

Steers To Have Plenty Backing At Sweetwater

Damp weather will not prevent Big Spring from sending a large and sturdy delegation to Sweetwater for the Steer-Mustang football game Thursday.

Farm Subsidy Defended By AAA Speaker

B. F. Vance, state administrative assistant for the AAA program, told agricultural workers of district 6 in session at the Settles hotel Wednesday afternoon that purchasing power of cotton and wheat is now greater than in 1933, but that it has not yet reached the level of 1913.

Vance was principal speaker for the first day of a two-day informational meeting being conducted here for AAA program officials and county agents.

In defense of government subsidies for farmers, Vance listed other industries receiving aid from the federal treasury, directly or indirectly.

Speakers scheduled for the afternoon included Fred Rennels, supervisor of the state range program; R. T. Price, administrative assistant; P. C. Colgin, wheat loan supervisor; George Slaughter, chairman of the state AAA committee; and E. E. Nowotny, state AAA accountant.

For Thursday's program, Jack B. Hall, district field supervisor for AAA, will preside. Speakers will include G. D. Scott, statistician; Cliff H. Day, field representative; and E. N. Holtgrever, state administrative officer, all of the AAA staff.

City To Observe Thanksgiving; Union Service To Be At 9 a. m.

Big Spring will act under proclamations by President Roosevelt and Governor Lee O'Daniel Thursday in observing Thanksgiving a week earlier than the traditional last Thursday of November.

The weatherman added a pessimistic note by predicting rain or snow tonight and Thursday. But Ross Covey of Sweetwater, high school said this afternoon that heavy showers had been received there and that the football field would be soft.

Sweetwater ticket sales are continuing at a good rate, the school official said.

Blankenship said the necessary 250 tickets to assure operation of the special train had not been sold, but that he was confident that more than that number would be issued during the afternoon.

At the high school, a big-scale pep rally was held Wednesday morning, with enthusiasm pointing to no shortage of moral support for the Steers Thursday.

The train will leave Big Spring at 11 a. m., arriving in Sweetwater at 12:45 p. m. On the return trip, it will leave Sweetwater at 6:30 p. m. and reach Big Spring about 8:15 o'clock.

When the train arrives in Big Spring, the Big Spring band and student body will march off for a noisy downtown parade.

Teachers To State Meet

Teachers from Big Spring are planning to attend the Texas State Teachers Association meeting to be held in Fort Worth Thursday through Saturday.

A number of distinguished education leaders will be on the program that includes talks by Dr. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools at Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. A. J. Stoddard, superintendent of schools at Philadelphia.

Attending from here will be Mrs. Mary Bumpass, Mrs. Flossie Low, Mrs. J. A. Coffey and Bill Dawes, who left Tuesday morning for Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. King Sides and J. A. Coffey who left Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Seth Parsons left Wednesday for the annual meeting and W. C. Blankenship, superintendent, will leave Thursday night after the football game at Sweetwater. Anne Martin, county superintendent, is also attending.

RATNER MAY WIN THAT RACE YET

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 20. (AP)—Gov. Payne Ratner's comeback in the out-state absentee vote count brought him within striking distance of a second term today—possibly the decisive day in Kansas' nerve-racking governorship ballot battle now entering its third week.

The slim lead of William H. Burke, democratic nominee, dropped to 436 votes as he lost 24 in the first five counties tallied by the state board of canvassers today.

The vote by out-of-state absentees—a form of balloting made possible by a law passed in 1929 under the leadership of Ratner as a state senator—still is to be counted in 31 counties.

Five remaining large counties apparently hold the fate of the election.

HUNGARY COMES INTO AXIS LINEUP

Lewis Blocks Move Toward Effecting A Labor Peace

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 20 (AP)—John L. Lewis had the laurels of a major victory in the CIO convention over Sidney Hillman and advocates of new efforts for labor peace today, but there appeared to be no certainty that Hillman would be overwhelmed if the communist issue should reach the convention floor.

Lewis was the victor yesterday with a battering attack aimed alternately at William Green and the A. F. of L. high command and Hillman's Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union. The convention gave Lewis a thumping vote on his policy of simply maintaining a peace committee clothed with power to negotiate with the A. F. of L.

The Hillman bloc wanted the CIO delegates to consider an immediate move to re-examine possibilities of ending labor's civil war. But Lewis replied—in one of the convention's most turbulent sessions—that there would be no labor peace until CIO demonstrated its strength to "bargain for peace on equal terms" with the A. F. of L.

The Hillman group also wants CIO to take a stand against communism, nazism and fascism, an issue which is reported to be a large factor in determining whether CIO Vice President Philip Murray will agree to take the CIO

AFL Leader Pessimistic

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP)—AFL Vice President Matthew Woll, casting a gloomy glance at the dove of peace launched only yesterday from the White House, said today he saw no hope for a settlement with the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Woll, considered one of the scholars of the American Federation of Labor in convention here, made the assertion after examining a similar statement by CIO President John L. Lewis, directed at AFL.

At the same time, the AFL resolutions committee considered a measure to increase its revenue for possible use in a labor war.

AFL President William Green called Lewis a "real dictator" after Lewis had told his cheering CIO convention in Atlantic City "I've done a lot of exploring in Bill's mind and I give you my word—there is nothing there."

Lewis blasted the AFL after President Roosevelt in a message to Green—there was no indication here that a similar message had been sent to Lewis—called upon labor's leaders "with the interest of the nation at heart" to find a way to peace.

"That is the end of any hope for peace," said Woll in referring to Lewis' statement that "it would be wrong" to make it appear a settlement was near.

"There may be only one chance, a remote one that I don't want to happen, and that is if Sidney Hillman takes his Amalgamated Clothing Workers out of the CIO. The textile and rubber workers might follow."

BRITONS BLAST SKODA PLANT

Midlands Area Is Pounded

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Britain's industrial midlands dug itself out today from the twisted debris left by bombs from hundreds of German raiders which carried out a nine-hour attack last night in an evident effort to duplicate the devastation of Coventry.

(More than 1,000,000 pounds of bombs were dropped on Birmingham, great munitions and industrial center, in retaliation for British attacks on Hamburg, Bremen and Kiel, the German high command said, and the resulting fires and explosions were even worse than those left in last Thursday's attack on Coventry.)

Birmingham is the second largest manufacturing city in England and, noted for its hard ware, metal-working, toy, automobile and tire industries, presumably is a key producer of British munitions and war supplies.)

Sparse reports reaching London from one of the hardest hit of some half-dozen raided industrial areas said that in the first hours there was no respite from the continuous fall of bombs and crash of anti-aircraft guns.

Fires lit up the sky until it was almost as bright as day.

Considering the country as a whole, observers said the raid was likely to prove as heavy, if not heavier, than any attack yet made on Britain.

TURKEY KEEPS WATCHFUL EYE ON BULGARIA

Use of Nation For Passage Of Troops Would Make An Issue

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 20 (AP)—Sources close to the Turkish government said today that Turkey would regard passage of German troops through Bulgaria as harmful to Turkish interests.

They said Turkey would refuse to approve such a movement, even though Germany might guarantee that Turkey would in no way be involved.

Moreover, if Bulgaria herself makes any move toward the Mediterranean Turkey will consider herself bound to "take measures" the sources added.

This attitude provided its own reply to questions of Turkey's reaction to news that Hungary had joined the axis pact with its implications of a German move in southeast Europe.

Informed quarters said that Turkey has regarded Hungary as bound to the axis and that the actual signing of the treaty merely vindicates the Turkish view that Germany has been planning a campaign in the Near East.

Today's statement on the Turkish attitude also prompted the belief that when Ambassador Franz von Papen returns to his post at Ankara he will present certain "proposals" designed to bring Turkey into the "new order."

A German source in Turkey said the reich would request Turkey to renounce its British alliance and also "unlock the straits" (of Dardanelles).

He added that Russia now was more interested in an outlet to the Persian gulf than in the question of the control of the straits.

Turkey meanwhile continued its civilian preparedness with a black-out in Ankara and the introduction of extensive air raid precautions.

In addition, a raid was made on the great Skoda armaments works in Pilsen, Bohemia.

Munitions stores and other objectives in Berlin also were bombed.

HITLER GOBBLES UP NEW EXTENSION INTO SOUTHEAST EUROPE

VIENNA, Nov. 20 (AP)—Hungary became a full-fledged partner in the mighty totalitarian allies today by signing up with the German-Italian-Japanese alliance with indications the United States was a principal target.

Thus, with a lightning-fast diplomatic stroke, Germany stretched a vast military avenue 250 miles further into southeast Europe—toward Greece, Turkey and the Suez.

That further extensions would come shortly was indicated when Germany's foreign minister announced that other powers shortly would join the axis alliance.

The original alliance, signed last Sept. 27 at Berlin, is a 10-year military and economic treaty which binds its signers to a one-for-all and all-for-one pledge of aid against any new entrant into either the European or Chinese wars.

Adolf Hitler himself, surrounded by his highest military and diplomatic advisers, came to this one-time capital of Nazi-annexed Austria for the ceremony which added still another subscriber to the rope and Asia.

A protocol admitting Hungary to alliance membership was signed by Hungary's Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csaiky and, for the original signers, by German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and Saburo Kurusu, Japanese ambassador to Germany.

There was no intimation from any sources how soon any military operations might follow these new diplomatic strides toward the Balkans, but scarcely an observer doubted such a step would be taken.

In an original agreement, Germany, Italy and Japan bound themselves "to assist one another with all political, economic and military resources when one of the three contracting powers is attacked by a power not at present involved in the European war or in the Chinese-Japanese conflict."

(Since then, Italy has invaded Greece, contending the Greeks had aided actively with Britain by permitting her use of bases on Greek soil.)

Besides the Fuehrer, German leaders in Vienna when Hungary was enrolled in the expanding axis front included Field Marshal General Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command; Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey who had been presumed to be on his way to Ankara; and Hitler's military adjutants.

The brief protocol merely admitted Hungary to the partnership and stipulated she would be called in for conferences on questions touching her interests.

It was the second time that Hungary had linked herself recently with a Rome-Berlin-Tokyo agreement. The first was when she joined the anti-comintern pact Feb. 24, 1939.

By joining up, Hungary became a party to what has been regarded in the United States as an attempt to check American aid for Great Britain.

Since no European power save Soviet Russia ever could think of attacking the totalitarian triumvirate—a combine of 250,000,000 people—and specific reservations were made concerning Russia, the United States is the only power envisaged by the pledge of mutual assistance. It was said here.

Russia and Germany are bound by a 10-year pledge of non-aggression.

That Hungary, indebted to Germany for getting her northern Transylvania back from Rumania, became a treaty partner was no great surprise since long had been considered in full harmony with the German Nazi rule.

Hitler said construction would begin when the airport site was cleared.

Pro Election Stirs Interest

Hockley County Wet Or Dry?

AUSTIN, Nov. 20. (AP)—Item for historians and liquor dealers: As far as the state court of criminal appeals is concerned, and it's just about the highest authority in this instance, the status of Hockley county as dry or wet is unknown.

Hockley county was once a part of Bexar county. The court records also show it was later attached to Lubbock county which, in May, 1910, held an election and decided to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors.

In case at hand the state contended the election included Hockley county but the court ruled Lubbock county could hold an election without affecting any territory attached to it for judicial purposes.

"There is no proof by which we may know whether the citizens of Hockley county participated in the election," the court said, adding "we express no opinion."

Therefore, the tribunal reversed and ordered prosecution dismissed in the case of Norman Green, convicted of unlawfully transporting liquor in Hockley county and fined $100.

"Railway yards and junctions at Bremen, Berlin and Aurich and the inland port of Duisburg-Ruhrort were also bombed."

"Coastal command aircraft attacked the naval base at Lorient and the harbor of Barfleur, Normandy."

"From these operations three of our aircraft are missing."

Slow in stirring the electorate, the impending local option election apparently had swung into full stride Wednesday as absentee voting jumped ahead and wets and dries quickened their campaign.

Preparing for any eventuality, several persons applied at the Texas Liquor Control board district offices here for application blanks for medicinal liquor permits Tuesday and Wednesday.

No applications of this type have been received, said Billy McElroy, district supervisor, since three days' publication of intentions is required. Those who would be eligible would need to have to be drug stores with pharmaceutical departments. If any are filed, said McElroy, then examination would be made by the district staff and protests filed if deemed advisable.

Meanwhile, absent voters voting his a break once with only a matter of hours remaining until deadline time Wednesday evening. At noon Wednesday there had been 94 absentee ballots cast, and they were still coming in at a good rate. The total may reach 125 or more before the end of the day.

Dries, carrying on a determined campaign in Big Spring, also were getting out into the rural sections with allies at various communities. The rural section, with one or two exceptions, is generally bone dry in local option elections.

There will be no restrictions on closing for the election on the part of beer and liquor dispensaries, McElroy said, since the closing law on election day only applies to primaries of general elections.

Guard Unit To Train First At Santa Anna

Big Spring's National Guard anti-tank company will leave here Monday, November 25, for anti-aircraft training at Santa Anna instead of at Sweetwater as was previously arranged. After the breaking-in process, the unit will go into permanent quarters at Brownwood for one year service under arms, Capt. Barton Clay, commanding officer of the unit announced Tuesday.

Between 70 and 80 men had joined the company by Tuesday Capt. Clay said. This number is expected to be increased by the time the unit leaves Big Spring and additional men will be added at Brownwood in order to bring the ranks to active strength. In order to maintain a National Guard unit in Big Spring after this company has completed a year's service, 128 men must belong, Capt. Clay explained.

Men will be given credit for a year's active duty in the National Guard under the selective service program, thus giving them a chance to fulfill training requirements with Big Spring men.

Colonel Carl Caphton, 142nd Infantry, U. S. A., met with National Guard members Tuesday. He outlined the 142nd's part in the World War as a branch of the 36th Division, and gave a brief resume of the local company's work in the future.

Capt. Clay's company has recruited men from Stanton, Ackerly, Sterling City and Lamora, although the bulk of enlistments are from Big Spring.

No definite arrangements have been made for transportation to Santa Anna, but Capt. Clay said the American Business club was handling this phase of the work.

ANT-LAIRCRAFT KEPT BUSY AT GIBRALTAR

ALGECIRAS, Spain, Nov. 20 (AP)—Anti-aircraft batteries at Gibraltar and on ships in the harbor blasted away for 25 minutes today while "enemy" planes, apparently low in number, circled over the fortress rock at noon. The planes were away without bombing.

Plans for extensive development of the municipal airport will go to the Fort Worth regional CAB office Wednesday evening for examination before forwarding them to Washington for final action.

E. V. Spence, city manager, said

AUSTIN, Nov. 20 (AP)—Frontal approval has been given for construction by National Youth Administration labor of an airport administration building at Big Spring. J. C. Keenan, state administrator, announced today.

Keenan said construction would begin when the airport site was cleared.

Wednesday morning on his return from a conference with Capt. H. M. Smith, CAB airport engineer at Fort Worth, that he felt that plans were virtually assured of approval at Fort Worth.

Ultimately, under drafted plans, the port would be expanded to include a mass of parallel runways, minimum length of any one to be 5,460 feet. Spence said that each of the proposed runways would exceed minimum demands.

On current work at the port, refinements are being made to re-evaluate base material to care for

Farmers Watch Skies -- Hog-Killing Time Is Here Again

West Texas farmers are eyeing the skies these days in anticipation of a period of cold clear weather something like that which visited the state last week. A cold snap, with no moisture, is needed in order for rural folks to get started on one of autumn's favorite sports--hog killing. In these parts the hog harvest is still carried out under old-fashioned conditions. Proceeding the

Year-Old Baby Joins Red Cross Second Time

Priscilla Pond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pond, has not been on this planet much more than a year. But already her contribution for two-years work in the alleviation of suffering has been made. She has joined the American Red Cross for a second year.

Born last year the day the Red Cross drive started, Priscilla became a member of the organization before she was a year old. For supper there is a mess of spare-ribs; and next day there is a greasy session over the lard-rendering pot and sausage mill, along with the dressing down of the hams, shoulders and bacon.

Local sources report little hog-killing underway as yet in the Big Spring area. The good weather last week slipped up and got away before too much was done, and this week's atmosphere has been too warm and too damp. A local slaughterhouse that has replaced the old back-yard and barrel and single-tree system for many farmers, reported less than a dozen pigs butchered last week and none thus far this week.

In many West Texas towns, hog-killing has gone modernistic and the above described process has followed the horse-and-buggy down the road to antiquity. The change has been brought about by modern abattoirs and frozen food locker plants.

At Lubbock, Plainview, Loraine, Abilene, San Angelo and many other towns, frozen food lockers may be rented for storing of the winter supply of meat. Under such conditions, a hog may be butchered most any kind of day and taken to the locker plant for a quick chilling in a below-zero-temperature vault and storage in cold lockers. In many places, including Big Spring, well equipped and sanitary abattoirs, both private and public, will kill, scrape, clean and properly cut hogs for a dollar or so each.

Whatever the system, the neighbors are still likely to get a mess of spare-ribs or liver. You can take the hog to the city for killing but you can't take fresh pork eating away from the country folks.

War Purchases Boost Exports

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—America's favorable foreign trade balance reached almost $1,400,000,000 for the first year of the European war—the highest peak since 1921—but commerce department analysts evinced little satisfaction today over the record.

"Our export trade is becoming more and more a war of artificial trade," said Louis Domeratzky, chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce division of regional information.

He was commenting in an interview on the fact that the United States shipped more than $4,000,000,000 worth of goods abroad in the 12 months ending September 1. This was a gain of 37 per cent over the previous corresponding period and compared with the 22 per cent increase during the World war year of 1914-15.

Imports for the first year of the current conflict were valued at $2,600,000,000, a gain of 23 per cent over the preceding year, compared with a loss of 13 per cent in the first World war year. Domeratzky explained that a month-to-month analysis showed the spread of war had progressively restricted normal exports to continental Europe until today it is a mere trickle.

CCC Enrolls Men For Call In January

Applications for January enrollment in the CCC are now being received at the county welfare office and throughout the 10-county Big Spring district, Marjorie Whitaker, district supervisor for the department of public welfare, said today.

Good citizenship is stressed and boys are returned home with a greater understanding of their responsibilities, trained to work, healthy and ambitious as a result of their CCC experience, said Miss Whitaker in explaining that each county welfare agency has the responsibility to carefully select only the very best available boys. "Boys with anti-social ideas are not desired as members of the CCC," she added.

She pointed to advantages of outdoor training, of contributions in national preparedness, and of the CCC educational program carried on in 1,500 camps. The current program provides for 300,000 boys and during progress of the CCC over 2,750,000 have been trained. The Texas figure since 1933 is 125,000 boys who returned their families more than $40,000,000 out of their remuneration.

How Winter OIL-PLATING maintains needed lubricant in advance — for Safe Quick Starts

The "basement" of your engine is the oil reservoir. The "attic" is far up the cylinders. The passage-way in between is about as wide as a whisker. When you're hoping to start you can wait for some cold oil below to shove up and crowd through, or by changing to Conoco Germ Processed oil you can automatically give your engine OIL-PLATING — lubricant that knows no waiting!

Before a moving part moves, OIL-PLATING is high "in the attic" already, because OIL-PLATING stays there through all the hours or days you'll park. It's got to — much as if it were magnetized all over your engine's insides. That's the wondrous effect of the extra "energizer" included in the patented Germ Processed formula — at no extra cost to you. Keeping even the upright parts OIL-PLATED lastingly, your Germ Processed oil keeps them ready for easy motion... ready in advance to ease out the worst old grind of cold oil-starved starting.

Ted Lyons To Be Honored By Baylor

WACO, Nov. 20 (AP)—Baylor university Saturday honors its most famous athlete, Ted Lyons, who as a gangling youngster with a fighting heart and plenty on the ball, jumped from campus to big leagues to become one of the greatest pitchers of all time.

It was 15 years ago that Lyons, who had just finished hurling Baylor to its first and only Southwest conference championship, signed a contract with the Chicago White Sox.

His coach, Frank Bridges, was responsible for Lyons getting the chance.

One of the few college players who ever went direct to the majors and made good, Lyons will be publicly acclaimed between halves of the Baylor-Southern Methodist university football game, at which time he will receive a gold plaque.

Carson's Kin Scalped

CONEJOS, Colo. (AP)—Kit Carson, III, grandson of the famed Indian scout, failed to win his first political race. He ran for Conejos county commissioner but was defeated by Juan Medina by more than 500 votes.

Bill Tate is certainly what we call a strong Steer backer. He's not worrying about Sweetwater or Abilene, he says, and is only slightly interested in what Austin of El Paso might have to offer—Amarillo's effect on Big Spring's Herd is his bugaboo. According to this optimistic fan, if Big Spring can stop Amarillo's powerhouse, its the gravy train special for the local gridlers. Boy that's what we call wishful waiting—or something. And Pat Murphy's got his wind up about Sweetwater.

Here's a new kind of guessing game. L. C. Ellis has a mighty poor opinion of one of his friends' ability to predict a winning team. For the last six weeks this hopeful picker has been making one choice out of 84 football teams in the nation every Saturday and has yet to select one correctly—so help us.

The Steers' mentor, Pat Murphy, had a film made of the San Angelo-Big Spring game Monday before last. Now he is in something of a dither. It seems that a winning team does not necessarily look like one when put on a cold, non-flattering screen. This business of taking pictures of a game ought to be a boon to coaches. Instead of being called upon to explain what was done wrong in a game, they can now put it right before the boys' eyes. Besides, a good picture of the game and a rousing Donald Duck comedy would put something different in the usual workout.

Unchanged Crew Of Steers Face Ponies

Big Spring's starting lineup of Steer footballers in the Herd-Mustang engagement at Sweetwater Thursday afternoon will be the same as that used against San Angelo on Armistice Day, Coach Pat Murphy said Tuesday. Tabor Rowe, first-string quarterback who has been out of action since the contest with Plainview a couple of weeks ago will not be in shape for the tilt, but the vacancy will be filled by Horace Bostick. Bostick had been taking care of halfback chores up to the game with San Angelo, when he was transferred.

Looking 'em Over

With Jack Douglas

Except for that one change, the Herd's ranks will be similar to the string maintained throughout the season.

As demonstrated by a moving picture of the Big Spring-San Angelo duel, the Steers are not up to par in the blocking department. The passing attack has been a bit on the uncertain side during this year's jousts and is not yet up to a standard that could allow Big Spring to be considered a threat by the overhauled team.

Big Spring is slated to hold an advantage in regard to power tactics and will probably depend largely on this style of play to move one step closer to the district title.

So far this week, Murphy has been putting his lads through comparatively easy paces, explaining that he figured they would become stale if called upon to extend themselves too much at this time. Ground-work and brushing-up appears to be the order of the day in the Steer camp.

Although Big Spring is favored to move into winners' row Thanksgiving Day and a victory by Sweetwater would be a decided upset, the Herd could easily be thrown for a loss because of a degree of raggedness that was evident during the fracas with San Angelo's Bobcats. But, the Big Springers have, thus far in the district race, shown an ability to overcome what they lack in polish by riding roughshod over the opposition when there is a demand for jarring play.

With an unbreakable line, at least one that has not been cracked by conference foes this year, and a backfield sparked by Pete Peggley, weaving and bobbing fullback, Big Spring will carry a decided edge over a Pony crew that has shown moments of greatness in a general picture of so-so playing.

Both teams are considered to be lacking somewhat in fire by opponents already met, but, since this is a scrap that might decide whether or not Big Spring will cop the long-awaited district title, the clubs should turn in an exhibition that will reach tops in knockdown and drag-out brawling.

A record-breaking crowd is expected for the West Texas Thanksgiving Day show. Ticket sales are moving at a fast pace, indicating that the game is considered a decisive one, although a circuit leader is matched with a third-place aggregation.

All-district 12 six-men footballers were selected at a meeting of coaches of each school in the conference here Tuesday night at the Settles hotel. Each coach voted on his choice of a first and second-string lineup.

Player	Position	School
R. Abernathy	LE	Sterling City
B. Daugherty	RE	Garner
J. R. Smith	RM	Forsan
Earl Baker	RB	Garden City
Frank Oglesby	B	Westbrook
Sonny Chapman	B	Garner

Player	Position	School
O. D. Kite	LE	Westbrook
Rufus Jackson	RE	Westbrook
Ellis Daves	RC	Garden City
Kenneth Tonn	B	Forsan
Darwood Conway	B	Coahoma
Wayne Johnston	B	Coahoma
Jones	B	Water Valley

Others given honorable mention were as follows: Forsan's Craig, center; Alsop, Cox (Garden City), Kelly (Courtney), Merrill (Water Valley), Mitchell (Sterling City), Lambert (Westbrook) and J. W. Graham (Courtney), backs.

Oglesby and Smith were the only two candidates for district honors who received the unanimous vote of the coaches present, seven in all. For the rest of the balloting, Daugherty received the nod by six votes, Abernathy was chosen by five, Baker was selected by four, and M. Graham and Chapman received three votes each. Seven men were placed on the top-ranking list because of a tie vote for Graham and Chapman. The same applied to Johnston and Tonn on the second team.

In addition to the poll on all-district players, the executive committee for the district officially designated Westbrook 1940 champions of the league.

The group arranged a basketball league for the coming season of members in the football loop, with the exception of Water Valley and the addition of Stanton. Two divisions, north and south, were organized with Courtney, Garner, Coahoma and Westbrook in the northern group and Sterling City, Forsan Stanton and Garden City in the southern.

N. P. Taylor of Garden City and chairman of the executive committee, and coaches T. J. Turner of Garner, Herschel Wheeler of Garden City, Herman Parsons of Westbrook, Cagle Hunt of Forsan, Townsend of Coahoma, and Superintendent O. T. Jones of Sterling City represented their schools at the parley. Water Valley and Courtney coaches were not present.

30 Contestants To Emerge From Schoolboy Tilts

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

A maximum of 30 teams will remain in the battle for the Texas schoolboy football championship when the firing ceases on this, the semi-final week in the struggle for district titles.

At least four pennants will have been determined. Two of them already have been called down, Greenville coming through in District 6 and Jeff Davis in the Houston district.

The maximum of 30 teams is arrived at by process of figuring in the running any club retaining a mathematical chance until every doubt has been removed.

The four pennants that will have been decided involve districts in which champions already have been crowned or where the schedule will be finished with the issue to be definitely settled this week and no chance existing for a tie. Four other districts can determine champions unless there are starting reversals.

The week-end gets off to a rousing start tomorrow with the Amarillo-Lubbock joust at Lubbock—a game termed "the first battle for the state title"—and the clash of two southern powers, Corpus Christi and Robstown.

Lubbock, the defending champion, meets what many consider the greatest test in the drive toward the finals in Amarillo's mighty Sandies, who have blown through the opposition at will this season.

Corpus Christi, unbeaten and undefeated in the doldrums, is untried and untried but it clashes with a veteran team given a fine chance to crush its way into the quarter-finals, should it take out the Buccaneers.

Robstown and Corpus Christi will be battling for the north zone championship of district 16, the winner to meet the south zone titlist next week.

Harlingen, unbeaten and untied, tops the south zone. It has only to remove Brownsville Friday to gain a clear claim to a play-off berth.

The championship goes on the at El Paso Saturday when El Paso High plays Austin (El Paso) to decide the district 4 representative in the opening round of state play.

The district 8 race also ends this Saturday with Woodrow Wilson leading by a half game, meeting Sunset, another Dallas team. A tie would give Woodrow the title.

Masonic Home's mighty mites can sew up their sixth district championship in nine years by beating Poly tomorrow. Defeat for the unscathed on Maasoms would throw the Fort Worth race into a triple tie between Poly, Maasole Home and Arlington Heights.

Stephenville is in much the same position in district 9 where the Yellow Jackets play second-place Brownwood. The latter can tie for the title with a victory.

Temple must defeat Waco Friday or be tied for district 10 honors, provided Corsicana and Waxahachie come through over Cleburne and Hillboro respectively.

Kilgore must defeat Tyler in district 11 tomorrow or be pitched out of the race, except that a tie would throw Kilgore into a deadlock for the top with Longview, if the Lobos win over Marshall.

Other districts remain in status quo, pending results of next week's games—that is barring sensational upsets.

DEATH WAS THE UNINVITED GUEST

Sally's week end party in her beautiful, but lonely, old Southern house started out as the quiet celebration of an engagement. It might have continued quiet if Aunt Maggie had not crashed the party, and Eve had not dropped in to look over the man she had lost. But Aunt Maggie was killed, and Eve stirred up many old flames, and death and jealousy made an eerie madhouse out of a good time—

YOU, TOO, WILL WONDER . . .

Who Killed Aunt Maggie?

Civil Service Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Ramspeck bill permitting the president to bring about 200,000 more federal employes under civil service was sent to the White House today with congressional approval.

After many delays, the senate and the house completed action yesterday by accepting a compromise draft written by a joint committee. The house, which rejected an earlier compromise a month ago, voted 206 to 139 for the revised measure. The senate did not take a roll call.

Under the bill, the president could give civil service status to workers in more than a score of independent government agencies, most of which have grown up under the new deal. Among them are the R.F.C., P.W.A., C.C.C., A.A.A., N.Y.A. and H.O.L.C.

The employes would have to pass noncompetitive examinations and meet physical requirements.

Jarrin' John Stokes Boilers For Last Run

By FELIX B. MCKNIGHT COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 20 (AP)—Old No. 39 has one more official "run" to make.

On Thanksgiving Day (the old fashioned one, Nov. 28) the big express—John Alec Kimbrough, throttle man and all-America full-back of the Texas Aggies—rattled the rails for the last time in Southwest conference play.

Big Jawn leads this Aggies against University of Texas at Austin in a game that means everything—second successive Southwest conference title, possible Rose Bowl bid, second straight unbeaten season, twelfth consecutive triumph, and first victory over an old Texas foe in Austin since 1922.

Near the showdown, Kimbrough, the 222-pound Haskell hurricane who rates as the most devastating individual in conference history, is stoking the boilers to record heat for this one.

The big man, a hulking giant who has been floored only once in three years play, will be shutting down an amazing career. Really, it has lasted only two years, for he didn't blossom until late in his sophomore year.

Statisticians who dug around for the football biography of this handsome, 22-year-old West Texan who holds a Cadet captaincy at A. & M. and is thinking more of regular duty in the army upon graduation than service as a professional footballer at a fabulous salary, came up with figures that make the ordinary man shudder.

In 26 varsity football games, 19 of them the past two seasons and only spotted service in the other seven, this man has carried the ball 377 times.

By his famed butting, diving, plunging and shouldering, he has gained 1,523 yards—for an average of 4.21 yards per carry.

Furthermore, he has scored 23 touchdowns for 138 points, twice leading the Southwest conference point makers.

Essentially a line ripper, but feared for his speed that shakes him loose around the ends—as witness his incredible show in the Sugar Bowl last New Year's Day—Jarrin' Jawn has gotten downfield to get under 25 passes for 205 yards—or 8.20 yards average.

Only the 1939 and '40 records are available for his pass interceptions, but in two seasons he has stolen 11 for 192 yards in returns—or an average of 17.46 yards. Also, he has brought back five punts for 128 yards, or 25.6 yards per return. Six kickoffs have sailed to him, for an average runback of 29.84 yards.

Flax grows wild in western Asia.

Zale Batters Down Freddie Apostoli

SEATTLE, Nov. 20 (AP)—The "A and Z" boys, Freddie Apostoli and Tony Zale, ran the flistic gamut from A to Z in a crowd-pleasing half-raiser last night in which Zale scored three knock-downs and took a 10-round decision before a near-capacity house.

It was a non-title affair, with Zale's N. B. A. middleweight championship not at stake. Zale weighed 161 1/2; Apostoli 164 1/2.

Those who came to see whether Apostoli, one-time New York-California middleweight champion, was washed up, saw a grand battle by the San Francisco Italian although he took quite a lacing.

Freddie took an early lead, lost out in the middle rounds, came back to take the ninth and was winning the last round until Zale floored him seven seconds before the final bell.

Indianapolis Hires Wade Killifer Again

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 20 (AP)—Wade (Red) Killifer, who piloted the Indianapolis American association club from 1933 to 1937, will be back in the Indians' managerial post next season.

His appointment was announced last night coincident with the recall of Manager Jewel Ems to be head coach of the Cincinnati Reds. National league and world champions.

Short Funds Tie Up Rodeo At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Nov. 20 (AP)—The all-American rodeo was at a standstill today while cowboys who came here to compete awaited efforts of the management to raise funds guaranteeing prizes the rest of the week.

The cowboys refused to go on last night when they were told money for the second day pay-off was not available.

The cowboy ultimatum was delivered yesterday by Tom Hogan, the Tulsa, Okla., bulldogger who serves as representative of the Cowboy Turtles' association at the show lines.

T. E. Robertson of Mountain Home, Ark., the rodeo producer, was still hopeful of a settlement with the cowboys until show time last night.

When the show time came, the audience sat in the Will Rogers Memorial coliseum for an hour while Robertson pleaded with the cowboys to put on "a free show."

Finally at 9:15, the horse show classes were put on and at 9:30 the announcer broke in with the statement that there would be "no rodeo tonight, but there positively will be tomorrow night and every night through Sunday."

Editorial

What can Texas actually afford in the way of new state taxes? Discussing that question, the tax letter of the East Texas chamber of commerce first has something to say on the matter of paying for the defense program: "How foolishly we talk about getting 'free money' from Washington. How ignorant we are by assuming that what Washington spends in some miraculous way doesn't cost us anything. How stupid are those who say that only the rich pay federal taxes. The small independent Texas trucker-merchant with incredible toll ekes out an existence for his family and himself. He bears a proportionately heavier federal tax load than the wealthy families of the state. It is he and millions like him in the middle and low income brackets who must pay for the big end of national defense. It is they who have paid for the big end of our recovery and relief program. Suppose we put off pay day and meet our whirlwind spending with a moderate increase in federal taxes. Then we shall run up our national debt far above the present astronomical figure of $44,000,000,000. A national debt of at least $75,000,000,000 with seven years is expected by more gloomy prophets. Carrying charges on such a mountain range of debt at but 2 per cent would be $1,500,000,000 a year." The East Texas chamber goes ahead to point out that at the coming session of the Texas legislature there will be numerous proposals for increased state expenditures, and comments: "What Texas can afford in the next legislature should be considered in the light of (1) the necessity for enormous expenditures on the part of Texas people for national defense; (2) increases in State of Texas expenditures from $84,000,000 in fiscal 1929 to $164,300,000 in fiscal 1939; (3) income for the people of Texas at approximately $2,500,000,000 as compared with $2,520,000,000 actual in 1929, although Texas population increased 10.2 per cent from 1930 to 1940." Those are important facts. They certainly ought to be given the most careful consideration by those who are advocating a heavy increase in the state tax burden now borne by the people of Texas. It has become fundamental patriotism to hold down to the lowest possible point the total tax load of the people. That means economies must be effected in the conduct of state and local governments.

Can We Afford New Taxes? with Roosevelt's old campaign song: Wendell L. Willkie. Musician's Dilemma Note: The department of commerce has just added two more to its rapidly growing list of problems created by our war-disjointed trade. The imports of harmonicas and accordions have struck a decidedly sour note. It seems that before the war most of our "mouth harps" came from Germany. In an eight-month period since the war started, harmonica imports dropped from 5,611,348 to 1,953,480. BUT, of those pre-war imports, 5,100,138 harmonicas came from Germany, while since, we have received only 228,183. Most of the difference was made up by tripling our imports from Japan to 1,600,000 and getting another 100,000 from China and Switzerland. The accordion and concertina business wasn't so bad for a while, but it's getting rapidly worse. Imports of piano accordions with less than 120 bass keys dropped 85 per cent in the period reviewed to 8,306—but Italy supplied more than 7,000 of these. Italy also supplied more than 11,000 of the 12,000 accordions with more than 120 bass keys which were imported in the eight-month period. That was before Italy was in the war. It begins to look as if there is a good opening in the harmonica and accordion business over here. Modernization-of-Laws Note: The statute books of the United States carry laws forbidding either the photographic reproduction of coins or stamps, except in the case, respectively, of numismatic (coin) and philatelic (stamp) journals. In order to publicize their wares properly the treasury department, on the one hand, and the postoffice department on the other ruled that all newspapers are numismatic and philatelic journals.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Note on Oriental hygiene: According to word received here, the Japanese government has altered its rules and regulations and the people hereafter will be allowed only one cotton towel a year instead of one every three years, as previously. The new regulations, it is reported, came as the result of widespread complaint. When the one-every-three-years rule was invoked, the Japanese, at their daily ablutions, had to use "ersatz" towels. The cotton was needed for war materials. This might have been all right had not the towels had a way of dissolving into moist nothingness. Hence the complaints and hence the new ruling and a permit for each Japanese to have one cotton towel a year. Now-it-can-be-told Note: An absentee-voter friend from California tells us that the presidential election ballots of that state are printed under specifications of law, the candidates names appearing in alphabetical order just under the name of the party. California's national ballot for the recent election, he says, ran like this: Prohibition—Roger W. Babson; Communist—Earl Browder; Progressive—Norman Thomas; Democratic—Franklin D. Roosevelt; and Townsend-Republican—Wendell L. Willkie. Ditto Note: At one midwestern city where the Willkie train stopped, two prankish newspaper men climbed on a truck with the five-piece brass band that was supposed to provide incidental music for the speech-making. After a lot of preliminary, gracious insinuation, the jokesters prevailed upon the band to play a request number. The timing was perfect. Just as Mr. Willkie made his appearance, the band blared for the request, "Happy Days Are Here Again." Man who laughed heartiest at being introduced

Man About Manhattan

Hollywood Sights And Sounds By Robbin Coons HOLLYWOOD—"ESCAPE" Screenplay by Arch Oboler and Marguerite Roberts from the Ethel Vance novel. Directed by Mervyn LeRoy. Principals: Norma Shearer, Robert Taylor, Conrad Veidt, Nazimova, Felix Bressart, Albert Basserman, Philip Dorn, Bonita Granville. Here is effective use of Germany as setting for a film adventure capitalizing both on suspense and on psychological quirks of human minds dominated by the Nazi system. Emma Ritter, once famous actress (Nazimova), is a concentration camp prisoner. From America comes her son Mark Preysing (Taylor) to find her. Hurling himself against official blank walls of secrecy, and confronted at all turns by the fear of ordinary citizens to whom he appeals, he meets Countess Von Treck (Shearer). She is an American-born widow who listens sympathetically but maintains a selfish silence. Not from her, but from a young Nazi doctor (Dorn) he receives information that aids him on a daring rescue mission. When he succeeds against ever-mounting odds, the Countess again is forced to decide whether to help at her own risk or to turn against him. This time she does the human thing. She hides the fugitives in her castle where the Nazi general (Veidt) is a frequent caller. In the end, in love with Mark, she defies the general in order to cover the final escape. Here are interesting characters, although Mark often seems a trifle slow at "catching on," and Emma Ritter does little but suffer. Veidt's general is a keenly etched study, and newcomer Dorn, as the doctor with a spark of conscience, is arresting. Shearer and Taylor, too, hit some high spots. The background, sinister and ever threatening, is pictured with a minimum of physical brutality. "The Mark of Zorro." Screenplay by John Taintor Foote. Directed by Rouben Mamoulian. Principals: Tyrone Power, Linda Darnell, Basil Rathbone, Gale Sondergaard, Eugene Pallette, J. Edward Bromberg, Montagu Love, Janet Beecher. In old Spanish Los Angeles, dashing Diego arrives from Madrid to learn his father has been ousted as alcalde and the peons and caballeros are being oppressed by the successor. So you know what he does, don't you? He pretends to be an idle fop, to his vigorous old father's shame, but at night gallops about the countryside in cloak and mask and plays Robin Hood. He's an agile, dextrous fellow, this oppression-hating Zorro, and Tyrone does well by him. Darnell gets prettier, and Pallette as the padre hauls in the laughs. There's good chase stuff, with Ty not quite as acrobatic as the late Doug Fairbanks in the same role, but very good indeed in a spectacular duel with Rathbone.

The Herald's Serial Story

Chapter 15 THE LIAISON WARRIOR Lynn stared at him. "The Prince still rules!" He bowed. "Long live the Prince." "Then I have stepped into a trap," she said slowly to Temu. "There is no trap." "You let yourself be bound and held prisoner to deceive me there in the gorge." "No to deceive you, Lynn." His voice was troubled. "How can I explain? It seemed important to you to enter Dahun of your own free will. I wished to give you that—privilege." She stood there looking at him helplessly, awed and overcome before such colossal singleness of purpose, and wondering if, perhaps, she had been wrong in resisting this thing that obsessed him so completely. His voice dropped to an inexpressibly tender tone. "I wished to show in the only way permissible, my love for you." At his words, a strange thing happened to Lynn. A light seemed to shine from within her, illuminating both her mind and her surroundings as if she had come into a new and unexplored world of human experience. She lifted her face in enchantment, feeling that sense of utter abandon which is liberation. At that moment, if never before, she knew what it was to be a goddess incarnate. "You win, Temu, I surrender. I don't understand—but this thing is too much for me. Your wish is my wish, your loyalty, my loyalty. Lead me to your Prince." He had drawn closer to her, his eyes luminous. She wished he would take her hands and hold them tight. He did so, his own hands trembling. She felt the restraint he clamped down on himself to keep from taking her into his arms. It was a moment before he could speak and then he said: "Lynn dear, this thing is bigger than either of us." He lifted her hands and kissed the palms, first one and then the other. She stared at them perplexedly. "Temu! such an odd pain running through my hands!" She paused. "And through my heart! What does it mean?" "You are ready to meet the Prince?" "I am ready," she agreed. He hesitated. "There is something else to tell you, Lynn. You have gone through part of the Chinese wedding ceremony. You have presented the apple, symbol of peace. You have passed the orchid door. But unless you join in the cup ceremony the marriage will not be completed. The choice is yours. The Prince is waiting. Come with me." He turned and opened a door and she preceded him. Time had

The Road To Shani Lun

After a moment Lynn laughed softly. "The gay old deceiver! He even invited me to be his mother in his next incarnation." They entered a large sun room in one of the towers of the palace. Lynn paused and gazed about her. "It looks familiar," she said wonderingly. "As if I'd been here before. Is it the replica of some famous room I might have visited?" "There is no other room like it." She walked across to one of the great, wide windows. He followed and stood at her shoulder. Lynn caught her breath. "My Shani Lun tree!" She awayed a bit and he slipped an arm around her. "Temu," she accused, "I told you my dream and you set the stage." "The tower was here and the tree was here, I assure you, Lynn. Can't it seem possible to you—that, somehow, we have stood here before?" "No," said Temu, "he did not die on the desert. That ceremony was his way of escaping from your brother. Chin Pak helped him carry it out."

"To Lynn with love," he said, placing the ring on her finger. It had been cut to fit. Her eyes met his, swelling tenderly. "My motto has been fulfilled," she said. "Three joyous reasons—you, me, the ring." They turned once more to the trees, giving themselves to the spell of its beauty and promise, the past and future made present. Temu pressed a bell and an attendant appeared carrying the golden chalice of the wedding ceremony. Twin cups tied together by a red and yellow ribbon, filled with rice wine of good fortune and happiness. Without untying the ribbon or spilling the contents, they exchanged cups according to the ancient ritual and drank to each other the pledge of love, having come to the end of the desert road to Shani Lun. The End.

NAZI CHRISTIAN INTERPRETATION IS REFUTED

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 20. (AP)—The Vatican radio has contradicted a Spanish newspaper article which, it said, attributed Christian principles to German national socialism. The Vatican broadcaster said yesterday the newspaper Alcazar referred to nazism as a religious movement of Christian character. "Firstly, this statement manifestly contradicts the bulk of nazil literature which, during the past eight years, with unparalleled power and ingenuity, has attacked religion and the Catholic church," the broadcaster asserted.

It has been estimated 9,000 earthquakes occur annually.

High School To Publish Annual
Despite talk of dropping publication of El Rodeo, the Big Spring high school yearbook, Wayne Matthews, sponsor and advisor for the annual, has worked out a plan whereby students will get their books a dollar cheaper. Two pictures, a portrait and a snapshot will be made for every teacher and student in school at no cost to them, students will be allowed to pay for their annuals in ten, twenty-five of fifty cent payments. Instead of the usual 128 page book the 1940 El Rodeo will contain 152 pages for $2.50 rather than the former price $3.50. Matthews explained that mass production made it possible for students to get the book and 350 copies have already been sold.

French Wounded Returned Home
GENEVA, Nov. 20. (AP)—On the scuffed plush seats of second-class railway coaches, a melancholy caravan of France's war-wounded passed through Geneva today, bound from German prison hospitals to their conquered homeland. There were 330 of them, the legless, the armless, the sightless and the sick, but they lifted a thin hail, "vive la France!" and again, "vive la Suisse!" as Swiss relief organizations fed and comforted them. There were tears in many an eye and some of the men wrecked by war stretched in silent wretchedness on the coach seats. It was the fifth trainload of wounded and sick French soldiers released by the Germans to be routed home through Switzerland in the care of the Red Cross and the Swiss army. Four thousand men now have returned to France but thousands more remain to be repatriated.

In 15 years experience as a peace officer, this never happened to Deputy Sheriff A. J. Merrick before. And it probably never happened before to Jim Sullivan, Big Spring attorney. Wednesday morning city police relayed a complaint to Merrick from a hotel to the effect a disturbance around the courthouse was keeping day sleepers awake. Merrick investigated. Sullivan was addressing a 70th district court jury in positive tones which carried across the street to the hotel.

Nine bucks were bagged by a party of six local men who returned from the Mason country early Wednesday morning. There were two six, two seven, two eight, a brace of five and one three point bucks in the hatch along with three wild gobblers. In the party were Sherman Smith, Tracy Roberts, C. H. Sanders, M. E. Broughton, Vernon Logan and Martelle McDonald.

E. E. Baker, Coahoma, doesn't know whether this will be a happy Thanksgiving or not. Thieves stole 36 turkey gobblers from him Tuesday night, according to information given the sheriff's department.

Carlos Ramon and Domingo Rosa found it does not pay to run over fire fighting equipment when blazes are going on. They paid $5 fines in corporate court Wednesday for hitting a plug at a filling station fire Tuesday evening.

Mrs. A. F. Hill, Big Spring, and G. H. Davis, Lanessa, were in minor collision near the Gregg street viaduct Tuesday evening. Neither was hurt but the cars were damaged.

William B. Byrd, held on a charge of theft by officers, is to be transferred to the sheriff's department for further action it was announced today. Byrd was held on a charge of taking a watch, which was later recovered by police.

City police Wednesday morning relayed a complaint from a downtown hotel concerning a loud-speaker that was disturbing day sleepers to Deputy Sheriff Andrew Merrick. The deputy investigated. It was discovered, two local attorneys, making their arguments before a 70th district court jury.

Hitch-hikers, first class, were noted on a street here this week. Motorists noticed a well-dressed man and a woman wearing a red-fox jacket complacently thumbing for a ride.

Ray Ogden gave a pep talk to the high school assembly Wednesday morning when a pep rally was held in the school gymnasium at 9:30 o'clock.

The five yell leaders led several yells and the band played school songs.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—C. West, vice-president of Continental Airlines, Inc., told the Civil Aeronautics Board today his line should be authorized to extend its service into Austin and Amarillo Tex., because it now serves a relatively sparsely populated area.

The Continental is one of four airlines seeking to serve South and West Texas cities.

Braniff Airways, Trans-Continental and Essair, Inc., have filed applications.

Continental wants to operate from Austin to Hobbs, N. M., and from Pueblo, Colo., to Amarillo. TWA seeks to fly from Amarillo to Houston and Abilene to Dallas. Essair desires to fly from Houston to Garden City, Kas., via Amarillo and from Austin to Lubbock.

Heavy Snowfall In New Mexico
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 20 (AP)—One of the heaviest November snowfalls on record blanketed northern and central New Mexico with three to six inches of snow today, made highways slippery and interrupted airline schedules.

The fall continued at mid-morning and reached 10 inches in Sandia Mountain Heights east of Albuquerque, bringing the first skiing snow of the season to mountain ski trails. The fall was three inches here.

Filling Station Damaged By Fire
Fire, originating from gas fumes ignited by an open stove, caused several hundred dollars damage at the Tucker Service Station on N. Gregg street, City Fire Marshal E. B. Bethell said today.

In some manner fumes from an underground gasoline storage escaped inside the station and became ignited by the gas stove. In turn butane storage tanks blew off and oil and anti-freeze compounds ignited to give the blaze headway. The initial explosion was heavy enough to jar out windows of the station, firemen said. The blaze happened Tuesday evening.

This Is The Life -- Despite Hard Work, Army Men Can Play

Don't get the idea, mothers, that letter writing must be done on the cold ground. There'll be tables and chairs. Writing will be encouraged.

This is the third of a series describing what the draftees will find in the army.

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The draft army is going to have three million dollars worth of fun during its year of training.

Close to that much has been allotted to the new morale division. No. 1 drawing card will be regular Hollywood movies at least three nights a week. There'll be big theater buildings in northern camps, tent "big tops" in the southern centers.

Second in importance will be athletics—the kind everybody gets in, and the spectator kind, too, stressing boxing matches. Next come a heavy accent on music—bands and concerts at the slightest excuse, plus camp song-fests led by vigorous song leaders, PLUS all the Hollywood big-name singers.

There'll be amateur dramatics some army publications, camp libraries, camera clubs, art materials and displays—all under the army's own supervision.

The day-in-and-day-out hang-out will be the service clubs, presided over by hostesses, with newspapers, books, checkers, dominos and pianos as secondary attractions. One assistant hostess will run the cafeteria, another will manage camp social events, obtain approved young ladies (not hot numbers nor wall flowers) for social events and occasional dances.

No Hedy Lamarrs need apply for hostess. Nor wet blankets, either. Nor elderly society ladies with purple dyed hair. For hostesses the army wants character first, not too much youth, approval by all strata of society in nearby cities or towns.

The men can go to nearby towns. There'll be a bus service, especially for church visits. Military police will be expected to cooperate with civil authorities and smash up camp following dives faster than they can mushroom.

And, Mom, P. S., if you think your son ought to be going to his church, write the camp chaplain of your denomination, or a pastor in a town near camp. They'll work on him. It won't be easy to go to church. And, P. S., there will be gobs of writing material sticking right under Sony's nose for letters home. And he'll be reminded to write.

Tomorrow: How the draft army will be fed.

heavier landing loads, possibly for craft up to 70 tons. This would indicate that perhaps much larger ships than any ever seen here might use the port.

Location of the terminal building would be shifted, but to what site depends on approval of plans by the CAB.

The project will go in as 11 units, first of which would call for another runway, and would be set up for approximately $100,000. The manager believed that work would be done by contract, possibly by the army. Recently Big Spring was designated by the war department as being important to national defense.

Work underway at the port includes paving of the east-west runway. However, plans have been altered to provide a thicker base, as will be the case for the northwest-southeast runway which also is included under the current program.

Spence said that plans would go in immediately so that Capt. Smith could act on them before he leaves his post this weekend for active duty with the army.

Under projected expansion, the port would be brought to four and would even exceed that maximum rating given by CAB. The city has agreed to cooperate by purchase of 250 to 300 additional acres of land for the field.

AAA CHECKS ARRIVE

Another batch of soil conservation payments were received here Wednesday by the county AAA office for distribution to farm producers and landlords. There were 119 checks in the group for $20,711.52, bringing the total checks from this source to 181 and $30,968.72.

A. D. Meador of Big Spring underwent tonsillectomy at Hall and Bennett Clinic Thursday morning.

Envoy Returned To Vichy Govt.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—Relations between the United States and France apparently entered a new phase today, coincident with increasing reports that Marshal Henri Petain was showing a disposition to go slow in collaborating with the axis powers.

First tangible sign of a possible change was the fact that Robert D. Murphy, a veteran of ten years diplomatic service in France before and during the war, was ordered back to Vichy to take up the duties of charge d'affaires. Murphy, formerly counselor at the Paris embassy, has been in this country for several months.

In sending Murphy back to Vichy at this time, it was indicated that the government felt it desirable to normalize relations to a greater extent.

MINISTERS TO TALK ON LIQUOR QUESTION

PAMPA, Nov. 20 (AP)—Methodist ministers of the Northwest Texas Conference will set aside next Sunday for sermons in their pulpits on the liquor question.

Plans will be made for funds to aid the United Drys in obtaining state legislation to halt the sale of intoxicants in dry counties through drug stores and to take out of service minors engaged as carhops at honkytonks.
