

Living Costs At High Mark

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—The government's latest cost-of-living barometer moved up today over pressure of rising food and rent costs to within a tiny fraction of the record high reached last January.

The living-cost index, measuring prices of food, clothing, shelter and a host of other things climbed during the month ending May 15 two-tenths of one per cent to 189 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

City Protests VA Ruling On Home Location

Sharp opposition was expressed here Thursday to a recent Veterans Administration directive which, if followed, will halt practically all home construction financed under provisions of the VA's GI loan program.

The directive, released by VA June 6, bans loans on GI homes constructed within four miles of an airport.

Protesting documents of both chamber and city are to be forwarded to the president, administrator of veterans affairs, congressmen and senators.

Text of the Chamber of Commerce resolution follows: WHEREAS, the Veterans Administration has issued a ruling that home loans for Veterans will not be approved if such homes are situated within four miles of an airport...

WHEREAS, as a result of said ruling, construction of homes for Veterans will be eliminated, causing irreparable damage and serious economic effects to all veterans, land developers, workmen and the entire City of Big Spring...

NOW THEREFORE, the following resolution is hereby adopted by the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Big Spring, Texas.

Resolved that the Chamber of Commerce of the City of Big Spring, by unanimous vote of its Executive Committee, is directly opposed to the VA ruling that loans will not be continued on homes within a radius of four miles of an airport.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs, to our United States Congressman and United States Senators and other interested persons and agencies.

Dates Announced For Two Hearings AUSTIN, June 19 (AP)—The Railroad Commission has set these public hearings: July 11: Baker Properties for adoption of a spacing rule for the East Grayback (Millham) Field, Wilbarger County.

July 15: The Texas Co. for discovery allowable rights and a new field designation for the producing reservoir of its Scharbauer "A" (net-1) well 3, Midland.

THE WEATHER BIG SPRING AND VICINITY: Clear to partly cloudy and continued warm today, tonight and Friday.

High today 86, low tonight 72, high tomorrow 81.

Highest temperature in Big Spring this date in 1952: maximum 86, minimum 72. In 1951: maximum 86, minimum 72.

Water Consumption Soars Past The Safety Figure It probably is a good thing Thursday was designated "catch-up day" in the city's shrub watering program.

Big Springers Wednesday used a total of 3,533,000 gallons of water, more than a half million more than the safe daily consumption rate for any appreciable period.

Heavy drain on the water supply resulted in a loss of 218,000 gallons from storage as production facilities were strained to produce 3,315,000 gallons.

Wednesday was shrub watering day for approximately a third of the city—the portion between Runnels and Settle Streets. It was the second day of the new limited irrigation schedule.

Persons living east of Settle Tuesday watered plants, helping boost water consumption for the day to 3,076,000 gallons.

City officials Thursday hoped to regain water lost from storage during the heavy run on reserves Wednesday.

Only irrigation scheduled was at the VA Hospital, in community parks, boulevard islands and the city cemetery.

Residents of the area west of Runnels will have their turns at watering shrubbery Friday to end the first test of the "experimental" shrub irrigation schedule.

assistance have been received from steelworkers' families.

The powerful union does not provide strike benefits. However, most of its locals are reported in healthy financial condition and ready to aid any hardship cases.

Referring to his members, Klis said: "They're just running out of money. So far we have referred them to state and county welfare groups but we plan to set up our own welfare organization this week."

In addition to the 650,000 striking steelworkers, more than 100,000 in allied industries have been laid off as a direct result of the strike.

Most of the 100,000 are employed by railroads and coal mines, but the crippling strike is also being felt in other fields.

One of the hardest hit sections is Alabama, where more than 25,000 steelworkers and coal and iron miners now are idle.

Sweden Angered But Still Not Willing To Join Atlantic Pact By GUSTAV SVENSSON STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Traditionally neutral Sweden, irate over the shooting down of a Swedish plane by Soviet jet fighters, beefed up her already strong defenses against Russia today but was expected to still fight shy of participation in such Western alliances at the Atlantic Pact.

The Swedish government already has ordered a step-up in air attack alertness throughout the country and instructed its air force and navy to shoot back if fired on by Soviet planes.

Neighboring Denmark also told its air force to return fire if attacked.

Swedish Foreign Minister Oesten Unden, cut short his Italian vacation after the incident and was due here by air from Rome today.

But political observers expressed doubt that Unden's return would result in any change in Sweden's long-held policy of "freedom from alliances."

Sweden flatly rejected last night a Russian protest that the ill-fated Catalina flying boat, blasted from the air Monday over the Baltic Sea with seven men aboard, had flown over Soviet territory and started the shooting.

The Swedish reply declared that the only two Swedish planes operating in the area at the time were two rescue flying boats, both unarmed and therefore incapable of shooting at anybody.

A "thorough investigation" had established that both stayed over international waters and that the downed plane never flew closer than 15 miles from Soviet territory, the note added.

Russia claims her territorial waters extend 12 miles beyond her shore.

Both Catalinas were searching for a third Swedish plane missing since last Friday with eight men aboard and also feared to have fallen victim to Russian guns.

The two main theories here on the reason for the Russian action were: 1. Soviet jet fighter crews are trigger-happy because they are under strict orders to keep outside observers away from huge Russian air-sea maneuvers now reportedly being held in the Baltic; or 2. The Russians are deliberately conducting a scare campaign to intimidate their Western neighbors on the Baltic.

Steelworkers Beginning To Feel Financial Pinch

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Philip Murray's striking CIO United Steelworkers are beginning to show signs of financial hardship as the 18-day-old walkout bites ever deeper into the national defense program.

Walter Klis, president of a big steelworkers' local at Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. in Pittsburgh, says several requests for financial assistance have been received from steelworkers' families.

The powerful union does not provide strike benefits. However, most of its locals are reported in healthy financial condition and ready to aid any hardship cases.

Referring to his members, Klis said: "They're just running out of money. So far we have referred them to state and county welfare groups but we plan to set up our own welfare organization this week."

Taxes Must Go Up, Not Down, President Says

Reduction Would Increase Deficits

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)— President Truman said today taxes should be increased rather than decreased as advocated by both top candidates for the Republican presidential nomination.

The President told his news conference he didn't think any Democratic President would reduce taxes.

He said if taxes could have been reduced he would have tried to do so himself.

A reporter wanted to know whether a Republican President actually could reduce taxes.

No, unless he wants to put the country more in the hole than it is now, Truman replied.

Truman commented one day after Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio declared he is willing to pledge "a straight 15 per cent cut in taxes" if he is elected President.

Meanwhile, in Denver, Dwight D. Eisenhower, locked in a hot battle with Taft for the Republican presidential nomination, said tax reduction would be possible in about two years.

After that—after free world defenses are built up—the tax load can be subjected to a "steady shrinkage," Eisenhower said.

Truman said he still thinks Gen. Eisenhower is a nice guy, but he wouldn't wish him any luck in his campaign for the presidency.

The President was asked at a news conference whether in view of Eisenhower's attacks on the administration, in his campaign for GOP nomination, he still thinks the general is a nice guy.

Of course he does, the President said. And he added that this is a free country and Eisenhower is entitled to his political opinions.

"Do you wish him luck?" he was pressed. The President laughed and said he couldn't say that, that Eisenhower is not running as a Democrat.

The President said he agreed with Averell Harriman that his victory in the District of Columbia Democratic primary this week was a clear-cut triumph for the New Deal and Fair Deal.

It couldn't have been anything else, he added.

While the steel situation is becoming serious, Mr. Truman conceded, he gave no indication as to any steps he might have in mind to meet it.

The morning papers, he remarked, show automobile manufacturing is being cut back and that isn't serious he doesn't know what is.

The question of using the Taft-Hartley law is under consideration, Mr. Truman said, but it has been right along. He had been asked whether he thought he should or would use the law soon.

The President said he regards use of the law as "purely permissive," as a reporter put it, rather than mandatory.

And he commented that he is pretty hard to force when he doesn't want to do anything and pretty hard to hold back when he wants to do something.

"If steel production is so essential," a questioner inquired, "why don't you take the 80 days a Taft-Hartley injunction would provide?"

Ninety-nine days have been used already, Truman replied and 80 more would just prolong the agony.

One reporter said, "you'd get production for 80 days."

Truman snapped: "How do you know that?"

When asked whether he was implying that steelworkers would not obey an injunction, Truman said, "Sure." He said they did obey seizure.

Polio Increases By 18 Per Cent WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—The Public Health Service today reported an 18 per cent increase in infantile paralysis cases so far this week.

The number of cases last week was 83 per cent above the same week on year ago.

The report listed 296 cases of infantile paralysis last week, compared with 218 in the preceding week, and 162 cases in the similar week a year ago.

The five-year (1947-51) median for the week was 236 cases.

The service said California and Texas have been reporting about half of all the cases in the nation since the "disease year" started with the week ending April 5.

For this "disease year" the service listed 2,686 cases, compared with 2,277 to this date a year ago.

Texas had 103 cases last week and California 40.

Half Of County Cotton Lost, Agent Reports County Agent Durward Lewter says at least half the Howard County cotton has been lost and that from all appearances the rest of it will be lost.

In some fields he said the loss is 100 per cent and in others from 50 to 100 per cent.

"I can count on the fingers of one hand," he commented "the number of stands that are still doing well. One-quarter of an inch of rain will save a little of it, but not much."

Lewter said it is beginning to appear that the only chance for a cash crop is going to be field peas but that we are going to have to get a whole lot more moisture before there will be enough to plant peas.

He said Howard County farmers have agreed to plant at least 5,000 acres of peas if they can get enough moisture and that a great many more will also plant.

Lewter figures that if moisture is available from 35,000 to 50,000 acres of peas will be planted in this county.

He said he will also be glad to cooperate with the county agents and PMA administrators in other counties over this area in a joint pea-planting program.

The county agent expects to start on his vacation about the middle of next week and says he is going to use a good part of his vacation time in trying to arrange canopy contracts for the peas grown in this area.

Lewter points out that the dry peas can be combined after the others have been sold to canneries and that the crop residue will serve as a protecting cover crop for land that might otherwise be blowing.

The pea-planting program has also been approved by the Soil Conservation Service and the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

Party Plans Are Complete Arrangements were complete Thursday for the Airmen's welcome Party to be staged in City Park Friday evening by Big Spring citizens.

Food was assured for the hot dog supper which will open the fête at 7 p.m. and preparation and serving committees were set to treat some 3,000 persons expected to attend.

A variety show, for which no admission charge will be levied, is to start at 8 p.m. in the amphitheater with a program of more than 25 numbers to be unrehearsed.

A Knappe will prepare wieners and chili for the hot dogs. Marshaling other food preparations and d serving operations will be Don Bohannon, Troy Harrell, Jack Roden, Truman Jones and Ray Rhodes.

Jaycees and members of the American Business Club will serve food and members of the Girls' Service Organization, a USO affiliate, will act as hostesses.

A public address system will be set up in the park for the occasion by Radio Lab. Sponsors Thursday stressed that, while no admission will be charged for the variety show only persons with tickets can be served at the hot dog supper.

Nearly 3,000 tickets have been turned over to Webb AFB officials for distribution to airmen. A large number of civilian tickets have been sold and are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce.

President Urges Vote For Military WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—President Truman prodded Congress today with a statement that "close to a million members of our armed services" may be unable to vote this year unless special legislation is passed before Congress adjourns.

The President wrote Vice President Barkley and House Speaker Rayburn urging that Congress "give early and favorable attention" to soldier vote legislation now pending in both houses.

How Good A Host Are You? Friday evening Big Spring is giving a party for servicemen stationed here.

Response at Webb Air Force Base has been more than encouraging. Prospects are that there will be a great number of our new citizens and their families on hand to meet those of us who have lived here quite a while.

In stressing invitations to our new friends, we may have failed to impress upon Big Springers that they certainly are invited, too. Although such a situation would be an oversight, it would be nonetheless ungracious if the number of townspeople participating does not match that of the military families.

This is a wonderful chance for all of us to get to know each other better and to see that there are no strangers around here. Don't let anything interfere with your attendance at the party at the City Park.

U. N. Repulses Red Thrusts SEOUL, Korea, June 19 (AP)—United Nations forces hurled back sporadic Communist assaults in East-Central Korea today and killed more than one-fourth of the attacking battalion.

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters estimated 200 Red soldiers were killed as air-supported Allied troops successfully defended their forward position southeast of Kumsong.

For the second successive day Red guns were silent near the Allies' newly-won T-shaped hill mass west of Chorwon on the Western Front. U. S. Shooting Stars made eight air strikes on Reds still dug in on the rocky ridge.

Grounded by bad weather Wednesday, Fifth Air Force fighter bombers reappeared today on close support missions against frontline Reds on both the Chorwon and Kumsong sectors.

One flight of Allied Shooting Stars killed or wounded 75 Communist and shot up three caves reported shielding Red soldiers; the Air Force said. Land-based Marine planes attacked a Red supply building 20 miles north of Pyongyang, on the Central Front.

Taft Will Reply To Ike Tonight NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio will reply tonight at 5 p.m. (CST) to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Abilene, Kan., speech by television and radio.

The half-hour program will be televised by the CBS, NBC and ABC networks from New York and will be broadcast by the NBC network.

While billed as an "Answer to Abilene," Taft will not devote himself entirely to replying to his rival for the Republican presidential nomination.

Koreans Place 14 On Trial For Conspiracy By WILLIAM JORDEN PUSAN, Korea (AP)—The Republic of Korea today secretly placed 14 men on trial on a charge of conspiring with Reds to overthrow the United Nations-sponsored government.

Seven of the defendants before a nine-man civilian-military court are national assemblymen, political opponents of President Syngman Rhee.

Hardly had the closed trial begun when the National Assembly, meeting but a few yards from the drah courtroom, adopted a resolution, 84-0, urging Rhee to open the hearing to the public.

Observers said there was little possibility the trial would be opened to any but 12 foreign observers invited by the Korean government.

Maj. Gen. Won Yong Duk, martial law commandant, said, "naturally, in this type of trial, it is impossible for us to promise at this time the release of daily or even regular press notices or public statements."

He said the trial was closed because of security reasons and the necessity of protecting families and friends of some persons involved.

The court is made up of seven military men and two civilians.

The defendants have eight lawyers. Two were appointed by the court. The first trial session lasted 30 minutes.

The 14 defendants are charged with violations of the National Security Act. Some also are charged with one or more violations of criminal codes, including bribery, theft and embezzlement in connection with the Communist conspiracy.

T&P Transport Workers Sign New Contracts Contracts signed between the AFL Teamsters Union and the Texas & Motor Transport employees grant a 10-cent per hour increase in pay.

The affects between 20 and 25 men operating in and out of Big Spring.

J. M. Waltrip, Abilene, business manager for local No. 583 which includes operators from Abilene to Odessa, said that the contract is effective Aug. 1. It covers drivers in Texas and Louisiana for the T&P motor division.

The rate for city drivers will be $1.49 per hour with 48 hours guaranteed on a five-day week. Overtime will be paid above 48 hours. Memorial Day will be added as a holiday and drivers will receive double pay for holiday work. The road drivers will receive $1.60 per hour with a 52-hour week guaranteed.

Ike Is Planning To Speak Out In Texas

By The Associated Press

The Republican National Committee has the job of choosing between Texas' Taft and Eisenhower states of national GOP convention delegates but before the group decides Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has a word to say.

"I am going down there (to Texas) and I am not going to hesitate to say that I believe the will of the American people should not be thwarted," the general said in Denver, Colo., Wednesday.

"My voice will be raised," he told a group of delegates from Oregon.

His remarks were Eisenhower's first direct statements on the wrangle between Taft and Eisenhower supporters over rival delegations named in Mineral Wells at the state GOP convention.

Mrs. Charles P. Howard, secretary of the national GOP committee, ruled that the Texas arguments would be presented at a special hearing starting about July 1 in Chicago, six days before the convention begins.

Eisenhower will bring his fight with Taft forces over Texas' 38 convention delegates to North Texas as Saturday. He will make brief talks in Denton and Denton Saturday afternoon, then drive to Dallas for a radio broadcast speech (CBS) at 7:30 p. m.

The indications are that his "voice raising" will come in the radio speech.

He told the Oregon delegates Wednesday that his information was that the Eisenhower people in Texas had complied with rules laid down by the state Republican party, yet their contested delegates were not recognized at the state convention.

"If people have complied with the regulations and the rules laid down by the people who are supposed to judge it—and in this case I understand they complied through—Republican party when their will was thwarted, I cannot be expected to remain completely still and silent on the question."

"And so, so far as my voice adds, let us say, to the intensity of the scrap on our side, it will be raised."

Eisenhower said he wanted no delegate to vote for him who had been "unduly influenced." He said it will have nothing to do with any delegate who was not elected by free expression of the American people.

One Oregon delegate asked how he intended to fight the Texas situation.

The general grinned and said: "Texans are pretty good fighters themselves."

The Eisenhower timetable in Texas calls for the general and Mrs. Eisenhower and their party to land at Perrin Field, near Denton, shortly before noon. He will be driven to the house of his birth in Denton for a short visit, and then to Forest Park for a brief talk.

The Denton appearance is set for about 2:30 p. m.

In Dallas Eisenhower will appear at a 6 p. m. dinner reserved for pro-Eisenhower delegates, alternates and newsmen.

A press conference is scheduled Sunday at 9:30 a. m., shortly before he will fly back to Denver.

Comedian Arrested As Drunk Driver

Comedian Lou Costello trails his attorney, Attorney Nathan O. Freeman, after he was bailed out of jail in Van Nuys, Calif., following his arrest on a drunk driving charge. Police said he slammed into a parked car while backing out of the driveway of his home and then cruised down a main boulevard on the wrong side of the street. Later Freeman pleaded Costello guilty and a fine of $150 was imposed. (AP Wirephoto).

Government Better Off Than Expected

By CHARLES MOLONY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is going to wind up its year two to three billion dollars better off than it expected. But it still will be deep in the red.

Government experts, speaking privately, said today the deficit—the amount by which the government overspends its income—is likely to be less than 6 1/2 billion when the fiscal year ends June 30. It could be as low as 5 1-3 billion.

President Truman, in his budget message last January, figured the government would go in the hole by $8,200,000,000.

The President estimated total spending would jump 50 per cent above last year due to a huge expansion in rearming the U.S. and friendly foreign countries. But the military expansion hasn't taken place on that scale.

Officials now say spending will fall at least 3 1/2 billion, and possibly more than four billion, below Truman's $70,500,000,000 spending estimate.

Whatever its effect on Western defenses, this dropoff will much more than compensate for a decline in tax revenues below the expected total.

Taxes are up—as who doesn't know—but they will probably fall some 1 1/2 billion dollars short of the $62,700,000,000 Truman budgeted.

On the spending side, slower-than-expected military deliveries are likely to continue and to keep outlays for the year beginning July 1 below the $85,400,000,000 level aimed at by the President. Congress may trim that further by cutting appropriations.

In any case, prospects are that the government's deficit for fiscal 1953 will be scaled down substantially from Truman's $14,400,000,000 forecast.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

A project for killing 3,000 acres of mesquite with spray from airplanes on the Mrs. Dora Roberts Ranch in Midland County was temporarily called off yesterday morning after one of the four planes crashed into the brush. The pilot was not hurt but the plane was badly damaged.

The pilots blamed the crash on engine failure brought about by the low quality of aviation gasoline now available to them. They said they did not want to continue to fly the project until a good grade of gasoline is available. They have had motor trouble with all four of the planes from the same cause and say other fliers have reported similar experiences.

"Our engines just simply won't function properly with the gasoline we are now being forced to use," they comment. The pilot who crashed on the ranch yesterday morning said he thought he would report the matter to the Civil Aeronautics Authority and ask them to come in and make an investigation before any effort is made to move the plane. They say that unless the CAA specifies a higher grade of aviation gasoline and makes it immediately available no flier is going to risk his life to spray cotton this year, or any other crop.

The planes now grounded on the ranch are from a flying service with headquarters at Spur. The ranch which is managed by G. H. Hayward is under lease to Tom Elrod, well known Quarter Horse breeder, who also now has some Santa Gertrudis bulls on the place.

The pilots told Hayward yesterday they will be glad to resume operations as soon as their engine trouble can be ended.

Charles Champion, Midland County PMA administrative officer, and Charles Green, Midland County agricultural agent, who were both at the ranch yesterday morning, said Mrs. Roberts' Ranch had received more rain than any other spot in Midland County.

J. C. Mott, just south of Stanton, has a nice stand of Sudan that he has brought up with sprinkler irrigation. This crop is in the field in front of his house and just south of the home of Ohmer Kelly.

A few days ago we asked Bobby Wren, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmer Wren, who will be in the sixth grade at Stanton this fall and who is in his first year of 4-H, when it was going to rain.

"You'll have to ask those people in East Texas," he replied quite promptly. Bobby is old enough to have seen some rain away back there when he was much smaller.

Attending the recent Stanton meeting of the supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District were Supervisors B. O. Brown and Edgar Phillips of Howard County, and W. H. Yater of Martin County. Also present were W. S. Goodlett, district conservationist, and Martin Vavra, work unit conservationist from the Stanton office of the SCS, and Ray Hastings, Martin County agricultural agent.

Seventy-four farm and ranch and conservation plans were approved at the meeting.

It has also been announced that the district has received another 3,000 pounds of Guar seed, which will be sold to farmers at cost, regardless of whether or not they are co-operators with the district.

Farmers are being offered a choice between two dual-purpose, soil-building and cash crops, this year—Guar or field peas, and both have the blessings of the Soil Conservation Service and the supervisors of the Soil Conservation District.

County Agent Durward Lewter says that if Howard County farmers will plant a minimum of 25,000 acres of peas he is sure a contract can be made with a cannery for the green ones, and that the dry peas can be combined.

Arrangements have already been made to plant about 12,000 pounds of Guar seed in the Martin-Howard district.

Lewter says he thinks a great many farmers will hold out until at least the Fourth of July for a cotton planting season.

Farmers interested in the pea project should see Lewter as soon as possible.

W. E. Plunkett of Vealmoor has 20 acres of peas up to a good stand now. Either the Guar or the peas is a good cover crop and both offer the advantage of also being a cash crop.

Farmers can take the guesswork out of selling their cotton with a green card.

This green card shows that the cotton has been classed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's PMA. A green card showing the grade and staple is issued for every bale of cotton classed.

Farmers belonging to cotton improvement groups receive this classification without paying a fee. Also, they receive a daily USDA price quotation sheet to keep them posted on what their cotton is worth.

Both services come from PMA's cotton classing office, Abilene, Texas, the manager of which is H. J. Matejowsky.

Any group of farmers organized to promote the improvement of cotton, adopts a variety, files an application, arranges for sampling and meets certain other requirements for its members, is eligible for these services. The application covers all farmers in the group and should be mailed to the Abilene classing office as soon as all members have planted their cotton. The address is P. O. Box 2001, Abilene, and the office is located at 1407 S. First Street.

Further information and assistance in this program can be obtained from County Agent Durward Lewter or Gabe Hammack, administrative officer of the Howard County PMA.

French Approve Military Estimate

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly last night approved by a 507-99 vote a military estimate bill allotting 839 billion francs ($2,300,000,000) for France's armed forces. Only the Communists voted against the measure.

Forty-two per cent was parceled out to the Army, 36 to the Air Force and 22 to the Navy.

The approval covered the remainder of France's four-billion-dollar defense bill for this year. The rest already has been allotted.

Finance Committee In Closed Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee was called into a closed-door session today to decide what to do about a House-passed bill boosting social security payments.

Democratic Leader McFarland of Arizona said he would make every effort to get Senate action on the bill before Congress adjourns.

Passed by the House two days ago, the bill would boost retirement benefits to some 4 1/2 million persons by $5 a month or 12 1/2 per cent, whichever is larger.

Committee Ruling Due To Be Appealed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee will rule early next month on convention delegate disputes in Texas and six other states—a 72-vote total that could decide a close presidential nominating race.

The committee's ruling, after a hearing to begin July 1 in Chicago, is almost certain to be appealed ultimately to the convention, which opens six days later.

Backers of Ohio Sen. Robert Taft and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, top contenders for the Republican nomination, have staked rival claims in the disputes. The rivalry waxed particularly hot over Texas' 36-vote delegation.

Mrs. Charles P. Howard, national committee and convention secretary, set the July 1 hearing date yesterday. She cited a party rule adopted at the 1944 convention and upheld at the one four years later.

The regulation says that convention delegates elected by districts, when contested, are the concern of state conventions or committees. Those named from a state at-large and then contested go to the national committee for settlement. Appeals in at-large contests can be taken to the convention credentials committee and eventually the convention floor.

Up until just before Mrs. Howard's announcement, the Taft and Eisenhower camps were at sharp odds over how Texas' delegation was put together.

Taft forces had said only six of the 38 delegates were chosen at-large, making 32 district delegates. Thus, a decision in those 32 contests would come from Texas state machinery, controlled by Taft supporters.

Eisenhower people had contended all 38 delegates were elected from the state at-large. They said all 38 disputes should go before the national committee.

Paper Says Taft Offered Veep's Job To Knowland

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Chronicle said last night in a special dispatch from Washington that Sen. Robert A. Taft had personally offered the Republican vice-presidential nomination to California Sen. William L. Knowland if he would throw his weight to Taft for President at the Chicago GOP convention.

The dispatch quoted "excellent sources," otherwise unidentified.

The Chronicle said Knowland would neither confirm nor deny the report.

Knowland, who is on the California Republican presidential delegation pledged to the state's Gov. Earl Warren, said he was for Warren and would refuse to take part in any trading "before the convention."

Both Army And Ike Think Four Enough

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Both the Army and Dwight D. Eisenhower seem to think four five-star generals are enough for now.

Eisenhower, himself a general of the Army, retired, was reported at Denver to have said he does not favor raising any more generals to five-star rank at this time.

In this connection, the Defense Department and the Army were asked by a reporter if it is planned to promote Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who succeeded Eisenhower as supreme commander in Europe, from his present four-star rank.

The Defense Department said Secretary Lovett has received no request from the Army for special legislation to create five-star rank for Ridgway. An Army spokesman said there was no indication the Army planned any immediate action.

The four generals of the Army and four fleet admirals of the Navy have been given their high ranks by special acts of Congress. Seven of these were appointed during World War II and one through another special act of Congress last year.

A fifth star for Ridgway would raise him in rank to a par with several of his European deputies including Britain's Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery.

In addition to Eisenhower, the Army's five-star officers are Douglas MacArthur, George C. Marshall and Omar N. Bradley.

The Navy's fleet admirals are William D. Leahy, Ernest J. King, Chester W. Nimitz and William F. Halsey.

Foot, Mouth Lab Gains Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communities usually clamor for 10-million-dollar federal projects but the Senate approved one yesterday the government may have trouble finding a home for.

The sum was approved for a laboratory to investigate foot-and-mouth and other animal diseases. Some places already mentioned as sites have expressed disquiet hostility.

Leaves $531 Tip For Hamburger

ORANGE, Va. (AP)—The well-dressed stranger who walked into the local restaurant "just had to have corned beef."

When the waitress brought him a hamburger steak instead, he took a couple of bites and departed—leaving behind a $531 tip.

That's the story blonde Mrs. Viola Devivi, 22, told police here last night. And it's the story that had officers scurrying all over this Central Virginia town trying to find the mysterious stranger.

Two customers, who were not identified, told police they saw the man empty his pockets and hide the tip under a plate before he left.

Police say they'll hold the tip for a year and then if it's unclaimed it will go to Mrs. Devivi.

Perennial Battle For Flood Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A perennial battle—to trim the bill carrying funds for flood control and navigation projects—came in on the Senate tide today.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) has served notice he'll try to reduce the $666,774,600 measure by at least 150 million dollars. He faced stiff opposition.

The civil functions measure was called up after Senate passage last night of a $1,413,389,350 deficiency money bill, the bulk of which is to meet extra costs of the armed services arising from the Korean War during the current fiscal year.

Three Major Reorganization Plans Are Dead

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Three of President Truman's government reorganization plans are dead in the wake of a Senate vote keeping congressional control over 21,582 federal jobs.

With many who normally support administration policies backing the President, the Senate yesterday defeated in 1-2-3 order his proposals to eliminate Senate confirmation of city postmaster, U.S. marshals and customs collectors.

The program would have gone into effect automatically Friday midnight if neither the House nor the Senate had acted. It called for filling the jobs by department heads through civil service procedure.

Opponents argued that the three plans would merely transfer the politics of appointments from members of Congress to the administration in power.

They said department heads, especially the postmaster general, would get to build a powerful political machine.

Backers of the program said it would wipe out the last big segment of the political spoils system.

The big fight was over the postmasters—21,438 of first, second and third class postoffices. With 49 or a majority of the full Senate needed to kill the proposal, the vote was 56 to 29.

The vote on the postmaster plan was in part a test between the influence of the postal employes unions, which opposed it, and the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, which supported all the reorganization proposals.

The unions have been at odds with Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson, who would have named the postmasters under the reorganization.

Fashion Model Freed By Jury

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Dorothy Kornarens, once a beautiful fashion model but now pale and underweight, was a free woman today—four months after she shot her husband to death.

A jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated almost eight hours then ruled the 24-year-old Silver Spring woman was "insane at the time of the shooting."

Dorothy cried when she heard the verdict last night. Her mother, Mrs. Lester Gaskins, dropped to her knees and prayed. Mother and daughter then embraced each other and wept copiously.

Dorothy said her plans were uncertain. She didn't know whether she would live with her parents in Washington or not.

On the witness stand at one point in the three-day trial, the statuesque brunette told of an unhappy life marked by two suicide attempts and two previous marriages that ended in divorce.

She said she loved the man she killed, John Henry Kornarens. But he drank steadily from last July 4 to Feb. 17, the day she shot him and they quarreled over his "running around," she testified.

Kornarens, 42, a Washington beauty parlor operator, was known in beauty circles as "Mr. Jack." He had been married four times before his marriage to Dorothy.

Mrs. Taft Will Be In Cheering Section

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Robert A. Taft will be at the Chicago convention to cheer her husband on in his fight for the Republican presidential nomination.

An experienced campaigner who loves politics and speechmaking, Martha Taft suffered a stroke two years ago and has had to play a sideline role—mostly in a wheelchair—in the Ohio senator's biggest campaign of all.

Taft said yesterday he and his wife plan to fly to Chicago together July 5. Mrs. Taft has been able to walk a little with a cane lately. She hopes to get back into action in Chicago.

Man Helps Himself To Money In Bank

NEW YORK (AP)—"I think that man stole some money," one bank teller told another yesterday at the midtown Lexington Avenue branch of the Manufacturers Trust Company.

"Oh, you're crazy," the co-worker replied.

Their conversation was about a man in a green shirt who strolled away from a cage with a wad of bills. The Cage 13 teller was out to lunch, as were tellers occupying cages on either side.

The suspicious employe, Miss Elsie Hawkins, 21, called a bank official. He found $2,400 in $10 bills missing from the cage. The man had casually opened the bronze cage grille, reached in, helped himself and sauntered out. He hasn't been found.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee scheduled a closed-door briefing by Gen. Omar N. Bradley today on the progress of U.S. military aid to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

War Pilot Greeted By Wife

Col. Albert W. Schinz, 33, of Ottawa, Ill., is greeted by his pretty wife, Lorayne, 26, upon his arrival at Midway Airport, Chicago. Col. Schinz spent 40 days in Red territory after he was shot down in Korea May 1. The Air Force reported him missing, but later he showed up in Japan and telephoned his wife he was safe. How he escaped still remains a military secret. (AP Wirephoto).

Marine Corps Gets Bigger Policy Voice

By RUSSELL BRINES
WASHINGTON (AP)—A group named to iron out differences in Senate and House bills has agreed to strengthen the Marine Corps and give it a bigger voice in military policy.

But the joint Senate-House committee discarded House-approved provisions to make the Marine commandant a permanent member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and to set a minimum strength of 220,000 enlisted men for the Marines.

The compromise bill was worked out yesterday. It now goes back to both House and Senate for final action.

House Armed Services Committee officials said these were the main points of the agreement:

1. The Marine commandant would sit with the joint chiefs as a "co-equal" on matters affecting the Marines, with the same voice and same right of appeal as other members. He now is an adviser. The Senate bill proposed to give him a consultant status.

2. The maximum strength of the Marines would be 400,000 men, plus officers, and the proposed minimum would be eliminated because no other service has one. The ceiling has been approved by both houses.

3. For the first time, the law would specify the organization of the Marines into three combat divisions and three air wings. These would not necessarily be maintained at full strength continuously. House conferees originally proposed four divisions and four air wings.

Sen. Long (D-La.), acting chairman of the Senate group, said the compromise plan would "insure that the Marine Corps will not be whittled down to small units, the size of a battalion or smaller."

The Senate passed a Marine bill last year. The House enlarged it with the controversial troop minimum and full Marine membership in the JCS, which led to opposition by some members and from the administration. The Senate-House conference to iron out differences was the result.

House sources predicted the compromise will be accepted by Congress and the administration.

The supervisors have stayed in the plant for maintenance work.

"It had got so it didn't even look like there was a strike on," said Tom Conway, local union financial secretary. "There'd be 50 to 60 women and kids there making a holiday of it."

Webster New Veep Of Lone Star Steel

DALLAS, June 19 (AP)—L. D. (Red) Webster, public relations director of the Lone Star Steel Corp., was named a vice president of the firm yesterday. He will be in charge of public and employee relations.

The firm's directors also elected W. O. Irwin Jr., Dangersfield, to the board to serve the unexpired term of his late father, W. O. Irwin.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Preston Johnson, Lubbock, Tex., was named president of the American Business Club at the close of the group's annual convention here yesterday.

Isolationism Dominates GOP, Says Kefauver

CLEVELAND (AP)—Confident he will win the Democratic nomination, Sen. Estes Kefauver says if either Eisenhower or Taft reach the White House, isolationism will dominate the Republican party.

Scheduled for appearances in Detroit today, the Tennesseean was here yesterday for a speech and a round of news conferences.

The Taft-Hartley Act was his main target in his address at the convention of the CIO Communications Workers of America.

Kefauver said he might be nominated on the first ballot but it was more likely to be the fifth or sixth ballot. He estimated he has more than 300 convention delegates committed to him. For nomination, 616 votes are required.

The senator told reporters he thought Gen. Eisenhower's candidacy "is weaker today than when he came back from Europe."

He said he was "surprised to find him so conservative on domestic issues," and declared the general and Sen. Taft of Ohio agree on the Taft-Hartley Act.

In his convention talk he said he doubted whether the general shares "the isolationist sentiments of most of the leaders of his party."

"But I don't think that will do Gen. Eisenhower much good," he went on. "No matter what Republican is in the White House, the Republican isolationists will dominate the party."

Alexander Praises Teamwork In Korea

EDMONTON, Alberta (AP)—Britain's defense minister, Field Marshal Earl Alexander, says teamwork among United Nations forces in Korea is impressive and any British criticism of the war's conduct there is "absolutely unjustified."

Flying in last night from a week's visit to Japan and the Korean front, Alexander told a 10-minute press conference he was "very favorably impressed with the whole layout" in Korea.

Alexander, governor general of Canada until he took his present cabinet post and a World War II Allied commander in Italy, was to fly to Ottawa today for a three-day stopover enroute to Washington and London.

The veteran of multi-nation warfare said the United Nations effort was "one of the best examples of team work that I've ever seen."

"It struck me more forcefully than anything else that there, for the first time, is a United Nations force fighting a war," he said, adding: "If we ever have to fight a third world war—I certainly hope we don't—this will provide a sort of dress rehearsal."

Alexander said he felt a lack of information had aroused criticism in some British quarters of the handling of the Korean war.

He said he hoped the British people would be reassured after he reports on his trip to Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the British cabinet.

On the possibility of the Communists launching a major offensive, Alexander said the Red disposition appeared to be more defensive than offensive.

Painter Rescued From Flagpole Top

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—A painter was rescued yesterday after dangling head downward for nearly an hour from the top of the 106-foot Snohomish County Courthouse flagpole.

The painter, Dave E. Kerr, apparently suffered an ill effects. He was hospitalized for observation.

The rescue was made by two public utility company linemen, N. C. Nielson and Bert Justice, while thousands of spectators cheered.

Kerr was saved from almost certain death when his left foot caught in a scaffolding rope after he had slipped from the sling in which he was sitting while painting the flagpole tip.

Connally, Johnson Oppose Truman Plan

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Texas Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson voted yesterday for adoption of a resolution rejecting President Truman's reorganization plans to eliminate Senate confirmation of customs officials.

The resolution was approved 51-31. Connally voted for the adoption of similar resolutions concerning postmaster and U. S. marshals. Johnson did not vote on the two resolutions.

Bill Would Increase Campaign Allowable

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is studying a bill that would let senators and House members—and those who hope to unseat them—spend a lot more on their campaigns than they do now.

Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) of the Senate Rules Committee yesterday proposed legislation to permit candidates to spend an amount equal to 10 cents for each vote cast at the last election for all candidates for the office sought.

The present limit is 3 cents per vote, with a top of $25,000 for senators and $5,000 for representatives.

Nation's Pig Crop Under '51 Figures

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government will make public today a survey indicating that fewer little pigs will go to market this year than last.

Last year's pig production totaled 102,129,000 head, the largest peacetime crop in history. This year's crop may well drop below 85 million head.

Have you heard the good news?

A NEW LAW MEANS YOUR SERIES E BONDS CAN NOW GO ON EARNING INTEREST AFTER THEIR MATURITY DATE

Ten years ago, did you go to the defense of your country with the purchase of U. S. Defense Bonds? If you have kept those bonds here's good news for you.

Congress has passed a law which makes it possible now, for your Defense Bonds to go on paying you interest longer than was originally planned—with absolutely no effort on your part.

And there is nothing for you, as a bond holder, to do. You need not exchange the bonds you have. You need not sign any paper, fill out any form. You simply keep your bonds as you have been keeping them.

You may still redeem any Series E Bond at any time after you've owned it for sixty days. But holding on to your bonds is the smart thing to do if you can. For in U. S. Bonds your money is safe... your government bonds are as safe as America itself.

And don't forget that the money you put into U. S. Bonds regularly and leave there is steadily growing into a larger and larger sum. Before you know it you'll have money enough for a home, a business, a retirement fund, an education for your children, or whatever really big thing is your personal dream. Now, remember, your Series E Bonds earn 3% interest compounded semiannually when they're held to maturity.

Bonds are safer than cash, too. For once lost, cash is gone forever. But if your bonds are lost or accidentally destroyed your United States Treasury will replace them at no cost or loss to you.

So if you have bonds which are coming due this month, remember the new money-making chance your government is giving you. Just hold onto your bonds and they'll go on earning for you. In the meantime keep up your regular saving with more U. S. Defense Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's the easy, systematic saving plan that lets you save before you draw your pay. Thousands say it's the one sure way to save!

3 NEW MONEY-MAKING OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOU!

New Series H, J, and K Defense Bonds pay 2.76% to 3%!

If you want to get the interest on your bonds in the form of current income, or if you want to invest more than the annual limit for E Bonds, ask at any Federal Reserve Bank or Branch about these new bonds:

Series H. A new current income bond, available in denominations of $50 to $100,000. Sold at par. Matures in 9 years, 8 months and pays approximately 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Annual limit, $20,000 maturity value.

Series J. A new 12-year appreciation bond, available in denominations of $25 to $100,000. Sold at 72% of par value. Pays 2.76% compounded semiannually if held to maturity. Annual limit, $200,000 issue price jointly with Series K Bonds.

Series K. A new 12-year current-income bond in denominations of $50 to $100,000. Pays interest semiannually by Treasury check at the rate of 2.76% per annum. Sold at par. Annual limit, $200,000 issue price jointly with Series J Bonds.

Now even better... invest more in Defense Bonds!

Movie Queen Takes A Dunking

Her carefully-prepared coiffure ruined and her costume soaked, Actress Betty Grable is helped up a ladder after she accidentally tumbled into a studio lake during filming of a storm sequence in "The Farmer Takes a Wife" in Hollywood. Twenty eager volunteer rescuers immediately dived into the water to aid her, reported her breathless press agent. (AP Wirephoto).

U. S. Pledges Arms Increase In Indochina

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The United States has pledged a substantial increase in arms shipments to help double the number of Viet Namese battling Communists in Indochina. The decision, announced yesterday after three days of conferences between U. S. and French officials, means this country probably will shoulder almost 40 per cent of future costs of the 6-year-old struggle.

There was no hint how much would be allocated for arms aid, but informed officials said it would be substantially above the 300 million dollars given in the fiscal year ending July 1. This is intended to help boost the number of pro-French Indochinese divisions from four to eight by mid-1954.

Eventually, it is hoped the native armies can defend Indochina themselves, enabling France to move its 250,000 troops now there to other cold war sectors.

The agreement to increase aid to Indochina raised the possibility the administration might cut down the amount of military shipments for Formosa, although State and Defense Department officials were silent on this.

U. N. Battle Shapes Over Germ Warfare

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U.P.)—A full-scale battle over germ warfare appeared to be shaping up in the United Nations today after the United States denounced Russia's latest move as a fraud.

The new Soviet proposal was a request that the U. N. Security Council appeal to the United States and several other countries to ratify the 1925 Geneva Protocol outlawing bacteriological weapons.

Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik presented his resolution with a brief, mildly worded speech, carefully avoiding any mention of previous Communist charges that the U. S. had used germ warfare in Korea.

Both delegates and audience — expecting another blast at the American — listened in amazement as the usually sharp-tongued Malik made his appeal in soft tones and conciliatory words.

Despite Malik's avoidance of the Korean issue, U. S. Delegate Ernest A. Gross harked back to the earlier Communist charges as soon as he got the floor to reply.

Gross said the Communist charges of germ warfare were part of a campaign of lies and that there was no evidence this campaign had been abandoned. He continued his attack despite efforts of Malik, as the June council president, to rule him out of order.

Malik said the proposal when the Soviet government had presented had no relation whatsoever to the Korean question.

Gross charged the Soviet proposal was a fraudulent effort to make the world believe Russia and other parties to the Geneva treaty had given up germ warfare.

The United States, Brazil and Pakistan are the only Security Council members which have not ratified the protocol. President Truman withdrew the pact from Senate consideration in 1947, terming it an obsolete "paper pledge approach."

Gross said yesterday that the U. S. was in favor of real prohibition of germ weapons, but only under adequate safeguards to make sure there were no evasions or violations.

King To Fight Mother's Will

HOUSTON, Tex. (U.P.)—Sheppard W. (Abdullah) King and his 18-year-old sister plan a court fight to break their mother's will and split the 2 1/2-million-dollar estate half and half.

King said yesterday that both he and his sister Patricia don't want to have to wait several years before they get the principal of the estate from oil royalties and other properties.

King incurred his mother's wrath last fall when he wooed and married Egyptian dancer Samia Gamal in a highly publicized romance. Mrs. Bonner King died Sunday. In her will, filed yesterday for probate, the son was left one-fourth of the estate and his sister three-fourths.

"Patricia wants to give me the other fourth," he said. "There is no argument there."

The will was signed Nov. 27, 1951, two days before King married Samia. He said after his mother became reconciled to Samia he was sure she would have changed the will back to a 50-50 division but that she was too ill to do so.

Plant Is Planned In Calhoun County

NEW YORK, June 19 (U.P.)—The Union Carbide & Carbon Corp. has plans for building a multi-million dollar chemical plant near Seadrift in Calhoun County, Tex.

The company announced yesterday the plant would manufacture synthetic organic chemicals and plastic resins. Construction is scheduled to begin early in the fall.

Quads Born Prematurely, Condition Reported Fair

WEYMOUTH, Mass. (U.P.)—Mrs. Marion L. Manning, 27, is the mother of healthy quadruplets today.

Three boys and a girl were born to her at South Shore Hospital last night. She has three other youngsters.

The first child, the girl, was born at 9:23 p.m., the second at 10:13, and the third and fourth 11 and 16 minutes later.

The babies, all placed in incubators, were reported to weigh between two and three pounds each and to measure about a foot long. Several hours after the last birth, hospital physicians reported their condition as fair.

All four deliveries were described as normal by Dr. Robert R. Ryan who delivered the babies with the assistance of Dr. Edward J. Howley.

Dr. Ryan said that Mrs. Manning was doing well and will be allowed to sit up today if she feels strong enough.

Mrs. Manning entered the hospital May 24 for a virus infection. She remained there until the births on advice of her husband John, a 35-year-old bus line operator, who explained he did not want to risk a premature arrival without medical attention.

"What would I do if they came while she was at home," he said. Manning was not at the hospital when the first birth occurred. He had left word with the hospital officials that he would remain at home awaiting a phone call.

His wife went into active labor one hour and 18 minutes before the first birth.

The babies were baptized quickly after birth by the Rev. William J.

Commune, a Catholic priest. The first baby, hospital officials said, gave a healthy scream as the water was poured on his head.

Hospital officials described baptism so soon as the "usual precautionary measure." It is often done in premature births.

The infants, due Aug. 15, were nearly two months premature, but physicians explained that such multiple births rarely go full term.

According to medical sources quadruplets occur once in every 680,000 births.

X-rays taken at the time Mrs. Manning entered the hospital in May indicated she would give birth to quads.

Nurses at the hospital said Mrs. Manning "was wonderful throughout. When she was having severe pains early in labor she never murmured."

49th Preparing For Big Parade

NORTH FORT HOOD, June 19 (U.P.)—The 49th Armored Division is preparing for its review and parade here next Saturday—expected to be a relief from the hot and dusty week on the firing ranges.

Sixteen of the Army's new covered vehicles for carrying armored infantry into combat arrived at the fort yesterday. They will be displayed to the public for the first time Saturday.

Lt. Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, Texas Railroad Commissioner, announced that he will attend the inspection with Gov. Allan Shivers and Fourth Army Commander Lt. Gen. William M. Hoge.

Yesterday the Army inspectors awarded "Superior" ratings to 20 units which are in their two-week training period at the camp. They admitted that they probably had been "too harsh" the day before, when only one unit was placed in that category.

Attendance at the camp was 93 per cent of the division's strength, Lt. Col. Oscar H. Frazier, of Stephenville, said.

Guns Explode Big Floating Mine

NAPLES, Italy (U.P.)—A big floating mine was exploded by gunfire outside Naples harbor today. In the harbor area was a large concentration of U. S. warships.

The noise of the explosion caused panic in Naples, nearby Sorrento and on the Isle of Capri, across the bay.

Scurry American Trading No. 1 Howell, edger to the Hermleigh-Ellenburger field, washed perforations with 500 gallons of mud acid and then treated with 10,000 gallons of regular acid. Operator was swabbing and flowing to clean out acid and residue. No attempt was made to test the Ellenburger section naturally.

Herdall and Gray No. 1 Gannawildcat, was at 4,445 in lime and shale.

Humble No. 1 Dayvault, C NE NE 15-15, H&TC, Southeast Sterling wildcat, drilled to 6,565 in shale.

Humble No. 1 Foster, C NW NW 4-31-4s, T&P, 2 1/2 miles east of the Glasscock line in Northwest Sterling, took a test in the Ellenburger from 9,443-9,468 with the tool feet of drilling mud with no shows. Previously the venture had tested 9,443-68 in the same formation with recovery of 455 feet of drilling mud. Now it is at 9,495 and will take a drillstem test from 9,468-9,495.

Old-Fashioned Harvest Two field hands shock newly cut wheat in a ripened field on the J. F. Zemets farm at Olathe, Kansas, as they employ an old-fashioned harvest method. Some farmers in the area still shock their wheat by hand, gaining the benefits of further ripening, in a method used before the advent of the combine. The field of shocked wheat in the background will be threshed in about two weeks. The two men, working as harvest hands in their spare time, are Navy machinists at the Olathe Naval Air Station. Plea For Pool Opening Heard At Lions Meet Youth presented its plea for opening of the swimming pool before the Lions Club on Wednesday.

Only half of one per cent of the average daily consumption of water would be required to maintain the pool, he said. This water would not be lost but could be utilized in watering park shrubs and trees.

As it is, he said, youngsters are having to go to other cities if they swim and highways already are dangerously overcrowded. The pool, he argued, would supply a badly needed recreational facility for youth.

Glenn, who introduced Glenn, explained that the pool does not have to be drained to be cleaned. This is done by a sort of vacuum cleaner device which moves along the floor and sides and flushes out sediment. Other water is circulated, filtered and treated.

Jack Smith, city commissioner, explained the various angles of the water problem and said that not just one thing was affected. B. M. Keese said he would sacrifice his shrubs for young people and H. P. Steck was of like mind. Clyde Thomas Sr. thought an extensive educational campaign would be needed to acquaint the public with the small requirement of pool operation. In the end, petitions were circulated among the club members. These pointed out there was no attempt to evade the question of a shortage but that recreational benefits would outweigh disadvantages; the water would not be wasteful; the amount required would not have any measurable weight against the total.

Mrs. Bankhead Succumbs Here

An illness of long duration had ended here Thursday for Mrs. Estelle Bankhead, 66, wife of Price Bankhead.

Mrs. Bankhead died at the family residence at 305 W. 11th Street at 3 a.m.

The remains will be at the Nalley Chapel until time for services at the Fourth and Benton Church of Christ at 5 p.m. Friday. Interment will be in the Trinity Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. Bankhead was a native of Mississippi, where she was born June 9, 1886. She was married to Price Bankhead at Ogleby on March 11, 1905. Since 1932 they had made their home in Howard County except for a brief interval in Stonewall County and at Grassland. Mr. Bankhead had been a star route carrier and also served as a Church of Christ minister at Forsan.

T. H. Tarbert, minister of the Fourth and Benton Church, where Mrs. Bankhead held her membership, will officiate at the services, assisted by Lloyd Christ, minister of the Church of Christ at 14th and Main.

Potato Prices Drop Sharply

Lower prices for potatoes and several fresh hot-weather fruits took the food news spotlight this week. Meat and butter prices were little changed generally.

Potatoes dropped sharply as heavy shipments reached terminal markets. Suppliers rushed spuds to stores to take advantage of the high prices that prevailed last week as an aftermath of the lifting of price controls, and both wholesale and retail prices skidded as long-empty potato bins were replenished.

Behind-schedule crops were maturing rapidly and entering the market—particularly potatoes from Virginia.

Summer-time fruits were reaching market in increasing volume and prices were slipping downward.

The Agriculture Department stressed lettuce, milk and dairy products as most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week.

Special Election May Be Required

AUSTIN, June 19 (AP)—A spokesman for Gov. Allan Shivers said today Shivers believes the new election law requires the governor to call a special election when a member of Congress resigns.

The question was raised in connection with the announced resignation of Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine, effective June 30.

The secretary of state has been briefing legal aspects of the situation on receipt of unofficial word of Pickett's resignation.

It was considered likely that if a special election is called, it would coincide with the second Democratic primary, Aug. 23. Such election go to the man with the greatest vote, without a run-off.

Efforts To Recover In Grain Deal Fail

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said today he has failed in efforts to recover from a grain storage firm $37,500 he says the government "paid for nothing."

Ellender told a reporter Cargill, Inc., of Minneapolis, has written him conceding that it did not work to earn the fee, but insists that its contract with the Commodity Credit Corporation was so phrased as to make the payment legal.

The payment got a public airing in hearings before the Senate Agriculture Committee's now-ended investigation of the Agriculture Department's farm aid program.

Clean-Up Project Shuts Down Mine

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—The ladies of nearby Granville, W.Va., (population 1,000) decided on a summer house-cleaning spree yesterday—and as a result:

1. A big coal cleaning plant and two good-size coal mines were forced to close.

2. About 700 men were thrown out of work.

3. Mayor Clinton Cairney had to call a special meeting in Town Hall to calm the ladies down and persuade them to permit the biggest industry in this area to go back into operation.

It was dust from the coal plant that made the ladies so angry. They scooped it up with brooms and dust pans flicked at it with feather dusters and sucked it up with vacuum cleaners—day in and day out, they said.

Well, they finally got tired of it. About 40 of them marched down to the Christopher Coal Company's cleaning plant yesterday and set up picket lines.

The men came to work, eyed the determined ladies with embarrassment, then meekly returned home. With the big coal cleaning plant and tipples closed, the company had no alternative but to shut down its Arkwright and Osage mines.

Hastily Harry Myers, field representative for the United Mine Workers, issued an announcement. We have nothing to do with the situation and certainly are in no position to control it, Myers announced. Then he retired from the scene.

That put the problem in the lap of Mayor Cairney. He opened Town Hall last night and invited the ladies to come in and talk it over.

"I've had to take down my washing as many as three times in one day because of this dust," complained one irate housewife.

"You can't even sit on your front porch or leave your winders up," scolded another.

But the mayor proved to be a master diplomat. He had contacted the company, a subsidiary of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company, he explained.

And Operations Manager Charles Nally promised to get in touch immediately with the firm that sold them their dust-dispersing equipment and see if something can't be done.

The ladies listened. They were intending to go back to the plant and re-form their lines at midnight when another shift was scheduled to come to work.

they decided to allow the two mines and the big cleaning plant to resume operations.

Funeral Is Set For Mrs. Lewis

Mrs. Nora Bell Lewis 82, died at 9 a.m. Thursday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. R. H. Owens, 404 State following a long illness.

Mrs. Lewis, who had resided here for the past 10 years, leaves a total of 49 descendants.

The rites will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday at the Eberly Chapel by the Rev. Cecil Rhodes, pastor of the West Side Baptist Church. Interment will be in the city cemetery and grandsons will serve as pallbearers.

Her husband, A. B. Lewis, preceded her in death on Nov. 17, 1951.

Ike Favors State Tidelands Control

DENVER, June 19 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said yesterday he favors legislation giving states control of off-shore oil lands.

He said this was subject to check on constitutional issues, but indicated he sees no serious problem there.

The general took his position on tidelands in a telegram to H. J. (Jack) Porter of Houston, Texas, Eisenhower campaign manager.

Sound Working Of County Unit Plan Can Be Of Benefit To All

The Howard County Commissioners Court has employed George E. Bean, formerly a member of the Lubbock city engineering department and more recently a private consultant, as the county engineer. This fills a vacancy which has existed for approximately a year.

Mr. Bean is a graduate of Texas A. & M. and has 28 years of practical experience. He therefore should be cognizant of the two facets of public engineering—those of applying sound engineering techniques with sound public relations.

The arrival of the new engineer Monday to assume his duties should be a good time for re-assessment of the objectives of the county unit system, to which Howard County is committed.

The engineer, as the administrative arm of the commissioners court in effecting the policies defined by the court, can be of great assistance to commissioners as well as an instrument for effective application of county funds. It should be understood that the establishment of policy is solely the responsibility of the commissioners court and that the county's road program will fit within the framework of that policy.

On the other hand, the engineer, if he is accountable for the sound operation of the road and bridge affairs, must be given sound support in the exercise of control over the direction of work and use of equipment. There must be a general understanding and support by the public for jobs to be done and equipment assigned on the basis of urgency and of greatest good to the greatest number, and with due regard for accomplishing the most for the money.

In the final analysis, the unit system, which the engineer is to administer under instructions from the court, simply involves the application of organized business principles to the county's road affairs. We believe that it can, if properly carried out and earnestly pressed, give the people more for their investment. If it accomplishes that, the court can take full measure of pride in it and the people will be benefited.

In Politics Or Religion, Hunger Strikes Poor Means Of Action

In Japan there is a nationwide strike of students against an anti-subversive bill now before Parliament—probably one of those Communist-engineered protests.

President Shinobu Tabata of Doshisha University in Kyoto has gone on a hunger strike in protest against the student strike, saying: "The anti-subversive law bill is bad, but a strike by students is worse."

President Tabata may not be as silly as he sounds. Most of us can remember how our parents, or other members of the family, shamed us out of bad habits by putting on exaggerated exhibitions of the same fault. If somebody got a little noisy with the soup, the family would stand it only so long whereupon someone was sure to duck his head as close to the soup as possible, and start shoveling it in with loud lip-smacks.

This usually worked by the simple process of making the offender feel ridiculous.

At the time of the student party raids in this country, we wondered why some dignified university president, accompanied perhaps by the dean of men, the professor of applied psychology and the chairman of the board of trustees didn't laugh the whole thing out of countenance by staging a marble or mumblepeg game right out in front of the administration building, for all to see. Attired in childish costumes, of course.

While he hunger-strikes for what he considers sufficient cause, President Tabata of Doshisha University is indulging in what seems to us a pretty idiotic method of protest. We feel sorry for the Arkansas preacher who recently starved himself to death while awaiting some sign from God to indicate whether he should break his fast or keep it up.

It seems to us this testing of God's will is just about as presumptuous a thing as a man can undertake. It seems to assume that the demonstrator is important enough to have God drop everything else and solve his own particular problem. Anyone who demands that God tell him whether or when to eat, or to abstain from eating, is taking an exaggerated view of his own importance, poor fellow.

Zeal In Anti-Trust Cases Cost One Justice Official His Job

WASHINGTON.—There was more than meets the eye behind the sudden axing of three assistant attorneys general by Jim McGranery, new head of the Justice Department.

One of them, Graham Morison, head of the antitrust division had been a tough, uncompromising prosecutor of big business monopoly and was regarded as one of the best men in the Justice Department.

However, he was the object of an inter-Cabinet argument a short time ago which involved the Secretary of Defense and the Joint American Telephone and Telegraph Co., whose former chairman, Walter Gifford, is now U. S. Ambassador to London.

Morison has been pushing a vitally important antitrust case against A.T.&T. and its wholly-owned subsidiary Western Electric. And shortly before McGranery became attorney general, Secretary of Defense Lovett asked the acting attorney general, Phil Perlman, to drop the case. Lovett argued that the Bell Laboratories, also owned by A.T.&T., could not cooperate properly with the Defense Department if A.T.&T. were under antitrust investigation.

But when Perlman asked Morison to drop the case, Morison rebelled: "That's the same baloney that every big business firm brings in when they get in a tight place," the assistant attorney general remonstrated. "They appeal to the Army or Navy and the Army or Navy, knowing nothing about monopoly, go to bat for them. That's what they did during the war, and that's what they are trying to do now."

"But this is a request from a member of the Cabinet," Perlman urged. "It impairs my personal relations with Lovett if I can't co-operate."

"Listen, Brother," replied Morison, a tough ex-Marine, "neither you nor Lovett seems to understand what fixes telephone rates. Telephone rates are fixed on the basis of the cost. If the telephone company can show that its equipment is high, it can persuade the public service commissions to increase rates.

"All right, A.T.&T. is the sole owner of Western Electric. Western Electric makes all the equipment for A.T.&T. and charges high prices. They are not competitive prices. A.T.&T. could go out and buy the same equipment from another company for less. But it doesn't. It buys at a high price from its own company so it has an excuse to hike phone rates.

"That's what this antitrust suit is about," concluded Morison, "and I'll be hanged if I'm going to drop it, Secretary of Defense or no Secretary of Defense."

Perlman, having received a full explanation, agreed, backed up Morison 100 per cent.

But a few days later, new Attorney General McGranery took over, called in Morison on another antitrust matter, this one involving an administration pet—the Radio Corporation of America. David Sarnoff, head of RCA, which controls National Broadcasting Co., is the man who gave Margaret Truman her radio contact. He has carried such weight at the White House that during the visit of Prime Minister Clement Attlee, the President suspended his conferences, kept the Prime Minister waiting while he had a long luncheon with Sarnoff and Margaret.

But Morison, paying no attention to this relationship, had called a grand jury to investigate certain RCA practices. RCA, in turn, has hired the lawyer closest to the White House, Clark Clifford.

New Attorney General McGranery questioned Morison about the RCA case shortly after he took office. McGranery was discreet, said little. But a few days later, he fired Morison.

Note — Morison had long wanted to leave the Justice Department, had had several other job openings, but remained because of his devotion to antitrust work. After getting his notice, Morison asked permission to remain in the Justice Department long enough to finish a Collier's magazine article answering David Lillenthal's attack on the Justice Department's antitrust cases. McGranery said no.

Some of Sen. Bob Kerr's Senate colleagues have warned him privately that if he is really serious about running for President he had better keep away from the natural gas lobby.

They accuse him of being the hidden wire-puller trying to block confirmation of Tom Buchanan as chairman of the Federal Power Commission because Buchanan was the only man who stood up against Kerr and the gas lobby when it came to removing FPC supervision over gas producers.

Buchanan, who has fought the gas lobby every inch of the way, was reappointed to his job in May. But for mysterious reasons, a sub-committee headed by O'Connor of Maryland has delayed action until this week, when, after a month of stalling, it finally opened hearings—though it may be too late.

Both Sides Claim Virtue In Present Controversy Over Postmasters Status

WASHINGTON.—One of the never-ending wonders of Washington is the amount of virtue claimed by both sides in a controversy. The most recent example is the dispute over postmasters.

Under the present system postmasters of the first, second and third class are chosen by the President, provided the Senate approves. The Senate can kill his appointments. President Truman has asked Congress to change this.

He suggested that all postmasters be put under civil service in such a way that the President and the Senate would have nothing to say about appointments at all. He said the postmaster general, a member of his Cabinet, should make them.

The Senate rose in its wrath yesterday and said "No." So the system stays as it's always been. This power over the selection of postmasters, with all the political patronage involved, was too much for the senators to let go.

Sen. McClellan, Arkansas Democrat, said the President's plan, although 93 per cent of all government workers are under civil service, would "destroy the democratic process that keeps the government close to the people."

This was really putting senatorial power and political patronage on a high plane. Senators favoring the plan went up to a pretty high plane, too. They said the plan would be the biggest advance in civil service reform in 70 years.

Sen. Eastland, Mississippi Democrat, may have come closer to the reality when he said that even if the Senate approved "postmasters still will be politically selected . . . the only result will be to deprive the Senate of passing on them."

There's no law saying the postmaster can't consult with local politicians and with congressmen and senators on a candidate for postmaster. He could still do it, even if the Senate voted to cut itself and the President out of the picking.

The postmaster general alone now picks postmasters of the fourth class without the President or the Senate as a whole getting in on the act. So if the Senate approved the President's plan, the postmaster general could do with the first, second and third class postmasters what he's free to do with the fourth now.

Screwballs Seem To Attract Each Other Most Anywhere

NEW YORK, June 19.—The place where I work is full of desks but this stranger in the soiled white shirt naturally had to walk up to my desk.

"I been up all night," he said belligerently. "You don't expect me to stay up all day, do you?"

"No indeed," I murmured.

"Well, I'm going to stay up until I get the rules clarified," he said. "Does a baseball fan have legal rights or doesn't he?"

"Of course, he does."

"They can't throw a fan out of the ball park just for hollering, can they?"

"Oh, no, indeed."

"That's what I told them after they threw me out of the park last night," said the stranger. "I knew I was right all along."

And he walked out of the office, completely happy.

My visitor was obviously slightly screwball, and I fell to thinking: "Why, out of all the ears in sight, he could head with his tale of woe, did he pick on my ears?" The only answer I could find was that in me he instinctively recognized a kindred soul.

Screwballs seem to love me, and I must confess I find them fascinating, too. Looking back on 20 years of newspaper work, I expect I must have spent at least 15 of them listening to screwballs.

Every newspaper office is visited by an almost daily parade of mildly daft crackpots, and the man assigned to the chore of hearing them is sometimes known as "the screwball editor." I always loved this work myself, although it makes some reporters nervous, particularly if the visitor is carrying a small parcel that could turn out to be a home-made bomb.

My trouble with crackpots is that I usually end up on their side. If an added inventor shows up with plans for a flying submarine, he has no trouble at all convincing me submarines should have wings. I remember the fellow who wanted to launch a crusade to get raspberry-flavored stamps. That seemed so sensible to me that I sat down and helped him draft a letter to the Postoffice.

My favorite screwball, however, was a lady we came to know as "Rambling Mary." Every week she wrote a long rambling letter, telling of her fights with the landlord and the neighbors, and the small children down the hall who teased her.

The letters bearing no return address and signed only "Mary," came year after year, and I got so I felt I knew the lonely old lady real well. When the letters finally ceased, I missed them for a long time. It was like losing a friend, and I never learned whether death had taken Mary or they had just shut her away.

Detention Camps Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON, June 19.—President Truman yesterday signed a bill authorizing the Immigration and Naturalization Service to build two detention camps for Mexican aliens held for deportation to their homeland.

The camps, estimated to cost about $200,000 each, will be located at Brownsville, Tex., and San Ysidro, Calif.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

General Gordon Granger of the U. S. Army disembarked in Galveston on this day in 1865 to assume command of the Fifth Military District, and the surrender of Texas to the Yankees became an accomplished fact.

General Kirby E. Smith had signed the Canby-Buckner convention of surrender some weeks before, aboard a U.S. man-of-war floating peacefully off the Texas coast. Under the convention, the civil machinery of the state was to receive recognition as a de facto government. This agreement, however, was revoked by northern action, perhaps because of riots over the state in which Confederate veterans looted their warehouses rather than allow supplies to be turned over to U.S. soldiers.

General Granger's first official act was to declare all measures promulgated by the Texas government since 1861 null and void. His second act proclaimed the freedom of the Negroes. Thus the colored people of Texas still celebrate June 19 as "Emancipation Day."

In spite of the surrender and General Granger, the "Stars and Bars" did not disappear from the Texas scene immediately. On July 4, in the middle of the Rio Grande River, the Confederate flag was lowered for the final time in Texas. General J. O. Shelby and his followers saluted the flag until they passed into Mexico on that day.

Douglas Plane A Workhorse For Civilian Lines And Military

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Displacement of DC-3's on Pioneer Air Lines runs, something presently taking place, marks a stage near the end of a memorable era in airborne cargoes.

It means the DC-3 is on the way out, although you'll probably find some airmen willing to argue that the plane never can be completely replaced.

Better known as the C-47 in some quarters, the cargo craft earned its reputation for dependability during World War II when it was dubbed "the Army's work horse" and called upon for probably more different jobs than any other vehicle—airborne or ground-bound.

The Douglas creation hauled cargoes ranging from motor vehicles to blood plasma, dropped paratroops where the Allies otherwise couldn't land an effective bullet, towed loaded gliders into the same environments, and even "snatched" the motorless aircraft, loaded with wounded out of combat zones.

And the old work horses didn't perform these tasks just once; they did it repeatedly. In between the rougher missions they were moving military gear to the war fronts from supply dumps hundreds of miles in the rear, often logging eight or 10 hours at a stretch.

During the peak of the war on continental Europe, it was rarely that mechanics had time to pull a really thorough "inspection" on the ships. The machines kept flying with little more than sparkplug changes, in many cases hundred of hours after engine changes were due.

It was the C-47 that eventually dumped supplies and brought reinforcements to airborne infantry troops when they were not-quite-hopelessly surrounded at Bastogne.

"Old dependable" snatched glider loads of wounded infantrymen out of the Remagen bridgehead a day or two after Americans had made their first crossing of the Rhine. The same planes had delivered the gliders earlier.

Thousands of wounded were shuttled from frontline aid stations to base hospitals on the continent and in England by the military version of the DC-3 in operations that became routine.

Probably the worst beatings the C-47's absorbed—by keeping flying—were those dished out by the Germans during airborne invasions of Normandy, Belgium and Central Germany. The big planes swarmed low over enemy troop concentrations, poured behind hostile lines and dropped parachute and glider troops.

A cargo carrier completing one of those runs usually had flak, cannon and small arms fire holes more numerous than rivets. They were known to return with controls all but shot loose, wingtips missing and one of their two engines out.

Most of them always got back to their bases, doubtless because of the reliability that was built into them along with a margin of operational safety that few, if any, other planes can boast. It's no wonder the C-47 earned itself a reputation and, in doing so, became about as well known as the jeep.

The men who flew the DC-3 will hate to see it go. They'll call the successor a mighty good plane—when it matches the C-47 record.

Editors Roundtable—James Galloway

Most Editorial Opinion Frowns On M'Arthur As GOP Keynote

Aside from the larger question of whether Senator Taft's supporters will so control the GOP convention as to "force" Taft's nomination, editors are especially interested in the selection of General MacArthur as GOP keynoter. While a considerable minority of editors argues that MacArthur will make an inspiring speech, neutral as between candidates, the large majority feels that MacArthur, as a Taft supporter, does not qualify for the traditionally neutral role of keynoter. Most editors feel that MacArthur should resign, or at least retire, from military service before engaging in such open political activity.

TRENTON (N. J.) TIMES (Ind.): "Unless MacArthur asks for retirement beforehand, he will be openly violating military regulations in making the keynote speech at the Republican convention. The most serious objection to the MacArthur selection, however, lies in the fact that he is a Taft partisan who has not hesitated to show his hostility to General Eisenhower's candidacy. . . . One of the responsibilities of a keynoter is that of eliminating the divisive effects of a bitter preconvention campaign and restoring unity. It is difficult to see how this purpose can be accomplished by General MacArthur."

CINCINNATI (Ohio) TIMES STAR (Rep.): "The choice is regarded as a victory for Taft. . . . But a neutral speech is expected. The job of a keynoter is to set the tempo for the election campaign, whoever the nominee. . . . Some question was raised in advance about MacArthur's status as an Army officer. But there was also some question in the minds of Pentagon legalists as to whether Eisenhower can publicly criticize Administration leaders, even though he has been granted retirement. Neither man has resigned from the service, but the Army will not interfere."

BOSTON (Mass.) TRAVELER (Ind.): "Eisenhower retired and went off the Army payroll. Even at that, he has to watch what he says until he comes up with a full resignation. That should be MacArthur's cue to go after a full resignation himself—to look civilian life squarely in the eye and exclaim, 'I have returned.' . . . He has made it clear that he's for Taft and doesn't like Ike. That in itself makes him a poor choice for the keynote post, where a man is supposed to stand squarely in the middle of his own party and slash away at all angles of the enemy's party."

CHARLOTTE (N.C.) NEWS (Ind.-Dem.): "We find no fault with the selection. It was a gracious gesture. It will swing the spotlights and the cameras once more upon the jut-jawed countenance so well known to all the peoples of the world. . . . The General will enjoy his moment. We will enjoy listening once again to the rolling rhetoric and the sounding sonority of those meticulous phrases. And then, having honored MacArthur, the Republicans can get down to the business of selecting a candidate who looks to the pressing present and the uncertain future instead of to a glorious past."

HEMPSTEAD (N.Y.) NEWSDAY (Ind.): "Logic and good sense should tell the Taft people that the risk they are taking is an unwise one. MacArthur is certain to warn the convention not to nominate a military man—his newest and most lethal pitch. Maybe he will bethink himself and deliver the sort of statesmanlike oration of which he is capable. In that case, he will be doing his last and greatest favor for his country. If not—if he lets personal passion and hatred for Ike sway him—the result will be damaging to the Republican party and perhaps ruinous to the stature of Douglas MacArthur as warrior and statesman."

CLEVELAND (Ohio) PLAIN DEALER (Ind.-Dem.): "The selection of General MacArthur to deliver the keynote speech has no particular significance. He would have been invited to address the convention in any event. What difference would it make whether he delivered a speech advertised as the keynote of the convention, or just an ordinary speech such as the one former President Hoover is scheduled to make? Besides, although MacArthur is on record as favoring Taft, we think he is smart enough to realize that his remarks would arouse considerable resentment if they could be construed as favoring one candidate over another."

Moths Carry Pollen To Plants

Adult moths are without any method of attack, but the case is somewhat different with the young of moths, known as caterpillars or worms. Some of these can do a bit of attacking.

Many caterpillars produce a kind of poison called formic acid. This is sent out from an opening near the front of the body. A small enemy may suffer harm, even death, from the acid.

Some types of caterpillars—for example the caterpillars of gold-tail moths—have hairs which cause a little pain when rubbed against the skin of a human being. Now and then a person suffers a skin rash after contact with such hairs.

A few kinds of moth caterpillars feed on scale insects or green flies. One kind has grown smart enough to make its home in the pitcher plant, feeding on insects which the plant captures!

In general, however, caterpillars are harmless to people. Their chief food is taken from plants. I have handled dozens of caterpillars without any harm to myself.

One kind of caterpillar is known as a friend of mankind. This is the silkworm, the larva of a moth.

The Chinese have been taking care of silkworms, and obtaining silk from them, for 4,000 years or more. These worms form cocoons by spinning silk around themselves. About 25,000 cocoons produce a pound of silk thread. The silkworm industry has become very important in Japan, and it also exists in some parts of southern Europe.

Another value of moths is in the work they do to transfer pollen. When moths sip nectar from flowers, they are likely to carry pollen to other flowers. This is an accident, but it helps the flowers.

On the other side of the scales, we must place the heavy damage from the moth tribe. Some of the worst enemies of crops are worms or caterpillars which come from the eggs of moths.

The gypsy moth is one of the bad ones, from the viewpoint of people. This moth was brought to the New World more than 80 years ago. Its caterpillars have done widespread injury to the leaves of trees.

Other pests of the moth tribe include army worms, codling moths, canker worms, corn ear worms, cotton boll worms and clothes moths. In each case let us note that it is the young, or caterpillars, which do the damage.

DESIGNING WOMAN

Try Upholstering Your Old Wood Bed Headboards

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

Yes, Mrs. L. J. B. you can upholster that old headboard. The answer is a separate panel. Upholster it and fit it into the headboard within its heavier wood outline.

with a pencil on a large piece of paper. Cut the panel 1-inch smaller than the pattern from composition board. Drill four holes in the panel, at either side of the top and bottom and about 2 1/2 inches from the edges and insert screws. Cover the panel with cotton padding, then with muslin and tack edges on the back of the panel. Apply the outside fabric over this and tack separately so it can be removed and replaced without making it necessary to remove the padding. Fit the panel into the headboard and drill holes in the headboard in the right places for the screws to go through.

HD Club Has All-Day Meet; Mrs. Gene Huestis Honored

FORSAN. (Sp1)—The Forsan Home Demonstration Club held an all-day meeting in the Methodist Church annex Tuesday.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Ray Shortes gave the council report and Mrs. W. B. Dunn, the treasurer's report.

The resignation of Mrs. Shortes as president of the group was accepted. The Shortes are moving away from the community.

Mrs. B. J. Wiss demonstrated the art of corsage making. She gave suggestions on selecting flowers and on storing them. Using different kinds of flowers, she made several types of corsages including a shoulder corsage and a nosegay.

She also demonstrated how one flower, a gladiolus, could be used in many ways to achieve different effects. She told the group the materials needed in making the decorations.

A covered dish luncheon was served during the noon hour. Eleven members including one new member, Mrs. Dan Furse, attended. Mrs. R. L. Bowman was a guest.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. John B. Anderson, July 7.

Mrs. Gene Huestis was complimented recently with a pink and blue shower in the home of Mrs. W. R. Hoard.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Joe B. Hoard Sr., Mrs. Ray Prater and Mrs. Nova Ballard.

The pink and blue color scheme was used in the decorations and on the refreshment plates.

Attending were Mrs. Jim Miller, Mrs. Bobby White, Mrs. B. D. Caldwell, Mrs. Ott King, Mrs. L. B. McElrath, Mrs. Henry Huestis, Mrs. Steve Huestis and Doris Miller.

Gaye Huestis is visiting in Breckenridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Anderson and Sandra will move to Hadacol Corner in the near future. Anderson has accepted a transfer with the Phillips Petroleum Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Holladay and daughters have as their guest, their niece, Bonnie Jean Hetherington, of Marlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy C. Good of Plains visited friends in Forsan the first of the week.

Elliott Rudd of Odessa was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wise and family the first of the week.

The Rev. R. L. Bowman, Hamilton Elrod and H. H. Story attended the district meeting of the Methodist Church in Big Spring Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Breithaupt and daughters of Odessa were week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cardwell.

Bible School Closes Friday; FHA Girls Return From Trip

GARDEN CITY. (Sp1)—The public is invited to commencement exercises for the Garden City Vacation Bible School Friday evening at 8 at the Methodist Church. Following the program and the viewing of the work done by the pupils ice cream and cake will be served in the recreation room.

Mrs. J. F. Jones, secretary of the school, reported an enrollment of 107 with an average attendance of 92. According to A. Harris, principal of the school this is the largest group to ever attend a Vacation Bible School in Garden City. The three Garden City Churches, Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist join to make this a union school each summer.

Garden City FHA Girls returned Tuesday evening from a two day vacation at the Baptist Camp in Big Spring. The girls left Garden City Monday morning taking a sack lunch for their noon meal. Monday afternoon they attended a movie in Big Spring and visited the Mead's Bakery on an observation tour.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Morehead of Big Spring were guests of the girls at a seak barbecue in the park. Tuesday morning the group visited Nat Shick's workshop and went to Midland that afternoon. Spare time was spent on crafts. Textile painting was done on cup towels, pillow cases, and guest towels.

Making the trip were Ruby Overton, Annalee Hillger, La Trelle Venable, Marceline Gill, Deanna Marie Watkins, and their instructor, Doris Jean Morehead.

MENU FOR TOMORROW

FRIDAY FARE Golden Fish Fillets Mashed Potatoes Green Peas with Mushrooms Spiced Watermelon Rind* Bread and Butter Fruit Cup Beverage

(Recipe for Starred Dish Follows) SPICED WATERMELON RIND

Ingredients: 6 1/2 pounds (2 1/2 cups) cut pieces watermelon rind, 2 tablespoons salt, 1 teaspoon alum, 1 quart cold water, 6 cups beet or cane sugar, 4 cups white vinegar, 1 cup small red-hot cinnamon candies, 2 tablespoons whole allspice, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, 1/2 teaspoon red food coloring.

Method: Peel green rind from melon, removing all pink portion. Cut white rind into pieces of any preferred size or shape. Soak cut pieces of rind in salt-alum-water solution in a bowl or crock 4 hours. Drain. Place in large preserving kettle; cover with warm water; cook on high heat until tender to fork touch, about 25 minutes. Drain. Stir together, in a large preserving kettle, remaining ingredients, tying the allspice in a dampened double-thick cheesecloth bag. Bring to a boil in high heat. Add drained cooked rind. Bring back to boil.

Turn down to medium heat. Cook until rind is transparent, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Pack into hot sterilized jars; seal at once. Make about 3 pints.

Note: About two 1 1/2-pound melons will be needed to give the 6 1/2 pounds of cut rind called for.

Name Tabs A new name tape set contains a laundry-marking pen with special ink with which you can write on all light colored articles.

For darker articles there is a name tape included in the set and this can be ironed into place. The pen markings will not run, wash out or fade in laundering.

Fashionable Earrings Good with a summer tan and the fashionable short hair are loop earrings. They are simply perfect in sterling silver or lustrous copper and are appropriate for all occasions. Create sheer flattery for the wearer.

Charles Campbells Are On Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Campbell are on a wedding trip to New Orleans following their marriage Monday.

The bride is the former Jean Pearce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pearce of Fort Worth, formerly of Big Spring. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Herbert Condon Campbell and the late Mr. Campbell of Washington Court House, Ohio and a former Big Spring resident.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor of the Polytechnic Methodist Church in Fort Worth in the church chapel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a pink linen dress with a matching bolero. Her pink straw hat was trimmed with velvet ribbons and her accessories were white. She wore a white Gardenia corsage.

In keeping with the bridal tradition she wore a penny in her shoe as something old. Something new was her ensemble, blue was a garter and borrowed was a ring. Nancy Lovelace of Big Spring was maid of honor. She was attired in a white linen dress with black piping. She wore black accessories and a corsage.

Joe Burke of Washington Court House served as best man.

Gordon Madison of Big Spring was an usher.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School, where she was a member of the tennis team, served as president of her class and as cheer leader. She was an active member of the Sub Debs. She attended North Texas State College, Denton, for three years, where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Kappa sorority and served as vice president of the organization last year.

Her husband attended Big Spring High School, where he was a basketball player. He graduated from Washington Court House High School and attended the Universities of Indiana and Louisville and Ohio State University.

Mrs. Pearce chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue lace dress with coffee accessories and a yellow corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a black and white nylon print with white accessories and a corsage.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Rose Nell Parks and Mary Robbins of Big Spring.

Rebekahs Elect Melba Fredrick To Membership

Corrales Wins 6th Game Behind Steeds

Stasey Clouts Two Home Runs

The Big Spring Broncs teed off on the offerings of three Artesia hurlers to bury the Drillers under an 18-2 score in the first of a three-game set played here Wednesday night.

Regel Corrales coasted to his sixth successive triumph as the Steeds ganged up on two right-handers and a leftie for 20 hits.

Big Spring broke loose for two six-run innings, the fifth and the seventh. The Steeds had fairly well settled the issue even before the fifth round rolled around.

Pat Stasey, continuing the torrid streak he started against Roswell on Tuesday night, put the lie to stories he could not touch a wrong-hander by belting two mighty home runs off Lefty Graham. The four-masters were his seventh and eighth of the 1952 season.

The Big Spring manager drove in a total of six runs, which ran his RBI aggregate for two nights to ten. He wound up with a double off Rudy Briner, who had doffed the catching gear to finish up on the mound for Artesia.

Of the three Driller hurlers who saw actions Melvin Miller, the starters, did the best job, perhaps. The Steeds were able to get but two hits in three innings off him. However, he couldn't find his control and gave way to Lefty Graham after walking three straight men in the third.

Graham came on just in time to give up a double to Juan Visteur, who also had himself a night. Graham worked Visteur for a 3-2 count only to have big Juan punch a sizzler down the right field line.

Visteur lofted one out of the park in the seventh frame. His third four-baser of the year. Rosamado Baez followed with his first round-tripper of the season.

Outside of delivering up gopher pitches to Pete Pichan and Joe Bauman, Corrales was in no form. Pichan's homer came in the fourth with Paul Halter up front.

Bauman finally drove one out of the lot with the sacks deserted in the eighth, his 22nd of the season.

ROUNDING THE SACKS—Corrales' record is now 6-3. He lost his first three starts of the year. Miller's mark is 5-7. Bauman cut loose with a terrific drive his first time at bat but the blow over the right field wall was foul by inches.

Three double plays by the Artesia infielders helped contain the Broncs. Rickie Gonzales rapped but four hits, as did Ossie Alvarez. Three of Gonzales' four safeties came off the left-hander, Graham Bauman arrived at the plate in the fifth with two runners on at a time Artesia was still in the ball game but struck out.

El Pasoan Upsets Gloria Ezell, 2-1

FORT WORTH—Mrs. Gloria Strom Ezell, ex-Big Spring now playing out of Midland, dropped a 2 and 1 verdict to Mrs. C. E. Lee, El Paso, in the second round of the West Texas Women's Golf Tournament here Wednesday.

Mrs. Ezell led, 2 up, at the halfway point.

High School Grid Stadium Undergoing Face-Lifting

The Big Spring High School football stadium is being refurbished this summer. Half a dozen workmen have been at work the past several days ridding the East stands of rotting lumber. It will be restored and strengthened with new flooring.

The entire project, labor included, will set the local school system back about $8,000. Almost half of that amount will go for new lumber, wiring and paint. The entire undertaking is due to consume about a month.

One of the most expensive items has proved to be the hauling of water. School officials are determined to keep the turf alive, if possible. One good soaking

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

What a bunch of patsys the Big State League pitchers must be. Red Davis of Paris has been among the hitting leaders there all season and Red could never advance further than AA ball in his heyday and hung up there only because he was a super-glove man.

And what is this world coming to? Sam Harshaney, who used to hold as much contempt for umpires as John King did for lefthanders, is now one. He's calling balls and strikes in the Big State League.

Televising of the Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott scrap hurt baseball nowhere like it did on the West Coast.

The night Walcott put his title on the line, only 432 paying customers paid to see Oakland play. Big Spring did much better than that here, although the fight was broadcast locally.

SIMMONS WAS TOUGHEST FOR BRINKOPF
Leon Brinkopf, the ex-Odesa infielder, told Coast writers on his return from an extended stay with the Chicago Cubs that Curt Simmons of the Phillies was the toughest pitcher at which he looked in the big tent.

Brinkopf's main occupation is baseball but he received a diploma and a BS in Education at Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau (his home town) last February. Leon, who was with Odesa in 1947, has been in baseball since 1944.

Hector Bonet, who was a first sacker for Big Spring around 1948, is now playing third for Sherman of the Sooner State League.

PRO GRAPPLE FUTURE IS LOOKING UP HERE
Big Spring has suddenly become a warm item for individuals who desire to return professional wrestling here.

Raymond Martin, who promotes the game in Mineral Wells, is interested in building an arena here. Vic Weber, who is located in San Angelo, is willing to become the match-maker here, if some local party will take out the license. A local fraternal organization has been talking business with Weber.

The drawback is, of course, lack of a building but the outlook for a sports arena here is better than at any time in history.

WEBER ALWAYS LOOKS TWICE AT CHARITY SHOWS
Weber, a very personable chap, is all for charity but he can't be blamed for carefully investigating all endeavors where charity is supposed to benefit.

When he was active back around New York City years ago, he was talked into doing a show in the Yankee Stadium, all proceeds of which were to go into a certain fund for charity.

The publicity was to cost nothing, since the show was being promoted by a news chain. The ball park was offered free.

More than 65,000 people paid their way in to see the matches. The fund benefited to the extent of slightly more than $800.

RED-HOT SCORING Unknown Posts 66 In PGA Tourney

By HUGH F. FULLERTON JR.
LOUISVILLE (AP)—They've played the PGA Championship on all kinds of courses since its inception in 1916 and they don't toughen them up with extra traps, jungles of rough or superslick greens as they do for the Open.

The result is the kind of scoring that took place over Louisville's Big Spring course yesterday when they turned loose 137 of golf's best professional shotmakers to try for the 63 places in the match play brackets.

Odessa Signs Two Right-Handers

ODESSA—Two new pitchers are to join the Odessa Oilers.

They are Ben Quintana, who has been with Laredo, and Tony Ruiz, down from El Paso.

Quintana was optioned to Odessa. We went to spring training with Toledo. Ruiz was signed as a free agent.

Addition of the two means that two of the pitchers now with the club will be released. Both newcomers are right-handers.

Railroaders Play Week-End Games

The Texas and Pacific Fastball team of the Industrial League goes to Fort Worth this week end to play exhibitions against Fort Worth and Dallas clubs.

The contests will be played on the Sycamore diamond in Fort Worth, starting at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

POINT TO CORPUS

PORT ARTHUR, June 19 (AP)—Lefthander Al Point will join the Corpus Christi Aces at Lake Charles, La., tomorrow night for his first game with the Gulf Coast League club.

Orchid Ouput Tonite Upped

Tonight's party for the womenfolk at Steer Park will be bigger than originally planned.

It's Orchid Night and there'll be 1,000 of the flowers handed out to the first 1,000 who get there. Originally, the management had ordered 400 orchids but increased it when it became evident that there wouldn't be nearly enough to go around.

Earl Perry, Artesia skipper, is due to lead with Frank Fernandez, a right-hander, who opened the 1952 season with Big Spring. Fernandez was sold outright to the Drillers several weeks ago. He has yet to win or lose a game, although he has appeared in several Driller games as relief.

Pat Stasey, the local skipper, is due to come back either with Bertie Baez or Charley Ratliff tonight, unless Bert Estrada's arm suddenly comes around.

It has also been announced that Friday night's game dedicated to service men, will start at 8:30 p.m., 15 minutes later than usual. Service men, whether or not they are in uniform, will be admitted free of charge, if they show proper credentials.

Big Sticker

Mighty Joe Bauman of the Artesia Drillers hit his 22nd home run of the season here last night when the Drillers dropped an 18-3 verdict to Big Spring. He'll be in the lineup when the New Mexico club faces the Broncs again tonight at Steer Park.

ST. LOUIS IN RACE

Marion Doing Superb Job As Pilot Of Brownies

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Marty Marion is handling his St. Louis Browns with kid gloves, it seems to be the right system.

Since Marion took over as Rogers Hornsby's successor, the Brownies have won five of eight, including their last four in a row. Only eight games off the pace in the muddled American League race, they still can raise hob with the leaders.

Marion's secret weapon appears to be shortstop Marty Marion. When Mr. Shortstop is on the job, the Browns' infield plays with first division gusto. When he is on the bench, they don't make the big plays.

Checking back through the statistician's bulky files, you find a startling form change in the Browns. With Marion playing shortstop, not just appearing as a pinch runner or a part-time player, the Browns' record is 21-18. Without Marty it's 6-13.

The old master came through last night with one of his specialties—a drooping single that barely dropped safely along the right field line. Marion's hit followed Dick Kryhoski's leadoff double in the last of the ninth to give St. Louis a 4-3 win over Boston.

In addition to knocking home the winning run, Marion chipped in on two of three St. Louis double plays that helped Duane Pillette get home with his sixth win. Pillette scattered 11 hits while the Browns made nine off rookie Bill Henry add up to victory.

Up front in the league, the New York Yankees widened their lead to 2 1/2 games over the Red Sox by turning on the home run power at Detroit in a 10-6 crusher. Gene Woodling, Billy Martin and Yogi Berra blasted Art Houtteman, the ex-soldier, for his eighth straight knockout.

Washington showed slumping Cleveland down a peg to fourth place, behind idle Chicago, with a 3-2 decision for Spec Shea, his first win since May 16 and a six-hitter.

Dusters Release Fuentes, Luhmann

Following are player transactions completed recently within the Longhorn League, as announced by League Presky Hal Saylor:

ODESSA—Francis Richard Mehler, transferred to restricted list; Donald Phillip Hensiek, transferred to voluntarily retired list; MIDLAND—Billy Boyd Crumley, transferred to voluntarily retired list; Joseph W. Decker, obtained by conditional assignment from Borger club of West Texas-New Mexico League; Floyd Martin, obtained by outright assignment from Abilene club of West Texas-New Mexico League.

SAN ANGELO—Greg Solis, obtained by optional assignment from Pampa club of West Texas-New Mexico League.

VERNON—Ramon Fuentes, released outright; Daniel Luhmann, released outright.

Hill Is Sold

ROSSELL, N. M.—Ray Hill, who hit .310 for the Roswell Rockets last season, is no longer with that team.

Hill, who had difficulty getting started this season, has been sold to the Lamesa club of the WT-NM League.

Knuckle Ball Makes Shantz One Of Top Big Leaguers

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Shantz, the jigger-size lefty who currently is baseball's most amazing pitcher, credits most of his success to a knuckle ball.

He will give the Chicago White Sox a look at his famous flutter fling today in the opener of a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Shantz, a comparative speck on the mound, will be aiming for his 11th straight victory and 12th of the season against only one defeat.

He is only 5 feet 7 inches tall and is listed at 150 pounds, a weigh-in that must have taken place after he had eaten a steak and drunk three malted milks.

In fact, Shantz is so small to be a big leaguer that three years ago the story goes that he and another youth tried to gain admittance at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium as ball players but were refused by a disbelieving gateman.

Finally, a veteran player well known to the gateman came along and identified the pair as Shantz and Nelson Fox.

"My knuckle ball is my most effective pitch when it's working well," says Shantz, who has a little bit of everything—a sneaky fast ball, a good curve, a change of pace and a slider.

"When I broke into organized ball with Lincoln of the Western League four years ago I was told to quit trying to throw a knuckler. They said it was too much strain on the arm for a young fellow."

Shantz said he took the advice. He won 18 for Lincoln that year. In 1949 he was a six-game winner for the Athletics and had an 8-14 record the following season. Last year he carved an 18-10 mark.

"They were knocking me around pretty good early last season," Shantz recalls. "So I decided I had to do something. I went back to the knuckler. Mr. Dykes (Manager Jimmy Dykes of the A's) told me to throw it if I had confidence in it."

Dykes believes the best assets of his 28-year-old star are control and supreme confidence.

The Yankees scored 11 runs in the third inning and went on to defeat the Indians, 13-4, in a Little League baseball game played here Wednesday evening.

Kenny Johnson pitched five innings of fine ball for the winners. He tired in the sixth and was relieved by Pat Kelly.

The Yankees, who got a run in the first when Dale Stansand singled and Marshall Fox doubled, sent 15 men to bat in the big third. They exploded for eight hits and took advantage of three Tribe boos. Bernard McMahan had two hits in that round while Elton Kelly and Travis Anderson contributed triples.

The Indians got three in the third. Don Anderson's home run was a big blow in the round.

Eisenhower Pledges Tax Cut In 2 Years

By GORDON G. GAUSS
DENVER (AP)—A cut in taxes in two years, which would be made possible by balancing the national budget, was promised yesterday by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower if he is elected President.

No cut in taxes can be made, he said, until the budget is balanced and the military might of the Western nations equals that of Russia, goals which he estimated could be reached in two years under his leadership in the White House.

After that, he forecast a "steady shrinkage" in the tax load.

The Republican presidential aspirant expressed the opinions during a conference late yesterday with Oregon delegates, who are backing him unanimously.

He also promised them his voice "will be raised" in the controversy over delegates from Texas, his native state, where he contended the will of the Republicans was "thwarted."

National Republican headquarters announced at Washington that all Texas contests between delegates supporting Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft have been referred to the national committee, which will meet in Chicago, probably July 1.

Eisenhower said he wants no delegate "that I have real reason to believe has been elected by an other means than the free expression of the American people."

The general also took a position, shortly after the Oregon meeting, favoring legislation to place states in control of off-shore oil deposits.

He said this was subject to a check on constitutional law, but indicated he sees no serious problem there.

Preparing for a week-end trip to Texas and Nevada, the general announced no schedule for today, reserving it for office work and relaxation.

He plans to fly to Denison, Tex., his birthplace, Saturday, then go on to Dallas and then fly to Boulder City, Nev., and Hoover Dam Sunday. His schedule calls for a return to his Denver headquarters Sunday night.

Late tomorrow he will resume his conferences with Western delegates. He is scheduled to meet representatives from Montana, where seven of the eight convention votes are pledged to Taft; Idaho, where all 14 votes are contingent in the Taft column, and Washington, where 20 of the 24 votes are in his own pocket.

He already has met delegates from five states—Colorado, Wyoming and Utah on Tuesday and Oregon and Arizona yesterday.

Two Arizona delegates who are officially uncommitted said the general made a good impression on them, but neither committed himself. Five of the 14 Arizona delegates were among a party of nine from the state which met the general privately. Only one of them was the 20 Arizona voting delegates who have expressed a preference for Taft. He indicated afterward that he still favors the senator.

Eisenhower touched on a wide range of subjects in his meeting with the Oregon delegates. News-men were admitted to the session.

The general said he has no simple solution to the Korean War but believes if the United States should pull out it would amount to "an ignominious surrender of our position in the world."

He suggested building up the South Korean Army to the point where troops of the United Nations could be hauled back from the front lines and kept as a mobile reserve.

Chinese Nationalists, he said, should be kept on Formosa to protect the island.

Acquiring West German strength for the Western World "may in the initial case cost us a little extra money," he said, but would it be worth it?

On the domestic scene, he said the federal deficit must be ended "and if that requires us to go on a slower program on building our security forces, including those abroad, then we should do it." But he argued that "we can get the same amount of defense and . . . cut the budget sharply."

Regarding politics, he said, "I have no intention of ignoring organization and particularly the established organizations through the states." Later a member of his official family, who declined use of his name, said this means the general would leave state patronage to regular Republican state organizations.

Ingrid Weeps Over Her Twins

By STAN SWINTON
ROME (AP)—A wan and weary Ingrid Bergman shed tears of joy today as she got her first good look at her day-old twin daughters.

Isabel, seven pounds, three ounces, and her younger sister by half an hour—eight-pound, five-ounce Ingrid—dosed in fitful unawareness of their international publicity.

Sharing his wife's joy after a night-long vigil at her bedside in the flower-packed hospital room was Roberto Rossellini, for whose love the blonde Swedish film star abandoned her husband and a Hollywood career. The couple have a son born in 1950.

The twins, two weeks overdue, were born last night at the fashionable Salvatore Mundi Hospital.

The 35-year-old mother was reported doing well.

Pier Luigi Guidotti, who assisted in the birth, said the film star "cried when she saw her babies and was happy because they were perfect babies and just what her husband wanted."

Messengers delivered congratulations from all parts of the world and telephone calls clogged the hospital switchboard.

Marring the hour of the Rossellinis' happiness was a legal battle with Miss Bergman's ex-husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom.

Lindstrom is fighting in a Los Angeles court a request by the actress to have her first-born, 13-year-old Jenny Ann, visit her in Rome this summer.

Lindstrom testified that Rossellini had a reputation as a drug addict and a man of loose morals.

Baptist Workers Session Begins
Workers conference of the Big Spring Baptist Association will get under way at 5:30 p.m. today at the East Fourth Street Baptist Church with business meetings of the Association Board and Women's Missionary Union.

A supper, served by the host church, will follow at 6:30 p.m. Evening service will include scripture reading, testimonies and prayers.

Burl Haney is to speak on "Way-side Witnessing" and Rev. J. W. Arnett, district missionary, will discuss "Pulpit Witnessing."

Special music is to be provided by the East Fourth Church under direction of Educational Director Billy Rudd.

Yugoslavia One Step From Break
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia was only one step away from a complete break with her hostile cominform neighbor Bulgaria today, following recall of all but one member of the Yugoslav Embassy staff in Sofia.

Premier Marshal Tito's anti-Soviet government decided to strip the embassy of its regular staff because Bulgaria rejected three formal notes protesting the alleged kidnaping of an embassy employe, the official Belgrade radio said yesterday.

Yugoslavia's patience has become exhausted the radio explained.

A single attache was left behind in Sofia to take care of current business. Although the ambassador had been withdrawn previously, a full complement of embassy personnel had been kept in Sofia.

Income Tax Men Win In Diamond Dispute

DALLAS, June 19 (AP)—Government income tax men won out over a bank in a dispute over two diamond rings worth $10,000 in Federal Court yesterday.

Judge William H. Atwell said Uncle Sam's claim is better than that of the Grand Prairie State Bank which had loaned $5,000 on the rings.

Howard L. Stripling and his wife, Bell, of Fort Worth hocked the sparklers to the bank to buy a Grand Prairie tourist court. Stripling used to operate a night club, the Skyliner. It figured in a recent Tarrant County grand jury gambling inquiry.

The T-men said Stripling owed more than $150,000 in income taxes. They got liens on the jewelry in Fort Worth.

They served papers to seize the rings but the bank said no-notice. The bank's attorneys argued that the tax lien was a general one while the bank's lien was specific, a pledge.

Judge Atwell ruled that government liens followed the diamonds from Fort Worth to Dallas and were superior to the bank's claims. He told the bank to give up the man's gold ring with a 5 1/2-carat diamond and a woman's platinum ring with a 3 1/4-carat diamond. They'll be sold to pay part of the U. S. tax claims.

The Striplings weren't in court. The bank will appeal, said Atty. John Erhard of Dallas.

"This is a mighty important one to all bankers," he said.

Redfield Absent As Trial Begins

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Millionaire La Vere Redfield failed to show up as the scheduled star prosecution witness as the first of eight persons went on trial yesterday in connection with a 1 1/2-million-dollar burglary of his Reno mansion last February.

Federal Judge Roger Foley issued a bench warrant for Redfield's arrest as a material witness and set bail at $50,000.

Assistant U. S. Atty. Bruce Thompson told the judge he thought Redfield was purposely evading service of a subpoena issued a week ago.

Judge Foley ordered Redfield brought to court by Monday, when the trial of Mrs. Jeanne d'Arc Mischoud, 36, self-styled brain of the bizarre case, is scheduled.

Prisoners Moved From Compound 62

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (AP)—Compound 62, scene of Kojoe Island's bloodiest prisoner riot, was emptied peacefully today of some 6,000 pro-Communist North and South Korean civilian internees.

Their transfer to more manageable groups of 500 raised to 68,000 the number of inmates re-located since Operation Breakup started 10 days ago. Kojoe holds 80,000 prisoners.

Pearson's Jaw Target For Punch By Lobbyist

By ED CREAUGH
WASHINGTON (AP)—Drew Pearson has been punched again. And the man who threw the punch, $75,000-a-year lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark, says it couldn't have landed on a more appropriate target.

"I felt I'd be unfaithful to my Irish forebearers," Clark told reporters. "If I didn't do something."

The one-blow encounter between the columnist-commentator and his critic—who, in turn, had been raked over the coals twice in Pearson's column—occurred after lunch yesterday in the lobby of the fashionable Mayflower Hotel.

Pearson, 54, weighs 175 pounds. Clark, 44, weighs around 180.

There were varying accounts of the incident but they agreed on this detail: one punch was thrown. A straight left. It grazed Pearson's cheek and left a smarting red spot on his neck.

Pearson went to the U. S. attorney's office and swore out a warrant charging simple assault.

Clark arranged to be in court today to answer the complaint. He's a lawyer. He worked for the Truman War Investigating Committee when the present occupant of the White House was a senator. Now he's registered as a lobbyist for the Spanish government.

Pearson said last night he didn't get a chance to return Clark's punch and wasn't sure if he would have, anyhow.

"I don't conduct altercations in the lobby of the Mayflower Hotel," the columnist said.

Clark said he was bothered by several things. The columnist had written recently that he—Clark—was getting American money for Spain faster than Generalissimo Also, Clark blamed Pearson for helping defeat Sen. Brewster (R-Me.) in Maine's Republican primary election last Monday.

Pearson was pummeled by Sen. Joseph McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, at the Sulgrave Club in 1950. He's suing McCarthy and others for $5,100,000.

Youth Swallows 40 Razor Blades

CHICAGO (AP)—A 19-year-old youth flagged a taxicab on Michigan Avenue early today and told the driver:

"I just ate 40 razor blades and I have a stomach ache."

Dr. John Kerrigan, night warden at Cook County Hospital, said a fluoroscopic examination confirmed the youth's story.

Central police said the youth, William Hinkle, of Carbondale, Ill., offered no explanation, telling them "You figure it out."

Kerrigan said Hinkle would be kept on a soft diet until the razor blades pass out of his system which, he said, would take about a week.

Murder Trial Set

LLANO, June 19 (AP)—The murder trial of Andy Ammann, charged with the fatal shooting of Earl McDaniel of Ponca City, Okla., will begin here June 25. McDaniel, an employe at Ammann's fishing camp, was shot last Saturday.

Man Is Killed As Oil Well Blows Out

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 19 (AP)—An oil well blew out here yesterday killing one man and injuring two others.

The well did not catch fire, and was brought under control five hours later.

Bill Cozac, 58, a roughneck from Laredo, who was working on the well rigging, was knocked unconscious when the well blew out. He later suffocated to death.

The injured men were J. M. Cobb, a driller, and Earl Vaughn, a roughneck. They are both from Beeville. Memorial Hospital later described their conditions as "fair."

The well, Cannon No. 1 B. H. Lynch, is owned by Morris Cannon of San Antonio. It was being drilled by the Texita Oil Co., of San Antonio.

Seeks To Stop Beauty Pageant

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fred Nabeub of Los Angeles wants to stop the Miss Universe Beauty pageant, a contest scheduled for June 27 and 28 in which beauties from 30 nations are entered.

Nabeub sued the pageant's general manager, Oscar Meinhardt, and its secretary-treasurer, John Miller, for three million dollars yesterday, charging they stole the idea for the contest from him. Besides the damages, he asks that the show be called off.

Meinhardt said there is no copyright on the name.

T&P Makes Amends For Act Of Its President In '82

JEFFERSON, June 19 (AP)—The railroad magnate, Jay Gould, put a curse on this East Texas town back in 1882.

He said: "Bats will grow in your bellies. . . and grass grow in your streets."

Gould was angry because Jefferson leaders wouldn't put up some money to bring the iron horse to town.

Yesterday the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. made amends for the remarks of its third president.

The railroad gave a bell from an old steam locomotive to the Jefferson Historical Museum. J. B. Shores, Dallas, director of the railroad's employees and public relations, made the presentation. He pointed out that Jefferson had proved Gould wrong by outliving the steam engine, now replaced by diesels on the T&P. Shores said the bell was presented in behalf of the T&P's sixth president, W. G. Vollmer.

The bell was accepted by Charles C. Braden, president of the historical society, who said modern citizens would cherish it enshrined "just where it should be among the other reminders of the mistakes and the glories of the past."

Jefferson was a booming Cypress Bayou port and second largest city in Texas when Gould made his bid for help. The town's steamship-minded fathers turned him down. Gould made his dire prediction as he left the meeting.

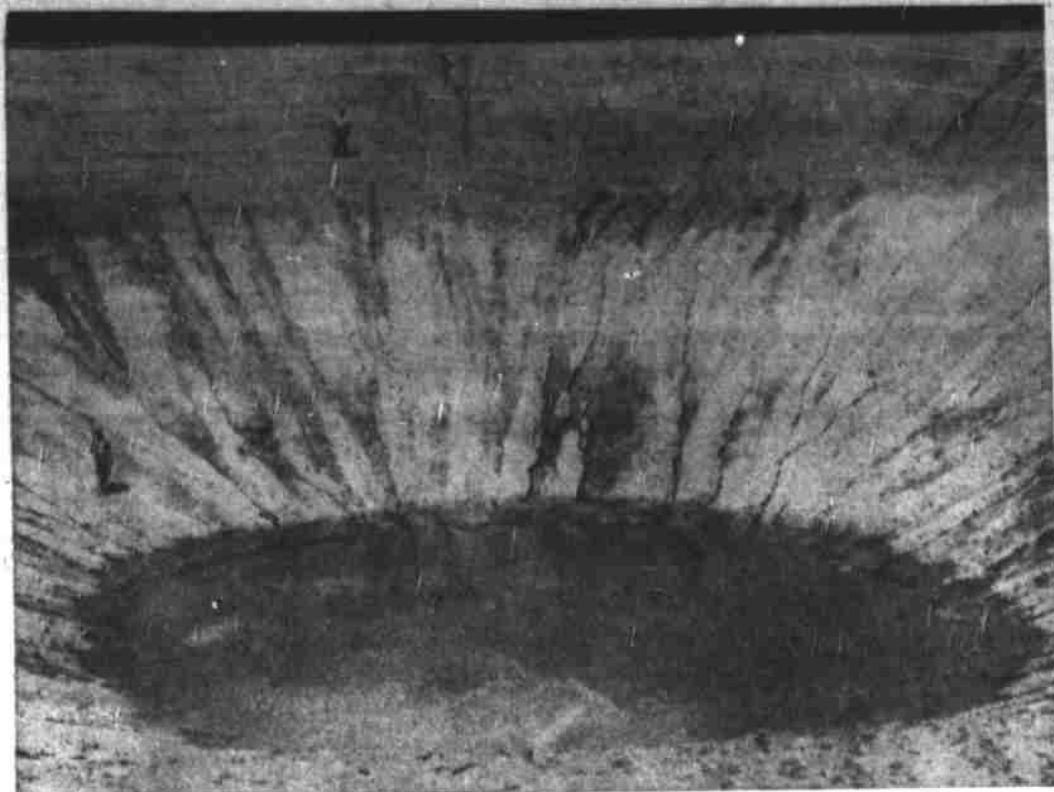

Gould stomped off to Jefferson's famous Excelsior Hotel where an ancient register bears his signature and a drawing of a jaybird as a symbol of his first name. At the bottom of the page he wrote: "End of Jefferson, Texas, January 2, 1882."

Five Million Gallons Of Water

This is the larger of the two new tanks on the Wilson Ranch. Some idea of its size may be gotten from a comparison of the picture of Morris, down in the tank, and Bethell who stands around the rim several feet down from the top. This tank will hold almost five million gallons of water, enough to run Big Spring two days. It is 37 feet deep and has a diameter of 220 feet at the top. Water will be fed into this tank from the one where the heifers are shown drinking. There are already five feet of water in this new tank.

A Fish Eye's View

This is the way Bethell and his pickup will appear to a fish at the bottom of the 33-foot tank once it is filled with water and stocked. The construction of this tank was through a deep strata of sand and consequently the tank has been plated with clay, heavy clods of which are seen up the side. All construction was with heavy dirt moving machinery operated by employees of James Strickland, the contractor.

Pride Of The Ranch

While the Wilson Ranch is one of the very finest, from all standpoints in the whole country, the object of its greatest pride is Pam, the eight-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wilson Jr., here in the arms of her grandfather. Pam is the second daughter born to this family since the original ancestor came over from Scotland a great many years ago. The other girl is a daughter of one of Grandpa's cousins, and this other girl was born in California. The Wilsons like their white-faced red cattle and they adore this little pink-cheeked red-headed lady.

De-Silting And Trash Catching Tank

This is one of the older tanks on the Wilson Ranch and now has about 18 feet of water in it. It will continue to furnish water for the fine Herefords on the ranch and will also serve as a de-silting tank for the newly constructed one which has been fenced but will furnish water for the homes, through a filtration plant and at a higher pressure than is obtained in many parts of Big Spring. Approximately 320 acres of land will drain into this tank before being fed to the other tank, from which it may also be withdrawn for livestock. There is much green grass in the background as a result of May rainfall.

13 Regarded As A Lucky Number At Wilson Ranch

By FRANKLIN REYNOLDS
According to the Soil Conservation Service specialists, the Wilson Brothers Ranch, home of fine Herefords, is a place where there is no fear of the number 13, because they count 13 sections of Howard and Borden County land in the layout and 13 excellent stock tanks, well located so as to permit the maximum utilization of the rangeland.

Just recently these ranchers, W. L. Wilson Sr., and Raymond Wilson, the brothers, and the former's son, W. L. Wilson Jr., have completed two more tanks on the ranch bringing the total to the 13 mentioned.
One of these new tanks is 37 feet deep and has a top diameter of 220 feet. SCS Engineers Harold (Lefty) Bethell and T. R. (Blackie) Morris estimate that this tank will hold 15 acre feet of water. An acre foot of water is that amount required to cover an area of one acre with water a foot deep. When this tank is full it will hold 4,900,500 gallons of water, which is enough to run the city of Big Spring two days on the basis of the average present restricted consumption.
The second of the new tanks is 33 feet deep with the same diameter of 220 feet at the top. It is located some distance from the larger of two newer tanks, and since it was constructed in sandier soil it has been plated with clay. In constructing this tank the builders struck a small flow of water at about 23 feet from the surface and the engineers say that if this flow continues it will take care of the bottom 10 feet of water supply in the tank. Moreover, this trickle has been a tremendous hint as to the direction that might be taken to drill a well and put up a windmill. This tank will hold 12 acre feet of water, according to Bethell and Morris, or 3,913,200 gallons which would be enough to wash a lot of automobiles, and water all the shrubs and lawns in Big Spring.

And yet—both these tanks together with their total capacity of 8,813,800 gallons are not as large as the largest of the 13 tanks on the ranch, say the engineers.
The construction work was done by James Strickland of Big Spring and all dirt moving was done by equipment that went down the ever-increasing slopes and brought the soil back up from the ever-lowering bottoms of the tanks to the top. Strickland, who specializes in this type of farm and ranch work, estimates four weeks were required for the construction of the larger of the two tanks and three weeks for the construction of the smaller one.

The larger tank, which already has about five feet of water in it even though just recently finished, is located near the homes of the two brothers and has been fenced. A pump has been installed and lines laid and when this tank fills it will supply water, under 60 pounds pressure, through a filtration system for domestic use in the two homes. This pressure may be better understood when it is explained that pressure in Big Spring, depending on the location, runs from 35 to 80 pounds.
This tank has been built about 100 yards from another that has a depth of 25 feet and that now has about 18 feet of water in it. This smaller tank, now furnishing water for some fine Hereford heifers, will act as a de-silting one for the larger, new tank and will catch the trash that would otherwise flow into the larger tank. Diversion has been constructed so that when both tanks are full the overflow will bypass both tanks.
A drive over the Wilson ranch reveals that it has received good moisture this year, with some green grass to be seen almost everywhere. The Wilsons, it should

Grandstaff Faces A Tough Fight To Prove Innocence

Frank Grandstaff, a convict with a composer's gift, is facing perhaps his toughest battle, and it is debatable whether his chief adversary is Fate or himself.

Stoutly maintaining his innocence in the face of burglary charges that he must answer in court at Milwaukee, Wis., Grandstaff contends that the cards have been stacked against him.

On the other hand, some of those who know him best think that he has no one to blame but himself for having muffed the big chance of a mis-spent life.

A tight web of evidence has been wound about this man who left his home in Fort Wayne, Ind., on an uncharted search for work as a night club entertainer, Harry Meyer, 38, reported loss of a ring, wrist watch and a piggy bank containing $20 from his apartment. The watch and ring were found in the wash room of a tavern shortly after Grandstaff left it when he was arrested May 16. The plastic bank was found in the basement of the apartment building, but a clerk in a nearby grocery identified Grandstaff as the man who came into the store twice the afternoon of the alleged burglary. Once he had a handful of coins he wanted changed into bills; again he had 190 pennies he wanted changed to larger coins.

Grandstaff had been picked up by authorities after a woman complained to police that a man had attempted to break into her apartment. She pointed then to a tavern where she said she saw him go.

"I didn't do anything at all," said Grandstaff. "All the evidence is purely circumstantial and I cannot be definitely associated with anything."

Back in Fort Wayne, Ind., Mrs. Mildred Grandstaff, who had been his childhood sweetheart and who wed the unique composer after he was given a conditional pardon from a lifetime sentence in Tennessee in Dec. 1950, was "heart sick about what has happened to Frank."

She was almost convinced there was some overpowering quirk in his mental make-up before which he was powerless.

"I am afraid this is the end," she said with a note of tragedy in her voice. "I did everything I could possibly do for him. Everything I got for him is gone. It is just beyond understanding."

He had a burning desire to achieve immortal success through creative efforts.

Two weeks before he left he told Milly that "I would give my right arm to be the best composer in the world."

Perhaps he was looking for a shortcut for living in a world of unreality.

"He had to make it fast, spend it fast and travel fast," Milly shook her head. "I am so very sorry for him because he makes his own trouble. Yet, he will blame someone else for his mistakes."

"There has been nothing in my life since I left Nashville which has been shady," Grandstaff maintained. "This is a case of when I was the chap in the wrong place at the right time. Some one looks like me, no doubt, but it certainly was not me."

Although press reports said at first he had hired two top criminal lawyers, Eugene J. Sullivan and Dennis M. Sullivan, Grandstaff now says he is without counsel except that appointed by the state.

His plea to Milly and members of his family brought no help. His wife felt she had gone as far as she could; his mother wrote but there was no help from that source. One sister was deeply concerned, but she was unable to supply assistance.

Confidently, Grandstaff said he could not be convicted before a "fair and impartial court if I had, good counsel. But I fear that I'll be railroaded to prison since I do not have money with which to hire a good lawyer."

"There is sufficient, but Milly will not cut loose with a dime. It is my opinion that she will not stand beside me in this trouble. I am due to use a court appointed lawyer and most of that breed are working with the courts and prosecutions and are really nothing but penitentiary agents."

Bewilderedly he said he couldn't understand his wife's attitude. "I'm shaken to the bottom of my heart at the way Milly has acted. There's no reasonable excuse for that—and I wrote her a letter telling her where to go. That hurt me, but I won't be hurt anymore by anyone."

After Grandstaff was flown to Big Spring in 1949 to hear for the first time in the cantata, "Big Spring," the story got national circulation. In Hollywood, Douglas Morrow, who wrote the "Stratton Story" and "Jim Thorpe, All-American," was interested. Contacts were made and production plans were underway at the time Grandstaff was given his pardon. The picture was never produced, although Grandstaff went to California to discuss plans for the movie. Morrow thought Grandstaff was unreasonable in his demands for money, and negotiations came to an impasse.

Reflecting on that episode in prison, Grandstaff said "my loathing for Morrow is still a constant factor."

Then he threw up his defense again. "I've been kicked around by a great many people. Too, I've had it from companies. (He had tried being a salesman.) Wilhal have tried to be decent but in my case it does not seem to have paid off. Free or not, I lose my Hammond organ and my tape recorder. I'm loser even though I win."

When he was freed from prison, in 1950, partly at some urgings from Big Spring, Grandstaff flew to visit his mother and then went to Fort Wayne to be married. He lectured on prison reforms before university and church groups. His nimble fingers, which police said were gifted at other things than music, were not as busy in night club and other public performances as Grandstaff thought they should have been.

His experiences at selling were disappointing. He worked at his autobiography. At times he "went on the road" to hunt employment as an organist in night clubs. A day after he left Fort Wayne on the last of these junkets, he ran smack into trouble in Milwaukee. Another entry in a long record, mostly petty burglaries which started in 1920, in Wausau, Wis., went into the books.

If his prediction that "my goose is cooked" comes to pass, one hope of Milly will go silently and uncollected with him.

"Maybe on the inside he will take the time to accomplish his great desire to be the best composer in the world."

18 Arrested For Timber Rustling

CENTER, Tex., June 19 (AP)—Eighteen persons have been arrested in a sweeping investigation of alleged "timber rustling" in a piney woods section near this Northeast Texas town.

Deputy Sheriff Avery Dalton said today the arrests have been underway a month. He said 16 of the 18 suspects have signed statements admitting thefts.

An investigation began about two months ago when Frost Lumber Industries discovered timber of value estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000 missing from its piney woods plot about eight miles south of here in Shelby County.

"This is as bad as cattle rustling," Dalton commented. "Timber's worth a lot these days."

He said those arrested are suspected of going into the land on moonlight night or Sundays and chopping down the pine trees for pulp wood, cross ties, logs, and fence posts. He said such cuttings had been sold to sawmills and cross-tie firms in East Texas.

The buyers are not implicated because they didn't know the timber was stolen, the deputy sheriff reported.

The situation was so bad a Texas Ranger—Dick Middleton of San Augustine—was called in, Dalton said.

Dalton has been heading the investigation for the Shelby County sheriff's office in cooperation with Middleton and Dist. Atty. Dudley Davis.

Dalton said he's "still investigating" and expects to make more arrests.

Three men already have been indicted by the county grand jury, Dalton reported. He identified them as D. H. Bailey, about 22, Dick Bailey, about the same age but no relation to D. H.; and W. F. Fultz, around 35. Dalton said they were caught cutting fence poles.

The two Baileys and Fultz were indicted on one count, the deputy reported.

Women Friendlier, War Bride Notices

By JO HILL.
East is east and west is west and never the twain shall meet, said Rudyard Kipling.
But when Kipling coined the phrase, he probably wasn't thinking about the effect of love.
However, not too long ago a blonde German girl became the bride of Jake Aleman of Big Spring and the U.S. Air Force. And in a sense it was a meeting of north and south.
The couple met while both were working in an office building in Heidelberg, Germany. They were married by a German burgomaster and later an Army chaplain, as is the custom.
Mrs. Aleman and the couple's daughter, Jacqueline, 2, are staying here with her husband's sister, Mrs. V. A. Gomez, until the sergeant can find a place for them to live at his new base, Ft. Belvoir, Va.
The war bride is the daughter of a railroad engineer and a native of Frankfurt. Her parents still live near there, as does Mrs. Aleman's unmarried sister.
Will they visit her? Probably not.

Soviet Advisors Live Very Well In East Europe

By RICHARD O'REGAN.
VIENNA (AP)—Lavish villas, servants who once were members of the old aristocracy, big cars and royal meals—this is how Russia's military and civilian "advisors" reportedly live in East Europe.
In each country behind the Iron Curtain, Russian military men are present, in hundreds to thousands. With them are other hundreds of economic, political and technical experts, rarely seen in public, who guide the Communist puppet government.
It is part of their job to report to Moscow. Thus, the Communist bosses of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Albania go all out to make them happy and see their reports home are favorable.
This means plenty of luxury for the Russians. If any explaining is needed to the workers, the Communists say: "The Russians liberated our land from the Nazis. The flower of their manhood died for us. They are entitled to some privileges for their sacrifices for our people."

The privileges are extensive. The Russians live either in homes of the dispossessed rich, or in newly built luxury settlements where they can be off by themselves away from the local folk.
Reliable reports from behind the Iron Curtain say the Russians are treated like diplomats. The Soviet Union's real diplomatic representatives are treated like kings.
In Budapest, for instance, Russia's ambassador, J. D. Kisselov, lives in a magnificent block-long home. He has many servants and the finest, rarest foods are served to visitors.

Not far away on a hill he has another luxurious mansion with fine swimming pool and gardens. It is rarely used.
In recent weeks, two refugees arrived in the West from Bulgaria and Albania. The Bulgarians, a ment has two Soviet officers with the rank of colonel who wear Russian uniforms.
"They enjoy privileged positions," the refugee said. "Their salaries are about four times higher than comparable Bulgarian officers and they and their families receive special food and clothing rations and better housing."

The Bulgarian said the majority of his soldier-colleagues resented it.
Western diplomats here say they know that Russian officers and civilians look with great joy on the possibility of a few months of luxury, leisure and comparative independence on assignment in Eastern Europe.

Students Should Seek Deferments For Next Term

College students who received draft deferments during the past scholastic year should request consideration for additional induction delay if they plan to re-enter school this fall, Local Selective Service Board No. 71 advises.
Registrants who received draft deferments on the basis of college qualification tests and scholastic records during the year probably will be reclassified and become eligible for military service unless they request additional consideration, draft officials say.
No deadline has been set for reclassification of such registrants, although deferments expired June 1. Deferred students probably will be given 30 days or longer to furnish additional information since some time is necessary for the various colleges to tabulate scholastic records, according to the local board.
Students wishing further deferment should write their schools, asking that they send Selective Service System Certificate 109 to the local board. The students should also write the board requesting deferment consideration.
Forty-eight registrants with the local board received deferments during the past school year. Only a few have requested the extensions.
Board No. 71 serves Howard, Martin and Mitchell Counties.

Foul Language Is Blasted By Soviet Gazette

By EDDY GILMORE.
MOSCOW (AP)—The Literary Gazette has come out against foul language and filthy thoughts.
"In the Soviet land," said a commentator, "there should be no evil-doing and no filthy thoughts."
He said that there are still infectious survivals among the people, however, which hold on stubbornly like a disease and that cursing is one of them.
"Amongst such survivals," he said, "I include bad language and all forms of degrading obscenity, which some people use for facelessness and to enhance the effect of their speech."
"This foul language gives a low flavor to the speech of such people, such as formerly prevailed in doss houses (lodging places), drinking house haunts and inns."
The commentator, Fedor Gkadkov, said that a few years ago he tried to call for a campaign against word-holiganism in one of his articles—and he got a lot of reaction.
He said many people wrote to him in agreement and demanded a stern fight against bad language.
"I am still receiving letters, angry and protesting letters. The authors of these letters regard the habit of using bad language as a social evil."
The commentator said one should not forget that language is the incarnation of thought in speech.
"And the thoughts of our people, the builders of communism, are clean, profound and fine. Every word spoken by our people should be a symbol of self respect and respect for one's fellows. Their words should be correct, honorable and noble."
Back in the old days the drivers of public sleds and carriages were known throughout Russia as the users of some of the most graphic language anywhere.

Dr. Sander Refused Right To Practice
MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander, acquitted two years ago of a charge of killing a cancer patient by injecting air into her veins, was refused permission for a second time last night to resume practice in two Manchester hospitals.
The Hillsborough County Medical Society voted 4-0 in favor of the 43-year-old country doctor from Candia but he needed a two-thirds majority to be re-admitted.
Dr. Sander was suspended from the society a short time after his acquittal in March, 1950. Membership in the organization is required before a physician may practice in the hospitals.

Rep. Mahon Makes Formal Statement

Representative George Mahon this week requested The Herald to formally announce his candidacy for re-election to Congress from the 10th District. He had earlier filed for a place on the Democratic ticket.

Mahon has been serving the District since 1934, has progressed in influence in Congressional affairs until he today holds several important committee posts in the House. Principal one of these is the chairmanship of the House Sub-Committee on Military Appropriations. This job gives him prime responsibility in determining expenditure for all the armed forces.

Mahon has through the years maintained close liaison with the people of Howard County, since, before his election to Congress, he was District Attorney for the judicial district which then included Howard County. In matters such as location of the Veterans Administration Hospital and the new Webb Air Force Base, Mahon worked closely with the applications submitted by Big Spring, more

Movie People Swap Charges On Tax Deals

LOS ANGELES (AP)—British actor Stewart Granger and Howard Hughes' RKO Studio have swapped accusations of plotting to evade U.S. income taxes.

The charges were made yesterday in U.S. Judge Ernest A. Tolin's court, where Granger and his wife, actress Jean Simmons, are suing RKO for $20,000 damages. They claim RKO breached two clauses in her contract, then informed other studios it had exclusive rights to her services.

RKO Atty. W. I. Gilbert said in his opening statement that the Grangers agreed to a three-year contract under which Miss Simmons would receive $200,000 a year. In addition, RKO would buy a house from Granger for $100,000 and a story property for $2,000.

Later, Gilbert said, the couple demanded that the house price be recorded as $10,000, the story at $7,000, and her three-year salary at $1,000,000. By so reporting the figures, Wright said, $100,000 would have been improperly classed as lower tax rate than regular income capital gain, which is subject to a tax.

But Granger, the first witness, testified the capital gain deal was first proposed by the studio.

The suit says the studio has not yet purchased either the house or the story, although Miss Simmons is now working under the contract.

WANTED: HOME FOR SKUNKS

NORMAN, Okla., June 10 (AP)—Seven baby skunks, complete with odor, are looking for a new home.

Dr. George L. Cross, president of the University of Oklahoma, found the skunks had moved into his home one day—pets of his son, Bill.

Cross, with college-president firmness, told Bill the skunks must go, threatening to sell them himself if necessary.

It's not that he dislikes skunks, Cross explained, he just thinks the strong smell of his favorite pipe is enough for one household.

Shivers Unable To Meet Ike On Denison Visit

DENISON, June 10 (AP)—A previous engagement will prevent Gov. Allan Shivers from attending the reception for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at Denison Saturday.

"Mrs. Shivers and I appreciate the thoughtfulness of the Gold Star Mothers in inviting us," the governor replied yesterday to Mrs. Monte B. Jones, general chairman of arrangements for the Gold Star Mothers.

The governor's office said he was slated to review the 49th Armored Division at North Fort Hood Saturday.

Mrs. Jones said the mothers planned to keep their part of the ceremony non-political.

Neighbors Help Sick Friend By Harvesting Crop

PONCA CITY, Okla., June 10 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Milton Service got a taste of Oklahoma's "operation good neighbor" this week.

Service, who has 100 acres of his farm in wheat and five acres planted with alfalfa, has been confined to a Wichita, Kan., hospital for the past six months with arthritis.

So his neighbors, armed with 15 combines and six trucks, trudged into his fields and harvested the ripe crops.

Charges Democracies Fail In Promises To The Arab Nations

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The great democratic powers have failed to fulfill promises toward Arab nations, an Iraq official told a conference of Arab students here last night.

Abdullah Bakr, minister from Iraq and charge d'affaires at the Iraqi Embassy in Washington, declared that inability of the Western Powers to "apply the principles of democracy embodied in the United Nations Charter is one of the greatest causes of unrest in the Arab world."

"Coupled with this," he said, "is the need for general reform in the Arab administration and in social and economic life. The Arab countries must meet the growing desires and ambitions of their citizens."

Youth Hopes To Stay With Father After Long Hitchhiking Trip

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Dale Salisbury, a 16-year-old Sunland, Calif., youth, today hopes he can remain in Michigan with his father—the dad he hitchhiked 2,500 miles to see.

Dale and his father, Howard Larrie, were reunited yesterday after eight years. They hadn't shared a father-son relationship since Dale was six weeks old. At that time his family was broken up and both his mother and father remarried.

The youth previously made two attempts to come from California to Michigan—each time he was apprehended by authorities a short distance from his home. This time police picked him up after he got to Michigan. He was placed in care of juvenile detention officials until his father was found here.

Train Hits Hereford, Derailment Results

VIDALIA, Ga. (AP)—A 1,500-pound Hereford bull stopped a crack freight train cold in an encounter near here yesterday.

Wealthy Sailor Gets Discharge For Bad Conduct In Navy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A stormy year as a sailor is ended for wealthy Bruce Hopping, who tried to tell the admirals how to run the Navy.

Twelfth Naval District headquarters said the 30-year-old reservist was handed a bad conduct discharge yesterday and a voucher for train fare back to Port Newark, N.J., where he is vice president of his father's lumber firm.

He was convicted at a recent Pearl Harbor court martial of conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline and sentenced to a bad conduct discharge. The court martial was ordered after Hopping complained to newsmen about his superior officers.

Bollworm Menace Serious In Texas, White Asserts

AUSTIN, June 10 (AP)—Texas farmers will have to practice every pink bollworm control measure possible this year to combat the state's heaviest infestation in history, State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said yesterday.

He urged an organized plan of spraying cotton crops in accordance with the seven-step program set up by the Texas Extension Service.

For every one pink bollworm in South Texas cotton last year, there are 90 this year, he said.

$10 Million To Art Museum Is Presented By John Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr. has given 10 million dollars to the Cloisters, which houses a medieval art collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

The museum, announcing the gift yesterday, said the bequest is "for the enrichment of the Cloisters in the broadest sense of the term and for the preservation, housing and presentation of its collection."

Rockefeller has been interested in the Cloisters since 1927. He paid for the present monastic building, which was opened in 1938, and donated most of its art treasures.

Texas Senators Vote To Recommit St. Lawrence Bill

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The 43 to 40 roll call vote by which the Senate returned the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project to committee, saw Sen. Connally voting for the motion to recommit. Sen. Johnson of Texas was announced as paired for recommitment.

also be mentioned, are firm believers in the cloud seeding project and were among the very first in this area to enroll their lands in the program. The younger Wilson is one of Borden County's two directors on the board of the West Texas Weather Improvement District and is also active in PMA and Soil Conservation District activities. These people are firm believers in the combination of good grass, good water and good Herefords.

The larger of the two new tanks has a watershed of approximately 320 acres, according to Bethell and Morris, and 2,600 feet of diversions are being constructed to give the smaller of the two tanks a watershed of approximately 150 well draining acres.

The green grass on the ranch is probably explained by the falling of "seeded" rain the last half of May. At that time the younger Wilson said they had gotten more moisture into the ground from 75 inches of the misty, slowly-falling small drops than had ever soaked in from much heavier rainfalls. He said that .75 inches soaked in so completely and penetrated so deeply that the pastures were so wet it was almost impossible to drive over them and feed the cattle.

This ranch is an example of what can be accomplished by observing the approved practices for both soil and water conservation.

Land Reform Law In Guatemala Effective

GUATEMALA, Guatemala (AP)—A Communist-backed land reform law which permits the government to break up large holdings for distribution among farm workers, went into effect Wednesday.

President Jacobo Arbenz last night signed the controversial measure he had sponsored. It received Congress approval last week.

The law permits the government to expropriate land from present owners and make it available to farm workers on a lease or purchase basis. It does not apply to farms of less than 225 acres and to large plantations producing export crops.

Owners of expropriated land are to be paid in 25-year government bonds.

Lane Declines Post With Civil Defense

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Former Gov. W. Preston Lane Jr. has rejected a chance to become the nation's civil defense administrator at $17,500 a year.

Lane said that other commitments would make it impossible for him to accept the post to which President Truman was reported ready to name him.

Susie, a Java monkey means business as she clutches her "adopted" month-old kitten and just dares anyone to take it from her. A few days ago the stray kitten wandered into the home of Fred Lamb, an animal trainer in Knoxville, Tenn. Susie promptly took charge of it and will fight anyone who tries to take it from her. Potato-less Dishes Are Ingenuity Test

Just when late spring and early summer weather has really perked up appetites, there is a potato shortage to complicate menu planning. The situation may not be so bad for career girls or coeds who must keep an eye on the waistline, but for working men and women with no figure problems, absence of this important mainstay may well force them to tighten that belt another notch.

But things aren't as bad as they seem, especially not if the hostess has enough ingenuity to dream up some wonderful recipes to tide her over, employing well-known and some of the lesser known potato substitutes.

Enriched bread, for instance, is nutritionally similar to its Irish potato neighbor. Both high in the list of energy foods, they are also a good source of iron. And when it comes to the budget, the cook won't have to worry a minute if she employs still another staff of life as a main-dish substitute during the potato famine.

Spring Supper Special
1 pound fresh or 1 package frozen asparagus
2 cups medium white sauce
4 slices bread
4 sliced hard-cooked eggs
Dash paprika

Clean and cook asparagus. Meanwhile, make white sauce, toast bread, spread with butter or margarine and cut in half diagonally. Arrange toast points on heated plates, topping with asparagus, then white sauce. Garnish with sliced egg and a dash of paprika. This recipe makes 4 servings.

Leftovers in the refrigerator present a challenge when it comes to finding more and better potato substitutes. Letting her imagination run away with her, the cook may use subtle blendings of some of the dried herbs as seasoning. She can even add the herbs to the melted butter she uses for toast cups. If the latter are a golden brown, they give added crunchiness that goes well with a creamy main dish. Here is a "patty shell" for the creamed mixture.

Toasted Bread Cups
Trim the crusts from slices of bread. Melt 1-3 cup butter in saucepan; brush on both sides of bread. Carefully press bread slices into muffin cups. Brown in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Fill each basket with creamed leftovers.

There's a perfect combination of flavors in dried beef casseroles that comes to the table bubbling hot, all set to satisfy even the most ravenous male appetite. The dried beef is frizzled in butter until crisp, then combined with macaroni in a rich cheese sauce that forms a crusty halo around the top.

Dried Beef and Macaroni
1 package (4 ounces) dried beef
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons diced green pepper
1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese
2 cups thin white sauce
1 8-ounce package macaroni, cooked

Cut dried beef into pieces. Fry until lightly browned in melted butter or margarine. Add green pepper and cook 3 minutes. Melt cheese in white sauce. Combine all ingredients.

Beef and Cabbage Au Gratin
1 package (4 ounces) dried beef
5 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium head cabbage
3 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup shredded cheese
1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs
Shred dried beef. Brown in 2 tablespoons butter. Cut cabbage into wedges and cook in boiling salted water until just tender. Drain. Melt 3 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Add flour and mix until smooth. Stir in milk and cook until sauce thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add cheese and stir until well blended. Add dried beef and cabbage to cheese and stir until well blended in 1 1/2 quart casserole. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

Noodles and Gravy
Big luscious pieces of fried chicken set into a nest of hot creamy egg noodles and mushroom gravy make elegant summer dining. In fact, the bland noodles pick up and enhance the good chicken flavor. Or if the family is a Swiss steak loving family, they are sure to like Swiss steak with noodles.

The steak is prepared in the traditional way. However, when adding the tomatoes, the cook also adds several whole carrots, some sliced green pepper, diced celery, chopped mushrooms, sliced onion, salt and pepper. When the steak has simmered for about 2 hours, she adds 4 ounces medium noodles and lets simmer 20 minutes more.

Here's noodle casserole to add to the cook's list of potato-less menus. Olive noodle casserole has pieces of rich ripe olives, anchovy paste and grated cheese to give it outstanding flavor. And curried shrimp was never better than served on a bed of noodles.

Olive Noodle Casserole
1 cup ripe olives
1/2 8-ounce package noodles
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons anchovy paste
1 cup medium-thick white sauce
Salt and pepper
1/2 cup grated cheese
Cut olives from pits. Boil noodles until tender in salted water. Drain. Melt butter, add onion and celery and cook slowly until onion is tender and yellow. Add anchovy paste to white sauce and blend. Add cooked vegetables and seasonings. Stir in noodles and olives. Pour into greased casserole, top with cheese and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 20 minutes, or until browned on top. The recipe serves 6.

Curried Shrimp
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons enriched flour
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne pepper
2 cups milk
2 cups cleaned cooked shrimp
Melt butter or margarine in saucepan, add onion and cook 5 minutes. Add flour, curry powder, salt and pepper. Gradually add milk, stirring thoroughly and continuously. When thickened, fold in shrimp. Heat thoroughly. Serve on noodle beds.

Noodle Bed
4 ounces medium noodles
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup cooked peas
1 tablespoon diced pimiento
Add salt to actively boiling water. Gradually add noodles and continue cooking until noodles are tender (about 4 minutes.) Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Add peas and pimiento. Add noodle mixture into nests or beds and top with curried shrimp. Serve hot. The recipe will serve four.

A one-dish meal solves the lunch- or dinner menu problem often, and the cook can easily add a crunchy cereal topping for a more glamorous meat or vegetable casserole.

Cereal Topping
2 tablespoons butter, margarine or meat drippings
1 cup lightly crushed cereal flakes
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Add melted butter to the crushed cereal. Sprinkle with salt and Worcestershire sauce. Mix thoroughly and use in cover casserole. The topping becomes crisp and brown when baked.

Spring vegetables without potatoes can be dressed up with thrifty combinations of bread crumbs and cheese. Asparagus, cauliflower, cabbage, tomatoes—any vegetable, in fact—will do. Here's the basic recipe.

Vegetables Au Gratin
In a greased casserole or baking dish, arrange alternate layers of cooked vegetables, grated cheese and bread crumbs, ending with bread crumbs. Dot with butter or margarine and bake in a hot oven from 5 to 10 minutes, or until vegetable is hot, cheese melted and crumbs are brown.

The potato famine may be somewhat hard on the Yankees who have not learned to like grits, but for South Texans who have thrived on it for generations, grits and gravy win favor over potatoes and gravy any day.

These are the common uses of grits, but there are many others that their neighbors to the north have never heard of. One is a recipe for grits au gratin baked in a ring mold and served with creole shrimp. The flavor combination is perfect, and it's a dish good enough for family dinner and buffet party as well.

Macaroni and Cheese
Baked macaroni and cheese is the big American standby for meatless, and now for potatoless, days. Good and easy to prepare, the macaroni may be used in a salad or as a substitute for potatoes in vegetable soup. It makes a good-tasting summer dish with curried lamb, and a doubly nutritious one with beef liver. But here is a recipe employing the use of chili that is just "out of this world."

Chili-Mac
2 tablespoons fat or drippings
1 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 pound ground beef
3/4 cups cooked tomatoes
2 1/2 cups cooked kidney beans
2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder
6 ounces elbow macaroni
Melt fat in skillet. Add onion, green pepper and beef. Cook until brown, about 15 minutes. Add tomatoes, kidney beans, salt, chili powder, and elbow macaroni. Mix well. Cover and simmer 15 minutes. Serve hot. Recipe is for 6 servings.

... from delicate fare to he-man foods explains Mrs. H. H. Stephens to her daughter, Susan, 5, as they find a recipe in the cookbook.

He-Man Foods Are Stephens Specialty

From delicate foods to he-man fare in a very short period of time is one of the major accomplishments of Mrs. H. H. Stephens, 1507 Eleventh Place.

"When I first married I cooked the most delicate, feminine foods imaginable. But it wasn't long until I learned better. Now I can cook almost anything," she laughed.

And her friends can vouch for her versatility. Delicate pastel candies, cakes, pies, hearty salads and main dishes all find the way to the tables of acquaintances via the Stephens route.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens, both natives of Big Spring, have been married 13 years. They have two children, Susan, 5, and James, 11.

Mrs. Stephens is the new vice president of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church and also served two years as treasurer of the City Council of the P-T-A.

Not content with these two interests, however, she makes many of the clothes that she and her daughter wear.

But above all she likes to cook.

Rounded Diet Needed For Active Kids

Swimming, tennis, badminton and all the other sports youngsters love are in full swing. With children engaged in these activities attention must be paid to their diet. This does not mean they need a special diet, but rather a well rounded choice of foods, points out Reba Staggs, home economist.

For instance, protein foods are important to good nutrition. High quality protein, as found in meat, is essential for body health and growth and should be generously included in summer menus. Meat also supplies the B vitamins necessary for health and the functioning of the body. Variety meats such as liver and heart are especially rich in iron for blood regeneration and should be included in the diet weekly.

Regular servings of fruits and vegetables, also, are necessary in summer menus for keeping the body in tip-top shape. Menu plans should include milk and other dairy products and eggs for their special vitamins and minerals. Likewise, whole grain breads and cereals add valuable amounts of vitamin B as well as bulk for a well rounded diet—necessary for busy youngsters and grown-ups alike during the summer season.

Cookies Make Easy Summer Day Dessert

Cookies and fresh fruit, here's your dessert that's so satisfying on a summer day. And so quickly prepared, especially when you have the last-minute refrigerator type tucked away in a corner of your refrigerator.

Why not make your cookie serving varied? Make up plain refrigerator dough, then divide it into several portions, suggests Reba Staggs, home economist. To one part add finely chopped nut meats, to another melted chocolate, shredded coconut, or mince meat. Then form the dough into rolls and wrap closely with waxed paper and store in your refrigerator.

When ready for cookies simply slice the dough and bake. This way you have them on short notice and you can have a variety of refrigerator cookies, as well as all other types, that boast a fine crisp texture be sure that you make them with lard, the shortening that produces the finest of pastries. Because of lard's keeping qualities, cookies stay fresh and flavorful for days.

"I'd rather cook than anything," she stated. "And it seems as though I've fried a million chickens since I married."

That's the favorite dish of her husband, owner of Builder's Supply.

Almost certain to accompany the fried chicken at any meal in the Stephens' home are two other dishes, long family favorites, macaroni salad and angel ice box cake.

MACARONI SALAD
Ingredients:
2 cups cooked elbow length macaroni
1 cup diced celery
1/2 cup chopped sweet pickles
2 boiled eggs
1 four ounce can pimientos, chopped.

Method:
Mix all ingredients with mayonnaise to taste.

ANGEL ICE BOX CAKE
Ingredients:
1 medium size angel food cake, chopped
1 small can crushed pineapple
1 small bottle maraschino cherries, chopped
6 egg yolks
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 cup milk
1 package plain gelatin
6 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Method:
Combine egg yolks, 1/4 cup sugar, lemon juice and milk in sauce pan. Cook until mixture boils. Dissolve gelatin in 1/2 cup water and let stand five minutes. Then pour into egg yolk mixture. Combine stiffly beaten egg whites with 1/4 cup sugar and blend with egg yolk mixture. Pour over cake, pineapple and cherries and mix well. Pour into greased tube cake pan and let set overnight in the refrigerator.

Meat Tips For Your Next Picnic

Picnic season is here and again it's time to pack baskets of food and be off to the woods. It's an event the whole family is sure to enjoy and long remember.

There's something about eating out-of-doors that perks up appetites, so plenty of food is a must. Franks and hamburgers are frequently the meat you plan for a picnic. However, there are many other excellent choices. Barbecued ground beef is one, points out Reba Staggs, meat expert. She suggests preparing this barbecued beef at home ahead of time, then to place the mixture in a thermos or a jar with a tight cover wrapped in several thicknesses of paper. If your trip is not too far the beef may be served from the jar on split buns. If you think it will need reheating, take your picnic frying-pan along.

Canned luncheon loaves carried right to the picnic are another simple choice. For instance, you may cut the loaf into strips and heat in a barbecue sauce as was suggested for ground beef. Or for a complete change, cut the loaf into cubes and place them on skewers alternately with tiny onions, olives, pickles or tomato wedges. Heat the kebabs over an open fire and serve in frankfurter buns.

Corned Beef Hash

Serve these individual corned beef hash casseroles for a nifty lunch time treat. Remove the hashing from the can to individual baking dishes. Heat them in a moderate oven and serve topped with deviled eggs.

Vienna Tidbit

Spicy canned Vienna sausages, thoroughly heated, make an easy and tempting addition to an appetizer tray. And for an extra-special treat, make miniature buns for holding these tiny sausages.

THE SPRINGBOARD

News From Webb Air Force Base
By A-3C FERD J. BORSCH

FIRST GRADUATION

The first graduation of Webb Air Force Base aviation cadets will be staged at the base auditorium Saturday. Cadet class 52-D will become the first group to receive silver pilot's wings since the re-activation of the West Texas pilot training installation.

Fifty-three students, including nine officers, will receive their diplomas at the colorful, military ceremony. This group began its final six weeks of training at Webb April 4.

Saturday's exercise will be highlighted by a parade review by members of the graduation class, an aerial pass-in-review, and the commencement address by Brigadier General Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer Airlines.

The Goodfellow Air Force Base band will provide martial music for the ceremony.

In addition to General Smith's speech, the exercise will also include invocation and opening remarks by Maj. Grant E. Mann, Wing Chaplain; awarding of diplomas with silver wings attached by Col. Ernest F. Wackwitz Jr., base commander; administering of the oath by Maj. W. C. Whalin, base adjutant; and Benediction by Chaplain (Lt.) Edward Lawler.

Following the ceremony members of the class will adjourn to the cadet dining hall for a buffet luncheon.

WELCOME PARTY

Base personnel eagerly await Friday night when citizens of Big Spring hold their gala "Welcome Airmen" party at City Park.

Nearly 3,000 tickets have been turned over to Capt. R. A. Kesner, according to Chamber of Commerce officials.

The party will open with a hot dog supper at 7 p.m., to be followed by a variety show at the park amphitheater.

In addition to talent provided by local Big Spring citizenry, the variety show will also include entertainers from the base, Air Force entertainment will be comprised of the Webb quartet directed by Chaplain (Lt.) John Little, clarinetist Harvey Strauss and vocalist Frank Maimone.

All Air Force personnel planning to attend the welcome have been reminded to wear uniforms.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien will emcee the variety show and Truman Jones, Chamber of Commerce president, will make the formal welcome on behalf of the city of Big Spring. Col. Wackwitz will make the response.

HOMES

Initial construction on the 300 rental unit defense housing project in the Monticello Addition, which started last week, is avidly followed by base personnel seeking homes for their families while stationed here. As soon as the project goes into full swing, an average of 30 foundations will be poured weekly.

TELEPHONES

Installation of Webb's dial telephone system is scheduled to start June 23. Initial installation will call for 400 lines, to be increased to 600 when required. These lines will also include the automatic fire and crash system, fire reporting system and office intercommunication ("squawk box") system.

SPORTS

Webb racked up its second Industrial Football League triumph in second half play by stopping McDonald Motors, 6-1. Airman Pitcher Mel Haveman hurled no-run, no-hit ball until the sixth inning when McDonald collected its lone hit.

Twenty-four linksters vied for the five berths on Webb's golf team in a special 36-hole medal play tournament at Municipal Course. The five-man links team will be composed of Maj. John L. Campbell, Lt. Col. L. P. Noel Jr., Lt. John C. Little Sr., Capt. Artie Garner Jr., and M-Sgt. Olen B. Hardy. These five golfers will represent Webb in the Air Force North Zone Conference tourney slated at Perrin AFB July 1-3.

This tourney is a stepping stone to the Air Force World-Wide golf tournament scheduled at Maxwell AFB, Ala., July 27-August 2.

Another Russian General Said Dead

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow newspapers announced today the death of Maj. Gen. Eugene Alashin, a chief faculty member of the famous Frunze Military Academy since 1949. He was 51.

Alashin was the third Russian major general whose death was announced in the last two days.
