OKLAHOMA MINERS CAUGHT IN EXPLOSION

100 MEN AT WORK IN SHAFT; 2 HAVE BEEN RESCUED

Crew Is Composed Of White Men; Largest In Oklahoma.

By United Press.
TOHONA, Okla., Sept. 3.—A gas explosion in Mine No. 29 of the Superior Smokeless Coal Company, this morning is known to have entombed twelve miners of approximately 100 men working in the shaft, two of whom have been rescued suffered serious burns. The number of men entombed is unknown. Between 80 and 100 men are usually in the workings. Miners and searchers have been rushed here from McAllister, mine district headquarters, and efforts are being made to enter the shaft where the entombed men are known to be located, as well as to search for any other possible victims.

RESCUE CREWS SENT FROM McALLISTER

By United Press.
CAMERON, Okla., Sept. 3.—Twelve of seventeen miners are reported trapped in mine No. 29 of the Superior Coal Company, six and one-half miles north of here, as a result of a gas and explosion at 8:10 a. m. today and others of the mine's force of 100 men may be entombed, according to unofficial reports.

The Superior mine crew is composed entirely of white men. Two men seriously burned as result of the blast, were taken out of the mines. Nine rescue squads rushed here from the district state headquarters and surrounding mining districts have entered the shaft, but have not yet returned to report at the tipple. The mine located four miles east of Tahona is one of the largest coal mines in the state, its last month's payroll showing a crew of 183 men. It is owned by a Chicago corporation.

BARNHARDT WELL DRAWS BIG CROWDS

The air around the Barnhardt et al. well, east of Lacasa, which came in early yesterday for 41,000,000 cubic feet of gas, is full of roars, as the big gasser announces itself to sightseers. The road to Lacasa has witnessed almost a continuous stream of cars since the news of the big gasser was broadcasted by word of mouth early yesterday, with the well as the mecca of the autoists. The oil spray continues, and seemed to be heavier in volume but any further drilling hasn't been done since it was shut down yesterday to prepare tankage and pipe connections.

This is a new sand from the sand that was found in the early days of oil development in this district, as the former wells were all deep wells, and this one found the sand at 1,906 feet. A number of people in Ranger own leases, or land in fee near this well and doubtless a drilling campaign will follow as soon as it is definitely known just what the Barnhardt well will develop into.

The Gulf Production company has made a location for a well on the T. A. Bendy farm, block 52, leagues 3 and 4, McLennan county school land, in the Parsons pool, about midway between Eastland and Ranger. Col. Robert D. Gordon is drilling his No. 1 Ramsower, five miles north of Cisco, after having good an influx of water shut off. The prospects are reported now as good for rapid completion.

'Ma's' Pardon Record Gets Another Boost; El Paso Man Freed

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Sept. 3.—Frank Lee convicted November, 1925, at El Paso, of statutory criminal assault, and sentenced to five years, has been granted a full pardon by Governor Ferguson. It was the 336th full pardon granted by the governor to date.

A Scientific "Divining Rod"

Fakery used to locate wells with "divining rods." This man, A. J. P. Bertschy of Omaha, has gone there one better. With his "electric-static balance," shown above, he has located Nebraska's first oil well, at Campbell, in Franklin county. The whole town, with a population of 300, had contributed $70,000 or more to the formation of a company to bore for oil; Bertschy's discovery means they will get their money back and a whole lot more. He predicts a good future for Nebraska's new "field."

HOGG TO HOLD DOUBLE HEADER SERVICE SUNDAY

There was unusual interest in the Hogg meeting last night, the preacher seemed to be at his best, a spirit of deep devotion seemed to prevail throughout the meeting, people standing at the first of the service could be seen slipping up a little closer and finally would find a seat at the outer edge. It was thought by many that Mr. Hogg would make a call for converts last night, but he did not.

There will be a double-header meeting Sunday afternoon. Mrs. S. J. T. Williams will come and speak to the women and girls in the Christian church at 3 o'clock and Mr. Hogg will speak to men and boys in the Methodist church. Mrs. Williams is a fluent speaker and very well versed in the Bible. It is believed that a large crowd of Ranger women and girls will attend the meeting. Committees are working on the men's meeting. The plan is for every man in Ranger and vicinity to have an invitation to the meeting.

Pastors and workers of the co-operating churches are now planning an intensive visiting campaign for Saturday and next week, one lady in the 10 a. m. service Thursday reported 35 visits since the meeting started. The recent census revealed the fact that there were literally hundreds of people in Ranger that were not members of any church.

On Wednesday night Mr. Hogg gave Bibles to all those present who were not church members and the response was astonishing as the crowd filed down the aisle and received the Bible.

One pastor summed up the situation this way: "Now is harvest time, if we don't reap for the Master now, perhaps the crop will never be gathered." The meeting will only last one more week after Sunday. In that length of time many hundreds of people ought to line up with the churches. There will be no day service Saturday but there will be service Saturday night as usual.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF ACCEPTANCE IS MADE TODAY

Canadian Delegate Fought It; Spain May Quit League

By United Press.
GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 3.—Four of the American reservations to the Hague court protocol and the first half of the fifth reservation have been accepted on first reading. President Van Eysinga of the conference of court signatories, announced this afternoon. He said that while the committee seeks means of accepting the last half of the fifth reservation, it would be necessary to decide upon the manner which Washington should be advised of the conference action.

A hard fight was made on the acceptance of the American reservations. The Canadian representative fought the proposition while the representative from Mother Country England favored it. The New Zealand delegate also fought the American plans. The Swedish delegate said the other nations should follow the precedent set by America in naming certain reservations.

In discussing the proposition, the Swedish delegate said: "The Americans reserve the right to interpret their reservations. Let us accept, but with the understanding that if the American interpretation proves to be something we can not accept we will withdraw our acceptance of the United States' adhesion to the court."

PLAN TO TAKE TESTS CASE IN STATE COURTS

Cameron, Milam Co. Town Leads the Fight To Boost Fire Rates

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Sept. 3.—A test case may soon come in the courts to test the present system of the state fire insurance commission in penalizing cities and towns of Texas for having bad fire loss records, according to officials of Cameron, Milam county, who were here today in conference with members of the commission in an effort to have a 15 per cent penalty assessed against that city rescinded or reduced.

They said that there was a general movement over the state against the penalizing system, declaring it to be unreasonable and not justified. The system has been in operation since March 1 of this year, and a large number of cities and towns have been penalized on account of bad fire records.

Plans for continuing the fight against the proposal of the fire insurance companies to increase the rates in a number of classes are being arranged today at a conference attended by representatives of business interests all over the state.

Separation is to be made today of the data which the opponents of the proposed rate boost contend will show that an increase is not justified. This data is to be presented at a meeting of the state fire insurance commission on Oct. 20.

San Antonio, Galveston and Waco are among the largest cities protesting. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce and a number of industrial organizations have joined in the protest.

MUSCLE SHOALS FIGHT WILL BE RECEIVED AGAIN

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—For seven years congress has been fighting over disposal of the $165,000,000 power dams built by the government on the Tennessee River at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, during the war. The climax of the long battle which involves needed low priced fertilizer for farmers and the cost of electricity for homes and commercial purposes in the South is to be reached at the coming session of congress.

The special joint congressional committee appointed by congress itself to find a solution of the perplexing problem has proposed to the Alabama Power Company and a dozen associated Southern power companies.

On Calendar
The bill is now on the senate calendar and Chairman Deneen of the joint committee has announced that he will press for its adoption soon after congress reconvenes for the regular short session in December.

A strong opposition is growing to the measure. Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, advocate of government operation of the property, who has in the past prevented acceptance by congress of any of the leases proposed, is planning another strenuous fight. He has rallied around him the advocates of government operation and others who have been opposed to offers made by the Alabama Power Company.

Avoid Fertilizers
The view of the opposition is set forth by Representative W. Frank James, republican, Michigan, who in a minority report of the joint committee stated: "These bidders have shown by their actions that they are interested in avoiding fertilizer responsibilities just as far as they possibly can, and when, like Greeks bearing gifts, they come here offering a price for the power that is greater than a reasonable return to have the effect of deliberately making fertilizers less salable and deliberately releasing more power for their own purposes, I fear them, for I have no confidence in their good faith."

Deneen's majority report, however, defends the lease on the ground that it agrees to produce 40,000 tons of concentrated fertilizer at a profit of not more than 5 per cent; that the government will receive $88,300,000 return from Dam No. 2 and $109,348,000 when it constructs Dam No. 3; and that the power to be generated by the 13 associated power companies will be equitably distributed through the Southern States.

Recent Weather Conditions Hurt Maturing Crops

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Unfavorable weather conditions in recent weeks have seriously retarded many crops, leaving farmers uncertain what their yields will be, reports to the agriculture department.

Rain in the latter part of August rotted potatoes in some sections, hampered the maturity of corn and flooded lowland cotton fields. The drenched soil also prevented farmers from plowing land for winter wheat crop. Potatoes are doing well in the northeast but in the middle Atlantic states and Ohio Valley rains have caused "wet rot" among the tubers. Too severe moisture also damaged the late tomato crops, reports to the department said.

Tobacco and corn were the only crops benefited by rains. The corn crop, however, has now had sufficient moisture and needs dry warm weather to hasten maturity.

Sugar cane in the South and sugar beets in the East were reported to be in excellent condition and a big production of these crops were forecast. Cotton was reported making fair progress, though hampered by too much rain. The rains in Texas have caused an increase of boll weevil damage.

And after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven saying, Alleluia; salvation and glory, and honor and power unto the Lord our God.—Revelations 19:1.

EASTLAND COUNTY FAIR.

The Eastland county fair presages to be one of the best ever held. Eastland county has made good crops of feedstuff, vegetables and fruits. The county shows up well in producing fine live stock. There is no reason why Eastland county should not have the best fair in West Texas and the exhibits after the fair here boxed up and shipped to the State fair and there take first prize.

Eastland county leads West Texas in poultry production and gives promise of leading in hog raising. Poultry is bringing wealth to the farmers of the county. The poultry section of the big fair should be the best in the state. Secretaries of the various commercial bodies in the county should make strenuous efforts to make their immediate sections come up with great exhibits.

There should be the greatest exhibit ever shown of the work done by the girls of the canning and other clubs. Winners in the boys and girls club divisions should be rewarded with trips to the State fair and to the live stock exposition in Fort Worth in March. Agricultural fairs are educational institutions and we are strong for education and the development of the agricultural resources of Eastland county and West Texas.

Let's all join in with Briggs, Patterson et al. company and make this fair the best ever held.

We also want to say a word favoring the flower show. Flowers beautiful and uplift, and the women of the county should be encouraged in their efforts to make that branch of the county exposition a success.

ENFORCE THE AUTO LIGHT LAW

Something should be done with violators of the law who use glaring lights on their autos. It is dangerous to drive along any of the highways at night because of the gross violations of the law. The county motor officers should make a few arrests and make the violators pay fines. A large percentage of the accidents, fatal ones, are due to drivers violating the laws of the road, and especially the statute governing lights on autos.

Last night the editor, his family and friends were out for a drive and in the short distance between Ranger and the curve of the Strawn highway, and between Eastland and Ranger, he met no less than 50 autos that had glaring headlights and in addition the cars were being driven by ROAD HOGS. To avoid accidents the editor's car stopped on the side of the road to give the road hogs and those who disregard law and human life by using glaring headlights the right of way.

In addition, there are quite a few speed fiends that ought to be locked up. We favor a law placing a heavy fine on the violator for the first offense and a jail sentence and taking away the license for the second offense.

Something should be done. The peace officers should look into the matter. It is better to be safe than sorry.

Dogs Compelled To Attend Burial Of Kitten Killed

MONTEREY, Cal., Sept. 3.—If dogs have souls, or even intellects adaptable to psychological suggestion, kittens of this city may in the future enjoy unrivaled freedom from canine molestation.

Jack and Norman Steward, young sons of the Monterey postmaster, recently were presented with a few days' old kitten. The pet became not only the center of attraction to the neighborhood children but the neighborhood dogs, the latter becoming so boisterous that the kitten died in the resultant commotion.

Jack and Norman rounded up the dogs, an approximate 50, and lashing them together, led them unwillingly to the kitten's funeral. Reluctant participants in the cortege, the dogs were still more reluctant spectators while the fluffly body of their victim was lowered into its grave.

They were released only after the last handful of dirt had been sprinkled. They had been given a lesson but it remains to be seen whether they benefitted thereby.

Bank of England Building to Be Reconstructed

By VICTOR W. KNAUTH (United Press Staff Correspondent).
LONDON.—The "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street," otherwise the famous Bank of England, is being almost entirely reconstructed.

Only the ancient walls, two centuries old and grimed with the rains and winds of years, will remain. The ell which housed the stock, dividends and registration departments already has been demolished and excavations are completed for strong vaults deep underground in which the gold supply of England will be stored.

The seldom-seen garden in the quadrangle of the old Bank of England is to be torn up to make place for a more modern and comfortable office building. The garden, entirely shut in and filled in summer with bright flowers, is one of London's special sights because it is so difficult to see. Only privileged visitors to the Bank of England are taken into it.

The ancient walls of the bank are famous for the two-foot sentry path on top. A company of foot guards in scarlet uniforms may be seen every night marching down the embankment of the Thames from Wellington Barracks to the Bank of England, to stand guard through the dark hours over the treasures of gold.

The picturesque armed sentinels pace back and forward on the top of the wall surrounding the bank, on a footpath so narrow that a single misstep would throw the guard down 60 feet to the pavement. The old walls will remain to surround the new bank building.

Girlhood Days Furnish Theme Of Sisters-In-Law

Two silver-headed sister-in-laws talked far into the night Thursday night, and lived again those days when they were both young girls, and later young matrons with their children growing up around their knees. They were Mrs. T. B. Tharpe of Ranger, and Mrs. Minnie Carson of Denton who yesterday were reunited for the first time in almost twenty-eight years.

Mrs. Carson married Mrs. Tharpe's youngest brother, James Lane, who died in Fort Worth a number of years ago, and later married Mr. Carson, Mrs. Carson's maiden name was Minnie Crucifix. She lived for a number of years at Pilot Point but more recently has been living in Denton and it was from that city that she came yesterday to visit the sister of the husband of her youth.

Twenty-eight years ago Mrs. Carson visited the Tharpes in Paris, Tenn., that was before they had felt the call of the Lone Star state, she coming from Fort Worth, Texas, to a visit to her husband's family. They were both comparatively

The VANITY CASE

© 1926 by G. P. PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Mysterious lights flash one night from the Heath household and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog over the murder of Myra Heath and the disappearance of her husband, Perry.

House guests of the Heaths are Lawrence Inman, heir to Myra's fortune, and beautiful Bunny Moore, to whom suspicion points because of her queer actions.

Myra Heath never used cosmetics, yet when her body was found she was heavily rouged. A rare old bottle from her collection of glass had been used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by Sam Anderson, Heath's rival for the club presidency; Al Cunningham, who is trying to solve the crime, and others.

Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Heath, saying Inman is the murderer. Inman confides to Todhunter Buck, who is in love with Bunny, that he saw her ascending the stairs after the murder. One of the Heath servants says the same thing.

Cunningham goes to Anderson's house, and there, while waiting for his host, is suddenly confronted by Perry Heath, who then vanishes in the darkness. Anderson arrives soon after an upbraids Cunningham for letting Heath get away.

Todhunter Buck, puzzling as to the best way to clear Bunny, is sitting in the dark when Bunny slips out of the house of his aunt, where she is now a guest, and joins a man at the edge of a wood. Buck doesn't recognize him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Buck was still as death, ruminating on what he had heard. He was almost sure Bunny said "putty," but that seemed absurd, and, he thought, she might have said "pretty" or "party."

But now their voices had sunk much lower, they talked on, but with more care lest they be overheard. Tod became cramped and cold, waiting, as he crouched behind a tree.

Also he became disgusted with himself True, he had come from pure motives, but he couldn't think it right to continue to spy on Bunny and her lover, as he had now concluded the man must be.

Then suddenly Bunny's voice rang out:

"I don't believe it! They'd never take me! They'd never convict me! It wouldn't be possible!"

Not a word of the man's speech could Tod detect, but next Bunny said:

"Yes, it is all Emma's fault. I knew Emma would tell! Oh, why did I do it? I am a wicked girl!"

Then, it was evident the man tried to soothe her, to comfort her, but Tod turned away, sick at heart.

Whoever the man was, he was talking about the murder. And Bunny had said she did it. And said Emma had told—oh, well, there was small room for doubt now.

Buck began carefully to retrace his steps, and go back home, when he heard the others rise and start homewards also.

"You'll catch cold, dear," the man said, solicitously. "Why didn't you wear a wrap?"

"I'm not cold," Bunny said, walking by his side. "But I wish I knew what to do. You haven't helped me a bit—"

"Oh, yes I have. I've showed you how to save your own neck—and, unless you look sharp, you'll have that to do. I'm sorry, dear, you have such a hard task ahead of you—I wish I could help you—openly. But I can't. The only thing I can do is to advise you; and Bunny, you must, you must follow my advice."

"I will," she said, humbly, now, and the two walked on, passing within a few feet of Buck as he stood, motionless, and watched them go by.

The man, he could see him better now, was of medium height, medium weight, and with no distinguishing peculiarity of gait or bearing.

It seemed to Tod that he might or might not have seen him before, it was a figure not easy to identify, unless more clearly seen.

Yet he cared little who the man might be. He was so cast down by the self-evident fact that he was an intimate friend of Bunny's that it made small difference what his name was.

After a few more steps Bunny evidently forbade the man to go further with her on her homeward way, and with obvious reluctance the man paused and stood watching her as she went on alone.

Dear little Bunny; she stepped out bravely and Tod fairly yearned to run after her and go on by her side. He was not at all sure she would welcome such an attention, and also, because some instinct told him to follow the man. To track him down and find out who he was and what he was up to.

At first indifferent, Tod felt a growing impulse to trail him home or wherever he was bound for. So, knowing Bunny could get in at the unlocked door of his aunt's house, Buck stayed behind and waited on the movements of the other.

He realized that Bunny might lock him out, but there were back windows and low verandah roofs that had before this afforded him a belated ingress.

So, as the strange man began slowly to walk away, Buck followed him, silently and steadily.

Now and then Toddy feared he stepped too audibly on a twig or stone, but the other did not look round, and the stealthy, silent chase continued.

Until suddenly, as a unavoidable misstep, Buck stumbled, and the other turned about sharply.

They were out of the wood shadows now and Toddy saw to his amazement that the man was Perry Heath!

He nearly fell over in astonishment, but not pausing to think about it, he continued pursuit, expecting every minute he would be told to halt.

But no, Heath went straight ahead, and aroused to excitement by the spirit of the chase, Buck stolidly followed.

He was not quite sure whether or not Heath had seen him, or if so, had recognized him, but he truged along, not quite so careful now to walk unheard.

For he planned an interview with the man he was pursuing. He was only waiting for a few moments more to think what he should say to him, and then he meant to overtake him with a few long strides and make him give an account of himself. A man cannot disappear from the scene of a tragedy and then secretly reappear and be seen by a good and honest citizen without being called to account.

So, Heath kept on, and then, thinking the time ripe, prepared for his onslaught.

They were near another, smaller piece of woods now, and, even as Tod made up his mind to call out, Heath—if it was he—turned with a quick jerk, plunged into the wood, and in a few seconds was lost to view.

Tod raced after him, but the wood was full of undergrowth and fallen trees. There were roots and branches all over the ground, and, after a few stumbling steps, Buck realized he could never catch his quarry.

With a muttered bad word he stood a moment, and then seeing its utter hopelessness, gave up the chase and went home.

The front door was still unlocked, and not knowing for certain that Bunny had come in, he left it unlocked and went up to his room.

There he sat, for several hours, mulling over the matter, and when at last he turned in, a few uneasy naps was all the sleep he could command.

CALUMET THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

There isn't an ingredient used in baking that is as vital to success as baking powder. Remember, one spoonful of an inferior leavener can ruin a dollar's worth of other ingredients.

You save when you buy Calumet because the pound can contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans.

You save when you use it because it goes farther than many other brands—lasts longer—makes more and better bakings.

Teal Hits Back At Chaplin On Playing Record

To the Editor,
Ranger Times,
Dear Sir:

In reply to Mr. Chaplin's letter in the Ranger Times of Sept. 2nd, will say that it may be a miracle, and he may have the winning team, but in that event it will be the first time that the South Side has ever won anything. And another thing to which I wish to call attention, is the fact that the ball park is located on the north side, and if they should win, they will need our park to do so.

As manager of the high class baseball players, representing the North Side, and notwithstanding the mud-slinging that seems to be starting from the South Side camp, I will state that I wish to have the game clean and above board, and therefore have been assured that the City Commission will have a entire day and night police force at the game.

Far be it from me to call attention to any one's baseball career, or lack of same, but I only wish to say that the publication quoted by the South Side manager as evidence of his baseball record in 1884, page 47, was not issued until 1885, and the first issue had only 19 pages, including both covers. This has been found out by a committee of my baseball advisors. In reference to his so-called strike record, will say that I feel that was secured with a mail on the building of the railroad.

Modesty forbids my saying what a baseball player I have been and am still for that matter. I will just say, however, that when I was in the big leagues, serious consideration was given to installing asbestos paths between the bases, on account of my being so fast on the bases. I can easily see why the manager of the South Side team, does not say anything about his baseball career during the time that I was in the game, because during the time I was in the big leagues, the name of "Teal" was mentioned first and foremost whenever batting, fielding, or baseball was talked of. However, I expect to wear just a few (about 20 or 30) of the medals that I have won in my baseball career, and challenge Mr. Chaplin to wear the medals, if any, that he won when he was supposed to be a star of the diamond.

And in answer to his wager about retiring from the game if he beats us, just to show him what a sport I am, I will say that if his team beats us by a half run, I will retire from baseball for all time. However, I want every supporter of the North Side to be out in full force. We have a good team, a good captain, and even a good manager, and we want a good crowd for the game is for a worthy cause. Let's all turn out and help the "Pep Squad" to secure uniforms.

While we beat the Southsiders on the diamond, let's beat them in turning out for the game, as I expect to ask all Northsiders to hold up their hands, and we want to have more fans from our side, than from the South Side.

Yours truly,
RAYMOND TEAL,
Manager,
North Side Team.

Wonderful Loving Cup Is Donated For Best Attendance

Report is that a cup will be given by a prominent citizen to the manager that has the greatest number of fans at the game Monday. In other words, if when a show of hands are called for, the North Side outnumber the South Side, Manager Teal will be given the cup, but should Manager Chaplin have more people from the South Side present, he will get the beautiful emblem.

Quite a lot of interest is being shown on both sides of town since it was found out that a gift will be given under the conditions, as each team and followers want their manager to win the cup.

Both teams are composed of high class ball players, men who have been playing all summer in the local city league, and both clubs are evenly matched. In view of the close game expected, the prize offered to the managers, and the most worthy object that the game is being played for, to buy costumes for the high school pep squad, and also that Leo Underwood and his high school band will render good music before and during game, it is expected that the largest crowd of the year will be present at Monday's game, which will start at 3 p. m.

A Chicago man who was poisoned by bad booze in Canada might as well have stayed at home.

Salesmen And Legion Teams To Play Saturday

The American Legion team, which has won six games and lost two in the last half of the Business Men's League of Ranger, will play a run-off game with the Salesmen Saturday afternoon at 5:30 at the Nitro Park. Mineral Wells Golfers to Be Here on Sunday

Mineral Wells Country club golf team has phoned Dr. Harry A. Logsdon that they will be in Ranger Sunday with 10 or 12 men, ready for a spirited game of golf. They expect to arrive by 2 o'clock and are ready to participate in the tournament. Dr. Logsdon wants the Ranger golfers who are going to play against this aggregation of good players to get out to the links this afternoon and Saturday and practice so that Ranger Country club may carry off the honors of the tournament this time.

The Ranger golfers met defeat at the hands of the Eastland Country clubbers last Sunday and defeat from the Mineral Wells continent three weeks ago, so it's up to them to bring home the bacon, or rather keep it at home, on this occasion.

The men met death calmly. They nodded to acquaintances among the witnesses, as one by one they marched into the death chamber and the hood was adjusted.

Dempsey's Nose Will Be No Target For Tunney's Fist

By LINCOLN QUARBERG
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—Jack Dempsey's nose, which was re-built and beautified by a plastic surgeon shortly after his last championship battle, will be no target for Gene Tunney, in the opinion of Dr. William E. Balsinger, who performed the operation.

"Dempsey has a punchproof nose—it is 25 per cent tougher than the one he had when he fought Willard and Firpo," the nasal sculptor declared today in an interview.

"If Tunney plans to annoy or hurt the champion by hammering away at his nose, he will be wasting his punches."

Dr. Balsinger resented a recent statement of Dr. Peoria, noted Viennese surgeon, who advocated a special type of nose, invented by him self, for Dempsey. The Viennese surgeon said Dempsey's "paraffine" nose might cause him to lose his next fight, and recommended that it be reinforced by pieces of ivory and silver plates.

"Dempsey's new nose is not made of paraffine," said the local plastician, who has revamped the faces of scores of well-known fighters and movie stars.

"It is constructed of fibro-elastic cartilage, taken from behind the left ear. This cartilage was resilient and tough, and readily assimilated with that in the nose, strengthening it at least 25 per cent.

"Dr. Peoria is a generation behind in his nasal and plastic science. Ivory and silver noses, like paraffine, are of a past era in facial surgery.

"The champion can take a punch on the nose better today than at any time in his career. When Tunney meets Dempsey he will do well to aim his punches at some other part of the champion's anatomy than the nose."

Dempsey's synthetic nose is of Grecian design, and has been copied by many battered fighters, past and present. Jack Kearns, the title-holder's former manager, is one of many who submitted to Dr. Balsinger's scalpel for a nose "like Dempsey's."

Rumors Verified; Managers Would Bring in Ringers

Rumors were verified Thursday evening that both managers, northsiders and southsiders, were trying to bring in ringers for pitchers in the Labor Day game.

It was currently rumored last night that Manager Teal was negotiating for a pitcher that made Babe Ruth look sick and fanned out the Bambino every time he came to the bat. Because his having a bone in his arm and two in his leg, with the fact that there are few catchers that can hold his delivery, he is barred from the big top but is allowed to play in the Hay League. This pitcher, that Teal is trying to land, and may land, chunks a curly-cule ball. It's a ball that floats through the air, and when it reaches the middle, between the box and plate, makes a complete curve and lands force and drops at the plate. It is so bewildering the batter usually strikes at the ball before it reaches the plate. Manager Chaplin, it was learned, is after a pitcher from the Straw League, that uses his corner ball, along with his slopper-gooster.

Everybody knows about the corner ball, it can't be hit. The slopper-gooster is a combination corner and boomerang ball. When he uses the slopper-gooster, there is no need for a catcher. The slopper-gooster, cuts the curly-cule and then does the boomerang stunt. However, it could not be put over, because of the vigilant Gus Coleman.

The managers are expecting their sides of Main street to foam Pop squads and come out en masse to support them. They say they simply won't have any heart to strut their big league stuff unless the bleachers are full, so buy tickets from the pen squad when they approach you Saturday.

Eastland fair, looms large. Secretary George Briggs of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce and Coach Penna, of the Mavericks, were in Ranger yesterday conferring with Secretary C. C. Patterson and Coach Cherry in regard to the game and it seems very likely that a date can be arranged.

Perhaps a man in Chicago who shot two train porters wanted to carry his own bags.

WEST TEXAS HISTORICAL SOCIETY INAUGURATES DRIVE TO INCREASE MEMBERSHIP

The purpose of the West Texas Historical Association is to promote the study of West Texas history, to collect and preserve western traditions, and to mark historical spots and trails that have been intimately associated with early western development.

At present an attempt is being made to increase the membership and to make it representative of the territory embraced. A fee of three dollars, which pays for the yearbook and the actual running expenses of the association, is charged. The work of the association should appeal to all pioneers, students and teachers of history.

The officers of the association are: President, Judge R. C. Crane of Sweetwater; vice presidents, C. U. Connelley, Eastland, J. N. Radford, Abilene; Dr. John C. Cranberry of Lubbock, and D. N. Arnett, Colorado.

The secretary is Dr. C. C. Rister of Abilene and the treasurer is Mrs. J. McAlister Stephenson of Abilene. The executive committee is composed of Clifford P. Jones of Cope, Judge Fred Cockerell of Abilene, and Mrs. L. D. Alexander of Cisco. The membership committee is composed of John R. Hutto of Abilene; Miss Hybernia Grace of Anson; Dr. H. B. Tanner of Eastland; Mrs. Dallas Scarborough of Abilene; Mrs. Ula Brockman of Breckenridge and Mrs.

Starkey Duncan of Stamford. Year Book Off

Volume two of the West Texas Historical Association Year Book is just off the press. It is a neat bulletin of 96 pages devoted to West Texas history. The publication committee consists of Judge R. C. Crane, Sweetwater; Dr. C. C. Rister, Simmons University; Prof. W. C. Holden, McMurry College; Prof. L. C. Nennamer, Abilene Christian College, and Prof. Rupert N. Richardson, Simmons University.

The historical data of the bulletin are valuable and make very interesting reading. Major Jacob Howarth of Blackburne Lane, England, for four and a half years stationed at Ft. Griffin as a United States soldier, has a paper which relates many interesting experiences. Prof. W. C. Holden contributes a very interesting paper on the Buffalo which indicates the important place that almost extinct animal played in frontier life commercially; Dr. C. C. Rister has a collection of instructive papers, letters and newspaper clippings which relate to early Indian depredations on the western frontier. Prof. W. A. Stephenson's paper on Spanish explorations and settlements show how the Spaniards were pioneers in ex-

40 Candidates For Jobs on Team Of Eastland Hi

More than 40 candidates will try for places on the Eastland High school football team, according to Coach Dave Pena. Twenty-seven of these were present at the first workout Thursday afternoon at Connelley park.

With the exception of tomorrow afternoon, when the boys will have a half day off, those trying for positions on the team will be expected to workout each afternoon.

Coach Pena stated today that only one game of football has been arranged, so far, for the Central West Texas fair, but that other games would be arranged. The game that has been decided upon is to be one to be played between the second strings of the Ranger and Eastland High schools, and will be played at night on Thursday of fair week.

Lehay Indicted For Murder Of Doctor Ramsey

BEEVILLE, Texas, Sept. 3.—Harry J. Lehay has been indicted in Live Oak county on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Dr. J. A. Ramsey, District Judge T. M. Cox revealed here today.

Senator McKinley's Condition Shows Improvement

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 3.—United States Senator William B. McKinley of Illinois, who has been hovering near death for three days at a sanitarium here rallied early today, and his condition was regarded as favorable by his physician Dr. R. H. Egbert.

McKinley, who early last evening suffered delirium regained consciousness during the night and was resting easily this morning. The senator was weaker today, according to his physician, Dr. R. H. Egbert. The senator was delirious through the night, and dropped off into a restless sleep this morning.

Work on Scranton New Brick School House Held Up

Their plans for the erection of a modern brick school building have been indefinitely held up by court action, citizens of Scranton plan to build a four-room frame building to accommodate the school children of that town and community until such time as the matters pertaining to the proposed new brick building can be adjusted and the structure completed.

Pioneers
The fact that our own pioneers are the real makers of our history is not overlooked in the paper of Frank Grimes when he sketches the activities of three prominent men; the late Col. Morgan Jones, Judge K. K. Leggett, and Col. W. C. Merchant. The last paper, a review of the Abilene meeting of this year, with special emphasis on Judge Fred Cockerell's address on "Law and Order on the Frontier," is by John R. Hutto.

Special attention is called to the Stamford meeting for 1927, when the membership should be at least doubled and the aims of the association brought before the people so as to challenge their attention and cooperation.

Driskill Wants Armor Plate To Visit His Chicks

O. S. Driskill of Ranger raises Biblical hens. They carry out to the letter "If your brother smiteth thee on the left cheek turn to him the right," for not long ago, a biddy who was broody over a nest full of choice eggs, gave Mr. Driskill a scratch the entire length of his right cheek, and today another biddy of broody habits gave him a dead ringer for it on the left cheek.

Mr. Driskill says that as soon as the Business Men's League is over, he wants to buy from some of the team a face mask and breast plate so that when he calls on his "old hens" he may be prepared to take what they sent without bearing any visible marks—which naturally are embarrassing for a married man to explain.

It was a very noiseless convention that was held in Washington the other day when members of the National Association of the Deaf convened. The delegates were sorry Mrs. Coolidge wasn't in town—they wanted to talk to her. She used to teach in a school for the deaf and dumb.

Texas Egg Basket Is Well Advertised At Teh Sesqui

Exhibits for the Dallas fair for "the egg basket of Texas" are being planned almost daily by Secretary C. C. Patterson, who was yesterday checking up exhibits with the Eastland secretary so that there may be no duplicates. The Ranger Chamber of Commerce has sent literature about Ranger to the Eastland county exhibit at the sesqui-centennial at Philadelphia, as well as sent out a number of booklets to other towns. A number of inquiries regarding Ranger have been received since the centennial started, and some are attributable to that, and others to the fact that Ranger is a member of the Automobile Association of America.

Secretary Patterson keeps a large supply of information on Ranger on hand for travelers at all times which he gladly gives to those wishing to scatter facts about the home town, and also furnishes Ranger stickers for automobiles of Ranger people who are going a traveling.

Forgery Suspect Gains Release From County Jail

A man held in the county jail at Eastland as a suspect on charges of forgery when checks for substantial amounts were recently cashed in Cisco, were declared by the parties who cashed the checks to not be the man for whom they cashed them, after seeing the man being held in jail.

The checks which furnish the basis for a charge of forgery are those of an oil company and are on printed forms, carefully marked with a check protector. The oil company, however, declares that the forms on which the checks are drawn are forms that have been discarded by them and that they are forgeries.

CHEW DOG'S TAIL—AND ENTER MOVIES

There's a new way to get into the movies!
 There's a little chap playing in "Senor Daredevil," at the Liberty Theatre Saturday, who can tell you what it is. It worked for him anyway, and that is more than can be said nowadays for a good many dodges, including the one about winning the beauty contest in Hometown or coming to Hollywood because all the folks at home said that you were a "panie" and ought to be in the movies.

Little Buck Black, who plays the Irish lad in "Senor Daredevil," which is a Charles R. Rogers production, directed by Al Rogell, told his first fasting director that he, Buck, didn't know if he could act or not—but he could chew a dog's tail! They took him at his word and gave him the chance—but he called their bluff, to—and did it! And he's been working in the movies ever since that day —not so long ago, for Buck is only ten.

In "Senor Daredevil," which is a First National picture, little Buck has the part of Pat Muldoon, the Irish youngster who accompanies Ken Maynard, as the "Senor," through most of the exciting sequences of the picture—and there are plenty of them.

When "The Cracker Jack," with Johnny Hines in the stellar role comes to the Lamb Theatre today and Saturday, patrons will be able to obtain a good idea of what the famed winter resort, Miami, Florida, looks like.

Johnny and his complete cast, which included Henry West, J. Barney Sherry, Bradley Baker and Horace Haines, spent over a month and a half in this locale to secure the exterior sequences for this much-heralded production. Included in the scenes the theatre-goer will be able to view the famed Silver Slipper Cafe with its equally well-known Vincent Lopez orchestra supplying the music for the throngs of tourists who flock there. The Carlo Gables Country Club is also prominently shown as is the gorgeous Deering Estate and the Local Masonic Temple, the architecture of which is completely Egyptian. Each of these well known places were used in "The Cracker Jack" as background for the rollicking action of the story, in which Hines, cast as Tommy Perkins, a live-wire college boy, brings fame and fortune to his uncle's pickle products.

Virginia Lady Tells of Taking Cardui and Says She Has Since Recovered Perfect Health.

Lynchburg, Va.—"I have taken Cardui several times for a run-down condition and have found it perfectly splendid," says Mrs. Lee T. Marsh, 715 First Street, this city.

"About ten years ago," she explains, "I became so weak I could not go about. I looked like a skeleton and . . . was dreadfully worried about my life. A friend suggested Cardui and I decided to try it."

"I kept up the medicine until I had taken six bottles. It regulated and built me up. I improved greatly."

"Last year we drove up here through the country from Florida. I was exposed to the weather and must have taken cold, for I became ill . . . I got run-down, lost flesh, . . . could not sleep and had no appetite at all. I was so nervous that I did not know what to do."

"I thought of Cardui. I began to take it regularly and it was not long before I began to feel better. I took six bottles, one after another, and at the finish of the last one I was perfectly well again. Since then I have continued gaining in weight and all winter have been in perfect health."

Defeated Riffian Leader Reviews Cause of Revolt

By United Press.
PARIS, Sept. 3.—Abd-El-Krim, defeated Riffian leader now en route to life exile on the lonely Reunion Island off the African coast, declared in a final interview before leaving Morocco that he believed the Spanish forces would never conquer the Riff.

The interview with the United Press correspondent at Blanca, Morocco, was mailed to the Paris office of the United Press due to censorship, and received in Paris today. It follows:

Why War Started
"I started the war in the Riff because the French were advancing to occupy the territory of the Beni-Zerual tribe," Abd-El-Krim told the United Press on the eve of beginning his voyage of exile to Reunion Island.

"If I had permitted the advance, it would have brought revolution in the Riff and I would have been deposed."

"In March, 1925, my brother, Mohammed, was at the Ohe-Chouen, where he learned of the French plan. The tribes demanded my aid. The Beni-Zerual chieftain, Ali Ben Abd Esselem came to see me at Adjix, and explained the situation. The man returned to his tribe and started the Holy War."

Plans Outlined
"Thereafter, I was no longer master of the situation."
Telling of his campaign in which he held out against European forces of overwhelming odds, he said that he "certainly intended to capture

Fez, but intended to remain only for a few days for the moral effect of the move.

Krim denied the persistent reports that he received aid from abroad in the campaign, "except from medical supplies from Italy and England."

"The Moslem of Egypt promised 30,000 pounds, but it was never received," he said. "The French newspapers talked of numerous foreigners visiting me. The only persons who came were a couple of journalists and two Italian deputies of whom one, a Communist, wanted to sell me airplanes."

Krim said that it was due to his brothers advice that he refused to accept generous peace conditions offered by the French before the Oudja conference.

exile stoically and expressed profound gratitude to Commander Steeg of the French forces, who, on his surrender, had received him with military honors and had treated him as an enemy worth respect.

"The Spaniards will never conquer the Riff," he declared. "They have sown the seeds of everlasting hatred by bombardments of villages and the use of poison gas."

Housewright Finds Traveling Hard On Road to Capital

W. W. Housewright of Ranger, has returned from an automobile trip to Austin, during which he encountered bad roads coming and going, having a log that can equal any autoist report of troubles encountered. He says it will be a fine thing for Eastland county folks when the direct route to Austin, which was designated some months ago, is started and completed, for no matter how urgent the need to be in the capital is, one can't hurry over the present roads.

Julianna Shop Stock Will Be Put On Sale Saturday

The S. & S. Store of Ranger, will put on sale Saturday the Julianna Shop stock of ladies' ready-to-wear, which they recently bought from the referee in bankruptcy. This stock includes many handsome dresses, coats, coat suits and novelties formerly carried by that exclusive shop and the prices at which they will be offered will be much lower than they could have been bought a few weeks ago.

I am again connected with the Oil-belt Motor Company of Ranger, Eastland and Breckenridge and am located at Eastland, my home, where I will be pleased to meet my old friends and make the acquaintance of others.

Ranger Lions Move Back to Gholson For Luncheons

Ranger Lions have moved back to the Gholson after an absence of a number of months and had their first luncheon there yesterday. All the members expressed appreciation of the nice luncheon served and seemed glad to be "back home."

It was a busy meeting. The club is going to stand right behind the High school athletic program this year and voted to appoint a committee of five to be known as the athletic committee, to work with the schools in their athletic work and to help in any way possible.

That the Labor day ball game is exciting a great deal of interest was brought out at this meeting and the Lions were asked to attend the game and help in such a worthy cause as buying uniforms for the pep squad. President Ringold made a few remarks about the Business Men's league and asked that the Lions attend the remaining game.

Steve Lillard Jr., of the park committee, handed out 10 tickets to various members and requested them to sell them, so that the park board may begin to have some funds with which to carry on their work of improving Nitro athletic park. These tickets are for season tickets for the conference games to be played at Ranger during the football season.

Professor Forrest of Thurber was present and he and Professor Holloway made short talks on the work of the Lions, and on the Junior college progress.

Carl H. Mueller, of Fort Worth, and a representative of the West Texas coaches also was a guest at the meeting, which was attended by about 25 Ranger Lions.
