GROWTH OF PLAYGROUNDS
 The report of the Playgrounds and Recreation Association of America, just issued, finds that the recreation movement in this country has undergone marked growth in recent years, the activities of the association having contributed much to the progress. When it was organized in 1906, it was reported there were but 41 cities with systematic methods for public recreation. Today 600 cities of the United States have introduced community playgrounds.

With 12,000 workers already employed in the community recreation systems throughout the United States the need of still more trained leaders is emphasized. Last year alone 324 requests for workers were received by this bureau. Hundreds of persons have been interviewed and their fitness investigated. Many have been placed in responsible positions. Recreation leaders from China, England, Russia, Canada and Mexico have visited the New York office for advice and information, and in total the association has entered into correspondence with 30 countries.

SUCCESS OF G. F. P. PROVES CATARRH IS WOMAN'S WORST FOE

It Keeps Its Victims Irritable, Depressed, Nervous, Melancholy and Miserable From Pains and Irregularity.

The sensational disclosure that nearly 90 per cent of women who suffer from painful and irregular functioning of their generative organs, are victims of the most dreaded of maladies—catarrh has caused such a tremendous amount of talk among women here, that it is almost certain that the success of G. F. P., which is gaining such popular favor wherever it is being introduced to overcome this condition, will be as great here as it is in other cities. Thousands of the best known women in all walks of life are making public statements in the papers all over the country showing their enthusiasm for G. F. P., is really greater than that of the discoverers themselves about this remarkable medicine.

"To explain this," says a representative of the laboratories, "I want to first say that St. Joseph's G. F. P., is believed to be the first direct specific for catarrhal inflammation of the mucus linings of the delicate generative organs, and the terribly distressing ailments which come from this dreaded malady.

"Show me a woman who is irritable, nervous, depressed; and thin, sallow and weak, suffering from headaches, pains every month and often times nausea, and I will show you one who is suffering from catarrh of the generative organs.

"But it has remained for the perfection of St. Joseph's G. F. P., to provide a really direct treatment for it. This is proven by the thousands of women who have been quickly relieved by using G. F. P., and is the reason this medicine is becoming more popular with girls and women as fast as they learn that they can regain their health, strength and robust vitality by using it.

Women Now Depend on St. Joseph's G. F. P. To Restore Their Vitality

MARY JANE'S MERRY JOURNEYS IN THE ENCHANTED FOREST

The Trick the Didelphys Played on Mary Jane

"Well," said Mary Jane, "you certainly give yourself a funny name. Where I live you're called a 'possum.'"

ONE evening as Mary Jane was walking home through the Enchanted Forest she saw the fuzziest little animal with a wee one peeping out of its pouch, swinging by its tail from the tree just in front of her.

"Aren't you afraid of dropping your babies?" asked Mary Jane. "Oh! no," replied the fuzzy mother, "I am the Didelphys, and I always swing this way."

"Well, you certainly give yourself a funny name," said Mary Jane. "Where I live you are called a 'possum' and I think you're playing 'possum' with me right now."

Just as Mary Jane said this, the 'possum suddenly dropped and curled up on the path. Mary Jane ran over to see if she were hurt, but couldn't get a peep out of her. So she put down her lunch basket and ran to the little stream rippling by, for water to sprinkle on the poor little

'possum's face. But when Mary Jane got back no 'possum was to be seen!

Then she heard a wee voice in the tree overhead. "Ha, ha, Mary Jane, I fooled you that time—I certainly did play 'possum' with you! I know you always have that delicious Mary Jane Syrup with you, and I was so hungry I took what you had left away with me in my pouch for me and my babies. Good-bye and thank you, Mary Jane."

Mary Jane knows how everybody enjoys the delicious flavor of MARY JANE SYRUP and was glad that the hungry little 'possum had been able to find something so good for herself and her family as is Mary Jane Syrup. So she picked up her empty basket and ran home in time for a supper of hot cornbread and MARY JANE SYRUP.

Feel Achy After Every Cold?

ARE you lame and stiff; tired and nervous—constantly troubled with backache and twinges of pain? Have you given any attention to your kidneys? Grip, colds and chills, you know, are apt to be mighty hard on the kidneys. And if the overtaxed kidneys fail to properly filter the blood, impurities accumulate and throw the whole system out of tune. Then may follow daily backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying kidney irregularities.

In such conditions a good stimulant diuretic should help the kidneys flush the poisons out of your system. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. Are recommended by folks you know. Ask your neighbor!

HERE IS CONVINCING PROOF:
 C. L. Milligan, 1261 College St., Beaumont, Texas, says: "A bad cold left my kidneys in a disordered condition. When I bent over, sharp pains darted through my back and I felt pretty miserable. I had dizzy spells and, too, my kidneys acted too freely, especially at night. I took Doan's Pills and it wasn't long before the backache was gone and my kidneys were regulated."

CROWN PRINCE SEEKS SILVER

By United Press.

BERLIN.—King Belshazzar never had such a gorgeous silver service as former Crown Prince Frederick William and former Crown Princess Cecelie will have if they can manage to get the Prussian courts to order the state bank to turn it over to them. Silver enough to lay a dinner complete for 5,000 persons is in litigation. It is such silver as no potentate ever boasted—plates of every description, all sorts of dishes and flatware, drinking vessels and candleabra and ornaments. All the work on this silverware was done with the highest skill which German silversmiths could employ.

This service has a long history. It was planned when Frederick William was married 20 years ago. Four hundred Prussian towns and cities contributed to a fund in order to give the man who it was thought would be Germany's next emperor such a gift as the world never had seen. The collection was completed during the war, but the committee thought it would not be appropriate to make the formal presentation of it while the nation was in such distress. Therefore the silver was entrusted to the care of the state bank.

Then came the abdication of Emperor William and the flight of himself and his son to Holland. The question was immediately raised whether the silver was intended as a personal gift to the crown prince or was in the nature of a gift to the imperial family, which had ceased to have any legal existence. The lawyers of the former crown prince are making a valiant fight to obtain an order of the court requiring the bank to surrender the present to him. German newspapers of various political complexion are waging a verbal war over the controversy, the newspapers of the Left taking the position that the silver really is the property of the towns and cities which paid for it.

DALHART.—This section of the Panhandle held their first annual wolf hunt recently and the affair was such a success that it will be made permanent. More than 100 men participated and 49 hounds were used in the chase. Many wolves were caught.

ANTI-BREAKFAST BLUES RECIPES

By BARBARA BROOKS, Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Breakfast should be looked upon as the most important meal of the day, for many times the blue sky becomes overcast and the yellow sunshine is dimmed all because the coffee is cold or the toast burned. There is probably no reason why many persons get up in the morning feeling at odds with their fellow men, but they certainly do, and no wise woman will ever ask favors of even her nearest and dearest until after breakfast.

On account of this prevalent before-breakfast feeling, the meal ought to be a perfect one of its kind. No matter how simple your breakfast is, have the few dishes which are to be served, cooked and arranged in the most attractive manner possible. And there is a wealth of material from which to choose when planning breakfasts at this time of the year.

One fruit is distinctly springlike. The tart rhubarb is always enjoyed. —ANTI BREAKFAST 30 Inside... and its flavor seems to start the day right. Strawberry rhubarb is the variety with the very pink stalks, and we must make the most of it because the season is short. Wash it and cut the stalks into one-inch pieces; add sugar and cook in a double boiler until tender. Serve in a thin glass dish.

The cereal is almost as important as the fruit and must be carefully chosen and served. This is the time of year when the ready-to-eat cereals are very popular. Crisp corn flakes make us feel that spring has really come. Serve them with cream or rich milk, either with the fruit or as a separate course.

Eggs come next—delicately poached and served on rounds of toast. Don't forget the finishing touch that a sprig of parsley will give. With the eggs, bran muffins—if you would truly outwit the blues—and coffee, clear and aromatic. The secret of good coffee lies in cooking it "just enough." Too long cooking spoils the flavor.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The administration got its economy wires crossed the other day and the result was a short circuit that shocked Budget Director Lord to the point of speechlessness.

While the White House was offering a $10 reward for suggestions as to how $12,500 could be trimmed from executive office expenses, the Senate, without a roll call, approved an amendment increasing congressional salaries from $7500 to $10,000, or an increase in the annual congressional pay roll of $1,327,500.

Maybe Senator L. Heister Ball of Delaware, who proposed the amendment, was trying to have a little fun with his colleagues.

Ball is a lame duck, having been defeated for renomination by the G. O. P.

Perhaps he just wanted to test out, by actual experiment, the personal sincerity of his colleagues who, in the name of national economy, had recently defeated the pay increase to postal employees.

But if it was a joke to Ball, it wasn't to other senators who proceeded without debate to pass it with a whoop.

BRIG. GEN. "BILLY" MITCHELL, air service agitator, DID call at the White House to see President Coolidge on Feb. 19. He shook the president's hand and the president shook his. And not a hard word passed between them.

Newspapers on the morning of the 19th announced that Mitchell had been summoned to the executive presence to receive the official ax because of the furor he had stirred up in army and navy circles by his fight for a separate air service.

Officialdom was all agog, waiting breathlessly for what all agreed—and many hoped—was to be an executive execution.

But when Mitchell arrived it was in gala attire. He was togged out in his full-dress uniform, his shoulders sagging a bit beneath the weight of the medals and decorations pinned across his chest and hung around his neck.

For he had come not as a culprit to be beheaded, but as a guest at the army and navy reception, the last big social shindig of the season on the White House calendar.

And, for the minute at least, Mitchell had the laugh on his service enemies.

SECRETARY WORK, living up to his name, seeks to advance efficiency in his department by abolishing the opportunity for "clock watching" by Interior Department employees.

Work has ordered that all except the few officially necessary clocks in the Interior building be removed.

Quitting time will be announced by the ringing of a big gong on each floor. And even these gongs have been placed out in the corridors where the workers can't watch to see when they're about to ring.

The difficulty of having clocks where workers can watch them, Work holds, is that nine out of ten employees spend more time clock watching, as quitting time approaches, than they do watching their work. And what Work wants is work.

FOLKS SHUDDER AT "BROKEN OUT" FACES

Folks simply can't help showing that pimply, blotchy or rough faces are unpleasant for them to look at, much less associate and become intimate with people who are so careless about their appearance as to let these skin blemishes rule their destiny. No wonder it seems like "cold chills" run down their backs as they pass you by.

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, by healing the skin tissue, remove such skin disfigurements, and the way they quickly get rid of them is responsible for their popularity and tremendous sale of more than two million packages a year. Your dealer has them both. They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Black and White Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size.—Adv.

LINCOLN'S GENIUS NOT ABOVE NEED OF THRIFT AND INDUSTRY

By S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift

Thrift and industry in the lives of most men constitute the difference between success and failure. A notable instance is the career of Abraham Lincoln.

When a young man, Lincoln ran a small general store in Salem, Ill. He failed in this business with debts of $1,100. Then he disposed of the store to two men, taking their notes. They sold out everything of value and slipped away. Lincoln, the failure, was left with his $1,100 debts, which in that day was a very large sum of money.

He went to work with thrift and industry. He skimmed and saved. One of his creditors became obdurate, sued him and obtained a judgment. Lincoln's horse, saddle, bridle and surveying outfit were sold at auction.

Throughout the entire period of Lincoln's early manhood, from 25 to 40, he struggled with this debt. At last it was paid.

Lincoln could have taken an easier way, like the two men who left him with the bag to hold. He could have disappeared from Salem. But the world would have lost its greatest and humanity one of its noblest benefactors had he done so.

Throughout his entire life up to the time he became president of the United States he stood face to face with failure. Without thrift and industry he would have gone down to defeat.

At this time of the year when the civilized world is giving special thought to this man of the prairies it is of value to note that the towering strength of his genius would have been lost to mankind had it not been for his persistence in the practices of thrift and industry.

BILLY EVANS Says

WHAT are the chances of Glenna Collett to win the British woman's golf championship?

No one is better qualified to answer that question than Walter Hagen, twice winner of the British open. "Excellent," says Hagen.

The woman's championship of Great Britain is scheduled for the week of May 25 at Troon. Hagen, who has played the course many times, says Miss Collett's game is made to order for it. "In my opinion Glenna Collett is the greatest woman golfer in the world," says Hagen. "No woman can match her long game. From the tee she gets as much distance as many of the leading professionals. The unusual climatic conditions that exist at Troon call for distance from the tee and that is just where Miss Collett shines."

It is a rather interesting fact that no woman has beaten Miss Collett inside of 18 holes in over a year. Her only defeat last season was to Mary Browne at the 19th hole in the semi-finals of the championship.

ROGERS HORNSBY is one baseball star who draws the line on golf. Sam Jones, crack pitcher of the New York Yankees, is another. They are the exceptions.

Hornsby likes the game and would probably be a star at it but he has placed baseball before golf. Hornsby says he is convinced that the golf swing and baseball have nothing in common. His viewpoint is that golf calls for an entirely different set of muscles than baseball, and that to play it to any extent must necessarily interfere with the freedom of the baseball swing.

Sam Jones is of the opinion that golf has a tendency to tie up a pitcher, destroying co-ordination.

Hornsby, with five batting championships to his credit, has surpassed Wagner's record. He is now shooting at Cobb's nine-straight wins. For that reason, nothing doing on golf.

ROCKNE'S ALL-AMERICA

RECENTLY Knute Rockne, famous coach of Notre Dame football, selected two All-America all-time elevens.

The selections were interesting because Knute Rockne made them. He picked only one Notre Dame player, the late George Gipp. He was named one of the backfield on his all-modern team.

I fear Knute Rockne has let his modesty get the better of his judgment. He didn't even mention a single member of his great team of 1924. Rockne is decidedly partial to George Gipp. I have never once discussed football with the Notre Dame coach but that he said something complimentary about Gipp. Rockne, not inclined to boast and rather shy with praise, has often told me that a greater player than Gipp never lived. It was unfortunate that he should die at the very pinnacle of his greatness.

Gipp, according to Rockne, didn't have a single weakness. With every physical asset, a keen mind, he was one of those players who seemed immune from injury.

FAMOUS BACKFIELD

ROCKNE'S backfield selections will probably settle some arguments on that score, also start others. He names Pfann of Cornell at quarterback, Gipp of Notre Dame and Grange of Illinois as halfbacks and the great and only Jim Thorpe, fullback.

Rockne placed Eckersall on his team of old time stars who were in college prior to 1906. He rates Pfann just about Eckersall's equal and honors him with the captaincy of the mythical team.

Pfann, Gipp, Grange and Thorpe certainly comprise a great backfield. Harvard supporters may feel that Eddie Mahan, has been slighted. However, in naming any all-star team certain differences of opinion are sure to arise.

"Gipp, Grange and Thorpe are players who 'come once' in a lifetime," says Rockne. No one is going to disagree with him on that statement.

ready for distribution, according to Captain Joseph Johnson. The act authorizing the medals was passed by congress in 1924, and gives all officers and enlisted men of the two Texas cavalry brigades, who served honorably during the period of 1917-1918, a medal. Approximately 9,500 former state cavalymen are entitled to the medals, it is estimated.

The Art of Cooking NOW CLASSED AMONG THE SCIENCES

Back to the days when primitive man first cast the ruddy glow of firelight on his cavern walls through the rubbing together of sticks—on to the era of flint and steel, when venison turned over the glowing coals of a kitchen fireplace, to the present day when a world's attention is centered upon the nutritive value of various foods and the matter of their preparation—the art of Cooking has kept steadily apace with the Spirit of Progress.

All Foods Are Not Proper Foods

It all depends upon those who consume them. What is nourishing food to one may prove greatly detrimental to the well-being of another. What to one person may prove to be a builder of rich, red blood and strengthening tissue, may succeed only in creating a series of woeful physical conditions in persons differently constituted.

These are subjects every housewife should be interested in.

Mrs. Chitwood

Did You Ever Think of This?

That the human being—man, woman or child—is after all merely a natural product of a highly organic nature—a product of that which he or she absorbs? This is obviously true.

And knowing this, is it not then easy to understand that a properly functioning organism must be maintained through foods in which organic substances still predominate?

In proper food preparation only can this be made possible.

MRS. IDA CHITWOOD LECTURER AND DEMONSTRATOR

Will tell you all about these important matters during the course of her five-day lectures. She prepares foods as you watch and listen to her; tells you just how to prepare them to make them the most healthful and palatable.

Tells you how to budget your household finances in order that you may derive the greatest possible amount of benefit from your income. This in itself is a subject of vast material benefit to every woman in Eastland County.

Mrs. Chitwood is a lecturer and food expert of international prominence. Her experiences during the war, on the great plains, in the wilds of India, among the Chinese and people of other nations, have given to her an education in food values and food preparation that falls to the lot of but few.
