"AXEMAN" BEATS IN HEADS OF MAN AND WOMAN

Husband and Wife Attacked in Houston Have Small Chance for Recovery.

By United Press
HOUSTON, Texas, June 18.—An unknown assailant attacked B. Wolff, 35, and his wife, 30, with an axe, as they slept in their home early today. The skulls of both were crushed, and their chance of recovery was said to be slight.

Revenge was thought to be the motive for the attack as nothing about the house was touched.

A three-year-old baby, sleeping in a crib near the bed of the couple, was not molested. The baby was awakened, however, and its screams attracted the attention of Mrs. Wolff's sister, sleeping in the next room. Walls and bed linen were splattered with blood.

MASONS CONFER TWO DEGREES AT ANNUAL MEET

Royal Arch Masons, their wives, daughters and other members of their households, to the number of 173, enjoyed the annual dinner of Ranger chapter No. 304 Friday evening.

Preceding the banquet, a council meeting was held, at which the degree of royal and select master was conferred upon twenty-six candidates, the largest class ever assembled in West Texas. The ceremonies were directed by Deputy Thrice, illustrious Master; O. O. Chrisman of Cleburne, assisted by Companion L. A. St. John of Cisco, Rev. Walter Griffith of DeLeon, S. R. Bevers of Fort Worth, W. A. Scott of Cleburne, G. C. Hazel, T. W. Harrison and E. A. Bills, of Eastland.

The evening exercises was concluded by a program in which Misses Aretta and Bertha Davenport, Mrs. T. F. Drenhofer, E. A. Bills, Rev. Walter Griffith, L. H. Rowland of Ranger and Mr. Chrisman took part.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake followed the program.

GOOSE CREEK FIRE

GOOSE CREEK, Texas, June 18.—Damage of $25,000 was done here at midnight when fire destroyed a block in the center of town. Only hard work by citizens kept the fire from spreading over the entire northwestern part of the oil town.

The fire started in a movie theatre. The theatre was completely destroyed with a loss of $16,000. A large revival meeting tent was also burned. Five other buildings were partially burned.

MAN KILLS FARMER WHO SLEW WIFE

ROTAN, Texas, June 18.—John Forrester shot and killed Frank Posey, a farmer residing nine miles northeast of Rotan, this morning, a few moments after Posey had struck his wife over the head with a crowbar.

Forrester is a first cousin of Mrs. Posey and a widower. He had been residing at the Posey home for some time.

Posey was killed instantly and Mrs. Posey died about thirty minutes after being struck.

Posey was about 35 years old, and his wife 25.

No cause of Posey's action was developed at the inquest, which was held following the double tragedy.

The evidence showed that Posey and his wife had no previous trouble, but that a quarrel developed this morning and in a fit of anger Posey seized a crowbar and struck her and in turn was shot by Forrester.

BILL TO ABOLISH PRISON COMMISSION MAY BE DEFEATED

By Associated Press
AUSTIN, June 18.—Various department heads today expressed the opinion that an error in naming the article to be amended by house joint resolution No. 30 passed at the regular session of the legislature and which was voted on by the people the fourth Saturday in July, may cause the intention of the resolution to be defeated.

The amendment is a house resolution proposing to abolish the board of prison commissioners and authorizing the legislature to enact laws to fix the administration's prison system and was introduced by Representative Satterwhite.

MOTHER AND WIFE SPLIT WAGNER CASH

FORT WORTH, June 18.—An agreed judgment for $33,500, deposited in the First National bank by the late Warren Wagner, was divided Thursday by Judge Terrell of the Sixty-seventh district court.

Mrs. Mary B. McCullough of Virginia, Wagner's mother, sued for the money, stating that it was given to her, but that the widow of the deceased was claiming an interest in the money.

In the agreed judgment the mother is to receive $33,500 and the widow $50,254.

Wagner was fatally shot here. Floyd Holmes, oil operator, is charged with the killing.

AMERICANS WIN IN INTERNATIONAL POLO

HURLINGHAM, Eng., June 18.—America won the first game of the International polo championship here today.

The final score was 11 to 4.

In the seventh and final cucker, America scored twice, while England was scoreless.

The overwhelming defeat of the British team came as a distinct surprise to the thousands who witnessed the match.

The challengers swept the defenders off their feet from the start, and acquired a lead which was never overcome. The Americans, individually and as a team, outrode their opponents. Devereaux Milburn, captain of the American team, was permitted to play only at the last moment by his physician.

ADJUSTMENT OF ALLIED DEBT TO U. S. WILL CUT AMERICANS' TAXES

By United Press
WASHINGTON, June 18.—A tax reduction averaging between $4 and $5 dollars annually for every person in the United States will result from the permanent adjustment of the allied debt to this country.

In addition it will open a way to this government to retire some of its own war obligations which are falling due in the next two years.

These two facts, it was learned today, furnished the explanation of why President Harding and his cabinet want to put the allied debt on a permanent basis as soon as possible. They reached a tentative plan for doing this at the cabinet meeting yesterday.

The loans to the Allies totaled $10,000,000,000 originally. Failure of foreign governments to pay interest, however, has increased the total to a figure which now calls for an annual interest payment of about $500,000,000. The 105,000,000 American taxpayers have been carrying this burden. When the Allies start paying interest, it will be lifted.

Mrs. Green Gets $15,000 as Balm for Lost Husband in Suit Against Mrs. Hatfield

By United Press
EASTLAND, June 18.—A verdict of $15,000 "heart balm" was awarded Mrs. Mary Green by a jury here yesterday. Mrs. Green was suing Mrs. L. R. Hatfield for alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, R. A. Green, and had asked for $300,000 damages. The defense gave notice of appeal.

The petition of the plaintiff stated that the defendant had influenced and enticed her husband away from her. It also alleged infidelity, and that Mrs. Hatfield furnished the money for purchasing drug stores in Ranger, Olden and Vernon.

The allegations were denied by the defendant who took the stand in her own behalf and swore that she and Green were partners in the stores and she had accepted his note for half the amounts.

UNCLE SAM IS AHEAD IN HIS EXPENSE ACC'T

WASHINGTON, June 18.—With ordinary expenditures totaling slightly more than $5,000,000,000 for the fiscal year, to end in two weeks, the government will have kept practically within its income for the first year since 1914, reports of the treasury department now indicate.

Prediction that a huge deficit would pile up at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, has been freely made for months by members of Congress and some officials.

But when the treasury closes its books at midnight, June 30, the total ordinary disbursements for the year will be approximately $5,070,000,000, if payments for June run at the same rate as for the first eleven months of the fiscal year. Income of the government for the year will be nearly $5,500,000,000, according to a recent estimate by Secretary Mellon. This would give the government pocketbook a slight leeway between income and outgo for the year.

The story of the explorer's rescue was received by the H. Leibos company furriers from Captain Peterson of the ship Herman, which is owned by the company.

MAKES ERROR AND WEDS TWO EASTLAND MEN

Second Husband Creates Excitement When Marriage Is Annulled by Court.

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, June 17.—"The eternal triangle" was the cause of two suits filed here yesterday against a Mr. Stinnett, of Olden, one for disturbing the peace and one for threatening a human life, following trouble resulting from the annulment of his marriage.

In January Mrs. L. C. Bailey married Stinnett, thinking at that time, it is alleged, that she was free, having previously been married to Bailey, but laboring under the impression that she had been divorced, having been informed that such was the case. She had been served with papers in a divorce case which Bailey is alleged to have filed, and was later told that the divorce had been granted. After her marriage to Stinnett she was informed of her error, and then took steps to have her marriage to Stinnett annulled.

Yesterday morning in the eighty-eighth district court her marriage to Stinnett was annulled, and she is still the wife of Bailey. After the annulment of her marriage to Stinnett the two met in the office of her attorney and made arrangements as to the division of their property, in which it was agreed that she purchase his interest in the Olden Cafe at Olden, this county. During the afternoon Stinnett went to the cafe to get his personal belongings, where he became engaged in an argument with Mrs. Stinnett's brother, Charlie Bond, after which it is alleged he borrowed a shotgun and threatened the life of Bond. The complaints against Stinnett were the result of this affair.

ACCOMPLICE IN KABER MURDER WILL BE HELD IN BUFFALO FOR WHILE

By United Press
BUFFALO, N. Y., June 18.—Salvatore Cala, 31, Cleveland, confessed accomplice in the murder of Daniel Kaber, wealthy publisher of Lakewood, Ohio, will be held in Buffalo at least two more days, it was decided after a conference of Buffalo and Cleveland authorities today.

Officials here stated that the Cuyahoga county grand jury would be presented with the case today and Cala would be indicted. As soon as the indictment is voted extradition papers will be sent to Buffalo. Cala has expressed a willingness to waive extradition but a New York state law requires extra papers for a person wanted in another state for murder.

WOMEN WILL WORK RATHER THAN MEET HARVESTERS' DEMANDS

By United Press
CONCORDIA, Kan., June 18.—Women here will help save the wheat crop by working in fields alongside their men folk.

This is the result of harvest hands demanding a minimum wage of $5 a day, according to reports from over this territory. In refusing to pay the wage asked, farmers are planning to cooperate in taking care of each other's fields, the women driving binders and headers and helping shock the wheat if necessary.

BRAZOS BRIDGE WILL BE READY THURSDAY

WICHITA FALLS, June 17.—Damage incurred in the recent washout of the Wichita Falls & Southern railway bridge across the Brazos is expected to be repaired by June 23, barring further high water, which is not anticipated, Chief Engineer McFarland declared here today. Service into South Bend will be under way by July 1, it is believed. Tentative plans for the celebration of the opening of service at that time are being made.

'Wanted' Negro Didn't 'Escape' From Ames, 'Cause He Was Never Caught

J. B. Ames lost a foot-race to a "wanted" negro at Breckenridge Thursday; and was bested in the pick-em-up-and-lay-em-down duel. He admits that. The cullud pusion having the greater urge, just naturally outfooted J. B. and lost him in the brush.

But the Times report from Breckenridge carried the idea that the negro escaped from Ames. He didn't, in the sense that J. B. had him and the black broke loose. He "escaped" just a moment before he was grabbed, and showed more marathonic ability. That was all.

The negro was wanted on suspicion of being the one who shot Conductor Tighe of the Texas & Pacific at Tiffin last week. Ames located him, but the negro saw him before he got to the place of employment. Thence Ames trailed the black to his home, where he was informed the negro was leaving town—"that the law was after him." So J. B. jogged down an alley in the proper direction and sighted his quarry. But the negro saw him about the same time, and the chase was on. It was straight out from Breckenridge into the brush, and the negro retained his lead, with interest. There was no escape, because the negro was never caught.

DEMPSEY CAN'T WRITE!

By United Press.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 18.—Jack Dempsey characterized as "the laugh of the year," the story that he had been named co-respondent in an Oklahoma divorce suit.

"I have been writing letters?" he asked newspaper men who questioned him about the reports. "Well, that's funny. It is the first time I knew I could write."

MRS. BOULANGER SAYS SHE NEVER WROTE TO 'JACK'

Knew Champion Since Childhood But Says Husband's Charges "Absurd."

By United Press
LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 18.—Mrs. Lily Boulanger, wife of the wealthy Osage Indian of Pawhuska, Okla., who filed a divorce petition against her naming "Jack Dempsey of Los Angeles" as co-respondent today stated that she knew Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion.

Boulanger charged that his wife and Dempsey exchanged letters.

"I didn't write to Jack Dempsey, although I have known him since we were children," Mrs. Boulanger told the United Press. "We went to school together."

The insinuations made by my husband are absurd. I intend to file immediately a cross complaint charging him with intoxication and cruelty."

Boulanger in his petition did not identify the co-respondent as the heavyweight champion. His attorneys stated they were identical, however.

DIVORCE PETITION INVOLVING DEMPSEY TO BE HEARD IN SEPT.

By United Press
PAWHUSKA, Okla., June 18.—Hearing of the divorce petition of Mrs. R. Boulanger, Osage Indian, in which she names "Jack Dempsey of Los Angeles" as a co-respondent, and who, attorneys for the Indian say, is the pugilist, will be held during the September term of the district court, it was announced today.

The cross petition of Mrs. Lily Boulanger, denying the allegations contained in her husband's petition, and asking a divorce on the grounds of extreme cruelty, also will be heard at this time.

Mrs. Boulanger now is understood to be in Los Angeles. Her husband resides near Elgin, Kan.

A band has been secured for the celebration.

OIL MEN UP IN ARMS ABOUT IMPORT TAX

Refusal of Congress to Put Duty on Petroleum Brings Out Threats.

Special to the Times.
FORT WORTH, June 18.—"If the congress of the United States fails to save the oil industry of this country from destruction by refusing to levy a reasonable duty on foreign oil, the fight will be carried to the governments of Mexico and Columbia," Will H. Gray of the Oklahoma Oil Men's Protective association of Tulsa, told an assemblage of independent oil men here today in attendance at a meeting of the petroleum division of the southern tariff association.

The refusal of the ways and means committee to include petroleum in the dutiable list of the permanent tariff law was characterized as rank discrimination against the producers of this country in favor of Mexico and other countries where the cost of production is so far below that of this country that American operators must quit the business or go broke. Unless the finance committee of the senate treats the subject from the American viewpoint and levies an adequate duty on this product, every effort will be made to point out to the governments of other interested countries the wonderful possibilities of levying a gross production tax and export tax upon oil and the desired results obtained.

U. S. Large Producer.
Gray stated the United States is now a large producer and also a large consumer as it consumes about 82 per cent of the world's production. He said our 1920 production of oil was approximately 444,000,000 barrels and we imported from Mexico 106,000,000 barrels, making our total consumption around 550,000,000 barrels last year.

Cost of Producing.
The cost of producing oil in the Mid-Continent field at the present time is $1.75 per barrel. The selling price today is $1 per barrel or a loss of 75 cents on each barrel produced. The cost of production in the Pennsylvania fields is $3.25 per barrel and the selling price is $2.50. The cost of production in Mexico is approximately 10 cents per barrel.

"If the government of the United States sits by and permits the independent oil producers of the United States to be destroyed and their properties gathered into the hands of the Standard oil trust, the public will pay the price. It may be very well for the politician to talk glibly to his constituents about putting oil on the free list and about a duty increasing the price to the consumer, but when the Standard gets control of all the oil in this country as it already has control of that of foreign countries then the consumer will pay an increased price sure enough. Between the profits which the Standard trust will demand and the export tax which the foreign governments will levy on the people of the United States will be less than pence so far as the oil industry is concerned."

At the meeting today it was decided to hold a series of conferences in the oil sections of Texas for the purpose of marshalling forces favoring the oil men to fight before the finance committee of the senate when the measure comes before that body for consideration.

AMERICA WINS ITS DEMANDS ON MANDATES

By HENRY WOOD,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

GENEVA, June 18.—The Mesopotamia and Yap questions have been tentatively settled in favor of the United States. While final disposition of these problems must be arranged in conferences between the United States and the allies, American diplomacy carried its initial point when the League of Nations council decided that American approval was necessary in the allocation of mandates.

Dr. Gaston Da Cunha, in turning over the presidency to Viscount Ishii, of Japan, pointed out that the United States had sent a note to the league that it would recognize no mandate to which it had not given consent.

The retiring president said he would send a note to the United States and the allies, urging them to reach an agreement, which would enable the council to approve the mandates before September, when the league assembly will finally approve the plans.

Herbert Fisher, for Great Britain, replied that his government would take up the matter with the United States immediately.

A RAINBOW.

One reading oil news of the last few months cannot fail to see a rainbow in the economic skies—a promise of sunshine and prosperity after the present era of low-priced crude has passed.

With the bottom dropping out of crude prices, with a fall from $3.50 per barrel to $1, with prospects of still further cuts, no industry in America has been so hard hit. Other lines have had no market for their output and have suspended operation, but oil properties, as a rule, cannot be put under padlock and left idle until conditions justify their operation. An idle well goes to ruin, and is practically a total loss within a relatively short space of time. It must be kept in operation, whether profitable or not, if the money can possibly be raised.

Their operation has not been profitable, even for old wells, for the last several months, and to obtain a profit from drilling is out of question. Therefore systematic development is virtually at a standstill, and new drilling has been largely for the purpose of protecting leases and other purposes which will bring a profit at some future time.

That, of course, has brought work to a minimum, for there are not enough of this kind of operations to keep the oil business going at normal speed. Therefore the clouds of depression hang over us, and will until prices rise.

But the rainbow behind the clouds is this: All work of the last few months has been encouraging in that it revealed vast oil resources of this territory which are yet undeveloped. The limits of the Ranger field have not yet been discovered, either as to area or depth, but the Stewart wells and the outlying development prove that there will be a tremendous amount of work centering on Ranger at some time in the future when oil, now deposited, again becomes king of industry.

TINKER BOB STORIES
By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB.

TWO SORE NOSES IN BED.

Tinker Bob put Billy Mink in bed with Red Fox. One of them had been in a real brier patch trying to catch Jack, the Rabbit, and the other had been in contact with Chief Porky, the Forest Porcupine. They were sad looking creatures as they lay together in the Kings bed. Both had their noses bandaged up, but even that could not keep them from talking.

"What are you here for?" asked Red Fox, as he looked with one eye at Billy. "Have you been in a brier patch also?"

"No, I haven't been in a brier patch. I'd know better than that. A fellow who doesn't know enough to keep out of a brier patch ought to have his nose full of briars," answered Billy Mink.

"Well, where have you been if you haven't been in the brier patch? I don't know of anything else that has prickles in it but a brier patch."

"Is that so. Well you don't know very much then. I'll still think what I ran into was worse than a brier patch. I ran into Chief Porky of the forest and got my nose full of thorn-quills, that's worse than all the brier patches that Jack, the Rabbit, ever saw."

"Well if that isn't the limit! Who would ever think of running into Chief Porky? You either must be blind or else don't know much about that fellow. Why he's the most dangerous creature in the whole forest."

Red Fox was surely disgusted when he heard that Billy the Mink had run into the Forest Chief. He thought that much worse than running into the brier patch. He had been after Jack, the Rabbit, and had a right to go into the brier patch, but what on earth did Billy want with Chief Porky?

"Well, you don't seem to understand," said Billy, "I was after that fellow and I didn't intend that he should boss me about in the forest. I want to tell you that it takes a big fellow to tell me what to do."

"Well, if that isn't the limit!"

"You found out didn't you that he was just the fellow to do it?"

"I thought I could turn him over and there wouldn't be any thorns on the under side. I ran around and around, again and again, till I thought he was dizzy, and he was. Then I knew he would turn over, and he did. Then I went for him but he rolled up into a ball and when I pounced upon him I got my nose full of thorn-quills."

"Well, that's good enough for you. You ought to know that there isn't a fellow in the forest who can get that creature, and you are no wiser than anyone else. It's just good enough for you."

Red Fox and Billy argued and talked till they kicked all of the covers off and the King had to spank them both before they would go to sleep. (To be continued.)

Albert Taylor, who begins an engagement at the Majestic Theatre Sunday, June 19, has a remarkable record for business and consecutive dates played in Texas. For fifteen years he played stock engagements at the Cycle Park theatre in Dallas and for eleven years was the opening attraction over the Greenwall circuit, which included Fort Worth, Austin, Houston, Galveston and San Antonio. For the present tour Mr. Taylor is surrounded with a large and capable supporting company, including several names who are known in the stellar theatrical world. "In Walked Jimmy" will be played on the opening night. On Monday, which will be ladies' night, a fine production of the famous play, "The Man From Home," will be presented. In both of these comedies Mr. Taylor does some of the most artistic and intellectual acting of his long and useful career.

DENTIST'S OFFICE BURGLARIZED OF GOLD AND BRIDGES

Sheet gold and gold bridges amounting to a cash value of perhaps $60 was stolen from the office of Dr. C. C. Craig last night. The burglars also took a pistol and an Ingersoll ivory clock. Entrance was gained by someone unlocking the office door which is equipped with a Yale lock.

Dr. Craig is certain that the door was locked last night when he left the office a little after 7 o'clock. The police advanced the theory that the work was done by some "dopehead" who was searching for morphine and failing to find it took the other valuables. It is known that the dentist keeps a small amount of the drug in his office for use in his practice. However, it is kept in a safe.

A negro caretaker has a key to the office and discovered something wrong when he came this morning to clean up.

NITROS' KNOCKS WITH DUCKS ON POND BREAK LONG LOSING STREAK

Orphans Can't Solve Carter's Shoots, But Errors Keep Them in Running.

"That Grand and Glo-ri-ous Feeling" came to Nitro park yesterday. For the Nitros won a game. Playing a fair assortment of baseball behind the effective hurling of Atlas Carter—known to the vulgarians as Nick—they capped a game from the Orphans, 4 to 3. Pinch wiggling of the willow did it. For in the fourth round Lovelace planked a double down the left field line with Singleton roasting on second; in the fifth, Jody Tate thumped a sizzler by second base and two men scored, and in the sixth, Allen's hurt and Carter's fly to center counted Murphy. That made four runs, three earned, off the delivery of Mr. Parr, who has heretofore been burning things down Desdemona way. Parr, fated to go through baseball and perhaps matrimony under the descriptive appellation of "Red," was nipped for nine hits on his first essay at league ball, but pitched a creditable game. He has a good fast ball and a willingness to learn. He was a trifle wild, but he was pitching into the wind

Stops Hitmits.

Carter, however, pitched a steadier game. He allowed six hits, but none of them with ducks on the pond, walked one man and slatted two. With semi-crookless support, he would have scored a shutout, but Etz, who has a badly bruised hand, had a rather poor day at bat, making six errors, to be exact. At that, he fielded .500, which isn't very far behind some shortstopping we have had, and pulled a couple of nice stops when they were timely.

Both teams presented an altered lineup. Murphy and Tate yesterday switched jobs, in an endeavor to make a faster working combination, and whether that broke the jinx or not, the new lineup worked well. True, Jody forgot to cover first once, Lyall drawing a hit thereby, and he should have covered second another time when he crossed in front of Etz and in the mixup a runner went from first to third on an infield hit. But he handled eight chances without a bobble. Murphy also did honor to his new station by going to his left and making a one-handed catch of Westfall's sizzler, completing the play by a lofty throw which gave Ham a chance to qualify in the high jump. For the Orphans, Philpott was out because of injuring a leg in making his somersaulting catch the day before, and Lyall became ill during the pastiming, so Johnson went to right. The orphans counted one in the first, Etz letting Tolar's grounder get away from him. Lyall bunted, and when Tate failed to cover first, it went for a safety. Nick's one-handed stop and quick throw to Etz forced Tolar, but Lyall counted when Etz threw wild in an attempt to complete a double.

Pinch Rapping. That one-run lead endured until the fourth, when Singleton hit, stole second, and crossed the pan on Lovelace's double to left. Two more came in the next round. Etz led off with a single. Crater walked. Both moved up a base when Parr's throw to second found the base uncovered, and Jody Tate cracked a clean single to center. The "winning run" came in the sixth on Murphy's infield hit, steal and two successive sacrifices. To Nick Carter goes the credit of driving the counter across the platter.

The Orphans drew up to within one run of the lead in the sixth and seventh. Two miscues by Etz gave them the run in the sixth, and Etz and Murphy contributed another in the seventh.

A tight situation developed in the ninth. Johnson bounced a hot one off Hamilton's shins, was sacrificed to second and went to third on Bratcher's tap to Hamilton. Earnshaw cracked a hot one down the third base line, which rapped Cruse—running for Johnson—on the shin, or at least it looked that way. His umps ruled it foul, and Earnshaw struck out on the next ball. If the drive was fair and hit Cruse, the runner was out, so the Orphans did not have a chance to count on it either way. It was a terrific clout, though.

FRIEND HUSBAND GIVEN SURPRISE

About fifty members of the 1920 club and other women's organizations were the special guests of the baseball club at yesterday's game. It was a secret invitation, and a number of husbands were somewhat shocked to find Friend Wife calmly parading out to the ball game without their knowledge. It kinda showed said husbands they had been lax in catering to said wives' enjoyment of Ranger's attractions, in other words. The fair visitors added considerable pep to the game by concerted applause at opportune times. The invitation was in line with the club's policy of popularizing baseball with feminine fans. All women drew a free pass yesterday, although it was not officially "ladies' day," and it is planned to make practically every Monday's exhibition free to women during the balance of the season.

B. L. Russell Announces for Representative

A few facts relating to my personal history:
Am 55 years old.
Located at Curtis, in Eastland county, on the farm of my brother, Frank Russell, with my widowed mother and sister in 1885, where I lived until the summer of 1889. Taught my first school at Salt Tank, where the Hilburn oil field is now located. Taught at Curtis. Attended the law school at the University of Texas during this time through financial aid of the Hon. C. U. Connelley of Eastland.
Moved to Cross Plains, in Callahan county, in 1889, and was elected to the office of County Attorney of said county, served four years; was then elected to the office of county judge and served seven and a half years, retiring voluntarily a while before my last term expired. Have lived at Baird for the past thirty years, where I have practiced law. Have always taken an active interest in every public move for the betterment of our county. Have been an enthusiastic advocate for good roads, for many years attending most all Good Road meetings in this section of our state. Served as a member of the Local Board during the late war and gave to the government about all my time for more than eighteen months, and was so intensively engaged in my duties lost practically all my business. Lost a son with flu at San Domingo, D. R., on Jan. 13, 1919, in the United States navy, he having volunteered and accepted for service on July 15, 1917.

Eastland county has had three representatives successively, to-wit, Hon. T. J. Nell for two terms, Hon. Don Biggers and Judge Joe Burkett, since Callahan county has had a representative. Callahan county has always loyally supported Eastland county candidates and we feel that we are justly entitled to the representative at this time.

A Scientific Means of Destroying RATS, MICE and FIELD MICE
One pair of rats may not do much damage, but they will increase by breeding to 890 rats in one year. You can easily understand that the amount of damage they will do to food-stuffs, grain and buildings would cost a large amount of money if they are not killed.
Poisons kill only the rats that eat it, but AZOA gives the rat a fatal disease which spreads to other rats and kills off the whole brood. This disease makes them seek air and water, and they do not die in the building. It does not harm persons, poultry, or any animals, except rats and mice. It is very easy to use, and we will be glad to mail you, free of charge, circulars giving you full information, also letters from people who have used it.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY—

MR. RANGERITE:
If the church house doors should be closed in Ranger today for all time, would you immediately decide to make this your permanent home?
If you are a man with a family, would you want to keep your wife and children here under such conditions?

There are many people in the city who never go to church. There are yet others who go so seldom they are at a loss to know how to act in church because of changing customs. There are others who are commonly called irregular attendants. And, then we have the class upon whom we may always rely.

Check up in your circle of acquaintances. Who among them have the best businesses and best homes? Who make the best citizens? The church people or the non-church people? View the facts and start the upward trend. Go to Church Sunday.
