THE LITTLE RED SCHOOLHOUSE HAS OUTLIVED ITS DAY

The little red schoolhouse has been one of the most significant of all American landmarks for more than a century. It is part of the background of millions of Americans; it has been the starting point for many of the nation's most successful men; and it lives today in a halo of sentiment, a thing as indubitably and typically American as corn on the cob.

But Owen D. Young was quite right in his recent warning to the National Education Association that we must bend every effort to getting the little red schoolhouse off of the scene.

The rural villages of the red schoolhouse's heyday, Mr. Young points out, were self-contained and self-supporting. They were islands, remote and isolated. The cultural life of the nation was centered in the cities; to the cities, consequently, went the ambitious and energetic young men as soon as the red schoolhouse had got through with them.

Today the wind of change is blowing over the land. New economic conditions foreshadow a decentralization of industry, of population and of culture. The small town is due for a rebirth. The old barriers that isolated it have vanished forever.

But, says Mr. Young, "we will not get this change in country life without good schools. People will not move there or even stay there if the educational facilities for their children are inadequate. The schools are the key which will unlock the country for modern living."

All of this is perfectly true; and no one who has traveled through rural districts in recent years can fail to realize that a tremendous start has already been made in the right direction. The fine new schoolhouse is more and more becoming the cultural and architectural center about which the life of the small town is built. Many and many a town has spent more money than it could really afford to give its children the best schoolhouse possible.

That is a healthy trend. Our democracy must stand or fall by its educational system, and the demands which it will make on its schools in the immediate future will be greater than ever before.

The little red schoolhouse, enormously useful as it has been, has outlived its day. The American scene will lose one of its dearest landmarks, but it will get something better to take its place.

U. S. AND BRITISH STARS IN WIGHTMAN CUP MATCHES

The American Wightman cup team, captained by Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, plays Great Britain at Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 4-5. Helen Jacobs is one of three veterans on the American team. The British team includes three newcomers to Wightman cup play and among them is Mary Heeley, ranking star of England. The invaders are counting heavily on the ability of Dorothy Round, Wimbledon finalist against Mrs. Moody and the first woman to take a set from Queen Helen in six years. (Associated Press Photos)

 Reform in The Stock Exchange

In the little bull market which cracked up in the middle of July we learned that almost nothing had been learned from the great bull market which cracked up nearly four years ago. The speculative appetite was unimpaired. The efficiency of the stock exchange in catering to it was unimpaired. We had the pools, the tips, the high pressure salesmanship, the indiscriminate margin accounts, and all the other appurtenances which have made the American capital market the most feverish market of its kind in the civilized world.

The money changers who, on March 4, were indeed in the temple, but on their knees praying, had been driven out and had resumed about where they left off some years ago.

It is clear enough, I think, that the reversion to the old ways was due, in the first instance, to the administration's failure to exhibit capacity and willingness to manage the dollar. When men hope or fear that the currency is out of control they are compelled to speculate, even though they have no other ambition than to conserve their capital. But when all that can be said on this subject has been said, it was still startling to discover how little the experience of the past few years had done to awaken a sense of public responsibility in those who are professionally responsible for the vast business of trading in securities. Compared with the manifest evils and dangers of national gambling in securities, the reforms initiated by the government of the stock exchange during the past three years can only be described as pitifully inadequate. So sluggish were they to move that it had begun to appear that they would not institute real reforms except by compulsion from the outside. Men whose every instinct is to prefer self-regulation to new laws came to feel that the stock exchange and the brokerage business would probably have to be treated to legislation as drastic as that with which the federal securities act surrounds the underwriting and promotion of new issues.

The crack-up in the middle of July seems to have brought home to the governors of the Stock Exchange a realization that they must bestir themselves. At any rate, they have at last come forward with some reforms which have made up their minds to regulate the buildings up of weak and dangerous margin accounts. They are proceeding to deprive the management of pools of the immunity of secrecy, and they recognize that they must begin to do something to deflate the high pressure salesmanship by which the public is lured into the stock exchange.

This is excellent. Quite apart from the question as to whether these reforms are adequate, it is excellent because it dignifies a radically new conception of the duty of the Stock Exchange. The orthodox theory has always been that the stock exchange is merely a market place and that the brokerage houses are merely agents through whom orders to buy and sell are executed. This, for example, is the tenor of Mr. Richard Whitney's testimony before the senate banking and currency committee in the spring of 1932. When he was asked about the part played by the exchange in the bull speculation of 1929, the testimony ran:

Three Ector Tests Start During Week

Humble's Line To Addis, Cowden and Holt Wells Nears Completion

Ector county oil operations were featured last week by the spudding of three tests within four days, increasing the number now drilling to five, and the nearing of completion of Humble Pipe Line Co.'s 6-inch, 30-mile carrier from the Penn field northeast to the Addis pool, thence north to two wells on the Dick Cowden ranch and a pair beyond on the Holt ranch.

Mcran Drilling Co.'s No. 1 R. W. Smith, deepest of the drilling tests, located in the northwest corner of section 12, block 43 township 1 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey had reached 3,690 feet in anhydrite in mid-week and barring delays should get the lime this week. It has an elevation of 2,063 feet, topped to anhydrite at 1,765, the salt at 1,825 logged the base of the salt at 2,775 and topped the red sand at 2,990 feet.

Broderick & Calvert and others No. 1 E. P. Cowden, 3,660 feet from the east and west lines and 440 feet from the south line of section 25, block 44, township 2 south T. & P. Ry. Co. survey which spudded July 29, had drilled to 140 feet in sand.

Stanolind Spuds Pair Stanolind Oil & Gas Co.'s No. 3 Dick Cowden (north block) 1,900 feet from the north and east lines of section 34, block 43, township 1 north, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, was spudded July 29, drilled to 225 feet in redrock and ran 12 1-2 inch casing at 221.

Stanolind No. 2 Elliott F. Cowden, 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 28, block 43, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, was spudded August 1 and set 12 1-2 inch casing at 112 feet in red-rock.

Laudreth-Liano's No. 1 Holt, 800 feet from the south line and 2,025 feet from the east line of section 16, block 43, township 1 north T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, was spudded July 31 and had drilled to 490 feet in redrock.

No Royalty Sold by Cowden Edd (Dick) Cowden of Midland has advised that he has sold no royalty and has none for sale under the northern Ector county block on which Stanolind has two producers, inherited from Southern Crude, a sister subsidiary of the Standard of Indiana, and on which it is drilling a third test. It recently was published that a one-sixty-fourth mineral interest under sections 24, 26, 27, 34 and 35, block 43, township 1 north, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, had been sold by J. M. Cowden to Donald Winston of Los Angeles.

Emergency Farm Loans For This Section Urged Upon Morgenthau

Pursuant to efforts to gain relief aid to farmers of this immediate section through crop production loans, C. T. Watson, chamber of commerce manager, Saturday evening sent the following message to Henry Morgenthau, Jr., in charge of farm credit:

Continued drought in this section of West Texas has brought about a very grave situation among our farmers. The counties of Howard, Martin, Midland, Dawson, Glasscock, and Andrews are extremely dry. Several hundred farmers are being forced to sell their chickens, pigs, milk cows, and even their work teams in order to get food for the family. We urge you to permit emergency loans to actual farmers who deserve and must have extended credit.

John M. Emch and Associates Stake Location Five Miles From Stiles John W. Emch, San Angelo geologist and oil operator, and a group of New York, West Virginia and Tulsa people have awarded to Richmond Drilling Co. a contract to drill a test for oil on the Reagan county ranch of D. E. Hughes of San Angelo.

Most of the materials have been moved in and the cellar is being dug. Location is in section 8, G. C. & S. E. Ry. Co. survey, 990 feet south and 1,343 feet east of the southwest corner of section 8. The contract provides for drilling to 3,000 feet, oil at a lesser depth or sulphurwater in the Permian lime. The test will be spudded on or before Aug. 15. It will be 5 1-2 miles southeast of Stiles, 12 miles north of Big Lake and 15 miles northeast of the Big Lake field.

The geology on the block of 11, 948 acres was worked by Mr. Emch and was approved by Ray V. Hendon of Morgantown, W. Va., who for 10 years was chief geologist for the Transcontinental Oil Co. The wildcard will be the fourth in Reagan county in which Mr. Emch has been interested. It will be designated G. R. Snider, trustee, No. 1 D. E. Hughes, but Mr. Emch will be in charge of operations.

The San Angelon and associates leased from D. E. Hughes sections 7, 8, 9 and 10, GC&SF Ry. Co. survey; M. D. survey 8, survey 8, Texas Trunk Ry. Co. survey 27 and M. J. Andrews survey 20, totaling 3,087 acres; from Cynthia Malone sections 3 and 4, GC&SF Ry. Co. survey, totaling 1,353 acres, and from E. W. Loftin sections 1211 and 1212 aggregating 1,280 acres.

From the Sawyer Cattle Co. there was leased sections 72 and 71, all of section 46 except the northwest quarter, the east half of section 45 and 214 acres out of the southeast part of M. J. Andrews survey 20, a total of 2,158 acres. From The California Co. 2,410 acres belonging to D. E. Hughes were leased, as follows: the east half of section 14 and the west half of section 11, GC&SF Ry. Co. survey; the west half of W. W. Pritchard survey 2, J. W. Bronson survey 2 and the east part of M. J. Andrews survey 20, M. A. Lindley survey 2 and the east part of M. J. Andrews survey

Chevrolet Output Sets July Record
 The largest July production since 1929, nearly doubling the output for the corresponding month last year, was achieved by Chevrolet when the company built 80,250 new cars and trucks in the month just ended, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager announced today.

This compared with 32,281 built last July and with 81,562 in June of this year, which was the highest production month since early 1931, Mr. Knudsen stated. The current July was the fourth largest July in the 21-year history of the company.

Not since 1929 has July production come as close to June as this year, Mr. Knudsen said, attesting to much less than seasonal slack, now being experienced by the company.

While some seasonal let-up is bound to be felt in August, Mr. Knudsen said he hoped that the sustained high level of retail sales would enable his company again to effect a reduction in the normal average decline from July into the coming month.

For the first seven months this year this company produced more than 438,000 new cars and trucks as compared with 394,000 in the first twelve months of 1932, the Chevrolet executive stated.

Report Of Farmers' Short Course

Mrs. Ross Hill of Elbow Relates Experiences of Recent Trip to A. & M. College

Mrs. Ross Hill, of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club, attended the Short Course at A. & M. College this summer as the delegate from the Elbow Club. She has written the following account of her trip for club women of Howard County.

The Elbow Home Demonstration Club, of which I have been a member since its organization in 1929, financed my trip to the Short Course and to Galveston. I arrived at College Station Sunday afternoon, registered and was assigned a room in Walton Hall, one of the new dormitories. Special church services were held Sunday night for the Short Course visitors, which we attended in a body.

such as lamb-skin tanning, rug making, moccasins making, butter and cheese making, poultry culture, grape juice making under the supervision of extension specialists. This made the work more interesting and beneficial than if the delegates had only seen the demonstrations.

There were lectures along different lines. Miss Beas Heflin spoke on "As Parents Learn"; Miss Laura Brillhan on "Trend of Fashions"; Judge Otis Miller of Anson on "County Government"; Miss Mamie Lee Hayden on "Home Marketing"; Dr. Whitlatch on "Diet of Texas School Children"; Dr. V. M. Ehlers of Austin on "Sanitation"; and Miss Ninah Jacks on "Land-scaping."

Delegates and others arrived all Sunday night and Monday, nearly 2500 attending the session this year. Some came by train, some by bus, many in their own cars, others in school buses and covered trucks. Some brought their families and camped in the free camping park. A club in one county, a southern county especially interested in Home Demonstration Work, equipped a large bus and sent 30 or 40 women. The county agents were not there this year. Less men than usual attended; it was necessary for them to stay at home and work with the cotton administration bill.

The visitors were permitted to visit the buildings and campus. Everything was in perfect order and very pretty. Key Cottage, modern demonstration home, was open two hours daily for inspection, women from different counties acting as hostesses. It seemed ideal to me in every way, and the yard was as well planned and as well cared for as the house.

Short course assembly was held every morning from 8:15 to 9:15, with Miss May Wilson of San Antonio in charge of the singing. Two short inspirational talks were given daily by different speakers interested in extension work. Some outstanding speakers were: Mrs. Brock of Bryan; O. B. Martin, director general of extension work; Mrs. Ben Anthony, president of Home Demonstration Association; J. P. Buchanan, member of Congress; Dr. T. O. Walton, president of A. & M. and Dr. A. C. Scott of Temple.

Exhibits I saw were: bread and cakes, dresses, rugs, mats, leather goods, 4H pantry, school lunches, foundry products made at A. & M. foundry, and syrup products. In the leather goods exhibits, hand-made gloves and moccasins were displayed. The syrup products were from syrup made in demonstration that very week. Mrs. Walton, wife of the A. & M. president, gave a tea Friday afternoon and served cookies made with this syrup.

General lectures and demonstrations began at 9:30. This year's work was different from any other Short Course in that the work was actually done by persons attending. Men were given special courses in hide tanning, syrup making, animal husbandry, and farm crops. There were special courses for ranchers.

There was entertainment for everyone each night. On Monday and Wednesday nights we were divided into groups and taken to the different buildings. Tuesday evening's entertainment, held in Kyle Field stadium, was the Grand Horse Show and Ring Tournament. Miss Loreta Yates of District No. 5 was crowned Queen of Love and Beauty and a Mr. E. N. Holmgren her leading knight. Thursday night there were stunts and contests in Kyle Field. In the tug of war contest between the 4-H boys of Northwest and Southeast, the North and West won. Friday evening ended the Short Course, with announcements of winners in different contests and awarding of prizes.

$330,000 "Missing" Gasoline Taxes Paid State During July

AUSTIN — Comptroller George Sheppard's gasoline tax enforcement "army" of detectives and auditors, created by the Legislature last March, recovered the record sum of $330,000 in "missing" gasoline taxes during July, at an expense of but $15,000.

This is the gist of a summary of June activities released to the Texas Good Roads Association today by J. W. McReynolds, division chief at the request of the comptroller.

Comptroller Sheppard, elated, saw in the figures "proof" that if the people will help, Texas can save the predicted $4,000,000 a year in gas taxes heretofore stolen.

"Consider what this means to the taxpayers," the comptroller said. "It means that in February, the month before this new law was passed, we were headed for a $2,500,000 decrease in annual gas tax revenue; but now we have wiped that out and are moving at the rate of 1,500,000 increase."

"Here's how: the state's gas tax income in February was $207,514 short of the same month a year ago, or nearly 10 per cent. March was almost as bad. Thousands of cars were not being used, and bootleggers were running wild.

Then this new law, making evasion a felony, went into effect March 21. Our staff went to work. In April the decrease over 1932 was very small, in May it had been turned into a small increase. These June figures show we collected $122,370 more gas taxes than in June, 1932.

"The motorist nearly always pays this tax at the filling station, whether it's passed on to the state or not; when it's not, the schools, the bond fund and the highways are being robbed. So is the taxpayer who must make up the difference. That's why we are asking the public to look for evaders."
