No trace could be found of the Miller's three children or their automobile, ranchers reported to Coroner McCann when he arrived for the bodies.

G. C. Daniels, chairman of the board and members from Cisco, J. A. Beard of Eastland, W. R. Ussery, Carbon, and W. E. Cooper, Rising Star, were the members present at the meeting.

W. P. Roach of Rising Star, who received the next highest vote for trustee for the county-at-large, was elected to that place by the board and accepted.
The board appointed the following trustees: Harve Vestal, H. D. Marshall and J. H. Marshall, Union Hill; C. L. Cantrell, Bullock, and W. J. Holt, Shady Grove.

Marshall stated that two or three other Ranger boys contemplate signing up for the course.

"No Curfew"

Sixty years ago Mrs. Rose Hartwick Thorpe, now of San Diego, Calif., took slate pencil in hand and wrote the famous poem, "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight." She was 16 then, and wrote that verse while supposed to be studying arithmetic, the poetess recalled recently on the poem's anniversary.

RUTH SNYDER MAY ESCAPE DEATH CHAIR

By United Press.
LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., May 10.—Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, convicted last night of first degree murder for which the sentence is death, has suffered two nervous attacks, which physicians said have a strong resemblance to epilepsy. Both occurred since the jury brought in the verdict which demanded the death penalty.
As a result there appeared a possibility that Mrs. Snyder's sentence might be delayed or she might be sent to the asylum.
The law will not permit execution of an insane person and should the attacks she has undergone prove to be epilepsy, it is possible she might be adjudged insane. Should she recover at any time, however, the sentence will be pronounced.

Ranger C. C. Makes Appropriation To Boys Club Fund

Ranger will not be represented at the West Texas chamber of commerce in Wichita Falls, this year at the annual meet, by a representative of the local organization, it was definitely decided at a meeting of the board of directors last night.
Twelve out of fifteen directors were present at this meeting, which is the first to be held since W. C. Hickey assumed the secretaryship of the commercial organization. The others were out of the city.
J. C. Patterson, county agent was present and talked on county work, especially that of the boys and girls clubs and the Ranger chamber of commerce voted to appropriate him the sum of $75, which added to similar amounts donated by the Eastland and Cisco chambers of commerce, will enable him to take care of various needs of these clubs for which no provision is made in the budget.
W. C. Hickey resigned as a director of the local chamber of commerce and it will be the duty of the city commission at its regular session this evening to pick out of a list of three names one man to fill the vacancy. Then the directorship of the body will be complete.
President John Ghelson presided over the meeting and a good bit of routine work was accomplished and projects for the future discussed.

ELECTRIC SIGN WILL POINT WAY TO WEST TEXAS

The way to West Texas will be set forth in an electric sign sixteen feet high and fifty feet long, which will be stationed at Metcalf Gap where the Bankhead highway is intersected by the highway from Breckenridge and Caddo, so that tourists coming from Fort Worth and reaching the point where the road has two forks, may know which route to take in order to reach West Texas and El Paso in the shortest length of time.
This huge sign is now being prepared by C. C. Caylor sign company of Ranger, and since it directs tourists through Strawn, Ranger, Eastland and Cisco, these four cities are putting it over.
Electricity will be furnished by a Delco plant, belonging to a man who owns a garage and home at the gap, and this will be the first electric sign on this branch of the highway to direct tourists by night, as well as by day.
The Ranger chamber of commerce voted $75 toward the sign at the meeting last night.
Breckenridge already has a sign up which tells tourists who do not have a road map, that via Metcalf gap, through Caddo, thence to Breckenridge is the shortest way to El Paso. There is no argument as to the most direct course and the big electric sign will tell it to hundreds of tourists who travel constantly through West Texas.

Man Loses Purse In February, Had It Returned in May

The unusual experience of losing a purse in February and finding it months later, was that of V. R. Wilson now of Ranger. On Feb. 28, of this year, Mr. Wilson was traveling through Ranger and lost a purse containing two diamonds and some gold pieces.
He was leaving Ranger, so when he wrote out an advertisement which he ran in the Ranger Times, he asked that anyone finding the purse return it to J. S. Ballew and receive reward. This was done by the finder, and today Mr. Wilson came back to Ranger, he was given his purse and its contents intact, as they had been in Mr. Ballew's possession since the advertisement appeared and was answered by the finder, months ago.

Burglars Enter Store at Carbon, Take $350 in Goods

Burglars entered Wilson's General Mercantile store at Carbon some time during last night, and made away with about $350 in merchandise, which included several suits of clothes, cigarettes, watches, etc.
Entrance was gained in a rather novel way, as the burglar or burglars, climbed a one-inch gas pipe that ran from the ground to a second story window and entered the second story through a hole cut into the window.
The burglars evidently took a knife, struck it through this hole and cut the string that held the window weights, so that the window fell in and they gained entrance. After taking their loot, they left by way of the back door of the building.

SAYS CANNOT TOLERATE BOOST IN TAXES

Insists on Adequate Appropriations For State Grade Schools

By United Press.
AUSTIN, May 10.—Gov. Moody reiterated in his message today, he expected the state of Texas to live upon its present income for the next two years. He made it plain he would not tolerate an increase in the tax rate.
The governor recommended the lawmakers make an adequate appropriation for the state grade schools even at the cost of skimping elsewhere.
Since an adequate income has been provided for the highway department through the gasoline tax bill passed by the regular session, Governor Moody declared, reorganization should be made within the department so that the money would not be wasted.

STORM KILLS 50 PERSONS IN MISSOURI

By United Press.
Sixty bodies have been recovered from the tornado twisted downtown districts of East Poplar Bluff today and authorities in charge of rescue work estimated the total death toll at 100.
It was estimated that 250 persons were injured, some seriously, all badly enough to require medical attention. School buildings and churches were serving as temporary hospitals.
Broadway, the principal street of Poplar Bluff, yesterday lined with neat brick buildings, today was a crazy tangle of wire, twisted timbers and fallen walls.
Here and there a building withstood the storm, but most of them were unroofed and partially fallen or completely wrecked.

DEDICATE MEMORIAL TO THOSE BURIED ON MOUNT OF OLIVES

By United Press.
JERUSALEM, May 10.—"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall inherit the Kingdom of Heaven." Nineteen hundred years ago these words were uttered by Christ in his sermon on the Mount of Olives.
Today, nearly ten years after leading the Christian cross into this city after 675 years of Moslem occupation, Lord Allenby, field marshal of the British army, unveiled the war memorial to his soldiers buried on the Mount of Olives.
The memorial is in the form of a chapel and the funds for building it were mainly subscribed by members of the Egyptian expeditionary force which was under Lord Allenby's command following the Palestine expedition.
Compared with the vast cemeteries throughout France, the Mount of Olives cemetery is small. Only 2,490 members of the British force are buried there, but each grave, marked with a little white cross, is a sacrifice given to Christendom's return to Jerusalem after 400 years of Turkish rule.
All day long thousands of Moslems, Jews, Druzes, Samaritans, Bahais and Hindus, who make up the odd million population of Palestine, passed among the graves, reading the names on the crosses, or inspecting the interior of the chapel. The graves were decorated with small British flags and many of them had flowers laid on the tops. Many flowers were ordered by telegraph by relatives in England or some of the British dominions in commemoration of the opening of the memorial.

FOUL WEATHER CONFRONTS SEARCHING PARTIES

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Rain, fog and clouds along much of the coast from Newfoundland to New York today confronted searchers for the Paris to New York plane, the weather bureau reported.
Light winds varying from east to southeast, instead of the strong cross winds reported yesterday gave hopes of calm sea, however.
Sydney, Nova Scotia, reported fair weather with a ten mile southeast wind. From Portland, Maine, to New York, rain was reported with thick fogs expected around Boston.

Eastland County Has Given Four Times Its Quota

Eastland county has sent more than $2,200 to the sufferers in the Mississippi river flood, with Ranger contributing in excess of $1,000.
The total amount raised in Ranger by voluntary offerings and turned in to Walter Murray, Ranger Red Cross chairman, is $670.30, with the Liberty theatre contributing as proceeds from the midnight show on May 1, $467.55 of this amount. In addition to this fund, an amount almost equal it has been sent in by fraternal organizations that do not let the right hand know what the left hand is doing when it comes to charity work.
Cisco, Eastland, Rising Star and Gorman have given a total of slightly more than $1,600, which amount is more than five times the original quota set for the entire county and nearly three times the revised quota of $600 made on a basis of $10,000 being needed.
Adding the amount that Ranger has added to the fund, makes the total amount contributed to date based on actual figures $2,270, with the amounts contributed by fraternal orders unknown, but which are understood to be large enough to make Eastland county's quota four times as large as the revised quota.
All this money has been transmitted to the National Red Cross and is doing its part with thousands of other contributions in relieving the suffering of some 400,000 storm sufferers. The lists are still open.

Rescue Ships And Air Planes Start Search Over North Atlantic

By United Press.
NEW YORK, May 10.—Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli have failed in their attempted Paris-New York non-stop flight, but whether they are alive or dead, afloat on the Atlantic or at the bottom of the sea none could tell today.
The glittering biplane, "White Bird," in which the two heaped off from Bourgette air field, Paris at 9:15 a. m. Sunday, Paris time, must have run out of gasoline yesterday afternoon, if some other contingency had not forced her to alight long before.
Plans went forward all along the northern coast today to send out rescue ships and airplanes to search the Atlantic for the tiny thing of sticks and metal in which the two men tried to conquer sea and space.

CUTTING EXPENSES.
 Governor Dan Moody in his message to the special session of the fortieth legislature now in session at Austin came out squarely for a reduction in the expenses of running the state government. He did not mince words when he stated that he would not tolerate an increase in taxes, all of which goes to show that the governor was in dead earnest a few weeks ago when he proposed to the appropriation committees that it should reduce executive appropriations, and offered to pay certain expenses of the governor's mansion out of his own funds. It also goes to show that the governor, while he is cutting down on expenses at the governor's mansion also expects some reductions to take place in other governmental departments.

The governor in his message made it plain to everyone that he expected the state of Texas to be operated for the next two years on its present source of income and that if it could be prevented he would not permit further taxation of the people of the state for this purpose.

Another very interesting and commendable note in the governor's message was his insistence upon a rather liberal appropriation for the grade schools of the state. He stated to the legislature that he wanted these schools to be adequately provided for, even though it had to be done at the expense of some other departments of the state government.

It is also very noticeable that the governor is anxious that the legislature show some speed at this special session in order that all necessary matters might be gotten off hand and that there might be no occasion for the calling of a second special session. It is said that Moody expects to be away from the capital at about the time the second session would be called should it become necessary to call such a session. But there are no indications that this is the governor's idea in not having another extra session of the lawmakers. Special sessions of the legislature cost money and the governor is cutting down on expenses at every possible point.

The highway commission came in for some comment in the message of today. He implored the members of the highway commission to use every precaution in the expenditure of its funds in order that there might be no waste of funds. He pointed out that the commission would be provided with sufficient funds by the extra tax placed on gasoline by the regular session of the fortieth legislature and said that there should be a re-organization within the commission to prevent any waste of these funds.

The governor is to be complimented for his efforts toward the prevention of waste of funds in state affairs and the people of the state should make it clear that they appreciate these efforts. The people of the state are entitled to a business-like administration—a business-like expenditure of the funds collected through taxes and from all appearances Governor Moody has set about to see that just such administration of the state's affairs is to be given the people.

Paramount Drug Store at Ranger Damaged by Fire

Fire was discovered at midnight in the Paramount drug store, Ranger, by Nightwatchman Clements and he with the assistance of Patrolmen Hammett and Davis, broke the plate glass out of the front door, gained an entrance to the building and had the fire well under control by the time assistance from the fire department arrived. The three volunteer firemen used the water from the fountain to extinguish the blaze, which was in the rear of the back fountain-bar, and is said to have been caused by a short-circuit in the elaborate wiring system back of the bar. In spite of the early discovery of the blaze, about $500 worth of damage was done the stock and fixtures of the Paramount drug store, and some damage done the building. Insurance is carried on stock, fixtures and building.

Guests from the Paramount hotel turned out in many different forms of dishabille, seeking safety on the sidewalks, most of them clad only in their night clothes and carrying their clothing in their arms.

At the time the fire was discovered the fire department was busy working on a water main on East Main street, but responded at once and arrived in just a few seconds, preventing the blaze from doing any further damage.

The drug store closed at 11:10 and the young man in charge of the store reported to Herbert Stafford, proprietor of the store, that there was no sign of fire at that time, so the fire must have started shortly after to even gain as much headway as it did, for the parts of the fountain affected would burn slowly. Mr. Stafford said today that the fountain back would be replaced with a modern one as soon as possible.

He with his men stayed there until 4 o'clock this morning, cleaning up the store and stock, so that when time came to open up business this morning there was no interruption.

Burglars Enter Ranger Laundry Monday Night

Burglars made an unsuccessful attempt to break into the safe of the Ranger Steam Laundry sometime during last night. Entrance was gained through a window on North Austin street, which was hidden from view of passersby by the laundry wagons being parked between it and the street.
 A number of pennies, all the cash that was in the cash register, was left unmolested and no clothes were taken, which leads the police department to think that it was the work of professionals instead of amateurs.
 The front door of the safe was not locked but the inner door was and the knobs were knocked off this door, but an entrance beyond that was not affected.

DOUBLE ACTING

When you use Calumet Baking Powder you don't have to use extra precaution. It insures success, because it is double acting. Contains two leavening units—one begins to work when the dough is mixed, the other waits for the heat of the oven, then both units work together, safeguarding every step in the process of baking. MAKES BAKING EASIER

Why Firestone GUM-DIPPED TIRES Wear Longer

WE recently were given the tremendous advantage of having the mammoth Firestone factories brought to us. In Tire Educational Meetings we were shown, by means of motion pictures, charts, tire samples and complete engineering data, the details of Firestone tire design and construction—and how Firestone and Oldfield tires and tubes are made in the world's most efficient and economical rubber factories.

Firestone pioneered the original low-pressure tire and made it practical by Gum-Dipping. The motion pictures showed us how the cords of the carcass are dipped in a rubber solution, thoroughly saturating and insulating every fiber of every cord with rubber. Simple demonstrations and tests illustrated the great advantage of this process, which supplies the extra strength to withstand the extra flexing strains of low-pressure construction—one of the reasons why Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires are establishing such unheard-of mileage records.

We learned why the Firestone Balloon Tread gives extra safety, comfort and long wear. We were shown why Firestone, from the very beginning, designed and continue to use the round Balloon Tread, minimizing "shoulder breaks", so destructive to tires. Excess rubber at the edges of a Balloon Tread is wasted—actually detrimental to tire mileage. In the Firestone Tread the small units and sharp projections are scientifically placed to permit easy flexing, resulting in extraordinary riding comfort.

Come in and let us put a set of these Gum-Dipped Tires on your car—you can forget about tire trouble. Quality is higher than ever before—prices are lowest in history. Buy now!

Ranger Eastern Star Memorial Service Monday

The members of the Eastern Star chapter in Ranger, held a most impressive memorial service last night at the Masonic hall, in which the departed of the entire jurisdiction were honored and the departed of the local lodge, especially honored. Only one member of this lodge "crossed the bar" during the past year, Mrs. Miriam Crawford, who died in California.

The hall was fittingly decorated for the occasion and the beautiful memorial ceremony of the Star was carried out.

The points of the Star marched out of the room, and prepared for the ceremony, returned and took their places before the altar and remained standing while the chaplain, Maggie Smith, said a word of prayer, taking the Bible from the altar then the conductress, Lena Hight and associate conductress, Lela Cox draped the altar in white, placed the Bible on one end of the altar and the Worthy Matron, Mrs. J. A. Pritchard, came forward and placed her white floral offering in the center of the Star, while Mrs. Mabel Kemble read "Crossing the bar."

The star points then came forward with their floral offerings and completed the star, with associate Worthy Matron, Katie Paschall, placing a wreath over the entire Star.

The roll call of the departed was followed by a vocal number by Mmes. B. E. Rigby and Walter Harwell, who sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." John Thurman, mayor of Ranger, and a member of the Eastern Star, gave the memorial address, which was very beautifully given. The assembly sang "Abide with Me," and Worthy Patron Bill Pettitt pronounced the benediction, which brought to a close the annual memorial service of the chapter.

Olden Club Meets May 9, Agricultural Agent is Present

Special Correspondence.
OLDEN, May 10.—The 4-H club of Olden boys and girls held the fourth meeting May 9.

There were 21 present, four absent and one new member.

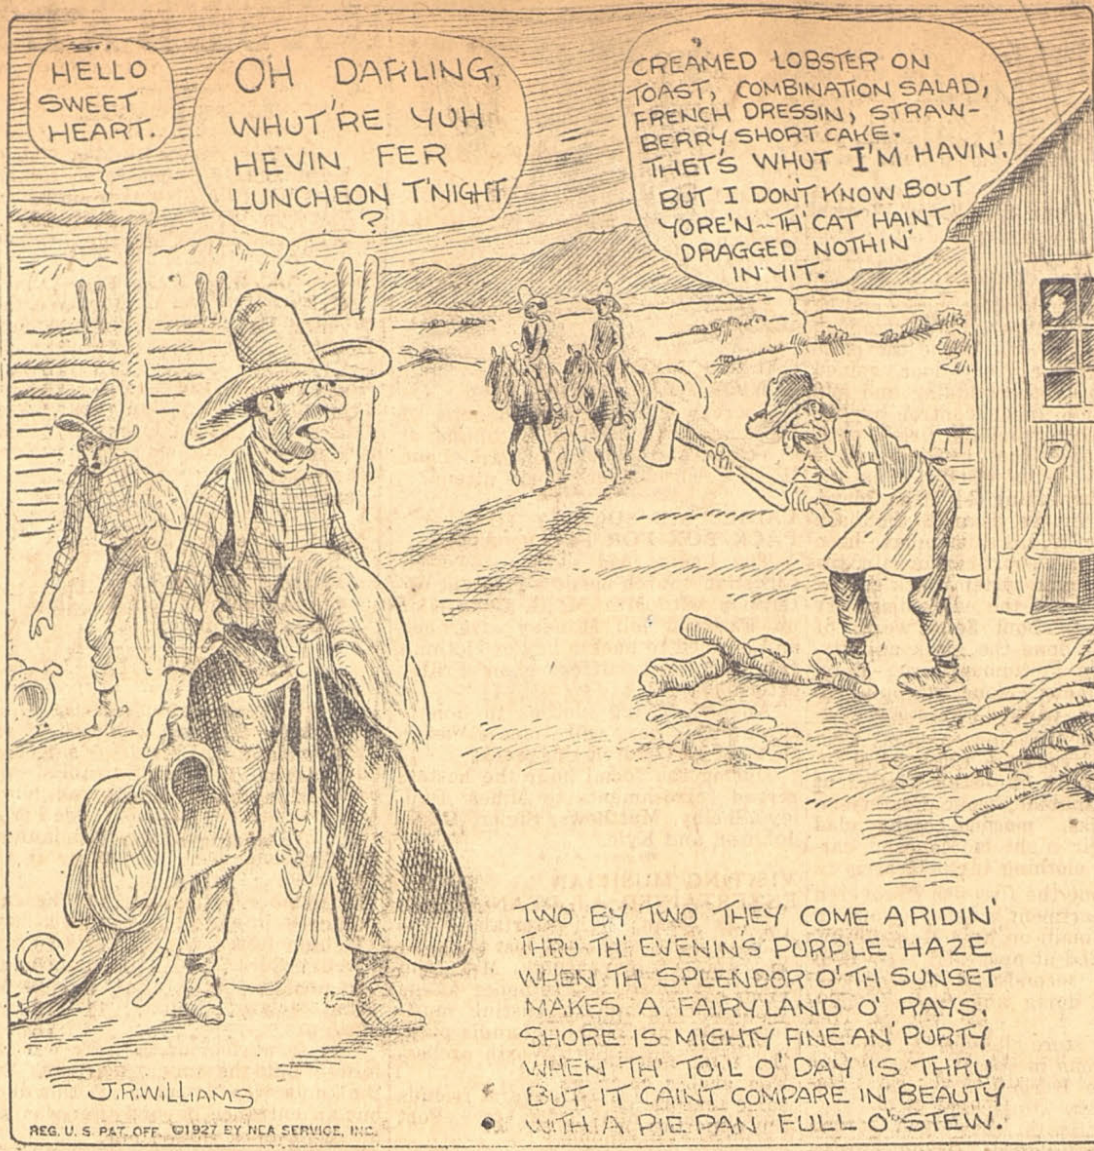

Our songs and yells are improving rapidly, and we also hope for them to continue.

Mr. Patterson instructed the boys how to graft buds on pecan trees and Miss Ramey was absent, so the girls did not do much sewing.

Our new secretary, Beatrice Bra-shers, is improving our record book nicely.

We hope to have more present at our next meeting May 23, and also hope to have with us Miss Ramey.

HOT ROADS ahead! —but Silvertowns "run cool"

When heat waves dance on the road before you—watch your tires.

Summer and friction makes them hot—and the greater the friction, the hotter they get. But Silvertowns have reduced friction. Their tread has a flexible center—it bends without crowding the surrounding rubber. That's why they "run cool."

You get added miles from this Silvertown feature—protection from hot weather driving at no more cost.

Cobb Is Colorful Player, Crowd Cheers or Hisses

A keen mind has helped Ty Cobb over many a rough spot in his career, on and off the ball field. Perhaps no player in the history of the game has been the subject of more comment from the fans, complimentary and otherwise. Always colorful, Cobb either has the fans cheering or jeering him. The cheers come as the result of some sensational play, the jeers when the opposing pitcher strikes him out or makes him pop up. Cobb has always given and taken and seldom has he failed to have at his tongue's end the retort courteous for the fan who seeks to best him in a battle of repartee. That also goes for the opposing players. Making his debut in Boston this year, Cobb practically singlehanded won the first game of the Rex Sox series. He was the big noise of the day. Pulls Retort Courteous All he did during the afternoon's play was make three timely hits, steal a couple of bases, one of them a theft of home, and made several brilliant plays afield, ending the contest with an unassisted double play from right field. It was practically impossible for the Red Sox to get him out, he seemed always to be on the bases, a constant threat. The following day, in his first trip to the plate, he hit into a double play on an attempted hit and run. Despite a desperate slide into first base, Cobb was doubled on a close decision. In the old days, pulling a double play with Cobb at the finishing end was decidedly rare. Now that the legs have slowed up, it isn't such a trick to turn, yet the substitutes on the Boston bench made plenty of "hip" "hip" "hurray" over the happening. "You're slowing up, Ty," remarked one of the Red Sox bushers. "Possibly," he replied, "but I'm still 'sc good you boys hold a celebration on the bench when you get me out."

RANGER FISHING PARTY OFF TO CRYSTAL FALLS A fishing party composed of Rev. George W. Shearer, Rev. H. B. Johnson and Ed Dixon left Ranger this morning for Crystal Falls, near Breckenridge for a two-day fishing trip. In spite of the cool and windy weather, the fishermen were very optimistic and were expecting to bring home a big catch.

writes: "During a strenuous rehearsal, with the work entailed in operating the World's Largest Theatre, where one's nervous system is working under great pressure, there is nothing quite like a 'Lucky Strike' cigarette. DAUGHTERS OF MIDAS
 by Ann Austin

THIS HAS HAPPENED
 Billy Wells, Nyda Lomax, Winnie Shelton and seven other pretty girls—all employes in the big Curtis store—win prizes in a second intriguing contest staged by T. Q. Curtis himself. The prize is an invitation to a formal dinner party at the Curtis mansion.

Billy is suspicious of T. Q.'s motives. "What is the old man up to?" she asks herself repeatedly. Her suspicions are heightened when Clay Curtis, son of the store owner, begs her not to participate in the contest. She disregards his advice, however. Clay has disinherited himself and is living with the Wells family in a poor section of the city, working in a factory during the day and writing music at night.

At the dinner, Billy sits between Dalhart Romaine and Presley Warburton, Curtis' lawyer, who is in a sulky mood. Romaine, with his fascinating personality, his Oriental good looks, weaves about Billy a painfully delicious spell. Billy meets during the evening Ralph Truman, whose father owns the automobile factory in which Clay Curtis works.

When the party is over, Billy tells old T. Q. that she must hurry so the hour will not strike for her as it did for a previous Cinderella. With unaccountable seriousness, old T. Q. asks: "What if the hour didn't strike for you at all?"

The next morning Billy receives a telegram from Curtis, asking her and her mother to be at his home at ten o'clock. At the Curtis home, Billy and her mother find Nyda Lomax and Winnie Shelton.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIX

Billy and her mother seated themselves on a divan at some distance from Nyda Lomax and Winnie Shelton. During the unnatural silence

"I don't intend to keep you in suspense long," T. Q. grinned at them. "As briefly as possible, this is what I should like very much to do—make you three girls my wards for a period of one year, taking you into my home exactly as if you were my daughters. During the year that you will be my foster daughters—if you will be my foster daughters—if you will be trained for the work for which you have expressed a high ambition."

For the first time in her life Billy Wells felt as if her sturdy heart was about to fail her. Her hand tightened about her mother's until Mrs. Wells winced with pain.

"Miss Shelton—" T. Q. resumed after a slight pause. "Oh, please call me Winnie, if I'm going to be your daughter!" Winnie's musical, eager voice pleaded. "Oh, I could just die, I'm so happy!"

"Foster daughter, or ward," T. Q. corrected her, but Billy saw that he was pleased. "Well, Winnie, you have indicated on the questionnaire that your highest ambition is to fit of the girl who had wheeled a school teacher into filling out her questionnaire for her. It passed quickly, however, and was succeeded by a lovely, eager brightness, as she nodded her little silvery head emphatically.

ly," Winnie gasped. "And I can really live in this wonderful house?"

"I hope that all three of you girls will live here," he assured her. "Now, Nyda, if you don't mind my calling you that—"

"Oh, no, sir!" Nyda gasped, her eyes glittering with anticipation.

"Nyda, you have expressed a very noble ambition in your questionnaire and in your essay. If I had a hundred thousand dollars, you say that you love children with all your heart, and that you would like to become a trained kindergarten teacher, so that you might do social service work in the day nurseries of a big city. Colfax is big enough now to need your services."

Billy was forced to utter admiration for Nyda's self control. Not by a flicker of her pet black eyelashes did she betray the fact that her ambition had been born in Eddie Banning's fertile brain, and that she disliked children with all her lazy man-crazy nature.

"You will enroll for a course of instruction in kindergarten work in the Cordelia Blount school and will attend classes from nine to twelve, having your afternoons free for other study and recreation, just as Winnie will have."

"Oh, Mr. Curtis!" Nyda clasped

Back to Normal!

Texas, Texas.—I was in a serious condition of health when I arrived at middle life and as I had heard of so many being wonderfully benefited by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription at that age I decided to try it. It proved to be the proper medicine and I cannot praise it too highly for the benefit I received, for it relieved my aches and pains—saved me a lot of suffering, and left me in good health which I still enjoy.—Mrs. C. B. Shipp, 307 Oak St. All druggists. Tablets or liquid. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial pkg. of the tablets and write for free advice.

her long, slim hands under her chin. "I never dreamed I'd be so lucky!"

"Now, little Spicfire," T. Q. turned toward Billy, with the air of a man who has saved the best for the last. "I told you I'd do the Curtis store, and I'm giving you notice right now. You're fired, young lady, and ordered to devote your time to your violin for the period of one year. How about it?"

Tears blurred her eyes as she nodded at him dumbly, her lips trembling so that she could not have spoken to save her life.

"For the first time I find you at a loss for words," T. Q. jeered at her. "Billy, I have heard you play. I believe you have genius. I hear that my son believes you are destined to be the greatest American violinist. And he should know for he has heard the best musicians alive today. Now, little girl, you're going to have your chance. First—how do you like this?" And he stooped for something concealed behind his desk.

When he straightened, he held a violin in his hands. The beautiful, gracious thing that he held clumsily drew the girl out of her chair. T. Q. put the instrument in her hands, smiled triumphantly as she laid it reverently against her cheek, her fingers trailing across its dark, gleaming surface as if she needed the assurance of every nerve in them that the wonderful thing actually existed.

"Professor Navratil made a trip to Kansas City especially to buy it for me," T. Q. explained, his own voice shaking a little with excitement.

"Now, girls, I do not want you to decide without taking time for thought. Mr. Warburton here has prepared an agreement, at my dictation, which he will now read to you, and which you will sign at this hour tomorrow after consultation with your parents, if they are willing for you to accept. Please read the agreement. Mr. Warburton."

While the lawyer read the heavily phrased, legal document, Billy sat huddled in her chair. Vaguely she heard clauses that sounded queer—something about promising not to be married during the year, something else about "good conduct," an astonishing jumble of words in which the incredible sum of five hundred dollars a month as personal income for each girl was mentioned and emphasized, with restrictions that seemed absurdly simple—but what did it all matter? She held in her arms such a violin as she had dreamed of but had never dared hope to own.

"New, girls," said T. Q. "I am going to ask you to leave, without further discussion. Your parents need have no fear of your entire safety while under my roof. I have arranged with Mrs. Lucia Meadows, widow of a former governor of this state, to live here with you, and to act as your chaperon and as hostess of my home. I hope all three of you will decide to accept my offer. I shall do my utmost to make you happy. Good morning."

Mrs. Meadows! Billy stumbled to her feet. If Mrs. Meadows was to make her home here, then her nephew, Dal Romaine

Nyda, her eyes boring levelly into Billy's, said slowly, "I wonder how long the sheik's going to be in town. Look at her blush, Winnie. Well, I give you fair warning, girls. All's fair in love and war."

Zada Walton And Lossie Watkins Are Honor Graduates

Music Week Being Observed by Music Lovers of Ranger

National Music Week started off most auspiciously in Ranger yesterday morning when J. M. Edwards, director of the Methodist choir, directed a splendid program at chapel service hour in the High school auditorium.

Mrs. W. R. Laprelle sang "By the Waters of Minnetonka," accompanied by Miss Tibbels; Mrs. M. F. Peters and Mr. Edwards sang "Fallen Leaf"; Mrs. M. R. Newham gave the left hand composition from Lucia; the Methodist choir sang, The Song of Thanksgiving and Hosanna, and Prof. R. F. Holloway concluded the program with a few remarks in regard to the observance of National Music Week.

On Thursday morning Miss Gillian Buchanan will be in charge of the second Music Week program and on Friday morning Miss Helen Howdeshell will conduct the last chapel program. However, on Friday night, an ensemble program will be given at the High school for the benefit of the High school annual.

The programs are all open to the public and are all free of charge with the exception of the Friday night program, for which a small charge will be made.

Junior League Of Ranger Donates To Flood Relief

A contribution of $11.25 was turned into the Times office, Ranger, yesterday by J. M. Edwards for the flood sufferers of the Mississippi valley. This amount was the contribution of the Junior League of the Methodist church, whose ages run from 6 to 12 years.

These enthusiastic workers have set an example of endeavor that is right on a par with older welfare workers and are to be congratulated on raising so large an amount for so worthy a cause.

DRY CLEANING PLANT DAMAGED BY FIRE

The Ranger fire department made a run shortly before noon today to Bill's dry cleaning plant on the Tiffin road, in response to a fire alarm. Very little damage was done, as the fire department arrived promptly on the scene, and the damage done was confined to a washer.
