RAIL PROBLEM IS DIFFICULT, SAY LEADERS

Committee of Five Executives Will Attempt to Find Satisfactory Solution.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The leaders of the six organizations of railway employees which are in conference here to decide on a plan of action on the wage cut which became effective yesterday on all roads did not reach a definite conclusion today. The trend, definite, appeared to be strongly toward mediation and less to war talk of a strike. Union executives admitted that they were confronted with a problem and that its solution was not easy, but said they saw no reason to worry about the outcome. A suggestion as to the method that the unions might follow in dealing with the roads is expected to be offered soon by the committee of five executives who were appointed yesterday to handle the matter.

This committee will attempt to provide what appears to its members to be the most feasible plan and yet consolidate in its recommendation the suggestions that are made to the committee by representatives of each of the organizations.

"Big Four" brotherhoods, the shop crafts, clerks, maintenance of way and switchmen are represented in the conference.

DROP IS SHOWN IN GOVERNMENT OPERATING COST

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The cost of running the federal government during the fiscal year which ended June 30 was $5,115,927,689, according to the treasury department's statement for the close of business of June 30. The figures are subject to final adjustment.

Income figures also show a drop of a billion under the previous year, amounting to $3,624,932,980, and there was a balance of cash in the general fund amounting to $549,678,105, enough to meet expenses for several days. Expenditures averaged around $40,000,000 a day for the week before the fiscal year ended.

A TIMELY TALK

BOSTON, July 2.—Love in a cottage was contrasted to misery in a castle by Dr. A. Z. Conrad, preaching at a local church. "Better calico-clad exuberance than silk-clad dejection. Better a dollar watch ticking out moments of happiness than a diamond-studded chronometer measuring out moments of misery," philosophized Dr. Conrad.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE STUMPED IN ITALY WHILE PRESENT POLITICIANS HOLD POWER

By CLARA WOLD, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

MILAN, July 2.—Not the least eager for the resignation of Mr. Giolitti as premier are the women who are working for suffrage in Italy.

"Mr. Giolitti has been the most phlegmatic and impregnable enemy of woman suffrage in all Italy," said Professor Margherita Ancona, chairman of the Milan Suffrage organization, in an interview with the International News Service.

The situation for suffrage, according to her, is very bad; but the imminent end of Giolitti's administration will do much to raise the hopes of Italian women. Twice a bill has been passed by the chamber of deputies of Italy granting suffrage, but both times a new election has been called before the question was taken before the senate, and so has had to be introduced again to the chamber.

"Politicians in Italy," she said, "are like politicians in all other countries on the subject of woman's vote. The Popolare declare that woman suffrage will add votes to the Socialist party. The Socialists declare it will bring votes to the Popolare, and the Constitutionalists are afraid of both. In addition, there are those conservatives who want to limit the vote for men and so would never dream of giving votes to women. However, if the government introduces a bill, which we hope it will whenever there is a change of premier, the Socialists and Popolare will both have to vote for it, and it will again pass and go to the senate—if the next premier does not go to the country again before that."

Despite the general discouragement of the suffragists, there are a few

PRES. HARDING SIGNS PEACE RESOLUTION

Technical State of War With Germany and Austria Is Ended by Act.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Signing by President Harding of the resolution declaring a state of peace with Germany and Austria, it was held here, ended today the technical state of war with those powers. There was some difference of opinion among lawyers of the administration and diplomats as to whether the affixing of the president's signature ended the state of war at the exact moment of signing or whether the resolution would be held to be in force all of today in the view that such facts might not require taking cognizance of parts of a day.

The view also was expressed by a few that the state of peace legally would not be considered into effect until the resolution had been deposited in the state department. But the general opinion was that the state of war ended today.

The next step, it was pointed out, would be the issuing of a formal peace proclamation which could be expected within a few days. This, it was added, would be a mere formality and its effect would date from the time of signing the resolution.

The proclamation it was explained, would be by President Harding and signed also by Secretary Hughes. A treaty of peace then will be negotiated, it is said, but the administration has not considered the steps by which it will undertake such negotiations. The signing of the resolution, it was said, opens the way for resumption of diplomatic relations between the United States and the former enemy powers, although it has been indicated that the manner in which this will be approached had not been determined.

$500,000 PLANT BURNS

ALLIANCE, Neb., July 2.—Fire broke out in the plant of the Nebraska Potash company at Antioch, eighteen miles east of here, this afternoon and latest reports were that the plant was doomed. It is owned by a Denver concern and was valued at approximately $500,000. The Catholic church and other buildings caught fire from the flames which were fanned by a high wind. A special train of fire-fighting apparatus was sent from here.

GEN. PERSHING ASKS ECONOMY IN WAR DEPT.

Chief of Staff Outlines Plan for Co-ordination to High Officers.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—General Pershing called high officers of the army into conference today to urge every possible economy in administration of their departments. They also were informed of Pershing's plan to co-ordinate army activities in the light of lessons learned during the war and to hold conferences with department heads at frequent intervals.

General Pershing said that inquiries had been sent from more than 40,000 persons relative to admission to the citizens' training camps this summer.

Attention of the conference was called to the order permitting enlisted men to be discharged during July upon application of their corps area or divisional commanders, without losing their right to travel pay allowances, for the purpose of reducing the enlisted strength to the 150,000 mark fixed by Congress.

Major General Harbord, General Pershing's assistant chief of staff, said members of Congress had said that more than 75,000 men would apply for discharge but it was not believed more than 20,000 would apply.

TEXAS ATHLETE SMASHES MARKS AT A. A. U. MEET

PADDOCK FIELD, PASADENA, Cal., June 2.—New junior championship record breakers were no novelty in the first day of the national A. A. U. meet here, in which the contestants were athletes who had never taken their first place in any senior A. A. U. meet.

The first record to fall went to Frazier of Baylor university, Texas, who set a mark of 15-1-5 seconds for the 120-yard hurdles, clipping 1-5 of a second from the former record. Frazier also won the 220-yard hurdles, making a new record of 24-2-5 seconds, four-fifths of a second less than the former junior record, made five years ago.

PALO PINTO CREEK PLACE SELECTED FOR ROTARIANS' PICNIC

Palo Pinto creek, near the railroad bridge east of Wiles, is the spot selected for the Rotarians' basket picnic to be held Monday. The picnic spot is on the old Strawn road, about twelve miles from Ranger.

Rotarians and their families will assemble at the Chamber of Commerce Monday morning and will go directly to the picnic grounds.

The entertainment committee has planned several stunts that promise to keep the crowd amused. There will be races for both men and women and a fat and lean game also is in prospect, unless the merits of the dinner making loafing in chigger-infested bowers move to the minds of the athletes in the gathering.

SOUNDS FISHY.

OSWEGO, N. Y., July 2.—No more empty baskets for fishermen. That's what the invention of J. F. Anderson, of Minnetto—a hook with bait attached—promises. For some months Anderson, a well known angler, has been experimenting with a small looking glass that goes into the water just behind his baited hook.

The fish, attracted by the reflected light from the mirror, investigates. Then he sees a big angle worm squirming in the water and the reflection of another fish in the mirror about to snatch it away. It becomes a question of who gets it first, and the result is that the sucker is hooked.

BOMBARDMENT OF BODY BLOWS PAVED WAY FOR KNOCKOUT IN FOURTH

French Champion Attributes His Defeat to Dempsey's Crashing Drive to the Back of His Neck in the Third Round.

By Associated Press.

JERSEY CITY, July 2.—Jack Dempsey is still heavyweight champion pugilist of the world. A crushing right swing from the fist of the American fighter shattered the titular aspirations of Georges Carpentier in the fourth round of the so-called "battle of the century" here this afternoon. The pile-driver blow landed flush upon the jaw of the Frenchman, flooring him for the second time in a trifle more than a minute of fighting in the final and decisive round.

Although he had staggered to his feet after the initial knockdown, he was unable to survive the second knockdown and was motionless when Referee Harry Erle tolled the fatal ten counts.

Although the knockout punch was driven to Carpentier's jaw, the way to Dempsey's victory had been paved by a continual bombardment of blows which landed on every section of his body.

Each swing, jab and uppercut scored to the stomach, ribs and sides contributed to the slowing up process of the speedy Carpentier.

In addition, a clubbing right which landed flush on the back of Georges' neck in the third round played an important part in his defeat. The Frenchman folded over in an attempt to protect his body, left the back of his neck exposed, and Dempsey, with the fair target in front of him, drove down a terrific slam to Carpentier's vertebrae.

After the knockout the Frenchman said in his dressing room that this punch was the cause of his pugilistic downfall.

It developed after Carpentier had returned to his training quarters at Manhasset, N. Y., that during his aggressive fighting in the second round he had broken his right thumb and sprained his wrist. Carpentier did not know when this happened, but it is thought that it came as a result of a hard swing which landed high on Dempsey's head.

What effect, if any, this injury to the European aspirant's fighting fist had on the ultimate outcome of the battle it is impossible to state. Carpentier was almost entirely on the defensive in the third and fourth rounds, although he did not noticeably avoid using his right arm in blocking or striking out when the opportunity arose.

Regardless of just which blow caused the vanquishing of Carpentier, the Frenchman gave a remarkable exhibition of pugilistic skill and gameness against a heavier and more punishing opponent. The favorite when he entered the ring, judging from the amount of cheering he received, he left the arena with still greater cheers ringing in his ears—a tribute to an exhibition which in ev-

P. O. BANDIT IS CONDEMNED TO DIE AT DALLAS

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, July 2.—After praying virtually all night for divine guidance in arriving at a verdict in the case against Charles E. Gaines, a jury in criminal district court condemned Gaines to the gallows. He was tried for murder in connection with the death of G. W. Street, a clerk, in a postoffice robbery here last January.

The story of the jury's deliberations came to light today after the verdict had been read. Several of the jurors offered prayers for the salvation of the doomed man's soul, it was said.

Gaines heard the verdict without emotion and said, sardonically, "Well, I suppose we must all die some time."

WHEW!

WASHINGTON, July 2.—"You win, John!" gasped Representative Joseph C. Pringley of Oklahoma, as he mopped his brow and lost wager to Congressman W. Langley of Kentucky.

Langley bet that it was hot enough recently to fry eggs on the steps of the capitol.

Pringley said it could not be done.

Langley got a pair of eggs from the house restaurant and started his culinary task. The frying was slow but when Langley flipped the eggs over and spoiled a "sunny side up," Pringley admitted he had lost.

INDIAN WOMAN, AGED 110, ARRAIGNED FOR INTOXICATION

SIoux CITY, Iowa, July 2.—Mary Lowe, 110 years old, was arraigned in police court on the charge of intoxication, but was still so much under the influence of liquor that her case was continued.

She is an Indian from the Winnebago, Neb., reservation. Louis Grayhair, 89, and his wife, 90, also from the reservation, entered pleas of guilty to the intoxication charge and went to jail.

LEAGUE WILL DECIDE TODAY AS TO CIRCUIT

Is Breckenridge "in" or Is She "Out," Is Question Soon to Be Answered.

An important meeting of the West Texas league will be held this morning at 10 o'clock in the offices of President Fleming of the local club. It is expected that some definite solution of the problem which arose when Cisco dropped its club will be made. Since that time the club has not been placed, although overtures were made to Brownwood, Stamford and other towns.

Conflicting reports come from Breckenridge as to what has been done there. One is that a Breckenridge man will take the Orphans over and stand sponsor for the club during the remainder of the season. Another is that the town is decided it can get along without organized baseball. Which tale is true will be known today. If Breckenridge comes into the league, the problem will be settled. If she does not, prospects for a six-club circuit would appear hopeless and it is probable that the league will drop to a four-club organization.

PARIS ASTOUNDED THAT IDOL HAS FALLEN

Crowds, absolutely dumbfounded, refused to believe the first bulletin telling of Carpentier being knocked out. The Associated Press flash was the first to reach Paris. It was received at 8:32 o'clock this evening.

Oklahoma Oil Man Announced as Purchaser; No Details Known Here.

By Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 2.—Purchase of the entire estate in Texas of the late Jake L. Hamon, comprising approximately 600 acres of oil and other lands in Comanche, Eastland and Stephens counties, was announced here today by J. B. French, a local oil man, for a sum estimated at $300,000. Mr. French announced his purchase after completion of the sale from Frank L. Ketch, administrator for the estate of Hamon. The property includes the towns of Jakehamon, Edhobby and Breckwalker as well as the railway built by Hamon when he started developments in Texas, according to French. Population of the three towns connected by sixty-eight miles of railway, is approximately 3,000, with a total of about 4,400 lots, Mr. French stated.

An effort was made to verify the press dispatch from Oklahoma City concerning the sale of the Hamon properties in Texas, but at a late hour last night it was learned that J. A. French, vice president and general manager of the Hamon road, was in Cincinnati, and that J. M. Strapper, general passenger and freight agent, was in Fort Worth. The sale price as given above was stated by the Associated Press as being correct but due to its smallness, it is doubted if the correct terms of the sale have been given.

SOUTH SEA TRIBE IS DISCOVERED LIVING IN MANNER OF STONE AGE

BY WILLIAM L. MALLABAR, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, July 2.—Living in the same manner as the men of the Stone Age, a tribe exists on a little island in the South Pacific.

Such is the story told by Dr. Northcote Deek, a missionary, who lives at Aola and who has visited the island where these prehistoric people have their benig.

"There are only about 500 inhabitants on the island," said Dr. Deek, in a recent communication to the Royal Geographical society, and because of their virtual isolation and through lack of anchorage for a ship, even their dialect has never been studied.

"They are almost cut off from the outside world by walls of coral limestone, and I found them to be still living in what might rightly be described as a manner of before the Stone Age."

"Iron is the thing they most covet, and for it they will exchange every available object. The caves of the island are swarming with flying foxes, whose teeth seem to form the only currency on the island.

"The founders are great fighters and wrestlers. They use thrusting spears of hard black wood, twelve feet long and fully six pounds in weight, with fifteen to twenty barbs on each side. The making of these spears seems to be a lost art.

"Throwing spears are also used, with points made of human leg and arm bones. Some of them are tipped with a bone splinter, which is designed to break off in a wound and infect it.

"Although most friendly, these people are great thieves. They murdered three native teachers I left with them apparently for the sake of the few goods they had.

"They seem to feel keenly the monotony of their isolation and showed a settled melancholy both in their faces and in the cadence of their voices. Their only sort of music, to which they dance, consists in the tuneless beating of a log."

Dr. Beck has presented to the British museum a stone mace used by these people. It is symmetrically ground, with eight knobs bound to the handle with sennit, and is seemingly for ceremonial use.

FAMILY TAKES VACATION IN HIGHWAY BUNGALOW

By International News Service

TULSA, Okla., July 2.—A trip to California is being made from this city in one of the most unique "vacation boats" imaginable. This "gasoline bungalow" is mounted on a two-and-one-half-ton truck chassis equipped with a motor from a five-ton truck.

The "voyagers," who are now en route to California in their "Pullman" home, are Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Campbell, their daughter, Dorothy, fourteen, and their son, James, sixteen. This family plans to spend two or three months "vacationing," all of which virtually will be spent on the road.

The plan of building a "house on wheels" in which to spend his vacation was conceived by Mr. Campbell, who is a prominent oil operator of Tulsa. Mr. Campbell considers that the vacation for himself and family will be a very economical one. There will be no railroad fares and no "profiteering" prices for meals, accompanied by liberal tips to waiters.

"While the first cost is a considerable item, the trip itself should be made at a fraction of the expense of the same trip by railroad," Mr. Campbell stated. "But we intend to use this car from year to year, for it is built for service as well as for looks. There may be a few repairs from time to time, but even they will cost less than railroad travel and its accompanying expenses."

Motor Bungalow Compact

Campbell's "highway bungalow" is sixteen feet long and six feet four inches high. There are quite a few windows, which extend entirely around the car, causing it to resemble a street car.

Campbell's "car" is very compact. In addition to the driver's seat, there is another seat directly behind the driver's seat, on which the occupants may ride when they wish to view the scenery in front. Behind this seat is a commodious full-size berth, with a six-inch mattress that folds into a long, comfortable seat when not used for sleeping purposes. Above this berth is an upper berth, which fastens to the ceiling when not in use. A third bed is provided by fastening a specially-built set of springs to the opposite side of the interior.

Across from the lower berth is a table that swings downward and rests against the right wall, but which when raised provides a large dining table. The lower berth is used for seats at this table.

Underneath the lower berth are a dozen drawers that extend entirely to the wall. These resemble a filing cabinet. Behind the berths is a large clothes closet of sufficient size to hold the ordinary clothing of four persons. Adjoining this clothes closet is the washroom.

SUPERINTENDENT OF GOAT WELL IS RANGER VISITOR

The well known as the "goat well," because of the fact that sixty goats walked into a twenty-inch hole about a year ago and had to be drilled out, is fast approaching the Hillburn horizon, according to W. W. Kirby of the Texas-Midland Petroleum Co., who was in Ranger yesterday. At this depth, 2,900-3,000 feet, it is expected that oil will be found. Failing in that it will be drilled to the Ranger lime. The well has been more than one year drilling to this depth. The goat caused a setback which was added to by a seven-months' fishing job.

At 2,305-2,400 feet a lime was picked up that showed signs of oil, but was passed up for a future test. If the present test does not pan out it will probably be plugged back to that depth and shot.

Mr. Kirby's well is in purely wild-cat territory. They have 8,000 acres there, and if they find something—Oh, well!

"JAZZ WEDDING" INSTITUTED BY AGED MINISTER

Veteran Knot-Tier Substitutes for Old-fashioned Hitching Questionnaire.

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 2.—Jazz is the order of the day. And now comes the Jazz wedding ceremony, all revised to fit conditions of the twentieth century modernity.

Rev. G. W. Hatcher, Columbia's "marrying parson," who has tied 447 knots of wedlock, is the provider of the new ceremony. Made public today, it provides that the groom shall reply to the following questions:

"Wilt thou take her for thy pard, for better or for worse; to have, to hold, to fondly guard, till hauled off in the hearse?"

"Wilt thou let her have her way, consult her many wishes, make the fire every day and help her with the dishes?"

"Wilt thou sooth her in her woes; keep her spirit bright and gay? Wilt thou turn the wringer, hang the clothes and trust her for the pay?"

"Wilt thou give her all the stuff her little purse will pack, buy a monkey board, a muff, a little sealskin sack?"

"Wilt thou comfort and support her father and mother, Aunt Jemina, Uncle John, thirteen sisters and a brother?"

"Wilt thou tell her to her face that she is sweet and kind; that the like of her in all the race would be difficult to find?"

"Wilt thou be to her the same and never shirk nor falter, as she shall wear thy name and thou shall wear the halter?"

To break the monotony of the questionnaire on matrimonial promises, Rev. Dr. Hatcher supplies the result on the groom: "His face grows pale and blinks; it is too late to jilt. As to the floor he sadly sinks, he quickly say: 'I wilt!'"

Bride Has Questionnaire, Too.

Oh, yes! The bride must have her set of questions. They're supplied by the genial "marrying parson," who admits that Walt Mason hasn't a thing on him:

"Wilt thou take him for thy pard, for better or for worse; to have, to hold, to fondly guard his person and his purse?"

"Wilt thou make him mind and show him every fault and, then, in spite of groan or whine, make him walk the chalk?"

"Wilt thou make him eat the scraps that belong to days of yore, so you'll get your mid-day naps and over novels pore?"

"Wilt thou be quick to take control of all that's on the place and say to him in language bold: 'You're not my boss in any case?'"

"Wilt thou make him sweep the floor, fetch the wood and water, pick up things—or whatever else you order?"

"Wilt thou make him darn his socks, sew buttons on his britches and get your fingers in his locks every time he misses?"

"Wilt thou make of him a carry-all for handbox, grip and bundle; make him take the parasol and to the racket tumble?"

"Wilt thou be to him his dear beyond all conjecture and when you get upon your ear give him a curtain lecture?"

The bride is supposed to smile. In the rhyme of the minister: "Her face is all aglow, her eyes as black as jet, as she queenly stands upon the floor and loudly says: 'You bet!'"

BANKERS URGE EXTENSION OF FOREIGN TRADE

Credits Would Be Protected by Alien Securities Held, Contend Financiers.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS, Times Washington Correspondent. WASHINGTON, July 2.—American bankers are again turning to the approximately $450,000,000 of foreign securities and cash held by the alien property custodian as a basis for the extension of American trade, and particularly for the disposal of huge stocks of cotton and sugar.

Reversion to the plan proposed by a coterie of Eastern bankers with the aid of government officials and outlined several months ago is the result of the antagonism of bankers and the administration to any further extension of credit to foreign buyers of American commodities. This plan was approved by Attorney General Palmer, treasury officials and leaders of the senate and presented to former President Wilson for approval, but was never acted upon.

This is what Secretary of Commerce Hoover is supposed to have had in mind last Saturday when he opposed the Norris bill to create a $100,000,000 government farm export corporation on the ground that while the situation today "has reduced the purchasing power of the American farmer 67 per cent and has put him in the most serious duress agriculture has ever had to face," he "could not feel that the extension of further credit facilities for the supply of food products to Europe would give any adequate remedy."

Secretary Hoover flatly told the committee that he does not want to see the government "push farther into the conduct of business." He added that "efforts are being made by the administration to mobilize banking credits for carrying over surpluses of cotton and sugar."

The $450,000,000 cash and securities held by the alien property custodian is owned by Germans, Austrians, French, Belgians, Britains and nationals of other countries who were in Germany or Austria-Hungary when the United States entered the war.

In creating the office of the alien custodian congress reserved to itself the right of disposing of this property, but in a later opinion Mr. Palmer held that the president, simply by executive order, could permit the utilization of the property in any manner that would be in the interest of the United States and would also protect the original owners.

The plan of the bankers, who included Morgan & company, Charles H. Sabin, president of the Guaranty Trust company; Albert Wiggins of the Chase National bank; Thomas W. Lamont, and others, was the establishment of a $5,000,000,000 corporation under the Edge law with the $450,000,000 of alien property as a basis. All of the principal would be secured by debentures and further protected by issuance of common stock. The proposed ratio of credit to capital would be ten to one making a total credit of $5,000,000,000 to be expended in the United States.

Previous to the submission of the plan to President Wilson for approval arrangements were completed in Germany, through the formation of powerful trade and banking syndicates, for the handling in that country of all the credit to which it would be entitled. The syndicates appointed a trustee, who was to be held responsible for an equal distribution of raw materials.

These bankers will point out that the property held by the alien property custodian is the only cash or its equivalent, available for the purchase of American commodities by European countries. They will insist that the plan will eliminate the depressing effect of credit expansion and in its stead furnish the natural stimulus of cash transactions as the corporation in making purchases would pay in either cash or negotiable securities.

This, it is said, would automatically relieve the producer of the burden of carrying credits where there is but little possibility of early collection and would give him the cash or its equivalent necessary to the planting and production of next year's crops.

Modern Inventions Threaten to Spoil Aged Romance of Italian Mountain Towns

ROME, July 1.—Hill towns of Italy which dot the landscape from north to south and have been the subject of writers and painters for centuries are threatened with an invasion of modern mechanical contrivances which will rob them of their aged romance and unspoiled picturesqueness.

The hill towns are relics of the old feudal system. The lord of the manor built his castle upon a hill and the whole of his vassals clustered their habitations about him. The position on almost inaccessible heights was sought for safety from invading neighbors. These towns dotting the hills stand today almost untouched by the centuries. The walls of the houses are thick and strong. Food has been hauled up to the hills by hand labor and horses since they were built. Women carried on their heads the water and other household necessities.

The plan now is to build Alpine railways from the plains to the hills as labor saving devices. The perfect Alpine cable lines which the Italian army built over the Alps during the war are being sought for the work. Already a number of the towns have applied to the ministry for the discarded Alpine cables so that they can be erected for the towns.

WOMAN AGED 101 ISN'T TOO OLD TO LEARN

MONTGOMERY CITY, Mo., July 2.—Although she recently celebrated her 101st birthday, Mrs. Mary Sharp, a former school teacher, says she is not too old to learn, and devotes an hour each day to reading.

She attributes her exceptional age to simple diet, and a cheerful, care-free disposition. She lived on a farm near this city for sixty years, and recently moved here to spend the remainder of her days with a daughter, one of the five of a total of nine children who are still living. Her eldest living child is 74 and the youngest 62.

Born in Shelbyville, Ky., May 17, 1820, she journeyed unchaperoned to Danville, Mo., when 18 years old, to take a position as school teacher. Shortly afterward she became the wife of Dr. B. F. Sharp, a Danville physician, with whom she resided for more than half a century on a farm near here.

Mrs. Sharp's general health is better, she says, than that of most persons scores of years younger than she, and, while physically incapacitated for the last few years, her mind remains clear and active, and she derives the utmost pleasure from visits of her multitudes of friends. Her reminiscences extend back to the days when this section of Missouri was a primitive wilderness and the entire state harbored no more citizens than are found today in an ordinary medium-sized city.

She enjoys intimate friendship or acquaintance with scores of prominent Missourians whose names now are little more than memories to many persons. She knew Champ Clark almost from his boyhood and up to a short time before his death. He frequently visited her to discuss "old times."

She also was an intimate friend of Noah See, who once owned more than 4,000 acres of land in Southeast Missouri, and his son, Prof. T. J. J. See, now has charge of the U. S. naval observatory mathematician, at Mare Island, Cal. On his last trip through Missouri, several months ago, Prof. See stopped at Montgomery City for a visit with Mrs. Sharp.

EL PASO, Texas.—Plans for the organization of a Chihuahua, Mexico, chapter of the American Association of Engineers are being worked out by the engineers of Mexico City, according to Harold Boedtker, engineer for the American Smelting & Refining company here, who has returned from a visit to Chihuahua City.

FAILURE TO SEIZE U-117
IN 1918, REVEALED AS THORN
IN FLESH OF U. S. NAVY

By DAVID M. CHURCH,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, July 3.—Hidden away in the archives of the great grey navy building here are hundreds of romances and adventures of the seas which may never come to light.

The U-117 left Kiel on June 12, 1918, under command of a German, who is believed to have served as a gunner's mate in the United States navy at one time.

The navy department adopted drastic measures. Thirty-five patrol boats were sent to capture the U-boat, but without success: she continued her raids, particularly upon schooners.

At this time the British navy was having some success with Q-boats, or mystery ships, innocent-looking vessels, which were quickly turned into armed fighting craft when attacked by the U-boats.

It was a strange coincidence that when the five small schooners put to sea an American submarine deemed it wise to follow in the wake of each schooner.

One pair of these strange marine "pals" was dragging along in a calm off the Virginia Capes in midsummer 1918. The submarine had been on the surface till nearly daybreak.

Just before noon the submarine commander telephoned to the schooner asking if all was clear for him to bring his vessel to the surface to give the crew a bit of fresh air.

Disappointment on that day was sufficient, but it was even greater when some time later it was learned that the U-boat had been alongside the bark for more than four hours.

maintained that he had believed it to be a small tug towing the bark.
After the armistice, when the navy department secured the U-117 together with its log, it was learned that the U-boat commander recorded this as his most narrow escape in American waters.

CHICAGO GIRLS FADE SENNETT'S EYE-OPENERS

Popularity of Bathing Costumes Transfers Bald-Headed Row to Streets.

By United Press
CHICAGO, July 2.—Chicago has gone back to Eden. The style today in women's dress is no dress at all. Bathing suits have taken the place of swishing and diaphanous skirts. Many women in the Wilson avenue, Hyde park and Jackson park districts, within a radius of three miles of bathing beaches, do their errands and visiting in one-piece splashing costumes during these sweltering days.

It's nothing at all to see the Mack Sennett girls of every day life looping Chicago's loop in elevated trains and surface cars. Some wear bath robes. Some don't.

The wild waves didn't put the idea in the minds of the girls, say the plain blunt men who have had midsummer zip added to their dull lives. Most of the suits have never been immersed, they say.

"I'm going to undress for dinner," is quite a usual expression around the household these days.

Eating in restaurants, and good ones, too, is being done in seaside attire. To make it more clubby, many husbands twist themselves into bathing suits to have dinner with their wives.

The former first-nighter at the burlesque show, who sits in the bald-headed row on the curb without paying war tax, has to give the resigners of the land-going bathing suits credit.

Some suits have neat little fig leaves interwoven; others dashing exclamation points and some cute little question marks.

The significance of the fig leaves and exclamation points can easily be divined.

They all wonder if the question mark means:

"What next?"

Female Casey Joneses who work in Chicago railroad offices were verbally spanked Tuesday by L. R. Troll, vice president of the American railroad bureau.

Said Troll:

"Most of the big railroads have ordered their girl employees to leave their cabaret dresses hanging in the closets and not on their shoulders when they come to work."

"Web stockings and hose rolled below the knee are barred."

"Dress of girls has caused more inefficiency than any other agency in railroad offices."

"How do you expect a man correctly to balance a column when he has one eye on the figures in the ledger and the other on the figures of the girl office help?"

"It's well that women do not work in train dispatchers' offices. There would be many wrecks."

"We don't ask them to dress like fugitives from orphan asylums, but we do demand decent dress."

And "decent dress," according to Troll follows:

"Opaque waists that come well up around the neck."

"Opaque skirts two inches from the shoe top."

"Opaque stockings."

"No rouge."

"Giraffes are found only in Central and South Africa, chiefly in desert regions."

BUXOM FRAULEINS OF GERMANY REGAIN THEIR POISE AND AVOIRDUFOIS

By FRANK E. MASON, BERLIN, July 3.—The corset-string barometer shows Germany fat and warmer. Banting became a lost art during the war and especially in the lean days of the revolution. Brunhild, the Teutonic amazon of pre-war days, whether the buxom maid who cleaned your shoes or your equally buxom hostess, acquired the graceful lines of a nymph during the war—by dieting. Turnip soup, turnip bread, turnips and turnip pudding drove the reduce pill companies to the wall.

Germany's medium stouts and stouts have shown an amazing comeback. A glance around the average theatre tends to make one forget that women and children are still actually suffering from malnutrition in any part of Germany. The type of heavy-weight beauty for which Germany was famed before the war has again come into her own.

"How to Get Thin" advertisements stare at you from the magazine pages; the cure houses for the reduction of weight, which were hospitals during the war and closed during the revolution, are again crowded with patients eager to pay fancy prices for a diet which will take off flesh. Have they forgotten the effective turnips.

Each morning a panting parade of reducers marches up and down at Carlsbad, each parader carrying a glass of spring water in his, her or its right hand. Personal reconstruction to pre-war weight is rapidly being completed. Ladies' tailors, corsetiers and cure houses are rejoicing over an excellent season.

LAMB.
A short time ago thousands of readers were startlingly thrilled and delighted by a masterly short story that appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. It was "Temple Dusk," by Calvin Johnston. Now the story has been pictureized under the name of "Without Limit," and will be seen at the Lamb theatre today, where it begins a run of two days as the feature attraction.

Those who have not seen it may rest assured that for stark power, compelling interest and a plot of persons living in wealth on the skirts of society, "Without Limit" cannot be beaten. Not only is the plot engrossing, but the picture is a George D. Baker production released by Metro, and featuring Anna Q. Nilsson, the lovely screen beauty.

"Without Limit" tells of Ember, the little girl who in a drunken moment marries a coward, and discovers her mistake in a sumptuous gambling palace. She learns that her new husband is a forger who refuses to take his punishment, so the hands of Palmer, the strange gambling king, Ember almost sinks to abandonment, while her husband, whom she has left, takes a stranglehold on life. The denouement alternates in the gambling den and in a venerable church.

TEMPLE.
Bebe Daniels, the Texas beauty, who is a star in movieland and loved by millions of movie lovers, will be at the Temple Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in her latest success, "The March Hare," which play beyond all doubt has surpassed anything she has starred in during her motion picture career. This play brings out independence that is bred in all Texas girls—she conquers New York with "Six Bits" in her pocket, cops her a million dollar hubby with all the skill of a regular vamp.

B. HAMPTON TO ADDRESS M. P. T. O. CONVENTION

Benj. B. Hampton, noted author-editor-producer, is attending the national convention of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America held at Minneapolis. Mr. Hampton is representing California independent film producers, and is accompanied by his personal representative, K. H. Young. He will make one of the principal addresses to a session composed of hundreds of exhibitors from all over America.

Mr. Hampton was invited to be the principal speaker because of the fight he has been making for cleaner and better pictures and because he has been a leader in the battle against German film invasion.

NEWSPAPERMEN TO BE FUTURE SCREEN WRITERS — HAMPTON

Benj. B. Hampton, noted editor-author-producer, predicts that the newspaper reporter—the young man or woman who observes all classes and modes of life, will be the successful screen writer of the future.

"The screen offers a prominent field for the newspaper reporter and the editorial writers," says Mr. Hampton, "provided the latter has reportorial experience before he becomes an editor. Perhaps I ought to qualify this by saying that the telephone reporter of the great metropolitan dailies is not the man I have in mind. I mean the reporter who hustles around among all classes of people and sees life at first hand."

CARTER'S HOME RUN IN NINTH, WITH TWO DOWN, WINS GAME

Nitros Slip K. O. to Broncs in Final Round of Scheduled Nine-Round Go.

Who is Jack Dempsey? The name has a familiar sound but the fans who journeyed out to the ball game at Nitro park yesterday have forgotten all else save that one Nicholas Atlas Carter dug himself a niche in the hall of fame...

It was truly a gorgeous ending to an exciting ball game. With two down in the last half of the ninth and with the Broncs leading the homelings by a 10 to 9 score, Ole Sled Allen drove a hot grounder to short and took second when Shortstop Lewis threw wide of the first cushion...

That final inning was short and sweet. The first half was short, the invaders biting the dust in one, two, three order and the last half was where the honey came in. Many of the spectators had gone back to town, to spread the dire tidings that the Nitros had dropped another ball game...

Everyone lived up to their expectations Saturday—the Nitros, which is the short way of saying Nitro-glycerine—exploded; Hill and Hill, who umpired in the absence of Hietl, like their famous namesake, were altogether satisfactory to everyone except that a few Bronchos bucked...

Nitro Notes

One of the most peculiar things about that peculiar old ball games yesterday was that only one hit was made off Pitcher Higginbotham's delivery during the four and two-thirds innings that he officiated on the mound...

Some Defense. During the sixth inning, which started with the score 9 to 6 in favor of the home gang, the spectators were treated to some of the neatest defensive work that the Nitros have displayed this season...

Carl Morris Wins from Bat Levinsky on Foul. RICKARD ANNOUNCES

GROSS GATE RECEIPTS OF JERSEY CITY BOUT

NEW YORK, July 2.—Gross gate receipts of more than $600,000 for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight in Jersey City this afternoon were announced by Tex Rickard tonight.

So far as could be said tonight, the paid admissions were in excess of 80,000, which combined with various free admissions, will bring the total attendance to a trifle more than 90,000, or approximately the seating capacity of the huge arena.

DUNN 'LWS CLEVELAND

INDIANS WILL REPEAT

CLEVELAND, O., July 2.—The Cleveland Indians, winners of the American league pennant and world's champions, will repeat this year, is the prediction of James C. Dunn, president of the club.

Dunn is pleased that the Indians have been able to hold first place in the American league race despite accidents that have befallen the team during the past month.

"Any club that does not give in when deprived of the playing services of Tris Speaker for ten days and Catcher Steve O'Neill for several weeks, is sure to be in the lead when the campaign ends," the Indians' president said.

FAST BASEBALL TODAY-MONDAY AT NITRO PARK

Business Men Tangle Up With Eastland; Oil Stars vs. Black Panthers.

Ranger baseball fans will have a white and black combination of baseball today and Monday in a couple of double-headers to be staged at Nitro park. At 3 o'clock on both days, the Business Men will take on the Eastland Independents.

Immediately after these games, the real Fort Worth Black Panthers, leaders of the Negro Texas league, will tangle up with the Ranger Oil Stars. The Black Panthers bring with them Black Tank and Steel Arm Johnny Harris, who are said to be among the best chumpers that ever hurled the pellet in Texas.

SWATTERS TAKE DOUBLE-HEADER FROM ORPHANS

WEATHERFORD, July 2.—Sweetwater nosed out as winner over San Angelo for honors in the first half of the West Texas league season, by defeating the Orphans in both games of a double-header while the Bronchos dropped one to the Ranger Nitros.

Richard pitched excellently for the Swatters in both games, only eight hits being made off his delivery during the eighteen innings.

BEARCATS TAKE FINAL SESSION FROM ABILENE

BALLINGER, July 2.—Baldridge made a bad start today, allowing Abilene five walks, two hits and four scores in the first, but settled down after that and was unbeatable.

JESS WILLARD READY TO BOX JACK DEMPSEY ON NEXT LABOR DAY

LAWRENCE, Kan., July 2.—Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion of the world, will box on Labor day if arrangements for such a bout are made, Willard said tonight.

"I have heard nothing of such a bout since last spring when a plan was under way for me to box Dempsey March 17. The completion of the Carpentier bout ended that project and I was promised a bout on Labor day. I'll make no further move until I hear from Tex Rickard, but I'll box Dempsey if the bout is secured."

PITCHER ZAPALAC'S HARD LUCK IS FADED INTO INSIGNIFICANCE

"Red" Oldham of the Detroit Americans and "Speed" Martin of the Chicago Nationals claim to be the hard luck pitchers of their respective circuits. Oldham recently pitched to only two batters in a game but was charged with the loss of the contest while Martin's luck was even worse. He pitched only one ball and lost a game.

Martin went in as relief hurler in the ninth inning in an eastern game with the score tied. The first ball he twirled was knocked into the bleachers for a home run, winning the game. With Detroit leading Cleveland 7 to 4 and the bases full in a recent game,

TAKE SEVEN STRAIGHT AND GRAB LEAD WHEN BRONCS DROP THREE

Broncs Had Lead League for Month and Needed Only One Game to Cinch Title When They Came to Ranger; Lost in Strenuous Battles.

With today's game, Sweetwater emerged as champions of the first half of the West Texas league race. This was accomplished after strenuous battling, not only by the Swatters but by the Nitros. In fact, it was the Nitros that "won the pennant," by knocking the Broncs down in three successive games after it seemed certain that they had cinched the rag.

When the Broncs came to Ranger they lacked only one game to cinch the topmost rung. They lost in one of the most exciting series ever played here. Two of the games were decided in the Nitros' favor after two were out in the last round.

Yesterday Nick Carter's timely—or untimely—swat over the wall blasted their hopes.

Greeting, Sweetwater. See you long after Labor day!

Modern Diogenes Are Fat, Hot Headed and Married, Says Surety Company Head

By United Press. NEW YORK, July 2.—If Diogenes were still running around with a lantern looking for an honest man he would find him among these classifications:

Fat, married or hot tempered. This statement was made Monday by an authority—William B. Joyce, president of the National Surety company, whose business it is to insure men's honesty.

Joyce's concern furnishes bonds for employes in positions of trust and, he pointed out, "if it were not for the fact that most persons are inherently honest, we couldn't continue in business."

"Married men, because of the responsibility of their families, are more honest than bachelors in the ratio of about six to one," Joyce said. "Fat men are naturally of a more contented disposition and are less liable to prey on society."

"Hot tempered men usually find an outlet for their harmful impulses in unrestrained language and rarely take what doesn't belong to them."

As regards races, Joyce placed the

CROWBAR IS USED ON MAN-EATING MULE

By International News Service. LONG CREEK, Ore., July 2.—Clarence Porter, young son of Allen Porter, had to be pried loose from a man-eating mule with a crowbar, when the recalcitrant animal sunk its teeth in his leg and refused to let go. Clubs, stones and knives had no more effect on the mule than S's cuss words on the famous Maud, and the iron crowbar had to be inserted between the jaws and the mouth forced open before the boy could be released.

Young Porter was seriously injured, the flesh on his leg being torn away from the bone. The animal was to be branded, and Porter was holding its head while another man tied its feet. In trying to control the mule, Porter struck it with a spur, but the animal snapped onto the spur, drew the lad closer and seized his leg in a stubborn grip.

BEARDED BATTLERS DRAW.

By International News Service. MEDFORD, Ore., July 2.—The referee's decision settled the fight between John Antle, 76, and James Bowling, 72, hale and hearty citizens, but failed to declare a winner, and witnesses are still debating the prowess of their favorite.

The "boys" got into an altercation over a city lot. Words seemed useless, so they "peeled" their coats. "Kid" Antle jabbed with a left, but missed. "Young Bowling countered with a right cross. The elusive "Kid" ducked and no damage was done. About this time George Timothy, 75-year-old chief of police, ended the fight by deciding that both should be arrested. In the police court the battlers were fined $10 each.

STEP ON GAS, SAYS EXPERT, AND WATCH YOURSELF GO

By International News Service. COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 2.—"With 110,000,000 self-starters in our nation, there is nothing to prevent the most wonderful prosperity in the history of the world, if they realize all that is necessary is to apply the first-starting principle to social and economic problems," declared Dr. Edward Amherst Ott, industrial expert, lecturing before a local audience.

"Think good times. Talk good times. Start buying. Give work to somebody, if it's only for a day. "Come on, let's go!"

DALLAS.—Girl Scouts of Dallas troops, fifty strong, are camping near here. A daily schedule of recreation and training is followed.

CORSET, UNLIKE DODO BIRD, NOT FOREVER GONE

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—Take a good, firm hold on both strings and pull, for the corset is coming back. Waist-line circumferences will become smaller, also. This will mean added strain on the corset strings, more rigid dieting and additional rigors of exercise.

So far as youthful femininity is concerned the corset has been away for a long time. The boys have missed it—in the shadowy corners where stolen hugs were surreptitiously exchanged and in the full glare of the electric lights, where the arms of dancing partners were entwined.

The girls have missed it—in not having a firm foundation for stocking supporters and a rigid anchorage for detached skirts.

"Yes, femininity is to again don its armor," said Madame Adele, a widely known corsetiere, formerly of Paris, who is connected with a popular Los Angeles establishment that caters to the world's best known picture actresses.

"If one will refer to history, especially the history of France, it will be found that after each great war women go back to what were formerly popular forms of dress," continued Madame Adele. "During the world war the women of France dressed as simply as they could and with the greatest freedom to be possibly obtained. Now they are going in for in-common-sense corsets, and the movement is spreading to other sections of the world."

To Make Contours Supple. "But, with the return of corsets as a proper and fashionable form of dress, one must not presume that the old-fashioned heavy-boned corsets will come into favor, for they won't. The popular corsets of the immediate future will be light-boned or elastic-webbed creations, leaving the figures of their wearers entirely natural and very supple.

It is my belief that American women will become educated to the custom of having their corsets properly fitted. An improperly fitted corset is not only bad for the health, but is a poor investment, for it will not give good wear.

"High-grade corsets will cost just a little more than before the war, but the change will not make much difference to American women, for they usually want the best quality of everything in their apparel.

"Since Los Angeles has become the world's capital of motion picture production, it has become a great fashion center. It is now almost on a par with New York in that respect, and if it continues to attract as many fine stores as in the last few years it will excel Paris in many respects before another decade has passed."

But, anyhow, corsets won't join the dinosaurs, the great auk, the dodo bird and other historical but extinct species, for they're coming back in popular favor.

TWO ABOUT TO BE EXECUTED GET NEW LEASE ON LIFE

NEW YORK, July 2.—Two men scheduled to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing this week obtained stays yesterday. One, Paul La Guidice, sentenced for killing a woman at Rochester, was granted a four weeks' respite so alienists may re-examine him.

The other, Angelo Tamberello, who killed a Brooklyn cobbler, got an indefinite stay as his counsel filed no petition of appeal to the court of appeals.

Blood travels through the heart at the rate of seven miles an hour.

SOME BULL! By Associated Press. ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 2.—An angry bull which charged a Santa Fe freight train succeeded in derailing the train, according to a report received here from the crew in charge. The bull got off the track when the train was ascending a grade near Fairview, Ariz., late Saturday. Steam from the rasing engine struck the bull, however, enraging it and it charged the first car, locking its horns in the trucks above the wheels and throwing the car from the tracks. The train was going slow and brought to a stop before other cars left the track.

Duane, said she "wanted to die an American citizen."

You won't read a long story about tires if those you are using are satisfactory. If they are not satisfactory a long story will not sell you, because it will have to be the same old story you read before—and which experience has taught you to discredit.

Marriage "a la Connecticut" Abolished When Newly Enacted Bill Becomes Law

HARTFORD, July 2.—The "a la Connecticut marriage" was abolished when Governor Lake signed at Hartford a bill adopted by the recent general assembly amending the Connecticut marriage laws.

For forty years or more a multiple marriage was not recognized by Connecticut law as bigamous unless the contracting parties cohabited within the state. Prosecution for such an offense had to be on the grounds of perjury or other non-extraditable act.

The bill signed yesterday inserts the words "who shall live together" in that portion of the old statute which bore upon residents of other states being married in Connecticut.

How many outsiders have taken advantage of the flaw in the statute is not known but a recent epidemic of bigamous marriages at Greenwich, the town nearest the New York state line, led to the amendment of the law. Public attention first was drawn to the law's peculiarity in September, 1919, when it was learned that Joseph Merritt Lane, then vice-chancellor of New Jersey, had made use of it on two occasions.

The cases of Herbert T. Andrews, a Broad street broker who married a Pittsburg girl at Greenwich and installed her in the Jersey City apartment already occupied by his first wife; Shubel K. Siver, treasurer of a New Brunswick, N. J., church, who married a Perth Amboy waitress at Greenwich, ignoring the existence of the mother of his grown children, and others that attracted less notoriety, brought about the amendment.

THIEVES GOT THE DRINKS; ROOSTER GOT THE SACK

NEW ORLEANS, July 1.—John Walker Phillips, consul here for Japan, went to bed, last night, feeling sure no thieves would bother him. He has a rooster that acts as watchdog, and raises a racket when any strangers approach the premises. Thieves, however, apparently captured the bird and stuffed its head into a sack. Then they entered the house and stole whiskey worth $180 and claret valued at $27.

DANDRUFF

Disease germs attack the scalp, destroying the hair growth, causing baldness, excessive dandruff, premature grayness, dead-looking, lustreless hair and itching scalp. The rich lather of Hunt's Medicated Soap carries with it to the very hair roots just the right combination of medicinal ingredients to correct scalp troubles, causing luxuriant hair growth and imparting that fluffiness of the hair that indicates the proper hair health.
