LIBERTY—Tom Mix in "Hands Off," also Ruth Clifford and Jack Sherrill in episode one of "The Invisible Ray," and comedy.

TEMPLE—Priscilla Dean in "Reputation," and big comedy.

LAMB.

An exact reproduction of one of the best-known cafes in San Francisco furnishes the setting for a bizarre scene of dance scene for Metro's picture of "The Greater Claim," starring magnetic Alice Lake, which is now showing at the Lamb theatre.

"It was a wild, wild party," said Alice Lake, in discussing the scene with a group of friends at the studios afterwards. "For this party, though staged with reckless abandon, was different from any that has ever been filmed. In all the others the heroine has succumbed to the wiles of the 'bad man' of the story, but in this picture she remains unscathed. This is the first opportunity I have had for a so-called 'wild' party in one of my pictures. In my recently completed picture, 'Body and Soul,' there was a gay cafe scene. But I don't think it was quite as daring as this one."

"The Greater Claim" is an original story by Izola Forrester and Mann Page. The screen version of the story was prepared by A. S. Le Vain.

The supporting cast includes Jack Dougherty, Edward Cecil, De Witt C. Jennings, Florence Gilbert and Lenore Lynard. Wesley Ruggles directed the production.

TEMPLE.

Priscilla Dean's latest Universal feature, "Reputation," adapted from Edwina Levin's sensational novel, "False Colors," will be the feature attraction at the Temple theatre for today and Tuesday.

In no story, even including the "Virgin of Stamboul" and "Outside the Law," has Priscilla Dean ever done such remarkable dramatic work. She reaches the heights of human emotions and sinks into the profound depths of degradation and misery. It will do much to enhance her large following and her reputation as a great emotional actress.

Revolving around a dull role, the theme of "Reputation," concerns a famous actress who dissipates until success falls away from her. She is in London and a New York theatrical manager is waiting for her to arrive to star her on Broadway. When she doesn't come, her daughter, ignorant of the relationship, and in desperate need of work, daringly impersonates the absent star and makes a spectacular hit. Then back to New York comes the wretched woman, who was a year before the brightest jewel in the diadem of the drama. A tremendous climax follows. A strong and capable cast includes Niles Welch as leading man, Mae Giraci, Spottiswood Aiken and James McLaughlin.

WOMEN NOW SEEKING 'TWENTIETH' AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Announcement was made officially tonight at the first meeting of the re-organized Woman's National party that a resolution soon will be introduced in both houses of congress embodying a twentieth amendment to the federal constitution.

The amendment will be designed to do away with "all legal discrimination against women," according to Miss Maud Younger, newly appointed legislative chairman of the party.

As tentatively drawn, the amendment reads:

"Equal right with men shall not be denied to women, or abridged on account of sex or marriage, by the United States or by any state or territory subject to the jurisdiction of the United States."

At the same time, Miss Younger said, plans will be laid to put before the forty-eight state legislatures an identical bill designed to prevent through state enactment, the same discrimination.

The proposition to erect in Washington a $3,000,000 club house for women is fast coming to a head and the intention is to finance it by $1 memberships of individuals.

WHILE THESE THINGS HAPPEN BLUE LAWS CAN'T STOP LAUGHS

Lovers' Quarrel Amuses Pittsburgh, Baltimore Chuckles When Trouble Comes After Marriage, and Staid Washington (Smiles When Admirals Remember Their Youth.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Life in the big city is not as sad as it has often been painted, especially in the serio-comic atmosphere of the municipal court rooms where the tragedies of the few provide laughs for the many. Even in other quarters, however, the saving grace of humor is not altogether unknown, as almost any visitor to the places where New York spends its Sundays, will find if he has not forgotten how to smile. In the other cities, too, in fact, wherever there is one man to chuckle over what happened to another, mirth may be gleaned from the antics of humanity disporting itself in various ways that shock the blue law advocate. And this is what they laugh at in other cities.

STUDEBAKER LEADS COMPETITORS BY WIDE MARGIN, REPORTS SHOW

Jack Gullahorn of the Oilbelt Motor company is smily today, because reports show the Studebaker car he sells was turned more frequently than any other during the first three months of 1921. He modestly disclaims credit for this feat of the Studebaker people, though he admits the Ranger agency did something more than its share of the pushing.

The comparative figures show the Studebaker turned 11,435 cars during those three months, 1,490 more than their nearest competitors, the Buick. The Overland, with 6,043; the Chevrolet, 5,007; Oldsmobile, 4,976; and Nash, 4,251, were the only other makes to pass the 4,000 mark. The Dodge and Paige people manufactured a trifle over 3,000 cars.

UNCLE PAT'S GRANDDAD OF A FIFTEEN-POUNDER; ALL WELL, THANK YOU!

An expression of perfect peace and contentment with all mankind rests on the face of "Uncle Pat" Singleton, night desk sergeant at the police station, today. Where he has been an autocrat he now beams upon all and sundry who pass before him. But "there's a reason." During last night "Uncle Pat" became the grandfather of a fifteen-pound grandson, according to the medical attendant. The young man came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Singleton. The mother and father are both doing well, and the young man is as chipper as a cricket.

CALL FOR DETECTIVE BRINGS MANY AMATEUR SLEUTHS TO THE SCENE

By International News Service
CHICAGO, June 27.—They advertised here for a house detective—and they had to call out the police.

The "Loop" hotel which sought a light-footed guardian of the slumbering peace will never seek again—by advertising.

The "ad" brought the strangest congress of amateur sleuths, correspondence school Sherlocks, ambitious "flat foots" and private "dicks" ever assembled outside the "movies." There were 200 of them.

They "detected" the guests, visitors and finally each other. It all ended when some of the "wise lads from around the corner," who were out doing this and that, broke into the congress. One of the "smart lads" quietly "lifted" the shield, "billy" and wallet from one sleuth.

The uproar that followed when the "Sherlock" found himself "frisked" was enough to cause the management to send in a call for "regular" police.

MART HILL NUMBER 2 CAVES EIGHTY-FIVE FEET

EASTLAND, June 27.—The Mart Hill No. 2 of the Donnelly Drilling company was shot late Saturday afternoon with 160 quarts of nitro, and caved about eighty-five feet. After the shot the bailer was run and came up full of fluid, and it is generally thought when the well is cleaned out it will make a good well. It is an offset to the Mart Hill No. 1 which came in last August, eight days after it was shot, blowing itself in after it was first thought to be a dry hole. This well is almost within the city limits, about one mile due south of the courthouse, and may be the forerunner of a townsite drilling campaign.

TRUCK FEVER TOOK ENTIRE U. S. BY STORM

Senator Wadsworth Says Free Distribution of War Ma- chines a Scandal.

BY L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, June 27.—When the war was won, so many American cities and villages wanted captured German cannon and machine guns that it looked as though Uncle Sam would have to order a lot of them from Krupp's to give away. It now develops that this demand for souvenirs was paralleled by a demand for more practical things, which has "bankrupted" the war department in one item, and has bitten deeply into its supplies in other ways.

Motor vehicles, trucks mostly, lead the list. The free distribution of these to the states is a "scandal," Senator Wadsworth, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, declares.

"I may be utterly alone in my opinion," Wadsworth said, "but this debauch of the free distribution of government property has gone far enough. I can well understand the appetite that is aroused in a state highway commissioner when he understands that the war department owns a lot of trucks and that there is a law authorizing the secretary of war to turn those trucks over to the agricultural department, free of charge, to be given to the states.

"The drive for these trucks has ramifications all over the country. All they have to do is 'press the button' and the people interested in the building of roads, write and wire asking that the war department be directed to turn over trucks."

As a result, Wadsworth said, the war department is short of motor trucks required for its own peace time uses 1,505 trucks and 437 passenger cars and has some 4,000 automobiles on hand that wouldn't run and can't be sold for anything but junk.

The motor truck "park barrel" has yielded the states 26,432 trucks and spare parts valued at $7,271,735, Wadsworth says. The allocations by states range from thirty-nine to Delaware, up to 1,047 to Pennsylvania. New York state got 1,024, Ohio 620, and other states from 100 to 800 trucks apiece. Only a few states have failed to get some trucks, Wadsworth's list shows.

Some of them not only got motor trucks, he says, but canned goods from army stores left after the war and other supplies.

FOOD SHIP GIVEN ROYAL SALUTE AT PETROGRAD DOCKS

RIGA, June 27.—Honors such as are usually accorded to royalty or to officials of high rank were given the Dutch steamer Alexander Polden when she arrived at Petrograd recently, says the newspaper Izvestia of Moscow. The steamer brought the first large cargo of food that has entered the harbor for about three years.

As she passed Kronstadt she was saluted by the battleship Marat, while Russian sailors lined the decks and cheered. The Dutch captain dipped his colors while the ship's band played. The vessel steamed direct to the dock and unloaded her cargo of herring.

With years of starvation at the back of them the dock workers, by day and night shifts, unloaded 5,350 barrels so swiftly that the next day twenty carloads of herrings were dispatched to Moscow, while the rest was left for distribution in Petrograd. Only the day before the ship arrived the Economic Life wrote as follows about Petrograd:

"The fate of the city is so tragic that no comparison can be found in the world history."

AGA KHAN OF THE ISMAILI SECT DETESTS AMERICANS

By International News Service
PARIS, June 27.—All the wealthy Americans residing in the Hotel Ritz can go to Hades, and the Aga Khan, Prince of India and head of the religious sect of Ismaili Mussulmans, will not send them a glass of ice water or an asbestos coat to relieve their sufferings. He is dead against all Americans.

The Aga is forty-six and getting fat. A few weeks ago he hired a French boxing instructor to give him lessons and help reduce his weight. Instead of renting a gymnasium the Aga and the French pug, in boxing togs, "went to it" a few rounds early every morning in the open court of the Ritz.

The scuffling on the pavement and the Aga's delighted cries, when he landed a good punch aroused the ire of the American guests, who wanted their morning sleep. Now the Aga has had to find other training quarters.

MARRIED ONLY FOR THE DURATION OF THE WAR

By International News Service
CHICAGO, June 27.—A new variety of war romance was revealed here when Harold R. Carter, formerly of the A. E. F., charged Mrs. Margaret Lamar Carter with having married him "for the duration of the war." He sought and obtained a divorce. The decree was granted when Carter offered in evidence a letter from his wife, which read:

"I would have written you long ago but it seemed right to wait until the war was over and you were safely through that experience. With the end of the war comes the end of the contract I entered into so hastily. I want to be released from it now. I'll not live with you again as your wife." The Carters met in March, 1917, and were married June 21. They parted Sept. 13, 1917, when Carter went overseas. He had enlisted on the day war was declared.
