WASHINGTON, July 22.—At the request of Governor Harding, the federal reserve board, Senator McLean of Connecticut today introduced a resolution for a senate investigation of the board and of the office of the comptroller of the currency.

"ABSOLUTE FALSEHOOD" ARMY MAN'S REPLY TO MRS. BERGDOLL'S CHARGE

WASHINGTON, July 22.—"My answer to Mrs. Bergdoll's charges that I demanded $100,000 from her, and that I obtained $500,000 to obtain her son's release, is that it is false in every particular," Major Bruce Campbell stated before the house Bergdoll committee today.

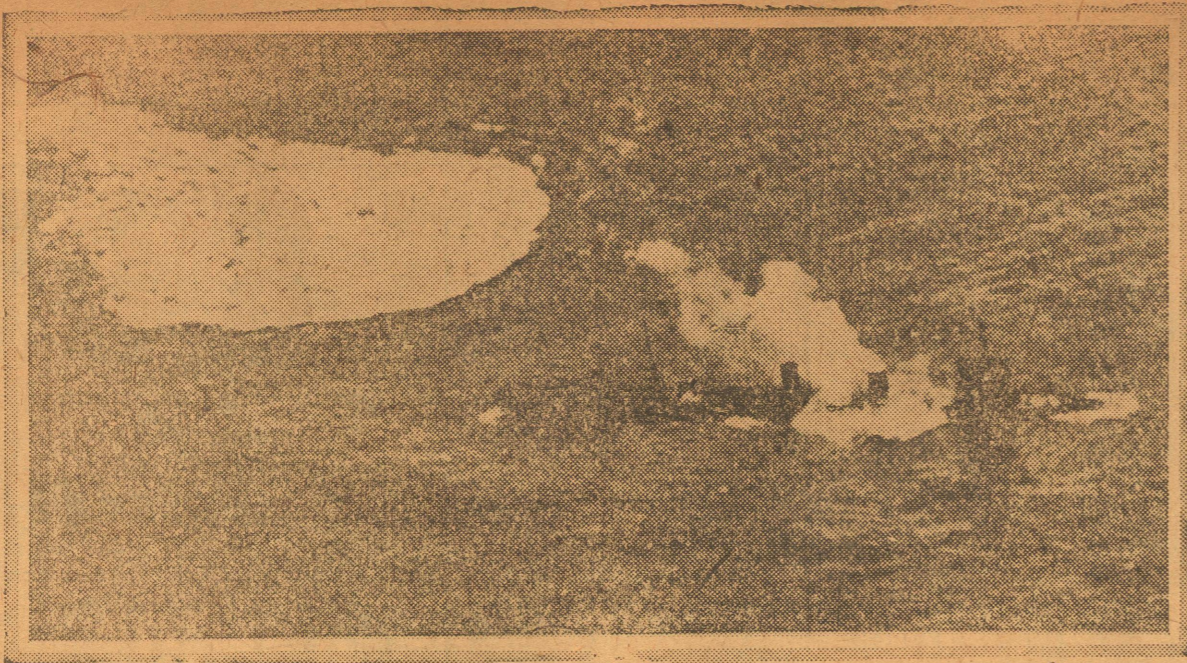

TWO FACE CHARGE OF TAKING TEE PEE PIPE

Charged with stealing thirty-eight joints of two-inch line pipe from the B. J. Jennings lease of the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company, C. F. Portlock and Jesse L. Melton yesterday made bond for $500 each. Examining trial was waived. The bonds were set by Justice of the Peace McFatter.

Army Airplanes Sink German Destroyer With Bombs

This photograph, made from a Navy observation dirigible, shows the former German destroyer G-102 sinking eighty miles off the coast of Virginia, after having been struck by bombs dropped from U. S. Army planes. One bomb, according to reports of observers, went down one of the smokestacks of the former German warship. The G-102 sank twenty minutes after the attack began.

YOUTH PLEADS GUILTY TO MURDER AND GETS LIFE IMPRISONMENT

WICHITA FALLS, July 22.—Dan Bennett, aged 17, plead guilty to a murder charge in the Thirtieth district court here. He was sentenced to life imprisonment. The sentence was agreed upon by the attorneys on condition that Bennett plead guilty, otherwise the death penalty would have been asked.

Bennett was charged with murder in connection with the death of George Gentry, aged 54, a bachelor, which took place on May 17, 1921. Gentry was knocked in the head with an eighteen-inch bolt, and robbed of about $420. Bennett was apprehended here about two weeks later.

MAN EATS MELON HE POISONED FOR THIEVES

CORSICANA, July 22.—Dr. I. J. Kyser of the Powell community, seven miles east of here, to protect his watermelon patch from intruders, put poison in a number of melons. Later he went into the patch to get a melon for his own use and by mistake got one into which he had injected poison and was made very ill by eating of the fruit.

No other member of the family ate any of the melon, but Dr. Kyser was confined to his bed for two days.

NEFF'S FRIENDS SEEK TO AID PET MEASURES

AUSTIN, July 22.—Friends of Governor Pat M. Neff, and proponents of the measures which he has championed, are caucusing tonight, with the purpose of laying out plans for the prosecution of the Governor's legislative program. It may be that the caucus will decide upon a bold movement and go into the fray tomorrow with a militant offense against his foes in the Legislature.

At least that is the hope of Representative Murphy of Houston, who, with Representative Morris of Medina, have prepared a resolution asking the House to go on record as standing behind the Governor in his entire program.

This is in direct contravention of what appears to be the hope of most of the members. The Senate today, by refusing to pass the Burkett resolution, virtually declared quits, apparently satisfied with what has happened. The House will have before it in the morning the Bonham resolution for an investigation to be conducted by eight legislators—three from the Senate and five from the House.

FREIGHT WRECK IS FATAL TO TWO MEN

ATLANTA, Ga., July 22.—One known dead, another dead, thought buried in the wreckage, and a third seriously injured, is the result of a freight derailment on the Southern railway between Atlanta and Birmingham today.

CLEANUP MADE ON 1919 SERIES SAYS WITNESS

CHICAGO, Ill., July 22.—"Sure thing" gamblers reaped a harvest by betting on the fake 1919 world series, according to testimony in the "Black Sox" trial today.

John O. SAYS, secretary of the Chicago Cubs, was the first witness against the seven former White Sox on trial for conspiracy to throw the games.

SAYS stated he had known Louis Levi, one of the four alleged gamblers on trial, for ten to fifteen years.

HERMAN WILL TRY TO REGAIN DIADEM LYNCH LIFTED FROM HIS DOME

NEW YORK, July 22.—Joe Lynch, the world's bantam-weight champion will give Pete Herman a chance to regain his title on July 25. These two fighters will do their scrapping within the confines of the Brooklyn baseball park under the auspices of the International Sporting club.

This battle should be a hummer. When Lynch dethroned Herman, he amazed the crowd by his wonderful generalship and hitting. He forced Herman to fight his way and in this manner never gave Herman a chance to defend his honors successfully. Still, in this fight, Herman, at times showed that he was of championship calibre. There was a flash of prominence in the opening round and the tenth. In the other periods Lynch was always in command.

After the fight Herman and his friends claimed that he was stale on account of a long lay-off. They don't detract from Lynch's showing, but simply excused the former title holder as best they could. They neglected to add, however, that a stiff right hook that Lynch used on several occasions had a terrible effect in slowing up the slipping champion. They clamored for a return match and now they will have their opportunity.

Since he won the championship, Lynch has engaged in a few fights, but failed to display the class he showed the evening he was crowned king. This can easily be explained by the fact that he fought lads that weren't really dangerous and it was not necessary for him to train too zealously. For the coming fight with Herman you can bet the family jewels Joseph will be in the well known pink. He is at present doing work for the fray and when he is informed of the exact date will start strenuous training.

Herman is on the high class seas, and will arrive here very shortly. As he crosses the bounding billows he will keep in shape by daily work in an improvised ring. He will build up his wind by running around the deck. This is the system he used when he went abroad to fight Jimmy Wilde, and when he managed to knock out the little Britisher, it simply proved that training on the ocean is O. K.

CISCO EX-J. P. BEATEN; CHARGES OF AGGRAVATED ASSAULT AGAINST THREE

Accused of beating Z. M. Taylor, ex-justice of the peace, with guns, at Cisco, kicking him and otherwise beating him, Mark Stamps, Luther Bowder and J. T. Stamps, all of Cisco were yesterday charged with aggravated assault and their examining trials set for Saturday, according to Assistant County Attorney Barnes who was in Ranger yesterday. Stamps is connected with a bank in Cisco and the fight is said to have arisen both from some banking deal and over a woman. Mr. Barnes will return to Cisco Saturday to be present at the examining trial.

The fight occurred Wednesday night. Yesterday morning Stamps appeared before a justice of the peace and paid a fine for fighting. Later in the day the assault charges were filed.

SLEEPIN' WAS GOOD BUT AS TO FISHER—

Raymond Teal and W. R. Fleming returned yesterday from a four-day trip on the Concho river, fishing and camping out. Neither of them has yet told a fish story. Mr. Teal, when approached on the matter of fish, expounds at great length on the beauties of nature along the Concho but when pressed as to fish, stated that they had more than they wanted. In the same breath he will add that it is against his principles to catch more fish than one can consume.

But the sleeping—that was another matter, and evidently was enjoyed at great length by both gentlemen.

The trip both ways was made in Mr. Fleming's car. While on the river they were in camp with a party that is there for the summer months.

VENUS ATTEMPTS COME-BACK RIGHT BEFORE BEACH CENSORS

Fair Bather Who Appeared to Wear Only a Dimple, Charged With Disorderly Conduct, Obstructing Traffic, Impersonating Fish and Indecent Exposure.

NEW YORK, July 22.—It cost Venus $25 yesterday to rise from the sea at Long Beach and it almost cost many of the 300,000 who visited that resort their sight.

The attempt of the bold goddess to do a comeback in these days of Vestead acts, blue laws and beach censors was staged at the height of the bathing hour. The reincarnation of Aphrodite was Miss Edna Wheaton, a guest at one of the hotels. She went into the water wrapped in a cloaklike garment, tossed it to a companion and dived. Up to this point no one had paid any attention to her.

In a few minutes no one was paying attention to anything else. Miss Wheaton waded in out of the deep water and only those close to her realized she was wearing anything at all. At a distance of fifty feet and more the apparition appeared to be a young woman becomingly attired in nothing.

Way for the Cops. It appeared thus to Patrolman Monahan, who was about 100 yards away, and he scattered gasping women and pop-eyed men out of his way as he dashed to the water's edge. A closeup revealed that the bather was wearing a one-piece flesh colored bathing suit that did not do a dimple in her chin. The policeman stood in front of her, making ineffectual sounds in his throat, while she posed gracefully, waiting to see what would happen next.

When he recovered his speech, the policeman informed the bather that she was under arrest. She laughed, donned the discarded cloak, went to a bath house, dressed and then walked to the office of Justice of the Peace Neu, where she cheerfully paid a fine of $25 for her short but exciting appearance.

Four Little Brothers. Nine other young women were arrested for refusing to take seriously the beach regulations as to clothing, but a large number got by with a great deal because of the dense crowd. Denied the right to mackennett in one-piece suits, most of the girls seemed to have borrowed their brothers' two-piece jersey outfits. So far as could be learned, no objection was raised to this by the authorities, and the brothers' protest was lost in the crowd.

Chief of Police Tracey declared last night that yesterday was the biggest day Long Beach had ever had. He seemed particularly pleased that no couples had danced on the beach and no "cand lizards" sunned themselves and flirted. The chief was so happy that he had no heart to ask him how any one could dance on a beach as densely packed as the one that spread out before them.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 21.—Miss Jennie Fellers, 40, of Humboldt, Neb., was awarded $17,000 damages in her suit for breach of promise against Louis Henry Howe, 45, also of Humboldt, by the state supreme court.

Miss Fellers claimed she had waited twenty-two years for Howe on his promise to marry her.

BIB FALK'S HOME RUN IN FOURTEENTH WINS GAME FOR RED FABER

CHICAGO, July 22.—Bib Falk, the Texas collegian, today drove the ball into the right field bleachers and gave Faber his twentieth victory of the season, when Chicago won from Philadelphia, 2 to 1, in fourteen innings.

SMALL BOY IN TROUBLE IS NOW UNDER SENTENCE

Jim Winingham, who is under the delinquent age was arrested this morning and charged with stealing two packs of cigarettes and three cigars, total value 60 cents, from the store of Lon Childress on Marston street. The goods are said to have been found on the boy when searched. Young Winingham said, however, that he intended to pay but was not given time.

The boy is under a two-year suspended delinquency sentence at this time for being implicated in the robbing of the cash register of the Burton-Lingo Lumber company several months ago. The sentence was imposed by Judge Jones of the county court-at-law. The charge filed today, it is said, automatically lifts the suspended sentence, if it can be sustained.

HARDING'S SIDE CRUSH ON HIS 'FO' GALLON HAT' SCANDALIZES PUNCHERS

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 22.—"Gosh, he's wearing it all wrong." "I dunno maybe we're wrong and he's wearing it right."

These and other comments buzzed among the cowpunchers who are fast assembling at Cheyenne preparatory to frontier days, when the first photograph of President Harding wearing the Stetson hat, sent him as an invitation to the great cowboy sports, arrived here today.

The picture showed the president with the "four-gallon lid" dented on the side, and, claim the cowpunchers, it is never, never worn that way now! It should have just one dent, and that in the front. Notin' else "ain't stylish" in the cow country, and the presidential faux pas has created a mild scandal among the "hands."

"Huh," said one of them today, "yuh mighta thought Senator Warren would have told him. He sure knows."

FAMILY ESCAPES IN 300 FOOT PLUNGE OF AUTO

"Well, said Miss Wyoming," otherwise known as Miss Helen Bonham, who supervised the shipment of the hat to Washington, "I certainly had it dented right when it left here, but did you ever think that maybe the president likes it the way he has it in the picture?"

SALT LAKE CITY, July 22.—No serious results are likely to be felt by Mrs. W. A. Parkin and three small children who plunged down a 300-foot embankment in a driverless automobile.

Although the machine looped the loop when it struck the opposite side of the embankment, the occupants were only scratched and bruised.

Chicago society women now play tennis in bathing costume.

WAS ADVICE WASTED?

The "pass the appropriation bills and then go home" advice handed to members of the legislative houses by their presiding officers seems to have met the fate advice usually does.

Presumably the legislature will settle down to business some day and possibly will jam the appropriation bills through before the final adjournment is taken.

HARDING TAKES HIS JOB TOO SERIOUSLY, IS COMPLAINT OF FORMER COMRADES IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, July 22.—An editor can afford to be temperamental and may, to a very large extent, indulge his own individual tastes. So can a Senator of the United States.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—For killing Albert J. Byrd, a world war veteran who had confessed to breaking up his home, William E. Goetz received the thanks of a coroner's jury and was freed Sunday from all responsibility on the ground of self-defense.

Despite vigorous attempts by state's attorney, J. Wilson Ryan to bring about the holding of Goetz for the grand jury, the twelve residents of Seal Pleasant, Md., a Washington suburb who constituted the coroner's jury exonerated their fellow townsman and warmly congratulated him.

The jury men explained Sunday that the testimony which influenced them most was that of Detective J. Franklin Watts, who told of having overheard a conversation between Byrd and Mrs. Goetz in Nashville, Tenn., about "getting the woman's husband."

Goetz charges that his wife was guilty of repeated acts of misconduct with Byrd in his suburban home here and in Nashville.

Detectives hired by him to obtain evidence used in a divorce proceeding told Goetz that Byrd was planning a visit to Washington to kill him, according to his statement.

When Byrd presented himself as predicted, Goetz, because of his own fears and the report of detectives, armed himself and went to the front window of his home.

Byrd fired at him through the window and when the shots were returned Byrd fell with a bullet through his abdomen.

Before he could fire again, he fell unconscious from his wound and was removed to a local hospital, where he died after saying: "Don't blame her. It was all my fault."

But the relentless law was less merciful than the dying paramour and did blame Mrs. Goetz to the extent of granting her husband an absolute divorce and taking her five children away from her.

Mrs. Goetz has announced her intention of going into the movies.

More than 6,000 women employees of one of the largest insurance companies in the United States have been ordered to let their hair grow or lose their positions.

OPEN SAFETY PIN TAKEN FROM STOMACH OF BABY

IT SURELY WAS ONE LUCKY DAY FOR TEXAS MAN

"I never had much faith in medicines but Tanlac has convinced me that there is one, at least, that does what they say it will do," said Harry Davidson, well-known wood-carver and designer living at 217 East Ninth st., Houston Heights, Texas.

"I certainly would be hard to please if I wasn't satisfied with what Tanlac did for me. I was run down for a year and was mighty nervous all the time. At times my head ached so bad I could hardly stand it and I was awfully bilious and constipated. I got to where I could scarcely do my work and began to be alarmed for fear I would have to quit altogether."

"It certainly was a lucky day for me when a friend dropped in and advised me to take Tanlac. This medicine suited my case exactly and I believe reached every nerve and muscle in my body. My whole system just feels like it had been made over again, and it has been many a day since I was as full of life and energy as I am now. After what it has done for me I am convinced that it is just the thing for folks in a weak and run-down condition, for there is something about it that builds a man up and makes him feel fine."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by Palace Drug Store.—Adv.

The Poor Inventor! The originator of an idea has wasted his time unless he is able to interest some one else in his creation—unless that someone else can enjoy it or benefit by it. It is because thoughts are so freely radiated—so easily exchanged and spread broadcast—that this country is a fine place to live in. Consider the advertisements in this paper. They are thoughts. Many of them are thoughts conceived with you in mind—thoughts for your comfort—your pleasure—your health—your satisfaction. Thoughts that will save you time and money. DOG HILL PARAGRAPHS By GEORGE BINGHAM.

Yam Sims was thrown from his mule and considerably skinned up Wednesday. Some believe it was done intentionally as he has a brand new accident policy.

A big moonlight picnic was given at the home of Miss Peachie Sims Tuesday night of this week.

The dog fight, which took place in the street in front of the store at Bounding Billows, proved to be one of the sporting events of the season, and held the audience spellbound. It could not be learned how the trouble started.

MAN CHARGED WITH BURGLARY GETS AWAY FROM CITY OFFICIALS

Justice of the Peace Roger Fenzlaw had much faith in human nature until yesterday when he left a man charged with burglary alone in an empty room and the door unlocked.

He went back a short time later and the man, A. R. Petman, by name, was gone and left no further address.

Petman was one of two men captured Tuesday in the yard at the Drury home by several citizens of Young addition.

C. C. Hamilton, deputy constable, brought the two men before the court and went away. The judge, wishing a private interview with Johnson, took Petman down the hall from his office and left him.

CONNIE MACK HAS DESPAIRED OF WINNING FLAG THIS YEAR

Hughey and Tyrus R. Are Going Good With Giants and Tigers.

Al Spink in Cincinnati Enquirer. There have already been many disappointments and successes in baseball this year. Two of the successes are being scored by Ty Cobb and Hugh Jennings, of last year's Detroit team. Cobb has not only proved himself a good manager, but his general play has improved over that of last year and he is now hitting and fielding with his old wonderful skill and vigor.

letics back to life, to the place they once held early and often at the head of the column. It was last fall that Connie got to thinking that he had at last assembled a playing team that would sure enough register something good this year. Last fall his nine showed wonderful work practice. At that time virtually every day an Athletic player performed some unexpected batting thrill. Both Tilly Walker and Frank Welsh drove the ball over the left field into Somerset street. Prior to then only twice was this feat performed. Thus the Macks were so often doing the unexpected and performing such amazing batting feats that they provided a lot of thrills for the fans, and the edge was taken off their defeats. Connie Mack is not lamenting fate either. When asked about his team in Chicago recently he said, he was entirely satisfied with the showing of his men and that he did not contemplate making any vital changes. Connie's attitude was that his players were showing so much good work even in defeats that they were bound to start winning. There are some people predicting that the Chicago Cubs will come away this year and win a pennant as the Boston Braves did in 1914. This is due to the two victories the Cubs scored over the leading Pittsburgh team in a single day, a performance that surprised a lot of people. The Boston Braves were managed by George Stallings in 1914, but Johnny Evers, now manager of the Cubs, was then the captain and chief hustler of the Braves. In the 1914 year the Braves seemed out of the race, just as the Cubs appear to some of the pessimists now, but in the last three months of the campaign they came away and not only won the National league flag, but also captured the world series from the seemingly invincible Athletics, and won the series, too, in four straight games.

SWATTERS AND BRONCS DECIDE WINNER 23RD

ABILENE, July 22.—Preparations are being made at Abilene to handle the largest baseball crowd in the history of that section when San Angelo and Sweetwater meet Saturday in a game to decide the winners of the first half of the West Texas league season. Special trains are to be run from Sweetwater and San Angelo to Abilene, and it is expected that several thousand West Texas fans will see the playoff. Abilene and Ballinger, the other league members will have an off day and the players plan to see the game. Only players under contract July 8 will be eligible for the playoff, it was decided at a meeting of the league, recently in Ballinger. Sweetwater's eligibles for the game are: Manager Earl Fleharty, Walter Word, Murry Riechburg and Zapalac, pitchers; William Byers, catcher; Rodney, infielder and relief pitcher; Homer Ezell, shortstop; Paul Obst, second base; Fred Pipkin, first base; Edgar Neely, center field; Hubert Mason, right field; Jimmy Thrash, left field. San Angelo's players are: Luke Robinson, left fielder and field manager; Ludlow Kelly, catcher; R. H. McKay, first base; Frank Truesdale, second base; C. S. McKay, first base; Jim Scoggins, shortstop; O. L. C. Williamson, center field; Grady Higginbotham, right field and relief pitcher; Leo Weber, Walter Burleson, Herbert Hill, Fred Baugh and Akard Cruse, pitchers. Scoggins may not be able to play. He was injured two weeks ago.

ENGLAND'S BEST BET

The invading English university students are panking on H. B. Stallard as a sure winner of the one-mile run. Stallard is capable of running the mile in 4:15, and if he is able to repeat on this side of the ocean it will be hard to find a man to beat him.

INDIANS PULL YANKEES FROM TOP OF HEAP

CLEVELAND, July 22.—Cleveland swamped New York yesterday under a fusillade of base hits, winning the second game of the series and regaining top place in the American league pennant race by a score of 17 to 8. It was the widest contest played at League park this season. New York used four star hurlers in an effort to stop Chief Speaker and his Indians. Carl Mays, the underhand sensation; Jack Quinn, Ferguson and Rip Collins were sent to the mound at various times during the runaway by Manager Higgins of the Yankees. Another monster crowd watched the world's champions trim New York. Ruth slightly twisted his leg after grounding to Johnston in the first inning, but continued to play.

SHEFFIELD, Mass., July 22.—Mrs. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton, N. J., who has been dangerously ill for six weeks at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hamilton Gibson here, is now recovering. The Rev. Dr. Van Dyke hopes to be able to take her to their summer home in Maine by the end of July.

COLLECTION OF BASEBALL DATA GIVEN LIBRARY

"Wicked Balls" Were Slung Even in Handle-Bar Mustache Era.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The Spalding baseball collection is a notable addition to the reference works of the New York library. It was presented by the widow of the late Albert C. Spalding and was received from California only a few days ago. The collection is so bulky and of such varied material that at least two months will be required to catalogue it for public inspection. Included in the collection, which will be found most valuable for reference purposes are complete sets of all baseball guides—some of them dating back to the Civil war—old files of books, manuals, score books and other data gathered by the late Henry Chadwick, the "Father of Baseball"; the baseball correspondence of Harry Wright, Chadwick and Spalding; ancient and modern handbooks on the game by scores of authors, and a large number of team and individual photographs dating back to tintype days. Hereafter baseball fans are advised to save the postage they may otherwise waste on baseball experts. They can settle those bets and pursue their researches by consulting the authorities at the public library.

Random Selections. Here are a few of the things we noted in a two-hour ramble among the dusty volumes recently: A photograph of Sam Crane in all his pristine glory, including a waxed handle-bar mustache. Series of 1871. An explanation of the curve when it was called "Giving a bias to the ball." One of Cy Seymour's early press notices, beginning as follows: "Seymour pitched a whole game for the Giants yesterday and won it. This is a big event in the history of the Giants." The discovery of a guide of 1868 of a slang term we thought belonged to a later era. In writing of Charley Mills, a catcher on one of the New York professional teams, the scribe concludes: "When sure of his man on the bases, Charley 'throws a wicked ball.'"

The importance of the scorer in the old days. His position was marked on the diagram of the playing field, and he had to pass a more rigid examination than the umpire. The Chin Whiskers Era. The Spalding collection not only embraces every phase of baseball and completely outlines the history of the game but it covers many other branches of amateur and professional sports. There is a complete set of the Spalding Athletic Library, which was started by James E. Sullivan many years ago. Many volumes are devoted to cricket, these being part of

ENGLISH "PADDOCK" WHO WILL MEET AMERICAN COLLEGE SPRINTERS

H. M. Abrahams of Cambridge university, known as the "English Charley Paddock," who will meet the best sprinters Yale, Harvard, Cornell and Princeton can produce on July 23 and 28. He is considered the best sprinter in England today and will take part in the 100-yard dash and running broad jump. The Chadwick collection. The "Father of Baseball" was a cricket player as a boy, and his untiring efforts in the development of the old game of rounders was the greatest factor in building up the modern game of baseball.

The pictures are no less interesting than the records. From the Civil war to about twenty-five years ago the ball players hid their features behind flowing chin whiskers. There were no fast-action cameras in those days, so when a young man wanted to preserve his athletic prowess for posterity he rambled into a photograph gallery, donned his uniform and took position, with outstretched hands reaching toward the ball suspended from the ceiling by a string.

ABILENE, July 21.—While Gomez Hill kept the Bronchos' hits well scattered, the Eagles pounded Cox for twenty hits and fourteen runs. Right Fielder Hollis led the hitting rampage with a home run, a triple and a single out of five times up. Every man in the Eagle line-up with the exception of Hill got at least two hits and Hill got one.

SWEETWATER DEFEATS BALLINGER SEVEN-ONE

SWEETWATER, July 21.—Ballinger was helpless today before the slants of Word and were downed by the Swatters, 7 to 1. Three hits, one of which was decidedly scratchy, were all that the Bearcats were able to make, and five Cats went out by the strike-out route. Aside from Word's brilliant pitching, the hitting of Mason and Neely featured the contest. Umpire Aiken chased Manager Smith of Ballinger for disputing a strike in the sixth.

NAME NOT 'SY-KOTTY' NOR 'SICK-O-TY' SAYS CICOTTE BUT 'SEE-COTT'

CHICAGO, July 22.—At least one point already has been settled in the baseball trial. That is the proper way to pronounce the name of Eddie Cicotte, former White Sox pitcher and one of the defendants. The matter came up during an argument in court over the confessions Cicotte, Jackson and Williams made to the grand jury last fall at the time of their indictment. James C. O'Brien, defense attorney, in arguing a point referred to her name "Sy-Kotty." Ben Short, another defense attorney, in supporting Mr. O'Brien, pronounced the former White Sox pitcher's name "SyKotty." Henry Berger, also of counsel for the defense, chimed in with a remark in which he referred to "Eddie Sick-O-Ty." That was too much for the little pitcher. Arising, he said to Judge Friend: "I beg your honor's pardon, but would you please have it entered in the court record that my name is Eddie V. Cicotte, pronounced See-Kott, with the accent on the See." "Let it be so entered," said Judge Friend to his clerk.

FENSLAND HEAD LOOKS FOR RELIEF TO OIL PRODUCERS IN SIX MONTHS

George Kelley in Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

"There already is some improvement in the oil business," says T. B. Hoffer, president of the Fensland Oil company, "and if we can have sixty days more of the campaign that is now under way for curtailing of production and discontinuing drilling, there will be an entirely different aspect to the whole industry."

Hoffer declared that the oil men themselves brought on the situation that has caused them so much uneasiness during the last six months and that still is being felt to some extent. In this connection, he pointed out that the so-called "little man" the wildcatter and the individual operators, were not the only offenders, but that this situation was brought about by a wild orgy of reckless drilling and a mad rush for big production.

"The surest and safest remedy for the present depressed condition is a continuation of the fight to cut down drilling to the minimum and for the curtailment of production," he said. "This is the shortest road to normalcy in the oil business."

Need of Curtailment.

Hoffer said the majority of the oil men are showing more optimism now than any time within several months, though a good many seem to feel some disappointment over the turn in the tariff proposition. He asserted all have come to the realization that production must be cut still lower and that there is a concerted effort in this direction.

"We have cut down our drilling operations in the Eastland and Stephens county district 90 per cent since Jan. 1," said Hoffer, "and every well that we are drilling today we were forced to bore because the offset regulations."

Hoffer expressed the opinion that the oil business suffered a more rapid depression than most other lines of business, but at the same time, stated it is his honest opinion that the industry is in no worse shape than many other lines of businesses and that it probably is in better condition than the cattle and farming industries of this section of the country.

Relief in Six Months.

He expressed the belief that within six months, there will be a big improvement in the value of oil properties, not only in settled producing properties and proven acreage, but also in good wildcat properties as well. He said that the oil industry was the last to start readjustment, that its readjustment had been more rapid than in other lines and that the industry, in all probability, would be the first to return to a normal state.

"I feel that the oil business has about hit a level now and that we soon will feel a tendency upward," he said. "I believe the improvement will be gradual, but substantial. The movement of the crude market is more of a guess than anything else, yet I believe we have every reason to look for some advancement, but I can't say just how soon nor how rapid. I think we will find that it will take longer to build up production than it did to bring it down."

'PIRATE SHIPS' RUM RUNNERS SAYS FEDERALS

By Associated Press
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 22.—Pirate yarns and reports of mysterious ships lurking along the trade lanes and dashing away into darkness when signaled by merchantmen may be explained by the discovery of "blockade runners" landing liquor on the Jersey coast, revenue agents here said today.

What revenue agents believe to be the explanation of the unusual actions of some ships on the high seas was brought about through the seizure of a cache of whisky said to have been landed along a cove near Wildwood, N. J., from an alleged "mystery ship."

For several days an unidentified steamer was seen maneuvering just outside the three-mile limit off Wildwood. Revenue cutters were sent to watch it. The vessel disappeared, but not before, officials think, it had discharged a cargo of whisky.

Prohibition officers declared today they were confident liquor smuggling was being conducted on a tremendous scale. Cargoes worth fortunes are believed to have been brought from foreign countries.

It is thought probable that the "blockade runners" have also transferred their illegal cargoes to vessels bearing authoritative clearance papers, so the liquor can be landed with other cargo. Instructed to meet the other vessels, the "runner" reaches the rendezvous, approaches various vessels and, failing to get the proper signals, hurries off to prevent discovery, the agent believes.

MODERN 49ERS SWARMING TO GOLDEN WEST

By United Press
PORTLAND, Ore., July 22.—Gone are the slow-moving vans, the moth-eaten wagons with their worse-moth-eaten steeds, the canvas-covered prairie schooners. The tourist of yesterday has been relegated to the limbo of oblivion with the advent of the flivver and the paved highway.

The modern gypsy is here! Portland is the clearing house for hundreds of tourists each day at this time of the year. And these tourists are in a class by themselves. California or Canada bound, they are pouring over the highways of the Northwest—an animated, good-natured, Goth-like hoard, roving of eye, cheerful of countenance, and amiable of disposition.

In vehicles of all sorts they come, from tearing cars with neatly arranged cases containing baggage to big lumberlike bodies mounted on "flivver" chassis, in which whole families live day in and day out, and from whose windows the ugger faces of children peer and from whose sides float stringloads of varicolored "wash."

No weather can deter them, no hardship can cast them down. They are out for a good time. Some parties have been on the road for months, others have just started. In the auto camp here license tags from as many as thirty states have mingled their colors and their combinations of numerals. Along the highways drifting smoke belcools the presence of campers along meandering creeks and beside cool rivers. They are going somewhere.

Where? They don't know. "We're seeing the country," they say. "We've worked hard for years and now we're taking our vacation. It's a great life."

It's no uncommon sight to see the puny radiator of a cheap car puffing steam through the water vent as the puny engine beneath the hood battles valiantly to hurry along a barn-like tonneau with a family of a dozen.

"The carmeraderie of it all! "Oh, dad, look, there's the people we saw near Yosemite," a youngster will cry.

"Hello, folks, haven't seen you since we pulled through Fourth of July canyon. How's tricks?" Or, "By George, we'd sure been out of luck if you folks hadn't loaned us that gasoline there in the desert."

The whole northwest is pervaded with the spirit of the modern gypsy. And here, where their Mecca seems to be, the long lines of them stretch back into the Middle Western plains, up into the mountains of Canada, or down into the rice bottoms of California.

"Make way for the migratory American," mutters the traffic cop, as he swings his semaphore to watch them chug past.

WELL AT ELIASVILLE MAKES TWO THOUSAND

ELIASVILLE, July 22.—J. P. Harris No. 3, on E. Milam lease, four miles south of Eliasville, came in last night. The royalty gauges reports the well making 2,000 barrels. This well is an offset to the W. P. Newell No. 3 of the Texas Pacific. The Kentucky Oil company D. G. Vick No. 2 will be drilled in tomorrow. It is expected by oil operators to be one of the big wells of the North Stephens field. Production in the Eliasville field is expected to be increased enormously within the next week with so many wells nearing completion.

FRANCE HAS BLUE LAW VILLAGE BUT THERE IS AN 'OFF-SETTER' NEAR

PARIS, July 21.—A "moral warfare" has broken out between Deauville, the summer social capital of luxury and extravagance, and Villiers, the tiny but exclusive resort two miles down the beach, where the "old aristocracy" is accustomed to spend the summer.

The municipal councillors of both towns have issued decrees governing the conduct of their visitors. The Deauville law givers have declared: "There are no restrictions on the public. There is absolute personal freedom in Deauville to wear what you like, eat and drink as much as you like, gamble as much as you like, and enjoy yourself."

The sterner councillors of Villiers decree: "No person will be permitted on the beach with more than four inches of bare skin showing anywhere on the person except the face."

"Men must wear at least six-inch skirts on their bathing suits and women must wear stockings."

"Bathers must not linger on the sands unless draped in a peignoir. "No excesses of any kind will be allowed anywhere and flirting on the beach is prohibited. Gambling and baccharat must be limited to not more than ten francs a throw."

Deauville Babylonism and Villiers purity question have already resulted in instances such as the arrest by the Villiers police of Gaby Martine, the musical comedy star, who ventured, unknowingly, over the boundary line in a one-piece bathing suit cut like an evening gown.

She was released after tearfully promising to stay in Deauville hereafter. As a result of this incident Villiers has drawn a "dead line" marking the "moral frontier" where a guardian of purity is stationed with a tape measure.
