CONVENTION KLAN FIGHT ENDS IN DRAW

TEAPOT DOME SQUATTERS TO GET SWIFT KICK

Marines Sent to Protect Oil Belonging to Harry and John D.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Acting Secretary Roosevelt today ordered Major General Lejeune, commandant of the marine corps, to send one officer and three or four enlisted marines to the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, at a place about 40 miles from Casper, to eject oil squatters who have begun drilling for oil. The secretary said he issued his orders on the basis of information forwarded to the navy department by the interior department some months ago of the presence of the squatters, after the interior department had ordered the squatters to vacate.

The head of the group of squatters, Roosevelt said, had as late as today notified the navy department that he would like to "think it over" before abandoning his drilling. Roosevelt added that after consultation with officials of the interior department, he had decided the time had passed for thinking it over and so issued his orders.

DUTCH OIL MAN SENTENCED TO DIE IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, July 29.—Four employees of the Nobel Oil company, defendants in a trial for economic treason, have been sentenced to death by the revolutionary tribunal. Johan Hansen, a Dutch subject in charge of the Nobel company's Russian interests, was accused of counter-revolutionary activity and also of sending information abroad detrimental to the soviet government. Four bandits, three of them brothers, who terrorized Moscow inhabitants by looting stores and street holdups at night last winter, were also sentenced to death.

CUBAN KIDNAPERS STAB PRISONER FIVE TIMES

SAGUALA GRANDE, Cuba, July 29.—Eugene Jova, son of the acting American consular agent, captured by bandits and held for $20,000 ransom, escaped yesterday but was badly wounded as he made his break for liberty. There were five dagger wounds in the young man's body when he was found today in a ranch house in which he sought shelter but he was able to give the authorities information which was expected to lead to the capture of the bandits.

PLANE FLIGHT OVER POLE IS POSTPONED

NOME, Alaska, July 29.—Captain Amundsen has abandoned his attempt to reach Point Barrow in the Maud, his exploration ship, and has transferred to the schooner Holmes, according to a wireless message received from the Maud. Captain Amundsen was accompanied by Lieutenant G. O. Omdal, aviator, and one other man whose name was not given. It is understood that the plan to fly across the north pole has been abandoned until next year.

SAN ANTONIO LINEMAN KILLED BY LIVE WIRE

SAN ANTONIO, July 29.—A. Duty, lineman, lost his footing while working at the top of an electric light wire pole at noon Saturday and fell onto a live wire carrying 2,200 volts. Duty was badly burned and died a short time after at the Santa Rosa hospital.

GREEKS WON'T ENTER TURK CAPITAL WITHOUT PERMIT

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 29.—The Greek government has informed the allied commission that it does not intend marching on Constantinople without permission of the allies, it was announced today. The military movement in Thrace is explained as reorganization of the positions of the army in the event the allies authorize action against Constantinople.

CONGRESSWOMAN ROBERTSON ANNOUNCES SELF A SURE WINNER

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 29.—Two years ago on an afternoon just before the national election, Miss Alice Robertson, gray-haired, motherly, past 60, sat at a table in her cafeteria here and across a bowl of soup told a friend, "I am going to congress."

She was elected and became the only woman in the present congress. It was said of her—and she resented it—that she rode to congress on a sea of soup. This afternoon Miss Alice, her gray hair a little grayer, her stout figure as matronly, her sharp eyes no dimmer, sat in her headquarters here, handed a friend a huge red and yellow peach, and said:

"I shall serve another term in congress. I shall be given a landslide vote over my opponent (Gus Dinche, oil man). And I shall defeat at the general election whichever of the Democrats is nominated Tuesday."

RANGERS SENT TO PROTECT T. & P. AT BAIRD, BIG SPRING, MARSHALL

Second Battalion of Guard Leaves Austin for Denison at 7 P. M.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, July 29.—The Second battalion of the 142nd infantry of the Texas National Guard left here at 7 o'clock tonight on a special M., K. & T. train for Denison, to augment the troops doing strike duty there. They were ordered to Denison by Governor Neff following request last night from Colonel Charles H. Nimon, commanding the martial law area, for additional troops to do guard duty in the enlarged military district.

The troops are composed of five companies from Hereford, Canyon, Amarillo, Clarendon and Claude, about 250 men and officers in all. They will be commanded by Colonel Nimon when they go on duty in Denison.

T. & P. Guarded. The governor also announced that he had placed the railroad shops and properties of the Texas & Pacific at Marshall under the prohibitions of the open port law, effective at 10 o'clock this morning. Captain Roy Nichols is to be in charge of the detachment of rangers ordered there to enforce the governor's proclamation. The proclamation was issued on information furnished the governor by railway officials.

Rangers were today ordered to Smithville, Big Spring, Quanah, Stamford and Baird, to guard railroad property, the governor announced. They were sent to Quanah at the persistent request of the sheriff of the county and to Stamford at the mayor's request. These five towns are not placed under the open port law but five rangers were sent merely to do guard duty, he announced.

The governor requested that it be announced that the officials of Houston and Fort Worth are handling nicely their own conditions in the railroad shop strike.

KATY IMPORTING MEN.

DENISON, July 29.—Denison tonight awaited with equanimity and with the same calm that has characterized the townfolk since rangers and national guardsmen were sent here, the arrival of the second battalion of the 142nd infantry of the Texas national guard. Major Claud Adams, battalion commander, said tonight he would have military police on duty Sunday night.

Up to tonight the Katy road has brought to Denison approximately 400 men since last Monday morning. Of this number there has been a turnover of about 25 per cent, officials said. Some of the men who were brought here from Parsons, Kan., have asked to be returned to their old places there, claiming that under the system in effect in Parsons their work is more pleasant than in Denison.

Colonel Charles Nimon, martial law commander, took over the Denison jail this morning to be used inside the military area. Two men, both civil prisoners, were in jail tonight. General Barton said today he had ordered rangers to Amarillo, Quanah, Smithville, Stamford, Sherman, Fort Worth, Marshall, Lufkin, DeLeon, Kingsville and Cleburne.

FLOGGING AT TULSA.

TULSA, Okla., July 29.—W. J. Hallman, 48, of Minonk, Ill., was seized by three unidentified men while riding on an interurban car near here today, and forced to alight and accompany them to a lonely spot in a suburb, where he was given a severe beating. Hallman said he had come here seeking employment and had just refused an offer of a job from the Frisco railroad shop agent.

STRIKE SUMMARY

By Associated Press.

Union leaders returned to Chicago from conference with President Harding expressed confidence that Tuesday's conference between executives and union committees would result in ending of the walkout.

Freight and passenger traffic on western roads centering in Chicago is practically unaffected by the strike, railroad executives asserted.

Administration officials were said to feel that the settlement proposals made by President Harding should bring railroads and unions to an early agreement.

The International Association of Supervisors of Mechanics, said to have 20,000 members, asked the President to consider its position in any strike plans.

Railroad executives stand firm against seniority rights to strikers while union heads were insistent upon this.

Additional troops were sent to Denison, Texas, which is under martial law.

'Other Women' Must Be Strangers, But So Must Mother-in-Law!

CHICAGO, July 29.—John Haas is restrained by court order, made public here, from "visiting, seeing, talking to or riding with any woman in the world, except his wife."

Another injunction restrained his mother-in-law from "visiting, talking with or in any way interfering with the domestic happiness or conjugal felicity" of Haas and his wife.

The restraining orders followed a reconciliation made after Mrs. Haas had sued for divorce.

She alleged her husband would not "forget other women." He said his mother-in-law caused the trouble.

ST. LOUIS BANK SUES FRUIT COMPANY FOR CONSPIRACY

ST. LOUIS, July 29.—The Irving National bank of New York filed suit in circuit court today against 15 officers, directors and stockholders of the defunct Tempor Corn & Fruit company, alleging conspiracy to defraud in the manipulation of stock of the Best-Clymer Manufacturing company, which controlled the Tempor company, to give it a false value, and seeking to recover $175,000 of the $300,000 loaned the Tempor company.

BOSTON STORE WILL CONTINUE IN BUSINESS, A. JOSEPH ANNOUNCES

Definite decision to continue the Boston store in operation here was announced last night by A. Joseph, proprietor, on the eve of his departure for Eastern markets. The improvement of business conditions in general, especially in Ranger and surrounding territory, was one of the main reasons given by Mr. Joseph for changing his original plans to quit business here.

Under the plans announced the latter part of May it was the purpose of Mr. Joseph to dispose of his interests here in order to enter into the importing business in New York. In line with these plans the stock of the Boston store was reduced by a sale and negotiations were all but completed for the sale of the remaining stock, lease and fixtures. In explaining his change of plans Mr. Joseph said:

"We were very successful with the sale and entered into a contract whereby we agreed to sell stock, fixtures and lease, but later this deal did not materialize. "Now, since we did not dispose of our business and conditions in general, especially in Ranger and surrounding territory, have greatly improved, and the fact that a great many of our friends have urged that we remain in business, we have decided to continue to operate the Boston store as heretofore. "I am leaving Sunday for the New York market, where I will buy the very best merchandise obtainable and in sufficient quantity to give Ranger one of the largest stocks of merchandise to be found anywhere outside of the large cities."

LARGE SENIOR CLASS AT HIGH SCHOOL CERTAIN

Incompletion of Building Will Not Interfere; New Faculty Announced.

The largest senior class in the history of the Ranger High school is expected next year, H. D. Woods, principal, declared yesterday in announcing that the incompletion of the new high school building at the time of the Fall opening would not interfere with the school work. The same buildings used last year will be available, he stated, and explained that the old buildings would not be torn down until the new building had been completed.

About 35 students will graduate from the school next year, he said, 21 1-2 units being available for the students if all the courses are undertaken successfully. Sixteen units are required for graduation from the school, this number admitting students to the state university without examination.

The faculty of the high school for next year will be composed of the following: H. D. Woods, principal; W. E. Branch, science; G. T. Keahey, athletics and mathematics; John Pickett, mathematics; Miss Wilma Davis, English; Miss Katherine Garret, history; Miss Zula Winkler, language; Miss Flossie Winkler, domestic art; Miss Rosebelle Jameson, English; Miss Ruth Terry, mathematics.

Mr. Keahey and Misses Jameson and Terry are new members of the faculty.

GOMPERS CELEBRATES DATE OF ARRIVAL IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Samuel Gompers, who has been called the "grand old man of American labor" by virtue of his long tenure of office as president of the American Federation of Labor, today observed his fifty-ninth anniversary of what he considers one of the biggest events in his life—his landing in the United States as an English immigrant boy. The labor chief spent the day in New York but his office at the Federation of Labor headquarters here was visited by a stream of messenger boys bringing telegrams and letters of congratulation and good wishes.

Alfred Smith, former governor of New York, was one of those who sent a message. It read:

"May I as a citizen as well as a friend extend to you on this anniversary my heartfelt and sincere good wishes for many happy returns."

Charles C. Lockwood, member of the New York legislature and chairman of the Lockwood committee, expressed the hope that Gompers "might go forward with your great work for the betterment of working people and humanity."

TAMPIO REGION NOW SAFELY GUARDED BY FEDERAL TROOPS

VERA CRUZ, July 29.—The entire Tampico oil region is now perfectly safe and well guarded by flying columns of federal troops, said General Sanchez in an interview today. He is the chief of military operations in the state of Vera Cruz, which conducted the recent punitive expedition against the rebel general Goroza, who was killed.

CARBON'S FIVE VOTES SWITCH, UPSET DOPE

Klan Condemnation Stricken From Resolution; Allegiance to Secret Potentate Denounced; Sparks Fly During Debate.

Special to the Times.

EASTLAND, July 29.—Supporters of the Ku Klux Klan and anti-klaners each won a 50-50 victory at the county Democratic convention here Saturday afternoon after a hot session lasting four hours. The Ranger delegation of 25, lining up solidly with the opponents of the Klan from other parts of the county, succeeded in passing a resolution aimed indirectly at the organization, but was unable to put over another resolution, announcing opposition to "the practices of the Ku Klux Klan as they are now being practiced." It was contended that the resolutions adopted did not refer to the Klan.

The committee framing the resolutions was composed of Claude Wild, of Cisco, chairman; Joe Burkett of Eastland, John Gholson and M. H. Smith of Ranger, and Ira Underwood of Gorman.

Carbon Controls Action.

Oratory for and against the Klan waxed warm during the session, with Joe Burkett of Eastland the principal speaker of the anti-klan forces. In the fight, the Carbon delegation of five votes held the balance of power and furnished surprises to both sides. This delegation first voted with the anti-klanners to table the motion of C. C. Robey of Eastland, who sought to throw out the motion directly condemning the Klan, and then voted against adoption of the resolution as a whole. The Ranger delegation manifested evidence of considerable surprise at the seeming change of heart.

The convention was thrown into an uproar when M. G. Jackson, an aged citizen of the county and former member of the legislature, arose with the vigor and fire of youth to defend Earle Mayfield from a remark made by the chair. The incident occurred following a speech from Mr. Jackson, lauding the leading candidate in the senatorial race. Chairman Earl Conner in the course of his remarks asked if Mayfield had the backbone to declare his connection with the Klan. "I can answer that question," Mr. Jackson shouted, jumping to his feet. The vigor and fire of his defense in which he contended that Mayfield had taken the proper course and that the Klan was not an issue in the campaign, brought whoops, cheers and laughter from the convention. The chair was advised to "ask him another one."

The convention canvassed the election returns and appointed delegates to the legislature, judicial, district and congressional conventions.

Conner Chosen Chairman.

The fight of the opposing factions opened at 2 p. m. when the convention was called to order in the Eighty-eighth district court room with Earl Conner and Clyde Garrett of Eastland as temporary chairman and secretary, respectively. On motion of John Gholson, they were made permanent officers. On the presentation of the resolutions, C. C. Robey of Eastland moved to strike out section 8, condemning the Ku Klux Klan. R. N. Grisham of Eastland, in speaking for the motion argued that the condemnation of the Klan was not a proper matter to be brought up at the convention. It was moved to table Mr. Robey's motion and the latter was denied the floor to argue against this motion. The motion was then tabled by a vote of 52 to 45, the Carbon delegation of five voting with the Ranger delegation and other Klan opponents.

Carbon's five votes, which dominated the action of the convention throughout, later swung to the side of the Klan supporters when an effort was made to adopt the resolution as a whole, and defeated the move. Mr. Robey then moved to strike out resolutions 7 and 8, as aimed indirectly and directly at the Klan. It was contended that section 7 which condemned "a secret body and owing allegiance to an invisible power, and favored civil and religious liberty" did not refer to the Klan.

Klan Section Thrown Out.

With the direct condemnation of the Klan omitted the resolutions were adopted by a vote of 52 to 47. The resolution thrown out by the convention announced opposition "to the practices of the Ku Klux Klan as they are being practiced at present."

The resolutions adopted follow in substance:

1—Indorsed Democratic doctrine as laid down in the national platform of 1920.

2—Favored amendment to the irrigation laws in the interest of West Texas projects.

3—Opposed laws which hampered oil and gas development.

4—Favored betterment of education.

5—Favored fostering and development of agricultural interest.

6—Favored equal justice for capital and labor.

7—Called for trial by jury and opposed trial and punishment by any secret body of men; opposed any allegiance to any hidden power or potentate by any citizen. Favored civil and religious liberty and opposed racial and antagonism and racial intolerance.

8—Thrown out.

9—Indorsed West Texas A. & M. college.

10—Favored constitutional amend-

MINERS BATTLE GUARDS.

CADIZ, Ohio, July 29.—Several hundred shots were fired during an encounter last night and today between mine guards and striking miners at the Benova mine of the United Coal company, according to reports made to Sheriff Martin of Harrison county. No casualties were reported. The mine guards used machine guns in returning the fire of the miners.

DEPUTY SHERIFF AND 3 NEGROES SHOT AT MACON

By Associated Press.

MACON, Ga., July 29.—Deputy Sheriff Walter Byrd was shot and killed and three negroes were shot dead here tonight in the downtown district.

The casualties occurred after Deputies Byrd, Ralley and Jakes, the latter a negro, entered a negro pool room on Broadway, near Cherry street. Firing became general when a negro was said to have shot Byrd in the back and when it was over Byrd was dying and three negroes were dead.

To prevent a possible race riot police began closing business hours in the block, most of which are operated by negroes.

The negro who was said to have shot Byrd was cornered near the river and all the sheriff's deputies were rushed to the scene. Crowds of citizens also rushed to the scene.

AMBASSADOR HERRICK COMES HOME FOR REST ON FRAM

NEW YORK, July 29.—Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France, arrived here today on the steamship Paris to spend a few months "sitting under the trees and getting the lay of the land" on his Chagrin-valley farm near Cleveland. Although optimistic concerning the future of France, Herrick expressed a belief that her future would not become assured until she emerges safely from the grave crisis through which she is passing today.

LABOR COMMISSIONER WITHDRAWS RESIGNATION

AUSTIN, July 29.—Labor Commissioner Joseph F. Myers today withdrew his resignation, wired to Governor Neff several days ago from Denison. The withdrawal was made by wire from Denison, Myers saying: "After further consideration, I would like to withdraw my resignation if agreeable with Governor Neff."

Neff said it was agreeable with him and complimented Myers on his services as labor commissioner, adding that he "appreciated his splendid and efficient services."

STATES WILL HANDLE OWN COAL SUPPLY

Federal Regulation Will Apply Only to Interstate Shipments, Hoover Says.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Control of emergency coal distribution to individual consumers is entirely in the hands of state authorities except for railway coal, Secretary Hoover, chairman of the federal coal distribution committee, announced tonight.

The federal government, Hoover said, will limit its activities in coal distribution entirely to interstate questions. Principles embraced in the administration plan of coal distribution, Hoover explained, have been communicated to the governors of the states, who are to adopt plans of their own in co-operation with the President's committee. Distribution problems, he added, vary in different groups of states, such as New England, the Middle Atlantic, Southern, Middle West and Northern Lake states, so that there can be no uniform program. The Inter-mountain and Pacific states are able to look after themselves and are not embraced in actual administration plans. Conservation of the nation's coal supply within its boundaries will be necessary, he declared, and bunkering concerns along the Atlantic seaboard have been asked to bunker ships only to the next port of call and after Aug. 1 to require foreign ships to bunker for the round trip. Although coal is cheaper here than in Europe, it could not be spared out of the country, Hoover explained. Canadian consumers also have been warned to import coal from abroad for their use. Coal exports he asserted would be held to a minimum during the emergency, no priorities being granted for the movement of coal to people who can supply themselves.

MINERS BATTLE GUARDS. CADIZ, Ohio, July 29.—Several hundred shots were fired during an encounter last night and today between mine guards and striking miners at the Benova mine of the United Coal company, according to reports made to Sheriff Martin of Harrison county. No casualties were reported. The mine guards used machine guns in returning the fire of the miners.

TRANSCONTINENTAL FLIGHT IS DELAYED

SAN ANTONIO, July 29.—The transcontinental airplane flight from Jacksonville, Fla., to San Diego, Cal., planned by Lieutenant James H. Doolittle of Kelly field, has been delayed several days to complete the construction of a special plane, it was announced today. Doolittle hopes to hop off at San Antonio early Thursday morning, Aug. 3, for a non-stop flight to Jacksonville, where he will remain two or three days watching weather conditions. Making the big hop from Jacksonville to San Diego, Doolittle plans only one stop, to be made at San Antonio. He will leave Camp Johnson, near Jacksonville, about Monday, Aug. 7.

SECOND OBENCHAIN JURY IS DEADLOCKED

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—The jury deliberating in the second trial of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain late today reported to Judge John W. Shenk that it was hopelessly deadlocked and asked to be excused. The judge refused the request and instructed the jury to reach a verdict if possible. They returned to their deliberations.

GOVERNOR'S RACE HOLDS INTEREST IN OKLA. PRIMARY

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 29.—With lines being drawn on economic issues and undersurface shifts on the Ku Klux Klan question, Oklahoma has entered into the final stages of one of the most tangled primary campaigns in the history of the state. Interest in the outcome of the three-cornered race for the Democratic nomination for governor obscures the contests for congress and state offices in the three parties entered—Democratic, Republican and Socialist. The Ku Klux Klan issue has been brought forward recently with publication of slates purporting to have been issued by the organization.

HOUSEWIFE NOT IN ANY DANGER OF EXTINCTION

Only Rare Souls Who Crave 'The Intellectual' Rebel Against Home Duty.

(Denver Post.)

The wife-housekeeper is hastening toward extinction. Her place is to be taken by the trained expert, working in a home equipped for the elimination of drudgery.

So says one of the many foreign visitors in our land. And just because he is a "celebrity," his trite words are heralded as something sensational and epoch-making.

To every woman who longs to abandon cooking dishes and mops for intellectual and social interests outside the home here are 500 women who ask:

"What is there for us if this, our one work, is taken from us?"

Another Change Needed First.

Before turning these hordes upon hordes of safely anchored women out into the world, the exponents of "wife-drudgery extinction" had better "make" women want something else.

The whole trouble is that such propagandists are almost entirely associated with highly educated, talented women who do rebel against the fact that wifehood must dwarf their other capacities; and in thinking of the problem of their own women, these people forget the thousands upon thousands less fortunate.

It is the happy little wives who feel disturbed as those who are not able to understand, when they hear the current talk about the "monotonies of being married" and "the awful drudgery of it."

Take the Case of Ruth, for Instance.

Ruth is one of these girls. She had been a telephone operator for three years until she married Ned, a good-natured machinist. They have their own cozy little home, which is almost paid for, a red-cheeked little Ned, Ruth is kept more than busy with the baby, the house, the meals; making and mending clothes; planting flower bulbs in the spring and enameling old furniture into new.

"I'm busier than ever before in my life," she says, "but it's such a happy way to keep busy and get tired. I don't know that I go to bed at night more tired than when I was saying 'line is busy,' and I know that all my tiredness has meant something for myself and those who mean something to me."

"And when folks talk about marriage being so monotonous, it makes me laugh. For days and days I had to jump up like a jack-in-the-box at 5:30 o'clock in the morning and turn off the alarm clock; make a cup of instant coffee and drink it all alone, go out into the dark and worry if the car was held up, for fear I'd be late and get docked—for I could just pay for my room and board as it was. No Person Can Get Out of All Work.

"I was as good as chained to a board, dizzy with lights and driven nearly wild with voices, voices, voices. Then I met Ned. I knew I couldn't have luxuries and would have to work, but I can't see that a person gets out of all work so long as she lives, and I'm satisfied."

Where does a girl have the biggest chance to become the woman that she might be—in a clanging factory, where she does nothing for ten hours or so a day but count black lines on a piece of cotton or push a little iron bar into a slot, or in a home where her job is warmly human and a live one, that of giving comfort and happiness to several people who rely upon her for all this?

New Pictures of Principals in 'Stone Age' Murder

Here are some new pictures of the principals in the terrible "Stone Age" murder in Los Angeles, where Mrs. Clara Phillips (lower right-hand corner) is under arrest on the charge of having beaten to death, with a hammer, Mrs. Alberta Meadows (with telephone), a widow, employed as a bank clerk. Mrs. Phillips was insanely jealous of her husband, A. L. Phillips (upper right-hand corner), who, she charged, Mrs. Meadows tried to lure from her. Mrs. Peggy Caffey, who was with Mrs. Phillips at the time of the murder, is seen in the upper left-hand corner showing officers how the brutal murder was committed. She did not mention the crime until Phillips himself told the police, but declared she kept silent because Mrs. Phillips threatened to kill her, too.

200 APPLY FOR PART IN JERSEY LOVE LOTTERY

HAMMONTON, N. J., July 29.—More than 200 letters from bachelors, widows, old maids, young men and young women, were received today by the Lovers' Cooperative Union. On August 16 there will be a drawing of prospective husbands and wives.

These letters were from all over the country, the majority, however, being from about New York City. On Wednesday afternoon, the union will send out a questionnaire. The applicants will be asked to give their name, age, height, color of eyes and hair, health, occupation, religion and where born. There will be a space for the writer to state the character of a help-mate desired. Thomas U. Decker, secretary, explained:

"Those who have written us are lonesome and unhappy. They want to get married and the union is going to do their best to help them. We believe many marriages will result."

NAVY AND ARMY CHIEFS TO BRAZIL WITH HUGHES

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Secretary of State Hughes will be accompanied to Brazil, in September by Rear Admiral Hillary P. Jones, commander of the Atlantic Fleet, and Lieutenant General Robert L. Bullard, commander of the Second Corps area, it is announced at the White House.

FILM CENSORS IMPOSSIBLE, IN HAYS' OPINION

Motion Picture Industry's Head Declares Principle of Free Speech Also Involved.

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—Will H. Hays, head of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors association, here for a study in the stronghold of the industry, says in an informal statement that the principle of freedom upon which this organization was founded, makes public censorship of press, pulpit, film or spoken word virtually an impossibility. He added:

"State-wide or nation-wide censorship will fail in everything it undertakes. It hasn't been done successfully and never will be. To many people who know nothing about the business, are named on censorship boards. We are going to obviate the necessity of censorship."

Fills a Necessity.

Mr. Hays speaking before business and motion picture men, said he had come to visualize the motion picture industry as a great three fold instrument for good, adding:

"It can fill a necessity, the necessity for entertainment.

"Second, it can and will instruct—which is a most precious power.

"Third, it can do more than any other agency to bring the peoples of the world to bring understanding not only between man and man, but between nation and nation, than which no greater thing can be done."

News No Super-Court.

The association which he heads hopes to establish and maintain the highest possible moral and artistic standards and to develop the educational value and the general usefulness of the motion picture. Of this he said:

"This plan creates no super-court to pass upon pictures. We have no great programme of reform. I am a tenderfoot in the motion picture business, but I am learning something every day.

"In the development of this industry, there has been competition of the finest kind.

"The business is seeking and finding a firm anchor in the same strong rules which govern banking and manufacturing. Sober business men with vision clarified, old rivals now seeing common things, know better than anybody else, that the future of the business, as well as the future of society, demands better pictures."

MOVIES HARMFUL TO HEATHEN, SYNOD TOLD

PASADENA, Calif., July 29.—The American motion picture was blamed for the troubles of American missionaries in the Orient in a report from the Women's Board for Foreign Missions, presented here to the annual sessions of the Presbyterian synod of Arizona and California.

The report declared the natives of Canton, Shanghai, Tokio, Calcutta, Bombay and Jerusalem, viewing "western" pictures, concluded that all American men are "barbaric savages" who gamble for a living, drink whisky like water, carry two guns and a bowie knife, and kill their fellow men as a pastime, that American women are dance hall girls who smoke cigarettes, drink heavily and "sell themselves" for a coin or a smile.

The other pictures shown in the Orient are of the eternal triangle variety, the report continued, and the missionaries have a difficult time explaining that all American men and women are not like the characters in the pictures.

"In Jerusalem, within 100 yards from the grave in the garden where the Savior of the world lay after his crucifixion," the report declared, "there is a movie run by an enemy of all righteousness, showing revolting and sensual pictures of American life. These people in foreign lands have no means of knowing that such presentations are gross libel on the majority of our population."

CHOKES WIFE TO DEATH FOR NOT GIVING MONEY

DETROIT, July 29.—Vanis Walters, 35, is held today on a murder charge, following confession that he choked his wife, Florence, to death last night.

She refused to surrender money she was saving to buy him a new suit, he said.

PRETTY TRAIN!

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 29.—Police answering a riot call at the Louisville & Nashville railroad shops at Boyles found 250 men, women and children, all carrying sticks. A work train taking workmen into the shops was due.

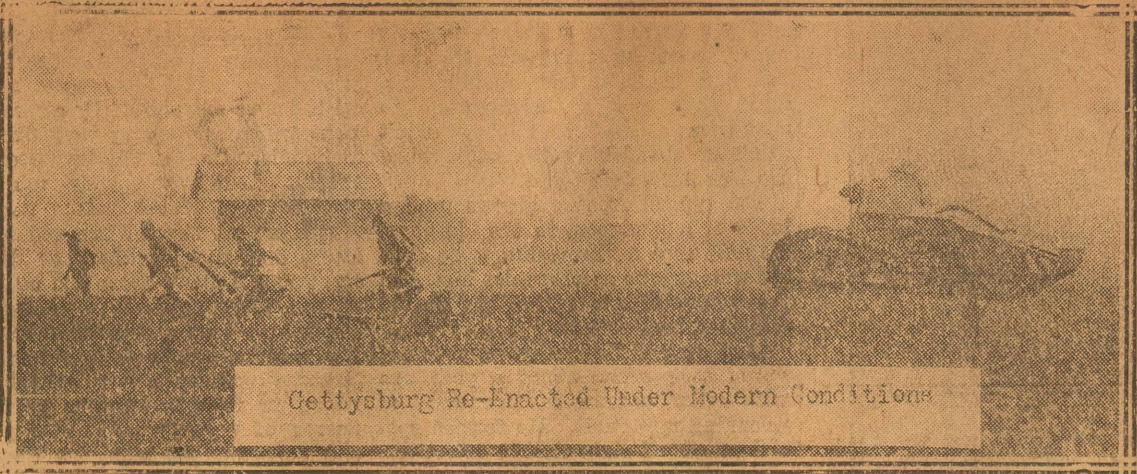

"What's the trouble, boys?" Chief Fred McDuff asked.

"We're just plain, simple country folk who want to see the train go by," the leader of the crowd replied.

"Fine," said the chief. "We want to see it, too!"

All stood and watched the train go by. There was no disorder.

Re-enact Gettysburg Under Modern Conditions

Gettysburg Re-enacted Under Modern Conditions

After the Fourth of July celebration at Gettysburg, where U. S. marines re-enacted the battle exactly as it was fought in the Sixties, the marines fought the battle again—this time under modern conditions. Airplanes made reconnaissance flights, fought air battles and shot down observation balloons. Heavy artillery laid down interdiction fire and light artillery threw its barrage. Machine guns covered the advance of the troops, with whippet and big tanks wiping out machine gun nests. Men who observed the two methods of attack marveled that men could live under modern conditions in such advances.

Dry Land Bathers 'Get Goats' of Staid California Farmers

OAKLAND, Calif., July 29.—The dry land bathing girl is worrying the staid and respectable country citizens of Alameda county.

She is not one of the "Mother, may I go out to swim?—Yes, my darling daughter, hang your clothes on a hickory limb, but don't go near the water," kind—not one of the kind who dons a daring bathing suit and lies in the sand or promenades the board walk, but a genuine "dry land" bathing girl.

Alameda county farmers are complaining that increasing numbers of girls are coming out into the country, donning bathing suits as the most comfortable garments for the heat and wandering through the farmers' fields picking flowers, and frighten-

IS READY TO ACT IN RAILROAD STRIKE

Maj. Gen JOHN J. HINES

Major General John J. Hines, commanding the Eighth Corps Area, with headquarters in San Antonio, Texas, is holding United States troops in readiness to suppress disorders along the lines of the M., K. & T. railroad. Guards have been beaten and strike-breakers intimidated, with the result that railroad officials have asked that adequate protection be provided.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Legs have turned the corner and business is better in the burlesque and musical comedy houses of the western circuits, after a spell of depression which was in inverse ratio to the elevation of feminine skirts.

Short skirts actually made it unnecessary for the tired business man or his office help to invest money in theatre tickets a year ago. The freedom of the knees, so light-heartedly asserted by the American flapper and her grandmother, is actually held to have been measurably responsible for masculine apathy toward the touring ing the conservative cows on peaceful Sundays.

That might be all right. The farmers say they wouldn't mind an unattended bathing girl or two, even in a one-piece, or one-half piece suit, but these young and charming females usually have male companions, who also don bathing suits and wander through the fields intent upon acquiring a healthy, manly tan.

The farmers are planning a hostile reception for these "dry land bathers." The constables have been informed, and are combing their chin whiskers and polishing up their stars, and it is freely predicted in Alameda county's rural sections that trouble is brewing, by heck!

FISH TURNS TABLES

GALVESTON, July 29.—Becoming entangled in his fishing line with a huge tarpon at the end of it, and carried far out into the gulf, all the time fighting desperately for his life, was the thrilling experience of Jim Ellis, local boy.

Ellis was fishing from one of the piers when a huge "Silver King" hit his line. In attempting to land the fish he lost his balance and fell into the water, entangling himself in the line. Fighting to keep himself above water and untangle the line, Ellis was carried far out into the gulf.

When nearly exhausted Ellis finally fought clear and made his way to shore. He was little the worse off for the battle.

Therefore, it is only with gratitude that the managers of houses beyond New York regard the Parisian designers who prescribed 'em longer for the girls of 1922. Gentlemen students of alluring leg lines have turned back to the theatre to pursue their studies, and it looks like a prosperous winter, incidentally there are two show girls looking for jobs on Broadway where one looked for a job before, indicating that they simply will insist on showing them, even if they have to go on the stage to do it.

Squaw Too Rough Is Complaint of Oklahoma Chief

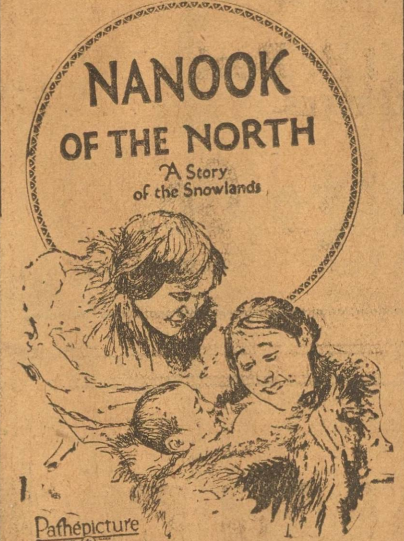

CHICAGO, July 29.—The last of the squaws have forgotten the tribal discipline of their forefathers, according to a divorce petition filed by Chief Harry Little Bear, Pasco, Okla., one of the few remaining leaders of the Cherokee tribe. Mrs. Little Bear filed a suit for separate maintenance a few minutes later.

The chief avers that Mrs. Little Bear struck him with a large wooden mallet Feb. 13, and then chased him out of his home with a knife.

Mrs. Little Bear says the tribal head was quarrelsome while intoxicated. They were married July 22, 1896, and separated Feb. 18, when, she says, he deserted her.

Mispronouncing of Word Blamed For Killing of Los Angeles Negro

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—The pronunciation—or mispronunciation—of a word was blamed by the police for the slaying of Charles Cole, a negro porter, and the arrest of A. D. Matthews, negro proprietor of a cafe, for murder.

Cole asked Matthews to go to a drug store and purchase some caustic for him.

Matthews, anxious to oblige a patron, did so. But he misunderstood what Cole said and asked the drug clerk for some "hoss-tick."

THE "DIGGING UP" SPIRIT.

It is remarkable what a change comes over a town when it becomes convinced of its own solidarity, just as a man loses his haggard look when debts are paid off and he feels himself at least three jumps ahead of the wolf.

Take Ranger for instance: A year ago, there was a fear of impending calamity. Oil had slumped. A larger part of the drilling had moved outward from the immediate vicinity. There was a general, if unexpressed, fear that Ranger would go the way of other oil towns of the past. As a result, there was a general tight-fistedness. Caution had the upper hand, for everyone felt that shipwreck might be just around the corner.

But during the last year Ranger has kept on its way, despite the opening of new fields, despite the slump in oil prices, despite other adverse conditions. Ranger's citizens have discovered that its tenacles reach into all corners of a vast territory, just as blood vessels stretch from the heart to the furthest finger tips. They have found that there is a stable population here, and a steady flow of business, and they have taken heart.

That is proven by the support given the baseball team, the band, and other civic enterprises. Money is not growing on the bushes or cluttering up the pavement, but there is enough of it that persons need not fear that what they pass out will never come back. The spirit of Ranger as exemplified in its donations is dominated by optimism and confidence.

Which is as it should be. The giving town is a progressive town. It is a town which recognizes that improvement can come only through expenditure. The town whose people look only to their personal benefit in every dollar expended is a stagnant town which will never get anywhere of its own accord.

At that, these donations are really—or should be—a part of every person's budget. There are things that can be done if all join together which cannot be done by a few individuals. Those things, when accomplished, are community assets. They are value to every person. But they cannot be accomplished if some hold back and say "What do I get out of it?" and measure their profit in material terms. Every person in Ranger who has a margin should put donations down as a necessary expense. They need not be unduly large, nor for every purpose. But if there is common support of community projects, Ranger will continue to be a live town and a growing town.

Educated "Bull" Makes Farewell Tour of America

CHICAGO, July 29.—Having trooped more than 1,200,000 miles, visited every state in the union, and devoured peanuts from Australia to England, "Old John," veteran of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey 50 elephants is about to enter upon the last half of his farewell tour. For, following the show's return to its Bridgeport, Conn., winter quarters next November, John will be placed on the pension list.

The veteran's full name is "John L. Sullivan"—a title attached to him when the famous pugilist was in his heyday and when the elephant donned the leathers and boxed with the old Forepaugh show. It was with this circus that John toured the antipodes. Subsequently he went to Europe under the tutelage of George Denman, the famous elephant trainer and finally, came into the hands of the Ringlings. For the last ten years John has been "merely a working elephant" other and more agile pachyderms having taken his place in the rings.

His farewell tour will be the most extensive he has yet made. He will travel through the Canadian northwest, down the Pacific coast, troop through the entire Southwest and following a 30,000-mile "finish" bring his touring record to better than a million and a quarter miles. During John's service with the circus it is estimated that he had had enough water carried to him by the small boys of America to supply a city of average size for a day, and consumed fully a hundred tons of goobers.

C., and it is here shown on its way back to Indiana to celebrate its twenty-eighth birthday, with Congressman Fred S. Purnell of Indiana, acting as its escort.

French Criminals Abandon Knife For Revolver As Result of The War

By JOHN O'BRIEN, United Press Staff Correspondent. PARIS, July 29.—Ever since the investigation of crime has been somewhat of an exact science, the French sleuth has been guided by an invariable rule—"Chechez la femme" (Look for the woman). It is so no longer. The French detective now asks himself merely, "Why did she do it?" Seven out of ten of all the crimes have had a woman as principal or active accomplice.

The "woman with the Browning"—that's the common French expression for a "gun"—has taken the place of the Apache in lurid novels and even in the comic papers. She has become a feature of French life. She belongs in all walks of life.

One day it is the wife of a Bordeaux theatre manager, who, furious at seeing her husband install his mistress within a block of the conjugal tim's wife—or rather, widow—is one of the three principals incriminated. Use of Revolver.

This use of the revolver is one of the outstanding features of criminality in France. Police experts hold that it is a natural result of the war. Men who had never had a firearm in their hands, spent years in the trenches, handling pistols as they would a cane, until they got so accustomed to "drawing a gun" that they didn't think of abandoning the habit when the war came to an end.

The typical Apache always used a knife or a bludgeon, in the old days. He now uses a "Browning." So does the woman who accompanies him. And the vogue of the pistol has passed into "the best society."

M. Leullier, the prefect of police of Paris, took office about a year ago with the expressed intention of "cleaning up" Paris. He formed special squads of plain clothes detectives, each squad having a well-defined task to perform. Leullier's system has worked extraordinarily well. The gangs, who frequented the Bois de Boulogne after sundown, have been broken up. The cocaine sellers are filling the central prison.

American Criminals.

While this cleaning up process is being accomplished, the floating population of criminals in the French capital is being augmented by a new element which is proving very difficult to handle. One of the inspectors of Prefect Leullier's squads told the United Press correspondent recently that there are several hundred Americans, discharged soldiers or deserters, young fellows from one or other of the many post-war organizations which have been disbanded in the last few months, crooks with jail records in three continents, now actively engaged in fleeing visitors to Paris. Scores of these have been arrested and deported but many others have simply crossed the frontier into Belgium on their way to Antwerp and the Statue of Liberty, only to make a right about face and turn up a few weeks later in Montmartre or the Boulevards.

One crook of this kind was arrested no less than five times before he was definitely placed aboard a transport in Antwerp. Dozens of his kind are in evidence every night around the Montmartre resorts, where they have even revived the "cadet" system, which "Little Tim" Sullivan smashed on New York's East Side years ago. Owing to the laxity of French laws governing this special brand of criminal activities, the police can make little headway.

BUILT BETTER than Cars that Cost More-

A CAREFUL analysis of the construction and complete equipment of the Light-Six will convince you that it has no duplicate in value in the light car class.

For instance, the machining of the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces is a manufacturing practice that is found only on costlier cars.

This particular operation is mainly responsible for the fine balance of the Light-Six motor and its remarkable freedom from vibration at all speeds. It also has an important bearing on the wearing quality of the car and on its long-lived dependable service.

The exceptional values in the Light-Six are possible because practically every part that goes into the car is manufactured complete in the most modern plant in the world. Parts-makers' profits are practically eliminated. Important savings through better methods and bigger volume permit greater value to the buyer.

From the standpoint of shrewd investment you should find out why the Light-Six offers you so much more for your money in performance, service and economy.

Manners

Someone suggested an article on manners.

It sounded easy. On looking around it seemed that most people shed their formal manners with their winter "undies" and forget to take them out of moth balls the next season. Someone said "manners is or ain't—mostly ain't"—it's hard to say which state of being is applicable to Ranger, but at any rate it's open season all the year 'round for hunting good manners.

Someone wants to know what constitutes good automobile manners—should a man help a lady in and out of the car as in the days of the horse and buggy—they mostly don't. In the old days a man only permitted his own wife or sister to alight unaided.

Suspicion of hostesses seem to be the worst manners in Ranger—it's a chronic state of mind. One lady was heard to say of a friend who was entertaining: "If she can't invite me to her best parties, she needn't invite me to any. I refuse to be herded with the frumps," which was exceedingly bad form, as she had forgotten the number of times she had been a beneficiary of the same hostess.

Manners have changed so much in the last few years that the shades of Beau Brummell and Lord Chesterfield must feel scandalized when they visit the earth, and make them retire immediately to their own stately courts.

There are lots of books on etiquette, which everybody is too busy to read, so manners stands in a fair way to become as obsolete as the dodo bird, unless there is a reform soon.

FORTY-TWO CLUB HAS PLEASANT MEETING.

The Forty-two club met with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harwell last Thursday evening. Eight tables were arranged for progressive forty-two, which was played throughout the evening. Walter West making high score for men and Mrs. Harry Reed high score for the ladies. A color scheme of green and yellow was carried out with potted plants and sunflowers. Dainty yellow and green bon bon baskets filled with lemon drops were given as favors. Cantaloupe ala mode, angel food and devil's food cake and grape punch proved very delightful and refreshing.

Those invited to share the pleasure of this evening were: Messrs. and Mmes. R. E. Sweeney, V. E. Ashford, Roy Jameson, Walter West, E. A. Meek, Harry Reed, Garvin Chastain, W. T. Bigsbee, T. J. Refreshments of banana salad, bread and butter sandwiches, wafers, ice tea and cake were served after the game.

MRS. RECTOR HOSTESS TO Y. M. CLUB.

Mrs. L. L. Rector was hostess to the Young Matrons' club Friday afternoon. There were three tables at bridge, and in the final counts the high score favor, a picture, went to Mrs. W. H. Burden and the low score favor, a box of correspondence cards, to Mrs. J. T. Gullahorn. An ice course was served after the game.

The players were: Mmes. A. J. Orth, L. A. Vandervoort, E. E. Crawford, Frank Brahaney, C. C. Craig, D. M. Steele, Karl E. Jones, Ed Maher, W. H. Fouke, R. W. Thomas, W. H. Burden, J. T. Gullahorn.

Flowers, Lace and Silk Provide Summery Effect

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

FLOWERS, lace, and silk, when combined as in this frock, are summery enough to delight one thoroughly. Maize crepe de Chine with figure in old blue is used as material. Embroidered cream batiste and Val lace make the collar, vest, and cuffs. The sash is of blue velvet to harmonize with the figure in the silk, and the flowers are mauve to help the sash become more definitely a part of the dress.

The deep hem is favored for wash silk, for it gives body to the plain skirt and takes itself up out of the way enough to make of itself a trimming rather than just a necessary hem.

The blouse has kimono sleeves and is cut with scalloped peplum effect and surplice closing. The skirt is two straight widths of material finished simply with placket and waistline, both of which are concealed under the blouse.

Wash silks, this season, come in many exquisite colors and designs. This, added to their laundering advantages, makes them the most popular summer fabric.

FASHION HINTS

By HEDDA HOYT.
(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, July 29.—The newest dresses have skirts that are draped tightly about the figure and caught at the left side by an ornament or buckle from which long draperies hang almost to the floor.

The short woman and the young girl will find that the long skirts are not suitable to them as they tend to make them appear squatly. By wearing the medium length skirt and using long panels or aprons, they can achieve the long silhouette without appearing grotesque.

Black satin slippers studded with jet and steel nailheads are worn with the all black dinner gown.

Some women believe that elephants bring them luck. They will want one of those charming gowns that are embroidered in oriental design using the elephant as the most dominant note. A gown of black silk crepe has a wide border of tan embroidery which consists of motifs of elephants and trees. There is a faint outline of red running throughout the pattern.

Black lace over silver cloth or over old gold metallic cloth promises to be one of the foremost dancing types of winter.

Knitted one-piece bathing suits cut very much like the men's suits with a white belt about the waist are seen more than any other style on the beaches about New York. Either the wool must shrink considerably after it hits the water or these suits are made extremely short, for one is at first shocked and then amused at their audacity.

Little corsages of different colored rubber flowers are being sold at the stores for the bathing costumes. They have snapper attachments which can be used on any bathing suit or cap.

The Parisians are at last divorcing themselves from their beloved black. Pastel colors, however, seem to have preference over the more brilliant tones.

RUSSIAN FAMINE BROKEN RELIEF OFFICERS SAY

By Associated Press

MOSCOW, July 29.—A brief inspection trip in Nizhni, Samara, Tsaritzin and Rieni undertaken by a group of American relief administration officials has confirmed the existing impression that the Russian famine had been broken.

Famine deaths have practically ceased; the crops look good, and the people in the regions mentioned are expecting a good harvest.

Upon the report of these A. R. A. members to Secretary Hoover will be based the decision as to whether it will be necessary for the A. R. A. to remain in Russia after September or October of this year.

AFRICA EXPERIMENTS IN COTTON PRODUCTION

By Associated Press

CAIRO, Egypt, July 29.—Steady progress is being made in the establishment of the Niger river valley cotton experiment station, located in West Africa. The work is being done under the auspices of the French colonial authorities of Occidental Africa, who have selected Dr. Herbert H. Forbes, former dean of the College of Agriculture of Arizona, to report on the proposed irrigation project.

The French consortium committee has allotted the money for the station, and definite installations will be begun as soon as the credits are in hand.

Cotton seed and a selection of cotton plants have been sent to the station from the United States and Egypt. Cultivated lands in the vicinity of Kulikoro and El-Ouabadji, on the Niger above Timbuktu and bordering on French Senegal, are to be used for the experimental work. The first cultures will give returns during the winter of 1922-23. These will be used to secure a sufficient stock of pure cotton seed for the 1923-24 season.

The irrigation work contemplates ultimately an irrigation dam similar to the Assouan dam on the Nile. Temporary pumping stations to carry for the 1923-24 crop already have been installed. Every means of preventing cotton plant diseases and worm invasions will be adopted.

He was uninjured and was returned to the train, which had been stopped to permit passengers to search for him.

TEN MILLION BAD ONE-POUND BILLS PASSED BY RING

U. S. Secret Agents Sent to France to Aid in Running Down Band.

PARIS, July 29.—American secret service men have arrived in France to co-operate with detectives of Great Britain, France, Italy and Switzerland in running down the most dangerous gang of forgers and counterfeiters in history.

The gang has victimized hundreds of individuals, banks and even governments by virtually perfect replicas not only of paper and metal money but certificates and government bonds as well.

The first intimation of the successful working of the counterfeiting organization came in February when the British government sent broadcast warnings that approximately ten million pounds worth of forged pound notes were in circulation.

A month later banks in Scotland discovered forged French, Belgian and Swiss notes all so skillfully made as to almost defy detection by experts.

Since then the flood of counterfeit money has caused great concern to Paris police who thus far have been unable to determine its source.

Forged share certificates of Royal Dutch, Mexican Eagle and other famous issues have actually been traded in good faith by brokers on European exchanges, the fraud only being discovered when the serial numbers were found to be false.

WOODEN STEAMERS PUT TO THE TORCH

The Burning Vessels.

The burning question was to get the $9,000 worth of metal out of these two old wooden sea horses—and the owners did. They towed the Wakanna and the Fairfield off Governors Island, New York harbor, and burned them. The Wakanna is shown burning in the frame of another old hulk. The vessels afire suggested an up-to-date movie scene.

TEXAS FACTORY WORKERS DRAW OVER HUNDRED MILLION ANNUALLY

DALLAS, July 29.—The industrial importance of Texas is shown by the fact that in 158 counties the number of wage earners in manufacturing industries is more than 90,000 and the average annual amount paid to these wage earners is $95,521,636, according to statistics on industrial operations announced today by W. M. Barrickman, secretary of the Texas Industrial congress.

Of the 5,724 manufacturing industries in Texas, returned in the census of 1920, 5,153 are reported in the 158 counties considered in the above statement, according to Secretary Barrickman, while the remaining 571 manufacturing establishments are contained in the other 95 counties of the state. The latter group of industries employs an average of 17,283 workmen, with wages amounting annually to $22,882,162. Thus it is seen that the wage earner in Texas industrial plants receives an average annual wage of $1,074, based upon the census of 1920.

A tabulation of the leading counties of the state in industrial activities, shows that Dallas county stands first in the number of manufacturing establishments, with 492; Harris county stands second with 422; Bexar, third, with 328; Tarrant, fourth, 257, and El Paso, fifth, 217.

Harris county leads the state in the number of wage earners and wages paid, according to the tabulation. The southern Texas county, with Houston as the chief industrial center, has an average of 11,411 workmen who receive an average of $12,173,174 annually in wages. Tarrant county, with Fort Worth as the principal center of activity, stands second, reporting 9,196 wage earners and a payroll of $10,563,246; Dallas county, third, with 8,708 wage earners and wages amounting to $8,752,026.

VIRGIN ISLANDERS WANT PROHIBITION ---OF PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Prohibition is all right if it only prohibits what is intended in the Volstead law, but when it cuts into the income of a people and drives away ships which otherwise would stop over a while and permit the sailors to spend some money in their natural care-free abandon then prohibition should be prohibited.

That was the complaint registered at the White House by a delegation from the Virgin Islands who came here for the express purpose of convincing President Harding that the three-mile limit on the islands will ultimately cause the natives complete bankruptcy.

SLEEPING BOY USING COWCATCHER AS COUCH SCARES RAILWAY FOLKS

HAMMONDTON, N. J. July 29.—A Pennsylvania railroad train from Atlantic City passed through here at high speed last night with the motionless form of a man on the front of the locomotive.

When the train stopped at Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, railroad officials and others were horrified to find the body of a boy seventeen years old lying inert on the cowcatcher.

He was alive but asleep and had made the ride, almost seventy miles, in his dangerous position, sometimes rushing through the darkness at seventy miles an hour.

His name was Fredrick Herbert of Shawnee, Okla., hometown bound, without the formality of paying regular rates.

The Philadelphia police took the nery lad in tow.

HOOCH HOUNDS HALT HEARSE SEVEN TIMES IN HUNT FOR BOOZE

NEW YORK, July 29.—A hearse was stopped seven times recently on the way from New York to Islip, L. I., and return, by men who represented themselves as prohibition agents, it has been reported.

Richard Norton, the driver, with two assistants, left the city early Sunday to bring back the body of a woman. He was stopped three times going out at Jamaica, Lynbrook and Long Island City. He was questioned eight miles this side of Greenwood.

When he refused to open the wicker basket containing the body, the men who composed the group stationed at Long Island, presumably on the lookout for a shipment of rum, followed him to the church.

BINGLING WINS WHEN NITROS DO MUCH BUNGLING

The World's Best Pinch Hitter is the world's best pinch pitcher. He proved it yesterday afternoon when in spite of ten-count 'em, ten—behind him, he edged over a 9 to 6 victory on Sweetwater.

The Nitros' performance was consistent, with the exception of Pat Conley, who refused to make it a perfect day by kicking one with his teammates. The wobbling began in the first inning, when Dockery and Palmer by a misjudged fly and a wild heave presented the Swatters with a run. It continued in the third, when Parson himself, Leedy and Clayton contributed to three tallies for the Swatters, and it erupted spasmodically thereafter, with little damage, due to Parson's unwillingness to yield safe drives in the pinch, plus rallies of the Nitros which snuffed out Swatter scoring threats with pertness.

As an offset to their miscellaneous assortment of boots, wild heaves and other 67 varieties, the Nitros presented an offense second to none they have developed this year. As per their custom, they staked the visitors to a lead and then overcame it in one concentrated assault. This time the batfist came in the fourth, with Leedy, the Nitro luck piece, leading off. Eight knocks they collected during the inning, including Leedy's double that started things, Clayton's triple that tied up the count, and Craig's homer which put the Nitros in the lead. In between were sandwiched safeties by Conley, Brooks, Palmer and White, and following Craig came a sizzling smash by Pyle that nearly took a board off the fence and was the only wasted knock of the inning.

Up to the fourth, Hayes had yielded but one hit, but the bombardment retired him to the gardens, with Clayton's smack finishing his mound duty. Johnny Frierson again acted as relief hurler and was ineffective, White, Craig and Pyle hitting safely and Dockery drawing a walk, before the final out could be made.

After being rescued, singled and battered, from the conflagration, Johnny was reasonably effective, though severely clouted drives by Dockery and Brooks put over additional markers in the seventh and eighth.

BRITISH BANTAMWEIGHT TO INVADE U. S. FOR TITLE

LONDON, July 29.—Thomas Harrison, of Hanley, British bantamweight champion, may go to the United States in quest of the world's title, recently won by Joe Lynch from Johnny Buff. Harrison recently knocked out Jim Higgins, the British titleholder, in the thirteenth round of their match.

Although Harrison has established himself as superior to other English 118-pounders, many of the boxing critics believe he should bolster his record before going after Lynch, one of the cleverest little men in the world. Higgins, defeated by Harrison, was a victim of Pete Herman's cudgels when the American invaded the Isles.

SEVERED INJURED. ST. LOUIS, July 29.—Hank Severid, star catcher of the St. Louis Browns, will be out of the game for at least a week as a result of having the middle finger of his throwing hand split by a foul tip off the bat of Burns in the second game of the Boston-St. Louis game here today.

Scout in Stand.

Perhaps one reason for the awful showing yesterday was the presence of Jack Doyle, scout for the Chicago Cubs, in the stand. Big league ivory ballers always wreck the nerves of home players, for some unknown reason, and if Doyle was looking for prospects yesterday, he failed to find them, unless Mason and the ancient Jonny Frierson were under observation.

New Pitcher.

Tomorrow the Nitros pastime in Lubbock, where they will be joined by Alex (Slim) Thomas, who performed with Fort Worth during the early part of the season. Slim is another lefty and probably will break into one of the Lubbock games. It is pretty safe to bet that with good hurling, backed by the heads-up baseball the Nitros have been displaying here, the coming road trip will be more successful than any taken so far this season.

Both men have been going well in recent bouts, with Miske showing to the best advantage in the record book.

Fulton is conceded by critics to be the better boxer and has an advantage in reach and weight. In their first match, these advantages did not materially assist him because Miske walked in and confused Fulton with smashes to the stomach.

'RING LARDNER' APOLOGIZES FOR NOT RITING UP LION-ROTARY GAME

"I couldn't see the game for laffin tears," Ring Lardner Coleman explains his failure to write up the late Lion-Rotary ball game for the New York Times et cetera. "Lardner" also explains a number of other things, as follows, to-wit—read till the tears fill your eyes:

There was two reasons why I didn't give you a rite up on the first Lion-Rotary ball game, one of them was that I got laffin till tears obstructed my eyesite and I didn't see all of the game and the other one don't make any difference. When I got home Miller Huggins says to me, "Ring," says he, "who is this bird Craig down there that gets two home runs inside the park?" And I says, "Miller, you don't want that guy, he ain't no sportsman." Miller says, "I don't want sportsman, I want somebody that can stretch a two-base hit into a home run—one that turns third base corner so fast that he dips up a shirt pocket full of sand."

Then I says "Miller, don't hire that misery dispenser, he's got a mustache and a golf bug." Then I had to confess to Miller the true reason for my animosity toward Mister Craig. You see we went out to play a round or so of Society. Shiny, and not being familiar with the course I lost my law frequently and whilst I was locatin same, this herbivorous biped would go on and play, and every time whilst my back was turned he would make the hole in four or five shots less than par, and his being bestowed with an unwieldy corpulence and me not being to deft in pugilistic propensities, it hardly behooved me to make mention of the possible discrepancies he might have made in countin.

But, jokin to one side, I had good time whilst I was in Ranger. I met all the candidates and other members of the County Promisers' association and most of the prominent citizens of the town, some of whom went on my bond and some didn't; I was invited out several times and threwed out of several places. I was greatly pleased with your little city and I understand you are starting a "Buy it in Ranger" campaign. I want to remind you that both Mr. Sear and Mr. Roebuck are powerful Republican politicians and might cause you to have to go to Olden to get your mail if you push this thing too strong, but still it's only a little piece over there and with their voluminous correspondence and shipments cut off you won't have much use for a Post Office any way. It came to my attention that your county is the only one in Texas that has three Lions clubs, three Rotary clubs, three Elks clubs and three Chevrolets all in runnin order at the same time.

I want to be there at the next Lion-Rotary ball game which I understand will be played on a week day so as to enable some of the better element of both clubs to participate, and if these new additions will strengthen the teams as per the expectations of the spectators you better wire Gov. Neff to send you a company of rangers to keep the women folks of the clubs from havin a free-for-all.

Yours respectfully, RING W. LARDNER. (With the usual apologies.) Rough Neck, L. I., July 28, 1922.

TODAY IS LAST OF HOME SERIES; TEN-DAY TRIP

Today is the last day of the present Nitro home stay and with Kewpie Fleharty, the league's best slow ball pitcher, and Lefty Phillips, the Nitros' old reliable, on the mound, a wicked battle is in prospect for the edification of the fans. With two games of the Sweetwater series in the won column, today tells whether the Nitros can repay the Swatters in kind by sweeping the series. Chances are, they worked all the errors out of their system yesterday and will present the usual earnest battle today.

At that Doyle must have appreciated Pyle's cannon ball slam into the right field fence.

FOOTBALLERS AT HI TO HAVE TRAINING CAMP

Prospects for the High school football team and plans for a training camp before the fall term opens were discussed at an enthusiastic meeting of sixteen candidates last night in the Presbyterian club rooms. Principal Woods and Captain Tom Alworth were in charge of the meeting. Only three men of last year's successful team will not be back this year, it is announced.

THE TRAINING CAMP, which will open the first week in August is to last two weeks and will be located in the vicinity of Ranger near good water and ground for training. The camp is designed to provide recreation for the candidates as well as to get them in shape for the football season.

Soon after the school opens this fall, season tickets will be put on sale and it is expected, in view of the success of the team last year and the promise of an even more successful team this year, that the citizens of Ranger will respond sufficiently to give the team ample funds.

BIG LEAGUERS SET NEW HOMER RECORD FOR DAY

CHICAGO, July 29.—Smashing out the grand total of 21 home runs for the afternoon's session and piling up a new world's record for home runs in any one day, major league fence busters today held an open field meet with Kenneth Williams of the St. Louis Browns and Babe Ruth of the Yanks up in the running.

Williams by knocking out his twenty-fourth homer of the season tied his Mackman rival, Tillie Walker, for the American league home run honors. Ruth boosted his season's total to 18 at the expense of the Chicago White Sox. Rogers Hornsby did not break into the charmed circle of the game records.

Of these honors, the National league sluggers were on the long end of the total, with 14. The American league sluggers gathered seven. Seven homers were made at Philadelphia in a double-header between the Chicago Cubs and the Phillies. The locals got five and the Cubs drove out two. Reb Russell, Tierney and Cooper of the Pirates collected one each off the Giants while Max Carey, another Pirate, slammed out two.

COBB WRESTS BATTING LEAD FROM SISLER

CHICAGO, July 29.—Throwing a jolt and punch into the Detroit Americans which is being felt by every American league club, the veteran Tyrus Cobb, Tiger pilot, excelling his every past performance at the bat, today is out in front of all American league contenders for 1922 hitting honors, and is leading his mates convincingly in the close pennant race.

Cobb, in his last six games cracked out thirteen hits, better than two a game, and boosted his mark from .405 a week ago to .418, while Sisler, who led the batters with an average of .416 a week ago, dropped to second place with an average of .404. He was able to acquire only six hits in as many games. The averages include games of Wednesday.

There was practically no change in the relative standing of the batters in the National league. Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals, who has been setting the pace added one point to his mark of a week ago, and tops the list with an average of .398. Ray Grimes, the slugging first baseman of the Chicago Cubs, maintained his mark of a week ago—.363, and moved up to second place, displacing the veteran Jack Daubert of the Reds, who dropped eleven points but is holding third place with an average of .360.

Other leading batters for sixty or more games: Hollocher, Chicago, .359; J. Johnston, Brooklyn, .357; Bigbee, Pittsburgh, .354; Duncan, Cincinnati, .347; L. Miller, Chicago, .346; Schultz, St. Louis, .341; Carey, Pittsburgh, .338.

'LOVELIEST PRINCESS OF CZAR'S REALM' HAILS FROM CONNECTICUT, HUBBY TELLS EASTERN SOCIETY

NEW YORK, July 29.—Is Nadjeda Vasilievna Schutz-Turin a princess royal of Old Russia—

Or is she a brazen imposter who was born no nearer Russia than Bridgeport, Conn.?

Many persons distinguished in New York, Newport and Boston social life are asking those questions with a perplexity that betrays deep anxiety. For the self-proclaimed Princess Troubetzky cut a swath deep and wide in Eastern society, winning the affections of many men and charming many women.

Divorce Now Pending.

Bizarre in appearance, quick in repartee, and with just a trace of Oriental languor, the woman of mystery emerged out of obscurity soon after the Czarist regime crashed. In Red Cross garb, she was photographed as the handsomest war nurse in the world.

She had fled Russia, she told friends, after Nicholas had decorated her for valor, and had come to the United States in the garb of a nun, and often she used to sigh:

"Ah, if I were in Petrograd and Nicholas were Czar and I still the loveliest princess in his realm—"

Almost anything might happen then, one guessed, but now she is in the Boston divorce courts where Victor Turin is suing her because after she married him she also married Wallace Schutz, of Washington.

A Royal Romance.

The courtship of the regal if not royal Nadjeda was of the type classed as whirlwind—but no one can describe it as vividly as the fair heroine herself. Listen as she speaks, and speak out if you can doubt it:

"We were married, but oh, I was young and really I didn't know any better! Pretty soon Vic took my rings, my furs and my money—and then I woke up. For my diamonds he slipped on the fingers of cabaret girls, my pearls he hung in their ears, and my sables he draped across their fair shoulders.

"One day we were in New York. I wanted a trinket from Tiffany's. We motored down town and as Vic stepped from my car, a girl rushed up to him, crying, as she threw her arms around his neck:

"Vic! You wonderful man! I am so glad to see you again! I am so glad you're back!"

Frightful Faux Pas.

"My husband was terribly embarrassed and he said:

"Mon Dieu! It is my wife with me. Don't kiss me."

"Then he turned to me saying: "Princess, may I present Miss Stewart?"

"Miss Stewart was also embarrassed and she exclaimed:

"I didn't know you were married, Vic, you had boy!"

As the Princess told it, one could almost see the terrible contractions, as it were, and visualize the humiliation of the grande dame in the presence of a mere American girl.

Romance Resumed.

But Nadjeda of Russia—or Connecticut—continued:

"And so it went on. Always a lady for Vic and I could not keep track of them all. When he said that he would go and fight for Russia, I thought he would be out of mischief. So I kissed him good-bye and gave him much money. Then for months I heard nothing.

"Came a day in the New York Library when I met two friends of his and one said to me:

"Poor princess, we are so sorry. Vic was killed. Permit us to extend our sympathy."

A simple, yet all the more affecting scene. The princess, forgiving her wandering, wayward husband, sends him off to war to fight for her native land, and hears of his death through a chance meeting.

Another Romance.

Well, anyway, the princess continued:

"It was the first I knew. They told me that they had read cables. They said there could be no mistake. I was very sad, but I felt that he had died fighting for the great cause and I cried.

"Then I bought widow's weeds and went nowhere. Then I went to a hospital in Washington and entered. It was there that I met Captain Wallace Schutz. He made love so wonderful, I couldn't resist. In twenty-eight days we were married.

"We were very happy. I have a million love letters from him, all full of burning words. Then we heard that Victor was still alive. What could I do?"

Dramatic Denouement.

"Divorce him!" cried Wallace. "Divorce him and we'll be married again! I cannot live without you, most beautiful of all women!"

Wallace was a quick thinker, as the princess described him, but he also possessed the saving faculty of thinking twice and his second thought was the more permanent. For as the princess recalled:

"So I went to Paris and tried to get the divorce. They would not give it to me! Then I came back and found that Wallace had had our marriage annulled, and again, my heart is broke!

"I met Victor. He said he wanted to divorce me, too. I cried some more. I hurried to see Joseph Grimes, my lawyer. He said to let Victor divorce me, but on nice grounds, and not on infidelity as he proposed."

At the mere thought of infidelity the princess quivered. She made it clear that the betrothed that this last humiliation should not stain the traditions of her family, upheld for generation after generation through the centuries of Russia under the old regime. And she exclaimed:

"Never infidelity! What? A princess to be divorced by a commoner! and for infidelity? So, Victor, he changed the grounds, and soon I shall be free!

"Yes, I have given Victor permission to divorce me. On the grounds of desertion he will gain his freedom and give me mine. O-O-Ooooo-rrra-la! Isn't that what you call the grand and glorious feeling?"

"In this America, it is the women who are sports, and the men—ah, the men are what you call da—m fools! Mr. Turin will ask no alimony, of course, but I am a princess, and what you say is a joy good fellow, so I will be generous, and for poor Victor, he was my husband, and he is poor now!"

The Beau Ceste.

Somehow one sympathized with poor Vic in his extremity and still it did seem good to have a gracious princess prepared to do the right thing so bountifully. But the princess is still talking:

"Vic's friends are raising money to send him back to Russia and I will give my share. That is what you Americans call the sport thing. It is, as I say, the women who are the sports and the men—well, if we were in Petrograd and Nicholas were Czar and I the loveliest princess of the realm, I'd clap Vic into jail—but this is America, and the women—well, let him divorce me and I start life again. I give him the money and wish him bon voyage!"

All of which sounded just like what one would expect a Russian princess to say and do, doesn't it? And to make it more true to life, Joseph Grimes, said to be counsel for all Russian nobility in America, went further.

The Legal Side of It.

Mr. Grimes, explained, meticulously: "The princess has consented to let Mr. Turin divorce her because his libel is already filed. If she were to enter one of her own it would necessitate a long delay and she is anxious to gain her freedom as soon as possible.

"He has entered suit on grounds of infidelity, but he has changed it, at the princess' behest, to desertion, and the whole affair may now be consummated without scandal."

All of which went very nicely un-

Actual Photograph of Abdication of President

The only photograph made of the actual abdication of President Hsu Chin-Chang of China, who was compelled to vacate his office by the outbreak of a civil war. A newspaper correspondent, driven from the palace by the guard, was able to re-effect his entrance and get this view of the Chinese royal car leaving with the president.

til M. Turin heard of it, and he rushed to Boston with a denial in plain and torrid language.

Slow Music and Cartain.

And this is the censored gist of what he said:

"Princess? Princess nothing! She's a laborer's daughter. Russia, Petrograd? She comes from Bridgeport, Conn.! She killed in the Russian army? I was never in the Russian army in my life and I hope never to be. The nearest I ever got to the Russian army was when I was a motion picture actor.

"She knew that I was alive when she married Wallace Schultz, and I am not going to change the charges against her in my bill of divorce. She wept all over the witness stand, pleading that it be changed, and my attorney said he would do it—but it won't be changed now. She is an imposter all the way through!"

And the princess was so overcome by this that she could not even find words to reply. Perhaps if this were Petrograd with Nicholas the Czar and she the loveliest princess in his realm

NATION OF AFRICAN LIARS FORMER GERMAN COLONY

LONDON, July 29.—The natives of Togoland are a race of liars, says an official report on that British mandated sphere in Africa which was taken over from Germany. The report has just been issued as a "White Paper." Togoland was at one time a German colonial possession in West Africa, and has a population of 900,000.

"The natives have no letters, arts or science," says the report. "Concealment of design is the first element of safety, and as this axiom has been consistently carried out for generations the native character is strongly marked by duplicity. Even in matters of little moment it is rare for them to speak the truth."

TWO BIRDS WITH ONE STONE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 29.—Charged with malicious assault and disorderly conduct, Harry Taylor was arraigned in police court here, but he is alleged to have disposed of part of the evidence against himself, when he was arrested by Patrolman Louis

Shark, by breaking a bottle, said to have contained whisky, on the policeman's head. The officer sustained a long cut over the eye.

The Boston Store Will Continue in Business in Ranger

On or about May 25th we announced through this paper and otherwise that we would quit business in Ranger in order to engage in another line of business elsewhere. It was our plan at that time to put on a sale to reduce stock so that we might be able to sell the remaining merchandise, fixtures and lease to some interested person who would continue the business. On or about June 15th we entered into a contract with a local party whereby we agreed to sell stock, fixtures and lease, but later this deal did not materialize, due to no fault of ours.

Now, since we did not dispose of our business and conditions in general, and especially in Ranger and surrounding territory, have greatly improved, and the fact that a great many of our friends have urged that we remain in business here, we have decided to continue to operate the Boston Store as heretofore.

The policy of the Boston Store has always been to keep abreast of the times by showing the new things first and it is our desire to continue such a policy.

Our Mr. A. Joseph will leave today for New York markets, where he will buy the very best merchandise obtainable, and in sufficient quantity to give Ranger one of the largest stocks of high grade merchandise to be found anywhere outside of the large cities.

The Boston Store is very grateful indeed to the people of this community for their liberal patronage, for without their good-will and help we never could have been successful. Our greatest satisfaction comes from being able to serve an appreciative citizenship with the right kind of merchandise.

Trusting the past pleasant business relations will continue to exist, and all may join together in building a greater Ranger.
