

CONTROL BILL FOR PACKERS HITS A SNAG

'Old Guard' Resents 'Forwardness' of Western Farm State Senators.

By L. C. MARTIN
United Press Correspondent
"Old guard" opposition to the "forwardness" of western farm state senators in preparing a legislative program threatened today to result in an effort to delay in the senate the packer control bill just passed by the house.

Some of the recognized leaders are said to favor this as a "disciplinary measure" to teach the farmer senators a lesson. It is well understood that the leaders referred to are unfriendly to legislation controlling the packers or any public utility whatever its function.

They intend it is said, to raise against the packer bill, president Harding's oft-repeated advocacy of less government in business and to argue that restrictive or regulatory legislation if enacted at all ought to follow the passage of the permanent tariff and tax bills and other laws which are described as "constructive." The packer bill is frankly classed by some of these leaders as "destructive."

SINN FEIN SLAY!

United Press.
DUBLIN, June 3.—Six police officers were killed and four more fatally wounded last night in a Sinn Fein ambush at Carrow Kennedy, County Cork. The dead are a district inspector, a sergeant and four constables.

The ambush was one of the most successful yet attempted, the Sinn Feiners completely surprising their victims and escaping unhurt with arms and ammunition after burying the police lorry in which the men were traveling.

HALF MILLION MAY STRIKE IN GREAT BRITAIN

Cotton Workers May Swell 3,000,000 Unemployed Already Ready Menacing Nation.

By LLOYD ALLEN
United Press Staff Correspondent.
LONDON, June 3.—With more than 3,000,000 workers already idle as a result of the coal strike, the addition of 500,000 cotton workers to the unemployed list was threatened today.

Cotton mill owners served notice that if proposed wage reductions are not accepted the factories will be closed unless the operators are willing to accept the cut.

The threatened action of the owners comes just before the opening of the world cotton conference here. At that session cotton growers and men from all parts of the world are to discuss ways of bettering the industry. The question of wages is to receive much attention.

WASHINGTON TO HONOR DEAD OF DIXIELAND

Special to the Times.
WASHINGTON, June 2.—The most elaborate memorial ever held in the national capital in honor of Dixie's dead—the men who fought for the Confederacy—will be held here Sunday, under the auspices of District of Columbia Confederate Veteran camps.

The principal speaker will be Congressman B. G. Lowrey of Mississippi, formerly head of the Lowrey-Phillips schools at Amarillo.

MEASURE FOR RELIEF OF FARMERS PROPOSED

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—Another farmers relief measure bill by Senator Curtis, Republican, of Kansas to loan up to $50,000,000 by federal farm loan banks to be distributed among farmers at not more than 5 1/2 percent passed the Senate today, with assurances of early House approval.

THREE TEXAS BANKS MADE RESERVE MEMBERS

Special to the Times.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—The Federal Reserve board announces that the First State bank of Richland, with resources of $185,443; the First State bank of Teague, with resources of $22,279, and the First State bank of West, with resources of $289,709, have been admitted to the Federal reserve system. The corporate existence of the First National bank of Thordale has been extended to May 28, 1941.

GRAFT!

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—Shipping board salary lists and expense accounts are "reeking with graft," Senator Kenyon of Iowa charged today in a speech to the Senate. He declared an immediate investigation should be made, "the light turned on the way government money has been used" and certain persons punished.

He declared that an "assistant" paid $7,500 a year is in fact a chauffeur to the head of the division. He read into the record a list of salaries which he declared are "outrageous."

HEY, SKINNAY! LOOKEE! WHAT A LOTTA LIQUOR; NONE TO DRINK

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 2.—Uncle Sam will soon hold the greatest auction of wet goods in the world. About $30,000,000 worth of bonded liquor, confiscated in New York since the Volstead act became effective, will be placed under the hammer. If $5,000,000 is realized the government will be happy.

But this auction will be a semi-private affair. The man with a thirst, regardless of the condition of his pocketbook, will not get an opportunity to participate, except possibly in the role of a mournful spectator on the sidelines. The only bidders will be persons duly licensed to deal in alcohol or have it in their possession. Some of the liquor may be given away to hospitals if there are no bidders.

The principal reason for holding the auction is that the warehouse where the liquor is now stored, is crowded to capacity. In this glorified bar room is stored every kind of intoxicant known in the dry era. There are something like 33,000 cases of rare old whiskey, brandy, gin and wine; more of the same in 5,000 barrels, to say nothing of hundreds upon hundreds of demijohns, bottles and flasks.

Marshal (Big Tom) McCarthy has been designated as auctioneer.

Tulsa To Rebuild Burned Negro Area; Mayor and Others Are To Be Removed

CHARGES TO FACE HEADS OF CITY GOV'T

Thieves Carry Away Even Pianos From Burned Homes of Negroes.

LIFT MARTIAL LAW!

By Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, June 3.—Martial law will be lifted in Tulsa this afternoon it was announced from the office of Governor Robertson. The announcement said the governor had not fixed the exact time, but it would be before tonight.

By Associated Press.
TULSA, June 3.—Definite plans for building homes for the thousands of negroes rendered destitute by burning of the negro quarter here in a race war Tuesday night and Wednesday were being worked out today by a Civilian Relief Committee.

Business men of the city were pledged to erect as many houses as needed in the shortest time possible and only details remain to be worked out.

One plan was to clear away the debris from the section levelled by fire and erect permanent dwellings costing from $500 to $1,000 each. Another scheme under consideration was to form a corporation, buy land in the northern section of the city and build a new negro colony. The number of known dead remained today at thirty.

Martial law greatly modified remained in effect but the troops here had little to do except to aid in relief work for negroes.

DIGGERS WHO SEEK BERGDOLL GOLD FIND STILL AND WHISKY

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—A party of men went out to dig for Grover Bergdoll's pot of $105,000 of gold supposed to be buried in the mountains beyond West Nottingham, close to the Pennsylvania-Maryland border.

They had dug for several hours when their spades struck something metallic. What they unearthed was a complete moonshine still. Prohibition agents removed the more important parts of the machinery and destroyed 500 gallons of corn whisky.

CONSCIENCE TO GUIDE WASHINGTON GIRLS IN BATHING APPAREL

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Washington girls will not be restricted in regard to bathing costumes at the Tidal Basin Beach this year, it was announced today by the authorities in response to inquiries based on the agitation against showy garb.

Just so costumes comply with the California cuts, that is enough.

The girls last year showed their dimpled knees to their hearts content. "And we had no criticism," added L. Gordon Leech, in charge.

ENGINEERS FLY UP!

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—Negotiations between marine engineers and the shipping board for a settlement of the dispute on wages and working conditions have been broken off, W. S. Brown, president of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, declared today.

MINERS BALK!

LONDON, June 3.—The executive body of the striking coal miners today finally rejected the government's proposals for a settlement of the coal strike.

CONGRESS WILL ACT.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Congressional action to solve the racial question in America will be speeded as a result of the Tulsa race riots, leaders in both houses declared today.

While no investigation such as followed the East St. Louis race riots which grew out of labor disputes is expected, there are two bills on the problem which will be pressed for early action.

The first plan is a bill by Representative Dyer of Missouri. It proceeds under the theory that the fourteenth amendment to the constitution gives the federal government authority to protect the negro from lynching. Participants in lynchings would be punished for murder by the federal government under the terms of the bill. It would also penalize counties in which lynching occur by a fine of $10,000.

The second plan is to create a commission to study the subject of lynching and mob violence with a view to bringing about more harmonious relations between whites and blacks.

WEDDED COUPLE, NEIGHBORS, TO CHANGE MATES IN ODD LOVE DRAMA

Truth is stranger than fiction. A fitting title for the odd love drama being enacted in the small town of Anderson, Ind., which is destined to make over the lives of four young people. On the outskirts of the town are the humble cottages of Gordon Huffman and his wife Loretta and of William Muncy and his wife Glee. The cottages are separated by a scant ten feet or so, therefore, it was inevitable that the neighboring couples should become friendly. The Muncys moved into their cottage in December. The wives immediately became great friends, and it was not long before the two men reached the point where they understood each other. There followed two or three months of pleasant association, week-ends in the woods and short pleasure trips together. Apparently it was suddenly discovered that each of the four had fallen love with the other's mate. Divorce proceedings have been started and in the meantime the two young people continue on the friendliest of terms, awaiting the action of the courts and the time when they will be free to exchange mates.

New State Senator Is to Be Elected Saturday

BOY SAVED!

By United Press.
KNOX, Ind., June 3.—Judge Peticola dismissed the jury hearing the case of Cecil Burkett, 11, charged with the murder of a playmate today, when the foreman of the jury said an agreement was impossible.

The jury had been out nine hours and had argued all night over Cecil's fate.

THREE KILLED.

By United Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, June 3.—A. C. Wheeler, white, 28 years old, and Willie Sadler and Claude Stander, negroes, are dead as the result of a shooting and cutting affray here last night.

The quarrel is said to have started between the negroes over a lawsuit. Sadler was stabbed to death by Stander and several companions, according to police. Wheeler, an on-looker, was shot and killed when Stander opened fire on a residence where the dying Sadler had been taken, eye witness told police.

DEMOCRATS PASSIVE ON RESOLUTION FOR ENDING OF WAR STATUS

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 3.—The House foreign affairs committee with Democratic members dissenting voted today to report the Porter resolution for termination of a state of war between the United States and Germany and Austria-Hungary. The Republican members voted solidly to adopt the Porter measure as a substitute for the Knox resolution, passed in the Senate, repealing the declaration of war. The Democrats merely voted present. Chairman Porter announced the resolution will be presented in the House next week for immediate consideration. A minority report will be filed by a committee of Democrats.

FAVOR OBREGON

United Press.
DALLAS, June 3.—The Texas Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as favoring the recognition of the present Mexican government by the government of the United States, according to action of the executive committee today.

Recognition of the southern republic is urged on the ground that such a step would do much to promote trade relations between the two countries.

TERRIBLE TURK AGAIN SLAYING CHRISTIANS

Slain by Knife and Bullet, Victims of Moslems Strew Streets.

By United Press.
ATHENS, June 3.—Renewed massacres are taking place in Armenia, according to reports received here today by way of Constantinople.

The dispatches said the streets of Sansoun and Trebizond were strewn with dead and dying Christians, shot and knifed by Moslems.

Armenian shops were looted in both cities, the Christian proprietors being left dead in the wreckage of their bazaars. The massacres were perpetrated by bands of Turks, the report said, who entered the cities in large numbers paying no heed either to the police or soldiery.

An American destroyer was said to have reached Sansoun, where it is lying at anchor ready to protect American workers there.

IN MOTHER EVE GARB PRINCESS MADE TO POUR WINE FOR POLES

LONDON, June 3.—Daughters of the Duke of Ratibor, clad only in their golden tresses, were forced to serve rare wines to Polish insurgents who raided the estate of their father in Silesia, according to a dispatch to the Sunday Express.

The Polish insurgents appeared before the Duke's castle at Daudenon Friday night, the dispatch says. The castle partly had been plundered a week ago, but the raiders had missed the wine cellar on that visit.

Friday night they found the Duchess at home. They demanded food and wine, and threatened the Duchess with death unless she would serve them at tables. The Princesses begged with the invaders that they be permitted to serve as menials in their mother's place. The Polish leader agreed.

The Princesses, as they entered the hall, were forced at the point of a dagger to undress and to serve the raiders with priceless Tokay in the ancestral golden goblets of the Ratibors.

A young insurgent proposed a toast to the ladies, which was drunk with enthusiasm. The Princesses then were elevated to the shoulders of the revelers and carried about the great hall, and finally were permitted to retire. The raiders soon after departed.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS AND EPWORTH LEAGUE TO CONVENE TUESDAY

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, June 2.—The Cisco District Sunday School and Epworth League conference will meet next Tuesday morning in the First Methodist tabernacle, this city.

The conference is expected to bring about 500 visitors here from Stephens, Callahan, Brown, Comanche and Eastland counties. Dr. O. F. Sensabaugh, the presiding elder of the Cisco district, will be in charge.

The local Methodist church and Sunday school are preparing for a great time, and at a meeting last night all necessary committees were appointed, and it was decided to have basket dinner on the lawn near the tabernacle.

The conference is to last but one day.

PETITIONS ASK TAX PLACED ON OIL IMPORTS

Flood of Mexican Petroleum Has Demoralized Industry Here, Charge.

By United Press.
BRECKENRIDGE, June 3.—Petitions are being circulated throughout the southwestern oil fields urging congress to ask an import duty on low priced Mexican petroleum as a means of protecting the oil industry.

The petitions which originated with the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association one of the most powerful influences in the oil industry, asked legislation for the following reasons:

The flood of petroleum from Mexico has so demoralized the United States oil industry that the market price of crude oils below the average price of production.

Thousands of men have been thrown out of employment and many thousands of wells now being operated at a loss must be abandoned unless market conditions improve.

The shrinkage of more than $2,000,000 a day or at the annual rate of more than three-quarters of a billion dollars in the receipts of oil produced in the United States is bringing about the demoralization of all business in oil producing districts throughout the entire country.

TOM MATTHEWS, PUMPER, MEETS DEATH AT WORK

Tom Matthews, pumper, was found dead at 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon with all evidence pointing to the fact that his body had become entangled in the belt of the engine which was in his charge. His head and shoulders were badly bruised and several bones broken. The accident happened on the Clemmer lease of the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company, three miles south of town. Matthews was alone when he met his death, and it is thought he had been dead about an hour when found.

He was in charge of an engine which runs several pumps on the lease and from the facts developed the conclusion was reached that he attempted to tighten the engine belt without stopping the machinery and in some manner his body became caught in the belting.

The dead man had been in the employ of the oil company for more than two years and had many friends in Ranger. His family reside here. The Jones-Cox company are holding the body until funeral arrangements are made.

PLEASANT DIVERSION OFFERED BY PANTAGES FOR TWO MORE DAYS

Headlined by Mrs. George Primrose, widow of "the immortal George," and her minstrels, in an entertaining melange of songs, dances and jokes; opening with the Rosa King trio, tight wire dancers extraordinary, and ending in a blaze of glorious scenic effects accompanying an exhibition of manly (and womanly) prowess by the Partovans which only perfect physical development and control can hope to accomplish, the Pantages bill at the Majestic today and tomorrow offers a variety of worth while acts calculated to meet the demands of the most picayunish of theater goers.
 Moratti and Harris are really humorous "as advertised" in their "humorous interview," and the "Five Violin Misses" can really play. They are entitled to no small amount of sympathy because of the fact, as the blonde virtuoso declares, that though they have five violins, they have "not a single bean."
 "Little Miss Everybody" is cleverly personified through the talent and histrionic ability of Miss Zella Santley, who feels so badly because she can't get right up and hike out for the "land where the sweet daddies grow."

Pantages will offer three days of vaudeville each week, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

LIBRARY WILL MOVE TO NEW HOME SOON

Three rooms of the ground floor of the Marston building are being renovated and it is thought that the work of moving the library to them will start shortly, probably Friday or Saturday.

One of the two remaining rooms will be utilized by various women's clubs and the third will be used as a woman's rest room.

The library, after its removal, will be open to the public. Funds for its upkeep were obtained several days ago when the women of various clubs staged a library membership drive. The rooms obtained are across the court from the Main street side of the Marston building and were secured for a nominal sum.

RUTHERFORD SAYS DUNNAM NOT JUSTIFIED

Ranger Man Declares County Attorney Knew He Was Ready for Trial.

The bond of E. J. Rutherford was forfeited by County Attorney Dunnam June 2, when the county attorney knew that the defendant was in court ready for trial, according to a signed statement made by Rutherford, who asks that it be published.
 The defendant is charged with having liquor in his possession.
 In part the statement reads:
 "I had been informed that my case had been set forward to May 30. I appeared both in person and with my attorney and witnesses ready for trial on this last-named date, and remained in the district court room the entire day and spoke to the district attorney on this said day, and he called me by name on return of the salutation.
 "I had no intention of defaulting in appearance or in the forfeiture of my bond.
 "As there were a number of cases pending before the court on the said day of May 30, I was advised that my case would not be reached on the docket of the court before June 1, and I again appeared for trial on this said date, and was ready for trial on this day.
 "I stand ready and willing and able to meet any and every character of complaint pending against me, and am more than anxious to go to trial at any agreed date, and answer the charge, howsoever baseless and unfounded, and I have not the least fear or anticipation that the trial will result in any adverse results to myself in anywise.
 "My only reason for this appearing in this article is to keep the record straight and that I may vindicate myself in the eyes of the court in reference to any intention to avoid trial or to forfeit my bond or to show the court any disrespect or to leave my bondsmen in any jeopardizing position.

'SPIELER' HAS UNIQUE JOB IN PAPEETE

By Associated Press

PAPEETE, Tahiti, June 3.—The greater number of the films displayed at the only picture house here are of American manufacture and, as the explanations are in English, it is necessary to interrupt the story as the picture proceeds. The one who performs this office is a young man of French descent who was born in the islands; is a master of the Tahitian language; and is endowed with the gift of eloquence—a veritable William Jennings Bryan of the South seas.

Standing in the centre of the gallery, he plays upon his audience as a master musician upon his instrument, plunging them into despair and tears and inspiring them to roof-shaking cheers as the emotions of the pictured actors ebb and flow.

The moving pictures have had a great influence in changing the life of the islands. They have brought knowledge to the natives of the manners and customs of other lands and have changed the Tahitian's viewpoint from that of an isolated islander to the broad sapience of one who has travelled in many countries. He has seen pictured on the screen all the achievements of the white men; has viewed his famous cities, been instructed in his vanities and therefore no longer considers himself provincial.

It is something of a shock to the average visitor who, believing the hectic tales told in books, expects to find a horde of naked savages, is met instead by the spectacle of brown women in Paris gowns, picture hats and high heeled shoes.

CALIFORNIAN, IN 100TH. YEAR, TELLS SECRET

Quit Eating Dead Cows and Hogs Sixty Years Ago.

By Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Calif., June 2.—
Dr. James Martin Peebles, physician and author, who not long ago celebrated his ninety-ninth birthday anniversary and who wrote a book on
"How to Live a Century and Grow Old Gracefully," ascribes his long life in large measure to abstinence from eating animal flesh. Dr. Peebles stopped eating meat when he was 39 years old. He wrote his book on the rules of living when he was 62.
Asked what he considered the greatest contributory cause to his long life he instantly replied:

"One cannot strengthen life by living on death. I cannot bear the idea of eating dead cows and dead hogs; and it is not necessary. See how strong are horses and oxen; they do not live on dead flesh." Other rules he made for himself and which he said he believed had helped him to reach his advanced years included:
"Go to bed every night at 8:30. Out of bed every morning at six. Never use tobacco. Never use intoxicating liquors. Never complain.

"Avoid all worry and keep an harmonious mind. Worry is among the worst things in the world. Have a strong will-power. Always look for the new. Keep calm."

On his ninety-ninth birthday, Dr.
Peebles walked erect only occasionally using a cane; his sight was good although he used spectacles for reading; his hearing "as good as ever," and his appetite and digestion he declared excellent. His long white beard and hair gave him a truly venerable appearance.

Plans For Future.
Asked what his plans for the future were he replied:

"To live a number of years more and write at least another book. This will be on the progress of Christianity as it is preached, showing how preachers are leaving hell fire, brimstone, purgatory and many other old-time dogmas behind.

"What a variety of mighty changes since my birth!" he exclaimed. "Napoleon then had just died on the Island of St. Helena; old 'Hickory' Jackson, as he was then called, had just been elected president of the United States; Ohio was then a budding state and the great wide west was dotted with Indian wigwams.
"Later came telegraph, telephone, railroads, electric lights and machinery, wireless flashes on ocean and land, airships sailing through the skies and automobiles dashing madly across the continent.

"There is life in everything. Crush the seven to earth and the seven look toward the mountains. In every marble block there is an angel's form awaiting the sculptor's chisel. God is good. There is no absolute evil in the universe, because God made it."

Dr. Peebles was born March 23, 1822 at Whitingham, Vt., and was graduated from Oxford Academy, Chenango county, N. Y., in 1841. He has traveled around the earth five times.

KING GEORGE IS FIFTY-SIX.
LONDON, June 3.—King George celebrates his fifty-sixth birthday and in honor of the event flags were flown on all government buildings and salutes fired by artillery at London, Windsor, Aldershot, and other military centers.

The official birthday celebrations will be held in England tomorrow, when King George will review the guards in St. James' Park, the picturesque ceremony known as "Trooping the Color" being arranged for the first time since 1914 in pre-war glory of scarlet and gold pageantry.

CHILDREN OF ELDERLY PARENTS ACHIEVE MOST GREAT THINGS

By MARGERY REX
(Written for International News Service.)

NEW YORK, June 2—"Most great men are born of aged parents."
Those who would give geniuses to the world had better wait till forty to become parents according to Cas-per L. Radfield, Chicago member of the American Genetic Association.
Mr. Radfield declares that the majority of the world's brilliant citizens are the children of men and women of forty years or more.

"The only great men whom we have been able to discover who were born of young parents" says Mr.
Radfield, "were William the Conqueror and Frederick the Great."
Aspects and effects of that strange phenomenon called "genius" have always beguiled scientists into a study of its vagaries, causes and the nearness to a less desirable state of mind (insanity) which it so nearly resembles at times.

But why should the child of the middle-aged be possessed of what almost any mother would be pleased to see develop in her dearest possession?

Is the mental stability of the adult his experience and wisdom, transmitted to offspring? Do wise parents in the prime of life have brilliant children? Is this the explanation?

Opinion of Andre Tridon.
Nothing of the sort, declares Andre Tridon, psycho-analyst, author and successful explorer into the mysteries of the mind, who offers a unique explanation for the great who are born of the aged.

"It is quite true," explained Mr.
Tridon, "that the child of a couple born when the parents are no longer young is sure to be the superior of the first born or even the second child.

"The first born is sure to be inferior to the children that follow when the parents have gradually become better adapted to each other and when a better understanding and more freedom exist between them than in the first years of married life.

"Goethe's parents were old when he was born. So were Napoleon's.
And so were those of most famous men who were not the first or second, but usually third, fourth or sometimes last of a large family."
But what is it about middle aged mother and an old father that makes for genius?

"The discontent of the child who finds himself with parents that are too old for him," answers Mr. Tri-don, who has made scientific excursions about the south poles of the sub-conscious and brought back to the attention of our conscious minds an array of reasons, motives and complexes which really explain phenomena.

"The genius grows out of the dissatisfied child.

"Genius itself is an intense dissatisfaction.

Choice of Genius and Insanity.
Parents that are greatly in advance of him as regards age strike
no note of comradeship with a child.
They do not pity with him or amuse him. He decides he does not care to imitate them, as a child always imitates a parent he admires.

"Discontented people have a choice of two future states if their dissatisfaction rises to a high pitch. Insanity or genius must be the choice.

"If such a child then lives in a favorable environment, and is in good mental and physical health, he will become a genius. If not—if he is weak in physique and unsteady in mind—he will arrive at insanity.

"The dissatisfied person who goes insane makes a world for himself that does not exist for other people.

"The dissatisfied but healthy person, the one whose physique can endure his turmoil of feeling seeks to create a new world, too, but not such a mad conception as that in which the demented are happy.

Child Must Have Amusement.
"Parents should play with but not try to mould a child. They can't really change him. He imitates them, or not. The child who goes to the movies likes the comedian with funny feet, cane and mustache who can make him laugh. The parent who wishes his son to follow him must gain his attention by making himself amusing, a creator of fun, a desirable person.

"People of forty or fifty are no longer able to stand on their heads to make their children laugh, so the youngster loses patience with these persons who make him want to change the world all about.

"With only grownups to imitate, or with brothers or sisters enough so that they try to boss him, the child seems to have a whole group of people playing a parent. The second child of a family already has a playmate in the first, provided there is not too great a difference in age.

"Another point in favor of a child born to middle-aged parents is that he is apt to be physically stronger than the first child."

NATIONAL GUARD OF HAWAII TO ORGANIZE

HONOLULU, T. H., June 2.—Within sixty days the National Guard of Hawaii will be completely organized and prepared for any emergency with more than 2,000 officers and men, according to a recent announcement by Col. W. D. Potter, adjutant general of the territory.

Rapid establishment of the guard on a footing of preparedness is being carried out pursuant to the army reorganization law passed last June by congress, providing that the guard and the reserve shall be the first-line of defense.

Colonel Potter has announced that the federal government will grant the territorial guard a budget of approximately $500,000 for 1921, which will be expended for equipment, supplies, salaries, and incidental disbursements.

THE TIMES AND BURKETT.

The Times today prints a communication from Hon. H. P. Brelsford, stating that he will support Joe Burkett for state senator in the election to be held tomorrow.

Mr. Brelsford's statement, it will be noted, is not overflowing with enthusiasm for the candidate. In fact, it plainly states that he cannot agree with him on issues, but supports him anyway.

That seems to be the case with all of Burkett's supporters who break into print. The Oilbelt News in yesterday's issue makes the same statement. Evidently, then, there is a personal friendship or other reason that forces many men to Burkett's support.

That is where the Times and Mr. Burkett's supporters differ. These supporters are for him IN SPITE OF HIS VIEWS. The Times is AGAINST HIM BECAUSE OF HIS VIEWS. It believes that if America is to have good government, and government responsive to the will of the people, officials must be elected on issues. It believes that if a man's views differ from those of his constituency and his acts are against their ideas of what should be done, he should be defeated.

The Times reiterates its opinion that Joe Burkett's acts indicate that he is against law and order in Eastland county. He opposed the coming of the rangers. That was his right. There were others who held the same view. But the rangers came. They found evidence of law violations. They found, among other things, a gambling house in Ranger in full operation and arrested more than seventy-five players therein. And it might be said in passing that the place was not hard to find.

Did that convince Mr. Burkett that the rangers were not needed? Evidently not, for he was counsel for the men who operated the place or were alleged to have operated the place. Was that a service for a lawmaker, who should be a leader in seeing that the law is enforced? Or is a lawmaker privileged to only make laws and be under no moral obligation to at least refrain from fighting their enforcement?

That is the chief case against Mr. Burkett: His acts indicate that he has aligned himself with those who oppose law enforcement in Eastland county. He thinks it was underhanded to bring these facts to the attention of the public; that he was not given a sufficient time to reply. Mr. Burkett has had four days in which to answer the criticism. The best answer he has thought of to date is that the Times is also in the courts.

He points to a libel suit, filed by himself for a John Harrell, as proof. But he fails to mention that the criminal libel complaint and the libel suit were filed merely because the Times published the fact that John Harrell was indicted for auto theft, which is a matter of court record.

He points further to an indictment against R. B. Waggoman of the Times for "using the United States mail to promote a lottery." He alleges ignorance of the facts in the case and insinuates that the matter has been suppressed. It may be interesting to Mr. Burkett to know that the Times has nothing to conceal in this matter. It published a story of its own indictment. And for the benefit of those who do not know, it may be stated that this indictment was based upon publication of advertisements for the Ranger Merchants' Trades Carnival last fall, and that violation of the spirit of the law is doubtful. And it may be further stated that practically every other paper in the oil belt was indicted for the same "offense."

Thus does Mr. Burkett seek to beloo the issue. Thus does he make it less majestic for a public official to be criticized. Even if the Times were reprehensible in these matters, which it does not admit, it would not alter the situation. The issue is: Has Burkett's actions during the last few months shown him to be for good government or against it? The Times believes that good citizens must decide that he has been on the side of the law violators, and will vote against him.

Frishy Hancock got wound up on a long conversation at the postoffice today and by the time he had run down everybody except him had quietly eased out and gone home. Crickert Hicks, realizing that there is nearly always somebody on every program who does not show up, which makes them more conspicuous than if they were present, decided not to go to the entertainment the other night after it had been announced that he was to make a talk. CONGRESS: "Now Is There Anything More, Gentlemen?" BY MORRIS

TINKER BOB STORIES By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB.

THE KING MEETS BEAUTY.

"That wasn't a fly you went out to catch, was it?" asked Tinker Bob of the Kingbird, as he came back to the old stump, "it looks to me like a Bee. I didn't know you liked Bees."

Sometimes they call me the Bee Martin because catch so many Bees," said Mr. Kingbird and he darted out and came quickly back with another big fat fellow.

"Do you live on bees, altogether?" asked Tinker Bob. "Oh King, I only catch the drones. You see there wouldn't be any honey if I caught all of the bees. But the drones don't work anyway, only buzz about worrying everybody, so I catch them when they come my way. But then, bees are not the only insects I eat. I just have an appetite for all kinds of insects that fly. And I catch some that don't fly. Talk about your fine eyesight. Mr. Hawk or Mr. Owl are not in it with me when it comes to seeing. I'm the best friend the Farmer ever had but I don't suppose he knows it. Do you see that fly over there by that big oak tree? Watch me catch it."

Tinker Bob knew better than to try to see the fly but he watched with interest the darting flight of Mr. Kingbird. If he couldn't see the fly he could hear the click of that little black bill and that was the sign meaning the fly was caught. He came back opening and shutting his mouth so it must have tasted very good.

"Are you going to build in the edge of the forest this year?" asked Tinker Bob. "You bet I am," cried Flycatcher. "This is the finest place I know of."

Suddenly he spied Billy Crow, and just so suddenly he darted away to meet him. When Mr. Billy Crow spied him coming he changed his mind about visiting this section of the forest and turned back toward the Hunter's corn field. But Mr. Fighter, the Kingbird followed him ill he made sure that his intentions were not to return soon. Silky, the Monkey, was having the greatest time ever visiting these wonderful creatures with the King. Tinker Bob did not wait till Mr. Kingbird returned from chasing Billy Crow, but started away toward the Palace. "O King of the Forest!" came a cry from somewhere. Tinker Bob looked all about him to see who it might be calling.

"You aren't looking in the right place. Look up here," cried the voice. Looking up Tinker Bob knew instantly who it was speaking. "You haven't forgotten me have you?" It was Beauty, the Great Crested Flycatcher. He was the one Phoebe had alluded to as the largest of the Flycatcher family. His throat and breast were gray with a bright yellow underneath.

"I say you are a handsome fellow this spring," said the King. Tomorrow—Mr. Snake's Old Coat.

PRINCESS MARY REPORTED ENGAGED TO SERBIAN RULER

Princess Mary, the only daughter of the king and queen of England, is according to current rumors, engaged again. This time, so the reports go, it is a "really truly engagement" to Prince Alexander, Regent of Serbia. Dame Rumor has even gone so far in this case as to say that the wedding will take place in August. The Princess has been reported engaged many times. Princess Mary was born April 25, 1897, and christened Princess Victoria Alexandra Alice Mary. She is an accomplished musician and equestrienne, very popular with the British people and considered the highest type of English beauty. Prince Alexander, who is now Regent of Serbia, was born in 1883. He became regent of Serbia in 1919.

er is to make a drink "with authority" rather than one that stands chemical test for purity. Grocery stores are handling hops and malt as regular commodities, and quantities of apricots and other fruits bought for distilling and fermenting purposes are tremendous. The estimate was made by a Columbus police judge that one family out of every four is a brewer of its own beer. He might have added that at least one of the remaining three families is fond of paying evening calls upon the family that "makes its own."

Judge Parker has genuine delight in the fact that bond whisky is said to be disappearing. Reliable liquor now goes at $25 a quart. In his discussions of the subject one suspects that he has grave doubts of the final feasibility of prohibition as a policy, especially after listening to a description of the various poisons that men drink in their desire to find a substitute for what they once could buy lawfully.

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mexico.—Chihuahua potato growers are elated over the lifting of the ban against importation into the United States of potatoes grown in Chihuahua and Sonora, according to James Stewart, United States consul. PUBLIC FORUM

ENDORSES BURKETT.

To the Citizens of Eastland County: I had not intended to take any special part in the present contest for state senator in this district. Both announced candidates are personal friends, and both citizens of this county. I believe them both to be men of high personal character, and either one would fairly represent this district in the state senate. I personally expect to support Joe Burkett of Eastland, because I believe him specially qualified by experience, energy and legislative acquaintance to be of special service to this district and this county at a time when efficient service to Eastland county and West Texas is of the utmost importance.

I have never been closely identified with Judge Burkett, politically. So far as I know, he has not been a political supporter of mine when I was active in politics, and the only time he was a candidate for district judge with an opponent, I supported Judge Scott, his opponent. However, I have known Joe Burkett for fifteen years, from the time he was a country school teacher to the present. I have known him and observed him as district clerk, studying law at night to qualify himself for advancement. Concededly, he made an efficient district clerk. I knew him as county judge after his admission to the bar, and he made a good county judge, both as a business executive and as a lawyer. He was elected district judge and, although I supported his opponent, I know it to be the opinion of the great majority of the bar that he was honest, conscientious, fearless and capable. I have known him as a legislator, and watched his legislative career. I know of no public act or private act of his in the legislature that was not dictated by a conscientious desire to benefit the people he represented. With this knowledge of the man and having in mind the special experience and equipment that he has, I do not believe that at this juncture a better man is available in the entire district for state senator.

I would not feel called upon to volunteer this letter in this campaign were it not for the fact that my attention has been called to some unkind and, in my opinion, unfair criticism of Judge Burkett, withheld until the last few days of the campaign and launched in his absence. I have had some experience with political tactics and have in the past to some extent suffered from assaults made before I had opportunity to meet them and in my absence, and I feel particularly resentful of an attack made upon a public man without his having a full and fair chance to meet the attack. It is for this reason, not because I am under any personal or political obligations to Joe Burkett, but because I am interested in West Texas and its best representation in the senate, and because from my own experience I keenly feel the unfairness and unkindness of the attacks that have been made upon him under the circumstances, that I wish to take this means of saying to some of my friends and acquaintances as may read this, that I unhesitatingly endorse Joe Burkett as clean, honest, capable and energetic and with a considerable acquaintance and prestige with the legislature at Austin that will give him special opportunity to render important and effective service in the senate.

I do not agree with Mr. Burkett's views as to sending state rangers to Eastland county. I believe that they were needed and did good service; but I do not think that the fact that he and I differ on this detail either impeaches his standing as a citizen or his efficiency as a legislator. Certainly the fact that as a practicing lawyer he defended certain persons indicted for gambling is no reason for questioning his efficiency or honesty as a legislator. The persons indicted had a right to employ a lawyer and it was up to the court and the jury to determine their guilt or innocence. The jury and the court passed upon these matters, and the attack upon the verdict of the jury and the judgment of the court is an assault upon the jury and courts of Eastland county, not upon the attorneys who represent them. I do not believe a reputable man or woman can be found in Eastland or Callahan county, where Judge Burkett has spent practically his whole life, who will question his honesty, his sincerity, his morality or his standing as a citizen.

We need an honest, clean representative who has the nerve to speak his sentiments in the senate and who is not merely a cringing sycophant to the bidding of some interest or to seek political favors by bending the knee to the powers that be in order that "thrift may follow fawning." I respect Joe Burkett, because he has the nerve to follow his own convictions without dictation from anyone. If this kind of a man is wrong you at least do not have to take a searchlight to find him. Let us get together and try to send a broad-gauged, clean man to Austin as our state senator, who will have some effective influence down there for our county and our district, and let this matter not be determined by the church he belongs to or by his particular opinion on some minor matter about which people differ. After all, the big question is: Is he honest? Is he clean? Is he capable? I vote for these qualities to those of my friends and acquaintances who care to consider my endorsement.

Very respectfully, H. P. BRELSFORD.

LOCAL PIGGLY-WIGGLY HAS CHANGED HANDS The local store of the Piggly-Wiggly which with all Texas stores of the same name were adjudged bankrupt will continue to operate under the same name and under the same management. The store has been purchased by James R. Bird of Abilene which also purchased the stores at Eastland, Abilene, Sweetwater, San Angelo and Gorman. The purchase was made at bankrupt sale by the federal court at Abilene Tuesday,

PROMINENT BRITISH SOCIAL LEADER LATEST TO ENTER BUSINESS

Lady Poynter, wife of Sir Ambrose Poynter, noted British architect who recently entered the business field as a house decorator, according to reports from London. Lady Poynter declared that her scheme is not the whim of a society woman, but a solid business proposition. She has established her place in Beauchamp place, London, and will work under the name "Toucan." She explained that she had studied the business for the past two years.

WHOLE TOWN OF 2,000 IN IDAHO TO BE MOVED

POCATELLO, Idaho, June 1.—Removal of the entire town of American Falls, Idaho, with its population of 2,000, two or three miles to a new site higher than its present location, is to be attempted within a few months by engineers working on a huge irrigation project. Waters of the Snake river, on which American Falls is located, are to be dammed, according to present plans, and will be used to reclaim some 300,000 or more acres of arid plan now given over to sage brush. Engineers say the project is one of the largest ever attempted. The big dam itself will have an abutment of one mile in length, will be sixty feet high and will have a base sufficiently strong to stand an additional thirty feet should it even be deemed necessary to add to its height.

The big reservoir to be filled by the waters backing up from the dam will cover some seventy-six square miles and will have an impound of 3,000,000 square feet. Its waters will extend from American Falls to Blackfoot, a distance of about twenty miles. The reservoir will have a shore line of nearly 100 miles, and at its widest point, it will be four miles across, and, in places, ninety feet deep. Besides moving the town of American Falls, it will be necessary to tear up the Oregon Short Line railroad and move it to higher bench land. A railroad bridge will be razed and a new one constructed farther up the Snake river. The Idaho Power company's plant furnishing light and power to the southwestern section of the state will be moved. The dam site has been surveyed and preliminary work in the form of drilling for a solid rock foundation has been started.

"GOOD TIME" MESSAGES FROM GALVESTON ARE ALL AIDED BY BEAUTY

GALVESTON, Texas, June 2.—This is the season of the year when about nine-tenths of the postcards bearing a Galveston cancelling stamp read something like this: "Having a good time; wish you were here!" Psychologists among the vendors for picture cards along the beach say that the scenery wanted by vacationists is not that of the famous Seawall boulevard, the causway or the beauties of a sunset on the gulf of Mexico. Instead, when the resorters or the week-ender wants to impress it upon the folks at home that he is having a good time, he buys a postcard bearing the picture of a pretty gathing girl and scribbles beneath a few words to the effect that he's having a "wonderful time." Newly-weds, according to the postcard concessionists, go in more for inanimate scenery than do unattached persons, while elderly gentlemen in tow of their observant wives betray the same taste. But the rank and file of joyous and unattached youth and middle-aged persons of both sexes choose the bathing girl postcard nine times out of ten.

WANTED—HOME FOR ONE REAL GILA MONSTER EL PASO, Texas, June 2.—Wanted—A home for one Arizona snake! Among the inhabitants of El Paso's zoo is a gila monster. The reptile, a native of Arizona, coils and twists in its cage while attendants thrust quantities of food through the bars. The snake requires too much care, the attendants declare. Besides it would be a nuisance to children should it escape from its cage. Therefore, the snake is offered to the first person that asks for it.

THERE is a big difference between Calumet and all other Baking Powders.

First—you see it in the cost. Calumet is sold at a moderate price.

Then—you observe it in use. Calumet has more than the usual leavening strength, therefore, less is required.

Next—you notice it in raising quality—in the evenness—lightness and texture of your bakings. They look better—finer grained.

"S-o-m-e Biscuit!"

"BEST BY TEST"

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Finally—what a difference in the taste. There is a deliciousness, a goodness that can be had in no other manner. Biscuits, pies, cakes, muffins, doughnuts—never were so tasty—so all satisfying.

And then there is the satisfaction of knowing that Calumet is made in the World's largest, best equipped and cleanest Baking Powder Factories.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Biscuit

Recipe

4 cups of sifted pastry flour, 4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 level teaspoon of salt, 2 rounding tablespoons of butter or lard, 1/2 cup of milk, 3/4 cup of water. Then mix in the regular way.

CUPID AND STORK IN CONSPIRACY TO AID FURNITURE DEALERS

Cupid, the stork and the city officials have all combined to assist the furniture man in the sale of one article, and their co-operation is bringing results. Baby carriages in Ranger are again finding a market.

Two years ago they did not sell, according to one furniture dealer, but there were several reasons. There were few marriages and consequently few babies, and the few which did arrive could not enjoy the luxury of a perambulator because the streets were not conducive to ease in baby-carriage rides either for the passenger or the hand that furnished the motive power.

But that is changed now. Cupid probably decided that he had been loafing on the job and he showed a little speed and is still showing it. Not to be outdone the stork also developed a little pep. The city dads looked things over and decided that the streets must be made passable and they are. The net result is that perambulators are again coming in style.

MISS MILDRED PEW IS BRIDE OF W. W. DAWSON

Thursday evening at the Presbyterian church Miss Mildred Pew, one of Ranger's younger set, and W. W. Dawson, of El Paso, were married by the Rev. A. N. Stubblebine. Miss Pew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pew.

After the wedding a luncheon was served the bride and bridegroom and assembled guests in the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Pew.

The newly married pair Thursday night left for Galveston where they will spend their honeymoon. They will make their home in El Paso.

UNTAGGED DOGS TO FACE EXECUTIONER AFTER JUNE FIFTEEN

The city authorities have put the ban on dogs. Old Sport and all his brothers and sisters will depart this life after June 15 unless dog tax has been paid upon them. The tax may be obtained from the city tax assessors office. The tax on males is $2 a year and on females $3 a year, and all untagged dogs found after June 15 will be killed, according to the warning issued by the city officials.

FIRST TRAIN INTO BRECK VIA RINGLING ROAD MOVED JUNE 2

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, June 2.—The first train over the Ringling road into Breckenridge was operated today, leaving Eastland at 7:45 this morning, according to announcement by officials of the company.

The orders for the service came as a surprise to both the employees of the company and to the citizens here, as it was not expected that the through service would be inaugurated for about ten days.

While local employees of the company are not sure, it is thought the present through service will be continued until a new schedule can be worked out and put into service.

More railroad information came to light, effecting the railroad situation in Eastland, when a local man, who is very close to John Ringling, stated that Ringling now practically owns the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth railway, and that in the near future the Jake Hamon road would be taken over and run under one management. This statement was made when the local man was asked regarding an article appearing in a Ranger paper to the effect that the Ranger road had taken over it with headquarters in Ranger.

In the event this statement proves true, and it comes from a very reliable and authentic source, it will mean that the railroad situation as it affects Eastland is practically solved. The Ringling road will then have direct rails into Wichita Falls and two roads to Fort Worth.

Formal announcements to this effect are expected in the near future. To say the least of it, this will work out to Eastland's advantage, for heretofore she has been handicapped by reason of Ranger and Cisco having rail connection with Breckenridge, and Eastland will now have an even break with those points insofar as traffic into Breckenridge and Stephens county is concerned.

PAPER, MATCHES, RATS ARE CAUSE OF BLAZE

A combination of paper bags, matches and rats is said to have been the cause of a several hundred dollar fire damage at the Piggly-Wiggly store at 3 o'clock Friday morning. The fire loss was slight but damage from water will be heavy.

The blaze was discovered in the center of the store at a spot where paper bags and matches were stacked. It is thought that rats ignited the matches causing the flames.

Black is still considered the formal, most elegant and dressy color.

DOUBLE-HEADER SATURDAY TO MAKE UP FOR RAIN; TATE BACK IN

Hamilton Goes to Short and Jody Takes Up Old Job at Third Today.

Double-header! Rain Thursday gave the Nitros the first layoff they have had in the 1921 battling. Forty-three straight games played without a miss is shooting pretty close to a record in any league. However, we needed rain.

To make up the lost game, a double-header will be staged Saturday afternoon, the first game starting at 2:45. Thus will the fans have a bargain bill at last. The baseball sale will be on. But there will be no closing of the park today to prepare for it. The Friday matinee will start at 4 o'clock as usual.

The winner of the first half will almost be settled in the next fifteen days, in the opinion of Manager Allen. After a series with Abilene here, the Nitros hop to Angelo and Abilene for games, then back here with the broncos. All three teams are contenders and any team that can make through these series with a substantial margin will be well to the front. Today Tate will be back in the game today, after a layoff since May 12 on account of a sprained ankle. Hamilton will be shifted to short and Zeb Howell draws the utility berth for a time. Zeb has been picking up in his work with the willow for the last few days, and he may yet break in as a regular.

SWATTERS MAKE ONLY TWO HITS OFF BALDRIDGE

Special to the Times.

BALLINGER, June 3.—Baldrige crept into the hall of fame Thursday with a two-hit game in which one of the hits showed he easily been gamered by an outfielder. The game rocked along nicely until the fifth, when the Cats jumped on Word for two hits and two walks and two scores. They came back in the sixth with four more hits, netting three runs. The real massacre took place in the seventh when twelve men faced Word, securing three walks, a single, a triple and a homer, for a total of seven runs.

A dust storm sweeping across the field during this inning caused the Swatters to boot two.

FAST GAME AT CISCO IS ENDED BY RAINSTORM

Special to the Times.

CISCO, Texas, June 3.—Yesterday's game here was called in the local's half of the fourth, with one out. At this time the low-hanging clouds, which had been threatening for some time, appeared to open up and poured down on Harrell park a torrential deluge. The game to this point was a fast one, and had all the earmarks of going the route that way. Cisco had made one score, coming in the second. Flagg had given a pass to first, with two out. King coming up next, connected for a three-bagger, scoring Flagg, and King was caught between third and home for the third out. Baugh and Cruse were both going good, and had yielded only one hit each, the one off Cruse being a mere scratch. It was ladies' day at Harrell park, and the grandstand was well filled with the fair sex.

SALTILLO, Mexico.—Enrique Buj, representing Arcocena and Urrutia, has applied for a concession to use 200 cubic meters per second of water from the Nazas river for irrigation purposes. The water is to be taken from the river in the San Pedro district and will water the Santa Theresa cotton plantation.

HARRY ERTLE WILL REF-EREE THE BIG FIGHT

Harry Ertle has been selected by the New Jersey State Boxing commission to referee the Dempsey-Carpentier fight in Jersey City, July 2. Ertle's experience as a referee began in 1918 when the Hurley law went into effect and since then he has refereed a large number of important fights in New Jersey. Among the bouts over which he has presided was the Carpentier-Levinsky bout, last year.

WOMAN WRITER FINDS THE CHALLENGER FROM FRANCE A PUGILIST OF GRACE AND POWER

Written by Margery Rex for the International News Service. NEW YORK, June 3.—They of Manhattan are the proudest of all who dwell on that Long Island. For, is it not so that Georges, the Gorgeo, has chosen that spot as a nice quiet one in which to nurse the grudge which, of a certainty, will be settled July 2?

On that date Georges and Jacques, otherwise Carpentier and Dempsey, will publicly pick a quarrel and cause a scene which will be witnessed by anxious thousands.

Not a sign of human inhabitants was visible as we approached the chateau of M. Georges Carpentier. A heavy drizzle of rain brought out a flock of challenger anglers which were promptly demolished by champion robins. "Beware of the Bull" read a sign on the fence. So we were prepared for anything which anyone might try to tell us.

M. Georges Sleeps. But M. Georges was taking a nap. Sleep he would until 3:30. Would we wait? But yes, absolutely! Carpentier's life is now as well regulated and coddled as though he were a prize baby, a debutante primed to make the season's greatest success, or his favorite of the footlights who is wise enough to save and guard her health and looks.

Out at the big barn, where an outdoor "gym" has been fitted up for the Frenchman, trainers were scurrying about tightening ropes, adjusting and blowing up punching bags and looking over the exerciser machines. Soon would Georges rise from his downy couch and hit hard leather.

Here waited Francois Descamps, manager of Georges, "Gus" Wilson, a trainer; Italian Joe Gans, Paul Journees—these two last will stage their daily matches with Carpentier so he can practice winning the championship. Then when the real one comes he will just naturally—from force of habit—win. At least someone explained it to me that way.

"Kappont-yay, he comes," said Descamps, and there in a black-bordered gray kimono, standing carelessly on the slippery plank that we all had to walk up to avoid a ditch beside the shed, appeared the French "heavy," who is said to have attracted not only masculine, but also feminine challengers.

"Swell Looking" Pug. "Tall and swell looking," he was described to me just before he had come in and the caption didn't need to be changed. Carpentier is no ordinary pugilist. He has none of the thick-featured battered appearance that is commonly associated with the fighting profession—at least in the minds of persons like us who imagine we could pick out boxers in a crowd.

Georges let his dressing gown fall from his shoulders into a trainer's ready hands as nonchalantly as a society matron would let her sables and chiffon slide into the arms of her maid.

After that, though, his indifference to surroundings ended. He became erect, alive, a lithe, springy figure, as he stood there in his high-necked, long-sleeved white jersey and navy blue trunks.

"That fella's build and his wallop make it look like some one would have to phone the morgue on account of Dempsey," said a bystander. Georges had leaped over the green plush rope into the ring, his pale tan face gleaming. And we forgot everything but watching him.

"That's shadow boxing," Tad told me. "He fights an imaginary opponent."

Queer Sort of Dance. Georges seemed to be doing a queer sort of dance. He skipped and shuffled about on his toes, slid across the ring, shifted his position back quickly, and struck out clever and unexpected blows at the enemy that we could almost see there, so fired with fury did M. Carpentier seem. Then at intervals he would appear to be expecting something almost like the "toddle," which movement was supposed to rest him between the imitation "rounds."

Descamps sprinkled something on the canvas floor of the ring that looked like the powdered wax that is thrown on dance floors. It was resin and Georges rubbed his dark blue shoes in it vigorously every now and then. Sometimes when he slid about on the tightly stretched canvas, the floor beneath him seemed to squeak.

THIS TIME LAST YEAR.

The Giants beat the Braves in a double-header. Ping Bodie, Yanks, hit a homer with the bases filled. Dartmouth made five runs in the ninth inning, but California won, 10 to 9.

HOW THEY STAND

GAME WON BY BRONCOS MUST BE PLAYED OVER

SAN ANGELO, June 3.—J. Walter Morris, president of the West Texas Baseball league, has instructed the San Angelo and Sweetwater clubs to play out from the sixth inning a 5-2 game in San Angelo's favor which Manager Popboy Smith of the Swatters protested on May 10. The protest was due to Umpire Johnny Fillmans' decision that Thrash, visiting right fielder, was out when he overran third base while Neely was in a hot box between that station and home and later went back to second. When the game is played out, Thrash will go back on second base. Pipkin will go to bat and the fielders will occupy the same positions they held on May 10. The game will likely be staged on June 16 or 17.

MINOR LEAGUE IN FAIR WAY TO COME BACK

Baseball Men Are Watching With Interest Gain of Many Since War.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The minor baseball league, at its height a short time before the entry of the United States into the World War and so nearly threatened with extermination during that period, is regaining its former strength.

Baseball men have watched with interest and optimism the gain of the many small leagues since the close of the war. They declare it is a matter of only one or two years before the small cities, which in years past have supported Class C and Class D organizations, again will back the numerous leagues which formerly supplied the majors with playing talent. The frequency with which college and semi-professional stars of the past two or three years have entered the major league baseball successfully is declared to be largely due to the paucity, during war times, of the small leagues.

The high water mark of the minor league was in 1914. That year, in addition to the two major leagues and three Class AA loops, the American association, International league and the Pacific Coast league, there were two Class A organizations, eight in Class B, seven in Class C, and twenty-one in Class D. The two Class organizations, the Southern association and Western league, withstood the war shock, although at financial losses to the directors. They were joined in the classification last year by the Eastern league and this season by the Texas league.

Decrease in Leagues. The decrease in the smaller leagues from 1914 until 1918, when the minimum was reached, however, was marked. In 1915, the Class B group, which the previous year had comprised the Central, Eastern association, Three-I, New England, New York State, Northwestern, Texas and Tri-State leagues, dropped the Eastern association and the Tri-State league, the latter composed of a group of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware cities.

By 1918, only three leagues of this class had survived, the Eastern, Pacific Coast International and Texas leagues. It was largely the vigor shown by the Texas and Eastern groups during this period that earned for them their present classification in Class A.

By 1920, the membership of the Class B leagues again numbered six, including the Three-I, Michigan-Ontario, Pacific International, Texas, Virginia and Western Canada leagues. This season the South Atlantic league was admitted, making a membership of seven in the class as compared with the eight of 1914.

The Class C and D groups have thus far failed to "come back" so successfully. Only two, Florida State league and Piedmont league, are operating in Class C this season as compared with the seven of 1914, according to official published lists. Only nine are operating in the Class D group as compared with the 21 of 1914. Of these nine only four, the Appalachian, Georgia State, Texas-Oklahoma and Western association have endured through the critical years. The others now in this classified group are the Blue Ridge, Dakota, Mississippi State, Southwestern and West Texas.

On Firm Basis. Financially, however, the leagues that have remained are on a firmer basis than ever. Salary limits in 1914 in Class B averaged $2,500 monthly, in Class C from $1,200 to $1,400, and in Class D from $1,000 to $1,400. Only in 1918 did they take a pronounced slump. Then in the Class D leagues the Blue Ridge limit of $900 was the low level. This season, the Class B salary figures range from $2,500 to $3,500; Class C $2,400 to $2,650, and the Class D leagues pay a limit of $2,400, a figure undreamed of in 1914.

The Dakota league, one organization with such a limit, including Madison, S. D., with a population of 4,144; Mitchell, S. D., 8,478, and Redfield, S. D., with 2,755, among its cities. Sioux Falls, S. D., is the largest of the cities of this league with a population of 25,202. Baseball men declare that such support for minor league clubs from cities of that size indicates surely that the game will regain its former strength throughout the country, insuring for the major leagues a correspondingly higher grade of baseball. The table showing the decrease between 1914 and 1918 and steady increase since that year follows:

Class	Major	AA	A	B	C	D	Tot.
1914	2	3	2	8	7	21	43
1915	2	3	2	5	6	11	29
1916	2	3	2	6	3	8	24
1917	2	3	2	6	7	9	29
1918	2	3	2	3	1	2	12

which may have been caused by the resin I heard. He is a brainy boxer and may outpoint his opponent, who is twenty-five years old to his twenty-seven. We departed in the still pouring rain and saw groups of mosquitoes getting ready to report for jobs as sparring partners for the pale Georges' evening performance.

Descamps and Wilson fanned Georges with towels and the Gallic heavyweight flung himself down upon the floor and did some remarkable exercise stunts that any acrobat might be proud to know. Someone nearby remarked that the Frenchman was once an acrobat in a circus owned by Descamps, who later taught his present charge the art of boxing.

Pale-Faced Fighter. Georges is a pale fellow who never gets red when he fights. But the Frenchman later on when he punched the sandbag had an expression that might well frighten off anybody. His eyes naturally have a droop at the outer corner and the lid is slightly lowered so that when he smiles it gives a lagurous touch to his face. But his lowered fighting face shows those same eyes uplifted, but with only the whites showing, apparently, and his usually pleasant-looking mouth open, but drawn down into an ominous oval.

Thud, thud, thud, the leather punching bag slammed against its wooden supports. Carpentier flung off the long-sleeved jersey. The sleeveless jersey underneath showed his punches.

"He will fight Dempsey at long range and keep him off," Italian Joe Gans told me. "Georges has a terrible wallop. I ought to know." Georges will go into the ring at 173, and would like to put on a little weight, I heard. He is a brainy boxer and may outpoint his opponent, who is twenty-five years old to his twenty-seven. We departed in the still pouring rain and saw groups of mosquitoes getting ready to report for jobs as sparring partners for the pale Georges' evening performance.

BUSINESS MEN ELECT TAYLOR ASST. MANAGER; UNIES TO BE LETTERED

Reorganization of the Business Men's baseball team has been accomplished by the election of Bob Taylor as assistant manager. Changes in the lineup also will be made to give the semi-pro organization one of the fastest teams in the oil belt. Games will be solicited with other towns and trips are especially sought, as one of the objects of the club is advertising Ranger merchants through the ads on the suits. Letters for these advertisements have arrived and all men who have uniforms are requested to bring the shirts to the Steinberg-Taylor sign shop in order that they may be sewed on.

TORREON, Mexico.—The Real Club Espana, a social club formed by young Spanish residents, has leased the second floor of the Ciudad de Paris building here. The main hall will be fitted suitable for dancing and entertainments. Other apartments will be converted into reading rooms, billiard rooms and a gymnasium.

Silk fringes are very much in evidence just now. We see them on dresses, coats, hats, hand bags and even gloves.

OIL SUPPLY IN SIGHT CAN LAST 16 YEARS

COLUMBUS, O., June 2.—The oil supply of the United States will be exhausted in 16 years, if present rates of production are kept up, and no new producing territory discovered, it is asserted by Professor John A. Bownocker, state geologist and professor of geology at Ohio State University.

According to Professor Bownocker, the United States has petroleum reserves amounting to six or seven billion barrels. The rate of production in 1920 was 440 million barrels a year. However, this is thought to be the highest mark production will reach, Bownocker said geologists believe. The production rate is expected to decline this year.

Thus, Professor Bownocker points out, this country actually can produce oil for longer than 16 years, but at a constantly decreasing rate each year. More than 60 per cent of the world's oil supply is produced in the United States. Much oil is imported here from Mexico, second in oil production, but, Professor Bownocker declared, at Mexico's present rate of production her wells will cease to be a factor in two or three years.

HISTORIANS DUPED ON PURCHASE OF TANKS

PARIS, June 2.—Thirty-five francs, or less than $3 apiece—such is the price at which the French government has been selling British tanks which lie out along the Chemin des Dames. Most of them are damaged, but as old iron it is thought they would realize at least $600. The tanks are scattered around the Fort de la Pompelle, which has been classified as a historical monument. When the Rheims Reconstruction society heard that it was proposed to sell the tanks it offered to buy two to be kept as mementos of the fierce battle which raged around the fort. The society was referred back to the contractor who had bought the tanks in the first place. He sold two tanks for 3,000 francs. The price was accepted and it was only much later that the society heard that the contractor had bought the tanks at thirty-five francs apiece.

WAR VETERANS URGED TO FILE THEIR CLAIMS

Since nearly all red tape surrounding war compensation has been removed Dr. J. B. Stackable, government physician, is urging all war veterans who have claims against the government to place them now. Dr. Stackable states that Colonel

C. E. Forbes, director of the bureau of war risk insurance is eliminating all unnecessary red tape in matters of compensation and ex-soldier claims would receive prompt consideration. Dr. Stackable has been the government medical examiner for about two years. He has helped many war veterans secure compensation from the government.

ORDER OF THE SUN IS REVIVED IN PERU

By Associated Press.
LIMA, Peru, June 2.—The historic Order of the Sun, created as "an eternal institution" by General Jose de San Martin during the aristocratic regime of early Peruvian independence, has been revived under a supreme decree. General Simon Bolivar, one of the liberators of Peru, abolished the order in 1825 on the ground that it "did not conform with the basis of the political constitution of the republic."

Membership in the order, says the decree just issued, may be granted to Peruvians, military and civilians, who have "rendered themselves worthy of distinction and to foreigners who have made patent their interest in Peru." The president of the republic will be the grand master. Several articles of the Order of the sun are said to be identical to those of the Order of the Cincinnati in the United States.

MACK HARRIS TRIAL NOT TO BE HELD NOW

Judge Hill Made Error, He Says, and Granted Postponement.

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, June 3.—With the jury sworn in and both sides ready for trial the case of Mack Harris, charged with the murder of Lawrence Adams at Cisco was postponed by Judge E. A. Hill, who announced that a fundamental error had crept in for which he alone was responsible. The error arose after the jury had been sworn and a request for an extension of one day was asked because of the absence of two material witnesses and was granted for one day.

When the extension was allowed the jury was excused and allowed to separate which later Judge Hill discovered was a fundamental error, according to the judgment of the higher courts. However, the defendant was not allowed to plead before the jury was excused and therefore cannot plead former jeopardy it is said.

Judge Hill in postponing the case took all responsibility and set the new hearing for September 14.

EASTLAND-BRECK DOUBLE TRAIN SERVICE BEGINS SATURDAY

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, June 2.—Double train service from Eastland to Breckenridge will be established between Eastland and Breckenridge, beginning Saturday, according to an announcement from the Ringling road. Morning trains will leave Eastland at 6:10 and 10:35 in the morning for Breckenridge. Afternoon trains will leave at 3:30 and 5:30 o'clock. Only one train round trip will be made to Mangum the Southern terminus of the road. It will leave Eastland at 2:10 in the afternoon.

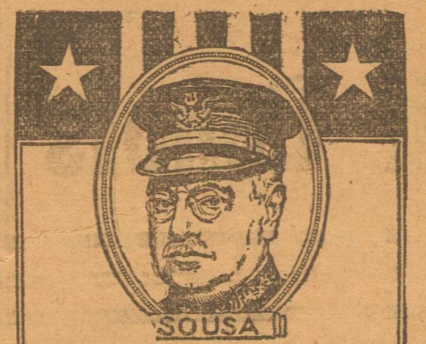

TRUCK PASSES OVER BOY, INJURING LEG

William Ramsey, 13 years old, was injured Friday morning by being run over by a truck of the Chestnut & Smith company. The truck passed over the right leg of young Ramsey and he was bruised about the hips. An examination at the Clinical hospital revealed no broken bones. The truck, it is said, was leaving the yards of Chestnut & Smith when young Ramsey attempted to board it and fell beneath the wheel.

The new blouses are of unequal length—longer on the sides than in the front.

what she termed its failure to realize the awakened conscience of the country on the subject of maternity benefits. Lady Astor said she regretted the government's apparent apathy concerning the League of Nations, and repeated her belief that the women of America sooner or later would induce the United States to enter some sort of a league. The lobby correspondent of the London Times says that when Lady Astor was unable to find a passage she desired in the parliamentary reports, she threw the book to Lord Robert Cecil, exclaiming, "Find it for me, Bob."
