HJACKERS WANT REGULAR TRIBUTE

WANT MORE MONEY USED ON STREETS

Commission Fears Bulk of Residents Would Not Approve.

Yesterday afternoon the unusual situation arose in the city of heavy taxpayers going before the city commission and arguing long and hard to have the tax rate raised. The commission had unofficially agreed that $1.75 on the $100 valuation would be the rate set. The assembled taxpayers asked that this figure be raised to $2 in order to provide funds for a street cleaning department and to set aside $20,000 or more for street improvement. The tentative budget submitted did not include these two items. It did, however, include $7,000 for maintenance of bridges and other such improvements and $3,600 for the city grader in constant operation. It was thought by those who were arguing the point that these amounts would not properly care for the streets during the coming year.

Mayor M. H. Hagaman, while admitting that the streets should be kept up, was against raising the tax rate beyond the $1.75 figure. He thought it would be too great a burden on the people and would cause them to protest. The mayor was also of the opinion that a city that was just a year and a half old could not expect to have the street facilities of one that had been in the making for years.

MURDER BREAKS INTO VAUDEVILLE AT LOS ANGELES

Plumber Details Experiences While Walling Up Denton's Body.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—The estate left by Jacob Denton, for whose murder Mrs. Louise Peete of Denver was indicted yesterday, is valued at $125,000 according to a petition for letters of administration placed on file today in the county clerk's office. Frances Denton, a 16-year-old daughter, is the only heir named in the petition.

While operatives of the district attorney's office were combing the city Monday for Mrs. Peete, following her failure to appear before the county grand jury, she was at a local vaudeville house, they have since learned, where James Crowhurst, the plumber who is alleged to have walled up the crypt where Denton's body was found, was appearing. Crowhurst's act consisted of a recital of the work as a plumber he is alleged to have done at the Denton home and answering questions of the audience.

G. O. P. SPENDS THREE MILLIONS DEMOCRATS ONE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Total receipts of the Democratic national committee to Oct. 25 for the conduct of the present campaign amounted to $878,831.34, according to announcement today by Wilbur Marsh, the party's national treasurer. The sum collected by Marsh is said to have constituted almost the entire campaign fund, with the exception of $150,000 which was borrowed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—The Republican national committee's campaign to elect Harding will cost $3,442,892.32, Fred Upham, national treasurer of the party notified the senate committee appointed to investigate campaign expenditures, in a report filed here today. Of this sum $3,042,892.32 had been spent up to the close of business on Oct. 24. Upham estimated expenditures during the closing week of the campaign at $400,000 additional.

Hobby Believes Stopping Gins Would Be Mistake

AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—Governor Hobby today declined to join Governor Parker of Louisiana in requesting cotton ginners to close down their plants for thirty days or more. He declared if the cotton was made it would not be wise to throw it away or allow it to deteriorate by not ginning. He said he believed in putting it in better shape for preservation by baling, which would enable the farmers to hold their cotton for higher prices without impairment of grade.

SOUTH CAROLINA GOVERNOR ASKS GINS TO CLOSE UP

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 28.—Governor Cooper today issued a proclamation calling upon cotton ginners to suspend operations until the price of cotton advances.

FIRST DUTY OF CITIZEN IS TO HIS COMMUNITY, SAYS ROTARY SPEAKER

"The first duty of a man or woman is to the locality in which they live, and not to their own personal business," was a declaration made yesterday by Edward F. Trefz, a member of the American City Bureau, who addressed the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club. The speaker said that when every citizen made personal affairs secondary to the good of the locality in which he lived, then the expansion of the community would indirectly bring a benefit to the residents greater than they could ever produce for themselves alone.

BRITAIN'S MINE STRIKE TEMPORARILY SETTLED

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The miners' strike throughout Great Britain was settled this afternoon, contingent on a ballot by the miners, Frank Hodges, a member of the miners' executive body, announced that "We have terms from the government which the executive committee is submitting to a ballot of the men and recommending adoption as a temporary measure until the national wages board is established."

COX AGAIN DENOUNCES "INSIDIOUS WORK" OF S. E. P.

DAYTON, Oct. 28.—Another statement charging the Saturday Evening Post and its editor, George Horace Lorimer, with unfair partisanship issued today by Governor Cox.

The insidious purpose of the Saturday Evening Post under non-partisanship methods for the past decade or more have finally been brought to light," Cox declared. It made its mis-statements only four days before the election, when it was impossible to correct them, the Governor declared.

STUDENTS RIOT WHEN GOVERNOR BANS DANCING

MISSISSIPPI EXECUTIVE BURNED IN EFFIGY BY UNIVERSITY MEN. OXFORD, Miss., Oct. 28.—Two hundred students of the University of Mississippi last night burned in effigy Governor Russell, in a demonstration of protest at an order of the board of trustees, regulating dances at the University. The governor is chairman of the board of trustees. The faculty is investigating the demonstration.

MIMS' TWO SENTENCES TO RUN CONCURRENTLY

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES. EASTLAND, Oct. 28.—Two ten-year sentences assessed Charles Mims for his complicity in the Ranger holdups of a gambling game and the Oklahoma cabaret will run concurrently and the remaining cases against him for the Ranger robberies will be dismissed. This agreement was reached yesterday by Judge E. A. Hill, before whom Mims was convicted, and John W. Baskins of Fort Worth, attorney for the convicted man. The only case pending against Mims now is the Graham bank robbery, to which he confessed.

HAWLEY BACK NEXT TUESDAY IN WATER CASE

Death of Mr. Britton's Brother Delays Conference With T. P. Officials.

John B. Hawley, who has been retained by the Chamber of Commerce to investigate water possibilities, left last night for Fort Worth to return to Ranger again next Tuesday to go into the possibilities of the Russell creek dam project. The survey for this water site has been made by the Texas & Pacific Coal & Oil company and all the data is in the office of the company at Thurber. Because of the death of the brother of Ed. C. Britton, one of the officials of the Texas & Pacific company, it was decided to wait until next Tuesday to go into the feasibility of the project. At that time a conference will be held with the officials of the company, Major Hawley and the water committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The survey as made is said to be such that it would impound a lake nine square miles in area if the dam was built. Best Authority. Major Hawley perhaps is the best authority on water projects in the country. In addition to building Lake Worth, Fort Worth's water supply and many other such projects over the country, he had entire charge of the water supply of the American army in France from a section reaching from Brest to Bordeaux. His opinions are sought everywhere and once rendered has always been found to be accurate. His endorsement of the Russell creek project would solve Ranger's water supply, provided funds could be secured to carry it through.

ATTORNEY GENERAL HOLDS NEW POLL TAX LAW LEGAL

AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—The poll tax law passed by the session of the special legislature is binding upon all election administrative officers and those who desire to vote on Nov. 2, according to an opinion rendered today by the attorney general. The opinion excepts Harris county, where the district judge held the law unconstitutional and forbade its application.

CORN USED AS FUEL BY NEBRASKA FARMERS

OMAHA, Oct. 28.—Hundreds of thousands of bushels of corn may be burned for fuel by farmers of northern Nebraska this winter. High priced coal and a bounteous but low priced crop of corn is the reason given.

New corn shelled now brings three fourths of a cent a pound, or $15 a ton. The cheapest soft coal is worth $15 a ton and has to be hauled. Farmers claimed that unshelled corn makes the hottest fire and will last longer than coal.

THURBER ROAD PUT IN USE WHEN BRIDGE IS BUILT

Ranger-Eastland Road Will Be First One Given Hard Surface.

The recently built highway from Ranger to Thurber will be opened for traffic as quickly as one bridge between the two towns is constructed according to a statement made this morning by Judge C. R. Starnes, who stopped over on his way from Dallas.

The road will be used in its present state and kept in a good state of repair until such a time as the hard surface can be applied, he said. Work is proceeding on the bridge. The grade for the road is completed.

The Eastland-Ranger road will be the first to receive the hard surface according to the judge.

SWEDISH ROYALTY AT ALEXANDER'S FUNERAL

ATHENS, Oct. 28.—The funeral services of the late King Alexander, which will be held here Friday, will be attended by the crown prince of Sweden, according to present arrangements. He is in this city at the present time. Other nations will be represented by diplomatic officials.

OIL FRATERNITY THREATENS TO TAKE SUMMARY ACTION

There'll Be a Little "Night Riding" If Outrages Do Not Cease, They Say; Rumored One Hijacker Killed By "Toolie."

BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 28.—A disposition on the part of members of the oil fraternity, especially drillers and tool dressers in the field to take the law into their own hands and summarily deal with hijackers who have grown progressively bold and daring within the last two weeks, may come to a head within the next two days, unless law enforcement officials of the county arrest and punish at least some of the perpetrators of recent lawless acts.

The thing that has caused resentment to flame most was the demand made on P. McCarty, a driller on a well south of town, who on three successive nights was taken from his rig and searched by hijackers. Monday night, when the hijackers for the third time failed to obtain any money, McCarty was told to take up a "collection" from among all members of the crew on the well, both day and night towers, and leave not less than $50 on the stump of a tree near by, outside of the circle of light which surrounds the well during the dark hours. Unless this demand was met, the hijackers threatened, they would lurk at night in the thickets around the well and "do a little sniping."

Work on the night tower of this well is now stopped and the crew refuses to work unless protection is furnished.

Other similar cases came to light after the night towers on No. 1 and No. 3 Humble wells, south of town, were hijacked three times, the last time Monday night. Three men were in the holdup crew, as was the case when McCarty was threatened.

The night tower on a Gulf well nearby also was held up on three different occasions, two nights successively.

The night tower on the Ibsen well was held up on Sunday and again on Monday night.

Brush Offers Opportunity. These are only a few of the instances that have aroused the indignation of the workers. Most of the outrages take place in the more outlying districts, where the wells are thinly spaced and outside of the circle of light around the derrick there is a wilderness of brush in which persons could lie in hiding and pick the crews off without being heard or leaving a clue.

There have been several instances of workmen being badly beaten up during the holdup proceedings, and this has added to the ire of the oil fraternity. Their feeling has become so intense that, as one prominent operator expressed it, "they are liable to do a little night-riding around here if the authorities do not take some action." The sheriff's department says it is doing all within its power to stop the outrages, but no arrests have been made, as there is little chance of identifying the highwaymen unless they are caught in the act.

Hijacker Bumped Off? General circulation here that a tool dresser killed a hijacker last week and concealed the body. It is said that he has been promised immunity from punishment if he will come forward and tell of the occurrence. Forms of law must be complied with, but there is said to be no chance that he would be convicted. A nice purse awaits him as a reward for the deed, oil men say.

Street Sweeper Now on Job in Paved District

The power street sweeper purchased by the Ranger Sanitary company for the purpose of sweeping the paved streets has arrived and will be put into use tonight. The sweeper is horse drawn and piles the trash in windrows, where it is picked up by wagons. While waiting for the sweeper, the sanitary company has been sweeping the streets by hand and has kept them in good condition by this method. With the installation of the power machine it is expected that the service that has been given will be greatly improved.

Under present conditions the merchants along the area of the pavement are bearing the burden of the cleaning department. The majority of them pay $1 each week for the service. Other than being a relief to the eyes, the value of keeping the paving clean was demonstrated during the last wet spell. It was pointed out during the rainy weather that during other such spells mud on the paving was almost as bad for pedestrians as in the unpaved district. This condition had been remedied by the sanitary company before the recent rains and residents could move over the pavement dry shod. The bars of sand had also been removed which formerly created holes of water that lasted for days.

MEXICAN GOVERNOR ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING OF SIX LEGISLATORS

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28.—Carlos Green, governor of the state of Tabasco, was arrested in San Juan Bautista, capital of that state, yesterday upon orders from General P. Elias Calles, minister of war.

The arrest followed a proclamation by the national senate that the governor's office was vacant because of Green's responsibility for the shooting and killing of two deputies to the assembly and the wounding of four other persons in the state capital of Tabasco, on Monday last.

His "Sucker" Theory Exemplified in "The Jailbird."
The truth of P. T. Barnum's famous statement about "suckers" is demonstrated in pictures by "Shakespeare Clancy" the role portrayed by Douglas MacLean in his new Paramount picture, "The Jailbird," which will be shown at the Temple literature today.

Clancy puts over a "Wallingford" on the citizens of Dodson, a typical Kansas small town, but only after he has tried to get along with them and failed because of their prejudice against a young man with modern and progressive ideas. Clancy's deal takes a most unexpected turn which greatly multiplies his fortune, and gains for him the respect and admiration of the whole town, as well as the girl who will rid him of all tendencies to put over crooked deals in the future.

"The Jailbird" gives this rising young star every opportunity for increasing his already excellent reputation as one of the screen's foremost juveniles. The story by Julien Josephson, was directed by David Ingraham. Doris May heads a splendid supporting cast.

LAMB.
Real Schoolboy Days in "It's a Great Life."

The imaginative powers of a sixteen-year-old boy's mind along with his worship of a fellow scholar are clearly shown in the Mary Roberts Rhinehart's story "It's a Great Life," being made at the Goldwyn studios in Culver City, California, under the direction of E. Mason Hopper. It will be shown at the Lamb theatre today.

The Wop, played by Howard Ralston, was the willing slave of Stoddard II, played by Cullen Landis, his greatest trouble being Stoddard's favoritism for the girls. The Wop conceives the idea of an empire with Stoddard reigning as king and himself as Prime Minister, but unable to tempt his King.

The finding of a pearl in some oysters solves the problem of bait to attract Stoddard but necessities moving the Empire to a desert island off the Gulf of California, inhabited by cannibals, because of the pearl fisheries there. Visions of the ex-king offering his choicest wives to Stoddard, the new King, are conjured by the Wop's wonderful imagination. The history repeats itself, an Empire comes to ruin because of a woman. The coming of Eloise, the professor's daughter, spoils all plans.

'BUSTED' BARON SWAPS PANTS FOR PIE, BUT BOLD BURGLAR RUINS TRADE

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Into that port of missing men, North Clark street, drifted Baron Kajetan Lang of Hagendorf, Bavaria, who had lost a fortune in gambling and was hungry. He drifted into the chop suey emporium of Chang Foo, pennywise and foolish as a fox, and asked for something to eat, preferring pork chops, admitting he had no money wherewith to pay.

Chang Foo noted that the hungry baron was wearing expensive clothing. "For your coat I will give two pork chops," he said.

Off came the coat.

"I want lots of gravy, rich, yellowish brown gravy, with cream and butter," added the baron.

"For your pants I will give a large boat of gravy," said the imperturbable Chink.

Off came the pants. "How about some pie a la mode?" queried the baron.

"For your hat and shoes I will serve pie a la mode and fragrant coffee."

Off came the hat and shoes, and the Oriental departed for the kitchen. Then came a disturbance in the person of an armed robber, who not only despoiled Chang Foo of his money, but made off with the baron's wardrobe. So he lost not only his clothes, but the pork chops and pie as well.

The police draped the despoiled baron in a portiere and took him to the station. Later someone donated a pair of trousers. The baron will assist in cooking at the Bridwell for a few days, until friends can supply him with a coat, hat and shoes.

Commission Puts Boxing on New Basis in Mass.

Ten-Round Bout to a Decision Will Be Allowed Under New Law.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—Boxing is on a new basis in Massachusetts. For the first time in a quarter-century professional matches are open to public participation under legal sanction, and it is no longer necessary for a man who wishes to see about to first join a club over the meetings of which referees have been the moderators and boxers the only members who had the floor. Familiar announcement to introducing fighters that "both are members of this club" is heard no more.

The new order of things is the result of a law establishing a state boxing commission, and stipulating some of the conditions under which the sport must be conducted. These provide for ten-round bouts the rounds of three minutes each, to be conducted by refs licensed by the commission under bonds of $5,000. Decisions are given by a referee and two judges, licensed by the commission.

No Draw Decisions. The members of the board, four days after their appointment laid down supplementary regulations under which each judge is required to write and sign his decision and the referee decides if they disagree. Under the commission's rules there can be no draw.

Every person connected with a bout must be licensed, physician, referee, judge, time-keeper, boxer, manager, trainer or second. The physician is required to examine the contestants three hours before the bout and to certify in writing that each boxer is physically fit. Licenses bear photographs of the boxers, with the idea of preventing impersonations.

Referees and judges are assigned by the commission to authorize bouts and their identity to promoters boxers or spectators is not known until they take their place at the ringside. This is a further check against fraudulent collusion. Under the law the commissioners have authority similar to that of city councils to require the testimony of witnesses on all matters within their jurisdiction.

Women Allowed. Women, who have seen bouts in this city previously only in male disguise, are now allowed equal privileges with male followers of the sport, and at the first of the bouts under the new law femininity was sprinkled throughout the arena. Gambling has been prohibited and seconds ordered to desist from objectionable tactics in support of their principles, but today I shall devote myself exclu-

GERMAN ORGANIZATION RUNS ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES DURING STRIKES; UNION MEN HELP

By Associated Press.
STUTTGART, Oct. 28.—German industrial leaders believe they have found an effective weapon for fighting general strikes in the Technische Nothilfe, known in Germany and Denmark as the "Red Cross of Industry." As evidence, they point to the fact that the organization enabled a general strike in the state of Wurtemberg in five days when that state was menaced by complete paralysis of all industrial activity.

The Technische Nothilfe was organized at Stuttgart about a year ago and is operating under the direction of the minister of the interior. In normal times only a skeleton office is maintained which occupies itself with preparations for an emergency. Wurtemberg is divided into 100 sub-divisions each of which has a leader whose duty it is to prepare a list of volunteers able in emergency to operate all the essential industries of the community. The head offices in the city are furnished with a complete list of such volunteers. The active technical emergency managers of essential industries usually are named as chiefs of those industries and they presumably are non-union men. Among the volunteers listed are university students, engineers, professors in the Polytechnic institute and unskilled workmen from every class of society.

The central organization makes provisions for bedding, foodstuffs and army kitchens for the volunteers who camp by their jobs.

Complete Force Available. Each volunteer is informed in advance where to report and upon the notification of a strike proceeds to that spot where the Technische Nothilfe has delivered supplies considered sufficient for the duration of the strike. It is claimed that in a very short time the central office thus can furnish an operating force for each industry.

The general strike was called here as a protest against the 10 per cent tax on workmen's wages. It was arranged by the communists but adhered to by the Majority Socialists, the more conservative labor elements and the trade unions. Distribution of food ceased and gas, electric and water service was abandoned. The community was confronted by chaos when the Technische Nothilfe stepped in, assumed control and manned every essential post vacated by the strikers, including the highly technical positions.

There was some difficulty in finding men fitted to aid in the heavy work, such as firing furnaces, for few of the volunteers had been accustomed to such labor, but this was solved by working in short shifts. The majority of the 265 men working and living in gas works were polytechnic students.

Union Men Volunteer.

There were even union men among the volunteers, for some of the labor leaders believe that certain industries must be kept going to prevent the collapse of a community and that only the Technische Nothilfe can do this. Some of the conservative labor leaders felt that the control of their organizations might slip out of their hands to the extreme radicals who would tie up all industries for not for the Technische Nothilfe. For these reasons they have made no opposition to union men volunteering for service with that organization.

The strike began at midnight Saturday and Sunday morning. By Monday morning the industries were functioning on the reduced capacities, but by Wednesday morning normal production was attained.

Motor trucks were requisitioned for the distribution of food to the volunteer workers and an appeal was issued to labor, philanthropic and social organizations to aid in protecting the workers and property. The members of the Technische Nothilfe are under obligation to carry no arms.

Quit as Strikers Return. In less than five days the strikers began to return to work and as each one took his place, a member of the Technische Nothilfe quit unostentatiously and in less than a week the strikers were again at their posts.

Chiefs of the Technische Nothilfe in charge of industrial plants at Stuttgart were carefully instructed to obtain written statements as to the condition of the plants when the strikers returned, so that radicals could not subsequently practice sabotage and charge that it was done by the Technische Nothilfe.

Aged Indian Never in Bed.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—John Smith, an aged Chippewa Indian, arrived in Minneapolis recently with his adopted son, Tom Smith, to attend the State Fair. John, who is 138 years old, has become blind since his last visit to Minneapolis a year ago. His health is still good, however, he maintains. "I don't see any more, but I still like to travel," the old Indian said. With him he brought his blanket, upon which he sleeps, never having slept in a bed.

The Medaille Militaire, the highest military distinction which is within the power of the French government to bestow, was created in 1852. It can be awarded only to enlisted men for most exceptional bravery, and to general officers who receive it for gallantry of their troops.

THOUSANDS SEE FIGHT BETWEEN LION TRAINER AND VICIOUS LIONESS

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 28.—Thousands of persons who attended the Lancaster County Fair the other afternoon witnessed a battle between Rose, a vicious lioness, and Scott Bobbie, an animal trainer, in which Bobbie, though seriously bitten on one leg, fought the lioness to submission, with a chair. He then collapsed and was taken to the general hospital in an ambulance.

Rose made her leap just as Bobbie was ending his performance in a cage of five lions. The trainer was felled, but dragged himself from the cage, with blood flowing from his limb. As the multitude of spectators watched in awe, the man picked up a chair and reentered the cage. Although almost too weak to fight he succeeded in beating the lioness back to her corner and then into a smaller cage, in which she was carted away.

POLICE SEEKING SLAYER OF UNIDENTIFIED MAN

HAMMOND, Ind., Oct. 28.—Police today were searching for a man who killed an unidentified man in a crowd of 25,000 people here last night.

The crowd had gathered to witness a free performance at the Hammond Fall Festival, and witnesses who were standing near the scene of the murder said two men began an argument, and one of them struck the other a blow, telling him to get on the pavement. The victim's skull was fractured and he died a few minutes later. His assailant escaped by dodging through the crowd.

Both men were strangers to all who saw them.

WHO HELP THEMSELVES.

Probably nothing could exemplify the spirit of Ranger so well as the action of citizens in protesting the tentative tax schedule as TOO LOW. Opposition to tax rates as set by the city authorities is nothing unusual. But to have them approved for the reason given here is something unique.

Ranger is nothing if not progressive. Progress costs money, much money. Rejection of this fact and willingness to aid the city's improvement program are at the bottom of the extraordinary stand. Much has been accomplished in the last two years. Much yet remains to be done. For cities do not stand forth full clothed or night. They are built by steady and persistent plodding.

Whether the commission accepts the opportunity of obtaining a greater volume of funds or whether they decide the revenue will be sufficient for the work at hand, the fact remains that the representative citizens of the community have shown their willingness to forward the common weal. Co-Operation is their watchword. With such a spirit great cities can arise.

PHENOMS FADE.

This year there is competition in infant phenoms. Harvard has one, as is usual at that institution. Now another bobs up at Columbia. Twelve years old, speaks eight languages and his fond mother expects him to be the leading archaeologist of all time.

Master Edward's accomplishments and lack of accomplishments bespeak the guiding hand of a master mind. Mentally he has learning worthy of maturity. Physically he is large for his age. He likes to play games, but prefers to play with boys half his size and two-thirds his age. That is the only place he can show well in competition, he naively admits to one interviewer. Therein the conclusion is conceivable that the forcing and polishing of his learning has dwarfed the natural increase in real brain power which should be an attribute of his growth toward adolescence. Master Percy is educated, 'tis true. His mind is trained along lines of a rigid routine. But it is doubtful if he is as well able to cope with life and its complex situations as is a normal boy of his age. Certainly this is true if his athletic prowess is any test of his ability.

Heaven help the boy who is taken by the nape of his neck and thrust into the road toward a career before he has barely reached the age of self-consciousness; with so much study he has had no time for the normal thoughts and activities of boyhood, his life has been cramped and guided till it is doubtful if he has thought of his own. He can buy Oriental tobaccos and read the labels for down amusement and to furnish awe-inspiring entertainment to his proud parents' guests; but can he be trusted with a gun, or could he perform any of the feats of derring-do which make the normal boy's life so replete with thrills? Water love hath no mother than that she will permit her off-spring to live the life of a fish, to rush him forward down the vale of time, without finding a hand-picked career for him and thrusting him into it, willy-nilly. Every person has a right to live his own life, and not even a mother should attempt to usurp that privilege from her child. Guidance is good, but not molding in a pattern.

We predict that not one infant phenom of today will be found in the "Who's Who" of twenty or forty years from now as easy as rolling an egg on a plank line.

JOHN-A-DREAMS

ON various occasions I have told you of the meanings of dreams of jewelry, but today I shall devote myself exclusively to bracelets, visions of which point to the future of the dreamer in a most specific way.

A bracelet clasped upon your arm by a man you care for, is a certain sign that he will hold your thoughts in bondage, though he himself will slowly but surely drift away from you. Having such a dream you may better cast him off without waiting for the day when his love grows cold, because it is bound to come.

To break a bracelet means to break a friendship which should never have been formed, but to have someone break it for you is an indication that a bond of friendship will be severed which you would rather keep intact.

Finding a bracelet is a sign of the sudden discovery that you are not being sincerely dealt with. This invariably refers to the intentions of a man who has not declared his love as yet, but has acted in such a manner as to have made you surmise that he entertains deeper feelings for you.

A bracelet rusting or becoming spotted in other ways is an omen of a sad ending of a friendship which began under happy auspices. This may refer to the friendship between man and woman or between two women.

If you give a bracelet to someone, the dream tells you that your efforts to make close friends with the person to whom you make the gift will be absolutely in vain.

If the person should be a stranger, you will make the effort nevertheless, but it will refer to a party which you will meet for the first time after the night of your vision.

Should you dream that you are admiring a bracelet either on the arm or in a show window, your jealousy will be aroused and you will live in grave fear of losing the love of the man on whom your heart is set. And the probabilities are that your fears will be well founded.

If your dream shows you a woman whose arms are encircled with many bracelets, or only an arm ornamented in this way, you will be very envious of one of your girl friends because of her greater happiness in material things.

In the next chapter I will tell you of dreams of Window Shades.

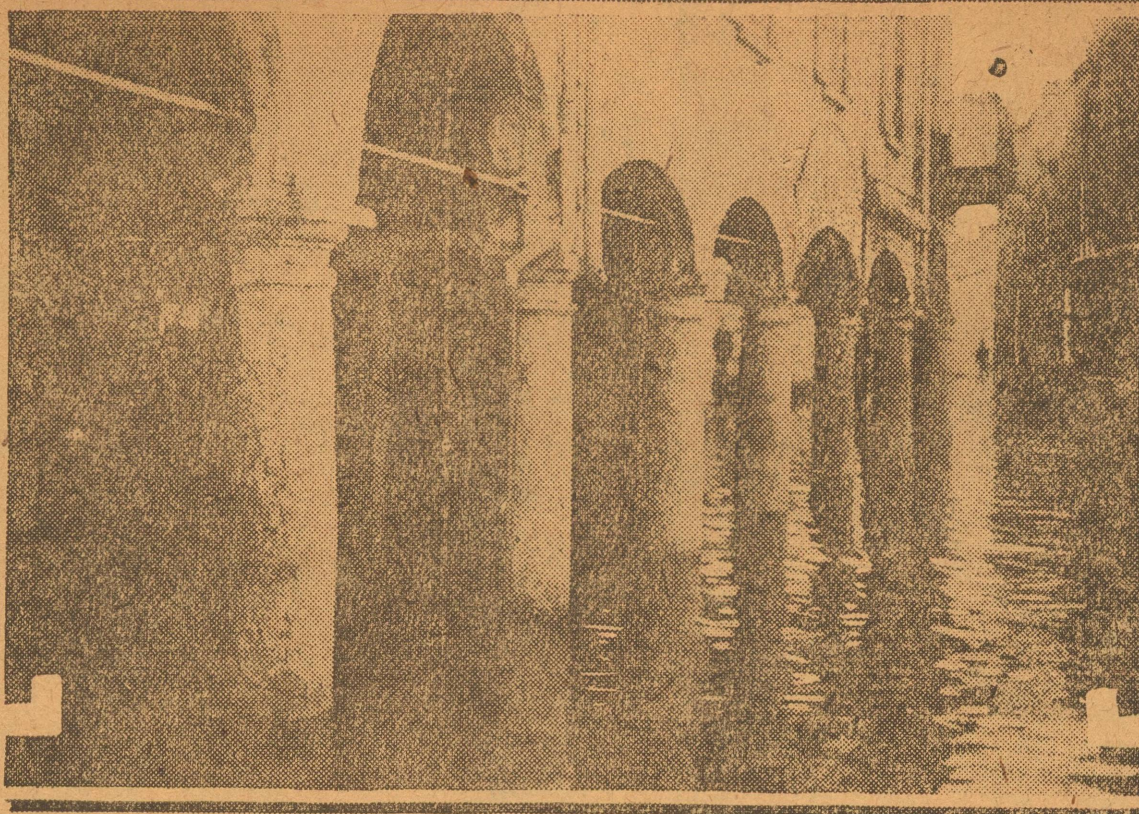

British Exploring Antarctic.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The first section of the British imperial antarctic expedition which left London Sept. 28, plans to survey and chart the western portion of the Weddell sea coast and to penetrate 1,200 miles of Antarctic territory hitherto unexplored. Under the leadership of John L. Cook, the British explorer, 500 men will go to the Antarctic from Christiana.

After two years, Cook plans to return and carry the full program of his expedition, including the circumnavigation of the Antarctic and aerial navigation over the ice. During his absence, his place will be held by a specially fitted and built in England for the second expedition.

A man came to fix our setting room window yesterday on account of me having accidentally brook it by trying to see how hard I could nook on it with a marble without axually breaking it, and he had a little putty left over and gave it to me after I asked him for it, and I made a imitation bump with it on one side of my forehead and went up in ma's room and ma was setting there darnin' holes out of socks, me saying, How do you do ma?

Very well, thanks, but wy all the formality? sed ma.

Me not sayin' wy and I walked around a while without ma noticing the bump, and I started to wawk up and down rite in front of her, and she sed, For goodness sake keep out of my life, you ack like a persin with St. Vititch's dance.

Yes man, have you got eny iodine, ma? I sed.

There, maybe you cant feel that either.

And she sat down and kep on darnin' holes out of socks and I took the putty off and threw it in the wastebasket as hard as I could as if I didnt think as much of it as wat I did wen I fests' got it.

SMALL TRAINED FROG ENTERTAINS FARMERS

SMALL TRAINED IS D.T.G.A. POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Oct. 28.—Circus headliners may talk about their trained fleas, trained pigs and other remarkable attractions, but James Ray, a farmer near here, goes them all one better by announcing that he has a trained frog on his place. Ray entertains his neighbors from adjoining farms by giving exhibitions at frequent intervals, and it serves to while away the dull hours of the life in the cornfield districts.

Ray says he values the frog at several hundred dollars, and he doubts very much if he could be induced to part with his pet through any sort of financial offer. Ray has petted and trained the frog until its actions are not only unusual, but startling. It answers Ray's whistle, which it recognizes above anyone else's. This has been proven by neighbors who have whistled to the frog, but it would pay no attention to them. When thus called by Ray it leaps from the ditch where it makes its home and goes to its trainer. The frog has been trained to do various tricks, and indicates no desire for companionship other than that of Ray, and shows a special antipathy toward women.

Now, Mr. Loggerhead, you have never come to see me all summer long, but when you get into trouble you send for the King. You would not be here if you had let Rufus alone. Now I am going to let Rufus hold you by the leg for an hour. Then I will return," and Tinker Bob went away.

Squatters Stake Claims in Noted Park at Vienna

VIENNA, Oct. 28.—Squatters have taken possession of the famous Lainz Tiergarten on the outskirts of Vienna and, where once the royal stags and wild boars fattened on rich meadows and under splendid oaks, huts are being erected and ground broken for crops.

The procedure of occupation was symptomatic of present conditions in Austria. Some months ago a group of men, mostly war invalids, formally demanded this park from the government, giving notice that if their demands were not met within a certain period, they would take possession. The demand was ignored by the authorities, so a few days ago the period expired and several hundred men marched quietly to the entrance and demanded admission. The keepers swung open the gates, the men entered and staked out their claims, placing a model but in one of the open grassed places as a symbol of possession.

It is said that 1,700 families will take up claims.

The highest rank in the navy is that of admiral, then in order of rank are vice-admiral, rear-admiral, captain, commander, lieutenant-commander, lieutenant and ensign.

TINKER BOB

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB

THE PUNISHMENT OF LOGGERHEAD.

Now before I tell you about Tinker Bob and what he did with the creatures that were in trouble in the tree, I want o make you acquainted with Mr. Loggerhead the Shrike. He is quite a delightful fellow—that is, he is delightful all but his song, and that is the strangest thing about him. He really thinks he can sing wonderfully well, but he cant. Some folks call him the French nocking bird. Down in the Southland hey call him the Butcher Bird because he has a hooked beak with which he can eat the flesh of smaller creatures.

When you look up in a tree and see a fellow that looks to be nine inches long and has a black stripe on the side of his head, and his body is a grayish white with black wings and a near-black tail, you can just say to yourself, "That is Mr. Loggerhead." Then if you listen a minute you'll hear him trying to sing like all the birds of the Forest, and yet he doesnt make a song like any of them. When he is the least bit excited he makes a shrill cry more shrill even than Jerry the Jay.

Well, he gets quite venturesome sometimes and tries to capture creatures that are nearly as large as himself, and often he gets into serious trouble. And that is just what happened this time when he net Rufus the Tree Mouse. You see, he has no talons like Mr. Hawk, so if he captures a Forest Dweller that is a little too large for him to handle, he forces it into the fork of a bush or tree where he can tear it apart with his beak. This time he had forced Rufus into the fork of a tree and was about to tear his flesh from his bones when Rufus seized Mr. Loggerhead by the legs. And this was the condition that Major Pole Cat found when he came upon the scene.

"Help, help!" cried Mr. Loggerhead. "This Tree Mouse has me by the leg and I cannot get away. Help, help!"

Major pole Cat was not very much in a hurry about helping because he knew that Mr. Loggerhead had forced Rufus the Tree Mouse into the fork of the Rufus Seized Mr. Loggerhead by the Leg tree or Rufus would never have done such a thing. "I'll go tell the King," said Major. "And if there's any helping to be done, hell do it." Then Major was off to see the King.

Passengers Cling to Train Tops and Trucks in Rumania

By Associated Press
 BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 28.—If Americans feel that their subways, railroads and trolley cars are crowded, conditions in Rumania and other parts of the Balkans are worse. Railroad traffic today in Rumania is so great that passengers ride on the roofs of every train by the hundreds. When the tops of the trains are so crowded that they can hold no more, the passengers cling to the running boards, ride on the bumpers and even on the under-structure of the car. The fare is the same whether the passenger rides in a compartment or on the roof of the car. Accidents are frequent. Often when a train has entered a tunnel a number of passengers have been swept off the roof to their death.

The congested traffic is due to the small number of locomotives and coaches available and to insufficient trackage. Most of the country's rolling stock was carried off by the Germans or destroyed. Some of the locomotives and cars have been replaced, but the number is far from adequate. A large American locomotive concern has contracted to send a number of engines here, taking in payment a quantity of oil.

Short on Locomotives.
 There are at present less than 3,000 locomotives in Rumania, including the newly-acquired provinces of Transylvania and Bessarabia. About half this number are in order. Most of them are of German or Hungarian construction. There is such a shortage of passenger coaches that box cars are often used for the conveyance of the public.

The total trackage in Rumania is about 10,500 miles. This has to serve an area of nearly 300,000 square miles and a population of 18,000,000. Many of the steel rails are almost entirely worn out and the road beds are in need of major repairs.

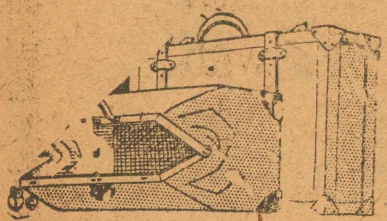

Rumanian railway officials say that American railroad men and engineers would do well to investigate business prospects in Rumania. Railroads must be constructed and others double tracked. The country will require an enormous amount of railroad supplies to re-equip and reconstruct the lines that suffered during the war. Bridges also must be built, canals cut and harbors extended.

Members of the Cayuga Democratic club, New York, invented a novel way to raise campaign funds. Each one of the members of the club, a woman's organization, was asked to contribute according to the size of her waist—one dollar for every inch. Prominent men of the Democratic party in New York were asked to measure the members. They were assessed so much per waist for the privilege.

HORSE BETRAYS HIS CHICKEN THIEF OWNER TO PURSUING "LAW"

MOBERLY, Mo., Oct. 28.—The police of Moberly have a new police hound. In this instance, however, the animal sleuth proves to be a horse, but he has proven his worth in ferreting out a criminal, at least in one case. If he proves as efficient in other cases he will be a world beater, but that is a debatable question.

Will Brooks, who lives east of Moberly, heard murmurs of discontent among the occupants of his chicken houses one morning long before the time for the sun to rise. Investigations proved that someone was amongst his feathered flock and a shot from Brooks' gun sent a dusky figure flying into the night. The police were called and found that the intruder had left a horse and buggy in his haste to get away, and likewise twenty-two pullets that were deposited in the bed of the vehicle. The police climbed in, loosened the reins and—dobbins simply went home. The owner meekly confessed after surrendering to the police. He admitted a number of thefts in the Moberly neighborhood; in fact, so many that in a number of instances he could merely give locations. The police say his arrest clears up quite a few mysterious thefts in the past. If the self-confessed chicken thief ever gets out of jail and returns to his nocturnal operations, he probably will dispense with his horse and get an auto.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

Taking the Wind Out of Her Sails.
 "Oh wad some power the gittie gie us," sang out the Artless Young Thing as she burst into the Woman's office the other morning.

"Something funny just happened," she said, pulling up a chair and sitting chummily beside the Woman. The Woman knows the Artless Young Thing well—she's a sweet, interesting chatterbox who can say more words in one breath than anyone else the Woman knows. So the Woman put aside her work, smiled sweetly at the flushed young face and prepared to listen.

"The joke's on me," she confided to me, "I've got on my newest suit, which looks rather well, don't you think? And this perfectly sweet new hat which everyone says is becoming. New clothes always shed a rosy glamour over life for me. And it's such a lovely morning. So that I walked along very jauntily, filled with a sense of well-being—of looking my best in everything, you know. And when several people turned to look after me I walked even more jauntily and held my head still higher and felt beautifully flattered. 'I must be looking very spiffy,' I thought to myself and I believe I actually preened. Never knew before just how preening was done, but I am sure that is what I did. And then I met Marion and Marion looked at me in amazement and then said with horror literally dripping from her voice, 'My dear child—you know the way Marion talks—my dear child, what have you done to yourself? Here—look,' and she handed me her purse mirror.

"I looked. There was a streak of black across my nose and a big heavy streak under my right eye! Vanitas vanitatum. After the first shock I recovered very well and laughed at myself and at feminine vanity; here I was thinking that the intelligent look in my eye or the cut of my new suit was attracting all this attention—and it was only a horrid smudge!"

Bobbing Up Sincerely.
 Pat and Teddy are brothers, charming little chaps of seven and nine, respectively. In temperament they are antitheses, for Teddy is serious-minded and unduly sensitive, with an over-active conscience, while Pat is a carefree individual, with a way of sidetracking disagreeable things or turning the mto his own advantage. Because of this very difference, perhaps, it is often conscientious Pat who gets the lion's share of reproof.

Last Saturday as the Woman lingered over the tea table with their mother, Granny and the nurse for a baby sister came in. There had evidently been trouble in the nursery. Granny had been reproving Teddy and Nurse resented what she felt was undue severity. Nurse joined the family when Teddy was born, and he is her "boy" in a very special sense. "You know, Mrs. Baker," she said, with a hint of indignation in her voice, "Teddy is of a very sensitive nature, and I think scolding him hurts more than you know. Now if it were aPT, it wouldn't make such a difference. He'd only laugh and forget. That child turns everything to his advantage. Why, if you handed him a lemon he'd set up a lemonade stand at once."

Not So Simple as It Seemed.
 The Mid-Victorian Lady is a helpful soul and never hesitates to go to the rescue of neighbors in distress, even at the risk of being misunderstood. Therefore the other day in Canal street station of the B. R. T., when she saw a man vainly trying to staunch the flow of blood from his nose, she proceeded to offer advice. There was a simple remedy, taught her by her grandmother years ago, that seldom failed.

From her handbag she took a square of paper, rolled it into a small compass and, approaching the sufferer, said sympathetically, "If you will just hold this between your upper lip and gum and press it firmly the bleeding will surely stop. I know for I have tried it in severe cases of nosebleed."

One hand fully occupied with a handkerchief and bleeding nose, the recipient tried to indicate his gratitude by bows of his head and wild waving of a free arm. "Thank you, lady, thank you very much. I will try if I can. But diss is not

MAN RETURNS AFTER TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS

SALEM, Ill., Oct. 28.—A man came here the other day announcing himself as Ledwick or Ledgeridge of South America. A number of the older citizens were positive he was Presley Goodnow, absent from Salem twenty-eight years. The stranger, however, maintained he was a distant relative of Presley. His purpose in coming, he said was to settle an old estate.

Several days later Judge Charles N. Goodnow came down from Chicago and recognized the stranger as his brother Presley, and the latter laughingly admitted that he was Presley and accompanied the Judge to Chicago.

Presley said he had been traveling in foreign countries since his disappearance. His mother, who refused to believe that he was dead, died a few months ago. The last heard here from Presley before his disappearance was a letter in which he stated that his partner in Arizona was ill and that he feared he, too, would become ill.

nosebleed. I had chust had my adenoids carved out." Suppressing a giggle, the Lady fled from further flood of explanation and gratitude that followed her across the platform.

EXPLOSIVE BLAST SNUFFS OUT BLAZING TORCH AT GAS WELL

The glow which for eleven nights has pined the western horizon with red was snuffed out last night by the blast of eight quarts of gelatine powder.

Gordon & Green's schoolhouse gasser, 8 miles west of town, was ignited nearly two weeks ago when the Four Corners school house caught fire from the over-turning of a lamp during a meeting. The schoolhouse was destroyed.

Following the flame in two is an established method of extinguishing well fires in California and the method has recently been brought to this territory by K. T. Kinley and associates of the Western Torpedo company. The method used is to string a cable from a derrick, storage tank or other elevated object near the blaze, this cable being fastened so that when hanging loose it would bear directly through the fiery torch above the well.

The cable is drawn to one side, the can of explosive attached and the cable slowly released, in order to bring the charge directly into the flames. Then it is exploded by means of an electric spark. The concussion literally blows out the flame as if it were a giant breath, says Mr. Kinley.

One charge was sufficient to put out the fire at this well, but oftentimes the gas reignites from the heated earth and repetition of the dose is necessary. This is the second successful use of this method in this district, the other being some time ago when the Tidal well at Desdemona was ablaze.

The Gordon & Green well was making 10,000,000 or more feet of gas, which is piped to Cisco by the Texas company. It will be recapped by tonight and the gas again turned into the mains.

Marie Prevost.

Marie, the Demure, should be the title of this picture of Miss Prevost. Would you ever have believed it if you had not seen the photograph, that Miss Prevost ever appeared before the camera in a high-necked blouse and suit and hat in everything. We have always thought of her in a one-piece bathing suit and half-hose, too, and so we were sure you would be as interested in this pensive little Marie as we were.

This is a still made from one of the romantic scenes in Mack Sennett's otherwise hilarious five-reel comedy, "Love, Honor and Behave."

She Is Strong on Education.

While others may go abroad in search of Paris Gowns, Natalie, youngest and most retiring of the Talmadge sisters, went to Europe with the well-meaning intentions of a Cook's tourist. According to her mother, Natalie was a tireless sightseer and a firm believer in guide books.

"She learned so much," said her mother, "that now I believe that traveling is the best way to educate a girl. Anyway, Natalie has a fine background for any amount of reading she may care to do."

William S. Hart is working on a picture he wrote himself called "The Testing Block."

Rosee Arlucke will be shown soon in a full length movie made from Irvn Cobb's story, "The Life of the Party."

Bryant Washburn will be shown soon as the young man who tried toshreta as a young man who tried to do the wrong thing, which always turned out right. It is called "An Amateur Devil."

THE GOBLINS'LL GET YOU IF YOU DON'T WATCH OUT

Suggestions for decorations and place cards for a Halloween party.

Halloween, that magic time which brings to life such things as spooks, ghosts, owls, along with big, black, bushy beasts, together with sheets and pillow slips, the proper raiment for this occasion, is again approaching. One reason why Halloween is such a popular event to celebrate with a party or dance is because it permits of such variety in decoration and entertainment.

Masquerade parties are always good fun and ghost parties and witch parties are always in order. Quaint little invitations may be written in verse and sent on a wise owl, screechy cat or goblin pumpkin. Many of the decorations and place cards may be made instead of bought. Black and orange paper, sheets, and paste is all that is needed for the making of all kinds of appropriate trimmings. Pictured here are a few suggestions for place cards and decorations for table.

Lady Minister Has Two Pastorates and Legislative Seat

NEPAUG, Conn., Oct. 28.—Grace I. Edwards of New Hartford, turning away from the beaten track of women's activities, has chosen the ministry as her life work.

The "lady minister" as she is called, is holding down two pastorates—one in the Congregational Church in Nepaug, the other in the Methodist church in Bakersville.

At the caucus, when there was a demand for a candidate for state representative, she put herself in the hands of her friends and was given the nomination. And the Democratic caucus of men gallantly went on record as endorsing her, so that she is sure of representing her town in the next general assembly.

Hartford, Naugatuck, New Britain, Pointet and East Hampton also placed the names of women on their tickets.

There are vacant pastorates throughout Connecticut in the various evangelical denominations which a woman could capably fill. Rural churches are paying such small salaries, comparatively to men ministers that the male members of the profession are cutting the pulpit and going into insurance, real estate, teaching, and even trades, because most of them have families to support.

With a "lady" minister, however, conditions are vastly different. She has only to convince any church board that she has the inclination to preach, and present a fairly favorable appearance. Of course, a too pretty lady minister would never do in a country parish, for instance, where the deacons' wives might object or the young sprigs of the town might take to churchoing to the neglect of their affianced girls of longer acquaintance, but a woman of ordinary good looks, fair education, ready speech, sympathetic nature, tact, and a few other attributes, which will suggest themselves, ought to "get by" nicely and slip into the ministerial harness without and particular handicap or difficulty.

REAL 'HOT DOGS' ARE BEING SERVED IN BERLIN

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—One reason why for a long time it has not been safe to trust a dog out alone in Berlin has been disclosed, in a notice court proceeding in which a man named Peters was sent to jail for eighteen months for dog-stealing. It appeared by the evidence that his thefts had run from twenty to thirty dogs a day for months, and that most of his booty had been sold to provision dealers.

It is believed that dog-stealing has been fairly profitable to many persons, for dogs have disappeared rapidly from every part of the city. In times of extreme food scarcity during the war owners took care to keep their dogs on their own premises, knowing the risks of letting them run free.

They have not been so careful this year, and losses have piled up until the police were shamed into activity to run down the thieves.

Yet the arrest of Peters is the only one so far reported, and the disclosure as to his trial that "hot dog" has literally defined some of the butchers' stock pro-

MORTUARY

VIRGIL MOOREHEAD.

The body of Virgil Moorehead, 14 years old, who died at Blackwell, Texas, Oct. 24, arrived in Ranger yesterday and under the direction of the Jones-Cox Undertaking company was buried in Evergreen cemetery yesterday afternoon. Young Moorehead was the son of Mrs. Bennie Solomon.

Probably will discourage the nauseating industry.

Berliners recall with mixed feelings their districts of the city which were overrun with rats in former times are now nearly bare of them; nor are rats so plentiful as might be expected in the circumstances.

The first Victory Medal was given to James W. Cleary of New York City, in honor of his son, James J. Cleary, who was lost when the U. S. S. Albatross was torpedoed by a German submarine in November, 1917.

KANSAS WOMAN LAID HER CRUTCHES ASIDE

Thought She Would Never Be Well of Rheumatism, But Gets Around Well as Ever Now.

"My neighbors thought I would never be up and about again, but since taking Tanlac I have laid aside my crutches and can get around as well as I could twenty years ago," said Mrs. Flora Wilcox, of 700 West McCormick street, Wichita, Kan.

"For twenty years," said Mrs. Wilcox, "I suffered terribly from rheumatism, and it was all I could do to get around on crutches, much less do any of my housework. My limbs pained me dreadfully, and I had such awful pains under my left shoulder blade and in my arms that I couldn't raise my hands to my head.

"I couldn't eat anything without suffering from a burning sensation and intense pains in my stomach. Gas formed on my stomach and pressed up around my heart, causing severe palpitation and I could scarcely breathe. Most of the time it was all I could do to lie down and I got very little sleep or rest at night. My condition finally became so bad that I had just about given up all hope of ever getting better.

"I have taken eight bottles of Tanlac now and my appetite is just splendid. I eat anything I want and am never troubled with gas, palpitation or pains around my heart. The rheumatism is entirely gone. I do all my housework with perfect ease and at night I sleep like a child. Tanlac has simply been a blessing to me in restoring my health, and I praise it more than words can express."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Adv.

office holding be termed a career. His conviction is that every man should be engaged intensely in politics, but not with a view to holding office save as a duty to perform and not an honor to seek.

Since as a youth of eighteen, Tom Marshall made his first political speech—in behalf of Horace Greeley—in Indianapolis in 1872, he says he has tried to hold to this doctrine.

"Oh, yes; the issues—tariff for revenue—the full right of the States to manage and control their own affairs, that is, the rights and powers of the State and that of the general government; that was a campaign; the people were really aroused."

Mr. Marshall thought a moment, "Now," he said, "we have the lounge lizards and their spasms of reform." He was talking about American cities again.

Utility of Vice-President

Looking back to the Vice President, Mr. Marshall said: "One of the duties of the Vice-President is to preside over the Senate of the United States. ## Albanians Free to Rule Selves First Time in History

SOUTARI, Albania, Oct. 27.—With the withdrawal of Italian troops from Alvona and the cessation of hostile invasions by the Serbs and Montenegrins, Albania is free of foreign occupation for the first time in her turbulent history. Albanians feel that they have at last reached the goal of their national independence. Their undying love of liberty which has persisted through all their centuries of struggle against Turk and Christiana, is particularly quick and hopeful today. The people hope that the great powers will protect them from future designs on the part of selfish foreign countries.

Perhaps never before was there such a state of tranquility within the borders of the little Albanian state. In the streets of Soutari one sees the Albanian colors displayed for the first time, and listens to patriotic demonstrations by local groups of citizens and societies. Enthusiasm and patriotic fervor are at a high pitch. Even the native tribes, who usually are engaged in factional combat among themselves, are living in a state of peace. This peace is based upon nothing more than a word of honor given with the approval of the people between two or more chiefs.

The Albanian's word, which he calls "bessa," is absolutely binding. It is customary for families within a tribe, for tribes and for large groups of tribes to arrange between themselves a "bessa," that is an agreement by which all matters of personal vengeance are suspended

SUDDEN DEATH WAS HANGING ON EACH HIP, BUT LOCKUP YEARNED

Yesterday A. Citizen had a police commission as a special officer. Today he hasn't any commission, and in addition he spent the night as the guest of the city. It is said that he complained of the hospitality offered, but that probably is mere rumor.

But to go back to the beginning, the special officer was given the right to tote a miniature machine gun so long as he stayed upon company property. Last night, however, he came gayly up town with a sudden death hanging from each hip. To the right of him, to the left of him hung cannon ready to volley and thunder, so to speak, and into the very arms of the police captain and his squad marched the valiant A. C.

This morning he was relieved of his special commission and sent back to his company a wiser if not a chastened man.

for a given length of time. Except in a few communities in the south, the Albanians live in tribal organizations, in scattered communities in the mountains, where each man defends his home and his rights with his rifle, which he never lays down when out of doors. They are governed by a sort of common law, which is known as the law of Lek. Lek was a more or less traditional law-giver of the once powerful family of Dukadjink.

Armistice day will be observed in England this year by a complete cessation of all activities and all noise for two minutes at 11 o'clock on Nov. 11.

OH, DEAR! MY BACK!

Merciful Heavens, how my back hurts in the morning! It's all due to an over-abundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking "Anuric" (anti-uric-acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store, in tablet form.

When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from back-ache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night, get Dr. Pierce's Anuric, it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., ten cents for trial package.

STROUD, OKLA.—"I suffered for a year with kidney trouble. I saw Dr. Pierce's advertisement and wrote for a trial package of 'Anuric.' It helped me so I went to the drug store and bought a supply of Dr. Pierce's medicines. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' cured me of bowel trouble, and the 'Anuric' of the kidney trouble and rheumatism. I am cured—can do my work and it does not hurt me at all."—Mrs. MARY JANE FISHER, Route 5.

REDS BLAME DEFEAT ON POOR LEADERSHIP

By Associated Press
GENEVA, Oct. 28.—Nikolai Lenin, the Russian premier, has written from Moscow to a close friend, a Russian professor named Lutnow, who is recuperating here, that the bolshevik invasion of Poland failed owing to bad military leadership. The red army is composed of loyal fighters but the chiefs were not up to the jobs, according to Lenin. He dwells with great hope on the propaganda of Enva Pasha in Afghanistan and Beluchistan, adding that India will sooner or later adopt bolshevik rule.

The war department recently realized $851,461,726.05 on sale of surplus war materials, including machinery, machine tools, airplanes, electrical equipment, motors and small arms. The supplies originally cost $1,026,815,958.20.
