ALLEGED POLITICAL ASSASSINATION PLOT RUMORED IN MEXICO

SIX MEN ARE KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSION

MANY SAVED BY VETERAN LEADING WAY

Sixty Year Old Miner Leads Crew Out Over Little Known Exit

By United Press.
AGUILAR, Colorado, May 28.—Six men were killed and another injured in an explosion which trapped 162 men in the Delagua coal mine of the Vico American fuel company, ten miles from here.
A sixty-year-old miner, Dar Woods, today was credited with having saved the lives of the rest of the crew when the explosion blocked the entrance of the shaft with solid wall of debris at noon yesterday.
For two hours the men were imprisoned in the mine. They were beginning to get hysterical.
Then Woods, veteran of many a mine disaster, took charge. Through the dense smoke Woods led the survivors to safety through a little-known north slope exit.
The men marched in lock step behind him.

AIRMAN LIKES ROYALTY BUT IS DUNN GUEST

BRUSSELS, May 28.—King Albert today grasped Captain Charles A. Lindbergh by the hand and decorated him with the Order of Leopold in recognition of his New York-to-Paris flight. Lindbergh became a chevalier of the highest Belgian order.
Lindbergh met his first king at the palace today and he found that he liked royalty, although he has refused King Albert's offer to stop at the palace tonight, preferring to put up at the American embassy as the guest of James Dunn, the first secretary.
Captain Charles A. Lindbergh and his Ryan monoplane arrived today from Paris on a 24-hour invasion of this capital. Lindbergh's flyer was to be feted and decorated with the Order of Leopold by King Albert of the Belgians.
Children waved American flags as Lindbergh's plane taxied to a halt at 10:12 a. m., New York time.
Lindbergh probably remembering the treatment he received from enthusiastic thousands, remained in the cockpit of his plane until an automobile arrived. He shook hands with the welcoming diplomats through a window. "It was a splendid flight," he said. "I enjoyed every minute of it. The motor is in fine shape and I could circle Europe without touching it."
Lindbergh understood the landing signals displayed and came down in a far corner of the field, obliging generals and diplomats, some of them beyond the running age, who came to welcome him. He circled the field three times while the crowd cheered itself breathless.

Texas Pipe Line Company Is Sued For $110,000

Lilly M. Wooley et al., vs. the Texas Pipe Line company is the style of a suit filed in 91st district court of Eastland county in which the plaintiff, Lilly M. Wooley and her minor children L. A. Jr., Adel, Lilly, Mildred and Elene, seek to recover $110,000 from the defendant for the death of their husband and father, E. A. Wooley, whom, it is alleged, died from injuries sustained while working as a pumper for the defendant at its pump station near Pioneer on May 8, 1927.

Little Lindy and His Dad

Recognizable, isn't it, this 1909 photo of Uncle Sam's own Charles A. Lindbergh? It was taken at Washington with his late father, at that time Congressman from Minnesota. Little 8-year-old Lindy then had no expectation of the fame and glory which is now his.

Effort Will Be Made to Pass Baumes Law

By United Press.
AUSTIN, May 28.—Effort is to be made in the house next week to pass a law similar to the Baumes act of New York, increasing penalties for second and subsequent criminal offenses.
The subject was submitted a few days ago by Governor Moody. It promises to cause an interesting debate on the floor of the house before the special session ends on June 7.
Representative Cecil Storey of Vernon is to sponsor the measure.

Dallas Reports Many Collapse Because of Heat

By United Press.
DALLAS, May 28.—Half a score of men and women collapsed today. A blistering sun sent the thermometer to 101, a new official heat record for May, according to the weather bureau here.
General fair and warmer weather was forecast for Sunday. Sunday may exceed the heat record set today.
Two of the heat victims were treated at hospitals while the others were revived at down town stores.

Fifteen Balloons Ready to Take the Air at Akron, O.

By United Press.
AKRON, Ohio, May 28.—Fifteen 35,000 cubic foot balloons are ready to go into the air at Akron speedway Monday to compete for the Litchfield cup and American ballooning honors. They are piloted by American outstanding balloonists.
Fifteen piles of 220 cylinders of hydrogen gas each awaits the coming of the ground crews who will begin inflation of balloons early Monday morning.
The start of the race is scheduled for Monday afternoon at 4. From then on bags will leave the ground at 5 minute intervals.
International champion W. T. Van Orman flying the lightest balloon in the race will take off in fifth place.

Twister Takes Four Lives at Yates, Mo.; Storm Reported Bad

By United Press.
COLUMBIA, Mo., May 28.—Reports of a serious tornado between here and Moberly, 25 miles away, reached here today. Four people were reported killed at Yates. The storm was said to have been worst at Hillsville, and there were believed to have been casualties there.

Matamoros Is Scene Of What Is Believed Plot To Poison Leaders

By United Press.
MATAMOROS, Mexico, May 28.—Rumors of a alleged political assassination plot were rife here today following a sudden attack of severe illness of municipal President Valentin Ramirez, and the sudden death of several natives from intestinal ailments.
The alleged plot was believed to have included of poisoning of food and drink.
Louis N. Morones, Calles labor commissioner and several other high Mexican federal officials were here the day after the departure of Arturo Elias Calles, half brother of President Calles for New York.
Elias left suddenly after a banquet in his honor without remaining for a dance also tendered in his honor.
One report said a rebel munitions conference was scheduled to be held in Brownville soon.

GRAIN TRADERS FRANTIC AT END SHORT SESSION

By United Press.
CHICAGO, May 28.—Another frenzied close marked trading on the board of trade today. As the prices of corn continued climbing—showing a gain today of between two and four cents—the short session trading was as spirited as was seen this week.
Shortly before the gong announced the week end close at noon, the pit—which ordinarily is only partly filled on Saturday—was seething with traders anxious to get in the current high movement.
Sales were made so rapidly that the tickers were almost one cent behind price for the last hour of trading.
Wheat which has been fluctuating with corn along the present upward trend, sagged today after a high opening and closed fractionally under yesterday's closing prices.

Five Car Loads World War Relics On Way to Texas

By United Press.
AUSTIN, May 28.—The first shipment of Texas quota of world war relics is to arrive next Tuesday, according to information received at the adjutant general's department. The shipment consists of five car loads weighing approximately 77,000 pounds. The relics are to be distributed among Texas cities. The plan of distribution has not yet been worked out.

FINEDO'S PLANE STILL AFLOAT NEAR AZORES

By United Press.
HORTA, ISLAND OF FAYAL, Azores, May 28.—Francisco De Pinedo's seaplane in two of the Italian Steamship Superga was sixty miles off Fayal at 7 a. m., today, and encountering bad weather, the airman wireless authorities.

POLITICAL LEADEAS BECOME ILL

By United Press.
MATAMOROS, Mexico, May 28.—Rumors of a alleged political assassination plot were rife here today following a sudden attack of severe illness of municipal President Valentin Ramirez, and the sudden death of several natives from intestinal ailments.
The alleged plot was believed to have included of poisoning of food and drink.
Louis N. Morones, Calles labor commissioner and several other high Mexican federal officials were here the day after the departure of Arturo Elias Calles, half brother of President Calles for New York.
Elias left suddenly after a banquet in his honor without remaining for a dance also tendered in his honor.
One report said a rebel munitions conference was scheduled to be held in Brownville soon.

NURSE GIVES PICTURE OF FLOOD AREA

Mrs. Henrietta Ablard, Ranger health nurse, who was ordered to report for Red Cross duty in Alexandria, La., last Monday, writes that she arrived in Alexandria and was driven to Washington, La., a trip ordinarily about 40 miles but on account of having to detour to avoid the high waters, it was a 78 miles trip, in a rattle-trap Ford, which had two flats and ran out of gasoline before the destination was reached.
She states that they are giving free smallpox and typhoid serum and she was given that station but on the day she wrote they had only given 185 as the refugees felt that if they weren't given rations they weren't given free vaccine either, "but tomorrow we start rationing again so we expect 700 and 1000 as we have 2,000 refugees here in a town of 2,000," the letter continued.
"The town has water on four sides but the bridge over the bayou to Opelousa is still above water. I climbed a hill today and as far as I could see, land that had once been fertile farms was covered by water. The farmers whose land is only two to three feet under water are optimistic as they expect to be back home in a week as the water fell five inches in the last 24 hours. They say the pepper crop won't be hurt and they will plant soy beans and garden stuff again—but the terrible tales they tell of whole families who haven't been seen or heard of since the break at Melville and elsewhere!"
"The need for clothing is greatest as many lost everything. This town is overrun by refugees and their stock which was driven in here and turned loose. The boat men tell me terrible things they saw while out rescuing."

POOL TO PUSH PURL IN WHEEL BARROW

AUSTIN, May 28.—Representative George C. Purl of Dallas, has a wheel barrow ride coming to him as a result of a bet he had with Representative Adrian Pool, of El Paso. Pool is to do the transporting, the ride being scheduled to start Monday from the capital and to continue to the Colorado river, a distance of about a mile.
The El Paso legislator agreed to ride Purl in a wheel barrow if the Dallas law maker did not offer an amendment to the El Paso school of mines appropriation bill and thereby require a speech from Pool.

SAN ANTONIO — Southwestern Bell Telephone company to build telephone line from San Antonio through Alice and Falfurrias to points in lower Rio Grande valley.

Movie Queen Is a Princess Now

Here are Pola Negri and her boy friend Serge Mdivani, the Georgian prince on wedding "location." Pola keeps her best movie composure, but the camera seems to intrigue the prince. The picture was taken at Pola's Parisian chateau at Seraincourt, near Paris, just after the wedding. With the couple is the bridegroom's father, Prince Gregory, said to be a former general in the czar's army. Others of the prince's family, including Prince David, husband of a Mc Murray, were unable to be present. At the reception at the chateau, cameramen and reporters predominated. Pola wore an ermine cloak and many costly jewels—pearls, diamond rings and diamond and emerald bracelets.

TWO NEGROES ARRESTED FOR MURDER OF CHIEF OF POLICE

Feeling in Little Rock Runs High, Fear Race Riots May Be Result
By United Press.
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 28.—The ailing words of chief of police Tyson Guerdon who was shot to death May 18, has brought about the arrest of two negroes in connection with the murder.
Frank Brock was arrested today in Fort Smith, according to word reaching here and has been formally charged with the murder.
Arthur Willis, another negro, was arrested last week and confessed to participating in the shooting, implicating Brock.
Guerdon from his death bed gave a description of his assailant and Willis was identified from this description.
Willis is being held here for safe keeping and Brock is to be brought here immediately.
Constantly recurring high feeling against negroes here is causing a tense situation.
Recently a negro was lynched by a mob following an attack on a white woman.
There was a riot in connection with the finding of a body of an 11-year-old girl in a church.
Lonnie Dixon, negro youth, was sentenced to death in connection with the latter case.
Today Arthur Adams, negro, was arrested in connection with an assault on Mrs. H. H. Ketcher, a white woman. Adams has been partially identified as the woman's assailant and has been taken to Fort Smith.
On streets and everywhere there are evidences of the ill feeling which exists and authorities are taking the utmost precaution in fear of smoldering feelings bursting again into flames.

Lindbergh Is Cited For Rare Flying Cross

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, May 28.—America today honored its aviator and son, Charles Lindbergh, with citation for the distinguished flying cross.
This rare honor—only eight Americans have had it—was announced by the white house this afternoon, in recognition of Lindbergh's achievement in spanning the Atlantic by air from New York to Paris.

Kelly Field Air Plane Comes Down In Flames in Ohio

By United Press.
REYNOLDSBURG, Ohio, May 28.—A Huff-Deland bomber, the LB-1 returning from maneuvers from Kelly field, Texas to Langley, Va., came down in flames near here today.
One of the five occupants of the plane was believed to have been killed. Three men jumped from the plane escaping serious injury.
The fourth is believed to have made successful parachute landing.
The plane had taken off at noon from Norton field, Columbia, where the aviators had stopped to repair engine trouble. Names of those in the plane not known.

YOUNG DODGE REPORTED ARRESTED IN DETROIT

DETROIT, Mich., May 28.—A young man declared by police to be John Dural Dodge, disinherited son of the late multimillionaire auto builder, was arrested here late today upon a drunken driving charge.

ESTATE TAX SHOULD BE LEFT TO STATE

Plan Urges Reduction Of Many Taxes, Others Should Be Abolished

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, May 28.—An outline of what is expected to be the new Mellon plan of tax reduction in the fall was given today by Senator David A. Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, close friend and business ally of the secretary of the treasury.
Reed said after a call at the white house that surplus at the end of the government's fiscal year, June 30, will be $600,000,000 and that $300,000,000 of this sum should be available to congress in December for a tax reduction bill.
Reed told how he thought this $300,000,000 should be applied. His remarks are held significant because of his reputation as the congressional mouthpiece of the secretary of the treasury.
"First reductions should be planned on the income tax of those persons who receive between $35,000 and $75,000 a year," Reed said. "These classes were overlooked in all tax reductions since 1919," he said.
Secondly, Reed declared the corporation tax should be reduced slightly from the present rate of 13.1-2 per cent probably to 12.1-2 or even 12 per cent. Other features of his plan were: Estate taxes should be abolished and this form of taxation left to the states. Auto taxes should be retained at their present level.
"Taxes on admission to theatres and club dues should be entirely abolished. Nuisance taxes should be reduced about $30,000,000."
"The country is now enjoying a profitless prosperity," Reed said. "Everybody is enjoying good business but no one is making any large profits. This makes for low prices to consumers."

FLOOD WATERS INVADE NEW AREA TODAY

By United Press.
NEW ORLEANS, May 28.—While flood waters today were sweeping over hitherto untouched portions of Louisiana, Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, returned here from an extensive trip of inspection through the Mississippi flood belt and reported on conditions in the relief camps.
"Conditions," he said "were excellent." Denying the charges recently made that negroes in many of the concentration camps were being mistreated, he said, "I saw no evidence of mistreatment in any of the camps." Hoover stated, and "I have heard no complaint from the negroes. I have appointed a committee, however, to make any investigation it sees fit."
Hoover's report was made chiefly in answer to the charges of Walter White of Chicago secretary for the society for advancement of colored people to the effect that negroes were being mistreated in a number of the southern refugee camps.
Meanwhile flood waters from the raging Mississippi were rushing down on New Iberia which has been considered safe from the flood. Breaks in the high levees at Bayou Des Glaisses and Melville, allowed the water to pour in on New Iberia partially inundating it.
While the men refused to leave, efforts are being made to evacuate the women and children.

TREMBLER IS FELT ALONG PACIFIC COAST

BERKELEY, Cal., May 28.—The San Francisco bay area, and the San Mateo peninsula experienced a sharp trembler of brief duration at 9:39 o'clock this morning.
Considerable excitement was felt in some sections, but no known damage was caused.

FROM THE BIBLE
The Lord Heareth.—The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth and delivereth them out of all their troubles. Psalm 34:17.

MORE POWER TO YOU.
The new mayor and city commissioners of Ranger are showing unusual enthusiasm in their efforts at bringing about some much needed improvements in the city. They are to be particularly complimented on the passage of the ordinance limiting the parking of cars on main street for longer than the two-hour limit. And it is to be hoped that the commission will use all diligence in the enforcement of this ordinance.

If there is any one thing more than another that puts a good town in hick town class it is the liberties of unrestrained traffic, and more, particularly that liberty which has been so common in Ranger of parking a car on Main street from sunrise until along towards midnight.

It is also to be hoped that the commission will use its powers and go a little further in the matter of traffic regulations. The habit of double parking has been particularly annoying in the past. We have seen people sit at the wheel of an idle motor and blockade traffic on Main street for a full block. Of course it's mighty convenient to linger along the main street while wife or husband goes in for the groceries or for a little shopping expedition late in the afternoon. But while we are doing this we should be reminded that we are probably blocking the way of maybe a dozen or more cars the occupants of which may be on a more important mission than we.

We hope the city commission will soon be able to turn its attention to street improvements. Without being put in the attitude of appearing critical we feel free to call attention to particularly one piece of street improvement that is badly needed. From the Leveille-Maher Motor company plant on Main street to the top of Eastland hill is a stretch of street or road that could stand some improvement. We are not sure that this piece of highway comes under the jurisdiction of the city commission but it is under the jurisdiction of somebody and should receive attention at the earliest possible moment.

All the traffic between Ranger and Breckenridge must pass over this stretch of almost impassable road, and the traffic between these two towns is not inconsiderable.

SELF-DECISION.
Says the mother of Charles Lindbergh:

"I always trained him in childhood to make his own decisions. I would point out both sides of a question to him, then I would let him decide. If he made a mistake, he would pay the penalty bravely without whimpering, because he knew he had decided himself. That was the way it was when he decided to fly to Paris."

"Lucky Lindbergh" they call him. It's a lucky lad, indeed, who has so wise a mother to shape his mind and character.

Let the child decide for himself as much as possible. That makes him thoughtful and responsible. That makes him, too, a good sport. No wonder a lot of boys and girls never amount to anything, when they have all their decisions made for them, and possibly imposed on them by force, by well meaning but unwise parents.

Senator Heflin Continues His Speaking Tour

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON.—If the Hon. J. Thomas Heflin, senator from the state of Alabama, isn't adequately appreciated here in Washington, perhaps the country at large is making up for it.

Ever since Congress adjourned, Senator Heflin has been giving audiences a dose of the golden voice that they could otherwise never hear without coming to Washington. He has been out west and down south and now faces tours through Pennsylvania and New England. Terre Haute, Ind., will hear him on memorial day.

Generally he speaks on Mexico and Nicaragua and belabors the Catholic hierarchy in the manner which brought the ringing raspberry down on his silvery head during the last session. It is the senator's boast that only eight or ten states haven't heard him so far and he'll get to 'em yet.

Heflin's office has compiled some of the effusive bursts of praise which his speeches have occasioned. Full reports aren't in yet on the success of Heflin's religious speeches, although those who think as Heflin does about things say that he is paving his way to the white house. The compilation of comment on other addresses seems to indicate that those who have regarded Heflin as a public nuisance must be all wet.

"He will be many moons before Shelby will forget Tom Heflin, and years before they say of another speaker 'He's as good as Heflin,'" said the Shelby, N. C. Star.

"Davidson college may well boast of having one of the few treats of a lifetime that comes from the speakers' platform" echoes the Davidsonian of Davidson, N. C.

"Senator Heflin is indeed a masterful speaker and held his audience as no other speaker, in Corning, has ever done," the Corning, Ark., Times-News is quoted as saying.

"Those who heard the masterly address of J. Thos. Heflin, the distinguished senator from Alabama, who spoke in the school auditorium here last Monday evening, could but return to their homes with a feeling of pride that the south was their birthplace."—The Chir-town News of Thomasville, N. C.

"The lecture was the finest ever heard in Lincolnton and we are all crazy about Senator Heflin."—J. W. Mullins, president Lincolnton, N. C. Kiwanis club.

"The business and professional men of this town are to be congratulated for bringing this great man among us."—The Lonoke, Ark., Democrat.

"He will go down into history as the greatest story-teller who ever lived."—Raleigh, N. C., News and Observer.

Picture Settles Argument About King's Trousers

LONDON.—The old controversy as to whether or not King George of England wears his trousers creased down the front or down the sides has been settled once for all, definitely, publicly and photographically.

There can be no more doubt regarding the fact that the king wears his trousers creased down the sides inasmuch as thousands of human eyes noticed it at a recent public appearance, those who failed to observe the fact at the ceremony being convinced of it the next morning by photographs of the king which appeared in a number of newspapers throughout the kingdom.

Now that the point has been definitely settled, however, and registered ineffably by means of photography, the real controversy actually starts with the question: Is the fashion of having one's trousers creased down the side of any practical use?

The matter seems to be of sufficient importance, at least in England, to warrant discussion in newspapers, of which the following is a sample extracted from an article which has just appeared in the Manchester Guardian:

"The real reason for any form of vertical crease is presumably to avoid that fatal 'bagginess' about the knees of man's tubular garments, and, with that end in view, a crease down the front is probably more effective than a crease down the sides.

"Man foolishly cast away his greatest safeguard against that abhorred bagginess when he ceased to let his trousers be strapped tight under his boots, a fashion which is said to have been introduced by the Iron Duke when he returned from the peninsular campaign.

"But when the real trouser as we now know it emerged from hung pendulous, the trouble was done and the male knee became the enfranchised enemy of the garment which draped it.

"Since then we have been toiling with presses and creases and other devices to disguise the knee's fatal knack of distorting the trouser's fabric. None of the devices is permanently effective, and the position of the king's Cardiff crease sounds less effective than many.

"A mild stir seems to have been created by the discovery that King George at Cardiff was wearing trousers that were creased down the sides instead of down the front.

"But then in the matters of trousers the king can not also do no wrong, but he can not afford far more pairs than most of his subjects, and by that means alone wage war upon the bug-bear of bagginess."

INSURANCE COMPANY SUE FOR $8,000
Geo. F. Clayton has filed suit in the 88th district court of Eastland county against the Security Union Insurance company et al., for alleged damages in the sum of $8,000 for personal injuries. Plaintiff claims to have been protected under the employers liability act while engaged as an employe by the Gulf Production company and during which time he is alleged to have received injuries to his left foot which has caused him to be permanently disabled.

WOMAN MAKER OF FLIES THINKS FISHING CRUEL
DENVER, Colo., May 28.—Although she manufactures flies—the kind trout are supposed to be tempted with, Miss Alice Coleman, Denver, is no devotee of fishing.

"Ugh—it's too cruel," she exclaimed as she fastened a pair of gassar-like wings to a trout fly. "I wouldn't fish for worlds."

Members Urged To Attend C of C Meet Monday

Monday night at 8 o'clock the Eastland chamber of commerce will hold what is to be the first of a series of meetings, to which all members of the organization and others interested in the welfare and future progress of Eastland are cordially invited. The meeting will be held at the chamber of commerce rooms. Geo. W. Briggs, secretary of the chamber of commerce, in speaking of the meeting for Monday night said: "Many people often ask why the chamber of commerce does not have more meetings? In the past we had these meetings and people got to where they did not attend and the custom was dropped. We want to have the meetings if the members will come out and are having this one Monday night for the purpose of trying them out. If they turn out we will have another one and continue them as long as the people want them."

AWARDED PRIZE FOR GETTING MOST LEGION MEMBERS

Marriage Harder Than Work Woman Commits Suicide

By United Press. DENVER, Colo. — If women would use as much effort toward making matrimony a success as they do to keep their jobs, they would find themselves more happily married, Mrs. Margaret Taub, one of Denver's best known insurance agents, believes.

Her comment was occasioned by the suicide of Mrs. Beatrice Browning, young wife of a paper hanger. Near Mrs. Browning's body was found a clipping with the following quotation:

'The girl who gives up a good job to get married, nine times out of 10 has to work twice as hard, and gets no appreciation for what she does.'

'So many women,' Mrs. Taub said, 'think that when they get married, they are going to be cared for the rest of their lives without any effort at all on their part.'

'But life is difficult no matter what we do, and anyone who gets married must realize that that too demands a certain amount of sacrifice and effort.'

Mrs. Fred Dick, pioneer Denver club woman, agrees with Mrs. Taub. 'I believe in marriage,' she said, 'and I believe in marrying young. If a girl loves a man enough, she can overcome the difficulties and the troubles that come at first with financial affairs.'

'Girls who marry young and whose husbands are not substantially fixed financially must be willing to give up a lot that many girls aren't willing to give up nowadays.'

Judge George A. Luxford said he believed the young suicide's viewpoint as expressed in the clipping was 'exaggerated.'

'Women's natural sphere,' he added, 'is still in the home and I don't believe she works any harder there than in any office.'

'Wives with only household affairs to take care of should be able to make a success of marriage.'

ELLENBERGER LIME MAY BE TESTED SOON

Where two or three oil men are gathered together these days it's a pretty safe bet that before the conversation progresses very far the main theme will be the possibilities of production in the Ellenberger lime formation. The conversation may be allowed to drift leisurely into this all-important subject, but more often than not some enthusiast will introduce the subject with the suddenness of an explosion. And strange to say it always seems to be a welcome subject.

A few years ago there was a somewhat certainty to the feeling of oil operators that there was nothing to be found in or below the Ellenberger lime. The idea was rather prevalent that when a test reached the Ellenberger its fate was sealed and the man who persisted in wasting his money after the bit encountered this formation was regarded with something like suspicion.

Regardless of that fact there have been a number of wells drilled to and well into the Ellenberger lime in Eastland and some adjoining counties. And there are records of at least one oil producer and one gas producer having been found in this formation. So far as known just now there has not been a test drilled further than the first big water in the Ellenberger and whatever may exist below that level is purely a matter of conjecture.

There are a great many oil operators and geologists who are firm in their belief that the Ellenberger will be found productive. However geologists seem to be of the opinion that drilling to this formation must be done on well defined and completely closed structures.

About eight years ago a well in the southeastern part of Callahan county, just a little north of the town of Cross Plains was drilled to a formation that was then classed as the Ellenberger lime and came in with a flush production that showed in gusher proportions for a few days. It was then reported that the well was producing from the top of the Ellenberger lime. This well, however, was short-lived.

Early this year the Empire Gas and Fuel company drilled a well in the extreme southern part of Callahan county and about 12 miles southwest of Cross Plains to what is classed as the Ellenberger. This well is now making gas at a reported volume of 10,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Indications are that before very long somebody will give this much talked of formation a chance to produce.

Are there any in the crowd who remember when business men killed the bobbed hair movement by refusing to employ girls who had it bobbed?

Child Welfare To Meet Monthly During Summer

The Child Welfare monthly luncheon, given Saturday afternoon at the Gholson hotel, Ranger, was attended by fourteen members of the club, Mrs. John Thurman the club's delegate to Ozona, was present and gave a most masterful report of the convention, which was said by those present to be a most outstanding report.

Reports of various standing committees were given and a letter from the club health nurse, Mrs. Henrietta Ablard, who is now in the flood districts of Louisiana was read.

A letter from the P. T. A. of Thurber expressed that club's appreciation of a clinic held by Miss Ablard there recently for school children.

Mrs. R. J. Norman was elected secretary of the club to fill the place vacated by Mrs. Steve A. Lillard.

It was a splendid meeting and in spite of the hot weather, the club did not move to adjourn until fall, but will meet once a month during the summer months.

FAILURE OF CARDINALS TO STEP OUT IS GENERALLY DISAPPOINTING

By BILLIE EVANS
Two distinct disappointments, so far in the majors, have been the failure of the St. Louis Cardinals in the National and the Philadelphia Athletics in the American to step right out in front and set a warm pace. The Cardinals seem to lack the fire that characterized their play last season. The old fight doesn't seem to be there. I am wondering if the driving power of Rogers Hornsby as manager isn't missed. True, the same arm with which Manager Bob O'Farrell has suffered all year has been a terrific handicap at that. Frank Snyder has done a pretty good job of catching aside from his weakness at the bat. Last season O'Farrell was voted the most valuable ball player in the National League and richly deserved the honor. His fine catching and excellent handling of Cardinal pitchers was a prime factor in the club's success. He performed as capably in the world series as he did all season. His marvelous throw that nipped Ruth stealing, ending the game and series in favor of the Cardinals, was a great play. O'Farrell's Loss Handicaps
When a club loses a star like O'Farrell, voted the most valuable man in the National League, it is only natural that his absence should be keenly felt. A great catcher is invaluable to a pennant contender in many ways. Undoubtedly the Cardinals have missed his judgement back of the bat greatly this spring. There is no telling when he will be able to work in his regular turn. O'Farrell's absence from the lineup for any great length of time might ruin the chances of the world champions to repeat. In such an emergency, team play and the confidence of the pitchers suffer and prove very costly. What about the Hornsby-Frisch deal? From a purely playing standpoint I doubt if either team has been appreciably helped or hindered by the shifting of these two brilliant stars. Frisch has gone great for St. Louis, Hornsby likewise for New York. There is only a difference of a few points in their fielding and batting average. Frisch leads in the field, Hornsby has a slight edge at bat. Cardinals Miss Hornsby
In the spring I expressed the belief that the Cardinals would miss so dominating a figure as Rogers Hornsby. Not only was he a good manager but he had the courage of his convictions and ran his ball club as he saw fit. He would brook no interference. When I asked him what he thought of the Cardinal's chances and his successor, Bob O'Farrell, prior to the opening of the season, he replied: "The Cardinals are a great club. Every player gave me 100 per cent effort. If the quiet, retiring O'Farrell is able to get the same stuff out of the athletes his team will be hard to beat. However, if Bob listens to too many cooks, he will be sunk." Maybe the Cardinals are simply away to a slow start and will soon hit their stride. Maybe O'Farrell was so valuable to the club that the team is lost with him on the bench. Possibly there are too many cooks handling O'Farrell's recipes on how to win. Regardless of the reasons, the Cardinals have failed to move out in front as experts predicted and their supporters hoped.

Endurance Race For Indians Only In California

SAN FRANCISCO.—An endurance race for Indians only over the 494 miles of the Redwood highway between San Francisco and Grants Pass, Oregon, will start on Flag day, June 14. The race, which is sponsored by the Redwood Empire Association composed of seven California counties and one Oregon county, will be open to Indians of any tribe and of any residence in Mexico, the United States or Canada. The contestants will leave from the civic center in San Francisco but the actual start of the racing will be at Sausalito, across the bay. It is essentially an endurance contest and each Redskin must travel the entire distance on foot, either walking or running. The first one to cross the Rouge river bridge at Grants Pass will be declared the winner and will receive first prize of $1,000. Other prizes are offered down to $100 for the ninth runner to complete the race. Additional special prizes have been offered by cities and counties along the route. Each Indian must be sponsored by a city, county, or organization which must furnish an automobile to travel along the highway rendering assistance to the runners and furnishing transportation for an umpire. The route must follow the Redwood highway and no short cuts will be allowed. The umpires will disqualify any runner who leaves the highway or accepts any means of transportation. Officials of the race will insist that each entrant be trained and properly equipped for the event. The Indians use peculiar methods of training themselves for such ordeals. In the mountainous country of northern California they soak their feet in brew of the bark of certain trees. Each may run, walk or sleep as much as he wishes, except that physicians will inspect the runners constantly during the race and will probably be empowered to bar any copper-hued brave whose perseverance bids fair to injure his health. The Redwood highway over which the race will be run is a ribbon of unending beauty, and is ideal for such a contest because the cool sea breezes fan each mile that does not lay through the towering forests of redwoods, the "oldest living things in the world." Harry Lutgens, editor of the San Rafael, Ca., Independent is chairman of the marathon committee. SATURDAY HOTTEST DAY OF SEASON IN RANGER
Saturday was Ranger's hottest day for this season. At three o'clock Saturday afternoon a thermometer at the Ranger Gasoline company, at the corner of Rusk and Pine street, stood 103 degrees in the shade. A hot north wind blew practically all day and was reported to be most injurious to the corn crop.

COBB EXPECTS THIS TO BE HIS FAREWELL YEAR

Twenty years ago, after Southpaw "Doc" White of the Chicago White Sox had whiffed Ty Cobb on four successive trips to the plate, Freddy Payne, was substituted for him as the hitter in the ninth. It is the only time in Cobb's career that a batter has been sent in for him, due to inability to hit. White had Cobb's number that day but as White often said, "I suffered plenty for those four strikeouts later on in Cobb's career." "Payne batting for Cobb" looked mighty funny in print 20 years ago, for there probably never will be a better all-around batsman. However, the box scores of this year have several times carried a line that is almost as ludicrous when when you consider past performances. "French running for Cobb" is the line in the summary that I have reference to. In his prime, there never was a better baserunner than Cobb. Age, however, exacts its toll from the legs of the athletes first. Cobb says this will be his last year and he would like to make a good one of it. He's got away to a pretty fair start. Greatest of All Thrills Released athletes take a great pleasure in trimming the proteges of some manager who once decorated them with the royal order of the can. "Bing" Miller and Wally Schang, of the St. Louis Browns, recently enjoyed that thrill at the expense of Connie Mack and his Athletics. Schang made his debut as a big league catcher under Mack in 1913. He played under the colors of the Athletics for five years and was then traded to Boston. Three years with the Red Sox followed, then five with New York. He was sent to St. Louis in 1926 when Huggins started to rebuild the Yankees. Miller was secured by Mack from Washington in 1922 and stuck around until 1926 when he was also sent to the Browns. In the first series between St. Louis and New York, the Yanks took four straight. Philadelphia followed and expected soft picking. Mack's team lost three out of four. It was quite a jolt. "Bing" Miller and Wally Schang were largely responsible for the three wins scored by the Browns. Schang won one game with a homer with the bases filled, while Miller's batting virtually decided the other two.

Built the Plane

While the world cheers Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh for his hop across the Atlantic, an unsung hero in Los Angeles is having more of a thrill out of it than most of us. He is William H. Bowlus, who designed and built the Ryan monoplane that carried Lindbergh across. This picture was taken when Bowlus was told Lindbergh had made it.

GREECE PLANS OLYMPIAD TO BE STAGED IN 1930

By United Press.
ATHENS.—While the various nations of the world are trying to solve the vexed problem of disarmament, the athletes of modern Greece propose to inaugurate a classical Olympiad which, they hope, will pave the way to a Golden Age of Peace, as prevailed in the days of their forefathers. This Olympiad will be known as "Panathinaia," and the International Olympic Games Committee have sanctioned the meeting, which is to be held in Athens every four years, the first meeting being scheduled for 1930. These athletic meetings will be solely devoted to the classical games of running, throwing the javelin and discus, free, wrestling, jumping, musical and other artistic displays. The above proposal is the outcome of a recent series of athletic events between the Greeks and the British Achilles Club who, at the invitation of three Greek athletic clubs, sent out a team from England under the captaincy of D. G. A. Low, the winner of the 800 meters at the Olympic Games in 1924. As a mark of honor to their guests, the Greeks called the athletic meetings "Achilleia." Over 45,000 spectators assembled to see the Greeks and Britons in action at the ancient stadium, which is composed entirely of marble, and is said to have been founded by Lycurgus in 330 B. C. In 1889 it was dug out and 20 years later it was rebuilt. The president of the republic was represented by General Panitzes, the founder of the modern Olympic Games. Baron Piere de Coubertin, also attended. He was seated in a chair on which his name was inscribed in letters of gold, a tribute by the Greek nation to his share in the inauguration of the first Olympiad. The games were carried out with the greatest enthusiasm, and a fine sporting spirit prevailed throughout the meeting. All the members of the Achilles Club were Oxford and Cambridge blues, and the majority of their Greek competitors were drawn from the ranks of the peasant population. For instance, the marathon runner Kranis, trained by following his trade, running through streets of Athens selling newspapers. Splendid exhibitions of co-operation and skill in team work were

Borah Rivaling Cabinet In His Conferences

By HERBERT LITTLE, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, May 28.—The famous white house and cabinet conferences with the press have a rival now on Capitol Hill. Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, internationally known for his oratory, his so-called "irregular republicanism" and as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, meets newspapermen in his office every afternoon when he is in Washington during the congressional recess. His interest in foreign affairs has kept him here much so far this year.

Borah's conferences have an atmosphere of sociality. The conferences of executives are "all business," as a rule.

The shaggy-haired Idahoan knows each of the capital reporters for the metropolitan newspapers and the press associations personally, and the conference frequently becomes a forum for general discussion of the important news of the day. Borah has wide interests in many topics, although his views are "news" generally only in regard to foreign affairs and national politics. But he talks, and leads his listeners on to talking, of other things. During the Gray-Snyder trial in New York, he evinced considerable interest in the courtroom events, particularly in their relation to the possible motives and underlying causes of the slaying. Borah himself practiced law in the west for 20 years before his election to the senate in 1907, and handled some of the most sensational prosecutions of that period, including the famous Coeur d'Alene bombing trials.

The reporters are sometimes as much interviewed as interviewing. Their latest information on certain international situations are eagerly received by Borah and he listens with interest to their opinions and replies with comments of his own. Not all of these ideas can be published, for the senator is careful to verify and make certain of his information before he will allow himself to be quoted. But the ideas and observations thrown out at the conference frequently lead to the development of important stories from other sources.

Borah's activities in the field of foreign affairs lead to rather intensive study of current problems in the same field, and the information and opinions so gathered and developed he turns into account frequently by "reporting" his own news in magazine articles, on various international situations. Through these proclivities and through his willingness to share news and give "tips" to the newspapermen, he has come to be known as probably the greatest publicist in official life in this country.

The Idaho senator's recent defense of the prohibition amendment has brought him a unique double reputation. Newspaper readers of foreign countries know him for his aggressive foreign policy statements, and criticisms of the recent Coolidge-Kellogg policies in the Mexican and Nicaraguan situation. "His activities in behalf of prohibition, which started only a little more than a year ago, have, on the other hand, made him most prominent in the United States as a "dry" of uncompromising shade. It is his prohibition activities which cause much discussion of him as a possible 1928 presidential candidate among the voters of the western states. His "irregular" republicanism and frequent battles with the administration, however, have alienated most of the political leaders of his party.

Borah's days here are as busy as during a session of congress. He rides on horseback in Rock Creek park daily, and receives visitors, from Idaho and from many nations of the world, in his office. Two or three times a month he makes trips to nearby eastern cities for speeches, most of which, since his recent prohibition debate with Nicholas Murray Butler, have been on foreign affairs.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE TO TOUR ON WHEELS

FORT COLLINS, Colo., May 28.—Midwestern poultry raisers who can't go to agricultural college will have the college brought to their doors this fall, it was decided during an agriculturists' meeting at the Colorado Agricultural college here.

A demonstration and exhibit train carrying the gospel of economic egg production and the secret of raising yellow-legged chickens will tour five states in October and November. The tour will start at Billings, Mont., and go to Texline, Texas, stopping in Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and South Dakota en route. The train will be fitted with all material necessary for a complete poultry school.

Extension divisions and experiment station of the various states will supply most of the exhibits.

HUMAN RACE TO BECOME GIANTS PREDICTION OF DR. VORONOFF

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of four articles by Dr. Voronoff explaining the trend of his successful experimentation with rejuvenation by gland transference. In addition to discussing rejuvenation Dr. Voronoff in these articles makes public the striking prophecy that skillful gland grafting if practiced on a large scale will cause the human race to increase greatly in strength and stature in the next few generations. The remaining three articles of this series will be carried on successive Sundays.

By DR. SERGE VORONOFF. As Told by HENRY T. RUSSELL, United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS.—There is, of course, a term beyond which human life cannot extend, by virtue of the laws of nature; but there is no reason, in my opinion, why man should take it upon himself to limit that term to a given number of years. Therefore, I believe it is possible for a man to live well over one, if not two or more centuries.

I also believe that, by performing upon a human being the same slight operation which we have repeatedly performed upon animals, attempts to make future generations of men grow to giant proportions may be as successful as have been our attempts to create what is already known as a race of "super-sheep".

When a battery used for ignition purposes runs down, it is promptly re-charged. The operation of gland grafting is merely the way in which a fresh lease of life is imparted to man's endocrinal glands—his battery—without which human life longevity is impossible.

The public has so far been allowed to remain under the impression that because my operation is performed upon the glands which enable men to reproduce their species it is designed to enable the old to dissipate like the young. This is absolutely not so, and I earnestly hope that when my theory is explained to them they will understand the true purpose of a discovery which so far may not have been made sufficiently clear.

Although for many years, I, like others, watched the rapid evolution of botanical grafting, by means of which new botanical specimens have been created, it was not that which led me to believe that similar results could be obtained by human or animal graft. The idea of what some people now term "rejuvenation" occurred to me while I was in Egypt, as attending physician to the khedive. During the 10 years I spent in that country I had occasion to observe the eunuchs there, and at the very start I was particularly impressed by the intimate connection between the following two facts:

1. That they lost many of the physical and some of the mental characteristics of manhood.

2. That they rarely lived to be older than 50.

These observations, in addition to the knowledge that men deprived of their endocrinal glands grew no beards, that their muscles failed to develop normally, that their voices remained high-pitched in middle-age as they were in childhood, and that in many other respects they lost the characteristics of the male sex, indicated beyond a doubt that, besides serving to reproduce the species, the endocrinal glands determined, to a great extent, the physical power of the individual. Moreover, the facts that most eunuchs died from 20 to 30 years sooner than the average man, proved this dual function of the endocrinal glands.

Thus, my first conclusion was: If the operation on eunuchs causes a physical change in man and shortens his life, then in those very glands which the surgeon remove during the operation lies a secret of long life.

At first it seems difficult to believe that my theory would ever have worked out in actual practice, because, after all, it amounts to the discovery of what is known in fiction as "the fountain of youth." Yet the more I studied the question, the more it seemed logical that if the removal of the endocrinal glands changed some of man's physical characteristics and shortened his life, then upon the presence and proper functioning of these glands depended the normal development and length of life of an individual.

WHY WAIT FOR SATURDAY? Phone us your order for groceries and meats. We deliver. TRADERS GROCERY AND MARKET, Inc. Ranger, Texas

With this data in mind, it soon became quite obvious to me that man ought to live as long as his endocrinal glands remained in a healthy condition.

Then the question came to my mind: How long can normal human organs remain in good condition? For upon the reply to this question depended not only how long the average man was originally intended to live but, indeed, it would have proved that the human body was not built to function any longer than the average man lived. In such an event the discovery that to reach the end of the average term of human life man must have healthy endocrinal glands, would have been of little if any use to humanity. Statistics which I gathered at the time, however, proved exactly the contrary, and showed me, beyond all possible doubt, that the human being could live far beyond the usual term of life.

Belts are among the important accessories this year as no frock or three-piece costume seems complete without a belt of some sort. With the sports suit they are decidedly popular and some of the newer sports belts are extremely wide. The two-piece frock is not to be worn without a belt this year it appears.

Announcement Of Saule Perlstein Wedding Received

Morris Bendix of Ranger, relative and business associate of Saule Perlstein of The Globe, Inc., has received a letter from Mr. Perlstein, who is in Germany, announcing his engagement to Miss Friedel Straus of Meckenheim, Germany.

Europe most extensively during that time, however, when he returns home he will not come alone but will bring his bride with him.

In Germany, according to Mr. Bendix, getting married is not as simple a thing as it is in the United States, where a man can get a license and marry as soon as he and his bride-to-be can reach a minister or a justice of the peace. In that country notice of an engagement has to be posted for six weeks prior to the event in a public place, so if there be reason why they should not marry the public or friends of the engaged couple can speak out or else hold their peace forever. Mr. Bendix says as a result of this publication there is very little divorce in Germany.

The marriage ceremony is usually performed first by the government and then by the church, as the church ceremony does not hold good without the government or civil ceremony as that is the one that the government recognizes.

Mr. Perlstein was born in Germany and came to this country in 1902, settling at Tucuman, N. M. He came to Ranger in the early days of the boom and since that time has been one of Ranger's foremost merchants, serving as a director of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, and in many other ways that have been helpful to the welfare of his adopted home town.

Friends of the Ranger merchant who will soon be a benedict, will be looking forward to welcoming him and his bride to Ranger in the near future, although it is not known just when the return voyage will be made.

Urge Property Owners To Aid Paving Work

Now that the West Texas Construction company, which has the contract for paving about four miles of Eastland streets, has its machinery on the ground and the paving work started, it is hoped by those in charge as well as the city officials that the property owners on streets where paving is to be done, will cooperate with the contractors by having their abstracts brought down to date and be ready to sign the paving contracts as soon as they are presented to them.

While the contractors have a good large crew and will be able to turn out work at a pretty rapid rate still it will take a long time to do the paving that is to be done in Eastland. The sooner it is done, the sooner the streets are available for use and it behoves everyone to help push the work as much as possible.

The 1926 wheat crop of Texas was the largest in the history of the state. Texas flour mills produce products valued at more than $40,000,000 a year.

Edwards Pupils Render Splendid Recital Friday

The recital given by the advanced pupils of J. M. Edwards, director of the Methodist church choir of Ranger, on Friday night, was not near as well attended as it deserved to be, for it was truly one of the best musical events that has been given in Ranger during the past few weeks. The program was well arranged and beautifully rendered, reflecting credit on the teacher and pupil as well.

Some beautiful numbers were given most ably. Due to the fact that there have been so many recitals in Ranger during the past two weeks, the crowd that greeted this splendid aggregation was not large but what it lacked in numbers it made up in enthusiasm.

When Women Choose A Mate Do They Follow The Line of the Least Resistance?

How A Woman May Choose Her Mate—Food for Thought

By RENA B. CAMPBELL

The question that arose over four cold drinks, was not a prohibition issue, even though the drinks were distinctly soft, but do women prefer bachelors or widowers?

One bachelor, a summer widower and two widows composed the foursome that sipped the cooling nectar and discussed the weighty question.

With the men there were only two answers to the question—the bachelor knew that they preferred bachelors, because women had been telling him so ever since he was of marriageable age and he had read the truth in the eyes of many a fair woman—eyes that lie, and lie and lie.

But the summer widower, who might some day be a widower, knew that women prefer widowers. Has not his wife often told him that if she died, he'd be married in less than six months, and wasn't that proof that widowers are irresistible?

But the women differed. One contended that a man broke to traveling in double harness made the best husband and a woman was saved the trouble of "breaking him in." One who in her youth preferred to ride a horse whose mouth was hardly accustomed to the bit to one that stood without hitching, preferred bachelors to "worms" as she termed the down-trodden lately released from bondage widower.

Then the argument became heated as it was set forth that all widowers are not of the "worm" type, but most of them are perfectly fine men, who love home and know how to treat a woman, while a bachelor, especially one who has run the range or followed the sign of the derrick for the best years of his life, is apt to run rough shod over a woman and remain single in spirit regardless of any marriage vows.

So the argument convinced nobody. It lasted over the consumption of nice long cold drinks and was not heated enough to affect anyone's enjoyment of them—but each woman knew, what neither man knew—that when the right man presents himself, and a woman tires of single blessedness, his marital status does not matter, as she'd take him "for better or for worse," regardless of whether he had or had not been married.

Mrs. John W. Colquitt read a paper on "Ownership and the Pre-School Child," followed by several piano numbers by Mrs. George B. McClellan. Mrs. S. P. Boon led a discussion on "Growth and Development of the Runabout Child." Ruth Smith gave two readings.

In a business session that followed the program it was decided that the club would not disband for the summer. However, they also planned to hold a bake sale on June 4.

Mrs. Gilbert served her guests delicious refreshments at the close of the business session.

Those present were: Mmes. C. E. Maddocks, F. E. Jacobs, A. N. Larson, J. S. Reynolds, S. P. Boon, John W. Colquitt, E. F. Rust, George Irwin, George B. McClellan, Bronson and the hostess.

Mmes. Bronson and Cox were welcomed as new members.

UNION SERVICES ON DEGROFF CORNER, RANGER.

Good progress is being made in preparing for the union evangelistic services which will begin Sunday evening in Ranger with music by a large orchestra and a chorus led by J. M. Edwards. It is the desire of the pastors that much emphasis shall be given to music and singing. All musicians and singers are invited to take part. The people of Ranger should, as far as possible, avoid making any programs to conflict with or detract from, the interest in these services, which beginning Sunday, 8 p. m., will be held each morning at the First Christian church at 10 o'clock and every night at 8 o'clock on the corner of Pine and Marston streets. Rev. George W. Shearer, chairman of the pastors' association, will preach Sunday evening. All are invited to take part in the opening of what promises to be a most helpful series of services.

There will be no preaching service in the church at the evening hour as the revival meetings start at open air tabernacle at the old DeGroof hotel site. This is to be a union meeting of the town and every member of the church will be expected to get right into the meeting at the start. The committee decided to have all the morning services in the Christian church. If you sing go right to the platform in the very first service. Brother Shearer will preach this evening. Come and take your place this morning. Special music.

ARMS AND LEGS.

During the past few seasons it seemed that a woman could show as much of her leg as she pleased but we be unto the female who showed an arm above the wrist-watch! Arms were considered decidedly vulgar for street purposes even during the warmest summer weather.

Now, however, one may display a dimpled elbow if one wishes. The censors have turned thumbs down when it comes to sleeves this year. Many of the better class sports frocks are sleeveless. But, even now, one must sneak up on the sleeveless vogue for though the frock is sleeveless the accompanying jacket is certain to be long-sleeved. It is thought that when warm days approach, jackets will be treated as kid gloves are. They'll be carried to prove that at least one has a long sleeve about the person.

An opera singer is a woman, but a rodo cigar has to be named after her.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Johnson are in Ranger for the summer. Mr. Johnson is greeting old friends at Swaney's. This fall he will again enter college and get his degree. He taught at Toole the past year.

While cotton manufacturers are striving to make this a cotton summer, it is certain that women will prefer to wear light-weight silks in preference to linens, cretonnes, organdies, etc. With numerous gown houses selling silk frocks of all types, as low as $10 and $15 it seems unlikely that women will again adopt the wearing of cotton materials.

Boston Store To Sell Picture Of Old Ironsides

The Boston Store, Ranger, will do its part towards "Old Ironsides," which helped save the nation—and now in turn the nation is helping to save her, as they will begin on Monday morning place on sale at 25 cents, the cost, the picture of "old Ironsides." This is the stores' contribution to the "old Ironsides" campaign that is being waged throughout the nation. A letter from Phillip Andrews, rear admiral of the United States Navy, thanks the Boston store for its telegram of May 17, in which it offers to assist in the distribution of "Old Ironsides" pictures. All money derived from the sale is turned into the "Old Ironsides" fund.

"Old Ironsides" is one of six ships authorized by congress on March 27, 1794. The ship was launched at Boston in 1797, ten years after the constitution of the United States had been adopted. Her fighting record has never been equalled by any single ship in the history of any navy in the world.

She was almost a navy in herself. Almost every state in the Union contributed to her building and her first flag was made by Betsy Ross and there was not a single section of the land in those days that was not represented in her successful crew.

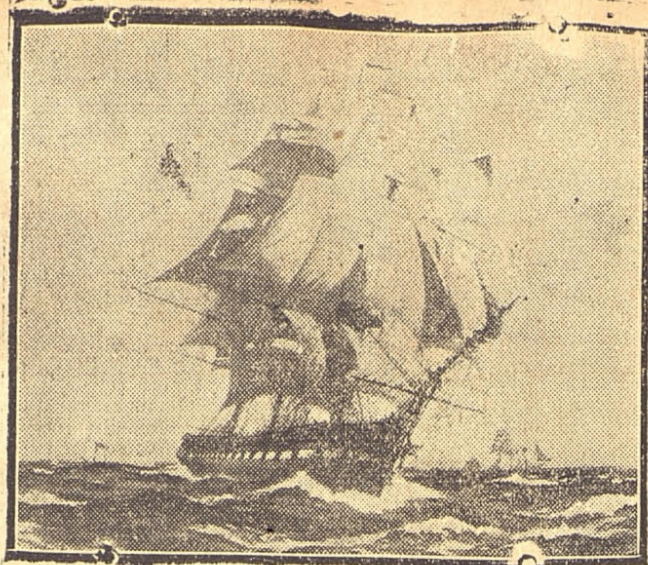

Her service continued through the war of 1812, and her history reveals a life of colorful and stirring in the tale of American naval events. In order to restore the gallant old ship, these beautiful reproductions of an original oil painting made by Gordon Grant, have been placed on sale throughout the nation.

Oakland Sales Set New Record Officials Says

April set a new sales record for the Oakland Motor Car company, Pontiac, Mich., 19,428 cars being sold during the month, it was announced by W. R. Tracy, vice president in charge of sales. This exceeds the sales of last August, previous high mark of the company, when a total of 17,668 cars were sold.

May production schedules have been increased and the Oakland factories now plan a combined output of 24,000 Oakland and Pontiac cars this month, an average of more than 1000 cars each working day.

The 1000 cars a day goal was reached one day during the last week in April, but this month the production will have to average above this record mark if the schedule is to be maintained.

Oakland is running far ahead of its 1926 sales, each month showing a big increase. During the first four months of 1927, Oakland-Pontiac sales totalled 53,618 cars as against 39,309 cars for the same period last year.

Attaining of the new production record was accomplished in April in spite of the fact that the new Pontiac Division factories were being occupied and new additional assembly lines and equipment utilized for the first time. With the added facilities working smoothly, no difficulty is anticipated in accomplishing the large schedule during May.

Production is still far behind orders, according to factory officials, and every effort is being made to increase production without interfering with careful inspection methods and the quality of cars built.

Cisco Rushing Completion Of Bathing Beach

Cisco's mammoth bathing beach is being rushed to completion for the opening of the first 300 foot section of the project on Sunday June 5. A half hundred men and a hundred head of mules and horses are working feverishly day and night to complete the first portion by that time. The work began on May 1 and rapid progress has been made, but the undertaking is so big that there is yet lots to be done before it is completed. Just below the Williamson dam the concrete floor for the mammoth swimming pool has been poured for the bath house, a two story structure is being made. It is hoped to have the roof and the second floor completed by Saturday night so that a private dance may be held there that night.

The bathing beach when completed will be 267 feet wide, the full width of the Williamson dam and 700 feet long—an area equal to three city blocks. It will include a swimming pool for the kiddies and a pool for the fancy divers. An island on which large pecan, hackberry, walnut and elm trees grow, will center the pool. It will be covered deep in sand and furnish a shady retreat for bathers.

There will be a roller toboggan slide, and many other novel bathing devices which will make it one of the most delightful bathing beaches in Texas.

Women of Legion Auxiliary Sell Poppies Saturday

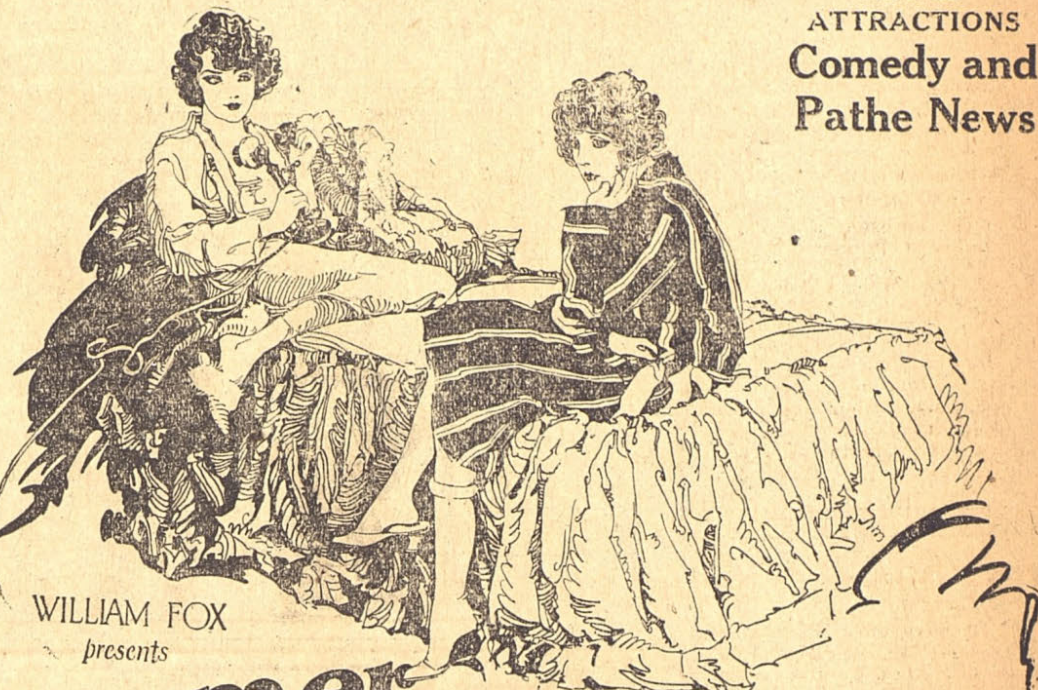

Saturday was poppy sale day in Ranger and hundreds of blood red poppies, silent reminders of the boys who died in France and who sleep beneath the poppies of Flanders field, were sold.

Saturday's poppy sale was for the living veterans of the World War. They were made by disabled French soldiers, who get one cent each for making them. They sold for ten cents or what amount more than that the buyer donated and this money is to be given to the disabled soldiers' fund.

Monday will be Memorial day and those who bought poppies are asked to wear them Monday in memory of America's immortal dead.

Carl Barnes Post Has Invitation To Attend Reunion

Carl Barnes post No. 69 of Ranger, has an invitation to attend the thirty-sixth division reunion picnic-barbecue to be held in Fort Worth on June 1, at the Casino on Lake Worth.

The invitation comes from Bothwell Kane Post, the Fort Worth chamber of commerce, the thirty-sixth division association and radio station KFQB.

A royal welcome is promised to the boys who trained at Camp Bowie. There will be plenty of fun, good fellowship, boat rides, swimming, tugs of war and plenty of eggs—but no "corned willie."

Ranger post will probably send some representatives as most of the buddies who trained for the great war at Camp Bowie, are rarin' to go and live over the days of the old Thirty-sixth.

CLEVELAND, May 28.—To stem the flow of rum which thirsty Ohioans are expecting from the liquor damped shores of Ontario, federal prohibition officials are preparing to throw up a barrage of ships, guns, airplanes and men that will resemble the defending forces of a nation besieged by countless hordes of enemy troops.

Here are some of the things Ar-

Legion Member Contest Grows More Spirited

Fried chicken or gold fish? That is the choice of menu that confronts members of Carl Barnes Post No. 69 of Ranger, who are in a membership contest with Ballinger and Stamford. The post that wins will be fed fried chicken at the meeting of the Seventeenth district of American Legion to be held in Coleman on June 4 and 5.

The losers will set down to gold fish.

Ranger is almost in the lead but not quite as Stamford has the lead and wires that she is going strong.

Ranger post has 130 paid up members whose names are filed with the state department and has 14 or 15 more that will be signed up before the contest ends, and maybe more than that.

A committee from Carl Barnes Post will go to Olden one day this week and during the noon hour recruit from the Magnolia employees more members for their post.

The Coleman post writes that they have assurance that Alvin Owsley will be with them during the convention and there are prospects that Governor Moody may be present also.

Carl Barnes post is going prepared to eat fried chicken. They say the only eat fish in the R months.

Three hundred heavily armed customs agents, along the Lake Erie shore from Erie, Pa., to Toledo, O.

Three hundred undercover men in Canada to "top off" coming invasions of rum runners.

Radio equipment to keep the "armies" on both sides of the lake in close liaison.

A fleet of fast hydroplanes to keep a constant patrol on the coast line.

Additions to the present coast guard meet with heavier armament.

Fenton declared that each group of agents stationed along the lake front will be prepared for all emergencies in meeting any efforts of invasion

rum runners. The hydroplanes are to be equipped with rifles and machine guns. The bigger coast guard boats will carry one-pounders.

Cleveland will become one of the important bases for the summer campaign against smugglers. A base for one or more hydroplanes is contemplated at the exclusive Cleveland Yacht club in Rocky river, a suburb.

"Prohibition can be enforced, if they supply sufficient men," Fenton said. "And I have been promised the men and equipment I deem necessary."

"I was with the army on the Mexican border. We kept the Mexicans from crossing the line down there. We can keep the rum runners from crossing the line up here. All that is necessary is to have a sufficient force. Washington has promised me that prohibition can be enforced so far as smuggling goods from Canada in this territory is concerned."

Fenton declared that narcotics and other smuggled goods will not be overlooked in the concentration upon the rum runners. He asserted that the enlarged force in this district will enable the government to keep stricter watch on smugglers of all kinds.

Miss Ramey Gives Demonstration In Canning Foods

Miss Ruth Ramey, Eastland county home demonstration agent gave a demonstration in canning at the home of Mrs. L. S. Cooke, on the Caddo road just north of Ranger, Saturday morning. The demonstra-

A Cow Feed That Will Make Ranger Famous

Ranger Ho-Maid Dairy Feed is a well balanced cow feed that is made from feed grown largely in Eastland county and wholly in West Texas. We buy the oats, barley, wheat, corn and maize heads direct from the farmers and grind and mix them with cotton seed meal and alfalfa and molasses.

We are asked why do we like to sell Ho-Maid Dairy Feed—Our answer is for several reasons.

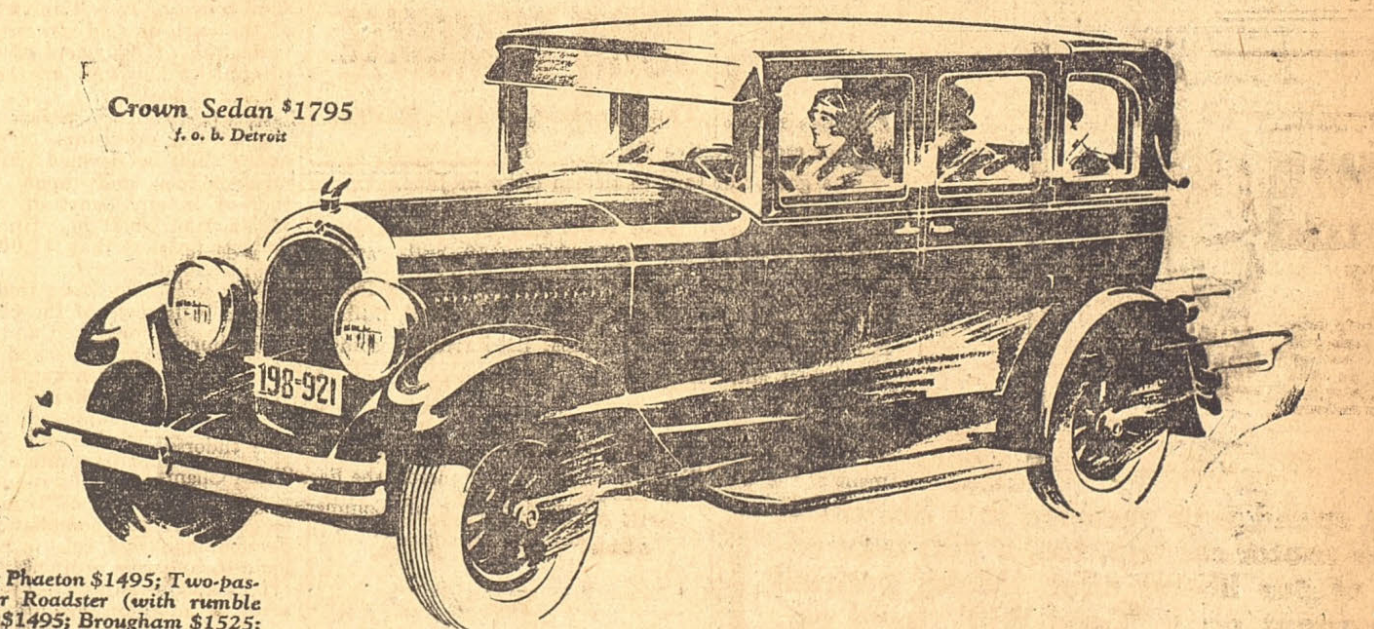

- 1st. It builds up our business and Ranger.
- 2nd. It makes a market for the famous feeds.
- 3rd. On account of its merits as a milk maker.

Ranger Ho-Maid Dairy is sold in competition with the world.

Once you drive the Chrysler "70" you'll want no other car

DRIVE the Chrysler "70"—not a perfunctory demonstration over a standard route—but a real test over all sorts of roads and through all sorts of traffic, in the way you are accustomed to drive.

Do that and you'll prefer the dash and vigor of its smooth performance to cars even much higher priced.

How often you have watched the cars lined up at a traffic intersection. And, at the signal, each time you have seen a Chrysler "70" whisk away in the lead.

Or on the open road, how often you have seen a Chrysler "70" pass car after car.

Now experience these thrills yourself. Drive it into the byways. Cobblestone roads and rutted detours lose their dread beneath the cradling comfort of its chrome vanadium springs, its special spring mounting and its shock absorbers.

See how easily you direct it by its pivotal steering gear. And once you have felt the sure safety of its four-wheel hydraulic brakes, you'll want them above all others.

Come in today. There'll be no need for us to explain "70" beauty of line, coloring, upholstery and appointment, for these instantly delight and charm your eye.

Then let us place a "70" at your disposal, and you will surely know the real reason behind the sweeping public preference for Chrysler "70" and the unique results in lasting performance and luxurious comfort that only the "70" gives.

Eastland County Represented At Farm Loan Meet

Earle Johnson, of Eastland, represented the National Farm Loan association of Eastland, at the celebration of the first ten years of service to Texas farmers and agriculture by the Federal Land Bank of Houston, the hostess city, held on May 18-20.

Many important resolutions were presented at this meeting, one of which petitions congress to increase the maximum loan which farmers would be permitted to borrow from local national farm loan associations from $25,000 the present limit to $50,000. This was done in order to help ranchmen take advantage of long-time low interest rate, amortized loans.

The subject of terracing lands was given much thought, since the erosion of the soils affects the farmer and the Federal Land Bank both and the new activity known as the conservation and soil terracing department, was unanimously approved.

A great deal of resentment was shown toward the so-called National association of Farm Loan Borrowers, which was organized in Chicago about a year ago, and which from its propaganda headquarters, in Washington endeavored to collect 25 cents each from nearly 400,000 federal farm loan borrowers, promising in turn to "liberalize" the system. It was pointed out, however, that the attorney general had ruled against contributions of this kind from the association's funds, saying that it is illegal.

The first borrower from the federal farm loan, Mr. Johnson said, was dead, but the second borrower, J. C. Fleming of Crosby, Harris county, was present and the story of this loan was told by President Gossett which proved most interesting. Mr. Fleming said that the Federal Land Bank loan had enabled him to purchase a farm, on which he had been paying 9 percent interest and could not make a success of, but which is now one of the best in the county with all modern improvements.

CLASS SENDS PREACHER CHECK FOR SERMON

Rev. H. B. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian Church of Ranger, had the unique experience of receiving a $10 check from the '27 graduating class of the Ranger high school, for whom he delivered the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday, May 29.

Rev. Mr. Johnson said he had been preaching baccalaureate sermons off and on for twenty-six years but this was the first time he had ever received a fee.

Fox Version of Summer Bachelors Increases Popularity of Story

SCENE FROM "SUMMER BACHELORS" A WILLIAM FOX ATTRACTION

It is doubtful if even Warner Fabian anticipated the tremendous popularity of his latest novel, "Summer Bachelors." Appearing serially in McClure's Magazine, it proved a miracle circulation builder for that monthly.

Published as a book it has kept the presses of Boni and Liveright busy night and day in an attempt to keep up with the demand for the novel. And now Fox films has made a moving picture version of it which is becoming even more popular than the book itself. This may be accounted for, in part, by the fact that Allen Dwan directed the production and Madge Bellamy with what is said to be a million dollar cast, interpreted the principal roles.

Lest there be a doubt in the minds of some wives that their husbands do not play while they are away, as pictured in "Summer Bachelors," let them see this satirically instructive and always amusing photodrama. Perhaps all husbands are not like the ones shown in "Summer Bachelors," who dive for a telephone booth to call up their favorite blonde as soon as the little wife steps on the train.

Togo and Aubrey Ray Indicted On Robbery Charge

Togo and Aubrey Ray, charged with robbery with firearms in connection with the looting of the First State bank of Ovalo in Taylor county on March 26, were indicted Friday morning by the Taylor county grand jury, which had been called into session by Judge Milburn S. Long of the 42nd judicial district.

The Ray boys, who are cousins, were arraigned before Judge Long following their indictment. Togo's trial was set for Wednesday, June 1 and that of Aubrey for the following day.

The court will appoint special counsel to represent the boys, it is stated.

RANGER DRUGGIST GOES ON FISHING TRIP TO OZONA

O. L. Phillips, Ranger druggist left Friday night to join a party of friends from Fisher county, for a fishing trip about 150 miles from Ozona. Mr. Phillips makes the trip most every year with the same party.

Lindbergh doesn't smoke, chew or drink. His only bad habit seems to be flying.

stating that active inflammation has subsided, said certificate to be countersigned by a local health authority.

The code provides that during school, persons suffering from measles, whooping cough, mumps, etc., shall be barred from school for twenty-one days or longer if the local health officer deems necessary.

It also sets forth that hotel proprietors, keepers of boarding houses and head of household report contagious diseases that may occur on parents.

The same rules that prevail in the barring from schools the pupils afflicted with contagious diseases, apply to barring children thus afflicted from public places.

Dr. Stackable stated Saturday that there was far too much whooping cough and measles in Ranger and the proper precaution to keep them from spreading were not being observed by their premises within twelve hours of their first knowledge of the disease.

Health Officer Warns Parents To Guard Children

Deploing the spread of measles and whooping cough among the children of Ranger, Dr. J. B. Stackable, city health officer, calls the attention of parents to some of the rules and regulations that can be enforced to keep children so affected from public places and thereby eliminate to some degree the spread of communicable diseases.

The state sanitary code provides that children afflicted with trachoma, granulated lids, or contagious catarrhal conjunctivitis must be excluded from schools, public assemblages, and from close association with other individuals, unless they are under the constant care and strict supervision of a competent physician, and hold a certificate from said physician

TALENT-GENIUS DO NOT EXIST SAYS FAMOUS PSYCHOLOGIST

By United Press.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Talent is not inherited and ability to achieve great things is not the exclusive property of the few mysteriously chosen at birth. As a matter of fact, history has been made by individuals who were in many cases suffering severe mental or physical handicaps.

These are the conclusions reached by Dr. Alfred Adler, professor at the Pedagogic Institute at Vienna and one of the world's leading authorities on psychology, writing in the June issue of Harper's Magazine.

"I must deny," he says, "that heredity has a great deal to do with accomplishment or performance. . . . The great accomplishments, the really worth while achievements have been made by individuals whose equipment was poor.

"The average layman believes that he carries his future with him into life, like his milk teeth; a given quantum of creative ability, which need only be unpacked, so to speak, to make him a delt or a genius."

This idea, Dr. Adler brands as a "superstition" and cites numerous cases of children, apparently "backward," who with the right kind of training have developed into brilliant pupils. He points out that it is not the amount of ability which we are born with that counts, but the amount which of our own effort we develop.

"The courage which is the basis of talent," he goes on, "must be combined with an adequate training. Many seemingly untalented individuals are simply poorly trained. Their slightest actions bare the inhibitions of this inadequate technic. We know that there are individuals who walk badly, who have no talent for speaking, and of course others who seem to have no talent for studying, or reasoning or thinking or reading books. It is simply a question of finding the right technic.

"Growing insight into technic and training will doubtless open up new fields for the formerly 'untalented,' and I prophesy that in not many years the delusion of 'talent' will vanish into the limbo of witchcraft, the evil eye, and the casting of spells. If we could develop better we could make a halfway adequate composer out of everyone. This sounds like heresy to the composers, to the musical genius. But I need only remind you that while Beethoven's mother was pregnant with him, his father said, 'If this will be a boy, he will be a second Mozart!' We can say that he guessed correctly, that the boy had the appropriate talents.

But what was the most outstanding feature about Beethoven? A hereditary organic defect. Otosclerosis, a hereditary disease of the ear ossicles which results in severe deafness about the twentieth year. What would one of our modern vocational guidance psychologists have said to the young Beethoven? Would he have prophesied talent as a musician? Certainly not. He would have made a shoe salesman out of him, would have directed him to leave music strictly alone. And had Beethoven followed his advice, become a shoe salesman, the vocational guidance psychologist would have claimed that he was right. No musical genius would have developed in him!"

In this connection Dr. Adler brings out the fact that the poorly equipped individual is often the one that develops the greatest "talent" in the end.

"Normal individuals," he says, "with normal organs approach the normal adjustments of everyday life with a greater equanimity, since accomplishing these tasks seems easily within reason. They lack the tremendous tension that is characteristic of an individual who sees less clearly than his fellow, or a lefthander who is forced to work with his weaker and more poorly co-ordinated right hand. The normal individual seeks for no tricks, no legerdemain, because he can adjust without tricks and legerdemain. Try to drive a nail with a hammer. The hammer almost does it by itself, because it is an efficient instrument. But try to drive that same nail with a pair of scissors, or with a pocket-knife! You need tricks and legerdemain now, and a refinement of technic, to accomplish the same result that comes easily with a hammer.

"We must come to the conclusion that it is one of the greatest advantages to an individual to be born with defective organs. That is the conclusion that we arrive at when we regard the question of heredity in a purely objective fashion, the great majority of psychologists, physicians, and laymen to the contrary notwithstanding."

It Is No Wonder Congressmen Dodge Visitors

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON. — Congressional mail is fascinating material for exploration, but congressional visitors are almost a menace.

The only reason congressmen retain such mental facilities as they have is that there are secretaries to protect the congressmen and sometimes even stenographers to protect the secretaries.

But the worst pest or the most pronounced psychopathic case at times has such a plausible exterior that he gets into the inner sanctum and then it's the devil's own job getting rid of him.

These cranks include those who come in to ask the great man to endorse a check. If he isn't there to put his name on the check himself, why his secretary will do very nicely. Often it's not good politics to refuse and the boys on the hill are not hard-hearted when someone from the home state badly needs the money, but it is no rarity for these checks to come back.

The late Senator Ladd once lost $400 that way. The leader of an American Legion band is said to have cashed the check after obtaining Ladd's endorsement. Most members of congress, however, will balk at taking a chance on such a large sum.

One senatorial secretary recently cashed a check for $65 for a young man from out near his home. Back came the check. It subsequently developed that the youth had spent $45 of the money talking over the telephone to a girl friend in the west that same evening. His mother finally made good.

Congressman Sol Bloom of New York has blossomed out as the government's super-salesman.

About March 15, Uncle Sam modestly put on sale one of the most important volumes published by the government printing office for a long time. This was the code of laws of the United States of America, an indexed, complete compilation produced by act of Congress after many years of labor and research.

One lawyer says that this massive tome costs some $200 as available in annotated form from private publishers, but the government only charged the modest sum of $4.

Nevertheless, sales were sluggish until Congressman Sol grabbed hold of the promotion work.

Then the government printing office received more orders for the book in three days than it had in the preceding two months.

A husband-calling contest was the feature of an Iowa fair recently. We thought from the headline that there had been some trouble somewhere over a bridge game.

DAUGHTERS of MIDAS

by Ann Austin

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Billy Wells, Nyda Lomax, and Winnie Shelton, department store employees, are taken as wards into the home of their millionaire employer, T. Q. Curtis, for one year, because he wants to help them further ambitions which they have expressed.

Billy, who desires to become a concert violinist, is the only one of the three who is sincerely ambitious, the others having lied to enjoy T. Q.'s generosity. When they learn, by accident, that he intends to adopt one of them as his daughter, when the year is up, a battle follows for his affections. Billy is unwillingly drawn into the contest, and this, together with her infatuation for Dal Romaine nephew of Mrs. Meadows, hired hostess for the girls, causes her to neglect her violin. Through everything she tenderly remembers Clay Curtis, son of her benefactor, who has disinherited himself and is boarding with Mrs. Wells in the poor part of the town, working in the Truman automobile factory in the day and writing music at night.

Dal Romaine takes Billy to a country house conducted by a Hindu and there he makes ardent love to her. He begs her to keep her romance a secret until the year is up so as not to interfere with Curtis' agreement. Billy is poignantly jealous when she learns that Winnie is going to meet Romaine. The same day, Ralph Truman takes Billy through his father's automobile factory. She sees Clay before he is aware of her presence, and she is hurt and shocked to see his thin body bent over the hideously noisy machine, to see the face twisted in nervous agony.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXV

Billy stood on tiptoe and spoke into Ralph Truman's ear. "Love me alone a bit with Clay, please, Ralph. I have something important to say to him."

She stood behind Clay, when Ralph had obligingly wandered away, wondering how to attract his attention without startling him. Ralph, watching her at a distance, sensed her problem and gave an order that caused the machinery on that side of the building to stop functioning abruptly.

Clay Curtis straightened his bent body and stared about him in slow bewilderment. Then he turned, as if to go to investigate the trouble, and almost knocked Billy off her feet.

Blank amazement was followed by a flash of joy in his black eyes. "Billy!"

"I came to see you," she told him. "You look so ill, dear, so—so torn with the noise." She had never called him "dear" before and scarcely realized that she had done so.

"It's driving me crazy," he told her, drawing a deep, shuddering breath. "Noise, noise, clamor, bedlam, eight hours a day. I hear the damned machines in my sleep. Can't hear anything else. I'm losing my music—can't write or play—but—" he brought himself up with a jerk—"how are you, Billy? We don't see much of you any more. Happy?"

"My, how polite we are!" she laughed at him, with a trace of her old impudence. "Don't I look happy?"

"No," he told her bluntly. "You look as if you're burning up inside with fever. And you've lost a lot of weight. Circles under your eyes, too, and your mouth looks tighter—and older."

"Lord what a wreck I must be!" she challenged him, but there was a break in her determinedly gay voice. "But I didn't come here to talk about me, Clay. I want to talk about you. Let's hurry, before these machines start roaring again. Look at your neck, Clay—" She spread her arms to indicate the men who stood before their machines, contented, waiting placidly for the machinery to start up again. "They don't look like nervous wrecks, as you do. And I've found out the secret. In a matter of you—a musician—for how long worked here so long without hearing found it out for yourself. When the current goes on again, I want you to listen, dear, and see if you hear what I heard—"

"Infernal noise, trying to tear every nerve out of my body!" Clay answered her with a passionate anger. "That's what I never have heard every day for weeks—"

"Don't coddle yourself so!" She stamped her foot at him, but her eyes were tender with sympathy. "I hadn't been in here ten minutes before I heard something wonderful, something tremendous—a great symphony of sounds, overtones and undertones of real music, played on a Titan's orchestra—or Vulcan's—"

"A symphony?" His lips twisted angrily over the word. "If you had to work in this machine—"

"But these other men hear it, though they don't put it into words," she insisted earnestly, refusing to be angry with him. "They don't look torn and ravaged and miserable, as you do. They are actually impatient for the machine to start again. It's the only music that really means anything to most of them. And they're part of it. Part of the tremendous 'Sing of Toil'—this old Titan's orchestra is played for you, and you, you poor boys, aren't musicians enough to hear it—"

He stared at her resentfully, but comprehension was dawning slowly in his tired, harassed eyes.

"Look at them!" she commanded him, pointing again to the nearest men who waited for their tasks to begin again. "Watch them when they begin work again. Every movement they make is in rhythm—I watched them before I spoke to you!—every movement in rhythm to the music that is being played by the greatest orchestra I ever heard! The song of toil. Your work is killing you because you are out of step—" She stopped, breathless, and before she could speak again the switch was thrown, the great steel instruments of Vulcan's orchestra began to perform again.

Clay turned back to his task. His job was to feed strips of thin steel into the teeth of a machine which bit out pieces of it, and spat them into an endless, running carrier.

She moved so that she could see his face. When she had watched him before, she had flinched in sympathy with his nerves as his hands had flinched at their task—his piano fingers fearing and hating the steel strips that bit so savagely into the strips of metal which he fed to them. She had known what he was fearing—that those relentless, blind teeth would seize his fingers, snap them off, so that he could never play again.

She saw that he was listening, incredulously at first, then with dawning wonder. His eyes grew soft and wide with an almost childish delight, the muscles of his thin, grease-marked face gradually stopped twitching, his hand lost its fearfulness; almost mechanically, as if he had lost his horror of the thing, he guided the strip of steel into the jaws that opened and closed rhythmically to receive it.

"You're right!" he told her with his lips, though she could not hear the words above the roar of the machinery.

Ralph Truman joined them then, and Billy left Clay to his work, smiling upon him with such lingering tenderness that Truman could not help noticing it. He was less eager, more silent, as he conducted her through the numerous other buildings of the factory.

"Tired now, Billy?" he asked solicitously, after she had looked on in naive wonder at the assembling of an automobile engine in the great assembling plant of the factory.

"Frightfully," she smiled at him. "In such a model factory I'm sure you have afternoon tea. And I'm starved."

"That shall be the next revolutionary innovation in the Truman automobile works," Ralph assured her gaily. "As a reward for the bright idea, you shall have your tea now, if I have to make it myself. This is the cafeteria, where employees are served at actual cost. Oh, angel!" he raised his voice and shouted as he led Billy into a great, pleasant room, comfortably filled with small white-topped tables.

"Yes, Mr. Ralph," a middle-aged woman hurried from the kitchen, smoothing her starched white apron. "Tea, sir? Would the little lady like cinnamon toast or French toast? And I've just been whipping some cream. Hot chocolate with whipped cream would be nice, sir."

"I would!" Billy laughed. "Cinnamon toast, please, with oodles of cinnamon and sugar. Your secret is out, Ralph." She lowered her voice to a mocking whisper as Truman settled into a chair opposite her. "You keep Angie—doesn't the name suit her to a T?—just to pamper your lady friends whom you proudly conduct through the 'works'."

"I'll fire Angie for giving me away!" He pretended to be angry. "But I'm delighted that you're hungry."

Billy laughed wholeheartedly, and was surprised at the sound. She had not laughed with genuine enjoyment for weeks. It was odd that she and Dal so seldom laughed. With him she was tense, keyed to a terrific emotional pitch, either abysmally tragic or feverishly ecstatic, never just plain happy in the comfortable, ordinary sense of the word.

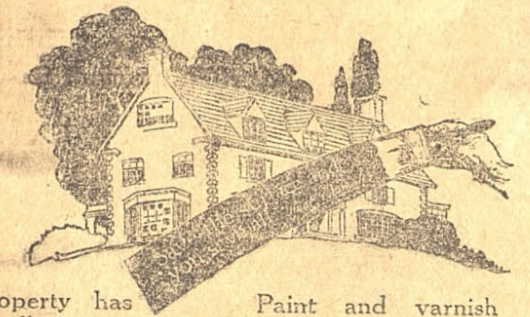

When the crisp, hot toast and the steaming chocolate came, Ralph watched her eat, his eyes filled with a tenderness and anxiety that would have startled her out of her precious hunger if she had caught the expression.

"There—that ought to 'flesh me up' quite a bit, as mother says," Billy sighed contentedly, when she had finished her third piece of cinnamon

"You look so ill, dear, so torn with the noise."

Announcement:

WE HAVE authentic information direct from the Ford Motor Company that we will soon have an entirely new Ford car.

This car will be superior in design and performance to any car now in the low price light car field.

It will have more style more speed, be more flexible, and easier to control in traffic, thereby making it stand head and shoulders above anything at anywhere near the same price.

Watch for further particulars of this great upheaval in the motor car industry.

THOSE WHO own Model T Fords need have no cause for worry as to parts and service. The factory will continue to make this model and supply parts for it. This model still represents the highest achievement in motor car value and low cost operation.

However, we must make room for the new models. We have a big stock of used cars on hand and will have to cut the price still lower to sell them out.

The real, sure-nuff sale starts now, herewith and immediately. See us quick for the biggest values in used cars that you'll see for many a day.

ABOVE IS THE NEWS THEY'VE ALL WAITED FOR--FURTHERMORE

Every used car must go. You can reason for yourself why we must clear our stock and you can figure for yourself what sacrifices we would make to sell them.

We know we're going to lose money on them and we're ready to take it right now. If you have any idea you'll need a used car in the next year you can save yourself money by getting in touch with one of our salesmen this week.
