SCHOOL GIRL ATTEMPTS ROBBERY GET FUNDS FOR EDUCATION

SOBS STORY HARDSHIPS ENDURED BY HER

Found by Watchman Waiting for Clerks To Open Up to Get Bag

VERMILION, S. D., Feb. 5.—A desire for a college education today resulted in Miss Marian Myers, freshman co-ed at the University of South Dakota, attempting to rob the First National Bank.

The pretty young woman, with bobbed hair and sparkling blue eyes, was caught in the bank by the night watchman and she readily admitted that she planned to force open the safe door with an electric drill she had stolen the previous night from a motor car company.

"Please don't tell mother," the young woman sobbed. "I just wanted to get an education."

The story the girl told was one of financial hardships, conflicting with educational desires.

"I came to the University last fall and went to a private residence and worked for my board and room," she told authorities.

Her campus life was restrained. There were few social functions. However, she did manage to keep in college.

"Then my funds became exhausted," she told the authorities. "Last night I took an electric drill and some pliers and other tools and got into the bank building through the back window which was open," she explained.

"After a while I got scared. The cord on the drill was too short to reach the big safe and I thought I heard someone talking on the outside and so I left. Then I remembered I had forgotten the bag and it had my name on the inside. And then I decided it wasn't any use to try it, so I sat down and waited for the clerks to arrive."

No decision as to the prosecution has been made.

4 GHOLSON WELLS DUE SAME TIME

With four wells drilling around 2,000 feet in the Gholson pool south of Ranger, four completions are due to be made at about the same time unless some one or more of the wells encounter some serious trouble.

Duffer No. 3 is drilling at 2,300 feet while Duffer No. 2, which was started first but had some trouble, is drilling at 1,700 feet.

Gulf Nos. 1 and 2 on the Duffer lease are drilling around 1,700 feet. The Olden sector is due for a little play soon as Roberts Oil company, it is reported, will start a well Monday one mile south of the former Trianon park, near Olden. It is said that there is one small producer on this location.

CITY PROPERTY WILL GET PLAY DRILL 3 WELLS

Forty Producers Found
In One 400 Acre Tract
And Not One Dry Hole

Eastland oil operators have experienced a busy week, outstanding developments in which include determination of 30 barrels production in the shallow well one mile east of Eastland at 1,112 feet, two miles from shallow production.

As a result of this production three wells are to be started soon, one of which will be drilled on land belonging to the city of Eastland, and work is expected to start soon on the Low Teatsorth well on the Hargis farm in that vicinity.

The McAllister cusher, brought in for 800 barrels production 13 1/2 miles southwest of Eastland and four miles southwest of Carbon, has opened the way for unusual activity in that territory where two rigs are being built and two additional locations have been made.

The Milham Due In. The Milham company well, some distance north of Colonel Gordon's Ramsower well, is due in a few days. The C. M. Root well on the Ray land, on the lease adjoining the Ramsower farm on the south, is also due in within a few days.

The territory opened up by the wildest shallow casser on County Judge Ed S. Pritchard's farm six miles southeast of Eastland, will be given an important test on Capers' lease a quarter of a mile from the Pritchard well by Moore & Lewis of Eastland.

Harbin Pool. Another well being drilled in the Harbin pool, four and a half miles southeast of Eastland, where seven shallow producers have been brought in.

In addition to the activity in the local fields during the past week, Eastland operators have been successful in other fields.

The Eastland Oil company brought in a well in Crane county for 100 barrels an hour that extended the Church & Fields pool, while Root & Rhodes' No. 13 Teston, in the Cross Cut field, Brown county, is producing 250 barrels at 1,200 feet.

Forty producers have been drilled in a 400-acre tract in this field without a dry hole.

120 CANS BEEF PRODUCTS PUT UP BY MAYOR

One hundred and twenty cans of beef products were put up during the canning demonstration conducted at the home of Dr. Bob Hodges, mayor of Ranger, Friday.

The demonstration was conducted by Miss Ruth Ramey, county home-demonstration agent for Eastland county.

Steak, roast, chili, soup and hamburger meat were canned while a large number of Ranger people looked on. The fact that there was a larger number of men in attendance than women was pointed to by the home demonstration agent as an evidence that the men were more interested in the work than their wives.

"It's probably because they are more interested in eating," Miss Ramey said.

At least two other demonstrations will be given at Ranger in the near future. Miss Ramey said, one at the home of J. M. Searey and the other under the directions of Rev. G. D. Robison who will designate the place the demonstration will be held at a later date. A third demonstration may be held at the home of J. B. Ames, it was said.

NEUTRALIZED SHANGHAI MAY SOLVE PROBLEM

Cantonese and Enemy
Preparing for Grand Advance and Defense

By United Press.
SHANGHAI, Feb. 5.—An attack on Hankow capital of Cantonese nationalists to relieve the pressure on the rich treaty port of Shanghai tonight, seemed to be the plan of the north China allied militarists, marshals Chang Tso-Lin, Wu Sei Fu and Sun Chuan Fang.

The United States proposed neutralization of the port. Private advices from Peking tonight said the United States government through United States Consul John McMurray had proposed to Chang, the power behind the government at Peking and to Chang Kai Shek, commander of the Cantonese nationalist armies, that Shanghai be neutralized by agreement of the warring factions in China and thereby remove the necessity for concentrating foreign soldiers and warships at the treaty port.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The neutralization of Shanghai, where 5,000 Americans are threatened by anti-foreign demonstrations and a Chinese civil war would be a satisfactory solution of the immediate problems so far as the United States is concerned.

The precise nature of American minister McMurray's reported conference in Peking with Sun's ally General Chang Tso-lin is not known here.

But Minister McMurray had the authorities to urge upon the northern allied war lords the necessity of reaching some agreement by which the Americans at Shanghai will receive adequate protection.

Crushing Attack Is Made on City

SHANGHAI, Feb. 5.—Hurled back by a crushing attack of the Cantonese forces pushing towards Shanghai, Marshal Sun Chuan-Sang defending this port from the advances of the southern armies took his stand today at Yen Chow, 160 miles south of here.

Yen Chow is thus retained as the base of military operations which experts believe will determine the fate of Shanghai. The Cantonese were reported to be massing their battalions for a determined assault.

Marshal Sun Chuan-Sang dispatched 8,000 picked soldiers of his northern army from Hangchow to Yen Chow where they will be held awaiting the unleashing of the big drive. Hangchow, 85 miles south of here, was believed to be the immediate object of the Cantonese rebels.

ROYALISTS OF PORTUGAL IN BATTLE

LISBON, Feb. 5.—Five thousand royal troops today fought with rifles and grenades against rebellious infantrymen and members of the republican guards in the streets of Oporto.

An official dispatch stated the fight had begun but contains no details of the engagement beyond saying that the rebels had refused to surrender and that part of Oporto had been damaged by hand grenades.

Johnson Murder Trial Continues Through Tuesday

Progress in the trial of C. A. (Reddy Eye) Johnson, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of John Harris, at Pioneer, early in 1926, was not as rapid as was expected, and it may be Tuesday or even Wednesday before the case goes to the jury.

The case is on trial in the 88th district court, with Judge Elzo Ben presiding.

Dr. Elliott, Joe Laurent, Sam Ruble and J. W. Dill of Pioneer, were among the rebuttal witnesses presented by the state Saturday, numerous bits between state and defense, during which the jury was excused from the courtroom on several occasions, marked Saturday's hearing.

ANDREWS DUE TO RESIGN AS HEAD OF DRYS

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(NEA Service Writer)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Two major changes in the makeup of official Washington's higher circle are eminent, according to a growing chorus of rumors that eddies and swirls about Capitol Hill.

To be sure, Washington is always full of rumors, and these may or may not be any stronger than the others. But they're being discussed on every hand, and you may take them for what you think they're worth.

First of all, political observers here are predicting an early resignation of General Lincoln T. Andrews, prohibition administrator. It is generally accepted as authentic that he will leave his job on or about March 4.

Impossible. Andrews insists that honest-to-goodness prohibition enforcement is not possible without the aid of new enforcement legislation, now pending in Congress. If this legislation is not passed at this session—and, it might be remarked, there is little indication that it will be—Andrews probably will voluntarily join the other lame ducks who go out of office in March.

His retirement would leave a gaping vacancy, the filling of which would require considerable political pondering. Right now Washington is wondering if the mantle will fall on the receptive shoulders of Congressman William D. Upshaw of Georgia, drest of the drys. Upshaw goes out of office this spring; it is considered a safe bet that if he doesn't get the prohibition post, he will go back to Georgia and become a candidate for the senate.

Kellogg May Quit. The other resignation that is being rumored is that of Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg.

To be sure, Kellogg's resignation has been rumored before, and thus far he hasn't offered it. But there are signs that he is finding his office burdensome, and a resignation in the spring would cause little surprise.

It won't come right now, however. Kellogg should resign now every Democrat in the land would shout that he "quit under fire," and would chorus that President Coolidge had admitted making a misstep in the state department.

War Department Appropriation Is Raised by Senate

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The senate today passed the war department appropriation bill carrying approximately $360,500,000 and providing for an army of 118,750 men.

The senate added $9,000,000 to the measure as passed by the house, including an increase of $1,325,000 for army pay.

EXONERATION DEPENDS ON REPORT OF PROBERS

Expulsion Is Only Punishment That
Can Be Inflicted

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—Testimony before the house committee investigating the complaint against Representatives F. A. Dale of Bonham and H. H. Cooper of Cooper charging them with accepting a $1,000 bribe to influence pending legislation was concluded late today.

Under instructions of the resolutions adopted by the house, the committee is to report to that body at the earliest practical time its findings together with its recommendations. The report may be expected early next week.

Exoneration of Dale and Moore depends on the report that the committee has found the complaint unjustifiable. Should the report be unfavorable, the only punishment the house could give would be to expel them from membership of that body.

The governor would call a special election to fill the vacancy and there is no provision in the statutes to prevent Dale and Moore from being candidates for their return to the house.

Both Enter Denials. Both Dale and Moore emphatically denied before the committee that they had accepted a bribe. But Dale admitted having received $1,000 from Dr. W. W. Chamberlain as a fee to represent Chamberlain as his attorney in case contempt proceedings should be brought by the house against Chamberlain for alleged lobbying against a bill introduced by Moore affecting optometry.

The money, in currency, was handed to Dale by Chamberlain while the two were in an alley in the rear of the hotel where Dale roomed. Ranger Captain Frank Hamer saw the passage of the money and promptly arrested Dale, and Moore was taken in custody later.

Governor Tipped. Several days prior to the arrest, Chamberlain, according to the testimony, had tipped off to Speaker of the House R. L. Bobbitt that $1,000 was to be paid Dale, and Bobbitt passed the tip on to Governor Dan Moody and several members of the house. The rangers were called in and a trap arranged to arrest Dale when the money was paid him by Chamberlain.

Record Kept. A correct record of the bills which were to be given Dale were kept, and this exactly corresponds to the money taken from Dale by Captain Hamer.

Dale admitted that he received the money, but claimed it was a fee paid him to act as attorney for Chamberlain.

Moore emphatically denied that he had ever received any money any individual or interest to influence legislation during the present fortieth legislative or the thirty-ninth session of which he was a member.

Testimony given by Dale that Chamberlain handed him $1,000 one night just after they had left the lobby of the Stephen F. Austin hotel. He put the money in his pocket when Chamberlain warned, "Some one is coming." A moment later he was arrested by Ranger Captain Hamer.

The second time Chamberlain called on him, Moore said he was invited out to dinner. This he declined.

Governor Ferguson had granted the pardon on condition that Davenport be confined in some state institution for the insane. It was in violation of that condition that Davenport is still in jail and has not been removed to an institution for the care of the insane.

FROM HOLY WRIT
A great purpose:—“Surely I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to reason with God.” Job 13:3.
Prayer:—Lord, we obey Thy call. Come now and let us reason together, saith the Lord, though your sins be as scarlet they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson they shall be as wool.

COOKING AS ART.
By MRS. IDA CHITWOOD.
Each year it is well to invest some time in study for cultural improvement. Every woman needs it. A basic art, underlying most other arts, is practical cookery. It is one of the most powerful forces in the world for giving pleasure—an art to be thought about, dreamed about, used and enjoyed.
To be a master of this art, study is necessary. One needs to feel the atmosphere of a place where cookery is understood as an art and to be with people who are enthusiastic about it.
As part of yourself—uplift and happiness, why not continue your study of this art these coming five days. A course at this cooking school is one of the best things you can have.
Every woman who has to plan meals for herself or others needs occasional fresh inspiration for this important matter.
Good cooks aren't born—they are made. Every woman can learn to be a good cook through a cooking school of this type.
Governor's wives and governor's daughters have been in my classes. The most gorgeous diamond rings glitter on hands whose owners never before knew the difference between a double boiler and a cake pan, and those hands become efficient and effective in turning out “the best things to eat one can imagine.”
Every age has had its cooking problems. Brilliant Savaria, the French authority on good eating, declared: “The destiny of nations depends upon the manner in which they feed themselves.”
Knowledge of how to cook and what to cook is now a recognized science closely related both to happier life and to longer life. Every housewife has her own puzzling whys of cookery. My cooking schools have helped to solve so many of them for others and I am sure this one will help you with yours. Bring your “whys” and come to the cooking school for the next five days.
Ude, one time chef of Louis XIV, said, “Prominence in cookery never occurs under 30 years of age, and nothing but consummate experience can elevate one to the rank of chief professor. In connection with diligent and studious application one must also possess no small share of intellect.”
What, then is to become of our families while the mother is reaching the age of 30? The first years of housekeeping are the most important. The period when the digestive habits of young children are forming—then, if ever, the home should be provided with well prepared food.
When the prudent, thoughtful housewife takes from the oven a loaf of sour bread or a cake with a heavy streak through it, or when her pie runs over the top and the best part of it is left in the oven, she is most desirous of knowing why these things have occurred, and she sets herself to find out the cause, that she may avoid a repetition of such mistakes.
Two hundred years ago, in the time of Ude, each individual housekeeper worked out the remedy for these and other culinary mishaps, only after many repetitions of the same bad results. After an expenditure of valuable time and thought, together with a waste of foodstuffs, the earnest worker discovered that certain conditions being present, certain results would surely follow, and these discoveries are now the rightful inheritance of the housewife of today.
To the housewife some knowledge of the whys and wherefores of processes in cookery—as in all other processes—means to be forearmed; and in putting her knowledge into practice she may avoid much mortification of spirit as well as pecuniary losses—and what is of greater value still, insurance of a more cheerful and contented family.

Such, then, is the motive for this cooking school. I will give you the reason why; for instance, meringue and souffles fall; why bread is sometimes sour, pasty soggy and cakes heavy; why it is best to use a knife for one process and a spoon for another.

Come to the cooking school and bring your whys along. All the above whys and many others will be answered and made plain, that she who comes may be the gainer thereby in money and time, health and comfort.

Nor is this all, for I must include something of the “whys” in serving. Our full duty to our friends and the guests whom we invite to share our meals is not done when we have simply set before them well prepared food. While one dish may constitute a meal, more often the meal is made up of several dishes, and the several dishes combined in a meal must be given particular attention. First of all, the dishes presented together, to be eaten at one meal, should conform to physiological demands, and, secondly, they should be chosen to produce harmony of color, texture and flavor. To know why certain vegetables, salads and sauces are served with steak and chops, is to know the joy of the discoverer. It was La Reyniere who truly said, “The kitchen is a country in which there are always discoveries to be made.” In this school I will also give why certain dishes are chosen for dinner, certain dishes for luncheon and still others for Sunday night tea or supper.

If you miss a single lesson you will regret it.

ICELAND CAPITAL TO USE HEAT FROM HOT SPRINGS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Hot springs will be used to heat the city of Reykjavik, capital of Iceland, if plans of that country's prime minister are realized. Original proposals for the use of hot springs considered only the heating certain municipal buildings in Reykjavik but it is expected that the entire city will soon be supplied with heat from springs in the vicinity of the capital. The natural heat is said to be the equivalent of 20,000 tons of fuel annually.

Oaklands And Pontiacs Find Sales at Home

When civilization was very young there was an old saying to the effect that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country and in his own home. Succeeding years developed nothing to show that St. Matthew was wrong when he coined that precious thought—nothing, that is, until the automobile came along and gave a new twist to the old notion, just as it has revolutionized many other commonly accepted theories and beliefs.

In the automotive version of that old saying, the Oakland Motor Car Co. assumes the role of the prophet; and Oakland county, Michigan where Oakland and Pontiac cars are made, becomes the prophet's own country. Statistics compiled by the registration division of the Michigan state highway department show that not only is this "prophet" honored in his own home, but that he is honored to an extraordinary degree.

For the eleven months ending Dec. 1, 1926, cars produced by the Oakland Motor Car Co., stood third on the list of new car registrations in Oakland county. The actual figures are New Oaklands, 352; New Pontiacs, 537.

These figures are far ahead of any other maker of six cylinder cars. The two companies leading Oakland are both manufacturers of small four cylinder cars.

The figures show conclusively that neighbors of the Oakland Motor Car Company, who have first hand knowledge of its products, are completely sold on Oakland and Pontiac sixes and believe firmly that these cars are supreme in their own fields.

Texas Ranger Brand Creamery Gives Its Butter

When you order a pound of Texas Ranger Creamery butter, don't put it in your refrigerator until you first look at the clever carton in which it is encased.

On two sides are pretty scenes showing a lone ranger with his camp fire and horse, partaking of his solitary meal beside a stream at the sunset hour. The colors were brilliant orange and black and the name, "Texas Ranger Butter" appears on both sides and ends. The other two sides state that "our butter is churned from selected cream and handled under the most sanitary conditions known to modern science. We guarantee this butter to please you. If it does not meet with your entire satisfaction, kindly return to your grocer and receive another pound in exchange, or your purchase price."

The Texas Ranger Creamery butter is a home product, for sale in home stores and made at the Ranger creamery on North Rusk street, Ranger.

Fifty used cars sold during the month of January is the record of Sivalls Motor company, according to Billy Wallace, of the Ranger office.

This large sale of used cars was not only unusual but according to Mr. Wallace is very assuring of future sales.

Blues and Grays Leading Colors, Men's Clothes

In the spring a man's fancy turns to spring clothes, just as a woman's does. They are wearing light clothes "this spring," Morris Bendix of the Globe store, Ranger, exclusive men's store, said Saturday and pointed to his windows filled with spring offerings to capture the whim of window shopping man and woman kind.

"Our Society brand clothes for spring are mostly in the three button effect and light colors prevail. Soft grays and tans in hats, tan and blacks in shoes, and rather loud ties are shown," he explained.

In one window a number of pairs of pajamas grouped around a big vase of spring flowers, suggested that spring styles in that nether garment was taking its keynote from spring skies and flowers. They were not mild but decidedly colorful—some quite noisy in their colorings—and did not even suggest that they were event distantly related to the old-fashioned nightshirt, whose only adornment was a bit of braid in color or some feather stitching.

L. Davis, who presides over the E. H. & A. Davis exclusive men's clothing store, said, "Its gray, blue or tan this season, with pigeon gray a new leader, silver blue new and good and hazel and roan tans extremely popular."

"There are silver grays, dusk grays, and grays of every shade. Men everywhere are wearing blues this season—tay blue and mountain blue; tans and onion shades will go big this spring."

Davis' windows reflected the spirit of spring with their display of spring suits, shoes, hats, ties and other accessories necessary to the well groomed man's toilet.

Men's styles change in color and mode while perhaps not as drastically as women's but as surely however for years they stuck to black and navy blue more from custom than from taste until some Moses led them out of the tried into the untried and there they found the wilderness of colors so soothing to their spirit that they took to colors like a duck to water and renounced the drabs forever. Yes, it will be a colorful spring—for men.

Junior College Defeats Randolph Rough Game, 58-41

Ranger Junior College basketball quintet in a rough and tumble game at Cisco Friday night with the Randolph college team, won a victory of 58 to 41 over the Badgers. Captain Hamblen was again high point man for Ranger, making 24 points but he was closely pressed by Harvey, who piled up a score of 20 points. Davenport loomed large in the game, playing a great court game.

The junior college men were outweighed and outaged, as some of the men on the Badger's team weighed around 175 pounds and more and some were men in age, while the junior college team members are not in the heavyweight class and are boys in years, and these two factors were probably accountable for the rough and tumble part of the game, as a laxity on the part of the referee in calling the fouls might have been a part of the big scores that were piled up.

Coach Berry's line up was Hamblen and Harvey, forwards; Davenport, center; Killingsworth and Foote guards and Wilson and Woods substitutes.

On Tuesday night the junior college will play Mineral Wells High at Mineral Wells and on Thursday night the opposing team will play a return engagement here.

The Mineral Wells team is now playing for county championship of Palo Pinto county and the games are expected to be fast ones.

Kansas Cage Teams Shatter Game Records

By United Press.
SMITH CENTER, Kan., Feb. 5.—Cage teams representing the Gaylord and Woodston high schools probably shattered a world's record the other night when they went through five extra playing periods to settle a basketball game between the two quintets. At the close of the regular playing time the score was 14-14. In each of the four playoffs the count remained tied but in the last three minutes Gaylord managed to win, 23 to 22.

Tex Rickard Makes Selection Of Best Boxers in America In All Classes of the Big Game

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—After one experience in picking an All-American team, Tex Rickard has turned to less dangerous fields.

Last year his delicate hearing apparatus was shocked with the razzberries that the boys in the gallery gave his list of the best boxers of 1925 and this year he played safer.

Instead of naming the best boxers of 1926 he picked a list of 1927 potentialities and with the exception of the heavyweight class he grouped all the leading fighters.

Even though he was playing safe he has heard rather general criticism. He couldn't have hoped, however, to classify the boxers to the satisfaction of all and in rating the boxers he could not have helped being influenced from the box office point of view.

Heavyweights
In the heavyweight class he named Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey for the first three places in the order named and his high opinion of the former champion was charged with being the first step to ballyhoo a return bout between the two principals of the Sesqui fight.

In the second group of heavies he named Jack Delany, Paul Berlenbach, Paulino and Jim Maloney and it seemed again as if the box office had been a factor in the placing of the untried and unseen Paulino in such fast company.

Delaney, Berlenbach and Tommy Loughran were placed in the first group of the light heavyweights and no fault can be found with that selection. In the second group he placed Mike McTigue, Young Stribling and Jimmy Slattery. It might be disputed that Slattery deserves a higher rating than Eddie Huffman, Jimmy Deane and Martin Burke in the third group.

Middleweights
Rickard took a slap at Mickey Walker, middleweight champion by placing Tiger Flowers, the former champion, ahead of him in the first group with Pete Latzo, the welterweight champion in third place. In the second group he named Phil Kaplan, Macey Rosenbloom and Dave Shade. He must think a lot of Latzo as a fighter and a drawing card to place him above Kaplan and Rosenbloom.

It was fairly easy to rank Latzo, Joe Dundee and Eddie Roberts for the first three places in the welterweight class but Willie Harmon looks out of place in the third group behind Tommy Freeman, George Ward, Al Mello, Ace Hudkins and Jack McVey.

Lightweights.
The lightweight ranking was not difficult with Sammy Mandell, the recognized champion, Sid Terris and Billy Wallace in the first three places. Wallace is a new name in high ranking company and he got there because of the knockout victory he scored over Kid Kaplan, the former featherweight champion. Kaplan was placed in the second group after Billy Petrolle and Stanislaus Loayza.

Tod Morgan, the current champion Jack Berstein and Babe Heyman were given the three leading positions in the junior lightweight class and no fault can be found with that.

Featherweights
There is no recognized featherweight champion but Benny Bass drew Rickard's favor by getting first position ahead of Honeyboy Finnegan and Red Chapman. In the second group were Chick Suggs, Joey Sanger, Babe Herman and Eddie Anderson.

and Bud Taylor third. Taylor might have been placed second if it hadn't been for a bad slump that he took late in the year when his eyes went bad on him. In the second group were Bushey Granham, Archie Bell, Al Brown and Johnnie Green.

Fidel La Barbara, flyweight champion, led his class ahead of Elkey Clark, Frankie Genaro and Newsboy Brown. This rating was made before a recent flyweight carnival in the Garden in which Clark was badly beaten by La Barba and Genaro was defeated by Brown. As a result of this Rickard probably would place Brown second and would put Clark way down on the list if he ranked him at all.

The Most Beautiful Chevrolet in Chevrolet History

In addition to masterly new bodies by Fisher—in addition to a host of mechanical improvements typified by AC oil filter and AC air cleaner—the Most Beautiful Chevrolet offers certain features heretofore regarded as marks of distinction on the costliest cars. These are made possible at Chevrolet's amazingly reduced prices only because volume production results in definite economies and because Chevrolet now, as always, passes these savings on to the buyer in the form of added value.

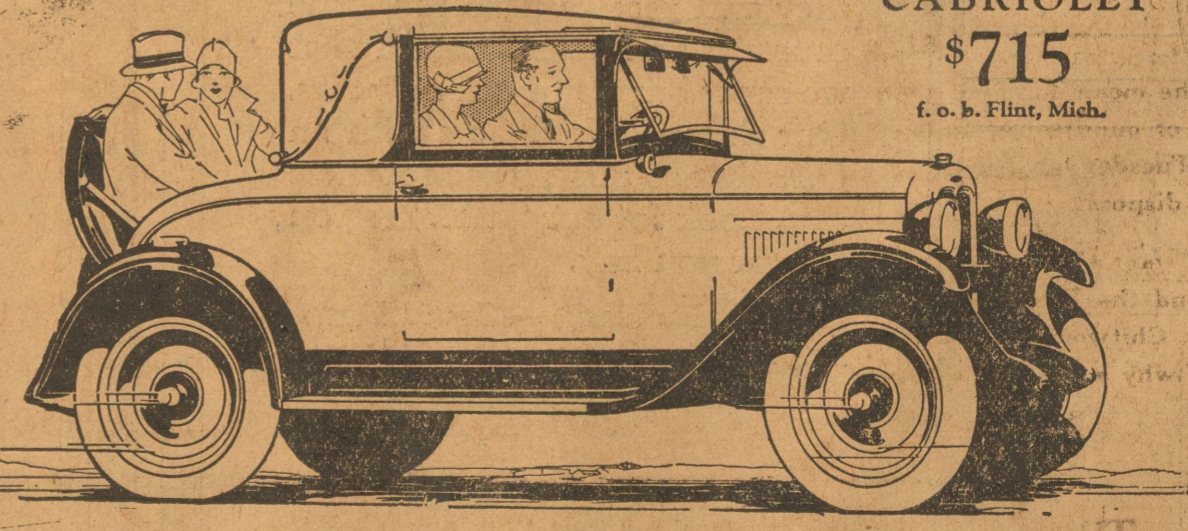

No other car, as low in price, offers such features as fish-tail modeling, full-crown one-piece fenders, bullet-type lamps and the like. Come in—and see for yourself!

What is Wrong With This Picture?

Dodge Brothers Cars Make The Grade in China

Among the latest purchasers of a Dodge Brothers motor car is the governor of Kansu a province of China. Kansu's greatest claim to fame appears to be the fact that it is just about as far from civilization as anyone can get. It is 1500 miles from the nearest railroad and situated in the extreme northwestern section of China. According to Ralph C. Scoville, Christian worker, who has recently returned from China, Dodge Brothers motor cars and Graham Brothers trucks are gradually replacing the "mule sedan" and the great mule drawn caravans of commerce.

"Kansu," stated Mr. Scoville, "which is one of the 18 provinces of China, is also known as the terminus of the great wall. Here, in this isolated region, which takes three weeks of tedious, constant traveling to reach after leaving the railroad, I have lived and worked for over seven years. Dodge Brothers motor cars were the only automobiles I ever saw there. I am told this is because these cars seem to be the only make that can survive in this land of indescribably bad roads. The roads, in reality a widened trail, runs from Lanchow on the Yellow River to the heart of Asia, where it meets similar roads from the Indian Ocean and the Caspian Sea and others.

"Over these trails an occasional Dodge Brothers motor car plows through, driven generally by Russians, for the Chinese are notoriously bad chauffeurs. The particular Dodge Brothers motor car that I am referring to was purchased by the governor of the province of Kansu. He lived in Lanchow. The appearance of the governor's car upon the streets would cause cries of 'chi chao', the literal meaning of which is steam car or power car. The car is a great curiosity and excites much comment among the raw heathen as to what makes it go, the general belief being that it is the invention of some foreign devil.

"It is, in my estimation, a great compliment to the stamina and strength of Dodge Brothers motor cars and Graham Brothers trucks that they are found operating in this roadless region, and it is what prompted me to write you of my contact with your products," Scoville states in his letter to the home office in Detroit.

Cooper Plays Walter Hagen Close Game

By United Press.

DALLAS, Feb. 5.—Playing steady golf over the course where he learned the game, Harry Cooper, youthful Dallas raised professional finished the first 18 holes with a lead of 6 up, on Walter Hagen, recognized leading professional of the world here today.

The first round was played over the Cedar Crest Country club course. The second round was played this afternoon. The exhibition will move to Tension park municipal court for the final 36 holes on Sunday.

The "mighty Haig" found himself in trouble from the tee off on many of the holes this morning. Remarkable recoveries at many greens saved him from a complete rout. Cooper on the other hand had but two holes where recoveries were necessary to secure pars.

While the weather did not suit the galleries it did not interfere with the play. The greens were well sanded and the moisture tendered to hold pitch shots and made cutting accurate.

Chevrolet Plans Sales Meetings All Over Nation

One of the most significant events in the automotive industry today is the series of nation-wide sales meetings of the Chevrolet Motor company now in progress. They are destined to reach 15,000 dealers, associate dealers and bankers in 21 of the largest cities before their close in April.

Sales plans of the company for what is expected to be the greatest year in its history are outlined at these meetings by officials of the sales, advertising and service divisions. As the world's largest makers of three speed transmission cars the company is looking forward to 1927 for a measurable increase over 1926, when production records for the previous year exceeded by more than 40 per cent. Recently announcement was made that the company's facilities had been expanded to make possible production of 1,000,000 units yearly.

R. H. Grant, vice-president and general sales manager, will direct the meetings, and outline the most comprehensive sales campaign ever attempted by a manufacturer of automobiles.

The meetings will be held from coast to coast and will place the entire dealer organization in personal touch with company officials and will give first hand information on the workings of the sales plans. A graphic presentation of these plans will feature the afternoon session at the meetings. Playlets will demonstrate new policies of sales, advertising, service and used car merchandising under the 1927 program. Dealers will be guests of the company at banquets following the meetings.

Approximately 3,000 bankers will attend the meetings, reflecting their interest in Chevrolet's position and influence in the automotive industry today.

Assisting Mr. Grant in the meeting will be C. E. Dawson, A. W. L. Gilpin and H. J. Klinger, assistant general sales managers; R. K. White, sales promotion manager; J. E. Grimm, Jr., advertising manager; J. P. Little, manager of the parts and service division; William A. Brees, manager of the purchase certificate division; Sydney Corbett, manager of the fleet sales division and W. G. Lewellen of the sales promotion division.

5 CONVICTED, 4 ACQUITTED OF PEONAGE

By United Press.
CORPUS CHRISTI, Feb. 5.—Five defendants in the Willacy county peonage case were found guilty and four were found not guilty in the sealed verdict returned by the jury this afternoon and opened by Judge J. C. Hutcheson tonight.

Those found guilty were Sheriff Raymond Keller, justice of the peace, Floyd Dodd, Carl Grandt, Frank Graft and Kliche Stockwell. Those acquitted were C. S. Stockwell, R. D. Reisdorth, Lloyd Burnett and Roger F. Robison, county attorney.

The jury recommended leniency in the case of Justice Dodd and Carl Grandt. Judge Hutcheson has passed no sentence. He read his charge. Deliberation began shortly after noon. Clarence Kendall, United States prosecutor, closed arguments of attorneys with a stirring plea for conviction. Testimony had closed Friday.

An early verdict is not expected as the nine defendants have been tried together under three indictments.

Moro Joan of Arc Battles U. S. Taxers

Princess Tarhata as an American flapper. She prevented a clash between her husband's army and the Philippine Constabulary.

A new Joan of Arc, arrayed against U. S. tax collectors, is making history in the Philippines. She is Princess Tarhata Kram, University of Chicago graduate. As the wife of Datu Tahil, a dignitary of the Sulu archipelago, she is leading the Moros in a rebellion against taxation. The Moro creed regards taxes as unconstitutional. Armed forces led by Princess Tarhata have greeted Philippine constabulary detachments sent out as collectors. The princess is a favorite niece of the Sultan of Sulu and harm to her person would mean a general Moro uprising.

O, Joy, Backbone And Spare Ribs, This 1000 Pounder

Visions of backbones, spare ribs, and home-made sausage were conjured up when Mr. Murray, living south of Ranger, offered to the altar of lard and other by products of the hog, a big boned Poland China hog that tipped the scales at approximately 1,000 pounds.

Ab Pitcock bought a hog from Mr. Murray that weighed 980 pounds but the porker slain this week beat that one 20 pounds.

This farmer will have his meat and lard for some time to come and at the same time has the honor of raising the biggest hog in the county.

How to read Percentages

Were Dodge Brothers to sell 100 motor cars one year and 200 motor cars the next, they could truthfully announce that their sales had increased 100% in a single year. Yet they would only have sold 300 motor cars in all.

In other words, PERCENTAGE of annual gain is not conclusive. The NUMBER of cars sold is the true test.

That Dodge Brothers sales in 1926 showed an increase of 27.6% over 1925 is not the MAJOR fact to consider—striking as it is.

But that Dodge Brothers sold 259,967 cars in 1925, and then in 1926 sold 331,764—a gain of 71,797 sales in twelve months—tells a story of growth that stands out like a tower on the skyline of the industry.

Three hundred and thirty-one thousand buyers LAST year! Many more vital improvements added THIS year! No increase in price! Three powerful arguments for earnestly investigating this smart and sturdy product before deciding what to buy!

Chrysler Names J. W. Frazer Sales Manager for Firm

Continued exceptional growth in the sale of Chrysler cars throughout the United States has resulted in the announcement by J. E. Fields, vice-president in charge of sales for the Chrysler Sales Corporation, that J. W. Frazer has been made Chrysler sales manager for the United States.

Mr. Frazer joined Chrysler in 1924 after a dozen years of sales experience with companies both in the fine car and low priced fields, and as an automobile distributor. His first Chrysler position was in a sales capacity from which he graduated to director of sales in charge of several of the country's most important districts. Since joining the company he has been an important part of the splendid organization responsible for carrying on the sales program which resulted in Chrysler sales rising from 32,000 in 1924 to more than 170,000 for 1926.

Included in Mr. Frazer's new duties are supervision over all the company's sales, service and advertising activities in the United States, including the direction of all domestic sales activities, including sales directors, supervisors, distributors and dealers, together with the responsibility of carrying out Chrysler sales policies. The re-arrangement of duties, and the appointment of Mr. Frazer as sales manager, will permit a more intimate personal contact between the sales organization and the sales manager, and at the same time will give Mr. Fields in the broader executive capacity, more time to confer and plan with the management on future business development.

Beating Peggy To It

After a three-day courtship, Constance Almy, dancer at the Silver Slipper club at Miami Beach, Fla., is engaged to Stanley Comstock, wealthy Detroit, who had been reported as the latest fiancee of Peggy Hopkins Joyce. Smiles are Miss Almy's and Comstock's reply here to questions concerning his former wife's charges that his divorce was illegally obtained.

Mr. Stewart W. Munroe assumes Mr. Frazer's former position as director of sales, assuming charge, under Mr. Frazer, of the Detroit, New York, St. Louis, Minneapolis and Dallas Sales districts. He will thus be associated with Henry T. Myers and Earl B. Wilson who have held the same posts in charge of other groups of sales districts.

MOSCOW BEGGARS FORM TRUST TO POOL MONEY

By United Press.
MOSCOW.—The beggars of Moscow have formed a corporation. They have divided the city into zones and forbidden trespassing by one beggar into another's territory. They will also pool their daily takings and distribute the money among the members of the trust. Based on the experience of individual beggars, it is confidently expected that the well-organized development of begging will pay much better dividends than work.

C. I. A. Girls Turn Back to Long Hair For Dame Fashion

Special Correspondence.
DENTON, Texas, Feb. 5.—Although bobbed tresses still hold unquestioned sway on the C. I. A. campus, an abdication of flowing locks may be eminent. If the present craze for long hair in other parts of the country proves to be the backward swing of the pendulum instead of a passing fancy, a change of regime is certain, according to a recent survey made here. Most of the students favor short hair as the appropriate style of "crowning glory" for the college girl because of its convenience, but they almost unanimously agree to comply with the verdict of lady fashion. They admit that they have considered long hair "more feminine and more elegant" all the time. A few individualistic souls swear never to give up their ponjolas and windblowns, be the edict of the changeable goddess what it may. Aimee has received a vaudeville offer, but isn't considering it. She probably prefers to manager her own show.

Are Wives Real Ladies, and Do They Show It?

By RENA B. CAMPBELL.

Are wives ladies? No more so than are husbands gentlemen. As a rule a woman falls in love with a man because he is "so different." As soon as she has him legally bound to her, she begins to try to make him into her own image. She tells him of his shortcomings and compares him to all the males in her own family much to his disadvantage.

She wouldn't be guilty of bragging—oh, no, but she can't help telling him once in a while how very superior her family is. When the children begin to come and grow up she credits her own family with all their better traits and "his" family with all their shortcomings—in looks, manners and mentality.

She thought he was a zood dresser when they were sweethearts but as soon as they are married she seems to think he has become incapable of selecting even his own ties and socks and would, if he would permit, select his cigars for him.

She often ridicules him and hurts his sensitive spirit for men in spite of that fact that they are often thought hardbilled are very sensitive and nothing hurts them like a lack of appreciation from the woman whose head winner they are.

If women used all the arts and wiles to keep a husband that they use to get him, what a great falling off their would be in divorce decrees for in all justice to women they are generally at the bottom of everything good or bad. If she is a wife and a lady she will be to her man, kindly and courteous—a wife, an angel, a kitten, a cook, a chum and a siren.

The attendance was large and appreciative and each and everyone felt that they had never laughed as much in their lives for it's always good fun to see ones contemporaries posing as dames of bygone days. The costumes were lovely and the school days of that long ago time was depicted with much wit and accuracy.

The Legion Auxiliary has added approximately fifteen new members since December first and much more interest in the meetings is being manifested than heretofore.

STATE P. T. A. AND T. M. C. NEWS NOTES.
The state office of the Texas Congress of mothers and Parent-Teacher associations is in receipt of the following letter from Governor Dan Moody to Mrs. Edward Kneeland, state chairman of life membership in the Texas Congress:

EXECUTIVE DEPT.
Austin, Texas.
Mrs. Edward Kneeland,
702 N. Bishop Ave.,
Dallas, Texas.
Dear Mrs. Kneeland:
I acknowledge advice that I have been made a life member of the Parent-Teacher association through the act of members of the Seventh District.
I appreciate very much the honor thus conferred upon me.
The efforts of this organization in behalf of the schools and the children of Texas deserve to be commended and I hope that the organization enjoys success.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed)—DAN MOODY.
The certificate of life membership, beautifully engraved and framed, was presented Governor Moody this week by Mrs. J. Murray Ramsey, president of the Seventh district whose happy suggestion at the State convention of the Texas Congress in Fort Worth, that the Seventh district in which Austin and Travis counties are situated should honor the then governor-elect with a life membership was immediately and enthusiastically acted upon. Mrs. Ramsey explained to Governor Moody that life membership in the congress was taken out in two ways, in one instance by people who are in accord with the aims and ideals of the congress and want a life time part in furthering of the same and in another instance, life memberships were presented individuals that either other individuals or organizations wished to honor. Exhibitions of the Black Bottom and other popular dances were given by their entertainers who kept up a tirade of fun making throughout the entire program. A number of wall-flowers went just to hear the music and seemed to enjoy it as much as the dancers did. While the dance was not so largely attended as some previous ones, it was a mighty enjoyable affair and everyone present had a good time.

In the crowd were noted folks from Eastland, Breckenridge and Ranger, the majority present being Ranger folks.

MOTHER'S DAY DAWNS AT TIMES COOKING SCHOOL.

Have the same chance school gives daughters. Expert is here. First session of free course at 2 p. m. Monday. A golden opportunity for mother to keep up with daughter is offered Eastland county women this week in Times Publishing Company's big free cooking school, which opens Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in American Legion hall, Ranger, under the direction of Mrs. Ida Chitwood, famous home economics expert.
For the "flapper daughter" who has borne the brunt of seething criticism for the past few years actually knows more about scientific cooking and home economics than many of her circumspect elders, leading educators declare.
Eastland county school girls, beginning in the seventh grade, through the years in junior high school, are acquiring the expert knowledge in the latest cookery developments, scientific meal planning and health needs that is seldom acquired by their mothers, according to Mrs. Ida Chitwood.

Stress Laid on Cooking.
The teaching of home economics has taken immense strides in the past few years, with the greatest stress laid on scientific cooking and the scientific planning of well-balanced meals, Mrs. Chitwood says.
"The biggest single factor in health is food," said Mrs. Chitwood. "Beginning in the seventh grade and continue through junior high school, the girls are taught the scientific planning of meals, perfectly balanced, with emphasis on health needs of growing children. They learn to prepare the individual dishes as near perfection as possible. As many completely planned groups of the three daily meals are crowded into the course as the time permits. Economy, attractive serving and proper cooking are stressed in the lessons."
"In high school the food problems are gone into more scientifically and the girls are taught the importance of the proper combination of fats, carbohydrates, mineral substances and vitamins in meals.
"The girls learn to supply health needs from their own standpoint, from the standpoint of the entire family and of children of all ages. It is a fact that this scientific knowledge of new developments is acquired by few older women today.
"The very points stressed in the schools are the high points of the course which Mrs. Chitwood will teach Eastland county women this week in the Times Publishing Company's free cooking school."

Well Balanced Meals.
Well balanced meals, wholesome dishes prepared with the purest materials, and the scientific knowledge of cooking that means health for the entire family, are the subjects which Mrs. Chitwood emphasizes throughout her cooking school lessons.
With her charming personality and sincere human interest in the problems of housewives, however, Mrs. Chitwood's lectures are never dry or difficult to understand.
The first aim is always to be of practical aid to her students and her clean explanations, her demonstrations of recipes and carefully worked-out kitchen short cut methods make her lectures as fascinating to women as a matinee.
Every phase of cookery will be covered in the five-day course she will offer in Ranger and each lecture will be complete in itself.
Mrs. Chitwood urges her students to bring notebooks and pencils to jot down the recipes and cooking methods she gives during the course.

President Out House Hunting During Repairs.
By JOHN MONTGOMERY.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—While President Coolidge has yet to make up his mind as to where he will live while the white house is being remodelled, his staff of servants have already begun the job of packing household effects and his attacks are now dickering with transfer companies for a fleet of moving vans.
A president moves very much like any American householder. For weeks there are discussions as to what to pack first and how the packing should be done. Some articles such as portraits, statuary and unused furniture, must be relegated to the basement or a warehouse. Delicate articles must be crated by experts. Packing cases must be bought as well as the usual packing material—excelsior, padding and paper.
While the president will undoubtedly be housed in a temporary house, a huge amount of furniture which has become familiar to the family will be carried along. The top floor of the white house must be stripped bare of John Borden, millionaire explorer and hunter of Chicago is getting ready for his third trip into the Arctic. He will take a group of society folk along. stressed principles of economy, he feels that hotel life would be too expensive, while his residence would not cost anything, the party would have to pay for the food eaten and the time would run into thousands of dollars before the president could return to the executive mansion. Inasmuch as the salary of his score of servants would continue through the period the president cannot see why they should not execute their duties of serving the executive family while it is absent from the permanent home.

It is explained that the president wants nothing more than a house of about 20 rooms, near the white house, but sufficiently exclusive to bar curiosity seekers. But before the final decision can be made the estate must receive the approval of the attaches,

Princess Mary Proves Poultry Raising Pays

LONDON.—Princess Mary has found her hobby of poultry raising so profitable that she is contemplating extending its scope.
When the princess started her farm some time ago at Goldsborough Hall, her brother, the Prince of Wales, honored his sister and her small flock of baby chicks with a flying visit. After a hurried inspection he warned the princess that her hobby would probably prove a highly unprofitable venture.
To prove that the prince was wrong, Princess Mary placed the farm on thoroughly business basis. The success of the venture finally led the king to establish a farm at Frogmore similar to that of his daughter.

LOYD NEVER FORGETS. ACTOR GETS COMEDY

Lamb, Ranger, Connelle, Eastland, Tuesday and Wednesday. Analysts of Harold Lloyd's success have attributed it in a measure to the fact that "he never forgets." The noted screen comedian has been known to carry an idea around in his mind for years before he finally found a place for it in one of his pictures.

The following story going the Hollywood rounds is further proof that Lloyd has a remarkably retentive memory. About nine years ago, while making his first two-reeler, after adopting the tortoise-shelled-rims, Lloyd watched one of his associates on the Hal Roach lot performing as a card sharper. The boy's performance made a great impression on the bespectacled funster and he watched him for nearly half an hour.

In the course of filming his current Paramount release, "The Kid Brother," a man was needed as the "barker" for a medicine show. When the character first took form, Lloyd's mind wandered back to the day he watched Eddie Boland do his stuff.

That's why Boland will be seen as the "spieler" for the medicine show which plays such a prominent part in Lloyd's latest picture. Eddie is considered one of the screen's cleverest character comics, and he has handled his part with a deft and practised hand.

"The Kid Brother," coming to the Lamb theatre, Ranger and the Connelle Theatre, Eastland, Tuesday and Wednesday, details Lloyd's thrilling and laughable experiences as a shy, timid hill-boy—the type of sympathetic characterization which appeals so strongly to his legion of admirers. Jobyna Ralston again supplies the necessary love interest.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
 To the home of PROF and MOL-LIE ELWELL in Camdemville, Ind. one night in October, 1898, is brought a woman who had fainted on a train.
 That night she bears twin girls and dies without revealing her name.
 The story then moves forward 18 years. The twins, now growing to beautiful womanhood, have been adopted and named MARGARET and ELIZABETH. They are called Rusty and Betty.
 JIM ELWELL, the son, enlists in the World War. He then discovers that one of the twins loves him.
 He is shell-shocked at the Battle of Sedan and at first is reported dead.
 Finally he is identified at a New York Hospital and his mother and father hasten to him to find that his memory is gone, that he is like a living dead man.
 Specialists despair of his recovery.
 They believe an operation might be fatal. His parents decide to take him home. The day before they are to leave NURSE NELLIE DOWNING and his mother leave him for a few minutes and he disappears.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY
 CHAPTER XXXI
 "He's gone!" burst from Mollie Elwell in tones of dismay. She asked Nellie Downing, "Do you suppose he followed us? He wouldn't be likely to do you think, to wander off the other way into the woods?"
 The nurse stood speechless, stricken with sudden fear.

"Oh, Dear!" Mollie cried a little wildly, her glance darting here and there, "it's getting to be just one thing after another. Where is he?
 Where can he have gone to?"
 She wrung her hands in helplessness, paced back and forth wildly.
 "What had we better do? Go back and get some help? Turn in an alarm?"

Contrition had laid hold of Nellie Downing. It was her fault, entirely, she was telling herself miserably.
 She ought not to have left Jim alone.
 Why had she done it? It was she, even, who had suggested it. She, a nurse, who should have known better.
 "It's my fault," she said to Mollie Elwell. "It's all my fault. We'll go right to the superintendent. He'll know what to do. Jim must have followed the path out of the park.
 He's familiar with that and he never tries anything he hasn't tried before.
 We probably will find him up near the administration building."

She spoke with an assurance, an optimism she was far from feeling.
 Fear held her in its grip. Where had Jim Elwell gone?

They didn't find Jim at the administration building but they found the superintendent.
 He spoke briefly when he had heard the story. "We'll start a search right away."

The supervisors of the different buildings were notified by telephone that a psychopathic patient was missing. Within ten minutes 50 searchers, including orderlies, internes, nurses who weren't needed for something else and others about the institution were called into action.
 It was half past four when the hunt started.

The five o'clock trolley brought Prof and Mike Hennegan. The hunt still was on. At five-thirty two bloodhounds kept for just such emergencies, were taken to the rustic set where Jim had been seen last and given his scent. They took up the trail on a tight leash. It led straight back to the administration building and stopped at the place where the trackless trolleys stopped.

The two dogs settled back on their haunches, pointed their noses up in the air and gave voice to their rea-sonings. Then they stretched out with their bellies on the ground and held their chops. This was dog-god, their keeper stated, which signified that the trail now led up in the air.

"But he couldn't have boarded one of the trolley buses," averred the superintendent, though none too positively. "The driver would have seen at once that something was wrong when he couldn't collect the fare. He would have brought him back and notified us."

Mike Hennegan broke in at this point with something to show that the superintendent easily might be wrong in his deductions and the fund dogs perfectly right in theirs.
 "The driver wouldn't have been likely to notice a thing out of the way with the fare-paying business," he announced positively. "Jim could say his fare as well as anybody when he had the fare to pay. Did he have any money on him, Prof?"

"He must have had nearly a dollar," Prof Elwell answered. "And," he added, "it's ten to one that's just what happened. He boarded the trolley bus and got off at the street connection. Probably the Staten Island police already have picked him up."

He turned to Mollie and Nellie Downing, whose faces had lighted as he finished speaking, with a new hope.

"You say it was about five minutes to four when you left him in the park?" Prof asked.

"About ten minutes of, I think,"
 said Nellie Downing.

"Well, if he followed you right up he could have been at this spot at four o'clock, the time the bus left here."

Prof Elwell's glance shifted back to the superintendent.

"Who's the driver of that bus, Mr.
 Dennison?" he inquired. "And when will he be back?"

"George Bundick is the driver," the hospital head told him. He looked at his watch, adding, "He's due here about six o'clock. It's five-thirty now."

They waited for the bus, deciding to stay where they were until that lead had been run down.
 The bus driver arrived promptly on schedule.

the ferry car."
 Prof repeated blankly. "You saw him get on the ferry car?"
 "Absolutely."
 "We must follow him at once," Prof said Mollie from her stand at his side. She spoke without excitement, but in her anxious eyes lurked the dark specter of a new and unnamed fear.

"Don't you think we had better call the Staten Island police first?"
 Nellie Downing asked. "They may, perhaps, have picked him up at the ferry." The nurse was trembling.
 Prof laid a steady hand on her arm.
 "Don't take this too much at heart, young lady," he commanded gruffly. "And don't get it into your head that it's your fault. Who in thunder would have thought that he'd walk off like that? He might have done it on me or Mike or Mollie anyone."

"You've already done more than anyone could expect of you," Prof told her. "I don't know what we'd have done without your help. Don't worry, now—and you, too," to Mollie, who was clinging to him. "We'll find him all right."

The Staten Island police were notified but they could provide no solution to their problem, and so, when the six o'clock trolley started back to town, it carried Jim's father and mother, Nellie Downing and the faithful Mike Hennegan.

Mike now was swearing softly to himself. "A damn shame," he kept repeating; "a damn shame, that's what it is."

The ticket-taker at the ferry dock, a man of 50 or thereabouts, to whom they all had become familiar during the summer, was getting ready to go home. He had, he said, noticed Jim Elwell—or one who answered his description—late that afternoon. He was pretty sure it was Jim, though for he had commented to himself on his being alone. Yes, he had been wearing a gray summer suit and a straw hat.

"Well," said Nellie Downing when they finally found a place to stand in the bow of the crowded ferry boat, "the best thing for us to do now is to get a taxi at the Battery and go right to police headquarters."

"It's the only thing to do," agreed Prof.

There was a reporter on one of the New York papers, Nellie Downing went on, who might be able to help them with the police.

though I don't know much about how such things are run. I think he used to work for the City News Bureau, and he's well acquainted with most of the police around headquarters."

Jack Nevin, she went on, had been a second lieutenant in a New York regiment. She had met him first in a hospital in Paris. He had left a leg on the bank of the Argonne.

"I saw him again on the day of my return from France and he told me he was on the Planet staff and still was called upon to do a lot of police reporting. If anyone can help us Jack can."

Silence fell over the anxious little group. The impending storm that had been voicing its approach for three hours and more in low rum-blings was now sending its heralds of wind flurries in from the ocean.
 The shadows of night were beginning to spread over New York Bay. Occasionally the sky was lit up with a flash of lightning, to be followed by the heavy roll of thunder.

The four peered into the fast-gathering gloom ahead. A colossal statue, which but a moment before had stood out in plain relief on their left, was only dimly discernible now.

Suddenly as they looked they saw a light flash into life at the end of the outstretched arm. It was the beacon torch of Liberty and the signal gleam it sent across the waters touched for a fleeting instant the face of

 they had been cameo against a dead black cloth. And Prof, who was

 "Mollie!" he exclaimed, frightened,

As the four of them stepped from the boat at the foot of Battery Park, the long threatening storm broke.
 For more than an hour they were held with other passengers in the hot confinement of an inadequate waiting room. Finally, the downpour lessened enough to enable them to reach the shelter of a taxicab, and the search was on in earnest.

the president's wife are manifold, and it is generally admitted that no white house wife has ever exceeded and few have equalled Mrs. Calvin Coolidge in administering them with grace, efficiency, and charm.

To Mrs. Coolidge is given the credit for creating the atmosphere of gracious hospitality about the executive mansion.

The former New England school teacher is a woman of poise, serenity, and unconscious dignity, which makes it possible for her to soil her gloves cuddling mongrel puppies one instant and greet the stateliest diplomat the next.

When the Coolidges were in the less conspicuous position granted the vice president of the United States, they were among the most popular couples in social Washington. Mrs. Coolidge was famous for her interest in unimportant as well as famous folk, and she never changed.

The mistress of the white house has a big job.

First, she has a huge corps of servants to oversee. While the housekeeper at the white house, a woman now, is a highly efficient person, nevertheless the good housewife at the head of the president's table O.

K.'s every detail of household administration.

The problem of the important state dinners is always before her. In the past, famous caterers, such as Demorest or Rauscher, used to prepare the dinner, and bring it in with the proper corp of servants. Now the food as well as menu is prepared in the white house, under the supervision of the first lady.

The first lady must know the soup is correct and the roast is not burnt, and be perfectly gowned, and full of the most correct conversation.

The president and his wife entertain naturally a great deal. They dine out, however, only at the homes of Cabinet members, and they dine at the table of each of them.

Mrs. Coolidge is a woman of vast charitable interests, and consequently this takes much of her time and attention. She is interested in the girl scouts, visits the Children's hospital, Walter Reed Hospital, the government hospital for its soldiers, and similar institutions.

Her wardrobe is an important and a wearisome affair to a president's wife. She must not appear twice at any formal function in the same gown, although Mrs. Coolidge did break this tradition last year by wearing one gown twice.

Mrs. Coolidge always dresses well and suits her clothes to her type very cleverly.

Men to Wear Brighter Hues, Dame Fashion

By United Press.

LONDON.—Men's clothing during the coming year will be brighter than during the past few seasons, according to the Bond Street style dictators.

It has always been considered that conservative colors in clothes were a part of the good taste in the wardrobe of a well-dressed man. "Plain blues for Plain Johns," however, have passed out of popularity to make way for gayer effects.

Brown mixtures, into which are woven faint stripes of reds, blues and mauves will be worn for everyday wear. Tweeds, although the best wearing for all-around wear are not destined to be popular and the once fashionable whipcords are now never seen in London.

At one time St. Patrick's Day was regarded as the first day in "open season" for clothing buyers, but since the war this is merely a legend. This is principally due to the fact, it is said, that well-dressed men desire only to replenish their wardrobe as needed, rather than at a particular period of the year.

Television Next Great Invention To Be Marketed

By United Press.

LONDON.—The day when one can sit comfortably in an arm-chair in London or New York and see rival armies fighting in China may not be in immediate prospect, but a young English inventor promises to have a short-range television set on the market within a year at a price within $150.

The inventor, John L. Baird, a young Scotchman, has already given a number of remarkable demonstrations with his machine which has the astonishing property not only of transmitting sight by wireless, but also of "seeing in the dark." In other words, through this machine, people in one room are enabled to see the movements of people in another room so darkened that the people in it are not able to see each other.

This is accomplished through the use of recently discovered infra-rays, sometimes known as "invisible light." In instruments hitherto experimented with, television has only been made possible by submitting the object to be transmitted to an intensely bright light. Baird discovered in the course of a series of experiments with different lights that he could transmit the appearance of an object by use of infra-red rays, even though the object was in pitch darkness.

Yet, while it is possible to get good television results of objects in complete darkness by the use of infra-red rays, according to Baird, normal lighting gives better reproduction.

"The discovery will probably have great uses in war," Baird declared in an interview, "for then it will be possible for airplanes to flood areas below them with infra-red light, while observers in these machines, equipped with suitable apparatus, will be able to watch enemy troop movements without disclosing the position of the airplanes. At the same time the country possessing the secret of the use of the same rays will be able to watch the movements of enemy aircraft without giving their own position by searchlights or flares, as is the case under present conditions of warfare."

"At present there seems no way of getting out of the range of the invisible infra-red rays, or of overcoming them, but it is not impossible of course that someone later may invent some sort of counter ray which would negate the effectiveness of infra-red rays."

Assessed value of property in Texas was $42,605,988 more in 1926 than in 1925.

In this story of old Louisiana and the Mexico Gulf, Florence Vidor portrays dainty Louise Lesteron toast of New Orleans; while Ricardo Cortez, Paramount's screen cavalier, enacts Jean Lafitte, historical pirate leader of the Spanish Main. While the picture fairly bristles with thrills and adventure, its love scenes too will be sure to attract attention. According to those who have already viewed it, both Miss Vidor and Cortez are said to do their best work in this production.

It is a story of vaudeville life, laid behind the scenes in a vaudeville theatre, and the vaudevillians furnished the cast of "trouper" for the production.

In the scene showing "rehearsal morning" in the vaudeville theatre, acrobats, a lion tamer, dancers, and others got their acts ready while Miss Shearer, as a vaudeville newcomer, practiced steps with Oscar Shaw, himself a vaudeville celebrity, who played the leading man.

The building on Main street, Ranger, that is to be occupied by Woolworth's is now in the hands of a corps of men working under the firm of James T. Taylor of Fort Worth and is being remodeled from the front awning to the back door.

The present awning will be removed and a straight front, painted red with high glass windows will completely change the front. The floor space is being enlarged two feet, which is being taken from the C. E. May insurance office.

The skylights are being removed as the Woolworths use only artificial light and a new lighting system is being installed. In the rear, new store rooms are being built and a new roof and ceiling are a part of the improvements. In fact when the workmen get through with the building there will be very little of it that has not undergone a change.

For the past six months Mr. Wiss has had charge of the operations of the Prairie company in the Odessa field.

Homer Smith, who has been in charge of the warehouse department here, has been transferred to Borger, where he will serve in the same capacity. Mr. Smith has been here for several years. Stanley Snodgrass, who was trans-

Auto Driving Nerve Racking, Says Expert

By ERWIN BREER, President Greer College of Automotive and Electrical Trades, Chicago, Ill.

"Gosh, but I'm hungry!" That is the remark that many folks make when out driving all day in an automobile.

"Gee, but I'm tired!" That is another remark that results from a long drive.

Both of these expressions nowadays very common, are intrinsically untruthful. There is nothing about sitting in an automobile, especially if one drives, that gives exercise or activity to the body. There is nothing in driving which increases activity of the lungs. In fact, as a rule, the process is just the reverse.

When one drives, the spine is bent, the shoulders hunched over, the muscles tense and one breathes much more poorly than in ordinary walking.

Even the occupant of the back seat has a poor posture, position, or nervous state to imbibe quantities of fresh air.

The mere exposure to the wind as one sails along does not mean that considerable quantities are taken into the body. In fact, one of the most inefficient ways to take fresh air is via the automobile route.

Of all the common, everyday pursuits of life, automobile driving is probably the most nerve racking, nerve exhausting and debilitating.

The tiredness which comes as a sequence to the day's driving is not the effect of exercise but rather the effect of muscle and nerve tension without any relief.

You who want better respiration and a twang to your appetite, put a couple of punctures in the tires of your car. Then sling a knapsack on your shoulder. Get out into the glorious outdoors. Follow the lure of the wandering trail. Drink in the sweet nectar of the wild flowers. Absorb the earthy odor of the moist sod and moss.

When the body grows tired, lie down in the shade of the friendly oak or pine. Listen to the cadence of the birds and of the abundant insect life. Feel the exquisite sense of fatigue that comes from muscles hard used and from the free rhythmic expansion of breathing dust-free air.

One dose of a good, stiff outdoor hike is worth a million miles of Rolls-Royce exercise. Try it and you will find that the good old flivver of two firm feet and a stout heart will give vastly more pleasure than six cylinders and a tank full of gas. And your car will be better for the rest, too.

"Andy and Min" Ranger Visitors On Friday Night

The creator of Andy Gump, whose daily doings amuse thousands of readers wherever newspapers are read, slipped into Ranger Friday night but no sooner had he and his party composed of himself and Mrs. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Walsh registered than the news spread like wild fire over the Gholson hotel.

They dined at the Gholson where the feminine element were not so interested in how the cartoonist looked as to what the women of the party wore.

They retired early for at 9:50 when they were called over the phone by the chairman of the Elks entertainment committee and invited to come over and see how Ranger gameed, the daddy of the Gumps said he was surely sorry for they would have liked to have attended the dance had they known about it, but had retired.

His big Locomobile car—a far cry from his first Locomobile No. 348, attracted almost as much attention as did Smith and his party.

They were en route to the Pacific coast from Chicago.

Smith was dressed ala western, as he wore a gray and blue plaid lumberjack, gray trousers stuffed in high boots and a real cowboy hat.

He praised our sunshine but declined to say what the fate of Uncle Bim and the widow Zander, was to be—possibly he hopes to solve that question for himself on this trip.

The Super-Six Principle also revealed in the ESSEX Super-SIX

An outstanding characteristic of the Essex Super-Six is the complete absence of labor with which it performs every requirement.

At the getaway you swing into speed with magic ease. There is no jerk, vibration or mechanical chatter, no waste motion, no explosive jump—sometimes mistaken for acceleration. You glide to the front with flying freedom and ease. And so smoothly, you scarce realize how swiftly.

And, so, in all it does, whether spurring at top speed, or doing a comfortable 50 miles an hour all day long, you can realize its silky super-performance, only by the way you distance others.

This smoothness means ECONOMY—economy of effort, economy of power, economy in the long life of all moving parts. And in making long tours, or using your Essex all day in city traffic you will find the further economy of physical freshness, that comes from its easy driving, riding, steering and control, and its freedom from vibration at all speeds.

In four beautiful new Essex bodies—handsomely appointed and upholstered—the advantages of the released Super-Six principle costs you little more than any "Four".

Demonstration Agent Organized Two Girls' Clubs

Miss Ruth Ramey, county home demonstration agent, reports the organization of girls' clubs at New Hope and Kokomo.

The clubs will meet each first and third Thursday, except the next meeting, which will be held February 16 in order that the members may attend the Farmers Short Course programs on the 17th.

The New Hope club has 14 charter members, while eight are charter members of the Kokomo club.

Miss Ramey said that much is expected of the new club members, and that a great deal will be done toward promotion of the club idea in the two communities.

The first demonstration the club members will be given will have to do with serving and studying a girl's room.

LONDON WOMEN MAKE STIR IN VISIT TO BOOTBLACK

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Two fashionably dressed women recently created considerable stir in Trafalgar Square by having their shoes polished by the public bootblack who has a stand on one corner of the square. The usual patrons of street bootblacks in England are workmen, or businessmen late for appointments who stop only long enough for a brush of their shoes. The recent patronage by the two women was so rare that the London newspapers commented upon it.

Farther than ever beyond the reach of imitation

$825
SEDAN or COUPE

Every one knows that when announced a year ago, the Pontiac Six was an extraordinary automotive development.

The General Motors Research Staff pioneered Pontiac Six basic design. The great General Motors Proving Ground provided an unparalleled opportunity to perfect that design without regard to time or cost. And General Motors combined purchasing power assured minimum costs on quality materials.

Pontiac Six, $825 to $975. Oakland Six, companion to Pontiac Six, $1025 to $1295. All prices at factory. Bodies by Fisher. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

Obviously, the Pontiac Six was then beyond duplication. Obviously, it is today still farther beyond the reach of imitation—

—because the Pontiac Six now carries this important additional attraction to buyers:

In a period of more than a year, it has served tens of thousands of owners in performance, reliability and economical operation, to a degree of satisfaction far beyond their fondest expectations!

Chicago's Next

—NEA, Chicago Bureau
Harold J. Croarkin (above) is to be tried in Chicago soon for the murder of six-year-old Walter Schmith. He is charged with luring the boy to a hayloft and killing him "for no reason at all." Below is Judge William Lindsay, who will preside at the trial. Croarkin, an adept at mathematics in college, is almost wholly undeveloped emotionally, according to examining experts.

SENATE SECRET SESSIONS ARE ALL THE BUNK

By PAUL R. MALLON, United Press Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—When Secretary of State Kellogg went before the senate foreign relations committee recently to discuss the Mexican and Nicaraguan situations, he took every precaution to preserve secrecy. He declined to discuss his testimony, but half an hour after he left the witness stand the substance of his statement was being set up in the composing rooms of the afternoon newspapers of the country.

The senate holds executive sessions of excise taxes. Williams argued that the tax was unlawful, although it was levied in the guise of an excise assessment, it really was a direct tax in violation of the constitution, he said. In defending the levy, Ralph R. Scott, assistant solicitor for the revenue department drew the attention of the court to the fact, that the tax was not levied on "property," but on the privilege of Williams to use the property rights he gained from the life membership.

upon nominations and treaties—an old custom. But within a few moments after the sessions are concluded, and sometimes before they are concluded, the world is informed of what is going on.

The rule states that any senator who reveals what transpired in an executive session is liable to expulsion. Some time ago Senator David A. Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, deplored what he called the "leaks" upon closed discussions and he talked about enforcing the expulsion rule. When this failed to improve the situation, a suggestion was made that newspapermen who published information about executive sessions should be expelled.

The truth of the matter is that most senators are opposed to secrecy in any form. They desire, however, to maintain the rule for executive sessions so that in times of war or in other times of stress, that rule may prevent circulation of information which might prove detrimental to public welfare. But information which they consider good for the country, they are willing to relate on condition that their names are not connected with it.

In recent years there has been but one occasion when executive information was kept secret more than 15 minutes after the session disbanded. This was after Reed's threat. When newspapermen rushed into the chamber to learn what had occurred they were met chiefly with silent smiles. "I can't be seen talking to you," one senator said. "I'll be expelled." But, a few particular inquiries developed the fact that Reed had made his threat in an executive session, a threat which he did not expect to be made public, but which confronted him in the headlines when he picked up his evening paper.

The senate will continue to have executive sessions, but under present arrangements the public will continue to be informed promptly as to what occurs.

Must Eat Heap To Dance New Craze The Black Bottom

By United Press.
TROY, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Boys, when you "step out" with flappers waltz, fox trot, or even Charleston with them, but shun the Black Bottom if you would have a reasonable dinner check. For it requires a hearty meal, giving two or three times more energy than that needed for other dances, to do the latest dance craze, according to an analysis prepared by students of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, showing the number of calories per step the various dances need.

While the Black Bottom requires 18.96 calories the waltz utilizes 3.99 and the fox trot 4.78. The Charleston uses 11.37. Figures for other dances follow: shimmy, 4.02; Schottische, 4.76; polka, 7.56; mazurka, 10.87.
