UNCONFIRMED RUMORS FLY IN REPUBLIC

Government Keeps Close Watch On All Press News Going Out

By United Press.
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 19.—Unconfirmed newspaper reports from Cordova in the state of Vera Cruz said citizens had lynched Adrian Castro, mayor of the town of San Juan, because he had closed the churches.
Other unconfirmed rumors, supposed to be emanating from Catholic circles today said several priests had been killed in the fighting growing out of struggle between the church and state. The reported adhesion of several priests in the various states to the government's program was denied by the Episcopate here today.

Both Sides Busy
Both sides, according to some, are spreading all kinds of rumors. But in the meantime, the government is holding its own and is standing firm despite the boycott that has been enforced the Catholic church.
While there are a few fights in the interior states, nothing of a serious nature has transpired in several days. The government, however, is keeping a close watch on affairs and has armed forces at all points where there is a possibility of something breaking out.
A close surveillance is being kept on the Catholic press which is practically banned.

LIGHTNING STRIKES RIG OF A GASSER

A derrick over a gas well in the Cheney field, was struck by a lightning bolt during last night's storm and is still burning, according to reports from there this morning.
The well, which is the Moates No. 5, of the Ed B. Parsons and Fort Wayne Oil and Gas Company, was completed some time ago, and came in for a two or three million foot gasser. There had been casing trouble and the drillers were waiting on a packer to run tubing, so the well had not been shut down. The derrick was a wooden one and succumbed quickly to the bolt of lightning, and the gas which ignited is still burning. As far as can be learned no one was hurt.

TWO ARE HELD FOR MURDER IN HALL-MILLS CASE

By United Press.
SOMERVILLE, N. J., Aug. 19.—Willie Stevens and Henry Carpenter, brother and cousin of Mrs. Francis Stevens Hall, were held for the grand jury today on charges of having murdered the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, his choir singer sweetheart.
The action of the court in ordering them held ended the preliminary hearing here at which the state introduced voluminous testimony tending to connect Stevens, Carpenter and Mrs. Hall with the murder by substantiating the testimony of Mrs. Jane Gibson, "the pig woman," that she saw them near the Phillips farm the night the crime is alleged to have been committed.
The murder is alleged to have been committed four years ago and its solution was practically abandoned until the divorce case of Mrs. Louise Geist Riehl was brought to trial. Mrs. Riehl was a maid in the home at the time of the alleged murder and statements made in the suit of Arthur S. Riehl caused the case to be re-opened with the result that Mrs. Hall, her brother and cousin, were arrested and held for the offense.

MAGNOLIA WELL HARRIS NO. 12 OIL AND GASSER

Rising Star and Carbon Districts Are to Get a Big Play by Magnolia

The Olden field while not sensational in the least, is one Eastland county field that is daily being developed, but one cannot realize its activities unless they make a tour of the field and make a survey of the different wells that have been drilled in, are in course of drilling, or new locations. Its most recent well, the Harris No. 12, while only a small producer of oil, even after being shot, is making 4,000,000 cubic feet of gas and the Magnolia company nothing daunted is making another location, Harris No. 13 not far from it.
Conway Brothers are drilling at 340 feet on their Butler No. 2, which is an off-set to Magnolia's Harris No. 12.
Louis Teasworth is rigging up on the Parton No. 1 and his James Scott No. 10, which is located about 300 yards west of the Magnolia's Ford B-1 is drilling at 3240 feet.
Magnolia's B-1 has been an unfortunate well so far. It is only 100 feet from the Bankhead Highway and has been a long time drilling, incurring most all the ills that a drilling well is heir to in the meantime. It was first drilled with a Star machine to 3140 feet. It is now being cleaned out and is about one foot off the bottom at 3040 feet.

INTERIOR WIRES AND RAILROADS REPORTED CUT

Authorities Are Mobilizing Troops To Put Down Revolt

By United Press.
A revolution has broken out in several parts in Nicaragua, the state department was advised today in a cable from the American charge de affairs, Lawrence Dennin at Managua, capital of the Central American republic.
Information communicated by Dennin in a cable dispatch from Nicaragua yesterday, officials announced by the department of state is as follows: "A revolution has broken out in or in and around Leon Crinaeda, and Corinto. All wires are reported to have been cut and all railroad transportation stopped."
Information Meager
It was impossible to secure definite information. The authorities are mobilizing and dispatching troops all over the country to put down the small outbreaks.
"The Republic of Nicaragua is 49,200 square miles in area with a population of 638,119 in 1920, according to the census report received here.
The present cabinet and administration of affairs is composed of the president, Sr. Dr. Carlos Solerziano; premier, Eduardo Lacayo; minister to the United States, Sr. Dr. Pedro Gonzalez; United States minister, Charles C. Eberhardt; United States consul at Corinto, Harold Player; at Bluefields, Andrew J. McConnico.
Where It Is
Nicaragua lies between the Caribbean Sea with a coast line of 230 miles and the Pacific, 200 miles with Honduras on the north and Costa Rica on the south. In area it is little larger than the state of New York.
At one time it was thought that a canal would be constructed through there instead of Panama.
Story of Canal
The right to construct a canal over this route for 99 years, to gather a naval base in the Gulf of Fonseca on the Pacific and Corn Island in the Caribbean was acquired for $3,000,000 by the United States in a treaty ratified Feb. 18, 1916; the United States was to supervise the expenditure of the money.
The Pacific Railroad, running from Corinto to Leon and from Managua to Granada, 171 miles, the only one in the country, was government-owned, but 51 per cent was sold to New York bankers who also held the rest of the stock in escrow for a loan of $1,060,000, which the government paid out of the revenue in 1924.

Those radio fans who have listened in on WBAP, Fort Worth, WFFA, Dallas, KVOO, Bristow, Okla., KOA, Denver, KPRC, Houston and KFI, Los Angeles, to the concerts given by the California Red Jackets, will have an opportunity to hear them in person tonight at the Elks dance.

This orchestra has not only entertained people all over the world by the medium of radio but they played for two years in the Venice ball room, in Venice, Calif., and last March played for a sensational run at the Brazos Hotel, in the Brazos Court, Houston. Patrons of the Interstate Opeumum Keith Vandeville, have also had the pleasure of hearing their music and they played the Pantages circuit on the Northern route.

There is one Texas boy in the orchestra. Mickey Rathbone of Dallas, who played with Jack Gardner two years, and is known state wide for his wonderful playing on the saxophone and clarinet.

Another notable is Bernie Pruitt, who has featured with the New Orleans Rhythm team, which is a Victor recording orchestra. There are eight members of the California Red Jackets Orchestra and among the numbers which they will play tonight, as a novel feature, is their "Hor Wild" trio, which is said to always create a sensation where ever played. The orchestra's numbers are all original and their music is deemed so good that this fall they will begin playing at the Rice Hotel in Houston, for an indefinite engagement.

Lovers of good music are invited to come out tonight and enjoy the offerings of this talented group of musicians, even if not caring to dance. The cooler weather, coupled with the promise of rare music is sure to result in a record breaking crowd being present.

Mrs. T. C. Boon of Elgin, Texas, is a visitor at the home of her son, S. P. Boon.

Railroaders Favor Rest If Had Million

The million dollar spending campaign took on a little acceleration today, due probably to the cooler weather. Mrs. Dena Hight, the only woman in the Ranger Railroad office said she would take a month's vacation and go back to work, which made one wonder if railroading was as fascinating as all that.

Mr. Sullivan, high mogul of the same railroad, said "It's too much money for me to think about, but I would go on a long fishing trip, to which Jimmie Tolland added he would too, but he would go still more, only stopping when the gas gave out. Mr. Meek of the same accommodating office, is a disciple of Issac Walton too as he felt that he would like to go on a long, long fishing trip.

Dr. A. L. Duffer, reposing leisurely in one of the Gholson hotel's most comfortable chairs, when asked what he would do if he had a million he said "I'd go stone blind" but added that a long auto camping trip with all the modern comforts, would be tempting.

Junior College Teams are Busy Putting It Over

Divided into teams of two each, the twelve men on the Finance committee of the Junior College, are working Ranger today with much success in interest of the college. Working mates are Steve A. Lillard and E. H. Mills; L. G. G. Buchanan and Ed Maher; Walter Murray and Hall Walker; J. C. Smith and Morris Bendix; M. K. Collie and C. E. May, J. M. White and C. E. Madocks.

These committees will continue their work through Friday and report on their progress at a meeting to be held Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 o'clock.

The work done so far is reported on as being most encouraging to the twelve business men, and Messrs. C. C. Patterson and R. F. Holloway, field men, who are making this whirlwind campaign for the financing of the Junior College.

Thieves Needed Clean Linen and Rob a Laundry

It is reported that thieves broke into the Electric Laundry, Ranger some time during last night and made way with three shirts, and two pair of pants. Ranger Lions Hear Reports On Convention

Practically all of the time not given to the luncheon, was taken up in reports of various activities of the Lions, at the noon day meeting to be held at the De Groff Hotel, of the Ranger Lions.

Walter Murray, delegate from the Ranger Lions Club to the National Convention at San Francisco, gave an interesting report of the convention, which had not grown stale in spite of the fact that the last two meetings were filled with things that made it necessary for his report to be carried over. In addition to the report, Linc Murray displayed a long panel photograph, taken in front of the Auditorium in Frisco, of the convention, which showed an advantage a large number of those present, as well as the handsome building that formed three sides of the square on which it was taken.

The baseball committee reported on baseball games, and said that although beaten last Wednesday they were going in to win today.

Lion R. F. Holloway, was present and talked on the subject nearest his heart at present, the Junior college, which his fellow club members are helping him, and others to put over.

No use of crying over spilt milk Consider yourself lucky for not spilling the beans.

Ranger Parks To Be Controlled By Real Board

A park board to have entire charge and supervision of Nitro Park, Ranger, may be named, provided the Ranger School Board accepts a plan made by the city commission at a called meeting Tuesday afternoon.

A tentative resolution was made that a park board composed of one member of the city commission, one member of the Lions and one member of the Rotary Club and one member of the school board, with the Mayor as ex officio, chairman, be created to have exclusive power and control of Nitro Park. This board to be appointed annually on June first of each succeeding year.

The various bodies who will have a representative on the Park Board will recommend their member for the place and his name will be ratified by the city commission.

Parks are not like Topsy—they don't just grow up, except in weeds, and for the very reason that Ranger's ball park needs to be kept up and to be supervised so that there may be some revenue for its upkeep, as well as a program far different from the hit and miss one it has been subjected to for the last few years, the need of such a board was felt to be imperative by the City Commission.

Ranger Golfers Meet Defeat In Mineral Wells

Nine members of the Ranger Country Club went to Mineral Wells last Sunday for a golf tournament, but they got "licked." Sunday the Mineral Wells bunch is coming over here expecting to repeat the bitter dose, and members of the club are just advised to run out to the links and limber up some before that time.

Dr. Harry Logsdon of the Ranger Country Club, seems to think that the Ranger club stands a good chance to win, if they will really practice up a bit between now and Sunday.

(Continued from page 1) Carbon Area The Magnolia is to make its initial attempt in the sector between Rising Star and Carbon, as it will drill the Thomas No. 1 in that vicinity to a depth of 1500 feet, in hopes of finding the shallow pay.

This well, which is purely wildcat, came in for an initial flow, estimated at 50 to 100 barrels, with prospects for greater production when drilled deeper. Six miles from the nearest production, this well opens up a new shallow field, as well as a new oil level, as it came in at 1525 feet. The oil is high gravity testing 40 to 43.

Darkness Halts Game In Third, Score 3 to 2

Darkness caused by an approaching storm ended the game between the American Legion and the Oilbelt yesterday afternoon at the end of the first half of the third inning, with the score 3 to 2 in favor of the Chivvie peddlers. They got to Jones in the first inning for all three of their runs.

The Doughboys also counted all of their runs in the first inning. Gallagher, first up was hit by a pitched ball. He promptly stole second. He went to third when Taylor singled to center. Taylor stole second.

As the game did not go five innings it does not count as a victory for the Oilbelt and will have to be played over if they can find a place to sandwich it in between times before the season ends. This may be a hard thing to do as there are already four games to be played and as the teams are playing every day these must be played on Sundays. There will probably be two games each Sunday afternoon until the finish to make up for these.

The Throw Down

SUZANNE LENGLEN TURNING PROFESSIONAL IS CAUSING COMMENT IN TENNIS WORLD

By HENRY L. FARRELL. NEW YORK—With all the controversies with athletes who made side money by selling sporting goods, by writing high-powered articles, by padding expense accounts or by otherwise violating ethics of the code, "Sports for Sports Sake" the Constitution of the United States Lawn Tennis Association has been placed on the operating table at every meeting in recent years.

The officials were labored and worried hunch-backed when they emerged from a fight with Bill Tilden that almost caused an inner revolution an outlaw association was wasn't a tremendous victory that the association seemed happy to get out of it with a head standing reasonably high and Tilden, of course, with a decision that permitted him to go right ahead making fancy money in literature and losing it in dramatics so long as he wasn't branded officially as the "world's tennis champion."

Peace or at least a truce on both sides seemed to be the refund of the association until C. C. Pyle, manager of Red Grange, who turned a coal and ice reputation into a fortune, dashed into the cable offices in Parsheport and announced that Mlle. Lenglen had turned professional and would troupe the States with him. Immediate fears were laughed off with a consolation borne of hope that Mlle. Lenglen would not give the same answer that Joe Jackson gave when the kids said—"Tell us it ain't so, Joe."

"But, in like manner, she said—"It is so. I've worked long enough for myself."

And then there popped up the problem—"What can be done about it? Supposing our boys and girls decide to get out and work for themselves."

This was followed by the happy thought, that Lenglen couldn't play by herself, that there was no women professionals in the United States and that the amateurs could not play against her.

There was a scamp for the rule books when the question was advanced—"why not?" Tilden Affair. When the association told Tilden that he couldn't write any longer for a salary larger than a lot of editors were getting, Tilden asked "why not?"

The association found that there was no rule covering the point and had to put one in the books covering the point. And it was about three years later that the rule was finally worded to cover all possible points, and the boys and girls are still writing.

There is now nothing in the constitution which prohibits an amateur player from playing against a professional player. If C. C. Pyle appears suddenly before the association with the Mlle. in tow and says: "Gentlemen, here is Mlle. Lenglen my tennis star, she wants to play in Madison Square and we want some opponents for her."

The officials, under existing circumstances, can only reply that no amateurs can play in an unsanctioned and put it up to them—"Well, sanction tournament. Pyle could come back this list of tournaments."

Consult Lawyers. The officials could refuse and Mr. Pyle could consult his lawyers because he, like Jack Dempsey, has found that public prominence forces the prominent to become more than socially acquainted with lawyers. Pyle might get an injunction, and the right of the association to be the national dictator of tennis would have to be passed upon by higher courts.

"Tex" Moves Fight Of Dempsey To Philadelphia

Valentino Now Out of Danger, Doctors Report

By United Press. NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Rudolph Valentino has passed the crisis of his illness, and is believed to be out of danger. The following bulletin was issued at 10 o'clock this morning by doctors attending the screen star at the Polytechnic clinic hospital.

"Mr. Valentino is making staid progress and having passed his most critical period. No further bulletins will be issued unless some unexpected developments occur."

Mr. Pyle, however, has to figure on Mlle. Lenglen's temperament. Maybe she wouldn't play in a big barn.

Has Jack Dempsey Gone Back; Seems Mooted Question

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK Aug. 18.—Jack Dempsey's biggest concern as he prepares himself for his fight with Gene Tunney or the next defense of his title against any opponent will be to find out how much has been taken out of his weapons by three years of idleness.

In training he can find out how good his wind is and correct any deficiency by proper exercise and diet. He can find out how strong his legs are and do more roadwork if he thinks he hasn't the proper strength. He can improve his speed and his boxing by sparring with fast and shifty partners.

But there is no way for him to recover any lost mental spark, the thing called co-ordination which makes the hand and foot respond to the eye and the brain automatically. All the work he could do in the gymnasium or the training camp would not improve an eye that was one-thousandth of the second slow because the best of sparring partners are not good enough to give him the real test or they would not be sparring partners.

Critics Talk. Not many critics give Tunney a big chance if he meets Dempsey. They admit that Tunney is younger but they do not class him as a killing puncher. They admit that the long absence from the ring may have impaired Dempsey's speed, eye and boxing but they refer to the Carpenter and Firpo fights as proof that Dempsey can take it even no matter how many times Tunney hits him.

But, if memory serves correctly, Dempsey was hit by Carpenter and Firpo when he was stepping back or rolling with the punch. He didn't have to take the double force that a boxer gets when he steps into a punch or "runs into one" as the boxers put it.

Dempsey looked to be in almost perfect condition when he came to New York and seemed to be within a few pounds of fighting weight. He had speed in the ring and a punch on the bags.

Refers to Jeffries. But, some good trainers pointed out that you can't tell about the inside. They still point out that doctors who looked over Jim Jeffries before he fought and lost to Jack Johnson said that he was fat inside and couldn't last long under punches to the body.

Tunney no doubt has figured for some time that his chance for victory rested on an attack to the body, based perhaps on the belief that Dempsey would be hurt more inside by his long absence from the ring.

Before Dempsey went to his training camp, some friends in New York gave him the laugh when he said he was not taking Tunney lightly. "Explain, if you can," one of them said, "how you can lose unless you're in such bad shape that you collapse from your own exertion. Tunney can't hurt you—" "Listen," Dempsey interrupted, "any man can be hurt if he's hit in the right spot, and I've got just as many right spots as any other champion."

DID IT FOR HER. "I ordered a dozen oranges and you only sent me 11. How was that?" "Well ma'am, one was so bad that I took the liberty of throwing it away for you." The Progressive Grocer.

Hopes To Regain Title

Harry Grebb, former middleweight champion, will have an opportunity to regain his crown Aug. 19 when he meets Tiger Flowers at Madison Square Garden, New York. Flowers took the title from Grebb a few months ago. Now the "Pittsburg Windmill," as the fans term him, hopes to win it back again. There are many experts that believe he will turn the trick, too.

Gertrude Denies Challenge Story, Sails for Home

By United Press. PARIS, Aug. 19.—Gertrude Ederle will sail for home Saturday on the Cunard liner, Berengaria. Miss Ederle arrived from Germany last night after a week's visit with her grandmother and was surprised and amused to learn that a statement had been circulated that she had issued a challenge to swim the English Channel for $20,000.

"It is nonsense," she said. "I only desire to go home immediately, and sleep and rest. The story of the challenge probably arose from a conversation my father had in Germany with some men, who said that I could not have stayed in the water two hours without a tug. There was no challenge issued in my name, that is definite."

The crossword puzzle is still a craze in England, where people are slow at seeing jokes. There are nearly a million acres of farm land under irrigation in Texas.

American Sex Equality Killed Love, Claimed

By JOHN O'BRIEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS. — Americans have killed love, at least love in the European sense, according to Fernand Laffite, a French novelist who has long pondered a subject of perennial interest to his countrymen and countrywomen. His thesis is an argument against sex equality, woman suffrage and what he calls dollar worship.
M. Laffite depicts man and woman in the years before the war as neither superior nor inferior one to the other but occupying different steps of the human ladder. Man had, of course, the upper step but it was very easy for him, if he so desired, to come off his perch, or to permit his female companion to go up one. Woman offered charm, smiles, caresses; man gave her security.
But suddenly, from across the Atlantic, says M. Laffite, "came men of a new school of ideas and we were knocked out in the first round. We had professionals against us. They preached universal equality, equality of function, and we believed. With a brutal knick they upset the ladder on which we were tranquilly seated and proclaimed that there was no longer any difference whatever between the sexes. Of course, they forgot to mention that they themselves believed in the difference made by the dollar. They Americanized our hearts.
"Worse than that, we became fervid apostles of the new gospel and when our women came to us with offerings of flowers we replied: "No, no, that's out of date. You are my equal. There is no longer a ladder with two steps. We are on the same plane. You and I have been wrong all through these many centuries. You have been a slave. Now you are free. Do as you please."
"Woman naturally did not know what to do with this new liberty which she had never asked for. She was intoxicated. So she went out and struggled love, as a useless thing. It is now lying abandoned on some road-way. The Americans are to blame."

Family Budget Is Big Factor To Happy Life

By United Press.
WASHINGTON.—Adopt a family expense budget and you will do much to insure a successful marriage, Chase G. Woodhouse, of the U. S. Bureau of Home Economics, advises home makers, in a bulletin just published.
Scores of letters from housewives from all parts of the country telling of family troubles and asking for information on planning home expenses have been received by the bureau. In response to these pleas the bureau issued the budget plan.
"In order to spend wisely," the bulletin stated, "you must know what you have to spend. The first step in making your budget is to estimate your income. Next list all the articles and services that your family is likely to need during the year. List every expenditure. Set aside something for the "rainy day" and take out insurance enough to care for the family.
"Now compare the totals of the two lists—your estimated income and your estimated expenditures. For safety the expenditures should be somewhat under the income. Go over the expenditures until this margin appears. You may find some extravagancies if you look for them, especially in your small expenditures."
The budget plan operates best on a monthly basis, it was advised. Apportion the income according to the budget. Write down each day just how much has been expended in order to be certain of the total at the end of the month. Give each member of the family an allowance for personal expenses.
The bulletin urges "do not make your recording of expenditures a family nuisance, the main subject of conversation at the evening meal.
"It is not necessary to account for every penny. It is not how much money you have to spend but how you spend it and what you get for it that is important. Knowing this you can spend more advantageously next month."

Arsenical Poison Is Good Remedy To Kill Boll Worms

By R. R. REPPERT, Entomologist
Complaints of heavy damage from boll worms are now reaching our office. An unusually heavy infestation may be expected on account of the excellent corn crop over most of the state which was late and served to breed unusually large numbers of the pest, which is the same as the corn ear worm, and it is now turning to the cotton.
At the time this worm is noticeable to the farmer it has grown to the size at which it bores into the cotton boll, and at this time secures very little of a surface covering of poison, and so is not easily controlled. At the time it first hatches as a very small worm when it ordinarily escapes observation, it feeds on the leaf surface and may then be very small controlled by applications of arsenical poisons as advised for the leafworm. Continued control, however, requires that repeated applications must be made at intervals of about a week.
Usually damage from this insect does not exceed five or ten per cent. Where the damage is not more than this, it is doubtful if the saving made by applying poison will repay the cost. Evidently the damage will be much more this season and probably control may be undertaken with profit. Where control measures for leafworm are applied, they will, of course, be effective against the younger boll worms.
The cream rises to the top but so does the foam.

Official Guide Navy Departments For 16 Secretaries

By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer
WASHINGTON—W. R. Campbell has been official guide at the State, War and Navy building under 16 secretaries of war and 11 secretaries of the navy.

It would have been 13 secretaries of the navy, only the Navy Department was crowded out, into another building, during the World War, and never managed to get back in again. Today, in reality, it's the State and War building, and at that, it houses but a small fraction of the War Department.

Campbell doesn't recall in just what year he hid his first guiding, but "Cover Cleveland was president, Thomas F. Bayard was secretary of state, William C. Endicott was secretary of War and William C. Whitney was secretary of the navy," he says, which makes about 10 years of it.

The old guide could tell a rare story of the personalities of the celebrities with whom he's come in contact but, of course, he won't do it. Concerning the wonders of the State, War and Navy building, he can and will discourse endlessly, but names are about all he'll mention as to the visitors he has escorted through it.

Let a White House or a departmental or a capital guide or usher or private secretary get to analyzing character and he never knows what toes he may be stepping on.

Discretion! That's the watchword for a long official life in Washington.

W. R. Campbell learned it so thoroughly, long ago, that he hesitates to discuss notables who have been dead for decades, with no living descendants.

There are two mules of corridors in the State, War and Navy building.

W. R. Campbell has tramped them thousands of times, in the company of cabinet members and generals of ambassadors plenipotentiary and of envoys extraordinary.

He's the best posted man in the world in his particular field of activity.

Durn Those Flies, That Trouble Cattle, Use This Recipe

Many persons are asking A. and M. College what to do about cattle flies, R. R. Reppert, Extension Entomologist, is replying by giving the Kansas Agricultural College formula, as follows:

- Resin (pulverized) 2 parts
 - Soap shavings 1 part
 - Fish oil 1 part
 - Water 1/2 part
- Boil together until the resin is dissolved.

Ad three parts more of water and boil for two minutes longer.

Then add:
Oil of Tar 1 part
Kerosene 1 part

Thoroughly mix and boil for 15 minutes longer.

After cooling apply to the animal as a spray. To further increase the effectiveness, apply 1/2 part each of crude carbolic acid and of sulphur.

This may be irritating to animals that have been working or are overheated, and under such conditions may blister or cause the hair to fall out. This must be taken into account when applying.

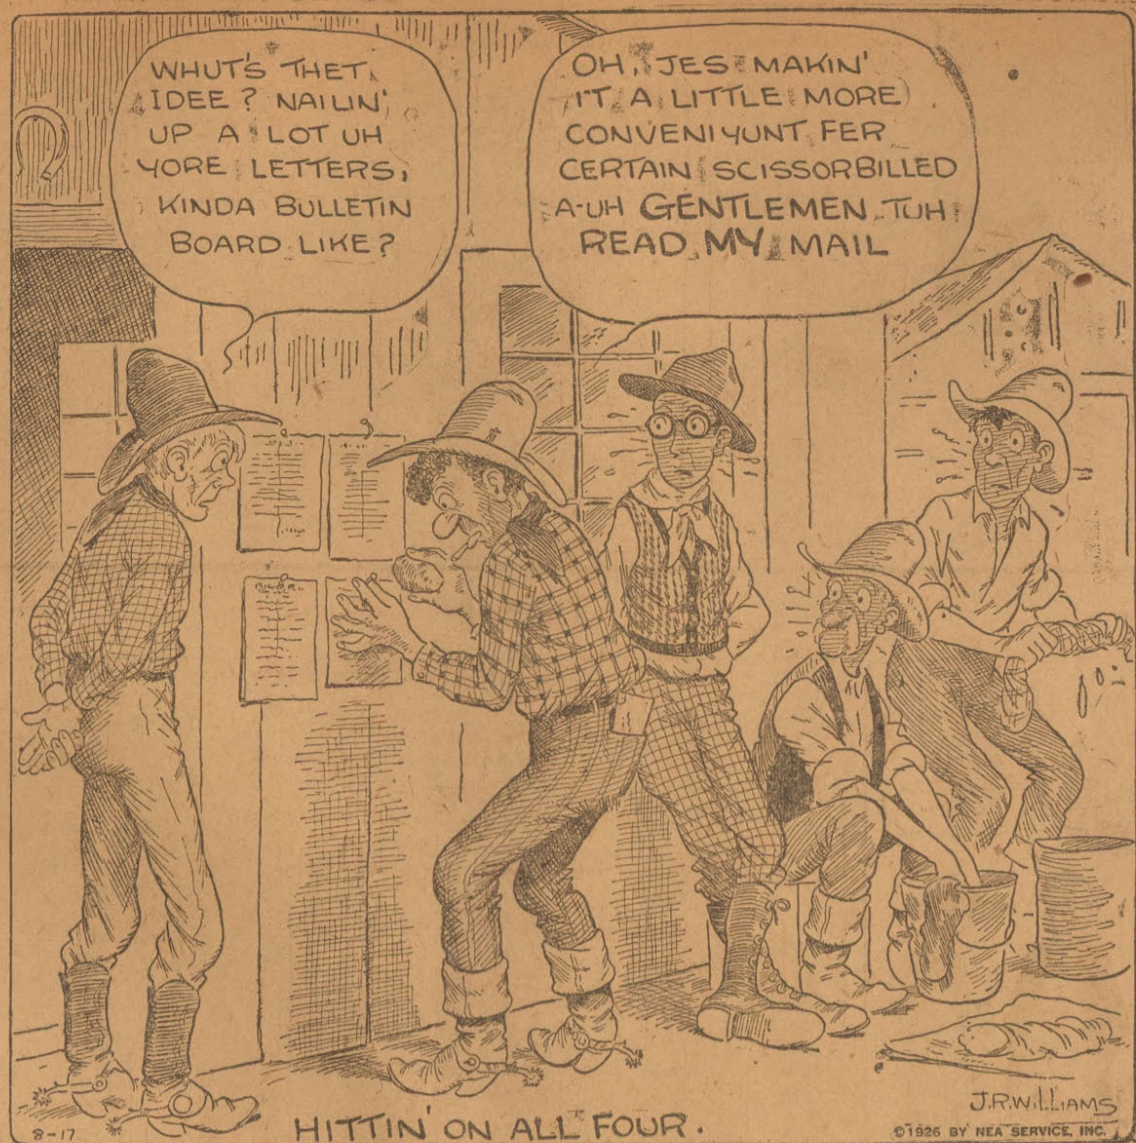

It must be remembered that the control of cattle flies is very difficult and that no remedy will give perfect satisfaction. The above formula is a repellent only, and its effectiveness lessens the longer it has been sprayed on the animal. Ordinarily one application a day will give fair results but in especially bothersome times more frequent spraying is recommended.

Germans Find Ancient Boat On Shore of Lake

By United Press.
ENSTED, North Schleswig, Germany.—What is believed to be the oldest sea-going craft known to humanity has just been discovered here by boys, playing on the shore of Lake Jul. The craft is a rowboat, the age of which is estimated by experts at more than 3,000 years.

The vessel is made of the hollowed-out trunk of an oak, nine feet long, two feet wide and about a foot high. The side of the boat contained notches for oars.

Boys wading along the lake noticed something hard under foot and ran to a local book dealer. The owner of the shop unearthed the mysterious object, which is now being sought by archaeologists.

Berlin Saloons Say Americans Heavy Drinkers

By United Press.
BERLIN.—Bartenders in this city declare that American tourists are consuming more liquor each year.

Fred Bieleman, the barkeeper at the Hotel Adlon, which is frequented by more thirsty Americans than any similar establishment in Central Europe, told the United Press, "In recent years, we have been obliged to increase our day and night shifts in order to quench the large and discriminating thirst of thousands of Americans. European bars would suffer grievous losses if the Volstead act were revised."

Many a man thinks he's self-made when the credit should go to his wife.

Oldest Images Of Goddess Found, Viborg, Denmark

By United Press.
COPENHAGEN.—What is believed to be the oldest image of a goddess in existence, the small bronze figure of a kneeling woman, has been unearthed in the course of railway excavations near Viborg, Jutland.

Danish scientists are inclined to think that it is the only one of the sort known to modern archaeology.

Two ornamented hanging pots or cauldrons were found containing breast ornaments and necklaces in excellent state of preservation. Two bronze bands were found; these appear to have been fastened to the ends of long poles and on the upper edges of the bands were animal heads. Among the other finds are a bronze serpent, two broad wristlets, two spiral armlets and two needles.

They have been sent to the National Museum for examination.
