RECOGNITION OF MEXICO NOW HELD LIKELY

Decision on Article 27 Paves Way for Settlement of Difficulties.

By United Press
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—Paragraph 4 of Article 27 of the constitution of the republic of Mexico, long a point of controversy between the United States and Mexico, has been declared non-retroactive by the supreme court of Mexico.

REMOVES OBSTACLE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—An official settlement of disputes between the United States and Mexico appeared probable to the state department officials today, as the result of the Mexican supreme court's action in holding as non-retroactive that part of the Mexican constitution which American oil men claim virtually confiscated their properties.

This question was said to be the big obstacle in the path of recognition of the Obregon government and in the signing of a treaty of amity and commerce between the two nations.

Should the state department find the reported decision of the Mexican supreme court on the oil lands question is a flat recognition that no American property there is to be confiscated, this government will begin immediately the consideration of recognition of the Obregon government, it was declared authoritatively.

TEXAS COMPANY WINS.

By Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 31.—Officials of the Mexican department of commerce and industry were enjoined by the supreme court last night from denouncing rights to oil lands held by Texas companies prior to May 1, 1917.

The Texas company appealed to the court for a preliminary certificate to be issued it as holder of the pending issuance of pre-emption papers. This action was taken to prevent the government from denouncing the claims of the company.

If other companies which brought similar suits are victorious it is believed the decisions will constitute a definition of article 27 and the court's interpretation that the article is non-retroactive and that claims for oil lands held before May 1, 1917, cannot be questioned.

BROTHERHOODS' VOTING FAVORS CALL OF STRIKE

By United Press
CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Members of three large union organizations of railroad workers are voting overwhelmingly in favor of a strike rather than accept a cut in wages, according to information gathered today by the United Press at large railroad centers.

The vote of the trainmen, clerks and the shop workers with other railroad labor organizations on the proposition of accepting a 12 1-2 per cent cut in wages or "leaving the service of the companies," strongly favors a walkout if further negotiations with the railroad managers are unsuccessful.

In some cities, such as Denver, the vote was reported 100 per cent against accepting the wage cut. Chicago, St. Paul and other mid-Western cities, reported a vote of approximately 61 per cent among these organizations in favor of a strike.

Result of the vote is being carefully guarded at union headquarters in Cleveland, and no general information on how the whole country's railroad workers are balloting will be available for about two weeks, according to information here.

BELIEVES IN "LOYALTY."

By United Press
BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 31.—The threatened railroad strike will not materialize. This belief was expressed to the United Press today by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

Willard based his assumption on the "loyalty and sanity" of the great bulk of the railway workers. He denied in detail the charges that the railroad managers are trying to foment a strike for the purpose of forcing the government to guarantee their security.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 31.—Franklin M. Smith, 45 years old, an oil man formerly of Joplin, Mo., was instantly killed today when he fell from the upper floor of a bank building to a roof several floors below.

TOO YOUNG TO QUIT

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—"I'm no quitter," declared "Uncle Joe" Cannon today in denying reports that he intended to retire from congress at the end of his present term.

The former speaker of the house, who is now in his eighty-sixth year, and who has represented the Eighteenth Illinois district in congress for twenty-three terms, going to congress in 1872, was not disturbed over the reports. He leaned back in his chair, and smoked one of the long black cigars while waiting for his secretary to type off a statement.

OFFICIALS WILL TELL MEETING 'SCRIP' IS LEGAL

County Treasurer Here Tomorrow Afternoon; Road Work Resumed.

County road work will start tomorrow in all points of the county except in the vicinity of Ranger, according to an announcement made today by George A. Davisson, general manager of the Fleming & Stitzer Road Building company.

Work cannot start in and around Ranger, Mr. Davisson said, because the warrants issued by the county will not be accepted by local merchants, because of a doubt of their validity. To cure this impression, if possible, a meeting has been called at the request of county officials, to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock and the warrants will be explained and their legality established, it is announced.

According to Mr. Davisson, E. S. Pritchard, county treasurer, has denied he made the statement that the warrants would not be paid if the county had the money. He is also quoted by Mr. Davisson as saying he would make a public statement to that effect at any time. He will be invited to the meeting to be held tomorrow afternoon.

If Ranger folks will absorb a part of the warrants issued, Mr. Davisson declared, work will be started on this end of the Pleasant Grove highway and also on the Bankhead highway in the Eastern part of the city. Among other things, the Hunt street bridge will be finished and opened for traffic.

It is the statement of the road builders that over the county the warrants are being taken in exchange for merchandise and one bank declared that it expected to handle a large amount of them.

RESCUERS FORCED TO BREAK CRASH VICTIM'S LEG TO SAVE HIS NECK

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31.—A choice, according to witnesses, between breaking the victim's neck or his leg was all that was left to passersby who sought to extricate Harry D. Alderman, 32, from beneath an overturned automobile at Ewing avenue and Locust street, following a collision.

One edge of the wrecked car rested on Mr. Alderman's throat and the other on his right leg, a spectator said. If the car were tipped in one direction the added weight was almost certain to fracture the limb, while on the other hand lay danger of a broken neck.

Meanwhile, Alderman was in a precarious condition and it seemed necessary to extricate him at once to save his life. The rescuers lifted the edge resting on his neck and as the car was turned upright the leg snapped in two places.

At the City Hospital it was said Alderman probably will recover, his principal injuries consisting of a compound fracture of the right leg and a broken left collar bone.

ALL-NIGHT RAIN BREAKS DROUGHT IN WEST TEXAS

By United Press
SAN ANGELO, Aug. 31.—The backbone of a two-months' drought was broken by slow rains falling throughout last night and this morning over a dozen West Texas counties, west to the Pecos valley and east to Brownwood and Abilene.

The dry weather is estimated to have reduced crop production 50 per cent and withered the grass for livestock. More rain is needed to replenish the water supplies of many towns which are short.

The rainfall last night averaged half an inch.

COURTHOUSE IS PROPER PLACE TO IMPEACH OFFICIALS, JUDGE STARNES TELLS STUBBLEFIELD

Will Not Debate Nor Join in "Mudslinging," With Candidates Repudiated by Voters, He Says, but Will Make Full Statement on Bonds After Audit Ends.

"The place to impeach public officials is in the courthouse, and not on the street corners," is the reply of County Judge Starnes to J. R. Stubblefield, who last week announced a series of public speeches upon "Why Judge Starnes Should Resign." The reply is made in an open letter to Mr. Stubblefield in which the judge questions the motives of his opponents and asserts that while he will engage in no controversy at the present time, as soon as "a disinterested audit is completed," he will tell the people of Eastland county the real story of the $4,500,000 bond issue.

Judge Starnes' letter follows: "Mr. J. R. Stubblefield: Dear Sir: Answering your letter of the 27th inst., I wish to call your attention to the charge I have made, and do now make again, that the acts of yourself and most of your associates are pure politics, and attempt to control the actions of a public officer by disorder.

Questions Recommended. "Being a lawyer, you of course realize that the place to impeach public officials is in the courthouse, and not on the street corners; by orderly, legal proceeding, and not by public harangues.

"While you are discussing why I should resign, tell the people of this county, at least the newcomers, why you were defeated for county judge for your second term. You might also tell the good women, during one of your speeches on your virtue, about the personal difficulty you had in the city of Eastland this last week with a man.

"It is further true, isn't it, that Tom Bell, secretary of the committee, was secretary of the Retail Merchants' association a few months ago. When you refer to an audit of the county funds, I will not be at any of the places you name in your letter, but will, as soon as the disinterested audit is completed, and the outside engineer has reported on the work done, tell the people of Eastland county the real story of the $4,500,000 bond issue, and the work done under it.

"Yours truly, "C. R. STARNES, "County Judge."

LOBBY DISPLAY DOESN'T TELL HALF ABOUT BIG ELKS' MINSTREL

A lobby display which was never equaled by Pantages vaudeville while it played in Ranger is now on display at the Majestic theater for the Elk's minstrel for Friday and Saturday nights. The boards carry the names of the "Boys from Harmony Land"; Bob Taylor, "the boy with the twinkling feet"; Miss Helen Brown and her ballet girls; Miss Mary B. Campbell, assisted by Leonard Hudson and Dr. Craig "the boy from Smoky row, and Miss Earl Stanley.

However, their efforts will be only a part of the show. Raymond Teal, blackface artist, who has had his name in electric lights on Broadway, will be a headliner. So will Miss Nora Endicott and Nora's father, "Pop"; then there are the wops from Italy—

HUNDRED THOUSAND ALIENATION SUIT FILED AGAINST CONNELLEE

FORT WORTH, Aug. 31.—Charging that the affections of his wife had been alienated by the defendant, Morris E. Hudson, Fort Worth traveling man, filed suit Tuesday morning in the Seventeenth district court against C. U. Connellee, wealthy Eastland county land owner and oil man, for $100,000 damages.

At the same time Hudson also asked that he be granted a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Edith Viola Hudson. R. E. Taylor, former United States district attorney here, represents the plaintiff in both cases.

DALLAS FIREMAN INJURED IN DIVING

DALLAS, Aug. 31.—Captain J. E. Harper of the Dallas fire department, is in a hospital here today, suffering from injuries received while diving at Sherman, where he was taking his vacation. It is believed Captain Harper's skull is fractured.

Captain Harper was diving from a twenty-foot tower and struck the concrete at the bottom of the tank.

WOMEN WORK ROADS

Special to the Times.
BRECKENRIDGE, Aug. 31.—Six negroes arrested for vagrancy are at work on the Caddo road, at the county rock crusher. It is probably the first time in Texas history that female miscreants were used on the roads.

Sheriff Head stated he is wearied of placing such characters in jail and supporting them at the county's expense and that unless the sentence given the first six serves a warning, that they will have white women to further expedite the work.

BRECK SHERIFF DENIES REFUSAL TO RAID STILL

Says Pro Officer Brought Word From Dummam That Action Wasn't Needed.

BRECKENRIDGE, Aug. 31.—"H. D. Shumate, federal prohibition enforcement agent, assured me that County Attorney Dummam of Eastland county had told him that there were no further stills in that section to be raided," is answer of Sheriff L. D. Head of Stephens county, to the indirect charge made by H. E. Clewell, chairman of the Ranger Law Enforcement league, at a mass meeting in Eastland Monday night.

Clewell is quoted as saying that the county attorney of Eastland county had notified the sheriff of Stephens county that just over the Eastland county line in Stephens county is a still turning out 100 gallons of liquor every day, and that the county attorney would be glad at any time to point it out to the sheriff of Stephens county.

Anxious to Co-Operate. "Any officers of nearby counties who have complaints of conditions in Stephens county are assured that they will be cared for at once. I will give such officers my hearty co-operation in stamping out law violation. I have always been willing to do this," was the statement of Sheriff Head, who has the reputation of being one of the most active officers against illicit liquor operations of any with whom the federal prohibition forces have worked.

Sheriff Head says that Dummam notified him that a still was working near the county line, and asked Sheriff Head to come to Ranger for a conference. Sheriff Head agreed to go, but on the day prior to his appointment with Mr. Dummam, Prohibition Agent Shumate arrived in Breckenridge. He asked Sheriff Head to go with him on raids in north Stephens county, and was told that the Stephens county officer had an appointment in Ranger with Dummam, who wished him to raid a still near the Eastland-Stephens county line.

"Mr. Shumate told me that he had seen Dummam, both in Eastland and Ranger, on his way to Breckenridge, and that the Eastland county officer had told him that there were no further raids to be made in this section. As Mr. Shumate is the man responsible to federal authorities for prohibition enforcement throughout this district, I assumed that Mr. Dummam would not hesitate to tell him of any violation of the law of which he knew. When Mr. Dummam said there were no further violations in that section, I was willing to accompany Mr. Shumate on other raids in Stephens county, instead of going to Ranger."

MEXIA REPORTS WELL MAKING TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND BARRELS

MEXIA, Texas, Aug. 31.—The Western Oil Field corporation Desenberg No. 1 was opened today and turned into storage tanks. It filled a 1,000-barrel tank in a little less than one hour and on actual gauge is making 25,000 barrels a day. More than 2,000 spectators were present to witness the performance of the well as it had been announced that the well would be opened and tested at 5 o'clock. Many representatives of the large oil companies were present and pronounced the well to be the biggest and best well ever brought in in Texas.

After the large tank was filled the well got loose from the operators and threw a solid stream of oil high over the 112-foot derrick, until turned off by the drillers.

Mexia is overflowing with investors and visitors from far and near and many large deals have been made. The largest made was for a block of acreage near the well and the price paid was $200,000 in cash. This big well is located only two miles west from Mexia and the flow could easily be seen from the business section.

WEST VIRGINIA MINERS IN CLASH WITH OFFICERS

One Deputy Sheriff Killed, Invaliders Remove Casualties; Martial Law Expected.

MADISON, W. Va., Aug. 31.—The army of miners continued to pass through this town today on their way to the mobilization camp near the Logan-Boone county line. When they arrived here and were told that President Harding had issued a proclamation requesting them to return peacefully to their homes, they shrugged their shoulders indifferently and continued on their way.

No action was contemplated today by Chesapeake and Ohio officials against the miners, who last night seized and manned a train on a branch line of this road, to transport the men from the Coal River valley to Jeffrey, where they joined the ranks of the "army." The train was returned to the yards this morning in time to make the daily run.

Miners withdrew with losses after a clash with outposts of deputy sheriffs guarding mountain passes in Logan today, state police headquarters here was advised.

Sheriff Chafin wired he believed the miners carried off their casualties to prevent sheriffs gaining knowledge. There were no casualties among the county's forces, Chafin said.

DEPUTY KILLED.

By United Press
LOGAN, W. Va., Aug. 31.—John Gore, a deputy sheriff, was killed in the battle at Blair this morning. Miners attacked from the town of Blair charged up the mountain, but are reported to have been repulsed by Logan first line of defense guards. Colonel William E. Eubank, in command of state forces, appealed to the governor for reinforcements.

Scattered firing broke out today between civilian patrols and armed miners on opposite sides of the ridge near Logan, authorities here were advised.

Armed citizens quietly left Logan for the front after the report was received. Within an hour the roads towards Ethel were specked with automobiles carrying deputies to the mountain passes.

HEALTH OFFICER WILL ANALYZE RANGER WATER

State Health Officer Ervin, who is also an engineer of repute, was in the city yesterday and in company with R. H. Hodges, sanitary commissioner, made a survey of the sewer lines and disposal plant of the city. He will shortly make a report on the two public facilities and it is certain he will make recommendations for certain changes.

Mr. Ervin took samples of the water from wells from which water haulers obtain their supplies and also samples from Hagaman lake. The water will be properly tested and a report made.

TEXAS BALL TEAMS TO PLAY IN MEXICO CITY

By Associated Press.
HOUSTON, Aug. 31.—The Dallas and San Antonio baseball teams last night closed a contract with Mexico City promoters for a six-game series for the week beginning Sept. 26. This will be the first time American teams have gone so far inland.

Fourteen Killed, More Than Fifty Wounded in Fighting; Troops Are Ineffective.

By United Press.
BELFAST, Aug. 31.—Belfast was in flames early today. A dozen fires were burning in the Catholic section of the city.

More troops were pouring into the district where sporadic fighting with sniping from the housetops, and occasional grenade explosions continued throughout the night.

The death toll amounted to thirteen, with fifty-four wounded. Bitter fighting between Catholic and Loyalist mobs, with police and troops trying to quell the rioting, lasted up until the curfew hour last night.

Sporadic fighting continued, however, with attacks upon Catholic and Unionist quarters, and reprisals against Loyalists living in Sinn Fein sections of Belfast.

Houses of both Unionists and Nationalists were fired. Snipers concealed on housetops kept up intermittent fire along the streets. Early this morning shipyard workers on their way to work were ambushed and cut down by rifle fire in York and Queen streets. One man was killed and scores of workers were wounded by the fire from ambush on either side of the car lines.

The military threw an armed cordon around the area where the fighting was most severe, but at noon and during the lunch hour for the shipyard workers, fighting was resumed.

Rifles and grenades were used by both sides and there were many casualties.

TRUCE IS THREATENED.

By United Press
DUBLIN, Aug. 31.—Officers and men of the Irish republican army have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for instant mobilization.

"The termination of the truce is threatened," the Irish Bulletin, Sinn Fein's official organ, declared today. Preparations for a resumption of hostilities were being made throughout the country.

BERLIN FEARS BLOODY RIOTS ARE IN STORE

By CARL D. GROAT.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
BERLIN, Aug. 31.—"Bloody Wednesday" dawned with Berlin on edge with anxious speculation as to whether fresh bloodshed would result from the excited feelings of several hundred thousand workers gathered here to participate in demonstrations.

The morning passed peacefully with "safety police" out in great numbers, refusing even to permit verbal arguments in the ranks of the marching workers.

Chancellor Wirth was heavily guarded today, following repeated threats that he would be assassinated before tonight.

Nearly a quarter of a million workers came to Berlin for demonstrations today. They were to converge upon a tremendous mass meeting at 4:30, and it was then that trouble was most feared.

The murder of Mathias Erzberger and the recent growth of reactionism, has aroused many of the workers to threats of reprisals. Socialist leaders appointed deputies in the ranks which marched this morning to prevent clashes and arguments en route.

BRECKENRIDGE COOKS AND WAITERS TAKE CUT

BRECKENRIDGE, Aug. 31.—Wage cuts of 20 per cent have been accepted by the local Cooks' and Waiters' union, according to word yesterday. Neither the cafe proprietors nor union officials admitted the reduction but it is confirmed by workers in the restaurants. The new wages are: Chefs, $56; fry-men, $48; waiters, $32; table waiters, $28; counter waiters, $26; waitresses, $22. Short shift workers will be paid straight time, instead of time and a half, as formerly. Reduced cafe tariffs are hoped for, as a result of the wage cuts, which are effective in all but two Breckenridge cafes.

KU KLUX PROBE WAS ORDERED BY DAUGHERTY

By United Press.
CINCINNATI, Aug. 31.—Probe of the Ku Klux Klan is being conducted by the United States government under direction of Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general.

"I have the Ku Klux Klan under investigation," Daugherty said. "The inquiry still is in progress, so I can give no opinion about the organization at this stage of the investigation."

Daugherty is here to speak before the American Bar association.

EVIDENCE FROM TEXAS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Deputies of justice agents today took over the probe of the Ku Klux Klan activities. Acting District Attorney John V. Clinin, under whose direction investigation of the "invisible empire" is being conducted, ordered the department of justice to go into the organization thoroughly.

Reports will be gathered from Texas, Oklahoma and other states on activities of the clan. The investigation is expected to take nearly a month, when Clinin will go before the grand jury and ask indictments if evidence gathered by the federal agents warrants such action.

CRAFTS AGAIN KNOCKS AT DOOR OF CONGRESS WITH MORAL MEASURES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Dr. Wilbur Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform bureau, thinks the world is going to Hades at a gallop unless the reformers get together and fight as one man to stem the downward tide.

Dr. Crafts has been investigating the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, and is now "spending a week at the doors of Congress promoting moral measures relating to prohibition enforcement, divorce, gambling and a Congressional investigation of the moving picture interest as a trust."

"Reformers," said he, "can no longer fight one moral foe at a time, as we used to do, and would still like to do—prohibitionists, fighting, bootleggers, amateur boxers against professional sluggers; advocates of Federal picture regulation pressing that issue alone—not even mentioning the commercializing of the weekly rest day with pictures confessedly unfit for any day. As all the commercialized evils, including commercialized politics, have recently joined forces from Boston to Los Angeles in anti-blue leagues and anti-prohibition leagues, all who would defend any of our American ideals against these mostly foreign hordes must fight them all."

Dr. Crafts declares "the true in efforts to establish Federal control of motion pictures has been ended by the near treason of the conspiracy to overthrow the Vampire Queen in our democracy in succession to 'King Cotton,' Railroad Kings and 'King Alcohol.'" Another reason for ending the true, he says, "is the conspicuous failure of the motion picture trust to enforce its new exclusion standards, failure shown to the whole world most conspicuously by the illegal exhibition of the Dempsey-Carpenter films in New York and Illinois in contempt of court."

FORT WORTH OIL MAN FORKED OVER TWENTY THOUSAND, COLD CASH

FORT WORTH, Aug. 31.—After obtaining $20,000 from I. M. Bradley, Fort Worth oil man, by the alleged use of threats and a pointed pistol, Albert Pickard, an oil field worker, was arrested Monday in Long Beach, Cal., as he was leaving a bank with the money in his possession, according to dispatches from the California town.

Police authorities there say that Pickard admitted he took the money from Bradley, declaring it was given him as a financial settlement after he went to the oil man's office to arbitrate a personal difficulty. Bradley told the Long Beach police, they declare, that the man produced a revolver after entering the office and threatened to kill him unless he turned over $100,000.

"I told him," Bradley is quoted as saying, "that I could not give him that sum, but would give him $20,000 and a note for $80,000, due in thirty days."

"I did not know what I would do when I got here," he is said to have declared to them. "I tried to see Bradley yesterday, but I could not find him, although I waited around his office all day."

Bradley is secretary and general manager of the Bradley company, oil operators, with offices in the Oil Operators building here. His brother, C. A. Bradley, president of the company, knew nothing of the California difficulty, but that he was acquainted with Pickard.

"Pickard is a painter who formerly lived on a lease which we had at Humble," he said. "Ira knew him, I guess, as we all did from the fact that he and his family lived on the property for a couple of years. However, I never heard of any trouble between my brother and the man."

'STREETS WILL RUN WITH BLOOD,' NEWEST THREAT AT FORT WORTH

"Death and Destruction" to Punish Evil-Doers, Says Announcement.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 31.—The inauguration of an organization in Fort Worth which promises to "have the streets running with blood before a month passes," unless conditions are changed, has been brought to light in a letter, setting forth the objects of the organization, received by the Fort Worth Record. The letter follows:

"Will you, in the interest of our country, be so good as to publish the following warning:

"There are still in existence a few genuine American men, through whose veins there flows the blood of Washington and his followers. Today twenty-five just such men met in Fort Worth and formed a clan, binding themselves under the strongest oath that man could take, to uphold the flag and constitutional laws of the United States against all enemies whatsoever, but more especially against those in our midst, especially those good-meaning (perhaps) citizens who, blinded to the dangers that beset us, and with a silly, narrow-minded conceit idea that we should use the laws to protect those who defy it. Our patience is exhausted. We have watched with bleeding hearts the lack of interest and the people when some new outrage against the law or the country was unheeded, and have stood empty-handed, but yearning for action when the good (?) people would get up and howl like madmen when some organization or person would take it on themselves to punish those who the silly inefficient courts could not or would not handle. We have delayed this action in the hope that the American Legion would wake the people. Then we waited again, feeling that the Ku Klux Klan would solve the problem. But it seems that all people who dwell in ease and luxury develop yellow marrow in spines and brains of jelly.

"We will mete out no punishment except DEATH and DESTRUCTION. Every member of this organization is a pistol and rifle expert and has had at least one successful gun fight. We are equipped with guns, ammunition and hand grenades. Among our members are eight who own high-powered automobiles. We have in our treasury now $182,000.

"To every prostitute, professional gambler, bootlegger, crooked lawyer, thief, burglar, crooked officer, politician, despoiler of women, anarchist, Bolshevik, striker, radical enemies of our clan, be the governor of our state or lowly prostitute, and others who will in any way attempt to keep us from making this country what it used to be, we promise DEATH."

"For God's sake don't laugh at or treat this matter lightly, for as sure as fate before the next month has passed the streets of Fort Worth will run with blood."

THE GHOSTS OF AMERICAN PATRIOTS.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE TENDER SURPRISE PARTY TO CITY FIREMEN

Judge McFatter and the Baptist Young Peoples' Union last night descended upon the Central fire hall and for a couple of hours joy was limited to the guests' capacity for enjoyment. The Baptist folk brought along an ample supply of ice cream and cake—baked by the capable hands of Mrs. McFatter—and it might be said for the members of the fire department that they "carried on" so long as anything was left in sight.

However, they were gracious hosts. They let the girls in the party slide down the pole by the use of their hands—something no mere man can do and get away with it. Even if a fireman puts his hands on the pole it is a terrible offense and he may get ten days' extra duty. The reason for this is explained by the department saying the steel pole becomes sticky if touched by the human hands. After the party of last night it was carefully polished until it is again as slick as glass. An exhibition also was staged for the visitors' benefit.

Judge McFatter takes an unusual interest in the fire boys and when they could not attend Sunday school he brought the Sunday school to them. He holds a class in the fire hall each Sunday. The fire boys hope to return the party of last night within a few days.

GREENVILLE, S. C., Aug. 31.—It has been developed that a Ford truck is also well adapted to hatching eggs. "Purdy blamed hot," said an old Maine farmer one day recently. "Look at the thermometer—it's 80 degrees." "That wouldn't be considered very hot in Boston," said his boarder. "I recon not," returned the old fellow; "and it wouldn't be considered very hot in hell either."—Boston Transcript.

UNDERTAKER PEEVED AS CORPSE REVIVES

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 31.—Though death and taxes are still pretty sure and certain, the undertaking business continues to have its ups and downs, and the possibility that the objective may still be alive appears to be one of the chief annoyances of the trade. Robert Eisenman was in the Meriden Police court and the judge apparently considered as extenuating and irritating a false alarm from New Britain, where, after a drive across half the state, it was found the corpse was alive.

The charge against Eisenman was reckless driving, and the court seemed inclined to hold that it was but natural to hasten home, a little fast and furious, after such an experience.

Eisenman, chauffeur of the automobile hearse owned by Joseph F. Steigler of Bridgeport, testified he received notice of a burial job in New Britain and immediately drove the fifty miles. Arriving, he found the "corpse" was alive and hourly improving further away from lighted candles and slow music.

Eisenman threw her in high and sent the big, shiny motor hearse speeding away southward toward Bridgeport. Passing through Meriden he collided with an automobile owned by Walter Johnson of Meriden. When the disappointed undertaker told his story he was let off with a fine of $25 and costs.

PRICE OF COTTON PICKING RAISED IN RUNNELS

BALLINGER, Aug. 31.—Due to dry weather, the cotton crop is practically all ready to pick in Runnels county and the rush for pickers has boosted the price of picking to $1 and $1.25 a hundred. The farmers began picking on a schedule of 50 cent and 75 cent basis, but competition for pickers raised the price. The work will be short.

MEMPHIS PASTOR VISITS IN REV. W. H. JOHNSON HOME

Rev. Mr. Willis of Memphis, is visiting at the home of the Rev. W. H. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson. Mr. Willis is a protege of Mr. Johnsons and probably will fill the Baptist church pulpit Sunday if he does not have to leave the city before that time. He lived in the Johnson home for many years.

TEXARKANA SWITCHMAN WHIPPED BY MASKED MEN, ADMITS IT'S "HIS MOVE"

TEXARKANA, Aug. 31.—The "masked terror" of Texas came back to life here last night.

Walter M. Thompson, railway switchman, was dumped from an automobile, bound and gagged, in the business section shortly after midnight. Thompson declared he was on his way home from work when a dozen masked men seized him and drove him in an automobile into the country where he was given a severe whipping.

Thompson said that he had been given six hours to leave town, and that he was "on his way." He is reported to have left immediately.

Thompson was recently arrested on a charge of beating his wife. His trial was set for today.

This is the first report of the activities of the masked bands in nearly a month. The last reported outbreak was when "Shorty" Brown, a waiter, was whipped and tarred and feathered.

THREE KISSES A DAY ARE JUST ABOUT RIGHT

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 31.—Kiss your wife three times a day. That's enough. So say the experts.

Three kisses a day will maintain happiness in the home and the proper amount of avoidpoups on the wife.

More than three every twenty-four hours is too much, experts say, citing the case of Mrs. Lillian M. Cummings, wife of a six-foot, 196-pound policeman, who wants a divorce because she lost forty-four pounds as the result of the frequency and ardor of the osculatory activities of her husband. Her weight fell off from 145 pounds to 101 pounds.

Dr. Harold N. Moyer, sychonaalyst, said it was hard to determine how many kisses are too many—depends upon temperament.

"But three a day is just about right," he added, "Once in the morning, once before dinner and once at bedtime.

Osculatory neglect has a bad effect upon any wife, Dr. Moyer said, but too much kissing is even worse, striking the subconscious mind and having a disastrous effect on the health.

Housewives are divided upon the question. Mrs. Lois Anderson said there is no such thing as too many kisses for a wife. "Kisses," she declared, "are the essence of life. I find that the more I am kissed by my husband the fatter I get. But that won't make me cut down on the kisses."

FLAXEN-HAIRED VAMP TOOK ONE FELLOW'S CAR FOR ANOTHER'S JOYRIDE

A blonde-haired woman of Dallas has again lived up to the reputation of all blonde-haired women as being "wicked vamps." A letter from the William J. Burns Detective Agency asks the police department to take into custody a blonde-haired woman traveling in an automobile with a man. The letter adds: "The purpose of arresting the woman is to return the car to its rightful owner."

From which it is gathered that the blonde-haired woman fell for a man and left with the other fellow's automobile.

THURBER OFFICERS CATCH HIJACKERS

THURBER, Aug. 31.—Constable W. L. Oxford and Deputy Sheriff George Hale have added to their record for suppressing hijackers in this part of the oil fields. Angelo Pacci, an aged Italian, was held up Aug. 10 at his home in this place and robbed him of $368. Oxford and Hale arrested two men within a few hours and turned them over to Sheriff John W. Wright at Stephenville.

The grand jury has indicted the two men and Judge J. B. Keith, in line with the determined effort to weed out the hijackers, refused one of the accused bail and placed the other under a $10,000 bond.

HOW IT HAPPENED

The "play-off series" in the Texas league starts today when Fort Worth meets Wichita Falls, at Fort Worth. The Panthers are now two and one-half games behind the Spudgers, and a clean sweep of the series will put them on top. Altogether, there are eleven games to be played between the two teams before the season ends on Sept. 18, and their outcome will pretty well determine which would win the playoff series.

Houston, by beating Dallas 3 to 0, yesterday went into a tie with the Marines for third place.

Fort Worth took a double-header from San Antonio, giving the Panthers four out of six games and a clean sweep of all South Texas series except the one at Houston, in which they broke even. Wichita Falls also more than broke even on the road, but lost some of the big lead with which the trip was started.

It was after hard battling that the Panthers subdued the Bears. The first game was a seesaw affair in which both teams held the lead, and was ended by consecutive triples in the tenth, delivered by Stellbauer and Sears. The second affair was a tight pitchers' battle between Goodbred and Tiner.

Wichita Falls made it three out of five from Galveston by bunching hits.

AMERICAN.

New York gained half a game by beating Washington, 10 to 3, while Cleveland was idle. St. Louis beat Chicago, 11 to 5, in the only other game scheduled.

NATIONAL.

The Giants won their eighth straight, but failed to take up any of the Pirates' game and a half lead, as Pittsburgh also won from Brooklyn, 8 to 2. The Pirates pounded three pitchers from the box, while Glazner held the Dodgers to seven hits.

New York won from Chicago by an eighth-inning offensive which netted five runs. Circuit clouts by Smith and Bancroft featured the rally. Until the eighth, New York was beaten, 3 to 0.

Boston, after seven straight defeats, finally won, shutting out Cincinnati in the opening game of a double-header. The Reds took the second contest, 6-4.

Philadelphia and St. Louis also split a double-header. Twenty-nine men were used in the second game, which the Cards won, 9 to 8.

SHACKLETON-ROWETT EXPEDITION TO FRIGID ZONE.

This picture shows the Quest, commanded by Sir Ernest Shackleton, which left Southampton, England, last week, as she was leaving the British port. The Quest was flying the white ensign from the stern, the Royal Yacht Squadron Pennant from the mainsail and the Union Jack, which was presented by the king of England, on the foremast. Among the equipment being taken on the trip is a specially designed airplane for use in the ice-bound region about the South Pole.

NUDITY, ANGEL FOOD CAKE AND HOT WATER CURED RHEUMATICS OF AGED CEMETERY DWELLER

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Garbed in a birthday suit of cherub skin, owing to the Colma cemetery as his habitat, and blaming rheumatism for his pained condition, Roland H. Merritt, "nature man" and volunteer "August Morn" was interrogated today by Constable S. A. Landini of Daly City and given a post-graduate lecture on the art of wearing clothes, inside of city limits.

Constable Landini hunted for Merritt for an hour before he finally located him in his ex-parte Garden of Eden condition.

"Hey," challenged Landini, "what's the idea?"

"Rheumatism," explained Merritt. "I had it. I went naked. Now I haven't it. Voila!"

Landini looked him over. The fog was wet and cold. The ground was damp. Yet Merritt seemed warm and contented.

"I'll tell you about it," he said. "The doctors couldn't cure me. One day I went to sleep in a tub of water. When I woke up the tub was full of snow and my rheumatism was gone. Since then I have lived as God made me."

Merritt said he had been residing in the cemetery for six weeks and getting rosier and plumper all the time. His diet is angel cake and hot water.

"I climbed Pike's Peak naked," he said sipping his hot water. "I've been doing this for three years. When I hit a town, I throw a piece of canvas over me and when I leave, I shed the canvas."

Merritt is not a vagrant. He owns a "lizzie" and travels in it from point to point. He was with the intelligence service during the war in China, Japan, and the Philippines. He is 57 years old, six feet tall, in the pink of condition, and wears a prophet's beard and his hair over his ears.

Merritt and Landini affected a compromise. "I don't care what you wear, only wear something," said Landini. Merritt promised to accept Landini's suggestion.

PROGRAM

TEMPLE—Mary Miles Minter in "Don't Call Me Little Girl," and Comedy.

LIBERTY—William Fairbanks in "Hearts of the West," and comedy.

MANHATTAN—Buck Jones in "To a Finish."

MANHATTAN

Buck Jones is to be with us again, arriving today when he will appear at the Manhattan theatre in the Fox picture "To A Finish." This presents a romance of western life, involving a plot to blast the reputation of honest cattle men by placing rebranded cattle among their herds, thus making them appear as rustlers.

The play, of course, is full of stirring action, as is every play in which Buck Jones appears. Thrill and daring are invariable accompaniments of his superb horsemanship and ability as a fighter under strenuous conditions.

In "To A Finish" the star has as his leading woman Helen Ferguson, whose talent has earned for her a conspicuous place on the screen. G. Raymond Nye plays the villain—a line of work in which he is unexcelled.

TEMPLE

Mary Miles Minter in "Don't Call Me Little Girl," adapted from Billy Burke's stage success "Jerry" will be the featured attraction at the Temple theatre today only.

The plot revolves around a twelve year old betrothal which is at last to culminate in a wedding, though the bridegroom is still far from eager to claim the lady to whom he had so rashly proposed in the long ago, having been temporarily in love with her when she wore an exceptionally pretty costume to a masquerade party.

Among the guests are the sister to the bride-to-be with her eighteen-year old daughter, Jerry. That gay and saucy little creature meets Monty Wade, the prospective bridegroom on her way from the railroad station, falls in love with him, as he does with her, and then faces consternation when she learns he is her aunt's fiancé.

Being a wise little flapper, she quickly decides that he can't really love Aunt Joan, or he wouldn't have let their engagement drag along for twelve years. So she sets about getting aunt Joan married to a man more suited to her spinsterishness, and then salvages Monty for herself. But a lot of merry adventures happen before the final happy conclusion. Jerome Patrick is leading man.

WITH EX-NITROS

By beating Cleburne yesterday, 5 to 2, while Paris was idle, the Ardmore "Nitropeps" took the lead in the T.-O. circuit. Bugs Young was the hero of the fray, he relieving Ferguson after Cleburne had scored two runs in the fourth. Ardmore tied the score in the same round and forged ahead in the fifth. Jody Tate contributed two blows, one of them a double.

Johnny Murphy, who has been with Drumright of the Southwestern league, has moved on to higher company, he says in a letter to his brother, "Moose." But he neglected to say where he was going. The Drumright team hit the financial rocks and is finishing the season with home talent.

DOMESTIC TRANQUILITY.

Let women have their way, is the advice to husbands tendered by a psychological expert who is anxious to get his name in the public eye. And the answer comes back from married men through all the ages: Why not; they will anyway. The unmarried man, viewing the subject from an idealistic plane, day dreams of how he is going to have plain sailing and few squalls around his dove cote.

To begin with, he is going to give his wife a salary, money being the root of all evil and domestic discord. He is going to wipe the dishes, because he doesn't want his little wife to become a drudge, and anyway, he would have to sit on the porch alone while she did the work. He is going to buy an automobile, so she can go about in the afternoons and soak in health and vigor from the energizing rays of the Texas sun. And many more plans has he, cloying in their sweetness.

But when he starts putting these theories into practice, how soon doth experience teach that the way to tranquility is through discord, and seeming discord is but the surf with waves the tranquil domestic seashores.

That matter of money, for instance. What woman would be so supine as to accept it thankfully and matter-of-factly? They just can't do it. The male of the house, having decided upon this course as the bravest one, is astonished that the method is considered cowardly and an infringement on woman's rights.

For her right of conquest has been basely taken from her. What self-satisfaction is there in getting something that can be had for the reaching out? None, we agree. Therefore, husbands, be not afraid to allow the wife to fight for the rights you have previously determined to grant her. Better by far that she with smiles and weeps, cajoling and rolling pins shall make you come across with the funds her heart desires. For then she has a double pleasure. She gets the money and she gets the additional joy of thinking she won it in fair combat. And that latter is a gorgeous feeling. The horse laugh that four treys give to an ace full is a poor second to the elation she smotherers in her bosom.

And that is typical of all the other matters. Never take a woman's right of conquest away from her. Make her work for what she wants and then let her have it. But for heaven's sake, don't let her know that no argument was necessary. For then she will be unhappy.

"It is not right or proper to interfere with nature," said an English clergyman in denunciation of an attempt to produce gain by bombing the clouds. If man never attempted to improve upon nature what would become of the barbers?—Detroit Free Press.

After a Cincinnati man dropped and broke a small looking glass, his car was stolen and thieves found $4,000 worth of fine pre-Volstead stuff in his attic. Would any man want more proof?—Pittsburg Dispatch.

AMERICANS ARE ENTHUSIASTS

What was it that impressed Mme. Curie most in that section of American life with which her short and crowded stay brought her into closest contact? Its vibrancy and zest. "In several women's colleges," she tells the French public, "I was struck by the evident joy of living which animated the young women and the spontaneity of the youth and gaiety manifested in their songs and exercises." America as a whole she describes as a nation of enthusiasts.

So much, then, for the drab monotony of life which makes impossible in America the realization of a true art and literature. So much for the inhibitions internal and the repressions external which sit on the lid of the creative impulses. So much for those shackles on the joy of living which were clamped on by the passengers of the Mayflower and are constantly being riveted anew, for the latest time presumably by Volstead. It is not, after all, a nation devoted to money-grinding but to wide-ranging and infectious enthusiasms.

The truth is virtually admitted by the very people who find life in America so inimical to the rise of great art. It is a favorite argument that the artist is coerced or intimidated by the national passion for witch-hunting. But, after all, what is witch-hunting but a vast enthusiasm, a capacity for extraordinary emotion, misdirected perhaps, but constituting the raw material of artistic creation? There would be real reason for despair of America if we had no crusades, no witch-hunts, no conflagrational mass movements. If this were a people made up of men and women stolidly bent upon their own business instead of passionately interested in each other's business, there would indeed be little hope for the future of the highest art in America.

Perhaps the trouble with those so unhappy in the American atmosphere is that they look for American emotion to dress itself in the accepted European forms. There is the familiar regret that the children of the native American will not express themselves in the folk dances which come so easily to the children of the foreign-born on the lawns of Central Park. But what of native self-expression on the baseball fields and in the football stands? An ancient Greek might have found something almost bacchanlic in the American cheer leader with the ball on the five-yard line and a minute to play. The energy now expended in deploring the absence of the joy of living in these United States might be profitably employed in guiding the native zest and optimism into the desired channels.—New York Evening Post.

MOTOR-BROKE SNAKES NOW GO UNDER ROADS

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 31.—Fayette county snakes, long suffering and world wise, have become motor-broke. Local chickens long ago learned not to cross the road while automobiles were near at hand, thus abdicating the most famous prerogative of their history. And the snakes, rattlers, copperheads, black, king and vipers, whose habitat is in the mountain fastnesses along the "pikes" have now gained similar wisdom.

They have done even better than the fowls for they never cross a road these days—they go under it. This was learned some time ago by George F. Titlow, whose summer home is one of the mountain show places hereabouts. He was puzzled by the disappearance of snakes from the mountain roads, but a few weeks ago he discovered the cause—the snakes would hunt out the culverts under the roads to get across instead of taking the short cut.

$1,500,000 London Blaze Attributed to Unemployed

Twenty-one acres of lumber in the yards of Gliksten & Son, Ltd., at Stratford, London, burned for more than six hours, baffling the attempts of the fire department to extinguish the blaze. Although Scotland Yard claims that the unemployed had nothing to do in connection with the fire, members of the firm insist that it was set on fire by some of the disappointed 5,000 applicants for the twenty odd jobs open at the lumber yard. In response to an advertisement calling for twenty porters, at $8 per week, 5,000 applicants appeared. The fire was discovered shortly after the twenty men selected had gone to work.

GIRL OF THREE CLIMBS PIKE'S PEAK SUMMIT

COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 31.—Helen M. Riordan, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Riordan of New York city, who, with her mother, is visiting here, walked every step of the nine miles up the Barr Trail to the summit of Pike's Peak, 14,147 feet. Starting at noon Monday, the burro camp was reached by night. Early next morning the ascent was begun and finished. Helen was not as tired as was her mother at the close. She holds the record for 3-year-olds in this difficult ascent.

SAYS HUSTLERS LIVE LONGER

One of Great Britain's largest manufacturers Lord Leverhulme, asserts that more persons shorten their lives by dawdling in England than by hustling. He is a living proof that hustling promotes hale old age. He has always led the strenuous life and at 70 is still going strong. He presided at the annual meeting of the British Industrial Safety First association in London the other day. In his address he drew largely upon his American experiences. Steps had been taken in America, he said, to ascertain whether it was the hustling bustling business man who was supposed to shorten his days or the man who crawled and dawdled through life. He declared there are men in the United States today of 80, 90 and between 90 and 100 years who are still in good health and actively engaged in business, whereas men who retired from business had shortened their lives thereby. He thought the crawl of the dawdler was largely instrumental in shortening the lives of individuals in Great Britain—that the more a man worked, whether professionally or in other vocations, the more he would conserve his life and strength and the life and commerce of the country.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

MAJESTIC THEATRE

SAYS FAMILY SAT UP WITH HIM ALL NIGHT

"When a man has spent hundreds of dollars like I have for medicines and treatments that do him no good and then gets entire relief by taking a few bottles of Tanlac, it's time for him to talk for the benefit of others," said C. W. Goodman of Des-Valle, Texas.

"I just can't describe the way I used to suffer from acute attacks of indigestion. The last spell I had the folks had to sit up with me all night and gave me everything they knew about, but in spite of it all it looked like I couldn't live. After one of these attacks would pass, I would be so weak I wouldn't be able to work for three or four days. I lived on raw eggs for four months and lost weight until I weighed only one hundred and five pounds. I spent hundreds of dollars for medicines and went to health resorts, but nothing did me any good.

"Since taking Tanlac I feel like a new man. I eat anything I want now and never have an attack of indigestion. I feel a hundred per cent better than I have in fifteen or twenty years, and I think Tanlac is the best medicine ever made."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by the Palace Drug Store.—Advertisement.

When you come right down to reason, what is there to "discount" tires —

THE next time a friend comes to you all excited about some wonderful tire bargain—ask him how much value he ought to get for each dollar of tire money.

It's astonishing that any car owner today should not know all the tire service he is entitled to.

Nor how to check up between the economy of par quality on one hand—and big discounts, surplus stocks, discontinued lines and retreads on the other.

For two years U. S. Tire makers have been telling the American people all about tires. They have laid open the tire business from every angle. They have always led the fight for better tires. They have consistently maintained quality first standards with certain economy for the tire buyer.

They have established 92 Factory Branches all over the country. Perfecting U. S. distribution so that you get a fresh, live tire every time you buy a U. S. Tire.

So when a man once decides on U. S. Tires he knows what he is getting in quality—service—economy.

In support of his own judgment he gets the pledged word and reputation of the largest and most successful tire concern in the world.

A sound reason for the fact that you see more U. S. Tires on more cars than ever this year.

DANISH QUEEN VISITS ICELAND—Queen Alexandrine of Denmark, wife of King Christian X, has just been received by her subjects in Iceland. The photograph was made during the royal visit to Thingvalla plain, and shows the Queen in her Iceland native costume. Queen Alexandrine is the first Danish Queen ever to visit Iceland.

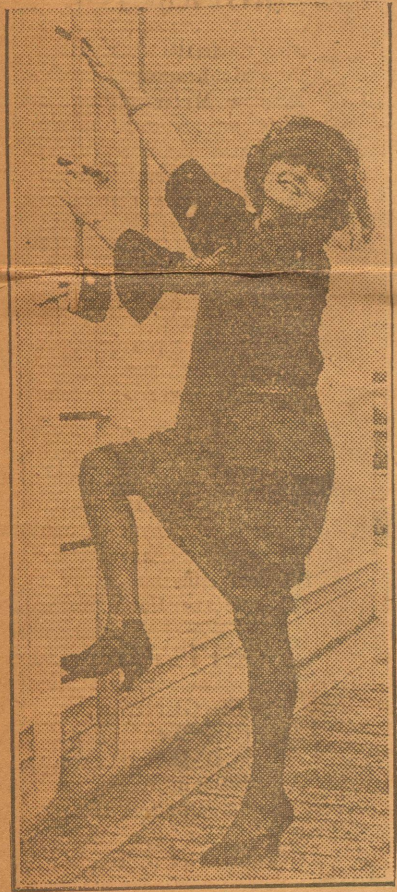

FIRST HERE IN FIFTEEN YEARS—Two anoas have arrived at the Bronx Park Zoo. An anoa is an Indian type of water buffalo, and the most diminutive of all wild cattle. Not only are they rare, but they have distinct peculiarities. For one thing, an anoa's ears run straight backwards, so that if an attempt is made to stroke him into a good humor it should be started in the neighborhood of his tail and continued in the direction of his head. For another, an anoa is peculiar in his drinking habits. He drinks in long very long gulps like a pumping station.

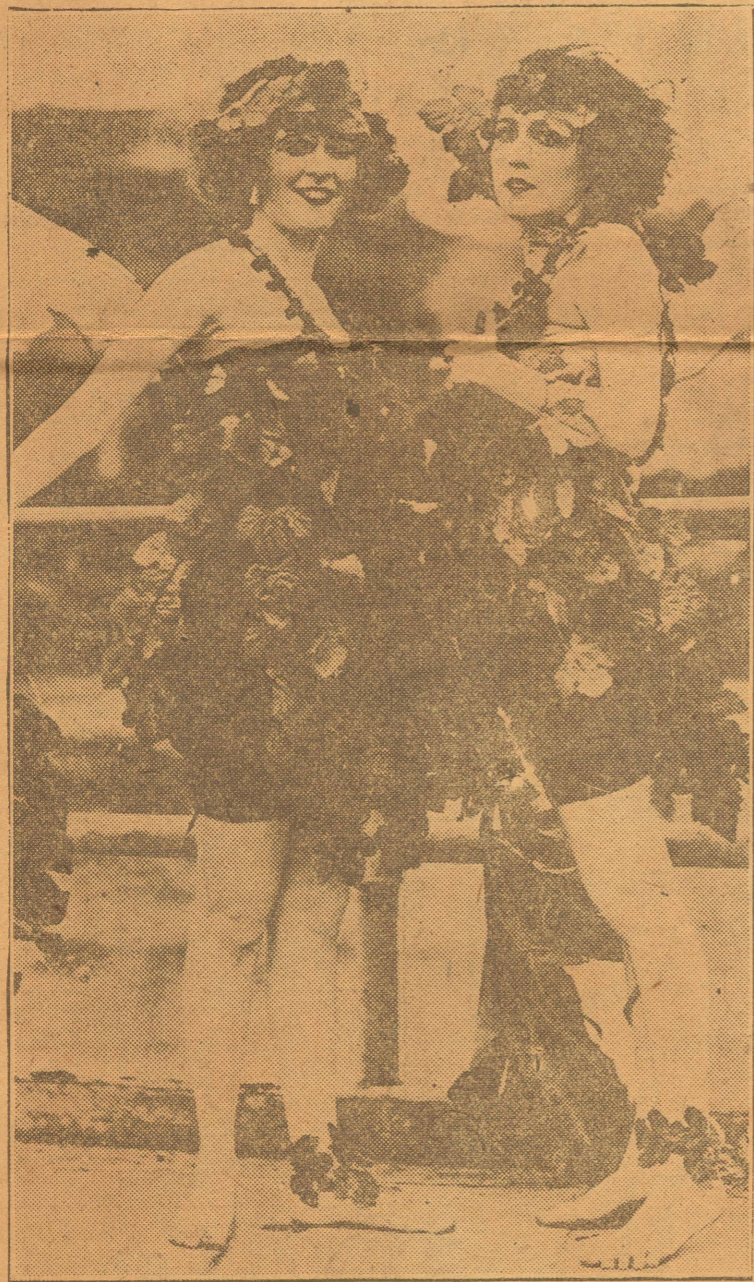

WEIRD REHEARSAL—Not many years ago Sarah Bernhardt wished to see how she would look when dead. She ordered an elaborate coffin, dressed in her best finery and had a photographer make this picture.

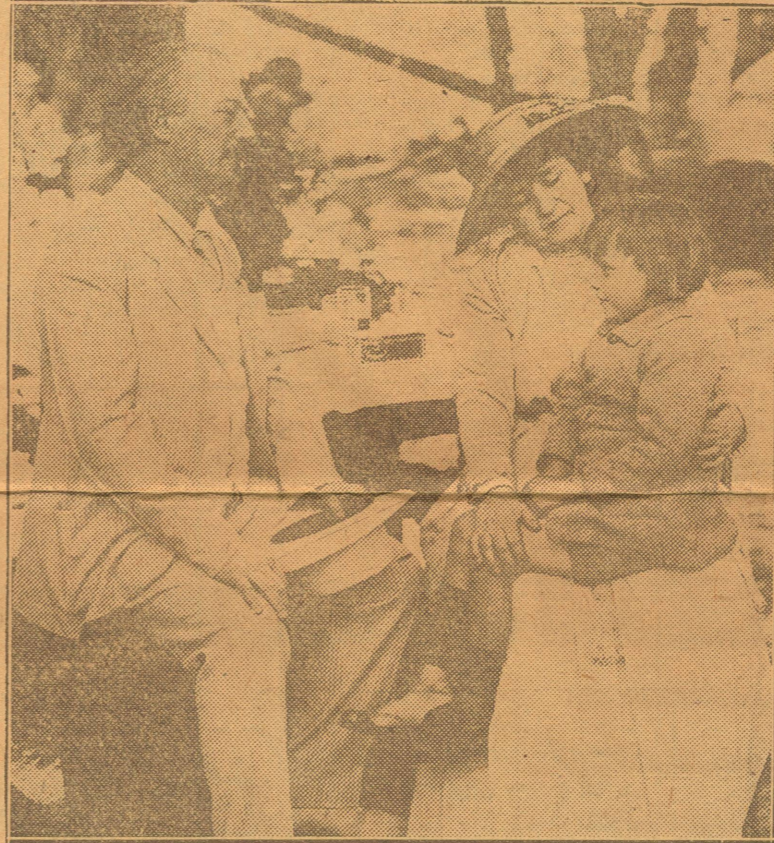

WAGONING STILL HERE—The day of emigrant wagoning is not at an end. Charles Huebler passed through Yellowstone Park, Wyoming, recently, carrying his entire family of wife and four children, household effects and his dairy, all on his emigrant truck, from Lebanon, Kansas, to Long Beach, California. The dairy consists chiefly of one goat.

THE "CLIMBING VENUS" SAILS FOR EUROPE—Ship news reporters, when they saw Miss Fritzie Berger climbing the ladder on the S. S. Paris, Europe bound, dubbed her the "Climbing Venus." Miss Berger says she is going to do a lot of ladder climbing during the ocean voyage.

CALIFORNIA BATHING BEAUTIES—The Conley sisters, shown in this picture, stepped out in a bathing girl parade held at Redondo Beach, California, and took away all of the prizes. There were at least sixty girls in the contest, and it was no easy matter for the judges to pick the winners, but after the smoke had cleared away the Conley girls were seen going home with the cups.

DEATH SENTENCE GIVEN SLAYER OF BROWNWOOD MAN

BROWNWOOD, Aug. 31.—Information was received here today from the sheriff of Mohave county, Arizona, at Kingman, Ariz., that Theodore West, the man who was arrested in Los Angeles, Cal., several weeks ago, charged with the murder of Lem Smith of Brownwood, near Kingman some five weeks ago, had just been tried, convicted and given the death penalty and the date of execution set for Nov. 4.

Lem Smith was a young man who was engaged for two years in the pressing business in Brownwood. Theodore West, came here and after forming his acquaintance, the two men left for the Pacific Coast, traveling in Smith's car.

Two weeks passed and the chief of police here received a telegram stating that the dead body of a man believed to be that of Lem Smith of Brownwood had been found in the road near Kingman by tourists, and that the dead man had been seen several times with West. Officers got on the trail of West, and when arrested in Los Angeles he had the dead man's watch, also his pistol, and various other things. He claimed that robbers had climbed into the auto as he and Smith were driving along, and that in the fight the robbers killed Smith and forced him to keep driving and not look back or stop. The character of West brought out at the trial showed that he was a bad man, and that the murder of Smith was not his first crime.

Great Reception Accorded American Legion Arriving in France for Dedication

Major John C. Emery, commander of the American Legion, is here shown placing a silk American flag on the grave of the unknown Poilu at the Arc de Triomphe in Paris. Members of the American Legion arriving in Paris aboard the S. S. George Washington, of the American line, were given an ovation at every point they touched seldom given any other foreign body of visitors. Naval, civil and military authorities turned out to pay respects to the men who fought on the battlefields of France. The Legion is in France to dedicate a memorial to the American soldiers who fell on the French battlefields.

Alice Couldn't See the Joke When Frisky Pup Chewed Up Her Hair

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—A gay son at 2 p. m. with a jolly party of Mr. Triffon's friends. In the evening there was dancing, after which Alice, Mr. Triffon and others sat out on deck. Presently Alice began to notice that the damp air was taking the curl out of her wig. She went below and took it off, returning without it. Alice continued to enjoy the trip up the Hudson.

At what hour Gyp observed Alice's headgear is not stated in the complaint. But that he did take a fancy to it is stated specifically. When Gyp had finished with the transfiguration there was scarcely enough of it left for Mr. Triffon to enounce overboard, which he did.

The Seraphis returned to dock at 2 a. m. Alice, of course, without her wig; and Mr. Triffon, it is said, enjoyed the joke hugely.

It wasn't so funny, however, when Mr. Triffon was sued for $125, the value of a new wig, on the ground that he had been negligent and as owner of the boat that should have examined the object before throwing it away. Mr. Triffon was summoned to appear in the 9th district municipal court. He denied the allegations, but settled later for $50. David G. Godwin was Miss Bloom's lawyer. Charles Halla acted for Mr. Triffon. Miss Bloom formerly lived at 335 West Seventy-seventh street. She could not be found last night and Mr. Triffon is out on his yacht.

A tragedy second to the loss of the wig, one of Miss Bloom's friends said yesterday, was that her hat was bought for a head of hair. It would not fit without the wig, and coming from the boat, she, to her mortification, had to hold it in her hand, walking with shaved head.

BRITISH TROOPS ARE ATTACKED BY HINDOOS

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Three British soldiers and a number of Moplap Hindoos were killed when 4,000 of the Moplaps emerged from their entrenchments and attacked a British column that was en route for Malapuram, said a Calcutta dispatch today to the Evening News.

The Indian disorders have spread to Madras, where rioting broke out among textile mill workers. The police were called and fired several volleys, but no casualties were reported.

DANCE PLANNED FOR RED CROSS WORKERS

The Red Cross shop is planning a dance and party for those who have so ably assisted in establishing the shop. It will be an invitation affair. Mrs. William Clegg, who is in charge of the shop, will be both sponsor and chaperone for the dance. The date has not been set but it is thought the dance will be given about Sept. 15.

Several of the young women of the city have been very loyal in their efforts to make the Red Cross shop a success and because of this, Mrs. Clegg believes it is no more than fitting that they should be entertained.
