LOWER TAXES VITAL, ASSERTS PRES. HARDING

Nation's Chief Asks Aid of Congress in Restoring Normalcy.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—A small bonus to ex-servicemen at this time would be a poor palliative to the millions who are faced with unemployment, President Harding today said in his special message to congress.

"It is unthinkable that the administration could finance tax burdens if the treasury is committed to an obligation of $3,400,000,000 to $4,000,000,000," he said.

Harding declared "he would be ashamed of the republic if it failed in its duty to those who fought to save it," but he warned that immediate action on "this menacing effort to expend billions in gratuities will imperil our capacity to discharge our first obligations we must not fail to aid."

He recited the huge expenditures already made through the war risk bureau for disabled soldiers and promised more at a more auspicious time.

Three things are essential for a return to normal conditions, the President declared. These are:

1. Lower taxes.
  2. Refunding the war debt.
  3. Adjustment of foreign loans.
- "The overburdening of the treasury now means positive disaster in the years immediately before us," President Harding said, "merest prudence calls out in warning."

He emphasized that congress should devote itself to the tariff and tax measures for which the special session was called.

He read this message to the senate, leaving the White House for the capitol immediately after a cabinet meeting.

President Harding confessed "disappointment" that "so little" had been done toward reducing war-time taxes.

Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Finance committee, moved recommitment of the bonus bill to that committee within two minutes after the conclusion of the President's address.

FINAL HEARING HELD TODAY ON RANGER RFG. CO.

What is expected to be the final hearing in the Ranger Refining & Pipe Line company receivership contest is due to be held today before Special Investigator William E. Burns at Fort Worth. L. A. Marks of Marks & Plaherty, representing those favoring the Kansas City receivership, is in Fort Worth for the hearing. It is possible that a decision as to which court his jurisdiction will be made today.

Both sides in the controversy express themselves as anxious for a decision one way or the other as the property is standing idle, while the matter is being threshed out, and it is believed that operations will be resumed as soon as the receivership question has been settled.

COUNTY OFFICIALS ASK CITIZENS TO TAKE ROAD INSPECTION TRIP

Assemble Thursday at Court House in Eastland; All-Day Trip Planned.

The system of roads now being built in Eastland county will be shown a representative gathering of Eastland county folks on July 14, according to announced plans. The crowd will assemble at the courthouse at 8:30 a. m., on the date named and cars will be furnished for their transportation. In the morning the roads in the eastern end of the county will be gone over, the crowd returning to Eastland for a barbecue that will be furnished by the Fleming Construction company, the contractors. In the afternoon the roads in the western end of the county will be inspected.

In a letter to the Chamber of Commerce, Judge C. R. Starnes has this to say:

"As you of course know, from the press dispatches, we have planned a county trip for road inspection in which, along the route every phase of the work will be in progress.

Full Explanation.
"We particularly want all officers and directors of your Chamber of Commerce to go with us on that trip, leaving Eastland at 8:30 on the morning of July 14, seeing the various roads in the eastern end of the county in the morning, having a barbecue here at noon and seeing the roads of the western end of the county in the afternoon. Information as to the costs of the road and the amount expended on the various roads will be furnished each of you and some county employes will be with each crowd to explain all necessary matters.

ANY TIME!

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The disarmament congress may be called to meet in Washington on Nov. 11, the third anniversary of the signing of the armistice. It was said on high authority here today.

FOUR BILLIONS, YEAR'S COST OF WAR TO U. S.

Gigantic Expenditures Explain Disarmament Sentiment of World.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—War, past, present and future, cost the United States nearly $4,000,000,000 in the fiscal year ended July 1, treasury department records showed today.

Seventy-five cents of every dollar of the tax payers went into bills arising from war or preparation for war.

Other nations are spending as great or greater percentage of their incomes for war. This explains why the people are bringing pressure on their governments to accept President Harding's invitation for a disarmament conference.

Tax collections for the year totaled $5,115,928,000 while disbursements for war purposes amounted to $3,836,928,000, without taking into account millions paid out in pensions by the pension bureau by the war risk bureau and a score of other expenditures by departments which are not generally classified as war conducting branches of the government.

BANK ROBBERS PREFER DEATH TO JAIL CELL

TERLTON, Okla., July 12.—Authorities today were endeavoring to identify the two men who, after robbing the First State bank of Terilton early yesterday shot and killed themselves when surrounded by a sheriff's posse near here. Officers are convinced the men entered into a suicide pact before committing the robbery, agreeing to die rather than submit to arrest. Their bodies have been taken to Pawnee, where an autopsy will be performed.

The loot, totalling approximately $1200, was found in possession of the dead men.

NO CAR SHORTAGE,
RAILWAY OFFICIALS SAY

DALLAS, July 12.—There will be no shortage of cars to move the Texas grain crop this year, according to statements of railroad officials here today.

With the grain movement at its height, only a few scattered cases of car shortage have been reported.

WIFE KIDNAPS HER OWN CHILD IN DARING RAID

"Leave her? Bless her heart! Mother never would!" That's what Mrs. Charlotte Catherine Mayo was saying between kisses when the above photograph was made. Determined to leave her broker husband, Roy Alfred Mayo, and determined, too, not to desert her 2-year-old daughter, the mother had started in a limousine kidnaping de luxe in New York City with five private detectives to help her. Following differences with her husband, Mrs. Mayo left him and consulted a lawyer. Later in the day she returned to her home in an automobile with detectives. The limousine, with engine running, waited outside. On gaining admittance to the apartment, accompanied by detectives, Mrs. Mayo snatched up the child, made her way to the ground floor and was whirled away in the auto.

SPECTRE PARADE STORY PUZZLES DALLAS COPS

DALLAS, July 12.—The object of the parade of the "phantom" clansmen, witnessed by a lone milkman as he made his rounds in the gray light of Monday morning, was puzzling the police authorities today.

The first report of the parade was brought to the police late yesterday. The milkman later said he saw eight automobiles crowded with masked men and hooded figures pass in review over a Trinity bridge.

Police have been unable to obtain any authentic information. The theory has been advanced that the "spectre" parade was carrying some unidentified victim to the country, where he was flogged. Persons who present this solution of the mystery, declare the victim failed to report the flogging, and has fled the country.

TOO MUCH LOVING OF OTHER MAN'S ROASTING EARS BRINGS YOUTH WOE

A waving sea of green—a roasting ear patch—was too much for a couple of wayfaring young men yesterday, and they stopped to load their wagons.

The owner of the patch, M. L. Cook, who lives four miles on the Caddo road, was outraged. He was indignant. It was not a neighborly thing to do—stop and pull a fellow's roasting ears. Mr. Cook went into action. He unlimbered the trusty old single-barrel that has brought down many a rabbit on Caddo creek, and he went forth after the vandals who had leagued for corn on the cob. One smelled a mouse, powder or something. He made a getaway. But the other—

DEEP STUFF!

LYNN, Mass., July 12.—Today a diver at work near the wharf of the Marblehead Transportation company went down to locate mooring stones from which the chains had rusted off. He stayed down so long there were fears for his safety. He came up finally, and clutched in his right hand was a half pint bottle of real Martini cocktail, which probably had been on the bottom of the ocean long before Mr. Volstead got busy.

This afternoon the professional divers for miles around reported that every diving suit they own is rented.

EASTLAND HILL FOLK WIN ROAD ROUTE TO WEST

C. of C. Committee Changes Recommendation, Subject to Engineers' Approval.

The Pleasant Grove highway will leave Ranger over Eastland Hill, if the county engineers agree with the good roads committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee decided this at an executive meeting late yesterday afternoon after sitting with a delegation of Eastland Hill residents, who placed their side of the matter before the committee. At the joint meeting no decision was made, but later the committee decided that the cause of the Eastland Hill folk was just and their final decision rested on that route.

However, it made two choices for the highway to lead up to the hill. One follows Main street to a point directly opposite the present road up the hill and turns at right angles. The second route turns off of Main street two blocks East of that joint and follows Pine street to the foot of the hill.

The matter of deciding on the latter two routes will be left to the engineering department.

Believed Final.
Very little opposition arose over making the final decision, to go over the hill, as the road does at this time, and it will probably be the route accepted by commissioners' court. The city commission probably will also give the decision its sanction this afternoon. At a meeting of that body last week it was decided to accept any recommendation made by the good roads committee today and make that acceptance final.

It is expected that the contractors will begin work on this end of the Pleasant Grove highway within a short time. The road is already graded to within a mile or two of the city.

The question of routes arose over the contractors and engineers saying that they were ready to start the work and wanted the question settled at once.

TAMPICO SHUTDOWN LEAVES NINE TANKERS TIED UP AT GALVESTON

GALVESTON, July 12.—Nine oil tankers used in transportation of Mexican oil from Tampico to the United States, are tied up here as a result of the closing down of operations in the Mexican field, according to oil men today.

So far, tank farms and refineries in this vicinity are still running, and officials of oil companies refuse to state what general conditions were regarding the amount of oil in storage.

"SKY-WAGONS" REPLACE CHINA'S WINGED DRAGON

PEKIN, July 12.—China's ancient dragon, feared and worshipped for centuries, has a foreign rival. Tail spread, his wings glinting in the brilliant sunlight, this newcomer floats and soars unmolested above a hundred scattered villages daily. As he utters his buzzing, rattling cry, Chinese stream from their huts and hail him with shouts, running pell-mell toward the spot where he prepares to alight. They swarm around him with admiring looks.

Airplanes, as means of food distribution, are now being used over a considerable section of the Eastern famine area. These machines carry several hundred pounds of supplies, usually articles needed in an emergency by relief workers who are in inaccessible places.

Though their capacity is limited, the number of trips they can make in a day is very large, and as messenger vehicles they are proving invaluable in checking up on conditions over large areas.

At first the arrival of an airplane near a village almost depopulated the place. When it became evident, however, that these terrifying sky-wagons were food transports this fear soon gave way to interest and admiration. Now the most difficult part of the relief aviators' work is to make a landing anywhere in the vicinity of a village without moving down the inhabitants.

To widen the range of this airplane service, gasoline supplies have been cashed in various districts, enabling planes on messenger or "famine scout" duty to remain away from the larger cities for several days at a time.

In investigating new areas they are much more efficient than any other means yet found, and the clear, dry air of the famine districts, without rain, provides admirable conditions for their use. Occasional wind storms are their worst enemies, forcing them to ride for hours above the smother of dust and sand that sweeps across the plains.

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—The Rev. Joseph A. Whitaker, chancellor of the archdiocese of Philadelphia, and Rev. George Caruana, secretary to Cardinal Dougherty, saved a young girl from drowning in the Schuylkill river here Saturday, while the cardinal stood by ready to give assistance.

The clergymen were motoring through a park when they heard the girl's cries.

FRANCE STAMPS OFFICIAL O. K. ON DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

'WORLD EPOCH'

LONDON, July 12.—The world is on the eve of one of the most epochal events in history. This is the verdict of newspapers and statesmen here following President Harding's offer and the British government's acceptance in connection with the proposed armament conference.

PREMIERS TO ATTEND MEET ON DISARMING

Italy and Japan Expected to Send Government Heads to Conference.

LONDON, July 12.—Premier Lloyd-George will attend the Washington disarmament conference, it was officially announced this evening.

Premier Briand had already informally announced his intention of participating personally in the conference, and with the precedent set by Lloyd-George, it was believed that Italy and Japan may also be represented by the heads of their governments.

DALLAS SWEEP WITH WAVE OF INCENDIARISM

DALLAS, July 12.—The fourth alleged "fire bug" in a week's time was arrested here early today, and is being held for investigation.

The man is alleged to have saturated rugs and carpets in a rooming house with kerosene, and when roomers were awakened by the smell of the oil, and discovered what was taking place, he claimed he was taking measures to kill insects in the carpets. Police are at a loss to account for the apparent wave of incendiaryism which they claim caused several recent fires. Chief of Police Strait has ordered a complete investigation of all fires where incendiaryism is suspected.

NEGRO DRAWS TERM OF TWENTY-TWO YEARS FOR KELLEY MURDER

FORT WORTH, July 12.—John Robertson, a negro, was found guilty and given twenty-two years in the penitentiary here today by a jury for the alleged murder of Dick Kelly, alias Walker alias Mulhall. Kelly was found on the night of June 6 on the Stove Foundry road with gunshot wounds in his abdomen from which he died. The shooting is said to have arisen over some whiskey.

SWISS WILL ADOPT
NEW TRAFFIC LAWS

BERNE, July 12.—Uniform regulation through Switzerland of automobile, bicycle and motorcycle traffic and formulation of aerial navigation rules will be undertaken by the federal government under two constitutional amendments voted at the recent elections.

RAPID ISSUANCE OF SCRIP IS EXPECTED TO REVIVE BUSINESS

Onlocker Is Thrilled as Ranger Folk "Make History" in Issuing Scrip.

The available cash in Ranger was increased this morning by $4,000 by the Retail Merchants having issued that amount of scrip. At the same time applications had been received for a total of about $8,000 worth of the "Ranger currency." At 2 o'clock at least a dozen people were waiting either to receive their amounts or to make application.

In issuing the scrip only 75 per cent of the amount of the applicants' claim against the closed bank will be issued. But the trustee is given power of attorney to collect the entire sum.

However, the applicant in turn is given a receipt which shows that he is entitled to the additional 25 per cent at the time the bank pays its depositors. This step is taken purely to give a leeway in case of error.

It was noticeable fact that the majority of those applying could be assumed to need money now to tide

Acceptance of Italy and Japan Expected; Meeting Is Virtually Assured.

President Harding's proposed disarmament conference was fifty per cent assured today. Two of the four nations invited to participate, Great Britain and France, had accepted his invitation.

Of the others, Italy was reported to be ready to announce her acceptance while Japan, through the pressure of world-wide public opinion, was believed to be sure to accede, regardless of her individual feeling.

According to present indications, there will be two conferences. The first will take up the Pacific and far east questions, and include only those nations directly interested. The second will discuss disarmament, and may be extended to include others than the five powers originally designated.

Both Premiers Lloyd-George and Briand may represent their respective countries at the conference, which is expected to open in Washington this fall.

The American delegation is expected to be headed by Secretary Hughes, and the others may be selected from Senator Knox, Senator Lodge, Elihu Root, Nicholas Murray Butler, Wm. J. Bryan, and Robert Lansing.

Senator De Lahaie charged that the proposed disarmament conference was "a combination to weaken France" on the floor of the French senate today.

Briand repeated in the senate the speech accepting Harding's invitation which he had just made before the Deputies. He was interrupted by De Lahaie, who angrily shouted: "You are becoming a victim of this combination to weaken France."

Upon De Lahaie's demand for immediate discussion of Briand's statements, the senate voted adjournment, in the midst of an uproar. Cheers for Briand dominated.

AMERICA'S AIMS.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—America's aims in the proposed international conference on disarmament and affairs in the Pacific were outlined on high authority today. The aims were:

1. Removal of sources of international friction as a necessary prelude to effective disarmament.
2. Extension of the disarmament principles wherever possible to stop the use of gas, aircraft and other means of warfare.
3. The adoption of a policy for Siberia similar to the open door policy in China.

The belief here is that before effective disarmament agreements would be reached, the causes of international misunderstandings must be removed, else nations will not agree to limit armament.

The expression was taken as practically certain indication that far eastern affairs will come before the conference before disarmament because it is in that region that the cause for misunderstandings now exist.

DALLAS 'SLUGGER' MAY HAVE KILLED KAUFMAN COUNTY COUPLE, SAID

DALLAS, July 12.—"The Slugger," who is believed by city detectives to have operated in Dallas winter and early spring, is expected to figure in the trial of High Triggy, wealthy Kaufman county farmer, indicted for the murder of his wife's parents. The trial will be held here on a charge of venality.

Detective Captain Will Moffett, defense witness declared today that the murder of H. B. Willard and his wife, last January, appeared as the work of a crazed man. The couple, both more than 70 years old, were found beaten to death.

them over. It was also a noticeable fact that in nearly every case no questions were asked beyond those asked for information. No one doubted the utmost sincerity of the Retail Merchants' association or that of the board who are attending the details of issuing the scrip.

In more than one face could be read relief that it was actually true that they could have access to their savings through the plan.

An onlooker could not help but be thrilled. Folks came and went who had all their available cash tied up in the bank failure and who are now receiving its equivalent in scrip that is good at almost any store. It strikes the visitor that it is the biggest thing that ever happened to Ranger; that greatness has been born and history made.

At the rate applications have been received since the office of the Retail Merchants opened yesterday, morning, fully $30,000 of the scrip will be in circulation before Saturday night. If this proves to be true, business people expect business to take on new life.

ALL THE NEWS OF THE WEST TEXAS LEAGUE

PIRATES AND INDIANS SEEM SURE WINNERS

Prima Donna Yanks Erratic; Braves Surprise of National Circuit.

NEW YORK, July 12.—With the halfway mark past, it begins to look like both the major league pennants are "in."

The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cleveland Indians, close to the middle of the season, seem to be almost sure winners in the two races.

Both clubs are going along, playing steady, easy ball, taking the breaks well and getting the best out of their talent.

George Gibson has been getting good pitching all season, and his club is playing a great defensive game as well as packing a good punch in the pinches.

The world's champion Indians have been leading the league just because they possess the stuff of which champions are made.

The two New York clubs look like the runners-up.

The Giants, afflicted by their ancient malady, inside trouble, are just moving along in second place. John McGraw's great pitching staff turned into an "in-and-out" and the club generally has been a disappointment.

The Yankees, possessing the greatest wealth of material in the major leagues, cannot make a million dollars' worth of stars do ordinary work.

Miller Huggins has a great ball team except for his outfield, his catching department and three or four pitchers.

He has the great "Babe" Ruth and a lot of prima donnas. "Babe" wins a game now and then with a homer, but he loses just as many with his terrible work in the field. Wally Schang, who ordinarily ought to be a first class catcher, has been better than the relegated "Truck" Hannah.

The Boston Braves are proving the surprise of the National circuit, and the Cardinals, after getting away to a bad start, are rounding into some of the form that was indicated for them before the start of the season.

Washington goes right along in the American league, winning games, and the Tigers are being kept in the first division by Ty Cobb, who is helping Tris Speaker show that a player can do things besides play.

The Browns, with all their hitting talent, can't get along without pitchers.

A. E. F. PRIDE FACES FRANK MORAN TODAY

NEW YORK, July 12.—Bob Martin, the soldier champion goes against his second big test tonight when he meets Frank Moran, the blonde Pittsburgher, in a 10-round bout.

The future of the A. E. F. champion holder depends in a large part on what he is able to do with one of the hardest propositions in the ring. The doughboys, who have always hoped that the boy who was developed in France would turn out to be a world champion, were disappointed in his first big test last winter, against Bill Brennan.

Martin lost a 12-round decision to the Chicago battler, who had stayed twelve rounds with Jack Dempsey.

HERMAN INTENDS TO CAMP ON TRAIL OF TITLE HOLDER LYNCH

LONDON, July 12.—Pete Herman, former world bantamweight champion, wants his crown back. The little American who knocked out Jim Higgins the English champion, in the eleventh round here last night, said today he would return home and keep on the heels of Joe Lynch until he gets a match.

WOLFE-TREMAINE GO IS CALLED A DRAW

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 12.—Judges were unable to agree on a verdict last night in the 12-round decision go between Jack Wolfe and Carl Tremaine of Cleveland, so they called it a draw.

Billy Defoe of St. Paul gave Johnny Rini of Cleveland a boxing lesson in a scheduled 10-round go. The boxing commission stopped it in the seventh to prevent unnecessary punishment.

OIL STARS START SERIES AT BALL PARK TOMORROW

The Ranger Oil Stars will be in session at Nitro park Wednesday and Thursday, it is announced. The Stephenville Tigers will be their opponents in the pastime. What the Stephenville colored boys have in stock is unknown, as they have not appeared here this season, but it is possible that they will introduce some new varieties of baseball.

SWEETWATER BLOWS UP AND BRONCS WIN EASILY

SAN ANGELO, July 12.—Weber, though wild, was effective in the pinches Monday and received almost perfect support, San Angelo drubbing Sweetwater 9 to 5 in the first game played by the Swatters since re-entering the league.

After yielding five hits, which with two errors and two passes, gave the Bronchos four runs, Zapalac was relieved in the fourth frame by Richburg, who fared but little better. The visitors' defense blew up in the third.

Score by innings: R.H.E. Sweetwater . . . 102 110 000—5 9 7 San Angelo . . . 002 400 30x—9 8 1 Batteries: Zapalac, Richburg and Byers; Weber and Kelly.

The highest chimney in the world is one at Anaconda, Montana, which is 585 feet 1 1-2 inches high.

"RED" HILL TO MEMPHIS, BIGGEST SENSATION IN NITRO PLAYER DEALS

All of Team Paid Off and Will Be on Their Way by Tomorrow.

The Nitros were paid off today, and by tomorrow few of the members of the club will be in Ranger. Most of them will ride the night trains. All of the boys will either be sent to other teams or will catch on with independent outfits, it is said.

"Red" Hill and Johnny Singleton caught the Sunshine this morning for Memphis, where they will take their places with the league-leading Chicks.

Signing "Red" was an afterthought of Manager Abbott, after he had wired for Singleton to come. After looking up the records he found that in "Red" he could secure a pitcher of the hustling variety who has a good assortment of stuff. And any league can use that kind. Ranger's best wishes go with "Red" in his sudden elevation to upper class baseball, and hope he gets off to a flying start. He will have a good chance to stick, for the Chicks are far enough ahead to risk a few games and the Nitro heavier was bought outright.

Robertson and Johnson left last night for Sherman, Tommy Lovelace, who was sold to Muskogee, is still here, but is expected to report about Sunday.

Charley to Tulsa? A deal to send Charley Clopp to Tulsa of the Western league—Class A—is on but has not been completed. Brooks will join the Anson independent team and is on the Nitro reserve list. This lad, has only been with the team a week, played with Cisco through the season, and if he hits as he has for the past month, will be a tower of strength on next year's team.

Manager Allen has received offers from the Ballinger team, Ardmore of the T.-O., and an independent club at Guthrie, Okla. He has not decided which he will take. Several of the players, including Jody Tate and Nick Carter, probably will go with him.

Adios, nine.

BABE FINALLY FAVORS 'EM AT CHICAGO PARK

By United Press.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Babe Ruth's thirty-second home run gave him another record. By polling out a four-base hit in the Chicago ball park, he has hit a homer on every American league field for three successive years. In 1919, Babe made the circuit with a homer in Washington on Sept. 27. In 1920 he did not make the rounds until Aug. 4, when he rapped one in Washington.

His 1921 record now stands: In New York, 18; Washington, 3; Boston 3; Philadelphia 2; Cleveland 2; Detroit 2; St. Louis 1; Chicago 1.

The bambino is now eight days ahead of his 1920 record.

BEARCATS ARE BLANKED IN OPENER AT ABILENE

Special to The Times.

ABILENE, July 12.—Smoky Johnson, formerly a member of the Orphans, but a recent acquisition to the hurling staff of the Abilene Eagles, proved considerably too much for the Ballinger Bearcats in the first of the series here today, and the locals won 4 to 0. Johnson held the Cats down to 5 hits and whiffed a total of eight men, while the Eagles touched Cantrell for thirteen safeties.

Poor base running kept the Eagles from annexing at least two more than the total score indicates.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Ballinger . . . 000 000 000—0 5 2 Abilene . . . 020 020 00x—4 13 0 Batteries: Cantrell and White; Johnson and Griesenbeck.

Pirates as Hard to Stop as Runaway Train in Rocky Mountains, Says Gibson

NEW YORK, July 12.—"Fightingest ball club I ever had anything to do with. Never know when they're kicked. That's the kind of a club I've got."

George (Mooney) Gibson speaking. He was seated in Pittsburgh's dugout at Ebbets field watching the Pirates warm up in preparation to cracking open their series with Brooklyn.

"I've never won any pennants and I never make predictions. Think it's a jinx," Gibson continued. "I'm not claiming any pennant now. All we have is hope and I think a good chance. If everything goes well with us maybe we'll be in there battling for the world's championship next October. I hope so."

"My ball club has been going mighty good. It's a good road club and it has been playing bangup ball at home. If we can do as well on this trip east as we did the first time we ought to be pretty well fixed to hold our own. Of course, a lot depends on the pitchers. Our young pitchers like Glazner and Yellowhorse have been going fine. The rest of the twirlers have done their share and Rabbit Maranville has been a great help. But the pitching is important. It'll have a big lot to do with whether we finally land."

"Looks like the Giants are the ones Pittsburgh will have to beat out," we suggested to Gibson.

"Right now it looks that way," he replied, "but you can't tell. Look division that don't belong there. There's a ball club down in the second what Boston did in 1914. And say, That's Cincinnati's. They've beaten us six times, more than any other club. If Moran only had some pitching he wouldn't be in seventh place."

"McGraw, of course, can generally be depended upon to give everybody a battle. He has a good club and as long as he has a good club he will be up there fighting."

Gibson added that the schedule suits him fine. The Pirates will practically finish the season playing a month at Forbes field and if they are still leading the league at that stage of the race they will be as easy to stop as a runaway freight train in the Rocky mountains.

TEXAS LEAGUE.

SHREVEPORT, July 12.—The Fort Worth Panthers overcame a three-run lead here Monday, tying the score in the ninth round, but lost in the twelfth. Singles by Long and Jackson, sandwiching a sacrifice, made the score 5 to 4 for Shreveport.

SAN ANTONIO, July 12.—San Antonio battered two Beaumont pitchers Monday and won easily, 12 to 0. Fuller and Connolly led the assault, each getting four hits out of five trips each.

Jim Hits 'Em. WICHITA FALLS, July 12.—Hollingsworth, the Spudgers' pitching phenom sent the Dallas Marines down to defeat Monday, 5 to 2. Both of the Dallas runs were scored by Jim Gallo-way, one being due to a homer and the other to successive safeties.

GALVESTON, July 12.—Left Handed Harry Lee took a pitchers' battle from Pearson of the Buffs here Monday. He allowed six hits to Pearson's five. Pearson's only free pass was turned into a tally.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Babe's Thirty-Second. CHICAGO, July 12.—Rip Collins of Texas beat Dicky Kerr of Texas, 4 to 0, here Monday. Homers by Ruth and Meusel were Collins' aces in the hole. It was Ruth's thirty-second circuit clout.

DETROIT, July 12.—The Red Sox took a double-header here Monday.

They won the first game by slugging Dauss and Parks while Penneck was holding the Tigers to five hits. The second was won in the ninth, when three hits followed an error and a pass.

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—The Browns beat Washington 5 to 4 Monday, scoring the winning run with two out in the ninth.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Cleeves, the ex-West Texas leaguer, beat New York Monday 7 to 2. He held the Giants to four hits.

Hard Luck. PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—Rain ac- cct the Cardinals a slugging bee here Monday. Philadelphia had gone in the lead, 9 to 8, in the eighth inning, and in the ninth the Cards came back and tied the score. After an hour's wait, the game was called and the score reverted back to the eighth round.

BOSTON, July 12.—McQuillan won his own pitchers' battle from Rixey of the Reds here Monday, when his double in the eighth counted the only two runs of the game.

This Reminds Us. BROOKLYN, July 12.—Four runs after two were out in the ninth gave Brooklyn a 9 to 8 victory over Pittsburgh Monday. Earl Hamilton was the victim of the assault. Myers' fifth consecutive single drove in the winning run.

NO INFORMATION AT RANGER POSTOFFICE AS TO EXAMINATION

This is the final day on which examination papers for the Ranger postmastership will be accepted at Washington, according to the terms of the order for the examination issued some weeks ago.

It was not known at the local office how many had applied for the position nor what investigation had been made by the civil service commission, as in the case of a first class postoffice, all inquiries are conducted by the commission direct.

No definite time for announcing the appointment of a permanent postmaster has been set.

EINSTEIN GIVES AMERICA THE HA-HA; COISES!

Super-brained European Says People Here Intellectually Starved.

BERLIN, July 12.—To see ourselves as others see us is always interesting even if it is not always flattering. This fact is again exemplified in what Prof. Albert Einstein has to say today upon his return from America, on the "exaggerated enthusiasm" which he declares was shown him in the United States.

The famous discovery of the theory of relativity, which still remains more than relatively incomprehensible to ordinary mortal minds, said:

"This exaggerated enthusiasm for me and my work struck me as being a genuinely and peculiarly American phenomenon. If I understood aright, it was due largely to the fact that people over there are tremendously bored, far more so than is the case with us."

Professor Einstein, in an interview in the Rotterdam Courant is quoted as saying that there is little to interest people in America and save them from boredom.

"Of course," said the scientist, "New York, Boston, Chicago and other big cities have their theatres and concerts—but otherwise what? There are cities with a million population, but cities suffering from terrible poverty—poverty of intellectual things. "Something, like the theory of re-

"Something, like the theory of relativity for instance, is given them with which they can play. They enthrall, they become excited, they argue and discuss with tremendous intensity."

"Another thing I observed is that women dominate the entire life of America. The men interest themselves in nothing except work. They think of nothing but work—and to an extent I never seen elsewhere."

"As for the rest of the men, they are nothing but the little playboys of the women who spend their money in a reckless manner and veil themselves in a mist of extravagance."

"They do everything that is in vogue or that is the fad of the passing moment. In that way they throw themselves upon the Einstein theory."

"Did it make a ridiculous impression upon me to observe their excitement over a theory of which they certainly understood nothing? In truth, I found it comic. But at the same time it was interesting to watch them at their play."

"I firmly believe that it was the very mysteriousness of the idea that they could not grasp that enchanted them."

When asked for his impression of the scientific life of America, Einstein declared that he had met extraordinarily meritorious professors. He mentioned especially Professors Michelson and Millikan of Chicago.

"But it would be nonsense," he declared, "to compare the general scientific life and knowledge of America with that of Europe, just as the general life of Europe cannot be compared with that of America. They are two wholly different worlds."

Professor Einstein spoke feelingly in the deep impression that had been made upon him by science in England. "In England," he said, "what seriousness, what power, what fire! It is far more intensive than in Germany. Also much pleasanter."

Professor Einstein was greatly pleased with Oxford. "But I also found Princeton in America beautiful," he said. "I believe that much can be expected from the youth of America. Even if intellectual life now plays no role over there, there is a younger generation that is trying to elevate the intellectual level and their efforts will certainly succeed, for whatever is undertaken seriously in America can be carried out."

In conclusion, Professor Einstein handed a bouquet to the Dutch. "Holland has but one tenth of the population of England, but as far as scientific creative power is concerned, it comes a close second to England."

LANDIS EMPHASIZES AWFUL EFFECT OF VIPER VARNISH ON VERACITY

CHICAGO, July 12.—"The most truthful man in the world, will lie, cheat and steal where booze is involved."

This maxim was uttered by Federal Judge Landis today, after the white-haired jurist had been confronted by the grinning countenance and mental ingenuity of Henry Wonders, Negro Pullman porter, with a route between Pittsburgh and Chicago.

Henry admitted that the ten quarts of high whiskey found in his possession was his personal property.

"Where did you get it?" demanded Judge Landis.

"From a man in Pittsburgh, sah. He done come down to de train an' asked me did I want it."

"What were you going to do with all that liquor?"

"That there man don' tole me h'it was mighty good for rheumatics. An' Judge, dat rheumatiz, it sho' bothers me a heap."

"How do you take it as a cure?" asked the judge.

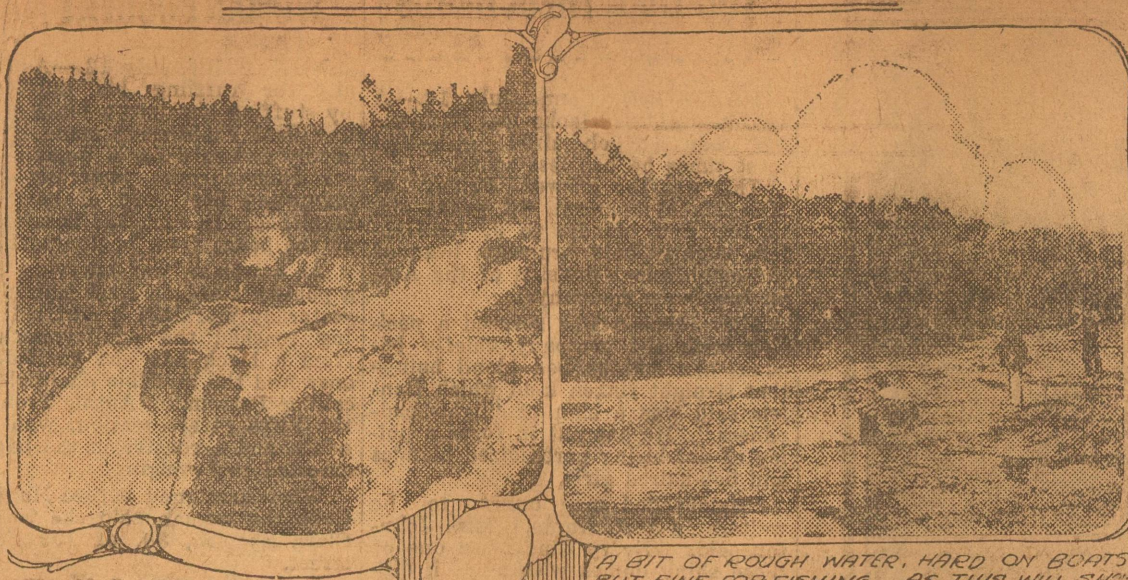

"Externally, sah, Judge. I has rheumatiz ob de bones. I jes rubs dat whiskey on mah joints."

"I think I'll give you a $500 fine," commented the judge. "Plaster that on your rheumatiz and see if it doesn't help." And Henry was led away.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., July 11.—John B. Belick, fifty-five years old, a farmer of Hartland, was found unconscious under a tree last night. He died two hours later at the City hospital here.

Dr. Preisch, medical examiner, believes the man was killed by drinking cold water while overheated.

ONTARIO'S WILDERNESS IS SPORTSMEN'S PARADISE

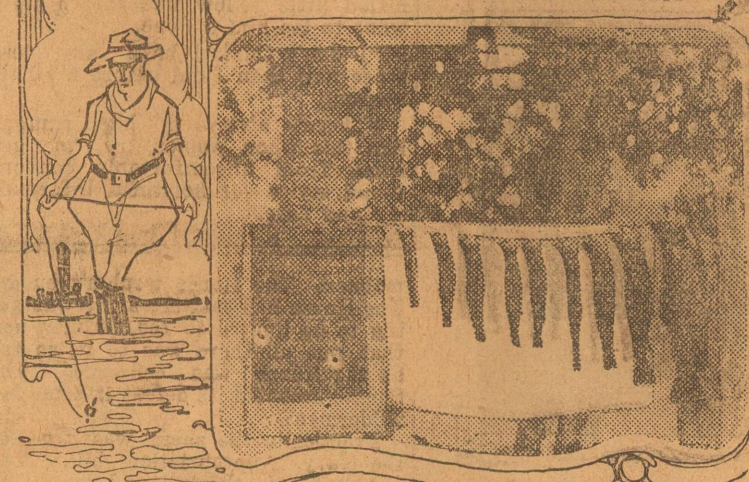

RIDGEY FALLS ON THE MISSISSAUGA RIVER.

The two hundred and seventy miles of canoeing down the Mississippi River between walls of dense forests, slipping into one exquisite lake after another and making 35 portages, is accounted the acme of out-door pleasure by those who have been so fortunate as to have traveled this Ontario water trail.

The start is usually made from Hiscotasing, 8 miles west of Sudbury, where cuttings and guides can be obtained. This route passes through Bisco and Spanish Lakes, then into Spanish River where one is likely to see a dozen moose in the course of a day's journeying. Spanish and Canoe Lakes and several lakelets intervene ere Mississauga Lake, the source of Mississauga River, is reached. From here the traveler is all down stream through wildly beautiful scenery.

Tall spires of pines reach heavenward above the solid wall of forest that lines either bank. Moose, deer and other wild animals often emerge from the dense woods to gaze at the passing strangers.

They are seldom molested and are quite fearless and present splendid targets for the camera. Excellent fishing is at hand the whole distance—speckled trout, lake trout, bass, pike and muskies are so plentiful that one seldom casts without getting a bite. Pretty little streams come steaming through the forests to pour their silver offerings into the Mississauga and to coax the travelers to leave the big river and seek the hidden charms of the hinterland. The side trips often lead to waters over which white men have never fished.

The majority of the portages are just long enough to give you a chance to get the kinks out of your calves and are a pleasure rather than a hardship. The portage at Aubrey Gorge affords a wonderful sight, that of the river surging and swirling through a quarter-mile gorge and then making a 107 foot leap over a cliff. It takes one and

"DONKEY" CHAUFFEUR KICKS A FORTUNE OUT OF OLD CHAIR

"Lady Luck" Roasted on Soap Box Throne of Barge Laborer and Showed Him the Way to $19,700 in Century Notes.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Fred Wilson never took much stock in the thing called luck. He couldn't figure it at all in his own case, being as how he was sort of tied down to one spot with little or no chance to get out among folks where he could see things and hear things and even in a small way be part of the proceedings, says the New York World.

But Wilson's ideas of luck were what might be called academic and obviously subject to modification in the event of substantial proof of their incorrectness being forthcoming. Radically modified they are now. He has had the proof—proof that has made him pop-eyed.

The smallest bundle of muscles, a light heart and a clear conscience is a fair description of Wilson. He has turned 50 and does a regular 8-hour trick in a deck coop on the shore end of the dry dock at Port Johnson, Bayonne, N. J., doubling as stoker and operator of a donkey engine, and happy to draw down the current wage.

A barge requiring calking was towed in at Port Johnson one day recently, and floated into the dry dock. The hospitality of the dock captain is extended to the barge captain, and Wilson has an opportunity to talk things over and get in touch with the doings of the outside world.

Answering a knuckle rap, Wilson threw open the door and pushed an up-ended soap box in position for his visitor, comfortably near the warmth of the engine.

"Kinder shy of furniture," said the barge captain, looking around in and indulging in a pleasantry. "Is a soap box the best you got for callers?"

"Well, you see," said Wilson, replying in kind, "you catch me just at house-cleaning time. The parlor suite is down at the upholster's, and things ain't just to rights."

The two men had their laugh. The tobacco bag was opened and they filled their pipes, the barge captain tilting back on the soap box and Wilson turning to squirt some oil in a piston cup.

"Say," suddenly spoke the captain chuckling, "speaking about furniture. I've got a beautiful arm chair out on my yacht, and, as we are old college chums, I'll make you a present of it. Wait until I get it."

He slipped out the door and onto the barge, returning with a sorry specimen of chair, which, thru a dislocation and a compound fracture of one of its supports, refused to stand up.

"With my compliments, commodore," said the captain, affecting a dignity of speech, which was accompanied by a low bow.

One day a few weeks later Wilson decided to take the relic down to the end of the dock and pitch it off. He had found that it was too big for his coop, and besides it wasn't comfortable and wasn't respectable. Really it was a vagabond—a tramp—and not entitled to a place alongside of a decent and thoroly trustworthy soap box.

A kick sent the prop from under it and the chair reeled and fell over on its side, much like a tipsy person who had been booted thru swinging doors in the grogshop days.

The thin cloth covering of the back, rotted with age, was ripped in the tumble. Wilson extended the tear. Then his eyes popped.

HERO PUP OF YANKEE DIVISION PAY FORMER BUDDIES FORMAL VISIT

WASHINGTON, July 12.—A veteran of the world war came to the state, war and navy building today to pay a visit to his former comrades, of Seichprey and Chateau Thierry. He wore the insignia of a private of the One Hundred and Second Infantry, but he was greeted enthusiastically by officers and enlisted men alike.

From generals to field clerks, they affectionately called him "Stubby," the name by which he was known throughout the Twenty-sixth Division.

Except for six weeks which he spent in the hospital as the result of a shrapnel wound in the breast and a few odd days here and there when he was "A. W. O. L.," "Stubby" was with the famous New England Division during its entire sojourn in France.

He wears three service stripes and a wound stripe, and one seldom sees a more impressive set of decorations than his. Odd as it may seem, however, "Stubby" does not wear either his wound or service chevrons on his sleeve, for despite his A. E. F. serial number, "Stubby" is not an ex-doughboy, but a handsome Boston bull terrier.

While the One Hundred and Second Infantry was encamped at Yale Field, New Haven, Conn., in 1917, a valuable-looking Boston bull wandered into camp and attached himself "for rations" to Corporal G. Robert Conroy. The dog, upon whom the name of "Stubby" was promptly bestowed, probably because of his diminutive tail, proved himself an affectionate friend and a valiant enemy, and he soon became a warm favorite with the regiment.

When the Twenty-sixth Division was ordered overseas a conspiracy was formed among the officers and men of the One Hundredth and Second Infantry, and, after apparently insurmountable obstacles had been removed, the mascot was smuggled on board the Minnesota. Arrived in France, the fame and popularity of "Stubby" grew, and when the division went to the front there was scarcely a man who did not know the little brindle mascot and love him.

"Stubby" didn't like the big guns. With ears more sensitive than those of men, he appeared to suffer actual physical pain during a bombardment. Nevertheless, he went along, sharing potluck with the boys and sleeping in a dug out, with his master, Corporal Conroy. At Seichprey he got a piece of shrapnel in the breast and for days there was deep gloom in the outfit lest "Stubby" should not get well.

The mascot was evacuated, like any human "blesse," and was treated in a hospital by army surgeons. Fortunately, the wound proved less serious than had at first been supposed, and in six weeks "Stubby" was back with his "outfit."

When "Stubby" arrived in France he wore a simple leather strap about his neck and two aluminum discs bearing his name and serial number. Among soldiers, with whom the wearing of these identification discs was compulsory, they were known as "dog tags."

The blanket, which "Stubby" still wears, also provided a convenient place for hanging his medals, of which he has been awarded a great number. First, there is his Victory medal, with all the engagements in which "Stubby" participated—Ainse-Marne, Champagne-Marne, Meuse-Argonne, St. Mihiel, and the Defensive sector. Then there is his silver Victory button, to which his wound entitles him; his American Legion button, for he is a member of the American Legion and was an honored guest at their first convention in Minneapolis, as another medal testifies.

"Stubby" is a life member of the Y. M. C. A. and wears a badge of membership, which announces that he is entitled to "three bones a day and a place to sleep," for the rest of his life. He is a member of the Red Cross. Another medal, award-

WILD WOMAN, A REAL WILD WOMAN, FOUND SOJOURNING IN TREE

ATLANTIC CITY, July 12.—Sheriff Malcolm B. Woodruff and a posse today captured a real "wild woman" who was found perched high up in a tree near Mays Landing.

She was identified as Mrs. Mary Isgar, a former resident of Vineland, twenty miles from this city, but more recently living in New York, where her husband and two children are believed to be. The police have been unable to learn her New York address and have asked the authorities there to find her relatives.

Berry pickers notified the sheriff that they had seen a woman flitting around in the branches of trees. Little credence was given to the report, as at first but a few parties told the story. The woman was organized.

When the posse refused to come on, she fled in lower. She is about 40 years of age, appears hopelessly to Dr. George J. Belmont. He is a hospital at Vineland. He is a hospital at Vineland. He is a hospital at Vineland.

LONDON, July 12.—The landly board of good deal amount of the ministry's suggestion, the inmate they now think passed the limit of late suggested wide nightshirts kept the hospital house.

"MIRACLE MAN" HALTED BY AUTHORITIES

Photo shows "Brother Isaiah," who earned for himself the name of "Miracle Man" while performing before large crowds in California. There is no record of his having completely cured any crippled or deformed person. Many claim to have been cured by the aged man immediately after leaving him, but scientists and doctors investigating his healing power said that these people were suffering from mob hysteria and believed themselves cured, only to find themselves as badly off as before, if not worse, after the excitement wore off. He has left Los Angeles suddenly, after a cry was raised, and cannot be found anywhere.

KID HOUSE AND BATTLING SENATE ARE FIGHTING FOR PRESTIGE-WEIGHT TITLE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, July 12.—While the attention of some hundred and five millions of people in the United States has been focused in recent weeks on the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, the Irish muss and innumerable other encounters the wide world over, there has been going on right here in Washington a battle no less earnest, no less hotly contested, even though less spectacular. Pugilistically speaking, the affair might be termed the fight between Kid House and Battling Senate. The prize is prestige in the legislative functioning of the Government.

Kid House is beginning to "come back." He was almost knocked out during the war and the late unpleasantness regarding the League of Nations which followed it. At least, he has been groggy for several years, and has been more or less content to "hang on" and let Battling Senate do all the leading. But it's different now. Still speaking from a pugilistic standpoint, the head of Kid House is beginning to clear up from the war hammering, the mist is beginning to fade from his eyes and he is beginning to send in a punch or two himself.

The "Founding Fathers," to use President Harding's favorite expression, either wisely or unwisely decreed in the Constitution that the Senate should have the say in matters affecting foreign affairs, treaties and whatnot, while to the House should go the privilege of exclusive authorship in the matter of taxation and fiscal affairs.

Senatorial Initiative Wins. There wasn't much argument over taxes during and immediately after the war. Bills were introduced and passed without much palaver and spectacle. The doings of the House didn't find the front page very often. It was different in the Senate. In that select body there was a bitter, relentless, oratorical and most spectacular batallé being waged over whether the United States should or should not become a member of the League of Nations. For days it held the front pages of the nation, and names like Johnson, Borah, Hitchcock, Reed, Lodge, irreconcilable, bitter-ender, mild reservationist, et cetera, became forever engraved in the American mind.

Gradually the House was pushed into the background so far as popular interest and the news of the day went. Indeed, the members of the House themselves were wont to slip out of their seats and over into the Senate chamber to see the fireworks there. There was little doing in the House so little in fact that the House began to be looked upon by members of the rising generation as a sort of appendix to the Senatorial body, which could just as well be dispensed with. The Senate furnished the initiative in most things and the House rubberstamped its acquiescence.

But things are different now. The House is beginning to assert itself again. Not only is it exercising its constitutional prerogatives in a most independent manner, but in the past few weeks it has even stepped over into the Senate's domain and forced that solemn and austere body to meet it as an equal in fixing a matter of foreign policy.

The Rebirth of Spunk. The Senate went ahead and passed the Knox peace resolution and sent it to the House to be concurred in as a matter of course. But the House didn't concur. It had its own ideal of how peace should be declared between the United States and Germany, and it embodied that idea in the Porter resolution.

The Senate was shocked beyond words. What was this, insurgency? It was. Emphatically so. The House

YOU TELL 'EM HENNA; YOU TURN THEIR HEADS

HARTFORD, Conn. July 12.—A bald-headed man looks less business-like than a bob-haired girl—and most times he has less sense.

This was the answer Friday of Miss Mabel Johnson, 18 years old, bobbed and blonde, to J. K. Daniels, slightly bald brunette, head of the employment division of the Aetna Insurance company.

Miss Johnson was refused a position with the company chiefly because she had bobbed blond hair—that straight flaxen kind which Daniels said was a sign of "light-headedness." He has put in force a policy of not hiring peroxidized blondes and bob-haired girls.

"Baldheaded men ought to be waiters in restaurants," Miss Johnson said. "Every time I see one of those shiny domes with a mock dignified little fellow underneath it, I want to tip him a dime."

"I don't think I have any less sense now than I did before my hair was cut."

"There's always a big rumpus like this when women try to get away from uncomfortable conventional styles for healthful informality and ease."

manner. The House wouldn't budge. The House had said the army was going to be limited to 150,000 men and that was all there was to it, so far as the House was concerned. The Senate accepted its defeat in some bewilderment.

Practically the same was true of the Navy Appropriation bill. The House passed the bill and sent it to the Senate, where a lot of amendments were tacked on, providing this and that and the other. Back it went to the House and the Senatorial appendages were relegated to the ash heap. The Senate was again shocked out of all its customary sedate complacency. The very ideal! A bunch of ordinary representatives telling the United States Senate what the size of the army and navy should be and where the locations of important defensive positions and bases should be! Preposterous!

But in the end the House view prevailed. The prominence which attaches to tariff and taxation in the present session also is aiding the House in its "comeback." Under the Constitution these matters must originate with the House, and the House is taking advantage of its constitutional prerogatives to the fullest extent.

It is another step in getting back to normalcy in Washington.

JUAREZ, Mexico.—Valentine Orate, new chief of police, has issued a decree imposing fine, imprisonment or both for violating the city ordinance which prohibits noisy crowds from gathering in saloons and in front on the sidewalks. "Women and children are often forced to walk in the streets to pass the boisterous crowds," Mr. Orate said. "This must stop."

UNGALLANT ROOSTER TALKED SCANDALOUS TO WOMAN POULTRY RAISER

NEW YORK, July 12.—As a penalty for ruffling his tail-feathers by stuffing him into a black bag, an ungallant chanticleer made it wretchedly awkward for a woman in Essex Market court yesterday by interrupting her story of how it all happened. In fact, the rooster spilled the beans from beginning to end.

As a woman was hurrying out of a poultry store on East Third street yesterday morning, a muffled crowing reached the poultryman's ears from a black bag she carried. He answered the invisible chanticleer by calling Patrolman Anton Trenta of the Fifth Street station, who found a hen and a rooster in the bag, and arrested the woman.

When arraigned before Magistrate Cobb the woman said she was Mrs. Clara Shapiro, 38, of 199 Seventh street.

"I am the mother of seven children and my husband is out of work. I was just going to—"

"Cock-a-doodle-doo," interrupted the evidence, fixing the accused with a sharp black eye.

"Going to buy the chickens when a woman friend outside called me and I went out in a hurry to talk to her"

"Cock-a-doodle-d-o-o."

The magistrate looked at the complainant, who carried the rooster, and suggested that the evidence be gagged, but the poultry dealer said he thought such a valuable witness should remain unmuffled. There was something uncanny about the precision of his crowing.

Magistrate Cobb asked Mrs. Shapiro who her neighbor was. She described her, but said she didn't recollect her name.

The magistrate told the dealer that doubtless the woman was at fault, but perhaps the offense could be overlooked, in view of her motive of providing food for seven hungry children. The poultryman did not see it that way, as he said he lost a good deal of money through theft. He insisted upon prosecution.

Bail was fixed at $100 for Mrs. Shapiro's appearance in special sessions on a charge of petty larceny. Tearfully she pleaded that she could not get such a large sum, when she had no money with which to buy food for her family.

"Cock-a-doodle-d-o-o," observed the rooster.

"How much was the bail?" she asked the policeman who was leading her to a cell.

He told her. The woman reached down in her stocking and pulled out a roll, $520 in all, and put up cash.

"The bird was right," said the court. Chanticleer himself kept silence.

Miss Teresa E. Bernholz has been teaching school in New York City for fifty years and today the school of which she is principal is considered one of the best in the city.

PUBLIC FORUM

EASTLAND COUNTY SHOULD BE SEPARATE DISTRICT

To the Public: If elected, to the legislature on July 16th next, I would favor a representative district for Eastland county. The population of Eastland county is sufficient to permit the One hundred and eighth representative district to remain as it now exists, composed of Eastland and Callahan counties, after Eastland county has been created into a representative district. Callahan county does not desire to change its political alignment and prefers to remain attached to Eastland county in a form of the One hundred and eighth district. This will give Eastland county two representatives in the legislature, one selected from their own political sub-division, the other from Eastland and Callahan counties. And their population and voting strength is such that they could elect both representatives. Callahan county has nothing in common with the people of Brown county, which now composes the One hundred and tenth district, not being in their Senatorial district, or otherwise commercially or socially close to that county. To create Eastland county into a separate representative district and leave Callahan county attached to them as at present, making the One hundred and eighth district, gives Eastland county what she is entitled to in a political way; similar to the conditions prevailing in Dallas county; for instance, Dallas county has four representatives, the fourth composed of Dallas and Rockwall county.

Should the re-districting bill pass at the present call of the legislature and Eastland county be created into a separate representative district, and the governor should call another special session of the legislature, it would be very little expense to the people of Eastland county to hold an election to elect a representative for Eastland district; in the meantime, should the One hundred and eighth district remain unchanged, they would have representation through the members of the legislature from that district. I think the people of Eastland county are entitled to this information before casting their ballots on next Saturday, and if elected, I promise to carry out, if possible, the above program.

CREAM PUFF SUCCESSOR TO COCKTAIL, SAYS CATERER

CHICAGO, July 11.—The absence of the cocktail is held responsible for man's changing palate. Gilbert Cowan, president of the American Caterers' association, says man is beginning to show a strange penchant for fruit pies, French pasty, salads and cream puffs. He added:

"Never before in the history of the world have men's palates been so sensitive and particular. Food must be better prepared, more carefully spiced and of better quality. There are no more appetizing cocktails, you know."

FIFTY PRIZE STEERS OFF TO ENGLAND AS PIONEERS OF EXPORT BEEF TRADE

MONARCH OF THE PASTURE

EDMONTON, ALA.—Alberta's fifty best steers, including prize winners at the Chicago, Guelph and Brandon shows will be shipped to England by the Provincial Department of Agriculture as Western Canada's answer to the British challenge that Canadian beef is inferior to English beef.

FRENCH BRIDE WONDERS WHY POLICE HOLD HER CONVICT-HERO HUSBAND

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—Le Roy Bergere, 29 years old, war hero and a former convict, according to the police, is a prisoner today at Police Headquarters, while his little French bride of 21 years, whom he wooed and won in a whirlwind courtship while the fleet to which he was attached, was preparing to leave Brest, sits in her two-room flat at 2517 Blair avenue, puzzled as to why the detectives want to keep him from her.

The police do not doubt that Bergere made a good husband for the French girl, but they are anxious to question him concerning jewelry found on his possession, and to also ask him why he left town five years ago while under bond to answer charges of larceny.

Bergere says the police have him all wrong. The past has been buried, he says, and his pretty Clarice has shown him the errors of his way.

The little wife doesn't understand the American customs. She cannot speak or read English, and no influence in the world could bring her to believe that Bergere ever was a bad man. "He couldn't be. He loves me so well," she said in talking about him.

If Bergere has gone back to his old life there is nothing about his two-room flat to indicate it, and no one has come forward to stamp the prisoner as an associate of underworld types.

On the contrary, the neighbors say, he has been a typical "home man" and was constantly with his family.

When Bergere was taken in custody yesterday there was not a morsel of food in his scrupulously clean home. For a month he had tried to NEWNHAM IN NORTH. Street Commissioner M. R. Newnham is in Detroit, Mich., on business for the Oilbelt Motor company.

Mrs. Edna Fink who was operated on by Dr. Wilson several days ago has recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital.

Mrs. J. E. T. Peters and children left today for Fort Worth for a week's visit with friends.

MISS RUTH FLEMING left this morning for a visit with friends in Sherman.

CHARLES P. SATTERWHITE OF Breckwalker and Miss Antonette Meyer of St. Louis were married yesterday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. J. W. McKinney, Rev. Mr. McKinney officiating.

Mrs. Guy Duprest of Austin, formerly Miss Chastain of Eastland, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. M. H. Hagaman.

Mrs. W. H. Coker is in New York to purchase ball millinery for the millinery department of the S. & H. store.

Miss Minnie Hirsch is the guest of Mrs. S. H. Cohen in Cooper addition. Miss Hirsch is a recent graduate of example to others in the hospital. Edna said nothing throughout all this, but as she turned to leave the court room she walked right into the outstretched arms of a smiling young woman, who cried out joyfully:

"Hello, Edna dear!" "Rose Reilly!" exclaimed Edna. And Rose's arms encircled her own long lost dress as she kissed "poor Edna" with real enthusiasm.

There is nothing "vampy" about Edna, but she sure has winning ways.

In such straitened circumstances was the family that they were preparing to leave their rooms owing to inability to pay the $5.50 weekly rental, but yesterday the aged landlady visited the little bride and told her she might stay, and that she need not worry about being behind in her payments.

Clarice Martain Bergere, the prisoner's bride was one of three daughters of a farmer living near Brest, when Bergere, spick and span in his sailor's uniform, began his courtship in a few days they were married and the husband later obtained permission to bring his bride to this country.

The Chief of Detectives, learning of the condition at the Bergere home, expressed his sympathy for the bride, but the husband will have to remain in custody several days to do a lot of explaining.

EDNA OUT-VAMPED THE VAMPIRES AND SHE HAD OH, SUCH TAKING WAYS

NEW YORK, July 12.—There is nothing about little Edna R. Wilsey to suggest the "vamp." She'll tell you frankly she has actually "taken" things and she is going to admit to Judge Talley in general sessions today that she stole a dress and some money from Rose Reilly, a girl friend when they were both student nurses in Ward's Island hospital last June.

That's why she is in the Tombs now. But the point is this—in spite of her dishonesty and her honesty in admitting it, Edna recently established a record for winning hearts that puts the average modern "vamp" about on a par with the Witch of Endor.

Edna is 18, slender and not tall. Her hair is brown and soft and her big blue eyes look at you directly and easily, without the slightest trace of sex consciousness, until you get that "poor-little-girl-wish-I-could-do-something-for-you" feeling.

Detectives John Cunliff and Edward Rayens, who brought Edna here from Bath, N. Y., yesterday, gave up trying to describe her and just spread out their collection of pictures of "Famous Beauties Who Have Gone Astray," with the remark, "Look 'em over. Nice, eh? Well, they're all toothless hags compared to this poor little girl."

And now we have Edna in court before Judge Talley, who held her in $1,000 bail, reluctantly. Supt. Hyman admits he does not want to punish Edna, but must "carry on" as an

EX-COTTON AND CORN FARMER SHOWS WAY TO FARMING SUCCESS

A basket of cantaloupes, as attractive in appearance, and as appetizing as to flavor as one could hope to find, was the gift brought to the Times yesterday by C. Q. Davis, old-time farmer of this section. Mr. Davis was frankly pleased with his output, as an indication of what can be done around Ranger, if other farmers will but follow his lead.

"I was a cotton and corn farmer for years and knew nothing of truck-raising," he told the Times. "Then when the oil came I lived over near Weatherford for a year or so, and learned their method of raising melons and cantaloupes. When I moved back here, I tried it out. I have as fine watermelons as one can find anywhere, and from a little less than an acre I have hauled two wagon-loads of cantaloupes a day for the last ten days. There are lots of them left, too."

As a truck raising country, the Ranger section is unsurpassed, in the opinion of Mr. Davis. He holds it far ahead of the Weatherford country—which has obtained a tremendous amount of publicity through its success as raising melons—because the land is "cleaner" here. There is little of the Johnson grass which is scattered over Parker county and it has not been settled nearly so long, so plants are not so subject to infections.

LAY YER HAND DOWN FLAT! WARREN G. WINS IN MATCHING CONTEST

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Apparent light-heartedness prevailed at the big round table in the senate restaurant, when President Harding and his "pals" gathered for a noontide bite as in former days. None of the customary formula was omitted, even to matching a coin to decide who should pay the entire check. In this the president escaped with ease, Senator Wadsworth being "stuck."

President Harding made it a point to dine with those whom he smilingly called the "old crowd." President Harding, the first president to come from the senate, was the first president thus to honor the restaurant.

The senators at the round table with him were: Lodge (on the president's left), Knox (on his right), Wadsworth, Spencer, Hale, Harrold, Brandegee, Frelinghuysen, Kellogg, Moses, Watson of Indiana, McKinley, Sterling and McNary. Each senator was supposed to settle his own check unless lucky enough to "match" out of it. Fifty minutes was devoted to the luncheon. The party ended when somebody in the senate raised the point of "no quorum." All the senators had to hustle upstairs and answer to their names.

HEAT FORCES CHICAGO FOUNDRY TO SHUT DOWN

CHICAGO, July 11.—Excessive heat today forced the closing down of eight of the shops and foundries of Crane company, giving 5,000 workers an enforced vacation. J. B. Berryman, an official of the company, said that it was impossible for the workmen to withstand the super heated foundries.

A campaign in the interest of motherhood and against the ill-effects alleged to result from girls going in for athletics has been started in London.

Mrs. Pearl Maddox has been re-elected mayor of Archer, Fla., by an overwhelming majority.

EXCAVATION IS COMPLETED FOR HUNT ST. BRIDGE

Excavations are completed for the Hunt street bridge on the Bankhead highway and concrete will be poured shortly. The bridge, through an agreement reached between the county and city, will be forty feet in width and five feet on either side of the roadway will be raised for sidewalks. The bridge will have concrete slab railings instead of the regulation pipe. This, it is thought, will add to its beauty. To care for the traffic, the city has erected a temporary crossing at the point where the bridge is being constructed.

With its completion all the bridges of the Thurber road from Ranger to the creek near Thurber will have been completed. The Russell creek bridge is in and probably will be ready for traffic by July 14.

'DON'T TANK UP ON CABBAGE,' PRE-SMOKER ADVICE TO SHRINERS

The Ranger Shrine club meets Wednesday night at Masonic hall for a smoker. Refreshments decided upon by the entertainment committee will be barbecued beef and "keggies" and J. W. Elliott, chairman of the committee unofficially advises that if members tank up on corned beef and cabbage before coming, they will have no one to blame but themselves.

Arrangements for the Shrine dance, to be held Friday night at Shamrock pavilion, will be perfected. Large delegations from out of town are expected at this dance.

The Leon Lake club proposition and the proposed oil belt Shrine picnic, in which Breckenridge, Cisco, Eastland, Strawn and Ranger will join, also will be discussed.

LAWN PARTY THURSDAY NIGHT, COOPER SCHOOL

There will be an ice cream social and lawn party at Cooper school campus Thursday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Fortune telling and other entertainment features have been provided for the evening and there will be plenty of popcorn and candy for the younger generation. The party is given under the auspices of the Mothers' club of Cooper school and everyone is invited.

TWO BANKS AT CISCO TO BE CONSOLIDATED

CISCO, July 12.—The Guaranty State Bank & Trust company and the American National bank of this city will be consolidated as the result of a deal closed Monday. The consolidated banks, under the name of the Guaranty State Bank & Trust company, opened for business Tuesday in the quarters formerly occupied by this bank. The consolidation was made with the approval of the state commissioner of banking and insurance as a matter of better business. This consolidation gives the city three strong banks.

J. O. Sue and R. G. Powell of the American National will be associated with the new institution. Judge D. K. Scott is president, F. A. Blakenbecker and Grade Callaway, vice presidents, and A. J. Wisdom cashier of the Guaranty State Bank & Trust company.

AUSTIN.—The following officers have been elected by the Texas State Rifle association, which recently completed its annual shoot: President, J. O. Miller, San Antonio; vice president, G. W. Brock, Lockhart; secretary, L. L. Cline, San Antonio; executive officer, J. F. Callan, Austin; and treasurer, Charles McClellan, Austin.

COBBLER JONATHAN EXPLAINS WHEREFORES OF SUBLIME JOY

The reporter craved a little of that human companionship that is only found among men who work fairly long hours at tasks devoid of conversation. Such men though they perhaps never passed beyond the red school house stage think out deep, homely truths that escape other men. And at times their philosophy goes deeper than that of the students. The reporter is a seeker after truth and will sit at the feet of those from whom he can learn. So craving companionship different from that found in his daily affairs, he stopped by the tiny little shop of Jonathan McGuffey, the cobbler.

Jonathan, who is a little stooped from bending over his last, was putting the final touch to a tap—the oldest Williams girl's shoe. He said that it was the Williams girl's shoe and then added that he feared that all was not well with the finances of the Williams. Jonathan paused a moment and his pipe began to belch its acid fumes. "The Williams" he continued, "used to send me all their shoes to be soled. Then all came and they sent them no more. They are sending them again now."

No Malice. There was no envy or malice in his voice, only regret for a situation that brought a family again down almost to his level. Jonathan is like that.

"She has learned a trade," meaning the owner of the shoe upon which he was carefully putting the finishing touches by running the edge of the soul with ink. "She is a stenographer in an office. Always she laughs with her eyes. She reminds me of ten years ago. It was in the moonlight. A girl with laughing eyes kissed me goodbye. The winds came from the south and the perfume of the night they brought was sweet but the fragrance of her hair was sweeter. Jonathan McGuffey," she said as she placed her soft arms around my neck, "I love you." "And I love you, too," I told her as I kissed her moist warm lips.

"It has been ten years ago but I met her the other day on the street. Where there had been a slip of a girl there was considerable woman, but the laughing eyes were there. She had her little daughter with her. You see, she was married the next week, and as far as I know has been happy ever since. It wasn't long after that, that I was married, too.

Moonlight. "The girl of the laughing eyes and I were not in love, but we were in love with the night. Moonlight, soft winds, flowers close by and the emotions of a boy and girl who are alone in this arcadian setting. The very nearness of each other draws them together and they imagine they feel the grand passion. They exchange vows and kisses as boys and girls have done since time began. Then perhaps marriage all because they fall in love with the witchery of the moonlight and its aids. Of course, after that in many instances divorcees follow. But I would not have it changed. Sublime happiness is only momentary and if one has it one must take it where it can be found and there is no greater moments of happiness than the closeness of a girl under a summer moon.

"Even yet I have not forgotten the kiss of the laughing eyes," Jonathan finished his talking, his pipe

LOST A WATCH?

Constable R. L. Faircloth is seeking the owner of a seven-jeweled Elgin woman's wrist watch which had been stolen, and recovered by him. The watch has "T. B. H." engraved on its back. It was found when the officers raided a place seeking some stolen goods thought to be the possession of two boys. No arrests were made.

FRENCH OFFICER SLAIN BY GERMAN IN SILESIA

PARIS, July 11.—A parliamentary group known as "Friends of Poland" called upon Premier Briand today and demanded the imposition of penalties upon Germany for the killing of a French major during an outbreak of disorders at Beuthen, Upper Silesia, on Tuesday.

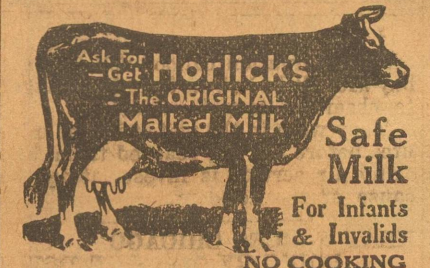

The French officer was killed by a German volunteer, according to the version received here.

41 CHICAGOANS KILLED THEMSELVES IN JUNE

CHICAGO, July 11.—June, the month of brides, is also the month of suicides. Statistics from Coroner Hoffman's office revealed today that forty-one Chicagoans ended their lives last month. The average is thirty-three for other months.

The coroner believes that hot weather is partly responsible for it. He is of the opinion that June heat low eye vitality and discourages persons with difficult problems.

Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney is, perhaps, the best known of the very few women who own racing stables.
