TROUSERS BECOMING BOTH VOLUMINOUS AND GAUDY

LONDON, May 20.—So blooming voluminous have London styles in men's trousers become that they are now known everywhere as "bags."

THOMASON-CARTER'S LANGFORD NO. 2 FLOWING 2,160 BARRELS DAILY AT TOP OF THE SAND

Parties returning from the Langford No. 2 well just before noon today reported that it was making 105 barrels an hour, or 2,520 barrels daily, indicating that the production was gradually increasing and the well might develop as great a flow as the Pritchard No. 1, which came in several weeks ago.

Thomason-Carter's Langford No. 2, located about 7 1/2 miles northwest of Ranger blew in this morning about 2 o'clock for an estimated 90 barrels per hour or 2,160 barrels a day, and the tools yet in the well. Two hours after the drill had touched the sand for the initial flow, the United Producers company had the well under control and was pumping oil away from it through its lines.

The Gauge on the well is registering about 90 barrels per hour, according to an official of the United Producers company. The oil is the same high test gravity that is flowing from Pritchard No. 1, and the Langford No. 1, 40.6 degrees Baume gravity, for which the top price on crude oil today is being paid.

Pay sand was struck at about 3,550 feet. Deeper drilling is contemplated, it is said, which is expected to increase production materially as was the case with the Barkley well, Pritchard No. 1, about one-third mile distant, producing around 3,000 barrels of oil daily.

Bringing in of the Langford No. 2 for a producer and a good one at that, definitely assures the operators a good pay structure in that territory. The well was being watched carefully, not only by operators having acreage in the territory, but by men representing big capital, who are in Ranger today studying the possibilities of the field.

With the Langford No. 2 drilled in as a good producing well, a definite pay structure is now determining, extending in a southerly direction from the Langford No. 1 of Thomason-Carter, the kind of structure existing in that territory is not known positively. The formation is soft and easy to penetrate with the bit which leads to the conclusion that it is a sand and not a sand limestone exists in that part of the country, but the formation struck in the three producing wells leads to the belief that it is a soft moist sand that will open up a new pay for Ranger Territory.

Depths of the wells vary. The Langford No. 1 was drilled in at 3,766 feet and is now 16 feet in the sand. The Pritchard No. 1 was drilled in at 3,584 and is about 7 feet in the sand. The Langford No. 2 was drilled in at 3,550 feet with the tools on top of the sand.

Frank Noel was indicted in connection with the slaying of Adkins and the attack on Mrs. Mary Steer and for the murder of Milstead and assault of Mrs. Mabel Berry, April 25. Lorenzo was billed in connection with Adkins' killing.

Wrist Watch of Victim Found In Home of Negro

DALLAS, May 20.—Additional evidence which officers say link Frank and Lorenzo Noel, negroes, with a series of robberies, was in the hands of officers today. Discovery of a wrist watch stolen from Miss Mary Steer, the night she was assaulted and her companion beaten to death, was made at the home of the parents of the suspects during the night. District Attorney Cox said the watch was given the family by the wife of Lorenzo Noel, who is held here with his brother, Frank.

"The Texas & Pacific," he explained, "has brought its roadway and rolling stock to a high degree of efficiency in rendering service to West Texas. Ninety-pound rail has been laid 130 miles, and a program which will be completed by the end of 1926, will see more than 522 miles of this new rail. BIBLE THOUGHT.
 The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe.—Proverbs 18:10.

A SHINING EXAMPLE.
 It may surprise a good many law-abiding and law-obeying Americans to know that liquor is openly sold and served on several of the United States shipping board steamers, as well as privately owned vessels. Percival P. Baxter, former governor of Maine, who just returned from a trip to South America, says:
 "I had reason to believe that the United States government-owned shipping board ship would be dry but instead of that she was wet. Not only was the bar open and liquor sold and purchased in regular fashion, but passengers also brought their own liquor stores on board, these being cared for by the stewards and served by them in the smoking room and at the table in the dining room. Liquor was sold from open bars on all three ships, the passengers paying for their drinks either in cash or by signing bar checks or 'chits' on official steamer cards just as is done today on British ships in the South American trade. On the afternoon we sailed from New York on an American steamer, the ship's bar was opened for the voyage. Liquor was abundant."

Under such circumstances the prosecution of four or five sailors on a naval vessel for having a few quarts of "hootch," seems to be a farce. When the example is set "higher up" there's a reasonable excuse for the "scowflaw."

SOMETHING TO CONSIDER.
 Before mailing your orders out of town just stop a moment to seriously consider a few points.

First—The citizens of this town make every effort to secure industries—primarily to give employment to our people but principally because it brings money into the town from outside sources.
 Second—This employment and circulation of money enhances the value of real estate, builds our churches and schools, improves streets and public utilities, supports our public institutions, and makes the town a desirable place of residence.
 Third—Every dollar brought into the town in this manner adds to the wealth, comfort and happiness of every man in the town. Before mailing that order out of town remember that every dollar thus spent is gone forever.
 Remember, your neighbor will take better care of you than a stranger because it is to his interest to do so. His future depends on holding your confidence and friendship—and his right here to make good any mistakes.
 By spending your money at home you help our merchants, our industries, our institutions, and you help yourself by making greater and better opportunities for your children. The dollar you spend at home circulates at home—spending it away from home is bidding it good bye and practically nullifies all efforts to build up the town. While one group of loyal citizens are trying to get business and money for the town you are doing the opposite.
 Don't mail that order until you have considered these things—and if you are a loyal boosting citizen you won't mail it at all.

And now the conservatives of England have introduced a measure providing for pensions to widows, orphans and persons between the ages of 65 and 70. It is patterned after the 50-year-old German plan and will probably be adopted.

YOUNG ARTIST ON HIKE TO THE PACIFIC COASTS

AMARILLO, May 20.—Not many boys would scorn a ticket and a ride "on the cushions" to California, but that was the decision of J. C. Heyser, 18-year-old Amarillian.
 Heyser left here last week afoot for California. He plans to make traveling expenses by sale of painting and drawing sketches. The young artist said he wished to see the country slowly and get color for his work.

CISCO LOBOES PLAY EASTLAND AGAIN FRIDAY

Cisco Loboes meet Eastland in a final game at Eastland Friday afternoon. This game is the result of a surprising combination of circumstances that has changed Cisco's position from that of sectional champions ready to enter the state's final series to a team battling for its very life in order to remain in the running. Cisco defeated Eastland 16 to 1 in a game earlier in the season. Then the Loboes played through a heavy schedule remaining undefeated and laid claim to the state title. Eastland was not considered a contender even by the Mavericks' most loyal followers. However, Coach Vernon was working his team hard and the boys made phenomenal progress. Cisco had a series scheduled with Waxahachie to determine the state title and sought a light practice game with Eastland last Monday. The Loboes entered the game flush with past victories and chock full of over-confidence. Instead of an easy win, they were dumb-founded by receiving a 3 to 2 defeat from a rejuvenated Eastland team.

A game was scheduled at Cisco Tuesday and the Loboes barely got a 10 to 10 tie in 12 innings. Eastland played the best variety of baseball and at one time had Cisco behind 7 to 0. At no time did Cisco take the lead. The game was called at the end of the Mavericks' most loyal followers. However, Coach Vernon was working his team hard and the boys made phenomenal progress. Cisco had a series scheduled with Waxahachie to determine the state title and sought a light practice game with Eastland last Monday. The Loboes entered the game flush with past victories and chock full of over-confidence. Instead of an easy win, they were dumb-founded by receiving a 3 to 2 defeat from a rejuvenated Eastland team.

Cisco has not been eliminated by an oil belt team for four years. Rivalry is naturally intense and for this game interest is seething. If Eastland wins, the Mavericks will be eligible to compete for the coveted title. A record-breaking crowd is expected at Connellee park to see one of the most savagely contested games ever played in Eastland. The Eastland Mavericks and the Cisco Loboes played a tie game on the latter's ground Tuesday afternoon, the score being 11 to 11, in the twelfth inning. The game was called on account of darkness. This game followed the one played here last Friday by the two teams in which the Mavericks gave the Loboes a drubbing. They will meet again here Friday afternoon.

In the game Tuesday the Mavericks outfielded the Loboes, but the Loboes had the best of the hitting. In the fifth inning the game stood 7 to 0 for Eastland. The last two innings were also scoreless.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Billy Evans Says

DOUBLE PLAYS

DOUBLE plays were a prominent factor in the winning of a pennant by Washington.

Double plays helped Washington to a world championship.

It is just possible that the ability to successfully complete a majority of two-play killings will make the Chicago White Sox a troublesome club to beat this year.

More ball games are lost through failure to complete possible double plays during the season than through any other error of commission, says Manager Eddie Collins of Chicago.

Just failing to get the second out by a matter of inches invariably means the difference between victory and defeat.

I second all that Eddie Collins has said about the value of the double play.

The White Sox manager has impressed the importance of this feature of play on his club. As a result the summary usually contains a couple of such plays by Collins & Co.

Under Collins, the White Sox are playing spappy, smart baseball. Unquestionably the club has a good defense. Its offense and pitching are yet to be determined.

THE UNEXPECTED

THE importance attached to backing up a play in baseball is only apparent when the execution of same is faulty.

Little thought is given the catcher as he backs up, first base for a probable overthrow on the part of some infielder if it is accurate.

It is when he fails to back up and the play goes wrong, enabling the runner to take an extra base that the fans realize the player has slipped up on one of the fundamentals of the game.

When the piteer on a throw from the outfield to the plate backs up the catcher no thought is given the act if the throw is accurate and the ball is properly handled.

It is when the throw takes a bad bound or is wide of the plate and goes on to the grandstand because the pitcher has failed to play proper baseball that the importance of the move is made manifest.

Recently in a game at Chicago I saw an unusual play that brought to my attention all the more forcibly the value of backing up on, every play.

The ball went right through Wingo's hands, but to the amazement of the crowd, it was caught by Manush, Wingo getting an assist on what was really an error.

It was proper baseball on Manush's part. It proved that it pays to back up, even though a great majority of the time, no apparent good results.

THURBER PLAYS AT NITRO PARK, RANGER, SUNDAY

Special Correspondence. THURBER, May 20.—The Thurber baseball club will play the Ranger Magnolias at Ranger next Sunday. These clubs have played four games this season and each has won two and lost two. As they are now tied up both clubs are anxious to win the next game. Thurber has a better showing than Ranger as they have won all games since they last played them, whereas the Magnolias have not been so fortunate as they have lost two in a row to the same teams that Thurber has played and defeated.

The locals have been informed that Ranger has strengthened their team by the addition of S. Connally and R. Hudspeth, two very fast players. If this is true, Thurber will meet a greatly improved team Sunday, and they will have to play an extra-fast game to beat Ranger's new combination.

A large crowd of Thurber supporters will motor to Ranger Sunday to boost their club to victory.

Summary of four games between Ranger Magnolias and Thurber:

Freshmen Athletes At A. & M. to Have Bender for Coach

Special Correspondence.

COLLEGE STATION, Texas.—Announcement of the employment of John R. Bender, popularly known as "the University of Nebraska's greatest athlete, to direct a super-training program for freshman athletes at the A. & M. college of Texas gives new hopes for the future of intercollegiate competition at the college and means greater opportunities for all freshmen to get the greatest possible attention in their physical training work.

It is the announced plan of the athletic council to have four freshman squads of 25 men each on a full training schedule throughout the year beginning with the opening of fall term. To make this possible J. N. Allison, star end of the Aggie squad will be retained on the will be overlooked and that when they report to Head Coach D. X. Bible at the beginning of their second year they will have been thoroughly seasoned in the fundamental elements of gridiron competition and will be able to take their places and demonstrate their ability early in the season.

After the football season is over Bender will take over the freshman basketball men and will have charge of them until the season is over when he will direct the freshman squad.

John A. Pierce, who has been assisting in freshman coaching for the past two years will not be on the coaching staff next season. He is completing his master's degree in the institution this spring.

(By ROY J. GIBBONS)
NEA Service Writer
CHICAGO—A rattling of a ponderous door. A key turned and the thing swung back on its hinges. Liberty was left behind and I became a prisoner in the same jail, in the same tier and in the next cell to William Darling Shepherd.

NEA Service assigned me to the task so that you could learn by first hand information and under natural conditions just the sort of person this man, Shepherd is. He will go trial on charge of murdering his millionaire ward by inoculating the youth with typhoid germs.

He is under indictment for administering deadly bacilli to young Billy McClintock.

And a coroner's jury has just voted that he and his wife be held for the grand jury for the slaying of Billy's mother.

Avoids Newspapermen.
But since he has been arrested no one has been able to really observe and talk to Shepherd, the man. They saw only Shepherd, the actor. For he is an actor and a consummate one. The history of the fiction he has built up about himself proves that. He has persistently avoided the newspapermen. But Shepherd talked to me as a fellow prisoner.

"You're one of the three out of forty who come here," he said to me, "who are capable of understanding. This jail is the hell of everything. 'They're good to me, but I want to be out and free."

It was just two minutes after the jail guard had searched, weighed and measured me that I saw Shepherd. The same hands that went through my pockets for possible concealed weapons had helped 27 condemned men to the gallows in the same jail, the owner told me. I was down in the bull pen waiting to be put to work. I looked up and there, bulked out against his cell in the first tier, rocked Shepherd in his tilted chair. He was leaning out to better catch the light that fell on his paper. He was reading the day's story about himself topped off in a big black headline. Even from where I stood I could see the veins and muscles on the man's neck and jaw stand out like whipcords. That alone betrayed his anger with the story.

A guard put me to work. I was to sweep out the cell block. By the time I reached Shepherd's cell, he had stopped reading. His face was flushed and the paper had fallen to the floor. He seemed to be dreaming with his large bulbous eyes fastened on the sooty walls.

"May I look at your paper?" I asked him. "I want to see if those reporters wrote up my case."

We started talking. I gave him a magazine.

"You must get lonesome in here," I said.

"Yes," Shepherd replied, "but it will soon be over. I'll go free and the ones who are persecuting me will be sorry."

Then he launched into a bitter tirade against Chief Justice Harry Olson of Chicago's municipal court. Olson is the man primarily responsible for having Shepherd indicted.

"Olson will get his," Shepherd said. "He will be repaid and be sorry."

Erased Lewd Inscriptions.
On one wall of Shepherd's cell, printed in large type, with a pencil, were the words, "God is love." I pointed to the motto.

"Yes," said Shepherd, "those words give me courage. When I came here the walls were covered with vile words. I rubbed them all out and put those up instead.

While talking Shepherd picked up

GIBBONS

Twice someone brought him food. The man has the most prodigious appetite I have ever seen.

And in the evening he started eating again. He buys all his meals outside.

"They have only stews and hashes for the other prisoners," he said.

Finds Limberger Has Kick.
Shepherd eats his evening meal with the guards. I saw him bend over with glee written on his face when they brought in a big bologna sausage about two feet long, a square of butter and a pound of limberger cheese.

Shepherd cracked some jokes about the limberger cheese and fell to it with a relish.

"That stuff has a kick," one of the guards said. "Yes, it'll make a mule out of you," Shepherd said and laughed.

But no one laughed with him. At 9:30 he has a pot of tea and by 11 he is in bed. At this hour all the cells are locked.

I bid goodnight to him just before the final hour. I was in only for a day and he—

"I'll be out by summer and get some of those speckled dandies out in Colorado," he shouted.

Took a Friend's Advice
Houston, Texas—"When I was comparatively a young woman I became comparatively afflicted with woman's trouble and got so I could hardly walk. I had a delicacy in submitting my case to the doctors. Finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I did so, and before I had taken three bottles I was all right. Later on in life I became afflicted with a kind of poison in my blood; for this I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and gradually my blood became pure. I never again had anything like either of these afflictions."—Mrs. D. M. Wilson, 1521 Fulton St. All dealers.

FOLKS SHUDDER AT "BROKEN OUT" FACES
Folks simply can't help showing that pimply, blotchy or rough faces are unpleasant for them to look at, much less associate and become intimate with people who are so careless about their appearance as to let these skin blemishes rule their destiny. DALLAS, May 19.—The dwindling forces of the "Lost Cause" gathered here today in annual convention—a mere handful of the mighty host that went out to battle sixty years ago. Hundreds of veterans were in the city when the session formally got under way at the state fair grounds today. Others were expected to arrive throughout the day and tonight and fully 3,000 veterans will be here by tomorrow, when the main business program will begin.

General James A. Thomas of Dublin, Ga., commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans, arrived Sunday, when he was welcomed to the city by a committee of local veterans.

Approximately 20,000 visitors were expected to be enrolled during the four-day session, according to Herbert Carpenter, convention committee secretary.

Business sessions were arranged for the last three days of the convention and all entertainment features will be centered around the state fair grounds in order that the veterans will not be forced to buffet down town traffic jams. Housing facilities for many of the visitors were available upon and in the neighborhood of the grounds.

Election of officers and selection of a 1926 convention site was scheduled to take place on the closing day of the meeting. A parade of the visitors through the town was arranged for the last day.

Hundreds of automobiles have been recruited for the convention for entertainment of the visitors.

WOMEN WHO "GO ON THEIR NERVES" ARE NOW FINDING RELIEF

"Female Troubles," Found to Be Caused by Dreaded Malady—Catarrh—Are Being Corrected Quickly Now

An eminent writer on medical subjects recently stated that the rate of deaths from nervous causes had increased more than 20 times in the last 60 years and that, in a number of the larger centers of population, one-fourth of all deaths were caused by nervous disorders.

"The underlying cause of most of this nervousness, pain and sickness among women," says the representative of the discoverers of St. Joseph's G. F. P., the phenomenal medicine now being introduced with such startling success to the women and girls of this country.

Thousands of weak and nervous women are now having new hopes and ambitions aroused in their breasts by the very surprising and sudden results which are invariably coming with the use of the phenomenal medicine, known as St. Joseph's G. F. P.

Face of Mountain Blasted Off to Make Way for Scenic Motor Road Along Coast Near Los Angeles

Tunnels Cut Into Steep Sides of Rock and Filled With Black Blasting Powder

THE scenic beauty of the coast of California compares favorably with any coast of the United States, and in order that motorists may enjoy the pleasures of a tour along the water front, the California Highway Commission is building roads, which skirt the shore in some almost inaccessible places.

BLASTED MATERIAL REMOVED BY STEAM SHOVEL

Ventura Coast from Oxnard" in Ventura County about fifty miles west of Los Angeles to San Juan Capistrano about fifty miles south-east of Los Angeles.

One of the most difficult sections of this highway is between Oxnard and Santa Monica where the Santa Monica mountains slope to the sea. In this section which is known to the California Highway Commission as Division No. 7, there is a stretch of ten miles from which more than a million cubic yards of rock and earth have been removed.

The tunnels were driven into the hillside to a depth sufficient to give the required width of road and then cross tunnels or laterals were driven at right angles to provide chambers, about every thirty feet apart, in which to load the explosives.

According to information at the office of W. B. Collie, district clerk of Eastland county, more than 200 witnesses have been summoned in the case of Eastland county vs. G. A. Davison, in which a hearing on plaintiff's motion for a change of venue will be held Thursday in the 91st district court, beginning at 10 o'clock.

Quitclaim Deed—Carrie Kaigler et al. to J. E. Brewer, 130 acres of section 6, D. & D. asylum lands Eastland county; $1.

THE COAST IS ROCKY AND PRECIPITOUS

ROAD BED BENCHED IN SOLID ROCK

ONE OF THE BLASTS

As the object was to remove the rock and throw it down the cliff out of the way rather than to break it up, a slow acting explosive was used.

To obtain the proper grade the hard igneous rock had to be benched with explosives. This was accomplished by lowering ropes and ladders from the edge of the cliff to the point where tunnels were drilled into the rock to provide pockets for the explosives.

Some of the rock formations along the face of the cliff were quite uncertain. The face would be a hard igneous rock while just back of it would be found a softer rock of sedimentary origin. It was therefore at times difficult to judge just how heavy to load a charge of explosives or how far back from the face of the cliff it would break the rock.

Where the roadbed was laid out too far back in the hillside to allow swaying the material over the edge, the blasted rock was removed by steam shovels, either by swinging the beam over the edge of the cliff and dumping or by loading into wagons or cars.

This wonderful road is nearly completed, and the tourist who enjoys the scenic beauty rolling along over smooth grades little realizes the tremendous engineering difficulties encountered in its construction.

judge just how heavy to load a charge of explosives or how far back from the face of the cliff it would break the rock. On one occasion the powder foreman fired, a blast from a point which he estimated would be sufficiently far back from the edge of the cliff to allow for a sloping break and give him ample distance for safety.

Where the roadbed was laid out too far back in the hillside to allow swaying the material over the edge, the blasted rock was removed by steam shovels, either by swinging the beam over the edge of the cliff and dumping or by loading into wagons or cars.

This wonderful road is nearly completed, and the tourist who enjoys the scenic beauty rolling along over smooth grades little realizes the tremendous engineering difficulties encountered in its construction.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By E. R. Waite, Secretary Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

That many cities are giving much thought to their future.

That many errors of the past could have been avoided if forethought had been taken; many of these errors are proving costly now.

That in many of them, petty politics and narrow self-interest have been allowed to clog progress.

That many small cities are adopting a zoning system; they have learned to anticipate future growth and to avoid the mistakes made by many larger cities as a result of delayed city planning.

That the cities that lead are more progressive than the cities that lag behind; that is why they lead.

That every city needs more manufacturing plants, more made-at-home products and to make more efforts to support the ones they already have and to get out and hustle for new ones.

That the city that is wide-awake and on the job usually does this, and is pointed out as a city that is self-supporting and prosperous.

Your city means business; she is determined to achieve mightiness, help her on her way!

COMPANY A, 11TH ENGINEERS, UNIVERSITY, NEEDS RECRUITS

AUSTIN, May 16.—Company A of the 11th Engineers, composed solely of members of the engineering school of the University of Texas, will lose 20 members from its ranks this spring, through their graduation, and has issued a call for volunteers to replace that number.

This company is recognized as a part of the national defense, and was organized Nov. 7, 1922. Advantages are offered to members of this company in that they get rifle practice, military training, reserve commissions, and each year are taken on a summer encampment. This encampment will be held this year at the Palacios, July 3-17.

The aims of the company are to give the ordinary training of an engineering company in addition to such training as is received at R. O. T. C. camp. This work in no way interferes with the regular work of the students. The company meets once a week, under the command of Lieut. Tom Green.

The commencement proper will be staged at the memorial stadium on the night of June 8, when Dr. Splawn will be formally inaugurated and degrees conferred upon the graduates.

LITTER OF WOLVES HAVING STRANGE MARKINGS FOUND

Special Correspondence.

CADDO, May 19.—Finding of a litter of wolves with white tails and white about the head is the latest story brought back by local hunters. The whelps were found in a den in the rugged section near Caddo. "The call of the wild" to a roaming shepherd dog is the plausible explanation of the odd markings and coloring of the wolves.

Lake Cisco Bathing Beach To Be Opened Sunday For Season

The Lake Cisco bathing beach will formally open for the season Sunday afternoon. The beach has been thoroughly overhauled and put in good condition and the water is declared to be ideal for bathing.

The Cross Plains band will render a concert at 5 p. m. and again at 7 p. m. This band took first place in the two-year-old class at the Mineral Wells convention and is declared to be one of the best bands in West Texas. The concert will take place on the veranda of Laciaco Inn, and there is plenty of comfortable space for all who wish to hear.

Many improvements have been made to the resort and others are contemplated. Arrangements have been made to install a merry-go-round and ferris wheel and other riding devices for the amusement of pleasure-seekers. A cable car across the lake is to be built and there are plenty of boats to accommodate those who wish to ride to the headwaters of the lake.

The lake has been thrown open to fishermen for catfish only. Thousands of bass have been placed in the water, but a closed season is being maintained on them in order to get the lake well stocked. However, there are many catfish and fishermen have made some good catches of this variety. Cisco has applied for a state fish hatchery and prospects are good for obtaining one.

Lake Cisco was a popular resort for thousands during the past season and prospects are good for the resort eclipsing all past records this summer. The opening of the beach is welcomed by swimmers and lovers of water sport of the entire territory.

ATE TOO FAST

South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Ballentine, S. C.—Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught: "Just after I married I had indigestion. Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable. I would feel stupid and drowsy; didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating sensations, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days. NC-164

The Women of Texas

SAY NO!

There is no leavener regardless of price or claims that can be depended upon to produce such uniform and wholesome bakings as

CALUMET THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

It is the preferred bake-day aid in Texas. Every housewife who uses Calumet will tell you this.

Don't forget that public opinion and constant use for over a third of a century have branded Calumet as being far superior to all others.

Don't practice false economy by using other brands because nothing can take the place of it.

No other baking powder produces bakings that are so satisfactory at such a low cost. Remember this and always use Calumet.
