Admiral Had 'Nothing Further to Say and Nothing to Take Back.'

LONDON, June 14.—Rear Admiral Sims left Waterloo station today for Southampton to board the steamer Olympic for New York. He rode in a special car burdened with floral testimonials. Answering requests of newspaper men for a farewell message, he called attention to today's dispatches telling of the reaction in the United States against his critics.

He declared he had nothing further to say, "and nothing to retract." He said he has received hundreds of letters approving his attitude on "American hyphenates."

Asked whether he had received threatening missives the admiral smiled and said "I had one signed 'Erin Go Bragh,' making a play on my reference to zebras last week and telling me I would meet, across on the other side, but I paid no attention to it. It doesn't worry me."

SMALL DOLLARS ARE BIG WHEN KIDS NEED 'EM

The Milk and Ice Fund committee of fifteen club women will meet Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. O. Terrell on Pine street, to arrange for the distribution of the fund now being raised with the help of the Times.

Total contributions $52. There are a thousand men and women in Ranger to whom a single dollar means not a thing. It is just a dollar—just that and nothing more.

They are the fortunate. In Ranger many little children, puny and hollow-eyed, would find in the dollar of the thousand the source of healthy cheeks. Growing children need milk. They need it more than any other food. Nurses say that it is absolutely essential to their health, especially in warm weather when little bodies are subject to many ills.

They are the unfortunate. There is no claim on those with plenty to help these children. Their dollars are their own. They are the result of their endeavor, to do with it as they please. It is their happy privilege to clink them one against the other while little tots, victims of circumstance wither and their bodies become stunted, for the lack of health-giving milk and ice.

The Times Ice and Milk fund has reached a total of $52. It is a pitiable sum, when matched against what it should do. Today at the top of this story the space reserved for contributions is bare, but tomorrow is another day.

T. P. CONDUCTOR IS DEAD FROM BULLET WOUNDS

Indignation Expressed in Ranger at Wanton Crime Committed on Train.

Mike Tighe, veteran conductor on the Texas & Pacific railroad, who was shot Monday night at Tiffin, is dead. He died Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at the St. Joseph infirmary at Fort Worth. Before he died he said he was shot by a negro, who had a handkerchief over his eyes. Eye-witnesses on the train declared that Tighe was attempting to eject the negro and two white men from the train. Others say that he was shot after he had forced the men to leave the train. It is certain that Tighe had become involved with the trio in some manner. It is the belief that an effort was being made to rob the conductor, who was known to carry quite a sum of money on his return run to Fort Worth.

Local officers believe they know the identity of one of the men involved in the crime, and possibly two of them. After the shooting the wounded man was rushed by special train to Fort Worth where an operation was performed.

The two bullets fired into his abdomen were removed and he died shortly afterwards.

Indignation at the wanton crime can be heard on the streets this morning from many sources, and if the culprits are caught it is thought that justice will be swift and sure.

HAWLEY SPEAKS ON WATER SUPPLY; SAYS HAGAMAN RESERVOIR 'WILL DO'

"Dallas is drinking water that fell about the time of the birth of Christ," was a statement made last night by Maj. John B. Hawley in addressing the public forum on "Water Supply." The meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Mr. Hawley delivered an interesting and mildly technical lecture on the water supply of Texas, and it was in the course of his explanation of the artesian wells that he made the above statement. Artesian water, found mainly in the Trinity and Paluxy sands, which reach the surface near Millsap, travels only thirty miles in a thousand years, he explained, and it is for this reason that the rainfall of any year does not affect the artesian water supply.

Ranger must depend upon surface storage for its water, the major said, as it is outside the artesian belt. Any surface water can be purified and made potable, he continued, and this was true of Haganman lake as well as any other body. In saying this, the major sketched the method of using chemicals and sand filters to cleanse water of germs and the final injection of an infinitesimal amount of chlorine to complete the process.

Three Dry Years. Then he gave a comprehensive review of rainfall conditions in the Ranger territory, laying as a premise that an adequate water supply must figure dry years as well as wet. He estimated that three years was the longest and for evaporation as well as use. He estimated that three years was the longest continuous dry period that need be figured on, and seven feet of a reservoir's depth, on the average, must be figured for yearly evaporation.

The Russell creek project, with 1,200,000 gallons, was referred to as one which would provide ample water for a city of 30,000 persons, and though his investigation of the project had not been completed, the speaker thought Haganman lake, with its 400,000,000 gallon capacity, would fill the needs of this community. This was true because there is always some runoff water, even in the driest years, and "if there should not be enough for the estimated supply of seventy gallons daily for each person, the allowance can be cut down."

Mr. Hawley spoke of $1,000,000 for the Russell creek project as too expensive for the city and since the Haganman lake will suffice, thought the city "should drive a shrewd bargain with its amiable owner."

MYSTERY HOLDS IN DEATH OF YOUNG STORME

Youths Admit Running Over Boys' Body While Driving Stolen Car.

DENTON, Texas, June 15.—The death of Arthur Storme, 15, of Denton, whose body was found on the Dallas-Denton pike yesterday morning, continued to be a mystery today.

The only evidence reported today by the authorities was in the arrest of three youths in Fort Worth, who had in their possession the V. P. Shepard automobile, which was stolen about 1 o'clock on the morning the body of the Storme boy was found.

The boys arrested admitted they ran over the body after going to Lewisville, and while returning to near Denton to cross the Fort Worth road. The youths say, according to authorities, that the body was on the road, with life apparently extinct, when they saw it, too late to avoid striking it.

The three youths are charged with burglary and theft over the value of $50, in connection with the theft of the car.

Cherokee Tribe To Sue For 1,500,000 Texas Acres

AUSTIN, June 15.—Formal notice of permission to file a suit against the state of Texas in the United States Supreme Court in November for recovery of approximately 1,500,000 acres for alleged dispossession in 1839 was received today by the attorney general's department from counsel for Texas Cherokee Indians. General Cureton announced today the department will immediately begin an investigation of the claims of the Indians. Copies of the petition to be presented to the court will be sent to the state department.

Regarding the dispatch from Oklahoma yesterday saying permission of the Supreme Court had been obtained to file the suit, General Cureton emphasized the fact that the only powers who can file suits in the Supreme Court are the United States, foreign powers and states of the Union.

The Texas Cherokees and associated bands, who claim the land, contend they are and always have been a foreign nation.

The petition quotes Texas history in regard to the battle by which the Indians claim to have been driven from the lands they seek after a formal treaty was signed.

General Cureton and his assistants, Keeling and Taylor, will represent Texas in the suit.

The land in dispute constitutes two counties and a portion of several others in Northeast Texas.

RANGER CRUDE HITS DOLLAR; MAY GO LOWER

Prairie's Action Makes Second Cut Within Two Days Here.

Ranger crude was cut to $1 per barrel this morning by the Prairie Pipe Line company, this being the second cut within two days. Other companies have not as yet met the cut, but it is said that they will do so within a day or two.

It is the opinion of pipe line officials that while the long-expected $1 oil is here, there will be still further drops, perhaps of 10 and 15 cents each, and it may go as low as 50 cents before the upturn comes. As reason for this, they point to the tremendous volume of crude now in storage, which is being added to daily. All tank farms around Ranger are full, it is reported and the report is borne out by the appearance of the tanks, which show sheepshead from around the topmost row of rivets.

With the Prairie, Texas and other storage farms it is estimated that there are more than 2,000,000 barrels of oil stored in the Ranger district alone, and including the tremendous tank farms in the Oklahoma, Kansas and other fields an enormous amount is being held from the market.

RIDE TO CADDO MADE EASY BY ROAD REPAIR

With dragging and regrading after the recent rains, the Caddo road, rebuilt by the Merchants' association, has become a real highway, and the benefits are rapidly being shown in increased traffic between the two points, motorists say. It is easy to make the run in an hour, in spite of a few bad spots still remaining between Ranger and the county line, and which will soon be eliminated by the completion of the paved road.

Mr. Robertson, storekeeper at Lascasa, is authority for the statement that there is five times as much traffic on this road since it was put in shape.

"I personally know of five families who have moved their bank accounts to Ranger and are again becoming acquainted with the city after not coming here for many months," said Secretary Burt of the Merchants' association. "And there will be others who will take the same step," he continued. "Once the residents to the north discover that they have a passable road and that Ranger merchants are anxious to cater to their needs without any boom day hold-up, they will bring their business back to the town that had it before the coming of oil."

Good roads boosters believe that the benefits derived from the Caddo project have already shown the wisdom of the road-repair policy, and Ranger folk as well as others are invited to ride out toward Caddo and see what has been accomplished at a cost which shows other work would be feasible.

Sanders was arrested at Caldwell, taken to Cameron, and later transferred from there when rumors of a mob forming at Burleson county were received.

The father was killed, and a daughter fatally wounded, when a negro visited the Richardson home late Monday. Richardson was killed when he knocked in the head with an axe, and his daughter was hurt while struggling with the negro, according to the story of John Russell.

TRAIN BANDITS CAPTURED IN RUNNING FIGHT

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 15.—In a spectacular running gun battle that lasted four hours, police today captured Roscoe Arbuckle, Charles Chambers and Clyde Ross, alleged train bandits, on the outskirts of Oklahoma City. Chambers was beaten into submission by Officer B. D. Farris, when he declined to surrender his gun.

Information charging the men with attempted train robbery was filed in court.

According to Conductor Horton of the Frisco freight train, the trio boarded his train near Chickasha last night and when ordered to leave threatened him and his crew with revolvers. A squad of policemen met the train as it pulled into the yards here this morning, and the gun battle ensued.

Arbuckle and Chambers are former inmates of the Texas state prison at Huntsville, according to Detective Captain W. E. Snelson. Ross claims he is from Arkansas.

CLOUDS DREW SULPHUR FROM VOLCANO FOR RAIN OF DUST, CHEMISTS SAY

DAWSON, Y. T., June 15.—A rain of dry yellow dust was on the ground today, and chemists were preparing to analyze the substance to determine what matter other than water the clouds had taken to carrying about with them. # $2,500,000,000 LOST ON SHIPS BUILT BY U. S.

New Shipping Board Tackles Job of Stopping Huge Leakage of Money.

By RUSSELL BROWNING,
United Press Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, June 15.—With the swearing in today of the newly appointed United States Shipping Board, under the chairmanship of Albert D. Lasker, the initial step in the liquidation of the $3,000,000,000 United States mercantile marine was taken.

The first action of the board was to place $250,000,000 on the debit side of the ledger, and draw a red line through the figures. This represents the depreciation in the cost price of the 1708 government-owned vessels, and the remaining figure, $750,000,000, will serve as an approximate basis for disposal of the ships.

Lasker announced that he and his colleagues on the board would energetically tackle the problem of stopping leakage of tax payers' money into the upkeep of the marine, which is now flowing at the rate of over $2,000,000 per week.

The plan the board is expected to follow, and which is said to have the approval of President Harding, is to seek purchasers for the ships among lines and ship owners who will keep the vessels under the American flag.

The $33,000,000 venture in wooden ships is looked on as virtually a total loss. Ships that cannot be sold as ocean bottoms will be junked, it is said.

OIL RULES WHEN OLD KING COAL LOSES THRONE BY STRIKE

By LLOYD ALLEN, United Press Correspondent.

LONDON, June 15.—King Oil has suddenly come in for widespread popularity here and King Coal's dictatorship over the British industry is a thing of the past, according to expert opinion.

England's great coal stoppage was responsible for popularizing fuel oil. All over the country factories, railways, power plants, hospitals, turned to foreign-produced fuel oil the minute their coal bins were emptied, when 1,200,000 British miners refused to accept drastic wage reductions and stopped work.

Fuel oil—one of America's favorite fuels but hitherto virtually unknown in England has come to stay, according to authoritative prediction. British public service and industry will never again be wholly dependent on coal.

Unacquainted with the simplicity of installing oil burners, the British people were rather astounded to learn that immense power plants could, in an emergency, be converted in a very few days from coal to oil.

That's just what happened. When the coal pinch caused widespread embarrassment, fuel oil firms were consulted and assured all inquiries big stocks of fuel oil were being held in the country and quick deliveries could be made from abroad to replenish the great tanks.

Large stocks of oil burning equipment were also at hand. England's general public was highly gratified. Presence of fuel oil meant continuation of great lighting plants and power plants providing juice for street car systems.

BACKWATER CLOSES BRECKENRIDGE ROAD

By Associated Press.

EASTLAND, June 14.—The oil fraternity and citizens generally living and operating in the northwest extension to the Eastland oil field are up in arms in protest over the closing of the Breckenridge road by reason of the backwaters of Lake Eastland, and in a numerous signed petition to the commissioners court ask for immediate and prompt relief.

It is pointed out with the old road closed, it is practically impossible to get to the Gunsight field. It is pointed out that a road to the west of the old road is being provided, but that it will take some time to complete same, and in the meantime, the interests of not only the people mentioned, but the business interests of Eastland will suffer. The people interested will get together and adjudicate the matter at once, it is said.

THREE MILLION RABBITS.

It is reported that three million rabbits were killed in the state of Ohio in the year 1920. Cottontail rabbits formerly sold in western states for five and ten cents each. Of late years they have brought from twenty-five to fifty cents per rabbit, and the writer has seen them sold for one dollar each in the New York markets.

At fifty cents they could not be replaced with the cheapest kind of beef. Figuring them at this price, Ohio harvested one and a half million dollars' worth of rabbits last year. This kill would perhaps not be considered exceptional for two-thirds of the states in the union. Some states probably kill many, many times this number of cottontails.

Consider that this is only the interest on the capital stock and rabbits are only one species of game. An argument based on the meat value of the game killed should be sufficient to secure adequate appropriations from the state legislature for taking care of the game life which is perhaps the greatest natural resource of many of the states.

'SNOWBIRD' SAYS DOPERS CAN BE SAVED

Derelict Sees Hope for Victims Who Soar From Hell to Heaven.

By KENT WATSON, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—Twitching lips, wan, drawn and haggard facial features. Nervous glances at the passersby. He discontentedly brushes his finger across his nose, peeks furtively up a dingy stairway, disappears.

An interval passes. Apparent ecstasy characterizes his reappearance. He straightens up, assumes a superficial dignity known only to his realm. He is personified suavely, challenging the world to read behind his impressive mask of a flushed face.

Another interval passes. "I can let you have a million if you need it," he says, glancing up. "Nice blue suit you have. What're the brass buttons for? You're an aviator! I'll give you a couple of airplanes. I own the largest factory in the world."

"Plumb dippy!" observes the officer, who is pinching the "snowbird." Violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic act is the charge placed after his name when he waives examining trial after being arraigned before a United States commissioner. No funds. Jail—to await the action of the grand jury.

America's fifth largest city, like other places, has its colony of "snowbirds," the flotsam of humanity, many of the older "dope-heads" standing now on the crest of "the port of missing men," fit subjects for sob stories if the world were sufficiently interested to inquire into the why of their conditions.

Operation Started Him. Thirty-three "snowbirds" will go to trial here at an early term of the Federal District court. Wholesale raids against the illicit sale of morphine, cocaine and other "snow" will be conducted in the meantime.

"The operation started me," one of the old-timers said to me when I asked him what caused him to take up the habit. "God, but I'd give my right arm to be free from the stuff! It's gnawing my soul away. The craving is what runs me nutty. No price is too big to pay for the stuff when you're out. There's nothing like its influence—sort of a heaven. Joy floats all around. You don't know fear. You own the world. Money grows on trees. Everything's new and beautiful."

"I had a pus pocket on my spinal column. The doctors didn't seem to know what was the matter with me. They kept me doped up. My family's prominent in Kansas City now. They don't know where I am. Don't you tell 'em, for God's sake! After I'd suffered an agony for ten days a doctor made an incision in my back, and I got well—but I was a 'dope-head.' I didn't want to quit them. It was the only joy of life to be under the influence of the stuff."

"You could outwrite Shakespeare if you'd take a 'shot,'" he said with a cackling laugh. From Heaven to Hell. His humor was passing.

"I'm stuck," continued the prisoner of fate. "I'm being railroaded to the coop. I'll be better off, though. I want to get straight again—and then I'm going to start all over. I'll preach to 'beginners' if I can get the same old inspiration the stuff gives me. If you ever get a 'shot' you'll understand why it forms a 'come-back' habit so quickly."

"Why, I went to heaven last Thursday. I played with the angels, ate nectar of the gods with them. Swell bunch. Rode up there on wings. Light as feathers—sailing through the air as if on a bed of silk. "The next day I was in hell. Not so nice. I suffered for the sins of all the world. Always a yawning blankness with the heat. No objective in life. A sort of a what's-the-use philosophy. Pain. Distorted mind. A brain which became a living flame, itching sensations corralling the nerves into a corner, where they are useless. Spurned by everything, good, ebbed to aching by wonderment of whether you'll ever get another 'sniff.' That's the inventory of the maniac a 'doper' becomes when he 'misses out.'"

Dopers Can Be Saved. Churches don't do enough good, the "doper" told me.

"Preachers seeking publicity by cavorting around and depriving 'em," continued the "snowbird," unwilling to let me depart. "They don't seem to care to stoop and help the 'down-and-outers' in the world's 'hotel de gink.' A 'doper' can be saved if anybody cares about him. But society seems repulsed by the presence of a 'bird' who's hit it hard and just drifts on down because it's the easiest way. Weak men need the help of the churches. Lot o' these 'dopers' get bailed out while their trials are pending. They go back to the habit. The preachers don't go down to the federal courts and offer a chance in a heart-to-heart talk."

CREATION OF LIFE IS NOW SCIENTISTS' ONLY MYSTERY

By RUSSELL BROWNING,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, June 15.—If you are living a couple of hundred years hence don't be startled if you see a sign something like this, "Smith, Jones & Co., Manufacturers of Rats, Birds and Humans. Name your species. Prices reasonable."

Professor Austin Clark, head of the biological department of the Smithsonian institute, declared today that scientists of the future will be able to "manufacture men."

Clark was asked to comment on the announced discovery by French savants of a method of creating organic life from certain quartz and meteoric stones.

"Maybe it's true, maybe not," said Clark. Many able scientists have been fooled into believing that they have created life. Nearly every other scientific mystery of biology has been solved except this one supreme puzzle. It is now possible to construct all the organisms of a living creature. They are chemically and anatomically perfect—but they won't work when it comes to 'living.' If this problem has not now been solved, it will be some day.

"If a primitive form of life can be created, we now know that we could modify and develop that form to any form of higher animal life. The external circumstances that created the different species of life are now known and can be artificially applied. The reason that we cannot take the so-called simple forms of life now and develop them into higher animals is that there are no real primitive forms of life left on the earth. The simplest animalcule has developed from the common starting point into a tremendously complex being. A hundred million years of heredity has fixed its life form and traits until artificial modification is now very limited.

"This would not be true of newly created life. Such an organism would be tremendously impressionistic. It would mould and develop under the stimulus of artificial conditions as artistic clay in the hands of the sculptor. Practically any form of life now existent could be created from this primitive cell.

"It would probably take a couple of million generations to produce an animal like a dog or man," said Clark, "but the length of life of each generation could be speeded up, and the whole transformation got through within say 200 years.

"No doubt a lot of monstrous freaks would be created by mistakes in administering the stimulus."

59th St., Philadelphia, recently. Mr. Raff has lived in Philadelphia all his life and is well known and highly respected.

"My health was all broken up," he explained. "My stomach was all out of order and gave me so much trouble that I actually dreaded to go to the table. I would simply rather go without eating than suffer the awful misery I knew would follow. I would blot up so with gas that my heart would beat a terrific rate and it seemed sometimes I was being smothered to death. I just had to fight for my breath. My nerves were all undone. I slept poorly and was all the time having headaches that were all most blinding. I lost weight and felt so weak and run-down all over I could hardly do any work."

"Sometime ago a good friend of mine told me he knew Tanlac would help me and he spoke so positive about it that I took his advice. And I can say right now that Tanlac is the first medicine I ever saw that will do exactly what they say it will. Five bottles have the same as made me all over again. I can eat anything I ever could in my life and have gained fifteen pounds in weight. I'm no more nervous than a child, sleep fine and it just makes me feel happy to be enjoying such good health. Tanlac certainly is a great medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by the Palace Drug Store.—Adv.

HUTCHINSON, Kans., June 15.—Teams and scrapers manned by county road gangs early today were standing by ready to throw up new levees along the east bank of Cow creek to prevent flooding of Hutchinsons residence district.

PROGRAM

TEMPLE—Enid Bennett in "Silk Hosiery"; also "Fighting Fate" (thirteenth episode). LAMB—"The Concert" (all-star cast); also comedy, "Edgar the Detective," and Pathe News. LIBERTY—Robert Warwick in "Told in the Hills"; also "Double Adventure" (final episode), and Roland comedy. MAJESTIC—Alice Brady in "The Hungry Heart," and comedy.

LAMB.

Interpreted by an exceptionally talented cast, the picturization of "The Concert," a Goldwyn film, being shown at the Lamb theatre, is fully as entertaining as the original performance of the famous play in which Leo Ditrchstein starred for several seasons.

The humorous situations of which Mr. Ditrchstein made so much are carried out with splendid emphasis in the film version. A novel innovation is introduced to convey to the screen the impressions that are created by the piano-playing of the central character—that is the audience is made actually to "see" music which it cannot hear.

This is done by means of double exposures. The spirit of the various compositions played by the master emerges into the air, one piece conjuring beautiful girls dancing on the green, and then a cavalry charge, etc. It is not the least remarkable feature of a uniformly excellent picture.

J. E. Nash, who adapted "The Concert," a Goldwyn picture, which will be featured at the Lamb theatre, collaborated with Frank Lloyd in the adaptation of "Madame X," one of the biggest screen successes of recent years. Mr. Nash predicts that "The Concert" will be equally popular.

TEMPLE.

How romance and adventure came into the life of a pretty but weary little model in a fashionable modiste's shop and changed the entire course of her life is told in the latest Ince-Paramount production starring Enid Bennett, "Silk Hosiery," which will be the feature attraction at the Temple theatre, today only.

As Marjorie Bowen, Miss Bennett has the opportunity to give a performance that brings out the best of her versatile talents and she is a charming figure throughout. Day after day Marjorie wore beautiful gowns and pretty filmy things dear to the heart of every woman, but costly garments she could never own, and as she posed all day before the wealthy customers her mind and heart were weaving castles of romance where love and happiness and adventure were as common as doornails.

Into the midst of her dreaming one day there suddenly appeared before her startled eyes the ideal of her fancies, Prince Charming himself. But her exultation was of short duration for close in his wake came a striking young woman who proved to be his fiancée. Marjorie's bubbles burst but as she moved sadly toward the dressing room she ran into a couple forming a plot that would have set all London agog and it involved her. How Marjorie became mixed up in the plot and how she arose to meet the emergencies of a great adventure forms an interesting story.

SILK SHIRTS WILL BE MADE IN RANGER

A dress and shirt-making establishment will open Monday in suite 5-6, adjoining the lobby of the Gholson hotel. They will make a specialty of silk shirts for men as well as women's garments.

Mrs. Moore has lived near Ranger for many years, and is the widow of Jack Moore, formerly a broker here, who died in Memphis, Tenn., two years ago.

Thousands of Mexicans pack the arena, at $1 a ticket on the sunny side and $2 in the shade, the fights being given every Sunday. For an especially attractive fight the shady side tickets are $10 each and those for the sunny side, $5. Curious Americans, a hundred or more, attend every fight.

AUSTIN—Mrs. J. O. Creighton of Austin, left recently for Honolulu to attend the convention of the press congress of the world to be held there next October. Mrs. Creighton was commissioned a special delegate from Texas by Governor Neff and left immediately to spend the summer in Honolulu. CONDITION OF TEXAS CROPS BEST IN YEARS

Timely Showers and Good Growing Weather in May and June Invaluable.

Special to the Times.

DALLAS, June 14.—Crop conditions generally in Texas are the best at this season in many years, according to reports of correspondents received by the Texas Industrial congress during the past week. Timely showers, with intervals of good growing weather, during May, together with general rains during the first weeks of June, have benefited all crops in every section of the state, and have supplied abundant soil moisture.

Cotton.

The crop has been reduced fully 30 per cent in acreage, and, except in portion of east Texas, is growing well, although from one to three weeks late. Boll-weevils are making their appearance in central, east and northeast Texas at an earlier date than usual, which affords an opportunity for combatting them with calcium arsenate, or, in cases where the damage is serious enough, to plow up the crop and plant forage crops. Picking has begun in southeast Texas where there is some complaint of a shortage of labor. Too much rain in east Texas has hindered cultivation. Drouth conditions in west Texas have been overcome by recent good rains.

Wheat and Oats.

Harvesting has begun in central and north Texas, and is moving toward the Panhandle. Conditions have improved and the yield promises better than expected. In northwest Texas, particularly, conditions are excellent. Government estimates place the acreage at 1,761,000 acres, with a probable yield of 20,000,000 bushels. The oats crop in south and central Texas has fallen below normal.

Corn.

The crop is in excellent condition

over the entire state, and a yield larger than normal, from a greatly increased acreage, now appears probable.

Other Crops.

The condition of the hay crop is above that of last year with a yield expected to exceed 1,000,000 tons. The Irish potato crop, from a largely reduced acreage, will equal last year's yield of 220,000 barrels. Acreage in rice is 50 per cent less than that of 1920.

Fruit and Truck.

The Texas peach crop is estimated at 1,500,000 bushels, and shipments have already begun. Because of the failure of this crop in other states, market conditions are good. Pears and apples will make half a crop. The yields of all truck crops have been normal and prices generally have been satisfactory, but high freight rates have been adverse to the best marketing conditions. Tomatoes are moving east in east Texas and prospects are favorable. The watermelon crop will be larger than usual, and melons should be plentiful in all the markets of the state, as freight rates are against out-of-state shipments.

Livestock and Range.

Livestock and range conditions are excellent, and cattle and sheep are in good flesh. With a greatly increased production of forage and feed crops there is every indication for increasing the production of hogs and catle, and "finishing" them in Texas in preference to marketing them as "stockers."

AUSTIN—A three per cent credit is allowed on the key rate of any Texas city or town for the teaching of fire prevention in the public schools, under the direction of the state fire insurance commission, according to G. W. Tilley, state fire marshal.

Miss Katherine Force, sister of Mrs. William K. Dick, former wife of the late John Jacob Astor, is a successful real estate operator.

HELD AS SHEEP KILLER, DOG'S SUICIDE TAKEN AS PROOF OF GUILT

PITTSFIELD, Mass., June 15.—A dog owned by Bert Rhodes of South Williamstown, impounded by order of the county commissioners after he had been found guilty of being a sheep killer, committed suicide late yesterday by hanging in his master's barn, according to members of the county board. The dog was tied near a stall, and it is said, deliberately leaped over a partition so that the rope strangled him. In a report filed at the court house, the commissioners said that they accepted the suicide as a "confession of guilt." The owner of the dog firmly believes that the animal killed itself.

DAINTINESS AND DELICACY SECURED BY USE OF BUTTER

The careful housekeeper is always on the alert for new and delicious dishes to serve her family. When these dishes can be made high in food value without sacrificing any of their good features, and when, in addition, they can be made to contain a vital food property that makes children grow and grown folks feel better, she is more than interested. Below we give a group of tested recipes for a number of new and unusual dishes, all using butter to round out the other good qualities of the dish and all therefore containing a liberal portion of "vitamines," the growth-producing property found only in butter-fat and the yellow parts of eggs.

NEW POTATO DRESSING.

(Potatoes for Six.) 1-4 cup cracker crumbs 1-2 cup Mistletoe Butter. 1-4 cup boiling water. 4 tablespoons minced parsley 1-2 teaspoon paprika

Blend the cracker powder with the butter, then beat in the boiling water. Add the seasonings, and pour, very hot, over the potatoes after they are in the dish ready to serve.

SOFT GINGER BREAD.

1 cup Mistletoe Butter. 1 cup brown sugar. 1 cup sour milk 1 cup black molasses 2 eggs 1 teaspoon ginger 1 teaspoon soda 3 cups flour

Cream the sugar with the butter and the eggs. Add the milk and molasses, then the soda, flour and ginger sifted together twice. Pour in a greased saffron pan and bake until firm, in the center—about forty minutes. If the bread falls, cracks or is lumpy 'tis baked at too high temperature.

BROWN SUGAR SAUCE.

1-2 cup Mistletoe Butter 1-2 cups brown sugar 1 cup water 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg

Cook the sugar, water and butter for five minutes. Add spices and serve very hot over apple dumplings or any pudding.

COOKED SALAD DRESSING.

(To have on hand.) 2 egg yolks 1 tablespoon flour 1 tablespoon sugar 1 tablespoon salt 1-2 cup cider vinegar 3-4 cup boiling water Cayenne—paprika 1-2 cup Mistletoe Butter

Beat the egg yolks, salt and sugar until light. Blend in the flour and vinegar. Beat in the boiling water until thick. Melt the butter and beat it with a fork. Put this dressing aside to use as needed. One tablespoonful of it beaten in a cup of whipped cream, will serve four or six fruit salads.

TAX JUSTICE.

Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier may weep many tears over the huge tax they will pay the government for the privilege of earning a fortune on July 2. And those tears may be of extra-briny content.

Yet the more the tears, and the brinner, the more the general public will chortle. For here, if anywhere, the government surtaxes on income would appear just and equitable. Sport lovers of America on that day will be taxed around a million dollars for the spectacle, and it will be soul satisfying to know that 40 per cent of the money will go to the government.

Even the fact that it will be used for paying salaries of congressmen and like luxuries will not detract from the feeling that the money is in better hands than if left in possession of the fistic heroes.

A boxing champion, as well as a horsehoe pitching champion or the world's best stone, is entitled to some emolument therefor. Being a headliner in the amusement business, he is entitled to more than the average return, for the public is willing to be taxed more for its amusements than anything else.

But it does not sit well with the average man for these bouts to draw into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. He thinks a champion, along with the average run of humanity, should work more days and draw less per diem.

And accordingly, he will be tickled pink at the idea of Uncle Sam looking over the pot and hogging almost half as his "rakeoff!"

INCOME TAX DAY IN UTAH

BY MORRIS

Pop was smoking and thinking last night and all of a sudden he had an idea. O, by the way Pawleen, I'm going to bring a couple of customers up for supper Thursday night. Do you think Nora can batt out a good meal for once and serve it as if she enjoyed her work and not as if she was serving a life sentence in prison for somebody else's crime? Will you you know very well Thursday is Nora's day off, sed ma. So I do, I mean so it is, sed pop, well, there's an easy way out of that, just request her to take off Friday instead of Thursday this week. How do you, the idea of requesting Nora to do anything she doesn't want to do is just too funny for words, hee hee, sed ma. Well, then, don't request her, simply command her, is this our house or hers? sed pop, and ma sed, O, about 50 I should say and more, sed, Well, don't argue with you, no cook is going to be the boss of my ranch, now or at any future time, the way to deal with these matters is with a firm hand. I'm going rite down and tell her in a plane matter of fact way that I expect her to work Thursday afternoon and take Friday off instead. Hee hee, excuse my laffter, sed ma. I dont even notice it, sed pop, and he waked out of the room hawty with me following him to see wat he would haddin, and we went down in the kitchen and Nora was in there peeling potatoes with a nife and a unsatisfied expression, pop standing there a minnit and then saying, Well, Nora, peeling potatoes? Ill say I am, I never seen a small family eat so many potatoes as this family does, gess if it was something that didnt hurt to be peated they wouldnt touch them, sed Nora, and pop sed, Well, well, its not as bad as that, Im sure, and Nora by the way, it occurred to me I thavt possibly you mite like to take Friday afternoon off instead of Thursday this week, it merely occurred to me. Well it mite as we'l not of, sed Nora keeping on peeling potatoes, and pop sed, I sippose not, it was just a passing ideer of mine. And he went back up to the setting room and ma sed, Well, will she or wont she? Did it ever occur to you that even a cook has her rites? sed pop. O, you mean she wont, hee hee, sed ma laffing. MEXICANS RETURNING HOME BY TRAINLOADS

LAREDO, Texas, June 14.—Three trains of Mexican repatriates recently reached Laredo with 1,500 men, women and children aboard. The Mexicans are being sent to their homes in the interior as fast as transportation is secured in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, and those who are forced to wait their turn are being cared for by a committee from both Laredos, subscriptions having been secured to furnish them with food. They are mostly supplied with bedding and the problem of shelter is not difficult of solution because of the warm weather.

CONUL GENERAL ARTURO DE SARACHO, OF LAREDO, IS STILL IN MEXICO CITY IN CHARGE OF THE REPATRIATION WORK THERE AND MAY NOT RETURN FOR ANOTHER MONTH, THE CONSULATE SAID.

TINKER BOB STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB. NO SYMPATHY FOR BILLY.

"Wow, wow," cried Billy Mink as he rolled over and over on the ground trying to get the thorn-quills out of his nose. He clawed at his nose and squeezed a bit, then he called for help. "O hear me! Come quick! Help! Help! My nose, my nose!" The first one of the forest dwellers to come to him was Jack, the Rabbit, and he didn't get very close for he knew Billy's tricks pretty well. "Whats the matter?" Jack asked as he stood on his hind feet so he could see more. "I didnt suppose you ever got in trouble." "O get someone to pull these thorn quills out of my nose or I will die. Go get some one quick. I cannot stand it much longer." "Thats funny you cant stand it. How do you (suppose) Chief Porky would have stood it if he hadnt been protected by the thorn-quills? I think you ought to have a taste of what you wanted to give him." "Ill fix you, Jack, when I get these thorns out of my nose for talking in that way to me when Im in such a terrible way. Yo u ought to be ashamed of yourself to stand there like a dummy when Im suffering so." "You ought to be ashamed of yourself for trying to pick a fight with the Chief of the Forest when you know he has such good protection." Jack never moved from his place one step but looked straight at Billy. "If you dont go at once and get some one to help me Ill make you eat the pricklers off the briar bushes." Billy was very angry. "Youll have to catch me first before you can do anything," said Jack as he chuckled and stood in the same place. "Thief, thief," cried Jerry, the Jay Bird. "I heard all you said, you saucy Mink. I was just going to offer you help but now you can suffer for all I care. Anyone who can talk like that to my friend Jack, the Rabbit, can keep the thorns in his nose for all of me." "O youre another crazy thing, and if I ever get you there will be one long day of rest in the forest. And I can tell you it will be a happy day too for of all the creatures in the forest who make horrid noises, you're the worst. Ill get you too, you see if I dont. When you are asleep some night on the branch of a tree Ill fix you." "Thief, thief, come one come all, and see the poor Mink. Come one come all. He never can drink, with his nose so full of thorns." Jerry sang as loud as ever he could and they began to gather from all corners of the forest. Poor Billy claved his nose and rolled on the ground in the height of his anger trying to remove the thorn-quills. Suddenly Tinker Bob, the King, came into view. Tomorrow—A Traveling Briar Patch.

COMMERCE THROUGH GALVESTON GROWING

By Associated Press GALVESTON, June 14.—Commerce through this port, instead of diminishing, is increasing by leaps and bounds as the summer season unfolds, according to figures just made public by the Galveston Cotton Exchange and Board of Trade. April and May of this year, the figures show, represented an impressive advance over last year's similar period in shipments of grain and cotton received. In April 1921, a total of 216,287 bales of cotton were delivered on Galveston island by the railroads, as against 115,573 bales during April of last year, an increase of 100,714 bales. In May, 228,050 bales were received as against 55,216 bales in the same month last year. Wheat, the largest single grain exported through Galveston, arriving here during April, 1921, totaled 4,900 carloads, as against 1,813 carloads during the same month of last year. May saw roughly 4,000 cars deposited on this island as against 3,330 carloads in May, 1920.

BUSY BANDIT TAKEN IN MEXICAN MOUNTAINS

PUEBLA, Mexico, June 14.—Taco Placido, a bandit with more than 100 personal assassinations and many other crimes to his credit, has been captured in the mountains above Puebla and has been brought here for trial. Placido has never been a rebel against the federal government but is alleged to have pursued a general marauding career.

DOG HILL PARAGRAPHS

By GEORGE BINGHAM. A drummer visited the store of Bounding Billows today but could not sell anything as the proprietor had just eaten a heavy meal of cabbage and new Irish potatoes. It is rumored around on good authority that Ralick Helwanger is fixing to elope with the Tickville jailer's daughter. If this does happen it will be the culmination of a romance which began while Ellick was languishing in the iron-bound confines of the sepulcher a few weeks ago. Some fellows get into trouble and go to jail while others dont mind after they get there. Silé Kildew says nearly every person you meet is either coming or going.

When the widow of one of the Dodge motor car makers told the court it would require $40,000 a month to pay the living expenses of herself and two children, the hard-hearted court ordered her, instead, to get along this coming year on a beggary $40,000. That is $40,000 less for the year than the lady's estimate. It will readily be seen that she must do some careful paring of domestic expenditures in order to make both ends meet. The Dodge brothers were machinists before their share in making Henry Ford's little car, a success brought them a business of their own and wealth in millions. To the end of his life, it is said, Horace E. Dodge could be seen daily lounging around his factory, wearing his blue overalls and tinkering with his loved machinery. He did not work thus all the while to be sure. He doubtless had some pretty good-looking clothes at home, too—and wore them on occasions. But it did not cost that man a very large fraction of $40,000 a month to make him comfortable. No busy man—no busy woman—can eat more than four or five ordinary meals a day, use up more than several changes of clothes a month, or live in to exceed half a dozen houses a year. That kind of living is not really expensive. At the utmost, it could be had for $1,000 a month. It is people who are not busy who are costly to keep up. The idlers of both sexes in his world run up terrifically extravagant bills for their maintenance. As compared to what hard-working, creative, useful people pay for food and clothes and rent and other items of living, the non-producers fairly burn money. Just why it costs them so much more to exist than it is necessary for the maintenance of men and women who achieve fine things daily is a mystery which has never been explained. If every individual in the world had some definite, constructive duty to perform which required that person's thought and effort day in and day out, the living expenses of the human race would be cut in two. Moreover, earning power and actual income would be vastly increased. The occasional $40,000-a-year household wipes out such accumulated wealth and as a rule leaves nothing of a substantial character to show for the expenditure.—St. Louis Times.

SIMS AND HARVEY.

The hysterical excitement of the Harding administration over the indiscretions of Rear Admiral Sims' London speech is in striking contrast with its cynical indifference to the far more glaring indiscretions of Ambassador Harvey's London speech.

When Mr. Harvey insulted all the American people in the name of the president, there was not a word of official disapproval. Not a Republican senator made a protest. No hint of disavowal came from the White House or the state department. On the contrary, the correspondents told in effect that the Harvey speech was wholly acceptable to the administration.

What a difference when Rear Admiral Sims attacked a small faction of American Sinn Fein voters! Senator McCormick rushes to the White House to call the matter to the president's attention. Secretary Denby sends a cablegram to the rear admiral saying that "I have read with amazement certain extracts from a speech purporting to have been made by you," and ordering Sims to "inform the department immediately by cable as to whether or not you were correctly reported." The senate promptly orders an investigation. There is to be discipline for Sims but no discipline for Harvey.

Yet the Sims speech, however much it may be open to criticism on the ground of fact and good taste, is merely the opinion of an individual. Nobody would dream of interpreting it as an expression of the United States government's policy or opinion. The Harvey speech, on the other hand, has been accepted everywhere in Europe as the formal expression of President Harding's own views on international affairs.

Why the reckless utterances of a rear admiral on a leave of absence should be regarded by the administration as so much more serious than the reckless utterances of an ambassador personally representing the president of the United States and personally speaking for the president of the United States we do not know. We are merely recording the facts.

It was all right so far as the administration was concerned, for Mr. Harvey to describe the American people as a set of poltroons who were afraid not to fight," but all wrong for Rear Admiral Sims to assail the Sinn Feiners who are engaged in making Irish politics an American issue.

Perhaps Sims in turn can explain that if he erred it was only in following too literally the address of Mr. Harding's ambassador. In his Pilgrims' dinner speech Mr. Harvey assured his British audience of Mr. Harding's "fidelity to his race" and "his ancestry, drawn from all the noblest of the United Kingdom, not excluding Wales." The rear admiral may have taken it for granted that in attacking the Irish and upholding the English attitude toward Ireland he was only expressing his commander-in-chief's "fidelity to his race" and to his ancestors.

That may or may not be the case; but it is plain enough from the developments at Washington that Sims' mistake was in assailing a small fraction of American voters. Had he taken the precaution to insult all the American people as Harvey did, had he dragged their ideals and their idealisms into the mud and pictured them as a nation of war profiteers intent only on defending their swag, he might have counted on the same measure of administrative consideration that has been accorded to George Harvey.—New York World.

AN EXPENSIVE FAMILY.

When the widow of one of the Dodge motor car makers told the court it would require $40,000 a month to pay the living expenses of herself and two children, the hard-hearted court ordered her, instead, to get along this coming year on a beggary $40,000. That is $40,000 less for the year than the lady's estimate. It will readily be seen that she must do some careful paring of domestic expenditures in order to make both ends meet.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN ENGLAND BRINGS OUT MUCH HOARDED GOLD

LONDON, June 4.—The widespread destitution caused by unemployment here is bringing out the gold hoarded by many persons in more prosperous times. There has been a most noticeable increase in the number of sovereigns and half sovereigns in circulation in the last few weeks. Previously it was only on rare occasions that a sovereign or half sovereign was tendered.

Escorts Woman Accused of Murder from New York to Ohio

"I am not the least bit afraid of them," said Mrs. Margaret Christenson, wife of the chief of police of Lakewood, Ohio, when she arrived in New York the other day to escort Mrs. Eva Kaber and her daughter, Miss Marian McArdle, back to Ohio, where they will be tried for the slaying of Mrs. Kaber's husband, Daniel C. SECRET DIVORCE TRIALS.

The trial of divorce suits behind closed doors, where both parties to the action desire it, is proposed in a set of rules adopted by the circuit judges for governing the courts of domestic relations. Where no such request is made the newspapers are asked to limit their reports to a brief statement of the offenses alleged and the disposition of the case.

The decision of the judges in favor of secret divorce trials, one of them has explained, was inspired by the publicity in the Stillman case. That the Stillman case is deplorable all will admit, but who of all the dramatic personae has been injured by the publicity? Did our circuit judges ask themselves that question? Did they further ask themselves as to who might have been injured, and in what degree, had the proceedings been suppressed?

The one saving grace in the whole Stillman abomination has come from publicity. The malign and heartless belief of a man in the omnipotence of money has been shattered forever. It has been borne in on him that public decency cannot ruthlessly be assailed. The force that organized that avenging sentiment and marshaled it into action was publicity.

It should be kept in mind too, that the newspapers have not passed judgment on this man's alleged grievances, nor upon his alleged lapses. The people's elemental sense of fairness has revolted at the spectacle of a man attempting to rob an innocent child of its birthright. Dives with all his ducats can't build walls thick enough to shield the perpetrator of such a cruel outrage. Nor can Dives do it with the assistance of judges.

The reports of divorce actions, in the light of experience, may best be left to the discrimination of the newspapers. Errors may be made, but the errors of exposure are less to be dreaded than the errors of suppression. The assurance of secrecy would work incalculable mischief.

The wage of wrongdoing is publicity.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Ranger's first celebration of Emancipation day, or "Juneteenth," will be held Saturday at Shamrock park, the committee in charge announces. There will be a big parade at 11 o'clock followed by a big free barbecue and basket dinner on the grounds. A special table will be reserved for white friends who attend the celebration.

After the dinner, the afternoon will be devoted to amusements, including foot races, boxing and speeches and singing. J. H. Wamsley will deliver the principal address of the day, "What the Negro Race Has Done from 1865 to 1921."

A brass band from Fort Worth will be present and the celebration will culminate with a big dance at night. The celebration also includes a ball game between the "Ranger Oil Stars" and the Fort Worth Black Panthers, to be played at Nitro park.

W. C. Coleman, George A. Brock, Lincoln Wyatt, G. Campbell, James Legon, James Rivers, R. T. Woods and T. J. Johnson compose the committee in charge of the celebration.

TEXAS GREATEST SHEEP STATE IN THE UNION

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Gains in the number of sheep on farms in Texas have made the Lone Star state the greatest sheep raising state in the Union, according to an announcement today by the bureau of the census. In 1910 there were 1,808,709 sheep on Texas ranges and in 1920 there were 2,552,412 sheep on the ranges of the Lone Star state. Goats also multiplied. In 1910 there were 1,135,244 goats in Texas, as compared with 1,706,606 in 1920.

Sheep are classified as follows: Lambs under one year of age, 632,809; ewes one year old and over, 1,447,158; rams one year old and over, 42,997; wethers one year old and over, 429,538. Goats are classified as follows: Kids under one year of age raised for their fleece, 363,676; goats one year old and over raised for their fleece, 1,073,063; all other goats, 269,867.

PROPER PUNISHMENT FOR HUSBANDS WOULD INSURE WEDDING BLISS

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 14.—Magistrate John Kochendorfer of this city has begun to put into effect his doctrine, recently expounded, that the right kind of punishment for offending husbands will end marital infelicity. Holding that husbands are to blame for seven-eighths of all domestic rows, the magistrate announced that instead of sending them to jail, he would sentence them to any of the ten tasks they must perform. Then, the next convicted husband who was arraigned before him for abusing his wife was ordered to do common housework for a week, or go to the workhouse.

The chosen Magistrate Kochendorfer allows his prisoners to follow: Prepare the family breakfast every morning. Take care of the children one hour every day. Buy candy and fruit for the wife and children—once a week. Stay at home one small day. Take the family out every Saturday—to church in the morning and for a walk in the afternoon. Allow the wife to handle the finances of the family.

Start a savings bank account. Wait on himself instead of asking the wife to wait on him. Repeat every day to his wife, at least once, his marriage vows. Wash the dishes every night. Magistrate Kochendorfer says that few men recognize the daily monotony of a woman's life in keeping a household together on small pay. The men have some variety even if only in going from their homes to their offices but the wives are sentenced to monotonous drudgery.

"Men who abuse their wives need waking up more than they need jail," the magistrate expounded. "The average man would be cured permanently if he could be set to the tasks to which his wife is committed and thus learn how much less attractive is her day than his."

TEXAS MORALS UNDER FIRE ON ALL SIDES

Bathing Suits, "Automotive Love-Making," and School Girls' Conduct Assailed.

By Associated Press.
FORT WORTH, June 14.—Bathing suits, schoolgirls' dresses and morals are subjects to which certain organizations in Texas cities are giving their attention. Criticism of the costumes of schoolgirls, of bathing suits at the beaches and the conduct of young couples has been met in some instances with steps on the part of officials and organizations for their reform.

"Automotive love-making" on Dallas county highways must stop, Sheriff Dan Harston has announced. Two motorcycle "night riders" have been appointed to make the roads in Dallas county "safe for traffic and safe for young girls to travel over," the sheriff said. "From now on there will be no parking of cars along the highways while occupants idle away the hours making love," was his edict.

Automobile rides by unchaperoned youths were condemned in a resolution adopted by the Mothers' council of the First Methodist church of Cisco, Texas.

The Cisco Mothers' council also condemned "the present style of public bathing suits" and recommended that hose be worn with bathing suits and that "hose and bathing suit shall meet."

The officials at Lake Worth, municipal bathing beach of Fort Worth, have barred rolled stockings at the beach and have ruled that bathing suits for men must have the bottom of the shirt extending over the trunks, or trousers part of the costume. Abbreviated or insufficient skirts on women's bathing suits were banned.

A committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Fort Worth will confer with the school board relative to the standardization of dress of high school girls, the federation announced, following a meeting at which the dress of school girls was condemned.

Modern Skirt.
"The modern skirt; no back, no front, no sleeves dresses are not a cause. They are an effect," said one speaker at the meeting. "There must be immorality inside and the dress is just the expression."
Legislative regulation of bathing suits is the latest proposal, but it was not received with encouragement at Austin. A resident of a seacoast town of Texas wrote to Governor Pat M. Neff, requesting him to submit a bill at the special session of the legislature regulating the kind and mode of bathing suits girls and women shall wear at the beaches and public swimming pools. The writer said he may be "old and out of date," but he "doesn't want the younger generation to be subjected to such a lesson as the women and girl swimmers and bathers now put before them."
The governor's secretary replied that he was sure the time for such legislation was not at hand and that such things should be controlled by local communities.

Modesty.
Modesty and appropriateness go hand in hand as regards bathing suits for women, according to a consensus of members of the Galveston Beach association. If the feminine swimming garb is frankly one designed "to get wet," they declare, it not only looks modest but appropriate.

Fair bathers as a rule prefer to go bare-legged instead of encasing their nether extremities in silken hose or half hose. They feel it is more modest and tends to make them less conspicuous. The "roll your own" fad, according to beach association members, has few followers at this beach-resort, although no regulation forbids women bathers using their own judgment as regards this style.

And Bathing Suits.
The 1921 season ushered in a myriad of freak beach and bathing costumes. A score of different designs in beach and swimming creations made their appearance at the recent Galveston Bathing Girl Revue, some of them ranging in price as high as $400. In design they varied from the one-piece suit with moderate skirt to the ultra-extreme "swimming tights," which are revealed when an "over suit" is unbuttoned and dropped to the ground as the wearer enters the water. These ultra-radical designs after a brief vogue have virtually vanished from the beach, association members said.

No regulations other than those dictated by the bather's own good judgment, according to association members, govern the garb to be worn upon the beach or in the surf at Galveston. It is only stipulated that the bather shall not promenade upon the Seawall boulevard, the adjacent streets or enter restaurants, soft drink parlors or concessions unless his or her swimming suit is covered by an adequate dressing robe or bathrobe.

RESOLUTION LOOKING TO PURCHASE OF WATER PLANT IS DRAFTED

A resolution has been drawn authorizing the city commission to pass bonds for the purpose of buying the local water system. The resolution will be considered at an adjourned meeting to the commission, which will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock. A short session was held last night after the arrival of Sandford Dean from Austin in order to make the meeting of this afternoon legal. To pass the resolution requires a quorum of three. Mayor John M. Gholson and A. Davenport are out of the city and the presence of Mr. Dean was essential for the required number of commissioners.

WHEN IT COMES TO OLD CRABS, THIS ONE TAKES THE CAKE

If you were to meet this giant spider crab ("Macrohira Kaempferi") while in bathing it is very evident that your afternoon's pleasure would be over. This enormous crustacean, the largest crab ever caught, is estimated to be more than 500 years old. The front claws of the crab are each fifty-five inches long, which is longer than the entire length of six-year-old Rita Rogan, shown in the photograph. The monster is on exhibition at the Nicholas restaurant, One Hundred and Seventy-eighth street and St. Nicholas avenue, New York. The giant crab was caught in the Yellow sea last winter.

BAPTISTS TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC FRIDAY

No Quarter to Be Shown Those Who Are Late at Starting Place.

The entire congregation of the Baptist church will spend all day Friday picnicking at Lake Massasoit, a few miles beyond the river Leon.

Hopes for this ideal day in the woods, with water near by, friends and tons of eats, even grasshopper and chigger hunts, have grown upon the congregation since the annual picnic of last year. This one promises to satisfy even the most swollen hopes.

"Be at the church door at 8 o'clock sharp," are the words of Rev. Johnson, pastor of the church. At that time every car and truck loaded with eats and holiday seekers will have started. Boundless pity is already in store for those poor humans who will arrive at the church two minutes past eight and either have those happy picnic dreams shattered or a hot dusty fifteen-mile walk before them.

Nobody Overlooked.
There will be the usual picnic races and contests which always promote more fun and comradeship. Few have been forgotten by the amusement committee, so be prepared to take part in tub races, egg, sack and potato races, fat and slim men's races and all the others.

Besides the immense supply of cream, drinks and other refreshments offered free to all, the B. Y. P. U. will be in charge of a stand loaded with sweets and a larger supply of cool drinks. Those the kiddies and gallant men can live up to their proverbial reputation.

On the various committees are the following:
Conveyance: C. O. Roberts, A. Davenport, H. M. Russel, Will Hejl.
Commissary: A. R. Right, Frank Connell, C. G. Pitecock, Paul Linbluff.
Amusements: E. J. Rhodes, J. B. Roberts, C. H. Dunlop and others.

MORE NEGROES NOW WORKING TEXAS FARMS

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Figures given out today by the bureau of census show a slight gain in the number of colored farmers operating farms in Texas. The increase, however, is slight.

In 1920 there were 78,664 farms owned by negroes and in 1910 there were 69,816 farms thus owned. The negro tenant farmers controlled 54,977 farms in 1920 and in 1910, 48,554 farms.

The cold figures showing the negroes steady gain are to be seen in the total number of acres controlled by them. In 1920 they were operating 4,460,574 acres of farm lands and in 1920, 4,264,198 acres. Of this amount, 3,157,711 acres were improved in 1920 and 2,762,958 acres were improved in 1910. The value of land and buildings on farms operated by negroes is, in 1920, $227,757,850, and in 1910, $90,660,074.

ROTARY OFFICER OF RANGER TO OFFICIATE AT EASTLAND LODGE

Special to the Times.
EASTLAND, June 14.—Howard S. Cole, district governor of the Rotarians of Ranger, is expected here tomorrow at which time he will formally induct the officers of the newly organized Eastland club into office. A club of twenty-five members has been organized here, and a number of visitors from Cisco and Ranger are expected to be present at tomorrow's luncheon.

AUSTIN, Ninety-nine bills passed at the regular session of the thirty-seventh legislature became laws on June 11, that day being the 90th day after sine die adjournment, when bills that did not pass both houses by the necessary two-thirds vote or with emergency clause to make them immediately effective became operative.

TEXAS PLANT WIZARD RIVAL TO BURBANK

Mating Tomato With Pineapple One of Novel Stunts of Lamarque Grower.

By Associated Press.
LAMARQUE, Texas, June 14.—A tomato has been mated with a pineapple and its progeny is named—sunray.

The "sunrays," as Mr. George has christened them, are of about the same size and shape as their maternal parent, but in color they are a brilliant yellow. Also they contain absolutely no acid. From 90 to 100 days, according to Mr. George, are required for bringing to maturity this new wrinkle in eatables. Pure white tomatoes, as well as blood red ones, containing no acid, also are growing in Mr. George's garden plot.

Another successful bit of plant surgery—and wizardry—was the grafting of three varieties of chili pepper plants. The result of this "plant triangle" is a stalk upon which are yellow, purple, red, brown, white and green peppers. The pods are also of different sizes and shapes.

Most interesting of all his present experiments, according to the Lamarque horticulturist, is the crossing of a cantaloupe with a cushion. At present the product of this "match" is about nine pounds in weight but, according to Mr. George, when full grown, it is expected to displace in the neighborhood of 18 pounds.

returned to his duties, he met the woman he had seen that morning when he was going home. She was at the prison door, holding a basket of food. Her husband was a county prisoner.

"I wonder," said the deputy sheriff, "how many men would start looking for a job at 3 a. m., work all day, take the money and buy delicacies for a woman in the 'lockup.' But such is the way of a woman."

DEVOTED WIFE SLAVES TO CARE FOR HUSBAND LOCKED UP IN JAIL

By Associated Press.
EL PASO, June 15.—A wife's devotion to her husband was demonstrated in the El Paso county jail. A ragged, bent and foretorn woman in a dress of black, at 3:30 a. m., went to the city employment bureau in the basement of the city hall and took her seat on the last step leading down. She wanted to be sure that she was among the first to call for the few jobs of washing and housework. She waited until 7:30 o'clock, got a job and did her day's work.

Deputy Sheriff Van Hasslen saw the woman on his way home from the "graveyard" shift at the jail across the street from the employment bureau, at 3:30 a. m. That night, when the deputy sheriff had

ARMY OF BEES SWOOPS DOWN ON SUGARLAND

By Associated Press.
SUGARLAND, Texas, June 15.—A summer offensive of the kind that would delight the heart of Field Marshal Joffre of France is getting under way here. It is a nibbling offensive, such as that famous soldier employed against the German armies in the early stages of the world war, and the invaders are literally swarming over their objectives.

The advancing soldiers are bees—just plain, every-day bees, or honey making proclivities and a bayonet-like sting—and their objectives are the big sugar refineries which give this city its name. Thousands of swarms of bees, according to estimates of refinery officials, have moved, bag and baggage, into this vicinity. Whence they came no one knows, nor are they being received as other than the most desirable citizens. The bee villages are so numerous that townsfolk are finding it difficult to provide a sufficient number of "billets" for the invading armies.

Is this a new industry for Sugarland or a new by-product of sugar?

NITROS DROP TENTH STRAIGHT WHEN BRONCS HIT KECK HARD

Josh Billings Also Yields Many Knocks, But Scores Are Far From Numerous.

CISCO COMING

Four games will be played here with Cisco, starting tomorrow. The original schedule called for two here and two at Scoutville, but the Cisco franchise is up in the air. Five games have been transferred until a new home for the club is found.

Straightaway ball playing by the Broncs gave the Nitros their tenth straight defeat yesterday, 10 to 3. Fifteen hits, plus nine free trips, plus five errors, tell the tale. And only ten scores, which indicates the Nitro defense wasn't so bad, after all. Keck was the victim of the assault.

During the same matinee, the Nitros were slammed out twelve blows, and getting virtually nowhere, so far as round trips were concerned. Josh Billings was chary of passes and except for a throw or so from the outfield that trickled by Lewis, was given very good support.

An inkling of what was to come was given in the first when Murphy threw wild on Truesdale's tap and Williamson's single to right brought home a tally, in spite of Adkins' accurate throw.

The Nitros tied it in the second on three clean hits. Etz slammed a long fly to center, near the fence, which went for two bases. It was his first safety since joining the Nitros. Alton and Keck followed with singles, Etz counting on the first one. The Nitros took the Broncs out the rest of the way, as the visitors counted in each of the next four innings, by bunching hits with sacrifice flies and bunts or whatever else was needed.

Features, if any, were Scoggins' playing at short, and the successful manner in which the Broncs worked the hit and run. Scoggins pulled several fast plays, his best one being when he went behind Lewis and took Murphy's long bouncer, throwing him out at first. Etz also pulled a nice stop, but failed to catch his man.

The Broncs hit and run was a pretty piece of machinery. A free pass or a hit set it to purring. Then came a safety to right on which the man ahead took third. Then he scored by one means or another. That was all there was to it.

THIS TIME LAST YEAR.

Ruth made his eighteenth run off Red Faber in Chicago. Jim Vaughn won his seventh straight game, beating the Braves, 1 to 0. The Cubs got only three hits.

Nitro Notes

Two leaders played a double-header yesterday, broke even—and each lost four or five points. Two tail-enders also staged a double bill, broke even—and each gained several points.

It's a simple problem. If a team is playing better than 500 ball, an even break means that it is not playing up to form. On the other hand, if a team is 'way below par, say 400, to play 500 ball for a day means that it is bettering its percentage.

Every once in a while his ump gets his sights crossed in looking at the foul line and robs some player of a hit. Being behind the pitcher, Umpire Davis could not be blamed for calling Lovey's double over first base a foul ball. However, it was a clean hit, bounding directly over the bag. Generally, when such an instance occurs, the player falls to hit. So it was unusual and especially pleasing yesterday to see Lovey come back with a triple to the other corner of the park. That is "poetic justice," in other words, a fair deal from luck.

Spuds Murphy, after going through Monday's double header without an error—handling sixteen chances—nussed up his record on the first ball hit yesterday.

Charley Clapp was out of the game, on account of the injury he received when hit by a pitched ball in Monday's double header. It was the first game Charley has missed. Murphy and Lovelace are the sole surviving members of the Every Game club.

San Angelo plays the "squeeze" on a different system than the one used by the Nitros. Both seem to be equally ineffective. The Broncs system is to "play it safe" by waiting until it is certain the batter has bunted effectively. That leaves plenty of time to catch the man at the plate. Yesterday Hamilton had to hold the ball awhile and then reach up and throw over Billings' head. And then he had plenty of time. The Nitro system? You know what it is. Come on in and let the batter either miss the ball or pop into the air.

TAIL ENDERS GO FIFTY-FIFTY IN TWO GAMES

CISCO, June 15.—Cisco and Ballinger split a double header here yesterday afternoon. Cisco taking the first, 6 to 5, and Ballinger the second, 2 to 1. The second game went only five innings, by agreement. The first affair was anybody's game until the last out was made. The second game was fast and snappy, with some sensational fielding. The Scouts pulled three double plays in the second game, one of them being by Earnshaw, unassisted. Henkle, southpaw pitcher with Cisco at the opening of the season, was again in a Scout uniform yesterday. Pitcher Anderson has been recalled by Wichita Falls, and left here last night for that city.

The Scouts go on the road after today's game, with the fate of the club still unannounced, but is practically assured that there will be no more games in Cisco, at least this season. It is understood that some parties, whose names are withheld, are negotiating a deal to take over the Cisco club, and that their plans call for playing the remainder of the games scheduled for Cisco at other places.

First Game— R. H. E. Ballinger . . . 012 100 100—5 8 3 Cisco . . . 001 230 00x—6 11 2 Batteries: Baldridge and Burch; Cruse and Browning. Second game— R. H. E. Ballinger . . . 101 00—2 2 0 Cisco . . . 010 00—1 2 2 Batteries: Cantrell and Burch; Henkle and Westfall.

SWATTERS AND EAGLES SPLIT IN FAST BILL

ABILENE, June 15.—The Sweetwater Swatters and the Abilene Eagles divided a double matinee here yesterday, the visitors taking the first, 8 to 4, and the locals the second, 4 to 3. The Swatters fell on Pat Crowson in the tenth and by bunching blows annexed four markers, breaking the tie and taking the matinee. Richburg who essayed to go the entire route in the second entertainment was jerked in the fourth when the Eagles had gotten to him for three runs and was replaced by Word. The Swatters staged a rally in the seventh but fell one short of the tying count.

STAMFORD SPURNS CISCO FRANCHISE

Special to the Times. STAMFORD, June 15.—Stamford fans unmercifully ran the juggernaut over advocates of league baseball at a mass meeting last night to determine whether this place should take over the Cisco franchise, offered Stamford for $2,500. Opposition was centered against disbanding the invincible independent team here. Stamford's present team has a salary aggregating almost as much as that of any Western league team.

Miss Olive Clapham, the first English woman to pass the bar examination, may wear a wig when she makes her first appearance in court. Another "first woman" record was made recently when Judge Florence E. Allen of Cleveland, Ohio, sentenced a murderer to the electric chair.

DUNNAM ASKS BARRATRY LAWS BE AMENDED

Tells Neff in Letter His Plan Would Insure Punishment of Criminals.

EASTLAND, June 15.—It is the belief of County Attorney Dunnam that the barratry statute of the state of Texas is constantly being violated and in an open letter to Governor Neff he asks that the law be amended to prohibit such violations. He especially calls the attention of the governor to the fact that many lawyers are engaged in the practice of bail-making rather than the practice of law. Such attorneys, he declares, are shysters and will stoop to any means, fair or foul, to defeat the obligation imposed upon them as sureties on a bond. He also suggests that sheriffs and others who are now permitted to approve bail bonds should be forced by law to submit their either to a judge or the county attorney. His letter states that few sheriffs are able to prepare a bail bond in conformity with the law.

Another request that the county attorney makes of the governor reads: "A law should be enacted providing that, if any peace officer shall know that any person has committed an offense against any of the penal laws of this state and shall neglect or fail to give information thereof to the county attorney of his county or to some justice of the peace, mayor or recorder authorized to issue warrants of arrest he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in an amount not to exceed two hundred dollars and shall in addition thereto be subject to removal from office."

In Mr. Dunnam's preamble he states: "In the discharge of my duties as county attorney of Eastland county, I have observed some serious shortcomings in our statute with respect to the prosecution and punishment of crime, and I desire to submit for your consideration at the special session of the legislature to be called in July the following proposed statutory amendment, which, in my opinion, will meet with the approval of every law-abiding citizen of Texas and make certain the punishment of crime and the protection of society." If the suggestions of Mr. Dunnam are carried out by the special session of the legislature he says: "Enact these measures and it will be impossible for the criminal of this state to go unwhipped of justice."

Chicagoan Offers $1,000 for One Good Argument in Favor of Six-Shooters

CHICAGO, June 15.—John R. Thompson of Chicago, believes disarmament should begin at home. He contends that if it is a sensible thing for nations to dismantle their warships, then it is equally sensible for an individual to throw away his automatic. Mr. Thompson is the wealthy owner of a string of restaurants bearing his name.

Mr. Thompson has begun a campaign of advertising intended to create sentiment favorable to legislation prohibiting the manufacture and sale of revolvers. In display advertisements inserted in newspapers in New York and Chicago, Mr. Thompson says:

"I will give $1,000 to anyone who will give me good reason why the revolver manufacturing industry should be allowed to exist in America, and enjoy the facilities of the mails."

"Why should there be such things as revolvers?" asked Mr. Thompson. "They serve no legitimate purpose. The policeman says he has to have one so that he can protect himself against the burglar and the hold-up man, and the hold-up man in turn knows that he must have one in order to play his trade."

"That puts them on an even footing, precisely the same status they would have if all manufacture of revolvers were stopped for ever. Then a householder who saw an intruder in his home would not be afraid to

STOCKINGS A SNARE, SAYS FAIR BATHER

Are Beach Bare Legs Worse Than Wheel-Chair Silk-Clad Knees?

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 15.—Miss Ada Taylor, Presbyterian Sunday school teacher, champion high diver and president of the Ambassador Swimming club, an exclusive organization of young women, today sent a letter of protest against the new bathing regulations here to Dr. Charles L. Bossert, chief beach censor.

"Atlantic City regulations require girls to wear more clothing when they go in swimming than when they attend fashionable balls," Miss Taylor wrote to Dr. Bossert, adding, "As one who enjoys swimming, I have no patience with stockings. They become water soaked and filled with sand and are not only a nuisance but a real source of danger. They make swimming hazardous."

"As one who likes clean minds, I have no patience with stockings. It does not take much observation to realize that stockings, particularly those sheer, transparent silk ones—and who wears wool on the beach?—fail to improve morals."

"In all candor, doctor, who attracts the really unfavorable attention, the girl bather with bare legs or mildy who rolls along the boardwalk with legs crossed, showing her costly silk stockings at least to the knee?"

"Only the stocking manufacturers and bathhouse proprietors profit by the rule you seek to enforce."

The new bathing regulations are: No one-piece suits for either sex. Women must wear bathing costumes extending from the neck to the feet; no socks or bare legs will be permitted. Men's bathing suits must extend at least half way to the knees, and all shirts must be of proper length.

Large signs calling attention to the new regulations will be posted on the beach.

EASTLAND TEAM HERE FOR GAME JULY FOURTH

Ranger fans will have an opportunity to see the Eastland independent team in action on July 3 and 4, when they come here to play the Business Men.

Sunday the Business Men play the strong Caddo team, at Caddo.

Yesterday the East Side Swatters took a four-inning skit from the Business Men, 10 to 7, but the "B. M." say their regular lineup didn't appear. Thursday the T. & P. Rail-roads play the Business Men.

PAVING PROGRAM IN RANGER IS COMPLETED

After two years of labor shortage, car shortage, material shortage, shortage of temper and all other classes of shortage entering into such a contract the McKenzie Construction company is today winding up the paving program in Ranger. Within the next day or two it will ship its machinery and other equipment back to San Antonio. The final work being done is a small job of repairing at Main and Austin streets.

With the job completed every business block in the downtown district and parts of those outlying have been paved.

W. L. Gibson, superintendent in charge of the work here may go in to Mexico for the McKenzie firm.

PURCHASE OF RANGER'S SCHOOL BONDS AGAIN DELAYED BY BOARD

Because of the absence of Governor Neff and one member of the board of education the board failed to have a meeting at Austin as scheduled to consider purchasing Ranger's school bonds. The meeting will be held at a later date, according to City Commissioner Sanford Egan, who returned from Austin last night.

It is the belief of local educators that the state will buy the bonds when the board meets. In the meantime the plans are being put into shape and everything being made ready to accept proposals for the erection of the new high school building once the money from the sale of the bonds is received.

BATHING RESORT AT CRYSTAL FALLS READY

CRYSTAL FALLS, June 15.—With the completion of a ten thousand-dollar bathing resort this city, from all appearances, is soon to become one of the fine playground spots of the North Texas oil fields. Contracts have been let for the erection of a large dance pavilion, a $14,000-dollar skating rink, and a ball park which will rival the best in Texas.

This latter has been made possible through the generosity of Wesley McCallister, an advocate of clean sports, who is erecting the plant at his own expense. Although Crystal Falls boasts of one of the fastest semi-pro teams in the state, the grounds, according to Mr. McCallister, will be open for all ball teams, allowing the workers in the fields a chance for recreation.

ROCKPORT, Texas—Rockport has been granted a new hearing at Washington, D. C., on her request for a port on the Gulf of Mexico. It was announced here. Other applicants for the port are Aransas Pass and Corpus Christi.

Somewhere Down in "Little Mexico," Gleaming Stiletto; Pierced Heart; an Interesting Yarn; Yeah—if True

BRECKENRIDGE, June 14.—"Little" Mexico is not as turbulent as its large, whimsical brother which lies below the Rio Grande, but the same hot-blooded children of burnt-clay hue, with the same quick temper, inhabit the northeast addition of Breckenridge. And in "Little Mexico" fiction is more alien than fact.

Strange things are possible. Invisible forces which had their origin behind the misty curtains of remote ages in the Southern Republic are silently at work. Old quarrels, racial differences, personal difficulties which have threaded the maze of years; sinister designs nurtured with a determination incomprehensible to men of English parentage, ready to fan into flame with the suddenness of the old West—all these factors make "Little Mexico" a place of possibilities to the newspaper man.

Quien Sabe? This is the reason a veteran newshound of Breckenridge forgot his usual cynicism three days ago and went in quest of a yarn which had the earmarks of the improbable. He received information over the telephone that two young Mexicans had engaged in a difficulty. One had stepped back ten or twelve feet and with the diabolical art of outlandish forgotten customs thrown a keen-bladed stiletto which pierced the heart of his enemy.

The usual sources of information which the careful newspaper man relies on to verify and expand his story could give him nothing in this case. The coroner had not been notified; the sheriff and the chief of police had no information. "Big John Arredondo," ruler of the transplanted tropics, declared the story a fake. The constable said the affair was news to him.

The detective of the pencil and folded note paper enlisted the aid of others of his kind. Obscure sources were touched, out-of-the-way places visited. The story would make a sensation, and the only thing wrong with it was that it couldn't be provided.

And Then Again. Somewhere in the northeast quarter there may be a shallow grave and a young Mexican sleeping his last sleep with a knife-hole through his heart. The reporters have tried hard to prove the existence of the Mexican and to resuscitate him long enough him long enough to give him some sort of personality and etherize him for a brief period until they can at least ask his name, without which no murder story is complete.

But he remains unnamed and ethereal, a ghost of troubled imagination, an impalpable personification of the spirit which rules "Little Mexico" and its whimsical big brother below the heat-tortured Rio Grande. It seems certain, now, that the mystery of the Mexican will never be solved.

Short-sighted people are said to be the most intelligent section of a community.
