And Tongue Cut Out, All Because Y. M. C. A. Worker Wouldn't Give Cigarettes.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Gouging out the eyes of a Y. M. C. A. worker and cutting out his tongue because he would not give cigarettes to Semenov's Cossacks, was charged against General Gregory Semenov today by Captain Edward L. Earl of St. Paul, Minn., a former British royal engineer, testifying before the senate labor committee today.

The committee is discussing the dishonorable ejection of Semenov from this country because of a series of brutalities and unwarranted attacks on the British and American forces and utter insolence of Semenov himself to his allied colleagues and the shooting down in cold blood of innocent peasants.

THREE WELLS DUE IN SOON AT PIONEER

PIONEER, Texas, April 13.—Work on the Gooch No. 3 of Litzinger, the Bryson No. 1 of the Pennant Oil & Gas company and the Harris No. 1 of the Rainbow End is being pushed feverishly. One of these wells will be the next completed in the field. It is a matter of only a few days until all three are completed, as all are well past the 2,000-foot mark and the pay in this field is found around 2,500 feet. Especial interest is centered in the Harris and the Bryson for they are in heretofore untested territory, the former one and one-half miles north of town and the latter one and one-half miles southwest. The Gooch No. 3 is drilling in the midst of producers.

A contract has just been let for twenty-four residences to be built on block 11 of the Eakin addition, which adjoins the town on the east.

This addition is growing at a rapid rate. The addition was contained in a sand field and fenced around with a wire fence three weeks ago. Today it has thirty-two buildings and eighteen more under immediate contract. There is one well drilling in this addition, the Eakin No. 1 of Brown & Co., Inc. Several blocks are leased for drilling purposes.

Timbers are being shipped in for many new rigs, with over fifty up within sight of the town already. Within another thirty days there will be over 100 wells drilling in the Pioneer district. The field holds a 100 per cent record so far. All wells drilled to completion have been producers.

FATTY ARBUCKLE ACQUITTED IN THIRD TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

PUBLIC'S VERDICT NEXT. SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Roscoe Arbuckle, acquitted of killing Virginia Rappé, now goes on trial before the public.

The big comedian today was tremendously interested in news from New York that the Famous Players corporation will immediately release one of his pictures to test out his popularity. The question of whether Arbuckle will be asked to remain in the movies will be decided by the favor with which the picture is received.

Arbuckle said his plans were uncertain. "If the public does not want me, I'll take my medicine. But after the jury has acquitted me, I believe the public will be fair," he declared.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—A verdict of acquittal was returned by a jury Wednesday in the third trial of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle on a manslaughter charge growing out of the death of Miss Virginia Rappé, motion picture actress. The jury was out six minutes.

The case went to the jury at 5:06 p. m.

Edward Brown, whose presence on the jury was objected to by the prosecution, was foreman. There was a slight delay when the jury returned,

CLUB WOMEN IN RANGER FOR DISTRICT MEET

Many Prominent Women Are Among Guests at Three-Day Session.

Quietly, without ostentation or flare of trumpets, the seventh annual convention of the Sixth district of Women's Federated clubs opened today in Ranger, the 1920 club and the Ranger Symphony club being hostesses. It is a far cry from the days of the neighborhood book club, which was the mother of this movement, to a meeting like this, and those women who in those early days tried to find an outlet, as well as an extension of their literary and civic interests, trying, as it were, to rise above their own "Main Streets," could not foresee the harvest of their sowing, nor dream of the power that women's clubs would be for the good of the home and of the nation.

Among the visitors here are many noted women, women who have risen to high places in the educational work of our state. Among them are women who come as delegates from their home towns, all honored guests of the 1920 club and the Symphony club.

The first meeting was at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Baptist church, and was a meeting of the executive board. At 6:30 this evening the two Ranger clubs will be hostesses at a dinner, given at the Gholson. Between courses there will be several interesting features, among which will be a talk by the district president, Miss Minnie Cunningham of Comanche, on "Ideals for the Future," a vocal solo by Miss Mavis Douglas; a talk on "The Responsibility of the Club Women This Year," by Mrs. William Reagan of Cisco, and a reading by Miss Groves, with probably some extemporaneous talks.

After dinner, all will go in a body to the First Baptist church, where a musical program has been arranged, to which the public is invited.

Programs for tonight and tomorrow follow:

Friday Morning.
9:00—Call to order, Miss M. Cunningham, district president, Comanche; invocation, Rev. W. H. Johnson; music, "The Star-Spangled Banner"; addresses of welcome: For the city, Mayor John M. Gholson; for 1920 club, Mrs. M. H. Hagaman; for Rotary club, M. K. Collier; for Symphony club, Mrs. Vincent Wakefield; response for the district, Mrs. J. D. Sandifer, Abilene.

Business Men to Organize New Chamber of Commerce

ELECTION OF BALL CLUB HEAD IS POSTPONED

Many Fans Are Hopeful That W. R. Fleming Will Reconsider Resignation.

Decision on election of a successor to W. R. Fleming as president of the Ranger Baseball club was deferred last night, as a number of the club's most prominent backers were at the New Chamber of Commerce meeting. Another meeting was set for Friday night, at which time some solution will be worked out. It is hoped by many that Mr. Fleming can see his way clear to reconsider his resignation, as his work for and interest in the club has been highly valued.

No slackening of interest in the club and its prospects is manifested. The team is rapidly being welded together, with the infield virtually selected but some difficult decisions still to be made in the outfield, where Hoffman, Craig, Pulley Delane and George are contending for places.

The Nitros are waging a practice game with Strawn today.

Meanwhile, all fans are asked to make arrangements to be at the meeting Friday.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS

Tentative Plans Provide for Both Manager and Secretary, With $20 Monthly as Maximum Assessment.

A New Chamber of Commerce, pledged to a greater and better Ranger, to be adequately financed in the work of promoting the city's welfare and growth, was organized last night at a luncheon in the Gholson hotel. The old Chamber of Commerce, credited with numerous achievements for the betterment of Ranger, was officially disbanded. A whirlwind campaign will be started shortly to secure members for the new organization.

Great enthusiasm resulted from a discussion of the plans and possibilities of the new organization and about one-third of the $10,000 budget decided upon, was pledged by those present. To acquire the remainder of the fund needed, firms of the city will be solicited for assessments ranging from $20 a month down, according to the size of the establishment. The main trouble with the old organization, it was pointed out, was that the members were pledged too heavily.

The purposes of the New Chamber of Commerce will be:

To bring back to Ranger all the bank deposits to which the city is entitled, the two local banks being characterized as two of the safest financial institutions in the state.

To secure new industries, necessary for the progress and growth of the city.

To work in harmony with all other civic organizations in the interest of Ranger.

The work of the Chamber of Commerce in securing the new depot, the new telephone exchange and other achievements, as well as the achievements of the Retail Merchants' association, were discussed at the meeting and a vote of thanks extended to the officers of the old Chamber of Commerce, and of the Retail Merchants' association, for their unselfish work and devotion to the interests of the city.

Under the new plan of organization, the work of the Chamber of Commerce will be under a manager and a secretary. No officers or directors of the new organization were elected last night. A committee composed of Ed Maher, A. Joseph, Sanford Tunnell and H. S. Cole was appointed to work out details.

The resolution passed disbanding the old Chamber of Commerce and organizing the New Chamber of Commerce as follows:

"Ranger business men present at this meeting go on record as heartily approving the past performances of the old Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants' association and extended a vote of thanks to J. T. Gullahorn, president, and J. E. T. Peters, secretary-manager of the old Chamber of Commerce, and to E. M. Humes, president, and M. O. Burt, secretary, of the Ranger Retail Merchants' association for their work, interest and unselfish devotion to the vital interests of the city.

"That the old Chamber of Commerce be disbanded as of this date and that a new commercial organization be instituted, under the name of the New Chamber of Commerce be formed. The mission of the new organization will be to perform all the functions of a commercial organization for the upbuilding of Ranger and community and to secure from Ranger and community those new industries on which we must look for future progress and support.

Safest Banks.

"That the new organization institute a campaign for keeping and bringing back to Ranger all bank deposits to which Ranger is justly entitled, by reason of the fact that the city of Ranger now has operating and chartered the two safest banking institutions in the state of Texas.

"That this organization pledge itself to a bigger and better Ranger."

Those present at the meeting were: Hall Walker, J. S. Echols, R. B. Waggoner, A. Joseph, M. K. Collier, A. N. Harkrider, O. D. Dillingham, M. R. Newnam, Ed Maher, C. C. Chenoweth, J. C. Smith, Raymond Teal, L. Theoharis, Arthur G. Jury, J. T. Gullahorn, John Thurman, S. B. Tunnell, C. O. Tarrell, H. S. Cole and Gifford Clegg.

ALLIED MEDICINE TOO BITTER FOR THEM, RUSS SAY

Won't Accept Proposal for Foreign Laws to Govern Business.

GENOA, April 13.—The allied proposals seek to reduce Russia to the level of Turkey, Soviet Minister Tchitcherin declared today. The Russian leader announced his objections to the allied experts' plan for the rehabilitation of Russia, which was submitted to the various sub-committees, and asked for twenty-four hours in which to prepare a formal reply.

The allied physicians assembled here are devoting all of their attention just now to finding a cure for Russia. It is realized that Germany is in a bad way, but for the present the allied statesmen are bent on breaking into the sick chamber of the Russians and administering relief—not without thought either of the fee which they have reason to expect will be theirs once the patient is able to work again.

But the Russians appear to be somewhat suspicious of the motives of their doctors. In fact, there is likely to be considerable trouble in inducing the patient to take his medicine. Lloyd George has produced a rather ominous looking viol in the form of the report of the allied economic experts, which the very sight of has resulted in a very pronounced squirming on the part of the patient.

Legal Changes Proposed.

That section of the report headed "Administration of Justice," which proposes radical changes in the Bolshevik legal system appears likely to cause the most trouble.

The allies want the Soviets to separate their courts from politics. Under the present system, the allies assert, the Soviets virtually dispense justice through executive decree without heed to the legal safeguards which most countries now offer for the protection of the accused.

The allied experts also recommend that Russia permit all foreigners to make contracts in Russia under the laws of their native countries.

Other provisions are intended further to protect foreigners who may do business in Russia and look to safeguarding their business relations and their property.

Heavy emphasis is laid on the necessity of holding all treaties and conventions sacred in accord with the practices of international law.

Basis of Economic Recovery.

Russia's economic recovery, the report explains, is dependent on the enlistment of foreign capital. But, under the uncertainties that now prevail, foreigners are reluctant to enter into any sort of commercial relations with the Bolsheviks and it is pointed out that this condition must be eliminated if trade is to be resumed on an extensive scale.

One section certain to provoke long discussion is that which declares that Russia's first duty is to her past obligations. While the Bolsheviks have indicated they expect to recognize some of these debts, they are believed to be planning counter claims for depredations of the White armies, which they allege were backed by some of the outside powers. They thus hope to make a compromise which would recognize the justice of the czarist and Kerensky debts, but would pare them down by counter claims.

RUSSIANS BALK ON MIXED TRIBUNAL

LONDON, April 13.—The Russians at Genoa will give all the financial guarantees demanded in the program prepared by the allied experts, but flatly refuse to accept the mixed tribunal to fix responsibility, says a Genoa dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph. The Russians consider the tribunal clause as an infringement on Russian sovereignty.

BRING MONEY HOME.

The banking situation in Ranger is looking up—far brighter today than a year ago, when five depositories had either crashed or were crashing to a fall, burying therein millions of Ranger dollars.

Today, established within the last seven months, there are two banks which in the nature of things must be the strongest and safest in the state. Both were established after the boom days. Neither is harassed with doubtful and worthless notes left as a heritage from the high rolling days of 1919 and 1920.

A conservative course, however, does not mean that banks should altogether refuse to make loans, and serve merely as a depository for monies. Loaning money is a community service. It is a necessary part of the functioning of industry and commerce, and without it, the present high commercial standing of America and its towns would never have existed.

But they should have money—Ranger money—with which to operate. And a definite campaign to that end should be undertaken. Ranger now has about $1,500,000 in local banks. Ranger people have at least that much and probably more on deposit elsewhere. That money should be brought home.

Out of town depositors should awake to a situation which is at once to their protection and their convenience. Whatever bank their money is in however conservative its executives have been, that bank has suffered losses; not fatal losses, perhaps, but certainly losses which have subtracted from its strength. Why not then, bring that money to Ranger, to banks which are bound to be solid, because they have not had time to acquire any risky paper, even if they were so disposed?

GIRL LEAPS HEAD FIRST THROUGH N. Y. WINDOW IN ESCAPING ATTACK

By United Press.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Piercing screams from an apartment building early today drew Patrolman Rosenick just in time to see Jeanette Anderson, 17, leap head-first from a second-story window. Her skull was fractured and she probably will die, but she managed to gasp to the policeman: "You are a father; for God's sake go up there. They're killing Dolly."

She told Rosenick she had leaped through the window, and all to escape three men who attacked her and a friend. When the police entered the flat, there were signs of trouble. In a bed, seemingly asleep, was Abraham Shor, a 20-year-old youth. When awakened, he said he did not know of anyone jumping out of the window. No trace was found of the other girl. Later two other men returned to the flat. They admitted having been there before but said they had seen no girls there. They were held.

IT'S MOVING TIME! SIDE OF MOUNTAIN GETS SPRING URGE

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—A landslide about ten acres in area has moved down a mountainside near the head of Topango canon, about twenty miles from here, according to reports reaching here.

The mass of earth is said to have moved 600 feet from its original position and the few buildings, fences, trees, shrubs and a section of a scenic highway upon it were all reported moving with it, with no change in their relative positions.

What force loosened the mountainside could only be conjectured, according to persons who saw it in motion, but its movement was reported to have begun almost immediately after a heavy truck had passed over that part of the highway.

TWINS' FORTUNE NOW ONLY EIGHT THOUSAND

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 13.—First estimates of $200,000 as the value of the estate left by Rosa and Josefa Blazek, the Siamese twins, has dwindled to $8,000 in American money and a farm of doubtful value in Czecho-Slovakia.

What has become of the remainder of their fortune, accumulated during their thirty-five years of exhibition in the leading amusement resorts of Europe and this country, remains a mystery. Their earning capacity, before the World war, averaged $12,000 a year, exclusive of their living expenses.

The failure of the twins to leave a will has left the disposition of the estate still unsolved. Frank Blazek, their brother, and other relatives decline to make any comment. Medical opinion regarding the relation of Franz, the 11-year-old son of Rosa, to both women remains so divided that it appears to be improbable he will be adjudged legally to be the sole heir.

PLACERVILLE, Cal., April 13.—Further evidence of the tenacity of the feline's proverbial nine lives was disclosed here in reports that James Guis found a cat still alive after being confined for thirty-eight days in a snowslide near Bridgeport. The same slide caused the death of J. W. Penders. When Tabby was found, Guis said, the animal was mewling faintly.

Last of Heroic Dead Brought Home

The last of the heroic dead of the A. E. F. have been returned to American soil and laid to rest. In New York, following the arrival from France of the last 1,200 bodies, a blindfolded soldier picked a body at random and it was honored as symbolic of the entire group of gallants. The caisson shown here is bearing the body of Charles W. Graves of Rome, Ga.

FIGURES PROVE STATE CAPITOL WAS BARGAIN AT 3,000,000 ACRES

AUSTIN, April 13.—J. T. Robison, commissioner of the general land office of Texas disagrees with opinions that giving 3,000,000 acres of public land to pay for building the state capitol was poor business. He cites interest and tax figures to sustain his ideas. The trade was "a wise peace of statesmanship at that time."

"The state capitol building, according to engineers, costs something in the neighborhood of $6,000,000 to build," Commissioner Robison said. "This gave the land traded an approximate value of $2 an acre. The land at that time was worth about $1 an acre, based on the value of school land adjacent to it which sold for $1 an acre plus 3 per cent interest. At that time land adjacent to the grant sold at 50 cents an acre for cash, though the 50-cent cash sale law was repealed in 1882. The 3,000,000 acres of land would, no doubt, have been sold at $1 an acre plus 3 per cent interest."

"If the state had issued bonds for the money to build the capitol, it would have been necessary to pay about 6 per cent interest on the money, as Texas credit at that time, due to the fact that the state was a newcomer in the Union, was rather low. It was not improbable that the bonds would have been sold at less than par."

"The interest on the bonds would have been $360,000 a year. The state would have drawn $90,000 a year interest on the $3,000,000 for which the land would have been sold. The $360,000 interest the state would have paid, less the $90,000 interest incoming through the sale of the land, or $270,000 a year net, is what the state still would be paying out if the building had been constructed under private contract and a bond issue made to cover the cost."

"As the construction got under way the lands were patented to the syndicate, a portion at a time to keep pace with the construction work. As the lands were patented they became taxable."

Taxes Big Item. "The building was completed in 1887. From 1887 to 1922 is thirty-five years. With the land on the tax rolls at $4 an acre, and the average tax rate something like $1 on the $100, the amount realized by the state through collected taxes has been approximately $4,500,000, with approximately $1,500,000 to be paid into the state treasury in the next fifteen years. After 1937 the state's income from the taxes on the land will be clear with the capitol building completely paid for out of the tax money."

"The approximation of $2 an acre as the price received for the land through the grant is fair when it is considered that the cost of the building was around $6,000,000, for which 3,000,000 acres was given," Commissioner Robison said.

"Assuming that the bond issue of $6,000,000 had been made the state still would be paying out $270,000 a year interest, provided the bonds had been made to mature in forty years, a common length of time for bonds of that character. Under this plan the state would have paid out in interest to date $9,450,000, with the bonds yet to be taken up at maturity. Present Value Unknown. It is virtually impossible to make an estimate of the value of the grant exchanged for the capitol at the present time as it has been parceled out in small sections and much of it has been sold at varying prices, according to Commissioner Robison. Some of the land is not now worth any more than its original value of $1 an acre, fixed by statute when the school lands were sold at the time of the grant, while other sections which have been highly developed are now worth many times their original value."

MINERS CLAIM NON-UNIONISTS JOIN IN STRIKE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 13.—Continued gains in the non-union coal fields were claimed today by the United Mine Workers for the nationwide suspension of work in the coal industry, with the announcement that 665,000 miners are now participating in the walkout.

Leaders in the nation-wide coal strike today turned their attention to the non-union fields in West Virginia, where the organization activities has been enjoined by Federal Judge McClintic. It was learned that union agents still are busy there, pending the outcome of an attorneys' meeting to review all the legal aspects of the matter.

The United Mine Workers regard the issuance of the injunction as an unwarranted trespass on the rights of citizens and an effort to strip the United Mine Workers of their natural and legal rights as an organization, President Lewis said.

FORT WORTH CONFERENCE IS TERMED "SATISFACTORY"

FORT WORTH, April 13.—A mine conference which adjourned at Fort Worth Wednesday night was "satisfactory" and probably will lead to other conferences, according to District President Wilkinson of the union. It may result ultimately in settlement of the coal strike in this territory, he said.

The operators, Wilkinson said Thursday before leaving for his headquarters at Muskogee, Okla., were in a conciliatory mood and willing to listen to the arguments of union officials.

The National Council of Women will invite women from all parts of the world, especially the Germans, to join with them in the celebration of Armistice day next year.

CARRYING MAIL ON GREAT LAKES IS HE-MAN'S JOB

MACKINAW CITY, Mich., April 13.—After a winter of unusual hardship, due to ice conditions, mail carriers who keep residents of outlying islands in touch with "the outside," are beginning to enjoy their long boat trips in the straits or lakes. After months of pushing their boats through slush ice or dragging them like sleds over ice none too firm, the representatives of the post-office department declare it is a real pleasure to head their small crafts into open water again.

Although his exploits are little known outside the northern Michigan country, the lake mail carrier presents one of the most romantic figures in the country today. While workers in other parts of the country are taking advantage of all the advancements of science and invention to aid them in their work, the carriers are performing their daily task just as it was being carried out fifty years ago, fighting single handed against the forces of nature.

In the fall, before ice comes, the carriers deliver their pouches by means of gasoline launches. With the coming of early winter the mail carrier is confronted with his hardest task of the year. A part of the distance over his route is filled with slush and the remainder with solid ice. He equips his rowboat with runners, rows through the slush, and drags the craft when firm ice is encountered. Hours of hard toil often are required to progress but a short distance and only men accustomed to such outdoor exertions are chosen for the service.

In midwinter, when the ice becomes solid, over the entire route dog or horse teams are employed in the mail delivery. With the breakup in the spring the boat with runners again is brought into service. Later on the carrier returns to his gasoline launch, which is used until passenger steamers again appear and take over the work. The mail carriers repeatedly risk their lives each winter to carry mail to those cut off from the mainland.

MEXICANS PROTEST Mennonite Migration

By United Press.

EL PASO, April 13.—The emigration of Canadian Mennonites into the northwestern part of the Mexican state of Chihuahua is causing a stir in Mexican official circles, according to word brought here.

Farmers and land owners in the state, near the religionist settlement, have voiced strong opposition to further influx of members of the sect. They charge that such a large number of new settlers with more or less common sentiment and objectives, will harm the present industry and the prosperity of the state. These opposers want official action to prevent the Mennonites from completing their movement from Canada onto their 2,000,000 acres purchased from Mexico.

Printer Chiefs Ask Harding Why They Were Fired

Chiefs of the government printing office at Washington called at the White House to ask President Harding why they were discharged. Thirty-two men were let out "for the good of the service," the President explained. Senator Caraway, Arkansas Democrat, assailed the President for his action in a speech to the senate. He asserted that the chief executive acted without legal authority in discharging the men. The first man on the left is James W. Wilmeth, deposed director of the government printing plant.

RUNAWAY PARSON PAYS $500 MORE FOR TOUR WITH CHOIR MEMBER

NEWARK, N. J., April 13.—A further item of $500 has been added by Federal Judge Lynch to the price which the Rev. Cornelius Densel has had to pay for the fall from grace which followed his discovery a year and a half ago that he loved pretty Trina Hanneberg, more than his family, his flock and his faith.

The $500 was a fine imposed on the unfrocked pastor for having technically violated the Mann act when he eloped with Trina, one of his choir singers in the First Netherlands Reformed church in Passaic, in November, 1920.

Except that leniency was urged by United States District Attorney Frederick M. Pearce, Densel probably would have been sentenced to serve a term in prison.

Pearce pointed out that Densel had sacrificed his home to settle a civil suit brought by Trina's parents; that he had lost his pulpit on his return from a month of gypsy wandering with the girl, who was young enough to have been his daughter, and that he is now working as a hospital attendant, at a wage barely sufficient to maintain his household.

Densel has been forgiven by his wife and by a few members of his old congregation, to whom he preaches in his present abode.

He paid the $500.
