

JOHN TARLETON COLLEGE REPORTS HEARD

2 SUSPECTS IDENTIFIED, MONEY IS FOUND

Expect Indictments To Be Returned At Once; Trial Also

By United Press.
FORT WORTH, Feb. 2.—The Tarrant county grand jury Wednesday was expected to indict Roy Wilson and Cecil Chambers on charges of highway robbery and murder in connection with the death of Roscoe Wilson, treasurer of the Majestic theatre here Monday.

Charges were filed here last night against the two who are now in jail at Sulphur, Okla., where they were arrested Monday night with more than $4,000 in their car, which was stolen.

The bandits took between $4,000 and $5,000 from Wilson when they shot him.

Sheriff Carl Smith and District Attorney Jesse E. Martin are en route to Fort Worth from McKinney where they spent the night after having the men identified in Sulphur Tuesday evening. They already have made application for extradition papers.

Deny Killing.
Although they deny the killing, their identification was made by four co-witnesses to the tragedy who viewed them in Sulphur Tuesday.

The suspects were pointed out singly by Denton Hayes, Ben Coplin, Policeman A. C. MacIn and Harry Mahin after they had been placed in separate rooms in the courthouse along with several others.

Viewed Separately.
The first of the co-witnesses who identified the young men as the robbers of Wilson was Hayes, a close friend of the slain man, and one of the first to reach his side after he was shot down. Hayes pointed out one as the killer of Wilson and the other as a man he had seen in the automobile in which they fled the scene immediately after the shooting.

Coplin, also a friend of Wilson, was positive in his identification of one of the men as the one he saw in the automobile just prior to the shooting. This man also was identified by Policeman MacIn as the man he had seen in the automobile when he passed the scene of the shooting. Tenth and Commerce streets, only a few minutes before it occurred. Both he and Mahin, another identifier, noticed the automobile and its occupant and made mental note of the fact that the car bore a Dallas county license number.

In addition to the suitcases containing the money which officers found in the car, there were three .38 calibre pistols, one of which bore evidence of having been recently fired.

Both radio and the hand of fate played prominent roles in the capture of the two men.

Restaurant Cook Kills Man And Shoots His Wife

FORGER, Texas, Feb. 2.—Fred Lee Davis, 29 years old, a restaurant cook, was held here today in connection with a dance hall shooting last night in which S. E. Stevens, a dance hall proprietor, was slain and Mrs. Elma Davis, 16 years old, was slightly wounded. Mrs. Davis, who said she had recently left her husband, was dancing with Stevens when Davis entered the dance hall.

"White I was dancing with Stevens, Fred, my husband, came in and began abusing me and asked if I meant what I said about not coming back to him," said Mrs. Davis, in a statement at the hospital following the shooting.

"I told him I was busy and would see him later, and went on with the dance, and the next thing I heard were the shots and I fell."

Mrs. Davis was employed at the dance hall, she said. Davis surrendered to police chief Williams, stating, "I am the fellow who done the killing."

CREAGER PLEDGES TEXAS TO COOLIDGE

TEXANIS GUEST OF WHITE HOUSE FOR BREAKFAST

Problems Laid Aside And Rebecca Rogers' Cases Are Discussed

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—An indication that the Texas delegation at the next republican national convention will be pledged for President Coolidge was given by republican senators and Texas leaders who attended a white house breakfast this morning.

The food long a favorite of Mr. Coolidge was given to understand the Texas delegation would favor his renomination.

The group was interested in promoting the candidacy of H. H. Haines of Houston, for the interstate commerce commission.

While Mr. Coolidge gave the breakfasters no statement of his intention of seeking renomination, several came away with the impression that Mr. Coolidge will run.

Ranger Receives Much Publicity In West Texas Today

Having 1927 license plates under the cushion or in the tool box of one's car doesn't excuse one from being assessed the usual fine of $12.95 for failure to decorate the car with the required plates, Motorcycle Officer Hammitt told the Telegram.

During Tuesday 24 arrests were made by the officers for violation of this feature of the traffic laws, and fines were assessed at the office of Justice Jim Steele.

The fact that one pays the highway license does not fulfill the purpose of the law requiring license plates be put on all motor vehicles, and the letter of the law must be observed in Eastland county, the officer explained.

HOPE TO WELD CHINA AS ONE GREAT NATION

By RODNEY DUTCHER (NEA Service Writer)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—If the Cantonese nationalist forces manage to obtain control of all China, it is not sure to mean that China will long have a strong, centrally controlled government.

The aim of the Cantonese is to weld their country into a great national unit, but history mocks their laudable effort.

In the first place, the Chinese are not a homogeneous people. They speak, in effect, a number of entirely different languages and their system of writing is such that few of them can read.

Just as important, any strong central government would require a fairly good system of communication and railroads such as China now has not.

Lack Native Ability.
If the nationalists chase all the foreigners out of the country, they may be cutting off their own noses, for experts on the Chinese situations do not believe that the Chinese themselves are yet anywhere near a position to establish an adequate system of communication and transportation.

Not only would foreign brains and foreign initiative probably be required, but such a program would necessitate loans from western nations. China might expect and obtain some aid of such aid is problematical.

The success of war lords in various sections of China has been partly due to their inaccessibility. It has been hard for the central government or their rivals to get at them, and it is to be noted that in the past few years most of the Chinese war fare has been seasonal. Mud presents an important obstacle to the marches of Chinese.

Short Course Committees To Meet Tonight

Mayor Bob Hodges, County Agent R. H. Bush and County Demonstration Agent Miss Ruth Lamey, composing the program committee of the International Hayvester's farmers' short course, met at the Ranger Chamber of Commerce last night and arranged a tentative program for the two days, Feb. 17 and 18.

This program will be published in full at an early date.

Tonight at 7:30 at the Chamber of Commerce office, the publicity and invitation committees will meet to perfect their plans also chairman of all the other committees.

2 PRODUCERS REPORTED IN BROWN COUNTY

Drills Quiet in Olden Area; Pratt No. 8 Is Down 1,000 Feet Today

Pratt field north of Ranger will not record a completion this week, Pratt No. 8 of the Texas Fidelity Oil Corporation is drilling at 1000 feet and at its present pace promises to reach the sand in record time.

While the immediate Olden sector is quiet now, as far as the Magnolia Oil and Gas company are concerned, the company is far from inactive as they are running three strings of tools in Brown county, and will make a location of their Frank E. Thomas No. 2 near Carbon in the morning.

This location is in the vicinity of the McAllister gasier that came in so sensationally a few days ago.

Hope To Weld China As One Great Nation.
The huge pipe line project that is being pushed toward the Panhandle fields by the Magnolia company is forging right ahead and is now past Breckenridge. It gives employment to many men as manship is being used in plenty to push it across the intervening miles as rapidly as possible.

Brown County.
E. M. Curry and A. F. Willis No. 1, in Brown county, came in for 400 barrels production, and M. E. Wakefield's and J. P. Newton's No. 1 and No. 2 for 100 barrels each. The shallow district has attracted additional attention, and renewed confidence in wells being drilled has been shown.

Drilling Reports.
The following is the report for the district:
C. A. Waid, R. D. Williams No. 7, Callanan county, intention to shoot, 30 quarts of nitro.
The Texas Company, Roy Hickman, No. 16, Brown county intentions to drill depth 1300 feet; No. 1 intention to drill depth 1300 feet; No. 10 intention to drill 1300 feet.
M. E. Wakefield, J. P. Newton No. 2, Brown county, intentions to shoot 15 quarts nitro; statement before shooting. Well No. 3, intention.

Young Gangster In Oklahoma Pen Will Recover

By United Press.
MALESTER, Okla., Feb. 2.—George Kimes, a youthful Oklahoma gangster, shot last night when he attempted to escape from the Oklahoma penitentiary with Leonard Mayfield, a murderer, will live, according to prison physicians today.

Previously, prison hospital attendants believed Kimes would die of body wounds received when a guard opened fire in response to Kimes' demand for release at the point of a dummy pistol.

This is Lieutenant Commander Noel Davis, of the naval reserves, who is to attempt the New York to Paris non-stop flight for which Raymond Orteig has offered a cash prize of $25,000. Commander Davis hopes to hop off some time next July or August. It was this exploit on which Rene Fonck, French war ace, was embarking at New York last June when his machine was wrecked and two of the crew killed.

RUINED WALLS STILL REMAIN OLD BUILDING

A mass of blackened ruins marks the place where once the DeGroff hotel stood on Marston and Pine streets. Ranger Water soaked, smoke begrimed, roofless and useless; the building that once played a big part in Ranger's history, stands now ready to be condemned and torn down.

While the lower floor was not so badly wrecked in the fire that swept the building early Tuesday morning, it would take thousands of dollars to render it habitable. What the DeGroff estate will do in the matter is merely a matter of conjecture.

The hotel was offered for sale recently at $6,000 by an attorney representing the estate of the late Mrs. DeGroff of El Paso. It has been tenanted practically ever since the boom, as Mrs. Schertz ran it for a few years and later when she moved her hotel to the Southland, Mrs. Louise McDevitt took it over. As a rule it was pretty well filled with roomers.

In commenting on the fire today, Chief George Murphy highly praised the visiting firemen from Eastland and Cisco, who answered his S. O. S. call for help. His own boys fought like demons and had no relief until after the two teams arrived.

After all danger was past the visitors and the home firemen had a good breakfast together before they loaded their trucks up for the return trip.

Mr. Murphy's hardest job after the fire was to keep drivers from running over his fire hose. If he hadn't been an Irishman he would have been mad about it, as it was he expressed himself pretty freely and called attention to the fact that it meant a fine of $11.70.

FOREIGNERS FEAR TROUBLE HANKOW SECTOR

Cantonese Want British Troops and Gunboats Withdrawn at Once

By United Press.
HANKOW, Feb. 2.—Foreigners in this area fear today that trouble will result from Foreign Minister Eugene Chen's decision that the nationalists should not sign a settlement of the concession question with Great Britain, until British troops and gunboats were withdrawn from Shanghai.

The spokesman for the British said the negotiations between Owen O'Malley of the British legation staff at Peking and Eugene Chen, Cantonese foreign minister, merely had taken a new direction.

The Cantonese government refused to sign an agreement while the British armed forces were concentrating in heavy force at Shanghai. The agreement was to have prepared the way for a treaty by which Great Britain would have ceded her concession districts in many of the cities of China to the Chinese authorities, retaining only a partial administrative control to insure the rights of foreigners. Shanghai was excepted, the concessions there being under international control.

Great Britain was prepared to yield on other points, including extraterritoriality, by which is meant the right of foreigners to trial in their own courts. The British also would have granted a change in the administration of the tariff at present subject to foreign control.

NICARAGUA REPORTS NO FIGHTING

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Chance of fighting between United States troops of occupation and Nicaraguan liberal revolutionists depend entirely upon the revolutionists, the state announced today in denying the liberals charges that the American forces are preparing to fire on the rebels.

There will be no direct conflict unless it is brought about by the revolutionists, according to the department. Charges that the American troops had been guilty of "outrages" were denied.

IRISH FREE STATE GETS RECOGNITION

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The United States government has definitely decided to appoint ministers to Canada and to the Irish free state and presented names of candidates for the posts to the British government, it was learned at the state department today.

Frederick A. Sterling, councillor of the American embassy at London, was expected to be the first candidate at Dublin.

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE EDUCATION, ACTION

Sterling and Johnson Qualify as Members Highway Commission

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—The special joint committee of the senate and the house of the Thirty-ninth legislature to investigate management and condition of John Tarleton agricultural college at Stephenville reported to the house today.

There were two reports, the majority sustaining charges made in the resolution asking for the investigation, and the minority declaring that no evidence was found to substantiate the charges.

Senators Hardin and Miller and Representatives Graves and Webb signed the majority report. Representative Pope submitted the minority report.

After reading both reports Representative Purl, moved that they be referred to the committee on education and be not printed at this time because there might be some reflection passed upon officers of the college.

Purl spoke in defense of the college and read numerous letters all declaring that the college is properly managed and speaking in highest terms of Dean J. Thomas Davis.

The minority report declared that John Tarleton college was one of the leading colleges in the South and expressed fullest confidence in its present management.

Nepotism.
Nepotism extensive in expenditure and excessive fees charged the students attending the college, were alleged in the majority report. There were also charges made that tip were given bell boys and college funds were used for paying for shoe shines, shaves and haircuts.

Allegation was made that the wife of the dean was paid 75 cents an hour for employment in the college store while only 25 cents was paid students for the same employment.

Confirmations.
T. M. Campbell, of Palestine, was appointed by Governor Moody today as a member of the state fire insurance commission to succeed J. J. Timmins, whose term expired, qualified and took oath of office today.

R. S. Sterling of Houston, and Cone Johnson of Tyler, qualified and took oath of office today as members of the state highway commission, each giving bond in the sum of $5,000.

MOB TAKES NEGRO AND HANGS HIM

By United Press.
HOUSTON, Feb. 2.—Tom Payne, negro, 50, was taken away from Montgomery county deputy sheriffs Tuesday night and hanged to a tree near Conroe, it was revealed today by J. W. Strode, county attorney of Montgomery county. Payne was arrested late Monday, and charged with assault to murder after Jack Rogers, saw mill worker was found in a pasture near the city with his throat badly cut, benten, and robbed of $68.

Rogers regained consciousness Tuesday and Sheriff Ben Hicks took Payne to his bedside where Rogers is said to have positively identified the negro as his assailant.

Methodists Hold Conference On Sunday Schools

Sunday school teachers and workers of the Cisco district of the Methodist conference, met in Ranger last night and enjoyed a banquet followed by a round-table discussion of problems and methods pertaining to their work.

This is the first of a series of meetings to be held in this district for the betterment of the Sunday school work. The next meeting will be in Eastland.

Rev. George Shearer presided over the meeting, and talks were given by Rev. Frank Singleton of Eastland, Rev. C. O. Shugart of Cisco, Rev. Mr. Watson of Gorman and others. Representatives were there from Eastland, Cisco, Desdemona, Gorman, Breckenridge and Rising Star.

MAN IS HELD CRIMINAL CHARGE

CAMERON, Texas, Feb. 2.—Luther Edmonds, 40, is being held in jail here today in connection with the death last night of Lydia Bartek, 20. The girl was found in a room in the Moore building.

An inquest held by Justice E. F. English held that the girl died as the result of an attempted criminal abortion.

CARRY OUT THE PROGRAM.
The legislature should carry out the program mapped out by the executive in his inaugural address and then adjourn. Such bills as the one introduced by some lawmaker wanting a hunter to count the points on a deer before shooting smacks of foolishness. Instead of pouring more bills into the hopper, seven-eighths of those already in should be weeded out and only the wheat ground. Of course every legislator has to have a bill to use as campaign thunder when he gets back home and runs again.

Just at this point we want to be understood that we oppose any four cents tax on gasoline, two cents is enough. The auto owner has to pay it, because it tagged on the price paid the dealer, who does not think that he ought to stand the loss.

Another thing we favor is a drastic reduction in the license fees auto owners have to pay in Texas. It could be cut two-thirds and then be enough. I mean there should be a cut for privately owned cars, autos used by families. In California the license fee is $3 a car, and the money goes to the state. California has the best system of roads in the country. Why does it take more for Texas.

We are strong for a revision in the system of taxation, so that they may be made to fall equally on every section of the state and not compel West Texas to bear the burden as is the case now.

Legal reform will purge the dockets of our courts and aid in swift dealing out of justice also is favored.

Above all we want to see the educational system revised so that the common schools can be improved, also the obliteration of shacks on the campuses of our leading institutions of higher education. Texas is one of the richest states in the union and ranks among the highest in percentage of ignorance, in numbers who cannot read and write. Just such legislation as this will keep the lawmakers busy, and if they pass laws of that nature they will have enough to do.

We agree that member of the legislature who favors a system of winnowing out bills so as that grain may be separated from the chaff.

Another thing we favor is a change in the highway law and pass an act giving the counties the refusal of working all convicts sentenced to five years and under on the public roads to maintain them.

MORE ABOUT NEW COURT-HOUSE.

The fire in Ranger Monday night ought to be a lesson to the commissioners' court of Eastland county and get that body to have the county attorney petitions to be circulated calling for a bond election to build a new temple of justice. The tax payers and property owners of Eastland county will wake up some morning and find that they have no records, and then there will be a howl. The present structure is a disgrace to the county of Eastland. Its a rat trap and a fire trap, and something ought to be done.
More money is wasted in paying rent for county offices than will be needed to pay the interest on the bonds.

There is not enough room in the basement of the building to take care of the records, and those records are valuable.
Now is the time to think about that new courthouse. Follow the precedent established by Stephens county.
Stephens did not wait until the old courthouse burned down, but erected one when it was found necessary.

MRS. CHITWOOD'S COOKING SCHOOL TREAT OF YEAR

An attraction that will prove of much importance to the women of Ranger and surrounding territory, is the coming cooking school to be conducted in Ranger under the auspices of the Ranger Times. It will open Monday, February 7, and will continue each afternoon from two to four, closing with the session Friday afternoon.

Every woman who can possibly attend this school will want to do so.
It is designed to be for all women the greatest treat of the year and will bare many new methods of making home attractive and the kitchen the greatest place on earth.

There may be some who will say,
"The old ways are good enough for men," but those who have thought the same in times past have changed their minds, being willing and, in fact anxious, to try the newer methods.
There are many new ideas in kitchen and dining room management that have never been thought of before.

Home making and home-keeping have become glorified by the many modern tools and equipments and the new ways of preparing food which has eliminated much of the hard work and drudgery of older times. Every home is a budget in itself, where expenses should be governed in accordance with the income. Lack of system in this matter as well as lack of knowledge on the part of the housewife has disrupted many homes.

Ways and means of overcoming many of these obstacles will be explained by Mrs. Chitwood, who has had wide experience in matters of this kind.

Ways of decorating simple dishes and of preparing the table for formal affairs will be given by Mrs. Chit-wood, who knows and understands how all women like to entertain and how many of them have to manage carefully in order to do so. This and many other special ways of making the home attractive will be demonstrated and thoroughly discussed by Mrs. Chitwood.

The entire week's course will be given free of any costs to the women of Ranger and surrounding territory.

INDIGESTION

Pilot Mountain, N. C.—"For sevof chronic indigestion," says Mrs.

Sam C. Inman, of this place. "I had bad spells with my stomach.
At times I had severe pains in my right side. My stomach would get upset and I would have an awful time. It seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me. I was in pretty bad shape.

"My husband had been using The-ford's Black-Draught for some time for indigestion. He had spells of it too, so he suggested that I try Black-Draught. I took some from his box, just to see if it would help me, and I found it was the very thing for my trouble. It did me a great deal of good. My condition was brought on by a chronic case of constipation and, by getting relief from this, I found my general health was much better.

"We keep Black-Draught in the house all the time. Whenever I find I need it, I take several doses and thus avert a bad spell of indigestion. It is a splendid medicine and I am glad to say so."

Stella Dallas Draws Crowds Lamb Theatre

Great throngs of people waited for each performance at the Lamb theatre, Ranger, last night to get a seat for Stella Dallas. Every seat was occupied at each show and the management is expecting a capacity crowd at today's show.

Stella Dallas is the supreme story of mother love, the actor's magnificent—and few things in life will affect one more than the story of Stella Dallas as depicted in this master story.

Take plenty of handkerchiefs along—for you'll need 'em—but a cry is good for one, especially when it recalls mother. Everybody that has a speck of sentiment cries when they see Stella Dallas.

Stella Dallas is more than a picture—it is a view into the very life, thoughts and soul of a woman—so much so that the spectator feels at times like an eavesdropper.

Wherever the picture has appeared the press reports have been more than generous—they say it is not a picture but a real drama and that such nice character delineation is seldom found in any book or picture.

To miss Stella Dallas is to create a feeling of regret for years.

JOHNSON CASE MAY BE CONTINUED

The case of the state of Texas vs.
C. A. (Teedy-Eye) Johnson, charged by indictment with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of John Harris, at Pioneer, early in 1926, was called in the 88th district court this morning at 11:15 o'clock but was postponed until two o'clock this afternoon on request of the defense attorneys who wanted time to prepare a motion for continuance.
The motion will be filed on the grounds that material defense witnesses are absent. The case was set down for trial January 17th but was continued on motion of the defense.

Rotarians Hear Musical And Reading Program

E. E. Crawford, Walter Harwell and Con Hartnett were the big three that composed the program committee for the Ranger Rotary club's weekly luncheon today—and it was a big program, chuck full of Rotary spirit.

Bobbie Sanderford and Leo Underwood, accompanied by Miss Gillian Buchanan, gave a cornet duet.

Durwood Roberts, winner of the declamation contest last year read, and Dr. Roberts, president of Randolph college, Cisco, made the address for the day. His subject was "Community Building," and was handled in a most masterful and entertaining way.

Visitors were J. E. T. Peters, Philip Pettit and Dr. Roberts of Cisco, and R. F. Holloway and "Bill" Barrett of Ranger.

The attendance was good and the meeting was a most peppy one.

Want Pledge Cards of Chamber Returned Soon

Ranger Chamber of Commerce reports a favorable response to letters and pledges that have been sent out among Ranger citizens in behalf of the support of the local organization.

The finance committee is, however, very anxious that cards be returned as quickly as possible so as to eliminate a personal campaign.

With Ranger's sister cities each having a fair budget to back up their ambition to be the "best town in Eastland county," it behoove local citizens to give their dollars and cents so that the ghost may walk not only for the salaries of the secretary, his assistant, the office rent and other expenses, but so that the advertising budget may be ample enough to let the Ranger Chamber of Commerce toot its horn along with others, and thus advertise why Ranger is "the best town in West Texas."

Charge of Theft Against Kemp Is Dismissed

The case of the state of Texas vs. Clarence Kemp, charged with theft, was dismissed yesterday after Judge Davenport sustained a motion for a new trial filed by defense attorneys. Kemp was found guilty by a jury in Judge Davenport's court on January 17 and sentenced to serve two years in the state penitentiary. Dismissal of the case was agreed upon by all concerned. "One conviction and a penitentiary sentence ought to be enough," the county attorney said.

Missouri And Kansas Co-Eds Let Hair Grow

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 2.—Co-eds at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Columbia, seem to be competing in letting the hitherto popular locks grow long again. Girls at both institutions started to let their hair grow, much to the disgust of tonsorial artists in both towns. A recent check-up on the Missouri campus revealed that 60 percent of the girls either had long hair or were "expecting to have in the near future." At Kansas the percentage is slightly larger, and exponents of lengthened tresses are gaining new cohorts daily.

Itching Eczema Goes Quick With Use of This

People who have endured tortures from itching eczema will be happy to learn that a means of relief has been perfected and is already enjoying unheard of popularity on account of the quick way it gets rid of the awful disease of the skin which nobody seemed able to figure out before. It is called Black and White Ointment. Most all dealers have Black and White Ointment, and Skin Soap, on account of the tremendous demand which has already reached the rate of more than two million packages a year in its sales because it relieves eczema so quickly. They are economical, too. The big 50c package of Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size.

Argument Follow Governor's Speech In Salem, Oregon

By GERGE D. CRISSEY (United Press Staff Correspondent)
SALEM, Ore., Feb. 2.—A tidal wave of grammatical exclamations and arguments engulf this city, the capital of Oregon, which, at present is the scene of the 34th session of the legislature, as a result of two words in the inaugural message of Governor I. L. Patterson. Interrupting the struggles and strife of legislators' life are the pros and cons of that weighty question, "whens is plural and v are singular." With the senate and house overwhelmingly republican, leaders of the party had hoped for an end to factional difficulty with the retirement of Governor Walter M. Pierce, democrat, but they reckoned without the two wools of that inauguration address. In his speech, Governor Patterson said "data ae." Whereupon a listener whispered to his companion, "say it ain't are, is it?" "Ain't sur," the friend replied, "but I'm bein' on the governor." That started the battle. Beneficial results, if any, from the bloodless fight have been in a decline in speeches. These legislators have pet bills to pass, amend or repeal, and are afraid to start another grammatical argument.

Cisco Employs Expert Teacher Of Agriculture

Special Correspondent.
CISCO, Feb. 1.—Farmers of Cisco territory are to be given expert instruction in the latest scientific methods of agriculture as the result of combined efforts of the Cisco school board and the chamber of commerce. E. H. Varnell has arrived here to begin instruction in agriculture in Cisco high school and to act as instructor in the rural communities adjacent to Cisco. He will not be limited to Eastland county, as the county agent is limited in his work, but will be able to assist farmers solve their problems anywhere in the trade territory of Cisco, which extends in parts of several other counties. For the present, Mr. Varnell will devote his efforts to aspirations of farmers of this section to be of the greatest possible service to them.

Planes for Private Use Show Gain In Great Britain

By United Press.
LONDON.—Private owners of air planes are increasing rapidly in England. The DeHaviland works in turning out regularly light planes designed especially for pleasure cruising and there are many aerodromes near London where flying instruction is given. These are conducted like garages. They will house the planes, repair them and supply expert mechanics to keep them in condition. The DeHaviland "Moth" and "Cirrus" are two types popular with private aviators. The "Moth" sells for about $3,500. Booklets advertising it read like the booklets of automobile manufacturers. An official guide has been issued by the government showing all aerodromes in the country with mileage and other information for the lay fliers.

"BOY CATCHER'S" CAR GETS RUSSIAN WAIFS

MOSCOW.—A "boy-catcher's wagon" on rail, like the familiar dog-catcher's car, has been put into service to round up the homeless waifs in the Soviet state and to bring them to governmental shelters. The homeless boys, who are products of the world war, the civil war and the Russian revolution gather around railway stations. They often hop onto moving freight trains when they want to travel. The special car, equipped to care for the boys who are caught, makes frequent trips between Moscow, Leningrad and Kazan.

No fewer than 1282 schools and colleges throughout the United States, Canada and Cuba have been invited to attend the thirty-third annual relay carnival and field sports of the University of Pennsylvania on Franklin field, April 29 and 30. OREGON CITY POSSESSES NATURAL SEWAGE SYTEM

By United Press.
REDMOND, Ore., Feb. 2.—Redmond claims the distinction of being one of the very few communities in the world with a sewage system made by Mother Nature. Centuries ago lava caves were formed under the present site of Redmond. Now when a home owner wants a sewage disposal system he punches holes in the earth until a lava cave is located. Pipes are run into the cave and it serves as a natural septic tank.

Cisco to Build Dormitory To Cost $100,000

CISCO, Feb. 2.—Cisco citizens gathered at the banquet table here this week heard plans discussed for raising a fund of $50,000 with which to build a boys' fireproof dormitory at Randolph college. But the dream of a first class college to serve not only Cisco and Eastland county but the adjacent territory as well was presented so vividly that the banqueters, who came from all parts of the county for the event, voluntarily double the goal to be reached and set the mark at a minimum of $100,000. It is planned to have the dormitory constructed in time for opening of the session next fall, and a drive to obtain the $100,000 has now gotten under way. Speakers at the banquet pointed out that Randolph is in a position to serve in addition to Cisco and Eastland county the counties adjacent, especially Stephens, Shackelford and Callahan counties which are distinct from colleges. While the campaign will be waged most intensively in Cisco and Eastland county, contributions from the adjacent counties will be accepted. Meanwhile, a "crusade" of statewide magnitude is being conducted to obtain a fund of $250,000 with which to endow Randolph college of Cisco and Car-Burdette woman's college at Sherman. This fund will be held in trust and the income will be applied on operating expenses of the two colleges. Randolph grew from an enrollment of 32 last year to a total of 150 students this year. Dr. T. T. Roberts, president, estimates that at least 200 will enroll here next fall.

Broken Threads

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.
To the home of Prof and Mollie Elwell in Camdenville, Ind., one night in October, 1898, is brought a woman who had fainted on a train. That night she bears twin girls and dies without revealing her name.
The story then moves forward 18 years. The twins, now growing to beautiful womanhood, have been adopted and named Margaret and Elizabeth. They are called Rusty and Betty.

Jim Elwell, the son, enlists in the world war. He then discovers that one of the twins loves him.
He is shell-shocked at the battle of Sedan and at first is reported dead. Finally, however, he is identified in a New York hospital and his mother and father see him and find he has completely lost his memory and speech. He is like a living dead man.

At the hospital they are told by Nurse Nellie Downing of the return from Europe of a celebrated brain specialist who might cure their son.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXVIII.
Shortly after word was received that Dr. Lawson had sailed for America, an order went through transferring Jim Elwell to a hospital on Staten Island.

Here, within walking distance of the institution, Prof and Mollie again took up their residence and their vigil of waiting for circumstances or science to give them back their Jim of pre-war days. But circumstances and science work out their ends some times in ways that are slow and misleading.

Life on Staten Island was a welcome exchange for that of the restricted hospital environment of learned to put his arms around his mother and kiss her. This he often does of his own volition as he happens to be within easy reaching distance.

"If some nurse chances to be near, he is just as likely as not to try out his imitative powers on her."

The doctor laughed humorously. "The strange factor in his imitative tendency is that this Elwell seems to be equipped with a discriminating faculty for sorting out the good looking ones."

The interne laughed, too. "It would seem to be a little method in the man's madness."

"It has aroused a good deal of speculation. Could it be instinct that would lead a man to pick out a good looking girl, rather than a highly developed taste? You know, even among normal men there often exists a total disability to select a pretty girl."

"This nurse, Miss Downing, now. She's with the patient considerably—devotes nearly all her off hours to him or his parents. Naturally, she has come in for a share of these attentions from Elwell. And the funny part of it, man, is that she seems to like it!"

"I've seen the thing happen a couple of times myself—when nobody was with the patient but herself, and she did nothing to try to discourage him."

The interne ventured to say that it looked as if Nellie Downing had found considerable of an attraction in the good looking soldier with the lost memory.

"As far as looks go, she could have

BILLY EVANS SAYS

To most fans, Babe Ruth the man who made home runs for a ball player.

All-Round Star
As a matter of fact, there are not more than a half dozen outfielders in the American League who can cover more ground than Babe.

Then it comes to throwing, Tris Speaker is the only left-handed throwing outfielder who is more accurate. Ruth gets greater distance.

On the bases, for a big fellow Ruth is remarkably fast. He tops off his speed with a deceptive slide.

At the bat, Ruth is much more than a mere slugger. He is an adept punter, drags a ball well, and when he wants to, can hit to most any field.

Ruth Ranks First
Recently one of the demon baseball statisticians took up 10 features of outfield play, allowing three points for first, two for second and one for third.

Ruth under such a system topped the American League outfielders with three first, one second and one third, for a total of 12 points.

Of course his batting featured, since he made more total bases than any of the others, likewise he scored more runs and batted in more tallies than any of his rivals.

That Ruth is not merely a slugger was proved by the fact that he was second in the American League batting averages.

Proof of Fielding
One need only go back to the 1926 world series to get a few samples of Ruth's superlative fielding.

One was his seemingly impossible catch in one of the St. Louis games when he crashed into the temporary stands and then followed with an uncanny throw to the plate that cut off a run.

It was the outstanding fielding play of the world series games waged in St. Louis.

His one-handed catch of a terrific drive while running at full speed featured the games at the Yankee Stadium. The ball was apparently past Ruth when he threw up his hand and stabbed it out of several.

Babe Ruth is not only a great batter but an equally clever fielder, by far the most valuable outfielder in the American League, all things considered.

Gainesville Elks Club Rooms Are Fire Damaged

GAINESVILLE, Texas, Feb. 2.—Fire originated in several unoccupied rooms of the Elks lodge here early today damaging the stock of several firms and for a time threatening the downtown district.

The loss is estimated at approximately $10,000.

The ground hog did not see his shadow when he came out this morning, so we will wait and see if its true that winter is over.

Just watch the agricultural and petroleum development in Eastland county.

he to his liking. It didn't mean anything, as Nellie Downing said.

The announcement came finally that Dr. Lawson, the brain specialist, was back from Europe and would pay a visit to the Staten Island institution. A few days later he arrived.

Jim was given an examination. This long-anticipated event took up less than 10 minutes of the great surgeon's time.

"There is no way," he told Prof and Mollie and Nellie Downing, "of determining the condition of a shell-shocked brain except by the removal of a portion of the skull bone. An X-ray through the bone seldom shows anything save a blur. The tissues of the brain may have been disturbed by the shock—may have become jumbled or just a blood clot may be resting on a nerve center—pressing there is a better word."

In either case, he continued, an operation would be exceedingly dangerous. "It might result satisfactorily and it might not. If you want to take the chance I will operate, but I can give no assurance that such an operation would be a success. No one would, I'm afraid. It might very easily prove fatal."

Was there any possibility, Prof Elwell asked him, of his recovering his memory without an operation?

"It depends entirely upon the condition of the brain," replied the surgeon guardedly. "If it is just a blood clot there a shock might jar it loose. Such a shock also might prove fatal."

"Why is it, Doctor, if his thinking brain is wholly paralyzed that seeing tears in the eyes of another brings tears to his own?"

"You think there's any chance of his getting back on his feet?"

"I do," said the doctor. "If she hasn't fallen in love with him—a little bit, at least—then it is one of the strangest cases of unselfish devotion on the part of a nurse that I have ever encountered. Why, man, she's been through hell over in France! She's seen so many terrible cases—men torn to pieces, men turned idiots, all kinds of men and hulks of men—that her interest in the Elwell case is—well, it's surprising, to say the least."

"You think there's any chance of his getting back on his feet?"

The doctor shrugged. "One man's guess is as good as another's. You can go only so far, then you're stopped. I've seen shell-shock patients that seemed hopeless and seen them recover. But I've never seen one exactly like this."

It is true that Nellie Downing had come in for some of these "attentions" from Jim Elwell. But of course, as she told Jim's mother one day when Mollie chanced to observe Jim's newly acquired proficiency, it didn't mean anything.

Mollie, however, was not so sure about this. At least, there were certain aspects of the thing that puzzled her. She remarked about them later to Prof.

"I don't think that it would be so altogether improbable," she went on after telling of the incident she had witnessed, "that a girl might get to caring for a man even in Jim's condition when she is with him as much as Nellie Downing is with Jim."

"You know, Prof dear, Jim is uncommonly good looking. You've got to admit that."

Prof smiled. "Every mother thinks that of her son."

"But Jim really is. Of course, so far as he is concerned he doesn't realize in the least what he does. Even so, it is likely to cause talk just the same. And Nellie is a dear girl and has been awfully good to us. I should be very, very sorry if anything were to occur to hurt her. I think I shall have to try to un-teach Jim one of the things he has learned."

"I wouldn't worry, Mollie," Prof told her. "What if the girl does like him? She realizes what a condition he is in. And Jim, if he does recover, will remember that his sweetheart is back in Indiana."

Prof's eyes clouded. "Poor Rusty—or Dusty—whichever it is. Of course, I'd hate to see Nellie Downing hurt, but she realizes the conditions."

It has been said that there is considerable difficulty attached to teaching an old dog to do new tricks. The records fail to state whether a young dog can be taught to undo old tricks.

Probably Jim had not acquired a regular habit of kissing Nellie Downing. Complete data on the subject were unobtainable. He had just got a taste of something that seemed to

LANDIS AND JOHNSON FIGHT TO CONTROL BASEBALL AGAIN RECALLED; LANDIS IN POWER

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Following his victory over Ban Johnson, after a bitter feud of seven years with the former American League president Commissioner Landis is more of a czar over baseball now than he ever was.

He was forced to crack the whip over Johnson three times and the last time it sent his rival tottering and badly beaten out of baseball.

There is nothing remaining now for the commissioner but to serve out his contract if he desires to do so.

There have been reports that the commissioner is in poor health and that he was retaining his post only because he was too much of a fighter to give an intimation that he might have retired under Johnson's charge.

His friends, however, believe that his health has not been of the best in the last two years but they feel that the petty bickering of Johnson added to the labor of his routine office duties were responsible for it and that the last and final vote of implicit confidence in his administration will be the needed tonic.

Jack Ruppert.
The manner in which the American League club owners supported the commissioner and relieved Johnson of his duties as president of their league was a tribute to the diplomacy and shrewd mind of Col. Jack Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees.

The American League magnate found themselves in a tight place when Johnson tossed a challenge at Landis which could not have been met by any move other than the decapitation of either Johnson or Landis.

The National League wouldn't stand for any move indicating a lack of confidence in the commissioner, and a part of the public would resent the lack of sentiment that would be indicated in the discharge of Johnson.

Johnson, giving him credit for being the fighter that he always has been, would not resign and placed his employers in a position where very few thought they would be able to pull out graciously.

Mistakes.
There is no doubt that Johnson in recent years has made many mistakes but a man of his daring type has to make many mistakes. His real big mistakes, however, were made only in recent years and they might be attributed to age that may have impaired his judgment.

Johnson made the American League and he did more for the organization of major league baseball than any other man. But with all his success in putting over the American League and in lording over the two leagues for years came an inordinate vanity that never could have been reconciled to the authority of a superior position.

It is apparent that Johnson, living in the days of his triumphs, felt that there was no one before whom he need kneel or bow and if he hadn't lost the support of Charles Comiskey, a bosom friend for years and if Col. Ruppert hadn't come into baseball he might have licked Landis.

Carl Mays Case.
If Johnson had not attempted to block the transfer of Carl Mays to the New York Yankees, he would not have lost the support of Col. Ruppert and if he had not lost the vote of Comiskey and Harry Frazee he might have licked the test of power.

Ruppert, as the dominating owner in the league, had a major and directing part in the events that led up to the downfall of Johnson but it was Ruppert who came to the rescue and furnished the sweetening for the cup that ended Johnson's career.

The owner of the Yankees knew that it would not be a popular move to fire the man who had brought the American League into life and who had spent the best years of his life in getting the league established. He knew also that the American League couldn't face Johnson against the commissioner.

Poor Health.
So he suggested that Johnson was in such poor health—and he is—that he was not fit to direct the affairs of the league. His suggestion to his fellow-magnates that the president be relieved of his duties until such a time as his physical condition would qualify him for the office was accepted, by the league and the commissioner said the action suited him.

Johnson was thereby pensioned. He will continue to draw a salary of $40,000 a year for a period that may be his natural life and get a leave of absence without being stigmatized as a discharger.

There are no reasons to support the rumor heard since then that Landis is will step out of his job soon.

Junior College Defeats All-Stars Of Rising Star

In a rather rough and tumble game, the Ranger Junior College basketball quintet defeated the Rising Star All Stars, 42 to 21, last night at the Ranger high school gym.

Captain Hamblen of the Ranger team was high point man making 29 points.

The game was not very well attended but was a most interesting one.

On Thursday night the junior college will play Eastland high school team here.

Desdemona And Carbon Highs Play Tonight

The Carbon High school basketball tossers will meet their old rivals from Desdemona on the Ranger High school gymnasium court this evening for the championship in the class B high schools. The winner will have to play Rising Star and probably Gorman and then the winner of the county will have to go into the district meet.

Both teams are on edge for the fray and a warm game is to be expected. Because of the rivalry, it was thought best to play on a neutral court. A small admission fee will be charged. Arrangements for the game between these two hard fighting basketball teams was made Tuesday afternoon.

Randolph Lands 27 Recruits For Football Squad

CISCO, Feb. 2.—Twenty-seven new recruits in addition to most of the team which represented the college on the gridiron last fall have pledged themselves to enter Randolph college next fall. Munroe Sweeney, National league umpire and new football coach at Randolph has announced. These men are principally former stars on Oil Belt high school elevens. Sweeney left this week for Oklahoma, Missouri, and Nebraska to referee numerous Missouri Valley basketball games.

Throw off that Cold by taking Klok-Lax

Don't go around choked up with a cold this winter!

Take Klok-Lax at the first sign of distress and you will throw it off.

Stop using sicken drugs that get your stomach all out of fix. You have got to clean out the clogged wastes in your intestines and start a free bowel movement before you can get rid of a cold.

Klok-Lax is the new, improved way to treat a cold. It thoroughly cleans out your entire 28-foot intestinal canal. Then, the most miserable cold will disappear.

Better still, keep your bowels cleaned out all the time—keep your system purified by taking Klok-Lax regularly—and the chances are you will never take a cold.

Everybody is using Klok-Lax now! It's the thorough, effective way to keep from having constipation. That's why it is the best treatment for colds.

Get Klok-Lax at any good drug-gist.

Brooklyn's suburbs. The institution was reached by trackless trolley from the downtown street car line which connected with the ferry.

A forest of oaks and maples surrounded the place. Sloping swamps and grassy dells with the salt air from off the ocean and New York bay made it a health resort of the most desirable kind. Motion picture shows and a cafeteria provided entertainment and little luxuries for patients, nurses and doctors. Under more enjoyable conditions Prof and Mollie would have pronounced it an ideal place to pass the summer.

During these days Jim was taken on numerous trips to New York and once to Coney Island, accompanied by Prof, Mollie and Nellie Downing. Sometimes Mike Hennegan, still at the other hospital, would get a day off and visit them.

Mike Hennegan told Jim's mother one day. "If you ask me, I think there's hope for the boy. He's a lot better off now than the day I first laid eyes on him in the other hospital."

Mike tapped his head. "Only," he said, "only there seems to be something wrong with the machinery up here. There's something that's either snapped or that's got a clog in the line somewhere. I've got a hunch we're gonna pull him through."

Mollie Elwell was grateful even for the poor assurance of a layman like Mike Hennegan. It was pitiful to Prof, watching her, to see how eagerly she nodded at Mike's words and pressed him with more questions.

On occasions like this Prof Elwell would go off to a corner by himself and meditate. This thing, he told himself, was going to kill Mollie if something didn't happen. And the twins—away out there in Indiana, dying to see Jim, but it was so useless to let them see him in his present state. Not, at least, until they knew that nothing further could be done.

One day Prof and Mike Hennegan took Jim over to New York and up in the tower of the Woolworth building. While he attracted some notice from the more observing ones by the more or less automatic manner in which he walked and handled himself, he was not particularly conspicuous. Prof told him to pay his own fare on the trolley cars and at the ferry, and although he had no appreciation of money values he would take change when it was given to him and put it in his pocket. While lacking initiative to any appreciable extent, he seemed to possess powers of imitation nowadays to a marked degree.

These powers of imitation, however, were of a nature which occasionally brought about curious and sometimes rather embarrassing situations.

As one of the hospital doctors remarked to an interne one day, "Through imitative action he has learned to shake hands with any person who offers his hand. He has picked far worse, you'll admit."

"I do," said the doctor. "If she hasn't fallen in love with him—a little bit, at least—then it is one of the strangest cases of unselfish devotion on the part of a nurse that I have ever encountered. Why, man, she's been through hell over in France! She's seen so many terrible cases—men torn to pieces, men turned idiots, all kinds of men and hulks of men—that her interest in the Elwell case is—well, it's surprising, to say the least."

"You think there's any chance of his getting back on his feet?"

The doctor shrugged. "One man's guess is as good as another's. You can go only so far, then you're stopped. I've seen shell-shock patients that seemed hopeless and seen them recover. But I've never seen one exactly like this."

It is true that Nellie Downing had come in for some of these "attentions" from Jim Elwell. But of course, as she told Jim's mother one day when Mollie chanced to observe Jim's newly acquired proficiency, it didn't mean anything.

Mollie, however, was not so sure about this. At least, there were certain aspects of the thing that puzzled her. She remarked about them later to Prof.

"I don't think that it would be so altogether improbable," she went on after telling of the incident she had witnessed, "that a girl might get to caring for a man even in Jim's condition when she is with him as much as Nellie Downing is with Jim."

"You know, Prof dear, Jim is uncommonly good looking. You've got to admit that."

Prof smiled. "Every mother thinks that of her son."

"But Jim really is. Of course, so far as he is concerned he doesn't realize in the least what he does. Even so, it is likely to cause talk just the same. And Nellie is a dear girl and has been awfully good to us. I should be very, very sorry if anything were to occur to hurt her. I think I shall have to try to un-teach Jim one of the things he has learned."

"I wouldn't worry, Mollie," Prof told her. "What if the girl does like him? She realizes what a condition he is in. And Jim, if he does recover, will remember that his sweetheart is back in Indiana."

Prof's eyes clouded. "Poor Rusty—or Dusty—whichever it is. Of course, I'd hate to see Nellie Downing hurt, but she realizes the conditions."

It has been said that there is considerable difficulty attached to teaching an old dog to do new tricks. The records fail to state whether a young dog can be taught to undo old tricks.

Probably Jim had not acquired a regular habit of kissing Nellie Downing. Complete data on the subject were unobtainable. He had just got a taste of something that seemed to

After the "Flu" is over —you need a Tonic

Help Is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy.

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victims so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

S.S.S. is unequalled for restoring strength and vitality. You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tested and reliable. S.S.S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

FAMOUS GYPSY KING IS BURIED LIKE ROYALTY

By United Press.
 BUDAPEST.—When a famous gypsy musician dies in Hungary he is given a funeral comparing in splendor with the last rites for a king. The funeral of Gabor Kozak recently was such an event.
 Kozak was the "Vajda" or chief of the Hungarian gypsies and at the same time, by unanimous acceptance of Hungarians and gypsies, was the best violinist in all Hungary and one of the best in Europe. When he died there was no day of officially proclaimed mourning, as is accorded the rulers of the world, but there was a real sorrow such as the death of few rulers would cause in any land.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

in state for several days the usual complementary orations were delivered as the first part of the funeral ceremony.
 Outside the church a black-covered wagon was waiting. Around this wagon were gathered 300 other gypsy musicians who for years had looked up to Kozak as their leader. As the coffin was brought from the church and placed on the wagon these musicians, at a signal from Jaci Raz, their leader, began the favorite melody of their dead chief.
 Then, without missing a note, they moved to a position at the head of the coffin and there repeated the strains which they had heard issue so often and with such perfectness from the violin of Kozak.
 This melody finished, the funeral procession moved away from the church and toward the cemetery some distance away. At the head of the procession walked the oldest gypsy in Hungary who was physically able to come to the funeral. In his hands he bore a velvet cushion on which had been placed the violin of the dead musician.
 Directly behind this aged gypsy were the 300 musicians. After them came the wagon bearing the coffin and after this several other wagons piled high with flowers. Behind the coffin walked, 10,000 to 15,000 gypsy mourners. The procession included every gypsy in Hungary who had been able to buy, beg or steal passage or to walk from his home town to Budapest for the funeral.
 The bearer of the cushion, as well as the musicians, wore full evening dress, the one concession which, on every formal occasion, the gypsies make to the customs of the west. Thousands of Hungarian lined the route over which the procession passed.

 By the Hungarians the gypsy musicians are appreciated more than by any other people in the world. Whether it be a christening, a marriage, or other occasion the Hungarian who is celebrating must have his gypsy orchestra. So inbred in Hungarian heart are the gypsy melodies that most Hungarians speak of "Hungarian folk songs" when they refer to the gypsy music, which is one of the country's most unique attractions.
 Very few of these songs have ever been put on paper. The gypsy son learns them from his father and in turn teaches them to his sons. They are all played by ear. Some of them have names, some have not.
 It is more customary, when asking a gypsy musician to play a special tune, to hum him a few bars of it than it is to ask him for it by a title. At once he calls on his memory for the melody, brings out the first few notes, and is joined immediately by the others in his orchestra without any distribution of music scores.

Bedford News

Special Correspondence. BEDFORD, Feb. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hibbert who have been temporarily residing in Breckenridge, have returned to their home on the G. N. White place.

Miss Teddie Archer was an all-day guest Friday of her sister, Mrs. Lyman Evans.

Mrs. Lewis' aunt, Mrs. Black and husband of Pleasant Hill visited at the Lewis home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hibbert have returned to their home in Cottle county after spending a few days in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Archer.

Mrs. White enjoyed a visit Sunday from her daughter, Mrs. Carl Daniels and children of Cisco.

Miss Mead our assistant school teacher whose home is in Oak Cliff, partly appeased her home-sickness by spending the week-end with her uncle in Eastland.

The many friends here of "Father Green" of the Yellow Mound community will be glad to learn he is recovering from a kick by a colt. Father Green is one of the pioneer settlers of this county, being 88 years old and an exparte of the original "roundup gang."

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hatten and family of Eastland, were guests Sunday of his sister, Mrs. Bret Wheat.

Bro. Connell of Cisco filled his regular appointment in the pulpit of Bedford church Sunday.

Mrs. Virginia Vandiver is enjoying a visit of her husband's sister of Ft. Worth.

We are highly elated over the possession of 17 new music memory contest records.

Our P. T. A. meets in regular session Friday night. A short program will be rendered.

Corinth News

Special Correspondence. CORINTH, Feb. 2.—The citizens of this community are enjoying the pretty sunshine, the last few days. The rain that fell last week put a good season in the ground for the farmers grain fields.

There wasn't any Sunday school here Sunday morning. Not on the account of the weather but for the simple reason Rev. M. English the county missionary preached Sunday afternoon to three members of the Corinth church. The service was announced but only three attended.

Bro. Bauldree will fill his regular appointment here the thirteenth of February. Every body is invited.

The box supper at the Central school house last Friday night, was enjoyed by a large crowd. They made about $25.00 which will be used for equipments for the school.

Dona Matthews, accompanied by cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Gist of Abilene, returned home Saturday afternoon.

Miss Frankie Green of Abilene, visited her sister and friends of this community last week.

Uncle Billie Bauldree, Aunt Rosie Whitehead, Mrs. D. Seaburn and Tommie Nicholas are reported on the sick list.

OAK GROVE RAMBLINGS

Miss Dora Peters of Loveland, Colorado, has been a pleasant visitor in the home of her niece Mrs. J. E. Canaday for the past two weeks.

Oak Grove News

Special Correspondence. Health is fine and news is scarce in Oak Grove.

The community has about settled down to normal conditions since the excitement caused by the big oil well on the T. H. B. McAllister farm nearly two weeks ago.

The recent rains have put a fine season in the land and our farmers are pulling the line over old Beck and Jo's back in real earnest.

Rev. and Mrs. T. H. B. McAllister and their daughter, Miss Esther who live in Denton, Texas made a flying trip here last Saturday to see the oil well on their farm and returned Monday.

Mrs. Bradley Hall of Cisco was a visitor here Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Reed of Gordon visited in the home of R. A. McMillan Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alma Lockhart of Pleasant Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Ed McMillan of Hallmark visited the big oil well here Sunday and spent the remainder of the day with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McMillan.

Three new locations have been made near the McAllister well one on the G. W. Hines, one on the C. V. Ables and the McAllister No. 2 just a few hundred feet east of the McAllister No. 1. All of these wells are offsets to the McAllister No. 1 and drilling is to begin soon, according to the latest reports.

DAN HORN NEWS

Special Correspondence. DAN HORN, Feb. 2.—We had with us Saturday night and Sunday, the following messengers from Abilene: Erascus and Tom Parker and Edwin Thorn, and two missionaries, J. C. Elliott and Doyle Davis.

Tom Parker and J. C. Elliott brought us a message Saturday night. Little Doyle Davis, a 12 year old preacher, gave us one of the most inspiring messages Sunday morning. It was wonderful. Erascus Parker preached a good sermon Sunday night.

Mrs. Hay Sprawls and the Misses Morgan of Saranton attended services here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorene Parks had as their Sunday dinner guest, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Baird. Mr. and Mrs. J. Livingston and quite a few of the young people of Dan Horn, Orville Black of Sabano and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baird of Cisco.

Rev. John Moore and family visited relatives at Rising Star Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Burley Daniels and children of Cisco were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Parks Sunday.

Mrs. Ervin Yeager and little son, Glenn of Dothan spent several days here with her mother, Mrs. T. B. Harris last week.

This community was quite excited last week when George, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, was bitten by his pet dog. The dog was thought to be mad and after sending its head to Austin, the good news came there were no effects of hydrophobia. Little George is doing fine without his dog.

Grandma Oliver who has been bed-fast so long is worse at this time.

Mrs. R. C. Pass of Cisco attended church here Sunday. The jury that awarded an eastern woman $10,000 because she couldn't sing after an accident probably doesn't know yet whether it was damages or bonus they were awarding.

FRED DREINHOFFER SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Confined to his home since Dec. 20, J. Fred Dreinhofer, former Ranger postmaster, is reported as improving. He was able to be up a while yesterday. His friends are hoping that he will soon be able to be out again and to resume his place in the work-a-day world.

Our Boys' Department is complete is complete

It was created and is maintained in response to a demand for a boys' shop where boy's of all sizes could be brought in and fitted.

We carry a complete line of Suits, Coats and Caps in all sizes for boy's of all ages from 1 to 16.

In fact, our boy's shop is a regular men's store, only the clothing and haberdashery is made to fit little men.
