GITY WATER BONDS BEFORE OPER

MASS MEETING TO CONSIDER

Ranger Citizens Will Hear Facts and Figures at Liberty Saturday Night.

All citizens of Ranger, and especially those who are tax payers and voters, have been invited to attend a mass meeting at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, to be held in the Liberty theatre, to discuss the proposed municipal bond issue of $190,000 for the purchase and improvement of the Ranger Water Works.

The meeting has been called by the Indian nation, declared here today Ranger Chamber of Commerce, with while passing through on his way to which the Eanger Lions and Rotar- Washington with 76 of his braves. ians, both of whom have indorsed the bond issue, are cooperating. The Inthe water works system, it is felt dians will appeal for a budget that that many have not been properly informed on the subject and it is desired that every person who goes to the polls next Tuesday will know exactly what he is voting for. No Added Taxes

Leaders in Ranger, including the heaviest tax payers, are in favor of the bond issue because they believe it means a great forward step in the progress of the city. They know that while the credit of the city will be behind the bonds, it will add nothing to their taxes, as receipts from the sale of water, even though the price be cut to one-half the present price, will pay all interest charges and provide a sinking fund that should retire the bonds long before endorsed the proposal of the city of

It is the duty of every citizen in Eastland to support the Eastland Athletic club and the first step in this direction is to enroll as a mem ber. Beat the committee to it and enroll before being called on and asked to do so.

FARMERS GETTING DESPERATE

Faced with the unfavorable condi tions in agriculture in many regions of the United States that have resulted in widespread emigration from the rural districts to the cities and industrial certers, estimated by the United States department of ag reulture at nearly 2,000,000 during the years 1922-23, many American farmers are seeking betterment through the enactment of state of national legislation. There does no papear to be any general agreement es to the kind of laws that the want, or that might reasonably be expected to give them better returns for their labor and capital invested in their farms, but they are agreed that for many of them, existing conditions are intolerable, and that some method of relief must be found.

United States Senator Wheeler, of Montana, aptly expressed the sentiment of the West when he declared that the farmers are tired of theories and that they do not propose to go along with Mr. Coolidge's suggestion. He closed a more or less fervid statement with the assertion that the West would send representatives to Washington that would make Magnus Johnson look like a rank conservative unless something tangible is accomplished and soon.

It is a serious situation, not alone for the farmers, but for the great mass of people who are dependent on them for an existence. Money has been loaned until it is doubtful if the debts can ever be paid-certainly not under existing conditions. Co-operative buying and selling is only a partial remedy, one that will require several years to produce tangible results. Meanwhile the farmer struggles almost hopelessly along because there's no other place for him to go, and nothing else to

THURSDAY STUDY CLUB RESUMES ITS SESSIONS.

The Thursday Study club present-Writers of England, and American Pioneer Prose Writers," at the session yesterday, the first held since the Christman heliday mass. the Christmas holiday recess.

Mrs. W. C. Kunze presented a thoughtful analysis on "Women's Work in English Fiction," citing examples in the lives of Jean Ingelow, Mrs. Catskill, Charlotte Bronte and Jane Austin, contrasting the influence wielded by the pulpit in England, through dictation by lords of the manors, at the period of the writing of "Pride and Prejudice," and the earlier church control over secular affairs, evidenced in the works of George Elliott.

A combined paper and talk that presented a studied outline of Elizabeth Barrett Browning, and the gradual culminating influences through which her genius climaxed, was given by Mrs. J. L. Johnson.

Paper, "Edwards and Franklin: The Man of God and the Man of the World-A Dramatic Contrast," was given by Mrs. W. E. Stallter. The subject was handled in full and proved the chief topic of the program.

The meeting was conducted by the first vice president, Mrs. John D. McRae, in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. H. Taylor. Mrs. E. P. Woodward was temporary recording secretary, in lieu of Mrs. Mizell, unable to attend.

The chair appointed a committee, Mrs. A. H. Johnson, Mrs. W. K. Jackson, and Mrs. John D. McRae, to arrange for a house cleaning in the library section, where the club holds meetings.

Mrs. J. B. Nunn made a plea for shoes and clothing for the community chest, urging immediate gifts on account of the emergency cases. The librarian chairman, Mrs. A. H.

TWO WOMEN SUE FATHER AND SON FOR BIG SUMS

ATLANTA, Ga, Jan. 11.—The $100,000 breach of promise suit of Mrs. Onezima De Bouchel, New Orleans beauty, against Asa G. Chandler, aged Atlanta millionaire, is on the docket for hearing in federal court here Jan. 30.

Since the suit was filed some months ago, Candler has married a former stenographer.

Mrs. De Bouchel filed the suit in response to Candler's claim that after their engagement he had cause to believe the New Orleans beauty had been indiscreet during the Confederate veterans convention here some months previous, for which she was the official sponsor.

After repeated efforts to force the aged millionaire to make public the source of his information and specify his insinuations, Mrs. De Bouchel filed suit for damages.

The suit had been only temporarily set on the docket for Jan. 30, but as both sides have indicated they are ready for the hearing, there probably will be no postponement: The case will be heard in federal court because the principals are residents of different states.

Next month the damage suit of Mrs. Clyde Byfield against Walter Candler, son of Asa, is scheduled to be heard in the Decatur superior

This suit is an outgrowth of a voy age to Europe Candler made with Mr. and Mrs. Byfield and their children, as his guests. Crossing the Atlantic Candler broke into her stateroom and attacked her, Mrs. Byfield charged in her suit, which was filed here soon after the party returned from the trip.

NO. CAROLINA INCREASES HER COTTON SPINDLES

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Jan. 11 .-In the great industrial drama, which marks the shift of the center of gravity of the American cotton industry from the northeast to the eastern cotton states, North Carolina plays the leading part.

Her spinning industry has hit a pace so rapid that no other state north or south of the Mason and Dixon line seems to be able to keep up with her in this respect.

During the last two decades the nation has increased its cotton spindles less than 50 per cent, while in North Carolina the increase has been more than 186 per cent, according to the University of North Carolina extension service. Massachusetts alone possesses a greater umber of spindles than the Tarheel

North Carolina has 18 per cent of the spindleage in America. Massa chusetts has 29 per cent. In 1901 the figures were 36.3 per cent for the New England state and barely 8 per cent for North Carolina.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street,

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart. "This nervous condition was worse than pain. 'Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition." If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles.

COLD WEATHER GRIPS EUROPE

LONDON, Jan. 11-Unusually severe storms, accompanied by intense cold and heavy snow, are sweeping Europe this winter. Off the coasts of Spain and France, the disturbances have proved a serious menace to shipping, while in the North Sea and in Scandinavian waters, the ice floes are so heavy that navigation in many places is difficult.

Not in many years have there been so many casualties from avalanches in the Swiss and French Alps. Heavy rains in the lower passes and foothills of the latter mountain have contributed largely to the Marne and Seine floods in

The cold in England is severe and there is much snow especially in the Midlands and in the north.

Wind, snow and rain over all of western Europe have seriously delayed telegraph communication. Until 6 o'clock Thursday morning no press dispatches had reached England from Spain in more than 24

STOCK COMPANY TO PLAY AT LIBERTY ALL NEXT WEEK

The Liberty theatre, Ranger, will be open every night next week, with the G. Bert Davis company of actors and musicians, giving plays, vaudeville and musical numbers that will please. All plays used by this company are recent releases from New York and the ability of the actors is equal to any of the one-night stand companies now playing on the road.

A stock company that is versatile in its work and has years of experience to back it up, portrays different characters that require ability. more so than playing in one play year in and year out. It takes ability to diversify and that is what the G. Bert Davis company has.

The price of admission has noth ing to do with the ability of the actors or musicians, but is put within reach of all classes of people. The working people want to see good shows and plays and that is why stock companies are formed to give week stand shows. This company is capable of giving to the people of Ranger real honest-to-goodness plays at a nominal price that can be afforded all week. "Look it over Monday night, and you will be convinced that Ranger can have good shows," said the man

Why Not Cut This One, Too?

Public approval has greeted each step in wartime tax reduction. Repeal of the special wartime excise taxes on motor vehicles would be a 5% saving to every buyer of an automobile, or repair part, and would lower distribution costs in shipment of persons or goods by motor transportation. There is no doubt of the popularity of the removal of the "nuisance taxes", the railroad transportation taxes, and the proposed cutting of the income taxes. Why not cut this one,

HUNTERS TO ORGANIZE

Co-operation of Citizens Will Solve the Problem, Pro Official Says.

By S. P. HOLLINGSWORTH, United Press Staff Correspondent. HARRISBURG. Jan. 11.-Can prohibition be enforced?

The Pennsylvania state police are trying to answer this question for the benefit of the state and nation.

At the end of a year in conducting Governor Pinchot's dry crusade, they have come to the conclusion, according to Major Lynn G. Adams, superintendent, that without local co-operation, prohibition is a failure. "The state police have been pioneers in this work, it seems," said

Adams, in an interview. "And the most we have gotten is criticism."

Source of Criticism.

Strangely enough, most of the criticism has come from ministers, dry "enthusiasts" and prohibition organizations of the state, according to Adams.

In each instance, the "open violation of the law" is complained of and in many cases the state police are charged with failing in their duty. The state troopers are compelled to mingle with all elements and in some cases must "sample" all kinds of bootleg stuff to get evidence. Ministers hold up their hands at this sort of enforcement, Adams

"Prohibition enforcement is not a pink-tea affair," Adams continued. "With our limited force it is not possible to get every violator. We work night and day in almost every case that is handled.

"But what we are doing is to show these little communities, of which there are hundreds in Pennsylvania as well as the big cities like Philadel phia and Pittsburgh, that there is a method that produces results and we are leaving it to the local police authorities to adopt that method is they want to enforce this law." Local Action.

The kind of co-operation asked by the state police, if the people actually want the law enforced, is action on the part of local authorities, willingness on the part of citizens to testify in liquor prosecutions and constructive criticism of the methods employed so that better results may

"To those who say the state police are concentrating their entire energy on prohibition enforcement, to the exclusion of other crime detection," Adams declared, "it might be said CISCO, Jan. 11 .- Wolf hunters that with 50 state police for the an-
