, leaves the Lobos the only undefeated team in the district. Until the Armistice day game, Cisco had not been scored on this year. Ranger has the distinction of being the only team in the district to cross the Lobos' line. There was never a minute from the first whistle down to near the last gun when any one could say with certainty the game was won. True, when Buster Mills, Ranger's star distance maker and half of her marvelous passing team, got knocked out for the remainder of the game, early in the second half, Ranger's hopes went down. Later when a Cisco man, Strickland (singularly the same man who "stopped" Mills), fell a victim to his own team's tactics and one of Honk Irvin's "big piles" and went out with a broken leg, it was even breaks so far as numbers went, but a case of Ranger's loss of a mainstay and Cisco's loss of a minor factor.

All of which is not alibi stuff. Ranger lost to a slightly better team—slightly the best team in the district. But Ranger went down fighting. Ranger had the sort of all-team elusive stuff almost offsetting Cisco's heavy work and baffling backfield plays as probably no other team in the district has done. That is not saying Ranger is necessarily the best in the district besides the Lobos. It is saying she is singularly fitted to meet the Lobos' heavy line with light, fast work of a sort that baffled them many times throughout that two-sided game.

Petty's drop kick was by no means the only feature play by the Lobos. Ashbrook's dashes through and around the line, Irvin's heavy plunges, although held down by the Bulldogs, for some gains; Murray's elusive sneaks; Daniels' line plunges, gains and tries; Yeager's interception of a long forward pass, and other brilliant work, and the backfield's baffling work, marked Cisco for something more than "hoof" and will be reason sufficient for any team's putting its best up against the Lobos when they go out for state championship.

For the Bulldogs, the real high lights were the wonderful plays put up by the men who will form the nucleus of next year's Bulldog team. Cooper, Ranger's center, of whom Cisco fans were heard to say "that man would tackle a den of lions," simply made rings around Captain Grist, the Cisco all-state center and kept that one star from shining in the Lobo constellation in a game which, but for Cooper, would possibly have outshone them all. "Freshman" Phillips brought the bleacher crowd to its feet with his plays and displays of nerve; Alfred Glenn, the little lad who, in a memorable game earlier in the season, kicked goal from the 35-yard line, dazzled and baffled by some of the swiftest plays of the game.

Gholson and Short showed their mettle during that last few minutes of play when it was sorely needed. Buster Mills, in his distance making dashes around the off attacked left end of the Lobos and his work at the receiving end of Harvey's first 30-yard forward pass; "Jay" Walker, who received the second 20-yard forward pass and did his usual brilliant work around the line and sometimes through it; Mills' wonderful punts which put Cisco's punting in the shade; H. Shipp's surprise to coach and fans by his hard hitting and defense work; Shell's usual hard tackling though, like Irvin, a watched man, so he lacked full opportunity to show his best; Gullahorn's four-yard gain and other strong plays, numbered among the star plays and players for the Bulldogs.

The game, officered by Lipscomb, Sellers and Utay, was exceptionally clean. Few penalties were assessed or deserved. Two expensive fumbles early in the game probably cost Ranger another touchdown. The way Ranger's light line held and her backfield made dents in the line of giants, was marvelous.

MAY SEYMOUR FOOTLOOSE by BEATRICE BURTON

THE STORY SO FAR:

May Seymour, whose husband killed himself because of her love affair with another man, returns to her home town after a year's absence. She tells her property, and with her whole tiny fortune in cash, sets out to find and marry a man with money. At Atlantic City she meets Herbert Waterbury and Dan Sprague through a divorcee, Mrs. Carlotta Frothing. Both men pay suit to May, greatly to the distress of Carlotta, who has been in love with Dan for many years. She and May become great friends, however, and she invites May to winter with her in California.

May sets her cap for Waterbury, whom she believes to be rich. He finally proposes and May accepts him. Later she turns all her money over to him to invest for her and he disappears with it!

Penniless, May sells her jewelry to buy a ticket to California, where Carlotta has a bungalow in Los Angeles. On the way she stops off to visit the Dick Gregorays in her home town, and meets a widower, Ulysses Forgan. He falls in love with her and asks her to marry him. But she refuses, explaining that she likes him too well to marry him without love.

In California she tries to break into the movies and fails. Then she gets a job selling real estate, and quits because her employer makes love to her. Finally she decides to rest for a while at Carlotta's house.

But Carlotta asks her to leave one night after a drunken party, when she and May have a fight over the handsome movie actor on the screen, Gabriel Guglielmo. And at midnight May packs up and leaves for the hotel down near the railroad station. "Footloose again!" she thinks, not with triumph but with despair.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY: "Well, where do we go from here?"

May asked the question of her own reflection in the mirror the next morning, standing before the oak dresser in her shabby little hotel bedroom.

It was a dim old mirror. But it was not too dim to show May the two lines that were beginning to mar the smooth, white beauty of her forehead and the shadows at the drooping corners of her mouth.

Good heavens, was she getting old? She leaned over and studied her face with that cold and panicky terror that comes to the heart of every woman when she sees her first wrinkle.

Then suddenly she remembered. Today was the nineteenth of November, her birthday! She was 28 years old!

"And you can't expect a woman of 28 to look like a flapper!" May told herself, trying to be cheerful and philosophical about it.

But gloom settled down over her, in spite of her effort to keep the stiffest sort of upper lip.

At her age most women were comfortably married and had homes of their own—a husband to wait for at nightfall, a child or two to cuddle. Or else they had jobs, and were well on their way to success.

"But I have nothing—nothing at all!" May thought bitterly. Her past seemed to pass before her.

eyes in the dim, silvery depths of the old mirror—her unhappy marriage ending in her husband's suicide, the scandal of it all, the lovers who had deserted her, cheated her—

"I must be hoodooed!" May went on thinking bitterly. "I don't have any luck at all."

The ringing of the telephone on the wall startled her—brought her back to the hopeless present.

Carlotta's voice, still thick and shaky, greeted her when she answered it.

"May darling," it said so rapidly that all the words seemed to run together like one long word. "I'm so sorry about last night. I must have been awfully, awfully stupid to let you go out of this house in the middle of the night, the way I did! Won't you forgive me and come back?"

All the time she was listening, May was shaking her head as if she thought Carlotta could see her.

"No," she answered with cold decision, when Carlotta had finished. "No, I can't come back and eat your bread and butter without paying for it! And I haven't enough money to do that. No thanks, Carlotta, I won't be coming back. But thanks for being so nice to me these 10 or 11 days. Goodbye."

Without waiting for Carlotta to answer her, she hung up the receiver.

As if the telephone call had filled her with sudden life and courage, she dressed quickly and went downstairs.

"I'm checking out," she told the clerk in the lobby. "Will you please give me my bill, and send my trunk down to the station? And when is there a train for Los Angeles?"

On the afternoon before Thanksgiving day, May Seymour sat alone in another hotel lobby—the wide and ornate lobby of the Alexandria hotel in Los Angeles.

May was always alone these days. Alone she breakfasted on crackers and ice water in her cheap little room up under the roof.

Alone she tramped the streets, looking for a job. There seemed to be no jobs. They were all filled, it seemed, by thousands of girls who had come to Los Angeles to go into the movies—and had failed.

Everywhere May looked, she saw beautiful girls—girls who had dreamed of being movie stars, and had taken jobs at soda fountains, in real estate offices, behind ribbon counters, any place where they could earn a living. Any place where they could earn enough money to buy a railroad ticket back to the Iowa farms and the Ohio villages where they had come from! Los Angeles was filled with ambitious beauty.

The very chambermaid who daily tidied May's bedroom had come to Los Angeles to "break into" the movies. A beautiful thing she was, with red-gold hair and misty blue eyes that looked ready to cry at any moment.

That morning May had given the chambermaid the last quarter she had in the world for a tip. And so she was sitting now in the lobby of the Alexandria staring into her empty, handbag—wondering where her Thanksgiving dinner was coming from!

And not only her Thanksgiving dinner, but her dinner tonight, and her breakfast tomorrow morning! To say nothing of a roof over her head when the hotel people should discover that she hadn't a cent in the world with which to pay her bill!

"Well, I'll sell my pin. That'll help some," May decided, and without a second thought she walked straight down the street to a pawnshop four blocks away.

It was not her first visit to the pawnshop. She had been there once before, and had walked out, highly insulted because the proprietor had offered her only $20 for a pin that was worth at least a hundred.

But she took the $20 bill today, without a word of protest, and went out.

Back in the rich lobby of the Alexandria, she asked the cashier for her bill. Small as it was, it staggered her. Fifty-seven dollars and fifty cents! And all she had in the world was a single $20 bill!

"Well, right here is where I become a deadbeat!" May decided grimly, as she walked out of the lobby, the bill clutched tightly in her hand.

A deadbeat! The ugly word brought a flush to her cheeks as she walked along toward the region of cheap boarding houses, where "Rooms for Rent" signs were tacked on every other building.

May chose one of the most disreputable looking of them. She knew that only that kind would take her in, coming as she did with no baggage.

And when she was alone in a dark little room on the third floor she sat down to think.

"I've got to get enough money to go home!" she made up her mind. "And enough money to pay the hotel bill, and get my trunk!"

Then a chilling thought struck. In the bottom of that trunk was Ulysses Forgan's letter to her! Sup-

NewStrength for Tired Women

Do you feel tired out, run-down and exhausted long before the day's work is finished? Why is it that women will permit repeated attacks of dizziness, headache, backache, nervous exhaustion, indigestion and constipation, when perhaps all they need is a good general tonic? No woman can feel her best troubled with these ailments. To let them run on uncorrected is the greatest mistake in the world.

Lyko Helped His Wife

An Oklahoma man, Mr. Galison, tells about the help Lyko gave his wife after a long illness. "The wonderful relief Lyko has given my wife," he says, "has been taking all kinds of medicine which did no good. I saw Lyko advertised and got it and it is doing her lots of good."

Relief at Once

"I was subject to constipation, my kidneys were out of order and I was run-down and so nervous I could hardly get along. I was advised by my physician to try Lyko. I got relief at once," is what R. Steigle of Mississippi reports.

Could Not Eat— Now Well

Walter Schultz of San Francisco says: "For many years I tried everything to build me up. I was run-down in health, could not eat, my condition was very bad. A friend recommended Lyko. Today I am a happy man. I have got my health back."

Thousands of ailing men and women have been made strong, well and happy with Lyko. The secret of this remedy's wonderful success is the combination of medicinal ingredients it contains. One aids digestion; another is a laxative that keeps the bowels open; another acts on the kidneys, and a fourth aids the liver. With these vital organs working in proper harmony, the health-destroying poisons are driven or carried out of the system.

No matter what you have tried before, go to your druggist today and ask for a bottle of Lyko, the great general tonic. Find out for yourself how simple and easy it is to keep well with the aid of this marvelous remedy.

Just ordinary shortening cannot give you the best cooking results

ANIMAL fats cannot impart real richness to your cooking and baking. They are heavy, greasy, indigestible. And, of course, it is too expensive to use butter all the time.

With Mrs. Tucker's Shortening, however, you can get the richness of butter at half the cost—and at the same time evade all the detriments of lard. That is because Mrs. Tucker's is a pure vegetable shortening.

Get a pail of Mrs. Tucker's from your grocer today! It is made exclusively of choice cottonseed-oil. Use it wherever you use shortening. You'll be delighted at the difference it will make in your cooking. You'll find it goes further than ordinary shortening. And you'll appreciate the sanitary, airtight container. This pail assures you shortening that is always fresh and pure. When empty, is very useful about the house. Interstate Cotton Oil Refining Company, Sherman, Texas.

CHENEY NEWS

Special Correspondence.

CHENEY, Nov. 12.—Weather suitable for picking cotton prevailed in this section for the past several days until Tuesday night, when a rain sufficient to stop pickers fell.

Peanut threshers are busy in this community. The recent rains have also interfered with this work.

There will be a pie supper at the Cheney schoolhouse Friday night, the proceeds from which will go to a fund for the purchase of playground equipment for the school. All women and young ladies of the community are requested to bring boxes filled with eatables to be sold.

There was splendid attendance at Sunday school last Sunday and everyone is invited to come again next Sunday.

STEPHENVILLE WINS GAME FROM EASTLAND

Special Correspondence.

STEPHENVILLE, Nov. 12.—Playing a team out of their class in rating, the Stephenville Yellow Jackets took the big end of a 26 to 13 score over Eastland here Wednesday. Stephenville's passing machine was working smoothly in the first half and as a result long gains were reeled off almost at will. Britton's receiving and Johnson's passes accounted for most of the gains.

Eastland was weakened by the absence of Cox from the lineup and lacked the drive to make much headway against Stephenville's line.

Wife and Husband Both Ill With Gas

"For years I had gas on the stomach. The first dose of Adlerika helped. I now sleep well and all gas is gone. It also helped my husband." (signed) Mrs. B. Brinkley. ONE spoonful Adlerika removes GAS and often brings astonishing relief to the stomach. Stomachs that full, bloated feeling. Brings out old, waste matter you never thought was in your system. This excellent intestinal evacuant is wonderful for constipation. Corner Drug Store, Eastland.—Adv.

NEW COURTHOUSE BEING BUILT IN BRECKENRIDGE

BRECKENRIDGE, Nov. 12.—Actual construction work is underway on Stephens county's new courthouse and is to be pushed as rapidly as is consistent. When completed Stephens county will have one of the finest and most modern courthouses in the State. It is to cost approximately $400,000.

ANAHUAC—New ice plant begins operation.

Good For Weak Eyes

The quick action of simple camphor, hydrastis, witchhazel, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash astonishes people. One small bottle helps any case weak, sore or strained eyes. Aluminum eye cup free. Oil City Pharmacy, 117 Main st., Ranger. (Advertisement)

Bumps on Your Face Make People Scringe

People who have been embarrassed repeatedly on account of disfigured skin on their face, neck, arms and hands, caused by eczema, tetter, rash, boils, pimples, etc., are nearly always sensitive about these things to the point of feeling that everybody is watching them and talking about how bad they look.

For this reason Black and White Ointment, and Black and White Soap, are making friends by the thousands because people can get them from their nearest dealer without a lot of explanations, and they do quickly get rid of all those skin ruiners.

The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—Adv.

TAKES THE PLACE OF "DRASTIC" CALOMEL FOR COLDS & FLU

"Pepsin-ated" calomel acts better—clears up colds quicker—and kills flu germs

Nasty clinging colds and dangerous flu germs quickly lead to lung infection. Clear up these troubles immediately, but never do it with old style "raw" calomel. It is too drastic on your system. There is a newer and more improved kind that is especially made for colds, grippe and flu. It does not tear through your system like a streak of lightning. It acts mild and gentle, for it is combined with pepsin, which makes it work slow and more effectively. This new pepsin and calomel combination is known as "Pepsin-ated" Calomel. It has all the beneficial cold, grippe and flu germ inactivating effects of the old style "raw" calomel—but the drastic and unpleasant effects have been entirely neutralized with pepsin. Nasty "follow-up salts" are not even necessary. People who are ill with flu, grippe or colds can secure immediate and complete relief with one or two doses of "Pepsin-ated" Calomel. One tablet at bed time lets you rest well all night long and yet while you sleep, it effectively drives out the flu, grippe and cold germs that often lead to pneumonia or lung infection. Hereafter when you feel cold congestion coming on, go to Phillips Drug Store or any other good druggist and get a 25c or 50c package of "Pepsin-ated" Calomel tablets. They will bring quick relief and benefit your entire system. adv.

When the second act has come to an end—and the curtain is rung down amidst whirling applause—when you mingle outside with the excited throngs in the lobby—have a Camel!

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skillful blenders. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No finer cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

WHEN the thrilling second act of the best show of the year has just come to an end. And the stars have taken their curtain calls in answer to round after round of applause. When you join the crowds outside just as pleased and thrilled as yourself—have a Camel!

For no other friend is so cheerful, so resting between acts as Camel. Camel adds its own romantic glamour to the brightness of memorable occasions. No other cigarette ever made—and kept—so many friends. Camels never tire your taste no matter how liberally or zestfully you smoke them. Camels never leave a cigarette after-taste. All the desire to please, all the skill to serve of the largest tobacco organization in the world, goes into this one cigarette.

So when you leave the theatre pleased and inspired for greater things, when you see life's problems and their solutions clearer—lift the flame and taste the mellowest smoke that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

For Deep Chest Colds

All colds should be treated with vapors, for vapors alone can carry the medication DIRECTLY to the air passages and lungs.

Vicks is a "vapor" treatment in salve form. For deep chest colds you first apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores, then massage briskly with Vicks for five minutes, spread on thickly and cover with a flannel cloth.

Vicks not only penetrates like a poultice or plaster, but the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled all night long.

This double action usually checks the most stubborn cold overnight.

"FOOTLOOSE"

pose they should write to him—these hotel people—and tell him that she had walked out of the Alexandria without paying her bill! What would he think of her then, this man who loved her?

In an instant May's mind was made up. She would go to a Western Union office, and wire Ulysses for some money!

"After all, he's my good friend," she thought. "To whom should we go in time of trouble except to our friends?"

After she had sent her wire and was on her way back to the boarding house, it suddenly occurred to May that she might have asked the Gregorys to send her the money. As a matter of fact, they were the oldest friends she had.

"I should have asked them for the money," she told herself.

And yet, somehow, she was glad she had asked Ulysses for it. Why, she didn't know.

Alone in her room that night, after the boarding house supper of meat balls and boiled potatoes, May sat down to write to Ulysses.

She thanked him for the money—so sure she was that he would send it at once—and told him that she was in need of work.

"Once upon a time, I was very good private secretary," she wrote.

"I'm sure that, with a little practice, I could be a very good one, again. So if you're in need of such a person as myself—"

Then she raised her pen from the clean tablet paper, and looked out into the darkness beyond her window. Goodness! she couldn't ask a man for a job, when she had refused to be his wife, the mistress of his home, and his heart! And yet, why not?

May could imagine nothing more interesting than to be Ulysses' secretary—that is, so long as she had to work for someone! When it came to that, no work was interesting.

"I hate the thought of it!" May said truthfully to herself.

Finally she tore up the letter, and threw the scraps into the waste basket. Then, with her pen on her knee, she wrote to Gloria Gregory and asked her if she might come to visit her for a few weeks.

"I'm so desperately tired," she finished the letter, "I didn't know that anyone could be so tired as I am."

And yet she had done nothing to make her tired.

In 10 years, she had worked very little. The few days she had spent in Harker and Harker's real estate office represented the only real labor she had known since her wedding day back in 1915.

"Maybe it's just battling around, doing nothing, that makes me feel this way," she decided wearily at last. That must be it—having no real purpose in living, no incentive, no reason for being alive!

"If only I had something of my own—a child or a husband! Someone, somewhere, who belonged to me!" she cried silently into the darkness.

For the first time in her life she longed for motherhood—for the feel of a warm little head against her shoulder, a tiny hand fluttering on her breast.

She stood at the window and looked down into the street. All these little homes with their tiny, lighted windows—there were people in them who cared for each other! People who could face poverty and sordidness because they cared for each other!

May laid her head against the window frame, and as she stood there she remembered a night not so long ago, when she had laid her head on the rough shoulder of Ulysses Forgan's overcoat and cried.

She remembered the sense of comfort that had stolen over her at the touch of his coat—the sense of peace that had come to her with his letter.

"I wish I could see him now—to-night—for just a second!" she sobbed aloud. "For just a second!"

The tears brought her relief as tears do. The despair that had been dammed up in her soul flowed away like water. Presently she went to bed and slept dreamlessly.
