Col. Fred W. Galbraith Loses
Life and Two Companions Injured.

By United Press
INDIANAPOLIS, June 9.—Colonel Fred W. Galbraith, "fighting colonel of the fighting first," in France, and national commander of the American Legion, met death here early today when his auto in which he was riding went over a sixteen-foot embankment. Colonel Galbraith was pinned under the machine and fatally crushed. His cousin, Colonel Milton J. Foreman, of Chicago, leader in the Illinois American Legion, and Henry Ryan, director of Americanization of the legion, were bruised and scratched. Ryan was driving the machine, a roadster. He lost control of it as he was crossing a railroad track. The machine swerved from the road and plunged headlong down the embankment. The three had attended a rally on the outskirts of Indianapolis in behalf of the military training camp campaign. Following the meeting the officers of the legion were invited to attend a reception at the Indianapolis Country Club, about five miles from the city. They went out in Ryan's roadster, and spent about an hour and a half at the club. The party returned about half the distance to the city when the accident occurred.

EVIL DOERS IN RANGER WILL FACE HOUNDS

The deep-throated baying of blood hounds which sends cold chills chasing each other up and down the spine of the innocent and turns the heart of the guilty to ice, will be heard in Ranger shortly, according to Chief of Police Reynolds. Chief Reynolds has sent to Huntsville for two well-trained hounds for his own personal use, and they will be paid for by him, but he will use them in tracing criminals in Ranger.
By the use of the dogs he believes that much of the petty thieving and all the hijacking will be stopped. Two reasons are given for this. One is that the dogs will really trace the guilty parties and the other is that small thieves where they know they will be traced by bloodhounds are less prone to work at their trade.
The very thoughts of having to contend with bloodhounds on their trail will keep many a thief from carrying out his design. Chief Reynolds declared in discussing his purchase of the hounds.
Those he is getting are said to have been well trained at the penitentiary and will perform on all occasions. They will be kennelled at the home of the chief of police and will be protected by a double set of fences.

"I herewith resign the office of representative from the One Hundred eighth representative district consisting of Eastland and Callahan counties and respectfully request that you order election tomorrow to fill the vacancy in order that this representative district might not be deprived of representation in the house at the special session to begin July 11. There is sufficient time to hold such election on Saturday, July 9 if called tomorrow or next day. This will give time for representative to be elected and qualify on July 12 or 13. Respectfully,
"JOE BURKETT."
Election Certain.

Further returns make the election of Mr. Burkett to the senate seat almost certain. There were five far-western counties in which no election was held, so far as can be ascertained, and Mr. Burkett's advisers from the remaining twenty-seven counties give him a majority of 319, he said at noon today.
The election of Mr. Burkett is conceded by Mr. Barker in a letter to the public, which reads as follows:

"I take this method of expressing to my many friends in the Twenty-eighth senatorial district my heartfelt gratitude for their good will and assistance during the campaign for state senator.
"From present indications Mr. Burkett will be elected by a small margin. It was impossible for me to cover the entire district in my short campaign of twelve days, and it seems that this fact is responsible for the result.
"Especially am I grateful to my friends in Eastland and Stephens counties who showed the fruits of their efforts on election day in such a magnificent way.
"Allow me to congratulate my opponent, and to tender him my support in all his actions designed to forward the interests of our district during his term of office.
"Sincerely,
"J. D. BARKER."

THOUSANDS SEEK TO ATTEND ARMY SUMMER CAMPS

FORT SAM HOUSTON, Texas, June 9.—The government's "loan" to its citizens in the shape of free military training at the forthcoming citizen's training camps promises to be several hundred per cent oversubscribed.

This fact is seen, according to Col. Joseph F. Gohn, in charge of citizens' military training camps activities in the Eighth corps area, in the large number of applications which literally have swamped headquarters here.

The two citizens camps in the Eighth corps area at Camp Travis, Texas, and Fort Logan, Colorado, can accommodate only 1,200 men this year. Of these the Texas cantonment will care for 800, while the Fort Logan school is to train 400 citizens.

The $900,000 appropriation granted by congress, it was pointed out, gives only the sum of $100,000 to each of the nine corps areas of the country, permitting roughly of the training of 12,000 men during the summer of 1921.

Live in Barracks. At Camp Travis the citizen rookies will live in the barracks recently occupied by the activities of the recent educational center, in which the peacetime Second division's educational program had its inception.

Only one course of instruction—the "red" course—is to be provided in this year's citizens training camps, according to Colonel Gohn. This qualifies graduates for enlistment in the organized reserve and is the basis for an infantry recruit. Next year it is hoped to give both the "white" and "blue" courses, the former of which qualifies graduates for the non-commissioned grades in the reserve and the latter fitting men for commissions in the grade of second lieutenant in the reserve.

No mitigation is entailed to the citizen, Colonel Gohn said. They are not even required to become a part of the reserve upon the completion of their course. The only stipulation is that the men "soldier" during their thirty days of training, observe the rules of the camp, perform their duties as do men of the regular army and earnestly seek to get all of the benefits accruing from the four weeks period of outdoor life.

Waukegan, Ill., June 8.—Because William Crane, night clerk at the Zion home, would not permit Mrs. W. W. CUBANS CHANGE MINDS AND NAMES OF STREETS WITH VEXING SPEED

HAVANA, Cuca, June 8.—Renaming Havana streets in honor of modern celebrities is a practice of the city council that causes much woe to business, postal officials and icurists. Sometimes the name of a thoroughfare is changed for just a few blocks, and then the difficulty is increased. The people sometimes disregard the new names altogether.

The council recently announced that hereafter O'Reilly street would be known as President Zayas street and Calzado de la Infanta as Avenue President Menocal, in honor respectively of the president and retiring president of Cuba.

WHY FARMERS ORGANIZE IS TOLD BY MANY

Eastern Newspaper Gets Interesting Replies to Questionnaire on Vital Subject.

DALLAS, Texas, June 8.—Answers to the question "Why Do Farmers Organize," asked in a questionnaire recently conducted by a large eastern newspaper, are proving quite interesting to the officials of the Texas Farm Bureau, who say that some equally striking answers might be submitted by Texas farmers. Some of the answers that have been given are:

A South Dakota farmer may get 26 to 35 cents for his corn. It costs that much to ship the corn to the processing mills in New York. According to the most conservative figures, the corn costs the farmer from 75 cents to a dollar a bushel to produce.
A farmer at Iowa City, Ia., shipped a carload of hay to St. Louis. He got $82.61 for it. The freight and other charges totalled $92.13.
Leder's View.

Commencing on some of the answers quoted above in connection with a discussion of the grain marketing movement instituted by the national Farm Bureau, the Philadelphia Public Ledger had this to say on its editorial page:
"The report of the grain marketing committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation has been adopted. There is nothing radical, Bolshevik, or dangerous about it. It strikes, or will strike, a terrible blow to grain exchanges and to middlemen; but the farmer insists that he should have more than thirty-four cents of a consumer's dollar and that the exchanges and middlemen must take less. It is the sanest and most ambitious effort that the farmer has made for himself."

BALLINGER PLANNING BIG TIME ON "FOURTH"

Special to the Times.
BALLINGER, Texas, June 8.—Fourth of July in Ballinger is to be an old-fashioned picnic day of fun and amusement, according to plans being laid by the Business League. The Fourth falls on the first Monday, which has been recently revived as Trade Day and featured with rodeo and wild west events.
The morning of the Fourth is to be devoted to goat roping, bronc riding, steer bulldogging, bare-back riding, calf roping and similar sports. Cash prizes will be offered to the contestants in many of these events.
In the afternoon a double-header baseball game will be played at the League park, between the Ballinger and Ranger clubs of the West Texas League.

SWEETWATER WON'T PERMIT FISHING IN CITY'S LAKE TRAMMEL

SWEETWATER, June 8.—Fishing in Lake Trammell, Sweetwater's 4,000,000-gallon water supply, has been prohibited, according to city officials.
For many months after the lake was opened to supply the city, the health department at Austin considered it unwise to permit promiscuous fishing on this lake because of the fear of contamination. However, several months ago the ban was raised under condition that fishers removed all fish, not leaving dead ones in the water. The order apparently was carried out until recently when dead fish were found in many places. The city then took drastic action and now fishing is strictly prohibited.
However, Sweetwater has two other lakes which are well stocked with fish, all these lakes being within the city lake. One of them is known as City lake and the other the great Santa Fe reservoir, which has a waterhead of 55 square miles.

Tragic Incidents of Battle In Harbor At Galveston Recalled When Old Relic Is Presented To New Ass't. Sec'y. of War

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 8.—A battered brass speaking trumpet, taken from the hand of Captain J. Mayhew Wainwright as he lay dead on the deck of his ship, the U. S. gunboat "Harriett Lane," in Galveston harbor, Jan. 1, 1862, has just been presented to Assistant Secretary Wainwright of the war department, descendant and namesake of the gallant officer by R. C. Duff of Houston, Texas, in whose family it has been preserved as a war relic for half a century. The trumpet was given to Duff's father by C. F. Raddatz, in later years connected with the Baltimore City College, but who as a member of the Confederate force which boarded the "Lane" after the ship was shot to pieces in the fight, took it from the hand of the Lane's commander, dead at his post.
In recalling to Secretary Wainwright the tale of the old battle, when the Lane, shoe-pounded by two Confederate vessels at short range, surrendered, Mr. Duff told also of another tragic incident on the deck of the battered craft. Captain Wainwright's executive officer, he said, was Lieutenant Lea, whose father, Major A. M. Lea, commanded the Confederate force which retook Galveston in the counter attack. Major Lea was first to step aboard the Lane, he said, adding:
"It is said that one of the first objects that met his sight was the body of his son, lying on the deck of the Lane mortally wounded. The lieutenant died in the arms of his father a few moments later and the next day he and Captain Wainwright were buried in the same grave, Major Lea conducting the funeral service."

FUND IS RAISED IN MASSACHUSETTS TO SAVE FAMOUS TREE

By Associated Press.
LAWRENCE, Mass., June 8.—Citizens here have raised a large fund to save a giant elm from the woodchoppers' ax. Legend says that more than a century and a half ago a young soldier returning from the French and Indian wars, stopped for the night at the Bodwell homestead in this city. He was without money but in the morning he sought to do something in return for the kindness shown him. Mrs. Bodwell suggested that more shade was needed at the southwest corner of the house, and so the soldier went into the woods,

Life in Bolshevik Prisons Matter of Physical Endurance, Escaped Flier Says.

By Associated Press.
WARSAW, June 8.—The plight of seven Americans, one of them a woman, held by the Bolsheviks in prisons on various charges, is worse today than at any time since they were taken into custody, in the opinion of Captain Merion C. Cooper of Jacksonville, Fla., who escaped recently from one of the camps near Moscow. Captain Cooper at the time of his capture was commander of the Kosciuszko air squadron of the Polish army.
Life in a Bolshevik prison camp is a matter of physical endurance as to the length of time one is able to hold out if compelled to live upon the food furnished by the Soviets, Captain Cooper said. All of the Americans would have died long ago, Cooper believes, if it hadn't been for outside aid from time to time.
Captain Cooper said he was on the verge of starvation several times, members of a British railway mission who were also prisoners coming to his rescue with food in one instance, and, on other occasions, entabes having been sent him by foreign welfare organizations.
Morning—Imitation coffee, half pound black bread, spoonful sugar.
Noon—Two spoonfuls cooked mush made of cereal resembling bird seed.

POISON GAS IN WAR HAS COME TO STAY PROFESSOR SAYS

By Associated Press.
LONDON, June 8.—Sir William J. Pope, professor of chemistry at Cambridge university and president of the Society of Chemical Industry, asserts in the Chemical Age that chemical warfare has come to stay and pleads for an open recognition by the government of poison gas research.
He says that in the war poison gas was less fatal and far less cruel than any other weapon; and points out that it would be simple to devise high explosive shells which would liberate large quantities of carbon monoxide, against which all known protective measures are useless.
"No reason," he says, "exists why a chemical should not be made which does not kill but produces local anaesthesia, causes violent sneezing for a few hours or leads to some form of physiological intoxication which may prove of great military value."

SOCIALIZATION FAILED.

By United Press.
PRAGUE, June 8.—One of the first experiments in socialization in Europe outside of Russia has ended in failure. About five months ago the big Zichov Chapel glassworks was converted into a workman's co-operative enterprise. Previously the plant had been one of the most prosperous in Bohemia. The ministry of social assistance contributed 200,000 crowns and the Co-operative Labor bank one million crowns towards the experiment. After five months, management of the plant the workmen have found themselves faced with a deficit of 600,000 crowns and have confessed themselves unable to continue the experiment.

AMERICAN BOASTS IN ROME TOO OFTEN

By Associated Press.
ROME, June 8.—They are telling a story in the Roman cafes of how an American visitor to Rome came off second best in a boasting contest with a Roman cab driver.
The American undertook to see Rome in a day and used the cab driver as a guide. The American was driven to all the great Roman monuments and took great interest in the buildings, always asking how long each took to build.
At St. Peter's, the cab driver confessed that it took fifty years to complete that structure. The American did not think that that was such a great feat for he was certain such a building could be built in America in two years. Other large churches, like St. John Lateran, the visitor said, could be built in a year or even in six months.
Finally, they were passing the new massive buildings occupying several city blocks containing the Italian law courts.
"What's that?" inquired the American.
"I don't know," retorted the driver. "It wasn't there last night."

CONGRESSIONAL CAMOUFLAGE

Presidential Election Day being six months past—or forty-two months ahead—the House Republican leaders have suddenly discovered that the President has some proper powers in international matters.

Because it is a "sucking" insect and feeds upon the leaflets of the trees Mr. Moznette considers the bug an undesirable citizen and war already has been declared.

Of this danger to prosperity and peace, of this menace hanging over not only American pockets but the lives of American youth, of this reckless endangering of the very fate of civilization, Senator Borah gave on Friday timely warning.

A genuine movement for general disarmament would be heartily welcome, but it would wear a very different form. The proper method for the United States to further the great boon has been pointed out by President Harding.

Jefferson Potlocks and family have moved to Muskiet Ridge, where they have the advantage of a front porch. Where they have been living there was not room for him and his family to stand in the front door when a stranger passed along the road.

Little Fidelity Flinders fell out of a wild cherry tree Friday morning. His Ma told him he ought to have practiced climbing the tame cherry tree first.

WAR IS DECLARED ON "SUCKING BUG" WHICH ARRIVES IN FLORIDA

MIAMI, Fla., June 8.—"Bugologists" here have discovered a new bug, one not uncommon in the tropics but, according to G. P. Moznette, entomologist in charge of the federal experiment station here, one never before seen in the United States.

Because it is a "sucking" insect and feeds upon the leaflets of the trees Mr. Moznette considers the bug an undesirable citizen and war already has been declared.

Yestidday in skool Miss Kitty told the class we would have a examination in joggriffy today; joggriffy being one of my weekest things on account of the names of the pieces and the boundaries, and this morning I wook up thinking, Aw heck, a examination in joggriffy.

And I limped in the bathroom ware pop was shaving his face, saying, Hay pop, wats you know, do you remember that sore toe I had?

My life has bin rich in events sints that time but I have no doubt I could recall it to mind if I concentrated for a wile, sed pop keeping on shaving.

Well I'm still limping on account of it pop, look at me, pop, I sed. A sore toe stubbed and limped away will live to limp another day, sed pop keeping on shaving, and I sed, Maybe all it needs is a good rest, pop, maybe if I stayed home from joggriffy, I mean from skool, this morning, maybe the rest rate do it so much good maybe it mite never hert eny more maybe.

BRITISH WILL TRY TO STOP RED PROPAGANDA. LONDON, June 8.—Determined efforts are being made by the British home office to get at the bottom of Bolshevik propaganda in this country, according to the Daily Sketch, which says that reports have been received of dangerous activities of the Bolsheviki in London and Scotland.

KANSAS PAYS BIGGEST WAR BONUS TO VETS

CHICAGO, June 8.—Only three out of thirteen middle western states have failed to pass soldier bonus legislation or have no such legislation pending. It is shown by a survey just completed. Every state has passed a soldier relief measure of some sort or other, the survey shows.

North Dakota has voted one of the most liberal of bonuses for its ex-service men and women; $25 for each month spent as a member of the government forces. To pay this bonus within a reasonable time the last assembly voted to raise the tax one-half mill as previously set, to one mill.

Another of the northern border states, Wisconsin, has enacted extremely liberal bonus measures, permitting the ex-soldier to choose between a cash bonus and a 4-year course of study at an accredited school, the latter choice carrying with it a stipend of $30 a month.

Minnesota is the third border state now paying a soldier bonus. Incidentally, to pay it, however, the legislature at its last session had to raise the interest rate on the bonds previously floated, because these were not marketable at the old rate in competition with high-interest bearing industrial securities.

The view has been advanced that the states bordering on Canada were influenced toward prompt and generous bonus settlements through the enactment of similar legislation in Canada. Other students of the bonus situation point to this as merely further evidence of the inherent "progressiveness" of these states.

Four states have passed bonus measures subject to the approval of the voters at the next general election, and of these Kansas has authorized the most generous distribution, a reward of one dollar a day for each day spent in the service. A bond issue of $25,000,000 is needed to meet this disbursement.

Ohio has authorized payment of $10 for each month spent in the service, contingent upon consent of the voters. The proviso was in this case expressly demanded by the American Legion, which declared in behalf of its members that it would accept no bonus on which the people themselves had not put their seal of approval.

day in the service, with $350 as maximum, was provided, subject to a vote of the people, through a bond issue of $22,000,000. An effort to include the Student Army Training corps within the scope of the act met defeat.

EDMONTON, Alta., June 9.—Fortune seekers from all parts of Canada and various parts of the United States are gathering for their dash into the Far North oil and mineral field when navigation opens about the middle of June.

Edmonton, Fort McMurray and Peace River Crossing, the latter two gateways into the Mackenzie river basin oil fields, are showing signs of great activity, with large fleets of river steamers and gasoline boats getting ready for the short summer transportation season.

The little town of Fort McMurray has already doubled its population since last fall and with the opening of navigation it is expected to reach four times its previous size. Many new buildings are being erected, while along the banks of the river, boats, scows and lumber craft are being constructed.

Peace River Crossing also is garnering its share of the rush. This town is the temporary headquarters of the government parties going into the north country this year in addition to oil prospectors. Ten government parties are getting ready at Peace River or have already taken the field from this point, including four geographical, three geological and one astronomical survey parties.

River men say that they will be able to handle all freight offered for northern points, recent heavy rains having filled all northern streams and solved the problem of low water which threatened to tie up migration to the Mackenzie fields.

That dominion authorities anticipate some difficulty with parties of "Chechakoos" or newcomers, in that country is evident from the stringent regulations governing entry into the new lands.

At all police points manned by the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, oil seekers and others are compelled to show their entry permits. These permits are not issued unless the applicants satisfy the police patrols, composed of hardened "mushers" and "sour-doughs," that they are physically capable of enduring hardships, are properly equipped for the long journey, and are assured of being able to return to civilization at the end of the season's work.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Scott C. Bone, a former Seattle publisher and who was publicity manager for the Republican National committee in the 1920 campaign, was nominated today by President Harding to be governor of Alaska.

Mr. Bone was formerly editor-in-chief of the Seattle Intelligencer and for a time was chairman of the Alaska bureau of the Seattle chamber of commerce. While serving in that capacity he made an extensive tour of Alaska.

TINKER BOB STORIES

By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB. DR. COON SENDS FOR JERRY.

Tinker Bob went to the door in answer to the knock and who should he find there but Dr. Coon. "Well, well," said he, "where did you come from so soon? I just sent Silky, the Monkey, to find where you were.

Dr. Coon put his pill bag down.

"O King, I was not far away, just down at the river hunting for crabs. I just got so mad trying to catch a big fellow that I thought, 'I would come up here and get help. I'll have to get that fellow if it takes the help of all the creatures of this great forest.' Dr. Coon put his pill bag down and shook his finger vigorously. "Can you help me out, O King?"

"What on earth has this chap been into now?" asked Dr. Coon as he looked into the bed where Red Fox was tucked so securely. "O nothing but the Brier Patch," said Jack, the Rabbit, who stood near by. "He wanted to come to bed, but I don't want them pulled out."

DASH FOR FAR NORTH OIL FIELDS MAKES BOOM TOWNS IN CANADA

EDMONTON, Alta., June 9.—Fortune seekers from all parts of Canada and various parts of the United States are gathering for their dash into the Far North oil and mineral field when navigation opens about the middle of June.

SHARK FISHING CERTAIN TO BE BIG INDUSTRY

VICTORIA, June 9.—With the supply of raw material unlimited, an industry ne wto this country is flourishing at Parker Island, between Galiano and Mayne Islands, on the Gulf of Georgia. It is the business of catching sharks, and a weeks' catch at the beginning of May runs to eighty, with an average weight of over a ton each. Nelson Macdonald of this city, who operated the first shark-catching machinery on the island, declares there will never be a shortage, as there are millions in the waters surrounding the island.

Nothing Wasted. Nothing is wasted in a shark plant. There is no finer fish-meat than that made from the bodies of the sharks. As a fertilizer it is superior to dog fish. The head of the shark is full of glue of a highly valuable quality and the fins are a much prized Chinese food delicacy, Orientals here paying as much as $3 a pound for it.

The greatest interest in this new industry is being manifested in the manufacture of hides. Several American companies have been formed and much research work is being done at present. The shark hides run from an inch in thickness to the consistency of paper in the baby shark. In Seattle they are manufacturing hip-boots from shark hides and they are declared to be completely waterproof.

MIRROR LAKE FILLED, BEACH OPENS SUNDAY

Mirror Lake, at Shamrock Park, popular with bathers last season, is opened to the public again, beginning today. During the Winter the lake was allowed to run dry and was cleaned and the two recent heavy rains have refilled it within eighteen inches of the spillway. With plenty of pure water for bathing purpose Shamrock park will be officially opened Sunday, though the lake is available for bathing now and dances have been held at the pavilion for several weeks.

Jack Jarvis, its manager, has provided the place with shutes, spring boards and ladders for bathers. There are boats for those who enjoy that sport and sand piles and other attractions for children. The lake beach has also been leveled.

Under the trees in the park tables, chairs and benches are available for picnic parties or others who care to avail themselves of the privilege. Both the park and the lake will be well lighted at night, according to Mr. Jarvis, and a life guard be maintained at all bathing hours.

It is the expressed opinion of the management to do every thing he can to make the park the amusement center for folks of this section during the summer.

MEXICAN BARBER WIELDS WICKED RAZOR WHEN PASTED IN EYE

"Caramba and take that, you dirty skunk!" is just about what one Mexican said to another yesterday in one high-powered Spanish of his tribe just as he pasted a fellow countryman with fast hook over the right eye. The countryman, not to be outdone, answered: "So you lika the fight, eh!"

Being a barber and at that very moment working at his trade, he proceeded to manfully slash his opponent's good right arm in three places. The fight occurred at the Mexican barber shop on Commerce street. Charges were filed against both men in county court. The barber declared that he had no idea why he had been attacked.

The man who was cut had three deep slashes from the razor which required many stitches to repair. When the police was called he had gone away with the avowed determination of securing a gun and making a good job of what he had started, but he failed to return.

CROSS FIRE

The visitors to the state shoot enjoyed themselves with Ranger's fairest last night at the dance in the parlors of the Gholson hotel given under the auspices of the Ranger Gun club.

Mrs. W. D. Cook showed up Thursday morning and took her station in the squad alongside her husband, and made a good showing, especially in view of the fact that she has been in ill health for several days. She's got the eye and knows what a gun is for.

Veteran George Tucker is not only an old timer in the field and behind the traps but he is a crackin' good newspaper man, and publishes one of the best if not the best country weekly papers at Gilmer, the Gilmer Mirror. Tucker must either make lots of money at the newspaper game in order to go shooting around the country at present prices, or else he pulls down lots of money at the traps in order to stay in the publishing business.

The 200-bird run for the Texas state championship was not finished Thursday afternoon when the storm god took another crack at Ranger, just "before going to press."

"To hit is history; to miss is mystery." When old-timers at the traps look surprised when they bombed the atmosphere around a perfectly well behaved target sailing straight away, as the best of 'em do occasionally, some unfeeling person always laughs. But let a newcomer, an unknown, step up to try his skill or luck, and they're wily grown when he fails to even dust 'em. "Huh, he can't shoot." Ain't folks funny?

Yeah, something else about George Tucker. For twenty-three years he hasn't missed a state shoot, and he's been secretary of the state association for eighteen years. Last night was the third consecutive time he's been elected life-time secretary.

Some war horse, we'll say!

When the Times representative left the traps about noon Thursday there was quite some keen interest in the progress of the two-hundred bird event for the state championship. P. P. Williams at that time had dropped one in 80; C. J. Pate had dropped two, Matlock of San Antonio had lost one and Howard of Fort Worth and Dever of Conway had tied with 80 clean. The winner of this event goes to Chicago for the Grand American Handicap, at the expense of the American Trappers' association.

M. E. Woodward of Comanche is one of the steady old wackehorses who never gets excited or hurried. Leading the field Thursday morning for high average during the shoot for three birds, he was still pegging away with his accustomed coolness.

TWO NEGRO WOMEN ARE IDENTIFIED AS PAIR OF DUSKY HIJACKERS

Two negro women confined in the city jail have been positively identified by R. C. Bean as the persons who held him at the point of guns and robbed him of $27 Tuesday night. The hold-up occurred just north of the Texas & Pacific station about 9 o'clock at night.

Bean said that he was coming into town to get medicine for his wife when the women stepped from behind a building and said "put them up, mister; we have to have it." They both had guns, he declared. Charges of highway robbery will be filed against them, according to Chief Reynolds.

The women were arrested shortly after the robbery by Assistant Chief Murphy and Patrolman Jim Daniels.

If a hat wishes to be qualified as decidedly "French" it must be trimmed with cherries and glossy green leaves and the battle will be half won.

INVESTIGATION OF WAR AGENCIES IS ORDERED

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The senate today passed a resolution by Senator Walsh of Mass., ordering an immediate investigation of governmental agencies engaged in veterans' relief work.

Walsh declared that the situation regarding the ex-service men must be remedied if their confidence in the government is to be restored.

PROGRAM

LAMB—Eileen Percy in "The Tomboy," also Rollin comedy and Pathe Review.

MAJESTIC

Apples Blossom Time: Betty Elbert Co. present this very entertaining skit introducing singing-talking and imitations of musical instruments and birds and animals all in a very clever way.

The Gaudsmiths: Two very clever clown acrobatics. Late of the New York Hippodrome and their marvelous contortions. Two very pretty and remarkably well trained Spanish poodles.

Sterling Saxophone Four: Four gentlemen. All well known musical artists with Emmett Baker monarch of syncopation, present a very delightful instrumental program.

Sampsel-Leonhard & Co.: Guy J. Sampsel and Lilly Leonhard, both well known favorites of musical comedy offer their latest success, which consists of witty comedy, features some very charming dancing and some restricted song numbers in their original way. They are ably assisted by Don Matthews, popular piano soloist and the special setting and effects are very brilliant.

Tom Kelly: The man from Tipperary, in Irish songs and stories. Kelly is too well known for much comment, nevertheless he has a flock of new songs and stories and they are very entertaining.

Lozell's Comedy Circus: A handsome young lady trainer, five very pretty ponies, a couple of funny monks, four educated dogs and a bucking mule, make up this main-attraction circus which for speed and comedy has no equal.

TEMPLE

The desperate chances that a man will take to gain his freedom in order to go to his mother who is dying, the efforts he will make to keep that freedom, form the basic plot of Thomas Meighan's latest Paramount picture, "The City of Silent Men," which will be the feature attraction at the Temple Theater, today and Friday. In the leading role of Jim Montgomery, sentenced to serve a term in prison for a crime he did not commit, Mr. Meighan gives one of the most distinguished performances since the time when he made cinema history in "The Miracle Man." This new vehicle offers him many opportunities and he fulfills them with all the skill of his art.

"The City of Silent Men" refers to Sing Sing where the prisoners are not allowed to converse with each other when they are in assemblies. Montgomery is imprisoned there after having been made an innocent accomplice in a bank robbery and when he learns of his mother's failing health he plots with a determination to get out. Assisted by a pal who believes him innocent, he finally makes his escape in a shipment going out of the prison. After narrowly evading his pursuers he reaches home just in time to see a funeral procession leaving the house as he hides in a neighboring thicket. Hoping to leave the old life behind, he makes his way across the continent, where he secures employment in a mill and eventually rises to the position of superintendent and to an intimate acquaintance with the lovely daughter of the owner. Just when he is happiest, however, a sinister shadow from the past comes across his life, and when it seems that the net is closing in about him he takes a desperate step to destroy certain of his identifications. Lois Wilson is charming as leading lady.

CANUCKS BEG YANKEE RAINMAKER TO CEASE

MEDICINE, ALBERTA, June 8.—Old Jap. Pluvius must be on friendly terms with Charles M. Hatfield, an American rainmaker. After making rain for about a month, prairie farmers have asked Hatfield to turn it off.

Hatfield has erected his apparatus on the eastern shore of Chappice Lake. His tower is twenty-four feet high, supporting a wooden tank fourteen feet square. He says his chemicals in this tank form the secret process.

Jasper Is Fed up on "Lofty Ideal" Stuff and Attendant Matrimonial Vagaries

"As I have remarked before, women are queer creatures," Jasper Jones said to the reporter, preparatory to detailing his family troubles.

"My wife has a bad case of this lofty ideal stuff. She gets in 'way too deep for me a lot of times. Me, I'm just an ordinary fellow with the ordinary human weaknesses. My wife has reached the conclusion that smoking cigarettes is soul-destroying and all that kind of stuff and to kinda please her, I've quit smoking. That is, I have quit around the house.

"Most of the time it is serious as all with me—it is not a thing to joke about, but sometimes it gets real funny—that lofty stuff, you know.

"The other night I sat a while with a neighbor just chewing the fat about different things, then I went home and went to bed. Directly my wife also retired and I heard her sniffling against my shoulder. My goodness, I asked myself, what have I done now? I couldn't figure it out and I said, 'Honey, what's a' crying about?'

"Honest, I had to laugh. 'I'm so disappointed in you,' she answered. 'You smell just like an old cigarette.'

"Believe me or not, the worst that I had done was set next to my neighbor on his porch and absorb the odor from his cigarette. Now answer me this, can you beat that?"

GORGEOUS PARROTS WILL DIRECT FOLKS TO CHURCH FUNCTION

All persons on the Main street of Ranger Friday afternoon between the hours of two and nine p. m. will be expected to execute a "column left" or "right" at the sign of the green and red parrots before the entrance to the Manhattan Cafe. "Pretty Polly" and "Charming Charlie" have been loaned for the occasion by Mrs. J. B. Ames of the Legion Hotel to direct hungry folks inside, where the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church will dispense home-made cake and ice cream in all its most enticing forms.

The occasion is the effort the church women are making to complete the payments on the Baldwin grand piano purchased for the church some time ago. "Pretty Polly" will be at the head of the receiving line and "Charming Charlie," a West Indies mackaw of gorgeous hue will bow the guests in to the tables groaning with good things to eat.

FLOOD WRECKS RAILWAY BRIDGE AT SOUTH BEND

SOUTH BEND, June 9.—The new bridge of the Wichita Falls & Southern railroad over the Brazos near South Bend, was washed out, the bath pier on the Clear Fork swept away and the toll bridge at Harding washed out by the heavy rise of the Brazos and Clear Fork rivers during Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Several oil derricks of the Colquitt Graves company, drilling in the bed of the Clear Fork, were washed away and passed South Bend Wednesday morning. A hand car and four water tanks on the railroad bridge were swept away when three bents collapsed.

Railroad officials report that the crest of the flood in the Brazos river has passed South Bend and that reconstruction of the bridge will start as soon as four cars of material that have been held up by a week can arrive. The railroad celebration which South Bend was to have held on the opening of the new bridge has been postponed until July 1, the railroad estimating that the damage can be repaired within that time.

FOUR MEN HELD FOR RANGER AUTO THEFTS

An automobile stolen from E. R. Glover in Ranger several nights ago has been recovered in Oklahoma and three men arrested in connection with the theft, according to Chief of Police Reynolds. An arrest has also been made in connection with the theft of a car from Joe Harness last Sunday and later recovered at Ivan. This man is now being held in the Eastland county jail.

During last night a five-passenger Ford was stolen from J. O. Williams and on June 6th Weiss Brothers lost a five-passenger Ford by theft.

The first munnery was established in France.

18 BEAUTIFUL TEXAS WOMEN TO BE SCREENED

Were Reigning Belles of U. of T. at Time Pictures Were Taken.

AUSTIN, June 9.—Some of the women of Texas—eighteen in all, to be exact—are to be put to the supreme test of having their beauty of college days displayed upon the screen. They are willing to brave the comment and comparison of spectators who may know them now. These women were famous beauties in their day and time. No better evidence of this fact may be needed than that their pictures appeared upon the beauty pages of the "Cactus," the University of Texas annual, and it was from these past volumes that a discriminating committee has just made the eighteen selections. Some of the notably beautiful women who were selected for the three teams that go to make up this galaxy of former students may have shed their youthful bloom long ago, but they are spared any possible embarrassment of having their photographs as they appear today thrown upon the screen alongside the one of yesteryear. The display of these former university beauties upon the screen is to be a part of the home-coming celebration that is to be given upon the campus next Saturday night.

At the celebration there also will be announced the names of former students who have become most famous in their chosen field of activity. These selections, which will embrace two persons from each of the following groups were made by a committee of university professors and alumni: Science, engineering, medicine, social science, politics, law, education, athletics and jurisprudence.

The names of the two women who the committee selected as having become the most famous since leaving the university also will be announced.

At the age of 25 years, Miss Clara Goldhurst is the only woman put and call dealer in the world. Miss Goldhurst came to this country from Russia, thirteen years ago, and her first job in New York City was in a neck-tie factory, where she earned $3.50 a week.
