FOLKS DEMAND
CONVENIENCES

"Taxation Without Representation" Basis of Their Conventions, They Say.

Residents of Eastland Hill are going to demand the right of their own municipality unless modern conveniences are installed upon the hill. This action was decided upon by a committee which held a meeting last night.

They are going to ask for a public school. This request will be based on the fact that 115 of school age live in the neighborhood. They are going to ask for electric lights, water connections, police protection and a street up the hill provided the Pleasant Grove highway does not traverse the present route.

It was the finding of the committee that property holders were paying taxes for these things and not receiving them and unless they did receive them they would move that they be released from city taxation in order that they might install their own improvements.

THE COMMITTEE.

The committee was composed of representatives from the Taylor grocery, Brown's blacksmith shop, Ratliff feed store, Eastland Hill garage, the Cornelius grocery and S. Romick.

It is said that a petition will be circulated among the residents and presented to the city commission requesting the improvements desired.

MAN KILLED
FROM AMBUSH
IN SOUTH BEND

GRAHAM, Texas, June 13.—As a result of a mysterious fusillade fired from the outside of a tent in South Bend last night one of a party of men playing cards inside the tent was fatally injured and two others seriously wounded.

A. B. Marks, formerly employed by the Wichita Falls & Southern railroad, was shot through the head and died a few hours later. Marks was on his way from his home in Oklahoma to Breckenridge, Texas, and had stopped in South Bend to visit friends.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, June 13.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will oppose the granting of a soldier bonus at this session of Congress, it was learned today.

Mellon's opposition to the plan developed after it was announced that Senator Penrose and other Senate leaders were to confer with him, preparatory to taking up the soldier bonus bill.

Mellon's position is understood to be about the same as that of former Secretary Houston, who held that the payment of a bonus to ex-service men would disarrange the nation's finances to a dangerous extent.

TRUCK LAW IS NOT IN EFFECT
UNTIL 1922

Attorney General Holds Old
Law Will Govern Until That Time.

DALLAS, Texas, June 12.—Owners of commercial motor vehicles in Texas will not have to pay mileage tax and other fees as levied under the new law enacted by the last Legislature until after Jan. 1, 1922, as the law will not become operative until after that date, according to a holding of the Attorney General's Department at Austin yesterday. It has been believed by many that this act would become effective on June 11, sixty days after adjournment of the legislature, and that that the motor truck mileage tax would have to be paid for the rest of 1921.

John M. Lowery, County Tax Collector, was advised late yesterday in a telegram from the State Highway Department at Austin that the Attorney General's office in conference had just held that no part of the new truck law can become operative until after Jan. 1, 1922, and that the old law will govern until that date. Mr. Lowery's telegram follows:

"Attorney General's office today in conference held that no part of Senate Bill 101, in reference to increased tax on commercial motor vehicles, becomes effective until Jan. 1, 1922. The old law will govern until that time."

The new truck law, known as Senate bill 101, amends the State highway law by changing the provisions of Sec. 16 of Chapter 190 of the general laws of the regular session of the Thirty-fifth legislature, as amended by Chapter 113 of the General Laws of the regular session of the Thirty-Sixth Legislature, regulating the registration of motor vehicles, the license fees and taxes levied thereon.

DOUBLE-HEADER TODAY WITH BRONCS; YORK TO BALLINGER

Lovey or Hamilton to Play First Base; New Shortstop in Lineup.

Rain made the first game of the Bronco-Nitros series impossible yesterday. As a result, the two teams are due to battle their way through a double-header today.

When the fans parking themselves back of the wire this afternoon, they will find some few changes in the Nitro lineup.

Jack York is gone. That sterling athlete was released while on the road and is now manager of the Ballinger Beareats.

Lovell or Hamilton will be covering the first sack.

At shortstop, a new face will appear—a young fellow named Etz, who confesses that the bigs have called him "Etz" in times past.

Those who watch box scores may have wondered about the Adkins playing with the Scouts during the Cisco series.

So Sled's strategy brought home no bacon. The Times' standing of the West Texas league is guaranteed to be correct.

That Standing

The Times' standing of the West Texas league is guaranteed to be correct. This statement is made for the benefit of those who sometimes see other percentages in the "state papers" and think because of their size an prestige these state papers cannot make an error.

With such persons it is perhaps impossible to reason, but for those who may be open to reason it might be stated that for several reasons the Times should be considered more reliable.

For one thing, the West Texas league is the major sport interest of the Times, while in the "state papers" it is a secondary issue.

Second, the "morning papers" which are sold in Ranger are printed about 9 o'clock at night.

And it takes the time to keep its averages checked up. The Times has never been forced to make any except the daily changes, except in one instance where the reason for the change was given.

Thirdly, the Times maintains that its staff is just as competent individually as the men on the larger papers, and just as able to keep the standings.

This is a lot of space to devote to a small matter, but if it will clear up the honest doubt of even one sport follower, it will be worth it.

The Times' West Texas league standing will always be correct except for the possibility of a typographical error, which happens on all papers.

This is a lot of space to devote to a small matter, but if it will clear up the honest doubt of even one sport follower, it will be worth it.

If—

Now that the Nitros are back home, after a five-game trip which was 100 per cent in the red, a little lifting is in order if one is to continue to be an optimist.

It is all very well to say, the Nitros played in hard luck; to point out that they lost three games by one score and another during a sandstorm which swooped down when the score was tied, and to enlarge upon the fact that two of the losses went into extra sessions.

That, of course, will have to be done on the playing field. The score value of lifting is to show just how steep is the road that must be taken.

Nitro chances for the first half are slim, but possible of accomplishment. All they have to do is win 15, lose 4, for a percentage of 78.

Concerning Jim's great play, Ruggles wrote: The finest fielding stop of the year was made by Jim Galloway in the fifth inning of the opening game, duplicating one of the most spectacular defensive plays of all time—Jiggs Donahue's famous catch in the 1906 world's series.

Galloway's play averted at least one run. With two out in the fifth, Harper passed McDonald, who stole second, and Harvey Grubb, bringing Couchman up.

Now on the face of it, it does not appear possible that all these teams can suffer such startling reverses as depicted here. But there is still a chance.

Now take Abilene. In a way, they have the best of the schedule, as they play eleven games at home and eight on the road—and five of the road games are at Ballinger.

Disciples of the Fourth Estate Hark to the Call of Oil Towns' Thrills and Throbs

As Ranger emerged from a muddy, struggling, fighting, boom town into an orderly city members of the Times staff who did their "bit" in helping to bring the transformation about saw the "handwriting on the wall" and quietly packed their other shirt and stole away.

The former Bean Brummett of the Times crowd, Julian C. Kent, led the March. Kent is a linotype operator and a head writer par excellence, and sometimes he breaks into song.

The others are in various departments of the newspapers. Only Donald Bangs really attempted to desert the profession.

Larry Smits was formerly managing editor of the Times and writer of heart throbs and sporting stories. Ranger was passing from the intriguing stage and one day he went away.

Paul Yates, who was poet laureate of the Times in between times wrote dry whimsical humor so "those who ran might laugh" fell for the flesh pots of a farm.

SIDESTEPPING EDUCATION.

Of several score graduates at the Fort Worth High school this year, only about one-fifth were boys.

What are the reasons. Is it lack of interest in the education on the part of the boys, or is it because the girls are taking more interest?

If the latter, the country is to be congratulated upon the increased interest of women in the world and its affairs, in acquiring the training which opens to them a broader field of usefulness.

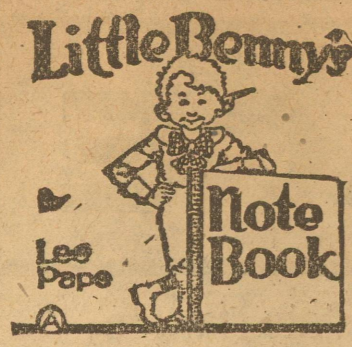

But when less than twenty youths out of potential hundreds, keep in school until they are 16 to 17 years of age, it indicates rather than the lure of wage earning has called them forth, or family necessity has driven them to work.

If it is the lure of wage earning, then some means should be found to point out the error to the boys. A youth of 17 has had time to acquire but few habits. Therefore a little money is a lot.

AUTOMOBILES INVADE ISLE OF THE TAHITI

By Associated Press PAPEETE, Tahiti, June 12—In olden days when a Tahiti native wished to refresh his soul, he decked himself with the island's fragrant flowers, obtained a goodly supply of raw sugar rum and retired on foot to some shady valley to enjoy himself.

Wounded bark of accacia trees along the avenue from Pautua to Paapeete, showing where sundry machines driven by natives have caromed from tree to tree, bear grim witness to the wild rides taken by some of the Tahitians.

Lately the government has stepped in and made the roads comparatively safe for pedestrians. All sorts of machines are found here, bright cars, shining with glistening enamel, cars of ancient vintage, with brass radiators green with verdigris, steering gear tied with wire and cars of every degree and condition of repair.

When the invention of the "popas" as the white man is called, came to the island some years ago, the natives fell upon it with glad cries. Every Tahitian who could get credit, mortgaged his land or his relatives' land, or to beg, borrow or steal, and hastened to get a car and for months the island was ringed with a thick cloud of yellow dust.

Below the cloud were dim shapes of "jitneys" filled to overflowing with yelling kamakas, rushing outlines of wild-eyed pedestrians through the fog and the shadowy jumping nimbly for the shelter of the largest tree trunks on the side of the highway.

The greatest disgrace that an Arab woman can suffer is not to be able to live in perfect compatibility with her husband's wives.

TINKER BOB STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB.

"WHIZZ" WENT SOME CREATURE.

Tinker Bob started away whistling. He was off to find Billy Mink and Three Legs the Muskrat, and Long Neck, the Turtle. He knew that Billy Mink was an irritable fellow and hard to manage but he would do what he could to keep him working with the Ferry for the forest creatures were anxious that the Ferry leave on time.

The King hadn't gone very far when "Whizz," went some creature, so suddenly that Tinker Bob was startled. "Well now," said he, stopping to consider the cause of that sudden departure, "that is a funny thing. I'll find out about that. No one can run away like that and expect to keep out of my sight."

He had a coat of brownish gray, spotted in such a way that when he sat close to the ground it was difficult for even the King to see him. Then Tinker Bob spoke. "So it was you who tried to get away from me, was it? Why did you run, don't you know that I am King of the Forest and it is hard to get away from me?"

The King's appearance had been so sudden that our friend had no chance to fly away, and then, when he found out that it was Tinker Bob he didn't want to. His short bill opened and these were the words that came forth: "O King, I didn't know it was you or I wouldn't have tried to get away. You came upon me so suddenly that I was afraid it might be Red Fox and I took no chances."

"Oh, you need not be afraid of

"Whizz," went some creature, so suddenly that Tinker Bob was startled.

Red Fox for he is in bed with his nose all bandaged up, and he'll not summer. Mrs. Bob White is out he out for a week," said Tinker Bob. "I'm so glad you told me," the strange creature replied. "For I have been afraid that he would find me before I had my home fixed up for the looking for a place now that she thinks will be suitable for a home."

Yes, that's who it was—Mr. Bob White, and the King had not seen him before this Spring. But he is a bashful fellow and doesn't show himself very often. Even while the King sat on a log talking to him he kept very close to the ground lest some creature might chance to pass that way.

"Bob White Bob White, Bob White," came the clear sound.

"There is Mrs. Bob White now. I'll bet she has found a place for our summer home," and away went Mr. Bob White to see if it was true.

SOUL PROGRESS MOST ESSENTIAL TO DEVELOPMENT OF HUMANITY

WACO, Texas, June 12.—Asserting that the largest future development of mankind lies in the realm of religion, the Rev. M. T. Andrews, of Temple, Texas, today told the 1921 graduates of Baylor University that "the progress of the soul depends upon a worthy ambition, a dauntless will and a divine force."

"The progress of human life is the center around which the whole world revolves," the speaker said. "Progress is essential, both in the natural and in the spiritual world." In his baccalaureate sermon, the Rev. Mr. Andrews said, in part: "The most interesting thing in all the realm of progress is the progress of a soul. There is more to discover in the growth of the best there is in man than in any field of material advancement."

"Some of the best thinkers of our age are saying that the largest future development for mankind lies in the realm of religion. The physical and material evolution of man, what-ever that is, they say, is about finished. For man's body, they are not making a better hand, or a better foot, or a better ear, or a better eye. The human body is no more perfect now than it was six thousand years ago."

It is doubtful also if evolution is making any improvement in man's brain. The really great and original thinkers of the race are not all modern products by any means. It does seem if there is to be any further marked development in the race, it must be in the realm of the soul. "The progress of a soul depends upon three things—a worthy ambition, a dauntless will, and a divine force."

Worthy Ambition. "What is a worthy ambition, a laudable and legitimate purpose for a human life? What is the primary and supreme thing for a growing soul? The worthiest ambition and the holiest purpose for a human life is the normal perfection of character."

"Satisfaction with past attainments is unrighteous and unworthy of us. The holiest ambition for a growing soul is the perfection of character. "It is hardly probable that you will ever completely attain this goal of perfection. It is not the dream of a moment. It lies beyond the range of human vision. Its achievement is as long as eternity and as expansive as God. Put it is possible for one to spend the whole circle of life here on earth under the controlling, and ennobling, and elevating, and sanctifying power of such a sacred ambition."

"The struggle to be the aim at moral perfection, the building of character, in one's self, is the master effort of the soul of man. The most subtle temptation of the devil is to lead a man to search for small things, to be guided by low purpose, to spend his strength doing that which ten thousand lesser creatures are capable of doing and to neglect the grander task, the holiest thing in the plan of the ages."

"I do not mean to question the ef-

UNCLE SAM IS OFFERING BOYS MONTH'S OUTING

Will Furnish Railroad Fare, Shelter, Food, Clothes and Training in Camp.

By Associated Press FORT CROOK, Neb., June 12.—Uncle Sam is looking for husky youngsters, 16 to 19 years old, who want to take a month's outing at his expense during August. Railroad fare, shelter, food and khaki clothes will be provided, and the only requisite is that the young men take up the offer to be healthy, be willing to stay a month, and be residents of Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North or South Dakota.

The boys from Missouri, Kansas and Arkansas will take their outing at Camp Pike Arkansas, and those from Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, North and South Dakota at Fort Snelling, Minnesota. This announcement is made by the commanding general, Seventh Corps Area, whose headquarters are here. Applicants are urged to write to Major Fred Lemmon, Fort Crook, Neb.

The vacation offer is made in connection with the "Red" training camps, to be conducted this summer for the first time by the army. In spite of being officially designated as "Red" camps, the purpose of these camps, according to official announcement, is "to promote good citizenship, and an interest in national defense."

"Bring Boys Together," continues the announcement, "plans to bring together young men of all occupations on a basis of equality under the most favorable conditions of outdoor life."

The camps are open to men between the ages of 16 to 35, but boys from 16 to 19, with no previous military service are particularly sought. They need only present certificates of good character, signed by a clergyman, school teacher, priest or rabbi, and a statement as to hearing, eyesight, heart action general physical condition from a doctor.

Physical training is a primary object at the camps, and outdoor games and sports will have an important place on the camp programs. "Careful attention," says the announcement, "will be given to the correction of all minor bodily defects, with advice as to future corrective treatment and exercise."

SHOE PRICES NOT IN LINE WITH HIDES

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Selling prices of shoes prior to the decline, which began a year ago increased by greater amounts and percentages than costs, according to a report transmitted today to the house by the federal trade commission.

The report is in response to a resolution of the house directing an inquiry into cost prices and selling prices of shoe manufacturers and retailers for the years 1918 and 1919.

The commission says that prices of leather and of shoes have not yet gone down as much as would appear warranted from present values of hides and skins.

OIL LAND SUIT IS WON BY COLQUITT

AUSTIN, June 12.—In the fifty-third district court yesterday, judgment for plaintiff was returned by a jury in the case of the State of Texas and O. B. Colquitt et al. as co-plaintiffs against the Graham Oil Syndicate of Young county, involving title to 250 acres of oil land in the Clear Fork of the Brazos river in Young county.

Colquitt and associates held a permit under the state to prospect for oil, while the defendants claimed to Bathed in a golden electric glow and robed only in her long black hair, a woman with a form like that of September Morn, stood in her bedroom window Saturday night and took the air while on the sidewalk below strong men slugged for a corner and a better point of vantage. The woman was far above the street—in the third story, to be exact—the outside of the building was enveloped in the "coat of the night." She seemed to be an airy fairy, floating in the halo of the light in which she bathed; unconcerned that below men were ready to murder each other for a glimpse of her fairy form.

But only for a moment the picture lasted. The electric light clicked and all was darkness. Men became friends again and over their near-beer told each other that it was no wonder boys left home.

hold a lease on forty acres of the land involved. On this tract of forty acres is an oil well and it was the ownership of this well which brought about the litigation.

The well is said to have already produced over $40,000 of oil.

DEL RIO FINDS HIGH GRADE OIL 16 FEET DEEP

DEL RIO, Texas, June 12.—Oil in paying quantity has been struck at a depth of sixteen feet on city property here.

Four wells, located on the city pumping plan property, are daily producing from two to three barrels each of high grade oil. Tests show the oil consists of 52 per cent high grade lubricating oil, 38 per cent kerosene and 10 per cent gasoline.

Drilling has been carried on privately for several months. Prof. W. F. Jourdan of Del Rio, Dr. J. L. Wortham, a geologist of Brownsville, and A. H. Weller, Harlingen, have been carrying on the experiments. A statement by a former soldier of Camp Michi, near here, who said that he believed oil could be found under Del Rio started the investigation.

ABILITY OF PUPS TO YELP SAVES THEM FROM DASYPODID

BREKENRIDGE, June 12.—The lust of bloody fight of oil workers on the streets here has seemingly spread to the quadrupeds.

The latest life and death encounter reported is the one-sided fight between a litter of pups and a mail-carried armadillo. The principals were used as a window display by a local merchant, who thought that a piece of wire netting was enough to separate them. Shortly before midnight, the dasypodid scaled the partition and engaged the pups in mortal combat. The canines were unable to pierce the boiler plate of the attacker and turning in the alarm by many distressing yelps drew the attention of an employe of the store who happened to be passing. The battle was interrupted and the invading enemy of the pups better barricaded.

FILM SMILES

and so forth
By Hi Speed

SOME PHOTOPLOTS ARE SCREEN BRAIN-STORMS

ALIENIST scores the movies as suited only to the mentality of the average nine-year-old child. This puts the screen right in a class with the circus, where grown-ups go "just to take the children." Incidentally, if photoplays ever exceed the present mental average nobody will be able to fathom the plots.

Movement afoot to try and abolish "Love" from tennis. What would happen if they did the same for films?

Regardless of censors the screen is to have "Justice." The John Galsworthy play is to be produced by Selznick.

Many events pictured in photoplays would be considered extremely improbable—except in real life.

"Clay Dollars" will be used for money by Eugene O'Brien in his next film.

Owen Moore opines that most drinkers have enough water on the brain to chase the stuff they have on their hip.

The technical term for conversation indulged in by film characters is "spoken titles."

An annoying number of people at every movie show articulate the expression literally.

"The Truth About Husbands" is a film that is likely to give a lot of men something to worry about.

Some photoplays are issued without sub-titles and sometimes sub-titles are issued without much photoplay.

Timely Tips on New Films
 Charley Ray's new film is "Scrap Iron."

Henry Kolker is directing George Arliss in "Disraeli." "Love's Masquerade" is soon to be screened by Conway Tearle.

Elaine Hammerstein will next demonstrate "Remorseless Love." "Ghosts of Yesterday" stars Norma Talmadge in one of her first bits.

Thomas Meighan is disclosed in his latest film as "White and Unmarried."

BURKETT AND WEBB CONFER ON LAW-FIXING

Anti-Saloon League Said to Be in Accord With Senator-Elect.

Special to the Times
 EASTLAND, June 13.—Rev. Attilio Webb, editor of the Home and State and state president of the Anti-Saloon League, was in Eastland Saturday afternoon in conference with State Senator-elect Joe Burkett, in reference to the quo warranto law, the suspended sentence law, and the amendment to the Dean law. Newspapersmen in Eastland were invited into the conference. At the end of the conference Webb stated that he was thoroughly in accord with Burkett's views on these three subjects.

Mr. Burkett contends that the quo warranto law, which concerns the removal of public officials from office, should be so that the attorney general upon the affidavit of five citizens could institute an investigation of any public official, and should be able to remove the same without removing the said official from office.

Mr. Burkett contends that the suspended sentence law should be so amended as to place an age limit on it, and say no one over 25 should come under it, thus making it apply to youthful offenders, as was the original intent of the law, and not leave it as a loop hole for hardened criminals to escape the penalty of their wrong doing.

Under the Dean law at present, both the buyer and seller of liquor are guilty of a felony, hence it is impossible to make a man testify against himself. Mr. Burkett would amend this law to make only the seller guilty, so as to give the buyer an opportunity to testify without incriminating himself, and in case the seller was found guilty of carrying firearms he would automatically double the sentence.

EXAMINATION FOR CADDO POSTMASTER HERE JULY NINTH

An examination for the appointment of a postmaster at Caddo has been ordered to be held in Ranger on July 9, and blanks have been forwarded to the local office. Mr. Baker will be in charge of the examination. This examination was scheduled to be held several weeks ago, but the necessary papers did not arrive.

AUDITOR HARKINS OF FANNIN COUNTY, DEAD

By United Press
 BONHAM, Texas, June 13.—Auditor Will Harkins of Fannin county, died at his home here at 12:30 this morning from heart failure. Mr. Harkins had attended a church revival at the Baptist church and was stricken upon returning home. He had been auditor of Fannin county since the auditor bill became a law.

Funeral services will be held here Tuesday morning.

CHILD OF ELEVEN FACES SECOND TRIAL FOR MURDER

After a twenty-four hour recess over the fate of 11-year-old Cecil Burkett, charged with the murder of his playmate, Benny Slavin, at Knox, Indiana, twelve weary jurors told Judge Pentecost that an agreement on a verdict would be impossible and they were dismissed. State's Attorney James Dilts announced that the case would be retried during the October session of the Starke county, Indiana, circuit court. The photograph shows from left to right, Cecil Burkett's grandfather, his mother, Cecil and two child witnesses.

MYSTERIOUS MASKER IS PUZZLING AUSTIN

By Associated Press
 AUSTIN, June 13.—A masked man—or woman, or the man in woman's clothing—is causing excitement in Austin tonight. The person does not attempt harm, but merely appears before pedestrians at night and asks them to untie him, exhibiting his hands tied behind his back. He has so far confined his spectral actions to women, but has attempted to harm none of them.

Several crowds of university students and young men of Austin have accosted the "mystery man" and given chase to him, but he always leaves the pursuers far behind. Recently he appeared in front of a woman employee of a local newspaper and begged that she untie him. He has so far completely baffled all attempts to capture him.

The vicinity of the land office and the capitol grounds are his favorite lurking places, although he has been seen near the governor's mansion and in Woolridge park. Crowds of young men and university students hunt for him each night.

St. Louis banks have more women depositors than men.

JUDGE PUTS BAN ON "GARDEN" AT DALLAS

DALLAS, June 12.—Alleged drunken debauches, cursing, shouting, firing of guns and all-night dances at the Lone Star Poultry Farm, a roadhouse five miles from town, terminated Saturday in the issuance of a permanent injunction by Judge E. B. Muse, restraining the place from being operated.

The injunction was sought by District Attorney Hughes, who, in the absence of specific charges, filed the case in the civil court.

FOREIGN BORN MINE WORKERS ARE EXPELLED

Union Men Drive Other Union Men From Indiana Mining Town.

By United Press
 PRINCETON, Ind., June 12.—Several hundred foreign born miners have been driven out of the coal fields of Gibson and Pike Counties by organized bands, it was learned here Saturday night.

Native born miners, in committees whose battle cry is "America for Americans," have forced whole families of foreign born workmen to flee from the mining district.

Raids on Francisco, Oakland City, Peterburg and Hosmer by mobs aggregating 1,000 started Friday night and continued until early Saturday.

Only Threatened.
 No physical damage was done to the workers according to reports received here, but they were threatened if they tarried.

It is thought that the trouble grew up because of the unemployment situation. The foreign born, most of whom are Austrians and Hungarians, migrated here recently when mining became slack in Illinois.

Since several mines in this district have been working only part time and it is thought that the mobs were formed so the participants would get all the work.

All Union Men.
 All the miners who were driven out carried union cards, as did those suspected of forcing them to flee.

The visit of the mob to Oakland City was followed by hurried departure of over 100 Austrians and Hungarians who got out of bed and fled without getting their personal belongings.

Later reports here Saturday night stated that all was quiet in the mining district and that all foreign born had taken refuge in nearby towns.

In Switzerland it is a rare sight to see women attending funerals.
